"LISTEN FOLKS"

By Jim Ferguson.

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.)

Sam Wheat married Sallie Corn, and the choir sang "What will the Harvest Be?" We are going somewhere. We are riding some kind of a train going somewhere and the only thing we know for certain is that we have no round trip ticket to bring us back.

Ingersoll said that "Life is a narrow vale between the barren peaks of two eternities." "We strive to look beyond the two heights." "We cry aloud and the only answer is the echo of our wailing cry."

Citizens of state and nation seem to be bewildered, troubled and confused. The National Congress and the State Legislature seem to be without plan or policy. Leadership is lacking.

Every day brings the news of labor strikes which are sweeping the country like wild fire. The public mind is sadly divided on every important question. Added to the awful condition comes the scarcity of meat and bread, and from the discouraged masses comes another wailing cry of "Where, oh, where do we go from here?" What will the ending be?

The cost of living goes higher and higher every day and every hour. The governments, state and national, have spent so many millions of money and credit that every citizen holds his breath and wonders how long can we survive the awful drain on the taxpayers in every walk of life.

It is the height of ignorance to attempt to dismiss the trouble with the wave of a hand rather than believe that which we don't want to believe. The biggest fool is the fool who deceives himself. No great problem was ever solved by trusting to luck or shirking responsibility.

The American people are drifting. They will land upon unknown shore. It may not be today or tomorrow. We who see the lengthening shadows may not see the end. Yea, verily, we may not really and truly set sail and go somewhere we know not where to some foreign clime, but we are drifting far from the landmarks of our historic greatness and the foundation principles of our birth as a people, and a nation trembles as we feel ourselves drifting towards some false ideal that will swallow us into the vortex of eternal calamity.

Partisans give different reasons for our unfortunate situation. Some say that Congress is to blame. Others say that the President is to blame and with equal firmness others lay all our trouble in the lap of the Supreme Court.

It makes no difference who is to blame or who will be to blame if we sit idly by and let our country and our ideals be wrecked on the rocks of careless misfortune.

In the words of the Master, you ask "What can we do to be saved?" You demand that criticism cease until a remedy is advanced. It would be ignorance personified for one mind to attempt to complete the remedy for the evils which afflict us. That is not my purpose. With the public mind in its present state in every country no inspired vision would be accepted to point to a guiding star to lead us aright.

What we need is a reconsecration to first principles. Let us seek for direction to the teachings of the future. Until we again convert ourselves to a desire to know the truth and the cause of our troubles we will continue to drift on the unknown seas of discouraged and disappointed hopes.

Let every citizen ask himself: "What can I do to be a better citizen?" "What can I do to help my government be a better government?"

The trouble with our day and generation is that there are too many people who want to live without labor and get something for nothing. Until these are rudely awakened our boat will continue drifting.

Other people's sins become innocent pranks when committed by us.

Hudgens & Knight Buy Out Brownfield Hdwe

Last week a deal was consummated in which the hardware and furniture firm of Hudgens & Knight became the owners of the Brownfield Hardware Co., one of the oldest firms in the country, which also handled hardware, furniture and undertaking goods. The change was made as of April 1st. Both firms have had men busy since that time involving the stock of the Brownfield Hardware Co.

Owing to the fact that the new owners have been very busy involving, the Herald has not had an opportunity of talking much with the new owners, but it is our understanding that the location of the Brownfield Hardware will be made an exclusive furniture and undertaking establishment, while, the present location of Hudgens & Knight will be an exclusive hardware, with both stocks combined in each building.

Messrs. Claude Hudgens and Bruce Knight are the new owners. These men have been in the hardware and furniture business here several years, and have been very aggressive and progressive in pushing their business, which has reached out all over three counties, Terry Yoakum and Gaines, as well as eastern New Mexico.

Messrs. H. H. Longbrake and W. B. Downing have made no statement for the press, as we have not seen them since the deal. But we are sure that these fine men will remain in Brownfield, as both have established homes here. Mr. Longbrake has been a member of the firm for some 30 years, and helped to establish the business. Mr. Downing has been a member of the firm for some 20 years.

As to how many of the employees will remain with the new firm, we can't say, as stated above, we have had no opportunity to interview Mr. Hudgens or Mr. Knight.

Much Yard Work Being Done Again This Year

We stated last spring that more yard work was done than had been done here for any single year, and that each householder seemed to be vying with his neighbor to see which would have the prettiest premises. Of course there was no rivalry, no competition for that matter. Just a concerted movement to beautify the homes of the town.

Again this year, we are glad to see this movement manifested in the many yards both front and back over the city. It means only one thing. These people have come here to make their future home, and they intend that it shall be home like in every respect. What is a fine home, well decorated within and without, and well furnished, if there is a bank of sand in front, and littered with filth and sand back and front, with not a sign of trees, shrubs and flowers?

Since the city has begun to put on a cheaper summer rate for water, the beautifying movement seems to have become well grounded. If we were to make a suggestion at all, we would ask that the city authorities put these rates on just a bit sooner this year than heretofore. Sometimes we have a dry May or June that takes lots of water to overcome dry weather and heat combined. During such times, the earth gets dry to such a depth that it takes a whole of a lot of water to make a difference.

Co-Operative Society Met Here Tuesday

Farmers Co-Operative Society No. 1, Terry county, owner of the Farmers Gin and Filling Station, met on Tuesday in their annual assembly at the Legion hall. The feature of the morning program was an address by C. K. Bullard of Dallas, Attorney for the society. His address was mainly on the good of the society to farmers in cooperating with each other for mutual benefits.

Lunch was served by the Legion Auxiliary, consisting of sandwiches, coffee and cake.

The afternoon session was a business meeting, including the election of the following directors: Mon Telford, Wood Johnson and B. M. Wade. All other officials are holdovers. A very interesting round table then followed, the subject being a Co-Operative owned or controlled fire insurance company, and a cotton oil mill. All reported a pleasant and profitable day.

Old Timers Leaving For a Visit to Alaska

W. R. (Wiley) Bridges and wife left here Monday morning for Lubbock, where they took train for Seattle, Wash., and Fairbanks, Alaska, on a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Carol Phillip, husband and two children, whom they have not seen in about two years. They will be on the journey about three weeks. We say a visit. They may make that their home, but they did not sell their home here, and will come back if they wish.

They expect to arrive in Seattle on Thursday this week, and get a boat out for Seward, Alaska about Saturday and will be on the boat about two weeks. From this seaport they will take a train for Fairbanks, 400 miles inland, but the train does not run at night, and two days are consumed on this trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have written some glowing accounts of the products of that sheltered valley about Fairbanks, which sound like a real Utopia is up there, and Wiley has promised to write his version when he gets there and rests for a while, for publication. In the meantime, the Herald will keep him posted about old Terry. Thus the Herald circulates from New York to California, and from Alaska to the Panama Canal.

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Cook gave a tea Sunday afternoon at which many of the old timers here as well as kind folks from as far away as Montecello, Ark. and Breckenridge, Texas, attended. But that will be covered in the social column.

Mrs. Shelton Becomes Lessee of Wines Hotel

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Terry did not renew their lease for the Wines Hotel, which was leased by Mrs. J. E. Shelton. Mrs. Terry stated that she was greatly run down, and needed a rest, and she and son, Grady, left Monday for Longview where she will pay an extended visit with relatives. Mr. Terry will remain here with his grocery store.

Mrs. Shelton got the hotel in shape Monday night for her roomers, but owing to the fact that she had to almost refurbish the kitchen she did not get ready to serve meals until Wednesday noon. Mrs. Shelton is well known here, and we feel sure she will give the same good service the hotel has established under the direction of Mrs. Terry for the past several years.

