Glancing through our exchange newspapers last week we noticed where H. M. Baggarly over at Tullia had a piece in his column about yours truly and Leland Boyd down at Bovina.

Although we have never met H. M. personally we'd heard of him professionally for quite some time and sometime back wrote him about some information which he carried in his paper some years back.

Knowing the way editors are prone to put off answering letters we included a dollar bill "to cover costs of mailing."

Well, things rocked along and we never heard and figured we were just out a buck.

Then came the paper—and H. M. must use a filing system similar to the one we use, which isn't worth bragging about. For, he lost the return address and says that he doesn't remember whether we or Leland sent him the dollar.

Now as things go we'd like to take this opportunity to claim that dollar.

Hold onto your hat... we had heard this rumor around town for quite some time, but Friday it became a reality. Hub has challenged Friona to a volleyball game.

So far that is about all we've heard about this battle of Goliaths.

Bill Nichols and Hollis Horton are gathering forces to represent Friona at this scrap and Bill Wooley and all the Mabry boys at the Hub are gathering their arms together. We hope to have more poop on this clash later.

You know the old saying about all's fair in love and war? Well, last week we figured they ought to include auctions in that also.

Bill Sheehan was bidding on an animal at the Livestock Show and Hollis Horton was busy trying to boost the price of the animal.

Two times Bill dumped the animal in question on Hollis but was finally caught with his eyes closed.

Or we should say he walked into this one with his eyes open. Surely Pete Buske didn't have this all pre-arranged on Bill but it worked out to a "4."

Bill had been bidding on another animal and as the bidding lagged Pete asked Bill if he was through.

Here Bill made his mistake. He nodded his head "Yes" in answer to Pete's query and at that instant the auctioneer saw him nod his head so Bill was the proud owner of a pretty red hog.

We received a letter from an old school buddy of ours last week which tickled us at the way he described his first impressions of a new home.

He and his wife have been recently discharged from the army and have taken a job in Virginia.

Like all of us he used to gripe about life at "home."

But, from the sound of his letter the "home" was pretty good after all.

Below is a part of his letter—"There are quite a few nuisances here in Virginia. One of the big ones is a state income tax. Another is having to buy county license tags for autos. Another is their requirement of 10-20-10 auto insurance instead of 5-10-5."

"In passing I might also mention their strictly-enforced speed limit of 55 miles per hour and 25 in city limits."

"There's also the matter of having to take another driving test and qualifying for another state driver's license."

"Not to mention their auto inspection periods—also strictly enforced—every six months."

"Always managing all the luck we have the good fortune of residing in the county which posted the largest number of auto accidents in the state last year. To continue, traffic patrolmen are of two breeds here—the uniformed and the plain clad."

"The plain clad is a treacherous individual. He drives an unmarked car and drives around the countryside and eagerly watches for violators."

J. R. Wells Has Champion Calf At Junior Stock Show

Friona's bus barns took on a carnival look Friday as interested onlookers and boys from all over the county gathered for the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show.

Jim Roy Wells of Friona was about the "proudest" youngster there Friday when Judge Nig Callihan picked his Hereford calf as the Grand Champion.

Reserve Champion went to the Clements Bros., also of Friona. Lazbuddie boys swept the titles in the swine division as Calvin Mason of Lazbuddie took the Grand Champion Fat Barrow rosette with his Duroc and Odus Neal Bradshaw, also of Lazbuddie, took the Grand Champion Female Swine rosette with his Duroc.

Jim Greeson of Friona and Larry Buckley of Friona took Grand and Reserve Champion Fat Lamb ribbons respectively with Carrol Redwine and his brother, Harrol Redwine of Lazbuddie taking the Grand and Reserve Champion Breeding Sheep awards.

Over 80 entries were present for the various classes.

Friday afternoon Chester and Fleming Gin of Friona paid $109.12 premium for Wells' Grand Champion steer.

The premium plus the floor price paid by Lonnie Baxter and Pete Buske brought the Champion's total price to $353.56.

A total of $8,099.25 was spent for the boys' animals at the auction ring Friday afternoon.

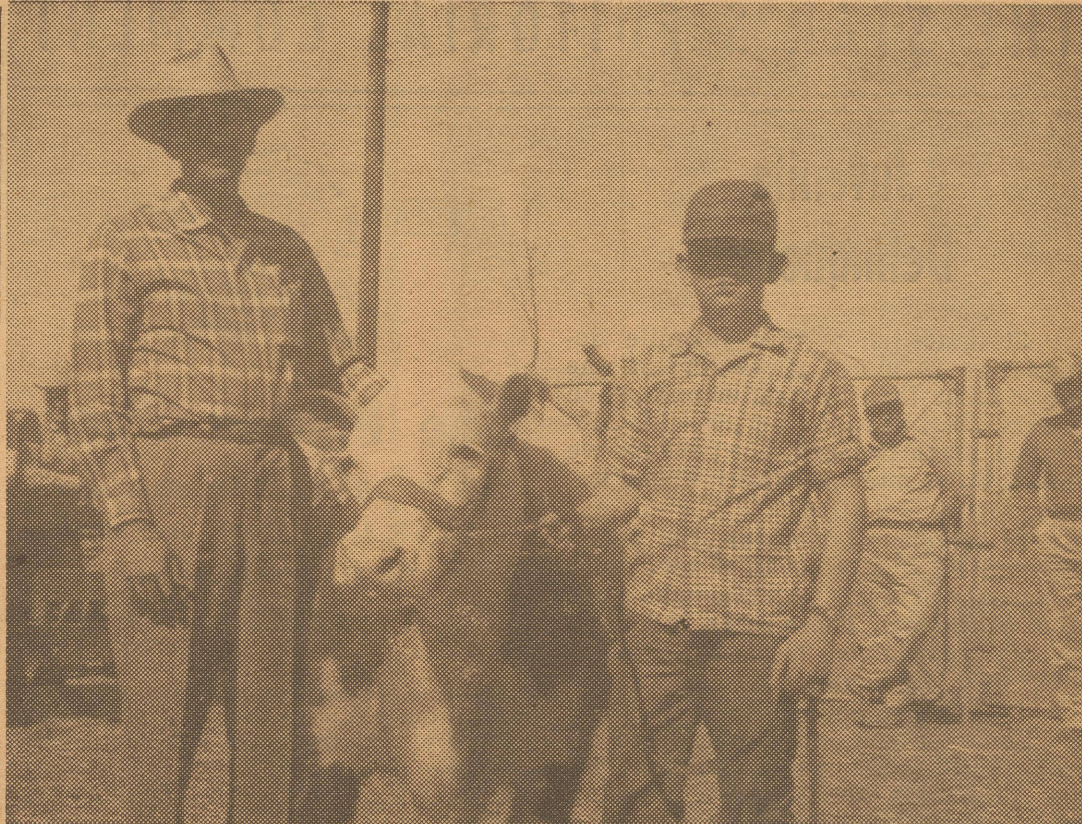

A complete list of the results of the show is found in the Farm & Home section of this paper.

★ THE CHILDREN MIGHT GET THEM

It isn't at all unusual for children to have to stay away from other children in order to avoid spreading contagious diseases; however, this practice was reversed last weekend.

Several members of the Slim Taylor family gathered at the Taylor home for a visit. Mrs. Dick Habbinga, who is Mrs. Taylor's aunt, had looked forward to getting to see the relatives. By the time the out of town relatives got here, Mrs. Habbinga had to change her plans.

When called and asked to "come and join the fun," she had to reply, "Sorry, but I might give the children the mumps."

GRAND CHAMPION STEER AND BUYER—Jim Roy Wells stands proudly by his calf that won the Grand Champion Steer ribbon at the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show Friday with Earl Chester of Chester & Fleming Gin of Friona who purchased the steer at the auction Friday afternoon.

HOW WILL THE JUDGE DECIDE?—A line of fine looking animals take the attention of most of the onlookers Friday afternoon at the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show in Friona. This is a group of medium weight steers being judged.

FVFD To Devise Tornado Warning

Citizens of Friona have been advised that the members of the Friona Volunteer Fire Department have been designated by the city council to take the necessary steps to install a tornado warning system for the city.

Fire Chief Charlie Bainum and Ralph Shirley have been at work on the system and have been told that the Amarillo Weather Bureau will advise them by radio when this area is under any danger from severe weather.

In turn Chief Bainum will set off the fire siren at the City Hall which will blow alternating 30-second blasts in case of a threat of any severe weather, including a tornado.

This 30-second blasts of the fire siren will continue as long as deemed necessary until all the citizens of Friona have been alerted of the impending danger.

In case of high winds the sirens on emergency vehicles will be used to supplement the city's siren to be sure all citizens are alerted.

"We won't blow the siren every time a cloud comes up," Chief Bainum warned, "But, we will blow the siren to warn the people when we are in any sort of danger."

The system has been designed with the thought of night storms primarily, Chief Bainum pointed out.

"We feel that the people need some sort of warning at night, for being asleep one could hit us before we know it if no warning is given," he says.

Fronans Compete In Regional Contests

Members of Friona's track, tennis and one-act play teams traveled to Lubbock last week and competed in the regional contests there.

Members of the one-act play raked up the best "score" at the contests coming out with a second place award and placing two members on the all-star cast and one winning the best actress award.

Luellen McLean was named best actress at the contest with Jan Edelman named a member of the all-star cast.

Members of the Friona one-act play include Luellen, Jan, Gerald Daniel, narrator, and Billie Rae McKee, student director.

The play was the recognition scene from "Anastasia." In track J. W. Baxter tied for second place honors in the high jump event, and members of the Friona 440-yard relay team placed fourth and posted the best time this year in that event.

Members of the 440-yard relay team include Jimmy Mabry, Larry Fairchild, Kenneth Carter, and Jerry London.

Friona's girls' tennis team won their first round games but were defeated in the quarter finals while the boys were defeated in the first round competition.

Members of the tennis teams include Nolen Johnson, Ronnie Wood, Randy Dickson, Lila Gay Buske, Tommy Lewellen and Gwen Green.

Under the warning system it is felt that there will be enough time for all persons to take cover before a tornado could strike the town.

Runt Massey, commander of the Friona American Legion, has announced that the American Legion basement in downtown Friona can be used as a shelter during time of emergency and Ralph Taylor and Jay Sanders have keys to the shelter which will be open when any alarm is sounded.

Scooter Enthusiasts Warned on Mufflers

Owners of motor scooters and scooter enthusiasts are warned by Friona Police Chief Ben Moorman that all scooters must have proper mufflers in place when being operated on the streets in Friona.

Chief Moorman explained that the warmer weather will bring out all the local scooters and that unless proper muffling devices are in place the noise will be offending to citizens.

In addition to the muffler warning Chief Moorman pointed out that he has observed several scooters being operated with three passengers aboard.

"Scooters are limited to two persons and we hope that the drivers will observe all traffic and driving rules when operating their scooters on the streets," he says.

Incidentally, this will be Janet's first time to participate in the regional bee. Last year she became ill the night be-

"We have narrowed down our applications to three men now," Mayor R. L. Fleming said Tuesday afternoon.

"The other councilmen and myself hope to have an answer as to who will be our city manager by early next week," he added.

Fleming went on to say that the three applicants are being checked as to background, credit and other qualifications before the council makes any final action.

The council received a total of 54 applications for the job of Friona's city manager.

These ranged in experience from none to those with a number of years experience and in profession from city clerks to lawyers.

