Thousands enjoy sunshine and games

Punkin Day draws record crowds

FLOYDADA—There didn't seem to be anything that didn't want to cooperate for Floydada's annual Punkin Day festival on Saturday.

Although the morning weather was a little cold and windy it didn't take long for a beautiful sunny day to emerge. The games also went off without a hitch and the vendors were very pleased with the thousands of amiable folks shopping on and around the square.

Not only did the guests to Floydada seem to be having a wonderful day, but even the hard working organizers of the event said "this Punkin Days was the most fun!"

Visitors to the city were greeted with pumpkin displays in yards and at downtown businesses, as well as by the city's decorated pumpkins hanging on the light poles.

Children and adults enjoyed the wide variety of pumpkin games, not to mention the delicious food available everywhere you looked.

Happy shoppers patronized the arts and crafts booths as well as downtown businesses. The afternoon entertainment of humorous skits, music, tumbling and dancing was also a crowd favorite.

Nick Long, Mike Holster and Larry Ogden stayed busy throughout the day with their portable wireless microphones interviewing people on the square. In many cases the men would end up interviewing news media sent to Floydada to interview someone else.

The Senior Citizens of Floydada sold delicious home made pumpkin favorites and also asked their customers to write down where they were from. Cities listed were: Wichita Falls, Waco, Littlefield, Midland, Phoenix, Austin, New Mexico, San Angelo, Stanton, Houston, Shreveport, Fort Worth, Childress, Brownfield, New York, Dimmitt, Levelland, Crosbyton, Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Ralls, and the list goes on.

Although there appeared to be many tired faces leaving the festival at the end of the day it didn't take the children long to get their second wind for the costume contest and the Trunk or Treating at the city park.

Trunk or treating organizers estimate over 2,000 children stopped for treats at the variety of approved vehicles parked along the walking trail.

The very first Punkin Days was sponsored by the Floydada's Chamber of Commerce October 30, 1987 in an effort to attract tourists and encourage residents to enjoy their own hometown on a Saturday afternoon.

The very first year the chamber knew they had a hit on their hands and it has continued to grow every year. The pumpkin crop has done a lot for the city and in turn the city has shown their appreciation by making sure the whole country knows about Floydada and this county's pumpkins.

YOU'RE ALL WET DADDY!!—Melissa Long wasn't having much luck throwing a wet sponge at her father, Nick, so the youngster left her boundary line and decided to run up and smash the biggest wet sponge available right through the hole. The good natured scarecrow took it all its stride—dried off and waited for the next thrower. This was just one of the games enjoyed by young and old alike at Floydada's Punkin Days.

A LONG WAY TO THE FINISH LINE—The littlest participants in the Punkin Rolling race were sometimes outweighed by the pumpkins.

Open house for school library set

LOCKNEY—An Open House is scheduled for Sunday, November 4 from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. at the new high school and junior high library. The library which was under construction this summer, has been finished.

The library serves both the high school and junior high and is equipped with a computer system for filing books.

"We are very pleased with the new library and we would like for the community to take this opportunity to come and see it," stated Superintendent Raymond Lusk.

Floydada residents vote "Yes" on extended calling

The Public Utility Commission (PUC) has notified the City of Floydada that the petition to extend local calling has passed.

For a monthly fee of $3.50, per residential phone line, Floydada Southwestern Bell customers will be able to call all Lubbock and Plainview exchanges and Lockney with no extra charge per call.

Floydada businesses will pay $7.00 per phone line to call any Plainview

Lubbock or Lockney extension.

Business and residential customers in those areas will also be able to call Floydada at no charge.

More than 70% of those returning their ballots were in favor of the extended calling.

Southwestern Bell has 30 days to file its plan on implementing ELC service for Floydada. At that time a proposed implementation date will be filed by the company.

Floydada Branch changes name to West Texas National

FLOYDADA — Only the name has changed. Paul Sharp, in charge of the branch bank in Floydada, has announced a new name for the facility. From now on it will be the West Texas National Bank in Floydada.

Sharp stressed, "We want people to know that we are more than a branch. We are a bank and our staff can offer customers the services of a bank. We intend to continue to offer everyone the same great service they are used to receiving."

"In honor of our new name and our new West Texas Checking Account, we are inviting everyone in to have a bowl of chili with us on Friday, November 3. There will also be balloons, some with money inside, and an opportunity to learn more about the new account."

West Texas National Bank in Floydada will remain affiliated with the First National Bank in Lockney as will the Olton State Bank and the West Texas National Bank in Paducah. There will be no change in ownership and no change in personnel.

"All of us look forward to seeing our current customers on Friday," said Sharp. "We are also anticipating seeing some new faces on Friday and in the future as more people realize what we have to offer them in the area of financial services."

BULL BASH—Bull riders from all over the United States arrived in Floydada on Punkin Days for a stop on their Bull Bash tour, sponsored by Coppenhagen. The Chamber of Commerce is working to encourage the sponsors to make Floydada an annual stop. The professional bull riders provided an exciting show for the audience and the professional clowns helped keep the event safe. Staff Photo

Texas Constitutional amendment elections slated for Tuesday, Nov. 7

Voters in Floyd County are reminded that a General Election is scheduled for Tuesday, November 7. Fourteen constitutional amendments will appear on the ballot for consideration.

The early voting period will end on Friday, November 3. Registered voters may cast their ballots at the County Courthouse until 5:00 p.m. that day.

Voting Polls will be open from 7:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. on election day. Registered voters may cast ballots at their assigned location throughout the day. A listing of the Floyd County Polling locations can be found on Page 12 of this issue.

A PAINTING EXTRAVAGANZA—The pumpkin painting booth at the Lockney Elementary festival, on Saturday, was a big hit. Hundreds of costumed children crowded into the school to enjoy food and games. This little tiger not only enjoyed painting her pumpkin but the stripes on her face and suit hid any paint drops that may have occurred. Staff Photo

Creator of Character Counts curriculum speaks to Lockney teachers and parents

By Alice Gilroy
LOCKNEY—In an effort to instruct teachers and parents in a new Character Counts curriculum, beginning in Lockney ISD in November, the curriculum's creator Dr. J. Mulkey addressed both teachers and parents in separate seminars on Tuesday, October 24. Mulkey is president of the Character Education Institute in San Antonio.

Mulkey instructed teachers on the new curriculum and offered suggestions on methods of teaching it. He then met with parents to explain the new program and answer any questions.

Mulkey explained that the basic concept of the program is to "raise your children to do well without you."

"If our children are going to be confident and go out and face the world, they have to do it without us," said Mulkey.

"We want to reinforce the values that we know you are teaching at home. We talk about respecting laws, rules, and themselves.

"We hope that we (as parents) have given them the strength and courage to stand up and do what you've taught

MAKING A DIFFERENCE—The students of Lockney schools were out in force in the Lockney community, October 26, cleaning up the city. Depending on the age group, kids spent 2 1/2 hours hoing weeds, scrubbing graffiti, painting 911 numbers, visiting the nursing home and picking up trash.

BY THE WAY

BY
ALICE GILROY

I know ya'll are probably getting tired of hearing me say this—but this was the best Punkin Days ever!!! I think it was also the funnest!
Just because I say that every year does not mean I have lost my credibility—it just means that it keeps getting better and better every year.
I'm sure it helped that the weatherman predicted a beautiful day which helped the out-of-towners decide if they wanted to make the trip or not. Maybe the chamber should start sending their pumpkin promotion packages (which includes pumpkins, gourds and decorative corn) to the weathermen as well as the reporters. This might ensure some better weather predictions for Floydada even if the weatherman doesn't really believe the weather will be good.
The Lubbock AJ had an estimate of 8,000 - 10,000 people in town.
I asked Brenda Meyers (the chamber manager) where the AJ got that number. She laughed and said, "From Me!"
I asked her how she figured it out and she said she just guessed!
Oh Well—it sounded great and I wouldn't be surprised if there were that many people in town.
All I know is that it was wall to wall arts and crafts and lost of happy people.
My husband said he wished a reporter would have asked him how many people were at the festival. He said he would have told them, "Well the U.S. Park Service says there are 4,000 people here, but we think there are 8,000 and we are going to sue the Park Service because of their count!"
Every where I went Saturday I heard nice comments about the festival, the people and the organizers of the event. I asked a woman running a food booth if she had had a good day and she said, "Oh yes—but that is not what made this trip worthwhile. We're glad we came because we have met so many nice people and the people who planned this have done an excellent job. It is so well organized!"