Higginbotham-Bartlett Start Their Paint Ads

Beginning with the issue last week, the Herald started a series of ads for the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., featuring the famous line of Sherwin-Williams paints, varnishes, lacquers and enamels. These ads are chuck full of good information to those contemplating painting or enameling during the spring cleanup and paint up time.

Perhaps there will be something that you do not understand about the Sherwin-Williams lines in these ads. If so, call on or phone the manager, Mr. Cecil Smith, or talk with one of the employees. They will be glad to make everything clear to you. And please remember that a lower price is not the cheapest by any means.

Tahoka Newspaper Man Here Saturday

E. I. Hill, Jr., of Tahoka, associated with his father in the publication of the Lynn County News, was a pleasant caller at the Herald office, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hill is not only interested in newspaper work, but takes time in the study and in the search for evidences of many races that occupied the plains many hundred years before the advent of the white man or even the Indian, perhaps.

He is a writer of note in this section about the early settlement, and is often called on to lecture on the subject. Like many nestlings though, he craves to manage his own affairs, and is therefore looking for a paper for sale in this section.

Around the Capital

By J. Doyle Settle

This week witnessed the passage of an increase in the production tax on sulphur. When I came to the Legislature in 1935, the tax on sulphur was seventy-five cents per ton, production tax. In the last called session, we increased the tax to $1.33 per ton and last Monday the House of Representatives boosted the tax to $1.28 per ton on the same. This is an increase in the natural tax, and I voted for both of the above tax increases. I am not for placing too heavy a burden of taxation on anyone, large or small that would run them out of business.

The Legislature was honored last week, Wednesday, by having as our guest speaker of the day, the Honorable Jim Farley, Postmaster General of the United States. Mr. Farley made a splendid address to the Legislature. He stated there was nothing in regard to an increase in the Supreme Court personnel to become alarmed about. He stated that the number would be increased undoubtedly and that the men appointed by the President and approved by the Senate of the United States would have to be of the highest type of men before the Senate would ratify the appointment.

It is the general corridor talk that the purpose of this trip by Mr. Farley is to sound out the possibilities of his candidacy for the Presidency of the United States in 1940.

I had as my guests at the speaking Mr. Amos Howard, Postmaster of Lubbock, Mr. Scudder, Postmaster of Slaton, Mr. Mann Postmaster of Levelland, and Mr. Dallas, Postmaster of Brownfield, they having been with the official Farley party for two days.

The House of Representatives and the Senate this week voted final passage of $19,000 emergency appropriation for Texas Technological. Four thousand of this for the purpose of finishing the hard surfacing of the roads on the campus. Fifteen thousand is to be used in constructing the first unit of a Spanish dormitory for boys that have a very limited amount of money to attend college. It is the hope of Senator Nelson and myself to add to this structure from time to time. Eventually we will have a complete unit for the students who possess little funds.

We are still without a Pardon Board or Parole System. The House of Representatives and Senate passed regulations for the new board authorized by the people last summer in a constitutional amendment, but last Friday the Governor vetoed the bill chiefly because the bill provided the members of the board should spend about twenty days each month at the penitentiary interviewing persons, and because the bill provided that the members of the board could not perform any other function except that of the duties of a board member.

Cicero Smith Lumber Company Overlooked

When the employees are kinder overworked trying to get out a Tradesday edition, working into the night both Wednesday and Thursday, anything may happen. And one of these awkward situations developed last week, when Cicero Smith Lumber Company, just across the street from the Herald, was overlooked in undersigning the Rialto Theatre ad of congratulations.

We never have gone to this firm to undersign anything of this kind that was refused by them. They always seem to be glad to see progress in any firm, and certify their approval by helping to underwrite such ads. But what appeared to be adding insult to injury was that they furnished the material bill for the Theatre, and was then overlooked. That is one reason the Herald does not get up more of such ads. This is not the first time that we have failed to get a firm on some ad they were anxious to sign, and naturally they feel that we have slighted them, whether intentional or not. But it certainly would have been following the path of least resistance, financially at least, to have gotten all we possibly could to undersign the ad.

This slight to our good neighbor and friend across the street was not intentional by any means, or anyone else that we may have failed to see.

Supt. M. L. H. Baze of the local schools, accompanied by the high school band instructor, Herman Trigg, attended the high school band concert at Slaton, Wed. night.

Herald to Observe "WANT AD WEEK"

There are various and sundry "so and so weeks," there being one for the newspaper folks, known as National Want Ad Week, and this year that week, which is dated from April 17th to the 24th, will be observed by the Herald. The issue that we will use will of course be April 23rd. During that week, we aim to make concession that will be worth while to our farmer friends, as well as town people.

We are going to make a flat rate for that week of 5c per line for want ads with a minimum of 15c, whether there are two or three lines. These must all be new ads; nothing included that is running now or then. Any additional lines 5c each. We want to make the people WANT AD CONSCIOUS. On and after next week's issue, the 16th, we will begin taking these ads for the issue of the 23rd. But they must all be in the Herald office by Tuesday noon, April 20th.

You are to be the judge of what you advertise. Do you want a job? Do you want a hand? Do you want to rent a room to some one? Are you looking for a room or apartment? Do you want to trade a shot gun for a cream separator? Or a turning plow for a bull calf? You compose your own ad, and we'll do the rest, even if you wish to get in touch with some one of opposite sex for matrimonial purposes.

We could go on telling you many instances in which a 30c or 40c ad has brought home the bacon. Only last week, to mention just one, a small ad found Fred Henson's horses that were strayed, and another lady phoned to stop her ad as the first issue got results. But the 30c ad that week will cost you but 15c, while the 40c ad will be just 20c.

There is two other conditions, owing to the ads being taken at just half price, it will be cash on the barrel head, and no ads will be taken over the phone at this price. Let's fill a page of WANT, TRADE and EXCHANGE ads.

Well Flows 115 Bbls. In 50 Minutes Sunday

Drilling several feet Sunday to approximately 5,025 feet in hard lime, the Texas company No. 1 Bob Slaughter, Hockley county pool opener, flowed 11 barrels of oil in 50 minutes Sunday in a head. It was then shut down and drilling resumed.

Progress is slow, the drillers desiring to avoid anything that would damage the test. Previous bottom was reported as 5,022 feet.

Two-inch tubing probably will be run and a further test made. No definite indication of whether the well will be shot or acidized has been reported.

Oil company men indicate privately that the well may be good for between 2,000 and 3,000 barrels. No statement for publication is being made, however.

Oil storage was available Sunday, four 500-barrel tanks having been set up. The best pay oil is believed to be coming from 5,014-17 feet. Gravity is reported 31.9 Baume. Brown lime was topped at 4,205 feet. Elevation is 3,560 feet. The well is on the Bob Slaughter tract, labor 83, league 38, Zavalla county school land.

Magnolia Spuds In Yoakum County Well

The later part of last week, the Magnolia Petroleum Co., spudded in a new location in northeast Yoakum county, and about nine miles northwest from Tokio, and some 25 miles from Brownfield. It is on the M. Taylor land, and will be known as Magnolia's Taylor No. 1.

The company has been very quiet about this location, and few even here knew about it. It is in a section of country, however, that some oil was found at a shallow depth by a water well driller some 20 years ago. A crew of Magnolia geologists are now working out from Brownfield.

It is reported here that the drillers of the Brownfield well 18 miles southwest of here are preparing to drill deeper. However, we do not vouch the accuracy of this report.

Chisholm Brothers Constant Advertisers

It would be a hard matter for us to tell just how many papers the firm of Chisholm Bros., or their allied business have missed in the past 14 years, but we believe that we could count them on the fingers of both hands. When you take into consideration that the Herald has gone to press around 728 times since 1923, this is a mighty fine record.

