Community Chest

Friona is growing up. In fact, in many respects, Friona is already quite grownup. Friona has progressive ideas about city government, school facilities, improvements such as paving, the water and sewer systems.

But Friona is living in the dark ages so far as charity organization is concerned. Friona is still using the horse-and-buggy method of raising money for this or that worthy cause.

And because of antiquated methods, there is a constant turmoil over what agency shall engage in what fund-raising activities, who shall have the responsibility of seeing that drives are organized and effectively carried out, and what the goals of each shall be.

Then too, consider the average citizen, who is requested to be a donor and supporter of so many worthwhile things. Don't you suppose that he is a little overwhelmed with the requests, which may come one right after another for several months in a row?

Sometimes, investigation will reveal, Joe Citizen gets a little weary about being "hit up" so many times. Instead of thinking of the moderate size of his total contri-

But Friona needs organized charity. The summer or "slack" season is at hand when it would be very practical to organize a community chest, red feather, or some other group which could roll all these jobs into one.

A community chest not only could—but would—result in considerable streamlining of our charity activities, and perhaps not would—but could, if well staged—result in an actual increase in the contributions total that would be available for distribution to the various worthwhile agencies.

We're for community chest. It makes sense. And it's humane, not only to the receiver, but to the giver.

County Wide Red Cross Drive Goes Over County Quota

According to an announcement made by Wesley Foster, Parmer County Red Cross chairman, the county wide drive which has just been concluded exceeded the quota set for the county. Foster is deeply appreciative of the generous response with which the drive was met.

Mrs. John Aldridge served as chairman of the drive at Farwell and with her helpers did a "remarkable job," according to Foster's statement. The chairman of the Bovina drive, Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, was also commended very highly for the job she did.

The drive in Friona was conducted by Ella Lamb and Fern Awtrey, who did a "very good job contacting local people and soliciting their support." Foster said he would like to express his gratitude to all who contributed to the drive and to all those who worked in the interest of it.

Mrs. Ellis Tatum reported for the Black Community and part of the Rhea Community's funds have been turned in. Up until noon Tuesday, the total amount contributed amounted to $1452.09. Reports from the Lakeview and Lazbuddie Communities should be received within the next few days.

The amounts contributed to date are: Farwell, $436.32; Black, $61.50; Rhea, $51.00; and Friona, $586.66.

Spring Practice Begins For Girls

Spring basketball practice for the Friona Squaws are now underway, with about 40 girls out for practice, reports Baker Duggins, coach. Girls participating are grades eight through eleven, the ones who will make up the high school next season.

Following the basketball workouts, the girls will participate in track and volleyball. It will be the first time that track has been offered as a girl's sport at Friona, Duggins says. Events they will participate in are the short dashes, broad jump, and high jump.

Black Community Completes Plans

The Black Rural Neighborhood Progress Club met at the community house Wednesday evening to make final arrangements for closing the year's work and to make plans for the coming of the judges. Word has been received from Knox Parr, district extension agent, that the judging team will be in the Black Community April 24 to check accomplishments of the community.

Judges will be Cotton John Smith of Amarillo, and H. M. Nichols and Janie Fletcher, extension agents in Carson County. They will be accompanied by Parr and Edith Lois Wilson, District I extension agents.

There are five communities in this district entered in the contest. Each community will be judged on progress made during the past 12 months in a number of divisions, such as crop, live-stock production, health, safety, recreation, farm and home improvements, education, religious activities, and general community service and neighborliness.

One goal of the Black Community during the past year has been increased farm and home safety. They were selected by the state safety council to receive a certificate of award in the Farm and Ranch division at the State Safety Convention in Houston, March 24-27. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Braxton and Mr. and Mrs. John Bengner made a trip to Houston to accept the award.

While there, the group joined the Safety Council and placed the Black Community as a member. They have since received a letter of congratulations from Willie L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer at College Station. He notified the community that it is the first rural community to make such a contribution to the council.

On the program will be Lee Pool, Dolph Moten, Jim Terrell, and Bill Ory. The club invites all A & M men and students in the area and friends of the college to join in the tradition.

WSCS Elects New Officers

WSCS of the Friona Methodist Church met for a regular business meeting in the home of Mrs. Howard Ford Tuesday morning at 9:30. New officers were elected and reports were given on the WSCS district meeting, which was held at Canyon, Thursday, April 11.

The local unit received an honor certificate because of having an increase in membership of more than 10 percent. At this meeting Mrs. Howard Ford of Friona was elected district secretary of promotion.

Newly elected officers are Mrs. Jean Anthony, president; Mrs. Andy Hurst, vice-president; Mrs. Glenn Roberson, secretary; Mrs. Homer Lindeman, assistant secretary; Mrs. Ernest Anthony, treasurer; Mrs. U. S. Aken, promotion secretary; and Mrs. I. T. Graves, secretary of Christian social relations.

Prichard Fourth In Mile

Sterling Prichard, Friona's senior miler, was the only Chief entry in the regional track meet at Lubbock last weekend to place. Prichard finished with the fourth best time in the mile to give Friona its only point in the meet.

Friona had nine men qualify for the meet, but illness the week prior to the meet and cold weather both were a hindrance to the local cindermen. Jerry Chiles, a member of the 440-yard relay team, failed to make the trip due to illness and several other Chiefs had been plagued with illness all week, but did make the trip.

Coach Colie Huffman said that he was well pleased with the boy's performance considering all angles. Competition was keen in each event as schools from all over the Panhandle, and South Plains, participated.

Friona athletes making the trip were Phillip Weatherly, Bomar Stacey, Gary Goetz, Don McMahan, Jerry London, Weldon Fairchild, Jackie Sheek, and Prichard.

Seniors Attend "Career Day"

About 30 seniors from Friona High School were in Muleshoe last Friday, taking part in "Career Day" activities. Seniors from all over this area were present for counseling in each student's chosen field.

Also, entertainment was provided and representatives from all branches of the armed service were on hand to talk with the graduating groups. The Friona seniors were accompanied by Baker Duggins.

Friona Netters Fall In Regional Meet

Friona had four representatives in the regional tennis matches at Lubbock last Friday, but failed to place in any of the divisions. Nevertheless, the victors over the local tennis players did right well, two of them going on to championships.

Representing Friona in the boy's doubles were Nolin Johnson and Burkie Hand. They won over Clarendon in the first round, 6-4 and 6-2, but fell to Spearman in the second round. Spearman topped the Friona team, 10-8, 3-6, and 6-1, and then went on to the regional championship.

Both of Friona's singles representatives bowed in the opening round. Wesley Barnett topped his opponent in the first game, 6-1, but lost the next two, 4-6 and 1-6, in the boys division.

Lila Gay Buske, playing in the girl's singles, fell to a player from Canadian, 6-1 and 6-1.

