The Terry County Herald

Not Neutral—Not On The Fence—A Paper With An Opinion And A Purpose

VOLUME 44 BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1948 NUMBER 15

The Herald has grown with this section from strictly a ranch country. This area now consists of thriving towns and cities, supported by scientific farming and stock farming, augmented by huge oil fields, with the nation's largest known oil reserves.

Terry County Democrats Roar Over All Opposition Nov. 2

As was expected, the Deweyites and Thurmondites took a severe lashing from the Trumanites, Tuesday, and like the State and nation, those in charge of the Democratic party at present road a high horse. However, we true and unfettered Southern Democrats still have some fight left, and it will show up in the future, when the time comes for us to say, "I told you so."

The unofficial count of votes from President down to governor in Terry county, as well as the vote on the amendments is given below. No. 8 of the amendments was the only one that failed to carry in Terry or this area, and we understand is having hard sledding all over Texas. It was the Judges' retirement pension plan. No. 2 the redistricting amendment got the biggest majority in Terry. Around 2675 votes were cast, greater than in either primary:

- Truman-Barkley 2283
 - Dewey-Warren 236
 - Thurmond-Wright 152
 - Wallace-Taylor 2
 - Lyndon Johnson 2168
 - Jack Porter 407
 - Jester 2305
 - Lane 198
- For workmen's compensation 1019 against 506.
- For redistricting 1573, against 157.
- For community property partition 1004, against 384.
- For gubernatorial succession 1124, against 254.
- For homestead exemptions 1202 against 304.
- For salary compensation 1016; against 401.
- For tax abolition 791; against 507.
- For judges' pensions 530 against 872.

Body of T-4 Cox To Be Returned

R. C. Cox, pioneer citizen of Terry and Yoakum counties, was in this week and informed us that he had been notified that the body of his son, T-4 Robert C. Cox was being returned from Italy. The notice came from S. H. Partidge, Lt. Col. QMC, Fort Worth Division.

Of course it will be some six weeks before the body is received here, but Mr. Cox wanted to put all the old friends of the family on notice so they may watch for full particulars later. He will be buried in Brownfield.

Young Cox was born at Tokio, Jan. 6, 1915, and is well known in both Terry and Yoakum counties.

Death of Ed Evans A Distinct Shock

The citizenship of three counties in this area, Terry, Gaines and Dawson, were distinctly shocked on the 29th of October, when they learned that E. W. (Ed) Evans, 53 was no more. His passing followed a two months illness. Ed, a veteran of the First World War, settled in Terry county soon after the conflict, as well as other members of his family. They, like Ed were all highly respected.

Ed had operated gins in Terry county, here and at Union for some 21 years. Three years ago he went to Seminole upon the purchase of a gin there. Later he and Tom Moorhead purchased a gin at Lamesa, and he and wife moved there. The two gins go under the name of Evans-Moorhead gins. Both Mr. and Mrs. Evans are loved by all who knew them in this vicinity.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Baptist church here last Saturday at 3 p. m. by Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor, assisted by Dr. J. C. Atwood, of Lamesa. Burial followed in the Terry County Memorial cemetery by Brownfield Funeral home. Graveside services were conducted by the local American Legion post, with military honors. He was also an Odd Fellow.

A Rambling Notion About To Strike Us

When we reach the point that we can't think of a thing to write, the time has just about arrived for us to take off some place; see new faces, talk with old friends or new acquaintances, then come home, and for the next few weeks we can think of more things to write than a monkey has uncles. And no matter whether these stories are read or not, they fill space like nobodys business.

Come to think of it, for the last few weeks we have had more excitement than three strikes and four lynchings all going on at the same time. There was the big Harvest Festival and Merchants Jubilee, followed short off with the Terry-Yoakum County Fair. Followed in swift succession by the hottest fall election since the memorable battle between Al Smith and Herbert Hoover in 1928, or since St. Valentine or some other saint drove the snakes out of Ireland.

No Certain Season For Mad Dogs

The "dog-days" of the mid-summer months originally derived their name from the prevalence of rabies spread from rabid dogs at that season of the year, but actually rabies occurs at all times of the year. During the past year the State Health Laboratory found 847 animal brains positive for rabies. Four deaths occurred in humans.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, states, "Few persons need to be warned that rabies is a fatal disease yet proper precautions against its spread are often neglected. Stray dogs should be humanely destroyed or impounded, and all household pets should be vaccinated. Annual vaccination efficiently practiced will stamp out rabies in Texas."