Of the 54 applications received 22 of the men had previous experience in city manager work.

Councilmen met in a special session Monday night in the City Hall for the purpose of acting on a number of items concerning the Friona Volunteer Fire Department.

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Juvenile Delinquency

Statistics show that juvenile delinquency is more prevalent in the larger cities than in smaller ones, such as ours. Most of us do not give this subject too much thought, but perhaps we should think more seriously about it.

In the city of Houston, the police department gives a set of twelve rules to parents of each juvenile who runs afoul of the law. These rules, if followed, are guaranteed to make a delinquent of a boy or girl.

Some of you, no doubt, have already read them, but those who haven't will probably benefit from reading them and giving some thought to each of them.

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up believing the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up "bad" words or "dirty" words, laugh at him. That will make him think he is "cute." He will run off and pick up some others that will blow the top off your head.
3. Never give him any spiritual training until he is 21 and then let him decide for himself. By the same logic, never teach him the English language. Maybe when he is old enough he may want to speak Bantu.
4. Praise him in his presence to all the neighbors; show how much smarter he is than the neighbors' children.
5. Avoid the use of the word "wrong." It may develop in the child a "guilt complex." This will prepare him to believe that when he is punished later on for stealing cars or assaulting women, society is "against him" and that he is being "persecuted."
6. Pick up everything after him:

his shoes, his books, his clothes. Do everything for him, so that he will be experienced in throwing burdens on others.

7. Let him read anything he wants. Have no concern whatever for what goes into his mind. Provide him with lily cups for his lips, but let his brain drink out of any dirty container for words and ideas.

8. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children. In this way they will be prepared for broken homes later on.

9. Give him all the spending money he wants; never let him earn his own.

10. Satisfy every craving of the child for food, drinks, and everything that has to do with the sense of taste and touch, gratifying every sensual desire.

11. Take his part against policemen, teachers and neighbors. They are all "prejudiced" against your child.

12. When he gets into real trouble, always defend yourself and say: "I never could do anything with him."

Club Sponsors Blood Typing

Wrought high-strength steels, containing a low percentage of nickel, are widely used for bridge components such as eye-bars, pins, and stiffening plates and trusses. Light sections of these steels provide the same strength as thicker, heavier sections of plain carbon steels.

Reducing the protein content of the ration two percentage points decreased daily gains 2/10 of a pound and increased feed costs $2.25 per animal in swine feeding trials at the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station. Pigs fed the higher protein ration received a mixture containing 16 percent protein until they reached 150 pounds and a mixture containing 14 percent protein until they weighed 200 pounds. Pigs on the reduced protein ration were fed a 14 percent protein mixture until they weighed 150 pounds and a 12 percent mixture thereafter. Seventy-three pounds more feed were required by the pigs on the lower protein ration.

Initial Plans Set For Little League

An initial meeting for the purpose of organizing the summer's baseball games and teams among the youngsters in Friona was held Tuesday night in the American Legion Building.

Application forms will be provided for youngsters which were in the program last year and in addition all youngsters interested in playing baseball, from ages 8 through 17, can get an application at the Friona High School.

Each of the teams will be covered by insurance and will be divided into four separate leagues.

The leagues and age groups concerned are Little League—age 8 and 9; Intermediate League—10, 11 and 12; Pony League—13 and 14 year-olds; and American Legion League—15, 16, and 17 year olds.

The applications, after they are returned to the American Legion baseball committee, will be sifted into age groups and divided into teams and schedules will be made up.

Members of the American Legion committee include Floyd Brookfield, Johnny Wilson, Ansel Renner and Russell Massey.

Among the doctors expected to take part in the clinic are Dr. R. Q. Lewis, Dr. J. E. Lovelless, and Dr. C. E. Ratcliff, all of Lubbock, and Dr. John Patterson, plastic surgeon of Fort Worth.

Texas dairymen are reminded that silage is the cheapest and best substitute for pasture and that the time is at hand for preparing the seedbed and planting the silage crops. Extension Dairy Husbandmen A. M. Meekma and J. W. ABOUT A DISHPAN

The following editorial is from the Cleveland, Ohio, Plain Dealer: "Get a load of this, folks. The government has got out a pamphlet on 'Tools for Food Preparation and Dishwashing'. And it contains some information we'll bet you never thought of such as 'Dishpans should be large enough to hold the dishes but not too large for the sink'. 'Well, what do you know? For years we had a dishpan that wouldn't hold the dinner plates and when we got a new one it was too big to fit in the sink. Now thanks to this advice from Washington, we'll go right out and buy an in-between-size dishpan and see how that works. We never would have solved the problem ourselves. And when it comes time to pay our income tax next year we'll be especially grateful to the bureaucrat who thought this up.'"

At the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Friona PTA, officers for the coming year were installed. Mrs. Claude Osborn, who was installing officer, presented each officer a corsage in the PTA colors. The program was presented by Jewell Woodward, Peggy Hanson, and Jo Phillips, teachers in the local school. Each of these teachers was introduced by Fay Reeve. Three methods of teaching phonics in a classroom were demonstrated by the teachers and pupils.

When a count of parents present in each room was made, Mrs. Woodward's room was given the attendance gift. There were 12 mothers of children in this room present.

WANTA BUY A HOT DOG?

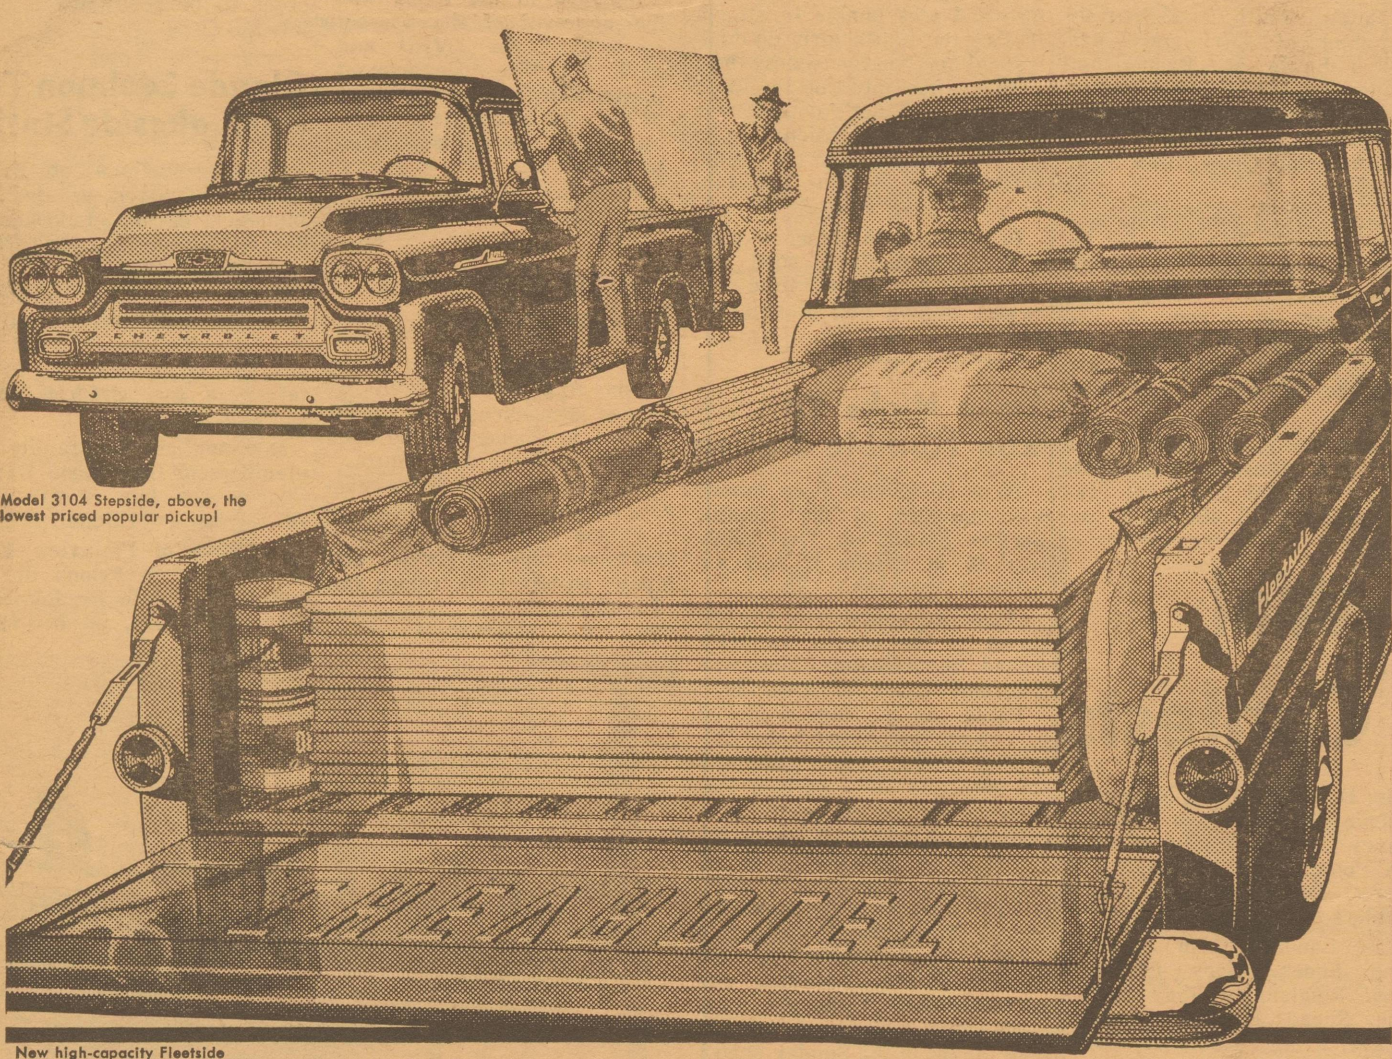

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. He was hard of hearing so he had no television. But—he sold good hot dogs.

He put up a sign on the highway telling how good they were. He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister?" And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade. He brought his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened . . . His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to television? There's a big depression on. The European situation is terrible. The domestic situation is even worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well my son has been to college, he really should know what is going on." So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders. He stopped all his advertising. And no longer bothered to stand on the highway and sell hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight. "You're right son," the father said to his boy. "We are certainly in the middle of a great depression."

To The Taxpayers OF FRIONA INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT

Do you realize the effect of student attendance on the financial status of your school?

For the past three years absenteeism has cost the Friona School District $14,475.00 for the employment of teachers which the state would have paid if the students had been present.

Due to the loss in absenteeism and increased enrollment the year 1958-59 will cost the district $25,632.00 out of the local fund to employ enough teachers to fill the classrooms.

We will have earned 42 teachers for the 1958-59 school year and are employing 50 teachers. It is possible through increased attendance to earn 43 teachers, provided we maintain 98% attendance for the remainder of the year.

