

GRAHAM CRACKERS

—WHG

When we visited his barbershop Saturday evening, we asked Jack Anderson, Friona's venerable lock-chopper, how the new $1 prices had affected business.

Jack was casual enough about saying that he had received hardly any complaints, but he pointed out that he is holding the line on six bit prices for the "little 'uns."

According to Jack, "A barber may be able to get $1 or $1.25 off of a man for a haircut, but when he brings in three or four kids and sees the bill after the work's all done, the next thing you know the butter bowl will be brought out of the cabinet and he'll start to work himself."

This may be free advertising, but we thought it was funny enough to print, anyhow.

Not too long ago we ran into a fellow who, after talking with us on the subjects of politics and economics for a little while, shocked us with the statement that he considered the writer "against farming."

According to his logic, the fact that we believe farmers to be better off with no controls and slightly supported prices than with tight controls and guaranteed prices, meant that we were "agin' the farmer."

Now, it might some day prove to be that what we think is good for the American farmer is not good for the American farmer, but we get our bristles up whenever somebody suggests that we basically have an anti-agricultural philosophy.

We could tell you that we live in Texas High Plains by choice rather than by circumstance, and that we love living among people of largely rural upbringings. We could tell you that something deep inside us stirs whenever we see a combine struggling through a good field of milo, or an irrigation well pumping a million gallons of water a day, but what's the use of all the flag waving. We can prove our patriotism to the farmer just by common sense.

We have invested heavily in the future of Friona and Parmer County because we believe that this irrigated area will continue to grow and prosper as the years roll along.

But we know full well that when the farmers stop making money in our own trade territory, so will we. A prosperous agriculture means prosperous agricultural communities. And The Star and nearly every other business in Friona is wholly dependent on the farmers for our success.

Even if we thought farming to be the poorest of vocations (which we certainly don't), we would be compelled by the sheer realities of economics to be on the farmers' side.

The person who said this to us was very, very mistaken.

Texans love to brag on themselves, but probably enjoy even more the bragging that somebody else does for them.

If you're a fan of the Lone Star State, we refer you to last week's issue of U. S. News and World Report, a very astute magazine, which plugged Texas 17 pages worth. We might even live over Esquire's slam of a couple of years ago if this particular work gets enough circulation.

More and more articles are being written in the newspapers and magazines about the trading stamp boom that has infected almost every part of the country. Its effect is being chiefly noticed on stores of traditionally low markups and high volumes, especially food stores.

Grocers used to spend their time cussing the government. That was back in the days of ceiling prices. Now, however, they spend their time cussing trading stamps.

That seems to be the gist of national opinion, at least, and it's one of the wackiest crazes ever to hit gadget-conscious America. Right now, there probably aren't ten houses in Friona which don't harbor a partially filled stamp book in the cupboard.

Some merchants claim they love their very existence to the new business that stamps have brought them, but most of the nation's businessmen look on stamps as an evil as odious (though, perhaps as necessary) as paying taxes.

We think the most revealing analysis of trading stamps appeared in a recent issue of Changing Times, the Kiplinger magazine. It told the truth when it said that when everyone gives 'em, nobody benefits by 'em.

Stamps are just a premium that your grocer or other businessman decides to give you, in the hope that you will appreciate his generosity and come back (Continued on Last Page)

Highest Court Is City Appeal

What started as a condemnation proceeding has developed into a supreme court test this week, as the City of Friona continues its disagreement with Paul Strickland, local service station operator.

The dispute has arisen over right-of-way for the new four-lane

Highway 60 through town. The improvements are already in, but the property owner and the city cannot agree on what payment should be awarded for damages done the service station property when the highway was widened.

Last week, the city commissioners decided that they will seek a writ of error from the state supreme court in an attempt to throw out a reversal suffered in the court of civil appeals in Amarillo last month.

In a nutshell, if the supreme court decision favors the city, damages set months ago in county court at $400 will be awarded Strickland. If, however, the supreme court upholds the appeals court's reversal, the city will be back where it started last year before litigation ever began.

Final Rites Held For E. A. Moyer

Funeral services for E. A. Moyer, 93, were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Friona at 10:00 a. m. Wednesday. Rev. C. M. Fields, pastor, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. Hugh Blaylock, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Friona.

Moyer was born April 12, 1863 at Bardville, Kentucky. He died November 26 at a rest home in Friona. He was a retired farmer and had lived in Parmer County several years.

Survivors include his wife, Lulu Ann Moyer, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. O. B. Moyer, northwest of town; three sons, Elmer of Canadian, Texas; Joe of Friona, and Raymond of Springfield, Oregon; two daughters, Lizzie Prater of Spearman and Beulah Moyer of Friona.

Funeral services were held at the Marcum-Claborn Funeral Home.

PHILIP WEATHERLY

Miss Neel, Weatherly Are Friona Favorites

Paula Neel, junior class nominee, and Philip Weatherly, senior, have been chosen favorites at the Friona High School. Miss Neel is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Neel.

Weatherly, also 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Weatherly.

The two were nominated by their classes and elected by the student body. Announcement of the favorites was made last Thursday.

GOBBLERS GOBBLE ALL SHOOT PROFITS

Members of the Friona senior class paled a little Saturday as they saw their fund-raising turkey shoot through to the bitter end. Because of the marksmanship of contestants, they wound up in the hole—instead of making money.

The idea was to pick off a turkey from 75 yards away with a .22 caliber rifle. Since only the gobbler's head was showing, this seemed like a pretty tough assignment, and at $1 a shot, the seniors figured to make some money.

But the 20 birds went like hotcakes as rifles spat and local shooters picked the gobblers off with alarming regularity. The turkeys cost the class over $6 each.

While the boys of the class were holding their ill-fated shot, however, the girls were throwing a bake sale down after collecting 105 percent of their membership goal in a special drive lasting from October 1 through November 11.

A quota of 86 was assigned the local group, and on November 11, their membership stood at 91. "Since then, we've added 28 more members," says Russell Massey, Legion commander.

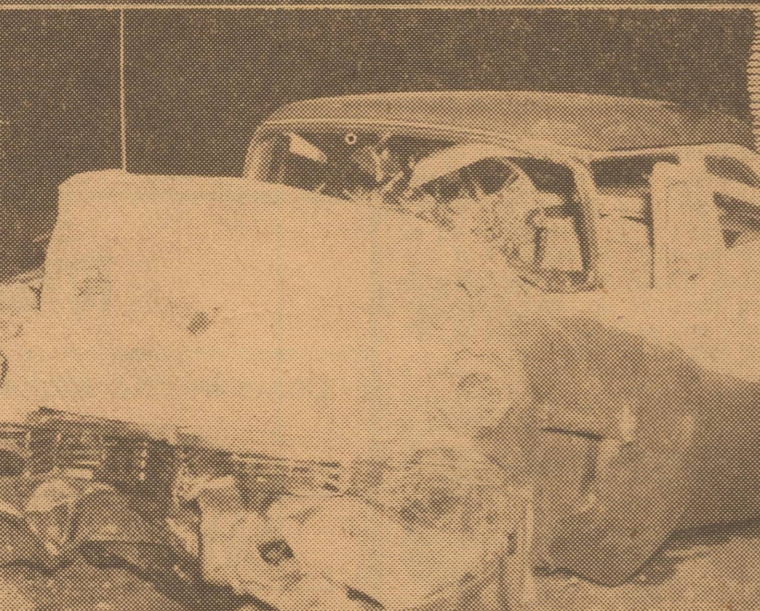

Friona narrowly nosed out Memphis, which came up with 104 percent of its quota for the second spot on the state. A plaque will be awarded the local post for its accomplishment, says Massey. "We consider our drive very successful."

Local Couple Hospitalized

Mr. and Mrs. Murl Sylvester Sr. of Route 2, Friona, are hospitalized at the Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford. The Sylvesters were involved in a two-car collision near Umbarger about 8:30 a. m. Monday.

