The General Telephone Company of the Southwest wishes to report that due to our rains Sunday night we had some 160 telephones out of service in Brownfield, due to several cases of wet feeder cable. However, the cable trouble was located and dried out by our local plantmen, and the majority of the telephones were back in service by 5 p.m. or before.

No serious damages were caused to their plant, according to Paul Farrar, district manager.

Traffic fines totalled $48.75, trial fees $154, and officers cost, $211.

Month's Supply Of Drouth Relief Food Arrives With Rains

A month's supply of drouth relief food arrived Friday at the Terry County Welfare office—enough food for 120 unemployed persons.

L. D. Bailey, office manager, said he felt sure that requests would drop due to the recent rains here, and he stated that many of the registrants had now found work through the Texas Employment Commission, located in the Court-house and through other contacts.

Two-thirds of the number who have applied were native Mexicans. The county program is set up to accommodate about 120 persons, or about 40 families, but anyone thinking about applying should be certain he or she has been to the employment agency first.

Foods that will be distributed are canned beef with gravy, cheese, butter, non-fat dry milk, and shortening.

THAT GLORIOUS RAIN! IT FINALLY CAME

We have seen more voluntary smiles the past few days than since the woods burned, in this section of the "United States," as they would say up at Dog Patch, or over in Lower Slobovia. To say the least, while some of our high moguls may look as dignified as usual, and apparently nothing out of the ordinary has happened to disturb the even tenor of their way, about a "little" rain.

But not so with the run of the mine of us farmers and "kentry edjutors," we are happy over the whole matter, and let our joy abound. Yes sir, E. Bob Dixon, the best news in months happened Saturday and Sunday nights when the pours of the heavens opened, and that stuff we call moisture came down to give the old farmers of this area a season like they did not have last year.

In fact, many of our farmers have stated to us recently that they were in much better position to make a crop this year than last with the same amount of moisture. In March, 1953, the land was as hard and dry as a bone down as far as a plow would go. But the October rains put a bottom season down there, and deep plowing still brings up bottom soil that sticks together if squeezed in the hands.

With anywhere from two to three and four inches over the county, we figure the moisture will meet the bottom moisture, and give the old farmer a whaling good shot at a crop this year. We had plenty rainfall last year, more than 12 inches, to have produced a fairly good crop in Terry County. We have made crops with a bit less, when there was a bottom season to start with. So, we figure we are about three long jumps ahead of last year this time.

Was talking to Joe W. Brown, who farms out 2 1/2 miles east of the Magnolia Camp. He stated that he had some three inches on that farm, and that his other place, out northwest, known as the Hobbs place, received even more rain. Some southeast and east of town received four inches or more Saturday and Sunday nights. That section of the county getting much more rain Saturday night than here in town and west. Joe has some good cottonseed to sell.

Odin Caswell was in from out on Rt. 1, Tuesday, and stated that he received about three inches of rain, as they got about 1.50 Saturday night, while the gauge here in town was registering only .06. A dark cloud with much lightning was noted just east of town about 7 p.m. Then they possibly got as much rain as we on Sunday night, some 2.24 inches.

To sum it all up, the glorious rains have come, and we have a season in the ground once again, and it appears that old Terry and area is again ready to bloom like the rose. But many fear some will plant a bit early, especially cotton. Indeed, we understand one irrigation man, at least, had already planted cotton. Usually speaking, cotton does not do much good here until May, but this year could be an exception to the regular trend.

Anyway, the farmers can plant some sudan for early grazing, and on top of that maybe some maize. As we write this, still looking like more rain, and the weathermen are of the same opinion. Let 'er drip!

3,000 Easter Eggs In Readiness For Hunt, Saturday

Over 3,000 Easter Eggs have been purchased by the Lions Club for their annual hunt, scheduled at 3 p.m., Saturday, April 17, at the Jaycee Stock Barns. The City Park is usually used for the contest but this week it is under water.

Chairman of arrangements De Witt Stafford said for all "small fry" to meet at the barns and the division areas would be designated.

Five prizes for the finders of lucky eggs will be given and all children in the county and trade area are invited to participate. Over 300 youngsters enjoyed last year's hunt and an even greater number is expected to attend this year.

Other Lions members helping with arrangements are J. O. Burnett, Otis Lerner, Clyde Bond, Sr., and Tim Faulkenberry.

The Old Levelland Road To Be Paved

Judge Herbert Chesshir stated this week, that caution signs had been placed on the old Levelland Road, that the road was under construction. This will of course be a Farm-Market road, turning off at the Lubbock-Levelland highways' "Y," crossing the railroad, and running nine miles north to an intersection with the Needmore-Meadow F-M road.

Judge Chesshir stated that clearing the right-of-way had been completed on all but a bit of the south end, to where it crosses the railroad, but they expect that portion to be finished soon. Jones Construction Co., of Lubbock, has the contract for grading and paving.

As to that business of getting the rest of the right-of-way in the north portion of the city on the four-lane highway to Lubbock, Judge Chesshir stated that he had a final talk with the owners Tuesday, and nothing came of the matter, and it will be turned over to the Jury of View Committee to dispose of by legal means.

DROUTH BREAKER PARADE—Brownfield High School students and Band expressed their glee for the recent rains by staging a hastily-organized parade through Brownfield, Monday. The students marched and played through a heavy mist, and automobile horns blared on and on, but no one minded, as they were all so grateful for the long needed "precipitation." (Staff Photo.)

A DRIVE OUT TO SEE WHAT THE BIG RAINS DID

The Herald bunch took a spin out Tuesday late, about 7 p.m. to see the effect of the fine rains that fell over the weekend. The Old He thought the drive would just cover the town and nearby points, and went off without his snuff and cigars, and the Jr. Ed. had his off-brand—to us—cigarettes along, so made out pretty well. We'll tell you this much, if you don't already know it, that torn-up to widen and re-pave 380 highway, from here to Gomez, is as rough as the old fashioned "rock turnpike" was back in the old states 50 years ago. But it will be a hum dinger when it is re-paved.

