Capt. Flache Now On Duty In France

Captain Truett W. Flache, son of Mrs. Ame Flache of Brownfield, is in France with headquarters of 256th Field Artillery Battalion.

CAPT. TRUETT W. FLACHE

In 1939 he graduated from Texas A. & M., when he was Captain of First Battalion Headquarters Battery, Field Artillery, and a member of Ross Volunteers. He served in the Army at Fort Bliss and later at Fort Sill as a Gunnery Instructor in the Field Artillery School.

He was released from active duty in June, 1941, and was employed by the Soil Conservation Service in Mr. Pleasant, Texas. In March, 1942, he was again in the Army as Gunnery Instructor, at Fort Sill, until February, 1943. Then he was assigned to the 256th F. A. Bn. at Camp Gordon, Ga. In November, 1943, he returned to Fort Sill, attending the Officers Advanced Course. At the end of the three months he joined the 256th at Camp Blanding, Florida, moving on to Ft. Bragg, N. C.

A mutual friend showed us a letter from Pvt. Julius V. Gunn this week, with a medical battalion, somewhere in France. To start with, Gunn said he liked north Africa, the country, when he landed there last year, but was soon moved to Italy. People in north Africa are filthy and living standards very low compared to home.

Pvt. Gunn Writes From France

As for Italy advertised as the land of sunshine, but in reality he found it the land of rain, mud and freezing nights—and such mud—up to your ankle in the company streets. However saw many things of interest while there, such as old ruins, Pompeii, Naples, Vasuvius, and around Rome, old cathedrals, rare paintings, statues, etc., but people some hundreds of years behind our civilization, especially in southern Italy.

He was in the invasion of southern France, and found people much more progressive, and sanitary conditions very much better than in Italy. And while the robbing Germans had been there four years, the people seemed to have plenty for the present at least.

So, Julius had many surprises and contrasts which he least expected. His letter was very interesting, and we have just touched the high points, leaving out all personal matters.

J. E. Smith, SIC, was met in Amarillo Sunday by his sisters, Mrs. Guthrie Allen of Muleshoe, Mrs. Roger Clapp of Lubbock, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Fayne Smith. J. E. will spend a 30 day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Smith.

Sgt. Marner Price of the Amarillo Army Air Base spent the weekend with his wife and baby, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Price.

Apparently Staff Sgt. C. C. Primm is now overseas, as the Herald has been supplied with an APO New York address.

Cpl. Lewis M. Waters of the AAF, is now located at Lemore, Calif.

Local Boy Gets Oak Leaf Cluster To His Air Medal

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Station, England — Second Lieut. George L. Sullivan, Jr., of Brownfield, B-17 Flying Fortress pilot in the 351st Bombardment Group, has been decorated with an Oak Leaf Cluster to his Air Medal for "meritorious achievement" on combat missions over enemy Europe.

The citation accompanying the award read in part: "The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this officer upon these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

Lt. Sullivan, 23 year old, is a veteran of twelve bombing attacks on enemy installations. He was graduated from high school at Seagraves in 1938 and before entering the army in November, 1942, worked for the Lockheed Aircraft corporation in Burbank, Calif. His wife, Mrs. Melba M. Sullivan, lives in Ropesville. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. George L. Sullivan, Sr., route one, Brownfield.

Lt. Hackney In Legal Department Air Corps

This week we are showing a likeness of Lt. Burton G. Hackney, recently promoted from second to first lieutenant, at the Army Air Field at Abilene.

Lt. and Mrs. Hackney were for several years, prior to the big fight, citizens of our city and county, and Burton served Terry county two terms as county attorney with credit to himself and the county.

We extend congratulations to Burton, who serves in the legal department of his command.

Pvt. Burchell Receives Good Conduct Medal

An Eighth AAF Fighter Station, England — The Army Good Conduct medal was presented recently to Pvt. John H. Burchell of Brownfield in a ceremony at this P-47 Thunderbolt fighter station. It is awarded for completion of one year of active military service during a state of war to enlisted men who have demonstrated "fidelity through service . . . and whose behavior has been such as to deserve emulation."

Lt. Kenneth Barrow of Washington and Miss Grace Lenore Tarpley of Simmons University in Abilene, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Tarpley.

Lt. and Mrs. Buddy Keener and little daughter of Clovis, N. M., spent the weekend with their cousins, Mrs. J. T. Bowman and Mrs. Harry Cornelius.

Sgt. and Mrs. Bill Gore of Garden City, Kansas left Sunday morning after visiting a few days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gore and Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Tarpley.

The Brownfield Funeral home, conducted the funeral last Saturday of Senora Francisca Ramirez, 42, who died suddenly near here last Friday. Also the funeral of a ten months old Mexican baby, Wednesday, whose name was not learned.

November 23 Named As Thanksgiving Day

On account of the fact that Mayor Jesse D. Cox was called out of town suddenly on account of the death of his wife's sister, he was unable to write a proclamation for Thanksgiving Day.

However, he authorized City Secretary Herbert Chesshir to name next Thursday, November 23, as official Thanksgiving Day in Brownfield.

Negro Stabbed At Locketville Gin

In an affray at Locket gin, Sunday night, a colored man was severely stabbed in the lungs by another colored man, who was promptly lodged in the Brownfield jail, and will be charged with aggravated assault.

The victim, while in critical condition, will likely recover. Neither are known here.

DFC Is Awarded To S-Sgt. From Plains

An Eighth Air Force Liberator Station, England — Award of the Distinguished Flying Cross to S/Sgt. Clyde Coke has been announced by Lt. Gen. Doolittle, commanding general Eighth Air Force. The award was presented to Sgt. Coke by Col. Clifford J. Heflin, commanding officer of this station, in a recent ceremony.

Sgt. Coke is a gunner of one of the AAF's giant B-24 Liberators operating from this heavy bomber base. A veteran of many missions, he is taking an active part in the mounting aerial offensive against the enemy. As gunner of the big airplane, his utmost skill and experience is needed in the successful completion of a mission.

