A SYNCHRONIZED FAT MAN TEAM--The Floydada EMS worked together in record time to unload and re-load Paramedic Paul McIntosh at every quick pit stop on the Fat Man race track. Following the rules of having to eat a snack at every stop, McIntosh would remove his oxygen long enough to shove food in his mouth. The oxygen mask would be replaced and he would be shoved back into the waiting ambulance to race to the next stop.

Barnabus mission team conducting survey

FLOYDADA--At the invitation of Calvary Baptist Church, a Barnabus Mission Team will conduct a door-to-door religious survey in Floydada on Saturday. Many from other local congregations are expected to join the Barnabus Team in this survey effort.

According to Calvary Baptist pastor, Claude Porter, "This survey is needed not only for our church, but for all churches in Floydada. There is a danger that routine ministry may cover the same ground over and over. We hope by this survey to pinpoint people with needs of whom we are not presently aware. We have invited the Floydada Ministerial Alliance to join us in this effort, which they have graciously done."

The Barnabus Mission Team is a group of volunteer Christians. Reg Bridges of Idalou, who is a consultant for the Southern Baptist Mission Service Corps in this area is leader of the group. The group was organized to be encouragers to small churches.

Bridges stated, "We see this as a great opportunity for people to fulfill their desire to serve the Lord. This fits perfectly within our goals to be of service."

Local churches who have committed personnel to this survey include Calvary Baptist, First Baptist, First Methodist, Trinity Church, Mt. Zion Baptist, and Primera Mision Bautista. Other interested groups are invited to participate.

The survey team will meet at Calvary Baptist Church, 505 N. Second, at 10 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 5. A time of fellowship and orientation will be observed. Lunch will be served by the host church at noon to all participants free of charge.

The survey will be made between the hours of 1 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. Barnabus Team members will have identifying badges and specially prepared survey packets. The survey will take approximately three minutes of your time.

A view from
The Lamplighter
By Ken Towery

It has been said that even a blind hog will come up with an acorn if he just keeps rooting around long enough.

Ross is still rooting and still looking. After urging his followers to vote for a Republican Congress, he turns around and asks them to vote for Ann Richards for Governor.

Talk about politics making strange bedfellows. Perot and Richards have been on opposite sides of just about every major political issue in recent times. She was out helping Clinton pass the NAFTA legislation. Perot said it was one of the most terrible pieces of legislation to come down the pike. He promised all sorts of opposition to anyone backing the NAFTA deal. In that, Perot was in league with practically every labor union in America. They also said the legislation was terrible, and promised total opposition to any politician who backed it. Now the unions and Perot are both backing Ann, who backed NAFTA.

And Perot has had exceedingly bad things to say about other key constituencies of Ann's, particularly the "gay" community. Now he calls her one of the greatest governors Texas has ever seen.

Perot claims he wants to clean up politics, to make it more honest. He has a strange way of going about it. After all, political honesty does demand a certain degree of courage, as well as consistency in political thought.

The bottom line, we suspect, involves three things. Perot wants very badly to stay in the t.v. limelight, he cannot abide anyone with the Bush name, and he would like to be able to claim he made the difference in the governor's race.

When one has a reputation for being a political grasshopper, one more hop doesn't strike most people as being odd. If the grasshopper keeps hopping, or the hog keeps rooting, perhaps someday that prized acorn will turn up. But we doubt it, in this case.

Public Meetings This Week

COMMISSIONERS COURT

The Floyd County Commissioners Court will meet in special session at 9:00 a.m. Friday, November 4, in the County Courtroom to consider farm contracts as well as the purchase of non-budget items including computer equipment, radio equipment and a contract with Potato Specialty, Inc. and discuss the paving project in Precinct 3, payment for Precinct 2 diesel, payment of Sheriff's Department overtime and an agreement for use of State of Texas Automation Equipment.

MACKENZIE WATER TO MEET WITH CITIES

A special meeting with the Board of Directors of Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority will be held Tuesday, November 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lockney Community Room in the 500 block of South-east 8th (FM RD 378) in Lockney. Discussion will concern the critical water level of the lake and future water supply for Lockney, Floydada, Tulia, and Silverton.

FLOYDADA ISD BOARD

The Floydada Independent School Board will meet in regular monthly session on Tuesday, November 8, at 7:00 p.m. at 226 West California in Floydada. In addition, a public hearing regarding the Academic Excellence Indicators Report for 1993-94 will be held prior to the meeting at 6:00 p.m. in the same location.

Early voting runs heavy this year

Early voters are working on a record high total this election year in Floyd County. As of Tuesday, November 1, 1994 at 2:30 p.m., the count of early voters was 888 according to Marilyn Holcomb of the Floyd County Clerk's Office.

County Clerk Margaret Collier predicted the total number of early ballots cast by the 5:00 p.m. Friday, November 4, deadline would top one thousand.

163 of the ballots cast at this time have been from balloting by mail. 725 people have appeared in person to vote early in the November 8 General Election.

Hesperian-Beacon hosting book signing and election party Tuesday

FLOYDADA--The Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon office in Floydada will host a book signing and election party Tuesday, November 8.

As in years past, the office will have a blackboard hung on the posts of the front porch. The local election returns will be posted as they come in.

The contested commissioner races between, Floyd Jackson and Lennie Gilroy, and Amado Morales and Jon Jones will be covered.

We will also post the county totals for the U.S. Representative's race, the Governor's race, the state school board and the State Senator's race.

A television will be on inside the office for those who would like to come watch the state returns.

Beginning at 5:00 p.m. refreshments will be available to those who would like to bring their copies of The Chow Dipper for author Ken Towery to autograph. Books will also be available for sale during the signing.

Refreshments will continue to be available to those who drop in to watch election returns after 7:00 p.m.

Mr. Towery will be available to autograph books in Lockney, Friday, November 11 from 5:00 p.m.-6:00 p.m. at The Hesperian-Beacon office.

Record crowd attends annual event

Punkin Day: Better than ever

"Bigger and better than ever," was the conclusion reached by Punkin Day workers at the end of the festivities on Saturday. Although there is no way to officially count the number of people in town, it was obvious that record crowds of several thousand people visited Floydada and the courthouse lawn over the week-end.

Visitors from out of state and central Texas were treated to a variety of West Texas weather. Sunrise came up on a beautiful clear day only to be replaced by a fast blowing front bringing clouds and cold temperatures by 9:45 a.m.

Those who braved the bad weather were rewarded with beautiful warm sunshine by 1:30 p.m. The sun brought happier faces to those workers and vendors who were worried about a repeat performance of the 1993 Punkin Days when high winds and very cold temperatures diminished the usually large crowds.

Pumpkins of all shapes and sizes were on display around the courthouse square courtesy of pumpkin growers. Beautiful highway decorations by Jack Fuqua, and the pumpkin lights on downtown street lamps greeted out-of-town guests (the lights were built last year by Barron Wetzel's Ag class with grant money from Southwestern Bell).

The outlook of beautiful weather brought many guests into town, filling up the downtown parking and overnight camping at the RV Park.

The cold weather did not stop the 5K runners who kicked off the day's activities with the first race at 10:00 a.m. Racers came from all over Texas and one racer, a 72-year old man, came from as far away as Flagstaff, Arizona.

The famous Fat Man Race once again provided hysterics for the crowd as racers competed with original ideas. Racers pushed tires, rode motor carts (one in a gorilla costume), were pushed in wheelbarrows, carried on stretchers and the EMS crew scrambled with a "patient" loading and unloading Paramedic Paul McIntosh at every pit stop.

Happy children enjoying the games created happy parents. By the time the sunshine came out, at approximately 1:30 p.m., the crowd was here to stay no matter what the weather decided to do.

Tim Assiter kept up a constant patter on his handy portable microphone, interviewing children and parents who were participating in games. The sound of Assiter's voice broadcast around the square made a person feel like they were a part of everything that was happening no matter where they happened to be.

According to the interviews of many visitors, people came to Floydada from San Antonio, Waco, Dallas, Austin, Canyon, Lubbock and Amarillo.

The Floyd County Historical Museum registered approximately 350 people and according to one volunteer at the museum, "That is not an accurate measure of who came through the Museum. A lot of people don't register."

The games, under the direction of Sheldon Sue, were a big success judging by the long lines at Pumpkin Bowling, Pumpkin Drawing, Pumpkin Carving, Pumpkin Tossing and Pumpkin Rolling.

The vendors at the Arts and Crafts booths and the businesses on California Street reported a good business and are already looking forward to next year.

Big money was even won by one vendor, The Red Caboose, who was lucky enough to buy the winning ticket to the Cow Patty Bingo. They took home proceeds from brisk Punkin Day sales and the $500.00 Cow Patty prize.

Cindy Jefferies won $25.00 when she made the correct guess on the trailer load of pumpkins. The pumpkins weighed 9,480 lbs. and Jefferies' guess was 8,710 lbs.

A new twist was added to the weighing in of pumpkins when someone suggested that people try and guess the combined weight of City Manager Gary Brown and City Secretary Sharon Quisenberry. Tommy Assiter came closest with 314 lbs—however no one is saying what the actual weight was.

Speaking of weight—food was in abundance on the square. Turkey legs, sausage on a stick, bar-b-que, fajitas, hamburgers, curly taters, chili dogs, funnel cakes and cotton candy, to name a few, gave the crowd the endurance to play some more. One visitor remarked to a downtown merchant, "All we've done is eat-eat-eat."

The games ended with the Pumpkin Pie Relay Race, but the days activities were just beginning.

From the square, Punkin Day organizers rushed home to get themselves and their children ready for the costume contest and trunk or treating.

By 6:00 p.m., the high school auditorium was packed with costumed children and adults. Judging on the original costumes was very difficult. One first time judge commented that he had a whole new respect for people who judge these kind of contests. (That sentiment was echoed by the judges of the pumpkin drawing and pumpkin carving contests.)

The crowd spilled over from the high school into the city park where children walked safely around the walking path from car trunk to car trunk, gathering treats from Punkin Day volunteers.

The hard work of the volunteers and the Floydada Chamber of Commerce is evident by the increasing crowds who are beginning to make a yearly pilgrimage to Floydada. Eight years ago, the chamber of commerce began this venture with the hope that Floydada would gain positive publicity and encourage other people to move to this area to share in the hospitality.

The chamber also had the dream of doing something positive to encourage people to come downtown and shop on a Saturday instead of going somewhere else. The dreams are coming true thanks to a lot of persistence and a community that enjoys working hard together.

Longhorn Band brings home a UIL 1st division

LOCKNEY—On Tuesday, October 25, the Lockney High School Band traveled to Texas Tech Stadium in Lubbock to compete in the 1994 U.I.L. Marching Contest. On this day, the Longhorn Band rose to the occasion and came away with a Division I rating.

The members of the Longhorn band wish to express their gratitude to all parents and fans who supported them at this contest and throughout the year.

Class I winners in twirling included Chelsea Patridge and Pepper Billington. Leigha Wood received a Class II rating.

The 14 AA bands who competed were rated by judges on a basis of I, II, III, and IV, with a I being the highest rating given.