The extent of their injuries has not been determined.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Floyd, Frieda, and Susan visited relatives and friends near Anton Sunday afternoon.

DEATH VEHICLES—These are the vehicles in which two were killed and one critically injured Wednesday night just outside of Friona. The pickup at the top was occupied by a Hereford man and the car by two college students enroute to their homes in New Mexico for Thanksgiving.

Wrecks Are Many Car-Pickup Crash Claims Two Lives

A head-on collision at the outskirts of Friona claimed two lives and badly injured another man last Wednesday night.

The accident occurred about 8:30 p. m. when a Chevrolet pickup pulled onto the highway into the path of a 1956 Ford car, traveling west on Highway 60, according to investigating officers. Both vehicles were completely demolished.

Killed immediately was Clarence Franklin Davis, 55, of Hereford, driver of the pickup. John Otis Deming, 21, of Clovis, passenger in the car, died early Thursday morning in the Parmer County Community Hospital from injuries received in the crash.

Fred Hensley Jr., 19, of Portales, driver of the car, suffered a dislocated hip, a broken leg, and severe face lacerations. He was removed from the Friona hospital to Roswell over the weekend and his condition was reported as "improved" on Monday of this week.

Deming and Hensley, both students at Oklahoma A&M college, were returning home for Thanksgiving vacation when the accident occurred.

Accident Victims Have Minor Injuries

Three Friona High School students escaped with minor injuries after being involved in a two-car collision about 4 p. m. Sunday. Joe Carlisle, senior, and Dolores Elmore and Geneva Floyd, freshmen, were dismissed from the Parmer County Community Hospital Monday.

The accident occurred at an intersection one mile east of Black when a 1956 Chevrolet being driven by Bruce Parr, and a 1954 DeSoto, which Joe Carlisle was driving, collided.

Both vehicles were heavily damaged. Parr was uninjured and none of the students were seriously injured. They were taken to Parmer County Community Hospital by Mr. Faith and were kept overnight for treatment and observation.

The accident was investigated by J. W. Roberts, deputy, and the Texas Highway patrol.

Vega Man Killed As Truck Overturns

Robert Chilson, 36, of Vega was killed about 4 o'clock Sunday morning when the truck he was driving, went out of control about 4½ miles north of Friona on the new Farm-to-Market Road.

The body was discovered by Rudy Valverde, who lives near the scene of the accident. The body is at Claborn Funeral Home here, where funeral arrangements are pending.

Chilson, who was employed by J. B. Rose of Vega, is survived by his mother of Port Allegheny, Pa.

Some Residents Set To Serve

Citizens of Friona joined the whole of Texas and New Mexico last week in uneasy speculation as to what appeared to be sudden activity in military induction centers in these areas.

At least two Friona residents will be inducted into the armed forces within a short time and other reports, thus far unconfirmed, indicate that several others may also have received "greetings" from Uncle Sam.

Rex Blackburn, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Blackburn, and Billy Nazworth, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nazworth, will report to Hereford on December 3 for induction into the army prior to basic training assignments.

Army reservists in Texas and New Mexico were somewhat surprised last week to receive government "form letters" instructing them to have their affairs in order and to be prepared to enter active duty anytime after a 30-day period.

A formal government announcement, however, later said that the letters were not distributed because of the foreign crisis but were the result of a military plan formulated

ONE PERMIT ISSUED

One building permit was issued by the city the past week. It went to Mrs. Dessie Fallwell to enclose a porch at 621 Pierce. Estimated cost is $950, and H. G. White is contractor.

17.6 Miles New Farm-To-Market Road in Hopper

More links in Parmer County's farm-to-market paved road system have been announced by the State Highway Department in its new two-year plan for Texas.

A total of 17.6 miles is scheduled for three projects, including the following:

From F. M. 2290 three miles east of the New Mexico state line, south to U. S. 60, a distance of approximately seven miles. That would link the Farwell trade area to a point on Highway 60 about three and one-half miles northeast of town. The new road will tie in with the one running west from Bovina, commonly referred to as the "80-foot road."

Also from F. M. 299 near Friona, east, south, and east to road intersection, a distance of approximately 7.6 miles. This is the eastern road long sought by Friona people, and it will tap the trade territory commonly referred to as Lakeview.

Also from the end of F. M. 1172 north of Lazbuddie, northeast a distance of approximately three miles. The road would take up just north of the Lazbuddie School.

Cost for the construction is estimated at $233,000, says E. H. Thornton Jr., chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, and funds will be derived from the Federal Highway Act of 1956 in which state and federal funds are matched on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

S. C. McCarty, district engineer at Lubbock, says that this year the commission has authorized the development of some area roads which will serve the dual purpose of service to the adjacent land as well as aiding in the development of the state's system.

It was announced that work will begin as soon as final planning is completed and right-of-way (which the county will pay for) is secured. Rhea Bradley, resident engineer at Littlefield, will be in charge of the work in this area.

Team Wins First, Will Go to State

The Friona FFA junior farm skill team, which is composed of Jimmie Bainum, Gerald Daniel, Ronnie Wood, and Don Clements, won first place in the Area I leadership contest which was held at Plainview Saturday.

This win makes the team eligible for competition in the state contest December 8. This contest will be held at Sam Houston State Teacher's College at Huntsville. J. T. Gee, chapter advisor, and Gerald Daniel, secretary of the local chapter, will accompany the HANGIN' 'ER UP—These boys are mighty proud of the banner they won at Plainview Saturday, and well they might be, for they now will represent Friona FFA in the state contests. On the team are Jimmie Bainum (left), Don Clements (on ladder), Ronnie Wood, and Gerald Daniel.

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Could Be Beneficial

The recent formation in Friona of a club for owners of "hot rods" and custom cars has special appeal to the young people of the area, and that is not surprising. As we have before observed, Friona seems to have more than its share of men and women interested in power, speed, and special styles in automobiles.

Although the organization is too young to be appraised for its intrinsic value, the time is perfect to point out that here, in a club which can have affiliation with the National Hot Rod Association, is the perfect opportunity for our young people to have a wholesome outlet for their urge.

The NHRA, as it is most often called, is a strict supervisory body which attaches regulation to power and speed, which might otherwise well be put to use in an unsafe manner on the public streets and roads.

Participation in NHRA contests does not put a lid on a man or woman's desire to "burn rubber" or split the wind at over 100 miles per hour on the straight-away. Quite the opposite. Competition among participants often stimulates greater and greater performances as they vie their mechanical ingenuity and their ability as drivers to outdo another.

Instead, NHRA rules provide limitations within which these exhibitions must be performed, and safety and courtesy are the by-words of every rule.

The Star is and always will be against the brazen, reckless, devil-may-care operation of vehicles on public streets and highways, where every second presents a new opportunity for someone to get killed or maimed for life. And often, those who are seriously injured or killed have nothing to do with the accident.

Party Honors Mrs. A. S. Curry

Mrs. A. S. Curry of Amarillo, who has been a guest in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cayson Jones, several days, was honored with a birthday party in the Jones home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Curry, 72, is a former Friona resident. On her birthday, she wore a white mum corsage which was a gift from her grandchildren. The afternoon was spent visiting and reminiscing about old times.

Refreshments of hot spiced punch and birthday cake were served to the following guests: Mesdames F. L. Reed, Ed White, Lucy Vestal, David Moseley, Della Osborn, Will Osborn, Mabel Jones, A. O. Drake, W. F. Cogdill, and A. E. Stanley, all of Friona; and Frances Howard of Abernathy.

The Star approves, however, of sanctioned "drag strips" where motor car enthusiasts may compete under conditions which are probably as safe to participants and bystanders as the average high school football game.

Typically, the American Way has not been a way of suppression, but a way of guiding and rechanneling activities of this type into a field to which they are specially suited. It would be wrong to tell a young man he no longer may tinker with his car's engine, and by the addition of milled heads, multiple carburetors, and other devices, increase the performance of his car. But this person must be impressed with the fact that he, as just another driver of an automobile in a free country, has an obligation to handle his car as safely as any other on the road, and reserve his penchant for power and speed for its proper place—the race track. This is a moral obligation which cannot be overlooked.