The citation accompanying the Distinguished Flying Cross states: "For extraordinary achievement, while serving with distinction as gunner of a B-24 airplane on numerous special operational missions over enemy occupied Europe. Sergeant Coke performed his duties with utmost skill and his actions while engaged in combat with the enemy have been an example to his fellow crewmen. The courage, determination and exceptional skill displayed by Sergeant Coke contributed materially to the successful completion of each of these missions and reflect highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States."

He is the son of T. E. Coke of Plains, Texas. Sgt. Coke is a 1941 graduate of Plains High school and entered in the Army in April 1942. Two other members of Sgt. Coke's family serving in the armed forces are, Staff Sergeant Loyde Coke, U. S. Army Air Forces and Pvt. 1/c Arlin Coke, U. S. Army Air Forces. Sgt. Coke also holds the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

36th Division G. I.'s To Get Mail Promptly

With The 36th "Texas" Division Of The Seventh Army In France — Texas residents who have mailed letters and packages to the boys in the Texas Division which is now fighting in the Vosges mountains with the Seventh Army in France, can be certain that once mail has reached the Division APO, veteran GI mail handlers will speed it to the men. Four years experience in handling the division's mail both in the U. S. and overseas has made the APO a smooth running machine.

The first Post Office set up for the 36th "Texas" Division was formed at Camp Bowie, Texas on November 25, 1940. Eight men handled the few letters that dribbled in from friends and relatives of the officers and enlisted men of the Division.

The first Christmas was a slow one. Since the majority of the personnel lived in Texas and had a four day holiday leave, the Christmas packages were few.

Mr. and Mrs. Orb Stice visited in Midland last weekend.

Says Seabees Treated Better Over There

Had a letter last week from our old friend, Seabee John Dumas. Of late many of John's letters have been a bit gripy. We can understand this, as our service men are going through with nerve racking experiences that we know nothing whatever about, and can guess little about here at home. In the first place, he says that Scotch and north Irish families welcome American service men to their homes much more readily than the American families do.

We believe that this is partly explained by the fact that, while no bombs have fallen on the USA, and that we have had no real fear of the invading Hun, it is vastly different in the two countries mentioned. Those people feel that the GI's are their saviors, and are to a great extent. Naturally all of us rave over our heroes, and the American service man is a hero to them. He is to us here in the USA, too, but we are just not as demonstrative as some nationalities.

We believe the average Terry county lady is patriotic, and likes to do her share. There are perhaps some slackers among them, but they are few and far between. Even the young girls are appearing at the Red Cross rooms and learning to roll bandages. None are giving blood here, as we have no blood bank perhaps closer than Ft. Worth or Dallas. Only a few weeks ago many of the Terry county ladies made hundreds of sandwiches and some 40 odd cakes, secured coffee donated by our business men and some of them carried it to the USO at Lubbock and stayed till midnight to do what they could to make the boys in training or visiting or passing through Lubbock, feel at home.

Then last Christmas, many of us had boys from the two air fields at Lubbock in our homes for the Christmas dinner? We had two, and so did many others, while some families in the country combined and had 10 or 12. John, I believe that when you return home you'll find a pretty good sort of people still live in old Terry.

Everett and family, who have been making their home in Albuquerque, N. M., for the past several years, like his brother, has had many years of experience in theatre advertising, as well as efficient management otherwise. The Herald welcomes Everett, whom we have met once or twice, and his family to Brownfield.

Governors Meet With Dewey and Drink Milk

Twenty-five Republican Governors gathered with Governor Dewey in a hotel room and when the drinks came around, what do you suppose they were, asks the Hartford Courant? Milk! Just plain old-fashioned milk without even a hint of anything added thereto. Shades of all the politicians who, in smoke-filled rooms, for generations have planned the nation's destiny! Good stuff is milk. It should never be belittled. It builds strong bones and good muscles. It makes for stamina, vitality and oomph. It's good even for Governors.

Writing back to the U. S. after their arrival at home, they reveal that they miss most of all the milk and ice cream they got in America.

Needmore Gin Burns Tuesday Morning

The Tudor gin 3 miles southwest of the Needmore school, was completely destroyed by fire, early Tuesday morning. The origin of the fire was not determined but thought to have caught from explosion of Butane gas, used for fuel, as attendants said the fire was sudden, and beyond control before discovery.

The seed house adjoining also was destroyed with a quantity of seed, most if not all the cotton was saved. The gin owned by R. H. Tudor of Lubbock, and brother of W. B. Tudor of this city, had been in operation about five years, and was serving a large cotton community.

Coming up is another puzzler, that of which day is Thanksgiving? As we thought, congress had settled that matter once and for all by setting Thanksgiving as the fourth Thursday in each November, while some hang on to the last Thursday program, proving November happens to have five. As far as local schools are concerned next Thursday will be Thanksgiving here. But, Texas U. and A. M. football schedule was set for the last Thursday in November, their traditional battle. It appears, however, that most sections will accept the fourth Thursday from now on as Turkey Day, whether they get any turkey or not.

Most of the metropolitan press, the magazines and even the famous country weekly, so-called, offered their reasons last week for Gov. Dewey's defeat the 7th. This week, we are offering our 15c worth. In the first place there are more Republicans than Democrats in the USA; most all will agree with this. But, people's memories are not as short as some politicians seem to think. So, the mind goes back to 1920, when Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party was defeated, a Republican congress and senate was elected, to make the peace and keep the peace of the world. The Republican party joined by many isolationists in both parties killed Wilson's ideas of a lasting peace, and war came to us again, and the sons of veterans of 1917-18 had to do dad's job all over again. This time, the people—Republicans and Democrats alike, while not by any means approving all the New Deal ideas, were not willing again to risk a Republican administration to make the peace and keep the peace. Thus, another FDR victory. People are averse to the idea that they want to send their sons and grandsons into another conflict—worse than this multiplied many times—twenty or twenty-five years hence.

It is stated by those who have been studying farm labor problems, that there will not be enough farm labor in 1945, even if the war in Europe is over by that time. Maybe this is one place FDR aims to put some of his 60 million jobless when Johnny comes marching home. And speaking of Johnny coming home, one expressed in a letter to us recently what may perhaps be the idea of most Johnnies now in the service. He stated: "When I come home, I will do so without the idea that I am a hero, and I won't expect the band to meet me. I'll be ready for a job the next day, and on the third day ask for a vacation." Of course the "vacation" was his after thought, otherwise that will be the idea of most service men. They wish to come home without the blare of trumpets and beat of drums, but they'll want jobs.