The State Health Officer stressed this fact as important: A dog suspected of being rabid should not be killed at once, but should be kept confined for ten days, since this in the infective period before the death of the animal. If the day does not develop rabies within ten days, the individual bitten is safe as far as that particular bite is concerned. Further observation of the animal should be at the discretion of the veterinarian since many other conditions resemble rabies.

The head of the suspected animal should be packed in ice and sent to the State Health Department for examination. Freezing the brain, or killing the dog prematurely or in such manner as to injure the brain may make correct laboratory findings impossible.

More handling of a rabid animal is not sufficient reason for treatment, as scratches by the animal's paws ordinarily do not constitute exposure. It should be understood that rabies is transmitted only through exposure to saliva which gains entrance into the body wound, ordinarily through a bite.

Uncle Johnny King Doing Fine Now

Went over to the hospital Monday to see Uncle Johnny King of Lamesa. Uncle Johnny was an old timer here, having been proprietor of the old Hill Hotel for several years and ran a "line car" from here to Post. He has been in rather poor health of late, with no appetite whatever. He says that Drs. Lester and Alfred are building him up.

We got started on old times, however, one of the incidents being a trip the writer and family made in his "line car" to Post on our way to visit over the Christmas holidays at Fort Worth and Johnson county about 1924. Those were the days when roads were graded to a sharp point in the middle. It had rained that morning, and the top of that slanting road was as slick as owl grease.

We got in the ditch once, but the men gathered thistles and threw in the ditch and finally got out. Arrived in Post two hours after the train was supposed to leave, but as luck would have it, the train was three hours late.

We had a nice visit with him and had a lot of fun besides. Oh, he's not too sick now.

Now that election is over for at least two years, let's all settle down to sense and sanity. Also let us hope that we have said nothing during this campaign that does not bear semblance to the truth and nothing but the truth. After all, it takes a very brave man to make a race for the presidency, and most of the best ones have been unfairly attacked by scurrilous circulars, pamphlets, etc., with no evidence of who was behind the attack. Even Washington, our first president, had it said of him, that "if ever a nation was debauched, it has been debauched by Washington." And Jefferson, high as he is held in our day, had it said of him that his doctrine was designed to "make our wives and daughters victims of legal prostitution." And Andrew Jackson really came in for a dose of poison. Owing to a legal mixup, he was not legally divorced from his first wife until he married his second, and libel sheets screamed, "ought a convicted adulteress and her paramour husband be placed in the highest office of this free and Christian land?" Grover Cleveland was accused of being the father of an illegitimate child, and they wondered if he would bring his harlots to the White House? Also, that the Democratic party was for "Rum, Rome and Rebellion." On down closer to our own times was Al Smith, of whom clergyman asked, "shall dry America elect a cocktail president." A pamphlet also described Al Smith as a "friend of prostitution." Mr. Hoover did not escape either in the same race. He was accused of "fraud in his engineering career." And Dame Rumor did not spare the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. It was reported that he was on the "lunatic fringe, really of Jewish ancestry, and a victim of an unmentionable disease. Many scurrilous attacks were made on his wife and even his dog, Fala. Only enough, it is said the dog attack was partly true as Fala was accused of viciousness and other canine sins. This is enough for the reader to understand why more people do not try to attain the presidency. They do not like untruthful attacks on themselves, and especially their families.

There seems to be those who want unbridled spending of the federal government, price controls, government domination of everything, and even a police state in this goodly land of ours. The Herald believes that rationing and price controls in peace time leave the impression that there is a scarcity whether or not this is a fact. But the idea of scarcity when everyone almost have plenty spending money, leads to a desire to spend to get ahead of the Joneses. Thus we have run-a-way inflation to our heart's content.

Sometimes this writer gets real tired and disgusted the way the Mexican officials roar and rant about the way their nationals are treated in the United States. It leads one to wonder why it is that if they are so badly treated in the United States, they want to come over here so badly? Why is it they will swim the Rio Grande or take most any other illegal means to get into the country that so mistreats them? Anyone with an iota of common sense know it is because they can make a living easier, and that their living standards become many fold better than in their own country. Most Mexicans that come here are perhaps citizens of Texas or New Mexico. But they seem to be well fed, clothed nicely on Sundays, and appear to be happy and prosperous. Mexicans can come nearer rousing up a nice smile than most any people. They don't seem to hate anyone. And we have about arrived at the idea that the old scare of mistreatment so often mentioned by Mexican officials is all in their imagination—not a reality.