When their store first opened on the east side of the square in the building now occupied by Buck's Barber Shop, it was a modest little store, but they had a new, clean stock, and sold strictly for cash. At that time, they began their grocery advertising with one every week, and were the first grocery store that we remember to have quoted prices.

Soon, this quarter was overgrown, and the first section of their present location on the southeast corner of the square was built. As time went on, a hatchery was installed in an adjoining building, then came hardware and implements, and a modern filling station in the rear. Their frontage is 100 feet, with a depth of about the same.

Our business dealings with them from the first modest store to their big modern buildings packed with the best merchandise, has been very pleasant. At no time have they protested or failed to pay a bill promptly, unless of course there was a glaring mistake.

Driller Killed at Taylor Well Sunday

Jack Etter, 26, whose home is in Anadarko, Okla., was instantly killed last Sunday afternoon, at the Magnolia Petroleum Co., Taylor No. 1, that was being spudded in 9 miles northwest of Tokio. Mr. Etter was a single man, whose parents and several brothers live in Anadarko. He was also a first cousin of Joe J. McGowan of this city. He has been an employee of the Magnolia Co. for seven years.

It was stated to us that Mr. Etter was trying to loosen a clutch about the engine, and in some way a pipe hit him, crushing his skull. No matter what precautions are taken, there is always danger in working with big, heavy machinery, and in this sad accident, there does not seem to be any blame attached to anyone. One other employee was with him when the accident occurred.

The body was prepared by the local undertaking establishment, and shipped to the home in Oklahoma, where funeral and burial was made.

A Mighty Good Horse Was Shown Tuesday

B. M. Wade of the Tokio community, was showing one of the best horses here Tuesday we have seen in some time, which will make the season at his barn this year. The horse is a dark Perchon, and is worth the consideration of those who would breed up their stock, and not down.

The horse tips the scale at about a ton, is 17 hands high and is 6 years old. The horse was bred and raised on the famous J. T. Robinson farms in Kansas.

To our way of thinking, the farmers who have several mares or even horse offspring of such horses as this, as well as good mules a few years from now when the tractors begin to wear out, will have a fine sale for them.

Not Much Interest In the City Election

Around 100 ballots were cast here Tuesday in the city election, according to Roy M. Herod, city secretary, and resulted in the election of the three old councilmen, C. I. Smith, Homer Nelson and Mario Craig. The vote given us, was as follows:

Cecil Smith 73
Clyde Coleman 49
G. S. Webber 38
W. B. Tudor 29
J. L. Cruce 29
Tom May 37
Homer Nelson 52
Mario Craig 56

Influence may get a job, but it does not hold one.

Rip: "I never talk to an inferior." Zip: "Er—have you ever met one?"

Great Crowd Attends Reopening of Theatre

A crowd that taxed the capacity of the newly remodeled Rialto Theatre was on hand Tuesday night for the formal reopening, at which time the popular Hawaiian play "Waikiki Wedding" was staged with some of the screen's most popular actors and actresses. The beautiful scenes of this tropical paradise seemed to be just the picture to match breathtaking decorator's art on the interior of the building.

People were here from the entire trade territory of Brownfield and many were the expressions of approval expressed to Mr. Earl Jones, owner, or some of his staff. But one of the most expressive of the many that was heard, was: "The interior decorations and lighting was so astonishingly beautiful, that I paid a lot more attention to it than to the picture."

Mr. Jones and staff certainly are to be congratulated. No local citizen here now would hesitate a minute in taking a friend from Hollywood or Broadway to the Rialto. There is nothing in this entire section that is comparable in beauty. There are some larger, of course.

The ushersettes in their white and gold silk and satin trimmed uniforms looked mighty pretty, and a real big town appearance.

But you will have to see the "new" Rialto your self to really appreciate its rare beauty. Also, the new two-lobby and entrance arrangements. Telegrams were posted on the bill boards from various parts of the nation, especially from film companies, producers, architects and others.

Much Sod Land to Be Put in Cultivation

It is estimated that from 8000 to 10,000 acres of sod land will go under the plow in Terry county this year for the first time. Just what percentage will go into various crops has not been disclosed, but we presume that a considerable acreage will go in cotton, as that plant seems to do better than grains on first year land as a general thing.

Reports recently given out are to the effect that some 1000 acres of wheat is also growing in the county. Just how much of this will be harvested, if any, is a mooted question. We imagine, however that most of the wheat is small field, planted primarily for pasture after the fine rains last fall, and are still being used for such.

Two Old and One New Trustee Elected

In the trustee election for the Brownfield Independent school district last Saturday, we understand that two of the old trustees, Messrs. Claude Hudgens and Bruce White were re-elected, and that the new one was Jim Miller. We did not learn just what the total vote was, but not a great deal of interest seemed to have been taken.

As to the other school districts of the county, we are unable at this time to report, as the boxes had not been opened early in the week, according to Judge R. A. Simms. He promised however to have a full report for the Herald next week.

Mrs. A. D. Repp Gives Up Work on Herald

We are very sorry to report that on account of her health, Mrs. A. D. Repp has had to give up her position as ad solicitor for the Herald. Also, will state that those having news items will for the present phone them to Nos. 1 or 45.

Mrs. Repp made the Herald a mighty fine solicitor, and we would have been glad to retain her services. On account of the fact that we were crowded with work last week, she was kind enough to forget that she was not feeling fit, and solicited anyway for the our Tradesday edition.

The superintendent, visiting a country school, asked the children a number of questions. After a while he said to the class, "Now I want some of you to ask me a question that I can't answer."

After a few vain attempts a small boy said, "Please, sir, if you were stuck in a pool of mud up to your head and I threw a brick at you, would you duck?"

Well, they have brought in another oil well in south Hockley county, which is just 2 1/2 miles from Tech college. Those in Garza, Gaines, Yoakum and Cochran are right in Lubbock's back yard. Wonder the oil don't spray Sharley Churnal Guy and J. Sham Lewis, even up in their second story roosts.

Spring is here. Of course we knew it last Saturday after the final day of winter blew in and out with a storm such as you read about in the story books. The calendar told us it was spring and the bright day with peaceful sunshine all over the South Plains made us want to take off our coats and enjoy the day. Monday was not a thing to be upset about. But Tuesday, now, was something else. These weather reporters tell about a 68 mile-an-hour gale. We could see something passing by, but couldn't tell just how fast it was going. We will have some more fair days and some foul, but there is no corner in the way now. Spring is here.—Ralls Baner.