Receiving Division I ratings were Lockney, Hale Center, Sundown, Aberrath, and Idalou.

A Division II rating went to

BY THE WAY!

BY
GILROY

It was such a great day Saturday! An optimistic outlook from those who attended Punkin Days and a lot of prayer produced some very good results. SUNSHINE!!

It was touch and go there for awhile, but the people who held out were not disappointed. There were such good comments from visitors—especially those from bigger cities.

You may start feeling like other people think your crazy for living in a small town out in the middle of nowhere with no malls or amusement parks. You may begin to believe that no one else could possibly appreciate the same things you love about your community. But they do!!

We've got a lot to offer people—we just have to show it to them with a positive attitude.

Punkin Days is one way to do that and it is working. The crowd was bigger than it has ever been—and it was a very happy crowd.

I can't say enough about all the volunteers who helped out Saturday and the months prior to Punkin Days. There is so much behind the scenes work that is done to promote the festival and the city.

For those of you who think that your chamber does nothing for you—you had better look again. If you don't think that Punkin Days is doing something for Floydada than you haven't opened your eyes.

Your chamber is struggling with next to nothing. You could stack Floydada Chamber of Commerce up next to any town its size or even bigger and anybody would be impressed.

They would be particularly impressed that Floydada Chamber does all the work it does for Punkin Days and can't even afford to pay a full time Chamber Manager.

I really believe those people who don't support the chamber with their dues—but reap the benefits of their hard work—ought to be ashamed of themselves.

It is easy to sit back and criticize that nothing is getting done—but you have to remember that it is a Catch 22 situation. They can't promote without funds. If you don't support the chamber you deprive them of the funds needed to help your city.

Anyway—Punkin Days is a perfect example of what can be done.

It wasn't easy though. Since there was no one answering the chamber office phone most of the Punkin Day questions were forwarded to Roxanna Cummings at the Lamplighter Inn. The city was lucky she was willing to devote almost 100% of her own time to this project.

We were lucky we had all the volunteers we had.

I got a charge out of Dr. Randall Griffin Friday afternoon. He (and a host of other volunteers—including Cargill employees) spent the day putting up the tents and marking off spots for the arts and crafts booths.

As soon as the vendors started coming in so did the complaints about locations.

After he had been griped out one too many times—Randall went home and put on a long black woman's wig. He figured if the vendors thought he was a woman they would be nicer to him.

It worked—not because they thought he was a woman but because they were laughing too hard to complain.

Normal complaints aside—the vendors went home very happy!

Oh, by the way—it's obvious that Floydada got a lot of very good press for the event—but did you know Floydada was also mentioned in the October 26 edition of The Wall Street Journal?

It is a story about the pumpkin market and how producers are importing sturdy Canadian bumblebees for pollination.

Also—the Assiter's were interviewed by the FOX network out of New York. That show is supposed to be on satellite sometime soon.

We've got communities to be proud of—it's nice to know other people are noticing.

Just a little story at election time. I hope everyone takes it with the humor that is intended.

I talked to Langston Williams a couple of weeks ago and he had a funny story to tell.

He told me, "I put up an Ann Richards sign in my front yard and I put up a Jon Jones sign too."

"Do you know what my dog did?"

"He went out there and chewed my Ann Richards sign to bits—but he didn't touch my Jon Jones sign at all."

"A friend of mine said—"That just goes to show you Langston—that dog has more sense than you!"

New alternative school offers opportunity to at-risk students

(Editor's Note: Research for the following article, by Texas Tech journalism student Dianna F. Dandridge, was made possible by a grant from the Reader's Digest Foundation.)

By Dianna F. Dandridge
FLOYDADA--Students, teachers and staff of the alternative school are encouraged by the initial results of the first semester.

The Alternative School deals with at-risk students from seven different school districts.

Students at the alternative school are here for a number of reasons, according to school principal Dick Van Hoose.

Some need to catch up on credits; some are two grade levels behind in reading or math; some have had personal problems that make standard high school impossible.

"We've even managed to recapture the interest of seven dropouts," said Dick Van Hoose.

"These students can request alternative school," he said.

"We've got the option to turn any student down," he explained.

For the most part these students are not forced to attend classes. For a few, finishing high school is a condition of their probation.

The Alternative School employs seven full-time teachers, one counselor, one nurse, and two teachers' aides to help direct 110 students.

Students are allowed to work at their own pace. The teachers design the units for the classes. When the students successfully complete a unit, they are allowed to go on to the next unit.

"We don't have a dress code or a hair code," said Van Hoose. "We try to give them a few liberties."

"Some of these kids smoke. We don't like it, but we allow them to smoke in front of the building," he said.

"We can't keep them from smoking," he explained, "but we can keep track of what they smoke."

"We can't put too many restrictions on some of these kids," he continued, "the most important thing is to keep them in school."

"We let them wear what they want, with the exception of bandanas. We don't let them display gang colors," he said.

Students are bussed in from Crosbyton, Ralls, Lorenzo, Petersburg, Lockney, Plainview and Floydada.

"They aren't allowed to bring their own cars except for pre-approved appointments," said Van Hoose.

"The classes are less structured than other high schools," said English teacher Kathy Givens.

"We give them enough instruction to be able to do the work on their own, and help them when they need it," she said.

"It's a tremendous challenge working with these kids. Their successes are not in leaps and bounds, but we are so proud of each advancement they make."

Givens said that the teachers and staff must deal with the moods of the individual as well as the whole class.

"The seniors are very motivated," she said. "They want their diplomas, and most of them are working hard to get it."

"We probably have 30 students who will be able to earn their diplomas this year," said the principal.

"That's pretty good for kids who have either dropped out or were at risk of dropping out," he said.

Givens, as most of the staff, is pleased to be a part of the education of these young people.

Student success depends on the actions of the faculty, and they want to make the best of the time they have with these students.

Students have positive emotions about the school.

Ronald Coleman, an 18-year-old junior from Plainview, said, "The teachers are fair and don't stay on your back, the way teachers at other schools do."

Coleman chose to attend the alternative school after personal problems and a bad choice of friends forced him to quit Plainview High School.

"The best part of this school is I have the chance to get the education I want," said Coleman.

"Another thing that is pretty neat is that everyone knows everyone. They call me Goo, like Mr. Magoo," he said.

"If I could change something, I would add a basketball team," Coleman said.

He's making B's and C's and wants to study engineering at Pittsburgh.

Crosbyton senior Melissa Hernandez said, "The teachers know when to push and when to back off."

"They don't allow us to get away with anything," she said, "but they give us the room we need."

"The teachers are very good about helping us with school or personal problems," she said.

Hernandez knows about problems. She's expecting a baby in December, but plans to bring her baby to the school day care center so she won't lose credits.

"I'll be able to keep up with my classes and my baby too," she said. Students have the option of keeping their children at the center, at no charge, while the student is in class, since the alternative school shares a building with Floyd County Day Care Center.

Hernandez plans to attend classes at South Plains College before transferring to Northern State to pursue a law degree.

"If you're thinking about dropping out, you should think about coming here," said Hernandez. "It's the best chance you'll ever have to get your high school diploma."

Torey Turner, a 16-year old sophomore from Plainview, wanted to express "The Real Deal" as he sees it.

"It's all right. I wish there were more girls. We need some vending machines. Candy and chips would make the lunch a little better."

Jesse Cenicerros likes the idea of being able to finish high school early, but he says "The food is just plain nasty."

The school counselor, Ms. Schell, explained that the students do some of the cooking, but as with most schools, no one ever likes the food served in the cafeteria.

"The bus ride is pretty bad," said Shaulanda Coleman, a junior from Crosbyton.

"That and they escort us to the bathroom. They don't want us smoking in there."

"It gives me a chance to catch up," said J.P. Tijerina.

Robert Garcia from Plainview says he likes the girls.

"The teachers make it fun," said Crosbyton student Jessica Stuart.

Lea Martin, an 18-year old senior from Plainview, is just happy to be able to finish her education.

"It gives me a chance to get my diploma and not have to worry about my baby," she said.

The director of the day care center, Betty Fuller, says they have 17 children of parents attending the alternative school.

"Unfortunately, their attendance is somewhat erratic," said Fuller.

The oldest child is 2 years old and the youngest is two weeks.

"I think it could really make a difference, if the students will use the services," said Fuller.

The principal, Dick Van Hoose, says it is still too early to predict how many of these students will go on to college or trade school.

"So far the community hasn't had reason to express negative comments about what we're doing," he said.

Participating school districts, in conjunction with an area educational coop, fund the alternative school and pay the tuition of the students.

Social Activities Director

FLOYDADA--This week has been a busy one. We had our residents' birthday party October 20.

October 21 we went on our bus ride to Plainview. When we came back we went by Mrs. Finley's house to see the Halloween decorations. Then she took us into her building where she has some antiques. The residents enjoyed visiting with Mrs. Finley.

Oct. 27, we had our pie social. We had different kinds of pies. We had some of the residents' families join us for the pie social. We would like to thank Corinne Lewis for the pie she brought. Also thanks to Mrs. Guffee for her pie. We would like to thank everyone that joined us on this day. The residents really enjoyed eating pie.

On Oct. 28, the Floyd County Day Care Center brought their children dressed in Halloween costumes. They sang for us. We want them to know that we appreciate them coming to visit with us. The residents enjoyed the children.

Oct. 30, we had the children from the First Baptist Church visit with the residents. They also brought us baskets of potpourri for each resident. They were dressed in Halloween costumes. The residents and the staff here at the home thank you all for coming.

Oct. 31, we had our Halloween Carnival. We had a spook house, balloon bust, and a cake walk. We would like for everyone to know that we had lots of children come. The residents really enjoyed seeing all the children in their costumes. We also would like to give thanks to everyone who came to our carnival. I would especially like to thank everyone that helped with the carnival. I was very happy to get all the help that I got. Thank you to everyone.

As for my volunteer corner, I would like for everyone to know how much I appreciate every single one of you. I thank you all for the time you give us. We really do appreciate it.

Well this is all the news I have for you this week.

Until next time, see ya!

FLOYDADA--Dr. Keith and June Patzer and friends recently spent a week in Hawaii.

Lorene Newberry is home after a trip to Houston visiting her grandson Von and Rhonda Jones. They spent some time in Galveston.

Brynn Smitherman of Ft. Worth and Kelly Smitherman of Boston, Mass., have been here visiting their mother, Joy Smitherman, Grandmother Gertie Smitherman and Grandfather Alvie Jackson.

At the center eating lunch Tuesday, Oct. 25, were visitors from Tulare, California. They were Ralph and Jewell (Hennessee) Taylor. He used to work at J.C. Penney's and Jewell worked with Edwina Hollums in Edwina's Beauty Shop. They are staying at Doris Snodgrass' while in Floydada.

Jimmie Jo West of Lubbock has been here several days visiting her mother, Irene King. They had a booth of crafts during Punkin Day Saturday, Oct. 29.

Grady Freeman and Zona Parker of Lubbock Heritage Care Center and Grady's daughter, Wanda Armstrong of Lubbock were at the center Thursday, Oct. 27, for lunch and visiting of friends.