By heck, those old farmers, or some of them out in that area got the nervous itch, and had to start those plows, and some were breaking land that afternoon. We had heard that some out in the Harmony community had a hard time getting in and out of their places after the Sunday night downpour. And we admit there is more water standing out in the Gomez, Harmony, Johnson, Pool and Needmore communities, than since last October, and for years before that date. We don't believe Fred Bucy has quite as much water as he had last fall, as he received some 8 to 10 inches on different portions of his farm at that time. But in the Gomez, Johnson, and Pool areas, around to the Beasley farm west of Needmore, we believe they had nearly as much water standing in low places as they did last fall.

To say the least, the patient old farmers of Terry and area have what they have been looking for 'ol' these many days, and we rejoice with them as they rejoice. Since the big rains, the weather has been cloudy by day and night, and little wind, and every drop of water that fell has gone down into the alluvial soil, to await the planting of the seed. We did note however, that in a few places, the rain seemed to have fallen much harder than here in town, and there were some gullies and other signs of water erosion on the slanting places, and adjoining the road right of ways.

Got in about dark, 8 p.m., after a bit more than an hour viewing the soil of Terry with a different look than for some time. Come to Terry.

Church was conducted on horseback at the Charles A. Jones stadium at 10 a.m., Sunday. The concluding activity, a palmetto polo match between the Dickens County Sheriff's Posse and the Hereford Riders, was staged at 1:30 p.m., Sunday.

B'FIELD CELEBRATES DROUTH-BREAKING RAIN WITH PARADE, MONDAY

There was a happy bunch of people in this old burg Monday, following a 2.32 inch rain Saturday and Sunday nights. With water everywhere, instead of blowing sand, the people were in a mood to put on a sizeable parade. So, the leaders up at high school made hasty preparations, and by 11 a.m., the big, noisy parade was on, in all its glory.

The procession was led by the high school band, and those good looking, prancing majorettes, and even though it was rather chilly, and a fine mist falling, no one seemed to mind the moisture. The band was followed by an open car with a bathing beauty with her bathing suit on. Then came hundreds of honking cars and yelling

W. B. (RED) TUDOR BANK PRESIDENT

W. B. (Red) Tudor, was elected to succeed Hobart Lewis, who has resigned his presidency of the First National Bank of Brownfield, at a board of directors meeting Monday.

Tudor, who assumes semi-active duties May 1, when Lewis begins work as President of the Spur Security Bank, has been an active member of the board of directors for the past two years. Present officers will continue operation of the bank.

At the meeting, L. J. Richardson, cashier at the bank, was elected to the board of directors. Members of the board include John J. Kendrick, executive vice president; Frank Ballard, C. K. Kendrick, Hobart Lewis, J. H. (Jess) McWherter, C. E. Ross, W. B. Tudor, Dennis Lilly, all of Brownfield; Marvin Abernathy of Slaton, and Bobby Field of Bronco.

Red Tudor, as he is generally called, because of his slightly red locks of hair and ruddy complexion, is no newcomer to Brownfield. In fact he is one of the early day business men, and is well known especially in Terry and Yoakum counties. He will still be active as head of the Tudor Sales Co., which is the Buick agency in Brownfield. The Herald congratulates this old timer, and we believe he will do what he thinks is right and just in all his dealings as head of the First National Bank.

Judge Louis B. Reed Announces For Re-Election in Dist.

In a brief statement this week, Judge Louis B. Reed, of the 106th Judicial District, which includes Gaines, Dawson, Garza, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties, disclosed the fact that he was a candidate for re-election.

Judge Reed will have a formal statement in these columns in the next few weeks.

people in the cars and on the side lines.

Miss Kay Kissenger, who was recently elected as the school bathing beauty, was promptly designated "MISS DROUTH BREAKER." All this added, to the fact that there was a prayer meeting recently to ask the Almighty for rain, may have all helped to bring the glorious downfall of just what it takes to bring old Terry and the South Plains back to normal.

There is nothing, as has been repeated many times of late, the matter with old Terry that a big rain would not cure—and we got that Saturday and Sunday nights. We helped some by letting out a few old fashioned Porter's creek bottom, Tennessee yells, as the parade went by.

THOUGHT-STARTERS FOR CITIZENS

A businessman friend recently said to me: "I belong to several civic and fraternal organizations, but I feel that I'm not doing all I could do for the betterment of my community. What is the most important service task I could undertake, on my own, in my town? That's a wonderful attitude, and the question thus posed is challenging. What is the most important public service task that a citizen leader could undertake? It would depend somewhat on the circumstances in the community. But here are some thought-starters:

1. Mobilize the intelligent citizen leadership of the community to solve the local public school finance problem. It can be done. And yet this problem of school finance is chronic in 99 per cent of the school districts of America today. If all the people of any given community in America ere suddenly transplanted onto an uninhabited Pacific island, the first thing they'd do would be to develop a source of food, then provide for shelter. Very soon they'd build a church and a schoolhouse, and they would ultimately provide the kind of education they wanted their children to have. With inspired leadership and the same resourcefulness and determination it can be done in any American community today.

Citizenship Education

2. Get the citizen leadership working with the teachers toward the development of a course in American citizenship education in the high school of your community. Very few schools are teaching the youngsters about how America was founded, how the USA was created, how our private enterprise system evolved, and what makes it tick. Most teachers and most parents want these things taught—but does your school have a course that teaches them? Chances are it does not.

3. Why doesn't the citizen leadership in each community take care of its own community's welfare problems? Because some state and national politicians have persuaded the communities that they needn't bother. Communities can usually solve their welfare problems themselves. That is a challenging fact.

Better Health Facilities

4. One dedicated man can move a community to raise its health standards, its medical and hospital facilities an an adequate level. There are a number of examples of this fact, yet the records show that comparatively few towns and cities in America have adequate health facilities. To get them, one individual must take the lead and mobilize the citizen leadership.

