NEARLY EVERYBODY can find some reason to feel discriminated against, no matter what their skin color or economic status. There always will be some form of discrimination that cannot be blotted out by passing new laws.

When the affirmative action laws were passed in an attempt to end discrimination against blacks, there were cries of reverse discrimination as whites felt that they were being treated unfairly and discriminated against.

In earlier days, immigrants to the U.S. felt that they were victims of discrimination because their clothing was different and their language was different. In time this changed.

The women's liberation movement has campaigned vigorously for equal rights on the grounds that women have been discriminated against in many fields of endeavor. Yet when such things as unisex rates for car insurance were put into effect, many women claimed they were being discriminated against with higher rates even though their driving records were much better than males the same age.

There are various organizations formed to combat discrimination. There are clubs for tall people who claim that society discriminates against them with beds too short, chairs too low and cars that are hard to enter.

Short people have organized to fight discrimination of the same things only in reverse.

An outfit in Chicago organized into "The Committee Against Physical Prejudice" by claiming that our national obsession for physical attractiveness and youthfulness discriminates against ordinary looking people.

And a California club was formed to protest against a society that seems geared to ordinary people while discriminating against those with superior intellect that qualifies them for membership in Mensa.

The National Association to Aid Fat Americans has survived at least 11 years in its campaign against hiring practices that favor thin people.

A society which is made up heavily of white people may discriminate against those of darker skins. A black society in Africa can also be accused of discriminating against a minority with white skins.

Discrimination will exist as long as people have a freedom of choice and there is no way to pass a law that will insure complete social equality among members of any society.

The above article was written by Harold Hudson in a recent issue of the Perryton Herald. Now if our local readers just won't discriminate against their editor who has to occasionally borrow a column from his friends when he has to be out-of-town, then we'll be okay. Perhaps we should start up an organization called Publisher's Lazy Attempt at Getting Endless Ripoff of Instant Stolen Material.

Area Gets 1.38" Rain

The Friona area received a good rain on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

The showers of those two evenings amounted to 1.38 inches in Friona. Then on Wednesday, another cloud threatened the area, but only .02 inch of moisture was recorded locally, making a total for the week of 1.4 inches.

The rainfall will be a big boost to all of the area's farm crops, which for the most part are at the height of their moisture needs.

This week's rain was lighter to the west, and heavier to the east of town, almost the exact opposite of the rains of early June.

Temperatures were on the mild side on Monday and Tuesday, and an all-time low temperature record of 59 degrees was registered at the Amarillo weather station on Wednesday morning.

Area Cotton Hurt By 2,4-D Drift Crop Sustains Massive Damage

Cotton farmers in the Friona area have experienced massive damage from the herbicide, 2,4-D, it was reported this week.

The damage appears to cover an area from Farwell to Friona and Hereford, and south to Muleshoe.

Representatives from the Texas Department of Agriculture have been in the Friona area all week, inspecting the cotton and documenting the situation.

A large amount of the damage is thought to have occurred after farmers in the Deaf Smith County area, as well as Parmer County, sprayed their wheat fields with Butyl Ester, one formulation of 2,4-D which is more likely to drift, according to the experts.

"The ester formulation is more likely to drift, and can drift for miles. It is especially volatile in high temperatures and where there are high winds," said Al Hernandez, an administrator for the enforcement section of the Agricultural Environment of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Damage to the cotton in the area has varied from field to field, and also according to the variety. "The later cotton seems to be hurt worse than the earlier crops. And some varieties are hurt worse than others," said D.L. Carmichael, manager of the Friona Farmers Co-op Gin.

Carmichael had a sheet full of names of farmers who had experienced damage to their crops from one extreme to another.

The Friona ginners hosted a meeting on Wednesday, which was attended by four ginners and a large crowd of farmers, along with the Texas Department of Agriculture officials.

Hernandez explained that the use or non-use of the chemical 2,4-D is regulated by the county commissioner's court in each individual county.

For example, Parmer County is considered a "partially regulated" county. No permit is required from October 1 through March 1 each year. Otherwise, the chemical can be used during the summer months if the applicator secures a permit.

