

ATTEND THE 11TH ANNUAL STOCK SHOW TODAY AND TOMORROW — CONGRATULATIONS F-F-A BOYS!

ANOTHER DESTRUCTIVE FIRE RAKES THE CITY LAST THURSDAY NIGHT

Following close in the wake of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company fire here some two weeks ago, came another, and perhaps without doubt the most destructive in the entire history of the town. The H-B fire occurred on Monday morning of March 22, and the Palace Drug Store fire was first discovered shortly before eleven P. M. last Thursday night, the 1st of April.

There will be little reason for us to go into great details to describe this huge fire, as most people here, and perhaps over the State have seen accounts of the blaze, that destroyed thousands of dollars worth of merchandise of both the Palace Drug, as well as the Clinic of Dr. Wayne C. Hill, which was located in the rear of the store. Added to this was the terrific loss of the modern brick building that belonged to I. N. Bailey and the Dr. Webber estate.

The reason we state that an elaborate description is unnecessary, was the fact that the Lubbock dailies had reporters on the ground much less than an hour after the fire was discovered, and the matter was fully covered by them, and those who did not read, or heard of it on radios, or by word of mouth. But it was a terrific loss, and we have been told that the insurance will not cover losses, as everything is higher now than when the building was erected, and fixtures and stocks much higher.

We might add, however, that those who got on the scene, including police officers, and the firemen, do not credit the fire to a firebug, but rather to faulty wiring. Nor, have they ever changed their mind that the fire of two weeks ago at the lumber yard was "set." But as in the former case, the fireboys got on the job quickly, and were still on the smoking job next morning. And the firemen appreciate the response from the fire departments of Seagraves and Levelland.

The loss, all told, will run perhaps $150,000 or more, and just how much is covered by insurance, we are unable to state at this time. Dr. Hill is moving into a building across First Street from Kyle Grocery; and the Nunns, Arthur and Gilbert, are temporarily storing their salvageable stuff in the block just east of the First National Bank. They would not make a statement at the time the Herald reporters talked to them. But it is believed they will have an announcement to make soon. And it is the general belief that the owners of the buildings will soon start operations to see if the wall that did not fall in with the top, can be saved, and erection started from that point.

In the meantime, we might add here, that Higginbotham-Bartlett Co. are going right along with their tile walls to their new lumber sheds. And a new roof has been added to the brick and tile office and supply building, that was saved, and perhaps kept the fire from spreading to the hotel and that entire block.

And we might add that a good, thick fire wall between the Palace Drug Store and Copeland Hardware, was what helped the firemen save the hardware store. But Copeland was damaged some with smoke and water.

GOLD STAR CONTEST ENDS THURSDAY NITE

Thursday midnight, April 15, marks the end of the big Gold Star Baby contest, which has been in progress the past several weeks. Winner of the event will be awarded a $100 Defense Bond and will carry the title of "Brownfield's Gold Star Baby for 1954." The second prize winner will be given a month's supply of Gold Star Milk.

Votes are already coming in to the Herald office and are expected to steadily increase as the contest nears its end. The Herald will be open Thursday night until the close of the contest.

Pictures of the contestants appear in the Gold Star ad in this week's issue of the Herald.

CORRECTION

It is erroneously reported in some of the copies of this week's Herald that students of Spanish descent from Brownfield High School won ribbons at the Fiesta held in Levelland.

The students participating were those enrolled in the Spanish course offered at BHS, and instructed by Mrs. Barbara Crowe.

OIL WORKER SUFFERS FRACTURED JAW

O. W. White, of Midland, suffered a fractured left jaw and contusions of the chest when his automobile crashed into a truck at 3:30 p. m., April 2.

White was enroute to work at the Guy Mabee Drilling Co., 10 miles north of Brownfield, when the accident occurred. The truck pulled in front of him off of a Farm to Market road, causing him to smash into it. Driver of the truck was unhurt.

White was released from the local hospital the next day and returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Harrelson, of Sudan, visited over the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Harrelson, city.

Festival and Terry Anniversary Set For October 28

Rotary Harvest Festival and Terry County Golden Anniversary will be the new name tag pinned to the annual event sponsored by the Rotary Club for 1954. The board of directors of Rotary met Tuesday night, after affirmative vote by the club to sponsor the 8th Festival, and elected C. G. Griffith to act as General Chairman of the event.

Griffith is confident that the '54 Festival will be one of the biggest because it will be in connection with the Golden Anniversary of Terry County. Griffith also stated that although it is almost seven months away, he will appoint committees soon, and tickets will be printed this week.

The board set October 28 as the date for The Rotary Harvest Festival and Terry County Golden Anniversary.

Higginbotham-Bartlett Ready For Business

Cecil Smith, manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co., informed us this week that they were fast stocking again, and by the time this is in print, they will also have a major portion of the supplies and appliances. Nothing like a full stock of lumber yet, but that too, is being taken care of.

Mr. Smith stated that their old customers as well as new ones would find many of their needs on hand presently, and in a few days most all the needs of people in the way of builders supplies, will be stocked.

Mrs. Homer Winston, 901 East Reppito, was in Lubbock, Wednesday, on business, and attended a buyer's market, there, Sunday.

Freddie Mitchell, who works for Gulf Seismograph Co. in Monahans, is visiting here with his mother, Mrs. C. E. Mitchell, this week end.

CITY ELECTION TUESDAY, WAS A TAME AFFAIR

A total of 123 votes was cast here Tuesday in the city election, out of perhaps 1,000 or more qualified voters. Just weren't interested. Lee Brownfield was the presiding officer of the election, assisted by Pat McMillan, Bobby Jones and Edgar Self.

V. L. Patterson was not a candidate for councilman to succeed himself, being replaced on the ballot by Johnny Kendrick, who received 118 votes. Henry Chisholm, who was up for re-election, received 114 votes. There were 7 write-ins, 3 for W. W. Lindsey, 3 for Tom Harris, and 1 for Jack DuBois.

Luther Jones was the only candidate for City Marshal. He received 108 votes, with 8 write-ins, 7 for Houston Hamilton, and 1 for Emmett Turney.

Insurance Rates; Auto Liability Rates Slated For Raise

The State Insurance Board this week announced that rates for automobile liability insurance will go up on May 1 throughout Texas. At the same time, rates for fire, theft, collision, and allied coverage on car owners will be reduced. Casualty Insurance Commissioner J. Byron Saunders said private passenger bodily injury rates will average about eight per cent higher, and deprive passenger property damage about five per cent.

Adolphus Smith Was Brownfield Visitor

Since he moved out to Arizona we don't get to see too much of Adolphus A. Smith, but he stopped off briefly here the past week end to visit with his brother, Cecil, and paid the Herald a short call. He and three other cotton men were on their way via private plane to Dallas, to attend the Cotton Ginners Association this week. He spent one night with his youngest brother, Dell, at Artesia, N. M., before coming on here.

The other two men went on to Memphis, Texas, to visit relatives and were to come back and pick Adolphus up, Sunday, and take off for Dallas. Adolphus is connected with a big cotton ginning interest, with headquarters in Phoenix, owning several quarters outright, and interests in others. They gin both long and short staple cotton.

If we are not off our kazooter, Adolphus and Dell were the only two of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith's children born here. Mumford and Cecil were born in Oklahoma, before the family moved here.

Anyway, Adolphus stated that he was kinder losing track of Brownfield and Terry since he let his paper expire a year or two ago, so he is on for the next two years.

3,700 PASSENGER CARS REGISTERED IN TERRY

Tax Collector Don Cates announced this week the following sale of license tags in Terry County registered by Tuesday: 3,700 passenger cars; 710 farm tags; 669 commercial; 60 truck tractors; and 150 trailers.

Overall license receipts are running about $10,000 behind last year's total, according to Cates.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hogue, of Brownfield, visited with her parents in Goodland, Sunday.

MAY ORGANIZE A "FORTY & EIGHT" VOITURE HERE

At the recent 19th District American Legion Convention held in Brownfield, Legionnaires interested in forming a local Voiture of the Forty & Eight Society of the American Legion, met at Nick's Cafe to discuss plans.

The large group present was addressed by George Broome, Grand Chef de Gare, Voiture of Texas; Chas. Hoppin, Grand Correspondant, and other active members.

Wm. C. Brown, immediate Past Commander of the Howard-Henson Post, was elected Acting Chef de Gare, and Abe Lincoln, present Service Officer, appointed Acting Correspondant. The first meeting was set for Wednesday at 8 p. m., April 14, at the Veteran's Hall to take applications for membership and make formal application for a charter.

The Forty and Eight is the Fun and Honor Society of the American Legion, composed of working members of the Legion. Its twin objective is Child Welfare and Legion membership. It was emphasized by the speakers that posts which have active Forty & Eight Voitures invariably have strong memberships. Each year the Grande Voiture of the Forty & Eight presents the American Legion with $50,000 for care of needy orphans of deceased veterans.

Since the membership of the Forty & Eight comes from the various Legion posts in the area, Brownfield was selected due to the dual advantages of central location and strong local post. Members of other Voitures, who have to travel great distances to attend meetings, expressed enthusiastic desire to affiliate with the Brownfield Voiture, and will furnish an experienced nucleus around which to build the local organization.

It is strongly urged that all Legionnaires who want to work for Child Welfare and the good of the Legion be present at the organizational meeting set for April 14. A good feed is promised.