5. Juvenile delinquency is a problem found to some degree in most American communities. Some of our nation's foremost leaders, including such men as J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, contend that juvenile delinquency is a major social problem. Yet, ho many communities have any organization that does more than give lip service to this problem locally? Unfortunately, not many. All that is required is constructive action in a direction that is clearly chartered.

More Manufacturing

6. Lift the per capita income of your community. How? A single civic leader can accomplish this with a little intelligent work and a lot of enthusiasm and enterprise. Any community in America has the factors, necessary, or can develop the factors, for establishment of a new industry. Industry creates new wealth. And new wealth in a community lifts the per capita income. Chambers of Commerce and other organizations work at this constantly. But almost invariably it is a single individual in an organization who is largely responsible for getting the new industry, with its new payroll and its enriching production.

Our nation today needs individual local efforts more than it needs anything else on earth. The trend throughout the world is toward huge centralized government—government that does all things for all people. The trend is robbing us of self reliance at the grass roots, and thus is poisoning the wellspring of freedom. What can a citizen do? A citizen can pick a community need whose fulfillment has been handed to the state or federal government and bring the responsibility back home—where it belongs. Local self-government and local self-responsibility are the essence of the free way of life.

AAUW Urges Senate Continue Education Exchange Program

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Strong support for the Eisenhower Administration request for $15 million to operate the Department of State International Education Exchange Program in 1955 has been registered by the American Association of University Women in two separate actions.

In a letter to the Senate Appropriations Committee, the Association urged restoration of the $6 million cut made by the House. In addition, a one-page alert was addressed to AAUW local branches in 1,260 communities notifying them of the cut and pending action by the Senate group in mid-April.

The alert outlined these crippling effects of the proposed cut: (1) approximately 500 grants would be cut from the Fulbright program; (2) foreign leader and specialist programs would be eliminated in 61 countries; and (3) the total program would be eliminated in 46 countries.

SS Church of Christ Revival Was Success

Meeting at the Southside Church of Christ closed Sunday night. Logan Buchanan of the Hampton Place Church of Christ in Dallas Texas, was the visiting evangelist. His preaching was forceful, plain and always backed by the word of God. Mr. Buchanan is one of the most capable Gospel preachers in the United States, and is also a leading debater and author. His stay in Brownfield was certainly appreciated by the people who heard him.

Five responded to the invitation of Christ during the meeting. Three were baptized "For the remission of Sins," and two re-dedicated their lives to the service of God, and placed their membership with this congregation.

Services were held each morning at 10 and each evening at 8. Congregational singing was directed by Bill Andrews, minister for the Southside congregation.

Bro. Andrews also announces the lesson for the next two Sunday evenings. They are: April 18, "Realizing our Opportunities," For April 25, "The Scriptures and Present Day Doctrines."

The latter lesson will consist of scriptures only. No personal comment, or reference to human authority.

A sum of $1,225,000 will be used to strengthen the church in Japan and the Philippines and to aid Christians in these vital areas in their efforts to combat Communism with the force of Christianity. With the possible exception of the Dallas Morning News, most of the daily papers we know about, supported Senator Lyndon B. Johnson. The Herald and many of the country weeklies supported Coke Stevenson, and we are still not ashamed of the matter, or the amount of "straight" votes that Coke received. What beat Coke was the boss stacked votes down in old Duval, which were held out several days, to find out just how many would be needed to put Lyndon a nose ahead of Coke—87 votes to be correct. If Duval had been a free, unbossed county and had voted like other counties of the State, that is proportionally, Coke would have won the election by some 2,000 or 3,000 votes. But Mr. Johnson accepted the verdict, as well as his friends, but at that time there was not so much investigation down there as now. If there had been, probably there would have been some question of seating him in the US Senate when he reached Washington. There is no question in the minds of people who stand for fair and impartial elections, that many ballots were removed from the ballot boxes of Duval County, after the polls closed, and other substituted, until Senator Johnson had a majority of 87 votes. The Herald would be the last paper on earth to say that Senator Johnson made any stab at trying to harvest all these crooked votes, but he accepted them when they were delivered on a platter by Duke Parr and his cohorts. And we don't think he will try to shield Parr from the investigations now underway. To do so would ruin him politically. To say the least, we believe that Senator Johnson is making the State a good leader in the US Senate. He, unlike Sam Rayburn and some others is not loaded with bigotry. On the other hand, if he thinks a piece of legislation is good for the nation and state, even if put forward by the administration, Johnson works and votes for it. On the other hand, if he thinks a piece of legislation introduced by one of the leftist Democrats of the North and East, stinks, Johnson comes up against it. In fact, if we examine the records, we find that Johnson and other conservative Democrats from the South, have voted just about as many times on legislation with the administration, as they have against it. Also, to our notion, there ought to be a re-alignment of parties. Let the radical Republicans and Democrats form one, and the conservatives of both parties form another. Might have to change some names, but that would be OK. And we might add just here that we don't believe that anyone will be able to unseat Johnson this year at least.

Of late we believe we hear as much or more talk about the A and H bombs than about dry weather. In fact, it has been so long since we really had a rain, that talking about dry weather is no news—everyone knows about it. But the matter of bombs is discussed from several angles, and few are agreed over the matter. We might also add right here that the majority of talk is by fellows like the writer that don't know any more about it than Adam's off steer. For instance one guy will come forward with the idea that after all the explosions are causing the death of rain we are having in this area. Yet, despite this view, we might add that they are having an abundance of rain on the Pacific coast, and much more snow than usual in the northwest mountainous sections than for many years. In fact, they are having a lot of hard work keeping the passes open in some of the mountains. Just this week, the Newsweek showed a map in colors, of the USA, displaying a strip along the Pacific Coast, and another in the northeast, with prospects of above normal rainfall for this year. Another, including the east half of Texas, and to Florida coast, and north to Tennessee and Kentucky, with about normal. Then there was a streak starting in New Mexico, and running northeast through the Texas Plains and Panhandle, and on east as far as Missouri, with sub-normal moisture. And that is about the way it has stood all this year, or since last October, to be exact. Now this was the idea of the Weather Bureau—not some guesser. But even the WB of late has been off the hook about as much as on it. For instance, one day recently, the wind was supposed to be from the southwest rather brisk. Truth of the matter as that the wind was from exactly the opposite direction, the northeast, and brisk. So, the idea that the bombs have anything to do with the weather is very doubtful with us, at this distance from the explosions. And we've seen no record so far that the usual tropical rains and typhoons have been any less or more in the immediate sections where the bombs have been exploded. Admittedly, there is some danger from being burned or poisoned if too near to where the bombs have been exploded, as in the case of the 23 Jap fishermen. Then, there is the idea that we might keep the Bolsheviks scared to start another war, if we keep loaded for bear, and just a few in advance of our enemies in production and knowhow. Indeed there is so much about bombs in our dailies and magazines of late that there is not much else to read. To say the least some of us are getting tired of seeing a mushroom looking cloud every time we open a paper or magazine.