Throughout the day you could hear the jovial voices of Nick Long, Mike Holster and Larry Ogden over their wireless microphones. They would travel around the square talking to people and promoting whatever activity was going on. Most of the folks who they talked to were from somewhere else!
Congratulations Floydada, the Chamber of Commerce and the Punkin Day committee!! JOB WELL DONE!!
Oh By The Way—Anne Carthel was in charge of the Trunk or Treating. She said they estimated over 2,000 kids came through the walking trail for candy, and at least 750 of them were from out of town. She said over $800 worth of candy was given out!
Also—before I forget—you may have noticed that the prisoners from the Wheeler Unit in Plainview saved the Punkin Day volunteers and Cargill employees by putting up the tents for the arts and crafts booths on Friday. They also took them down and cleaned the square on Saturday.
While they were working Saturday some of the food vendors were still packing up to go home. When they saw the prisoners working so hard the vendors took them their leftover food and fed them. Those prisoners were so grateful! They want to come back next year to work—and I know lots of people who will be glad to see them come!

A view from The Lamplighter

By Ken Towery

It's that time again, folks. Time to go down to the polls, and help decide what the state's constitution will look like, at least for the next year or so.
We've amended the state's basic law so many times it has come to look like a Sears Roebuck catalogue, or what a Sears Roebuck catalogue used to look like when they were in that business. Just about every time our Legislators run up against a really hard choice, they tend to bounce the decision over to the voters. That wouldn't be so bad, if they would simply word the proposed amendments in a way (on the ballot) that voters could make sense out of them.
Or, if they would quit cluttering up the constitution with stuff that has no place there.
This time, for instance, we are being asked, in proposition 9, to undo something we were asked to approve some time ago. Proposition 9 would allow certain state funds to be invested in companies doing business in South Africa. Back in 1988, you may remember, we were asked to pass Proposition 5, which did just the opposite. But now, white people are no longer in charge there, so it is politically permissible to invest state money in businesses doing business there. Providing, of course, you give your approval.
Proposition 5 should never have been enacted in 1988, and Proposition 9 should be passed this time as one way to rectify that ludicrous vote. It was then, and it is now, ridiculous to load up the Texas Constitution with political statements expressing ap-

Courtroom Activities

In county court, October 26, the October 19 Assault charge against Martin Bueno was dismissed because the complainant dropped the charges.
Also in county court, Bisente Munoz Ybarra pled guilty to the September 28, 1995 DWI charge. He was fined $750.00 and sentenced to six months in jail which was probated for two years. His Driver's License was also suspended for six months and he was also ordered to pay court costs.

Who's Who publications can be scams

All too frequently, pitches for Who's Who-type publications, biographies, or nominations for awards or special memberships have a catch to them. Their names might never appear in the well-known biography directory as promised. The executive who is flattered into providing the details of his or her career may be stuck with a subscription fee, a membership fee, a charge for the listing, an inflated price for buying the publication, or a solicitation to purchase one or more copies of the publication. There is no guarantee that the advertised publication will be distributed beyond those persons purchasing copies for themselves or even that it will be published at all. The appeal may be based strictly on personal vanity. Check them out through your library, ask questions, see if those subscribing are the only ones listed in it; and finally, check them out through your Better Business Bureau - call 763-0459 or (800)687-7890.

Lockney Care Center to host their annual dinner and auction Nov. 5

LOCKNEY--The Lockney Care Center will host their annual Thanksgiving dinner and auction on Sunday, November 5.

A turkey and dressing dinner with all the trimmings will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Care Center, 401 N. Main.

The auction will begin at 2:00 p.m.

and continue until all items are gone. The auction is held each year to ensure that each and every resident will have an exceptionally nice Christmas. Some of the proceeds will also be used for the resident's birthdays. Anyone with items they would like to donate are asked to bring them by the Lockney Care Center. The dinner and auction are open to everyone.

Why Abolish The Office of State Treasurer?

QUESTION: Is the November 7, 1995 General Election PROPOSITION 10 to Abolish the Office of State Treasurer a mere gesture intended to symbolize fiscal concern by the Legislature, or will its adoption actually provide the State of Texas significant dollar savings?
ANSWER: Actual dollar savings are illusory, at best. Adoption of PROPOSITION 10 would result in an actual loss to Texans. Contrary to conventional belief of the misinformed, the Office of the State Treasurer is not ceremonial and outdated. Adoption of PROPOSITION 10 would end the simple but sensible "Checks and Balances" by the State Treasurer upon the State Comptroller would be not only lost as a restraint upon his power but transferred to the State Comptroller of Public Accounts as well. Abolishment of the Office of State Treasurer would mean further concentration of power in the State office already vested with enormous power.
QUESTION: What about the State Auditor as a restraint upon the State Comptroller of Public Accounts?
ANSWER: The State Auditor has a vital role in State fiscal matters, but the duty to audit follows an act or event and uncovers wrongdoing after (many times, long after) a wrongful deed is done, while the duties of the State Comptroller of Public Accounts and the State Treasurer abut together and check one another daily.
QUESTION: Who loses with the abolishment of the Office of State Treasurer?
ANSWER: Texans would lose a vital element in the division of power regarding the collection, custody, and spending of State revenue. One office, the State Comptroller of Public Accounts would "Do it All" without daily "Checks and Balances".
QUESTION: Should Texans vote to abolish the Office of State Treasurer?
ANSWER: NO! There is no benefit that will accrue to Texas by such action.

Parents learn about Character Counts curriculum

them is right. Unfortunately parents, with the best intentions, do so much for their children, that they practically think for them.

"We can tell them and tell them and tell them, but then what happens when they get out with their friends and someone else tells them it's all right to do something wrong."

"Very often you tell them what is wrong but the consequences of the actions aren't discussed."

Mulkey said his Character Counts program was developed by classroom teachers 26 years ago. The program, which includes one hour a week lessons, is now in over 60,000 classrooms across the United States.

Mulkey said the "Citizens for Excellence in Education" endorses the program and the president of that organization is on the advisory board.

The idea, according to Mulkey, is to have the children internalize values such as: honesty, truthfulness, generosity, kindness, helpfulness, courage.

"We want them to be respectful, fair, responsible, use self discipline and be persevering," said Mulkey.

"We knew as classroom teachers we had to figure out a way to get children to buy into this. If we started out by saying shoplifting is legally and morally wrong and then try to discuss it, we knew we weren't going to get any kind of discussion from an opening like that."

According to Mulkey, the educators felt the best way to present the material was to introduce situations where children could talk about them and then on their own tell what is wrong with shoplifting.

"We have to present it to them and let them come up with the ideas. If they never come up with an answer of it being morally wrong, then the teacher are instructed in the teachers guides to tell the children that it is morally wrong," said Mulkey.

Mulkey gave the following account of a true story example from the teachers guide:

"This child was 11 years old and didn't have any friends. The parents moved to a new part of town and he started in a new school. He was glad to go because he thought he might make some friends. When he got there it was the same old story—no friends.

"The ones he looked up to were the 'cool guys.' After a couple of months one of the 'cool guys' asked him if he wanted to go to the mall. After they got to the mall he found out that the group of 5 boys were going to split up and spend 1 1/2 hours shoplifting.

When they got back together they were going to see who stole the most. The winner got to take all the items home.

"That is where we stop the scenario. We then ask the children what the alternatives are."

According to Mulkey in the final analysis there are really only two options for the child—he is going to do it or he isn't.

"In the classroom as the children discuss it, it will mean more to the all the kids when one of them says 'you can leave,'" said Mulkey. "It has a greater impact.

"Then the teacher can go through the thoughts that have been presented which do not include leaving. The teacher will have the students talk about the consequences of not leaving."

Children will also be guided in discussing what happens if you don't do it and how you feel if someone calls you "chicken or sissy"?

"We want them to discuss what may happen if they say 'no', and the courage it will take to say 'no'," said Mulkey.

"How does a child know if something is right or wrong if no one is going to tell them. Sometimes you will be going against what parents are teaching their children. I had a girl in one of my classes whose parents would take her to the mall every Thursday to shoplift. It is tough to go against what parents are teaching her. "They have to find out it is wrong from someone and that is what this curriculum is all about," said Mulkey. Mulkey said the program does not deal with sex education in any form except in the manner of teaching self respect.

Superintendent Raymond Lusk also addressed the audience. "The secondary level will be teaching this program with teams of teachers," said Lusk.

"All we want to do is reinforce what you are doing at home. If you are totally honest you will still see a need for this. It is difficult to cover all the bases at home and we are just trying to help.

"We also hope to have guest speakers telling students about what may have happened to them when they made wrong decisions."

Lusk also told the parents that the program would be kicked off with "Make A Difference Day" on Thursday, October 26. "We hope to show them to look outside themselves and not to always be self-centered."

Lusk said the campus would have a theme to promote every month. The themes would focus on areas such as honesty, self-respect, truthfulness, etc. The themes would be published in the newspaper at the beginning of each month, so parents, churches, and others in the community could help promote those ideas in Lockney's youth.

