CRACKERS

—WHG

That old talespinner, Jack Patterson, was into the office the other day, and we "pumped" him for the details of just what he is doing way out here on the Plains when all he can talk about is Gaw-gia.

Jack is a newspaperman's delight so far as being free with information is concerned. All we had to do was ask him the one question, and then sit back and listen to an uninterrupted true story for the next fifteen minutes.

Jack was raised way back in the woods in the Georgia hill country. After he grew to manhood and went to war and returned home, apparently such activity stirred something inside him.

"One day me and the wife were picking cotton alongside each other," he says, "an' I raised up and looked at her an' said, 'There must be a better way to live than this.'"

"She raised up too an' looked back at me an' said, 'Well, I don't know where or what it is, but I'm willing to try it.'"

So the Pattersons, in the fall as the crops were gathered in, began to sell out, piece by piece. Instead of cribbing their corn for feeding the hogs and mules that winter, they sold it. Little by little they disposed of nearly all of their material possessions.

Then, they set out for the West, without any idea whatever as to how far they would travel, and where they would settle, or what they would do.

Jack left behind the farm in the hills, up in "Hell's Holler" where only one road leads in and the same road leads out, where, on the way up, the observant can spot five active stills, and where, as Jack grew to the age of 27, he never sat a-straddle of a horse or in the seat of a tractor. He farmed with mules.

The only thing that the Pattersons were convinced of when they burned their bridges behind them was that "We won't stop 'til we get out of the state of Georgia."

Jack blazed a trail for the family westward, and didn't cool his heels until he topped the High Plains. He was visiting relatives in Portales, Holene, Broadview, and the vicinity when one of his relatives (believe it was a cousin), intoned, "Jack, don't go any further west. This is 'it.' Stay here." So Jack sent for the family and did just as had been suggested. He took up farming for Cordie Potts and within a few years was on his own.

If there's any particular moral to this story it would be that this didn't happen in the early 1900's. It happened in 1949. The story sounds like so many our parents and grandparents tell, it seems unreal.

But, the truth is, folks are still coming west, seeking new opportunities. As the population of America, now estimated to be around 170 million, continues to expand, we look forward to additional migrations of modern-day "pioneers" who look westward.

There is talk that the "boom" on the Plains is over. It is true that the spurt that accompanied the development of large-scale irrigation is finished, but that should be looked upon as just a beginning, and not an end to our development.

The people of this nation are in a state of constant flux. Modern-day modes of transportation have made it simple for a family of modest means to explore areas that formerly were only in their imagination.

This traveling around causes them to be attracted to new locations, to be willing, even anxious, to make changes if they appear to be changes for the better.

That, in a nutshell, is the best reason we know of for keeping a community pointed toward the future, keeping its leaders on their toes for ways of improving a town so that it might look more attractive to those who will bring new homes, new businesses, yes, even new industries.

A doff of the editorial hat goes this week to the professional weather forecasters, who are frequently the target of our criticism. They honestly predicted the snow of last week.

How they managed this we are not quite sure, but it was a satisfying experience to hear on Saturday that it would "probably" snow on Sunday, and then, wonder of all wonders, to look out the window Sunday morning to sure enough see the snow descending.

There are lots of jobs that look more attractive than newspapering from time to time, but one that we definitely would not want under any circumstances is that as a member of the national legislative assembly.

The weight of the world is on the shoulders of our senators and congressmen, who sometimes don't seem to

Report From Frio Draw

Dear Editor,

I have been thinkin' of enterin' politickin' this year, and am jest about ready to announce my candidacy for a county commissioner's job.

What is keepin' back my decision is a problem of hats. I always heered that a politician throwed his hat into the ring at the same time he announced. Ef'n somebody could tell me where the ring is, I figure I could git my hat throwed in, but I ain't got another hat to wear in the meantime.

Yours truly,

He is Dr. Ansel McDowell Jr., who recently received his discharge from the United States Navy.

He is a graduate of Wellington High School, where he was selected high point student of his graduating class.

He attended pre-medical school at the University of Texas, and holds an MD degree from the University of Texas Medical branch at Galveston.

The 27-year-old doctor is married, and two children are in his family. They are Marian, 4, and Linda, 9 months. Mrs. McDowell is also a native of Wellington.

Dr. McDowell is enthusiastic about coming to Friona and comments, "This is the best hospital I have ever seen for a town of Friona's size."