From what most of us can gather from the spewing off of President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles of late, it appears that we are on the verge of trouble with the Reds, along with France and Indochina. And it appears to most of us gentle readers that there has been some implications that might be taken as a threat that we would get in another war over there in that outlandish hole, if the Chinese Reds don't watch their step. That we might drop a lot of high powered explosives on them. In fact, it has been our experience from youth to now, that the guy that makes a lot of threats may have his hand called, and that few people or nations like a bully. To start with, the writer has been an isolationist too long to want to get mixed up in every scrap that comes up all over the world. To say the least, we are not much of an internationalist, and we have our reasons. We read way back 174 years ago that our own nation conceived the idea of liberty from the throne of old England, and an eight-year war was fought with that nation about the matter, and we finally won, although we had a very bloody head in the melee. Then about the time we begin to sprout whiskers, our relations with Spain began to grow worse, and finally the Battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor. There never was any conclusive evidence that the Spaniards blew up the Maine. But we believe that they at least instigated the violence, and we went to war with the theme song, "freedom for the Cubans." We won, and the Cubans were set free, instead of making them a colony. Then our history memory runs back to about 1600, when the colonies from England, France and Spain, especially, began to come over, and colonize the western hemisphere. And to this day, some of the western hemisphere is still held by these colony nations, with the possible exception of Spain. But after losing by sale the Louisiana purchase, France turned to more tame areas like Africa and southern Asia, and gobbled up a lot of territory in the name of the tri-colored flag. Recently, one of these wanted the French to go home, and leave them rule their own shebang; Indochina to be exact. But it's too good a thing to turn loose at this point, and a war is on. Of course all those fighting against France are Communists, if we believe what we read. But we have a sneaking idea sometimes, that a lot of them wouldn't know a Commie from Adam's off steer. Just want their own rule. Now then, it looks like we are preparing to send thousands of our young men to a far-away land, to help France keep a colony. To say the least, the idea doesn't suit us.

To many people the idea of parties are paramount, no matter what they may stand for. This has always been particularly true of the South, especially since the Civil War. Back in our childhood, less than a decade after the close of that conflict, if there was a Republican in the neighborhood, he was referred to as a "black" Republican, and by that they did not mean he was a negro. In fact, most of the darkies voted just like the white people. The exception not being the rule. And searching our memory to the best of our ability from that long ago period, we found that persons that did not fight the "damyankees" were even more prejudiced again the Republican party than the old soldiers. This prejudice reached its extreme among the young bloods who had grown into manhood and the voting age since the Civil War closed. The old soldiers, or most of them just grinned, and would say little, but vote 'er straight. Now days we still have with us a lot of people who had rather vote for a yellow dog that called himself a Democrat than a real gentleman who votes for men and measures and not just the party name. On the other hand, a lot of Texas and perhaps other mostly Southern folks have reached the point that if a black sheep wears the collar of the Democrats, but opposes about everything the real Democrats have stood for from Jefferson to Roosevelt, he is not worthy of support, and should be histed from office. Most of the old line Democrats believed that the people should support the government instead of the other way around, and that the office holder be a stickler for honesty in government, instead of trying to make special favorites of a few, and pour it on the rest of the people. For that reason, people have become more and more independent in their voting habits. For many years there has been a lot of independent voters in the north and east, and in many instances they hold the balance of power. If a candidate on the Democratic ticket suits them best, they vote for him. On the other hand, if the Republican candidate is more to their liking, he gets their vote. And that folks, is the way many people of Texas are beginning to view the matter. Some would have you put a blab over your mouth, stop your nostrils and blind your eyes and go vote 'er straight. But others are getting to the point that they don't think this is using good sense and reason. First, we must view the needs of the nation, state, and county, and lastly the name of some man or the name of the party he wears. There are good and bad men in all parties, and if we are really patriotic, we'll look to the needs of our nation, state and county.

In the name of all goodness, what is this old nation coming to anyway? We read the other day about a Dallas man, whose grandfather helped hold a big reinforced Yankee army in check for two whole days at Shiloh, Tenn., which was fought back in 1862, on the west bank of the Tennessee River. This Dallas man, whose name we do not recall presently, met and shook the hand of the grandson of Gen. U. S. Grant, whose re-enforced army from across the river at Savannah, together with the cannon taken from gunboats on the river, were the odds that carried the second day of battle for the north. And, as was stated in the article, it was there that President Lincoln found himself a general that he could rely on. Up to that time, if all other things being equal, the Confederates usually routed the Yankee army. But in Grant, Lincoln found a man that was as stubborn and determined as General Lee, Stonewall Jackson and other Confederate warriors. As we have been over this Shiloh Park several times in the past 25 years, many of the places mentioned had a familiar ring, as well as the photographs of the scenes. The place is less than 50 miles from where we first saw the light of day, and we knew a lot of old Ex-Confeds in our boyhood, that were engaged in the two-day affray. But most of them believed that the death of Gen. Albert Sidney Johnson, lost the battle the first day. Johnson had the Federal army hemmed against the bank of the Tennessee, and no way to cross, but was himself shot in the afternoon and soon passed away. Gen. Beauregard was the next in command, and he was anxious to promote himself and get the glory next day. A fact he