Travis Lightfoot repaired several tables at the center. Other volunteers for October have been Ruth Dutton and Edna Patton who served tea at lunch. We appreciate our volunteers.

We have a new employee. Ofelia Hernandez is taking Simona Garza's place. We enjoyed Simona and are sorry she is leaving. We look forward to working with Ofelia.

Friday, Betty Battey of Ruidoso, N.M., was at the center. She's visiting Lorene Newberry and Faye and William Bertrand and other relatives.

Dr. Harold and Carol Reese have just returned from a trip to La Crosse, Wisconsin, visiting Carol's daughter, Shannon and Mark Hart. The Reese's did a lot of sightseeing on their trip.

Saturday, Oct. 29, we added some tablecloths to brighten up our dining area at the center. Our next project is making cushions for the benches and changing out the linoleum. Donations and memorials are steadily coming in.

Those donating during October were: L.D. Britton, Ruth Hammonds, W.R. and Margaret Daniels, Lorilla Bradley, Queen Annie Lawson, Bill and Lillian Smith, Mrs. Elmer Williams, Johnnie Cates, C.O. and Jo Lyles, Francis Gunter, Clarence and Opal Guffee, Irene Irby, Juanita Henry, W.B. and Mary Alice Eakin, Laverne McIntosh, Fred Jackson - in memory of Everett Perry, Mamie Bunch, J.S. and Kay Hale - in memory of Everett Perry and W.W. Floydada FUMC "Harvest Fest" is Saturday, Nov. 5

FLOYDADA--The Annual Harvest Fest of Floydada's First United Methodist Church begins at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, November 5, according to Bob and Frances Hambright and Jack Fuqua, co-chairmen of the '94 Festival.

With the holiday season not too far away, and harvest underway, this will be the ideal time to enjoy food and fellowship with your neighbors. The "Country Store" will feature baked items, jams and jellies, the ever popular "Rada" knives, and arts and crafts items; a special "Woodworkers Shop" features handcrafted toys and decorative items.

A nursery and special activities are planned for the children. At 1:00 p.m. a drawing will be held for the beautiful hand stitched king/queen size "Pieced Jewels" quilt, pillows and shams made by several of the women of the church.

The traditional Harvest-Fest dinner will be served in the Fellowship Hall from 11:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. Many church families will share in the preparation of the delicious roast turkeys, cornbread dressing, candied fresh sweet potatoes, southern-style green beans, jellied cranberry sauce, hot yeast rolls, and pecan and pumpkin pies. A separate line will be set up for take-out meals starting at 11:00 a.m. Drive-up service will be available through the alley behind the church after 11:00 a.m. Delivery may be arranged by calling the church office 983-3706 before 5:00 p.m. Friday. Turkey dinner tickets are priced at $3.00 for children under 12, and $5.00 for adults.

Bring your families and come "Feast and Fellowship" with your Methodist friends and help support church mission and also local youth projects.

"NEIGHBORS HELPING NEIGHBORS"

When England wanted to cut government waste, a Texan showed them how to trim the fat

Cutting waste in government isn't easy.

That's why, when members of Parliament wanted to make the British government more efficient, they consulted the recognized expert in America: Texas Comptroller John Sharp.

Hardly a surprise, old chap.

Since taking office in 1991, John Sharp and his Texas Performance Review team have set the standard for streamlining government agencies, saving taxpayers a documented $6.2 billion and helping Texas avoid a state income tax. And his reviews of Texas school districts have saved taxpayers more than $24 million.

Now he's fighting to cut millions of dollars in welfare fraud and bureaucratic waste by abolishing paper food stamps, which are often stolen and then traded for drugs. Sharp's plan is to replace food stamps with computerized security cards.

No wonder U.S. News and World Report (1/4/94) says: "John Sharp has become the mastermind behind a sweeping overhaul of the bureaucracy that has put Texas at the forefront of the nationwide effort to...root out waste."

Yet, despite all the additional duties and initiatives taken on by the Comptroller's Office, Sharp still managed to reduce the number of his employees and return $9 million of his budget to the taxpayers.

Of course, there's a lot more waste in Texas state government just waiting to be cut, so the job is far from over. That's why we need to keep John Sharp on the job.

--Excerpt From "The Agenda/Inside The Clinton White House"
By Bob Woodward, pg. 297

RIGHT AT CLINTON'S DESK, Gore and Bentsen reached Texas Democrat Bill Sarpalius, who represented the 13th District . . . Sarpalius had voted against Clinton in May. Gore made the first pitch. "We need you," he said. "This is it."

Then Bentsen took the receiver. "I campaigned for you," Bentsen said sternly, . . . "I've been down there for you. I have raised funds for you when you were behind and it looked like you were going to lose." . . .

Clinton was chuckling, . . . Bentsen was not finished. He was determined to lean on Sarpalius, 45, as heavily as he knew how. . . . "I expect you to remember," Bentsen told Sarpalius. "I'm telling you you're going to vote for this." Sarpalius finally agreed to vote yes.

Lockney native promoted to Lieutenant Colonel

(Editor's Note: The following is a reprint from an article in the Oct. 23, 1994 edition of The Levelland Hockley County News-Press. Schacht is the son of Eleanor Schacht of Lockney and the late Fritz Schacht. He was born and raised in Lockney and is a 1966 graduate of Lockney High School.)

South Plains College Dean Otto B. Schacht was recently promoted to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the 4166th U.S. Army Reserve Forces.

The promotion occurred on Saturday, Oct. 15, in front of the 4166th U.S. Army Reserve Forces School Unit, including satellite detachments from Amarillo, Midland, El Paso, family and a few close friends, at the U.S. Army Reserve Training Center, in Lubbock. Schacht, who was a Major, was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel by Colonel Bernard D. Heer, Commandant. Assisting Col. Heer with the new insignia of rank was Otto Jackie-Don, Bryon Fritz-Nelson and Madonna Schacht. LTC Schacht's oldest son, Jackie-Don Schacht, addressed the following statements to his dad upon his promotion.

"As a young boy, my Dad showed me how to be successful in life. He showed me that hard work, discipline, honesty and faithfulness were the keys to success. The amazing aspect of this lesson, though, was that it was done without a word, because his actions did the talking. Yet even as I saw success before my very eyes, in my Dad, I couldn't understand how these four characteristics led to success. I thought, that money was how you rate success. If you drive a fancy car or live in a big house, that was success to me. As I have grown older, I have realized that money is just a tool to success, because success is taking pride in what you do and enjoying it at the same time.

"Today is just another step upon my Dad's ladder of success. He has again shown me the Big 4 (as I call them) work: (1) Hard work-in my father own words, if you're going to do something, do it right the first time. Don't start something unless you're going to finish it. Bust your tail now and rest later; (2) Discipline-do things the right way, not the easy way. Always make your decisions based upon what you know is right and what you know is wrong; (3) Honesty-always be honest to others. Don't lie again to cover up the first lie. Be man enough to face and tell the truth even if it hurts; (4) Faithfulness-be faithful to your God, family and country. Always believe and strive for those things that are right and fight against those things that are evil.

"Before you stands a Lieutenant Colonel. Before me stands my father, my friend, and my inspiration. I want to say to you congratulations, but most of all thanks. Thanks for showing me the way to success in life, for all the love you've given to myself, mom and Fritz. I hope to be like you someday, and live as you have lived. I admire and respect you more than you'll ever know. I'm proud of you and I love you."

Schacht said his son's speech made him feel very proud and that there was a lot of shuffling of feet and some sniffles from the audience as his son read his remarks.

Schacht began his career with the military in 1971 when he enlisted in the U.S. Air Force after graduating from college. He says he enlisted because he had his bachelor's degree and a draft number of 75. The draft board at Plainview had already advised him that he was going to be drafted so he enlisted in the branch of the service in which he was most interested. He served as a Minute Man Missile Technician and spent four years at Whiteman Air Force Base in Missouri. The Minute Man Missiles were a part of the Strategic Air Command. "A lot of those sites are no longer sites. They have been poured full of concrete and covered up," he reflects.

While in the Air Force, he earned his master's degree. After active duty, he returned to school and took advantage of the GI Bill by earning his doctoral from Texas A&M. In 1978 he went to work at Texas Tech. In October of the same year he joined the Army Reserves as a Specialist 4, Clerk Typist. In October, 1980, he received his direct commission as a Captain in the Army Reserves in the 4166th Reserve Forces. He has served as a supply officer, operations officer and director of enlisted courses.

He says he joined the Reserves because his boss at Texas Tech was the commandant and convinced him that he needed to earn an extra $90 per month, which was Reservist pay at that time.

In the fall of 1983, he came to work at South Plains College, taking the position of instructor of agribusiness and technology. In 1986 he was promoted to the position of science department chairman and in March, 1989, was promoted to the position of Dean.

Throughout his college career, he has been an active member of the Army Reserve, reporting for duty one week-end every month and for two weeks every summer. He says the job is fun at times but not always easy. He has never been called up since his unit's mission is to teach classes for both the enlisted men and officers. "We teach both," he says.

As of October, he has 20 years of total federal military service. With the current draw downs in all branches of the military, he knows it will be more and more difficult to stay in the Reserves after those 20 years. In theory, he could stay in the Reserves until the year 2008 but knows that he will have to get out long before that. Even with his rank, he is subject to annual review by a retention board that will decide how long he stays in the Reserves. "It is all according to what the board is looking at each time it meets," he says.

He is very patriotic and feels the military offers many opportunities for young people. "In today's environment, if someone is looking for a spot in which they can mature, the military is a good place." He is quick to point out that military service is also a good place in which to earn an education while earning money with which to further that education once a person's enlistment is up. "It is an appropriate place for those who don't have the funds to or the ability to generate the funds with which to get an education," he says.

His time in the Reserves has been the only hobby that he has found that he enjoys doing. On top of that, he gets paid for doing it!

On a more serious note, he says it is a nice change from his regular work day. "It has been a neat experience for me. Hopefully it has been for others," he says. "The military is a neat part of our society."

While a reception was given in his honor immediately following the closing ceremonies, he says his son's speech was the greatest honor of the day.

He and his wife, Madonna, have two sons. Otto Jackie-Don is a junior at Texas A&M. Bryon Fritz-Nelson is a senior at Levelland High School.

Una Barranca Grande

Archeological artifacts found in Floyd County

By Richard Flint
During late spring and early summer 1541 the Coronado expedition pursued a course toward Quivira, a presumed wealthy land on the bison plains of North America. The expedition set out from the Tiwa pueblo of Coofor, in the Bernalillo, New Mexico, area, stopped briefly at Ciciuque or Pecos Pueblo, built a bridge to cross the Rio Pecos just below its junction with the Gallinas River, and traveled on eastward, encountering at least two encampments of nomadic bison hunters, known to the Spaniards as Querechos. Probably these were Apache hunters of the Tierra Blanca Complex.