Richardson, representing the First National Bank; Alvin Davis, general superintendent of the show and representative from the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co.; Virgil Burnett, one of the buyers for businessmen who aren't in attendance; Jack Cleveland, buyer of last year's grand champion barrow; Dennis Q. Lilly, representing the First National Bank, and buyer for businessmen; and Ed Dwyer, superintendent of steer division. (Staff Photo.)

THE BIG SHOW OF THE YEAR COMING UP TODAY FOR TERRY - YOAKUM

When the Herald starts out to announce something out of the ordinary, we usually tell people to load on the family in the conveyance, and call the dogs. But in as much as the big show for today and tomorrow is calves and pigs, we don't figure the pups fit into the picture any too well.

Anyway the big Terry-Yoakum County 4-H and FFA boys and girls Calf and Pig Show is on this week end for two whole days, Friday and Saturday. We might also add that the big show will be under auspices of the local Jaycees, who spare no expense or trouble to encourage the boys and girls of the two counties to produce the best in both animals. And the best way we know to do this is competition.

In other words, if Brown builds a better mousetrap, the other folks are said to beat a path to his door. If Bill Smith's calf or pig is better than those by Riley Rogers, Rogers will go any length next year to head off Brown, and so it goes. But all praise to the boy and girl who can show a calf or pig worthy to be shown.

Now here is a part that all of us can play, whether we have a calf or pig, or whether we have a boy or girl growing them, or any kinkfolks that have any pigs and calves. We can go out to the show barns where the shows are always held, and see these fine animals, and at the same time encourage these fine youngsters in their undertaking that means much to Brownfield and its trade area.

Not only that, if you are in need of some good meat, encourage the boys and girls by buying a calf or pig or more if you like. As we understand the matter, most of the animals will be for sale. Several hundred animals are expected to be shown.

Let's all turn out for the calf and pig show.

INVITATIONS SENT BUSINESS MEN TO ADV. CLINIC HERE

Some 300 letters were sent to Brownfield businessmen this week by the CofC and Distributive Education Club of BHS, in regard to an advertising clinic to be held April 12-15. The letter was as follows:

DROUTH RELIEF FOOD GIVEN ONLY THOSE ELIGIBLE

Thirty-five persons have applied for drouth relief food, but only 18 of that number were found eligible by L. D. Bailey, who investigates cases, and the county judge and commissioners' court.

The food, which was scheduled to arrive at the Terry County Welfare office this week, allotted from the Surplus Commodity Corporation and the USDA, is to be given only to persons who have tried to get employment and who have applied at the Texas Employment Agency located in the Courthouse, prior to applying for the food. Also the food will be distributed to widows who are without income.

Terry is one of the seven counties expecting to receive the food. Others are Dawson, Collinsworth, Childress, and Cottle counties, who have already been approved; and Terry, Motley and Kent counties are awaiting their approval.

Two-thirds of the number who have applied were native Mexicans. The county program is set up to accommodate about 120 persons, or about 40 families, but anyone thinking about applying should be certain he or she has been to the employment agency first.

Foods that will be distributed are canned beef with gravy, cheese, butter, non-fat dry milk, and shortening.

Put your Want Ad in the Herald.

LEGION'S 19 DIST. CONVENTION WAS WELL ATTENDED

The writer's experience with American Legion District Conventions is admittedly limited, as the one here was the first we have ever witnessed. But adding two and two, private talks by visiting delegates, as well as what home people said, who have attended many, we gather that the Legion-Auxiliary convention held here the past week end was well up to par, if not ahead in some measures.

Pretty well every post in the 19th District was represented at some time during the convention, but some were absent Sunday afternoon when the roll call of posts took place, who had evidently left, as they were known to be here at some time during the convention Saturday and Sunday. The speech-making part of the program was called superb, especially those of the top ranking men of the national, state and district levels, some of which were pronounced outstanding.

THE AMERICAN LEGION AND VETERANS

There is no organization where the dues are as low and so little ritual demanded as the American Legion.

Any service club costs its members, as a rule, as much for a month's dues and fees as the annual dues in the American Legion.

Yet there are some veterans who put forth the very lame and untenable excuse that they can't afford to join the American Legion "at this time." That is tommyrot and poppycock.

All veterans had thought like that, there would never have been any American Legion. There would never have been any veteran's hospitals, and GI life insurance, any GI-built homes, nor any of the many privileges veterans receive under the GI Bill of Rights.

Some group, large or small, must fight for veteran benefits. Nothing is so short as the memories of those who did not go to war but whose businesses were kept intact and their necks saved from invasion by a group who protected them.

This is harsh, but it is human nature. There are plenty who don't give ainker's damn or two hoots in a rain barrel whether a veteran who was wounded, mentally or physically, gets any hospitalization. There are plenty who wouldn't raise a finger to aid the widows and children of the men who died in the armed forces of the country.

This being the case, veterans who shrug off the American Legion as an expendable organization are playing right into the hands of those who are ungrateful for what these same veterans did for them in the matter of winning a few wars.

The least any veteran can do is to join an American Legion post so that he can be counted. If he's too busy in other organizations to work actively, he can at least swell the numbers in the Legion so that congressmen, senators, and legislators will listen when the combined voice of veterans speaks.

No Legionnaire should ever apologize to any veteran for presuming to ask said veteran to join an organization that is keeping up the fight during peace time, to which all contributed during the war periods.—Texas Legion News.

The Western Nations got a real jolt Thursday, when the Russians made application to join NATO, for the defense of western Europe. In fact, it was rather laughable if it were not so serious, it being April Fool Day, but perhaps the Ruskiens are not given to hilarity as we of the USA and most of the western European nations in their idea of All Fools Day. But the Scandinavian group of nations, such as Sweden, Norway, and others saw the point of the joke at least, and commented on it. What made the idea seem so ridiculous was the very fact that the USA, and the western European nations, along with Britain, brought forth the new born organization as a barrier to the ambitions of the Soviets, in their quest of over-running and dominating their neighboring nations. But to still others, there was a deeper motive. Many doubt that with all the palaver they are doing, the Russians are far behind the USA in the production of the Atomic bomb, as well as its utility and power. And most scientific men believe that the Russians have no H-bomb, and if so, a very crude imitation of the real thing, as has recently been exploded in the Pacific ocean. The Russians with all their drolery and selfishness, know what a few well placed H-bombs could do to any nation. And it may be that the Comies are waking up to the fact, that world domination for them, is a long ways off, unless they can crash the party and get in and pretend they are right with us in freedom and liberty for all nations. Then too, the Ruskoies have an idea that they have to approach the nations for western defense, as one of them, if they ever succeed in getting Red China in as a member of the fraternity. But most of us will remember a long time from this that the UN just about had matters settled over in Korea, when Red China ran a big army in, prolonged the war, caused many more of our young men to come home in a casket, and many of them to suffer hunger, cold and mistreatment at the hands of the Red hordes. But the offer of these stinkers to join, may have a deep significance that none but they have figured out to this time. It is a well known fact that they never agree to anything that does not plow their row first. Both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman found that out to their sorrow, and at a great cost to our nation. Since it is a well known fact that the USA saved the hides of the Russians when they were invaded by Germany, any other nation with a speck of gratitude would have done most anything to show appreciation. But not the stinking Russians.

Sometimes the high brass up at Washington seem to have a very silly reason for secrecy. They sometimes appear to think that John Q. Public has no more right to say "when" anything is to be disclosed, than the man in the moon, although old John has shelled out the tax money to pay for the project. To most of us, there has been just about as much of the hush-hush stuff going on up there since Ike took charge, as when Little Harry held the bride. In a way this can be explained by saying that Ike is himself a member of the high brass, and naturally looks at most things from the standpoint of the army star men, that it is a "military secret," and the public has no business in on the deal in the first place, and would not understand it if they were, in the second place. Let us take the explosion of the H-bomb as one of the examples nearest at hand. This was a profound military secret for months, but the brass were finally coaxed into a disclosure with elaborate pictures, and a certain date set for this month. But one of the prying columnists, whom a lot of people don't like, and some newspapers won't use his stuff, jumped the guns in a recent article. So, there was nothing left for the brass than to set their date of disclosure forward quite a bit. If the truth was really known, in the meantime probably the H-bomb pictures and what the blasts did for a sizeable island, was well known to the enemy, Mr. Malenkov, over at Moscow. Since that time the pictures have been released to TV, and were to be shown on area TV last Friday night, but a later date for the past Sunday night was set. To say the least, few of us who see the pictures can tell any more about them than we could those that are said to be comparatively insignificant, made by the A-bomb. Truly, these new nuclear explosions are terrific, and almost unbelievable in the amount of destruction they can render. And for that very reason, those in charge of Civil Defense have had to hurriedly revise their methods of havens for the people in the crowded districts of our great cities. They have decided that just ordinary caves or perhaps thin concrete coverings are not the answer. That much more powerful havens for the populace must be provided. But this should be an example for the bureaucratic mind-