Along with some laborers that are not worth a cuss, there are many, many, more that do not get their just dues. A lot of the politicians and goody-goody folks including some radical newspapers like to rear back on their pastures, cuss an imaginary Wall Street and Big Business. But when the pinch comes the Big Business and their well trained and loyal men really stick out their necks in trying to deliver service to their customers. As one case, it is related that during the recent storm in Florida, those faithful and brave employees took their own lives in their hands by taking their trucks, creeping out in the howling wind and blinding rain, to hunt among the trees for wires that were down. In about 40 minutes after the worst of the blow was over the refrigerators and radios were running as usual, and the dark corners were lighted again. How many of these radicals and blithering politicians would have donned their rubber coats and risked life and limb for the "deer peepul?" None. The pukers are all too cowardly.

hearing much from and about John Ben Sheppard of late, but not too much. That sensible, youthful gentleman is worth listening to. When he talks he says something worthwhile about his state and nation, and the Herald is destined to go places in very fine address at the Harvest Festival. Another of his speeches at the East Texas Chamber of Commerce at Temple recently, was so good that Congressman Ed Gossett of the Wichita Falls district requested and was granted permission to have the speech printed in the Congressional Record. In this address Mr. Sheppard vigorously stressed the duty of our nation to teach our 17 million young men from 21 to 36 the importance of government, especially OUR government. He stated that the fourth R should be added to the curriculum of our schools, this one being "Responsibility," added to Reading, Riting and Rithmetic. Added to that, he believed that the responsibility of voting should be instituted in the schools, or where there are plants with a few or several hundred employees, and that lectures should be made on America, its freedom and free institutions, and what they mean to each one of us, individually and collectively.

Knowing that Harry Bridges is back of the oil refinery and longshoreman strikes in California, it is not hard to place the why. It is just a concerted effort along with the strikes in France, Italy and other places to discredit the efforts of the United Nations to bring about peace in the world, wreck the Marshall Plan if possible, and give old Joe Stalin a tail hold and a down hill pull on the world. They have been offered a fair wage adjustment to take care of the growing increase in living cost. But now they are holding out for the rehiring of men who have wrecked property belonging to their former employers. Not many employers want known vandals working in their plants.

One thing that has made America great is its great herds of "meat stored on the hoof." It is true that we have our great grain crops, and they are an adjunct rather than a detriment to our vast herds. The combination means more and a better quality of food on our tables. In India, China and other countries, they have no herds to speak of. In fact a vast portion of India's population are non-meat eaters. But with the one crop idea and a large population, when drought comes, famine stalks in also. Then the herds help us in other way, principally soil building. The stock keep pasture and ranch lands fertilized.

The railroads are wanting another hike in rates. And if facts and figures don't lie, and usually they do not, we see a rate hike coming, provided an unlooked for depression does not start soon, and none are looking for one in the next year or two, at best. If the railroads do not get some kind of a rail hike, their net income is going to be slim if not non-existent even in 1949. They have to make money to successfully operate, just as well as the smallest business in our town. Since the beginning of the war, railroad labor and other expenses have rose 77 per cent. In the same period freight rates have advanced only 46 per cent and passenger rates only 40 per cent.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Just about every day I decide I have heard everything, then, lo and behold, next day there is something else plumb new. Today it is a Ph D. Social Researcher poppin' off with the idea that all houses are built wrong and that the Social Sciences should say just exactly how much room a family needs. The gent don't say who is to dig up the mazuma—or if his slip stick shows so many square feet of house for your family of 3, what do you do manna if your family steps up to 4. And along to other ways of bursting into print, folks are being quoted on how the Govt. should do this big new thing or that—you don't get big type if you say the Govt. should do less—devote itself to keeping the peace, running the navy and army, and let each state manage its own shebang.

So, I deduct I gotta say something plumb new too—so I venture a good word for business—a pat on the back for the farmer who raises the corn, the guys who cure and smoke the bacon, the fellows who delve into the earth and keep our gas tank filled, the banker gents who provide a safe place for any excess that we can save out, etc. These business folks—they are the salt of the land—I do my chapeau. That should get me some big type.