He will be doing general medical and obstetrical practice at the hospital.

Dr. Paul Spring, who has been trying for several months to arrange for another doctor for Parmer County Community Hospital says, "We are glad to have him with his training and practical experience, and know that the addition to the staff here will allow the hospital to bring better service to the area it serves."

CHIEFS DEFEAT MORTON, 51-48

Friona Squaws Beat Morton, Farwell Next

Next Game for the Friona Squaws will be the Farwell girls Friday night. The game is scheduled in Farwell, and the Friona team is a heavy favorite, since the two opponents have met on three other occasions. Friona has won all three games.

In district play last week, the Squaws whipped the Morton girls 57 to 55 in a cage thriller before a near capacity crowd.

The win over Morton gives the Squaws a two win and one loss record, and gives Sudan girls the first place slot unchallenged. According to pregame expectations, the Squaws victory over the Morton cagers was a mild upset.

Jonnie Hand led the Friona forwards in scoring and tallied 26 points. Robbie Boggess scored 20 points.

Accuracy at the free throw line is credited with the win, as the Squaws scored 19 on foul shots, and Morton scored only 11. Both teams had the same number of free throws.

Morton outshot the Squaws on the field. The Morton field goal count was 22, and Friona's field goals numbered 19.

Revival Meeting Now In Progress

Rev. Gilstrap, who was educated at Tulsa College and the Apostolic College, also at Tulsa, is a musician, as well as an evangelist, and special music will be presented at each service.

Friona's Car Stolen, Recovered

Buddy Lloyd of Friona Saturday afternoon reported his car stolen from the parking place north of Friona Consumers. The car was recovered in Tucumcari, N. M., later the same afternoon and a San Antonio pair was apprehended.

Indians Tumble Down

Friona Chiefs last Friday night demonstrated their basketball ability by putting the sleds to Morton's hopes of a straight run to the district championship.

Before a capacity crowd at the Friona High School gym, the Friona basketballers gave Morton's Indians their first loss of the season. Score was 51-48.

In the upset game of the week in area basketball, the Chiefs sank 17 field goals and 17 free throws to account for the winning score. Morton's figures were 16 field goals, and 16 free throws.

Ball-hawking Wayne Rhodes sparked the Chiefs' scoring, sinking 15 points for Friona. Other Chief players and their scores were Nolen Johnson 12, Weldon Fairchild 10, Ted Sanders 5, Gary Goetz 4, Gary Bradley 3, and Ronnie Castleberry 2.

Coach Dempsey Watkins' Chiefs were tied with Morton before the game. The win puts the Chiefs in a favorable position for district championship.

Next in line for the Chiefs are Farwell's Steers, who Tuesday night lost to second-place Friona. (Continued on Last Page)

MIXING IT UP—Gary Goetz, number 13, goes into the air for a rebound against Morton Friday Night. Friona won 51 to 48.

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

How Much Is Your Vote Worth?

Voting is a right of free men. Voting in governmental elections is a duty of free men. Voting for candidates and issues of one's choice is a privilege.

And to vote, eligible citizens must have a certificate of poll tax payment. The cost of the certificate is $1.75, for one time only. That is how much it costs.

How much is it worth?

History books recorded some examples of how much some of our ancestors thought a vote was worth. And the American Revolution was started, and fought, partially because men who wanted to vote were not being allowed this consideration.

Maybe disinterested citizens would appreciate voting more if it were required by law as it is in several European countries. Actually, voting is not required, but if a citizen of Sweden does not vote for five consecutive elections, his vote is denied henceforth. The percentage of voters is far greater than the non-voters.

Elsewhere ..... $4 Per Yr.

Pay your poll tax. That is the cost of voting. But, maybe in the near future, votes can be cast for legislators who will change the poll tax situation. This is one of the outdated items that should have been eliminated decades past.

Re-purchase your right to vote this year. Pay your poll tax.

Petty Gas Sale Nips Young Car Thieves

A pocket change sale of gasoline Saturday afternoon at a service station near Ragland, N. M., led to the arrest of two young men, only 1 1/2 hours after the news of a stolen car was radioed to law enforcement officers of the area, according to Parmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace.

Guadalupe Pierce, 20, of San Antonio, and his 15-year-old juvenile companion, were returned to Parmer County Sunday by Tom Atkins, county deputy, and Ben Moorman.

Friona police chief. Pierce has been charged with car theft and bond set at $1,000, and has been bound over to the grand jury.