We have suddenly come to the realization that something good can come out of Bonham after all. After District Judge Laughlin, servant of Czar Parr, was retired for his crooked deals by the Texas Supreme Court, the powers that be appointed an old retired District Judge over at Bonham, who was asked to go down to Alice, and take over the job as District Judge, of the three county boss-ridden district. We believe the district consists of Jim Wells, Duval and Starr counties. Duval is badly bossed by Parr, and his influence for bad, reaches over into the other two counties more or less, especially in Jim Wells, where Duke Parr had banking interests. Anyway, it did not take Judge A. S. Broadfoot, from Bonham, long to change the tenor of their ways in the Dutchy after he got on the job. Judge Broadfoot evidently does not only believe in fair play for one and all, but believes that people in any locality should live according to the laws of the State and Nation. He seemingly does not believe that the law was made for one, and another man might disregard it. Seemingly Judge Broadfoot thinks the law was made to punish or protect as the case might be, the white boss, the Latin and the negro. That is the way things are run in East, North, and West Texas, and that is the way he ran things in the Bonham district. And he was sent down there to run things according to law and evidence, and in a decent law-abiding way, and that's exactly what he has done. He has no sympathy for the boss of the corral, or the human animals therein. He believes that men are men, or should be, and not animal subjects, like in Russia. The first rattle out of the box, Judge Broadfoot saw right through the screen thrown up by the Parr element, a hand-picked jury commission. He not only kicked them out, but along with the commission, he gave the grand and petit jury they had selected a kick in the pants. Evidently the Judge will now select another jury commission that thinks more of law and justice than they do of what may or may not please Duke Parr. Yes, sir, brother, the law-abiding people of old Texas are proud of the old Judge that hails from Bonham. He don't seem to fear the birds down in that neck of the woods, as there are plenty Texas Rangers around, and more can be rushed in on short notice. And since the Duke of Duval has been fined for carrying a pistol, he will be careful from this on when and where he makes a display of his sixguns. That whole mess is an absolute disgrace to the State of Texas, and we say, Rah! for Judge Broadfoot!

The old Columntator that Thinks Out Loud, Bro. Lynn Landrum, of the Dallas News, says they can't scare him, nor none of his friends of the Billy Goat area of Big D. He was, of course, referring to the explosion of the H-bomb and its reckless consequences on a poor, helpless island out in mid-Pacific. Then he tells us that a lot of folks don't think he has any imagination, but really he has had some experience with sudden and severe jolts. During one of the World Wars, Lynn was located about a quarter mile from an explosion of 40 tons of dynamite over in Germany, and escaped with a slit scalp, and we imagine kinder shook up. The two boys at the site of the explosion just disappeared in thin air—no part of them ever being found. But, as Lynn states, that was a mild jolt to the one that punched a hole 175 feet deep in an island, that covered a large territory. Or for that matter, if dropped on New York, wouldn't leave much of Manhattan, or some of the nearby boroughs. But what Landrum was trying to put over to his readers was what a whaling good text for a sermon the blast would make for the pastor of his church, which he minutely describes as the Unigational Synod of the Reformed Episcopobaptian Church South of God. Lynn goes on to remind his readers that the "H" in the big bomb could be changed around to the letter "H" in hell, and that a resounding good old-fashioned sermon could be preached in the old time hell fire and damnation style of the old frontier circuit riders. But right there, we part company with Lynn, and he can live on in Big D if he likes, but we'll take the wide open spaces, and the wider and opener the better it will suit us. We have a sneaking idea that the Ruskos nor their half-brothers, the Red Chinks would waste any amount of ammunition on small towns out here on the baldies, when they could rip apart a lot of big industrial cities and plants, with their bombs, if they really have them. About the only worthwhile targets out in this area would be the oil refineries, and we doubt that even they, would be much sought after, in comparison with plants that make guns and munitions. But even at that, they might poison up the dusty air that we have been used to so long with their fission particles. Anyway, we prefer the dust to the electrons and other strangers about this area.

At this distance, it looks to us like we are acting the part of the "foolish virgins," if we are drawn into another scrap over in Indochina with people we are hardly on speaking terms with, and just to save a colony for France. At least at this long distance, that is the way it appears to us. But from the language of Secretary Dulles, and backed up by President Eisenhower, that appears to be the trend presently. The brass up at Washington talk about giving the French several war planes, that cost millions of dollars with no more thought, apparently than John Brown would put up a nickel soft drink to Bill Smith. Yet there are hundreds of thousands of people out here where drouth has held sway for three long years, that hardly know from day to day where their next meal ed in thinking the people as a whole have no rights to be given facts, so they may be forewarned and prepare for the worst.

The old Columntator that Thinks Out Loud, Bro. Lynn Landrum, of the Dallas News, says they can't scare him, nor none of his friends of the Billy Goat area of Big D. He was, of course, referring to the explosion of the H-bomb and its reckless consequences on a poor, helpless island out in mid-Pacific. Then he tells us that a lot of folks don't think he has any imagination, but really he has had some experience with sudden and severe jolts. During one of the World Wars, Lynn was located about a quarter mile from an explosion of 40 tons of dynamite over in Germany, and escaped with a slit scalp, and we imagine kinder shook up. The two boys at the site of the explosion just disappeared in thin air—no part of them ever being found. But, as Lynn states, that was a mild jolt to the one that punched a hole 175 feet deep in an island, that covered a large territory. Or for that matter, if dropped on New York, wouldn't leave much of Manhattan, or some of the nearby boroughs. But what Landrum was trying to put over to his readers was what a whaling good text for a sermon the blast would make for the pastor of his church, which he minutely describes as the Unigational Synod of the Reformed Episcopobaptian Church South of God. Lynn goes on to remind his readers that the "H" in the big bomb could be changed around to the letter "H" in hell, and that a resounding good old-fashioned sermon could be preached in the old time hell fire and damnation style of the old frontier circuit riders. But right there, we part company with Lynn, and he can live on in Big D if he likes, but we'll take the wide open spaces, and the wider and opener the better it will suit us. We have a sneaking idea that the Ruskos nor their half-brothers, the Red Chinks would waste any amount of ammunition on small towns out here on the baldies, when they could rip apart a lot of big industrial cities and plants, with their bombs, if they really have them. ## CORBIN WANTS TO TRY CUTTING DUVAL FUNDS

AUSTIN, March 24. — Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of Lubbock, Wednesday, introduced an amended concurrent resolution dealing with the use of State funds in Duval County.

Senator Corbin said the resolution "fully protects the interest of the school children of Duval County and recognizes the efforts of the new Benavides Independent School District Board."

Senator Corbin's original resolution called for a withholding of all state funds from the school agencies in Duval County until missing records of the schools were produced or a satisfactory audit made.

The new resolution would allow allocations by the Texas Education Agency to the schools if expenditures of the school districts in San Diego and Benavides were approved and counter-signed by a representative of the Education Agency.

Senator Corbin's amended resolution also calls for a check rein on State funds paid out of the Officers Salary Fund of Duval County and withholding of State funds paid by the State Board of County and District Road and Bridge indebtedness until an acceptable audit is made of sums previously allocated.

Any payment from the State portion of the Duval County Officers Salary Fund would have to be accounted for in a special report to the State Comptroller under Senator Corbin's amended resolution.

is coming from. Yet we are still giving billions of dollars of hard earned tax money to many foreign nations, some of which wouldn't pull us out of a mud hole. On top of that, we have already handed over $32 billion dollars to these beggar nations that don't seem any nearer a solution of going on their own than they were when the war closed in 1945, nine long years ago. We people way out here in the sticks are getting a bit fed up on such stuff, and have begun to wonder if this procedure is permanent. And while we are about it, we might mention the fact that such messing around where we have no business, got us into the police action over in Korea, where better than 20,000 of our young men were killed and some 100,000 were wounded or taken prisoners by those heathen, and treated worse than we would treat a dumb animal. And this great talk of little you and big I, can get us into another mess, that maybe like the last one, our young men will be transported thousands of miles from home to fight a battle they are not allowed to win, for fear it might displease Russia. Frankly, folks, we believe it is high time that people came out of their dreams and complacency, and get to flooding our lawmakers up at Washington, that we are thoroughly fed up on feeding and clothing the world, or as a big bully, try to pick a quarrel with some little old two-bit nation that we might actually have to fight, despite our bravado. It is high time we began to think of our own country.

LECTURESHIP WEEK DOWN AT WELLMAN

We here and now admit that this article is appearing a bit late to help in the lecture series down at the Wellman Church of Christ. In fact the notes were given us in plenty time last week to get it in that issue, but the notes were mislaid, and resurrected this week. But we are going to give the readers what went on, and hope at least that the Friday-Saturday part will help some.

Monday, Bro. Chism, of the Loop church was the speaker, and the subject was "God's Power to Save." His Tuesday night subject was, "Salvation."

Wednesday and Thursday, Joe Chisholm of this city, was the speaker, with "Things to Know," and Thursday night, "Three Steps into Heaven."

Tonight and tomorrow night, Bro. Waller of Denver City will be the speaker, Friday night, "How Can These Things Be," and Saturday night, "Unity."

HALF CHILD-SUPPORT TAX DUE ALCOHOLISM

In considering the economic costs to Texas taxpayers of alcoholism, it is known that alcoholic victims increase the present overcrowded condition of the state's mental hospitals, and that alcoholism is the direct cause of part of the crime that has overcrowded the Texas prison system and has laid a heavy cost on the public.

Some figures have been compiled to show still another economic levy that alcoholism lays upon the public treasury, along with its pathetic impact on human lives. They should be considered when this special session of the Legislature acts to provide money to carry into effect some of the preventive and curative efforts for which the Legislature created the Texas Commission on Alcoholism.

The original governor's committee on alcoholism which was transformed into the official commission sent a questionnaire to district judges. In reports from 23 judges, mostly in the larger cities, these judges estimated that alcoholism was a causative factor in 55 per cent of all aid-to-dependent child welfare cases.