Then the Spaniards ascended, without remark, the great Llano Estacado of Eastern New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle. After 37 days of travel, summarized by the anonymous author of the Relacion del Suceso as covering 100 leagues to the east and 50 leagues to the southeast, the expedition reached the eastern edge of the Llano, at a large canyon in which were encamped more bison hunters. The habits of these Teyas hunters were very similar to those of the Querechos; however, the peoples were of different stocks. Most likely the Teyas were Caddoan speakers of the Garza Complex.

Historians and archeologists have long assumed that this first barranca, summer home of Teyas hunters, was one of the caprock canyons that characterize roughly a hundred miles to the eastern scarp of the Llano from Palo Duro Canyon, not far from Amarillo, south to Yellowhouse Canyon near Lubbock.

Near-legendary authority on the Coronado expedition, Herbert E. Bolton, insisted that this first barranca was the Tule Canyon, southern companion of the Palo Duro. Both before and since Bolton's pronouncement nearly fifty years ago, others have pointed out that Tule Canyon does not fit the documentary evidence very well, as being the first barranca the expedition encountered. For starters, Tule Canyon is too far north. Rough estimation of its location, according to the Relacion del Suceso measurement, puts the barranca in the Texas South Plains, in the general area of Lubbock, that is, about 260 miles east of Bernalillo (which puts one approximately at the hundred and second meridian near Cliffside in Potter County, Texas) and 130 miles southeast of there (or just a few miles south of Lubbock). Actual walking distances would undoubtedly move the location somewhat farther north, though still well south of the Palo Duro and Tule Canyons.

Secondly, the transition from Querecho to Teyas hunting territory noted by members of the Coronado expedition is consistent with the protohistoric territorial domains of the Tierra Blanco and Garza Complexes, as pointed out by Judith Habicht-Mauche and others. The Teyas being representatives of the Garza Complex places the first barranca at the edge of the South Plains. The major concentration of Garza Complex sites is along Blanco Canyon south of Floydada, Texas, about 35 miles north-east of Lubbock.

As it happens, in 1963 and 1966, three pieces of chain mail were stumbled upon by two ranchers in and immediately adjacent to Blanco Canyon. One object is a three-fingered glove or gauntlet. The other pieces, which have since disappeared, were thought to be parts of a vest or cuirass. None of the pieces has been confidently dated, but the gauntlet is not unlike sixteenth-century chain mail used by the Coronado expedition.

Within the last 18 months, two other objects have been located in the same area by Jimmy Owens, an avocational archeologist using a metal detector. They are both projectile points, one of forged iron and one of forged copper. Both are ferruled to accept a shaft end roughly 1 cm in diameter. Let me deal first with the copper point. It is of a material and construction very similar, if not identical, to crossbow bolts (dart points) recovered archeologically at Hawikuh, Santiago Pueblo, and Pecos Pueblo, all places visited by the Coronado expedition. I have argued previously that such copper bolts were likely to have accompanied only the Coronado expedition into the Southwest. The iron point (very different from the sheet metal Comanchero points so common in the Panhandle) while of a different morphology than the copper point, derives quite possibly from the same sixteenth-century Spanish cross-bow tradition.

In addition to these items of European derivation, aboriginal material of types likely to have accompanied the Coronado expedition has been recovered archeologically in the vicinity. For instance, Rio Grande Glazeware sherds (particularly Glaze E) are found in relative abundance at both the Floydada Country Club and Montgomery sites, between which is the five-mile stretch of Blanco Canyon within which the European objects have been found. Furthermore, during a brief surface reconnaissance which Jack and Beryl Hughes and Shirley Flint and I made in August, we located sherds from a single Glazeware pot (now identified by Dave Snow as a Glaze E jar, of Pecos Glaze Polychrome) immediately across the intermittent watercourse of the White River in Blanco Canyon from the location where the iron projectile point was found.

In addition, Jimmy Owens also found near the iron point what, from his description, may be a Mesoamerican aboriginal blade fragment. Such blades formed the edges of macanas (swords), probably carried by many of the members of the Coronado expedition. Unfortunately, the fragment itself may have been lost.

Also, from the nearby Floydada Country Club Site have been recovered a couple of red-painted, grog-tempered sherds, identified by Reggie Wiseman and Stu Peckham as possibly originating in Mexico. There is little doubt that ceramics from Mexico (the Central Plateau, the west coast, and the northwest) were present with the Coronado expedition.

The association of objects of material culture is fully consistent with what I have previously identified as characteristic of the pattern of Coronado expedition material culture. And especially with the presence of a copper crossbow bolthead on the old Montgomery Ranch in Blanco Canyon and of a possible Mesoamerican blade fragment (both objects probably unique to the Coronado expedition), the Hugheses, Shirley, and I think that Blanco Canyon may very well be Coronado's first barranca and the Montgomery Site or the Floydada Country Club Site or some other yet unknown nearby Garza Complex site may be the first Teyas village.

In an effort to explore systematically those possibilities, we have begun discussions that we hope will lead to a university-led shovel survey of two or more relatively small areas in Blanco Canyon during the summer of 1995.

One footnote: If Blanco Canyon proves to be the first barranca, Palo Duro Canyon is probably the barranca postera or last barranca. The distance between the two (roughly 100 miles) fits with the travel time of seven days or so recorded by Pedro de Castaneda.

SPC honors 86 students with luncheon

South Plains College honored 86 of its brightest students recently, including two students from Floydada during its annual Scholars Recognition Luncheon.

The scholarship recipients and their parents were guests of the South Plains College Scholars Committee and were recognized by college officials for outstanding scholastic achievement. Special guests included the donors who have contributed funds to support the college's Scholars program.

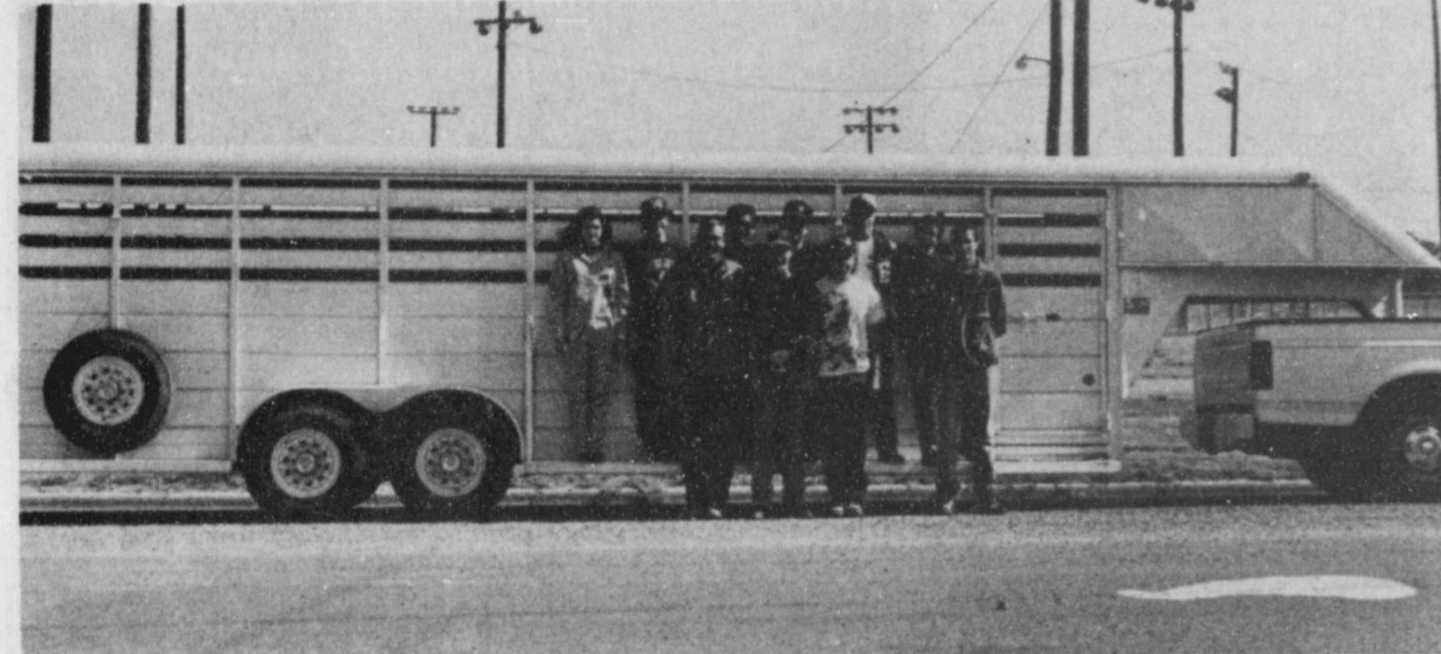

Aimee Fondy and Heather Fondy, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Fondy, were both honored as 1994-95 recipients of the college's prestigious Smallwood Scholarship.

Mike Caplinger, superintendent of Cooper Independent School District, delivered the keynote address, challenging students to "take advantage of your college opportunity to build leadership, scholarship, service and character."

"You are all leaders because you have that rare ability to influence others," he told the gathering of more than 250 persons. "The only way to reach success is to set goals for yourself, and then work on developing these four qualities."

Caplinger is a 1967 graduate of South Plains College and in 1992 was recognized as Superintendent of the Year for Region 17 of the Texas Education Agency.

The Scholars Program is the most prestigious scholarship program offered at South Plains College. The program, administered by the South Plains College Foundation, awards scholarships in amounts up to $2,000.

Textile Delegation to visit U.S. cotton sites

The U.S. cotton industry is preparing to showcase its world-class production and processing system before a 28-member delegation of textile manufacturers representing 17 countries in Asia, Latin America and Eastern Europe.

From October 30 to November 10, the textile executives will visit all four major U.S. cotton production areas during the annual Cotton USA Orientation Tour, which is sponsored by Cotton Council International (CCI), the export promotion division of the National Cotton Council.

During the coast-to-coast trip, the participants will see the harvesting and ginning of a record U.S. cotton crop estimated at 19.3 million bales.

"These participants are major cotton users and are expected to consume around 1.1 million bales this year," said CCI President Jerry Calvani.

The 17 countries represented on this year's tour are up and coming executives at their textile manufacturing firms," Jordan said. "The orientation tour has enabled the U.S. cotton industry to develop many long-term relationships."

The countries represented on the tour annually import 12 million bales of cotton with about 4.5 million bales coming from the U.S. or 70 percent of

REMEMBER WHEN A HANDSHAKE WAS GOOD ENOUGH? WE DO.

No Long-term Contracts. No Hassles. No Problem.

If the only thing holding you back from experiencing the convenience of cellular phone service is the fact that you have to sign a long-term contract, then Digital Cellular is for you! Just tell us what type of service you want, and we'll get you started! No long-term contract is required. You can take advantage of Digital Cellular's many features and services just as long as you want, and not as long as we want, like other cellular companies. And what a line-up of great, convenient services! Just take a look!

TOLL-FREE CALLING

With Digital Cellular, you can call anywhere in Texas, New Mexico or Oklahoma from Digital Cellular's home service area without paying any long distance charges! You pay only the regular airtime rates applicable! So whether you are on a tractor near Tahoka or in a car close to Cone, Digital Cellular puts you on the line to family, friends or business associates in all three states for just pennies a minute! Toll-free calling is available to all callers, including non-Digital Cellular customers.