His companion has been charged with juvenile delinquency and will have a hearing in County Judge A. D. Smith's juvenile court, Lovelace says.

The real-life drama began Saturday afternoon in Friona when the two young men allegedly were hitch-hiking through town. The weather was cold, and one waited on the highway while the other spied the 1950 Oldsmobile belonging to Thomas (Buddy) Lloyd parked behind Friona Consumers. The keys were in the automobile, so the young man got in and drove away.

The theft was not discovered immediately. Sheriff Lovelace estimates that the car was taken about two or 2:30 in the afternoon and it was reported missing about 4 p. m. The two young men allegedly noted that the car was running low on gas about 20 miles out of Tucumcari, and pulled in at the gas station near Ragland to purchase 50 cents worth of gas.

The station had a two-way radio and had just heard the report on the stolen car, and the attendant radioed ahead to Tucumcari law enforcement officials.

WITH JUNE

Early this week F. W. Reeve, whose opinion we regard very highly, and several other Frionan's mentioned to us that robins had been sighted here. We asked Mr. Reeve what seeing a robin here in January meant. He replied, "It means we will have an early spring, of course."

Now, we know that Mr. Reeve isn't a weather prophet and feel sure that he doesn't take much stock in superstitions, so are expecting an early spring. Thursday and Friday surely did seem like spring days, but we doubt that this kind of weather will hold out very long.

One garden specialist reminded gardeners that it was not wise to get gardening fever too early in the Panhandle. Maybe we might work off our enthusiasm for gardening by preparing seed beds for flowers and vegetables.

In all probability these beds will be covered with snow sometime during February and March. The moisture would probably do more good on a well-worked seed bed than it would on hard ground, so our time and energy certainly would not be wasted.

By the way, have you noticed that there is still snow in sheltered places on the north side of hedges and other bushes and it has been almost two weeks since the snow fell. Some farmers are predicting that it will be too wet to plow some of the fields until after the first of February.

However, we have noticed a number of farmers shredding stalks and it will not be much longer before the breaking plows and fertilizer applicators are running again.

Poll Tax Payments Must Be Made Soon

Employees in Lee Thompson's tax assessor and collector's office are expecting a rush of last-minute poll tax payments the next few days as the deadline of January 31, looms nearer.

According to employees of the office, about 1075 payments had been made by Monday of this week, and is not even half the expected total, with estimations based on payments during past election years. Plans now are for the office to close on the 31st at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, but as an accommodation to taxpayers, the office will be open all day this coming Saturday.

A note from Roy Slagle of Farley, New Mexico, who is a former Friona resident, makes us feel good. He writes, "The ad got results. Sold the reel." We surely do enjoy running classifieds that are effective and most of those run in the Star are.

Another satisfied user of our classifieds is E. M. Jack, who farms northwest of town. He wanted to buy a building suitable for a milk barn and said after the ad ran one time, "I could have bought a number of buildings."

Grady Dodd, who is one of the newest merchants in Friona, has been having quite a time finding a house to live in here. His wife and four-year-old daughter, Fran, have been living in Quanah. Dodd and Fran were in the Star office Friday, and apparently there had been a lot of talk about the housing situation here.

Upon being asked about moving to Friona, Fran replied, "Well, we will move into the house Daddy rented as soon as some more people move, so some more people can move." The housing situation here has been such that someone just about has to move out of town, or build a new house, in order for anyone else to find a place to live here.

Our apologies this week go to A. W. and T. E. Wood. In reporting a news story about A. W. Wood last week, we referred to him as T. E. Woods. Don't really have an excuse to offer. The wrong initial was just simply an error that should not have been made. It was really a case of knowing better, but not doing better.

However, we had never known until Friday morning that Mr. Wood (A. W. that is) was not Mr. Woods. Ever since we have lived here we have heard people say Woods and just didn't know that it wasn't right. While the matter was being discussed in the office, Jasper Bess, another of Friona's long-time residents, said "I've known you for 35 years and always thought your name was Woods. That's what everyone calls you."

Mr. Wood replied, "That's right. They do call me that, but for 35 years, you have been hearing everyone who says it, make a mistake." Since T. E. Wood has been a farmer for a long time, maybe everyone knew that the initials were an error.