However, in neighboring Deaf Smith County, there are no restrictions whatever for the use of the chemical.

Making the situation even worse is the fact that the area's cotton crop was off to what one official called "its best start ever." With no PIK program, there are many times as many acres of cotton this year than in 1983.

Wheat farmers spray their wheat or wheat stubble with the 2,4-D to rid their fields of weeds. The Butyl Ester formulation is a less expensive form of 2,4-D. Agricultural observers say the spray can drift up to 30 or 40 miles under the right conditions.

One observer blamed the problem on a few farmers out to "save a nickel" on their spraying costs, and exhibiting virtually no concern at all for their neighbors' crops.

"You can get a permit to carry a gun, but that doesn't give you the right to go around shooting people," was another comment.

Council Votes To Pay Buske Price

The Friona City Council, meeting in special session Tuesday evening, voted to pay the $15,700 award to the G.B. Buske estate, as tendered by the three-member commission at its hearing on July 12.

The council was faced with three alternatives in its decision: (1) pay the judgement price, (2) appeal the award decision to a higher court, or (3) drop the condemnation proceedings.

It chose to pay the award price.

"We're needing the land, in order to accomplish several objectives, so the council felt that it might be foolish to choose either of the other alternatives," said City Manager Beelee Goodwin.

The City of Friona had filed condemnation proceedings against the 40x110-foot piece of property owned by the Buske estate, after it felt that it had exhausted all means of negotiating for the property.

The City had offered the Buske estate $5,000 for the strip of land earlier in the year, but the offer was turned down. The estate offered to dedicate a 16-foot portion of the strip, south to Eighth Street, for street purposes, and to grant the city an easement to cross the remainder of the property with water and sewer lines.

But the city council had rejected this offer, as Mayor Clarence Monroe testified at the hearing that "We felt we didn't want to have to go through a hassle every time we needed to cross this property."

COTTON DAMAGE...D.L. Carmichael, manager of the Friona Farmers Co-op Gin, kneels in a field of cotton which has sustained massive damage from 2,4-D drift. Thousands of acres are affected in the county.

Hernandez, who arrived in Friona Tuesday morning to help check on the problem, said his office had had complaints from Swisher and Deaf Smith counties, and that he was aware that the problem existed in New Mexico, as well as in Parmer County.

Hernandez said he had a list of 40 farmers as of Thursday morning having herbicide damage to their cotton, and that the list was growing all the time.

"It appears to be a big area," he said, in answer to how much territory is affected by the problem.

There were six employees of the Texas Department of Agriculture in the Friona area on Thursday inspecting the damaged fields. Hernandez said he hoped to be able to get more men into the area, and expected to be here at least another week.

The herbicide kills the plants for which it is intended by causing them to "grow themselves to death." Its affect on cotton plants is to cause the leaves to wilt and change color. Also, the cotton squares are elongated, or blasted, which means that the bloom probably will not appear, meaning the loss of bolls of cotton.

Some farmers were comparing the situation to a bad hailstorm. The only difference is that with the herbicide damage, the loss may not be as evident right away.

"You can drive by a field, and maybe not be aware that it has been damaged. But if you walk out into the field and inspect the plants, you can see in a hurry that something bad has happened," one farmer said.

Danny Murphree, who has over 1,000 acres of cotton, told his ginners he was afraid his fields may have suffered 50 per cent damage from the herbicide drift.

Harry Hamilton, who has a 77-acre field of cotton on land he farms for Charles Russell, said that patch of cotton may be abandoned, or plowed under.

Ralph Baxter, whose cotton is just up the road from Hamilton's, also suffered extensive damage.

Some farmers said they had also noticed bad damage to trees on their places, and some gardens, especially the tomato plants, have been affected.

"MOON" SCENE...The Fair Witch, played by Amy Blankenship, and the Witchboy, played by Chuck Ellis, discuss Witchboy's plight in attempting to become mortal. "Dark of the Moon" will be presented Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Friona High School Auditorium.