Home and Business Building In Decline

By W. H. Graham, Jr.

New home and business construction in Friona is considerably off the pace set last year, permits at the city clerk's office reveal. Last year, however, would be a tough year to live up to, since in 1956, Friona built 37 new homes and erected 12 new business buildings — an all-time record for the city.

Just the same, with the coming of spring and more agreeable weather, it doesn't hurt to take a look at the building picture to see how things are sizing up. Right now, activity is very slow; however, the best construction weather is just ahead. Bill Nunn, manager of Carl McCaslin Lumber, Inc., believes that most of the slump can be traced to financial limitations. The government's "tight money" policy has had its effect on mortgage money. In fact, it has about dried up the FHA-insured sources and made this type of financing very difficult to come by.

"A working man just can't afford the down payment required today to get a new house," he says.

The manager reports that building supplies and labor are in good supply, and that he believes that the high cost of both of these items is not the principal factor. It is simply a matter of financing.

Looking at the future, he is uncertain about developments and not anxious to do much speculating.

Os Lange, manager of Rockwell Bros., points out that unfavorable weather this spring has had its effect. He adds that it is usually during the summer and fall months that building permits begin to rise.

He's more optimistic about money matters, too. The economic condition, generally, is good, he believes. Lange says that after the first of the year, people are busy with tax matters and planning for changes in their business for the coming year, and seldom have the time needed to plan for building.

"I don't see anything to cause alarm," he said. "Look for May and June to be good building months."

Friona's growth since 1950 has been rapid, indeed. On the heels of large scale irrigation development and the expansion of our agricultural economy, building activity spiraled.

In 1950, 26 new homes and businesses were erected. In 1951 the number was 33; in 1952, 14; 1953, 21; 1954, 33; and 1955, 38.

To Abilene

Several Friona residents visited the campus of Abilene Christian College over the weekend. Mrs. Rene Shead and Mrs. Eugene Boggess accompanied by Janet Shead, Margaret Mabry, Elaine Holcomb, Dolores Elmore, Jan Edelman, Paula Neel, Robbie Boggess, and Phyllis Hinds, went down Friday afternoon and returned Sunday evening. James Mabry, Jimmy Mabry, and Gene Wright attended the track events Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cox and daughter, Vicki Jo, of Lubbock, were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waymon Wilkins and children.

Tuesday evening guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Brand were Mr. and Mrs. Buster Davis and Homer Horner.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cunningham were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cunningham at Amarillo.

Mrs. Edker Miller and son, Dale, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rickerd this week.

Build a stronger, richer life

WORSHIP TOGETHER EVERY WEEK!

You know the hymn—"How firm a Foundation?" Of course you do. But it's more than a hymn. To many it is a way of life.

The foundation is faith. Faith that gives every day a shining new quality. Faith that provides a strong shelter in time of need. Faith that sustains you in sickness and trouble. Faith that makes life a great adventure, truly worth living.

You find faith as a member of a family, as a member of a community. Worshipping together every week, with those you love, with others who believe as you do—gives you strength to carry through with hope and courage.

You can build a stronger, richer life—on a firm foundation of faith. Worship together this week . . . every week!

Friona Will Lose $7,000 in State Aid

One price of being a little better off financially speaking, patrons of the Friona Schools will discover next year, is that it will be necessary for the local district to carry a little heavier load as its share of the state-run aid to education program.

In Friona's case, the money which will be required to participate in the program is anticipated by the school administration to increase by approximately $7,000 next year.

Although it is true that rising daily attendance and other factors will entitle the local district to more state money, a change in the "economic index" by which local support of the Foundation program is determined will far outstrip the additional benefits.

This extra $7,000 will help tighten the budget squeeze the school has been feeling.

However, looking at the overall picture, it is readily apparent that local taxpayers can be thankful to many other more prosperous districts in the state, because it pays Friona far more than it costs to participate in the program.

Next year, the Friona system will be eligible to receive about $140,000. Around $28,000 will be paid back to the state to help run the program. Some counties that have oil, industry, or other factors that make them more prosperous, pay in considerably more than they receive. The Foundation seeks to "level" education across the state.

All of this is a result of a rise of 26 percent in the economic index applied to Parmer County. The county is figured to have .126 percent of the wealth of the state, compared to .100 percent which has been used in recent years.

Parmer County's increase was third highest in Texas, ranking behind only Coke and Reagan Counties, both of which have been jumped because of recent oil production increases.

This year, it cost Parmer County $55,648 to participate in the state program; next year it'll be $73,408, so the three other school districts in the county will have similar squeezed budgets.

The economic index is based on county assessed valuation, scholastic population, and income total. The latter is by far the most important, since it constitutes 72 parts of the total.

Bailey County's index: .117; Castro's, .142; Deaf Smith's, .146; and Lamb's, .294.

Party Honors Mrs. Nora Reagan

Mrs. Nora Reagan was guest of honor at a birthday party Tuesday afternoon on her 84th birthday. Guests gathered at her home and refreshments of cake and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. David Moseley and Mrs. Bertie Stowers.

Members of Mrs. O. J. Beene's Kindergarten visited with Mrs. Reagan and sang "Happy Birthday" to her. Out of town guests were Mrs. Oleta Barnett and son, Tony, of Lubbock, and Mrs. Mildred Cook of Shallowater.

Others present were Mesdames C. A. Holmgren, Will Osborn, Pearl Hand, Jake Lamb, F. L. Reed, Myrtle Crow, David Moseley, James Boyle, and Bertie Stowers.

PTA Meeting Is Postponed

The regular meeting of the Friona PTA, which was scheduled for Thursday evening, has been indefinitely postponed due to the two-day Easter holiday which the school will observe. The installation of officers was to have been held, but a number of persons who were scheduled to have parts in the program will not be available.

According to an announcement made early this week by Ella Lamb, president, no definite date has been set for the installation, but tentative plans are being made for the meeting to be rescheduled early in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Brand and Katherine made a business trip to Hereford Friday.

Spanish Class Has 31

Response to the Claborn and Star-sponsored conversational Spanish courses has been so heavy that two classes will be created here, and another course will be started in Lazbuddie.

This decision came after 35 people turned out for the second class Tuesday evening at the Friona School. Teacher of the class is Ben Vera of Floydada.

Starting next Tuesday, the classes will meet from 7 until 8:30 and from 8:30 until 10. It costs $1 per lesson to participate.

Baxters Honored By Auxiliary

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Baxter were honored with a farewell party and were presented gifts at a social hour which followed the regular meeting of the Parmer County Community Hospital Auxiliary at the educational building of the First Baptist Church Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson were welcomed by the organization. The Baxters and their children, Beverly, Roger, and Deloris, are moving to Littlefield in the near future. Baxter has been employed by the hospital several years and Mrs. Baxter has been an active member of the auxiliary since its organization.