Southern editors have, or are, organizing what is termed a Society for Prevention of Cruelty to the Southern Drawl. They claim that Hollywood and other imitators have made jackasses and jennettes of themselves trying to copy our good old southern "you-all" as the dandyman copycats call it. The starter of this crusade, an Alabama editor says the correct, according to Hoyle pronunciation of that great word is, "yawll," not youall or you-all. Some of the performers on barn dance, grand ol' opera and other programs that require an expert, real-to-goodness southerner to fetch out the best, are now conferring with the Alabama organizer to see if they really have the correct dope on delivering the one and only genuine southern drawl. The first meeting is to take place at Hope, Ark., which is said to be the center of SD (southern drawl) geographically, and that perhaps more real southern people, unmixed, live there than any other area in the USA, except Jackson Heights, N. C. It is said this Jackson Heights colony are all from the deep south, and won't have any servants except negroes born and raised in the deep south and pledged to keep shy of yankee negroes. So far no fee or initiation is asked for "jinin'."

The deer season is open, and was our usual advertisers scarce this week? But they left word for us to say nothing about them being out of town where the OPA would get hold of it. We won't—but while not exactly shaping this in the form of a bribe, we won't even say anything about their being out of town next week. However, we would like just a little taste of venison.

Did you hear the one about the couple, blessed with their first child, who didn't get to the hospital quickly enough and the baby was born on the hospital lawn? An itemized bill was finally received and the careful husband objected strenuously to the item: "Delivery Room, $25.00." He returned the bill for revision. In due time it was returned with the item revised to read: "Green Fees, $25.00."

Sunday was quite a drizzly day, and a huge dew, almost equal to a shower Sunday night.

THE DANGER OF THE ANGLO-AMERICAN OIL TREATY

It is apparent that our national administration is determined to use its power to destroy the petroleum industry of our United States and is thoughtlessly taking a step which can easily involve us in another war on foreign soil.

On October 29, the news wires carried a report from Moscow to the effect that the Russian Vice-Commissar of Foreign Affairs, Sergei Kavaradze, is accusing Premier Mohammed Saed, of Iran, of being disloyal and unfriendly to the Soviet Union for blocking oil concessions to Russia in northern Iran. A later Moscow radio broadcast reported widespread demonstrations in Teheran and other Iranian towns demanding the resignation of Premier Saed's government.

On Nov. 2, the following story was carried on American press wires:

"The British Broadcasting Corporation by radio to home listeners Wednesday night charged the Russians with bad faith in attempting to obtain oil concessions in Iran and declared the British and American governments supported the Iranian government in rejecting the Russian overtures. The broadcast, recorded by NBC, said it had been agreed that Iran would give no oil concessions to foreigners until after the war, but that a Soviet mission had arrived in Teheran late in September with the object of getting concessions before the war's end."

It will be noted that "the British and American governments supported the Iranian government in rejecting the Russian overtures."

Both of these news items clearly indicate a rift in our relations with one of our allies. Russia has contributed heavily in man power and is largely responsible for the present favorable position of our armed forces in the European war zone.

Would it not be best for the United States, the dominant commonwealth of the world, to keep away from foreign oil entanglements which might lead us into serious controversies with our allies. Our oil reserves are sufficient for a long period of years. We have only scratched the surface of the hidden oil reserves of the United States and the Western Hemisphere. There is no need to worry about posterity not having an adequate supply of petroleum.

A treaty is an agreement, or a contract between signatory countries. Our constitution specifically provides that "all treaties shall be the supreme law of the land." There is no ambiguity in that statement—it is plainly worded and anyone can readily understand that this treaty would be binding upon the United States. It would abrogate and supercede all state laws.

A treaty between nations should be collateral. Each of the signatory nations should gain by the contract. Otherwise, the treaty would be unilateral, or one-sided. The United States is producing about 67 percent of the world's crude oil demand and of this amount Texas is producing a little less than one-half. Great Britain and its dominions produce less than 10 percent of the world's supply. It is clearly evident that ratification of the treaty would assure Great Britain a supply of petroleum without the United States receiving anything in return. This Anglo-American Petroleum Treaty is unilateral. We do not get even a blind horse in the trade.

Article 6 of the treaty reads:

"That, subject always to the considerations mentioned in Paragraph One of this Article, the exploration for and the development of petroleum resources, the construction and operations of refineries and other facilities and the distribution of petroleum shall not be hampered by restrictions imposed by either government, or its nationals, inconsistent with the purposes of this agreement."

Regardless of state laws, and regardless of regulatory and conservation agencies, this treaty would dominate the oil industry of the United States. The words "inconsistent with the purposes of this agreement" are plain. They are emphatic and leave no doubt as to what can be and may be done in manhandling an industry which has performed a most noteworthy service in the present and previous World War. The oil industry of the United States has not only furnished an adequate supply of petroleum products to keep our own planes in the air, to keep our own mechanized implements rolling and to keep our own ships sailing the seven seas, but it has furnished Great Britain and our other allies adequate supplies to carry on a global war.

The English are past masters in writing treaties, pacts, or cartels, and the composition and wording of these contracts are generally susceptible to several convenient interpretations. However, this particular instrument of writing leaves a very definite impression that the oil industry is to continue under a huge international OPA which would pool the production of the world, fix prices and prorate the production from all fields of the world. The proposed international commission could go so far as to say to the United States, that, since our petroleum products furnished the market demand of the world during the war period, all wells in

The United States must be shut down for a period of three years to permit oil fields in other countries to produce an amount equal to our war time deliveries.

The above interpretation of the Anglo-American Petroleum Treaty is not far fetched. Great Britain must have oil. The British are accustomed to operating under treaties, cartels or pacts. The British are not interested in free enterprise, the very factor which has made the United States the greatest nation on earth. Great Britain is not interested in the future welfare of our public schools and eleemosynary institutions that exist by and from taxation on crude oil and its products.

The Anglo-American Petroleum Treaty must not be ratified.

