

Clean-up of Insect Breeding Places Now Is Urged to Protect Health Later

Boy Scouts will meet Monday to consider conducting a money raising campaign by selling garbage cans lids, Scoutmaster Jay Sanders announced this week-end.

The matter was of particular interest this week in view of an announcement by health and city officials that many Friona residents were inadvertently breaking a city ordinance by allowing their garbage containers to remain uncovered.

Farm Land Appraisal Completed by Company

At last reports, Southwestern Appraisal Company had completed appraisals of farm land for the Friona Independent School district. They were nearing completion of details and should have the calculations available for the school board within 30 days.

Those property owners whose evaluation will be raised, will be notified in due course and will have an opportunity to appear before the Board of Equalization, according to Dan Ethridge, assessor and collector.

REA Members to Receive 10 Percent Rate Adjustment Checks at Meeting

Rate adjustment checks will be given each member who registers at the annual meeting of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, Inc., scheduled in Hereford, April 1, according to Leo Forrest, project manager.

The board of directors voted on February 1 to give all members of the cooperative a ten per cent cash rate adjustment check, regardless of type of service used.

Reason for the adjustment in 1955, when it was not made in former years, Forrest explains, is due to the drought. Farmers have had to use a lot more electricity than was budgeted for. Budget was set on the basis of each well using 7000 kilowatt hours per year. Actually, during 1955, each well averaged 70,000 kilowatt hours. Theoretically, if they had sold 42,000 kilowatt hours per well, there would have been no money to distribute.

Speaker for the annual meeting will be Ancher Nelson, who recently returned from Geneva, Switzerland, where he accompanied John Foster Dulles, secretary of state. During this tour, he through his Danish origin, took his wife on a tour of Denmark. They made a lot of colored slides of the Danish way of doing things. These slides will be shown along with his lecture at the annual meeting. We are sure

Coach Joe Means Named Supervisor For Summer Recreation Program Here

Friona's summer recreation program got underway this week as members of the Recreation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce met to hire a recreational supervisor, agreed to purchase uniforms for the high school baseball team and made arrangements for care of the local baseball field.

Half of Firms Have Paid C-C Dues

By this week, the Friona Chamber of Commerce reported that 56 businesses had paid their dues or had returned the cards indicating they would prefer to pay them in monthly installments.

Office Secretary, Mrs. Lucy Jones, said that of the 108 cards sent out, some 52 have not yet been returned, but indicated that this represented an average return, and that by this time of year, usually about half of the businesses had responded.

Approximately 50 per cent of those who are on the official membership lists as dues-paying members for the year 1956, have paid up their dues. The remaining businesses preferred the monthly installment plan which was inaugurated this year for the first time. "Members may return their cards to the Chamber of Commerce office at any time. There is no official deadline on payment of dues, but we would appreciate their attending to this matter at their earliest convenience," she said.

officials that many Friona residents were inadvertently breaking a city ordinance by allowing their garbage containers to remain uncovered.

Scouts and their leaders, who attended a skating party last Monday night in Clovis, held an informal discussion and agreed to bring the matter to a vote at their regular business meeting on Monday night.

"An impromptu survey of alleys in town indicates that approximately 90 percent of the garbage containers are not covered," Sanders pointed out. "We will try to determine whether we can make any money by undertaking such a project as this, and vote on the problem at our next meeting."

Approximately 30 boys and 30 girls attended the skating party accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Douglas, Jay Sanders, Coy Patton, J. B. Taylor, Mrs. Claude Miller and Irby Carlisle.

all members, as well as guests and friends, will be interested in this travelogue.

Ancher Nelson, Minnesota farmer, became administrator of REA on April 29, 1953, and in the period since then has established a record of sound and energetic administration of REA's two loan programs—the rural electrification program and the rural telephone program.

Son of Danish immigrants, Mr. Nelson was a farmer from the start. He took an active part in 4-H club work and later built up a 280-acre diversified farm near Hutchinson raising corn, hogs and dairy products.

He is a farmer of the pre-electric era but set out to do something about it. Once he rigged up a home-made 6-volt generator that lighted the barn for chorn time. Later he helped organize the McLeon Cooperative Power Association which brought electricity to his county. He got the job as director and vice-president and served until he went to Washington.

An active farm leader in many fields, he held positions in several elevator, mutual insurance and conservation organizations. He was Minnesota state senator from 1935 to 1948 and was elected Minnesota lieutenant governor in 1952.

Woodley, committee chairman, the group voted to hire Joe Means, high school coach, as recreational director. Means, whose experience includes summer recreational supervision, will have charge of the program designed for boys and girls of school age. Cost of the program is estimated at between $1,000 and $1,200.

Means, in agreeing to accept the position, told committee members he would work out complete plans for the program and present them to the group before school was out. Tentatively, the program will cover nine weeks of summer school vacation and will serve as a supplement to Little League and Junior Ball League activities.

Wright Williams, president of the C of C, announced there would be water available for watering the grass at the baseball field this year.

Announcement was also made that Chamber of Commerce members would finance purchase of 15 red and white baseball uniforms for members of the High school baseball team, since the school board had reported there were no funds available for their purchase.

These uniforms, costing $14.35 each, have been ordered from Vance Sporting Goods in Amarillo and should be delivered before the April 9 opening date. A Chieftain shoulder patch highlights the design and the uniforms will match the baseball caps which the boys already have. Members furnish their own shoes and the school provides equipment.

Attending the meeting were Hadley Reeve, John Renner, Weldon Dixon, Ralph Roden, Bill Woodley, Wright Williams, and Dillie Kelley.

Fly season in this area reaches its disastrous peak about June and July, but now is the time to take steps to kill the insects which transmit polio, dysentery and numerous other diseases, local health authorities point out.

Throughout the state, fly densities reach their peak within six weeks, according to state health authorities, who pointed out that temperature and moisture will be ideal for fly growth and propagation in May. At this time there is usually a marked rise in the number of cases of dysentery and polio throughout Texas. Last year more than 1100 deaths were attributed to dysentery diseases alone and most of the victims were babies.

General community sanitation is considered to be the next vital aspect of fly control, pointed out City Health Officer Paul Spring. "I would like to impress on the mind of every man and woman in Friona that neighborhood cleanliness is their best safeguard against the dangers which flies can bring. Neighborhoods are clean only when everybody living in them takes care to keep their own places free of litter and fly-breeding media."

According to City Clerk Roy Wilson, there is a city ordinance which necessitates people keeping their garbage in covered containers, prohibits putting liquid waste in garbage cans, and requires that material being disposed be wrapped in paper and put in a covered container.

From April 1 through October 1, garbage is collected twice each week Wilson said, and in the winter months, once a week.

Other sanitation requirements involve outdoor toilets which are not allowed within the city limits, and keeping livestock in town.

Wilson said that livestock was allowed within the city limits so long as the grounds were picked up and kept clean. When they become a city health hazard they are forbidden.

Wilson said the city dump was sprayed for insect control during the summer. The dump, located a mile and a half north of town, just off the highway, was originally planned as a landfill disposal system, whereby garbage dumped there would be turned under and covered with soil. However, lack of equipment has necessitated their using the open pit method there, with a burn off of paper deposited each day, he declared.

The city clerk explained that whenever there was an accumulation of material that wouldn't burn, a bulldozer was hired to turn it under.

When queried about any recent steps taken in the control of sanitation at the dump, Wilson said that until recently there had been no complaints about the dump, although lately several people had reported rats out there.

"We haven't planned any steps in rat control, but we will try to get around to that sometime in April," he said.

But control of flies is a factor requiring the town's immediate attention, according to Dr. Spring.