They said, too, that naturally it figured in the driving-while-intoxicated arrests, arrests for drunkenness, and in the divorce cases. The breaking up of families due to divorce, from whatever cause, is one of the contributors to the growing number of children who must be cared for by public support.

With this report from the district judges that over half the children are put on State support as the result of alcoholism, one can begin to figure this factor of cost to the public of the disease of alcoholism.

As of August last year, there were 1,350 children on the aid-to-dependent youth rolls in Travis County alone. The total cost to the taxpayers was $29,881 each month—for Travis County alone.

And this represented an increase of 288 children, from 90 families, and an increase in the monetary costs of $11,210 a month over the preceding August.

Travis County has fewer than 200,000 of the State's nearly eight million inhabitants.

This discussion deals with the burden upon the public of the fruits of alcoholism, and the possibility of reducing it by spending a fraction of that cost in treatment of incipient alcoholics and the acute cases. The factor that can't be estimated in dollars is the possibility of salvaging a lot of lives, if treatment of the known disease is undertaken in time, thus keeping people out of crime, out of prison or mental institutions, of keeping families together. The element alone of the number of children who could be saved from the necessity of being placed on public support rolls is worth attention.

The Legislature created the State Commission, and authorized it to undertake clinical programs for treatment of victims and incipient victims. It recognized alcoholism simply as the disease it is, and recognized its ravages.

Money to carry the program as far as it would work on a practical basis could properly be invested in human welfare. But looking at the whole matter simply from the viewpoint of saving taxpayers' money, there is convincing evidence that each dollar spent in this health and salvage program will save the State more than a dollar in "spending for no return" in housing, feeding and caring for prison inmates, mental hospital patients, and spending to support children made dependents by this malady.—The Austin-American.

ED PASCHAL STARTS A CHINCHILLA "RANCH" DOWN AT ARLINGTON

Down there at Arlington, Texas, in the Cowntown - Big D region where you go to bed and wake up with a new addition to the city having been built overnight, we learn that Ed Paschal has started a "Chinchilla Ranch." They have already taken up the habit, his dad here, W. B. Paschal, and the Old He agreed, and are mimicing Californy, as everything from the ordinary back yard to an acre plot is designated, "ranch."

Anyway, W. B. was in this week, and showed us a picture of Ed and some of his pets, and that is the conclusion both of us drew about this ranch stuff. Out here in this man's country, nothing is called a ranch of less than 10 sections of land, 6,400 acres, on up to an ordinary county or two. Anyway, W. B. and the Old He drew the idea that down Arlington way, they have gone and went Californy style.

Seriously, W. B. stated that he fully aimed to attend the showing by R. A. Martin, here, Saturday and Sunday, but failed to make it. So we suggested that he call on Mr. Martin at some other time as he is always glad for interested visitors to call, especially if they have folks in the business.

And we might add that the idea runs in the Stricklin household, as the Triggs down at Snyder have a start, and the Jr. here likes to look at the little furballs. But we fear to handle any kind of animal that has sharp front tusks.

Mrs. A. W. Butler, Magnolia Camp, visited with her mother in Fort Worth last week end. Visiting in the Butler home for the past two weeks has been Mr. Butler's mother, Mrs. Ellie Butler, of Sweetwater.

THE MATTYE WAS A GOOD ONE THOMPSON WELL

(Delayed.)

Most of the folks hereabouts had been guessing the Mattye Thompson well, south of Tokio at from 600 to 1,000 barrels per day, when it was finaled and put on proration, but it bested the best guessers by several hundred barrels. A six-hour test gave the well close to 400 barrels, and it was rated 1,576 barrels daily.

Last week was a fairly good average week in bringing in new wells, as the weather warms up, making it better on the drillers. During the week, 34 wells were finished in what is usually termed the north Permian Basin, divided as follows: Andrews headed the list with 8; Howard had 6; Borden, Gaines and Garza had 3 each; Scurry, Terry and Yoakum had 2 each; and Hale, Hockley, Kent, Lamb, and Lubbock, had 1 each.

Howard headed the list with new locations, with 9; Andrews had 8; Cochran 7; Gaines, Garza and Yoakum with 4 each; Scurry had 3; Dawson, Terry and Kent had 2 each; and Borden, Hockley, Lamb, and Lynn had 1 each; for a total of 49 new locations.

The two locations in Terry County were both in the Prentice field, the first being Honolulu Oil Co., 14-B, F. M. Ellington, on section 19, block K; rotary to 6,800 feet at once. The other is the Argo Oil Corp., No. 2, G. L. Beck, section 17, block D-14. Rotary to 6,500 feet at once.

The four new locations in Yoakum are scattered, one in the Wasson 12 miles south of Plains; one in the Prentice, 7 miles northwest of Tokio. Another is in an as yet undesignated field, 7½ miles northeast of Bronco. The other is in the Brohoney formation 4½ miles southwest of Plains, all to be started at once, using rotary tools.

Of the two new wells in Terry County, one is in the Prentice, the Honolulu B-14 Alexander. This well was bottomed at 5,980 feet, and pumped 193 barrels of 29 gravity oil on a 24-hour test.

The other was the Mattye Thompson well drilled by Humble Oil Co., in the South Tokio Wolfcamp, being the second well brought in, in that field, finished at a total depth of 9,905 feet. As stated above the estimated flow in 24 hours was 1,576 barrels of 37 gravity oil.

One of the two wells finished in Yoakum County, was the Wasson field down in the Denver City area. It flowed 472 barrels of 33 gravity oil daily from a depth of 5,282 feet. The other well was in the Bronco-Devonian, and flowed 1,238 barrels daily, at total depth of 11,680 feet, 43 gravity oil.

OLD BROWNY WAS REALLY GOING PLACES DURING PAST WEEK

Last week was quite exciting for the usual even tenor of our way had here in Brownfield. First, we had one of the most destructive fires in the history of the city, and the second in a two-week period.

Then on top of that we had the 19th District Convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary. And it appeared that the visitors enjoyed themselves as much as we enjoyed having them.

Prime Minister Churchill has declared that the rumors that he planned to resign soon were unfounded.

History and other social sciences, five were in upper 25 per cent; 23 in middle 50 per cent; and 10 lower 25 per cent. Names of the students were not released.

Survey Shows 15 Of 63 Ex-BHS Grads In The Upper Rank

Findings from a survey of grades made by former graduates of Brownfield High School, who attended colleges during 1951 to 1953, show that of the 63 students attending, 15 of them ranked in the upper 25 per cent, according to O. R. Douglas, superintendent of Brownfield schools.

Thirty nine of the students were in the middle rank and nine were in the lower classification.

Colleges attended included Abilene Christian, Texas Technological, Texas Western, Sul Ross, and universities: Baylor, Hardin-Simmons, Texas Christian, and Texas.

On the basis of college marks made in the various courses, the students ranked as follows: English, 15 students, upper 25 per cent; 36 students middle; seven students, lower 25 per cent. History and other social sciences, five were in upper 25 per cent; 23 in middle 50 per cent; and 10 lower 25 per cent. ## Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

Well, they had a school trustee election along with the civilized communities, down in the Dutchy of Duval, Saturday, and of course Czar Parr carried the election by slightly more than 2 to 1. But that is a big comedown from 3 or 4 thousand to 12, as per a few years ago. Attorney General John Ben Shepperd has been giving the Herald some of the lowdown on what is happening in that balivwick, that is the shame of every decent Tex-as citizen.

We are not going to give out a lot of the matter disclosed by John Ben's department this week, but as an eye-opener, will say that some $65,000 in checks were given in the names of a lot of people the past year or two who never saw the checks, nor never performed any service for them, according to their sworn testimony. But they were endorsed and cashed. These were both county and school funds.

Then there was the case of the Latin, who owned a little store. He was an ex-service man and had won medals for gallantry. But he wouldn't consent for Duke Parr to tell him what to do and not to do. So, the henchmen of Parr just drove out, took up all the parking space around the little store, but of course, bought nothing themselves.

The ex-service man slipped out and began taking pictures of the "parkers" as well as their license plates for evidence. He was arrested, his camera smashed, and he was thrown in jail.

This is sworn testimony, and we are going to give some other matters from the stuff Mr. Shepperd sent us, from week to week. Parr is just the same brand as old Hitler, Mussolini, and Stalin, to us. Parr may suit the little leftist paper down at Austin, or the good "Christian" women assembled at Houston. But he is not our brand of folks.

There has been much said, but perhaps less done in Congress of late about the American Merchant Marine. But according to some figures disclosed of late, very little can or will be done. The cost is the question. For instance, a trip to some foreign nation with a cargo of stuff, with an American crew runs to about $24,000, while a Jap crew will do the same work for $4,400, and the British and Dutch slightly higher, around $6,000, or about one-fourth of what it costs with an American crew.

But in time of war, it seems that we almost have to have the Merchant Marine, cost what it may. We can't always get a Dutch, British or Jap crew to carry our stuff in time of war.

This is a funny old world if it were not a serious matter sometimes. Up at Lubbock last week, a young lady was badly burned and needed hospitalization the worst way. But for some reason, her mother did not want her daughter carried to a hospital.

She explained that one daughter died at a hospital, and yelled that this one would be dead in three days, if carried to a hospital. From what we could gather from the item in the Lubbock dailies, the lady, unlike some, was not protesting from a religious standpoint, as she was using salves on the burns. Now most of the self-healing" religionists don't believe in anything but prayer. And they don't believe in work as well as prayer—just prayer. Most of us believe both are good.