The NHRA meets these requirements admirably, and has won nationwide acclaim in "cleaning up" outrageously practices as playing "chicken", "ditch 'em", or some other heinous game where death sometimes takes home all the stakes.

If the Friona group will accept the national organization's aims, either in letter or in principle, then the local club can look forward to a long and constructive life in community affairs, and it will have the recognition and respect of the area.

Two Directors Named At Hospital Meeting

About thirty persons attended the regular annual meeting of the Parmer County Community Hospital, Inc. During the business meeting, Bill Curtis of Amarillo gave the auditor's report and two directors were re-elected.

The names of A. W. Anthony Jr. and Carl Schlenker were presented by the nominating committee. Anthony has been a member of the board of directors several years and Schlenker was selected to fill out the unexpired term of his father, the late Floyd Schlenker, last year.

Hub HD Plans Holiday Party

Final plans for the Hub Home Demonstration Club Christmas party have been made. All members and prospective members are invited to attend. The party, which will be in the Eugene Ellis home December 6, will be a gift exchange. Gifts should cost less than $1.50.

Those attending are asked to bring, in addition to a gift, a note bearing the birthday and anniversary so that names can be drawn for secret pals for 1957.

Girls Win, Boys Lose to Vega Teams

Friona split games with Vega Friday to open a new basketball season. The girls won, 55-31, and the boys lost 43-40. Both were non-conference, and were played here.

Coach Baker Duggins had special praise for Ruby Grubbs, Friona forward, who although not scoring highly, "fed" teammates. Phyllis Dean made 23 points and Johnnie Hand 19 for the local lasses.

Duggins singled out Eva Thomas, Paula Neel, LaVon Fleming, and Janiece Bock as outstanding on defense. J. Russ scored 15 points for Vega.

Dempsey Watkins, boys coach, pointed to a deficiency in free shots as the prime reason for dropping the Vega contest. The Chiefs outscored the Longhorns 17-13 in field goals, but fell behind 17 to 6 at the foul line.

A. Tolbert, a 6'4" post man for the visitors, dropped in 19 points during the evening. High scorer for the Chiefs was Philip Weatherly with 12.

Friona led at the end of the first quarter, 9-8, and continued ahead 17-15 up to the half. In the third they fell behind 23-26.

"We were hitting pretty good," says Coach Watkins, "but we couldn't get our rebounds." He also pointed out that the Chiefs were minus Joe McLellan, who isn't scheduled to start playing until Monday of next week because of a foot injury suffered during football season.

Tuesday night, both teams went to Vega for a re-match, and the contests ended similarly. The girls won, the boys lost.

After the holidays, the teams settle down to a bout with Bovina Monday night, to be played there. No reports on the Bovina teams are available.

Local People Attend Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parsons, and Mrs. Fred Jackson attended funeral services for Calvin Ray Day, 24, Cross Plains oil field worker, at Rising Star Wednesday.

Day was killed in an accident in which he was pinned between a truck and a water tank at an oil well location where he was employed. The accident victim's wife is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Parsons and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Sr.

New residents in the Hub community are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bingham. The Bingham moved from Littlefield and will live on Dean Bingham's farm.

Women's Fellowship Has Special Program

Eighteen attended the program of the Congregational Church Women's Fellowship at the church Wednesday afternoon. Good ideas for Thanksgiving were expressed when the roll was called. Ann Shackelford read a paper on the gratitude of a new Hungarian American.

Two hymns were sung and the Hebrew Feast of Succoth was dramatized. Nona Pavalus and Malinda Schlenker were the narrators and Gertrude Nelson read the scripture. Those in the cast were Ricky Jennings, who played Little David; Wilma Wise, who portrayed Daughter Rachel; Gladys Helmke in the role of Mother Naomi, and Pearl Kinsley who played Father Aaron. An offering was taken for overseas relief. Apple cake, coffee, and tea were served by Rose Lange and Edith Lillard.

Farwell Vs. Stinnett In Regional Game In Hereford Today

Of interest to a number of Friona residents will be the regional Class A football playoff between Farwell and Stinnett in Hereford today (Thursday) at 2:30 p. m. Farwell was winner of District 3-A in regular play, and also beat Hale Center last week for the bi-district championship. Friona met Farwell in district competition and bowed 7-0. The Chiefs, by coincidence, also have played Stinnett. The Rattlers took the home team 27-0 in that contest, but Coach Colie Huffman and fans here agree that this was one of Friona's better games of the season, considering the strength of the visiting team. Stinnett pounded Clarendon 33-6 last week in their bi-district round, and on paper at least, appear to have a big advantage, offensively, over the representative of this district. However, the Parmer County team has shown improvement in its most recent games, and may offer Stinnett more competition than might otherwise be expected.

Christmas Lights To Go Up Next Week

If the weather doesn't remind local residents that the Christmas season is at hand, the decorations of the town will. Colored lights, and possibly other decorations, are scheduled to go up the first of next week. The Chamber of Commerce bought $230 worth of lights last year, says Wright Williams, proxy, and these, comprising about a dozen strings in all, will be swung across Highway 60 and Main Street to deck the town out for the season.

The city will furnish current for the lights, which will remain up probably until about the first of the year. City workers and employees of Southwestern Public Service Company are the traditional stringer-uppers.

Williams says the Chamber will soon call a directors' meeting to discuss money-raising plans, survey the year's activities, and start the gears turning for the annual banquet and election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tinney spent Saturday in Amarillo visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridges.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rodgers and daughter, Sharon, of Abilene were Friday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gee.

Make a list of your furnishings

Yes, we'll agree it's a dull chore. It's boresome.

But every home owner ought to take time to make an inventory of his household furniture, clothes, books, etc. Now, tonight.

The average home owner guesses only a fraction of the real value of his things. The reason is, he acquired them one at a time over a period of years.

You should KNOW the worth of your possessions and increase your fire insurance on them to cover replacement at today's prices.

Don't guess. Make a list.

American Legion To Talk 1957 Plans

The next regular meeting of the Friona American Legion organization will be December 3, says Russell Massey, Legion commander.

All Legion members and interested parties are invited and urged to attend.

Top on the discussion agenda for the meeting is a program outline for 1957, which is now in the planning stage.

The program for the year will be shaped around Legion efforts to further community progress. Special emphasis will be placed on benefits for the children of Friona residents. Discussion will include tentative plans for a swimming pool and city park development.

An invitation is being prepared to Santa Claus, who will visit Friona sometime after December 17. Under direction of the American Legion, he will distribute some $300 worth of sacked candy and nuts to children in the lower school-age group and younger.

On the 17th, which will be the second Legion meeting in December, the annual Christmas social will be held, and members of the Legion and Auxiliary will be served wild turkey, courtesy of Commander Massey, who bagged the birds in the Canadian "breaks" recently.

Monday night, the 3rd, the Legion will decide just when Santa will pass out these treats to the community's children of pre-school and elementary school ages.

Three Chiefs Make All-District Roster

BY FRED REAGAN

District 3-A officials announced the all-district football team last week, placing three Friona Chiefs on the line-up.

Friona gridsters picking up the laurels were Larry Fairchild, halfback; Don McMahan, tackle; and Don Reeve, guard.

Reeve, standing 5 feet 10 inches and packing a solid 156 pounds, picked up his fourth football letter with the Chiefs this season. A graduating senior, Reeve leaves a vacancy in the forward wall which will doubtless be felt next year.

McMahan, a bruising 212-pounder and measuring a healthy 6 feet 4 inches, is also a senior. The 1956-57 season was his second with the Chiefs. Vacating a tackle position, McMahan's graduation means the loss of a great deal of Friona's poundage and seasoning in the line.