"It is a known principal of disease transmission that flies 'seed' disease organisms among some humans. Thereafter sick persons spread the illness to their contacts even after peaks in fly densities have passed. Another peak is scheduled in the fall, after hot weather has passed and fall rains come.

He emphasized the importance of keeping garbage cans covered, of avoiding collections of stagnant water in any receptacles around house or farm, of destroying weeds where insects and flies breed.

"With ideal conditions of temperature and moisture, flies may breed and lay eggs in a harmless looking pile of grass clippings. They won't pick up disease organisms in the grass clippings, but when the eggs hatch the flies will find an attractant—a privy, an animal shelter, or an open garbage dump where disease organisms are prevalent," he said.

Therein lies the importance of community-wide sanitation.

Included among the major fly-borne diseases are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, bacillary dysentery, infant diarrhea, and the eggs of tapeworm and round worms.

Car Inspections Total 900 Locally

With the deadline on inspection of motor vehicles only three weeks away, local garages authorized as inspection stations, report that as of press time, some 900 cars and trucks had been inspected.

Reeve Chevrolet company reported 675 cars inspected, Farmer County Implement, 220 vehicles, and Friona Motor Company, 105. Officials advised motorists who have neglected this important inspection to have it done as soon as possible, or face a long, long waiting line.

There is no connection between the purchase of automobile license tags and the safety inspection of passenger vehicles, Executive Director G. C. Morris of the Highway Safety Council of Texas reminded motorists today.

"One reported reason for the delay of some motorists in having their automobiles inspected this year seems to be a misunderstanding about new license plates and safety inspection stickers being issued together," Morris said. "There is no connection whatsoever."

Deadline for purchase of 1956 license plates in April 1, Morris pointed out, and the inspection deadline is April 15.

"It is not necessary," he added, "to show any certificate of inspection to secure license plates."

Pre-Schoolers Day Scheduled April 13

Next year's first graders will get a taste of scholastic life on Friday the Thirteenth, when they visit school and pre-view their next year's experiences.

Superintendent Dillie Kelley announced this week that Pre-Schooler Day will be held April 13, at which time the children who will enter school next year will spend a day in the first grade classrooms.

Their schedule will be the same as first graders, who get a holiday on this occasion, to make room for the other children. Classes start at 8:45 a. m. and are dismissed at 3 p. m. Bus riders are invited to ride the bus to school that day and all children are urged to eat in the cafeteria, if possible.

"We want to acquaint the child with these experiences, so that next year he will be familiar with the classrooms, with his teachers, and with school routines," said Kelley.

Children who eat in the cafeteria will need to bring thirty cents to pay for their meal, pointed out John LeMay, principal of elementary school. The noon hour begins at 11 a. m.

Another purpose of the day is to let the faculty and administration plan their program for the next year. This year there are approximately 90 students in the three sections. Next year, census records show there will be more than 100 students in that grade.

If there are many over a hundred students, then a new teacher will be hired to supply another section, Kelley said.

Each parent will receive a letter reminding him of this program, but these names will be taken from the school census records, and there may be some of next year's first graders who are not listed on these reports, officials said.

Each child who comes should bring a card with his name, birthday and parents' name printed on it, LeMay requested.

First grade teachers who will participate in the program include Mrs. John Benger, Mrs. Erma Stark and Mrs. Lena Brown.

March 28 Deadline Nears For School Board Filing

A number of petitions were circulating around town this week, but by press time it was believed the only two candidates who had filed for vacancies on the school board were Pete Braxton and Steve Struve.

Election date is April 2, and two members will be elected to replace Paul Fortenberry and Clyde Hays, whose terms expire this year.

Candidates must file with Board Secretary Paul Fortenberry by March 28, ten days before elections. The candidate may file on his own signature, or by petition signed by five eligible voters.

Members of the board now are D. C. Herring, Hoyt Smith, Arthur Drake, Cordie Pottis, Fortenberry and Hayes.

Contract Awarded

Contracts were let this week for the paving of 22 miles of Farm-to-Market roads in Farmer County and for the widening of Highway 60 through Friona city limits into a four-lane road.

Bryan & Hoffman of Plainview submitted low bid of $274,707.

Commissioner Forrest Osborn said the State Highway Commission had notified Farmer County commissioners about six months ago that the farm-to-market roads would be paved if the county would secure right-of-way and easements for the proposed construction.

The city of Friona was responsible for such preparation on paving Highway 60.

This necessary preparation was taken care of, Osborn said, and sealed bids were received in Austin on Wednesday.

Farm-to-market roads in question include numbers 1412 and 2260, running from the Deaf Smith county line south, east and south to Friona, and from the New Mexico state line east to US 60 at Bovina. Also included was widening of US 60.

Osborn pointed out that this was another step in the farm-to-market paving program which the state highway commission, working with county officials throughout the state, has been preparing since the end of World War II.

He also emphasized the fact that although bids were let this week, he did not know exactly when the work would be completed.

Balance City Bonds Sold During Favorable Market

Officials this week announced sale of $60,000 in city bonds, which completes the sale of bonds voted last spring for $175,000 worth of city improvements.

Meeting last Wednesday with Ed Franklin of Dallas, representative of the Ditmar Company, the mayor and city officials completed arrangements for sale of the bonds, and were informed they should have their money available by the first of April.

Last spring city voters agreed to the purchase of $85,000 worth of bonds for sewers, $45,000 for street improvements, $30,000 for waterworks and $25,000 for city hall improvements.

In May, $115,000 worth of bonds were sold for sewer, street and waterworks.

Charles Allen, mayor, explained, "We needed the money for our water and sewer improvements at this time, and decided to sell all

Phyllis Treider Is State Delegate

Miss Phyllis Treider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Treider, a junior student at Friona high school, was named Girl's State representative by the American Legion Auxiliary this week.

Alternate will be Janice Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Miller, also a junior.

The girls who will attend the meeting, scheduled in Austin the first of June, will learn about the workings of civic governments by forming their own towns, with elected officials, their county and state governments.

This project has been under the sponsorship of the American Legion and their Auxiliary. Each year Friona schools send a delegate.

Boys State delegate will be Gerald Floyd, with Ardith Rolan serving as alternate.

Mrs. Joe Brummett, of the Auxiliary, made the announcement of the selection of this year's winner on Tuesday morning. Winners are determined by their citizenship and their scholarship record, as well as their interest in the project.

Throughout Texas, delegates will meet in the capital city, to spend a week learning how a government works. Girls stay in the dormitories of the School for the Blind. Social events include a party with member delegates from Boys State and Girls State as special guests.

our bonds, because, whereas we haven't any immediate plans for the city hall, the bond market is much tighter now, and it is easier to sell $60,000 worth of bonds than just $30,000 worth."

When asked to clarify the city hall issue, he said, "We have not decided just how we want to build a city hall, although we have a tentative idea of what we would like to have in the way of a building. We didn't sell these bonds with any immediate intention of going out and constructing a building, but simply because with the bond market like it is today, we felt we could sell them easier now, included in a larger sale, than at a later day. Now the money is available whenever we need it."

Allen explained that interest rate on the bonds varied between 2.75 percent to 3.7 percent, pointing out that a tighter bond market meant a higher interest rate.

"With the bond market as it is, we would lose more on interest to wait and sell the city hall bonds later than we would to go ahead and sell them now," said Allen.

He pointed out that Friona's per capita debt is only about half of what it is in larger towns.

Thompson In Race For County Office

I have been solicited to make the race for tax assessor-collector of Farmer County by some of my friends since January. After considering this for almost three months I have decided to make the race, subject to the will of the voters in the Democratic primary in July.

