He is survived by his father, H. A. Coats of Cisco, three sisters, Mrs. Bill Collins, Cisco, Mrs. Roy Watkins, Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Joe Range of Los Angeles, Calif., and one brother, James R. Coats of Cisco.

Also surviving are his grandmother, Mrs. Jim Yeager of Cisco and one half-sister Jean Coats of Cisco and two half-brothers, Herbert and H. L. Coats of Cisco.

Blaze Damages Payne Residence

Fire of undetermined origin broke out in the roof of Mrs. Fure Payne's residence on East-18th St., at noon today. Firemen were able to extinguish the blaze without any real damage to the house.

Mrs. Payne told firemen she believed the blaze was started by incorrectly installed piping to her cook stove. She had recently purchased a new wood stove and had it installed last week. Only slight damage was done to the roof.

Coke Stevenson Is Cisco Visitor

Former Governor Coke Stevenson of Junction, candidate for United States Senator, was in Cisco today in the interest of his campaign. His stop here was brief, and he said he would probably return before the election.

The ex-governor said that his campaign "looked good." He expected to reach Abilene tonight where he was scheduled for a speech.

The Gay Philosopher

CISCO IS SITTING on top now and has a grand opportunity to grow in size and prosperity. That's what a man told us this morning. And he doesn't live here. He's an important man in the oil business. He lives in a nearby city.

"IF YOU PEOPLE don't want the supply companies and oil companies to locate there, we'll take them," he said. He conceded that Cisco has the best chance of being the regional center of the new oil play. He told us further that we would all feel the effects of oil play more if there was plenty of pipe.

OLD-FASHIONED oil booms are a thing of the past. This country is too thickly populated for a recurrence of the Ranger-type boom. But the oil business is mighty good. It turns money loose in sizeable wads. The drillers and operators have a good many employees. And the landowners get their royalty.

HOUSING IS perhaps the city's greatest need. We heard a fellow say the other day that you could probably rent 200 houses in Cisco if you had them to rent. A dozen or so persons inquire at our office every day for houses and apartments. And we're sure that the Chamber of Commerce and the real estate offices have similar demands.

ANOTHER NEED is business buildings. Several oil well supply companies are now moving in. The fact that they'll take leases for five years or longer indicates that they believe the future is pretty bright around here.

Body of Local Man Arrives In U. S. For Burial

The body of Sergeant Leonard Bohanon, who lost his life in Italy on February 14, 1944, arrived in New York City Tuesday to be sent home for final burial, according to information sent his wife here.

The Army advised Mrs. Bohanon that the body would arrive in Fort Worth in about two weeks. Final arrangements will be made as soon as definite information is received as to when the body will arrive in Cisco.

Sergeant Bohanon joined the army in 1940 with a National Guard company from Abilene. He fought through several of the major Italian campaigns, losing his life in the Anzio Beachhead battle. His wife is the former Miss Uviah Moad, daughter of Rev. C. S. Moad, pastor of the Church of God here. Besides his wife, he is survived by a 5-year-old daughter and his mother. The latter resides in Arizona.

Melvin Baileys Start New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bailey have started construction work on their new home located on Front Street between 12th and 13th Sts. The house is to be of frame construction with composition roof.

Plans call for six rooms — living room, dining room, kitchen and three bed rooms — with a two-car garage attached. There is to be a large front porch and a concrete terrace at the back.

The house is to be located on a large wooded tract consisting of six lots and will face east. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey plan on landscaping the grounds and making an out-door living room. The grounds will be complete with barbecue pit and tables.

The most famous rug in the world is called "The Holy Carpet of the Mosque at Ardebil." It is cherished by the South Kensington Museum in London and is valued at more than $500,000.

Gyroscopes are used to stabilize ships.

Directors of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee to study the "rent house situation" at their regular meeting Tuesday night. Appointment of the committee, composed of E. P. Tex Harvey Will Drill Test Near Eastland Lake

Another area of Eastland County was in the oil limelight today as a drilling contractor began moving a rig on city land three miles north of the City of Eastland. The area is some nine miles east of Cisco.

Tex Harvey Oil Company was preparing to drill a deep test on Lake Eastland land. According to reports, at least four operators were buying leases in that section.

Drilling operations continued in Cisco's new Mississippi Lime field a mile north of town. W. G. Skelley No. 1 Thomas which is being drilled on a lease adjoining the Kleiner discovery property, has completed setting surface pipe and was drilling at about 300 feet early today.