Rounding out the talented trio is Fairchild, a fleet-footed and high-stepping halfback. Tipping the scales at a lightweight 140 pounds, Fairchild is 5 feet 10 inches tall. A junior, he played his first season with the Friona club this year. He was one of the team's high scorers and will return to the gridiron next season.

Twenty-two boys were selected for the all-district squad with the Farwell and Springlake teams dominating the list. Members of these two teams filled 12 slots — 6 each. Four Sudan players made the line-up and Friona and Morton each notched the roster three times.

Fallwell Dining Room Open After Remodeling

By FRED REAGAN

Mrs. Dess Fallwell this week announced the opening of her new dining room in Friona.

"Ma," as Mrs. Fallwell has been dubbed by friends, was all smiles as she told of the remodeling process now going on at her location at 600 Pierce Avenue.

Boasting a 20 by 30 feet serving area, the dining room is being converted into a closed patio with a seating capacity of about 35. With an interior of knotty pine, the building is undergoing its first change since Ma Fallwell began serving, nearly 30 years ago.

That was in 1929 when Friona was just a "youngster" itself. Ma remembers her first two boarders, Zola Coventry and Faye Singleterry, both of whom still reside in Friona. Only Miss Singleterry is Mrs. Faye Wilson now and Miss Coventry is Mrs. Zola Cranfill.

Meals were 25 cents then. Through the years, they've gone up to a dollar but Ma still retains her practice of changing the menu daily to provide variety for her regular customers, who now number about 30.

"I've served meals to the Friona townspeople since '29 in the same location, same house, and same two rooms," says Ma with a smile of remembrance. "I've watched Friona grow up."

Ma's looking forward to the Christmas season when her three sons, all of whom were born in the Friona area, are bringing their families to visit with her.

She remembers a time when the youngest of the trio narrowly escaped death when she pulled him from the path of a runaway team of horses.

She remembers Friona's residential section when it consisted of a few scattered houses.

She remembers Friona when the F. L. Spring Country Store composed the entire business district.

And she recalls the schools—when the enrollment, which now tops the 900 mark, was "in a squeeze" to show a total of 150. All classes met in the "old red school house," a single building.

She appreciates the paved streets and the improved road conditions which Friona now boasts, remembering a time when, in wet weather, it was necessary to pull vehicles out of the mud in order to get their occupants to her dining room by meal time.

A lot of "water has passed under the bridge" since that time. But Ma Fallwell is still feeding many Frionans three meals a day, six days a week.

Radium is 3,000 times as valuable as gold.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gee, Linda and Tom were Lubbock visitors Sunday. They visited Mrs. Gee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Rodgers.

Mrs. J. O. Wall, Vicky, Woody, and Mike of Roswell were weekend guests in the home of Mrs. Wall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cayson Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wise left Tuesday morning for New Mexico. They will spend the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives at Caprock and Lovington.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rickard spent several days last week visiting relatives and friends at Roosevelt, Okla.

for more. In the case where one merchant gives stamps while his competition does not, he has a marketing advantage that may enable him to raise his gross enough to cover the expense of passing out the gummed paper.

However, as everybody jumps onto the band wagon, no one businessman has an advantage, and consequently, giving stamps simply adds to the cost of doing business and must be passed on to the consumer if the merchant is to retain his original margin of profit.

In the case of the saturated market, the only fellows who make money are the sellers of the stamps themselves.

Giving stamps costs a businessman from two to three and one-half percent, of his gross, with the three percent figure probably being typical. Unlike advertising, stamps are generally regarded as a refund or premium paid on each purchase.

Advertising will pull sales because people want shopping "news" just as they do news of local and world events. Stamps pull sales because people think they are getting something free.

Naturally, money spent by merchants on stamps sometimes causes these businessmen to reduce advertising expenditures because they falsely assume that stamps ARE advertising.

This being true, it might seem logical for the reader to figure that The Star, for instance, would like to see a law passed outlawing trading stamps. There have been a number of attempts to do this very thing in Texas, and probably this will happen again the next time the legislature is in session.

However, we do not favor legislation which would be in restraint of trade, and this is exactly how such a law would have to be classified. Whether stamps are good or bad is something that the consumer—not the congressman—ought to decide, we think.

Similarly, Texas should be retained as a "free trade" state, and not a "fair trade" one. Amazingly enough, few people know the difference. In "fair trade" states, of which there are now many, a businessman is required by law to sell his wares at a price decided upon to be fair to himself, his customer, and the manufacturer.

The net effect of this is to protect the businessmen—not the consumer—we might point out.

While it is true that many businesses have been forced into bankruptcy because they had to keep up with their competition's "loss leaders" in order to maintain their volume of business, it is equally true that the very natural laws of cause and effect will ultimately result in a stabilization of the price picture at a level just high enough to give the businesses a decent margin of profit.

We are talking about efficiently run and well managed businesses. The "marginal operators" should not be helped by government-imposed laws to stay in when by rights they are not able to compete on even terms in a free economy.

You're missing a real treat if you have failed to take in the colorful bargaining of Friona merchants with the migratory laborers. The few businessmen who can speak "Español" fluently are certainly at an advantage when it comes to this kind of trading.

Most trades are consummated with a lot of arm-waving and loud exclamations, but all of the swapping we have seen has been good natured barter. The bracers seem to enjoy it as much as the merchants.

Two Farm Sales Booked Next Week

Two farm sales people of the Friona trade territory will be interested in have been announced for next week by Dick Doshier, auctioneer.

The first will be Monday, and will be for V. O. Christian north of Bovina three miles on the farm-to-market road. This sale, to start at 10:30 a. m., will feature five tractors and a combine, plus other machinery and miscellaneous farm equipment.

On Tuesday, the sale of Rene Snead—Otis Neal—Dean Bingham will be held, which Doshier terms "one of the best machinery sales of the season." Seven tractors, five of them equipped, lead off the machinery list.

This sale, which starts at 10 a. m., will be 1½ miles south of the Hub.

Doshier will auctioneer and Jerrell Doshier will clerk both sales. Lunch and free coffee will be served at both sales.

Dixons to Fort Worth and Austin

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dixon left from Amarillo by plane Tuesday morning for Fort Worth. There they will visit with their son, Bucky, and his family.

Bucky Dixon will accompany his parents to Austin Thursday where they will attend the Aggie-Texas U football game. Another son, Jim, who is a student at A&M, will return home with his parents later this week.

The Junior class play, "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" was presented to a large crowd Thursday evening. Much favorable comment was heard about it. Since it was a mystery, it was very different from the usual run of plays. Several townspeople remarked that the performance of the entire cast was unusually good.

This controversy about Thanksgiving caused a lot of carefully made plans to go awry. Someone said that since Texans had so much to be thankful for that they needed to observe two days. Really, Texans nor anyone else needs to wait Thanksgiving to begin counting their blessings.

Most of us have a lot of things to be thankful for which we accept as our just due and never think of being thankful for. This should not be. The next time you feel depressed, just sit down and look around you to see how many things you have that are counted luxuries by a lot of people in the world.

Friona is going along with most of the state by observing November 29. Dalhart and Sunray are two Panhandle towns whose schools were dismissed last Thursday and Friday. We have heard so much discussion about the two dates that we are confused.

Before FDR issued his proclamation during the war, what day did Americans observe? Some say the last Thursday and others the fourth Thursday. Frankly, we do not know. One thing we do know, though: whatever day the Pilgrims observed would be our choice. Since the whole idea is traditional, why not observe it on the traditional day?

Duck hunting has been pretty good this season. Several hunters with whom we are acquainted have no difficulty killing the limit as often as they go out.

At least one person who enjoys duck hunting has missed out this year. You might even call him "The absent minded professor."

W. L. (Preach) Edelman has been unable to do any hunting because he doesn't know where his gun is.

Up to a certain point his memory serves him very well. Preach remembers loaning it to someone and remembers the conversation he and the borrower had. Right there the story ends. If anyone knows who borrowed the gun, we feel sure Preach would appreciate any information you could give him.