VERNELL CUNNINGHAM

Vernell Cunningham To Retire

Vernell Cunningham, longtime employee of Friona State Bank, will retire officially from her position of Assistant Cashier on July 31, 1984.

Mrs. Cunningham first went to work for the bank when it was located at the corner of Seventh and Main Streets, on January 25, 1959. She began working in the bookkeeping department, then progressed to the posting machines, became head of bookkeeping, later became a teller, and presently handles the wire transfer department and does cash reserve calculations.

Vernell and James have three children: Dale, Janice and Joe, and six grandchildren (three of which are triplets). They all live in Friona with the exception of Janice, who with her husband, Hubert Jones and children, Jason and Jamie, live in Twin Oaks, Oklahoma.

The Cunninghams are active in the Friona United Methodist Church.

Vernell says she has really enjoyed working with the public. "She will definitely be missed at the bank," said Robert Neelley, president, in announcing Mrs. Cunningham's retirement.

L.L. All-Stars In Title Game

Friona's Bronco League all-stars were playing in the championship bracket of the playoff tournament at East Park Friday evening at 7:30 p.m.

With a win, the team would force a final game with the Muleshoe "Black" team, which edged them, 8-7 in a game here Wednesday.

See details, Page 7.

MAKING A DEAL... The Conjur man (Brad Zimmerman) and Conjurwoman (Amber Smith) are characters from the production "Dark of the Moon," slated for 8 p.m. Saturday at the FHS Auditorium.

IN TOURNAMENT

Mustang All-Star Team Eliminated

Friona's 1984 Mustang League All-Star team travelled to Farwell last weekend, July 12 and 13 for a best two out of three-game tournament against Texico-Farwell. The Texico-Farwell team, made up of boys from Texico, Farwell and Bovina, proved to be a tough opponent.

They took an early lead and following the first inning the score was 10-0 in favor of Texico-Farwell. The Friona team played better defense in the second period, only allowing their opponent two runs, but were unable to add any runs of their own.

The local All-Stars scored their first runs in the third inning when they crossed home plate three times. They allowed Texico-Farwell two runs of their own making the third inning score 14-3.

Friona's defense faltered in the final two innings as they allowed eleven more runs to be scored against them. They picked up only three additional runs of their own to make the final score 25-6.

Monty Delgado was the pitcher for the winning Texico-Farwell team. Jim Ancira and Louis Abeyta pitched for the Friona team. Ancira and Abeyta were also the leading scorers for Friona with two runs each. Kenneth Willey and Chad Hamilton each added one for the total number of runs.

The second game of the tournament was more even and proved to be very exciting. Friona took the first inning lead after scoring five runs and allowing Texico-Farwell four.

The second inning was also in Friona's favor as they scored five more runs and allowed two to make the second period score 10-6.

The game began to turn around in the third inning as Texico-Farwell scored five runs and Friona only added two, bringing Texico-Farwell within one point of Friona's slim 12-11 lead.

Texico-Farwell took the lead in the fourth inning, scoring six runs and only allowing two. The score at the end of the fourth period was Texico-Farwell 17, Friona 14.

Farwell scored three in the fifth and Friona scored two to make the score 20-16.