OPTION2 RATE PLAN

If you use your cellular phone regularly then Option2 could be just the thing for you! With Option2, after you have talked just 120 minutes from your home system in a given month, every home minute for the entire month, from the first minute to the last, is charged to you at only 25¢! That's big savings to you if you use your cellular phone as little as 2 hours a month. You also get all of Digital Cellular's free services, like 6-Second Billing (one minute minimum on completed calls), Deatiled Billing, Call Forwarding and Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling, and 3-Way Calling, and Incoming and Outgoing Call Restriction. Plus, Option2 customers get Voice Mail free! Some other cellular phone companies charge for services like these, but they're FREE from Digital Cellular. Also free to Option1 customers are 6-Second Billing, Call Forwarding and Call Waiting, and 3-Way Calling!

EXTENDED COVERAGE

We've extended our call delivery area to include most of the South Plains and part of West Texas. You can receive calls throughout the entire Digital Cellular Coverage Area, without having to activate or pay for any special roaming services, while traveling in the extended coverage area.

WHY SHOULD FLOYD COUNTY VOTERS SPEND THE NEXT TWO YEARS WORRYING ABOUT WHEN THE NEXT SHOE WILL FALL? Why should we be embarrassed just because we voted for the wrong guy?

Congressman Bill Sarpalius, according to many press reports, is currently being investigated by a Federal Grand Jury in San Antonio, for his part in a lobby-paid junket to Las Vegas within weeks of being sworn into office as our Congressional representative. Mr. Sarpalius was paid handsomely for his trip to the lobby function, and "forgot" to report the "honorarium" until the Grand Jury began its investigation. He would like us to forget it too, just like he "forgot" it. Just as he would like us to forget his vote for Bill Clinton's tax bill, the biggest tax bill in history. Just like he would like us to forget many other tax-and-spend votes he cast in support of Mr. Clinton's proposals.

Cargill offers FFA Scholarships

The Cargill Foundation will sponsor $1,000 scholarships for 250 high school seniors from U.S. farm families for the tenth year next spring.

The Cargill Scholarship for Rural America is open to all high school seniors who will graduate in the spring. The seniors must come from families that derive at least half of their income from farming. Scholarship candidate must enroll full-time next fall at an accredited two or four year college, university or vocational-technical school.

"The program has helped to honor academic achievement among rural students," said Bill Pearce, president of the Cargill Foundation. "It's an endeavor that has received an enthusiastic reception in rural communities. We are committed to this scholarship program."

The Cargill Foundation established the program in 1986 to recognize and encourage academic achievement, accomplishment and talent among rural youth. Thus far, the Cargill foundation has presented 1,753 awards for a total of $2 million.

The national FFA selects the scholarship winners, although applicants do not have to be members of FFA. The organization bases its selections on academic record, leadership, extra-curricular accomplishments and financial need.

"The FFA has a long history of administering scholarship programs for agriculturally-based companies," said Gladys Tripp, a professional in Cargill's Community Relations department.

Information and application forms can be obtained at any Cargill office or high school FFA department. Students also may request forms from the Cargill scholarship coordinator, National FFA, P.O. Box 45205, Madison, Wis., 53744-5205. The application deadline is Feb. 15, 1995.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) has filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) to restructure the current PLEXAR I and II service offerings. This restructure will significantly change PLEXAR I and II services.

The restructuring of PLEXAR I will, among other things: (1) reduce the maximum line size from 30 to 9; (2) obsolete and grandfather certain optional features; (3) eliminate the requirement to subscribe to Feature Package Two in order to subscribe to certain optional features; (4) reduce the nonrecurring and monthly rates of certain features; and (5) increase the nonrecurring charges for the PLEXAR I System Charge ($2.10 to $8.00), Call Transfer Disconnect feature ($3.00 to $8.00), and Convenience Dialing I feature ($6.35 to $8.00). All current PLEXAR I customers will have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR I service, switching to the new restructured PLEXAR I service, or switching to PLEXAR II service with ten or more lines.

The proposed PLEXAR II restructure will, among other things: (1) change the tariffed offering to serve the market segment of 10-74 stations; (2) create two station pricing structures, one for customers with 10-29 stations, and one for customers with 30-74 stations; (3) reduce the sensitivity for the loop portion of the rate to two price bands: 0-2 miles, and beyond 2 miles; (4) offer a PLEXAR II basic station that can be flexibly configured, from a number of standard features, to meet the individual customer requirements; (5) change the way the termination liability is calculated so the customer is responsible for 65% rather than 56% of the present worth of the remaining monthly payments in the contract; (6) create an option that allows month-to-month customers to convert to long term contracts of at least three years and receive a credit or "contract signing bonus"; and (7) establish a System Subsequent Change Charge which applies per serving central office when changes are made that affect the entire system.

Current PLEXAR II customers will also have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR II service, or switching to the new restructured PLEXAR II service. PLEXAR II customers with at least 75 stations also have the option of switching to PLEXAR Custom service in certain situations.

This application has been assigned Docket Number 13210. Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by November 28, 1994. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. For more information about this application, please call your local Southwestern Bell Account Representative.

JOHNA J. BILBREY
Graveside services for Johna J. Bilbrey, 69, will be held at 3:00 p.m., Friday, November 4, 1994, at the Lockney Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home. Rev. Harold Abney, pastor of The First Baptist Church in Lockney will officiate.
Bilbrey died Tuesday, November 1, 1994, at 2:13 p.m. at Lubbock Methodist Hospital after a short illness.
She was born, Johna J. Kenady, on October 11, 1925, in Jayton, Texas. She moved to Plainview from Lockney in 1967.
She was a retired school cafeteria worker.
She is survived by one daughter, Beverly Watson, of Plainview; one son, Carlton Ray Bilbrey, of Hot Springs, Arkansas; 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

J. FRANK McNEILL
Funeral services for J. Frank McNeill, 83, of Amarillo were at 10 a.m. Monday, Oct. 31, in Martin Road Chapel of Schooler-Gordon*Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Directors with the Rev. John W. Mourer Sr., a retired Methodist minister, officiating.
Masonic graveside rites by Amarillo Masonic Lodge No. 731 AF&AM were at 2 p.m. Monday in Lockney Cemetery. Mr. McNeill was born in Denton

County and married Reva Handley in 1933 in Luling.
He was a member of Amarillo Lodge 731 AF&AM, past worthy patron of Amarillo Chapter 787 of the Order of Eastern Star, member of the International Order of the Rainbow Girls and member of Buchanan Street United Methodist Church for 40 years.
He moved to Amarillo from Lockney in 1943 and had worked for the Amarillo Coca-Cola Bottling Co. for 30 years as a sales representative and supervisor of route sales.
Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Melba Joe McNeill King of Gifford and Linda Sue McNeill Cassell of Amarillo; a brother, J. Frank McNeill of Floydada; six grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.
The family suggests memorials to: Let's Be Thankful Fund, Rt. 3 Box 97, Alvin, Texas 77511, the Masonic Home for Aged Masons, or the O.E.S. Benevolence Fund.

RAY H. SMITH
Services for Ray H. Smith, of Floydada were pending Wednesday morning with Moore-Rose-White Funeral Home of Floydada.
Mr. Smith died at 6:42 a.m., Wednesday, November 2, 1994, in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital following a short illness.

Cards of Thanks

The outpouring of love and concern at the loss of our loved one has been most heartwarming. During this hectic time in our lives, if we have overlooked thanking any of you personally, be assured it was an oversight. We appreciate every prayer, every visit, every card, and every telephone call. The flowers were beautiful, and we thank you for the food which was so abundantly prepared and served by the women of the community. Just as she loved each of you, there will always be love in our thoughts of you.

It seems almost impossible to begin to thank everyone who helped to make 1994 Punkin Days such a success!
My sincerest thanks goes to Gary Brown and the entire city staff, Chief Hale and the Police Department, the Fire Department, and Ambulance Staff who helped throughout the day. Thanks to Sheriff Overstreet and Deputies, Judge Hardin and the "Old Settlers" Committee, James Williams and crew, and the Floydada Coop Gin.
Many thanks to Richard Larsen, Roy Ray, and the Cargill employees for everything they do and for the support and help of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and the Punkin Day Committee. I appreciate all the pumpkin growers and their willingness to join in, with a special thank you to the Assiter Pumpkin Ranch, the Jones Pumpkin Farm, and Heptad.

Houchin, Anne Carthel, Evelyn Branch and our other bakers for the auction. Thanks to the FISH teachers and students who participated including the FFA and Home Ec departments and to Nancy Marble and the Floyd County Historical Museum.
A big thanks to our announcers and committee chairmen: Nick and Melissa Long, Clark Williams, Tim Assiter, Mike Holster, Randall Griffin, Paul Sharp, Sheldon Sue, Anne and Hulon Carthel, Julianne and Eric Cornelius, Jeff Johnson, Laura Turner, Kerry Siders, Miss Floydada Pepper Hinkle, Brenda Meyers, Karen Lawsen, Larry Ogden, Angie Veld, Alice Gilroy, Daphna Simpson, Mitzi Nixon, Helen Griggs, Donna Webb, and all of the others who helped plan, organize, and work on all the committees, including those who called and came to volunteer when I began to panic!
Thanks so much to Floydada Housing Authority, Oden Chevrolet, First National Bank of Floydada, the First National Bank in Lockney, R Photography, Floyd County

Farm Bureau, Lowe's Pay-n-Save, and to all the merchants and homeowners who carried out the spirit by decorating, dressing in costume, and being a part of the festivities, and Mega-Thanks to Jack Fuqua for our beautiful highway decorations and to those who donated to expand our pumpkin light decorations for 1995 including the Floydada Lions Club and the Pumpkin Fairy (who shall be nameless) who donated 10 more! Also thanks to those who donated candy.
Thanks to the clubs and organizations who joined in the festivities to make the day complete including the 1990 Study Club and the Four Seasons Dance Club, and to all you citizens who invited out-of-town guests to come join our special brand of fun! My deepest appreciation to my Mom, without whom I couldn't have made it through!
With this kind of support, Punkin Days will grow, but Floydada will grow and prosper for future generations to love and enjoy!!
Thanks to everyone,
Roxanna Cummings

Mere words cannot convey our thanks for the overwhelming outpouring of love and friendship we have received during the last couple of months. Your many acts of kindness while Willie was in the hospital brightened his days and ours. Your prayers, visits, flowers, cards, food and memorials since the loss of our husband and father have sustained us.

We are truly lucky to live in a town like Floydada. A special thank you to Alice Gilroy for the wonderful tribute in the Hesperian.