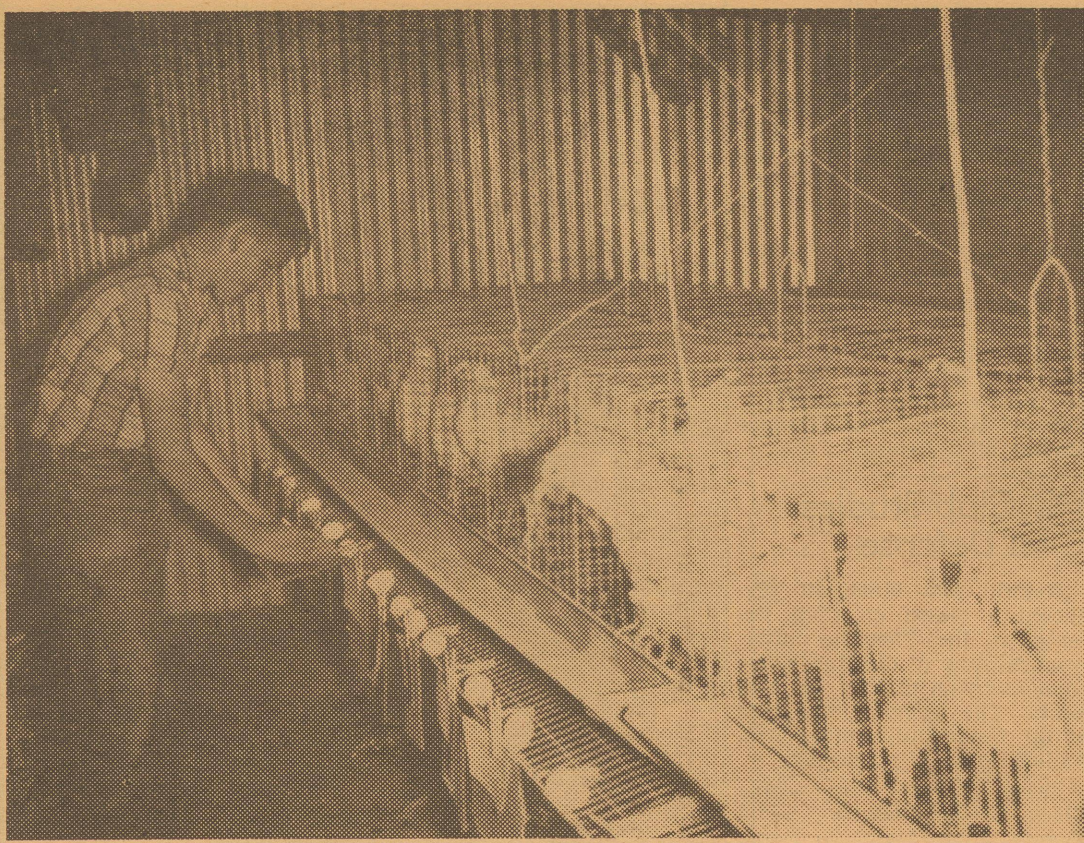

The situation that exists today is: Average daily attendance for the first four 6-weeks periods of the 1957-58 school year was 936.46, or 91%, which means that we earn 42 teachers.

We now have, at the present, 1009 students which, if they had attended school every day this year, we would have earned 46 teachers. This would have been a saving to the district of $12,816.00.

If the attendance does not increase, one of the following may or could happen:

1. Increase in tax rate.
2. Increase in the valuation of property.
3. Loss of teachers
4. Fewer courses offered.
5. More crowded classrooms.

We, the Board of Education of the Friona Independent School District urge each parent to see that their children attend school every day possible.

No. 4 of a Series

Project Caged Layers

Typical of the FFA boy who lives in town, Dale manages to carry on an effective project program.

His caged unit consists of 48 hens. He purchased the first 24 hens in the fall and the remaining 24 recently.

"At present my hens are in 85.7 percent production, which I consider pretty good," says young Cunningham.

This first year agricultural student has completed jobs in wood-work; tree pruning and identification of live stock and poultry.

Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Cunningham, who live adjacent their business, the Helpy Selly Laundry on West Highway 60.

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that 82% nitrogen from top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them get more profit per acre through higher yields. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin . . . yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased . . . more marketable vegetables are harvested . . . and profits on wheat are increased through higher yields of grain and extended grazing periods.

Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia contains 82% nitrogen and gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of commercial fertilizer available.

MR. AND MRS. VIRGIL HUGHLETT

Marie White Weds Virgil Hughlett

In a candlelight service at the First Baptist Church in Friona Saturday evening, April 5, at 6:30, Marie White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levin White of Friona, and Virgil Hughlett of Brownfield exchanged wedding vows. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Hughlett.

The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Dennis White of Grady, N. M., before an archway of white candelabra holding blue candles, and baskets of white calla lilies. The processional and recessional were played by Eva Miller at the organ.

She also accompanied Betty Agee as she sang "Because" and "You Will Never Walk Alone" preceding the ceremony. "Blest Be The Tie" was presented by Mrs. Miller.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white lace sheath over taffeta. The soft pleated yoke formed cap sleeves. Her accessories were white and she carried white orchids atop a white Bible, which was a gift from the YWA of the First Baptist Church. Her ear clips and bracelet were simulated pearls.

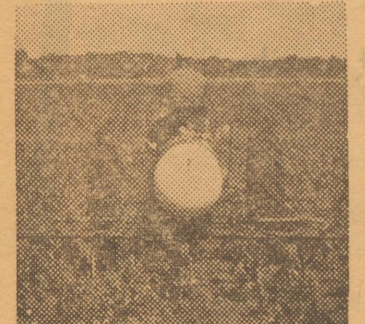

Sally Osborn was the maid of honor. She wore an electric blue taffeta dress fashioned identically to the bride's dress. Her accessories were blue and she wore a white carnation corsage.

Robert Watson, a student at the University of Texas, served as best man and ushers were Lanier Petty of Brownfield and Thomas McMillan of Abilene. The candles were lighted by Jim and Ted White, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. White, mother of the bride, wore a dress of powder blue lace with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Hughlett, wore a blue-gray dress with white accessories. Her corsage was also of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, was a reception at the club house. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth over blue and the wedding cake was white with blue rosebuds. Mrs. T. C. Roots III of Denison served the cake and punch was served by Shirley Hogue of Lubbock. Guests were registered by Mrs. Clyde Tims.

Others assisting with hospitalities were Mrs. Ray White, aunt of the bride, Mrs. G. H. Brock, and Mrs. Clyde Scarborough.

If your soil lacks the nitrogen to feed corn during critical growth periods, yield and profit per acre will be cut.

Now, here's one sure way of getting plenty of nitrogen down on your corn: side dress with Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia. Remember, it contains 82% nitrogen, giving you more nitrogen per pound than any other type of nitrogen fertilizer.

LAWANNA AND MRS. KENNETH HOULETTE

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Kenneth Houlette, who was Ann Terry before her marriage, has been selected our cook of the week this week. She and her husband and three children, Lawana, Robert, and Joyce, have recently moved into a new home in the east part of town.

Ann has lived here 29 years and is a graduate of Friona High School as is her husband. Both attended West Texas State College at Canyon. Kenneth told a Star reporter several years ago that he never planned to let his subscription expire.

When asked why he felt so loyal to the home town paper, he replied, "Well, I might have never won my wife had it not been for the Star." Thinking that the Star might at one time have run a column for lovers, the reporter inquired further.

Houlette replied, "Oh, no! Nothing like that. It just happened that when we were going to school at Canyon money for subscriptions and bus fare was hard come by. When a Friona Star got on the campus we both read it." Wonder if he dug up the subscription price just so he could share it with Ann.

Lawana shares her mother's enthusiasm for cooking and the two of them have an interesting collection of recipes. In between keeping house and caring for her family and working as substitute clerk at the local post office, Ann serves as secretary of the United Pentecostal Church.

Her collection of cups and saucers is very interesting. Many of them have been purchased at different places where the Houlettes have vacationed during the past several years and others have been given to her by friends and relatives.

Her hospitality was demonstrated when a Star reporter called to get the recipes she had chosen as favorites with her family. She had prepared a date pudding and asked the reporter to sample it along with a cup of coffee.

About that time a station wagon with five persons pulled up in the driveway to pick up the Star representative. Ann immediately went out and invited the whole group in for pudding and coffee, so now we have six persons outside the Houlette family who can vouch for the goodness of the recipe.

Date Pudding

- 1 1/2 cups warm water
 - 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1 cup flour
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/2 cup dates, cut fine
 - 1/2 cup nuts
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Mix warm water and brown sugar in baking dish and set aside while other ingredients are being prepared. Mix all the other ingredients together and pour over mixture in baking dish. Bake in slow oven until light brown.

The second recipe Mrs. Houlette gave us is for Jeff Davis pie.

- 3 cups granulated sugar
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 4 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 cup milk

Cream sugar and butter. Blend flour, salt, and vanilla into mixture. Add eggs and milk. Line two nine-inch pans with pie crust and pour in the filling and bake in 450-degree oven for 10 minutes then reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 30 minutes or until filling is firm.

The third selection of the Houlette family for favorite dessert is apple dumplings.

- 2 cups sugar
- 2 cups water
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 cup butter
- 6 apples
- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 3/4 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup milk

Make syrup of sugar, water, spices, and butter. Pare apples and cut in four pieces. Make pastry of the other ingredients and roll 1/4 inch thick. Cut in five inch squares and arrange four pieces of apple on each square.

Sprinkle with additional sugar, cinnamon, nutmeg, and butter. Fold corners to center and pinch edges together. Place one inch apart in greased baking dish and pour syrup over the apples and pastry. Bake at 375 degrees for 35 minutes. Serve hot with cream.

Scout Leaders Have All Day Meeting

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon. Those present were Nora O'Brian, Billie Long, Johnny Carlisle, Maxine Harper, Valoris Osborn, Olive Masie, Mary Roberts, Edith Johnson, and Helen Potts.

Benders Have Guests

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Bender were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Stevens and family and Elder and Mrs. Nicholson all of Amarillo. Mrs. Stevens is a daughter of Mrs. Bender.

From Abernathy

Mrs. Charley Williams of Abernathy, who is the mother of Wright, Roy and T. A. Williams and Mrs. S. E. Beaton, was a weekend visitor in Friona.

FRIONA

WITH JUNE

April showers bring May flowers according to an old adage. If it be true, as adages are supposed to be, our lawns and countryside should be bloomed out beautifully next month. Some of our lawns are already beautifully bloomed out with dandelions.

Maybe the adage referred to wild flowers. We feel sure that these will be plentiful since the early season moisture has given all the weeds a wonderful start. Many of our wild flowers are pretty but most of us get too aggravated with them to appreciate their beauty.

With the coming of spring, scores of people are busy making preparations for their yards and gardens this summer. One common complaint we hear almost daily is, "I would love to have a pretty yard, but there are too many dogs in the neighborhood. It just isn't worth the effort."

Our town does have a dog ordinance, but it doesn't seem to take care of our dog problem. Even though a dog has a license, he should not be allowed to roam the streets at will. Any dog who isn't properly confined will invariably dig up flowers, trample down young plants, tear clothes from lines, or do other things which cause others unhappiness.

Perhaps it should be a personal problem rather than a city problem. However, like a lot of other problems, if each person who owns a dog would take care of it, there would not be such a problem for the city as a whole. It is our understanding that the dog ordinance takes care of stray dogs. But, then, what is to be done about dogs that are not strays damaging the property of others?

Before we get completely off the dog subject, Sarah Ann Miller, who lives twelve miles southeast of town, called Saturday morning to say that two cockers had shown up at her house. One is a male and is a grown dog. The other is a female puppy. She feels sure that the owner would be glad to get them back and would like for the word to get around so that they can be returned.