For a number of years different people have been asking, "Why don't some of the local merchants sell white tee shirts, sweat shirts, and head scarves with the FRIONA CHIEF emblem and name on them?" We couldn't answer the question, and still can't. However, they are now available in Friona.

The finance committee of the Modern Study Club has received their first shipment of these articles and are selling them to anyone who cares to buy. The sweat shirts come in two styles. One has the regular round neck and the other has a collar and short zipper down the front.

Think these come in all sizes and the tee shirts start at size six and go up. The ball games and other school activities will be much more colorful when more spectators wear the FRIONA CHIEF emblem on shirts and head scarves. For further information, you may contact Decima Beene at Phone 2812.

Members of the Friona Home Demonstration Club have decided to make stuffed toys for patients at the Carrie Tingley Hospital at Truth or Consequences for their benevolent project this year. If any readers of this column have worn nylon hose to discard, they would be welcomed by any member of this club.

Anyone caring to contribute hose for this purpose is invited to leave them at the Friona Star office, and some member of the club will pick them up.

We have a new shipment of "All state officials and many county and local officials will be nominated in July and August primaries. There are nine Constitutional amendments to be voted on in the November general election.

"All of this adds up to a highly important political year in which no citizen should fail to qualify himself to vote," Daniel adds.

Election Filing Time

Both city commissioners and the mayor post of the City of Friona are to be voted on this year in the city wide election. Date for the election is April 2, or the first Tuesday in the month.

Comments from corners of the city indicate the election and campaigning thermometer will rise to marks made by hotly contested past elections.

One Friona citizen was heard to say it will have more interest than any election in the past.

The deadline for filing in the election is March 2, according to City Clerk Roy Wilson. To file for a city office, the candidate must be a qualified voter in the city. This means that he must pay his poll tax, and live within the city limits for six months prior to the filing date.

No fee is charged for entering the race.

Nearly 275 voters will be voting in the election if past voting records are an indication. In the last election of city officials, 286 persons voted, and 287 ballots were counted in the swimming pool election of 1957, Wilson says.

No voter registration list is kept by the city, except one which is prepared from water and sewer billing records, and the poll tax rolls.

Formal Opening Set For Farwell Church Of Christ Building

Formal opening for the new Church of Christ building in Farwell has been set for Sunday. Visitors from the area are invited to the regular Sunday morning services, a barbecue lunch at noon and a special opening service at 2:30 p. m., says Ebb Randol, minister.

The speakers will include Eugene Sofford of Amarillo, Bill Tittle of Muleshoe, Loren Thompson of Lariat, and Grover C. Ross of Portales. A special song service is also planned. The new building is of contemporary style and features laminated arches, indirect lighting and forced air heating.

Group Enjoys Family Night

Members of Rhea Lutheran Church enjoyed a family night at the Parish Hall Sunday night.

The evening's entertainment started with the showing of slides from the "Good Shepherd Home."

After the slides the children were directed in various games, while the adults played cards and visited.

Refreshments of hot chocolate, coffee, coffee cake, and cupcakes were served to the group.

HD Club Meets In Patterson Home

The Rhea Home Demonstration Club met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Jack Patterson. The regular business session was not conducted since many of the members were absent due to weather conditions. Those present filled out year books for 1958.

New Residents

Several changes have been made in the community recently with some families moving out and new families taking their places.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sifford and children recently moved to the Pete Buske place, located across the road from Mr. Dixon's farm. They have two children at home, Peggy and Lee, who are attending high school at Friona. The Siffords moved here from Canyon. They are the parents of Billy Sifford of this community.

On the Dixon farm are Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Anderson and boys. The J. W. McMahan formerly lived on this farm. The Andersons have two boys, ages 13 and 15. The Andersons came here from Littlefield. Mr. Anderson is a cousin of Claud Means of this community.

Also new is the Averett family who moved from Friona to the Martin Wagner farm. The Milton Sullivans recently moved from this farm to the Robert Schueler farm. The Averetts have two children at home and several who are married.

HAS X-RAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schueler spent Monday of last week in Lubbock. They had x-rays taken of their daughter's nose. Vickie fell some time ago injuring her nose and has had some trouble with it since.

Connie Schlenker will be wearing a house slipper to school for some time. A board fell on her foot cracking a bone in the middle toe.

Big shots are usually small shots who kept on shooting.

Overheard in the Office: "They call her 'Income Tax' because she has such a staggering figure."

It's a fact that for the price of a pound of coffee the railroads carry a ton of coal 183 miles.