Friendship on the part of so many people was in evidence during my recent hospitalization and since coming to the Floydada Nursing Home. We never realize how caring people can be until our darkest moments. For each prayer, visit, phone call, card, flowers, food, and other acts of friendship, I extend a heartfelt thank you.
May God Bless You,
Rachel Nance

Dear Friends,
Every year the Fat Man's Race gets better and better! It was really a success this year. We would like to thank Johnny Summers and Lowe's Pay-n-Save for donating the food for the race. Thanks also goes to all of the people who worked the tables and made sure all the racers got fed. They were Judy Emert, Mary Emert, Mitzi Nixon, Debbie Arney, Anne Carthel, Zahn Turner, Karen Lawson, Terry Nelson, Renee Jones, Angie Veld, and Sarah Hinsley.

A big thank you to all the runners. Our town wouldn't be quite the same without a bunch of these fun loving people who make a point of participating in this race.
Thanks Again,
Laura Turner and Jill Graham

INSTRUCTION NOTE: Vote for the candidate of your choice in each race by placing an "X" in the square beside the candidate's name. You may cast a straight-party vote (that is, cast a vote for all the nominees of one party) by placing an "X" in the square beside the name of the party of your choice. If you cast a straight-party vote for all the nominees of one party and also cast a vote for an opponent of one of that party's nominees, your vote for the opponent will be counted as well as your vote for all the other nominees of the party for which the straight-party vote was cast.
 (NOTA DE INSTRUCCION: Vote por el candidato de su preferencia para cada candidatura marcando una "X" en el espacio cuadrado a la izquierda del nombre del candidato. Usted podrá votar por todos los candidatos de un solo partido político ("straight ticket") marcando una "X" en el espacio cuadrado a la izquierda del nombre de ese partido político. Si usted vota por uno de los partidos políticos y también vota por el contrincante de uno de los candidatos de dicho partido político, se contará su voto por el contrincante tanto como su voto por todos los demás candidatos del partido político de su preferencia.)

USDA announces 1995 Upland Cotton Program provisions

THE U.S. Department of Agriculture today announced a preliminary 7.5 percent Acreage Reduction Program (ARP) requirement for the 1995 upland cotton program.

The Agricultural Act of 1949, as amended, requires the upland cotton ARP to be announced by Nov. 1. It also requires that the program lead to a supply/use situation in which projected ending stocks approximate, as closely as possible, 29.5 percent of the projected total of domestic mill use and exports for the 1995 marketing year.

Based on USDA's October supply and use estimates, USDA determined that a 7.5 percent ARP level will most likely achieve stocks meeting this ratio. A final ARP requirement, which may be different from today's preliminary announcement, must be announced by January 1, 1995.

Other 1995-crop upland cotton program provisions announced today include:

The established target price will be the statutory minimum of 72.9 cents per pound.

A 51.92-cent-per-pound price support level is established for the base quality. The base quality for the 1995 crop will be color grade 41, leaf grade 4, staple length 1-1/16 inches, micronaire 3.5-3.6 and 4.3-4.9 and strength 24-25 grams per tex.

No paid land diversion will be offered.

Texas Soybean Producers Board announces election of directors

Weldon Melton, Chairman of the Texas Soybean Producers Board and a farmer from Plainview, announced the date of their upcoming election of board members. The election will be held by mail on December 15, 1994.

Three farmer directors will be elected -- two from the High Plains and one from the Gulf Coast. These positions are currently held by Louis Pyle, Floydada; W.B. Tilson, Plainview; and R.D. Burnside, III, Baytown. Anyone wishing to run for a position on the board should apply to the TSPB by October 30 by calling 1-800-247-8691. A nomination form with 10 producers signatures is required.

The Texas Soybean Producers Board was organized October 6, 1970 in Lubbock and is responsible for the disbursement of the soybean checkoff. Half of all funds remain in Texas and are used to fund research and promotion to the benefit of Texas soybean producers.

The state is divided into four districts with board members being elected on a rotating basis every two years for terms of six years.

Current officers are Weldon Melton, Plainview, Chairman; Richard Raun, El Campo, Vice-Chairman; and Don Blacketer, Honey Grove, Secretary/Treasurer. Other Board Members are Worth Matteson, III, DeKalb; W.B. Tilson, Plainview, T.P. Rotello, Navasota; Louis Pyle, Floydada; and Wesley Schumacher, Plainview; R.D. Burnside, III, Baytown.

Please contact the Texas Soybean Producers Board at 800-247-8691 for more information.

TIPS FOR PRESERVING PLANTING SEED QUALITY

When Floyd County cotton producers harvest their cotton they are also preserving for next year the plant type and quality potential in their planting seed. Even though there is nothing that can be done to improve upon the plant type and quality potential (other than buying different seed), there are a few key points that will maintain seed vigor and viability. Dr. Norm Hopper of Texas Tech University has provided most of the information for this article.

Field Selection: Select high to medium yielding fields of the desired variety (probably only irrigated fields in 1994). Avoid late maturing fields or low mike fields. Micronaire indicates the maturity of the fiber and should also indicate if the seed is fully mature. Do not save seeds from fields where Roundup was broadcast applied. Potassium deficient fields also suffer low quality planting seed, although this deficiency is rare in West Texas.

Harvest and Moduling: Strip fields only when dry, 12% or less seedcotton moisture. Build well rounded modules on high ground and either promptly gin or cover them with tarps.

Module Temperature: Check modules for the temperature rise during the 7 day period after stripping. A 10 to 15 degree rise is common and allows high quality seed even after storage in the module. However a 15 to 20 degree quick rise indicates a potential for loss of seed vigor and the need to gin as soon as possible if planting seed quality is to be maintained. A temperature rise greater than 20 degrees or reaching 110 degrees would indicate the potential for severe quality loss.

Testing: Regardless of the moisture content and maturity of the seed, testing is still the best determination of which seed to save for planting. Both cool and warm germination tests are necessary and producers may also wish to analyze for free fatty acids (FFA). If the seedcotton or seed is stored wet, it will start the biochemical process of germination, including the breakdown of stored oil. Premature germination prior to storage, even just partially, is undesirable and severely lowers seed vigor. The concentration of free fatty acids is a good indicator of this type of seed deterioration. FFA concentrations above 1% are damaging, while less than 0.8% is desirable, and very good seed is usually 0.5% or less.

Dr. Jerry Mason to speak at financial management seminar

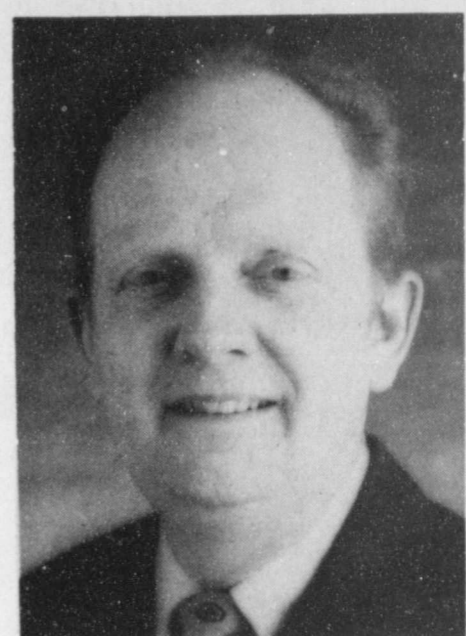

By Kerry Siders, CEA-Ag
Do you run out of money before you run out of month? Does it seem like the mailman only brings you bills? Do you have to use your credit card to bail you out of financial difficulties?

If you are having problems managing your money, or if you want to learn more, why not plan to attend the money management workshop that will be presented Thursday evening, November 17 at the Massie Activity Center in Floydada from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

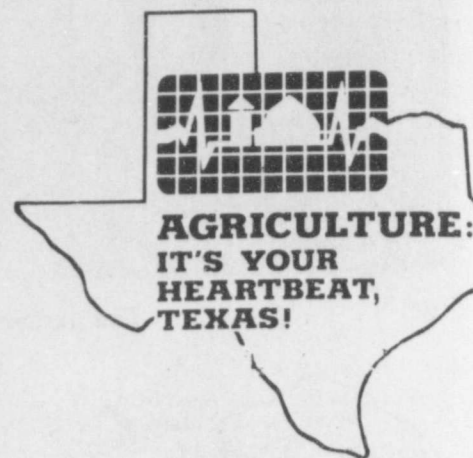

Dr. Jerry Mason, professor at Texas Tech University, will deliver an informative and entertaining program. Dr. Mason will discuss five strategies you need to follow if you wish to gain greater control over your finances. He will explain the steps that anyone who is trying to become financially independent must use. Maybe it is time that you completed a financial checkup. It may not be as difficult as you think to gain greater control over your finances.

There must be 50 people attend this very educational meeting. If you would like to attend, call the Extension Office at 983-2806 to register before November 11.

Cleanup campaign is successful

--From the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission

The first statewide Texas Country Clean Up rural recycling campaign this spring and summer was a resounding success, eclipsing even the most optimistic predictions by Texas Natural Resource Conservation officials.

"Texas Country Clean Up has really exceeded our expectations and has been a tremendous success," said TNRCC Commissioner Peggy Garner. "I'm really glad our people have responded the way they have. We've collected a lot more material than we expected and we've really made a big impact on the landscape of rural Texas. It's gone so well that we've been approached by many other communities asking us to put them on our next collection schedule."

The campaign, which is designed to allow rural residents to dispose of recyclable waste material free of charge, began last year as the empty Pesticide Container Recycling Program. It was expanded this year by the TNRCC's Community Hazardous Waste Management Unit to accept used tires, oil, oil filters and lead-acid batteries. The purpose of the program is to allow rural residents the same recycling opportunities as those found in metropolitan areas, where recycling has become a way of life.

The results were impressive - and sometimes surprising.

"We didn't have any idea that nearly every collection would fill up a trailer with used tires," said Richard Easley, the TNRCC program coordinator for Texas Country Clean Up. "And there were a couple of places where we collected more batteries than the population of the community we were in. Some of this stuff had been cluttering up barns for decades. At one town we had some old tire rims come in that looked like they came off a Model A Ford."

In 38 collections in rural communities throughout the state, more than 1,600 participants recycled 62,003 plastic and metal pesticide containers; 23,812 used tires; 32,248 gallons of used oil; 36,968 used oil filters and 5,286 batteries.

There also were some especially unexpected contributions. At several cleanups, raccoons, mice, rats, snakes and bees were seen fleeing as their erstwhile homes were recycled, Easley said.

Plans are already being made for future collections, which may start as soon as this fall. The next Texas Country Clean Up is expected to be even more successful as the campaign and its purpose become better known.

"The next time around we expect the totals to double," Garner said. "In every town we went to we had people tell us they had neighbors who had material to recycle, but they didn't realize what the campaign was for or they didn't know it was all free. Next time we come through, they'll know."

Texas Country Clean Up is co-sponsored by the TNRCC, Clean Texas 2000, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Lower Colorado River Authority and many local recyclers.

Floydada basketball fans invited to Meet the Lady Winds Saturday

FLOYDADA—Everyone is invited to "Meet the Lady Winds" on Saturday, Nov. 5, at 5:00 p.m. at the Floydada Junior High School Gym.

The program will consist of a presentation from the ELP and demonstrations and introductions of all the young ladies in the program. There will also be a short parent meeting at the end to discuss expectations for the upcoming season.