We dislike to always be at "log-gerheads" with the water engineers, but they have always maintained our underground water supply "sink up in the ground where it falls here." While we have maintained that our water is melted snow from the Rockies, that comes booming down into the foothills, and finally sinks underground in the sandy bedded rivers. Now all that billion tons of water goes somewhere, after entering the sand and disappearing.

But we believe the water engineers, or some of them, are not so sure that our water sinks up where it falls. Too doggone little falls—and too dadgumed much underground. Frankly we have seen graves dug across the draw at the old cemetery, after what we called a long wet spell here, and the caliche would be as dry as a Sahara desert, down some five feet. A drop of water wouldn't go through that stuff in a million years. Then, there is the matter of the caprock, down some 100 feet, just before the water is hit in a well. And any driller will tell you that rock is hard and very dry.

And another thing that is fresh

After having a "soft drink" together last week, Tom Lass'ter dropped into our emporium, and we threshed out the old time content of this region to our hearts content. We have always had a kind of fellow-feeling for Tom, as we figured that when growing up, George and the other boys could out-reach him for the chuck on the table, and he is comparatively a midget besides some of his brothers.

But Tom and the Old He have been here since the year the draw was dug, and have seen the town transposed from a few ramshackle wooden buildings around the square, to a pretty nice, modern burg, with just about anything you wish to buy, carried by local merchants. And we have seen the resident section spread from a block or two off the square to way out on the Tahoka, Lubbock, Plains, Seagraves, and Levelland roads.

But our conversation was not so much on how the town and farm communities had spread out, as about the funniest and most peculiar of the old comers that stayed on and made the town what it is. But we had several chuckles over this and that fine old character here in the early days.

Sometimes we get pretty badly fooled. The past week we got a circular from way over at Paragould, Ark., about the Crowley's Ridge Academy. At the top of the circular letter and to the left of the picture of the academy, was the name of the President, Emmett Smith, which was the name of a former Supt. of the Brownfield schools.

Now we have heard of the Smith, Smythe, Schmidt and other Smiths for ages, but the name "Emmett" caught us—only Emmett Smith was the man referred to above.

But we read on down in the letter, which was asking aid in getting the little school under way, and found it was under eldership of Church of Christ, and we believe Emmett was a Methodist. So, that was all off.

But as we have gone this far, will say that the little academy seems to be taking the place of lack of good local schools on the ridge, that ran no more than a few months a year. And it carries the students from kindergarten to the 12th grade. Should there be those who can help, the name and address is given above. They don't ask for large donations, a dollar or two, but rather the privilege of drawing a small amount on you monthly.

Our good old friends, Harve and Naoma Harris out there at Tatum, N. M., wrote us to visit them last Sunday. They would be found at the Methodist Church, the card stated, and after church we would go to their fine new home and have a feed. But a previous engagement stalled us.

They are to take off about the 8th for Texas points to visit Mrs. Harris' relatives. After their return, we hope to be able to visit them some time. We just know he has that old deep freeze stuffed with good fat beef and chicken from the ranch out on the line of Texas and New Mexico.

Simms Speaks On "Politics In Our Schools" At Club

Harold Simms was winner of the Toastmaster Cup this week for his speech on "Political Education in Our Public Schools," at the April 5 meeting of the Toastmaster Club at Nick's Cafe. As a surprise each speaker was required to be his own critic. Just to see that the critic did a good job, the general critic, Bobby Jones, was present to check on their honesty and add any points of criticism which the critic overlooked.

Earl Jones, winner of the cup last week, made the presentation to Simms, who stressed in his speech the importance of teaching history of the United States, a country we are expected to love—and maybe die for. He also questioned students' ability to think for themselves.

Other speakers and their topics were Marion Bowers, who spoke on "Two-Way Radios in Business," and Morgan Copeland, whose topic was "The Comanche and the Horse."

J. C. Powell was table topic chairman and chose as his topic, "Should Dogs be Penned or Put on a Leash?" General opinion was that dogs should not be penned, but that rabies tags and identification is necessary.

Morgan Copeland, president, introduced the guest Toastmaster of the evening, Wade Yandell. Invocation was given by B. F. Hutson.

It was announced that Bill Neel who won second place in the area Toastmaster contest over very stiff competition, will represent the Brownfield club at a meeting to be held in Lubbock for new provisional district with a speech contest.

A ham steak dinner was served the 13 members present and the meeting adjourned at 8 p.m.

The editor of the Matador paper over in Motley, who was also the Mayor of that burg, went down in defeat at about 2 to 1, Tuesday, for re-election as mayor. A run of the mine retired farmer will be the new mayor of Matador.

The Lubbock dailies frequently played up Mayor Douglas Meador as the man, who as editor, would interview himself as mayor, to see whether he would run again or not. This time Douglas was just an "also ran."

Vernon Townes, J. E. Smith, and Jim Bayless, all of Brownfield, went on a fishing trip, Sunday, at Lake Travis, and said that they didn't have much luck.

BALL AND CHAIN DEBT

Debts that hang on are like a ball and chain around anyone's neck. This is true with the individual, the family, the business, and with local, county, state and national governments. As this column is written, the Finance Director of our Arkansas state government has just announced that by 1970 the last $100,000,000 of our state highway debt will be paid off. When the last bond is redeemed on that date there probably will be a statewide celebration and every man, woman and child will heave a great sigh of relief. The state will have broken its chains of debt.

Arkansas' borrowing to build highways would have been all right had it been kept within reasonable bounds and had the money been spent wisely, without political considerations. But it wasn't. The big borrowing started nearly 30 years ago. First one governor and then another discovered the political magic of floating bonds to get things done without having immediately to tax the people for it. The money was spent loosely and sometimes with political design rather than wisdom.

Nose to Grindstone

Quickly our state was $150,000,000 in debt. When unexpected hard times came, Arkansas defaulted -- it couldn't meet the terms of its debt contract, and for a short time the bondholders were in serious jeopardy. The temporary injury to the state affected the welfare of every citizen. Then, 15 years ago, Arkansas refunded its highway-bonded debt and began a stiff program of debt liquidation. But under this program our debt service has been so heavy (interest and principal payments) we haven't been able to keep pace with the wear and tear on our highways.

That's why our citizens can look ahead with unbounded gladness to 1970 and the throwing off of the ball and chain of this debt. With our bonded debt out of the way, the tax revenues thus released can be used to improve our highway system, instead of for debt payments, and this return to pay-as-you-go will have a wholesome effect throughout the whole structure of our governmental services.

The Federal Debt

Our debt situation in Arkansas is a microscopic example of some aspects of a truly grave national problem, the rising federal debt. It has become a ball and chain around our nation's neck. It is affecting the full freedom of every citizen. The national debt now stands at $275-billion. And yet Congress is being asked to raise the statutory limit so that the federal government can borrow new money and spend it -- and postpone the day when taxpayers must pay and pay through the nose.

The $275-billion national debt averages an obligation of $4,250 on every job holder in the USA. And it must be paid in taxes. Not only that, but the interest, the cost of borrowing, must be paid in taxes. The interest now amounts to about $7-billion each 12 months, which is more than the entire federal government cost us as recently as 1938. Also each 12 months, about $60-billion is needed to redeem the debts coming due; and this must be borrowed. With the debt climbing, it is an endless cycle. It all adds up to frenzied financing.

Must Halt Borrowing

The sensible thing to do about the national debt is, I think, not to permit it to be raised and to institute a program for gradually cutting it down out of the current tax revenue. This would mean reducing the $65-billion 1954-55 budget proposed by the Administration, by just 5 per cent. Is this too much for the citizenry to ask of Congress -- that 5 per cent be cut from the $65-billion budget? Of course not!

When a family has an unexpected illness that entails medical and hospital services of $200, it hasn't quite as much to spend on necessities for the next few months. Does it run to borrow money? No, usually it tightens its belt. That's what our federal government should do -- tighten its belt on expenditures. The new administration has cut from our loose-spending government some of the bloated fat, but it hasn't really tightened the belt to cope with the realities of its extremely bad financial position. It should do this, and do it at once.