BAPTISM—WHAT

IS IT FOR?

"In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ: Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead" (Colossians 2:11-12).

The passage shows that "putting off the body of the sins of the flesh" is the circumcision of Christ, made without hands, and takes place at the time one is buried in baptism. This is further explained in Romans 6:3-4, which shows plainly that the sinner is baptized into the death of Christ and is resurrected to walk in newness of life. The body of the sins of the flesh is put off by being baptized into Christ's death. Baptism put the sinner into the death of Christ and that is where the blood of Christ was shed. Christians have been washed from their sins in Christ's own blood, Rev. 1:5.

"Dig or Die"

(This week's meditation is by the Rev. Hugh F. Blaylock, pastor of Friona Methodist Church)

"Dig or die" is a law of nature expressed in the vernacular of our day. We have found it to be true in the material things of life. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. seemed to understand that he must work all the harder because he inherited wealth which he did not earn for himself. Otherwise, Junior would have let this famous name die.

It is also true in the physical realm of life; evidenced very early in life. If the baby does not flail the air with his arms and legs, he will never develop the muscles that are later necessary for his survival.

The greatest teacher of all times expressed this truism in the language of his day, "Whoever loses his life, for my sake shall find it." In order to live we must invest life, develop life. Could this be the reason many of us are dwarfs spiritually?

God gave the baby legs and muscles, but he will never walk unless he moves and exercises them. God gave each one of us the "power to become" strong spiritually, but if we never study the Bible, go to church, pray, or otherwise exercise this power, we will die. In moral and spiritual terms, Jesus was saying, "Dig or die."

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to my friends for the many kind deeds of kindness since my accident. My thanks go to each of you that asked about me, although you were not able to visit me. With each of you being so concerned about me, my long stay in the hospital seemed shorter and more pleasant. May God's richest blessings be on each of you.

Rice Consumer Service

Rolled Beef-Mushroom Loaf, Rice Stuffing

Knowing lots of ways to fix ground beef can add variety to meals and keep the meat bill down.

This recipe is for a savory meat loaf or roll which is different and exceptionally delicious! Well-seasoned ground beef is rolled up like a jelly roll. The filling is made of cooked rice and a bit of cheese. There are mushrooms in the meat for just the right bit of exciting flavor.

INGREDIENTS:

- 1, 3 oz. can broiled, chopped mushrooms, drained
  - 1 egg, beaten
  - 1 1/4 lbs. ground beef
  - 2 teaspoons salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
  - 2 tablespoons grated onion
  - 1/3 cup quick cooking oats
  - 2 teaspoons thick meat or steak sauce
  - 1/4 cup milk
  - 1 1/2 cups cold cooked rice
  - 1/2 cup milk
  - 1/2 cup grated American cheese
- METHOD: Cut the mushrooms into small pieces. Mix together the egg, beef, 2 teaspoons salt, black pepper, onions, oats, meat sauce and the 1/4 cup milk. Mix together well. Place on a piece of waxed paper or aluminum foil. Pat out evenly until the meat is about 9 by 12 inches.

Put the rice, 1/2 cup milk and cheese in a saucepan. Heat over a low heat until the milk is absorbed. Spread over the meat, leaving a margin of about 1 1/2 inches all around. Roll up, starting from side which is 9 inches. Pick up the paper or foil to help with the rolling.

Pinch ends together to keep rice stuffing in. Patch any broken places with meat from ends of the loaf.

Place loaf folded side down in a greased shallow pan. Pour about 1/2 cup water around the loaf. Bake in a pre-heated 325° F. oven one hour or until the meat is done through and beginning to brown.

Allow to stand about 5 minutes before cutting into slices. Serve with the pan drippings, mushroom or tomato sauce or other sauce as desired.

This recipe makes about 9 servings.

Polio Shot Time

Although there have not been any polio cases reported in Parmer County for a long time, Dr. Paul Spring, Parmer County Health officer, says everyone who is in the susceptible age should get inoculated against polio.

About 75 percent of the Parmer County residents have already been immunized to polio, and it would be to everyone's advantage to receive the shot, Dr. Spring says.

The ages that need Salk polio may get the shots at Parmer County Community Hospital. Plenty of vaccine is available now, according to Dr. Spring. A shot now would give immunity to polio by the season for the disease.

Invents Scalloped Disc Sharpener

"You can't do that. Scalloped discs cannot be sharpened. You can buy brand new discs for what it will cost to have them sharpened."