Yours with the low down,

AND ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Q. My husband is a World War II veteran suffering from a service-connected disability and is in need of a prosthetic appliance. Will Veterans Administration pay for the appliance? A. VA will furnish a prosthetic appliance if the veteran has a service-connected or service-aggravated disability requiring an appliance. Q. I enlisted in the war during World War I. I am now 65 years old. Can I get a G-1 loan? A. A veteran of World War I may apply for a G-1 loan. Q. What is the last date on which a veteran of World War II may apply for a G-1 loan? A. Each veteran has until July 25, 1957 in which to apply for G-1 loans. Armed Forces Recruitment Act enlistees will have 10 years after their period of enlistment is ended where the discharge date is later than July 25, 1947. Q. My son is disabled during World War II. Will Veterans Administration pay him an additional sum for dependents? A. If your son is rated 60 per cent or more disabled, he is entitled to an additional sum for his dependents.

July, 1947. Am I entitled to loan benefits under the G-1 Bill? A. If you served at any time between September 16, 1940 and July 25, 1947 and you were discharged under conditions other than dishonorable after at least 90 days of active service, or for a service-incurred disability in less than 90 days, you may qualify for a G-1 loan. Q. What is the last date on which a veteran of World War II may apply for a G-1 loan? A. Each veteran has until July 25, 1957 in which to apply for G-1 loans. Armed Forces Recruitment Act enlistees will have 10 years after their period of enlistment is ended where the discharge date is later than July 25, 1947. Q. My son is disabled during World War II. Livestock Shipments Skid 4 Per Cent Texas shipments of livestock slid 4 per cent from August to September, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported. Livestock shipments, totaling 7,439 carloads, dropped 17 per cent from September 1947. Shipments of cattle and sheep fell 1 and 33 per cent from August offsetting gains of 7 and 16 per cent in hogs and calves, respectively. Interstate shipments plus Fort Worth slid 7 per cent from August and 17 per cent from September 1947. Q. I want to plant some pansy seed this fall in order to have plants to sell next spring. How deep should the seed be planted, etc.? A. Use a rich, light, sandy loam in flats or boxes. Plant now and row to four to six inches apart when plants are large enough to handle. They may be kept indoors or in cold frames and mulched to protect from cold. A salt shaker is useful in sowing seed and just press it into the soil and dust soil over the top to cover it. Keep moist and shaded till plants are up. Q. How are the edible garden-type soy beans taken care of? Are they eaten green, canned or dried? A. I think they are treated like any other bean and used in all those ways. In addition, the dried beans are sprouted and various uses made of both sprout and beans. Q. Is it true that apples are no longer sold for cider apples? Is it because the mills won't buy—because the cost of gathering and shipping is more than the mills will pay? A. A number of factors are killing the cider business—to name a few: Health officers and regulations force mills to reject any apples with rot, worms or maggots. This means almost a No. 1 apple for cider, and other outlets usually pay more for that grade. Synthetic vinegar, cheap rye whiskey, high tests, etc. have banished apple cider vinegar, hard cider and apple jack—leaving unfermented apple juice as the major use for cider, and this meets such stiff

A number of factors are killing the cider business—to name a few: Health officers and regulations force mills to reject any apples with rot, worms or maggots. This means almost a No. 1 apple for cider, and other outlets usually pay more for that grade. Synthetic vinegar, cheap rye whiskey, high tests, etc. have banished apple cider vinegar, hard cider and apple jack—leaving unfermented apple juice as the major use for cider, and this meets such stiff competition from other juices and soft drinks the volume and price are discouragingly low. Price on cider apples today is about 79 cents cwt—about 28 to 30 cents a bushel; trucking is about 10 to 15 cents a bushel; picking up about 10 cents, which leaves around 8 to 10 cents to haul crates out and back, sort the apples, load and dispose of the throw-outs; so every box of cider apples is handled at a loss to the grower. In spite of that, the mills will be swamped with apples and all the rats filed. Q. Two of my calves have had lung worm and died because of it. What causes lung worm and what can be done for them? I have more calves and want to protect them. A. You should call in your veterinary doubter, prescribe thorough sanitation and a dose of one of the new drugs. Lung worms are an internal parasite somewhat like those in the intestines, and they have pretty good controls for them now. Q. How can I keep the concrete from cracking in the winter in a pool six by nine? A. Put in salt so it does not freeze so hard, or drain and paint the concrete so water does not get into it to crack it. Q. What are the fastest growing trees? We want shade around a porch facing the west. Would any of our native trees do? A. Better use Chinese Elm, Willow, Birch and Soft Maple.