DR. J. MULKEY visited with parents after his speech at the new Lockney High School Library. Dr. Mulkey was on hand to explain to parents about the new Character Counts curriculum being implemented in the Lockney schools. Staff Photo

TRAILER DAMAGES CARS -- Tuesday, October 31, turned into a Halloween nightmare for one local driver and two car owners as a trailer being towed south on 2nd Street by Gary Wayne Bennett came loose near the intersection of 2nd and Mississippi and rammed into a white 1990 Oldsmobile shoving it into a red 1993 Chevrolet Caprice. Both vehicles were heavily damaged, but the Oldsmobile, belonging to C.B. and Ruby Hartsell, may be totaled. It was hauled away by the Oden Chevrolet wrecker. The Caprice, owned by Shane Anderson, was driven away. According to Floydada Police Sgt. Harold Snell, safety chains on the trailer were not in use at the time of the accident. -- Staff Photo

Better Business Report

Your Better Business Bureau receives at least one Nigerian letter per week from businesses that have been smart in not taking the Nigerians up on their offer to launder money through U.S. bank accounts. The objective of the Nigerian Letter scam is to entice South Plains business owners into a somewhat shady deal that promises a big return, a deal that would be jeopardized if run through the proper channels. This scheme is illegal and the Secret Service, U.S. Justice Department and Department of State have been investigating the extent of this scheme for many months and have asked the Bureau system to help. If you or someone you know has received a letter from Nigeria with an offer to make a lot of money by simply lending their bank account to these foreign schemers, please contact your Better Business Bureau at 763-0459 or (800)687-7890 or mail the letter and envelope it came in to BBB, 916 Main St. Ste 800, Lubbock, TX 79401-3410.

Even though it has been relatively dry in the South Plains, there has been flooding in other states from recent hurricanes. Your Better Business Bureau urges new and used car buyers to be cautious of unscrupulous businesses or individuals who may try to sell flood-damaged cars without revealing the vehicle's history. Ask to see the title of the used car. Check the date and place of transfer to see if the car came from a flood-damaged state and if the title is stamped "salvage." Check all the gauges. Test all the electrical components. See if some of the wires under the dash bend or crack, since wet wires become brittle when they dry. Check for signs of mud, rust or water damage. Look for discolored, faded or stained upholstery or carpeting. If the history of the car seems suspicious, ask the dealer or seller directly if it has been damaged in a flood. Check the seller out with your BBB - call 763-0459 or (800)687-7890.

"Oil Patch Roundup" enjoyed by Whirlwind Sams in Odessa

By Marjorie McElyea

Five rigs from Floydada including Adam Hambrights' and McElyea's left Floydada on Thursday, October 26 for the Texas Fall Samboree in Odessa. They were joined in Lubbock by the Lusks and Lyles.

The Samboree was from the 26th thru Sunday the 29th. Hosts chapters were Oil City Sams and West Texas Gadabouts under the directions of Tom and Lyrane Dechairo, State Directors from Graham.

Theme for the Samboree was "Oil Patch Roundup". There were 526 rigs on the ground and there were people from 11 states. There was entertainment each day, First Timers and everyone else including games, crafts, tours and flea market plus door prizes and awards. Donations were made to Dogs of the Deaf and Special Olympics.

The choir for Sunday's devotion was made of persons from the Good Sams. Devotion was given by Bubba Hannah, State Sam Chaplain from Houston.

There was coffee and doughnuts each day for all and a good time was had by all. The Spring Samboree will be held in Waco in April, 1996.

Sojourners present program on flags

LOCKNEY—The National Sojourners organization, Lubbock chapter, brought a program on flags to the Lockney Lodge 867 on Tuesday.

They hung replicas of the 13 colonial flags and three later flags, the Confederate, the Union and the United States flag.

Members of the Sojourners are Masons and are commissioned officers and Warrant officers. John E. Huggins of Lockney is a member of this group.

A barbeque dinner was served to all who were present.

"Holiday Affair" slated for November 30th

LOCKNEY—The Athena Study Club has set Thursday, November 30 as the date for the "Holiday Affair" in downtown Lockney.

The night will signal the beginning of the holiday season. The Christmas lights on Main Street will be turned on, stores will be open late, music will fill the streets and Santa will come to town.

Many of the businesses will be giving discounts, door prizes and refreshments. Restaurants will be open to feed the shoppers.

Mary Louise McCarter, chairman, asks that everyone put the date on the calendar and make plans to do their shopping while making a walking tour.

Il Penseroso Jr. Study Club has Halloween party

By Shanna Jackson

LOCKNEY - The Il Penseroso Jr. Study Club had its annual Halloween party during its regular business meeting on October 26. Members met at the Longhorn Inn in Lockney.

Acting as hostess was Victory Stewart, with co-hostesses being Michealle Stennett and Rayanna Glasson. We had a wonderful meal of chicken casserole, spinach dip, and salad, followed by Lemon Chiffon for dessert.

Members split up into three teams to compete in a scavenger hunt. The winning team was made up of Shawnda Foster, Shelley Roberts, Jeri Rexrode, and Becky Fortenberry. They were awarded hand painted bottles for their prize.

We had five divisions in our costume contest, with each winner receiving a Pumpkin Can as a prize. The winners were Funniest - Becky Fortenberry as a rodeo clown; Scariest - Lori Cabellero as a masked man; Best Disguised - Shelley Roberts as Death; Most Original - JeanAnne Williams as Marcia Clark; and Best Overall - Rayanna Glasson and Jeri Rexrode as Raggedy Ann and Andy. We all had a good time and will be looking forward to next years party.

Members present were Lori Cabellero, Dana Cunyus, Becky Fortenberry, Shawnda Foster, Rayanna Glasson, Shana Hallmark, Shanna Jackson, Jeri Rexrode, Shelley Roberts, Sammie Setliff, Robin Sherman, Victory Stewart, Michealle Stennett, Kim Teeter, JeanAnne Williams, and Tami Wofford.

Lockney Senior Citizens

By Gladys Ragle

LOCKNEY—We had a real good meeting on Thursday night, October 26, with 61 in attendance. John and Maybelle Francis (alias Mom and Pop) came to entertain us and brought with them Louis and Oleta Randell of Turkey, Texas to help them out. Louis plays guitar and Oleta sang several songs. We really enjoyed all of them and hope they will come again sometime.

Those who were not able to come really missed a treat. After their regular program, they stayed for an hour and more for a "jam session". That was very enjoyable, also.

We had a very pleasant surprise Thursday at noon when Jill Golden came with some second grade students delivering cookies they had made themselves for the Senior Citizens to help make our day better, and it surely did make it better. We thank them very much. Also, the third grade students brought us an award for the support we give to the school system. Thanks to all of them and their teachers.

Hostesses for the month of November will be Maxine Hill, Octavia

Carthel, and Edith Cooper.

W.L. (Red) Carthel was able to attend our Thursday night meeting and is doing much better after his surgery.

Our sympathy goes out to the Ray Dillard family on the loss of their loved one, Edith Dillard. She will be missed.

Our Sympathy goes out to the family of Rebecca Truett. She will be missed for she was very much a part of our community for many years.

WEEKLY WORDS OF WISDOM - "It is important not to overreact when others are overreacting because added emotion only escalates the tension."

MENU

November 6 to November 10
 Monday - Chicken strips, vegetables, salad, dessert
 Tuesday - Swiss steak, vegetables, salad, dessert
 Wednesday - Baked chicken, vegetables, salad, dessert
 Thursday - Meat loaf, vegetables, salad, dessert
 Friday - Chicken fried steak, vegetables, salad, dessert
 Meals served with tea, coffee, and rolls. Menu subject to change.

Scott gives program on "House Check-up for Safety"

By Karen Miller

The regular meeting of the Harmony Family and Community Education Club was held Monday, October 23, at 2 p.m. with Vivian Curtis serving as hostess.

Roll call was answered with a safety precaution we had recently taken at home.

It was announced that a "Festive Foods" demonstration would be held by Kristi Parc on November 28, at 6:30 p.m., at Lighthouse Electric.

Names were drawn for our Christmas party.

Blanche Williams gave the council report.

Ruth Scott gave our program on "House Check-up for Safety." She covered many types of accidents that can happen in our homes. Everything from food safety to medicine was discussed. Ruth had clipped several articles from newspapers relating to accidents in the home, and had some of the members read them aloud. One article advised against leaving a threaded needle in reach of cats. They are enticed by the string and could swallow the needle. Another article told of a fire that was started by the sun shining on a mirror and reflecting on the drapes. One of the suggestions for outside safety, was wearing gloves when moving lawn furniture to avoid bites from any spiders that may be in residence. Ruth ended the program by handing out an emergency phone number form with a home safety check list on the back.

Our recreation, led by Maye Williams, was making a Halloween sentence using letters from Halloween words.

Refreshments were served to 10 members and 3 guests. Those attending were Anna Maude Hopper, Ruth Scott, Maye Williams, Imelda Ramsey, Blanche Williams, Lucille Miller, Benne Dutton, Karen Miller, Arvie Schulz, Vivian Curtis, and Erika, Laura, and Rachel Miller.