But—it can be done, and it is being done by a man with a custom disc roller, who has rigged an attachment to a portable disc roller that does the trick.

The man behind the machine, the inventor is T. C. Sharp of Friona.

Sharp last week began rolling scalloped discs. It had been a little less than a year since he started rolling discs for Parmer County farmers.

"I'd been thinking about how the machine could be arranged to roll scalloped discs since then, and my partner, Ben Short, and I had talked about it a lot. Short did a lot toward inventing the new adaptation of the disc roller, too," Sharp says.

The machine which Sharp uses is a patented invention, made by C. S. Bass of Plainview about seven years ago. Sharp has one of the two machines that was built.

Sharp's attachment holds the discs away from the rollers, to keep the gouged out section of the scalloped discs from hanging in the rollers. This has been the problem in rolling the scalloped discs, Sharp says. Farmers find the main use for scalloped discs in stubble and stalks, and get better cutting action than the regular discs. But use of scalloped discs has been hindered because a method to sharpen them economically had not been found, Sharp explains.

Sharp says his method will make it possible for farmers to have scalloped discs sharpened for about one-fifth of the cost of cheaper brands of discs. It should be the go-ahead signal for the use of scalloped discs to become more widespread, he says.

As an example of the value of his method, Sharp cites the following case:

A farmer was pulling a scalloped tandem disc, but not getting good cutting. Sharp offered to sharpen the discs, and did. When the farmer tried to pull the implement after the sharpening, the tractor would not pull it because of deeper cutting.

Sharp doesn't plan to apply for a patent. The machine's patent will likely keep competitive operators away from it, he says.

However, other portable disc rollers are operated by hydraulic pressure. Sharp's machine applies pressure to the edge of the disc mechanically. He does not believe that the attachment would work on the hydraulic machines.

T. C. SHARP

After farmers have been hearing so long that scalloped discs cannot be sharpened, they'll probably doubt that it can be done.

One told me that the other day, he says, but I proved that it could be done.

HD Council To Meet

On the agenda of the county Home Demonstration Club council Monday will be committee reports and election of convention delegates.

The group will meet in the office of the home demonstration agent at 2 p.m. Plans for the year's work will be formulated after reports from planning committees.

Delegates to the Texas Home Demonstration Association convention to be April 10 in Stratford will be elected. Mrs. Ellis Tatum will preside.

Budget: A family's attempt to live below its yearnings.

Vegetable Meetings Scheduled In Area

Two meetings with vegetables as a theme will be held next week at Hereford and Muleshoe. They may be of interest to Parmer County area farmers who are considering crop diversification.

The meeting at Hereford will be Wednesday, January 29, and the Muleshoe meeting will be the next day. The programs are practically identical.

On the program are W. F. Bennett, soil chemist; B. G. Hancock, Extension horticulturist; Harlan Smith, plant pathologist; Joe Cole, associate horticultural agent; and J. F. Rosborough, horticultural marketing specialist.

Black, Parr Attend SCD Convention

A. L. Black and Bruce Parr of Friona attended the state convention of Texas Soil Conservation Districts in Corpus Christi Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of last week.

The three-day meeting concerned operations of the soil conservation district, with reports from districts being made and awards to districts presented for outstanding work.

Black is chairman of the Parmer County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors, and Parr is a recently elected director.

Black reports that they inspected and accepted a seven and one-half ton truck tractor from machinery among Army surplus equipment in San Antonio. The tractor is to go with the low-boy trailer which the SCD received last fall on a heavy machinery grant.

Gammon, Wilkinson Are Committeemen

Elected to serve as committeemen of Parmer County for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District last week were John Gammon of Lazbuddie and A. B. Wilkinson of Bovina.

A light vote was registered in the county, and the two men received 35 and 34 votes, respectively, from the four boxes in the county.

Box tabulations: Gammon—Friona 10, Bovina 9, Farwell 8, Lazbuddie 8, Wilkinson—Friona 9, Bovina 9, Farwell 8, and Lazbuddie 8.

CLOTHING CARE

Clean, well-cared-for clothing can do much to give the wearer a good start on the day's activities. A sense of good grooming adds an extra note of confidence. Extension clothing specialists point out that certain practices involved in keeping garments looking their best also pay off with longer wear and less strain on the budget.