Veterans' News

Qualified persons in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi can now obtain jobs as clerk-stenographers with the Veterans Administration in Washington, D. C., VA has announced. VA is extending its recruiting into most parts of the nation because of the current shortage of qualified stenographers in the national capital. Entrance salary for these positions is $2,498 per year with a very good chance for quick promotion to higher grades, VA said. Travel to Washington will be at government expense. An adequate number of rooms for single persons are available in Washington at rates from $5.00 a week and up. Government quarters at Arlington Farms in dormitories are also available for girls. Employment may be obtained through any regional office, hospital or center of the Veterans Administration. COTTONSEED PRODUCTION UP 28 PER CENT Cottonseed received at Texas cotton mills totaling 244,172 tons, stepped up 28 per cent from August to September, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported. This was a 15 per cent gain over September 1947 receipts. Cottonseed crushed climbed 43 per cent to 124,625 tons in September, or a 33 per cent increase over a year earlier. The Bureau's index of cottonseed crushed dropped 53 per cent in September to 85 per cent of the prewar base 1935-39) period. Misses Lois Stevens and Charles Gaston spent the past week end visiting in Lubbock.

This Land of Ours Must Now Be Saved

One of the greatest costs of the war, to America, was the depletion of her soil. Demands for increased production, forcing of land without returning necessary food, shortage of fertilizer and the lack of labor to properly plant soil protecting crops has resulted in erosion and barren soil in hundreds of thousands of acres of land.

The marriage of Miss Noreen Sparkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sparkman and Herbert O. Franz of Corpus Christi, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Franz of San Antonio, was solemnized in a service performed at the First Baptist church Sunday.

Rev. A. A. Brian read the double ring ceremony before an arch covered with woodwardia fern. White tapers in cathedral candelabras were used. Palm and baskets of orchids and pink mums cloth stood on either side. White cloth covered aisles led to the altar.

Music was furnished by Miss Bobbie Brian, who played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied by Mrs. Dan Hulise as she sang "I Love You Truly." Both wore corsages of dark pink carnations.

Misses Mary and Martha Freeman lighted the candles. Mary wore a blue taffeta dress with fitted bodice and pouffant skirt. Her corsage was pink carnations. Martha wore pink taffeta identical to Mary, and a corsage of yellow mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Ivory slipper satin gown. The fitted bodice was draped and extended over the shoulders. It was fashioned with a tulle yoke edged with embroidered lace and long fitted sleeves fastened to the elbow with self covered buttons and a full skirt styled with a bustle. Her finger tipped veil of tulle edged with lace was caught in a halo effect.

Lois Bennett, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow taffeta dress with fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt. Her corsage was orchids and mums.

High In Sept. Farm Cash Income

Texas farm cash income totaled $230,550,000 in September, climbing 24 per cent above August, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

In comparison with September 1947, farm income slid 5 per cent, reflecting decreased sales of cotton, wheat, hogs, sheep and mohair.

Farm income stepped up sevenfold from August in Trans-Pecos, and more than doubled in Red Bed Plains and Southern High Plains.

On the other hand, farm income decreased sharply from August to September in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, Southern Texas Prairies, South Texas Plains and Coastal Prairies.

Cotton brought Texas farmers $120,063,000 in September, for the greatest source of income. Second, cattle sales totaled $27,466,000.

Farm Prices Go Down Other Prices Go Up

On the average, prices paid for Texas farm products will go down a little in 1949; prices farmers pay for things they buy will probably be a little higher than they were this year.

It all adds up to an expected 1949 net income on Texas farms and ranches of some 5 to 10 per cent below that of 1948, but still greatly above any prewar year.

That's a two-sentence summary of the 1949 farm prospects as seen by Tyrus R. Timm, extension economist and professor at Texas A. & M. College, who returned last week from the National Agricultural Outlook Conference in Washington, D. C.