One of the cleverest birth announcements we have ever received came to us Saturday. It was very neatly printed on a penny postal card, which now sells for two cents and read as follows:

"Announcing the arrival of the latest model direct from the factory on April 16, 1958—Series: boy; wt. 8 lbs. 12 1/2 ozs.—named Mitch Oneil. He has the very newest Dear-o-Matic features: (1) red with black top paint job. (2) Milk injection motor. (3) Four active appendages for good leverage. (4) Automatic water pump. (5) Sealed beamed peepers. (6) Changable seat covers.

Mechanics and owners: Gene and Mildred Guinn, are proud to add this modern attraction to their present force. May be seen in show case at the Farmer County Community Hospital any time from 9 to 11 a. m. or 2 to 5 p. m."

France Baker of Lubbock was a visitor in the Star office Thursday. Our list of Lubbock subscribers has grown one name longer. If Mr. Baker happens to read this column, he might like to know that he is the only Lubbock subscriber who paid just $3 for his subscription.

It seems that this was the first out-of-county subscription our editor, Dave McReynolds, had sold, so he forgot to add the extra buck. This time we are going to collect $1 from him and when Mr. Baker renews his sub, it will cost him $4.

Our congratulations this week go to the one-act play cast, Luellen McLean, Jan Edelman, and Gerald Daniel, and the director, Eldridge Ledbetter. It seems that whenever Friona met White Deer this year they came out second best.

They are to be congratulated upon winning second place in face of such stiff competition as they met in this contest. All of Friona should be very proud of them.

Jane Phipps, who became the bride of Dale Houlette Saturday evening, was a beautiful bride. We're wondering if the E. E. Houlettes and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Phipps will be taking extended vacations. Dale and Jane were their last children at home.

Having the last child in the family get married always reminds us of a joke we read years and years ago. It goes like this. The bride's mother was crying and her husband was trying hard to console her. Finally she sobbed, "Yes, but, you're all I have left." He replied, "Well, I'm all you had to begin with."

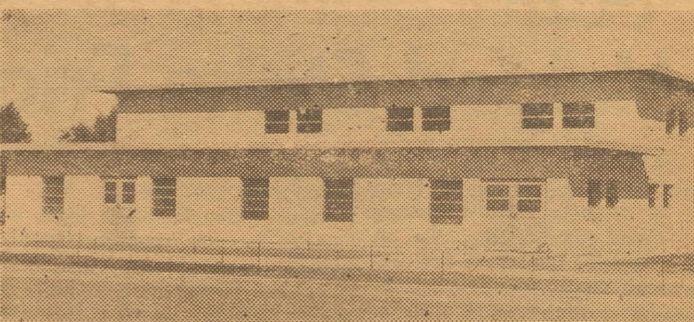

Lucille Circle Continues Study

At the Tuesday morning meeting of the Lucille Circle of the WSCS of the Friona Methodist Church, the study of the book "Christ, The Church, and The Race," was continued. The meeting was in the home of Thelma Ford who was the hostess.

After the lesson, refreshments of cake and coffee were served to Doris Sides, Lucille Collier, Diane McDowell, Lucy Vestal, Myrtle Crow, Blanche Boyle, Betty Rector, Lucille Latta, Luella Drake, Shirley McReynolds, and Corrine Shaffer.

Also Willard Stewart, Juanda Jarrell, Dorothy Hough, and Lucille Rocky, who are members, and one guest, Mrs. J. M. Mulkey.

A Cordial Welcome To All

THE BULWARK OF A COMMUNITY IS ITS CHURCHES

THE GENTILES ENTER THE CHURCH

Cornelius, a captain of the Italian band, was a very devout man who "feared God with all his house . . . gave much alms to the people and prayed to God always." He needed to know how to be saved and thus enter the New Testament Church. The Lord had an angel to inform him to send to Joppa for Simon Peter, who would give him the needed information. When Peter came, Cornelius and everyone assembled at his house, received the Holy Ghost.

The believing Jews, who came with Peter, were astonished because the gentiles also received the Holy Ghost, the same as they did at Pentecost: "for they heard them speak with tongues and magnify God." Then, Peter commanded them to be baptized in THE NAME of "Jesus Christ" (R. V.), which he declared, was the only name given under heaven whereby one could be saved (Acts 4:12).

The plan of salvation has not changed since the day of Pentecost. Why not get into God's church the Bible way (Acts 2:37-41 with St. John 3:3-7)?

'Uncle Bill' Calloway Helped Stake Friona

(Editor's Note: The following letter was received from J. W. "Uncle Bill" Calloway of Montgomery City, Mo. A number of readers have expressed their appreciation of letters received from him in the past. The Star has requested Uncle Bill to furnish this story.)

Dear Editor:

In March 1906, Mr. J. S. McCleary, for whom I had worked several years, asked me if I would like to go to Texas for a summer's work surveying land. I liked that kind of work so said I was anxious to go. We left Montgomery City on the third Tuesday in March and reached Hereford on Thursday. There we bought tents, cots, stoves, and other supplies for an extended stay away from any markets.

The following Monday we drove in our heavily loaded wagon to the Friona station. There was no depot there—just a house for the section foreman and some box cars for the Mexican section hands to live in. We crossed the track there and went west to Rhea Brothers Green Valley headquarters, where the Ralph Wilsons now live.

The next day we were guided to their northeast corner and a windmill about fifteen miles away was pointed out to us. This is where we made camp from which we worked for several weeks. During this time we surveyed base lines, town ship lines, and range lines, making preparation for our summer's work. There were ten in the party.

They were Mr. McCleary, who was our boss, his two sons, who were instrument men, four chain men, two flag boys, and a cook. The cook was Henry Hogan, who was a good rider, but tired of riding for a time he had hired out to cook for a crew of cowboys when the roundup wagon went out. He thought it would be a good plan to learn a little about cooking, so hired out to cook for us.

Well, when we walked all day, we were usually hungry enough to eat anything no matter about the quality of the cooking. Hogan improved and in May went with the roundup wagon and did all right.

I think we had seven camping places from which we worked, measuring and working over 700 sections of land. Each section of 640 acres had a numbered piece of pipe driven at each corner. The tract we surveyed was the Escarbaba Division of the XIT Ranch and was 42 by 28 miles at the longest and widest places.

We also in 1906 laid out the townsites of Kelso, which had a short but hectic life which ended when the land around it was sold. By that time we had staked our Friona, and a large garage in the lower story and a large upper story equipped with 72 cots with plenty of blankets and pillows, and a large livery barn also with cots and blankets upstairs, had been built so George G. Wright & Co., who was selling the land, moved the scene of action to Friona.

The town was still Friona in 1907. Wright would unload his bunch of land seekers and have a dining car set in on a spur track to feed his party, and if any women were along, they set a sleeping car out, also. If no ladies were in the group, the men all slept at the garage or livery barn and ate at the diner.

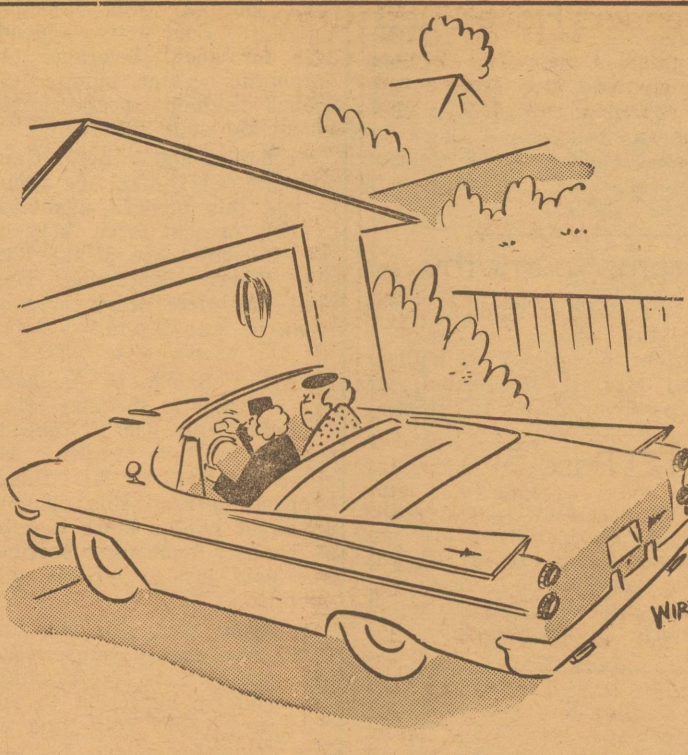

By December 23 when I came here for Christmas, a large hotel and bank and office building were near completion, so there was never a need for a derailed box car. George Wright always brought a well staffed and equipped office force with each excursion and when homes could be had, they stayed permanently.

When we started Friona, you could go 50 miles north and never see a roof except possibly Tombstone line camp about 40 miles north and except for the Star Ranch, some 25 miles south, you might have gone much farther and seen no roof.

There were about a dozen buildings in Friona, and it was Friona, when I left there in November of 1907. I tried to recover from my Texas fever as my folks called it. I succeeded in recovering pretty well until I saw a short letter in Country Gentlemen magazine in '52.

I wrote asking about Friona and the country, and Mrs. Jim Baxter, who had written the letter I read, had my letter printed in the Star. She also wrote me a nice letter and Mrs. Ralph Wilson wrote me a real gem. She told me everything I wanted to know. I also got a letter from D. W. Hanson of Gardena, Calif., a former resident of Friona.

We were invited to come see for ourselves what a wonderful country had been made of the vast pastures, which was all there was to the country when I left. We went down in August of '54 and Ralph and Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Jim Baxter, and the late Floyd Schlenker took us every place and showed us everything we could see in three days. Grover Calloway, and his wife went back in 1956 to the 50th Anniversary

"Henry always fixes this rear mirror so all you can see is the car behind."

Visitation Day Set For Pre-Schoolers

Principal Tom Jarboe has announced that the annual visitation day for pre-school age children who will enroll in the first grades this fall has been set for Friday. All pupils who are enrolled in the first grade will get a holiday.

Jarboe suggests that each child who attends bring 30 cents to pay for a lunch at the cafeteria. He further suggests that if the child lives on a bus route he be allowed to ride the bus.

The purpose of this day is to introduce the child to a school day as nearly identical to one of his first days in school as possible. It is not necessary that the child have anything to bring.

"In order for the child to get an introduction to a day in school it is best if no parents accompany the children on visitation day," says Jarboe.

The best course to follow in most political conversations is the silent one.

Disarmament is like a party. Nobody wants to arrive until everyone else is there.—CHANGING TIMES

Social Drinkers Menace on Road

"The social drinker is a real menace on the roads!"

With these words, Mrs. Fred Strauss, Vice-President of Women's Activities, Texas Safety Association, urged Texans to think twice before getting behind the wheel of a motor vehicle after having "one for the road."

She warned drivers and pedestrians that it was not necessary to be actually drunk to be legally under the influence of alcohol.

"A driver who has had so many he cannot put his key into the ignition, should still have sense not to attempt to drive in traffic," Mrs. Strauss said. "But most drivers do not realize that just one or two drinks are sufficient to impair judgment and reduce driving control."

The Seguin, Texas, woman pointed out that drinking drivers present a year-round problem, and that a drinking driver is involved in approximately forty percent of all rural fatal accidents.

Mrs. Strauss summarized her statements with the cogent remark that: "Just as sure as two and two make four, the drinking driver adds to the accident score."

Frionan Attends Eastern Star School

Mrs. Claude Miller, worthy matron of the Friona Eastern Star chapter, attended a school of instruction at Plainview Thursday.