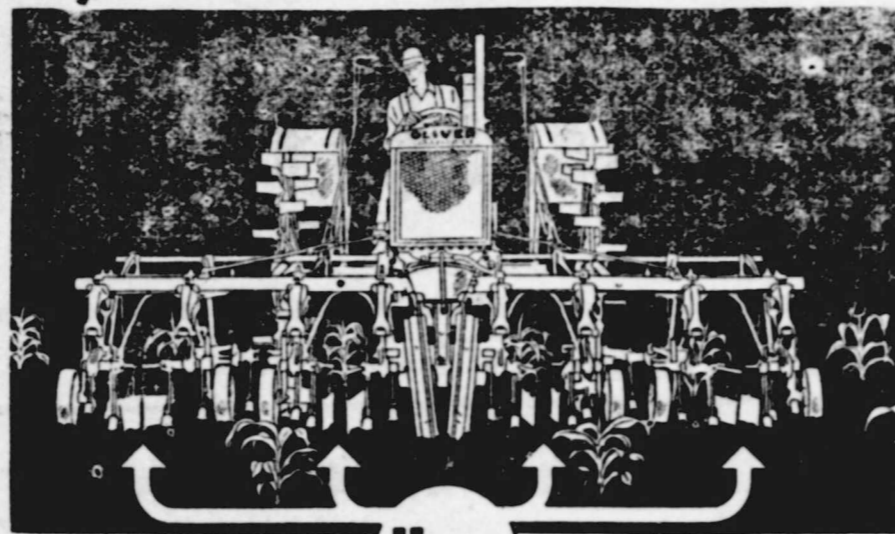

It is stated by the Ropes Plainsman that in one way at least, the Resettlement Project near that city is a kind of Jonah. It seems that sympathetic Uncle Sam, in providing the people a home on these lands, did not take into consideration that their proximity to a school, would boost the taxes and capacity of that school district in caring for them. In other words, seemingly, Uncle Sam was looking out for the Project people only, in that such lands are not taxable for school and other purposes. As a consequence, another teacher had to be added at Ropes, plus another school bus. To our way of thinking, it is nothing short of right and justice that the government make an appropriation to care for the education of its wards, either in nearby schools, or a school to be erected on the lands.

What if some thirty-five million farmers, truck and fruit growers in the United States were to call a "Sit-Down" strike? And they, with bare living wages or income have a thus-and-times better right to strike than those, big pay, short hour and short week birds in the automobile factories. But a few months strike by the farmers would make those silly sit down strikes that are being called look like 30c. We imagine those factory men, after a few months starvation, would be ready to settle down and keep working. Perhaps not more than two-thirds of them can read and write English, and their ideals of government are foreign to that of real American. Let it be said to the credit of union labor that a very small per cent sanction these sit down strikes on other people's property.

The Rotan Advance had a rather laughable as well as ludicrous article last week anent one of the many make-believe circuses that travel over the country, reaping the coins of people, who really work, with a few bum acts and a flea bitten menagerie. Editor Shelton says they had one the week before, but it could not show as scheduled in view of the fact one of the three stobs that held up the mammoth tent was busted. Also the wildcat had bit the coyote's ear, and both were unfit for the show, and that the big crowd, both with their two-bits were greatly disappointed. The reserve fund of the aggregation was exhausted in buying a hamburger apiece for the employees. City authorities as well as county authorities should be very careful in giving permission to such farcical troops to ply their trade on the people of the community.

Some of our exchanges, both weekly and daily seem to conclude that anything that the United Supreme Court passes on, is bound to be right and just, and that it is sacrilegious to criticize them. They are just a bunch of lawyers like any other lawyers, except older, and the Herald respects their age. The very fact that they sometimes disagree among themselves is evidence that they are not infallible, and that their interpretation of the law may or may not be correct, or may not be for the best interest of all the people. The Herald has never believed that laws are superior to the rights and best interests of the people. Back as far as the division of Israel, unjust laws, or misinterpretation of them have caused division, when ten tribes went over to Jeroboam, when the young Rehobaham tried and did overtax the people. Of course at that time, the king was the executive, legislative and judicial all in one. From that time down to this, men have lost contact with the common people, and when laws were passed to relieve the people or make them self-governing, the fact has been ignored or declared unconstitutional. Such rulings have been the cause of war and revolution at the point of arms, even in this nation, beginning with the Revolutionary war. We hope however

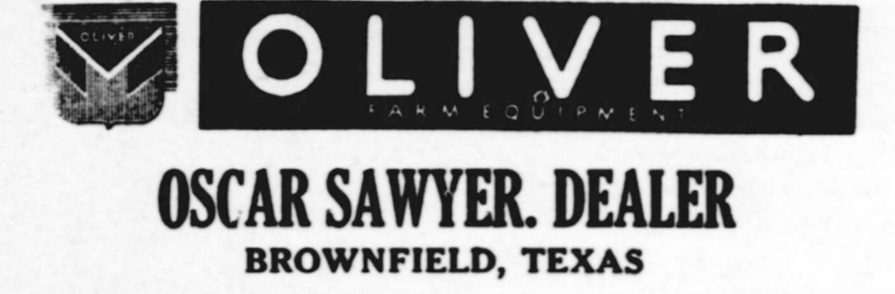

IT'S WHAT HAPPENS Here THAT COUNTS

There's No "LOW BRIDGE" With Oliver Row Crop Cultivators

The Oliver Row Crop Tractor and mounted cultivator lets you do a mighty good job of late cultivation. There is ample clearance under the tractor and under the lowest cross parts of the cultivating attachment so the growing plants won't be damaged. There are two, four and six-row Oliver Cultivators, adjustable for practically every row width and all crops—and when you own an Oliver Row Crop you have a whole lot more than just a "general purpose" tractor. It will plow with two big bases—prepare seed beds with tread so light that a spike tooth harrow will cross the wheel tracks—and drill or check-row two or four rows at a time.

Before you buy any tractor, let us tell you about the Oliver Row Crop—the machine with centrally mounted attachments so that you can see what you are doing all the time.

that we are past that era, and that our future revolutions with change in conditions and time, can be fought out in the legislative halls and not at the point of the sword. Also, we might say that we do not believe that man has been born that could put himself up as dictator in this country of ours, no matter what the cry of the big-wag is.

Here's Hollywood

As might be expected of that whimsical fun-maker, Edward Everett Horton has named San Fernando valley ranch "Belleigh Acres." You pronounce it—fast!

"The cost of the up-keep" he told me as he bent over a hoe in his rose garden, "makes it just that"

Ritted and his cowboy pals while on location in the desert country. "They got me all excited about snipe-hunting," she related with a laugh. "They're really aren't any snipe in the desert—they're beach birds—but I didn't know that. So they put me out in the desert beside an open sack while they went out beating the sagebrush to chase the snipe in. Tex and his gang just kept moving farther away. I must have taken a nap because first I knew they were out of sight. Then I found I had been out there for two hours, waiting for snipe, which never showed up. But I'll get even with them," she concluded with a spirited stamp of her ballet-dancing foot.

Going down to see Joe E. Brown work in his new picture, "All Is Confusion," I discovered him in the bathtub. And what an outfit—it did honor to the craziest of Rube old-Ler's comic inventions. For the scene

Joe had a crank rigged on two wheels fastened to the wall by his right hand. Cranking it made a scrubbing brush vigorously polish his back.

Joe playing the popular "Elmer Lane" of the Saturday Evening Post stories, was trying to sing in the bathtub. I say trying because Joe was making hard work of it and with little really musical result. Outside the bathroom a piano was playing his accompaniment in a sensational love song.

"Easy," Joe stopped to shout at the pianist. "You're rushing me." (Despite all the volume that one would expect could come from that elephantine mouth, Brown couldn't keep up.)

Which reminds me of one you may not have heard. The first time Brown saw his famous mouth in a screen close-up he let out a yell, right in the theatre "That aint me!"

Charlie Starrett a Boston actor now on the screens as a cowboy said to me. "I thought I would miss the green hills of New England when I came out here. But I don't. The barren browns, the blues, and the endless variety and magnificence of the desert completely fascinate me." He's really gone cowboy!

Meadow News

Sunday was quite an unusual day for various kinds of weather—rain and snow—giving us plenty of moisture for the present.

The "Mother and Daughter Banquet" sponsored by Miss Stewart, Home Economics teacher, last Wednesday night was the beginning of an eventual affair for our school. Mr. Hartzog, Agriculture teacher organized his F. F. A. boys and they all served out the courses just as well or better than we really expected. We rather liked to see our boys so useful in this line. So far as we could hear everyone enjoyed the banquet immensely and were so glad to be present.