The Sam Killingsworth No. 1 George P. Fee, two miles northeast of Cisco, was drilling at 800 feet early Wednesday. It will also be a Mississippi test.

Lone Star Producing Co. was drilling at 2,925 feet in their A-4 Kincaid just northeast of Cisco, and in the same area Hickok Oil Co.'s No. 3 Kleiner was drilling at 2,850 feet today.

In the Caddo lime pool some 10 miles northeast of Cisco, Lone Star's No. 7 J. W. Elliott was drilling on top of the Lake sand at 3,545 feet early Wednesday. The Caddo was encountered high at 2,331 feet — highest in the field. It was understood that Lone Star would attempt a Lake completion before returning to the Caddo.

The Warren Sorrels et al No. 1 R. W. Kindel, three miles northeast of town, was still shutdown awaiting tubing before a completion effort in the Duffer Lime.

Glover Producing Co. had completed setting surface pipe on their Kirkland farm test, 4 miles southeast of Cisco, and had shutdown at 400 feet today awaiting a gas connection.

Brother of Local Man Dies at Home In Loraine

Joe O. Harris was called to Loraine to attend the funeral of his brother, Will Harris, who died there Tuesday. Funeral services were held Wednesday.

The deceased was a former resident of Cisco, having lived here at the time of the cyclone in 1893. He was engaged in railway construction and helped in building rail roads over West Texas.

Bethlehem Supply Company Leases Building for Equipment Store Here

The growth of Cisco as an oil center was given new impetus today with the announcement that Bethlehem Supply Company, nationally known oil well supply firm, has signed a contract for the rental of a building at 421 Avenue D.

The company expects to have their Cisco branch store in operation by August 15 in the building now occupied by Wyatt Plumbing Co. Alterations on the building will begin August 1 and stock will be moved in as soon as possible after that date.

W. E. Stevenson of Wichita Falls, district manager of the company, announced that C. A. Pigg of Bowie, Texas, would be manager of the Cisco store. Mr. Pigg reported here on July 6 to take over his duties. Other store personnel will move to Cisco about August 1.

Mr. Pigg, who was manager of the Bowie store for three years, said that the company planned to stock a complete line of rotary equipment and parts as well as production and cable tool equipment. Wyatt Plumbing Co., owners of the building, will move to a new location. An announcement concerning the new plumbing store will be made in the near future.

Headquarters for the Bethlehem Company in the southwest are in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Harley Sadler To Attend National Democratic Meet

State Representative Harley Sadler, candidate for the State Senate from this district announced today that he will leave Friday, July 9, for Philadelphia to attend the National Democratic

HARLEY SADLER.

Convention. He expects to return July 17.

Mr. Sadler said that he regretted having to be absent from the district during the closing days of the campaign for the senate, but "I feel deeply honored that the duly elected delegates to the State Democratic Convention in Brownwood last May saw fit to elect me as a regular delegate from the 17th congressional district and I feel that I should fulfill this obligation." He added that during his absence friends would carry on the campaign in his behalf.

A series of five-minute talks has been transcribed and will be given each morning and evening during his absence over local radio stations in the district, starting Monday, July 12, through July 17, inclusive.

WAA Will Offer 225 Buildings In Brownwood Sale

Final "clean-up" sale of 225 buildings for offsite use at Camp Bowie, Brownwood, by means of a two part offering to priority groups and the general public was announced today by the Grand Prairie regional office of War Assets Administration.

The buildings are the last available at Camp Bowie following a cycle of clearance sales at the site during the past nine months. Virtually all other surplus property of the camp has been disposed of, including buildings, utilities, industrial and institutional areas, and land, which has been assigned to the Federal Land Bank for disposal.

In the final offering will be administration buildings, hutments, infirmary, latrines, igloo, storage hut, oil storage house, colonel's quarters, mess halls, recreation, hospital barracks, theater, post office, officers' mess and other types. All, with the exception of a few miscellaneous structures erected of steel and concrete, are of standard army frame construction.

Federal agencies, state and local governments and non-profit institutions will have the first option at claiming the buildings. Applications must be submitted by priority holders before July 12, which has been set as expiration date for the priority period.

All other claimants, including non-priority purchasers, are invited to submit sealed bids on remaining unclaimed structures beginning July 26, when special bid forms will be available. Inspection arrangements may be made through the regional WAA office, or by contacting the WAA's Camp Bowie resident manager. Bid forms and complete information will be furnished by the awarding office of real property disposal, Box 6030, Dallas 2, Texas.