Our next meeting will be held November 13. This will be a holiday program given by our agent, Melissa Long, to both the Harmony and Homebuilders FCE Clubs.

BILL STAPLES AND BECKY JANNETTE WITT

Staples and Witt

Jimmie and Belinda Witt, of Lubbock, would like to announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Becky Jannette, to Bill H. Staples, son of Howard and Annela Staples of South Plains.

Becky is the granddaughter of James and Jean Witt, and C.G. and Lyla Connell, both of Lubbock. Bill is the grandson of the late Harold and Mildred Hamm of South Plains and the late Harry C. and Carrie Staples, of Shapleigh, Maine.

The bride-elect is a 1991 graduate of J.M. Hanks High School, in El Paso, and is currently attending South Plains College School of Nursing, and is employed by Plains National Bank of Lubbock.

The future groom is a 1985 graduate of Floydada High School and is employed by Cathy Wholesale of Lubbock.

The couple is planning a January 6 wedding in the Trinity Baptist Church in Lubbock.

FLOYDADA SENIOR CITIZEN NEWS

By Margarette Word

FLOYDADA - Our center is open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each Monday through Friday. It is open to all races, sixty years and older. If you plan to eat lunch, please call by 10 a.m. at 983-2032.

Nancy Bishop recently had a wonderful trip with her sister, Florene Teal of Lubbock. They went to visit Florene's daughter, Judy and Gary Tatsch of Pueblo, Colorado. From there they went to Colorado Springs, Denver, and Boulder.

Nancy also had company last Friday. They were Mrs. Lula Teague, Mrs. Betty Howard and daughter, Gail, of Lubbock, Mrs. Lois Bishop, and daughter, of Shallowater and Lubbock, and Shirley Pegram, of Canyon.

Last Saturday evening, Nancy had her family for dinner. They were Mike and Rosanne Bishop, Warren and David, and Greg Bishop.

Geraldine Calloway recently had a good time with her daughter, Kay, and husband, Speck Brian, of Wolforth, and their daughter, Kristi, and husband, David Sepkowitz and family, of Oklahoma. They all spent several days at Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Geraldine also had company over Pumpkin Day. Her daughter Kay, and husband Speck Brian and family and grandchildren enjoyed the days activities.

Congratulations to Marie Tardy who was selected as our November "Volunteer of the Month" in the R.S.V.P. Newsletter that is mailed to all members. This is a very nice honor, and we are proud of her.

In the same newsletter, Bob Alldredge was recognized as a valuable "Volunteer of the Community", because he was appointed by the Board of Trustees of the Central Plains Center for Mental Health/Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse located in Plainview, to fill in as "acting" executive director until an "interim" director and the executive director could be appointed. Our volunteers are valuable to our communities and we appreciate all the work they do.

Jim and I have had relatives in and out over the past two weeks. David Carr and Michelle White of the Chicago area visited, also Sandy Carr of the Dallas area, Beth and Bruce Atkinson of Missouri, and Greg and Mona Bond, Bethany and Michael of Waco.

Visiting Evalene and Bob Goodnight over Pumpkin Day were the following relatives: Jack and Jolene Walden of Tucson, Arizona; Peggy and Richard Nicholson of Omaha, Nebraska; Myrtle Medley and her daughter, Juanita Dyksterhuis, Melba Cliffman, Amalea Crisp, Carolyn Wiggins, all of Mustang, Oklahoma, and Yolanda Sheryp of Longmont, Colorado.

Virginia Waiths of Hale Center was here recently visiting her mother, Deeota Odam.

On Pumpkin Day, Deeota Odam's grandson, Gary and Jackie Hill, of Amarillo, and Deeota's sister, Odessa Cage, of Lubbock, were here and enjoyed all the days activities.

Pumpkin Day was a huge success. There were 100 craft and food booths. Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time. Our center had a booth of home-made bakery items. Everything was sold by 3 p.m. We want to "thank you" for buying our goodies. We hope you were pleased with your purchase. We are making plans for next year, making some changes and adding new items. Also we want to say "thank you" to all our volunteers who provided the baked items and for the volunteers who worked at the booth. You are the reason our sales was such a success. It was fun, as we sold the goodies, we visited with the people, asking where they were from. It turned out they were from all over the area such as Lubbock, Plainview, Ralls, Stanton, Amarillo, San Angelo, New Mexico, Austin,

Houston, Crosbyton, Clifton, Wolforth, Canyon, Afton, Spur, Lockney,

Panhandle, Snyder, New Deal, Shreveport, La., Slaton, Ft. Worth, Abernathy, Childress, Plains, Matador, Brownfield, Plano, Hart, Lorenzo, Zavalla, Idalou, Post, New York, Levelland, Cisco, Wichita Falls, Waco, Carrizo Springs, Littlefield, Turkey, Midland, Phoenix, Az.,

Dimmitt, Ransom Canyon, and South Plains.

The judges gave Irene King a "blue ribbon" for the "Pumpkin Crunch" that she entered in the contest.

Saturday evening Jim and I attended the costume contest at high school. First, second, and third place ribbons were given. Jim and I felt they were all winners and deserved a blue ribbon. Their costumes were so cute. It only lasted about one hour, but it was great entertainment. I was very tired, as I'm sure everyone was, but felt good about the day.

Our sympathy to the family of Gladys Ruth Badgett and also to the family of Bill Norris.

Our sympathy to the brothers, Bud and Dorcie Warren, on the death of their sister, Irene Britton, who was a resident at the Floydada Nursing Home.

Please remember to pray for those in our hospitals, nursing homes, and for all those who are ill or have lost loved ones recently. Remember to pray for one another and be helpful to your neighbor.

Our building fund is growing. Those contributing recently are Faye and William Bertrand in memory of Freida Hall.

"Thought for the Week" - If we love God and are faithful, all other concerns will take their proper place.

I will seek God's guidance as I schedule my day.

'Winds score three times in fourth period to edge Mules

By Bill Gray
 FLOYDADA - Grantland Rice and John Madden would have loved it. A Hollywood screenwriter couldn't have staged it better. The Whirlwinds' 35-34 come-from-behind victory over Muleshoe at Wester Field last Friday was not only what Texas schoolboy football is all about, but on what legends and life-long memories are built. Winless Muleshoe won't be in the playoffs, but their gutsy performance will remain in the hearts and minds of their fans for a long, long time. The 3-5 Whirlwinds have an uphill battle and would have to win out over Shallowater and Friona in order to gain admittance to the post-season party. However, few Whirlwind teams in recent years (including several play-off bound district champs) have shown as much drive and determination to get back into the win column. The unbelievable last eight minutes of the contest produced 28 points by two teams whose offenses have struggled throughout the season. 21 of those points were put on the board by Floydada.

It was the Daniel Garbarino show for most of the first 46-plus minutes, as the Mules' talented receiver-turned-quarterback dominated just about every offensive statistic. The first time he carried the ball, Garbarino rambled for a 25-yard gain. However, a turnover on the next play only delayed what was to come from the Muleshoe senior.

Lupe Sanchez's fumble recovery gave the Whirlwinds good field position, but Floydada returned the turnover favor by coughing up the ball at the visitors' 28-yard line. 10 plays and 75 yards later the Mules were in the end zone. Garbarino hooked up with Jake Adair on a 31-yard pass-and-run for the score and Garbarino booted the point-after. Penalized for a celebration following their opening score, the Mules were pushed deep for their ensuing kickoff (which resulted in Floydada starting its next possession from the Muleshoe 35-yard line).

Runs by Zack Abshier and Vernon Cooper moved Floydada deep into Mule territory as the opening period came to a close. However, the scoring threat ended when Abshier's 23-yard field goal attempt was disallowed in the early moments of the second quarter. Taking the ball over on downs, Muleshoe marched 80 yards as Garbarino capped off the twelve play drive with a 5-yard touchdown. It didn't seem very important at the time, but Vernon Cooper's block of the extra-point kick by Jesse Gonzales would prove to be the deciding factor in the final score.

The Whirlwinds overcame back-to-back major penalties in their next possession to narrow the margin to 13-7 with Cooper carrying the final yard of a 9-play, 53-yard scoring drive. Abshier connected with Chad Hinkle on a 17-yard pass on 4th down, but the halftime horn ended the Floydada scoring threat.

Muleshoe running back Jake Adair took some of the pressure off Garbarino with some timely runs in the Mules' first possession following intermission, but Floydada's defense held Adair on a 4th-down rushing attempt. The Whirlwinds suffered their second turnover when John Embry intercepted an Abshier pass midway through the third stanza.

The Mules used barely two minutes of the clock to move 32 yards in 5 plays following the Whirlwind miscue. Adair carried the final 12 yards, Garbarino added a 2-pointer, and Muleshoe extended its lead to 21-7. However, the 'Winds responded on their second play following the kickoff. Ramon McCann broke several tackles and raced to a 67-yard TD. Abshier added the conversion, and Floydada moved to within 7 points with 3:15 remaining in the third period.