Saturday was election day for trustees, but we have not heard yet who was elected for trustees here and at Needmore.

Several members of the Church of Christ set out trees at that church last week.

Our school observed "April Fools Day" more as a holiday—made ice cream for a change. So far as we have heard no one ran off.

Quite a few people from Meadow were in Brownfield Monday shopping. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Daniel were in Lubbock on business Monday.

Allred Proclaims May 1st Child Health Day

AUSTIN, Texas, April 5.—Governor James V. Allred has proclaimed May 1st as the eleventh annual Child Health Day in Texas, in conjunction with a national observance of the day under proclamation issued by the President of the United States. The State Department of Health is sponsoring May Day in Texas.

Governor Allred said, "May day has become an incentive for campaigns to immunize our children against smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid fever, whooping cough, to encourage child health clinics, dental, prenatal preschool, and to find and treat crippled children; to wage safe milk campaigns, realizing that the health and security of our children are essential to the well-being of our State and Nation, and as such deserving encouragement through the development of plans to promote maternal and child health and to extend child welfare, now therefore, I, James V. Allred, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim May 1 as Child Health Day, and urge all agencies, public and private, concerned with the health and welfare of children, on this day to cooperate in the plans of Federal, State and local agencies in promoting the health and security of the mothers and children of Texas, and to make arrangements for carrying these benefits to the children of every county in the State." Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and the Division of Maternal and Child Welfare of the State Department of Health joins with Governor Allred in an earnest plea for coordinated efforts of all health agencies, and voices the hope that May Day may be the incentive for better health conditions throughout the year.

TECH GETS INTERESTING ARROWHEAD COLLECTION

LUBBOCK, Texas, April 5.—Hundreds of arrowheads of perfect workmanship, uncovered in a Val Verde county cave high above the Pecos river banks, have been placed on exhibit in the West Texas museum at Texas Technological College. The arrowheads exhibit, portion of 4,500 artifacts found in an ash heap in the cave, has been sorted into divisions showing development of prehistoric workmanship from formation of crude but effective flints to the "propeller" type, curved and streamlined to attain a rotary motion after leaving the hunter's bow. Basketry, knives, awls, leather work, and fabrics are to be placed on exhibit, said Dr. W. C. Holden, museum curator and sponsor of the Val Verde expedition.

SANTA FE REVENUES SHOW SHARP INCREASE

Operations of the Santa Fe Railway Company during the year 1936 resulted in substantial increase in gross revenues in spite of adverse agricultural conditions in a large part of this territory. Freight car loadings aggregated 1,363,938, an increase of 140,941 over 1935. Freight traffic density increased 138,685 tons per mile of road, or 19 per cent. Miles traveled by passengers increased 16.69 per cent over 1935, and passenger revenue increased 16.19 per cent. Increased passenger revenue was due partly to improvement in general business conditions, the convenience and comfort of air-conditioned equipment, and a general reduction in transcontinental passenger fees. These and many other interesting facts are brought out in the Santa Fe's annual report which President Samuel T. Bledsoe released to the stockholders this week. The report highlights the company's activities in 1936, and touches briefly upon some of the early developments of 1937. The increased revenues were practically absorbed by increased maintenance expenditures and increased taxes.

"No Sit-Downs in Texas" Warns Allred

AUSTIN, April 3.—Governor James V. Allred formally announced today he would not tolerate sit-down methods of "taking or holding" property in Texas and would use all the powers at his command to enforce laws and court orders.

Asserting an investigation had shown sit-down organizers had invaded Texas, he urged laboring people who want to organize to affiliate with legitimate labor bodies and have nothing to do with groups which have fostered "sit-downs" anywhere.

He said sitting down on somebody else's property and remaining there was "un-American and unlawful," although a man had a perfect right to quit a job or strike peacefully. He applied the term "unlawful mob spirit" to the sit-down method and declared Texas would not "play Michigan" or permit transfer to this state of disgraceful episodes in others.

At the same time, he said he always had been friendly to organized labor, but the "sit-down" would eventually hurt the laboring man more than anybody else.

A committee of the Texas house of representatives has set a hearing for next Tuesday on a bill prohibiting employees from remaining on premises after notice to vacate and providing penalties of fine and imprisonment.

The Texas Planning Board is anxious for owners or operators of camps which afford facilities for group camping to send complete information about their camps, encampments, dude ranches or lodges. This information is to be used by the Board in a study of the recreational facilities of the State.

Here's Hollywood

"Certainly I want romance and marriage," sparkling June Travis told me this week, emphatically and with real sincerity. "But I hope that I find it outside of Hollywood. I do not think Hollywood can allow fairness to either partner, because of the demands and interferences of acting. That is true whether only one is in the profession, or if both of them are.

"I speak it just like it was in 'Join the Marines.' As the daughter of a marine colonel I had seen so much of military life I certainly did not want to marry it. So when the man I wanted joined the marines, I rebelled. But maybe," she concluded with her delightful mischievous grin, "I'll end up the same way I do in the picture."

One of the many reasons why so many movies are costly was hinted at by William Ndwel, a talented comedian, when I dined with him at his modest tree-buried bungalow, in Laurel Canyon Friar night.

"I think I did a very nice comedy bit in 'A Man Betrayed,'" he commented "Oddly enough, it was the Nineteenth role I've been asked to play in the same blue serge suit. And for every role I've had to take a screen test for wardrobe which cost the studios at least $400 each."

A quotation over which players are tittering on the sound stages this week is the alleged remark of Ginger Rogers in an interview. "Life has taught me many things which I probably wouldn't have learned in any other classroom."

Hollywood Boulevard and Vine Street—the crossing where sometime one may see nearly everybody he wishes to see in Hollywood. It was just after midnight when two joyous young couples laughed themselves past under the dimmed street lights. One of the girls screamed deliciously when the boy friend, suddenly lifting her up in his arms, whirled dizzily around on the sidewalk.

"I came 2000 miles just to see Hollywood Boulevard," he shouted "So let's take a big whirl at it." With a gay laugh again they pirouetted on the pavement. Curious, I followed them to a car. It bore a Georgia license.

"I believe I accidentally caused one of the greatest cattle stampedes to be seen in films," sheepishly admitted tall Tex Ritter, the singing cowboy, "while making 'Headed' for the Rio Grande." We had about 2000 head up in the San Jacinto mountains. I had ridden up to the corral to unsaddle an was talking to Hank when I slipped off the bridle before I unloosed the martingale. In one leap that pony headed right through the middle of the herd and did they go wild! Say, we were hunting cattle for the next three days! Only thing saved my hide was that the camera car raced after the flying tails and got that stampede all in the picture."

Adrienne Ames filed a divorce suit against Jacques Etienne deBujac. Guess who! That name seems pretty good reason why her husband is known on the screen as "Bruce Cabot."