The school, which was for all of district II, section III, was conducted by Mrs. Inez Boyd, District Deputy Grand Matron.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following building permits were issued at the Friona City Hall during the week ending April 22:

T. E. Wood—construction of carport, utility room; cost $1200.

Fred White—construct yard fence; cost $280.

Paul Aragon—remodel storm cellar; cost $150.

Roy Williams—construct yard fence; cost $150.

Friona Independent School District—construct sidewalk; cost $50.

Friona Independent School District—move storage building to private garage; cost $200.

E. H. Bradshaw—construct private garage, shop and storm cellar; cost $1200.

Carl Fairchild—construct sidewalk; cost $30.

Mrs. Grace Hart—repair basement; cost $550.

The wife wanted to do some shopping during the day, so at breakfast she asked her husband for $10.

"Money, money, money!" he shouted. "Every day of the week you want more money. If you ask me, I think you need brains more than you need money."

"Perhaps so," his wife agreed, "but I asked you for what I thought you had the most of."

Two crops of rice in one year—a main crop followed by a crop produced from the stubble—show much promise in tests at the Rice-Pasture Experiment Station near Beaumont. Nathan S. Evatt, who is conducting the tests, says that 2,300 pounds more grain per acre were obtained from the second crop after the first crop yielded an average of 4,100 pounds per acre. This was a total production of nearly 40 bushels per acre.

A reason why President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles are reluctant to hold a "summit conference" with Russia at this time is found in some information gathered by U. S. News & World Report. Since 1943 there have been 19 top-level conferences, in which the chiefs of state or foreign ministers participated. Forty agreements were made—and the Soviet government has kept exactly three of them.

It has been three-and-a-half years since Congress passed the law authorizing private industry to own and operate nuclear electric power plants. In that time an expanding atomic energy program thus far involving more than $500 million of electric utility company funds has evolved, in which 123 of these companies are actively participating.

the Snapshot Guild

This is truly a picture of spring—the first blossoms, the baby lamb, and a little girl pleased to be playing outside without a coat.

"The Picture of Spring"

Spring's definitely on the way—and, if you're like us, you can't wait until you get out into the country again. There's something wonderful about the world as the landscape comes to life in the fresh new garb of spring.

One of the real pleasures of picture-taking at this time of year is the rich variety of scenic views the season provides. The landscape need not be majestic or awe-inspiring. Look for a pleasant glade, a small pond, a tree beside a curving lane. You'll find such material is easier to organize into a pleasing arrangement—and it produces intimate pictures, full of quiet charm.

Next to subject matter, arrangement and lighting are most important. You can "rearrange" a landscape simply by changing your camera position. Try it a bit to the left or right, to bring foreground objects into better relation with the distant parts of the scene; aim higher up or lower down, to get a more favorable viewpoint.

When you picture scenic views, be sure that you include objects in the foreground—a figure, shadow, or frame of foliage will do nicely. If you're snapping a valley from high on a hilltop, don't stand at the very edge of the hill. Back up a few paces, and include a tree or maybe a person admiring the vista beyond. If there are several trees, "frame" the view between their overhanging branches. Such foreground material will lend perspective to a scenic view, making it more interesting and attractive.

Don't worry about mist or haze—it actually helps give atmospheric quality to the landscape. If you want to cut down bluish haze, use a haze filter and the distant vista will show up more clearly. A cloud filter will also be helpful when you want to record a dramatic cloud effect seen against a brilliant blue sky.

Shadows are important in scenic views, too—and regular behind-the-camera lighting rarely brings the best results. Instead look for scenic material that is side-lighted or back-lighted—so that shadows cross the scene or fall toward the camera. If the sun shines directly on the camera lens, shield it with a lens hood or find a slightly different angle from which to shoot.

—John Van Guilder

Emotional disturbances in children can be "just as crippling, just as painful and just as severe . . . as appendicitis, pneumonia and other medical conditions," say child-specialists Lester A. Nathan, M. D. and Morten B. Andelman, M. D., in the Illinois Medical Journal.

"Perhaps all children should undergo some tension and anxiety," the doctors continue, "but when stress interferes with normal development, this becomes a pathological process."

Warmth and reassurance are not enough to relieve the strains on a very anxious child. Treatment of these youngsters takes skill, patience and the cooperation of parents and teachers. Pediatricians seek the source—family tension, jealousy over a younger brother, school difficulties—most disturbing to the young patient.

Spirals His Anxiety
Often no single situation is responsible. But a child's reaction to stress spirals his anxiety. His constant nervous coughing may frighten and annoy his parents. The youngster's stress may increase until it interferes with his growth and development. The immediate need is for medical relief of the child's acute discomfort, according to the two Illinois doctors. Fewer Attacks Noted

In their study of 53 emotionally distressed children a mild tranquilizing syrup called Atarax worked well. Parents saw fewer attacks of nervous stomach pain, far fewer tantrums, much less excitement and irritability. Nervous coughs were relieved and one youngster's "emotional asthma" cleared up completely. School performance improved; extremely excited children could sleep again. Family strain diminished as frantic youngsters calmed down.

Although not every child was helped by this drug, the majority showed dramatic improvement, the doctors reported. Medication does not solve a child's problems, but it can relieve him of his anxious burden.

LETTER

To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As Friona is my home town, I enjoy everything in the Friona Star. I was pleased to see the smiling face of Mrs. J. T. Gee as the "Cook of the Week." Not only is she an excellent cook, but also one of Friona's nicest persons.

She was my Home Economics teacher in high school and she was tops as a teacher and became a dear friend. She helped me in many ways, so I'm sending a big rose to Friona's Cook of the Week and friend to everyone.

Sincerely,
Glenda Carter Deatherage

Brownie Troop 358 met Monday at Fellowship Hall of the Friona Methodist Church. Mrs. V. L. Vestal Jr. led group singing and directed games. May baskets were made by the Brownies present and the two leaders, Lucille Latta and Fern Awtrey. Refreshments were served by Carol Stokes.

On the Safe Side

A child is a human caution sign. And a school bus that is stopped to pick up or unload children is a STOP sign. More than seven million youngsters go to school by school busses. Not all of them obey all traffic safety precautions on their daily trip to school. So most states insist that drivers come to a full stop when they approach a school bus that is loading or unloading youngsters. But whether it's the law or not, isn't it a good idea to do everything you can to avoid killing and hurting these children. Be prepared to avoid any emergency that active children might cause. Drive slow. . . let 'em grow.

Many observers expect a rough, no-holds-barred battle between the "big three" car makers and the United Auto Workers union when new contract negotiations take place this year. Victor Riesel writes of the possibility of the companies stockpiling as many as 4 million cars and Walter Reuther building up a $50 million strike fund. Then both sides would be ready for a prolonged shutdown.

LUBBOCK MAN HURT

Jimmie Cox of Lubbock, whose wife is the former Alta Mae Wilkins of Friona, was hurt when he fell at the site of a house which was under construction at Lubbock Friday morning. Vicky and Judy, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cox, are staying in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waymon Wilkins until their father's condition improves.

Mr. and Mrs. Gib Boatman and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Bengler returned Tuesday after a five-day fishing and boating vacation at Devil's Lake, which is down in the vicinity of Del Rio.

BUILDING PERMITS

The following building permits were issued at the City Hall in Friona during the week ending April 15:

Joe Fallwell, construct a private garage, $500.

T. E. Wood, construct a carport and utility room on a private residence, $1200.

B. E. Sanders, construct a driveway on a private home, $200.

Columnist Victor Riesel reports that the AFL-CIO big union, working through its Committee on Political Education, will go all-out this year to elect political candidates who are favorable to its goals and programs. At least 40 million pieces of literature will be distributed in the eight months, and an attempt will be made to see that all of the union's 13,500,000 members are registered to vote. Emphasis is on grassroots activity.

Kite flying season is just around the corner, and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company has issued a cartoon-styled booklet containing "safety-first" advice. Here are some of the "nevers": never fly a kite with metal in the frame or tail; never use a line made of metal or containing metal; never fly a kite in the rain or near electric power lines; never run across streets or highways while flying kites; never let a kite go over radio or TV aerials.

AS TIME GOES B(U)Y!

WORKING MINUTES REQUIRED TO EARN ONE 1 LB. LOAF OF BREAD.

Ivan Skavinsky Skavar, the average Russian industrial worker, labors five times as long to fill his family's market basket as does Joe Smith, the typical American laborer.

In a talk before the National Food Conference, held recently in Washington, D. C., Vice President Nixon pointed out that Joe Smith can buy a pound loaf of enriched bread in six minutes of labor, according to figures compiled by the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics. Ivan works 14 minutes for the same amount of bread which does not equal the U. S. loaf nutritionally.

Ivan works 132 minutes for a pound of beef. Joe Smith buys it with 31 minutes of labor. Joe works 25 minutes to add a pound of sliced bacon to the family larder; Ivan has to stay on the job 331 minutes to buy the same amount from a Moscow State store.

A grouping of 11 foreign countries, according to the work time required to buy food, indicates that the American worker spent less than one-fifth as much time to pay for a given quantity of food as the Soviet worker. He (the American) spent from 20 to 36 per cent as much as the Italian, Austrian, or French workers; from 39 to 48 per cent as much time as the Dutch, West Germans, Irish or Swiss; and from 62 to 71 per cent as much time as the Danish, British, or Norwegian workers.

Joe Smith works 4 minutes for a pound of flour. Irishmen and Norwegians are runners-up. They work six minutes for their pound of flour. Again, tops in the flour field is Russia, where 27 minutes of work are necessary.

French bread is in demand in many countries, but not-so-lucky Pierre works 20 minutes for a pound of it.

Cub Scouts To Practice Palava

All Friona Cub Scouts are urged to meet at the football field in Friona Monday to practice for the Palava immediately after school is dismissed. The Palava is a Cub Scout "track meet" in which the youngsters compete in Packs, against each other in such events as "tug 'o' war," "sack races," "baseball throw" and other sports.

The Palava for this area is slated for Saturday, May 3, in Hereford and the local boys will compete at that time. In addition to just "being present" Monday, each Cub is asked to bring 50 cents and a sack lunch for they will go skating and eat immediately after practice. Interested parents are invited to attend.

Norwalk, Conn., Hour: "The farm surplus, which has been a major domestic headache since the end of the second World War, has emerged as a useful instrument of foreign aid. Farm surplus cannot be used successfully in all countries, but it is as good as dollar grants in many lands, where food is scarce. The cost to the American taxpayer was reflected almost entirely in the year surplus commodities were acquired. Disposal now involves only shipping charges. Thus the surpluses are taken off the domestic market and made to serve friends abroad with little additional cost to the taxpayer."

"Protein is the nutrient most lacking in winter forage," says Dr. W. G. Kirk of the Florida Range Cattle Station in a special article in the FLORIDA CATTLEMAN. He points out, "The problem is to regulate consumption of a high protein supplement, such as cottonseed meal, to give all animals in a pasture equal opportunity of getting the quantity needed to balance their daily ration." Doctor Kirk suggests that, under Florida conditions, a mixture of 80 pounds of cottonseed meal, 10 pounds of salt, and 10 pounds of a complete mineral mixture will regulate cottonseed meal consumption at about 1.5 pounds, per head daily, when self-fed.