As to farm commodities, livestock and livestock products seem to hold the most favorable price position. The most speculative situation is indicated for fruits and vegetables. No sharp decline generally is expected, but certain individual commodities in this grouping may experience serious "short-run" seasonal declines.

Nations Gold Pile Near $24-Billion Mark

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The government's mounting gold pile appeared on the verge of topping the $24,000,000,000 mark today after rising about $1,700,000 the last 12 months.

The most recent report, for Tuesday, showed $23,996,169,474.59.

Never before has any nation ever had so much gold. The U. S. hoard represents over three fifths of the world's known supply.

The Russians are believed to have the second biggest store, yet their holdings are estimated at only one-tenth those of the United States.

Mining in this country accounts for only a small part of the increasing gold stock.

Most of the gain results from countries dipping into their own dwindling gold supplies to pay for purchases here not offset by sales or American aid funds.

In between, these two groups of commodities is the outlook for cotton and grain, with cotton holding a more favorable spot.

Put a profit-stretching John Deere No. 15 Cotton Harvester to work harvesting your cotton two rows at a time and you'll permanently eliminate the uncertainties of hand labor. It's a remarkable machine that saves $30 per bale over hand pulling... does a fast, efficient job in any crop that's suitable for mechanical stripping.

Designed to work with the John Deere "A" and "B" and Farmall "H" and "M" Tractors, the No. 15 will give you a full measure of value for your money. See us for details.

STRICKLINLY SPEAKING

Serious—Sincere—Silly

Well as the war of ballots is over, and it is conceded that HST will hold the lease on the White House another four years—maybe 8, 12 or 16 years. We can all settle down now and treat each other like a friend and neighbor instead of a low down cur. Be seeing you at the polls in 1950 and 1952.

Well, there is still something new under the sun to still further clutter up our auto panels. If the old lizzy is in need of a fresh drink of water, the word "add water," appears in a small space on the dash. An amber light glows if the old bus needs some more oil.

Also, the smart boys tell us that from now on we won't have to wait out a hungry hour while the steak cooks. It will be exactly six minutes by the hall clock, according to the thickness of the T-Bone. The only thing you will

City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids received.

This notice is given in compliance with resolution passed and approved by City Council at a regular meeting held on the 22nd day of October, A. D. 1948. TOM MAY, Mayor, City of Brownfield, Texas. ATTEST: J. H. ASCHENBECK, City Secretary. 16c lose is the delicious odor in the long cooking that makes you hungrier and hungrier.

Some of our friends with good natural incisors, or those with well fitting store bought toothies, won't like the new kitchen utensil that shaves the grain off the cobb while you sneeze. They get a great kick out of running the French harp scales up and down a buttered roaster.

Doggone it, Drs. Treadaway and Daniell have gone and done it. By stretching their hospital back to the next street, they have cut off our view of Uncle John Santa Fe's train coming down the hill from Seagraves toward the trestle over Lost Draw. That has been our pet hobby since 1918.

Noted in the old home county seat weekly last week, that the merchants of the village near which we were born, had instituted something really novel in getting 'em to the polls. They offered $500 in prizes, consisting of cash, bonds and merchandise—no

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank those who assisted us in our hour of sorrow; for the beautiful flowers, food and words of sympathy, and for every kindness shown. May God bless you.

fees or other strings attached. The idea was just as stated above to get out the vote. This is something that could be well practiced all over the south, where people have grown up with the idea that the election is over at the primaries.

President Harry S. Truman is to be congratulated that he conducted a successful one man campaign. It may have been his own lonesome one man's individual efforts that made many sorry for him, and he got their vote. None of the big wigs made any effort except lip service. Here in Texas an administration leader, Senator Tom Connally, as well as Gov. Jester and Lyndon Johnson merely stated that they would "vote 'er straight." HST really won this uphill fight alone.

We shall see what we shall see. Many believe that the big labor unions will almost bodily take over the Truman administration, and it was they who put him in the White House again. With an obedient senate and house which seems to have been put in with Truman, the program of labor unions would seem bound to succeed. But it may not be just that easy. There might be another coalition between northern Republicans and southern Democrats to block their legislative plans, one of which is the repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

And it might just so happen that the GOPers will be so mad that they will join southerners to wreck Truman's FEPC and civil rights program. Time will tell.