I believe if elected I can make you a hand, and will do my best to handle the job in an efficient manner, trying at all times to do the best I can.

Yours truly,
Lee Thompson.

Band to Give Annual Spring Concert on 29th

The Friona High School band will be presented in its annual spring concert March 29, at 8 pm in the school auditorium, according to J. D. Fry, band director.

Admission is one dollar for adults and fifty cents for children.

The program will include a variety of selections such as marches, overtures, and vocal selections, which will be presented by the Blue Notes, together with a solo by Phyllis Treider. Instrumental solos will be played by senior students, Sally Osborn, oboist and drum major, and Harold Taylor, saxophonist and band president.

Band numbers are themes from the Nutcracker Suite, "Burst of Trumpet," "Brasses Triumphant," "Sandra," "Gypsy Baron," "Hallelujah" from the motion picture, "Hit the Deck," "Commanding Officer" theme from 1812 overture and "Slave March."

In addition to the band concert, events scheduled in the near future include an all-day clinic to be conducted by M. J. Newman, head of the music department at West Texas State college, a music department banquet on April 20, and the regional band contest at Canyon on April 27.

The band is at present working for the coveted "Sweepstakes" award. One-third of this award has already been achieved in October when the band received a first division rating at the regional marching contest. A first division rating in both concert and sight reading must be made to complete the requirements. The band has never received a "Sweepstakes" award in the history of the school. They hope that this will be the year.

FRIONA PARMER COUNTY TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, — A long battle for interposition action begin in Texas next week.

At its Tuesday meeting in Houston the State Democratic Executive Committee will answer Gov. Allan Shivers' proposal to place the interposition question on the primary ballot.

Reports also are to be made by the party's legal subcommittee and the Texas Committee on School Segregation. Both have been studying the suggested interposition referendum.

Governor Shivers is expected to ask voters to join his crusade against federal encroachment by giving the legislature a mandate for interposition. He will address the committee at a night meeting to which all Democrats from the Houston area are invited.

Later, Shivers will visit various parts of the nation. He will talk to leaders, without regard to party, and make speeches to gain nation-wide support for the interposition movement.

Also on the executive committee's agenda will be the laying of groundwork for the upcoming convention battles. Liberal-loyalists have indicated clearly that they intend to fight the conservative party leadership at precinct, county and state meetings.

Favorite Son Approved

Speaker Sam Rayburn's proposal that Texas Democratic convention delegates be chosen who will support Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson as the favorite son candidate for presidential nomination, won general approval.

Rayburn's suggestion that Johnson be made chairman of the delegation was endorsed by liberals, but brought no reply from the conservatives.

Texas GOP Plans Strategy

Texas Republicans will bypass the holding of primaries this year. They will concentrate on the general election.

At their Austin meeting the State Executive Committee agreed (1) to nominate by convention; (2) to hold precinct conventions May 5, county conventions May 8 and the state convention May 22 in Houston; and (3) to focus efforts on the re-election in November of President Eisenhower and Dallas Congressman Bruce Alger, Texas' only Republican congressman.

Texas' delegation to the national GOP convention is expected to be solidly pro-Eisenhower, but the touchy question of a vice-presidential nominee has been carefully avoided.

Vaccine Stretching Debated

Public health officials are in disagreement over a proposal to delay third polio shots in order to extend the dwindling vaccine supply to more people.

A two-shot plan was endorsed by the Public Health Service in Washington. Such a plan would stretch the still-short supply of vaccine to cover 2 1/2 to 30 million persons, officials said.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, Texas health commissioner, turned thumbs down. He said the difference between two shots and three "could be the difference between having paralytic polio and not having it."

Meanwhile 11 new cases of polio are reported in Texas, bringing the year's total to date to 121.

FFA Boys Active

More than 38,000 boys now are enrolled in FFA chapters in Texas high schools. So reports Lewis B. Taylor, executive secretary of the Texas Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association.

Biggest FFA chapter is at Burbank High School in San Antonio, where there are 186 members.

National awards have been won by chapters in Clifton and Whitney. Clifton boys won the FFA national gold emblem rating six times in a row. Five FFA boys from Whitney won the American Farmer Degree the same year.

Short Shorts

APRIL 5 is the opening date for the old French legation in Austin. Dignitaries of the Sons and Daughters of the Republic, the State and the University, will attend opening day ceremonies.

ONLY ABOUT HALF of Texas motorists have obtained auto inspection stickers so far this year. Over 10,000 cars a week will have to be checked between now and the April 15 deadline.

GEORGE C. MENZIES died from rabies, last January, while working on an experiment with bats. He left a wife and four children. Austin friends of the former State Health Department scientist have started an educational fund for the children. Spearheading the drive is W. N. Colson. So far less than $3,000 has been collected. More money is needed. Contributions may be sent to Colson at Box 691, Austin.

SIX INSURANCE COMPANIES owned by W. Lee O'Daniel, and his family, have fewer policies in effect than the new law requires for continued operation. So reports the insurance commission. Included are the W. Lee O'Daniel Life Insurance Co. and five others, of which O'Daniel's son, Pat, is president.

ANOTHER INSURANCE COMPANY is out of business. But without repercussions or financial loss. Home Life and Accident Insurance Co. of Dallas voluntarily surrendered its license and asked that a

DO YOU REMEMBER .....

Do you remember 22 years ago? It was March 23, 1934. This was the Dust Bowl era. The deplorable stock market crash was five years old and the country was in the midst of a depression that no one has ever forgotten.

Apparently Billy had been rescued by the missionary from being buried alive with his mother who died when he was three days old.

Next column, was "Cogitations and Aphorisms of Jodok" and the first paragraph read, "It occurs to me that the fellow who is "all wrapped up in himself" is never very envied for his wrappings."

The front page of The Star carried six columns of news, and a cut of a little Peruvian boy named Billy.

Billy, who spoke and sang in three languages, English, Spanish and his native dialect, was appearing with the Rev. A. F. Reifsnnyder, a missionary to the lands around the headwaters of the Amazon.

According to The Star: "Although the Campa Indians prohibit by death penalty the white man's entrance into their territory in the eastern jungle of Peru, Rev. A. F. Reifsnnyder, diminutive, soft-spoken American missionary, successfully dared that hazard. His journey into the interior climaxed three years among the natives on the fringes of Campa country."

"The Campa, one of the largest, most cruel and most savage Indian tribes in the Amazon river basin, unlike the once powerful Incas, is not known to have ever been conquered."

So far as news was concerned: "An exhibit of canned meats will be held next Saturday in Friona in the Chevrolet show room of Lunsford and Company, west of Friona State Bank. Meat products canned in tin are to be exhibited, opened and judged. At the close of the meat judging, the county try-out of Four-H club girls meat canning demonstration will be held."

"An emergency crop loan office has been opened at the courthouse in Farwell and farmers desiring loans should apply between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m."

"The seventh number of the local lyceum course, which consisted of a 'cowboy' program by the T-Anchor Ranch Boys of Canyon/ was attended by a large number of people, and was pronounced by many to be the most interesting program that has been given by the lyceum."

"An enthusiastic meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held in the high school Tuesday night. The banquet was spread in the main corridor, served by the P-TA, assisted by the young ladies of the home economics department of the high school."

"Sandwiched between the three courses of delectable viands and efficient service was a rare program of music furnished by the faculty. A quartet by Messrs. Davis, Eubanks, Johnson and Strain; a solo by Rex Johnson; and a cornet solo by Prof. Strain; an exquisite interpretation with a reading by Prof. Eubanks were enjoyed by all."

The four-page paper included a full page ad run by The Friona Star which contained the heading AD-venture and the following poem:

Let them go to distant places,
Let them sail the seven seas,
Let them trade in spices, laces,
Scimitars and filligrees.