We never fail to read the Castro County News each week. As we read about the ex-students reunion which was planned for last week, our thoughts ran about like this, "It has been so long since our graduation that none of our class would be represented."

A few days later we were discussing the forthcoming event with Decimae Beene. It has not been quite so long since she graduated. We talked about driving over but didn't get off. Then this week when we were reading about the event we regretted that we didn't go.

One member of the graduating class of 1898 was there and several who graduated early in 1900 signed the guest list. Maybe we should have taken a different attitude and gone ahead. Feel sure we would have enjoyed it.

Congratulations from this column this week go to three members of the football squad. Larry Fairchild, Don Reeve, and Don McMahan were selected for all district honors even though their squad did not win very many games.

Our Susan, who is about 3 1/2, has a desire to help the older children with their home work. One evening Frieda, who is in the third grade, asked for some assistance on making a sentence with "war." Before anyone else could offer a suggestion, Susan said, "We use war to build a fence."

Mrs. Lawrence Lillard, who lives on Main Street just two houses north of the Mabry building, has a very pretty white cat that she thinks the rightful owner would like to get back. It is about half grown and is very gentle. If you know someone whose pet cat is missing, Mrs. Lillard would appreciate your call.

One educator has predicted that pupils attending school now will be better spellers than those of several generations before them. He even predicted that in the future children would be telling parents how to spell words rather than parents telling children.

His idea is based on the teaching of spelling in the schools. For a number of years we have wondered why pupils were taught spelling just in the grades. One teacher of a fifth grade class to whom we had expressed our concern about children not learning to spell was surprised to learn that it made a dif-

MRS. KEITH BROCK—Before her marriage Thursday November 22 at the First Baptist Church in Augusta, Georgia, Mrs. Brock was Miss Bettie Sue Bizzell of Lubbock.

BETTIE SUE BIZZELL WEDS KEITH G. BROCK IN AUGUSTA, GEORGIA

Bettie Sue Bizzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bizzell of 405 North Avenue O, Lamesa, Texas, became the bride of Keith G. Brock Thursday, November 22, at 11 a. m. The double ring ceremony was read at the First Baptist Church in Augusta, Georgia, by the pastor, Dr. R. S. Robinson.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brock of Route 3, Friona.

For her wedding the bride wore a baby blue crepe dress fashioned with a full gathered skirt, and a fitted waist with three quarter length sleeves with white hat and white accessories.

She carried a white Bible, given by her parents, for something old, topped by a white orchid, a new necklace given by the groom, and a penny in her shoe, given by Mrs. Howard Hampton. She was escorted by Peter Zentay of Williamstown, Mass.

Baxter McIntyre of Butner, N. C., and John Loogis, Ayers, Mass., served as ushers.

Wedding music was rendered by Sidney Richardson, church organist, and Bill Hoover of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The wedding was solemnized in the historic First Baptist Church of Augusta, Ga., which was founded in 1817. The present structure was erected in 1902. The Southern Baptist Convention was founded at this church in May, 1845.

The altar was centered with a massive arrangement of gladioli with white tapers rising above the flowers. Smaller plaques of yellow mums flanked either side, pyramided with tapers used at mid-points, and ends of the chancel were garlands of greenery.

Hostesses for the reception, which was held in the reception hall, were Mrs. Mertie Martin, Mrs. B. K. Barnes, Miss Jewell Delanger, and Mrs. George Schaffer. The bride cut the three tiered wedding cake which was served from a table covered with a hand crocheted cloth presented to the bride, by the groom's mother.

Guests were registered by Pat Murphee, of Comanche, Texas. A gift was presented the couple by the First Platoon Student Co., No. 11 of the Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Georgia.

The bride changed to a dark wool suit with white accessories and wore the orchid from her Bible as a corsage for her going away costume. The wedding party went from the church to Camp Gordon where the holiday Thanksgiving dinner was served.

Mrs. Brock, who is a graduate of Lamesa High School, is a 1955 graduate of Texas Tech with a major in foods and nutrition. She

Neighbors help us to live longer and enjoy it more

Most of the comforts and conveniences that we enjoy today are accessible to us more or less in proportion to the number of people who live near us.

Schools, churches, doctors, electric power, stocks of foods, medicines, and clothing, trained technicians to service our needs, customers for the products of our own labor . . . all of these are ours to enjoy . . . as long as there are enough PEOPLE in the community to support them.

Every dollar that leaves this community helps to move somebody out. Every dollar that is spent here, helps to bring more people in.

FU Meet Has Big Turnout

4-H News

LAZBUDDIE SENIOR 4-H NEWS

Billy Hardage, Reporter

President Odie Bradshaw called to order the meeting of the Lazbuddie Senior 4-H Club on November 20. Roy Max Miller, secretary, read the minutes. Pledge leader Cooper Young led the club in the 4-H pledge. He also reported on the achievement program committee meeting in which he represented Lazbuddie 4-H Clubs.

The meeting was then turned over to Joe Jones, county agent. He suggested that we elect committee members to help Kathryn Smith on Lazbuddie's part of the achievement program. Gary Foster and Richard Chitwood told about the pictures shown at the PTA program. Jones closed the meeting. Our adult leaders, J. B. Young and Dee Chitwood, were present at the meeting.

The Bovina Junior 4-H Club met November 22, at the school. The president, Dickie Clayton, called the meeting to order, and Ken Horn, secretary, read the minutes of last meeting. The minutes were approved. Ronnie Sudderth led the 4-H pledge. There was no business to discuss.

The meeting was then turned over to Joe Jones and he talked about doing our jobs in 4-H better. We talked about our party January 5, and also discussed our recreation leader for the party. We elected Dickie Clayton as leader from our club.

We talked about a club goal. We thought about working up a spring show if we could get enough projects to enter. Nothing definite was decided at this meeting.

There were 16 members present for this meeting. J. T. Jones, our adult leader, attended this meeting.

FRIONA SENIOR 4-H CLUB NEWS

The Friona Senior 4-H Club met at school on Friday, November 23. President Laverne Mabry called the meeting to order. We discussed the county-wide 4-H achievement program, and elected our representatives to serve on the achievement program committee. They are Laverne Mabry, Tommy Sheek, and Jimmy Sheek.

Some of the boys reported on their projects at this meeting. We are planning to visit some of the club projects before next meeting.

About 125 persons attended the annual meeting of the Parmer County Farmers Union in the school cafeteria Tuesday evening. Guest speakers were Vernon Tiry of Texline and L'Dean Butler of Tullia. Tiry and Butler are both members of the state board of directors of the organization.

Tiry, who was a member of the state resolutions committee last year, discussed the program planned on the state level. Butler talked on "Why I Like Farmers Union."

W. L. Edelman, president of the local unit, gave the annual report and discussed plans for the future. In this report, Edelman revealed that the organization had grown from a membership of 13 when it was organized in February of 1955 to 272 in 1956.

The group discussed the possibility of getting a state resolution presented at the state convention aimed at alleviating the shipping bottleneck during the harvest season.

The resolution would be a request for permission to move grain by transport truck. If this permission could be secured, transport trucks would be allowed to haul grain from local elevators to terminal elevators. This would be helpful during boxcar shortages which exist during rush seasons, says Edelman.

During the business meeting, new officers were elected and 15 farmers indicated interest in attending the state convention which will be held at Abilene in December. The 1957 membership drive was opened Tuesday evening and about 40 members paid dues.

New officers are W. L. Edelman, president; John Renner, vice-president; Oscar Baxter, secretary.

Sandwiches, cookies, and coffee were served. Special guests were members of the junior class play cast. Five persons received dressed turkeys as attendance gifts. They were Otey Hinds, Mrs. Glenn Taylor, L. R. Hand, Rudolph Renner, and Mrs. Lloyd Mings.

Foundation Office Set Up at Plainview

Office for the High Plains station of the Texas Research Foundation has been "temporarily" established at 704½ West 5th Street in Plainview, in the Realty Barn building.