Mrs. Claude Osborn presided over the business meeting at which routine matters were attended to.

Lawtons Become Great-Grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Lawton received word last week that Mr. and Mrs. Leo H. Whinsant of Gainesville, Missouri, are the parents of a baby girl. She was born April 2, weighed 8 lbs. 12 oz. and was named Susan Darlene.

Mrs. Whinsant is the former Bonnie Lou Sissell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. (Pat) Sissell, who are former Friona residents. Mrs. Sissell is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawton.

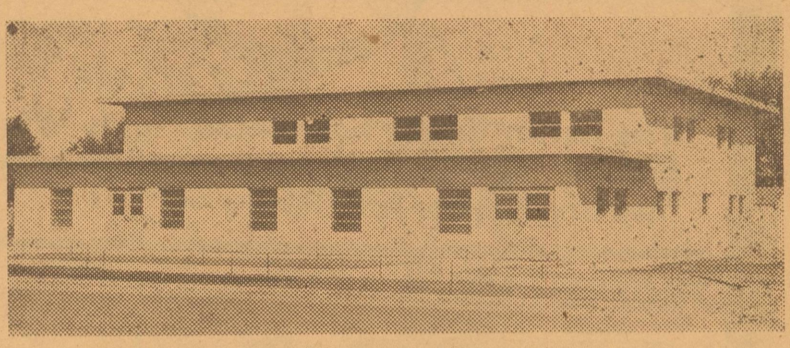

Den VI Has Egg Hunt

Nine members of Cub Scout Den VI met at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Fite for an Easter egg hunt Monday afternoon. After eggs were hidden by Thelma Johnson, Ruthie Fite, Taleta Mabry, and Decimae Beene, the boys hunted them in a wheat field.

Those present were Terry Fite, Larry Johnson, Scott Cummings, Larry Buckley, Jay Beene, Leonard Whitten, Tommy Sherley, Chuck McKinney, and Johnny Mabry. Terry Fite served ice cream cakes and cold drinks.

THERE'S AN ELECTRIC HEATING METHOD FOR EVERY HOME NEED!

Electric Heating is CLEAN, MODERN, AND SAFE!

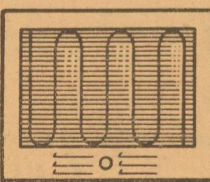

Now, instantaneous, comfortable heating — of course, it's electric! Whether you are building your new home, remodeling or adding a room to your present home, you can use electric heating. The advantages you have with your electric working appliances are also yours with electric heating. Electric heating is the cleanest form of heating known. Now is the time to solve your heating problems for next winter and years to come. For information, without obligation, see your Public Service Company manager.

 CEILING HEATING UNIT WITH CIRCULATING FAN
Ceiling heating units are ideal for bedrooms, hallways or kitchens. They can be used as the main heat source or as auxiliary heating. A flip of the switch gives you heat where you want it and, if desired, a controlling thermostat can be added for automatic operation.

 RADIANT-CONVECTION WALL HEATERS
This type of electric heating you've seen many times either in portable heaters or in wall-mounted units. Such electric heating units are inexpensive, can be thermostatically controlled and are easily installed. One answer to the problem of heating a room added on.

 RADIANT GLASS, METAL or CERAMIC PANELS
Nearest thing to the warmth of the sun's natural heat rays is electric radiant heat. Heating coils are imbedded in a heat conducting material which, through radiation, warms your family, floors, furniture. These units, mounted on wall, near floor, come in various sizes, up to 50½ inches long.

 HEAT LAMPS
Heat lamps are used where quick spot heating is desired — over work benches, in garages, working on the family car, etc. A heat lamp can be inserted in place of a regular lighting bulb, or it can be installed permanently in bathroom ceilings, etc.

 YOUR PRESENT HOME

 THAT ROOM YOU'RE ADDING ON

 YOUR NEW HOME

 BASEBOARD HEATING UNITS
Electric baseboard heating is completely inconspicuous since it can be painted to match or contrast with wall colors. In practically all homes the heating requirement is met by installation along outside walls only. Furniture can be placed anywhere without interfering with your heating.

 EMBEDDED CEILING CABLES OR PANELS
As in all electric heating your furnace is miles away (at the electric power plant). You turn on a switch and get completely clean electric heat. Continuous coils are run back and forth across entire ceiling area and then covered with plaster or texture paint material. Heating system is completely out of sight.

 THE AMAZING NEW HEAT PUMP
Here's the amazing "heat pump" which uses the principle employed in your electric refrigerator to "pump" heat to you in winter and cool air in the summer. It's a combination central unit which costs approximately the same as the central heating and cooling units in conventional use. No matter the outside weather, the "heat pump" adjusts immediately to give you the weather you want inside your home.

Street Paving? Friona's Got It!

Just where Friona ranks among Texas cities of its size in terms of street paving isn't definite at the moment, but it must be close to the top.

An inventory just finished by the city shows that Friona has 184.26 blocks of paving within the city limits—not bad for a city of slightly more than 2,000.

That's 10.47 miles of asphalt streets—or enough to go for a nice ride on some Sunday afternoon. It should be added, however, that the total includes 11th Street (Highway 60) which is state-built and maintained, plus Main Street and 5th Street, which also fall under that category.

However, the city provided the right-of-way and built the curb and gutter to make the improvements a reality, which is no small item.

The city's investment in the streets total $73,883.69, which also includes street signs and signals. Paving in Friona got started in 1948.

The city is protecting its investment in the paved streets with a thorough maintenance program, which is just getting underway now that the weather is warming. "Chug holes" from place to place throughout the town are being filled with caliche which will be "crowned" to let traffic pack it for a time then the top of the caliche fill will be removed and a permanent asphalt patch applied.

City Clerk Roy Wilson says that most of these minor damages are the result of car and truck mud chains which chewed holes in the brittle pavement during bad weather.

The city's repair program will not really get underway until after May 1. By then, city workers will be aided with some additional repairing equipment, including an asphalt melting kettle and a patch roller. Other supplies are already on hand.

Lions Need Money

The Friona Lions Club needs money. That's why it's staging a big talent and fun show next Friday night.

However, there are good reasons behind this fund-raising activity. The club is "in hock" to the local bank for $1,000, which was borrowed to help pay for about $2,600 worth of equipment donated to the kitchen of the new Parmer County Community Hospital.

That's the No. 1 money worry of the club right now. However, the donation they made to the hospital was not the only thing they did that cost money last year.

Lions Secretary Charles Osborn points out that the club sent $41.32 to the crippled children's home at Kerrville, contributed $25 to the summer recreation program, purchased glasses for needy children during the year, and sponsored a supervisor to the summer Boy Scout camp.