State Shows Decline In '54 Construction

A February construction boom in Texas cities, as measured by building permits issued, compared to January, was reported Saturday by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas. However, January and February figures still remained below the 1953 figures for the two months. Figures compiled by the bureau showed the value of new buildings authorized gained 23 per cent from January to February, 1954, "in spite of the fact that a normal seasonal decline of 7 per cent was anticipated." The bureau said that according to a recent tabulation, Texas has a bigger construction backlog than any other State. The biggest gain in construction permits was in cities between 25,000 and 50,000 population, the bureau said. The rise in cities of that size averaged 155 per cent. Changes in value of building permits issued by cities from January to February, included: Vernon, up 2,000 per cent; Greenville, up 675 per cent; Tyler, up 64 per cent.

Mrs. Peek and Mrs. Gregg served coffee and cookies to nine members present. Linda Castleberry, of Friona, spent the week end with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Castleberry, while her mother, Mrs. Ray Castleberry was in Fort Worth for the funeral of her brother, Glendell Whisenhunt, who died there Friday. Rev. H. G. Verner, of Petersburg, spent part of the week here with his mother, Mrs. J. T. Verner. Mrs. James Selman and daughter, Pat, of Hobbs, N. M., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gober and boys and attended services at the Methodist Church, Monday morning.

Several of the Meadow people attended the funeral services of Rev. H. I. Robinson in Lubbock, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Tucker and girls had her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sorrell, and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, all of Snyder, visiting them over the week end and were visitors at the Methodist Church, Sunday. Mrs. Petty, of Levelland, spent the week end with Mrs. Leola Petty and children. Mrs. Tod Boyd was a patient in the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital part of last week. She returned home Saturday and is improving. Mrs. Virgil Cryer, of Wylie, Texas, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Boyd and family, this week. Miss Fay Shaddon, of Lubbock, spent the week end in Carl Russell home. The Needmore Home Demonstration Club was host at a canasta and "42" party, Monday night at the Meadow lunch room. The ladies brought pies, coffee and cold drinks being provided by the club members. Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Jimmy Gammill, of Alameda, Calif., are parents of a son, James R. Gammill, Jr. The mother is the former Nina Ruth Short, who is a former Meadow resident.

BETWEEN CLASSES AND 'ROUND TOWN

with Jane Griggs

In keeping with the times, Miss Drouth Breaker, alias Kay Kessinger, alias BHS Bathing Beauty, was crowned after a formal parade around the square in the mist last Monday. Earlier in the year, BHS students voted for what we thought was a Bathing Beauty, but no one said anything about the real deal, and although everybody pried and snooped. Student Council members would tell us nothing. It came as a real surprise!

Earl Brown was announced as being the Outstanding FFA member at the annual Parent-Son Banquet held in the Jessie G. Randal Cafeteria last Monday night. Earl's daddy, Earl Brown, Sr., and Jerry Dumas, Bob Dumas' daddy, were elected honorary members of the Brownfield FFA Chapter. Those present saw a film at the banquet.

Kay Hamilton was in the hospital this week with pneumonia.

Signs have decorated the hall this week, campaigning for the FFA's next year's officers. Royda Dumas and Betty Daniell are running for President; Virlene Sharp and Patsy Teague for Vice President; and Sandra Yandell, Ann Griggs, and Carole Dallas for Secretary. They'll be elected by secret ballot and no one will know until the banquet, May 3.

Daters have been Patsy McAnally and Gail Armstrong; Betty Hahn and Clyde Trotter; Barbara Knox and Eddie Foshee; Wynona Newman and Carl Moore; Demeris Little and Bob Creelman of El Paso; Ginger Gunn and Don Grimes, of Seagraves; Virginia Godwin and Sammy Smith; Claudell Johnson and Odell Brumley; Ann Gibson, of Union, and Tommy Chisholm; and Patsy Hunter and Bobby Adams; and Anita Cheatham and Donald Hancock, all of Union.

HUMBLE GETS SEVEN TOP SAFETY AWARDS

Seven top awards of the Texas Safety Association were presented to Humble Oil & Refining Company and Humble Pipe Line Company at the annual Texas Safety Conference in Dallas on March 27.

The awards were based on state-wide competition for the lowest accident rate during 1953 between oil company units with 500 or more employees. The Humble Companies won first-place safety awards in seven out of eight categories within the contest—marketing, exploration, drilling, producing, refining, synthetic rubber, and oil pipe line operations.

In addition, the Companies have been notified by the National Safety Council of top nationwide awards for safety in refining and producing operations in 1953, and of second-place honors in pipe line operations. These awards will be presented by the National Safety Council later this month.

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON

A West Texan asks what I consider the number one problem before Texas. I think the answer to that question is water—water for people; water for crops; water for stock; water for industry.

For most of our State, 1953 was a year of drought. A few facts tell the story. The average temperature for the year was two per cent above normal. The greater part of Texas had 50 to 75 per cent of normal rainfall . . . far West Texas only 25 per cent. Amarillo had the driest period in the history of its weather station; the Rio Grande ran dry at Laredo for the first time in the record books; San Antonio had one of its driest years since 1925.

I have followed the Weather Bureau reports closely. The early reports for 1954 are not encouraging. Only parts of East Texas have received 50 to 100 per cent of normal rainfall. Far West Texas went down to 25 per cent of normal in the 13 weeks that ended March 15. Central Texas could boast of 25 to 50 per cent normal.

Water is not just a farm problem. It's a big city problem, too. Weather Bureau reports on 17 Texas cities for the week ended March 15, showed only two—Galveston and Houston—with any rainfall at all. It was insignificant. The other 15 cities chalked up a score of

CIRCLE POSTPONES DECORATIONAL TOUR

Hope Circle of First Methodist Church held its regular monthly luncheon meeting Thursday at 9:30 a.m., at the church parlor.