Let's all go to
where we are all one with the Lord

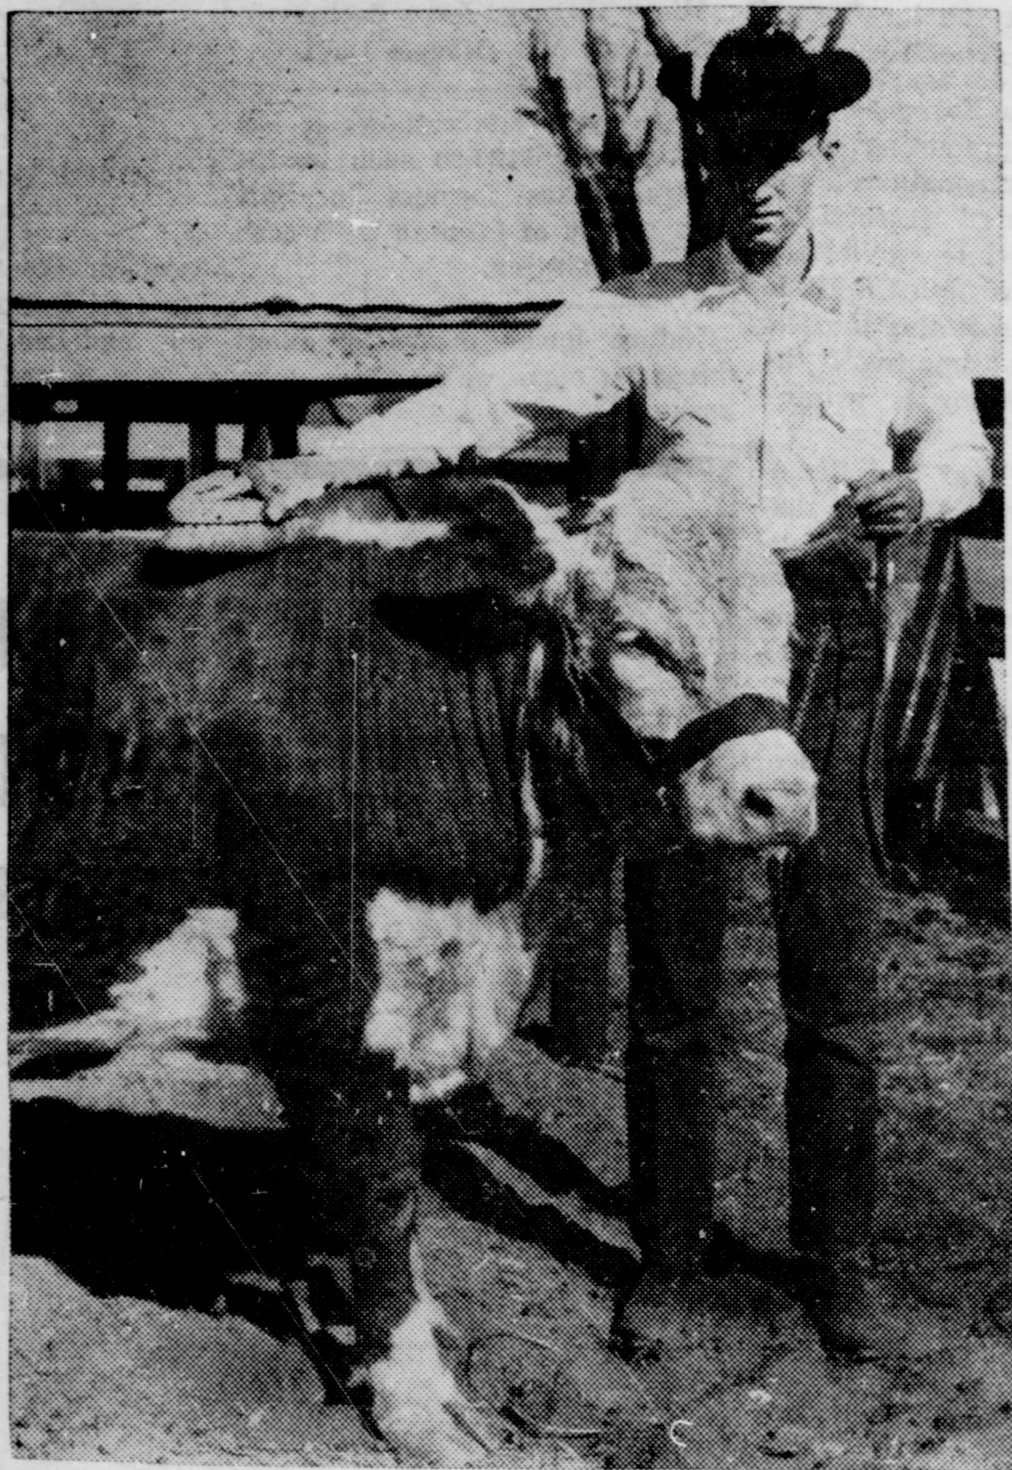

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF WELLMAN, located 12 miles south of Brownfield, on the Brownfield-Seagraves highway, one half block south of the first highway curve on the east side of the railroad. The Church, which is now usually referred to as the Wellman Baptist Church, was organized August 27, 1924, with Rev. J. F. Curry acting as moderator. There were seven charter members of the church and two of these first charter members, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Trotter, are still living in Wellman. Deacons of the Church are Bros. Lee Lyon, Chairman of the Board of Deacons; J. T. Bryant, Kyle Adams, Curtis Bass, and Garland Parker. Brother Curtis Bass is Sunday School Superintendent; Mrs. Wayne Goza, President of the Women's Missionary Union; Garland Parker, President of the Brotherhood organization; and Beryl Parker, one of the young licensed preachers, is Training Union Director. The present Pastor, Rev. Alvin F. Hamm and family, came to the Church from the First Baptist Church of Quitaque, Texas, August 11, 1953. The Pastor and his wife and three children live across the street from the Church in one of the nicest three-bedroom parsonages to be found anywhere. The parsonage is less than two years old and is a credit to any congregation. The Church is fully organized with adequate facilities to take care of the present need of the community. Sunday School convenes at 10 a.m.; Worship Service, 11 a.m.; Training Union, 7 p.m.; and Worship Service, 8 p.m.; with mid-week Prayer Service, 7:30 p.m. (Staff Photo.)

WHAT HAVE WE DONE TO DESERVE THIS?

Got a nice little envelope over at the postoffice one day last week from our old friend, Austin Storie. At first we thought some one was announcing a new arrival in the family, as the envelope was about the size they use for that. But these days they are using them for other purposes, it seems.

Anyway, we appreciate the sentiments of Austin as expressed in the verse:

For all you do for others,
To fill their lives with cheer,
There's deep appreciation
In this little "Thank You" here!

Knowing Austin Storie as we do, we are aware he was not trying to kid us, but meant exactly what he said. And we thoroughly appreciate his sentiment, and will strive to fulfill the confidence he has in us.

WTCC ENDORSED THE MAHON IRRIGATION CANAL IDEA

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce wound up their 1954 convention at San Angelo, last week, and the some 500 delegates voted Lubbock as the place of the 1955 convention. John A. Crouch, a Haskell lumber man, was elected president. An Abilene man was elected secretary-treasurer, and Fred Husbands, of Abilene, was retained as vice president and general manager.

Among other things, the convention endorsed the idea of Congressman Mahon, of this district, on an appropriation for engineering expense to try the feasibility of canalizing Missouri River water to this and other Plains States areas. But the idea had some opposition.

One was a man, Fred Brown, of "General Smells," where they can get plenty of water from the Brazos. He allowed the idea "stinks." And then there was J. Evetts Haley, up at Lubbock, who generally speaking, is "agin" everything.

AL HAS BEEN ON THE JUMP OF LATE

Had a little conversation with Al Muldrow the past week, and reading between the lines of our conversation, Al has been too busy to smell like oil of late. Indeed, he informed us that he made a trip to Washington, D. C., lately on business, and no more than got home and put on a clean shirt until he was off to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at San Angelo.

By the way, Al stated that the main speaker at the WTCC convention was one of the best he ever heard, and that it made sense from the first to the last word. This there was nothing in the speech that would leave the least idea that the speaker was on good terms with the Stalin bunch. That he believes that our nation was made on free enterprise system, and will rue the day if it ever shifts to Communism.

Also, Al stated that some oil tests are to be made in the fields near him in northwest Terry, at a strata some 700 feet lower than the Gloriet, which is around 6,000 feet. While the test is not that low presently, things appeared to be very encouraging, he says. This strata, which is being tested is the Spraybury.

Let us hope that a good showing will be found in this strata, which we understand is about the same

In stock we have a nice supply of good lumber, but not suitable for first-class jobs in residences.

But this lumber would be ideal for pens or sheds for livestock or farm implements. If you contemplate such building on your place, it will pay you to see this lumber and low prices on it before you buy.

We also carry a line of redwood lumber for building back yard fences.

FOUR SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED TO PAINTING WORKSHOP

To encourage creative interests among young people, four art scholarships will be awarded, providing free tuition to the second annual Painting Workshop to be held at the Museum, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, May 30 to June 19, under sponsorship of the South Plains Art Guild.

Mr. Bror Utter, of Fort Worth, nationally-known Texas artist, who directed 69 students in last year's successful workshop, will present two scholarships, and the guild will award two. Two separate competitions will be held. Two scholarships will be awarded in a contest among pupils now enrolled in the 5th and 6th grades; one to a boy and one to a girl. Two additional scholarships, also to a boy and a girl, will be awarded in a separate contest among students now enrolled in the 7th through 12th grades.

Any student living in the South Plains area is eligible, Mrs. Gordon M. Deering, scholarship chairman, has announced. Each applicant may enter one original painting or drawing in any medium desired—oil, watercolor, tempera, gouache, crayola, pencil, ink, or mixed media. The picture must be in a mat, but unframed. All work must have been done within the past two years.

Entries must be sent to Mrs. Deering, 2106 31st Street, Lubbock, or to the office of the Museum, Texas Tech, by May 10. Further details may be obtained from Mrs. Deering.

Easter Seal Drive Draws To A Close

As the 1954 Easter Seal drive ends April 18, R. L. Fleming, chairman of the Terry County Society For Crippled Children, made a final plea to citizens of the county who have not made their contributions to the campaign.

"The future of our crippled children in this area depend on you," said Mr. Fleming. "We must not let them down."

He pointed out that help and hope to crippled children in clinics, treatment centers, special schools, convalescent hospitals and numerous other vital Easter Seal facilities may face curtailment unless public spirited citizens of Terry County contribute generously to the 1954 Easter Seal appeal.