Lady Winds basketball t-shirts will also be on sale on that day.

Hey All You Whirlwind Fans!

FLOYDADA—Let's close out the season with a record crowd to cheer the team on for the last game of the year.

This Friday night at 7:30 p.m. the team takes on the Friona Chieftains at Wester Field in Floydada. Everyone is urged to come on out and show their team spirit as the 1994 football season comes to an end.

Mustangs overwhelm Whirlwinds in first meeting

By Bill Gray
FLOYDADA—The Shallowater Mustangs scored 35 unanswered points to overtake Floydada 42-13 in District 2-3A action at Shallowater's Todd Field last Friday. It marked the first-ever victory for Shallowater over Floydada on the gridiron, as the Mustangs' overall record improved to 5-1-3. More importantly, Shallowater remains unbeaten in district play and is virtually assured a playoff berth in its first year of Class 3A competition.

The Whirlwinds were eliminated from post-season chances with their third district loss and fell to 3-6 on the year. Floydada hosts district leader Friona at Wester Field this week in the season finale. A victory over the Whirlwinds tomorrow night will give Friona its first district crown in almost a decade. The Chieftains clinched a playoff spot for the first time in eight years by topping Littlefield 35-21 last Friday. It was only Friona's fourth win in their 25 outings with Littlefield.

The Whirlwinds totally dominated the Mustangs for the first five minutes in the initial meeting of the schools.

Pete Cooper capped a 12-play, 94-yard drive with a touchdown on eight yards out, and Zach Abshier added the conversion, to give Floydada a 7-0 lead with 6:46 remaining in the opening period. Abshier carried for 48 yards on a first down play to move the 'Winds into scoring territory during the drive.

Peter Luna recovered a Mustang fumble following the ensuing kickoff, but the Whirlwinds were unable to capitalize on the miscue. Following a short Floydada punt, the Mustangs took advantage of good field position. They mounted a 9-play, 60-yard drive in the last four minutes of the opening period. Dereck Blair connected with Cory Menton on a 30-yard pass to set up Blair's QB sneak for a 6-pointer. Menton kicked the extra point to deadlock the score at 7-all to end the quarter.

Floydada responded with a 4-play, 80-yard drive to open the second period. Pete Cooper added a TD with a third-down, 60-yard carry on the second snap of the second quarter as the Whirlwinds regained the lead.

Propelled by a mixture of Dereck Blair passes and the running of a tailback Cory Menton. Menton carried in from six yards out on third down, added the conversion to break a 13-all tie, and gave Shallowater control of the game at that point.

The Whirlwinds moved the ball well during their next series, and advanced as far as the Mustang 14-yard line. However, the apparent scoring threat was stalled by a combination of Floydada penalties and Mustang sacks of Sammy Rodriguez. As it turned out, this series changed the complexion of the entire game.

Shallowater capitalized on a short Floydada punt to roll to an 84-yard scoring thrust late in the second period. Passes by Blair to Rusty Workman and Jay Lusk, coupled with a 30-yard scamper by Menton, moved the Mustangs deep into Whirlwind territory. Blair carried in on an option from the 11-yard line, and Menton tacked on the PAT to give the Mustangs a 21-13 ownership of the scoreboard at halftime.

Cory Menton brought the home crowd to its feet with a 47-yard kickoff return to open the second half. It took Blair & Co. only five plays to reach Floydada's double stripe. Receiver Jay Lusk found the end zone on a 23-yard reverse, Menton's kick was true, and the Mustangs started to pull away at 28-13. Only three minutes had elapsed in the third stanza.

Following an exchange of punts, the Whirlwinds fought to regain momentum with long runs by Rodriguez and Cooper. On first down from the Mustang 25-yard line, Cooper broke into the clear, but had the ball stripped away at the five-yard line as he was struggling to reach the end zone. Shallowater's Robert Perra recovered the fumble to end Floydada's last opportunity to get back into the game.

Shallowater took full control with 2 1/2 minutes remaining in the third quarter. Ryan Lupton ate up big chunks of yardage to move the Mustangs into better field position. Blair and Lusk hooked up on a 65-yard pass-and-run touchdown to extend the Mustang lead at the end of the period. T.J. Speer added to Floydada's woes by picking off a Sammy Rodriguez pass on the third play of the final stanza.

Although the game was by now out-of-reach, the 'Winds continued to play hard. They stopped a Shallowater drive mid-way through the period and forced the Mustangs into their second punt attempt.

Punter Jay Lusk was unable to handle a high snap, and attempted to run with the ball. Rodriguez stopped him with the hardest hit of the game (perhaps the hardest hit of the year), and Floydada took over on downs in Mustang territory. However, Floydada wasn't able to sustain its subsequent drive and called on Abshier for his fifth punt of the evening.

Shallowater scored a meaningless touchdown in the waning moments with reserve back Peter Garza cashing in from the 22-yard line. Jay Lusk connected on his only conversion kick to give the Mustangs their final margin of victory.

The way the game started, it appeared as though Floydada was on its way to an upset. Coach Bryan Davis stated, "We came out fired up... we played hard the whole game, but had some breakdowns in execution both offense and defense. We told our kids all week that we would have to minimize our mistakes in order to handle a team of their (Shallowater) caliber."

The coach added, "We lost momentum on two possible scoring drives. You can just play so long on emotions, and things finally caught up with us... and they got the best of us. Turnovers and key penalties really hurt. We were real pleased with our efforts, but not our execution at times. That happens with a young ball club."

BILL'S NOTES

In a few short weeks the Mustangs proved they could compete at the 3A level. Their wheels would have to come off against Muleshoe to keep from reaching the playoffs on an upset. However, after what the Mules did to Dimmitt, anything seems to be possible in this district.

Shallowater has a sound, skilled, of offensive attack, and the Mustang defense took care of the opportunities presented by Whirlwind mistakes and the key turnover in the third quarter.

I was impressed with Dereck Blair's passing (11 of 14 for 210 yards and no interceptions) and Jay Lusk's receiving (5 for 106 yards and a TD). They are my picks for the offensive co-players of the game. Pete Cooper's 60-yard TD romp to open the second quarter is my choice for the of offensive play of the game.

The key defensive play, in my opinion, was Robert Perra's fumble recovery when the 'Winds all but had a score on the board. Floydada could have closed the gap to within 7 or 8 points there, and the turnover closed the door on any serious rally. I'll tip my hat to Shallowater's defensive front and name them the defensive players of the game.

Something radical against Friona would have to happen for me to name anyone else as the "Headhunter" of the year... other than Sammy Rodriguez - after his "stick" on Jay Lusk. I've already named Sammy twice as head-hunter, but his shot on Lusk as he was scrambling (following a bad snap on a punt attempt), was as hard a football hit I've ever seen (schoolboy, college or pro). I'm sure it was a lick that Lusk will remember for a long time!

It will take a super effort to knock off the sky-high Chieftains tomorrow night. Jay Belcher, Juan Gamboa, Chris Hanna, Colby Carthel and the other Friona seniors would like nothing more than to close out their careers with a win over the Whirlwinds AND a district championship. Sorry, fellas... Sammy, Pete, and the other Whirlwind seniors have had your number in varsity play the past several years... and they'll continue by knocking you out of that outright district crown... by 5 points in a thriller. Bill's other pic this week: Lockney will take out Abernathy 33-13 to grab the #2 playoff berth in 3-2A. Congratulations to Coach Malcom Moerbe and his young Longhorns for their successful year... and good luck in the post-season party.

FHS 9th graders defeat Shallowater

By Bill Gray
FLOYDADA—Floydada's 9th grade Whirlwinds scored in every quarter to defeat Shallowater 28-14 at Wester Field last Thursday. The freshmen will take a three-game winning streak with them when they close out the season at Friona on November 3.

Floydada put eight points on the board in the opening period against the visiting Mustangs. Richard Casillas tossed a 45-yard pass to Jason Henderson for the first quarter TD. Adam Perales added the two-point conversion. Mario Nunez added an eight-yard touchdown as Floydada owned a narrow 14-8 halftime lead.

Kyle Pierce helped break open a tight game with a 65-yard interception return for a third quarter touchdown. Perales added his second two-point conversion following Pierce's TD. Casillas scored from 15 yards out for an insurance TD in the 4th period.

George Perez turned in a defensive gem with a punt block in the third quarter. Pierce recovered the blocked punt. The victory improved the 9th grade 'Winds' overall record to 6-2-1.

Breezer Football Report

By Bill Gray
 FLOYDADA—Floydada's 7th grade Breezers continued their winning ways last week with a 26-12 decision over Shallowater's 7th graders. Darryl Henderson scored from eight yards out for the only points in the opening quarter. A successful onside kick following Henderson's touchdown paved the way for a 60-yard TD scamper off a reverse by Andy Williams. Dusty Anderson added the two-point conversion as the Breezers stretched their lead to 14-0 at halftime.

Joe Arredondo and Jamie Davis added third period touchdowns on runs of 70 yards and two yards, respectively. Shallowater staged a comeback in the final quarter and managed to score 12 points. Arredondo, Henderson, and Anderson each had pass interceptions as the Breezers played one of their better defensive games of the year. Also leading the defensive statistics were fumble recoveries by Hector Palacios (2), Scott Holster, and Henderson.

In "Split-Squad" scrimmage action, Floydada's offense moved the ball well down to the one-yard line on the 15th play. Gabriel Rodriguez ran well at full-back and Josh Tipton performed well at quarterback. Defensive standouts included David Bishop (linebacker), Jeremy Hernandez (nose guard), and Paul Ross (fumble recovery).

 In 8th grade game action, Shallowater scored in the first and second periods and held on to defeat the Breezers 12-6 in a defensive struggle. Tony Diaz scored on a 20-yard run in the third quarter for Floydada's only points. Other offensive standouts were Michael Black and Cody Stovall.

Outstanding defensive performances were given by Gabriel Rodriguez (fumble recovery) and Kory Kirk (onside kick recovery).

The Breezer squads will close out their seasons when they host Friona's junior high teams on November 3. The 7th grade game is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. The "Split-Squad" will scrimmage between the 7th and 8th grade games.

7th grade falls to Hale Center Owls

By Coach Rodney Dowell

LOCKNEY—Last Thursday night, the Lockney 7th grade Shorthorns battled the Hale Center Owls at Mitchell-Zimmerman Field. The Shorthorns fought long and hard in the first half. Their efforts showed as the score remained locked at 0-0.

Once the second half began, the Horns offensive struggles gave the Owls good field possession and they capitalized with two third quarter touch-

Yeary wins weekly football contest

The first place check for $25.00 goes to Brad Yeary of Floydada, one of two contestants who miss seven games (including the tie game between SMU and Texas A&M) on the contest in the ninth week. The first place check will be waiting in the Floydada office on Friday, November 4. Yeary selected Shallowater to win over Floydada to clinch first place.

Also missing seven games was Sam Hale, who chose the Whirlwinds to win. This earns him second place and a check for $15.00. His prize will be in the Floydada office on Friday.