The visitors set up their next scoring drive at their own 45-yard line following the ensuing kickoff. Garbarino's 32-yard touchdown run, with 1:36 left in the period, extended Muleshoe's lead to 27-14 to set the stage for the explosive fourth quarter.

Floydada's Omar Eguia rushed for 16 yards in a key fourth-down conversion to ignite the final-period Whirlwind rally. Zack Abshier also converted a clutch 4th-down by connecting on an 8-yard scoring strike to Chad Hinkle. The junior receiver battled for the ball at the double stripe before maintaining control for his first touchdown of the year. Abshier's kick was true to cut the Whirlwind deficit to six points.

Muleshoe's attempt to seal their first win of 1995 was thwarted in its next series. Garbarino lost control of the ball while attempting to gain extra yardage on the ninth play of the drive. Abshier recovered the fumble to give the Whirlwinds new life on their own 27-yard line. Floydada was quick to capitalize on the opportunity.

Cooper lofted a halfback pass to Hinkle, who gathered it in at the Mule 40-yard line. Chad evaded two Muleshoe defenders and streaked untouched to the end zone. Abshier's fourth conversion kick split the up-rights to give Floydada its first lead at 28-27. A little over three minutes remained in the game.

Garbarino opened the Mules' next possession with a 39-yard aerial to John Embry. Four plays later, the Muleshoe QB connected with Douglas Field for an 11-yard TD and the apparent game-winner. Gonzales added the extra point as the Muleshoe crowd went wild with the 34-28 lead. Barely over a minute remained.

Floydada's Ramon McCann, however, wasn't convinced that the game was over. He muffed the ensuing kickoff, made a 360-degree turn away from the flow of Muleshoe's kickoff coverage, and raced 76 yards for the tying touchdown. Zack kicked his fifth extra point of the night for the final margin of victory.

The 0-8 Mules will host Dimmitt tomorrow night while the Whirlwinds entertain Shallowater (6-2, 2-1 in District 2-3A). A Floydada victory over the Mustangs will not only keep the Whirlwinds alive in the playoff chase, but would severely jeopardize Shallowater's chances of post-season play.

Bill's Notes

A number of years ago, after witnessing Idalou's Tracy Saul perform at Wester Field, I predicted we would all be seeing the all-everything Wildcat playing on Saturday afternoons. Tracy lived up to his expectations by becoming an All-SWC defender for Texas Tech. I would be very surprised if a similar future is not in store for Muleshoe's talented Daniel Garbarino. If he hadn't shown up last week, the Mules could have just as well remained on their bus... Jake Adair had a good game, but a lot of his success was made possible by Garbarino's faking and ball-handling. Had the Mules managed to win, I would have had no trouble in naming him the offensive player of the game. But, the Mules didn't win. And, an important asset in the Floydada victory was Chad Hinkle. Some other folks had bigger stats, but none had more impact than Chad's two TD receptions!

His 8-yarder from Zack (four minutes into the 4th quarter, which cut the Mule lead in half) was a thing of beauty and a graphic display of total concentration on the ball by a receiver. A little bit of luck was riding with Chad on Cooper's halfback toss for the 73-yard TD, but that play is my choice for the offensive play of the game...and the man on the receiving end of that all-important play gets my nod for the offensive player of the contest.

I'm going to stretch my choice for defensive play of the game over to the special units. Ramon's electrifying kickoff return set up Zack's extra point for the gamewinner. Monty Anderson and Lupe Sanchez are my choices for defensive players of the game. Monty wasn't even scheduled to start, and he was one of the few Whirlwind defenders to put sure hits on Garbarino. Anderson also tossed Garbarino for a 7-yard loss just before halftime...it was the only negative yardage Daniel had in a night in which he rushed for 175 yards on 17 carries (over 10 yards per pop).

Shallowater really put it on the 'Winds last year, and it could be pay-back time tomorrow. The Mustangs were saddled handsily by Littlefield last week, and it may take them another week to recover. A 27-24 Whirlwind victory could keep them reeling right into basketball season. Bill's other pics: Lockney over Hale Center by a 2-point conversion; Littlefield 30, Friona 13; Dalhart 19, Childress 14; Tulia 20, Sanford-Fritch 7; Abernathy 21, Morton 20. It might have been hopeful thinking when I picked Tech over the Aggies in my upset special a few weeks ago. Maybe I'll (they'll) get lucky again. I've gotta' go with the Red Raiders over the Longhorns in Austin...how's 28-24?

Freshman 'Winds pound Bovina, 34-14

By Bill Gray
 FLOYDADA - Splitting the JV and 9th grade squads helped the Freshmen Whirlwinds as they defeated Bovina 34-14 at Muleshoe last Thursday. The coaches said, "We needed this win badly. We controlled the game from start to finish, and credit must be given to all members of the Freshmen team."

Cody Stovall hooked up with Cory Kirk on a 70-yard TD pass and Gabriel Rodriguez added the conversion kick to open the scoring in the first quarter. Michael Black scored from 10 yards out, but the conversion kick failed as the 'Winds were up 13-0 at the end of the opening period.

Keith Collins broke for a 25-yard touchdown in the 2nd quarter. Stovall's 2-yard TD and a conversion kick by Suarez gave Floydada a commanding 26-0 lead at intermission. Bovina scored on a 2-yard run in the third stanza, but Michael Black helped Floydada put the game out of reach with a 62-yard TD run. Stovall passed to Collins for the conversion. Bovina scored a meaningless touchdown and conversion in the final quarter. The 9th Grade Whirlwinds play at Shallowater on November 2.

Whirlwind JV blanked by Muleshoe

By Bill Gray
 FLOYDADA - Muleshoe jumped out to a 14-0 halftime lead and added single touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters to defeat Floydada 26-0 in Junior Varsity action last week.

ELUDING A DEFENDER -- Floydada's Ramon McCann slips past Muleshoe defender Josh Otwell en route to a 67-yard TD in the 3rd period of game action last week. McCann also scored on a 76-yard kickoff return late in the 4th quarter which lifted the Whirlwinds to the 35-34 decision over the mules.

Coach's Comments

By Coach Bryan Davis

I couldn't be any prouder for a bunch of kids for fighting and hanging in there until the very end (against Muleshoe). They never gave up, although at times they had chances to do so, and it paid off for them. They're going to make an old man out of me with finishes like that!

We didn't play well at times, as far as techniques are concerned, but (Daniel) Garbarino had a lot to do with that. This game only reinforced my earlier statement that he is perhaps the best individual athlete in District 2-3A. He played with a lot of heart. He's what makes them go offensively. I just can't say enough about the athletic ability of the young man and how hard he played against us. There will be some place he can play in major college football.

It's hard to single out just a few of our kids because they all played hard. Our offensive linemen did a good job opening up holes and our backs ran and blocked well. The only times we were stopped was when we stopped ourselves. We dropped a sure TD pass and missed an early field goal. We overcame our mistakes and two big penalties to go down and score the first time.

We're proud of (Chad) Hinkle and his two TD receptions. The one from Zack on 4th down was an outstanding effort, and the halfback pass from Cooper was played well. Prior to (Ramon) McCann's kickoff return, we just asked the team to get us good field position. That Ramon certainly did.

Our Booster Club does a great job, and we really appreciate their support. They decorated the dressing room and put a sign in the bus that said, "It ain't over until the fat lady sings!" That certainly rang true for this game.

I am very pleased with this bunch. If we can come back next week (against Shallowater) and have a good week of workouts, there's no telling what we can do. We catch Shallowater at home. If we can pull off the win, we'll be fighting for a playoff spot that last week against Friona.

Lockney JV defeats New Deal Lions

By Coach David Sutterfield

The Lockney J.V. improved their record to 4-3-1 Thursday by defeating the New Deal Lions 6-0. The kids did a great job. They were without Ryon Smith and Chad Stapp due to injuries, but their replacements did a good job.

The Horns lone touchdown came when Brandon Covington bulldozed his way in from 5 yards out. The two-point conversion failed. New Deal threw alot of stunts at us, and we had a hard time picking them up. The defense did a good job of keeping them out of the end zone.

Offensively, Ryon Graves, Thad Lusk, Miguel Guerrero, Tony Williams, and Brandon Covington had good games. Defensively, Bryan Bybee, Jeff Archer, Casey Lambert, Bradley Veal, Chris Rodriguez and Eddie Amaya had good games. J.V.'s next game will be against Hale Center after the 7th and 8th grade games.

Review of fourteen Constitutional Amendments on November 7 ballot

Presented below is a review of the fourteen constitutional amendments on the ballot for voter consideration in the November 7 Election. A brief explanation of each amendment is given and the exact wording of the amendment as it will appear on the ballot is also stated.