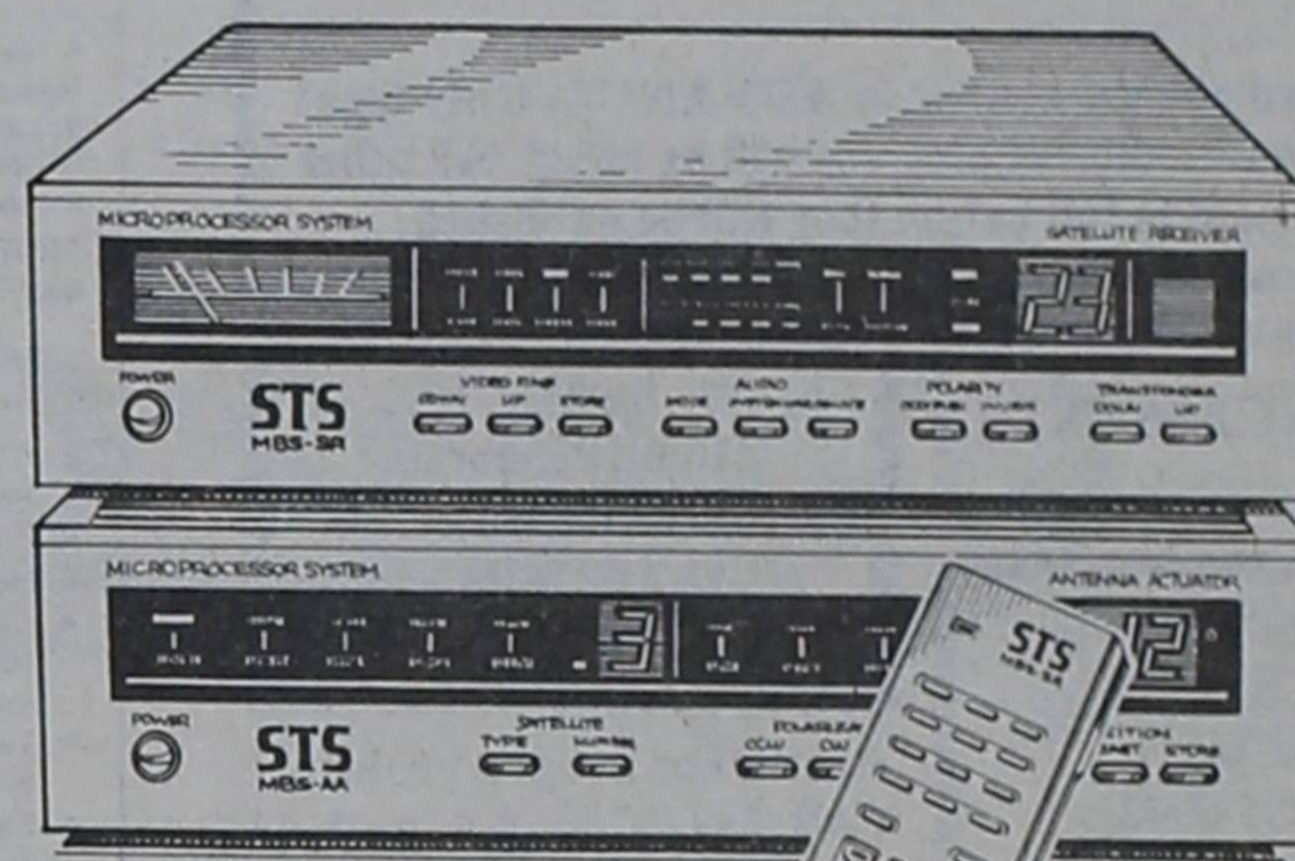

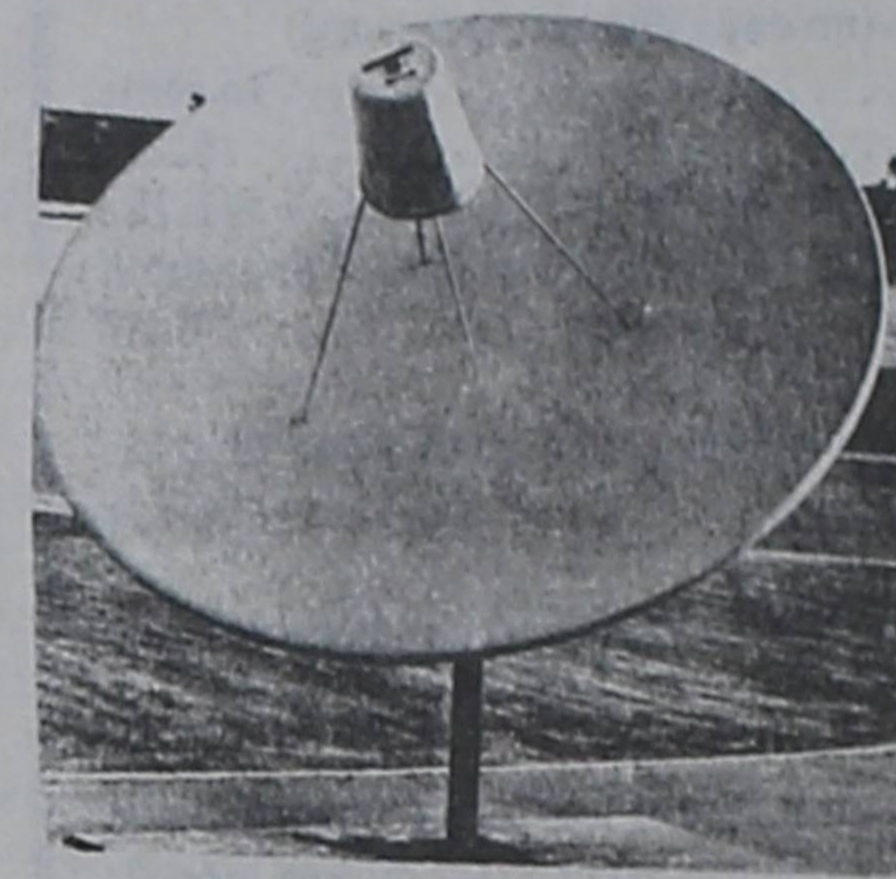

Texico-Farwell took their last turn at bat against the pitching of Arturo Perez. Perez made a "three up, three down" showing, striking out the first three batters.

Friona then took their last turn at bat, down by four runs. They were only able to score two runs, however, and dropped the game, 20-18.

Andy Stormes and Ray Haseloff were the winning pitchers and Louis Abeyta and Arturo Perez pitched for Friona. Kenneth Willey led the scoring for Friona with four, Blue Field, Louis Abeyta and Arturo Perez each scored three, Chad Hamilton and Jim Ancira scored two and Bobby Tagle scored once.

The Texico-Farwell team will be playing in the regional tournament in Muleshoe beginning July 23.

Bronco All-Stars In Championship Game

The Bronco League All-Star Tournament has been underway in Friona this past week. The rain-hampered tournament hosted four teams including the local team, Texico-Farwell, Muleshoe "Gray," and Muleshoe "Black."

The first game of the tournament was a matchup between Farwell and Muleshoe Black.

The lead changed hands several times in the game but Muleshoe Black was ahead at the end of the game for their first victory of the tournament.

The Friona All-Stars were scheduled to play Muleshoe Gray in the second matchup of the tourney on Monday, but the game was rained out.

On Tuesday, rain began falling at game time and in a matter of minutes the field was too wet for play, so the teams traveled to Muleshoe to play the game to keep the tournament on schedule.