Changes In Football Are Recommended

AUSTIN — Twenty-three of the 24-member Advisory Council of the University of Texas Inter-scholastic League met with five members of the State Executive Committee of the League, and adopted the following recommendations:

1. Recommended to the executive committee that Rule 30 of the football plan be interpreted to permit practice prior to Sept. 1 so long as no football equipment is used and no football instruction—"skull practice"—is given. In other words, general conditioning is permitted. This recommendation was to go into effect immediately.
 2. Authorized appointment of a special committee to study and recommend revision of the point schedule for relays at the State Meet and to study the advisability of including a medley relay in the State Meet program.
 3. Authorized appointment of a committee to study the question of all awards.
 4. Authorized appointment of a committee to study the advisability of extending the state championship in football to Conference A schools. At present a state championship is decided only in Conference AA.
 5. Recommended that the executive committee submit as a referendum to member schools a proposal to make Sept. 1 instead of May 1 the determining date in the age rule. At present no student who has reached or passed his 18th birthday on May is eligible to participate.
 6. Authorized the executive committee to proceed with conferences with the Officials Association of Texas to adjust the schedule of fees for officiating at League games.
- All the committees appointed are to be named by the executive committee and are to report at the council meeting next year.
- Present was a committee from the Texas High School Coaches Association, consisting of P. E. Shotwell of Longview, Eck Curtis of Breckenridge, and Bill Carmichael, secretary-treasurer of the association.

Housekeeping Hints Worth Remembering

Don't Down Vitamins
You'll down vitamins if you soak vegetables or salad greens in water. Instead, wash and clean them as quickly as possible, for, as Westinghouse home economists explain, some vitamins—and minerals also—dissolve in water.

To Market, To Market
You'll get a better break in food values, says Mrs. Julia Kiene, director of the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute, if you'll take these marketing hints to heart: (1) Find out what days your market gets its fresh supply of meats and vegetables—and shop early that day. (2) Patronize one store as much as possible, or least buy the same types of foods at the same stores—a regular customer gets the benefit of the storekeeper's advice.

To Starch a Shirt
For more uniform results in starching a shirt, Westinghouse home economists gather up all the parts to be starched—cuffs, collar and front—and dip them into the starch at the same time. How thick a solution to use depends upon the individual's taste, but beware of starching board stiff or it will crack the fiber threads and cause the shirt to wear out much faster. Shirt collars marked "do not starch" mean what they say.

A Safe Minimum
Some eyes need more light than others, of course. Nevertheless, Miss Myrtle Fahsnyder, director of Home Lighting for Westinghouse, points out that research has given us this safe minimum to go by: For reading, studying or other moderate eye work a lamp should be equipped with a bulb totalling not less than 100 watts.

Save The "Windfall"
No matter how small the dab of butter or margarine left on plates, Westinghouse home economists believe in saving it. This "windfall", as they call it, is kept in a covered container in the refrigerator and used for cooking.

Cleaning The Oven
Before calling on the service man for help when the oven

THE INDISPENSABLE CAN

"smokes" ask yourself if it needs cleaning. Could be the cause of the trouble! As a future precaution, Westinghouse home economists make these recommendations: Wipe oven with a damp cloth after each use. Whenever food spills, clean it up as soon as the oven is cool, using a mild abrasive if necessary. Removable shelves can be washed with soap and water.

Tips On Liver
Try scalding pork liver before cooking it an see if it isn't more palatable. Just pour boiling water over the liver and let it stand until the color changes from red to gray—doesn't take over a minute. Cook at a lower temperature because—and this advice from the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute applies to all kinds of liver—it not only burns easily but becomes tough if cooked too fast or overcooked.

Another Sugar Stamp Good This Week

Sugar Stamp 34 in War Ration Book Four will be good for buying five pounds of sugar beginning November 16, 1944, the District Office of Price Administration announced today.

The stamp, like other sugar stamps now being used, will be good indefinitely for buying sugar. Other stamps, validated in the past, which also are good indefinitely for use in buying sugar are Nos. 30, 31, 32 and 33.

Sugar Stamp No. 40, validated February 1, 1944 is good for buying five pounds of sugar for home canning through February 28, 1945.

Rheumatic Heart Fatal To Children

AUSTIN—Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged ten to fourteen, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease its epidemiology is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox, and whooping cough has yet been developed, for its prevention or control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows, or wrists. The pain usually is felt in one of these centers and spreads to the others. Oftentimes a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or overcrowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.