Mrs. Dan Davis, president, presided over the business meeting at which a vote was carried to postpone the spring decorative tour until fall.

Mrs. Bole Payne directed a study on "Worship in the Home." About 12 ladies attended.

zero. All should have had some rain on the basis of past records. WHAT IS TO BE DONE? Sea water into fresh water is possible but will not be feasible on a large scale until some time in the future. Rain making is still in the experimental stage . . . and cannot be done anyway without clouds. The only possible answer is store up water or starve! In the "fat" years, we must save the precious water that will take us through the lean years.

This means heavier concentration on small dams and upstream water projects. Texas is a "big" State and many of its problems can be solved only through "big" projects. But the "big" water projects do not meet the needs of all our people. We need thousands of small dams in the upland areas—dams that will not only store water but give Texans protection against the flash floods that do so much damage and wash away the soil.

We have had many surveys . . . many projects. But we haven't licked the problem yet! It is going to take all of us—working together—to get something done. About 300 years ago, a very wise man said: "God helps those who help themselves." I think this is just another way of saying that the Almighty will respond to our own faith, confidence and courage.

I am working in close cooperation with the Government agencies that are involved in Soil Conservation; Flood Control and Reclamation. There are some fine men in those agencies—men who have dedicated their lives to saving the soil as a heritage for our children. I have appeared before Congressional committees and urged project after project.

I want your ideas; I want all the advice I can get. Won't you drop me a line on conditions in your area and what should be done? No amount of expert advice can replace the people who are on the spot—who are watching precious topsoil blow away while crops wither in the field for lack of water.

NINETEEN FAMILIES COME HERE TO MAKE HOMES

Last week was another lively week here in trying to get 19 families located and settled down for their work. We say all were family folks, because 18 of them were listed with from one to more children. The other, we concluded, was a married couple without children, as single men don't rent apartments. Anyway the old town welcomes all these good people with open hands and hearts.

As in the case for the past several years, most of them are oil field or oil company office workers, and are listed as roughnecks, drillers, cementers, pumpers, etc. But some of them left us sorter up a tree on whether they were working for an oil company, or are here to help build highways and F-M roads. For instance, one was mentioned as a bulldozer operator, and still another was an iron worker. Both industries use them. But twelve of the 19 were unmistakably listed as connected with oil business, mostly the Phillips Company, who have recently opened headquarters here.

One was listed as a service manager of a Motor Co., and two as motor company employees, and still another as a bookkeeper for a local air conditioner company. Lastly, there was an ex-Service man from Milwaukee, Wisc., but did not state his occupation, if any.

Two each of these families were from Lubbock, Midland and Meridian, Texas, and one each from Welch, Borger, Colorado City, Plains, Brownwood, Amarillo, Milwaukee, Wisc., Wichita Falls, Eunice, N. M., Whitesboro, Levelland, Albuquerque, N. M., and Liberal, Kansas.

Bro. John McCoy, new minister for the Crescent Hill Church of Christ, and his wife and daughter moved into the parsonage here last week and left immediately for a meeting in South Texas. They plan to return this week.

George H. King from Albuquerque, N. M., visited his mother, Mrs. Lucy King, here this week. He was also a guest in the O. B. Trotter home. Mr. King is Mrs. Trotter's brother.

A-S-C-S NEWS

By Looe Miller,

May 15, 1954, is the final date by which producers must use wheat acreage for green manure, cover crop, hay, pasture, or silage if such acreage is not to be classified as "wheat acreage" under the wheat allotment program.

Riley D. Jones, chairman of the Terry County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, explained that the recent revision in wheat program regulations permits wheat acreage to be used in this way in order to bring the wheat acreage into compliance with the wheat acreage allotment for the farm for 1954.

Producers who have planted an acreage of wheat which they wish to use as green manure, cover crop, pasture, or silage, and whose wheat acreage has not yet been measured, should notify the County ASC Office and designate the acreage on which the practice will be carried out. Practice must then be completed by the established deadline, which in Terry County is May 15, 1954.

A producer who has already designated an acreage to be used for this practice may substitute other acreage for the acreage previously designated by notifying the county office of his intentions, specifying the acreage to be substituted, and carrying out the practice not later than the date set for completion of the practice.