Let them dock at far-off Aden,
We can find romance and more
On the shelves so full and laden
Of our corner grocery store!

There'll be black tea from China,
Fragrant cloves from Zanzibar,
Figs that come from Asia Minor,
Other products from afar.

We can get at bargain prices
Coffee out of hot Brazil,
Simple foods, exotic spices,
Anything we want, at will.

Oh, they'll go on yearly whalings,
Let them, you and can roam,
Build our ships and make our sailings
Within half a mile of home.

Let them follow their mild notions
Let them sight their Trinidads,
City streets will be our oceans
And our charts will be the ads.

To Increase Facilities

Following action begun earlier in February, the Randall County Commissioners Court, Monday reviewed plans for a new courthouse annex in Canyon and a tax office in South Amarillo and received bids from bond firms for financing construction of the annex. The commissioners studied plans and architects sketches submitted by L. A. Kerr of the Amarillo architect firm of Kerr and Kerr. His estimate of the cost of the annex was $145,500 and for the tax office was $35,000.

Originally, Kerr and the commissioners had estimated that $100,000 would build the courthouse annex, which includes a new county jail. But the commission decided to add a jury dormitory which raised the cost of the building.

As plans stand now, the courthouse annex would include offices for the sheriff's department, highway patrol, justice of the peace and a small justice courtroom on the first floor. Also on the floor will be a kitchen for feeding prisoners. On the second floor of the building will be the jail and the jury dormitory. Half of the dormitory will be for female jurors, and the other half for male.

Little League Park Talked

Hereford Rural High School District trustees Tuesday night accepted an offer from a group of local businessmen to build restrooms at the football stadium, discussed the possibility of adding 1200 seats to the stadium and called for bids on an addition to the shop building at High School.

The action came at the regular monthly meeting of the School Board, at which all members were present. The group also met with a delegation representing the Little League and agreed to consider a proposition made by them to construct a Little League park on school property between the football stadium and Shirley school.

The proposal apparently met with the approval of the Board, but no vote was taken. Board President Robert Wagoner said that a decision would be announced within a week. The school was assured that such a field could be used for school physical education courses as well as for Little League games.

Rogers Outlines Background on Farm Bill Now Before Agriculture Committee

As I have repeatedly stated in the past, the family-size farm is one of the pillars upon which this country has been built to its present greatness. If we want to destroy our way of life, the greatest blow that can be struck against it would be the destruction of the family farm unit. It is in this source that democracy must find two of its essential roots, independence and freedom. These roots can be as completely destroyed by economic means as by physical force. This must not be allowed to happen.

HIGHWAY LEGISLATION

The battle lines on highway legislation are fast shaping up. The highly explosive tax matters in last year's bill have been measurably watered down by the Ways and Means Committee's recommendations. Plenty will be said, however, with regard to the present ones when this bill reaches the floor. Other items of apparent hot debate seem to have cooled down some. The issue that is going to the front fast as one of the leading controversies is the issue of whether or not the taxpayers should pay all of the expenses to relocate the facilities of utility companies along present highway rights-of-way. Congressman Brady Gentry, of Tyler, Texas, a former Texas Highway Commissioner and County Judge, has been waging a running and effective fight against the use of tax monies to pay utility companies for relocating their facilities. One of his major weapons is the argument that the present rights of way have been used free of charge by the utility companies and that these companies have provisions in their contracts agreeing to relocate these facilities without cost to the public. The utility companies claim that if the taxpayers are not required to pay for relocation costs, then they (the utility companies) will simply pass on the cost of this relocation to their customers. You can see that there is plenty of fuel here for a good sized bonfire.

The Senate is drawing close to a final vote on the controversial farm bill. By the time this letter reaches you, this highly important legislation will be in a conference committee made up of members representing the House Agriculture Committee and the Senate Agriculture Committee. This Committee will try to work out the differences between the House of Representatives and the Senate and to work out a bill acceptable to both Houses of Congress. It will be remembered that the House last year passed the bill fixing mandatory price supports at 90 per cent of parity. The Senate failed to act last year on the measure prior to adjournment. The House bill is still before the Senate, but the Senate has written a new bill into which has been injected a number of items. If this bill passes the Senate which is expected, the chances are that it will never be debated in the House of Representatives. The reason being, that the Senate will substitute its farm bill for the wording in the House farm bill and then pass the bill as a House measure. This means that the bill will then be taken to a conference committee and not brought back to the House for further debate. The only time that the House will get to act on such a measure again will be to vote for or against accepting the report of the conference committee.

The Senate has already knocked out rigid 90 per cent supports. As we predicted, the 90 per cent support lost because a Republican block was joined by several Southern Senators to whom Benson had made a special appeal. I respect the sincerity of the Senators in what they have done, but I question their judgment. The farm problem is a nationwide problem and the attempt to settle the local matters and problems with a disregard for the rest of the farm economy must operate to divide the farm forces. We hope that this Administration is not pursuing the doctrine of "divide and conquer" in its attempt to cope with the farm matter.

Like the school aid bill and other pieces of legislation here, you can expect many attempts to put rider type legislation on the highway bill. This is one means of helping the trend towards total centralization of government and regimentation of individuals. Have you ever thought how fast centralization and regimentation are being accomplished? When most of you my age were boys and girls you didn't have to have a license for every turn of your daily life. About the only licenses we knew of at that time were dog licenses and these only applied to city dogs. Country dogs didn't need them as long as they came to town for strictly social purposes. I guess it can properly be said that we are now leading a dog's life, at least so far as licensing is concerned.

Visitors in Washington this last week included Col. Joe Mason, for-

YOUR NEIGHBORS' OPINION .....

DO YOU PLAN TO PLANT A GARDEN THIS YEAR? WHAT WILL YOU PLANT?

MRS. VOLLEY HOLMES: "Yes, I sure am going to plant a garden. I'll plant just the usual things, a variety of vegetables."

MRS. O. T. PATTERSON: "O' yes, I sure plan to plant a garden. I always plant either the fifth or sixth day of May. I usually plant beans, peas, okra, squash, cucumbers, eggplant, watermelon, canteloupe, etc."

MRS. A. H. HILL: "Well I'd sure like to plant a garden, but I don't guess I will because we just don't have the water it takes to raise a garden."

MRS. NOYLE WOOD: "We plant a garden every year. We have ours at the irrigation well so we can keep it watered. We plant sometime in April. However, I have already planted onions. We plant just everything, all kinds of vegetables."

MRS. L. D. CHILES: "Yes, I'll plant a garden this summer between the last of April or the first of May. We plant a variety of foods such as cucumbers, beans, radishes, carrots, etc. We have a garden close to the irrigation well. I always deep freeze what I can."

MRS. ARMA COFFMAN: "I sure do plan to plant a garden just soon as the wind quits blowing so much. I just have a small garden ough and plant cucumbers, tomatoes and a few other things."

MRS. CLARENCE MARTIN: "Yes, I'll plant a small garden in e back yard, probably just tomatoes, okra and beans. We just really n't have time to take care of a large garden."

MRS. FRED DENNIS: "Well I hope to have a garden; it just depends on whether they get the water piped from the well to the garden place or not. Last year they just dug a ditch and let the water run down it to the well, but they plan to pipe from the well this year. I guess I'll plant just about everything. Our favorites are tomatoes, corn, peas and okra."

District Two Ranks 2nd in Violations

Parmer county citizens, who live in district two of the Texas Liquor Control Board will be interested to learn that in this district, which includes 24 South Plains counties, there were more cases filed on liquor control violations than in any areas except the ten county area of which Dallas is headquarters.