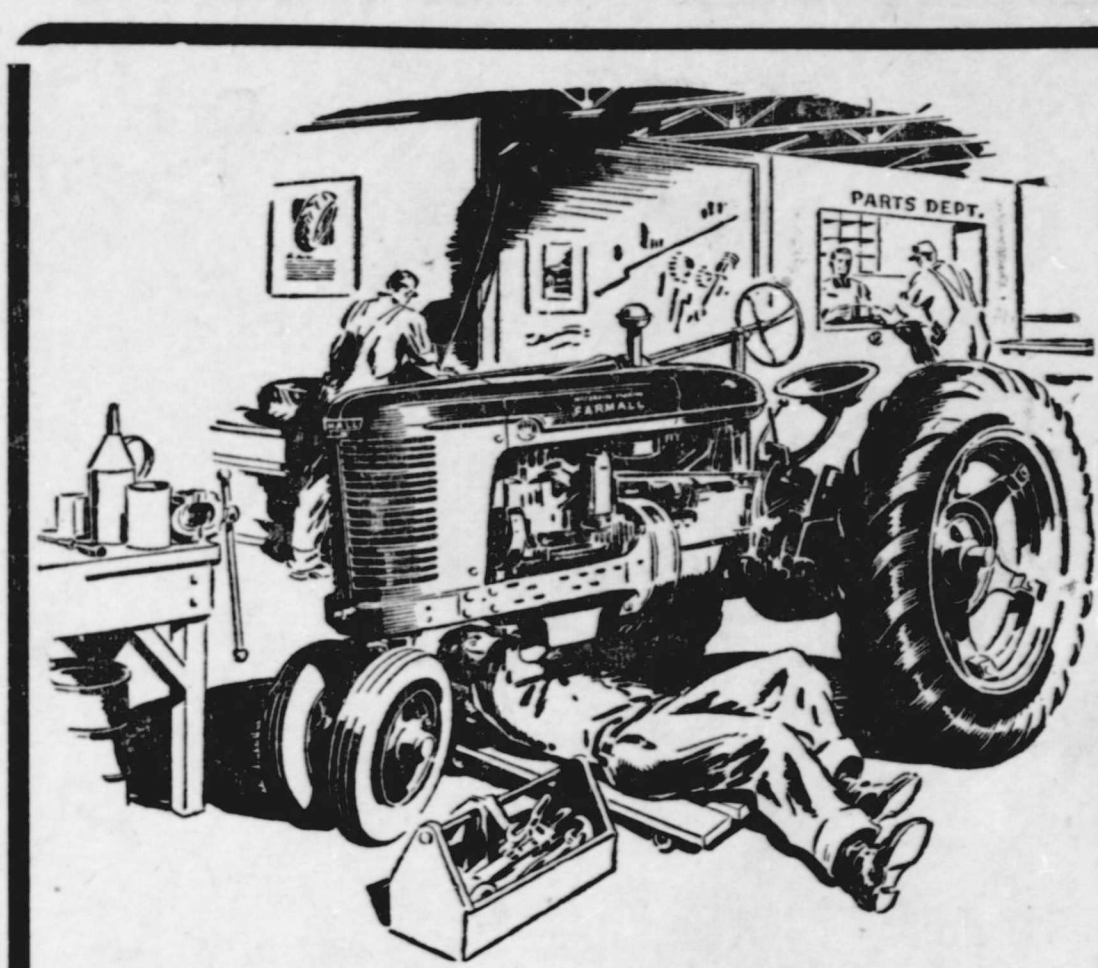

According to Dr. Cox the best safeguards against this disease are to have each child and adult examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kinds of food for an adequate diet, and to have plenty of rest. When the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once.

The Philosophy Of Medicine

The illogical charge is occasionally made that physicians have a "vested" interest in maintaining the medical system as is. Dr. John H. Fitzgibbon recently had a word to say about the guiding philosophy of medical men: "Those who begin the study of medicine," he said, "with the profit motive, are rare exceptions and usually they do not complete the course. It should be apparent to all that equal time and effort devoted to almost any other occupation would be more profitable. The qualities that make a good physician are only partly acquired by training. No amount of training will compensate for lack of native ability and love of the science and art of medicine. Very few physicians retire except on account of disability, and nearly all die 'on the job' because of interest in their work. Many older physicians who should have retired because of disabilities are carrying on during the war emergency and many have died prematurely because of the excessive load of work. Does this sound like protecting a vested interest?"

"If we have any interest to protect other than that of our patients, it is our heritage of American medicine, which is the best in the world today, and which we take pride in maintaining. . . Our responsibility as physicians is to wholeheartedly participate in the solution of the various problems of medical care. We can escape neither the responsibilities of ordinary citizenship nor those of medical citizenship which are far greater."

Lal Copeland was a business visitor in Amarillo the first of the week.

IN THE LAND OF THE TREE

A mopping-up party was clearing the last hold-outs from the last dugouts on one of the Marshall Islands. As the fuse was set to discharge the demolitions, a Jap came running out with hands held high. "Don't shoot," he said. "I've got a brother in Brooklyn." He finally convinced authorities that he does have a brother in Brooklyn.

CHOCOLATE-COATED CRISIS

The 'dive-bomber, because of a broken oil line, was forced down in the South Pacific, miles from anywhere. The radioman-gunner broke out a life-raft, and just before the plane sank, he looked around to see how the pilot was faring during the critical moments. "There he was," said the radioman-gunner, "climbing out of the plane with the plotting board in one hand and a box of candy in the other."

BUILD A BETTER MOUSE TRAP—

At a South Pacific base, a Marine cracked his watch crystal. With no watch repair facilities at hand, the Leatherneck mournfully faced the fact that he would be without the use of his time-piece. But browsing through the post exchange he got an idea. He bought an amber-colored, transparent plastic cigarette case and with his pocket-knife fashioned a new cigarette that fit his watch perfectly. Now he's swamped with orders from his buddies.

CONFUSING BUT AMUSING

Post Office Department officials recently issued a bulletin advising Army and Navy personnel in the San Diego, Cal., area that mail was being deposited in trash boxes on street corners throughout the city. Servicemen apparently mistook the trash boxes for street letter boxes.

NAVY INTELLIGENCE

The three white stripes on a sailor's collar don't stand for anything at all . . . The United States Navy is the only one in the world which never has had a mutiny . . . Because he uses his right hand to pipe officers over the side, the bos'n is allowed to salute with his left hand . . . The rank of commodore, recently restored to the U. S. Navy, is equivalent to a brigadier general in the Army.

JUST WARMING UP FOR MAIN EVENT

A Marine sergeant, light-heavyweight boxing champion of this artillery unit, had a battle scar when he and fellow-Leathernecks went ashore in the invasion of Saipan. He was wearing a black eye handed him by an American sailor during a shipboard bout a few days before the attack. The sergeant won nevertheless.

GILBERT H. SWART

One of the most important contributions to the synthetic rubber program was the discovery of a process whereby carbon black from the panhandle of Texas could be mixed with synthetic rubber in its latex stage. This process was perfected by Gilbert H. Swart, head of the chemical research department of The General Tire & Rubber company.

This process is in operation at the government owned synthetic plant at Baytown and one of the phases of Texas industry to be inspected by a group of northern newspaper, magazine and radio men during Texas in the War Week, November 13 to 22.

Another plant to be inspected is the tire factory at Waco, which introduces an entirely new industry to the state. This plant is owned by The General Tire company and is the second General Enterprise in the state.

Mrs. F. L. Carroll of route two, was in this week, and informed us that Mrs. Pinkney Dobbins had moved to the state of Maine.

A Dream Come True

Twenty-five years ago, comparatively few people had even seen an airplane, let alone ever ridden in one. Flying was viewed as a dangerous thrill at county fairs. There was certainly no popular demand urging forward the development of aviation as a practical means of transport.