Severe weather and lack of nutritious forage may cause beef cattle or sheep production losses, or even loss of animals, unless adequate supplemental feed is provided. Wintering rations must be inexpensive and yet meet the nutritive requirements of the animal. If pastures are inadequate, feed cottonseed hulls, hay, or silage. Supplement mature winter pastures or protein-deficient roughages with cottonseed meal or cake. The key to success in wintering animals is to start supplemental feeding before there is an apparent need for the additional feed.

Plan before you plant is a basic rule for successful vegetable gardening, says B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist. Many vegetables grown in home gardens are wasted because too large a quantity of one vegetable matures at the same time. To avoid this trouble, Hancock suggests a succession of plantings in order to keep wastage to a minimum and more garden fresh vegetables available over a much longer period of time.

«The High Plains Farm and Home»

Indications Appear Flow-Meter Survey Will Be Revealing

by W. H. GRAHAM JR.

Early and sketchy findings of a new instrument coming into widespread use by the High Plains Water District indicate Plains farmers are in for a jolt concerning how much water they pump onto their croplands.

The District has installed these special devices, which carefully measure the gallonage pumped from a well by means of a sealed meter, in 13 counties. Their first "official" installation in Parmer County is on the farm of Walter Kaltwasser of the Oklahoma Lane community.

Other meters are now on the farm of John Gammon of the Lazbuddie community and Bruce Parr of the Black community, but figures have not been compiled from these wells as yet.

A graph run from records kept in conjunction with Kaltwasser's well has some revealing information. The most startling is in regard to his irrigation practices on cottonland.

In mid-April of last year, Kaltwasser pre-irrigated a total of 19.1 inches. That is considerably more than the farmer, and most farmers of the High Plains, realized they were putting on, and was also considerably in excess of the amount required under even the drouthy conditions that prevailed at that time. If better distribution could have been achieved, probably half as much water would have sufficed.

The first watering of his cotton after it was up was in early June. He applied 5.05 inches, which is regarded as a normal irrigation. In late July and early August the second watering was made, totaling 5.50 inches. Then, from the 22nd to the 28th of August the last watering was made, totaling 4.80 inches.

Most all farmers of the High Plains agree they would have been better off without that third watering last year, and so does Kaltwasser. He even goes further than that to say he might have been better off without his second irrigation, too.

After the cotton had been irrigated in August, it continued to rain, and the 3.34 inches in September and the 3.12 inches in October from natural sources put the damper on both yield and quality on the Kaltwasser farm, as similar rains at the same time did elsewhere on the Plains last year.

But by far the greatest waste of irrigation water occurred back in the spring at pre-watering time. Kaltwasser's farm is sandy loam, being a "mixed" type land falling between the tight soils of the north and the coarser soils to the south.

His land was dry and cloddy and took up the water at a high rate in this state. Kaltwasser, a conscientious farmer who will try to improve his farming wherever he can, says he thinks that if he had gone through his field with a tractor to crush the clods in the furrow bottoms and also to slightly compact the soil, the water would have gone through faster and over-absorption would not have been such a problem.

The total moisture received on Kaltwasser's 1957 cotton crop was 55.89, which is pretty soggy by even East Texas standards and was far in excess of what is usually considered a rainfall requirement level for cotton of about 20 inches in the growing season.

Not only did the cotton crop itself suffer from the adverse effects of too much water, but the water which passed through the soil on the farm carried with it valuable soil nutrients. These nutrients were leached out of reach of even the rangy cotton tap root and are lost permanently.

County Agent Joe Jones says that the results shown on the Kaltwasser farm are anything but unusual. "That picture will be true the Plains over," he says.

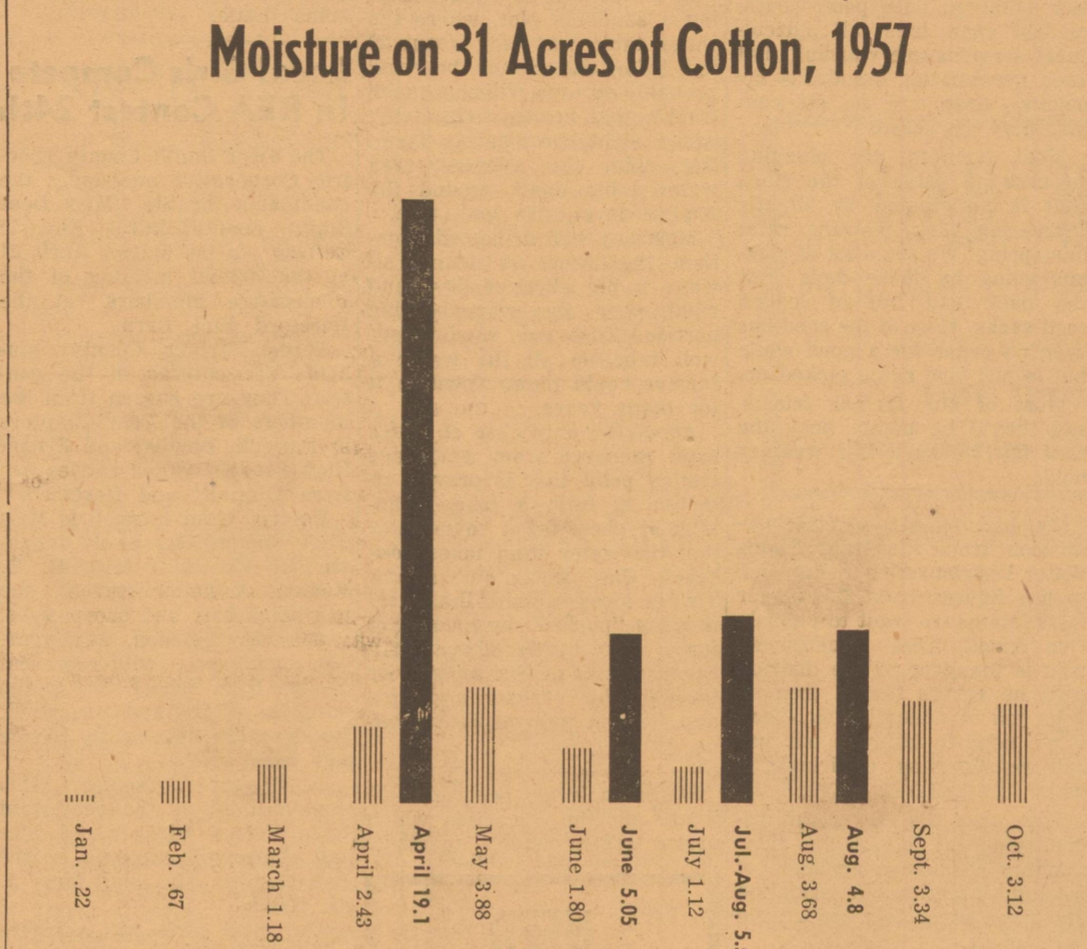

As findings such as these are compiled and made public, High Plains Water District officials hope to make it increasingly evident that a surprising amount of the total water pumped is never made use of by plants it is intended to help. That could be especially true in a year as this, which finds planting time approaching with moisture levels in the soils of High Plains farms at a point considerably above average.

Whether additional moisture in the form of rain will come this year is anybody's guess, of course, but moisture levels in the soil are for the moment sufficient.

Those in agricultural service agencies continue to advise farmers to check their own water requirements by spot-testing their fields with simple equipment that takes samples from different depths.

Highest yields of cotton and lowest salinity content in the soil were obtained on double (cantaloupe) beds in tests conducted on El Paso Valley soils by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The conventional single row bed produced the poorest seed germination and lowest yields of any type bed tested. Other type beds included sloping double bed, flat planted and furrow planted.

Gadgets such as this one, called a flow-meter, are gradually coming into use to measure exactly the amount of water pumped by a well. This one is on the farm of Walter Kaltwasser in the Oklahoma Lane community.

The flow-meter installation shows clearly the irrigation picture, and is included along with rainfall measurements. The total irrigation water applied was 34.45 inches; total rainfall was 21.44, making 55.89 inches of water on the cotton crop. Measurements were also taken on grain sorghum and wheat irrigation, but are not included here.

May 5 To May 20 Best For Cotton

Optimum cotton planting dates on the Texas High Plains are May 5-20, Don L. Jones, former superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment Station, has reminded Plains Cotton Growers members.

Later planting usually results in lower quality cotton and if planting must be done after June 1, select an early maturing variety," Jones advises.

As to prior planting, Jones explained that years of research work at the Experiment Station have shown that the best results for planting comes when the soil temperature averages 60 degrees for 10 days at an 8-inch depth from the top of the bed.

Daily radio and newspaper reports are now being broadcast and published which gives the average daily temperatures. This information is part of the Plains Cotton Growers Educational Program to try to help High Plains cotton farmers produce a higher quality cotton in 1958.

The method of harvest to be used should help determine the variety to plant when practical since storm resistant cottons maintain quality longer in the field and strip better than open-boll types, Jones concluded.

Attractive and useful containers for dry foods, such as granulated sugar, powdered sugar, cornstarch, and flour can be made from empty salt boxes with metal spouts. They may be covered with paper, then labeled, then covered with a thin coat of shellac.

For easy filling use a small household funnel. These may be decorated to harmonize with other kitchen furnishings.

One of the newest gadgets for home use is a new "dust-magnetic" broom with plastic bristles that "grab" dirt and hold it. The bristles should be washed after every one or two usings to prevent the bristles from becoming dirt-clogged.

In our series of Mrs. America recipes we are down to Maine. From Mrs. John Shea comes a seafood recipe. She says that even though this recipe is a family favorite, her children more often ask for spaghetti with meat balls.

Lobster & Mushroom Casserole
½ lb. sliced mushrooms
¼ cup butter
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of paprika
1 chicken bouillon cube dissolved in 1/3 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup water
¾ cups diced cooked lobster meat (about 4 one-pound lobsters)
1 tablespoon sherry
Dash of pepper
2 egg yolks
½ cup cream
Cracker crumbs
Additional butter

Saute mushrooms in butter with salt and paprika until tender. Add bouillon and bring to a boil. Thicken with blended flour and water mixture. Add lobster, sherry, and pepper. Beat egg yolks with cream and add to mixture.

Pour into greased 1½ quart baking dish. Top with cracker crumbs and dot with butter. Bake 10 to 12 minutes in very hot oven. Makes four servings.

Mrs. Robert E. Eisiminger of Maryland selects a pork chop dish as a favorite with her husband and four children.

Orange-Glazed Pork Chops
6 loin pork chops (each ¾ inch thick)
2 tablespoons water
5 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
10 whole cloves
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
¼ cup orange juice
4 orange slices, halved
Trim most of the fat from chops, put in skillet over low heat and let fry slowly until skillet is covered with thin coating of fat. Sprinkle both sides of chops with salt, pepper, and paprika and brown both sides in skillet.

Lower heat and add water.

Cover skillet tightly and cook 45 minutes to one hour, turning chops occasionally.

Meanwhile prepare the orange glaze sauce. To make: combine sugar, cornstarch, salt, cinnamon, cloves, orange peel, and orange juice in saucepan. Cook until thick and clear, stirring constantly. Add orange slices, cover pan and remove from heat. To serve, spoon glaze over each pork chop and garnish with the glazed orange slices.

Some people seem to have the idea that barbecued dishes originated in Texas. That may or may not be true, but Mrs. Arthur Strode, who was chosen Mrs. Massachusetts in the Mrs. America contest, lists barbecued spareribs as her favorite dish.