Dr. T. C. Longnecker, director; Dr. John Davis, assistant director; and C. H. Janeway, field representative—all from the staff of the Foundation at Renner—are now assigned to the High Plains station.

Additional staff personnel will be selected when the program at Halfway, west of Plainview, gets started, reports the Foundation news service.

Here are two problems that the homemaker faces regularly. That problem of dusting and that one of washing clothes. I received these two bits of information that are helpful. Try machine starching. Time and effort can be saved by starching in your washing machine, according to extension home management specialist, Charlotte Tompkins.

This method works particularly well for large, bulky pieces or for a collection of smaller ones. The starch will be worked in evenly and the excess removed far better than by hand squeezing and wringing.

Here are directions for machine starching: Wash and rinse as usual. In an automatic, complete the entire cycle. In a non-automatic, put the pieces through the wringer, then separate those you want to starch from the rest of the load.

Fill a top-opening machine about half full of warm water and add the starch. For a front-opening automatic, turn control to final deep rinse after pieces to be starched are in machine. Fill to desired level before adding to starch solution.

With a top-loading automatic, put the articles in the starch solution and set the dial to tumble or agitate for two or three minutes. Then set on spin. When the machine stops, the articles are ready for drying. In a non-automatic, turn on the machine and agitate the same time—two to three minutes. Put the starched pieces through the wringer.

The manufacturer's booklets usually give detailed directions for starching in your particular machine. Also you will need to follow directions on the container for amount and method of preparing the starch. Some starches require boiling. Others call for the addition of boiling water. Or, a cold water starch can be used.

Dustless Dust Cloth
Ever push dust from one spot to another with a cloth that refuses to pick it up? Solve the problem by making your own "dustless" dust cloth, suggests Charlotte Tompkins, extension home management specialist. You will need a square of jersey cloth (about 16 inches is best), a clean coffee can, with tight fitting lid, pastewax or furniture polish. Apply paste wax or furniture polish to the sides and bottom of the can. Place clean cloth inside, close lid tightly and allow to stand for 24 hours. The cloth will absorb the oil evenly and be ready for use.

This cloth can be kept in any closet since it has a tight-fitting lid. Make several at a time to keep in different parts of the house.

Scales Introduced To Beef Production In Parmer County

The practice of weighing a calf before he is sold is certainly nothing new to cattlemen, but the idea of weighing him around weaning age just to see how he is getting along is another matter.

High Plains breeders and commercial cattlemen are now being introduced to a new system of evaluating calves that does not replace the time-tested technique of the human eye, but considers factors that the cowman's eye may tend to overlook.

Increasing beef production with performance tests and production records has brought about new methods, and one of them is the weight for age test, which this week was demonstrated in the Jess Osborn—A. E. Redwine registered Polled Hereford herd in Parmer County.

Doug Wythe, from the district agent's office in Amarillo, was in charge of the testing, and was assisted by County Agent Joe Jones. Others were present to view the checking.

The idea was to weigh in all the herd—22 calves—that were between five and eight months of age. Then, their ages were "converted" to 205 days each in order that all might be evaluated against the same formula. (Normal weaning age is 205 days.)

The calves were classified (by eye) as to quality, and then were compared on a weight-for-age basis to see if the ones that looked good actually stacked up in the weight department, where it counts.

"This is a basis for selection that will single out the animals that are doing a good job of putting the meat on the ground. This beats the eye test alone," says Agent Jones. The testing will be valuable not only for those producing commercial stock for sale and fattening, but the breeder as well, who wants to be able to find out which cows and which bulls have weight-producing characteristics which they are capable of passing onto their offspring.

Although tests of this kind are now in their second year, this is the first time such statistics have been compiled on a Parmer County herd, believes the county agent.

Wythe will be back in April of next year to weigh the animals again, plus take some initial tests on calves who were too young to be checked this time.

The Extension Service, Jones says, is introducing this system for beef producers, and hopes it will be adopted by them after they see benefits obtainable under it.

Oklahoma and New Mexico cattlemen are ahead of Texas in this respect, as many cattle raisers have already adopted the practice.

An A&M Bulletin points out, "When purchasing bulls by sight alone, a person may buy one that is capable of gaining three pounds per day, but there is a much better chance of getting one that is capable of only two to two and a quarter pounds.

"For this reason, when buying from a breeder who does not have performance information, you may select bulls that will reduce the feedlot gains, and in many cases the weaning weight of your calves."

"The Place Where Most People Trade"

Friona, Tex., Tuesday, Nov. 27, 1956

Fall may be some folks' favorite time of the year, but before long, Friona folks will be raking leaves like easterners. We remember when trees were so scarce in Friona that leaves weren't a problem, but now there are more trees and bigger trees, so soon we'll all be raking and burning leaves.

Fall is a wonderful time of the year to buy a new car. Have you driven the new Oldsmobile? For real driving pleasure, comfort, beauty, and economy, nothing beats the new Oldsmobile.

A couple of Dallas hunters suddenly discovered that a bull was charging down toward them. They tossed away their guns and raced for safety. One climbed a small tree that barely put him out of reach of the animal's horns and the other man jumped in a hole. He sprang out in a moment and the bull wheeled and rushed toward him, whereupon the man jumped back in the hole, but in a little bit, he sprang out again. His friend up the tree yelled, "Henry, for goodness sake, stay in there so the bull will go away." The other said, "There's a wild cat in this hole."

4-H Members Plan Achievement Day

A committee of 4-H Club members from throughout the county met at the courthouse in Farwell on Saturday, November 17, to make plans for the annual 4-H Achievement Event.

January 5 was the date selected for the annual event and the place will be the Bovina School auditorium and the party will be held in the gym.

The program will consist of the welcome, to be given by Frankie Coffman; the 4-H Club pledge, to be led by Gladys Dean; the presentation of awards, to be made by County Agents; and slide pictures, to be shown by Cooper and J. B. Young. Margaret Mabry will lead the 4-H Club prayer to close the program. The group will then adjourn to the gymnasium for the party.

The following committees were appointed for the event: pre-party games: Friona Clubs, Margaret Mabry, Dwain Phipps, Laverne Mabry, Jimmy Sheek, Jackie Sheek, Carolyn Singletary, and Jacquelyn Magnus; get-acquainted games: Lazbuddie Club, Katherine Smith, Carrol Redwine, Odis Bradshaw, John Agee, Lou Venia Williams, Beverly Smith, Janice Darling and Sharon Thorn;

Also, circle games: Bovina Club, James Stevens, Lindy Dean, Barbara Rea, Virginia Rea, Dickie Clayton and Joe W. Jones; and closing ceremony: Farwell Clubs, Truman McKillip, Tommy Barker, Benjy Dial, Carolyn Watts, Zell Billingsley and Carol Smart.

The recreation training meeting will be held at the Bovina Legion Hall at 7 p.m. on December 20.

Girls and mothers planning to attend the county-wide achievement program are to bring four sandwiches each. Boys are to bring 20 cents each. Bovina adult leaders and parents will be in charge of the refreshments.

Miss Judy Billingsley, Farwell Senior Club, is publicity chairman for the event. Bovina Clubs will

SCD News

Each day the country as a whole becomes more and more concerned about the water problem. It would seem wise for each citizen to be informed on water conservation and water resources. Much as we may wish to forget this problem, we can't, so let's face it with the facts.

"Half of our country's $1.2 billion average annual floodwater and sediment damage occurs on the headwater streams and small tributaries. About seven-tenths of the upstream damage is agricultural, including loss of crops, and pasture and damage to farm property, roads, stored crops and livestock.

Through efforts of our soil conservation districts, upstream watershed protection now has rightful recognition in our nation's total flood control picture. Districts have taken on the important new job of getting much needed small watershed protection work underway.

"The 1954 Small Watershed Protection of Flood Prevention Act incorporated the district approach of local initiative, local responsibility, and local control.