Kleiner Issues Statement Asking Pledges Be Paid

Cisco's campaign to raise a $15,000 Community Center fund had reached the point today where leaders believed it would go over the top.

Honorary Chairman Charles J. Kleiner announced that cash contributions and pledges together with "a few pledges we are confident of receiving" are sufficient to indicate a successful drive. He called for a speedy end of the campaign.

In his statement, Mr. Kleiner praised the work of Co-Chairmen J. J. Calloway and S. H. Nance and members of their committee, and he complimented contributors "for a job well done."

Meanwhile plans were being made to begin construction work on the building at the site near the football stadium as soon as possible. Work on dismantling the building, a War Assets Administration gymnasium-auditorium purchased recently by the schools at Del Rio, has been delayed by heavy rains in that area.

Several loads of material that will go into the building have been moved to the site, and at least four other loads were ready to be brought here as soon as road conditions in the flooded Del Rio area permit.

Mr. Kleiner's statement follows: "Considering a few pledges yet to be received, the campaign for the Community Center fund has now reached a point where it can be said that it will go over the top. Again, Cisco has not failed."

"This result depends upon the payment of pledges that have been made, both in money and in service, and also upon the prospect that some who have yet to pledge will do so.

"This is a very encouraging outcome to a very worthy effort. A serious need has been met. It has been met by community cooperation and generosity. No longer will we complain about the necessity for a gymnasium and a community center. The campaign has made possible a good one. We must plan to use it in the best interests of the community, its schools and its children.

"While I have been unable to serve as an active worker in the campaign, it has been a great pleasure to serve as honorary chairman. The active co-chairmen and the men and women who served under their direction have done a magnificent job. I express my appreciation for the success they have made of this campaign. I am happy to have been associated with them in name and spirit.

"I should like also, to express my thanks to those who gave. Their gifts were not for a moment, a month or a year. The influence of what they have made possible will continue into generations.

"Let us wind up the details of the campaign as quickly as possible, so that there will be no errors or losses in delay. The work of erecting the big building is now going on. Wages and costs of material and other expenses must be paid. Every dollar will be needed.

"I hope that those who have pledged and not made arrangements to pay will do so at once. Some, of course, have notified that they will pay at a certain time. If you have not and are waiting upon a call, please regard this as such a call and turn in your payments to the business office of the school district, where Mr. Clyde Karalits will receive the money.

"Let me repeat my thanks for this splendid job. You have done it again!"

Texas Forestry Program.

In view of the ever-increasing usage of lumber, it is good to know that steps are being taken to maintain a reserve. In Texas there are 138 tree farms with a total of 2,403,881 acres — one fourth of our commercial timberland.

The Texas Forest Service in cooperation with other agencies has in progress a program to perpetuate the state's supply of timber by encouraging good forestry practices on industry and farm-owned woodlands. The project was initiated in 1944.

Eighteen other states in the nation are conducting similar programs. It might be noted that Texas is second only to Arkansas in acreage committed to the tree farms cause while only four other states can boast a greater number of tree farms. Texas further claims both the largest and smallest tree farms in the nation.

The forestry service realizes that too many Texas farm woodlands, usually on soil not good enough for field crops, are loafing today. They provide some fire wood and fence posts, but they return little cash to the owner. Bonafide tree farmers have proven that the farm woods need not loaf. Timberland can be highly profitable if it is handled right.

The service's tree farm program is growing each year. And, the leaders point out, it will have to continue growing if the ever-increasing demand for wood and wood products is met.

Divorce Rate Down.

The U. S. divorce rate in 1927 was the lowest in eight years because of the high cost of living and the fact that more women are dependent since they lost their war time jobs, according to a survey conducted by the World Book Encyclopedia.

The book reports that the chances of staying married are best in Buffalo, New York. This city, located in Erie County, recorded the greatest divorce decline of any American community. In 1946, the peak year for divorces. In 1947, Buffalo's record revealed only 349 annulments and 387 divorces.

The Reno divorce factory reported only 7,122 divorces as compared with 11,060 in 1946. St. Louis had a 43 per cent decrease and closed one of its three domestic relations courts. A 20 per cent drop was noted in New York City.

Naval Secrets, for Peace or War, Under Close Guard in Washington

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Somewhere in the Navy Department is a secret chart room whose portals open daily to top brass personally invited by Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations.

Denfeld and his closest advisers gather there once a week to watch somebody move little pins here and there on maps and charts and hear someone explain why the pins are being moved.