They also had rides for the kids and gave a pancake breakfast during the 50th Anniversary Celebration with receipts going to the hospital, helped move the hospital into its new building, and sponsored a circus and held a broom sale, with funds once again channeled to the hospital.

Those are a few of the reasons why the club is broke—and will try to get out of the red next Friday night.

The Lions will rehearse their show Friday night at 8 o'clock at the high school. Boss Lion Charles Allen has urged all members to be sure to attend.

down on the pretext of 'cleaning it up real good.'"

We've been trying to get Ralph Taylor to put his Main Street garden into the soil bank. Things look pretty tough to us.

Ralph is staying with it, though, and maybe his labors will pay off. He proudly announced this week the radishes and onions are up, and that he has set out his tomatoes, to boot.

We made an error last week for which we would like to apologize. We said Herman Helton failed to turn in his equipment to the city when he was asked to resign as an officer.

Helton was not the officer involved in this instance, and although we haven't heard from him (he now lives in Hereford), we'd like to clear his name on this anyway.

We were in Amarillo over the weekend to attend the Panhandle Press Association convention. It wasn't until we got back in Friona that we realized that one of the featured speakers was a buddies of Orville Houser.

Major General Archie Old, who led the flight of B-52's around the world last month, drew a lot of attention from the usual "I've seen everything" editors who seldom raise their eyebrows.

The thing he said that stuck with us was that today, two jet-powered aircraft can deliver bombs with enough destructive force to equal or exceed all the explosives rained down on Germany and Japan by the Allies during World War II.

Considering the dozens of bombing runs made on Germany which involved literally thousands of planes loaded with everything from incendiary bombs to two-ton block busters, this statement is difficult to imagine.

Old says SAC (Strategic Air Command) believes that it's the tremendous retaliatory power at their command which has thus far discouraged any aggressive action against our country by unfriendly powers.

We admit that men who consider the destructive power at their disposal would weigh carefully the prospect of unleashing it anywhere—lest it come back at them.

After this spine-chilling talk on how many millions of people we can kill if we are of a mind to, we found ourselves going up to our room on the hotel elevator, and Old was aboard.

The general doesn't appear to be made of nails, as you might expect. His manner is very cordial. In fact, we were surprised to note that he tipped his hat and said "Good Night" to the Negro girl who was operating the elevator, as he stepped off onto his floor. We thought this most unusual.

Final Rites Held For Hadley Reeve

tended local schools. Following his graduation from Friona High School in 1929, he attended West Texas State College where he received his degree in 1933.

He also received a master's degree from Texas Tech in 1938. From the fall of 1933 through the spring of 1942 he taught at Tulia, Snyder, and Perryton. Then he served one year as civilian instructor at Scott Field, Illinois. In 1943 he returned to Friona and became associated with the management of Reeve Chevrolet and remained with the firm until his death.

Mr. Reeve was married February 28, 1942, at Denison to Miss Fay Pinckley, who survives him. Other survivors are four children: Floyd 13, Sharon 12, David 6, and Carol 2; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reeve; two brothers, Glenn of Friona; and Charles of Naugatuck, Connecticut; three sisters, Mary Reeve of Pampa, Esther O'Rear of Amarillo, and Ruth Hume of Paynes Creek, California; and eleven nieces and nephews.

He was an active member of the Friona Masonic Lodge and was serving on the school board at the time of his death. He had also been an active member of the Farm Bureau in Farmer County.

Out of town relatives and friends who attended the funeral, besides immediate survivors, were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pinckley and Mr. and Mrs. Jarrett Pinckley of Merkel; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Collins and Mrs. S. E. Cone of Lubbock; Rev. and Mrs. Roy Patterson and Charles of Spade; Mr. and Mrs. Otha Castle and Judy and Mr. and

Mrs. Loyd Morgan, Phillip and Neal, all of Perryton;

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collins of Lamesa, Miss Mary Collins of Merkel, Mrs. W. F. Haggard and Milton Morris of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Ballingee of Phillips; and Maridean Dozier, Mary Gordon, Bernice Larsh, Lillian Mullinax, and Yvonne Goss, all of Pampa.

Graveside rites were conducted by Friona Lodge and interment was in the Friona cemetery under the direction of Claborn Funeral Home.

Rogers Introduces 'Anti-Duval' Measure

Senate Bill 223, designed to prevent future "Duval Counties" and to bring prompt justice in crimes involving misuse of public funds has been introduced in the Texas Senate by Senator Andy Rogers, District 30, of Childress.

A second measure, Senate Bill 224, would give aid in recovering misused or embezzled public funds.

"Every person of civic responsibility in our state is aware by now of what happened in Duval County," Senator Rogers said. "And we are all aware that our laws have to be changed and 'healed up' in certain places in order, first, that a Duval County won't happen again and, second, so that when crimes are committed by persons in public office, the people of Texas can depend on swift justice."

Senate Bill 223 provides for the indictment and prosecution of persons accused of misusing or embezzling public funds, either in the county where the violation occurs or in any adjoining county, or in Travis County. The second bill, Senate Bill 224, would require county attorneys, criminal district attorneys and district attorneys to institute suits in behalf of the county school district or any other political subdivision within their jurisdiction for the recovery of such misused public funds.

"The misuse of funds of the Veterans Land Board and the embezzlements which arose out of the Duval County political mess merely serve as cases in point, terrible examples of what these proposed laws are designed to prevent and punish," Senator Rogers said. "We have seen instances in Texas in which justice was impossible to gain because local county officers, judges and prosecuting attorneys were enmeshed in a powerful web of political filth and intrigue."

"Senate Bill 223 will make it possible for such cases to be brought to the attention of public prosecutors away from the heat of local controversy and free from the pressures of local politics and prejudices."

The Childress lawmaker said that "increased latitudes of jurisdiction and requirements that suits in the public interest be filed by the public attorneys are our only workable answer to the continued existence of machine politics in Texas." He emphasized that since the bills cover only those offenses relating to misuse and recovery of public funds, the principle of local self-government is in no way compromised.

the river that flows on wheels

More petroleum moves over Santa Fe than over any other railroad in the country

The 2,384,000,000 gallons of petroleum that Santa Fe moves every year is the river that flows on wheels.

It's so large that it makes Santa Fe the No. 1 petroleum railroad in the country.

This flood tide of oil gives heat and power to farms, factories, military installations and homes all over the nation.

The tremendous demand for petroleum, in all its forms, poses special problems for Santa Fe. For it requires speed and service to keep that river flowing full force. Here are a few of the ways we get the job done:

We move empty tankers just as fast as full ones, so no vehicle will stand idle.

As new oil fields are opened up, we stand ready to serve them. And when new developments take place within the industry, we adapt ourselves to take care of them.