Voters are urged to read the amendments and cast an informed ballot at their polling place on November 7. Early voters may vote in the courthouse through 5:00 p.m. on Friday, November 3.

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 50 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that the legislature by general law may authorize the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board to issue general obligation bonds of the state in an amount not exceeding $300 million to finance educational loans to students. The maximum interest rate to be borne by the bonds must be set by law. The legislature may provide for the investment of bond proceeds and may establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of $300 million in general obligation bonds to finance education loans to students."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 36 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation the property of an organization chartered by the Congress of the Republic of Texas if the property is used primarily for the charitable, benevolent, or public service activities of the organization as defined by general law. The Comptroller's Property Tax Division has identified the Grand Lodge of Texas, also known as the Masonic Lodges, as the primary organization which would qualify for this tax exemption.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation property of an organization chartered by the Congress of the Republic of Texas that is used primarily for the charitable, benevolent, or public service activities of the organization."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 51 proposes a constitutional amendment that provides that the farm and ranch finance program fund shall be administered by the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority and not by the Veterans' Land Board, as provided by current law. In addition, the proposed amendment provides that the proceeds of $200 million of the $500 million in bonds authorized by the Texas Constitution for the farm and ranch finance program fund may be diverted to the agricultural fund and the rural micro-enterprise development fund, also authorized by the Texas Constitution, to be used for agricultural and rural economic development programs.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing the use of existing bond authority of the farm and ranch finance program to include financial assistance for the expansion, development, and diversification of production, processing, marketing, and export of Texas agricultural products."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 46 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow an encumbrance to be fixed on homestead property for an owelty of partition. In divorce and probate situations, a piece of property may be owned jointly by two or more people, and each person owns an undivided interest in the property, as opposed to a specific portion of the property. If one owner wishes to purchase the other person's interest in the property and wishes to obtain a loan to finance the purchase, the lending institution requires all interests in the property to be used as security for the loan; this is called an owelty of partition. Senate Joint Resolution 46 would allow the lending institution to foreclose on the homestead property for an owelty of partition if the purchaser defaulted on the loan. In addition, the proposed amendment would allow the refinancing of a lien against a homestead. Finally, the proposed amendment would allow a purchaser or lender to rely on an affidavit that states that the property to be conveyed or encumbered is not the homestead of the affiant.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the abolition of the office of constable in Mills, Reagan, and Roberts counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 34 proposes a constitutional amendment which would increase by $500 million the constitutional authorization of the Veterans' Land Board to issue and sell general obligation bonds of the state to provide housing financing to Texas veterans. The proceeds from the bonds authorized by this amendment shall be used to augment the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund II to be administered and invested as provided by law. The bonds authorized by this amendment shall be incontestable after execution by the Veterans' Land Board, approval by the attorney general, and delivery to the purchaser.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to increase by $500 million the amount of general obligation bonds that may be issued to augment the veterans' housing assistance fund II."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 64 proposes a constitutional amendment which would extend the tax exemption under article VIII, section 1-b(5) of the Texas Constitution for the residence homestead of a person age 65 or older to the surviving spouse of a person who received the exemption. The surviving spouse must be age 55 or older when the deceased spouse died, and the property must be the residence homestead of the surviving spouse when the deceased spouse died and remain the surviving spouse's residence homestead. A surviving spouse who already receives an exemption under this section of the Texas Constitution is not entitled to an additional exemption under the amendment.

"The constitutional amendment permitting an encumbrance to be fixed on homestead property for an owelty of partition, including a debt of a spouse resulting from a division or award of a homestead in a divorce proceeding, and for the refinancing of a lien against a homestead, including a federal tax lien resulting from the tax debt of the owner."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would reduce the amount of general obligation bonds authorized for the superconducting super collider fund from $500 million to $250 million.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment reducing the amount of general obligation bonds authorized for undertakings related to the superconducting super collider research facility from $500 million to $250 million."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 80 proposes a constitutional amendment abolishing the office of constable in Mills, Reagan, and Roberts counties. In Mills County, and the office of constable is abolished, and the powers, duties, and records of the office are transferred to the sheriff. In Reagan and Roberts counties, the office of constable is abolished and the powers, duties, and records of the office are transferred to the sheriff only if a majority of voters in each of the respective counties favors the proposed amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the abolition of the office of constable in Mills, Reagan, and Roberts counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 7 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow investment of money from the Texas growth fund in a business without the business's disclosure of its investments in or with South Africa or Namibia. Currently, such investments are prohibited by article XVI, section 70(r) of the Texas Constitution, which would be repealed.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing investment of money from the Texas growth fund in a business without the business's disclosure of its investments in or with South Africa or Namibia."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the constitutional office of state treasurer effective September 1, 1996. The transfer of specific constitutional powers and duties to the comptroller of public accounts takes effect on that date. The statutory powers and duties and the property and other obligations of the state treasurer are transferred to officers and agencies of state government as the legislature provides by general law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment abolishing the office of state treasurer."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 72 proposes a constitutional amendment requiring that land devoted to wildlife management be taxed on the basis of its productive capacity. The proposed amendment also adds a temporary provision to the Texas Constitution validating the changes to the law made by Chapter 560, Acts of the 72nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1991, which amended the Tax Code to allow land used for wildlife management to be appraised as agricultural land. The temporary provision also provides that a property owner is not authorized to claim a refund of taxes paid unless the tax payment was challenged before the effective date of the proposed amendment. The temporary provision expires on January 1, 1998.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow open-space land used for wildlife management to qualify for tax appraisal in the same manner as open-space agricultural land, subject to eligibility limitations provided by the legislature."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that the legislature may exempt from ad valorem taxation income-producing personal property and mineral interests that have a taxable value which is insufficient to recover the costs of administering the tax.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation personal property and mineral interests having a value insufficient to recover the administrative costs of collecting the taxes."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution No. 35 proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the governing body of a political subdivision to exempt from ad valorem taxation boats and other equipment used primarily in the commercial taking or production of fish, shrimp, shellfish, and other marine life.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the governing body of a political subdivision to exempt from ad valorem taxation boats and other equipment used primarily in the commercial taking or production of fish, shrimp, shellfish, and other marine life."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 68 proposes a constitutional amendment that allows the legislature to raise the current ad valorem tax exemption for disabled veterans and their surviving spouses and minor children. The tax exemptions would be raised based on a veteran's disability rating as follows:

Disability	Maximum Tax Exemption
10%-30%	$ 5,000
30%-50%	$ 7,500
50%-70%	$10,000
More than 70%	$12,000
Age 65 and 10% or higher	$12,000
Loss or loss of use of limb	$12,000
Blindness or paraplegia	$12,000

The spouse and children of any veteran who dies while on active duty may be granted an exemption of up to $5,000. The amounts of the exemptions provided for in this proposed amendment may be repealed by the legislature by general law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to raising the limits of the exemption from ad valorem taxation of property owned by disabled veterans or by the surviving spouses or surviving minor children of disabled veterans."

Cereal grains linked to common ancestor

Researchers have found genetic evidence linking the world's most important cereal grains—rice, corn and sorghum—to a common ancestor that grew 65 million years ago.

The discovery that a common set of genes are largely responsible for the large seeds and high yields of modern cereal grains could unlock the door to genetic engineering of more productive and nutritious crops. The finding is reported in today's (Sept. 22) issue of Science magazine.

Cereal grains are the most common food source throughout the world from the richest to the poorest nations. The world's farmers annually produce more than 1.87 billion tons of cereal crops valued at more than $200 billion worldwide—the bulk of which are rice, corn and sorghum. Together with wheat, these crops provide most of the calories consumed by humans.

Researchers have believed for years that the grains had a common ancestor, but that theory had not been proven.

Dr. Keith Schertz, U.S. Department of Agriculture-Agricultural Research Service geneticist, and Dr. Andrew Paterson, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station molecular biologist, said the common ancestor probably looked like a grassy weed, with long blades for leaves and small flowers at the tip of the stem similar to sorghum plants.

"We took new steps in looking at the evolution of agricultural productivity," said Schertz.

Seed from the original plant spread as the earth's land masses separated into continents millions of years ago. The plant evolved into wild rice in Asia, wild corn in America and wild sorghum in Africa. Humans began gathering the seed of these wild grasses for food some 12,000 years ago, giving preference to those plants which had large seed and were easy to harvest. Remarkably, even after 65 million years of evolution, the same genes were responsible for large seed and other characteristics in rice, corn, and sorghum. "It's similar to three children each inheriting blue eyes from the same great-great-grandparent, only with these cereal grains we're talking about genetic traits that appeared after millions of generations," Paterson said.

Schertz and Paterson began by looking at the genes that control three traits which distinguish all cereal crops from their wild ancestors—seed size, seed shattering (loss) during harvest and the effect of day length on flowering.