Three entries tied for third place and each selected Shallowater to win. Jeff Lyles of Floydada emerged as the winner with a tie-breaker score of 44, 11 points under the actual combined score of 55. His check for $10.00 will be in the Floydada office on Friday.

Receiving an honorable mention were Franklin Harris who chose a tie-breaker score of 38, and Glenda Wilson with a tie-breaker guess of 28.

Nell McClung and Dwayne Wilson of Floydada and, Dickie McCarty of Lockney each missed nine games this week.

Missing ten games this week were the 5th Grade ELS Lab at Lockney Elementary, Owen Thornton, Cosme Gonzales Jr., Bill McCarter, and Boyd Lee, all of Lockney and Charla Yeary, Jean Hale, Mike Anderson, Amber Arney, Dane Nichols, Carolyn Nichols, Justin McGuire, and Santos Billigas Jr., all of Floydada.

FHS Coach's Comments

By Bill Gray

FLOYDADA—Head Coach Bryan Davis stated, "We played pretty well in the first half against Shallowater, but had some breakdowns that cost us a score and the momentum late in the second quarter. Then, after the fumble going in for a score in the third quarter, we kind of went downhill from there."

"We knew we had to execute well on offense, play ball-control, and keep the ball out of their hands," said Davis. "We made some mistakes and gave up momentum, and a good team like Shallowater is going to take advantage of such opportunities."

The coach added, "We're going to try to knock off the #1 team in the district (Friona) this week. They seem to play their best against the better teams, and they will be a real test."

Coach Lee Hurt commented on Friona's defense. "They will stick pretty well with a basic 4-3, and we might see some 5-2 or 6-2 in goal line situations," said Hurt. "They have a pretty sound defense with all three linebackers back. This bunch has been together for awhile, and will take a good effort to beat them."

Defensive coordinator David Carr said, "The Friona offense will present even more sets than we've seen with Muleshoe or some of the other multi-set offenses we've faced. Their quarterback (Belcher) performs well behind a quick offensive line. We'll need to pressure their quarterback to shut them down. They don't pass a lot, but will play ball control with several talented backs."

Playoff hopes one win away from reality

Longhorns top Hale Center Owls

By Mark Todd Terrell
Do you remember when Lockney was in the football playoffs last? For those who don't it was six long years ago. All of these years the goal of the players, coaches, and fans was a playoff berth. Now the pre-season last place team is proving the polls wrong and is only one game away from reaching that goal. Lockney went into Friday's district 3-AA contest as an 11-point underdog. But after a tremendous battle, they were able to top Hale Center 18-12. This put the playoff outlook more into focus.

With a win this week, the Horns will cinch a spot in the playoffs. Lockney didn't get off to a slow start against Hale Center, but they did feel immediately that they were playing a good team. The Horns were unable to capitalize on their first drive and were forced to punt.

After several good Hale Center runs, Lockney managed to stop their momentum. When forced to punt Hale Center snapped the ball well over the punter's head. He still managed to get off a good kick to the 2-yard line. But after being touched by Tanner Johnson, the ball was recovered by Hale Center and they scored two plays later. Robert Delgado blocked the extra point attempt.

On the Horns next possession, Hale Center managed to hold strong and the Horns were once again forced to punt. By the beginning of the second quarter, the Horns defense came alive. However, the offense was still just going through the motions.

LHS Coach's Comments

By Coach Malcolm Moerbe
LOCKNEY — Friday's win at Hale Center puts us in a position to achieve what few thought was possible, but we have to understand that nothing has been accomplished yet. Abernathy is getting some very key players back from injuries and they are starting to play well. They demolished Morton on Friday, the same Morton team that we struggled with, so it will not be easy.

The game at Hale Center showed the character of the Longhorns. They refused to quit and as a result, they came out on top. The offense controlled the ball for all but 8 plays in the second half. We had to have that kind of ball control. For the 4th game in a row, the defense scored some points. All in all, it was a good solid team performance.

Offensive leaders were Tanner Johnson (passing), Devon Phillips (Rushing), Shannon Veal (receiving), and once again the line of Michael Hernandez, Julio Ramirez, Matthew Raisen, Rowdy Boggs, Tim Mitchell, Mikhael Durham, Carlos Perales, Robert Delgado, and Josh Lambert. Defensive leaders included Robert Delgado (blocked kick), Devon Phillips and Tanner Johnson (fumble recoveries) and Joe Marks (leadership).

DEFENSIVE POINT LEADERS: Game; Devon Phillips 31, Joe Marks 30, Carlos Perales 25, Tanner Johnson - Season; Lalo Chavira 297, Joe Marks 243, Carlos Perales 230.

Hale Center had the ball first and was quickly forced to punt. Lockney had to do the same, and it became a defensive battle.

The Owls got the ball back, but Dereck McGill coughed it up and Devon Phillips recovered the fumble.

Lockney once again was unable to reach the endzone and were forced to punt. The ball was snapped over punter Carlos Perales' head but he was able to recover and get off a good punt.

When Hale Center got the ball, they were almost immediately in trouble. After a chase behind the line of scrimmage and another loss, the Owls were deep in their territory when another snap went over the head of the punter. As it rolled out of the endzone Phillips rushed in and a safety was called.

With 1:36 left in the half, Hale Center attempted an onside kick. Shannon Veal was quick to come up with it, but the Horns couldn't advance the ball.

Hale Center got the ball once more, but had no luck in scoring.

It wasn't a very productive first half offensively for the Horns, but the defense played tough. The Owls went into the locker room leading 6-2.

On the second half kickoff, Hale Center's Angel Aguirre got the ball and was immediately nailed by Lalo Chavira for a 5-yard loss. Lockney's defense held the Owls to virtually no yardage.

When the Horns got the ball back, several good runs were produced, including a lateral by Joe Marks to Charles Van Zandt.

But Hale Center came smashing through on the next play to intercept a Johnson pass that set up a 40-yard touchdown pass. The score was Horns 2, Owls 12.

"At halftime, the kids decided they were going to go after it," said head coach Malcolm Moerbe. "When Hale Center went ahead 12-2, they realized it was now or never."

The Horns got the ball and were moving steadily towards the endzone. The area's tenth leading rusher, Devon Phillips, racked up some of his 109 yards for the night by rushing into the endzone for a touchdown. But plagued by penalties, the TD was called back.

Despite the penalties, a short time into the fourth quarter, Phillips was once again able to push through to the endzone. Veal made the grab for a 2-point conversion. The score was now 10-12 and the crowd which was packed into the stands went wild.

Hale Center got the kickoff and the Horns defense was very much alive as they held the Owls to almost no gain.

From then on it was all Phillips, Veal, and Michael Hernandez. The Horns pushed down the field with runs by Phillips and despite penalties, they set up a Veal touchdown pass from quarterback Johnson. Veal leaped over a crowd of defenders to pull down a great catch to get the winning TD.

"I was thinking 'Get my blocks and catch the ball,'" said junior receiver, Veal. "We had to do it for the seniors...it was their last chance."

For extra insurance, the Horns went for the 2-point conversion and Michael Hernandez pulled it in. The score was now 18-12.

With 2:43 left, the Horns went on a prayer and kicked a squib kick. Johnson came busting through to recover. The Horns managed to hang on to the ball until 59 seconds were left on the clock. After some confusion over how much time was left, the clock finally started back, the final buzzer went off and the game was over. The Horns had won!

As their hopes were realized and the celebration ensued in the locker room, the team drenched an unsuspecting Moerbe with a bucket of water to make the win official.

After the celebration, the thoughts of the Longhorn team were expressed by Veal who said, "I don't think I will be able to sleep tonight!"

And with a playoff berth waiting for them after a Friday night victory over Abernathy the Horns may have a few more restless nights before sleep will come easily.

Lockney JV defeats Owls

By Coach David Sutterfield
LOCKNEY — The Lockney JV played on of their better games Thursday against Hale Center. Adam Cummings started off the scoring by outrunning the defense for an 80 yard touchdown. The extra point failed.

The second touchdown came when Miguel Guerrero rumbled up the middle for a 20 yard touchdown. PAT failed. Guerrero also made the third score when he ripped through the line and fought off a would be tackler to go 70 yards. The two point conversion failed, making the score 18-0.

Adam Cummings again found the endzone when the defense converged on Guerrero. Cummings pulled the ball and fifty yards later was in the endzone. This made the score 24-0 at halftime.

The Horns came out after halftime and continued to play well. J.R. Walker scampered in from 12 yards out for his first touchdown of the game. The extra point by Carson Johnson was good.

The last two touchdowns were scored by Willie Luna. Luna took a pitch, danced around the defense then sprinted into the endzone for a 33-yard touchdown. His second score was a 40 yard touchdown.

Hale Center's lone score came on a fourth quarter run by Glenn Skoruppa. Coach Ventura said, "The offense did an outstanding job."

Individual Statistics: Guerrero, 11 carries for 134 yards; Cummings, 2 carries for 130 yards; Walker, 8 carries for 45 yards; Luna, 2 carries for 73 yards.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Wesley Hunter, Bradley Veal, Scott Crawford, and James Hernandez. Outstanding defensive performances by Bryan Bybee, Adrian Rosales, Tony Williams, Eric Bartlett, Anthony Poole, and Max Ramirez.

The next game will be Thursday, November 3, at Abernathy.

8th grade loses to Hale Center

By Coach Todd Hallmark
LOCKNEY — The 8th grade Short-horns came out fighting against the Hale Center Owls, but came up short 22-6. The team could not get anything going offensively. The Shorthorn's only score came on a kickoff return by Abel Rosales that went about 60 yards.

The shorthorns played very hard and never gave up. I am proud of the way they pulled together and gave an all out effort. I thought the kids played well, but some mistakes during the drives kept us out of the endzone.

Our next game will be Thursday, November 3, against the Lopes in Abernathy.

Kay Bailey Hutchison Working For Texas

Reducing Government to Strengthen Families and Small Business.

She's voted against higher taxes every time and for the Balanced Budget Amendment.

She strongly opposes unnecessary federal regulations that hurt small business.

And she's proposed a new law so homemakers can save with a tax free retirement account, too.

Changing the Way Washington Works.

Kay cut her own Senate office budget 20% — just as she promised last year.

Now she's pushed Congress to slash its budget, reduce government overhead by 10%, and trim $50 billion from 50 programs.

Kay's the sponsor of a bill for a national referendum on term limits and will set an example by only seeking two full terms herself.

Now she's determined to make Congress live under the laws it passes for the rest of America.

Protecting Our Freedom.

On the Armed Services Committee, Kay is fighting for a strong defense and defending our Texas military bases that are so critical to national security.

She's committed to protecting private property rights and other constitutionally protected freedoms.

She's pushing for tough crime laws that protect citizens, not criminals.

Already An Effective Leader.

Though we sent Kay Bailey Hutchison to the Senate just last year, she's already making a difference for Texas.

She passed a bill to make the federal government — for the first time — pay for some costs of its failure to protect our Texas border against illegal immigration.

Our choice this year is to keep this effective, new conservative leader who puts Texas first ... or replace her with a Clinton-style "New Democrat."