As an example, take liquefied petroleum gas. The demand for it has skyrocketed in the last 10 years, because with this "bottled gas" rural families can cook and heat with gas just like city people. And the railroads have made it possible for them to get it.

Santa Fe runs special LPG trains when the demand for this product requires it. In a year these trains carry enough LPG to heat over 500,000 homes from November through April.

This is just a part of the story of the dependable transportation service Santa Fe is providing to essential industries that contribute so much to the welfare of our country.

With June

What can be done about the threat of encephalitis in our community? That is a question a lot of persons would like to have an answer to. At the present time we do not know one, but there must be one. It seems to be well established that mosquitoes are carriers of this dread disease.

There was a time when our section of the country was almost mosquito free, but that time has passed. Of course, any locality that has ponds, lakes, or other places where water stands over a long period of time always has mosquitoes.

When widespread irrigation moved into our way of life here, the mosquitoes moved in, too. Any control measures would of necessity have to be widespread. No city or community in the area can effectively combat the problem alone. Cooperation in the project would have to be area-wide.

Maybe someone who has lived in the swamp areas of the United States or other countries could give us a satisfactory answer to the question. If so, we should get in contact with them right away. Mosquito time is too near and the encephalitis epidemic we experienced last summer should be enough to spur us on to doing something before we have another one.

The principle of people in the cold regions of the world building houses out of ice has always been mysterious to us. However, after Friday morning's experience our understanding is broader. The Floyd family car sat outside Thursday night and was facing the west. By morning the entire north side was encased in ice.

When the time came for us to start to work, the big question was how to remove this coating of ice quickly. It was impossible to see through the ice and impossible to scrape it off. Sitting in the car until it became warm enough to melt the ice seemed like a good idea at first, but after sitting there for several minutes we discarded the idea as impractical.

After giving the matter several minutes of serious consideration, the idea of rolling the glass down and breaking the ice stayed in place and formed a wind proof covering over the opening. Once the glass was down, breaking the ice was simple and we soon had the problem solved.

In the future when we think of the many different experiences West Texans have had due to weather peculiarities, we will always remember breaking solid sheets of ice so that we could see to drive.

Postmaster General Summerfield's first cut in postal service will not greatly decrease the service offered by Postmaster McLellan and his staff. Since all routes out of Friona are star routes, the rural patrons will receive mail on Saturday just as usual.

It will be necessary for all patrons of the local office to do all stamp buying before Friday evening. Then, too, we will have to mail packages and other bulk matter before that time. If we understand the matter correctly, the windows will be opened 30 minutes later and closed one hour earlier than we are accustomed to having them open.

Seems as if we will be getting less "junk mail" as we call it, but that may be an improvement rather than an inconvenience. We have long debated about the effectiveness of mailing box holders, circulars, etc., on a widespread scale. It seems doubtful that many persons are interested in reading advertising matter for which they have not asked to have sent to them.

If some of the firms who mail advertising matter in this fashion would step into any post office and view the contents of the trash receptacles at the end of any day, we feel sure they would begin to wonder if money spent for the printing and mailing of such material was well invested.

According to one bit of information we received on the subject, "Other reductions in service are scheduled to begin Monday and a more severe slash will come on April 29." This may not be official, but if it is we will soon know just how much the reduced service will effect us.

SECTION II THE FRIONA STAR

There were more than 20 persons at the first session of the conversational Spanish class at the high school building Tuesday evening. If present indications prove anything, the class is going to be very worthwhile. Everyone seemed very interested and the teacher, Ben Vera of Floydada, was very cooperative and helpful.

One thing he didn't mention as an aid to learning to speak the language was calling on the youngsters in the community for assistance. If you have a child in the first few grades at school, you might be surprised at the words and expressions he has learned from Spanish speaking classmates.

There has been considerable discussion at the high school about the parting gift of the 1957 seniors. One junior boy had a very practical idea and expressed it to a member of the senior class as we sat across the table from them recently. He said, "I know the perfect gift for the seniors to present the school. Just buy an automatic bun warmer, then we will always have hot buns."

Read this somewhere and agree with the writer wholeheartedly: "The most valuable things in the world cannot be bought with money."

Vegetable Interest High at Friona Shed

More than likely, the number of Parmer County farmers who will participate in vegetable production on a commercial scale this year will be few in number, but some of them appear to be headed for vegetables in a big way.

J. T. Ford and sons of near arwell have planted around 70 acres of onions, and say they plan to stick with vegetables "for at least five years."

Meanwhile, in the northeastern part of the county, which for years has been influenced by the big Hereford potato, carrot, lettuce, onion, and sugar beet deals, things are developing.

Herman Neff, who first put a spud shed in Friona four years ago, sold his interest in the business in recent months to a group of local farmers. And these local men, in addition to planning to continue potato production, have plans for business expansion.

"We'll have a carrot deal here within two years for sure," says Kenneth Neill, general manager of the shed, now known as Friona Growers and Shippers. Neill, who lives two miles southwest of Sumnerfield just inside the Parmer County line, has been a vegetable producer for many years.

He and Ray Botkin, Earl Lance, Hardy May, John O'Haugherty, Elmer and J. R. Euler, and Ken-neith Christi are owners of the shed now.

Neill figures that about 400 acres will be planted in potatoes in the Friona area this year, and that over three-fourths of this acreage already has been seeded to red potatoes including Lasodas, Bliss Triumphs, Pontiacs, and Dazocs. These are known as "summer" potatoes.

Plans are, however, to have another planting the latter part of May, this being devoted to Russets, a white potato that comes off in the fall.

Last year, vegetable growers were practically delirious over their extraordinary good fortune. Bumper yields, plus a situation on prices that probably won't be repeated for years, put them out in front in the money-making department. This situation was the one that saw potatoes, carrots, onions, and lettuce all bring top-prices—most unusual.

Things haven't always been so rosy, though. All vegetable markets are subject to wide market fluctuations, which can wreak havoc on the most carefully laid plans and the best of farming practices.

In fact, since potatoes got started good in the area four or five years ago, farmers have only had one good year and one fair one. The rest have been poor.

Even with its high risks, however, Plains vegetable production seems bound to increase. The lure of great profits that can come from the rich soil of the Plains and our abundant water is having its effect. More and more farmers are at least looking into vegetable growing as acreages of basic crops shrink and prices for non-basics decline.

Neill, asked about prospects for the year, said bluntly that he expects "average or lower—probably lower" prices for potatoes this year, primarily because of increased acreage following a good year in 1956. "The country as a whole is overplanted," he believes.

Neill, who does not give the appearance of being the hard-driving, fast-moving businessman that vegetable barons are supposed to be, but rather a soft-spoken, smiling farmer, says others who want to get into the vegetable business are going to have to adopt a different philosophy than they now have.