Yet it was just twenty-five years ago that the Railway Express Agency began to utilize the potentialities of air transport. In December, 1919, an old Handley-Page bomber was loaded with the first "Air Express" cargo for a non-stop flight from New York to Chicago. News accounts of the time not that the ship cruised at about ninety miles an hour, and while crossing the Alleghany mountains, reached the breathtaking height of 8,000 feet! Unfortunately, head winds so delayed its progress that it was forced down after covering 450 miles in eight and a half hours.

Undaunted by this discouraging start, Air Express has continued to expand with the development of more reliable and efficient means of air transport, often in the face of derision, until now it celebrates the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first air shipment.

OF COURSE!

"If a drunk is Souze of the Border in Mexico, what is he in France," versary of the first air shipment.

"Plaster of Paris."

The development of air transportation and air cargo service has been like the development of many other innovations. A few individuals with imagination lead the way. After years of effort, a great new industry blossoms—a dream of pioneers comes true.

Old Folks At Home

—GWN—

Mrs. H. J. Landess, aged 93, coming February, is our leading lady this week. May have a recount between her and Mrs. Mary E. Lewis of last issue. Born in Alabama, came to Texas in 1882, and to Terry county about 20 years ago, when she lost her husband. Though confined to her room with neuritis she is very affable, mentally alert and has keen memory. Has raised nine children, three of whom Mrs. Paul McDermot, with whom she lives, on south 2nd St., Mrs. Ernie Greenfield, and Joe Landess, are well known here.

F. E. Walters, living on the brink—of the draw, is 84 years old, and when the wind is right you'd think his pipe is same age. Started in Iowa, drifted with the tumble, tumbling weed, down into Kansas, thence to the Rio Grande Valley, when it was so alluring, in the early 'teens of this century, then started back north, got stuck in the sand south of town, and lived here for a quarter of his life. A carpenter by trade, retired now, taking it easy. Celebrated his 50th wedding day, 3 years ago. Has raised ten children to grownhood, and never known death in his immediate family.

We met old lady Gainer, down town. In fact, met her 38 years ago, when she and husband were the civil dynamos of Gomez, then a thriving town. She was nursemaid at the birth of Terry county, and later at Plains, where her daughter is now postmistress. Her husband, the late J. T. Gainer, is well remembered by the old timers of Terry and Yoakum counties, for his civic and religious leadership. Aunt Lou, passed her 80th summer, four winters ago, but is active, up and about. Attributes her longevity, to her daily strolls about town, meeting friends and making new ones, which she enjoys as well as life. While she feels sure of a Heavenly abode, she is not homesick.

Mrs. Perla Cardwell, has barely reach that age, where a woman don't mind telling it—78. Originating in Archer and Wichita county then to Hereford, and on to Terry about 36 years ago. Her late husband once owned an interest in the Brownfield townsite. Fate has not dealt kindly to her. Lost a grown son by accident on a ranch in Hockley county, and another one in World War I, besides her husband many years ago. She has four sons and two daughters yet living, one being Mrs. Irvin Rambo of this city. Mrs. Cardwell enjoys her friends.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. FIRST FOR THE FACT THAT

WE ARE AMERICANS!

AND THEN for the miracle performed a free people in producing guns, ammunition and equipment to keep the destruction of war from these shores—for the fertility of our lands and the continuous endeavor of our farmers in furnishing food to feed our soldiers, our Allies and the starving peoples of Europe—and yet plenty to keep us well and healthy in America. These are indeed miracles of production and hard work for which to give thanks, but let us remember that OUR COUNTRY IS STILL AT WAR. It is necessary to do more than give thanks. This Thanksgiving invite a soldier to share your bountiful dinner with you—show him that you are still behind him in action as well as in word by buying another bond today and by continuing to buy more bonds throughout the SIXTH WAR LOAN!

40 Miles To 1st Charge
—40 To New Home

We stated several weeks ago, that as soon as the past conference year was over, Rev. Ed Tharp and wife would be located permanently in Brownfield, as he is superannuating. They have a home in town as well as two good farms near town.

Rev. Ed, who was located here several years in the 30ties, stated recently that his first charge and sermon was at Soash in Howard county, and that he drove, buggy, we suppose, 40 miles to that charge. When he quit preaching 34 years later, he and wife drove 40 miles to Brownfield to make their home.

Old timers here will remember the big land boom and sales at Soash about 1909-10, when literally train loads of prospectors from the north were sold land there. Many from Brownfield who had cars would go to Big Spring to help ferry the prospectors, or as some called them, suckers to land sold them at double price land was really selling for.

But they were so well herded that they had small chance of talking to the settlers. No, it was not Texans soaking the northern people, as the land syndicates were made up of northern people. Or at least that is the remembrance we have of the affair. Many of them sold out following the first drouth, and perhaps some lost their land. Soash is hardly ever mentioned now.

Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Hanks, of Clarendon, who have been attending the northwest Texas conference at Sweetwater, returned home via Brownfield, to visit their son and family. Rev. Hanks former pastor here was returned to Clarendon.

Thinking In Type

The country may need a good five cent cigar, but what the Republican Party needs is a good book on psychology!

"Tired old men" as a slogan for vote getting picks up one and lays down two.

As cussed, cruel, careless as human nature is it has a queer quirk—an irresistible urge to aid the weak, a sympathy for the sufferer.

Take all cause for jealousy, and envy away and a human being fearing no dangerous competition is magnanimous.

If the Democrats are too old and too tired to be doing a jam up job then why not point out failures that could be successes with the proper leadership without mentioning age or infirmities. At least it would be better taste. —Think Tank.

Complacency And The 6th War Loan

From what the Herald can get from letters we have been receiving from the Treasury Department at Washington, the big boys at the nation's capitol are a bit uneasy about the people putting over the Sixth War Loan. This of course, they believe in Washington, is caused by the fact that Allies are winning on all fronts, except perhaps the Chinese, and they feel that the people may be somewhat complacent about the War Loan.

But, if there has been any let down here in the hinterland, the Herald has no knowledge of the matter. In fact, the USO drive was put over in the least time of any to date. For that matter, the Allies had begun to win considerably before the Fifth Loan, but Terry county, Texas, and the nation for that matter, put that loan of 16 billion up to almost 20 billion.