But although the Lubbock district, the one Parmer county is in, had 53 cases filed, it had 42 convictions and nine jail terms as compared with the Dallas area's record of 72 cases filed, but only 22 convictions and five jail terms.

The Lubbock district leads the state in convictions and also in dismissals. Fines in the district amounted to $10,507.25, which was one quarter of the total for Texas' entire 254 counties.

Lubbock is headquarters for this district, with Plainview listed as a district station. Counties in district 2 include Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Brisco, Hall, Childress, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent and Stonewall.

Parmer Land Sold for Fifty Cents Per Acre to Build State Capital

Once upon a time the state of Texas couldn't even sell Parmer county land for 50 cents an acre. Here's the story:

The January-February issue of "The Humble Way," published by Humble Oil Company, has a story on the Texas Capitol explaining how it was built and depicting the part which Parmer County played in erecting the huge pink granite state house.

Parmer County's role started late in 1875 when at the Constitutional Convention in Austin, Delegate J. R. Fleming made a resolution that the state set aside five million acres of public land for the purpose of building a capitol. This resolution failed to pass, but the committee on state affairs did recommend setting aside three million acres for this purpose and in 1876 the people of Texas ratified that amendment to the constitution.

So on Feb. 20, 1879, the legislature appropriated 3,050,000 acres of land in ten Panhandle counties, title to go to anyone or any group that agreed to build a suitable capitol in exchange for the land.

The land included parts of Parmer, Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Castro, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran and Hockley counties.

Services were held at the Petersburg Church of Christ. Cousins attending included Mr. M. C. Osborn, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Osborn and Mrs. Howard Ford and Chlo.

TOURS WITH CHOIR

LUBBOCK, March 22. — Denise Magness of Friona is one of 49 members of Texas Tech choir which has been on its fifth annual tour Monday through Wednesday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Magness.

The group appeared first at Fort Worth's Paschal High school, and then in the Arlington State college Little Theater, sponsored by the Arlington chapter of the Tech alumni in cooperation with the Arlington High School and then they sang in the Graham High school.

Last scheduled appearance was Wednesday at Abilene High school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Patterson, Mrs. C. O. Wood and son, Charlie, all of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Frye of Frio, were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Patterson.

quently it sheltered Mexican bandits and other outlaws. Neither its climate nor its natural resources made it particularly attractive for white settlement at that time.

"By September, 1880, Munson completed his job of surveying the three million acres in Spanish leagues and his report was sent to the land office. Then it was time to pay for his work. Bids for 50,000 acres of land were received just before Smith. Only two offers came in and both were rejected. So they advertised for bids again, and this time only one bidder came forth, W. M. D. Lee of Fort Elliott, who offered 55 1/2 cents an acre for 50,000 acres in Oldham County. The state promptly accepted Lee's bid, and put into the public school fund the money left over after paying Munson.

RHEA

Amos Denny of California, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Alderson, visited this week with them. He is on his way to Tulsa to visit his mother.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Spring Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wise, Mr. and Mrs. Bess and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Alderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bauer and family visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bauer of Happy, Sunday, to celebrate Mrs. Bauer's birthday. Those attending the Farm Bureau banquet Monday from this community were Mr. and Mrs. Alton Kunkle, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schueler, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schueler and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bauer.

Randy Jones of Bovina is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Calaway, his grandparents, while his parents are away. James Lee also visited his grandparent Saturday. They were all guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patterson on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Drager were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schueler, Sunday. The Franklin Bauers were guests that evening.

Mrs. Walter Schueler and children visited with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schueler, Monday.

Mildred Young of Bovina, Texas, spent the weekend with Miss Gladys Dean.

Alvin Lee Sifford, who is working for Raymond Schueler, went home for the week-end and visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sifford, Wayne and Peggy, all of Umbarger.

"Texas was delighted to get this money for the land, and apparently Lee decided his purchase hadn't been too wise, for a few months later he hedged his investment by selling half his land for exactly what he had paid for it.

"Well, in November, 1881, the old capitol burned down, so the board specified New Year's Day, 1882, as the date when bids for a new capitol would be received. Two bids were submitted. One by Matheas Schnell of Rock Island, Ill., and the other by A. A. Burck of Rockdale, Texas.

"Schnell won the contract, and for the building he agreed to construct, he was to get the three million acres of land. However, he soon transferred 3/4 of his interest to Taylor, Babcock and Company of Chicago, who organized the Capitol Syndicate, composed of Abner Taylor, A. C. Babcock, John V. Farwell and Charles B. Farwell.

"By May, 1888, some six years, and innumerable labor and material troubles later, Texas had a capitol which cost $3,744,350.60. Of this amount the state assumed more than half a million dollars, leaving the Syndicate's expenses $3,224,593.45, which, in effect, meant they paid a little more than a dollar an acre for all this land, at least twice the going price for choice watered lands at that time and perhaps four times the price of unwatered land.

"The investors of Capitol Syndicate Company, finding they were unable to sell the land, even at a loss, decided to hold on to it until increased immigration raised the value of the land to make it possible for them to sell without a loss. Until such time, they would operate that area as a ranch.

To get money to operate, this ranch, which was known as the XIT, the Capitol Freehold Land and Investment Company was incorporated in London with an authorized capital of 15 million dollars.

Signal Honors Go To Hereford Girl

Texas' Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Sammie McLallen of Hereford.

The brown-eyed 18-year-old Hereford High school senior received the highest score in a written examination taken by 12,436 graduating senior girls in 582 of Texas' schools.

She will receive a $1,500 educational scholarship to the college of her choice from General Mills, sponsor of this $100,000 homemaking scholarship program which enrolled a quarter million girls in more than 10,000 of the nation's high schools.

She and her school advisor will tour Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia, April 8-12. Miss McLallen will be a candidate for the Betty Crocker American Homemaker of Tomorrow $5,000 scholarship award which will be made at the nationally televised American Table banquet April 12 in Philadelphia.

Receiving the second rating in Texas was Eunice Foster of Hawkins. She will be awarded a $500 scholarship as Texas Award of Honor winner in this homemaking project.

Miss McLallen, who wants to be a homemaking teacher, is not sure just when college she will attend on her $1,000 scholarship. "I want a college education," she says, "because I believe college will not only help me adjust to life as an adult, but it will also help me in my ultimate goal of homemaking. And I want to be a teacher because I want to be able to help others be better homemakers too."

Over the Coffee Cups

The fashion show Friday night was really a big success. As a fashion show should be, models were lovely, children adorable, music smooth, and narration interesting.

Speaking of fashions, there's an important undercover story in cotton this year, a fabric that is rapidly becoming the hit of the season. It's a non-textured, noiron cotton batiste that is smooth, soft, lightweight and easy to care for. It's being used in many high style slips, petticoats and gowns. The batiste can be swished through suds, like nylon, and comes out sparkling.

Cotton plisse has, of course, been growing in popularity for years but this batiste is a non-crinkled fabric and an ideal lingerie material. Look for it around. Local stores will probably carry it for summer.

And while we're on the subject of fashion, let's mention baby clothes. Even diapers have gone high fashion. You can buy traditional underpinnings in ros-bud prints, plaids, polka dots and even Mickey Mouse and other nursery design prints.

With their tongue in their cheeks, however, the National Cotton Council remarks, "The growing popularity of these fashionable diapers is somewhat of a mystery in the trade, since they are no sooner on than they have to be hidden from view under waterproof pants."

And know what you can buy to match diapers? Crib sheets. They come printed with ducks, Disney characters, and dainty flowers.

Notice where John S. Spratt of Dallas was awarded the one thousand dollar prize for the best Texas book of 1955 when the Texas Institute of Letters recently held its annual banquet and gave him the Carr P. Collins award.