ANOTHER MILE STONE FOR STOMACH SUFFERS

Only a few short months ago Gas-Tons were not known in this community although the formula used in the compounding of Gas-Tons by one of the largest pharmaceutical houses in the country has been a favorite prescription, used with great success in the relief of Stomach and duodenal ulcers, Indigestion, Acid dyspepsia, Sour or Upset stomach, Gassiness, Bloating, Heartburn, Constipation, Bad Breath, Sleeplessness, Headaches and Jaded appetites. But today it is another story for Gas-Tons are known in hundreds of homes as the product which has brought health and happiness to members of their family, when these conditions were due to excess acid. There are stories of men and women who had given up all hope of relief until they were told by some former stomach sufferer of the days and nights spent suffering with no relief in sight, but who after trying Gas-Tons for a short time were on the road to recovery and who are now happy to state, with great pleasure, that none of the old symptoms are with them and now they sleep all night long, go about their regular work and pleasure, eat the things they like most with no ill results. And all stomach sufferers know what this means. Therefore it is no wonder to them why Gas-Tons sales have grown by leaps and bounds and they can easily see why those former stomach sufferers are able to go about with a smile on their faces in place of the old frown. Gas-Tons are on sale with one druggist in each town. Gas-Tons are sold on a money back guarantee that you must be pleased. Gas-Tons are on sale in Brownfield by the Alexander Drug Co. 25 tablets $1, 100 tablets $3. Accept no substitutes for there are several who would bask in the light of the success of this great formula.

since I left the stage," handsome Ralph Byrd told me, "had to do with fights. In the 'Dick Tracy' serial I did a fight for every chapter. About 16 different kinds of knockdown and drag-out fights in four weeks shooting, and I hardly got scratched. The day after it was finished I went into "Speed Mad" in which I wear a fine looking uniform. The minute I got on the set I was told my first scene would be the big fight! I went into it, that uniform was ripped to shreds and I got a sprained wrist that has bothered me for three weeks. So I got all messed up the first day despite all the 'Dick Tracy' rough and tumble training!"

Ray Corrigan, that grand big horseman who heads the "Three Mesquiteers" western trio, is a modest bachelor. Lives alone in a modest but very cozy apartment—makes most of his own meals—can tickle your taste with either delicious steak, piping pancakes, or marvelous fudge. He's an expert fencer, boxer and wrestler—drives a gleaming Dusenber roadster—owns a profitable trout hatchery up in Oregon.

Clark Gable and Carole Lombard are taking a ribbing. They were so anxious to see themselves in a revival of "No Man of Her Own" that they broke a dinner engagement. When they arrived breathlessly at the Filmmart theatre they found, much to their chargin, that the picture wouldn't open until the next night! "So we missed a grand dinner party," Gable mourned, "and only got laughed at!"

Learning is often the process of unlearning.

You can laugh off your old doubts about warm-weather engine oiling, because Oil-Plating is so terribly hard to rub off, scrape off or burn off. The explanation is that patented Germ Processing makes this oil really plant itself on bearings, shafts, and upright surfaces too, such as cylinder walls. Not even the good old Law of Gravity can make Oil-Plating drain down. It's the expense limiting section of the act.

There has been open and flagrant violation of this section of the act, and it has caused many eligible pensioners to be denied their monthly checks. Apparently Texas laws regulating and controlling governmental agencies are not intended to be enforced, however. Instances are found in all divisions of the government.

When the Texas Unemployment Compensation act was adopted last fall it contained a provision that none of the funds allotted to the commission were to be used for publicity purposes. This provision of law has been ignored, however, and press releases are sent out by this commission every few days. Only a few days have passed since we received a double post card from the commission asking us to assist them in compiling an accurate mailing list.

We still insist that it is a sad state of affairs when governing bodies pass laws only to have them openly and shamelessly violated by public officials. It is little wonder that there has grown up on almost nationwide contempt for the law during the past decade.—Howe Messenger.

and no precaution should be overlooked in restraining them.

Parents should immediately take two steps. First, never leave your children alone at home. Second, do the simple and inexpensive things necessary to the elimination of common fire hazards. All fireplaces should be screened. Clothes should be hung at a safe distance from pipes and stoves. All heating equipment and adjuncts should be periodically inspected and overhauled. Continuous care should be taken in handling and storing inflammable liquids. Waste of all kinds, such as papers and rags, should be disposed of or stored in metal containers. The wiring of electric appliances should be checked occasionally—a frayed or twisted cord can cause short circuits followed by fire.

Every minute a fire breaks out in America. Two-thirds of all those fires occur in homes. Will your home be on that list this year—and will you and your family be subjected to a menace that may take life, due primarily to your own carelessness?

A FIRE A MINUTE

Don't leave small children alone at home!

Tragedy after tragedy has been recorded where an unintended child has been either killed or disfigured for life by fire. A recent case is cited by the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin. A boy of four and his brother of six months were left in the house when the parents went visiting. The boy of four pushed the baby buggy containing his brother too close to the heating stove. A blanket caught fire, and the infant was fatally burned.

Other accounts tell of fires started by children playing with matches. In still other incidents a stove door is opened or lids lifted off by the child and fires are started. Fatal results have often followed the pouring of kerosene on a fire by a child. All small children love to play with fire

Mrs. R. P. Carruth, who lives ten miles northeast of town, delightfully entertained the pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. R. T. Breedlove, his wife and two daughters, Mary and Irma Tom, at lunch Sunday. Miss Fontella Carruth returned with them in the afternoon. She is employed by the Terry County Abstract Co., where she has been working for about three months. The Carruths formerly lived at Hobbs, N. M., but have been here for several years.

Although Texas is the largest producer of cattle, there are only three small commercial tanneries in the State, according to a survey just completed by the Texas Planning Board.

TRUCKS DELIVER MORE THAN HALF OF CATTLE

The gentle art of driving cattle in to market has undergone an important and far-reaching change, according to a report recently made public by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The old way for the rancher to take his cattle out on the road and ride herd on them with the aid of dogs and horses, driving them along the highway to the market center.

For larger markets, the ranchers would drive their cattle into town and load them on railroad cars. Any way you look at it, a cloud of dust was the almost inevitable accompaniment of the market.

But today the truck has shown itself to be so economical and so effective that it now transports a large percentage of all livestock. The Department of Agriculture report shows that during last year, 56 per cent, or more than half of all cattle; and 67 per cent, or more than two-thirds of all calves, received at the principal markets of the country arrived by truck.

HOOVER SAYS SCOUTING CUTS CRIME

J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has high regard for the values of Scouting to the growing boy, and pays tribute to the program as a factor in reducing juvenile delinquency.

Mr. Hoover said: "I know of no movement more worthy of the moral and financial support of those interested in law enforcement in each and every community than that of supporting the activities of the Boy Scouts of America. The benefits derived by our future citizens from Scouting activities are, of course, known to all who are interested in activities for the common good."

"I have been, of course particularly concerned with works in connection with the apprehension of major criminals. The extension of Scouting activities to the boys of the entire country will reduce the development of modern bandits and racketeers to a minimum, render easier the work of law enforcement officials in future generations, conduce materially to the elevation of the moral and social life of our communities."

"On most farms superphosphate and legumes help build up the soil, boost crop yields, and cut production costs."

Legend: Texas farmers, in complying with the agricultural conservation program in 1936, planted 1,625,236 acres in 222 counties to legumes and an additional 3,819,329 acres in 228 counties are devoted to other soil-conserving crops and practices. Experiments of Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations have shown that rotation of crops increase yields by adding fertility and holding moisture.

Farmers in the State who complied with the agricultural conservation program in 1936 diverted 3,773,415 acres from their cotton acreage and used these acres for planting legumes and for other soil-conserving crops and practices.

HOW OLD WAS THE EGG?

At breakfast one morning the town bachelor noticed some handwriting on one of his three-minute eggs. Examining it closely he made out the following message: "This egg was packed by a girl who is prepared to marry the man who notices this message. She is said to be the prettiest girl in this neighborhood."

He wrote: "I would like to correspond with you—object matrimony."

Several days later he received a reply: "I am flattered by your offer, but I am now married and have three children."