DNA from each crop was investigated separately—rice by Dr. Shannon Pinson, USDA-ARS, and Drs. James Stansel and Zhikang Li, Experiment Station researchers in Beaumont; maize by Dr. John Doebley at the University of Minnesota; and sorghum by Schertz and Paterson.

Then, Paterson and students Yansong Lin and Sin-Chieh Liu determined that the genes in the three different crops corresponded to one another at the DNA level.

"It was known that the genes of different cereals occur in similar orders along the chromosomes," Paterson said. "What was not known was whether the same genes still controlled agriculturally important traits after 65 million years of evolution."

"This new information is helpful to plant breeders because it says that when we learn something about sorghum we are also learning it about other grains," he said.

Already, Paterson's team and Dr. James Irvine, an Experiment Station scientist in Weslaco have shown that sorghum genes are predictive of the behavior of sugarcane, another major crop.

"Moreover, now we can devise a strategy to clone these genes," Paterson said. He noted that in sorghum, only one gene controls the plant's tendency to shatter—or lose seed at harvest time. That gene will be simplest to clone. Once cloned the gene can be engineered to improve not only sorghum but also many other crops.

Schertz said similarly other important genes that control digestibility and nutritional qualities, for example, might be isolated in one cereal and then used to improve others.

Wind erosion pilot project expanded to three additional High Plains counties

By Shawn Wade

A wind erosion pilot project put into place in 1994-95 for Martin County has been expanded to include three additional High Plains Counties according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG).

PCG officials note that the inclusion of Borden, Dawson and Howard Counties is welcome news.

The first year of the study was designed to demonstrate the effectiveness of tillage operations in reducing wind erosion. Under the pilot project producers in the four county area who are operating under an approved conservation plan can contact the National Resource Conservation Service office in their County to add this new feature.

Results of the project's first year are being finalized by the Agricultural Research Service for proposed incorporation into the NRCS Field Office Technical Guide.

Under the pilot project the surface roughness conservation practice is modified to allow farmers to perform tillage operations when adequate moisture is present to help reduce wind erosion.

The initial pilot project was the result of work by Rep. Charles Stenholm, the National Cotton Council and others who worked with producers in Martin County to set up the project. The goal of the effort is to provide additional strategies to farmers for the reduction of wind erosion.

Members of the 1995 Cotton Leadership Program class concluded their yearly visit to the Texas High Plains this week according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG).

This year's participants included two individuals from the High Plains Pete McCleskey, Warehouseman, of Seminole, and Mike Hughes, Southwest Producer, of Lamesa.

Other members of the 1995 Leadership class are: Rae McDaniel, Southeast Producer, of Bishopville, South Carolina; John Rodgers Brashier, Mid South Producer, of Indianola, Mississippi; David Francis, Western Producer, Phoenix, Arizona; Jeff Ballentine, Ginner, Phoenix, Arizona; Kenny Jabbour, Merchant, Memphis, Tennessee; John Stewart, Crusier, Greenwood, Mississippi; Jeff Thompson, Cooperative, Prattville, Alabama; and, Jay Self, Manufacturer, Greenwood, South Carolina.

The Cotton Leadership Program is in its thirteenth year and is sponsored by DuPont through a grant to The Cotton Foundation. The Program is designed to provide future leaders within the cotton industry with a better understanding of the cotton industry and how each of the seven segments of the industry relate to each other. Applicants to the program must be between the age of 27 and 40, demonstrate leadership ability and agree to attend all scheduled activities during the year. Each participant is also required to complete reports and evaluations throughout the yearlong course.

The Cotton Leadership Program is administered by the Cotton Leadership Development Committee and the National Cotton Council.

Deadline is approaching for renewal of pesticide applicators license

By Mark McCormick

The Floyd County Farm Bureau is reminding area farmers and ranchers who, as private pesticide applicators, buy and use restricted or state-limited use pesticides on crops, that the Dec. 31, 1995 deadline for recertification is fast approaching.

"Our primary concern is that a farmer or rancher who can go to the feed store now may not be able to buy the pesticides in February because he failed to meet the requirements," says Mark McCormick of Floydada, president of the Floyd County Farm Bureau.

According to McCormick, applicators who were certified before Jan. 10, 1989 must obtain 15 continuing education units (CEUs) by year's end.

"This is the first year that anyone has had to renew and prove they have the 15 CEUs, but they must or they will not get a new license," he adds.

These applicators do have another option, but it is a one-time only provision for certificate renewal. They can apply for a $50 license from the Texas Department of Agriculture, after completing private applicator training conducted by a local Extension office and taking the private applicator exam. Those obtaining licenses will automatically receive the required 15 CEUs to bring their certificate up to date.

For more information on training, contact your local county Extension agent or an approved home-study course provider. For testing information, contact your regional TDA office or the Austin office at 512/475-1639.

Monthly report given by Floyd County FCE Council

Floyd County FCE Council met October 12, 1995 at 2:00 p.m. The meeting was called to order by Almeda Mae Williams. Mae gave the opening exercise on the book, "More, Live, Learn, Pass It On". There were no guests.

Roll call was answered by Mae Williams, Ruth Scott, Blanche Williams, Jonelle Fawver, Gladys Widener, Murl Mayfield and Melissa Long. The Communication report noted that Mrs. Trapp was ill. The Treasurer's report was given by Gladys Widener showing a balance of $642.45.

Gladys hosted the Club Presidents Home Builders with four present--Barbara Willis, Jonelle Fawver, Murl Mayfield and Gladys Widener. We played bridge and had a little money making. The club took in $32.00. We combined the next meeting with the Lighthouse meeting hosted by Kristie Pair.

On October 10, we met at the home of Murl Mayfield. The program was given by our dear agent, Melissa Long. She is great and so busy. She gave a demonstration on, "An Apple a Day". There are 15 varieties of apples:

Maturing Dates: July 14--Earl blaze, July 18--Akane, August 4--Gala, August 12--Jonathon, August 14--Ozark Gold, August 23--Jonagold, August 25--Lurared, August 27--Melrose, August 28--Holly, September 1--Red Delicious, September 6--Empire, September 13--Golden Delicious, September 22--Winesap, October 1--Fuji, October 3--Granny Smith.

Melissa brought us eleven recipes illustrating ways to use apples. She made and served us seven of these recipes. They were all delicious. Our next meeting will be with Barbara Willis.

The Harmony Club report of September 11 was given by Ruth Scott. They had a show and tell at the home of Arnie Schultz. The meeting of September 24 was held in the home of Doris Snodgrass. The program was "In-Vest in Your Wardrobe". On October 9, Melissa gave the program on apples.

The Harmony Club invited the Homebuilders to go with them November 27 to the apple orchard to have lunch. Then they will go to Mrs. Dutton's home in Petersburg. The next combined meeting will be November 13 by agent, Melissa Long.

The new officers for 1996 were elected as follows: Program--Joe Nell Fawver, Almeda Mae Williams, Blanche Williams, Barbara Willis; Education--Juanita Pool, Lucille Miller, Bennie Dutton; Records--Murl Mayfield, Arnie Schultz, Inelda Ramsey; 4H--Vivian Curtis, Annie Maude Hopper; Finance--Gladys Widener, Doris Snodgrass, Lillian Smith; Parliamentarian--Almeda Mae Williams; Reporter--Blanche Williams, substitute Murl Mayfield.

FCE Council Agent's Report
The FCE Council had great participation in the Floyd County and South Plains Fairs. Three 4-H'ers won "Best of Show" at the South Plains Fair.

The FCE Council hosted the Senior 4-H Food & Nutrition Workshop for Floyd, Briscoe and Swisher Counties. Eighteen 4-H'ers attended.

There were nine junior 4-H'ers to participate in the District Fashion Follies. The 4-H'ers participated in a variety of National 4-H Week activities--cakes for Commissioner's Court, cookies for Lockney and Floydada businesses, radio spots and coloring contests in the elementary schools.

There were 38 4-H'ers and family members who attended 4-H Family Day at Texas Tech. The 4-H Banquet was held on Sunday, October 15 and twenty-six 4-H members received jackets. Twenty-one members will receive patches.

Coming Events: November 5 at Lockney Elementary will be the County Food Show. The District Food show will be November 18 at Levelland.

Friends gather for Blanco Baptist Church reunion

By Connie Allen
Friends, through the years and a former pastor and his wife, had a joyous time of celebration on Sunday night, at First Baptist Church in Crosbyton. The Rev. Clayton Watkins and his wife Nina, guests in the W.B. Allen home, was invited to bring the evening worship message, by Pastor Dr. Lester B. Griffin.

The Rev. Watkins was pastor of Mt. Blanco Baptist Church in the middle of the 1950's. The community of Mt. Blanco, 15 miles northeast of Crosbyton was a farming community where many families lived. In 1964, the church disbanded, and the church building was given and moved to the congregation of Galilee Baptist Church in Crosbyton.