Baked Spareribs in Barbecue Sauce
1 onion, finely chopped
1 green pepper, finely chopped
1 cup water
2 cups tomato juice
½ cup vinegar
1 clove garlic
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons olive oil
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon soy sauce
2 to 3 lbs. spareribs

Combine all ingredients except spareribs and simmer 15 to 20 minutes. Brown spareribs in skillet or under broiler. Place in roasting pan, cover with the sauce and bake in moderate oven 45 minutes.

When Mrs. William H. Weitzel, who was chosen Mrs. Michigan, prepares a meal there are nine mouths to feed when no company is present. Of course, she cooks in large quantities. She chose a pretty salad as her favorite dish.

Spiced Peach Salad
1 large can peach halves water
¼ cup vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 two-inch cinnamon sticks
¾ teaspoon whole cloves boiling water as directed below
2 packages orange flavored gelatin
1 jar (5 ounces) pineapple cream cheese
¼ cup chopped pecans
lettuce or endive
Drain syrup from peaches and add enough water to the syrup to make 1½ cups. Add vinegar, salt, cinnamon sticks and cloves. Simmer 10 minutes then strain. Add enough boiling water to make three cups of liquid and dissolve the gelatin in it.

Pour enough gelatin into a 9-inch ring mold to fill to a depth of one inch. Chill until firm. Chill remaining gelatin mixture until it begins to thicken. Meanwhile make 8 cream cheese balls and roll them in the chopped nuts. Space evenly in mold and cover each with a peach half. Carefully pour remaining gelatin mixture over peaches. Chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce or endive. Makes 8 servings.

Coming up next week will be recipes from Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, and Montana.

Wes Long is a firm believer in church attendance but after last Sunday he really believes it pays. About two months ago he lost the set from his diamond ring and since he is a farmer, he thought he could have lost it most anywhere—in the field, in the pasture, at the cow sale, at home, or even in his new Oldsmobile. All Wes knew for sure was that it was lost. Last Sunday the Longs went to church and Wes happened to sit in the same pew he'd used about two months before and there in a crack near the arm rest was the lost diamond!

110 County Farms Use FHA Credit

This is the time of year when Parmer County farm families plan the steps they need to take to increase the efficiency of their farming operations during the coming farm season, reports Billy R. Boling, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor.

Approximately 110 farm families in the county are operating their farms with loans obtained through the Farmers Home Administration.

The agency advances operating credit primarily to help eligible farm families make improved use of their land and labor resources on family type farms and make needed changes in their farming systems. Most of the changes call for adopting better farming practices and improving the efficiency of their farming operations. The loans help farmers pay for equipment, livestock, feed, seed, fertilizer, and other farm and home operating needs including refinancing chattel debts. Operating loans run from 1 to 7 years at 5 percent interest. The average operating loan in Parmer County is approximately $10,000.

Before an operating loan for adjustment purposes is closed, the applicant and the county supervisor agree on the proposed long-time improvement. At the beginning of each farming year while the loan is being repaid, the family, with Boling's help, makes annual plans for the best use of the farm income and to determine additional credit needs. A year-end review of the past year's successes and mistakes guides the family and the county supervisor when they get together to plan for the year coming up.

Boling said he can approve operating loans only to families who have or can acquire land and labor resources needed to help them improve their farming, and who are not presently able to turn to private or cooperative lenders for adequate financing of the type they require. All borrowers graduate to conventional credit as soon as they can.

THE PARMER FARMER

By W. H. Graham Jr.

The High Plains wasn't the only farming area of the nation bothered with poor weather last year. Most all agricultural services are warning that seed germination standards the country over will be off considerably this season.

Most farmers are planning to take up some of the slack that is anticipated by slightly increasing their planting rates this spring. We see a lot of pickups going by these days with the back end full of loaded seed sacks. Most of the seed has been on order for a good while but is just now being picked up.

Most of our farmer friends say they'll be plenty busy the next few weeks if fair weather holds.

We had to get special permission from the High Plains Water District office at Lubbock to use figures from flow-meter installations we want to publish. Our friend, Tom McFarland, who is manager of the district, says he agrees that a tremendous job of education is ahead if we hope to improve our use and conservation of irrigation water the self-help way.

Tom says it's downright discouraging at times to show farmers conclusive evidence of wasteful practices in irrigation and have them take such little note of it.

Changing established practices is always difficult, because it involves patterns established by human behavior. And dealing with the human element always has its worries. Tom says the matter of conservation and intelligent use of our water on the High Plains today is about where the oil industry was thirty years ago.

Some things that the flow-meter is showing up shoot holes in the idea that less irrigation water is wasted in the light or sandy land areas than in the tight land areas.

Waste water on tightland farming usually takes the form of water in the ditch. That is because the farmer often feels he must run water through his field for a certain length of time to get adequate penetration on account of the soil's slow permeability.

Waste water in sandy land farming isn't noticeable, though. Instead of inadequate penetration, the farmer's problem is just reversed. Often he wets his soil considerably below the depth of the root zone, which is the practical limit for any irrigation method.

So, water that is pumped into the soil at a depth exceeding roots is wasted just as surely as that which is run out into the bar ditch.

Fact is, with soil nutrients being the factor that they are, tight lands produce more per-unit measure of irrigation water than their sandy land counterparts—water in the bar ditch notwithstanding.

Furthermore, the argument by some that overirrigation on sandy land is no real problem "because whenever you put the water back into the ground, eventually it finds its way back to the water table" shouldn't be leaned too heavily upon, either.

While we freely admit that it's better to have water percolating slowly through the soil far below than evaporating into the air, few realize how long it will take a gallon of water to pass some 200 feet through clay, caliche, rocks, silt, sand, and gravel to the water table.

Furthermore, water thus returned cannot be fully recovered in ANY amount of time because of molecular attraction. To demonstrate this, if you were to take a glass of oven-dry sand, and pour some water into the sand, you could not pour that same amount of water back out of the sand because the water droplets and the grains of sand have a peculiar affinity for one another.

In the case of a farmer farming a sandhills plot, where the water table was only about 20 feet below the surface, he could probably prove without much trouble that he can "circulate" water right through his farm. But, with the average area water table down around the 200-foot level, this isn't true.

Most any well driller will confirm that there is nearly always a big slice of dry sand right over the water-bearing portion. That dry sand might well take up all the water a farmer could pump down to it for many years.

About the only case of water sand recharge from a surface station point that is proven effective is from a lake. Readings at observation wells show that the water from lakes does reach the irrigation strata. This is more because the water is being "pushed" by a constant force (the head) above than because it is drawn by gravity through the various materials deposited in intermediate strata.

We have never been able to figure out the attraction which draws some couples together.

Will Show Plots

A special showing of wheat test plots set up by the Amarillo Experiment Station will be held Monday, April 28, at the farm of Beryle Nix, says County Agent Joe Jones.

Jones says the 51 plots on the Nix farm are all marked according to the fertilizer treatments they are receiving, and "Anybody farming wheat in the sandy area should certainly come see this demonstration."

One group already has visited the farm and was impressed with the tests.

Fertilizer dealers and farmers are invited to the meeting, which will be at 2 o'clock. The Nix farm is on the first road north of Lariat, and is two miles west and one and three-quarters miles south of Oklahoma Lane.

Local Girls Compete In REA Contest 24th

The Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative announces the candidates for the "Miss Deaf Smith County Rural Electric of 1958" to be judged April 24 at the annual meeting of the cooperative members at the Hereford Bull Barn.

Three Parmer County students are entered in the contest. They are chosen from the members of the FHA Chapters in Farwell, Bovina, and Friona High Schools. Other entries are from Dimmitt and Hereford.

Entered from Farwell is Miss Faye Routon, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Routon. A junior student, she has black hair and brown eyes.

Miss Joy Redden, a 15-year-old sophomore, will represent Bovina High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Redden. The strawberry blonde has hazel eyes.

A 17-year-old senior, Miss Jonnie Hand, is the contestant from Friona High School. The tall, blue-eyed brunette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hand.

The local girls will compete with Miss Gayle Waggoner from Hereford and Miss Myrna Finch of Dimmitt.

Weeds often cause a tremendous reduction in pasture and hay yields, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist. Their control is essential for best returns. The method of control he mentioned are prevention, cultivation, mowing and chemical control.

Sheath Should Be Lined

Versions of the "sheath" dress are popular again this spring. Extension clothing specialists warn that the slim lines present several problems when it comes to keeping a crisp, unwrinkled look.

The dress may lose its shape across the back if the material you choose has a tendency to stretch. Also, wrinkles may develop across the front.

To guard against this, specialists suggest lining the dress. Use a light-weight rayon lining or other material that isn't too heavy, and doesn't cling.

Cut the lining about one-eighth inch smaller than your regular dress pattern and bring it eight to ten inches below the hip line. Machine-baste to the front and back pieces of the dress before putting the seams together. This keeps the fabric from slipping and puckering as you stitch it in place.

Storing Winter Woolens

Before storing those winter woolens be sure they are clean. Extension clothing specialists remind us that perspiration weakens wool, grit cuts it, and spots attract moths.

First examine garments carefully and clean or wash as directed on the label.

Before washing, give special treatment to spots and stains. Also measure your knitted garments so they can be pulled back into shape after washing. Guard against damage from clothes moths. Dry cleaning kills all forms at the time of treatment, but does not insure permanent protection. Garments placed in sealed paper bags immediately after cleaning will be protected indefinitely.

Foods and Nutrition Briefs

Here's a quick new raisin sauce for ham. Simply combine a 6-ounce can of frozen orange juice concentrate with 1/2 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups cold water and 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch. Heat until the sauce thickens. Then add 1/3 cup raisins and salt to taste.

Make a quick and easy tartar sauce for fish suppers. Stir 2 teaspoons instant minced onion into a tablespoon of water. Let stand a few minutes, then add to mayonnaise along with a generous measure of chopped parsley, sweet or sour pickle relish and a squeeze of fresh lime or lemon juice.

a warm platter around a mound of scrambled eggs.

For a quick and delicious tea time snack, try this unusual sandwich. Cut canned date nut bread into slices, spread with softened cream cheese, and arrange well-drained canned cling peach slices on top. Look pretty and tastes wonderful!

You can get more than your money's worth some times, but it is a hard process to continue.

Parmer County Farm Family of the Month

Above are Gilbert and Sylvia Watkins and their fine family. They are holding their twins Debbie and Dennis. At the left is David. Standing are Janie and Mike. They live about six miles east of Farwell.

This is another family that puts electricity to practical use on the farm. In the house, they have a refrigerator, deep freeze, plenty of lighting, radio and TV sets, and air movement on the central heating system is done electrically. Outside, electricity supplies water for the home, the yard is illuminated by a pole light, and Gilbert uses an air compressor and electric drills in his farm shop.

They are all very proud of their upright-type food freezer. They buy beef by the half and also often buy frozen fryers and other easily processed and frozen foods. "When we want chicken, all we have to do is take it out of the freezer and fry it," says Mrs. Watkins, shown here doing just that.

The entire family is then assured what they want when they want it at a minimum of expense and, nicely enough for such a busy mother, trouble.

Like other farm families, the Watkinses find farm life more abundant with electricity.

County 4-H Club Council Meets

The 4-H Council was called to order by President Judy Billingsley Saturday, April 19. The 4-H motto and pledge were led by Richard Chitwood. The minutes were read by Barbara Rea.

Chitwood gave a report on the 4-H achievement day in Bovina. Reports were given by different club members on how they observed National 4-H Week in March. Ronny Henson gave a report on how the Farwell Jr. 4-H Club earned money for the March of Dimes.