The game started off in Muleshoe's favor as they outscored the Friona team four to one in the first inning. The Friona players were still sluggish in the second inning as they only scored one run, but defensively made a much better showing by not allowing Muleshoe to score.

Friona was able to score two additional runs in the third inning, and Muleshoe did not add any runs to their score, to make the score at the end of the third inning, 4-4.

The fourth inning was a good one for the Friona team as they scored eight big runs and held the Muleshoe team scoreless again to grab a 12-4 lead.

Friona wrapped it up in the fifth inning, scoring seven more runs, including a home run by Steven Smith, to make the final score 19-4.

Andre Duran led the local team in runs with four credited to him, Shannon Cochran was close behind with three of his own. Pat Upton, Rafael Torres, Steven Smith and John Edd Duke each scored twice and Steven Dickson added one.

Rafael Torres and Steven Smith highlighted the batting with one "over the fence" home run each.

The next match was between Friona and Muleshoe Black and was played in Friona Wednesday night.

Muleshoe turned a walk into a run to take an early 1-0 lead.

Friona scored four runs in the second and held Muleshoe scoreless to make the second inning score Friona 4-1. Neither team scored in the third inning, but Muleshoe gained one run on Friona after outscoring them two to one in the fourth period.

Friona gained that run back in the fifth as they turned it around and outscored Muleshoe two to one making the score Friona 7, Muleshoe 4. A nice running catch by Pat Upton probably kept two Muleshoe runners from scoring and ended the inning.