After worship, the former members and former pastor of Mt. Blanco were invited to a dinner in the Allen home.

Those attending were Millard and Glenna Watson; Bob and Jean Kendrick; Wayne and Roberta Russell; Joe and Jeannie Appling; Rudolph and Iva McCurdy; and Wayland and Margaret Jones.

Also attending were Anthony and Evelyn Latta, of Lubbock; Rev. Clayton and Nina Watkins; Terrell and Bernice Hill; M.A. and Rachel Powell; and host and hostess, Brice and Connie Allen, all of Crosbyton.

The Rev. Watkins is associated as a volunteer with the Church Ministries Department, Baptist General Convention of Texas.

HARVEST FESTIVAL QUILT-The First United Methodist Church in Lockney will be giving away this Christmas quilt shown here by Rev. Tommie and Susan Beck during their Fall Festival Saturday, November 4. The event will begin at 10:00 a.m. and a turkey and dressing dinner will be served beginning at 11:30 a.m. An auction at 2:00 p.m. will round out the activities. Staff Photo

Better Business Bureau Report

By Nan Campbell, President
 Many businesses across the country have received what appears to be invoices for ad space in the familiar, locally distributed, yellow pages directories. The BBB warns that these invoices are actually solicitations for listings in alternative business directories that differ from the well-known yellow pages. In fact, the alternative directories may not be that widely distributed, can be of little or no value to advertisers, or may never be published at all.

The solicitation may look like an invoice and may feature the "yellow pages" or "walking fingers" logo and falsely state that the publisher is affiliated with the local telephone company or another bona fide yellow pages publisher. Be on the alert to look out for disguised solicitations and carefully check suspicious bills from companies with which you normally do not do business. Check the reliability of the company with your BBB by calling 763-0459 or (800)687-7890.

CARDS OF THANKS
 Thank you so much to the many people who generously shared their money, candy, time, or vehicles to our fourth "Trunk or Treating" event. With your help, we were able to give out candy to over 2,000 children! The UMC helicopter, ambulance, fire engine, police cars, DPS car, maintainer, Bobcat, tractors, trucks, antique cars, bucket truck, school bus and all of the other vehicles made trick or treating a real adventure for the kids, as well as for the parents, and grandparents who accompanied them.
 Many, many out-of-town visitors went home with a warm and wonderful feeling of the hospitality and kindness they were shown while here in Floydada by volunteers who chose to give freely of their time and energy and expected nothing in return but the pleasure of knowing they've given something back.
 A very special thank you to Laura Turner who spent untold hours collecting candy, calling volunteers and helping me count and divide all 42,000 pieces of candy; Anne Jones and Roxanne Cummings for helping with the volunteers and candy; the Police Department for help with the traffic and other problems; and Johnny Summers at Pay n Save.

Thanks For Making A Difference!!

Thursday, October 26 in Lockney

Several tons of trash were hauled out of Lockney alleys during the Make A Difference Day, October 26. County and city workers helped with the large equipment while Lockney youth busied themselves with:

- Visiting residents at the Nursing Home;
- Scrubbing graffiti off walls,
- Handing out blue ribbons to downtown businesses;
- Hoeing weeds along the curbs;
- Chopping weeds in alleys and
- Painting 911 numbers on the curbs.

The following sponsors would like to thank the Lockney Students and Teachers who "Made a Difference!"

The Scariest Night of My Life

(Editor's Note: This Halloween story was submitted by R.C. Andrews teacher, Margaret Jones. It was written by 6th grader, Sean Holster, using his required vocabulary words (which are highlighted).

By Sean Holster

One cold, cloudy night I was at my house alone. I decided to visit my dad, who was waiting for the night-watch, at the town museum, which was an authentic World War II hangar. I wanted to go partly because I was lonely and bored, and partly because of superstition. After all, it was Friday the 13th, and there was a full moon. After scavenging through the closet, I found my jacket, and pulled it over the blue wool sweater that I got last Christmas. After I wrote a note to my mom so that she would know where I was when she got home from her dental appointment, I carefully locked the front door after I went out, and was on my way.

After I had walked a few blocks away from my house, I passed the old town cemetery. My brother said that the cemetery was cursed and haunted by the ghost of Andrew, or at least that's how legend has it. I was glad that my brother was off to college, so that he wouldn't scare me with any more stories. Still, I stood there refreshing my memory of the tale that had given me nightmares almost every night after I heard it. I was certain that someday I would repeat the story to a young boy who had also thought that nothing could scare him, which is exactly how I felt until I heard the story. I started to go on, but just as I turned, I heard the shrill screech of tires. I was hit by the car, and was knocked unconscious. Lying there, I had a nightmare similar to the ones I had had many nights before.

There once was an orphan Colonial boy, named Andrew. Andrew was just like every other 11 year old boy, except that he was a head shorter than all the other boys, and he also had a speech impediment. For these reasons, the other boys made fun of him. One warm summer day was no exception. The boys in the town knew of a deep river that was in the very bottom of a huge canyon, and only they and the Indians knew about it. They decided that they would just take Andrew to the canyon, and give him the scare of his life. One of the boys was given the instruction to push Andrew over the side, and another boy would grab him and let him dangle over the side before he brought Andrew back up to the top.

When Andrew was asked to go alone, he had a little distrust, but he decided to go anyway, just in case there were any rocks that could be added to his enormous collection. He was always looking for shiny new rocks that appealed to him.

When the boys came to the canyon, vultures were flying over the corpse of an antelope that had been the meal of a mountain lion, but I won't get into any detail, except that the stench was overwhelming. Andrew was delighted, though, running around finding a piece of petrified wood here and there, and the occasional red garnet or opal fragment. As he was doing this, one of the boys tripped Andrew, but the other boy's hands slipped on Andrew's slick leather jacket, and Andrew fell to his mournful death in the freezing water below... or at least that's what the boys thought. Andrew had miraculously been washed ashore.

For the next few years, Andrew lived in the rocky forest spending his time either collecting rocks for his new collection, or collecting berries with Amethyst, the mountain goat that had been orphaned one cold winter, but had been found and befriended by Andrew.

One spring day, as Andrew was hiking in the forest he heard a rustling behind some bushes. Andrew carefully parted the leaves, and looked through. There were the boys who he immediately recognized as his former comrades. Andrew scowled and quietly went away.

The next few days Andrew plotted to get back at the boys. In the course of these events, he thought of the saying his dad had told him before the tragedy at the mill. "When you go out to get revenge, be sure to take two graves." But at that time, Andrew paid no attention to the saying. That very morning Andrew started back to the village.

When he arrived, he found the boys out climbing the oak trees at the edge of the town. That is when Andrew made the best bloodcurdling scream that he could imagine. The boys thought that it was one of the little kids trying to embarrass them by making them jump out of their skin, so they started chasing their unknown culprit into the heart of the forest, but that was when they were suddenly lifted up off of the ground and were hanging upside-down by their feet. Andrew's plan had worked first try. His victims were hanging by their feet in an ancient tree that could fall at any moment. Andrew cut the vine, and with the help of Amethyst, he dragged the boys to the canyon. Andrew pushed the bundle of boys over the edge, but just as Andrew's father had said, he also harmed himself. The vine had been twisted around Andrew's leg, so when the boys went over, so did Andrew. They all fell to their death by the side of the river bed, which is where the search party of villagers and parents found them two days later.

The boys were buried in the town cemetery - our town cemetery, and their tombstones could still be found at the edge of the forest, by the oaks that the boys had once climbed on. That is why Andrew's ghost is said to still haunt all of the descendants of the boy's relatives.

When I came to, I was lying in a bed, but could not see because of the light that was coming through the blinds and shining in my eyes.

"Where am I?" I asked myself.

"In a hospital", answered what I recognized as the voice of my best friend, Patrick. "You were brought here by Mrs. Crump, the school teacher who accidentally hit you when she was driving to her house from the grocery store. By the way, what were you doing in front of the cemetery? You are afraid to go by there in broad daylight, and there you were Friday the 13th with a..."

"Okay, back to what is relevant", I said, hoping to find out more of what happened.

"What's to say? You were hit by Mrs. Crump. She brought you here, and you've been in here for two days since", said Patrick, in an obviously tired voice. "Can you take care of my little brother, Peter, while I go get something to eat? I've been here ever since your mom and dad asked me to stay with you so that they wouldn't get pay deductions for not going to work."

"Okay", I agreed, and even now I don't know why I did. Peter is such a little brat!

After Patrick had left, Peter came up to me, with his glassy gypsy eyes looking straight into mine. "You're scared of the cemetery? Wow, I ain't afraid of nothin'!"

Remembering my thought in the cemetery, a gleam came to my eye. "Well, I've got a story for you that'll leave you with goose bumps", I said, and then cleared my throat to begin, "There once was an orphan boy..."