MUSSOLINI'S METHOD IS MILD

Many have pointed the finger of scorn at Mussolini because of his dictatorship in Italy. However, if we will just think the question out, we have a greater dictator in our own country than Mussolini has ever tried to be. Labor dictator John Lewis is causing more harm by far than Mussolini has ever caused. His action has been purely communistic and he is not willing to be satisfied with controlling the laboring section in America, but is using his influence to tie up all industry and derail progress in the country. President Washington sent the U. S. Army against the insurrectionists in western Pennsylvania when they refused to co-operate. What is the difference in a whiskey class tying up progress and a labor leader doing the same thing in a greater way? President Theodore Roosevelt sent leaders of insurrectionists to the penitentiary and even a man of as great renown as Eugene V. Debs had to take his medicine for being a leader in a doctrine contrary to American government. It is possible that we are going to forget that part where our Constitution gives every citizen the right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness and permit one man through his influence to tie up the progress and happiness of millions in our country? The laboring class are gaining nothing by following the leadership of Lewis. They may advance their salaries a few cents more per day, but the hike in prices and the time they lose will far overcome the gain. Thousands gave up their wages for 100 days when they were drawing good salaries during the General Motors strike and then received just a few cents increase in salary—they sacrificed $500, to $800 each for the time they lost and it will take two or three years to gain the amount back by the increase they received. And Mr. Lewis accepted the increase for them. He received his pay and it was plenty, too, but the laborer with a family of probably cold, hungry children had to take the loss while Mr. Lewis got his salary. Again the middle class, has to pay for the increase, not the manufacturers and traders.—Dickens County Times.

Federal Land Bank's 20th Birthday Apr. 3.

Saturday, April 3 is the Federal Land Bank's twentieth Birthday. On that date 1917 the Bank's charter was issued. Soon afterwards in that year many National farm loan associations were chartered.

To celebrate this birthday, the Federal Land Bank has arranged for a half hour historical narrative over the radio, depicting episodes in the twenty years of Bank history. The radio program will be given over the Texas Quality Network, including Stations KPRC Houston, WBAP Fort Worth, WFAA Dallas and WOIA San Antonio, and will begin at 10:30 A. M., Saturday April 3, and will last until 11:00 o'clock.

All members of this Association as well as their friends and other people are urged to tune in on this program at the time stated above. Don't forget the time and date.

ALLRED APPOINTS NEW PERSONAL SECRETARY

Visitors to Governor James V. Allred's office under the big dome at Austin this week were greeted by modest, smiling Dero D. Cowley, a 27-year-old former member of the legislature from Hillsboro, who is the new First Secretary to the Governor.

Cowley, a lank six footer, succeeded stocky Pat D. Moreland, genial poet-preacher, in presiding over the Governor's front office on St. Patrick's Day, Cowley's birthday and the day Governor Allred's third son, Sam Houston Allred, was born in the Executive Mansion.

As a legislator, Cowley made a reputation for getting things done with no ballyhoo, few speeches and fewer bitter fights. He supported the Allred program and the present Speaker, Bob Calvert, also from Hillsboro.

The son of a retired Hillsboro merchant, Cowley worked his way through the local high school and two years of the University of Texas, and as a hardware clerk made many friends, who twice elected him representative. He declined to seek a third term. His warm personality and friendship with old colleagues in the legislature slate him to be a popular secretary.

Serving with Cowley are George Clarke and Alma Mullins Albert as second and third secretaries. Governor Allred appointed Moreland to the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

TO RAISE MEMORIAL FOR NEW LONDON

AUSTIN, Texas, April 1, 1937.—City and county school superintendents throughout the state have been called upon this week to cooperate with Governor James V. Allred's New London School Memorial Committee by making it possible for every school child in Texas to participate in memorial donations.

The Governor has designated April 7th as "New London School Memorial Day" and called upon teachers throughout Texas public schools to conduct classroom memorial exercises and allow each child to contribute a penny toward the erection of a suitable memorial. The funds collected will be forwarded directly to the Governor at Austin for use by the Memorial Committee.

Hundreds of school children have written him and asked for permission to cooperate in the movement, Governor Allred said in his proclamation. "Such an expression of love and sympathy from the school children of Texas would be comforting to the grieving parents of those who so short a time ago shared the joys of the classroom," said the proclamation. "Such an expression from the living would say of New London's heroic little victims 'your sacrifice was not in vain,' that those who carry on in the classroom will do so under every protection known to state government."

Governor Allred suggested that the memorial will serve the twofold purpose of memorializing the young victims of the school blast and as a perpetual resolve that no such disaster ever again be visited upon a Texas community.

All donations should be addressed to the New London School Memorial Committee in care of the Governor's Office, Austin, Texas.

Pan American Fair Traces Mexico's Mails Back Through Centuries to Indian Runners

PAN AMERICA, Dallas, Texas, March 29.—From the days when Aztec runners carried hieroglyphs of tribal chieftains to Montezuma and emperors before him, through the centuries down to today's super-efficient postal system of Mexico, the means of communications below the Rio Grande will be shown in an exhibit planned as part of the Mexican participation in the Pan American Exposition at Dallas.

Mexico's Postmaster General Alfonso Gomez Moretin

Postmaster General Alfonso Gomez Moretin of Mexico has not committed his government definitely to the idea. In a recent visit with Director General Frank L. McNeny of Pan America, however, he described the plan he has for portraying an intriguing story; how the mail has gone through between Mexico City and points outlying from the capital since the days when it was Tenochtitlan.

Long before European governments first thought of systemized postal service, the Incas and Aztecs had a runner system of carrying their cochineal-dyed writings on silk and maguey fibers about official business of empires that flourished before the Golden Age of Greece.

In Montezuma's reign, communications had developed to the stage that, when Cortez landed his conquistadores at Vera Cruz the news was transmitted in less than twenty-four hours to the emperor at the capital, 200 miles away.

The mails from Spain and how they were carried, how mail was speeded up when the horse was introduced as a new and faster beast of burden and developments from the very start of the Mexican national government are on record as part of a treasured collection in the postoffice department at Mexico City.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

Nothing in a community can replace the preaching of the pure Gospel of Jesus Christ. We rejoice to preach that Gospel because of Paul's statement in Romans 1:16.

The pastor, Brother Bredlove, expects to preach Sunday morning on the general theme of Excuses, the text being: "They Began to Make Excuses," Luke 14, 18. An honest reason for not doing one's duty and living up to one's privileges is of course all right, but an insincere and dishonest excuse is the most hypocritical thing a man could put into words. The sermon will be plain, practical, religious. Come to the eleven o'clock service and hear that vital question in religion discussed. You are always welcome at the Methodist Church.

ANOTHER RAISE IN PRICE OF NEWSPRINT

TORONTO, Canada.—It was announced here this week that practically all Canadian print paper mills would support the new base price fixed by the International Paper company for news print paper. That will mean for the first six months of next year another increase of 17 1/2 per cent in the price of print.

In a cable dispatch to the Toronto Financial Post, Lord Rothermere predicts additional heavy increases for 1938 and 1939. Before the close of 1938 he says print paper will be selling at an advance of 34 per cent over the present price.

You can say what you please but when you tell us that the Supreme Court is going to hand unbaised rulings on the new deal we will still disagree with you. Six of those old fellows, who have no one to answer for their opinions, are old time stand pat republicans. Suppose that President Roosevelt were to appoint Herbert Hoover to that bench are you thick headed enough to think that he would favor any law that the new dealers might enact to help the nation go forward financially? You know he wouldn't and the other fellows are just like he is. On the other hand suppose that he were to appoint Joseph Robinson or Morris Sheppard to that bench and the republicans were in power; do you think they would favor old time republican measures. A Supreme Judge is just common clay and in our humble opinion the present members will do anything to block democratic progress.—Ex.

MONUMENTS TO NEGLECT

The warden of Alcatraz prison said in a recent address that the finest prisons we can build are only monuments to neglected youth.