His book, entitled, "The Road to Spindletop; Economic Change in Texas, 1875-1901," sounds like a doctoral thesis, but I understand it's highly readable.

Two things about it are of particular interest: First, the book was written about Texas by a native Texan who was educated at the University of Texas. The designer and illustrator of the book, Ed Bearden, is a Texan; the book was manufactured in Texas and was published by Southern Methodist University Press in Dallas, Texas.

And people say Texans have money and no culture! Second, the book is written by a member of the economics faculty at SMU; and it points up the increasing interest and influence of the economic point of view. Historically, of course, the discovery of the Spindletop oil field was supposed to make the great turning point in the Lone Star state's economy. But this book isn't concerned with the history of the event, but with its influence on economy, on finances, on money, on standards of living, etc.

For example, the book covers the last quarter of the 19th century. The first strand of barbed wire was stretched in 1875; yet within 15 years the range had been fenced. A short generation saw the wilderness converted into an empire. Within the course of 30 years, half a thousand miles of railroad had been expanded into 10,000 miles, and agriculture and industry grew in proportion.

Politics is so much in the wind that even local gossip takes a second role. That's something!

Which brings up something once read which said: "Great minds discuss ideas; mediocre minds discuss things; little minds discuss people."

As a newspaper staff member I'll quarrel with that. It ought to read: "Great minds discuss ideas, things and people; mediocre ideas, things and people; little minds discuss people." Do you agree?

So let's talk about things. For people who are interested in gardens, it's planting time. There were an estimated 567,000 home gardens planted last year which provided top quality vegetables for the family table.

In fact, there's nothing like home grown foods, although this is not to disparage the wonderful variety of foods provided on grocer's shelves. It's just that nothing ever tastes as good as a vine ripened tomato, freshly plucked and quickly eaten; or what gourmet would pass up home grown leaf lettuce, the only kind that doesn't taste like pressed water. And tiny fresh carrots are almost impossible to buy. And who sells leeks or scallions anymore?

Now that we are on the subject of food, here's the recipe of the week:

It's a savory lamb dish that will brighten up your menu and win you enthusiastic praise for its wonderful flavor. Long a favorite with Armenians, this easily prepared recipe takes advantage of tender, inexpensive cuts of Texas lamb.

LAMB AND LIMA BEANS, ARMENIAN STYLE

1 pound lean ground lamb
2 T salad or cooking oil
1 medium-size onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
3 cups cooked dry lima beans (1 1/4 cup uncooked)
1 1/2 cups sliced zucchini
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
2 teaspoons salt

1 bay leaf, if desired
What to do:
Brown lamb in oil, stirring frequently with fork to keep meat separated in small pieces.
Add onion and garlic and cook until onion is yellow and transparent.
Stir in the drained cooked lima beans, the sliced zucchini, strained tomatoes and seasonings.
Simmer, uncovered, for about 40 minutes.
If desired, fresh tomatoes may be used, adding about 1 1/2 cups of water, or just enough to barely cover ingredients. If mixture becomes too dry, add more water as needed.
Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Cup Towels Painted By Parmerton HD Club

Mrs. Ray Landrum was hostess to the Parmerton Home Demonstration club in her home Thursday.

The afternoon was spent painting cup towels with tri-chem paint. Instructions and information about the paint were given by Mrs. Landrum.

Refreshments of angel food cake and lime sherbet were served and napkins with small shamrocks, painted on them were used to carry out the Saint Patrick day theme.

The next regular meeting of the club will be April 19. On April 5 sauce pan, add enough water to the members will go to the district nearly cover them and cook in oven until done (slow for 1 1/2 hours).

COOK OF THE WEEK Mrs. Dick Rockey Gives New Kind of Recipes

Mrs. Dick Rockey, our Star Cook of the Week, is a former beauty salon operator, who for the past 14 years has been the wife of a farmer, and who numbers among her interesting recipes, one entitled "Preserved Children," and one on "How to Preserve a Husband."

Here's the how to do it:

PRESERVED CHILDREN

Take one large field, half a dozen children, two or three small dogs, a pinch of brook and some pebbles. Mix the children and dogs well together; put them on the field, stirring constantly. Pour the brook over pebbles, sprinkle the field with flowers; spread over all a deep blue sky and bake in the sun. When brown, set away to cool in the bathtub.

HOW TO PRESERVE A HUSBAND

Be careful in your selection; take only such varieties as have been reared in good moral atmosphere. When once decided upon and selected, let that part remain forever settled and give your entire thought to preparation for domestic use.

Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, while others are constantly getting them in hot water. Mrs. Rockey is the former Lucille Elmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Elmore. She was born in Quinlan, Okla., and was graduated from high school there. In 1929, however, her family moved to Black, and when they came to the Panhandle of Texas, she enrolled in San Jacinto Beauty School in Amarillo.

After she finished this course, she moved to Muleshoe and opened Lucille's Beauty Shop. Dick Rockey at this time was associated with Ford Motor company and he and Lucille used to take their coffee breaks at the same cafe at the same time.

So they got acquainted over coffee cups and dated for eight months. On February 10, 1934, they were married in Clovis. She sold her business, quit work and the couple lived in Muleshoe where their only child, H. V., was born.

H. V., now a 21-year-old junior at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, managed to keep his mother pretty busy while he was growing up, and although she bought back her beauty salon and managed it for about eight months, this proved to be too much of a task what with keeping a home and rearing her family, so she sold it again. Since that time, she has confined her beauty salon training to doing her mother's hair occasionally.

In 1942, the Rockeys moved to Friona and rented a farm five miles southeast of town. Then they bought the place where they are now living. It was formerly the property of her parents.

She is a busy member of the Black Community, serving as vice-president of the Home Demonstration club, as THDA for Farmer County. She is an officer in the community development organization, teaches extra sessions at the Methodist Church on Tuesday, serves as president of the Truth-seekers class of the Methodist church and secretary of student at WSCS.

In addition she finds time to do some copper tooling and Dresden painting.

Her four-room home on the farm five miles northeast of Friona, is well-kept and part of this can be attributed to an experience she had as a child. She's actually been keeping house since she was eight years old.

At that time her family was in a car wreck, and her mother received a broken hip.

For a year and a half, she was unable to get around, so eight-year-old Lucille would pull a box up to the stove so she could reach the burners, and carry out her mother's instructions about preparing meals.

"It seems like I've been cooking ever since. But it was good experience, and eight-year-olds can really do quite a bit," she explains.

Among her favorite recipes are:

FROZEN LIME SHERBET

1 pkg. lime Jello
1 1/2 cup sugar
1 cup boiling water
Rind and juice of 2 lemons
1 quart milk
Mix Jello, sugar, water, rind and juice of lemons and milk, stirring hard to keep from curdling. Pour into 8x12 pyrex bowl and freeze. Stir once or twice while freezing if desired.

CHEESE SALAD

1 cup crushed pineapple
1 cup grated cheese
Dash of paprika
2 tablespoons pimento
1/2 cup salad dressing
1 cup whipping cream
Mix pineapple, cheese, paprika, pimento, salad dressing, and cream. Mix thoroughly, pour into refrigerator tray and freeze.

ORANGE CAKE

1 cup shortening (1/2 cup lard and 1/2 cup butter)
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sour milk with
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup raisins
1 cup nuts
Grated rind of 2 oranges
2 1/2 cups flour
with 1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
Grate the oranges, drain juice and strain into glass with 1 cup sugar, beat until sugar is well dissolved, set aside.
Cream shortening and sugar, beat in eggs, add milk, dry ingredients, orange rind, nuts, raisins and vanilla.
Bake in an 8-inch iron skillet for one hour at 350 degrees.
When cake has been out of the oven 10 minutes pour over it the orange juice. Let stand in pan overnight to take up juice and sugar.