The small watershed protection phase bridges the gap between our individual farm soil and water conservation programs and the development and flood protection work in our major river valleys, greatly enhancing ultimate benefits of both.

"In the years ahead, soil conservation districts offer America the greatest opportunity it has had in modern times to strengthen its ideal of self-government and solve at the same time one of the most fundamental problems—the protection of its vital land and water resources." The above is a quotation from The Why and How of Soil Conservation Districts.

NEWS FROM THE

FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

We don't know at this time how many Parmer County people will attend the American Farm Bureau convention in Miami, Florida, December 9-14. Several had planned sometime ago to attend, but various obstacles have eliminated several of them. The last we heard, Ernest Anthony and his wife were still planning on going. They have relatives along the way to visit. Your writer plans, at present, on catching a plane the day before the convention and returning in like manner to save the seven or eight days necessary for travel by automobile. Plane fare is very little more than train fare. Any one who feels like a Miami vacation in December would be very welcome to spend it in the vicinity of the convention where a great many other Texans will be.

Albert Einstein would not be able to qualify as a mathematics teacher in our public schools because his education did not indicate that he had sense enough to work a simple algebra problem. We believe the "paper bottleneck" is possibly one of the greatest causes of the shortage of teachers in our public schools. Why wouldn't a proper qualifying examination do as well as some of the college hours now required? And pay based on the actual ability and willingness to teach would seem more sensible than pay based on how many hours the subject spent under the tutelage of certain "qualified" professors.

Consider this: To have respect of persons is not good: for, for a piece of bread that man will transgress. Proverbs 28-21.

Freight Rates Cut For Drouth Counties

Reduced freight rates have now been arranged for drouth disaster counties, and eligible applicants are entitled to such benefits under revised routines in handling freight rate certificates, according to Walter T. McKay, state FHA director.

These orders provide that the class of persons entitled to reduced rates are those designated as being in distress and in need of relief by the USDA or by such state agents as designated by the Department. The secretary of agriculture has authorized governors of all drought stricken states to designate persons entitled to reduced freight rates. Effective November 15, Governor Shivers re-delegated to all county judges in designated drought counties in Texas the authority to execute certificates.

"Heretofore, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisors were authorized to execute certificates and only stockmen who were eligible for emergency feed could obtain the certificates. This revised authorization will extend the benefits of reduced freight rates to all stockmen in designated counties," McKay stated.

HD Council Meets Monday in Farwell

Eleven members and two guests were present at a regular meeting of the Parmer County Home Demonstration Council on Monday afternoon, November 26, at the home demonstration agent's office in Farwell.

Annual club reports were given from 11 clubs represented, and Mrs. Fred Bolton gave the annual Council report. Mrs. Lookingbill, new THDA delegate, was introduced to the group.

Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, home demonstration agent, asks that all club presidents, vice-presidents, secretaries, reporters and council delegates attend a meeting at her office in Farwell on January 26 for an officers training course.

THE PARMER FARMER

The current issue of Farmer-Stockman magazine has a swell write-up on Parmer County's Black community, which took second place in that publication's rural development contest this year.

Garland "Cotton John" Smith of Amarillo did a nice job of writing the story, and also managed, somehow, to get the publishers to run the article as a "lead" in the magazine.

Parmer County can certainly stand this kind of publicity, and we all must doff our hats once again to the community of Black for getting it for us. A person never knows just when such a plug as this might bring more people to this area to settle down and help us grow.

Mention of the Farmer-Stockman also brings to mind a note of sadness. We have heard that T. O. Richardson, "The Rambling Longhorn," who was associate editor of the Texas edition of that magazine, is dead.

The fine old gentleman, whose goatee and easy smile won friends in this area and across the entire Southwest, "died with his boots on" while on a story assignment. He will be missed by many.

Growers of Supima, a long-staple cotton not suitable for production at our latitudes, are jubilant over the acreage increase allowed them this year which is almost 100 percent above 1955.

This is a case of growers lifting themselves out of trouble with their own bootstraps. They voluntarily reduced support prices so that their product could compete with Egyptian cotton.

They linked hands with the National Cotton Council and charged themselves $3 a bale for promotion to sell their wares under the banner, "The World's Finest Cotton." It worked. Just two years ago, only 400 bales of Supima sold on the market—less than 1 percent

NUMBER 4—

Come with Us To School Today

BY W. H. GRAHAM JR.

This is the fourth and last of a series of articles about Friona Schools, and about how the community and the school district will somehow have to cope with the problem of inadequate facilities to meet expanding enrollment.

In previous installments, we have discussed conditions in the elementary, grade, and high school buildings, together with what prospects for the future look like.

In simple terms, the entire system already is filled, and must make room for more students with each passing year. School planning is long-term in nature, it is true, but the patrons of the district must stop thinking in the future tense whenever they consider the needs of the school. Overcrowding is a problem that needs immediate attention.

What has the school board been doing in the face of these conditions?

The first move was taken this year in a re-evaluation of the tax structure of the district. Preparations for expansion always starts in dollars and cents.

Valuations on farmland were juggled to increase the tax rolls of the district from $8,760,000 last year to $11,302,000 this year. (This is the total roll.)

Until that was done, the school district would have been unable to handle any more bonds, as it had reached the saturation point of indebtedness as compared with valuations.

A school district is able to vote bond issues in the amount of seven percent of its valuation. Under Public Law 116, which will be discussed later, a vote of ten percent is permissible.

The administration of the school is now settling down to the arduous and exacting task of determining the needs, how they shall be met, and picking sites, types of building, and checking over building cost figures.

Money is a tough consideration in more than one respect. Building costs are up—as most everyone is aware. School buildings that used to be purchased for about $8 to $9 a square foot are selling as high as $11.50 today.

Another important consideration, and one which the typical patron might be unaware of, is that interest rates from bond buyers has jumped greatly in the past year or two.

Most calculations on borrowed money for school expansions are being figured "conservatively" at four percent today, since the bond market is coming dangerously close to that figure. The demand for money has pushed the price of borrowing up considerably.

That puts the Friona system (and any other) in a two-way squeeze.

Besides the location of the present system, the school has acquired 27 acres of land in the Staley Addition of western Friona that some day can be used for expansion.

Just stacking a few classrooms over on the new acreage to relieve congestion won't get the problem solved, however. It's a lot deeper than that. For instance, any move to the new site would necessarily be a "package" one.

Because of the distance from the present system, building on the acreage in Staley would call for a "unit" project involving an entire system, including not only classrooms, but a gym, an auditorium, a cafeteria, offices, and other duplications of what already is built and is being used.

One plan which the board will look into is the transfer of the entire high school to this new site, with accompanying heavy construction scheduling, and the converting of the present high school into junior high facilities.

That would be the most expensive move, and might possibly cost in the neighborhood of a half million dollars.

Another plan, more or less "stopgap" in nature, would be to provide an extra wing on the high school building to the west and do some re-arranging inside to be able to absorb the expanding enrollment.

This plan, much cheaper at the present time, would not be a permanent solution. Superintendent Dillie Kelley estimates that such an addition would take care of requirements for six years.

With this extra wing, the high school could hold from 300 to 350 students.

Sooner or later, the present campus will not be sufficient for the Friona Public Schools. Sooner or later, a major division, utilizing the 27 acres held in reserve, will have to be made.

Mention of Public Law 116 has been made.

What is it?

This recently enacted law, is, in some ways, comparable with a constitutional amendment the voters of Texas just approved. It is a restriction-lifting law to enable local board to add flexibility to their budgets.

For example, the tax rate now is $1.50 per $100 valuation. Of that, $1 goes for maintenance, 50 cents for retirement of bonds. Adoption of the provisions of Public Law 116 by the voters of the district would enable the board, if it wanted to and thought that it could, to spend 90 cents for maintenance and 60 cents for tax bonds. That would make a great difference in the district's ability to pay back the money it needs to borrow.