Muleshoe began to rally in the sixth inning. They added two more runs to their score and held Friona scoreless, to make the score Friona 7, Muleshoe 6.

In the final two innings, Muleshoe scored two additional runs and held Friona scoreless to take a one run victory.

Friona then had to meet Texico-Farwell who had beaten Muleshoe Gray on Tuesday night to advance to the match against Friona on Thursday night.

Friona took the first turn at bat and scored three runs before taking the field.

Farwell-Texico scored two of their own to keep the game close at 3-2 following the first inning of play.

Friona added three more in the second to make their total six and held Texico-Farwell scoreless.

In the third inning, Friona scored four runs and Texico-Farwell was still unable to score against Friona's tight defense.

Friona scored six in the fourth and the visitors scored three to make the score Friona 16, Texico-Farwell 5.

Friona only scored one more run in the remainder of the game and Texico-Farwell staged a rally by scoring seven, but it was too little too late and Friona took the victory 17-12, eliminating Texico-Farwell from the tournament.

Hector Perez was the winning pitcher. Robert Sandoval led the Friona team in runs as he scored four, Andre Duran and Javier Rios each added three, Shannon Cochran and Rafael Torres scored two and Pat Upton, Steven Smith and Bryce McMurtrey each added one.

Four of the Friona batters hit out of the park homers during the game. Rafael Torres hit two and Robert Sandoval, Shannon Cochran and Andre Duran each hit one.

Larry Powell, catcher for the Texico-Farwell team, hit two homers for his team.

The win against Texico-Farwell placed Friona back in the winners bracket against the unbeaten Muleshoe Black team. The two teams were scheduled to play at 7:30 Friday night. If Friona wins the game they would meet the Muleshoe team again for the championship on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. as each team has to be defeated twice before being eliminated from the tournament.

The winner of the tournament will advance to Amarillo where they will play Tuesday night for regional play.

I'M SAFE.... Bryce McMurtrey slides safely into third base in the game against Muleshoe. Bryce scored the run to help boost Friona's score. Muleshoe won the game following a late rally.

R. Hardin Is FmHA Supervisor

Dark Of Moon Production Set

Curtain time for the 1984 Friona Fine Arts Council's 1984 Summer Drama Workshop (senior division) has been set for 8 p.m. this Saturday night, July 21, in the Friona High School Auditorium.

Advanced drama students from the area will be presenting Dark of the Moon by Howard Richardson and William Berney.

Since its first appearance on Broadway in March, 1945, this classic of rural Americana has become a perennial favorite of professional, community, university and high school theatres. Dark of the Moon has now played in most of the leading theatre capitals of the world, including Rome, Sydney, London, Johannesburg and even Leningrad; and such performers as Paul Newman, Betsy Palmer, Shelley Berman and Marge Champion have starred in it at one time or another.

Based upon the haunting Smoky Mountain version of The Ballad of Barbara Allen, the play recounts the story of a Witchboy (Chuck Ellis) who one day beholds the beautiful Barbara Allen (Tempa Woffard) and immediately falls in love with her.

He goes high up into the mountains to a Conjur Man (Brad Zimmerman) to plead to be changed into a human so that he might court Barbara. When the Conjur Man refuses to change the Witchboy, he appeals to the Conjur Woman (Amber Smith).

Despite the taunts and threats of the Dark Witch (Leslee Upton) and the Fair Witch (Amy Blankenship), a compact is made between the Witchboy and the Conjur Woman by which he will be granted human form to marry Barbara Allen upon the condition that she remain faithful to him for one year. If she remains true to him for just one year, he will be a human permanently, and have a soul.

Despite the misgivings of Barbara's parents Mr. Allen (Mark Blankenship) and Mrs. Allen (Sheila Deaton), John the Witchboy and Barbara are married by Preacher Haggler (Brent Hinkle).