Not many naval officers even know where the room is. Most of them wouldn't dare be caught asking. And it's a 1,000 to 1 bet that no ordinary citizen would find it.

Top Secret Stuff.
Why? Because the information contained in that room is top secret stuff which the office of naval intelligence has gathered from agents all over the world.

In anything happened to that room or the information in it, the result would be perhaps irreparable damage not only to navy operations in any future war but even to its operations today.

Behind those closely-guarded doors, men work with pins and pens, fitting bits of information into the world-wide picture and keeping that picture up to the minute.

Weekly, Rear Adm. Thomas B. Inglis, chief of naval intelligence, briefs Denfeld and his planners on: Secrets Imparted.

1. The war-making capabilities and intentions of foreign nations — that is, what they are up to, scientifically and otherwise.

2. The intelligence needed for planning and operations. For instance, Inglis recently told the House appropriations committee the amount of detailed information needed for planning an amphibious operation is "encyclopedic."

3. Threats, if any, to the Navy; threats to material through sabotage, to secrets through espionage and to personnel through subversive activities.

As one commander put it, "If you get in that room, you're really in." He didn't know where the room was. But he said he knew a captain who had been inside it once — "and he acted like he had seen God."

Blue Ridges Yield Super-Hard Rock To Aid Industry

NATURAL BRIDGE, Va. (AP) — White-hot flames of acetylene and oxygen torches burned deep into solid stone near here to rob the ageless Blue Ridge mountains of one of the hardest substances known to man.

Near this resort center in the upper reaches of the Shenandoah Valley is one of the nation's few quartzite mines.

Quartzite is a rock of nearly the same chemical composition as sand. It is used in making silicon, chrome and manganese alloys and in tungsten, vanadium, columbian, zirconium and other products.

Formed here by centuries of pressure and heat from the massive limestone ledges above, the quartzite is taken out by burning

Summer students from all parts of the country include many who are taking a five year collegiate course. This leads to both a college degree and a diploma in nursing, and is open to both men and women. Cook County has affiliations with accredited colleges in Illinois, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin.

David A. McMinn of the State Fair, has announced, holes in the rocks around it and blasting it with dynamite.

Ordinary steel drills cannot be used because their tips are worn away too rapidly by the hard rock. A fast-eating torch can burn as far as 20 feet into the rock and a trained miner can tell from the sound of his flame when he has burned deeply enough.

Torches, the Dynamite.
Compressed air drills are used to make the initial drilling in the stony slopes along Elk Ridge. Then the torches are used and next the dynamite.

The ore is crushed at two stations and then washed with a stream that flows at the rate of 720 gallons a minute.

Processing the hard ore ruins heavy teeth in the steam shovels in about three days time. Steel equipment must be replaced frequently, but the resulting product is profitable.

The ore is shipped by railroad to Alloy, W. Va. The railroads use quartzite chips for decorative ballast around the stations and the sand is sold to contractors. There is little waste other than the excess rock.

The mine company discloses plans to increase production in two quarries from 800 tons a day to some 1,200 tons daily within the next six months.

Rumley Attends Cleaners' Meeting

Pete Rumley, owner of Vogue Cleaners, has recently returned from Abilene, where he attended the monthly association meeting for cleaners, laundries and dyers throughout Central and West Texas. More than 130 were present for the meeting, Mr. Rumley said.

The meeting was hosted by C. A. Barr, president of the Dry Cleaners Institute, and John D. Cash, executive secretary of the Oklahoma State Dry Cleaners Association, who were the guest speakers.

Both men spoke briefly on the difficult problems confronting dry cleaners today, and how they were using scientific knowledge to solve them. Mr. Barr mentioned the fact that the dry cleaners were becoming one of the largest industries in the world today. He added that the national institution was spending thousands of dollars yearly to further the development of the industry.

Mr. Cash told the attending members of the vast scientific research the National Institution for Research was accomplishing, including the new materials for cloth developed recently. They included woodpulp, plastic, spun glass, milk and cardboard, all now being used for the making of cloth.

Right Color, Wrong Date Gets Motorist In Jam

COLUMBUS, O. (UP) — When Joe Uhl bought his 1948 Ohio license tags he took the word of the bureau of motor vehicles that the tags were for the current period.

Police halted him soon and said that while the colors were correct, the markings read 1947.

Bureau officials came to Uhl's defense.

Convicts who made the plates at the Ohio Penitentiary, they explained, had forgotten to change the date when they struck the first die for this year's plates and a few licenses were issued before the mistake was discovered. Uhl will get new plates.