"A fellow hasn't got any business putting in a crop (of vegetables) if he can't afford to lose it," he says. That being true, it would seem to mean that Neill thinks small acreages—around 20 acres per farm—and more of them, are the natural way to grow into the vegetable business. It's the time-proven principle of spreading the risk.

Neill doesn't have any enormous acreages himself. Last year, his lettuce was a little too early to catch the big prices, but he still grossed about $5,000 from 25 acres.

His 35 acres of spuds brought about $30,000, and 68 acres of sugar beets took in $13,600.

Of the latter crop, Neill says, "Sugar beets are my mortgage lifter." He really believes in them. He is, in fact, the only sugar beet grower in Parmer County, and since sugar beets are an allotted crop, the chances of them spreading is small.

As for this year, Neill says that his vegetable acreage will be "about the same" as last year.

He's not sure about whether any carrots will be grown and run through the shed this year. Equipment in the way of a washer and grader will be necessary if carrots are brought into production this year.

And there's the problem of labor housing, which has been worrying the shed owners considerably. A carrot deal would mean from 300 to 400 workers for about four months of the year, he says.

THE PARMER FARMER

Heinie Henderson says the heart of the old dust bowl, in eastern Colorado and western Kansas, is soaking up wonderful spring-time snow and rain. He's been through recently, and says it looks "like old times."

Wet weather is moving in all around us, it looks like. Maybe it'll hit here this year.

Really, though, we can't complain about this year's weather. This has been one of the nicest springs on record. Last year by this time we would have had two or three real good sandstorms, and a half dozen pretty hard blows.

This spring, with the weather hanging around like it has, and the wind out of the north or moderate most of the time, there just haven't been any blows worth talking about.

This is okay with most farmers, we find. They don't mind the dry weather too much—they're used to that. Escaping the usual spring dirt storms is a real pleasure, however.

Then, too, we wonder just how much good a large snow would have done us with that last storm from the north. Farmers in the eastern edge of the county, who caught considerable snow, were griping about the way it came.

They'd just as soon not have any moisture, they told us, as to have it all piled up in the middle of the field in a drift, or stacked along the fence rows.

The thawing of these snowbanks produced uneven moisture distribution which was more trouble than it was worth. It interfered with getting the fields in shape for planting, and especially with early-season application of anhydrous ammonia.

Most of the field would be ready to go, but those wet spots ruined everything.

Is the Parmer County Fair and Dairy Show a dead duck?

With the interest shown in the junior show at Friona, it seems a shame to scratch the fair off as a bad deal.

Somebody needs to come to the rescue of this dormant promotion, which once was the pride of the county. If something isn't done pretty quickly, however, the fair had just as well be buried for good.

Farm pickups are getting so fancy it's hard to tell them from the new passenger cars. The roomy and handsome cabs, which have windows that roll up and down, doors that open, and heaters that work, are a real switch from the bottom busters of just a few years ago.

The ride, though stiff by passenger car yardsticks, is 1000 percent improved. Most of this is due not so much to springing as it is to the deep and cushiony seats now being put into most cabs.

Out on the road, you're as likely to get arrested for speeding in your pickup as in your car, too. It's awful easy to knock off 70 miles per hour and not even know you're in a hurry.

Our notion on running irrigation water in bar ditches is more than just a pet peeve. We are really serious when we say that wasting water is actually a crime—not only to ourselves and our neighbors—but to future generations as well.

There are many excuses for letting water go to waste, but there is no valid reason for it. The irrigation farmer claims he has enough troubles without worrying about keeping all his water on his field, but really, he's being penny wise and pound foolish when he ignores conservation of his water.

Our irrigation water, ladies and gentlemen, is the ONLY thing we have that the broad wheatlands to the north, the sifting sandhills to the south and west, or the baked hills to the south and east, don't have.

If you figure your farm is worth $300 an acre, you've got to admit that $250 of that value is represented in your water.

What does it take to make us wake up? When our wells begin to suck air and nothing is below but the bone-dry redbeds, it'll be too late to do anything.

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Friona, Texas—Wednesday, April 17, 1957

Mrs. Malinda Schlenker of Rhea is planning two additions to her family sometime this summer. They are teen-age girls from Hong Kong. These girls will live with Mrs. Schlenker until they finish high school. They will probably be juniors and Mrs. Schlenker as well as the girls is very anxious for the visas and passports to be cleared.

do-it-yourself farmer, or we will do the work for you.

Deke, Pudge, Sally, and Danny Kendrick are home again. They spent three weeks vacationing in Florida. About the time the Kendricks got home, their folks, the H. C. Kendricks, left. They will spend a few days in Dallas. It will be nice to have all the Kendricks home again.

We invite you in to meet our new car salesman. Most folks already know him and will soon know he's a real Oldsmobile salesman. Noyle Wood of Friona is now a salesman at the Parmer County Implement Company.

John Bill, our first grader, is allergic to work of almost any kind. He has been helping dig dandelions in our yard — much to his disgust. He uses many excuses so he won't have to help and the other day he told our mother, "Mother, I'll just have to quite now, my bones are rubbing together."

If you can afford a new car you can afford an Oldsmobile. Let us prove it to you and give you a demonstration in one of the beautiful new Oldsmobiles.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spring, their son Frank Lewis, and Jerry Rankin returned to Friona Sunday. They had spent the weekend in Austin and Dallas.

Did you know that one-fourth of all the irrigated land in the United States is in the Panhandle of Texas? That's the truth. It is also the truth that for better, quicker well repairs call the Parmer County Pump Company.

The Auxiliary of the Parmer County Community Hospital has organized a disaster unit. Of course everyone hopes it will never have any work to do but just in case it does, everyone will know exactly what to do. That way there won't be too many people trying to do one job and too few trying to do another.

Have you seen one of the new 1957 International pickups? They are especially made to save you money and give better service. We will be glad to trade for your old pickup or truck on one of these new 1957 International pickups.

The Jimmy Baxters moved to Littlefield the first of the week. Jimmy has been hospital manager for several years. He will be pharmacist at a drugstore in Littlefield.

Remember, we have the best sweeps and knives made and it won't be long until you will be using them.

We read this in a farm magazine: Hogs won't shrink as much enroute to market if they have been given dark brown sugar in their drinking water 48 hours before they are loaded in the truck. That is what Arkansas Experiment Station researcher, M. C. Heck, has found out. He uses three pounds of sugar mixed in five gallons of water.

Bluestone is the most practical moss killer that we know about. The Parmer County Implement Company has plenty of bluestone for sale.

One of Texas' first skyscrapers, the Amicable building, was erected in Waco. And Baylor University, largest Baptist college in the world, is there. Hence the definition: "Waco, a tall building entirely surrounded by Baptists." The old Waco suspension bridge (still in use) across the Brazos, was the longest single-span suspension bridge in the United States — 475 feet.