Just the same, the boys at Washington are somewhat uneasy about the Sixth War Loan of 14 billion dollars, and are calling on the press as never before in any drive to get behind it with all the publicity possible. As usual, however, instead of paying for the ads, they are asking the press, especially the weekly and small daily press to solicit local business men to underwrite these ads, but it devolves upon the newspapers to get out and solicit business men to underwrite them.

For some reason, we are not uneasy about the part given Terry county and this section of Texas and New Mexico. The people have the money; there is not much expensive stuff that they are able to buy, and many of us older ones remember the "silk shirt" buying sprees of the last war, and we know more people, by far, that are laying up dollars this time, than last war, when people were told how much to buy, instead of using their own discretion.

So, we not only think that the 14 billion dollars will be subscribed, but oversubscribed as usual by the nation, as most people are aware the war is not over by a jug full. Now you can set us down as complacent about the other way around if you wish.

REMINDER

"What's that piece of string tied 'round your finger for, Bill?"

"That's a knot. Forget-me-not is a flower. With flour you make bread, and with bread you have cheese. This is to remind me to buy some pickled onions."

Texas Stepping Up Oil Production

DALLAS — Texas is responding to the call for oil to win the war by furnishing 93.6 per cent of the national increase recorded this year in crude oil production, according to report just released by The Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

The report shows that according to official figures of the United States Bureau of Mines, the national increase in crude oil production in the first eight months of this year over the corresponding period of last year amounted to 132,672,000 barrels. Texas' share of the national increase is shown to have amounted to 124,190,000 barrels, which represents 93.6 per cent of the total gain reported by all states.

The Association points out, however, that on a cumulative basis, considering the three-year war period since Pearl Harbor, in comparison with the three peacetime years before Pearl Harbor, Texas has accounted for 54 per cent of the nation's increase in crude oil production and a like percentage of refined products required for the successful prosecution of the war.

"At current production rates, the United States as a whole will produce during the war period a total of 4,552,480,000 (billion) barrels of crude oil by December 7—three years after Pearl Harbor. During the three-year period immediately before the outbreak of war—December 7, 1938, to December 7, 1941—the national production was 3,939,455,000 barrels. The difference, 613,025,000 barrels, represents the wartime increase.

"Based on present rates, Texas will produce 1,810,000,000 (billion) barrels of crude oil during the three-year war period ending December 7. In the three-year period immediately before Pearl Harbor, Texas produced 1,477,945,000 barrels. The difference, about

WHO'S WHICH?

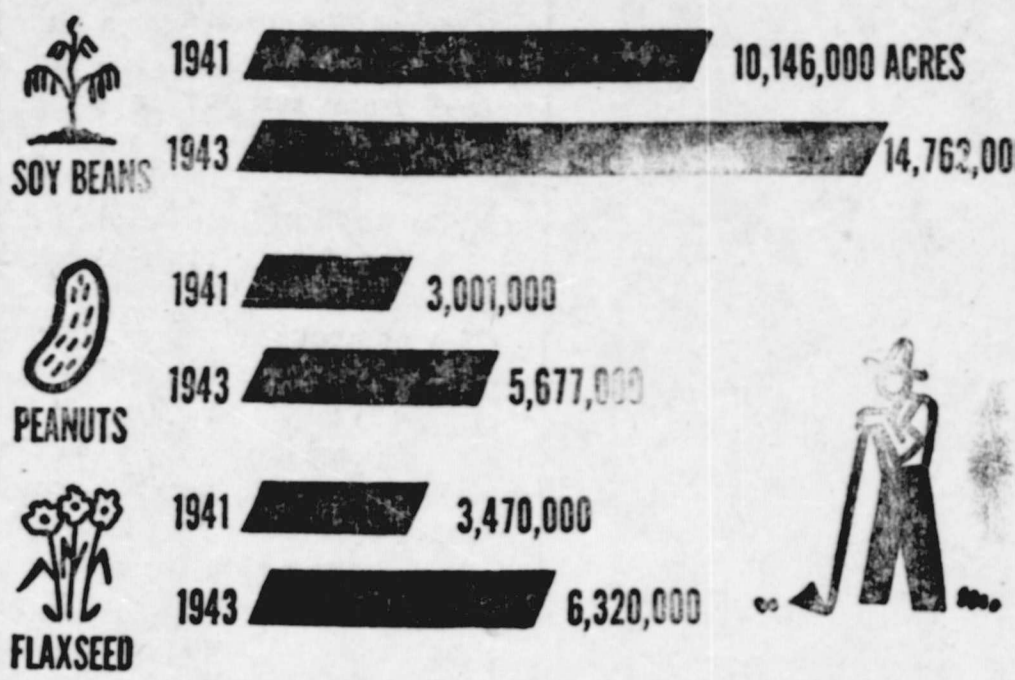

Two autoists met in an alley too narrow to permit them to pass each other. One of the autoists rose in the car and shouted to the other: "I never back up for any darn fool!"

The other driver quietly put his car in reverse, backed out, and replied: "That's all right. I always do."

332,000,000 barrels is 54 per cent of the national stepup of 613,025,000 barrels. The gain by all of the other oil producing states is represented by the difference, 281,025,000 barrels.

"Texas' rise from 1,477,945,000 barrels (prewar) to 1,810,000,000 barrels (wartime) is an increase of 22.4 per cent contrasted with 11.4 per cent gain for the rest of the nation. The other states rose from 2,461,510,000 barrels (prewar) to a wartime output of 2,743,383,000 barrels."

FARMERS INCREASE OIL PRODUCTION

Farmers, responding to the government's plea for more fats and oils, jumped their 1943 oilseed crop production 73.8 per cent ahead of 1941. War Food Administration says it is just as important for the housewife to save her family's used fats as it is for the farmer to plant an extra acre to oilseed crops. Used cooking fat goal for 1944 is 230,000,000 pounds,—or one pound per family a month.

Meadow H. D. Meets

Eight members and one visitor attended the Meadow Home Demonstration club meeting Tuesday, November 7, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Locke.

Members brought and articles, and we discussed how to make nice, inexpensive Christmas gifts. Each member answered the roll call with attractive ways to wrap gifts.

Mrs. T. J. Locke and Mrs. H. P.