CABBAGE ROLLS

1 medium size head of cabbage
1/2 pound hamburger
1/2 pound sausage
1/2 cup rice
dash of salt and pepper
Cut center out of cabbage and run cold water on it and let stand in water till leaves will break loose.
Mix sausage, hamburger, rice, salt and pepper.
Roll small pieces of meat mixture into cabbage leaves and place in sauce pan, add enough water to nearly cover them and cook in oven until done (slow for 1 1/2 hours).

ODDS and ENDS

If the news has been scant around town, the conversation pieces have not:

People are talking about: What a nice job Mrs. Ed Lehnick did with the narration for the style show sponsored last week by members of the Progressive Study Club, Modern Study Club and Friona Woman's Club.

And about Dennis Anthony, who scooted breathlessly across stage rather than fool around showing off his attire, while Kirk Cummings, on the other hand, at two years old, managed to twirl around nicely and display his finery—that is, until the narrator got to him, whereupon he stood still as a statue and refused to budge an inch.

The entire affair was well received. And Kay Coffey as a big pink Easter bunny, really helped the show along.

John White is talking about his cane versus various canines around town.

Uncle John says he carries the cane, both to make him look distinguished, and also because in his journey to and from town, he's often accosted by a few dogs who resent his rights as a pedestrian.

According to Uncle John: "They come along and size me up, and challenge the right-of-way and this cane helps put them in their place."

Has your dog been bothering Uncle John and other pedestrians?

Bill Woodley, on the subject of dogs and canes, recalled a friend who was afflicted with jake-leg, an ailment that required he go forth armed with a cane at almost all times.

Said Bill, "Another fellow who owned a fisty dog, used to wait each day until my afflicted friend came down the street, because if the dog went out and nipped at his heels the poor old fellow really had a time; he'd stutter and stammer, and say, 'G-g-get out of my w-way, you little m-m-m-mongrel. I c-c-can hardly s-s-stand up as it is!'"

Tommy Sheek and Jon Mack Roden made a useless trip to Farwell, tother day, and from now on, they have been cautioned to watch their calendars more closely.

Now that the boys are big enough to get drivers permits, they persuaded their parents to let them acquire same. Fathers agreed to go over, but Thursday, Mr. Sheek was out of town, so the two mothers, Mrs. Ralph Roden and Mrs. Emmett Sheek drove over to Farwell with the boys. Acquired the papers which had to be filled out, and then learned it was the wrong Thursday. The patrolman was in town on a different Thursday.

It was a long drive home, according to the boys.

And the Rev. Hugh Blaylock declares there has been three times in his life when his hair has literally been standing on end. According to him, one of them was when he heard a fellow play "Nearer My God to Thee," on a plain old carpenter's saw, using a fiddlers bow. Maybe Mr. Blaylock would care to elaborate. Would you, sir?

Mrs. Ralph Price handed out first aid kits that had been ordered.

She arrived at Black to make her home in 1917 from Chicago. She gave a very interesting talk on the hardships of leaving a modern apartment and how she succeeded here as a farm wife. From her talk we learned that their home was the highlight of the Black community. She said her mother's first visit to see her was pretty sad for her because her mother remarked that "you could see so far, but there wasn't anything to see." She wanted so bad to take her daughter and family back to Chicago, but Mrs. Lange, who was at that time Mrs. Conway, seemed quite satisfied here. She says, "Don't tell me you can't do anything—see what I did."

The meeting adjourned and the next meeting will be an all-day gathering at the club house with Mrs. Presley as hostess, and they plan to make hats.

Fifteen members and two guests, Mrs. Jimmie Buckley and Mrs. Travis Stone, were present.

 Friona's sparkling Junior band won first division awards in each event entered last week-end when they entered the area elementary music school meet in Plainview.
 The band, which last year won third, has entered the competition for several years, according to J. D. Fry, director.
 In concert and sight reading competition, the band won a first division award. They appeared in Plainview Civic auditorium about 1:00 p. m. Friday. Judges were J. W. Hill, Paul Lovett and Dr. Ted Creiger of Lubbock.

 Participating will be Eva Nell Thomas, Jacquelyn Magness, Lila Buske, and Linda Miller, mixed clarinet quartet; Pat Cranfill, Janice Miller, Marie White, clarinet trio; Keith Taylor, John Hamilton, alto saxophone solos; Jerrod Sheek, Sally Osborn, oboe solos; Pat Cranfill, Janice Miller, clarinet solos, and Ira Parr, Charles Beaton, trombone solos.

 Richard Byars will have a birthday March 25. This seems to be the month of birthdays for our room.

Play to be Given At Springlake
 Friona High School's Interscholastic League one-act play, "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," will be presented in contest at Springlake tonight.
 The plays will be judged on almost everything from makeup to lighting. One stipulation is that each play be no longer than 30 minutes.
 Props in a one-act play are of the very barest essentials. In "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," there are two scenes. The first one takes place in a clearing in a wood where only three stumps are used. The second scene takes place in front of a country gentleman's home. The only props required for this sequence are a bench and steps which lead up to the imaginary house.
 On Tuesday night of this week the play cast went to Canyon to perform in front of a dramatic class. The criticism received there was favorable as very little fault was found with the characterization. Also they liked the costumes and makeup.
 Then on Wednesday afternoon the group traveled to Springlake to practice on the stage there. The reason for going was to acquaint the actors with the stage and its entrances in preparation for the contest.
 The students were allowed to see the entire production on Thursday morning for a small admission. The fee was used to pay for the costumes, etc.
 "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" is a farce which will afford you a good deal of entertainment if you will come to Springlake tonight.

Scouting Events:
 BROWNIE TROOP-10
 Sarah Ann Fallwell was hostess to thirteen Brownies, Monday. The girls completed the Aunt Jimemina pin cushions they have been working on for several weeks. Some of the Brownies were planning to give the pin cushions to their mothers and to their grandmother.
 CUB SCOUT DEN 1
 Seven Cubs of Den 1 met Monday in the Kenneth Houlette home. The Cubs and their leader, Mrs. D. L. Carmichael, took a short hike to the edge of town to see if they could find any signs of spring, such as green grass, flowers and trees beginning to turn green. Several signs were found they reported.
 They later returned to the Houlette home for refreshments and discussed the events they will enter for the annual spring palava to be held in Amarillo, May 12.

 We have a pretty poster on our board that we all helped to make. Last week as we went to cafeteria, we saw a robin in the school yard.

FHS Students Chart Careless Numbskull
 Friona's car driving High School students are getting safety conscious.
 About three weeks ago the Student Faculty Conference instituted a safety campaign against "Careless Numbskulls," and the results, according to High School Principal Raymond Cook, have certainly been rewarding.
 Careless Numbskulls are those people who are caught in the act of driving un-safely. Anyone who sees such an action can report it and the person's name and his action is emblazoned on a chart in the front hall of Friona High School.
 Incidentally, it isn't limited to the ranks of students; so far, of the fourteen names on the chart, three are members of the faculty.
 The incident must be witnessed, Cook explained. Accusers have to offer proof of the event; they cannot just come in and write down a driving misdemeanor.
 "I believe its really cut down on lots of our problems, around here. One fellow whose name was on the chart for all to see, came around and asked how it could be removed," Cook explained.
 So far, two girls, nine boys and three teachers appear on the chart for doing such things as making illegal turns, illegal parking, allowing people to ride on the fenders, backing into angle parking spaces, speeding in school zone, reckless driving, driving on the wrong side of the street and turning a corner too fast.
 Mrs. V. M. Ferguson and daughter, Doris, were in Plainview, Thursday on business. Sunday, Mrs. Louis Miller and Mrs. Marie Milstead of Plainview spent the day with them.
 Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Shryock of Woodward, Okla., and Mrs. Walter Reithmyer of Lamesa, visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boggess. Mrs. Shryock and Mrs. Boggess are sisters.