Texas is first among the states in the production of horses and mules. Amarillo lays claim to having more sunshine than any other Texas city, the sun shining 81 percent of the daylight hours. El Paso's claim is, however, that it is the place "where the sunshine spends the winter."

If the Parmer County Implement Company doesn't have what you want, we will get it and if we can't get it, you don't need it.

Cut "Small-Item" Farming Costs

Modern farming is an expensive business requiring a high maintenance outlay as well as a large initial investment, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist at Texas A. & M. A careful "budget analysis" to uncover small leaks of the quarter and dollar size will pay sizable dividends over a year's time. Check your operations today, he advises, it may mean increased net income and better family living.

Since prices of many farm products are now depressed, Bates urges farmers to use every practical means to reduce costs. Raising products of higher market value at or near the same cost is a good start, says the specialist. Cutting costs of specific jobs and doing more at the same cost are also effective weapons against the "price-cost squeeze."

Bates encourages farmers to use individual thought in applying such general practices on their farms, but says that many applications are standard. For instance, a soil test tells a farmer the basic nutrients needed on his land, enabling him to spend his fertilizer dollar more efficiently.

The specialist lists several handy, money-saving hints which may be applied to most Texas farms. Lower fertilizer rates over many crops usually give greater total returns than higher rates on fewer acres, he adds.

Other "universal" tips include: combined field operations such as pulling harrows behind discs to reduce time and power costs, rubber flaps on press wheels to aid in quick seed germination, feed buying at bulk or volume prices, better tractor fuel utilization by using long row patterns to reduce end travel, taking advantage of price breaks by having machinery overhauls done during service-man's slack season, and practicing "tax-wise" farming by using all legal means to reduce taxes.

For a detailed list of such tips see your county agent or write the Agricultural Information Office at College Station and ask for MP-191.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Once in a while there is some good news for people who have to buy insurance. After May first, all Texas companies will cease making an extra charge for insureds who have girls under 25 years of age who drive their passenger cars. Boys under 25 will still charge you to pay more than you would otherwise. This is not intended as an insult to young men drivers, but results from the fact that girls usually drive only incidentally on errands, etc., while the boys have to furnish the car for dating as well as showing off between dates to show their ability to cope with various traffic conditions.

Anyway, the change will provide relief in some family instances. Farm Bureau requested that the age for additional charge for both sexes be changed from 25 to 21. The request was not granted.

A note to people who claim road tax refund on farm used gasoline: In the past we have kept a small supply of affidavits for making such claims. Then if you forget yours, or were making your first claim, we loaned or gave you one. Our last request for a supply of the forms was answered with a very nice letter from Mr. Calvert, in which he referred us to the regulations of his department. The regulation says that you are to request a form from the comptroller if you are making your first claim. In the request you are supposed to tell what you use the fuel in and for.

An affidavit will be forwarded to you. When you receive your refund check, an additional affidavit will be enclosed, with your name and address printed on it. That is the one you are to use when filing your next claim.

May we suggest that you bring the form in and let us file it in your file when you receive it and it will be here when you need it.

All of our directors, past and present, are grieved at the passing of another who served on the Farm Bureau Board for several years, Hadley Reeve. Many letters pertaining to farmer's interests bear Hadley's signature, affixed while he served as secretary in PCFB's earlier years.

Consider this: It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it not for kings to drink wine; nor for princes strong drink: Lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgement of any of the afflicted. Proverbs 31:4-5.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

What's been happening, conservation wise, throughout Parmer County since April 1?

The prewatering is well under way, with many farms already completed. However, the SCS is still running ditch lines and row directions for improved water application. We have run ditch lines and row directions the last two weeks for:

Paul Johnson, Troy F. Ray, J. G. McFarland, J. W. Langston, H. L. Garner, E. C. Siefert, Henry Bass, and A. E. Redwine.

We also ran two elevated ditch lines for Leo Flippen and J. G. Eubanks. And of course we have been checking concrete irrigation pipelines. Some recently checked are:

Bruce Parr, E. C. Miel, J. G. McFarland, Glenn Stevick, T. E. Lovett, Floyd Rector, C. B. Watkins, and L. C. Mingus.

We have in the SCS office 325 applications for pipe for the last two quarters, with 142 of those coming in the last sign up. A large amount of pipe has already been installed. So you can see, we will be measuring and checking pipeline for some time to come.

The last 20 degree weather (April 7) did not seem to have bothered the wheat; at least not so much as did the sand and snow storm a few weeks ago.

We have noticed several farmers who have received and are caring for their small trees, and several have expressed their desire to obtain more as soon as the present ones are ready to set out.

We also have several new co-operators with the district. They are:

Paul D. Johnson, H. L. Garner, E. C. Siefert, J. W. Langston, and D. H. Wilkerson.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Almost without exception the April issues of all good publications carry at least one article on making Easter egg hunting an enjoyable occasion for the children. There are very good suggestions in each article and they make enjoyable reading, and we have thoroughly enjoyed every one of them.

However, we have our own theory about making Easter egg hunting enjoyable for children from three to twelve. It is, "Give them eggs to boil, food coloring to color them with, and keep out of their way as much as possible." Of course, they will require some supervision, but too much detracts from the enjoyment they receive.

Some of the color combinations they come up with will probably not be as pretty to you as they are to the children, but the experience they gain will far outweigh the strange looking eggs they turn out. If you are called upon to hide the eggs or even to hunt them, you should willingly take part, but by taking all of the work out of the entire process for the children, you also take out most of the pleasure.

We have a new book of instructions on "How to Crochet." It has some very good information in it and we would be more than happy to loan it to any of our readers who want to learn to do this fascinating hand work.

Several times down through the years we have heard homemakers make this remark, "I would like to learn to crochet, but I am left-handed." If this is your problem, these instructions have a special section for the left-handed.

There are so many interesting things a homemaker can learn to do that it is difficult to understand why anyone in this profession should ever have time hanging on her hands, yet we very often hear someone remark, "The days are so long. I just wish I had something to do." There are so many skills that can be acquired by study and practice that idleness could be practically eliminated from the life of every homemaker.

Wrapping attractive packages is one art that adds to the life of any homemaker. There is a new booklet advertised in several good magazines that is entitled, "Bow Tying and Gift Wrapping." If there is anything we do a shabby job on, it is wrapping packages, so an order for one of these booklets is in the mail.

Know it will be a surprise to our relatives and friends to receive an attractively wrapped package. Perhaps a card reading, "Wrapped by June" will be sent with each one.

There are so many things to be done in a home where there are small children that sometimes proper precautions are not taken in the storing of drugs, poisons, and other household chemicals which are harmful. All such items should be disposed of as soon as they are of no use and should never NEVER be stored in reach of small children.