Summer activities for the 4-H clubs were discussed. The Senior 4-H party was set for May 29 at the Hub Community house. The girls are to bring sandwiches and the boys 20 cents. The party will begin at 8:30 p.m. Plans were also made for a Junior 4-H party June 19 at the Hub Community house. The party will begin at 8:30 p.m. and the mothers will bring sandwiches and the fathers 20 cents.

Plans were discussed for an electrical workshop this summer for the junior and senior boys and girls 4-H clubs in this county. A committee of Ronny Henson, Farwell; James Brown, Lazbuddie; Joe Bob Johnson, Friona; and Gladys Dean, Bovina, was appointed to work with Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott and Joe Jones in planning the workshop. Gladys Dean is chairman.

A workshop to work on records will be on July 10. This workshop is for all 4-H club members. Everyone will bring his record books.

Jones showed a film about 4-H club activities before the meeting adjourned.

Try not to get irritated with other motorists, a bulletin from the Texas Safety Association advises. When they forget to signal, zig-zag in traffic, fail to dim their lights or show other signs of rudeness, maybe it is because they lack the training or courtesy which YOU possess.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Within the past two years quite a few acres of cultivated land here in Parmer County have been put back to grass. This is primarily the result of the Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank Program. Some have seen the beneficial results of planting grass for their use as well as for seed production.

In some areas, market supplies of native grass seed are still inadequate. And because of unpredictable weather, the supply may vary greatly from year to year.

Experience shows that producing grass seed under cultivation is both practical and profitable and is the only way to produce adequate and dependable supplies.

Demand for seed will more than likely grow as more and more low producing cropland is seeded permanently to grass and as grasses are used more in the regular cropping systems on farms.

There is probably no crop grown that has more conservation uses or more all-round value than grasses. Whenever they are grown, grasses protect land from wind and water erosion and improve soil structure. In addition, they produce pasture and hay. As a result, more acres are being seeded to grass and more species of grass are being grown in the United States now than ever before.

Grasses are being seeded to restore badly eroded land into useful production, to restore depleted rangeland, to heal gullies, to prevent damage by runoff water on steep slopes and to line waterways so that excess water from cultivated fields can be disposed of without erosion.

As a group, the native and several of the introduced forage grasses of the Great Plains are adapted to wide ranges of soil and climate. The principal grasses for this area are Blue grama, Buffalo grass, Side-oats grama and Sand bluestem. Others frequently found are western wheat, Little bluestem, Switchgrass, Canada wildrye, Indian grass and sand lovegrass.

Individual grasses, however, have different needs. Some require highly fertile soil. Some are adapted to low rainfall conditions; others require lots of moisture. Some, such as tall wheatgrass, are well suited for planting in alkaline soils.

Species and strains of native grasses brought from the northern to the southern Great Plains are usually unsuited to southern conditions. And some of those suited to the southern Plains cannot stand the cold of the northern Plains.

In general, when choosing seed of native grasses, choose seed originating not more than 150 to 200 miles north or 250 to 300 miles south of where you intend to use them. Better yet, unless you can get seed of proved varieties, use seeds of local origin.

State Agricultural Experiment Stations, Soil Conservation Service and other agencies have carried on cooperative trial plantings to test suitability of certain species and strains under specific field conditions. The results of these trials serve to guide the farmer in choosing the right grasses for conservation planting.

A hard task is eased by the application of immediate energy.

Optimism is more important to business than cash is to buyers.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Rhea Community completed raising funds for the purchase of a lift for the Parmer County Community Hospital last Friday night when they served a fried chicken supper in Rhea Parish Hall. There was also a program of pantomime acts presented by the younger set that made a very enjoyable evening for patrons of the affair.

Harry Hamilton and Roy V. Miller loaded, hauled and unloaded the hay for the Junior Livestock Show last week. Farm Bureau Directors have taken the responsibility for getting bedding located and on the spot for county fairs and shows for several years.

We remind you again that you are due a nickel per gallon tax refund on gasoline used in farm equipment. You must file within six months of the first purchase. If you haven't received a notice regarding this lately, drop in and see if you should file now. Office secretary, Joyce Osborne, can take care of this and any other service you may desire. You will appreciate the personal attention she gives to your problems, or providing services you may be in need of.

We are glad to see cartons of "ungraded eggs" in grocery stores. This indicates that misunderstandings about the protective Texas Egg Law are disappearing.

We hope that before January, 1959, many of you will have been reminded of the importance of legislation that will be introduced then. It would be well to discuss these items with candidates for state office before you decide how to vote. Some of the objectionable bills likely to appear are: slow down or elimination of construction of new Farm to Market Roads; compulsory re-aligning of County Commissioner's Precincts on a population basis; and a plan to deplete the Permanent School Fund.

Subjects all farm and ranch people will be emphatically for: increased state appropriations for extension service, experiment stations and forestry service; increased state appropriations for an expanded animal health and disease control; and an amendment to the Texas REA law to restore service rights to this important service to rural people. (There will be many others, of course.)

Any person posing as a farmer's best friend while trying to tear down a farmer's organization, needs to be examined thoroughly before being followed.

Consider this: Bread of deceit is sweet to a man; but afterward his mouth shall be filled with gravel. Proverbs 20:17

Extension Service Gives Suggestions On Fertilizers

Texas soils vary from section to section with regard to fertility. That is, soils in the northern sections of the state will not have the same fertilization requirements as the southern sections and the western, eastern and central sections may also have different deficiencies.

It is this variation in fertilization requirements that has prompted the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to release a series of nine leaflets giving the fertilizer recommendations for each section of the state.

Each of these leaflets deal with one particular section. For example, one leaflet is entitled "Fertilizer Recommendations for the Rolling Plains" while another is "Fertilizer Recommendations for the West Cross Timbers." Other sections are Lower Rio Grande Valley, Upper Rio Grande and Trans Pecos, Gulf Coast Prairie, Blackland and Grand Prairie, High Plains, Rio Grande Plain, and East Texas Timbers.

Included in each of these leaflets is a chart that gives the recommendations for each individual crop for that particular section. The crops discussed include forage, grain, fiber, and oil crops as well as fruit trees and truck crops.

These helpful leaflets may be obtained from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

FORMER SENATOR KARL L. LOVELADY ANNOUNCES FOR STATE SENATE

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 30th SENATORIAL DISTRICT:

I take this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of State Senator of the 30th Senatorial District in the forthcoming Democratic Primary. I make this announcement after careful and considered appraisal of the voiced opinions of the many persons who have come to me and that I have gone to see, who have insisted that I make this race based on my past record in the State Senate of Texas to keep the state out of debt and to vote a vote for all the people and not a vote for the chosen few.

I base my candidacy on the following platform:

HONESTY AND INTEGRITY—

The past few years have brought dark clouds of dishonesty and corruption in our state department, and I for one, if elected your State Senator, propose to do my part to see that the people of Texas shall once again have confidence in our government.

FARMING—

I believe in a broader "Farm-to-Market" road program, by trying to get an additional $50,000,000 per year to the amount now spent, for more farm roads.

I believe in a much broader rural electrification and rural telephone program so that every farmer will benefit.

I would like to see a state supported experimental farm, to be located in the heart of the vegetable growing district, for experimentation in the growing of vegetables.

I would support a program to conserve our surface water supply by the state expending money for the construction of dams on all rivers and draws where needed. (In doing this we would also have places for recreation right here in West Texas.)

I would amend the present employment law so that the TEXAS EMPLOYMENT COMMISSION would bring into any given area suitable labor to be used on the farm where said labor is not locally available at the time when this labor is most needed by the farmer.

I would vote for and support a stronger seed regulation law in order to put this state on a par with other states in seed regulation. I will always oppose any legislation to unionize farm labor.

SCHOOLS—

A stronger emphasis on the teaching of the basic subjects of reading, writing and arithmetic in the lower grades, and on mathematics and science in high school, so that we can better equip our students to preserve our leadership as a nation in the world.

Better pay for all school teachers, and more money for better school plants from the state. (I think teachers should receive salaries equal to other professions of similar education and training.)

I think we should have a state supported Junior College near the center of the district so that buses can run from the various towns carrying students to said college.

BUSINESS—

I would abolish the State Store Tax, State tax levied on stores that sell cigarettes and charge the collection of all taxes and cosmetics, etc., now collected by the merchant to that of the manufacturer who makes them. (In fact I think the merchant, farmer and all retail businesses should be taken out of the business of collecting taxes for either the state or the federal government.) It is about time the small business man got a break in this government of ours.

The present "Hot Check" law should be amended so that when any person gives or passes a check whether for cash, to pay a bill or to receive merchandise, he or she may be handled by the proper court if said check is not honored at the bank for payment.

Any person who makes a bill for groceries, clothing or drugs, same being necessities, the merchant should have stronger laws than we now have for the collection of said debts.

LOAN SHARKS—

I would vote and support a law to place all loan companies under the same regulations as the Banks are now under.

CITIES AND TOWNS—

I believe that all cities and towns in the state should be given aid from the state, based on population for use in building streets, alleys and for the purchase of highway rights-of-way through their cities and towns. (As you know all this expense is now carried by the property tax payer who already has all the burden he can carry.)

PROFESSIONS—

I believe that the present laws regulating the illegal and unethical practice of law, medicine and healing arts should be strengthened so that the public may be better protected, and any professional person or so called professional person who, either in private, in public, or in print, willfully misleads the public to obtain a client or a patient should be prosecuted by law for so doing.

WELFARE—

I would give additional aid to all persons under the welfare program where need can be shown to exist. (Any increase in pension checks, etc., would help our economy because they spend their money

OFFICIAL NOTICES AND CITATIONS—

I would vote for an amendment to the present law on official notices and publications to provide that all official notices and citations now posted at the court house door be published in a newspaper in the County so that the public will be properly informed, and that individual citizens affected will not be deprived of their just rights under our laws.

FREE PRESS—

Our laws should be amended so that all government records and all government meetings shall be open to the press so that the people may be informed on all happenings and acts of the government of state, county and political subdivisions.

TAXES—

The State Comptroller has estimated that by January 1, 1959, the State shall be about $100,000,000 in debt, thus the next session of the Legislature will be faced with the duty of getting the state out of the "red." I think that this can best be done by the abolishing of needless jobs and the elimination of duplicate functions of various state agencies, none of which render any service to the tax payer. With times getting harder economy should start at Austin.

I would abolish the State Property taxes, as the property tax payer now has too great a burden to carry in supporting our school, cities and county governments.

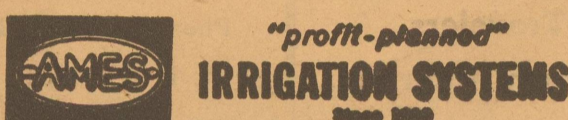

I am not supported by any clique or clan, nor am I fighting any group or individual in this campaign, but if elected your State Senator, I will be your State Senator in fact and in truth, and the fighting that I will do will be on the floor of the State Senate, fighting for your interest. I implore that each person reading this announcement check my past record in the legislative halls of Texas, and as a public spirited citizen in the community in which I reside.

I am outspoken in my beliefs and never ride the fence on any issue. Trusting that you will take this announcement to your heart for the good and future prosperity of this district, and that we all go forward together with progress consistent with our times for the good of all of us.

SINCERELY,
KARL L. LOVELADY