FRIONA SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Dear Uncle Bert,
 Plays, plays, and more plays, the town is getting their fill of dramatic talent. We are to enjoy the Interscholastic League one-act play Thursday for 10 cents admission in an assembly. This play, "The Doctor in Spite of Himself," will be presented in Springlake this year along with other plays. From what I understand, the one-act plays won't be held here, as they usually are.
 The junior play is to be presented soon. The name of it is "George Washington Slept Here." The cast is as follows: Patsy Anthony, Barbara Deaton, Geraldine Phipps, Judy Bruns, Eva Woolbright, Doris McFarland, Barbara Hock, Phyllis Hinds, Gerald Floyd, Joe McLellan, Wesley Barnett, Burkie Hand, Don McMahan, Jerrod Sheek, Buford Carter, Charles Beaton, and Don Reeve. As you can see, this is practically the whole junior class. I am looking forward to this, as I have heard that it will be very funny.
 The FFA-FHA assembly was held Monday. We enjoyed talent from all the classes, as it was more or less a talent show. There was singing, dancing, instrumentals, etc., which was appreciated by all. These organizations are giving a party to honor their sweethearts this Thursday night.
 Warnings are being given that if the meeting place (Grubb's barn) doesn't get cleaned up, there won't be a party. The sweethearts, as you know, are Buford Carter, Phila Buske and Doris McFarland.
 The band and choir pictures are being made today. The hall is full of choir robes hanging on locker doors, and kids in those stunning band uniforms. I hope these pictures turn out well, as we want everyone to see both of these organizations at their best.
 Our school is giving vocational preference tests to the juniors and seniors tomorrow. These tests are being given to see which different people would succeed best in which vocation. From now on, I think they are just going to give them to the juniors so that they may change their course if they are going the wrong way.
 Well, that's about all for now. See you next week.
 Love,
 Big Minnie.

Measles Rampant Throughout State

Although measles are rampant in Texas, Parmer County seems to be holding its own, according to County Health Officer Paul Spring, who estimates there are probably between six and eight cases in the county this week.

He cautions parents, however, that if their pre-school age child is known to be exposed to the disease, that he get a measles shot to make the case lighter. Immunization period of the globulin is two to three weeks, so there's no point in having him inoculated unless there is known exposure, he pointed out.

Throughout the state the incidence of measles was over twice as much last week as for the five-year median for the disease, according to Dr. Henry A. Holle, state commissioner of health.

Any contagious disease can spread to epidemic proportions if proper care is not used to isolate the patient and protect others from exposure. Measles has not approached a near epidemic stage, but proper nursing and isolation should be carried out to prevent further spread.

Measles alone is not necessarily a dangerous disease, Dr. Spring states, but serious complications such as streptococcus, mastoiditis and pneumonia which frequently follow, make it a disease to be carefully nursed, with close attention from a doctor.

Unskilled treatment of a plain case of measles can result in complications which often kill and is not to be regarded lightly as simply another childhood disease.

Dr. Spring urges parents to watch exposed children carefully, and at the first sign of temperature, flushed face, snuffles, or watering eyes, advises that the child be put to bed at once and placed under a doctor's care.

Union Good Friday Services Set

The Public is invited to attend the Union Good Friday Service at 8:00 p. m., March 30, in the First Methodist church. This service will also be the first event in the annual spring revival for the First Methodist church which will be held March 30 through April 8, according to the Rev. Hugh Blaylock, pastor.

Pre-Easter services will be held the last two days of March with the Rev. Blaylock and the Rev. C. G. Nelson conducting the union service.

The Seven Last Words of Christ will be presented in a program of audience participation. Special music is under the direction of Miss Vera Ann Jones.

Participating in the program will the Reverend Blaylock and Nelson, J. P. Ready, members of the Methodist Choir and a trio composed of Nancy Outland, Doris McFarland, and Linda Gee.

On Saturday, March 31, the Rev. Blaylock will speak on "The Stone Removed." Easter Sunday the traditional Eastertime message will be given.

That evening, the service will be under the direction of Dr. E. D. Landreth of Amarillo, district superintendent. This will be the fourth quarterly conference and officials of the local church will be elected at this time, Rev. Blaylock pointed out.

Beginning April 2, the revival will be conducted by the Rev. Herschel L. Thurston, pastor of the Central Methodist church at Dalton. Music will be under the direction of Rev. Rex Mauldin, pastor of the First Methodist church at Aspermont. Services will be held at 7:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. each day, Monday through Friday.

"Teeth in New Law" Explained Veterans By Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder

J. Earl Rudder, state land commissioner and chairman of Veterans Land board, was in Muleshoe, Tuesday night, to explain to veterans in this area and other interested people, the newly revised law concerning administration of the veterans' land program.

Mr. Rudder, introduced by Bailey County Judge Williams, spoke to a crowd of approximately 150 people, including seven from Parmer County. Present were members of the local county land committee, including Lester Rhinehart of Bovina, Bob Anderson, Farwell, Loyde Brewer, Friona, and A. L. Carleton, C. L. Lillard, H. E. Agee and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Massey.

The program, revised as of Sept. 7, 1955, will be put to the test next November, when voters go to the polls to decide on a constitutional amendment which will extend the program and make more funds available for its transactions.

"There is still money available in the fund," Mr. Rudder pointed out, "but interest in indicated by the fact that between Oct. 31, 1955, and Feb. 7, 1956, we received 7,54 requests for application, returned applications to 1900 veterans and had 442 of those completed and returned to us."

The program, which was marked by scandals and graft, is now administered under the tightened restrictions of a revised act which makes it necessary for applications to be obtained only through the Veterans Land Office in Austin, for a qualified and specially trained appraiser to inspect the land, and for each county to set up a local committee to pass on the authenticity of each deal.

To date, about 24 tracts in Parmer County have been sold to veterans, Rudder said, since the program was started in 1951. At its inception, taxpayers voted a constitutional amendment which authorized the board to issue $25,000,000 in bonds which were used to finance land which veterans could purchase at 3 percent interest for 40 years, on amounts not to exceed a value of $15,000 and on which the state was not to lend more than $7,500.

In 1951 voters agreed to finance another 75 million for the program which was to terminate in 1959. A constitutional amendment will be put before the public again in November to see if more funds will be made available and to see if the program should be extended.

Of the 100 million which has already been voted, about four million dollars remains in the fund. This is a revolving fund, Rudder explained, and Texas stands to make about 45 million off of it, because the loans bring in three per cent interest but are costing only 1.9 per cent.

Veterans who still wish to participate in the program must first write the land office for their applications. There are about 8000 waiting now, Rudder explained, and as each request is received it is added to the bottom of the pile, so that each veteran must wait his turn.

As each application works its way to the top, he said, an application and contract form is mailed back to the veteran. He then has 30 days in which to complete his contract, getting signatures of the sellers, etc. He may request one, but only on ten-day extension.

At this time a copy also goes to the county's veterans land committee, and Rudder explained that this particular step served to "take the government back to the grass roots."

When his contract is returned along with a check for five per cent of the down payment, plus contract costs and an appraisers fee, then an appraiser is assigned to check the land, ascertain its value and decide whether it is being sold at a fair price, and whether or not the veteran is getting his money's worth.