Instead of storing prescription drugs, discard them as soon as the patient for whom they are prescribed recovers from the illness for which they are prescribed.

Nut breads are especially good for after school and between meal snacks. The variations are numerous and most of them very tasty. For something new try this:

 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 ¼ cup sugar
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 ½ teaspoon salt
 ¼ cup quartered maraschino cherries

Lawn Disease, Brown Patch, Can Be Controlled
 Brown patch is a rather common lawn disease in Texas. Most lawn grasses are susceptible but San Augustine lawns are most often attacked, says Extension Plant Pathologist Harlan Smith.
 He says the disease starts as small spots in the lawn, but the circular brown areas spread rapidly and the grass soon takes on a dead appearance. Infected areas often regain their green color following changes in the weather, says Smith. Brown patch is most prevalent during humid weather on lawns with a dense turf when night temperatures remain 70 degrees F. and above.
 To prevent the disease, Smith says to avoid overwatering at all times. If serious outbreaks of the disease occur, avoid watering during the late evening or at night and apply fungicides. The specialist recommends the use of Tersan, Semesan, Special Semesan, Kromad, Calo-chlor, or Actidione. These chemicals, he adds, should be used in strict accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations, including precautions in handling them.

 Brown patch disease is caused by the same fungus which causes serious diseases in cotton, Irish potatoes and many other crops. If plants in most soils regardless of the lives being grown and when conditions become favorable causes the disease outbreaks.

FALLS MOST HAZARDOUS
 Falls are the home's greatest hazard, claiming a total of 14,000 lives annually in the nation, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. Burns are second, causing about 5,400 deaths annually while poison and carelessness with firearms each take about 1,000 lives yearly. Better keep the danger sign up around the house and see that accident hazards are removed, warns the Council.

FB Weed Committee Has First Meeting

Launching a new year of work against noxious weeds, the weed committee of the Parmer County Farm Bureau met Monday night at the Friona FB office. They named workers and mapped plans for the coming season.

Regular meetings will be held, once monthly, and serving will be Raymond Schueler, Rhea, chairman; Bruce Parr, Black, secretary; E. E. Engleking and Joe Jesko, Lazbuddie; Gus Schlab, Black; Vernon Symcox and Oscar Hubbell, Farwell; and A. R. McCutchan, Bovina.

Parr and Schlab will meet with the State Highway Department to seek cooperation in weed eradication programs; Schueler and Gilbert Kaltwasser, county FB president, will meet with the ASC office; and Schueler and County Agent Joe Jones will work with the county commissioners court to enlist their cooperation.

FFA chapters and 4-H clubs will be contacted, also, in a move to encourage boys to attend the annual weed meeting to be at Bushland April 25.

Telephone, Electric Cooperative Meetings In Hereford April 25

Annual meetings of the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative and Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative will be held in Hereford next Thursday, April 25. The cooperatives serve Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro counties.

Starting at 10 a. m., the telephone meeting will be held in the Bull Barn, across the railroad tracks from the electric co-op office. Presiding at the session will be Harold Carpenter of Farwell, president.

Three directors will be elected. Names submitted by the nominating committee include H. L. "Hap" Fairchild and A. L. Black of Friona, Hub Exchange; Louis Welch and Melvin Sachs of the Rhea community, Parmer Exchange; and H. M. Benson and Melvin May of the Dawn Exchange.

The Walter Jetton Catering Service will prepare and serve a barbecue at noon for both co-op meetings. Door prizes will be awarded, also.

The electric co-op meeting will start at 1. T. E. Seigler is chairman, and Webb Gober of Farwell is secretary. Directors will be elected for the Dawn and Nazareth communities.

Businesses which sell supplies to the cooperatives have donated a list of electrical appliances and other articles to be used as door prizes.

"Our program this year will be much shorter than in the past, and we hope no one will stay away for fear they will get tired before the program is over," says Leo Forrest, project manager.

Emergency Feed Grain Program Is Extended

Walter T. McKay, state director of Farmers Home Administration, this week advised Billy R. Boling, county supervisor, of the redesignation of Parmer County for assistance under the Emergency Feed Grain Program.

Under this designation, farmers and ranchers may now file applications through April 29, to provide feed grain for basic livestock herds through May 15.

"Equipment Is Priced Too High"

That is a frequently-heard remark whenever farmers, whose profit margins are being squeezed by production costs, get together. Well, we agree, new equipment IS too high.

But, let's look a little further. Don't forget that EVERYTHING ELSE we must buy is high-priced, too. The farmer, the manufacturer, the dealer, are all in the same boat. Prices are universally high.

We don't like it, and don't know what can be done about it. However, we have this answer to make: Think of new equipment not in terms of its price, but in terms of its productivity.

What a piece of equipment costs is not nearly so important as what it will earn — what it is worth to own it. Investigate — and you'll find that M-M equipment STILL pays it own way... and then some!

Research Foundation Planned by Firms

Formation of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation by Southwestern Public Service Company and ten other electric light and power companies operating in Texas, was announced last week by J. E. Cunningham, president of Southwestern Public Service Company.

The purpose of the non-profit foundation is to engage in research in the atomic energy field as applied to the generation of electric power. The program will not include an atomic energy power generating plant at this time.

"The eleven electric utilities which formed the foundation will jointly carry on their research and development work in the nuclear field in a program designed to assure for Texas the benefits which develop from this new source of energy," Cunningham said.

"The various companies, acting as a group, can be more effective in this research since many projects in nuclear research require expenditures which might be burdensome on a single company."

"The program of the foundation is long range, since the natural gas now used by utilities in the Southwest is a particularly good fuel and will be competitive with nuclear energy for many years. The appraisal of problems of this nature will have a high priority in the program of the foundation."

"The foundation does not plan to request any government funds to support its nuclear research program. It hopes, however, to work closely with the Atomic Energy Commission in any program it undertakes."

"Atomic energy power plants now differ from present day power plants only in the substitution of this new energy as a heat source for the boilers which make steam to spin the turbo-generators. Development of this source of fuel will require much research before it can be economically feasible in Texas where electric power generating plants now utilize natural gas as boiler fuel. In the meantime, the research program will provide the necessary experience in utilizing this source of heat in the power plants."

Cunningham is a member of the board of directors of the foundation. W. A. Parish, president of the Houston Lighting & Power Company, is president of the foundation. All of the companies supporting the foundation are represented on the board.

In addition to Southwestern Public Service Company, other companies supporting the foundation are: Central Power and Light Company, Community Public Service Company, Dallas Power & Light Company, El Paso Electric Company, Gulf States Utilities Company, Houston Lighting & Power Company, Southwestern Gas and Electric Company, Texas Electric Service Company, Texas Power & Light Company, and West Texas Utilities Company.