One might well wonder how the school could be run for the 90 cent figure if it now costs $1. That can be explained by pointing to the money already being spent out of the "maintenance" fund for capital improvements. Remodeling of the band hall, purchasing additional land, and paying off payment notes are just a few samples of what this "maintenance" money is now going for.

More properly, these funds should come under another classification. Public Law 116 would so provide.

This new law does not change taxes. It provides for changes in the way that tax funds may be appropriated. It is not untried. Virtually every school district now making expansions is doing so under its provisions.

Amarillo, Lubbock, Slaton, and Tulia are Plains schools which have already used the law. Hereford, contemplating another building program, figures on using it next year.

Most of all, the taxpayer needs to keep in mind that the Friona school board does not at this time contemplate an increase in the tax rates. They merely are looking at a legal means of making changes in how revenue may be spent.

Estimates already are being sought on how much it might cost the district to meet its school needs. Some plans from architects already are under examination.

But the board is far from a decision as to what to do, and when to do it. Likely, several days will be devoted next month to visiting neighboring cities to see how others have dealt with similar problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Jones and children of Lovington, N. M., and Miss Lora Mae McFarland and Miss Minnie Atchley of Clovis were Thursday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McFarland.

Carl Maurer Shows Movies At Meeting

Nine members of Hi-Point Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Joe Brummett Friday afternoon. Carl Maurer, local businessman and camera enthusiast, entertained the group by showing movies which he made in Cuba, Florida, Washington, and Oregon.

Mrs. Lee Renner gave the council delegate's report and Mrs. Glen Mingus received the hostess gift. Refreshments of cranberry punch, party sandwiches, and cookies were served by the hostess.

Those present were Mesdames Glen Mingus, G. L. Mingus, Lloyd Mingus, Billy Dean Baxter, Lee Renner, Dan Tims, Elmer Oldham, Harry Hamilton, and the hostess.

The next meeting of this organization will be in the home of Mrs. Harry Hamilton Friday, December 14. Plans have been made for the family Christmas party to be held in the American Legion Hall at 7 p. m. December 14. Each club member should bring gifts for each child, a secret pal gift, and a man's gift.

Fido, a dog's name, is taken from the Latin fidus meaning faithful.

First Hand Report From East Germany Shows Refugee Plight

(Editor's note: Do you ever really wonder whether the reports on the international scenes that you read in your daily newspaper are true? There is nothing quite like a first-hand report from someone you know personally. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osborn have written an account of their meeting with an East German refugee. They are now stationed in Germany. Osborn is a Star owner.)

BY CAROLYN AND JOE OSBORN

The American Army in Germany is following a "business as usual" policy during the present world crisis. We seldom come into personal contact with such complex problems as refugees.

Just as you in the States, we listen to the radio, the American Armed Forces Network, and read the paper, The Stars and Stripes. Our ignorance of German necessarily limits our talking to the people.

Opportunity to learn of the situation first-hand literally knocked on our door. It was Herr S., a German salesman. By buying some of his wares, then plying him with cigarettes and coffee, we were able to start him talking. He was first a refugee from Poland, then one of many from East Germany.

His story is encouraging, and fairly typical of what happens to refugees that come to Germany, whether they come from East Berlin or Hungary.

Forced to leave Poland at the end of WW II, Herr S. went to Leipzig in the heart of East Germany. There he sat up a furniture business.

"At first things went well," he said. He had nine employees, a nice apartment, and a comparatively comfortable life. As the new communist regime strengthened, Herr S. began to feel the pressure.

"Because I had more than five people working for me, I was called a capitalist," exclaimed Herr S.

He told us of the communist system of placing one man in every apartment house, business, and organization to inform on residents or fellow members. In Herr S.'s apartment the spy knew even the radio stations the occupants listened to. Cupping his hand over one ear and bending double, Herr S. illustrated how he'd kept the volume too low for the informer, and barely audible to his own ear.

Demonstrating the practical German outlook on communist propaganda, Herr S. pulled out his black comb.

"One day the communists would say, 'This is white.'"

"You would look at it again," he said, "scratch you head, and say, 'Well, okay, it is white.'"

"The following day they would return and tell you that the black object which they'd told you was white was now red. If you reminded them that it was white the day before they would only shrug and say, 'Oh, that was a mistake, now it is red.' (The recent denunciation of Stalin is a good example of this method.)

Herr S. laughed, "We Germans... we cannot be so dumb!"

The harassment continued, taxes were raised, and Herr S. decided to give it up and try to reach the Free Zone. Taking only his brief case, he managed to get by three sets of border police.

In West Berlin he was given food and clothing. After his political affiliations were carefully examined, a job was found, and he was flown to West Germany. His wife and son escaped later.

When Herr S. had been in West Germany a while he ran into an old friend, now a communist. The friend was extolling the merits of the party to the skies.

In a voice heavy with sarcasm Herr S. said, "I told him that I had a nine room apartment in East Germany, complete with china, crystal, and a grand piano.

"I will give you the papers to my apartment," Herr S. declared, "and you will be well set up in your communist paradise."

Then he added, "My friend, you will come back in one year... barefooted!"

At the time we talked to Herr S. the revolt in Hungary had not begun. Perhaps his outlook would have been different if it had, but then he was not what we as Americans would term violently anti-communist. Herr S. didn't denounce the East German government in terms of human rights and freedoms.

Rather, in a businessman's fashion, he said, "I would have still been there if they had left my business alone."

Now sympathy for Hungary is running high in Germany. "Fashing," Germany's Mardi Gras carnival season which reaches a riotous peak in March, traditionally begins November 11. Because laughter is out of place when your neighbors are dying, "Fashing" has been postponed until January 1.

There is no delay however, in offers of help to the more than 20,000 refugees that have already crossed the Hungarian border into free Austria. Far from being burdened by the influx of people from under the Iron Curtain, West Germany is profiting economically as well as scoring a political triumph by providing a welcome to the escapees.

A Stars and Stripes report from the border says that the labor shortage in Central and Western Europe is one thing that contributes to the high morale of the refugees.

"Most of them are young people, skilled and semi-skilled workers. It will only be a matter of time before they can be settled in Germany, Switzerland, or the Netherlands with better jobs than they left," writes the Stripes reporter.

Many of these people will take temporary jobs to help them over the first hard hump. As an example, Joe's company hires refugees to do their KP work (to the great relief of the G. I.'s) For the most part, they are professional men who will eventually be absorbed by the community.

served her dietetic internship at the Veteran's Administration in Los Angeles, California. At the time of her marriage she was employed as assistant dietician at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

Brock, who is a graduate of Friona High School, is also a graduate of Texas Tech with a major in agronomy. Before going into the armed forces, he was employed by the Soil Conservation Service at Big Spring. At present he is stationed at Fort Gordon, Georgia, where he is attending Southeastern Signal School.

The couple will be at home at 611 Telfair, Augusta until December 14 when Keith will receive new orders.

Guests attending from Friona were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brock.

Baby Boy For Beenes

Dr. and Mrs. William Beene became parents of a baby boy at Paducah Memorial Hospital in Paducah at 9:30 p. m. Saturday. He weighed 8 lbs. and 12 ozs. and was named Bradley Wilson.

The Beenes have a daughter, Sandy, who is 8. Dr. Beene is the local optometrist.

Guests From Sunray

Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Cleveland and daughters, Charlotte and Renee, were weekend guests in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McGlothlin, and other relatives and friends. The Cleavelands live at Sunray.

32 Awards Given At Pack Meeting

The regular pack meeting was held at the American Legion Hall Thursday evening. Before the meeting began, there was a uniform inspection by Coy Patton, Leo Reed, Allen Stewart, and Fern Awtry.

The flag ceremony by Den VI opened the program. Den I presented a den stunt using the costumes and musical instruments typical in Puerto Rico.

Coy Patton presented nine bobcat awards, two wolf badges, five gold arrows and 16 silver arrows. The flag was retired by Den VI and the meeting was adjourned. About 80 persons were present.