Take storage, for instance. Crowding is always bad for clothing. It not only destroys the effects of pressing but often actually cuts down on wearability. A good brushing and frequent airing will do a lot to freshen up clothes and keep them more wearable.

Prompt attention to spot removal and simple repairs will also prolong the life of clothing articles. Quick attention often avoids the need of sending garments to the cleaners.

Touch up pressing done at home between regular cleaning can also help to save on cleaning bills. The best way to save clothes is to give them the daily care needed to keep them clean as long as possible and hold them in shape so they won't need to go to the cleaners so often.

Careful buymanship, adequate storage facilities and special care in handling and wearing will keep your clothing budget at a minimum. At the same time you will be rewarded with greater clothing satisfaction.

Facts About Clothing Care, a new bulletin just out, written by extension clothing specialist, tells how to do the daily job as well as the seasonal job of caring for your family's clothing.

BETTER FAMILY HEALTH

What's the status of health in your family? Could it be improved in 1958? Mrs. Eloise Johnson, extension family life specialist, suggests a check that is certain to add to better family health.

Here are the seven important factors: good nutrition, sanitation, regular health examinations, immunization, exercise, rest and recreation, an adequate home health center, and a means of achieving the state of radiant health which is the result of complete physical, social and mental well being.

An accepted guide for good nutrition is the Texas Food Standard. Mrs. Johnson points out that family attitudes toward food and the enjoyment of meal time are just as important as the kind and amount of food eaten.

Sanitation includes a healthful water supply, safe sewage and garbage disposal, cleanliness around the barn and home, as well as clean milk free from bacteria.

Regular health examinations for mother and father as well as the children are one of the most important steps in improving family health. Your family physician can advise about immunization against contagious and infectious diseases.

Exercise, rest, and recreation is a fifth step. The important thing, Mrs. Johnson says, is to build toward a family attitude which considers rest and recreation as essential to good health and not a waste of time or evidence of laziness.

The sixth step is the maintenance of an adequate home health center. Every family should have supplies, equipment and medicine for the minor illnesses and emergencies that must be cared for at home.

Many physical and mental ailments are rooted in worry, fear, and concern. The seventh step toward achieving a state of radiant health involves "talking out" problems as a family to give assurance and a sense of security to each family member.

Seed Men Meet

Thursday Night

Members of the Parmer County Certified Seed Growers Association will meet Thursday night, January 23, at the Legion Hall in Friona. They have been called together by Truett Johnson, Association president.

Windbreak Protects, Beautifies Home

Early in the year is the time to start planning improvements and beautifying farm and home surroundings. One project that pays off in the two respects is establishing a windbreak.

Cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service and the Texas Forestry Service, County Agent Joe Jones offers two plans for obtaining the trees and advice and assistance in setting them out and caring for them.

Application blanks for trees from the Texas Forestry Service are available in the agents' office. Four varieties are offered—red cedar, ponderosa pine, Austrian pine, and Chinese elm, selling for $3 per 100. Deadline for applying for them is March 1. Applications may be picked up in the county extension office or requested from that office by mail.

Orders are being taken at the Soil Conservation Service office or by Steve Messenger in Friona for potted red cedar or Arizona cypress seedlings which will be delivered around June 1. Obtained through a Friona nursery, the seedlings will cost 30 cents each.

Trees ordered under the first plan will be approximately one foot high and will be about a year ahead of the seedlings, says Jones. He added, however, that the seedlings will have a higher livability.

Red cedar, because of its toughness, is the tree the agent recommends for windbreaks. With proper care it will grow to a height of 35 to 40 feet over a period of years. It is also one of the most attractive.

About five years ago one Parmer County farmer took advantage of the trees offered at a reduced cost by the Texas Forestry Service to form windbreaks. Now these red cedars at the Harold Carpenter farm in the Oklahoma Lane Community are large enough to effectively protect the house from the wind and are thick enough to provide cuttings to continue the double row around the grounds. For information concerning a similar program for their homes, farmers can contact the County Agent's office or the Soil Conservation service.

"A properly planned and strategically placed windbreak does a great deal in showing off a farm home as well as providing protection from the wind," says Jones. He emphasizes these points in planning a windbreak. (1) Be sure it is in the right place to cut off the wind. (2) Allow plenty of room for remodeling and repairs to the buildings to be enclosed in the windbreak. (3) For best results plant in two or three staggering rows.