"Thirty years ago a crippled child was an unusual sight," added Mr. Fleming. "This was not because there weren't any, but because ignorance, poverty, shame and indifference surrounded handicapped children with barriers which neither they nor their families could penetrate. They were literally hidden away from the public.

"Today, that is all changed, and the crippled children are showing up to be a useful part of our world, making their contribution to the professions, to business and to industry. They have been discovered as an important national resource, waiting only for the magic touch of scientific rehabilitation and human understanding to make them productive human beings.

"All of us can help give our crippled children a new lease on life by making our contribution today. It is bound to bring us personal pride in knowing that we have done our part in helping

Dudley Dougherty For US Senate

The following statements were taken from a recent announcement by Dudley Dougherty, of Houston, a candidate for the US Senate:

DUDLEY DOUGHERTY

"I am running for the U. S. Senate because I think it is time somebody did something for our own soldiers who are scattered all over the world and who have been until recent months dying in Korea, who today are forgotten in foreign prisons, held illegally by the Soviets as unreturned Prisoners of War and in certain instances held illegally by foreign authorities because the US Senate bartered away their rights as American citizens to American justice.

"Because I believe in honest elections, because I believe in the representation of all Texans and not just the few, and because I believe in the sovereignty of the American nation, I am running for the U. S. Senate. The incumbent did not see fit to support the Bricker Amendment, and therefore, must be in favor of the past secret executive agreements of Yalta, and Potsdam, which were influenced by the traitor Alger Hiss and his protector Dean Acheson, and the treasonous foreign policy of the last few years.

"Further, he could not believe in American sovereignty but must believe in the concept of the world nation or he would not be against the Bricker Amendment. He could not believe in universal suffrage or he would not have gone to Washington short of a majority knowing as he did that the disputed ballots of the South Texas machine decided his election, also he could not believe in the principle of constitutional representation of all citizens or he would represent all citizens and not himself or the specially privileged circle around him.

"Texas needs a man to speak for all its seven million citizens in this hour of great crisis.

AN OLD JAYTON LANDMARK MOVED TO BROWNFIELD

Lee Howell, of Brownfield, is here this week with a crew of workmen, tearing down the Howell residence, preparatory to hauling the lumber to Brownfield where Lee plans to build two houses on lots he owns there.

The "Howell Place," as it is known, is one of the landmarks of Jayton. It was just across the street from where the Chronicle office was located when we first came to Jayton, and we remember getting buckets full of cool cistern water from its cistern on hot summer days when we were tired and thirsty from work in the old shop.

There weren't too many shade trees in Jayton in those days, but we can see those big old chinaberry trees that surrounded the big frame house.—Jayton Chronicle.

Welcome to Brownfield, and we promise not to call him Jaybird Howell, even if he is littler than us.

"Behind the Scenes in American Business"

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK, March 29.—Travel, both domestic and foreign, continues to move at a clip that makes it a billion-dollar-a-year business. However, trade observers believe that new and more aggressive promotion will be needed to keep travel—and especially tourism—in high gear against the leveling-off trend in business generally.

Mexico and some European countries are already promoting "more and better accommodations" and "new and improved recreational facilities." Meanwhile, a legislative proposal to set up a US Trade Commission for promoting tourism in the interests of improving the international economy is gaining favor.

Rail, plane, highway and steamship leaders all seem to agree that the increasing number of paid vacations and the trend toward two vacations a year are important factors favoring the travel industry's future.

MARKETS AT SEA

American farmers, poultrymen, and cattle raisers who are seeking to expand their markets could well devote their talents to promoting travel on American-flag liners. According to statistics from United States Lines, sea-going travelers and sailors eat 11 times more poultry and seven times more meat than do landlubbers.

The Sheep tick can best be controlled by spraying the animals immediately after shearing. Fifteen per cent toxaphene or five per cent DDT mixed with three-hundredths per cent lindane or gamma BHC are the materials recommended for the spraying job.

LATIN AMERICA HAS 35 ACTIVE VOLCANOES

Latin America is one of the most active volcanic areas on earth and its most active vents should be observed continuously, a University of Texas professor declares.

Thirty-five active volcanoes are located in Mexico and Central America. Dr. Fred M. Bullard, famed volcanologist, reports. Undiscovered vents may exist in that Latin America area, he adds.

Dr. Bullard will direct a Pan American Institute of History and Geography committee to coordinate research on Mexican and Central American volcanoes.

BETWEEN CLASSES AND 'ROUND TOWN

with Jane Griggs

This week has really been tough with six weeks test as hard as ever and harder in some cases. It seems like the teachers are getting as anxious for school to be out as the rest of us are. Did you realize that it's only 28 school days until the last day of school?

Western Day, last Friday, was really a hit with the students. Kay Drennan was chosen the Best Dressed Girl and Sammy Kay was Best Dressed Boy. Sammy had on a tall, tall hat just like the cowboys over TV wear. Mrs. J. D. Miller bribed the jury with peppermint sticks and they chose her Best Dressed Lady Teacher, with R. T. Wilson being the best dressed R. T. Wilson being the Best Dressed Man Teacher.

At the kangaroo court, Bill Thomason presided over the session; Kelly Mack Sears was prosecuting attorney, and Sammy Kendrick, defending attorney. Students and teachers alike were judged as to whether they had on western clothes or not. Don O'Neal was blindfolded and supposed to walk a line between some Coke bottles filled with water, for his punishment. (The only thing he didn't know was that the bottles had been taken away—it was real fun to see him lifting his feet up when there wasn't anything for him to be stepping over.) The new coach, Coach Cleere, had to polish Supt. Douglas' shoes while whistling or singing.

Jo Ann Fulton, Betty Collis, Dixon Latham, and G. W. Lucas furnished special western music during the trial. Mr. Curtis and Mr. Douglas played a duet—Mr. Curtis fiddled and Mr. Douglas played a guitar. Miss Gentry sang, accompanied by Mr. Smith on clarinet, and Mr. McIntosh on a ukelele. We didn't think our faculty was so talented.

The choir banquet was last Tuesday night at Nick's. The room was decorated like an Easter party and Jerry Gannaway played the piano.

The Interscholastic League people are in Littlefield today at the annual contest. The band wound up its book-selling this week, selling about 650 of them.

Some of the daters have been Peggy Graves and Roland Moore; Kay Drennan and Ted Hardy, Gloria Angus and Dicky Green, Ann Griggs and Adrian Hinson, and Dorothy Howard and Neil Barrier, both from Meadow.

Royda and Kay Win

Royda Dumas and Kay Kessinger were winners at the Fiesta held in Levelland last Saturday. Royda won in the Spanish cooking division with a frito pie, and Kay won in the Spanish art part with an illustrated drawing. Maxine Green made honorable mention in a solo dance.

It was a really colorful affair because every one wore Spanish costumes. But everyone was really glad to get home.

Other contestants were Patsy Teague, escorted by Sid Szydlowski, BHS Queen; Marie Boots, trumpet solo; Linda Harrell, poetry; Theresa Stephens, first year vocabulary; John Hill and Star George, second year vocabulary. Bye.

Students of Spanish Descent Win Ribbons At Levelland Fiesta

Twenty students from Brownfield High School were among the official entries of over 1,000 students of Spanish descent from the South Plains, Panhandle, Permian Basin, and Eastern New Mexico who attended the 6th annual Pan-American Fiesta at Levelland High School, Saturday.

Brownfield took home ribbons in two contests and an honorable mention, namely, Royda Dumas won first place in foods division for her homemade enchiladas; Kay Kessinger, first place in Arts and Crafts division for her painting; and an honorable mention went to Maxine Green for her Mexican solo dance.

Other entries from Brownfield, in various contests, included John Hill, Star George, Theresa Stephens, and Marie Boots.

Patsy Teague represented BHS as a princess in the fiesta and was escorted in the coronation by James Szydlowski, of Brownfield. The group was accompanied by their teacher, Miss Barbara Crowe, and Mrs. A. J. Cain.

Sponsored by the Llano Estacado Chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese, the program included the selection of the queen, Connie Jackson, of Levelland, from a field of aspirants from 17 high schools and the choosing of four duchesses from entries representing nine area junior high schools.

Saturday morning featured a "mercado" or market-place held in the high school gymnasium by students from the participating schools. At the same time, Spanish students participated in contests including poetry, prose, vocabulary, music, pronunciation, Spanish cooking, arts and crafts, creative writing and dance.

At 11 a.m., a general assembly of all students attending the fiesta was staged and principal speaker was Juanita Barbolla of the Fort Worth City Welfare Department. Miss Barbolla was "Miss Good Neighbor" at the mid-winter meeting of the Good Neighbor Commission in El Paso in 1953.

A luncheon, featuring Spanish food, was served at noon, with the coronation of the fiesta queen at 2 p.m., in the high school auditorium.

In addition to Brownfield, entries were from Amarillo, Andrews, Artesia, N. M., Borger, Canyon, Clayton, N. M., Dalhart, Clovis, N. M., Dumas, Littlefield, Lubbock, Tech, Midland, Odessa, Perryton, Phillips, Plainview, Rotan, Snyder, Vernon, and Tulia.

B'field Cubs Win Denver City Meet

The Brownfield Cubs swept a five-way practice track meet Saturday at Denver City, scoring most of their points in the field events and the longer races.

The Cubs, coached by Sonny Cleere, accumulated 54 1-5 points to 37 1-2 for O'Donnell, 337-12 for the most Mustangs; 14 for Seagraves, and 12 6-10 for Plains.