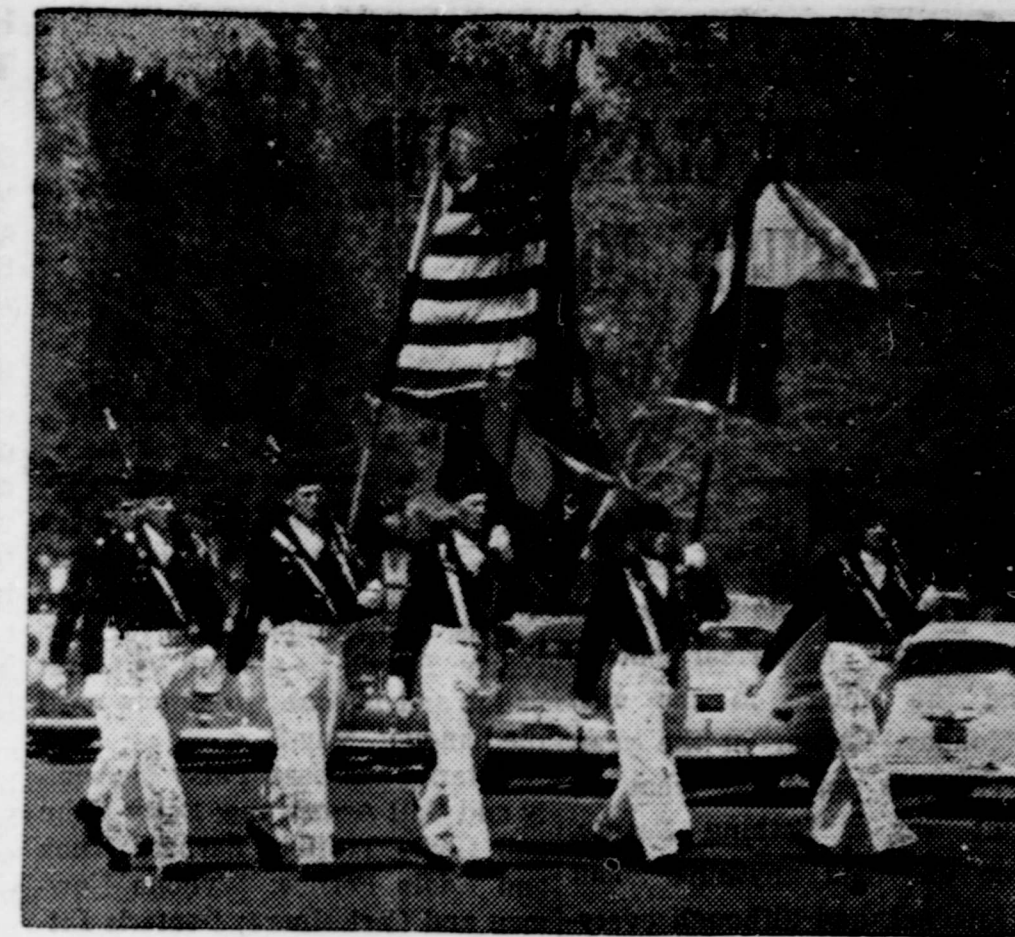

Under the wheat marketing quota program, effective for the 1954 wheat crop, a farmer with an acreage allotment of more than 15 acres who exceeds his farm wheat acreage allotment in 1954 becomes subject to a marketing penalty on his "excess" production. A farmer with an acreage allotment of 15 acres or less may produce as much as 15 acres of wheat without incurring marketing penalties. In addition, any farmer who exceeds his wheat acreage allotment, regardless of size, becomes ineligible for Commodity Credit Corporation price support on his wheat.

However, by not permitting overplanted wheat acreage to reach maturity because it is, while still green, turned under for green manure, pastured off, or cut for hay or silage, a producer has an opportunity to bring his acreage into compliance and thus avoid the quota penalty and loss of eligibility for available price support.

Chairman Jones said that the closing date for completing the "green manure" practice under the wheat program was set far enough ahead of harvest to assure such utilization of the designated acreage before the wheat reached maturity, it was set early enough to enable the county committee to make the final check of performance and to issue marketing cards to eligible producers before harvest.

Stricklinly Speaking

By OLD HE

We noted in the papers last week that our long time neighbor and friend, Mrs. Dessie Lewis Sawyer, was "throwing" a big $12.50 a plate Democratic dinner at Hobbs, N. M., at which many notables of the party were invited and expected. Among them the National Chairman, as well as the two New Mexico Senators, as well as hosts of others, who follow the banner of the Democrats, come sandstorms, rain or blue northers.

Mrs. Sawyer, wife of another old time Territe, Ulysses Sawyer, is the New Mexico National Delegate of the Democratic party. But all this brought us abrupt to some 30 odd years ago. At that time Dessie's dad and mother and the rest of the family, still at home at the time, lived on a block just east of us over in the first addition to Brownfield. When the railroad came in 1917, their home had to be moved to the eastern part of town, as the railroad right-of-way ran through their property.

Dessie at that time was somewhere near "sweet 16," and instead of following streets to get to our work in those days, we just cut across the nearby, and that was right by the Lewis home. They, like most all people had their own milk cow, as milk was hard to buy in those days. We usually went to the Lewis home to get Dessie milking their cow as we passed, and because we were a bit mean and wanted to "aggrer-fret" someone in those days, we had a little song our older brother learned us back in Tennessee, when a child. It went:

Strip it from them quick,
And strip it from them easy,
Strip it from them quick,
Before anyone sees ye.

Up would come Dessie, and she would set her milk pail down, and gather up a few handy rocks, and we had to beat a hasty retreat—and we could get over ground pretty fast those days. But Dessie could just about match any boy in hurling rocks with aim and accuracy, but we knew the cowpen fence would stop her, until we were out of range of her rocks. If she saw us first, we kept silent as we went by.

What a change in that time? She didn't know then that she would be the mistress of a fine ranch in New Mexico, and stand high among the stalwarts of Democracy. Hardly ever see Dessie that we don't ask if she can still toss the stones. So far as we are concerned, Dessie and the Old He are still good friends, although of late years we have on one occasion chosen men instead of party. But we didn't get an invite to the party at Hobbs.

In connection with the fine showing of calves, pigs and poultry made last week by our 4-H and FFA boys and girls, there is still something that has recently come to light, that in our humble opinion is even more commendable.

In some of the counties, a few persons who were interested, made a check of the court records. And they were not surprised when it was disclosed that the record for juvenile delinquency ran very low among such youths. It is believed that these youths had some other matters to interest them, other than getting in cross purposes with the law. There may be a movement on foot not too far away, when interested people may try and persuade more of our young people to take up such things as trying to raise more and better pigs, calves and chickens.

Getting tangled with the law is not only a dangerous thing for the youth of our land, but it is a great bother to their parents. But some other method of help and amusement must be found for city youths. They can't very well raise livestock and poultry in the cities.

Even a lawyer who makes a profound study of what he is going to say, maybe can say too much on occasion, as well, perhaps, as too little at the right time. A Dallas barrister presently is under discussion, with most of the writers in "Reader's Column" of the Dallas News against. The attorney in question is alleged to have told the prisoner, a murderer at the bar of justice, that "he was willing to walk the last mile with him, and then pull the electric switch to the hot-seat at Huntsville."

Very few people have any sympathy with a dirty murderer, or what befalls him, but to say that we would walk with him to the electric chair, then pull the switch, sending instant death into him, would be better not said. We have men employed down at Huntsville to pull the switch—not the attorney.