Pendergrass served as hostess at the U. S. O. inn Lubbock Saturday, October 28. Members of the club made sandwiches and sent these to the U. S. O. Mrs. Locke and Mrs. Pendergrass reported that the boys were very appreciative of the food and service.

An all day meeting will be held November 21 at the home of Mrs. W. T. Bell. At this meeting we will have a poultry demonstration by Mozelle Reast.

A Prayer

Across the world the sound of shells has ceased . . .
And quiet shrouds the battle-rubbed West . . .
The enemy has laid away his arms, and Death and Pain are done in France.

But I go on . . . for I must fight and kill . . .
And work and sweat . . . and hide and run . . .
For here the enemy is very much alive . . .

His bullets still are made of lead . . .
Their angry whispers still foretell of sudden death
For me and others crouched in slime and mud . . .
The end for us is yet to come . . .

And so we pray to God to give us strength
To fight and win . . . without the waste of Time . . .
And with His Will . . . to see our homes again.

INVEST IN THE NEXT RAID ON JAPAN!

IT TAKES PLENTY OF WAR BONDS TO BUILD B-29s

THE WAR in the Pacific is the most costly war America has ever engaged in. It's simple arithmetic. A mountain of special, costly equipment is needed. A B-29 Superfortress used in the bombing of Japan costs $600,000 in War Bonds. And this is just one of the many extra costly implements of war needed to achieve final victory in the Pacific.

That's why the 6th War Loan Drive is so important. That's why you must back it as generously as you have every other war loan drive. Invest in the next raid on Japan...

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

James E. Ferguson was a stump speaker unsurpassed. His oratory ranged from resounding phraseology: "Fearless as any man who ever flashed a falchion in the face of a foe" to "I spit on the chip and double-dog dare him to knock it off."

Of a pompous opponent, Ferguson declared, "He has only two methods: blubber or bluster."

Crowds shrieked with joy as he described a scene wherein (according to Ferguson) an adversary made a frantic plea for a loan to avert disaster and "they tell me he actually got down and wallowed on the floor like a cow with the cramp colic."

Frenzied supporters yelled, "Pour it on!" and Farmer Jim obliged by relating that the episode took place in a skyscraper and a conferee, noting the absence of a certain rich man, hurried to the phone and urged, "Get over here quick! So-and-so is on the seventeenth floor of this building, threatening to jump out the window if he doesn't get the money." Back over the phone (Ferguson narrated) came the reply, "Open the window and let the darn fool jump."

Master of ridicule and denunciation, he uttered the biography of a political foe in a sentence. The man had made a fortune through the discovery of oil and then had seen it swept away. Ferguson said to him, "Rich by accident, poor by ignorance."

But Jim Ferguson could reach dramatic heights—as when, in Houston during one campaign, a large part of the crowd tried to howl him down. He walked to the edge of the platform and, in measured tones, declared:

"Let the historian write it down that on this night came James E. Ferguson to the city of Houston, named for the liberator of Texas, and almost within sight of the battlefield where freedom was won—and was denied the right of free speech." Quiet descended.

This tribute, the day after his death, was paid to the former Governor by Judge J. W. Strode of Conroe, "I do not for one moment think it was necessary but if I am mistaken in this and if it was a part of the divine plan that he should ask for mercy at 2:45 p. m. yesterday when he knocked at the gates of the far beyond, I know he did so clear-eyed and with confidence, because he had extended mercy abundantly."

"Governor Ferguson was very very human. Possibly, and without personal gain, he went far for his friends. Possibly, at times, he was too uncompromising toward his enemies—but whatever you may think of any mistakes made in his long, sad and serviceable career, I feel and know 'in the court where his conscience shall sit as judge, he will stand acquitted, pure as light, as stainless as a star'."

Mrs. P. R. Cates and Mrs. Jot Akers left Tuesday for Fort Worth to attend the Texas Federation Convention of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Cates was representative of the Alpha Omega Study Club and Mrs. Akers represented the Maids and Matrons' Study Club.

A Marine studies the post-war inducements offered by the sign placed in front of the Majuro Island hotel, a building erected by the Japs and captured intact by Marines when they took that Marshall Islands atoll. An addition to the sign is the welcome to Bob Hope, who staged a show on the island.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

If I was to pick out one outfit in our U. S. A. set-up of departments that could have a squinting-into, I would say Agriculture.

The cost of running that Department has run into such big figures that nobody pays much attention or knows whether it is 10 million or 10 billion. If you will glance around, you will see almost as many Dept. of Agriculture cars on the highways as you will see taxpayers' cars. If the new Congress wants a place to start trimming expenses, an auction of agriculture dept. furniture would bring in millions, and also leave no place for thousands of swivel chair pay-rollers to hang out when they were at headquarters—and not touring around with free gas and expenses—or hid out some place writing bulletins' like, "How to make a noise like a fish-worm, Bulletin Number 1569."

And in the same department, the weather bureau has just finished proving it is a sort of luxury or something, when it closed down early in the war for a long spell, but the weather kept right on being good or bad, as it chose. And we were not then deceived

87 times I've gone out—and come back.
When your score gets that high, they usually let you quit for a while.
But sometimes that isn't possible. You just have to keep on going—perhaps till your number is up.
Out here, you get to understand those things. There's no question of quitting—no matter how much you've done.
Back home, it's the same way about buying War Bonds. You feel good when you count up and realize what a high score you've got. You feel you deserve a rest, too.

But the war isn't over yet. And until it is, I'll make a bargain with you: You keep on buying, and I'll keep on fighting till the last Jap drops!

Mexican Gets Throat Slashed In Affray

Luis Parales a Mexican worker of Meadow, was badly cut across the throat, in an affray one mile south of that place Saturday night, by a white man, local resident. But for the quick thoughtfulness of Lee Walker, who was present, Parales likely would have bled to death. Seeing blood spurting from his throat, Lee threw him on his back, and quickly raked sand and dirt in large quantities on the wounds and held it there staunching the flow, until a Brownfield ambulance could drive 11 miles and bring the victim to local hospital.

Attendants stated that when the cake of dirt was removed later at the hospital, blood again spurting from the wound most freely. Parales will recover.