High point man of the meet was John Curtis of Denver City, who won the 100-yard dash in 9.9, the 220 in 22 flat and the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, six inches. In addition, he anchored the 440 relay home to a 45.6 time to wind up with 16 1-4 points.

Jessie Scott was the high point man for the Cubs, winning the discus with a toss of 106 feet, 2 inches, and finishing third in the broadjump and the shot putt.

Brownfield won first place in the pole vault when Jack Stricklin cleared 10 feet; Robert McIntire got another with 56.8, 440 yard run and wasn't pushed; and the mile relay team came in with a time of 3:52.5.

Over 200 Persons Attend Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom.

Some 190 students, teachers, and special guests attended the Brownfield Junior-Senior Banquet held at 7:30 p.m., April 1, in the Legion Hall, and over 200 persons attended the prom which followed.

The program was as follows: invocation, Principal Byron Rucker; welcome, Lee Allen Jones; response by Billy Mack Herod; senior class will, Sammy Key; special entertainment; class prophesy, Charlotte Green, and benediction, Supt. O. R. Douglas.

"Moonlight Serenade," theme for the evening was carried out in decorations in the hall. Large silver crescented moons amid clouds of angel hair were placed at the top of each blue or white pillar, decorated with musical notes, around the room. Blue styrofoam moons centered individual tables and the speakers' tables flanked by silver and white carnations with blue stars suspended from the ceiling.

Southern fried chicken, pine apple cheese salad, green beans, potato salad, ice tea, and home-made pies were served to those attending. Bob Lamont's orchestra furnished music for the prom which followed.

Extension of Drouth Emergency Feed Program

Authorization has been received from the Washington office to continue accepting applications from farmers and ranchers for feed for not more than a thirty-day supply, under the same policy that was in effect prior to the notice we received that April 15 should be the final date for the program. Therefore, all farmers and ranchers who have not made an application for a supply should do so at once.

1954 Wheat Acreage Allotment Measurements

The Terry County Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee started the reporters checking wheat in Terry County, Monday morning. The regulations require that each farm on which a wheat allotment was established be checked. In order to complete this check, we must have the signature of the farm operator, therefore, we suggest that when these reporters are working in your neighborhood, be at home, in order that you may be contacted. We have the new aerial maps, on which we are requesting that the reporters establish boundaries on permanent fields in order that the tilled acres may be established at this time.

Research, Markets Key to Farmers' Problems, Says Benson

"The most important method of promoting the long-time welfare of farm people and the Nation is now—has long been, and will continue to be—adequate programs of research and education." Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson told representatives of State-wide agricultural groups at a recent meeting in Orlando, Fla.

He said that a sound price-support program is necessary for agriculture, but that it is not the answer to all our problems. He explained that purchases with public funds in some past years have helped relieve surpluses. "The administration is not unmindful of its responsibility to aid," Secretary Benson said.

We are moving forward, he said, in putting various proposals into effect to meet basic long-range needs for reducing costs, improving quality, and expanding the markets for American agriculture.

The Secretary reported that the State-Federal team working toward these ends is being made more versatile, and that the Department's Agricultural Research Service has been made a unified agency to bring the combined and coordinated strength of the many sciences to bear more effectively on the problems farmers face.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson, of Brownfield, are in Arkansas this week visiting relatives. They plan to go on to Florida for an extended vacation.

Mrs. Edna Holt, of Brownfield, has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. David Curry, in Kerrville, for the past several weeks.

Commissioners And Judge Attend West Texas Meeting

County Judge Herbert Chesshir and County Commissioners Earl McNeil, Carl Stephenson, Mrs. Anne Bell Lay, and Bob Burnett, returned Thursday from Fort Worth where they attended West Texas County Judges and Commissioners meeting.

At the meeting, it was decided to ask Gov. Allan Shivers to invoke Public Law 875, which will open the way for drouth-stricken West Texas counties to ask for emergency federal aid.

Officials of 25 counties made an appointment with the governor for 10 a. m., April 15, in Austin. The group represents 127 Texas counties.

The program as outlined by Judge R. F. Sprayberry of Lamesa, would ask the federal government:

1. To provide more surplus food to the counties and speed up shipments of the commodities now being sent.
2. Through its Farmers Home Administration, to increase loans for monthly living allowances to farmers, to increase loans for farm operations and to extend the period for paying off these loans.
3. To give employment to the people out of work.

Terry Farm Bureau Men Recognized At Gaines Co. Meeting

Special recognition was given H. L. (Hub) King, state Farm Bureau director from Brownfield, and Bill Tilson, former state director from Meadow, at a meeting of the Farmers' and Stockmen's Association of Gaines County, held in Seminole, Friday night.

J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, making one of his rare appearances at a county farm meeting, said that as long as farmers do not create any outstanding surpluses in the coming years, they may be able to retain 90 per cent of parity, an issue now confronting the Congress. The occasion was a membership campaign kick-off meeting of the Gaines County organization in the school cafeteria and was attended by approximately 85 members and guests.

Concluding his hour-long talk, Hammond stressed that farmers and ranchers should always band together and talk things over. First, on the community level; second, on the county level, and thirdly, on the state level. A group decision is much better than an individual decision in matters concerning the welfare of many, the bureau man said.

Farm Bureau members were recognized from Dawson, Terry and Howard counties. E. F. Riggs, Seagraves farmer, presided over the meeting, after which coffee and cake was served.

Harry Goble Elected Lions Club Prexy

Outgoing directors are Ted Odom and C. W. Denison.

Thirty-six members were served a roast beef dinner.

Musical Presented
Forty-three members and guests were present at the March 31 meeting when members of the Hereford Lions Club, Woodie Wilson and Leo Box, presented a musical program.

Mr. Fields, of Hereford, gave a short talk on behalf of Harold Close, of Hereford, who is running for Governor of Lions, District 2T1.

The entry list for the 1954 Chicken-of-Tomorrow is a record. If all participants carry through, 4,680 broilers will be exhibited in the show at Center during the week of May 10.

Mrs. Ralph Howell, of Grand Prairie took her mother, Mrs. Ed Crossland home with her, Saturday, after a day's visit here.

Need To Compete At District Toastmasters

Bill Neel, who was runner-up at a recent area contest, will represent the Brownfield Toastmasters Club at a district convention and speech contest for Toastmasters clubs, slated to be at Lubbock, Saturday. Representatives from 15 clubs in 13 West Texas towns and cities are expected to participate. Highlights of the day, which starts at 10 a. m., at the Caprock Hotel, will be a luncheon and a dinner. Lubbock's two clubs will be host units. They are the Lubbock Toastmasters Club and the Hub City Toastmasters' Club.

Other clubs to be represented are Plainview, Tulia, San Angelo, Odessa, Midland (two clubs), Levelland, Hereford, Dalhart, Borger, Big Spring and Amarillo.

Griffith; Newsom Elected Trustees

Some 300 ballots were cast here last Saturday in the Brownfield school election. The present President of the Board, G. C. Griffith, was re-elected; and J. L. Newsom, gin man of Gomez, was also elected. Just two were to be elected at this time.

Mr. Griffith received 226 votes; Mr. Newsom received 271; and Mrs. Gail Davis, 103 ballots. Not too much interest was taken in the election, as there was no controversy, and most any two of those on the ballot would have suited most people well enough, so they did not go to the trouble to vote.

The conqueror of Mount Everest, Sir Edmund Hillary, said he would return to Nepal on another expedition soon.

CONVENTION

day afternoon, that was hard to beat. True, the first section moved a bit too fast and got kinder separated from the second section, by more than a block, but they finally joined up going east on Broadway. The bands did their stuff, and there was a lot of them from many towns of the area, mostly high school bands. Even the high stepping gals leading the bands were not too cold in their shorts, as it was a fairly warm afternoon. We were also told that plenty housing was found for the some 500 delegates, as well as the Auxiliary ladies. Of course, many with in 50 to 75 miles, could drive home after the programs were over at night, and this included the dances for those who dance. The free feeds were well prepared by those in the know, and there was no hitch or trouble in feeding delegates and visitors at any time.

Brownfield Post and people were glad to have these old warriors, and their wives and daughters of the Auxiliary, as our guests. They are among the finest and most deserving people on earth, and none of them are the least tainted with any foreign ism. We hope to have them again some time.

Big Spring got the fall convention, which meets in November, at which some new officers will be elected and installed.

DOUGLAS HELPS PLAN TEXAS CONGRESS PTA CONFERENCE

O. R. Douglas, Superintendent of Brownfield Schools, is serving as co-chairman of the workshop planning committee for the 26th annual conference of the 14th District, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, to be held in Plainview, April 20-21.

"Concerted Action; Richer Dividends for Every Child," will be the theme of the conference, according to Mrs. Robert W. Cross, of Anson, district president.

The board of managers will hold a pre-conference meeting at 10 a. m., April 20, and delegates and visitors will begin registration at 11 a. m., with the first session called for 2:30 p. m. A banquet honoring life members, school superintendents and past district presidents will be held that evening at the Plainview High School Cafeteria. A delegates luncheon has been set for Wednesday noon. Featuring the two-day conference will be the workshop sessions on the theme, "Three Points of Program Building: Planning, Publicity, and Production," which will begin at 11 o'clock, Wednesday morning and continue through adjournment that afternoon.

Carl Elliott, city, returned on Wednesday by plane from Dallas, where he attended the Ginners convention.