Speaking of attorney's we had an article from the State Bar Association this week, in which they explained the much misunderstood word, "deposition." Of course it is just sworn to evidence in writing, that a person can make under oath, and to be used at trials in court, providing there is a possibility that the one making the statement under oath, may not be able to attend the trial of the case in question.

Tickled pink to have Col. "Eee Eye" Hill, editor of the Lynn County News with us for a short visit Saturday. Unlike most country editors, Col. Hill knows no more about the mechanical side of the industry, than a hog knows about a sidesaddle. But being a versatile writer, he likes the printing industry, and loves to sit in smelling distance of the printer's ink.

He also likes to write about what he sees and hears when off on a jaunt. He has already covered most of the interesting places, such as lakes, etc., in Lynn County, as well as such places in the Panhandle as Palo Duro Canyon. He has been giving a series of his travels in Old Mexico of late, that is interesting and instructive, whether you've ever been in that Republic, or will ever visit down there.

Col. Hill is a highly educated man, and a good writer. But he was educated for the law, and at the time he bought the Lynn County News, he was district attorney down at Sweetwater. Call again, Colonel!

We are always glad to have a word from our readers, and this is especially true of those who have read the Herald for almost the whole 50 years of its existence. We had a remittance from Dr. H. F. Hansberger up at Columbus, Ohio, the past week, for another year. We remember quite well that his dad, the late Henry Hansberger took the Herald 45 years ago.

Dr. Hansberger makes a trip down occasionally to look over his property. In his letter, he hoped it would find all the crew well and happy. Same to you, Dr., and hope you'll be coming down again soon? It has rained at last.

Then there was another from our old friend of our younger days, N. Dennis Rentfro, up at Tulia.

Vic Vet says

HERE'S ANOTHER REMINDER FOR POST-KOREA VETERANS WHO WERE DISCHARGED BEFORE AUGUST 20, 1952, AND WHO PLAN TO BEGIN KOREA GI BILL TRAINING. THEY HAVE ONLY UNTIL AUGUST 20, 1954 TO START THEIR TRAINING.

It has been a long time now since Dennis helped herd cattle on the ranches of Terry County.

We'd like to see Dennis sometime, and hear him tell how he is getting on. About all in his letter aside from the check for another year of the Herald, was the brief, "keep 'er comin'." Do our best, Dennis.

We get a lot of funny letters, not the least of which was one from Meadow recently; no signature—only a box number. It was a parody on the 23rd Psalm, which we had seen printed several times, the first line of which, was "Eisenhower is my shepherd, I am in want" etc. etc.

And of course that old 'un about eating rabbits and other bunk. But we'll bet a dime with a hole in it, to a doughnut with a hole in it, that the guy that wrote the stuff hasn't eaten a half dozen rabbits since he landed in Terry County, or perhaps in his lifetime. Even back in the good old days of Hoover, few of us ate rabbits, as we could get beef too cheap to mess with the jacks.

And with automobiles selling at one-third the present prices, most of us old codgers could own a new car every few years. Frankly, we have noted particularly of recent years, that the fellows who are aching most are those who have been cut off from some of their buttermilk. Those old farmers working 160 to 320 acres (themselves) are not the ones that are raising so much hades.

And to finish this epistle as the writer, we'll say, AMEN!

New Jobs for Texans

Texas industries have been providing new jobs for Texans at the rate of about 70,000 a year. That's about 200 new jobs every day.

All kinds of jobs... in offices, on construction work, in manufacturing plants, in the development of the natural resources of the State. Jobs for riggers, for secretaries, for engineers, for truck drivers, for accountants, for lawyers, for crane operators, for decorators, for sailors... all kinds of jobs.

And the reason why these new jobs have been, and continue to be available is this: Texas industry is expanding, and industry makes jobs.

On the average, each new job created in Texas requires the investment of $12,000 capital*. Thus, Texas industry invests over three-quarters of a billion dollars each year in new plants and in plant expansion to create 70,000 new Texas jobs.

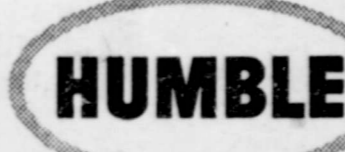

Much of this annual investment in new jobs for Texans is made by the oil industry itself and industries which depend on oil and natural gas for fuel and raw materials. Every year a wider variety of industries put to profitable use a larger number of the resources of the State, and call on a broader assortment of available Texas skills.

Forecasters predict an even greater industrial development in Texas, and an even larger number of new jobs, as more industries recognize the advantages that Texas offers: good markets, raw and manufactured resources, trustworthy and dependable people, efficient and abundant fuel, a mild climate, and a good state government... In that list of advantages, the Texas oil industry provides raw materials for processing, and the world's finest industrial fuel—natural gas.

*In the oil industry, the required investment for each new job is over $50,000.

TERRY GETS ONE NEW WELL; FOUR NEW LOCATIONS

Oil enthusiasts here are looking for something to break not too far off out in the South Tokio field. Two wells on the Terry County side and at least one on the Yoakum County side are getting down near where the Wolfcamp pay is located. The Treadaway well is considered a wildcat, as it is more than a mile from the two finished wells, but the others are close to these wells.

Anyway, Terry County got one well in the roundup last week with four new locations. Yoakum County got four new wells and two new locations. The new wells were as follows:

Terry County: Prentice 6700—Kay Kimbell 4-A S. F. PURTELL ADDRESSES WORKERS GROUP ON MECHANICAL HARVEST Agriculture Workers Council met in Seminole, Tuesday, April 13, at the Community Center, with R. J. Purtell speaking to the workers on "Mechanical Harvesting, and Land Preparation."

Purtell explained that with present labor difficulties, farming is becoming mechanized, and that farmers must plan well in advance and prepare their land to use machinery.

Purtell explained that cultivation had to be made to fit machinery, rather than machinery to fit cultivation. Also types of cotton should be taken into consideration, if machinery is to be used.

Plan for a direct goal for the use of mechanical harvesting.

Lee stated that the farmers over around Gomez were not the only ones that had plows running—he's guilty.