Imagine the career of some hardened criminal. There was probably a day in his life when some little thing could turn him either to the crooked path or the straight way. Perhaps he was hesitating at some moment, whether to go home and read a book or newspaper, or to see what was doing on the playground, or go down town and hunt up the street gang.

Perhaps the parents had failed to provide any book that was both good and interesting. Perhaps no one had planned so that a boy could find a real game on the playground. So the youth drifted down to the gang. Someone perhaps suggested taking a car for a joyride. They did so, they enjoyed a hilarious evening and no one discovered them. Next time they took a car, they sold it for money. From there the path led on to prison, to the monument of neglected youth. It is cheaper to give youth what it needs, than to allow it to take what it thinks it wants. Ex.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Many are attending the services, but some are absent. You cannot live the Christian life and neglect the worship, nor can you be saved and not have fellowship in Lord's work. You say your are for the church; then prove your loyalty by attending the services, and using your influence toward its development and progress.

Bring your children to the Bible Study if you haven't the time to teach them God's word. They must receive that teaching some way. It is their right, and it is their protection against the many sins that destroy. Come to church Sunday.

Fire Loses in Texas On the Decrease

AUSTIN, April 7.—Texas' total fire loss has decreased over 50 per cent during the last two years, Marvin Hall Fire Insurance Commissioner, announced today.

"Figures compiled from the reports of over 500 Texas fire marshals show that the high fire loss trend of 1931 and 1932 has taken a steep swing downward in recent years," Hall said. "The total loss for those two depression years was $32,638,537. The loss for the years 1935 and 1936 was $13,732,587—still too high an amount, but encouraging nevertheless."

According to the fire marshals' reports to the Texas Fire Insurance Department, 79 per cent of the 6,514 fires in 1932 occurred in dwellings, with a loss ratio of 55 per cent. In 1935, 68 per cent of the fires occurred in dwellings, and in 1936 the number decreased to 2,897, or 62 1/2 per cent of the total number of fires. The loss ratio has decreased 20 per cent in five years.

PHOSPHATES MAKE PASTURES PRODUCE ON MOST FARMS

The most commonly known deficiencies in Texas pastures are generally phosphorus, humus, and nitrogen. These deficiencies not only result in a lowered yield of forage and an increase of undesirable grasses, but in a lowered mineral content in all plants. In other words, if a soil is lacking in phosphorus, the grasses will not only make less growth, but animals grazing the pasture will not get enough phosphates for their needs.

Barnyard manure at the rate of five to eight tons an acre, and usually applied in the fall, will give good results on most pastures. Since manure is strong in nitrogen and weak in phosphorus, it should be supplemented with superphosphates.

Superphosphate alone may be the most profitable, because it costs less than the other mineral fertilizers and encourages growth of legumes which in turn produce more nitrogen for the grasses.

The Agricultural Conservation Program carries provisions for benefit payments for the use of superphosphate. County agricultural agents can explain this feature of the program.

BONES, SCRAP IRON NEW SOURCES OF REVENUE

AUSTIN, Texas, April 5.—Texas farmers are reaping a harvest selling bones at $10 per ton and scrap iron at $4 and $5 per ton, according to a survey just completed by the Texas Planning Board.

Most of the bones are being purchased for fertilizer, chicken feed and bone meal. The best grade of bones are being bought up by sugar factories for use as a bleaching agent for pure cane sugar.

The scrap iron is being purchased by buyers representing Japan. Texas farmers who "plowed under" thousands of head of cattle for the Government during the AAA cattle buying program are now writing a glorious end to this phase of the New Deal by digging up the bones of the slaughtered cattle and selling them for fifty cents per hundred pounds.

It is not uncommon to see scores of wagons scouring the countryside in some parts of the state for bones. In several West Texas towns huge piles of bones have taken the place of the usual scrap iron heaps.

And They Let George Do It!

GEORGE RECTOR, international famous cooking authority, knows how important time is to modern housewives. That's why he likes to tell them about recipes which take but a few minutes. In the above photograph he is making a Timbouchon egg dish in five minutes and using a modern automatic gas range to do the trick. Eggs must be cooked with gentle heat, so he fries three in one-half tablespoon butter, adjusting the burner valve to simmer. In a jiffy the eggs are done and transferred to a hot platter, seasoned with salt and pepper, and sprinkled with one tablespoon chopped chives. Adding one tablespoon butter to that remaining in the skillet, he quickens the gas flame, lets the butter bubble to a hazelnut brown, adds one-half tablespoon vinegar and pours the sauce over the eggs. There you have Eggs Au Beurre Noir. Mr. Rector, familiar to radio listeners, is now heard thrice weekly in the "Dining With George Rector" program over WABC—the Columbia network.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO EXEMPT TRUCKS FROM MOTOR CARRIER ACT

AUSTIN, March 31.—The Senate last week passed a substitute to a House bill exempting private commercial trucks from regulations of the Motor Carrier Act.

The legislation resulted from a Supreme Court decision which held such carriers subject to regulations of contract carriers.

The Senate measure would authorize permits for trucks of merchants and manufacturers, carrying their own goods, simply by application and payments of $5 and $2 license fees.

Exempted were persons carrying their own farm implements, household goods, agricultural products, petroleum products and live stock.

Private commercial truckers would not be required to purchase cargo plates or workmen's compensation insurance.

The Senate stipulated enforcement should begin within 120 days.

Mrs. Andrew and Miss Mamie Drennan, both of the Cinderella Beauty Shoppe, attended the Beauty Show and School at Lubbock last week. They took special lessons in hair designing from Paul of Hollywood and George W. Scoggins from Abilene.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

Call a girl a chick and she smiles. Call her a hen and she howls. Call a young woman a witch and she is pleased; call an old woman a witch and she is indignant. Call a girl a kitten and she rather likes it; call a woman a cat and she hates you. Women are queer.

"If you call a man a gay dog, it will flatter him; call him a pup, a hound or cur, and he will try to alter the map of your face. He doesn't mind being called a bull or a bear, yet he will object to being mentioned as a calf or a cub. Men are queer too."

"A man's wife is certainly a great help to him, isn't she?"
"She certainly is. She'll stand by you through all the troubles you wouldn't have had if you had stayed single."

How To Enhance and Preserve Your Charm

An effective and beautiful make-up can be attained only when the skin itself has been kept lithe and lovely. Needless and ugly little lines must not be permitted to remain. The surface of the skin, if it is to have the delicacy of texture, the subtle glow of youthful health, must be nourished and protected and safely—yet effectively—cleansed. Then it becomes possible for a skillful make-up to wonderfully reveal all your natural charm.

MARTHA TURNER'S ACNE TREATMENT

- 1.—Clean skin with Cleansing cream—remove.
- 2.—Apply Acne Cream—let remain on over night.

MORNING TREATMENT AND MAKE-UP

- 1.—Clean skin with Cleansing cream—remove.
- 2.—Apply Honey Cream Lotion—remove. (Note Acne conditions are almost always followed by an oily skin hence the oily skin treatment for day use.)
- 3.—Bathe skin with Astringent—remove.
- 4.—Smooth on Acne Lotion, then powder, rouge and lipstick.
- 5.—Remove powder from eyelids, lashes and brows with Lash-Brow Grower.

HOW TO APPLY HONEY PACK

- 1.—Clean skin with Cleansing cream—remove.
- 2.—Apply Acne Cream, do not remove.
- 3.—Apply Honey Pack—allow to dry—remove by a gentle massaging stroke of the finger tips, then sponge skin with cold water.
- 4.—Apply Acne Cream, allow to remain on 15 or 20 minutes, then apply make up. If Pack is taken at night, allow Acne Cream to remain on all night. Take every other day for 3 or 4 weeks, then once a week.