Townpeople who witness the wedding with doubts and dire predictions include a rival suitor for Barbara's hand, Marvin Hudgins (Scot Straw); Uncle Smellicue (Rev. Gary Smith); Miss Metcalf (Lory Tannahill); Mrs. Bergen (Leigh Ann Neelley); Ella Bergin (Tammy Chapman); Mr. Atkins (Jay Widner); Barbara's brother, Floyd Allen (Michael Gibson); Mrs. Summey (Kellianne Coffey) and Edna Summey (Tiffany Osborn).

Barbara Allen later gives birth to a witch-child baby, whom the local midwives burn. In a frenzy of religious revival to "rid the valley of a witch," Barbara is led to betray her young husband in order to save her own soul, thus breaking the condition set by the Conjur Women.

The Fair and Dark Witches then bet the Conjur Man that Witchboy will return to the mountains to plead for a second chance. Barbara's life is the stake. John (Witchboy) does return to beg for more time because he still loves Barbara and knows she has been misled, but the Conjur Woman refuses to grant him any more time. The Dark and Fair Witches win their bet, Barbara's life is forfeited, and John Witchboy returns to the mountains with no memory of his love for or life with Barbara.

The title of the production also comes from a condition set down by the Conjur Woman: as long as the Witchboy lives as a human among mortals, he will never be able to see the moon. Interestingly enough, the local Friona production will be played during the Dark of the Moon.

Stage crew members are Traci Zoth, Stormi Upton and Mitchell Gibson and much assistance has been received from Gaye Tannahill and Joy Morton. The production is under the direction of Lou-Ida Marsh from Caldwell, Texas.

The public is invited to attend and support the local Five Arts Council and these talented young people. Admission is one dollar and tickets will be available at the door.

STAR-CROSSED... Witchboy (Chuck Ellis) and Barbara Allen (Tempa Woffard) play the star-crossed lovers in "Dark of the Moon," which will be given Saturday night here.

The memory candle on brass was decorated with a designed arrangement of pitica roses, peach miniature carnations and a japhet orchid. On either side of the ivory and brass prayer bench were two brass standing urns with bouquets of bridal white roses with peach pitica roses and baby's breath.

The pews were marked with satin peach colored bows with roses, carnations and baby's breath bouquets centering each.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Eva Miller, organist, and Debbie Reeve, pianist. Soloist, Geary Brogden, sang "Wedding Song," and "One Hand, One Heart." A duet, composed of Linda Murphree and Geary Brogden, sang "I Believe In You and Me," and "Together."

Kellie Wetsel, Burton Stovall United In Church Ceremony

Kellie Dawn Wetsel and Burton Edwin Stovall, both residents of Midland, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, July 14 at 7 p.m.

The wedding was performed by Doug Parsons, pulpit minister of the Golf Course Road Church of Christ in Midland.

The bride is the daughter of Eldon and Betty Wetsel of Midland.

The bridegroom is the son of Richard and Winn Stovall of Midland.

The Golf Course Road Wedding Chorus, directed by Tim Walker, presented the musical selections. Selections included "Through the Eyes of Love," "A Common Love," and "Wedding Song."

The altar of the church was decorated with two heart shaped candelabras on each side of the large archway containing candles and greenery. Hurricane aisle candles flanked each side of the center aisle.

As the bride was presented in marriage by her father, she wore a formal length white gown of taffeta, venice lace, schiffle embroidery and chantilly type lace. The fitted bodice was covered with venice lace, featuring a sheer yoke of schiffle embroidery and a high collar. The large puffed sleeves of taffeta and chantilly lace were accented with a taffeta ruffle. The a-line skirt was decorated with rows of chantilly lace at the bottom, up the front and back of the gown and formed a chapel length train.

She wore a hat with veil in back trimmed with ribbon.

The bride wore pearl earrings, a gift from the groom, and carried a handkerchief belonging to Reeta Agee, her grandmother.

Janet Graham of Midland was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Michele James of Kermit, Lisa Mason, Jenny Laengrich and Stacie Wetsel, sister of the bride, all from Midland.

The feminine attendants wore peacock blue dresses featuring full short sleeves with a ruffle in the back.