One way to keep a man's feet on the ground is to put a heavy responsibility on his shoulders.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

From time to time we have chided farmers in a friendly way about the present-day turn of events which finds them buying their eggs and butter, their meat and other staple, farm-raised daily dinner necessities at the grocery store.

"The cow, sow, and hen" philosophy of the 1930's isn't out of date, we have suggested. In a sense, we still mean what we said, but in another sense, there's more to it than just raising a little ham and eggs on the side.

This is an age of specialization, where the farmer, as everyone else, finds himself being outstripped by competition from others who prove they can produce the same thing as you (or an acceptable substitute) at a lower price.

That makes it difficult, if not impossible, for farmers to continue to earn a fair return from anything classified as a sideline farming activity. It's all or nothing at all, apparently.

Well, maybe it's true then that there isn't much point in trying to market a bucketful of eggs every Saturday afternoon, or sell raw milk a quart at a time to those who will still buy it.

But we still feel that there's enough feed and shelter going to waste around the typical farmstead to make keeping a few chickens, a cow (if there's a farm boy to milk her), and a pig or two on the place worthwhile. They come in mighty handy at dinnertime.

The above encouragement is intended for on-the-farm consumption only, mind you. When it comes to selling on a cash market, you are back in the thick of the specialization battle.

We are working in cooperation with County Agent Joe Jones on a series of stories we hope to introduce in the near future. These will deal with new possibilities in specializing farming, which with each passing year looks more promising.

For example, the new Texas Egg Law, which is just about to go into effect, will markedly improve the prospects for producers of high quality eggs. This state has long suffered under cluttered statutes in this regard, and top-quality egg producers have often been hurt because of lack of reasonable safeguards.

There will be other stories, too. Watch for them.

It's a fact that for the price of a loaf of bread the railroads carry a barrel of flour 196 miles.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

The next time you feel all out of sorts and need a "pick-up," why not try making one or more batches of cookies. There are so many different kinds, shapes and decorations that it will be no problem at all to get deeply involved in cookie making and out of the doldrums.

One of our favorite basic recipes is for Basic Refrigerator Cookies. This dough may be kept in the refrigerator several days and you can slice off a tray full to cook at any time you want quick hot cookies. It is also good for those of us who have smaller children who like to get into the cooking act.

Basic Refrigerator Cookies
 3 cups flour
 1/4 teaspoon table salt
 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
 1 cup butter or margarine
 2/3 cup sugar, brown or granulated

 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
 1 beaten egg
 1 cup shredded coconut or nuts, chopped
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix and sift together flour, salt, and baking soda. Cream butter until soft. Add corn syrup and sugar, and beat until thoroughly blended. Add egg; blend well. Add coconut or nuts and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients; mix thoroughly. Chill dough about one hour.

Then shape into two rolls about 2 inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator at least four hours or overnight. With a very sharp knife, cut in thin slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in hot oven.

For Chocolate Cookies: Follow recipe for refrigerator cookies, then add two squares melted chocolate or 1/3 cup cocoa to batter before sifted dry ingredients. Stir until well blended.

For Orange Coconut Cookies: Follow recipe for refrigerator cookies but substitute light corn syrup for dark syrup and be sure to use granulated sugar. Add two tablespoons grated orange peel and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg with coconut.

Another recipe that is sure to make a hit with all the youngsters is for Peanut Butter Cookies.

1 2/3 cups sifted flour

few grains salt
 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed

1/2 cup dark corn syrup
 1/2 cup peanut butter
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
 1 egg, well beaten
 1/4 cup chopped peanuts, optional

Mix and sift together flour, salt, and baking powder. Cream butter or margarine, gradually add sugar, and cream until light and fluffy. Add dark corn syrup and peanut butter, beating until smooth and well blended. Add beaten egg and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients, a little at a time, mixing well after each addition.

Shape dough into balls, about 1 inch in diameter. Place on ungreased cookie sheet; flatten cookies with a fork. Place about 1/2 teaspoon chopped peanuts on top of each cookie. Bake in moderate oven.

Do you have a stick of one of the new stick lubricants in your cabinet drawers? If not, be sure to buy one the first opportunity you have. It will not only lubricate car doors, but it will be very useful for doors and drawers that stick or bind. It can also be used on latches, hinge pins, and window tracks to make them easier to operate.

The heaviest single-car freight shipment ever moved on the U. S. railroads weighed 673,000 pounds. Think what that would do to a highway!