Steve Crane of Midland served as best man. Groomsmen were Chip Chapman, Ken Hicks, Ronnie Hunt and Mike Tully, brother-in-law of the groom, all from Midland.

Ushers were Bryan Boyd and Robert Rumbelow of Midland.

Amy Cabe of Midland, daughter of Jim and Lynn Cabe, was the flower girl. Steven Hancock of Midland, son of David and Kay Hancock, served as ring bearer.

Wendi Tully, sister of the groom, and Gena Yarger presided at the guest registry.

The reception was held in the Golf Course Road Family Center.

The tables were decorated with blue and white tablecloths trimmed in peach and blue ribbon. The four tiered wedding cake featured four satellite cakes on the bottom with sugar bells on each layer. Roses cascaded out of the bells. Satin wedding bells topped the cake.

Ann Adams and Estalene Bates served wedding cake. Punch and coffee were served by Tracy McCracken, Pat Mason and Susan Bates.

Others assisting the houseparty were Lynn Cabe, Lavonda Graham, Sue Laengrich, Diane Martin and Barbara Tompkins.

For a wedding trip to Jamaica, the bride wore a blue and white sundress with a straw hat trimmed with blue ribbon. They left the church parking lot via helicopter.

The couple will reside in San Angelo, Texas.

The bride attends Angelo State University where she is majoring in elementary education and is a member of Tau Beta Sigma.

The bridegroom attends Angelo State University, majoring in business. He is a member of Kappa Kappa Psi, affiliated with Stovall's Scuba Diving.

If you're not a Senior Citizen, you may want to skip over the next few paragraphs of Town Talk.

From One Senior Citizen To Another
Just a line to say I am among the living
That I'm not among the dead
Though I'm getting more forgetful...
And mixed up in the head.

For sometimes I can't remember
When I stand at the foot of the stairs
If I must go up for something
Or I've just come down from there...

And before the frig so often
My poor mind is filled with doubt...
Have I just put some food away
Or have I come to take some out?

And there's times when it is dark out
With my bouffant cap on my head

I don't know if I am retiring
Or just got out of bed.

So if it's my turn to write you...
There's no need of getting sore
I may think I have written
And don't want to be a bore...

So, remember I do love you
And wish that you were here...
But now it's nearly mailtime
So I must say goodbye dear.

There I stood beside the mailbox
With face so very red.
Instead of mailing you my letter...
I just opened it instead.

If you're still reading, hope you enjoyed the humor.

HOW TO REDUCE THE COST OF EYEWEAR

There are several ways that our patients can reduce the cost of their eyewear without sacrificing quality. Here are a few suggestions on how you can reduce the cost of your eyewear:

1. Inexpensive frames of good quality are available for as little as $15.00 to $20.00. True, they may not be as stylish as the designer frames, but they are contemporary styles of good quality.
2. Designer frames seem to be the fad right now, but be prepared to pay more for these frames. Why? Because the world famous designer is paid a royalty for each frame sold in the United States.
3. Most foreign made frames are more expensive than American made frames because of the import tariffs imposed by our government on foreign products. The cost of shipping from overseas is also higher. These added expenses are passed along to the consumer.
4. Larger sized frames require larger blank lenses in order to fill the prescription properly. These larger lenses are more expensive than the regular sized blank lenses. Try to pick frames of moderate to small sizes in order to avoid this added expense.
5. Rimless frames are more expensive than frames that have rims all the way around because it takes more time to hand fit the lenses to the frame. Also, because of the special handling required, the new faceted lenses cost more than regular lenses. Be prepared to pay extra for the newest fad.
6. Gradient tints and Photochromic (the lenses that change to sunglasses) tints are practical and serve a definite need, but they cost a little more than standard tints.

A word of caution, do not try to economize too much on your eyewear. You want the finest quality lenses and frames available at a fair price. Quality costs a little more to begin with, but costs a lot less in the long run because of greater durability and life. As our REGULAR patients are finding out, there are other ways to help reduce the cost of eyewear, too. Be sure to read your recall letters for details.

This message is brought to you in the interest of better vision by Drs. Armistead and Smith, Optometrists, Littlefield, Texas.
