STATE WILL FORCE SACCO TO EAT FOOD

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—Forcible feeding, described as a dangerous and disagreeable operation, will be attempted if Nicola Sacco does not break his hunger strike. It was announced today, Dr. Joseph I. McLaughlin, state prison physician, said Mrs. Sacco had been warned of the danger, and in turn had begged her husband to eat.

While the condition of Sacco was giving grave concern at state prison at Charlestown, defense lawyers across the city were engaged in an intensive study of law books in preparation for a drive for a new trial before the full bench of the state supreme court Tuesday. At the same time at the state house on Beacon hill, the forces of Attorney General Arthur K. Reading were delving into works of law preparing for argument. Legal machinery had moved in record speed in the last few days in the case of the two men doomed to die for the murder of a South Braintree paymaster and his guard in 1923. Motions have been made for a new trial, for a stay and revocation of sentence, and for a writ of habeas corpus in both state and federal courts. All motions have been denied.

BOMB PLOT AGAINST STANDARD OIL NIPPED

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 12.—An attempt to blow up the Standard Oil company property on Van Rensselaer Island was frustrated today by a device believed to be a clock bomb was found there by a policeman. The clock was attached between a magnet and a half gallon can containing gravel and a substance which was being examined by chemists.

"I am going to Boston as soon as I reach America," she said. "I am certain my trip will end in triumph; I will tell everyone in America who we are; that none of our family would rob or kill."

PLOT AGAINST HOME OF DAVIS IS HEARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Fearing a bomb plot against the home of Secretary of Labor Davis, police put a guard about his home today. Davis, on his way to visit the president, has received numerous threatening letters, supposedly because of his campaign against aliens illegally in the country. Police were given a scare last night when a man was found in the basement of a home near the Davis house. He said he was looking for servant's quarters in Davis' home.

Worms and Weevils Hurt Brown Cotton

BROWNWOOD, Aug. 12.—Boll worms have made their appearance in Brown county and are doing much damage to the 1927 cotton crop, according to the statement of O. P. Griffin, who for the past few days has been visiting various fields of cotton in the county. Mr. Griffin was first called to fields in the eastern part of Coleman county after reports had reached him that pink boll weevils had made their appearance there. Upon investigation Griffin found the boll worms and they are pink, but he states they are just the regular boll worm that has been an enemy to cotton crops for years. These same pests are found in parts of Brown county.

Boll weevils are doing much damage to crops in Brown county, Mr. Griffin states. The two insects, boll worms and boll weevils, will consume all of the new growth. In other words the 1927 cotton crop is now made and according to his reports and estimates, the crop will not be near as good as hoped for several weeks ago. He places the yield of the 1927 crop at about one bale to every four or five acres.

Cisco and vicinity: Tonight and Saturday partly cloudy; probable showers in extreme west.

RISING STAR AND MAY ROAD TO BE GRADED

RISING STAR, Aug. 12.—A committee of Rising Star citizens representing the chamber of commerce and business interests of the city met with the Brown county commissioners Monday morning and worked out a plan whereby the new road between Rising Star and May is to be graded and proper drainage structures put in at once, the Rising Star delegation agreeing to grade the road if Brown county would take care of the drainage structures, which, after more than an hour's discussion, they decided to do.

Wm. Koonce, acting as spokesman for the local delegation, in opening negotiations told the court of the need for the road and of the desire of Rising Star to have the work begin immediately, but did not at the time make the court a proposition. Judge Davis replied by giving the delegation history of the court's experience with the state highway department and stated that the court regretted very much that the work was halted before the grade was completed from May this way to the Brown county line, and indicated that the court had expended about as much on the road as they were in a position to do so at this time.

Mr. Koonce then took the floor and stated that with the permission of the court, the Rising Star delegation had a proposition to offer and then stated that Rising Star would put up the grade on the road from the Patterson farm to the Blockston place, a distance of about six miles, if the Brown county commissioners would put in the drainage structures. The proposition brought on considerable discussion, the judge and three of the commissioners favoring it instantly. However, commissioner Charles Morrison of the May precinct parleyed for a time to look into the matter, but when pressed for a decision stated that he would take care of the matter not to exceed $1,000. It was feared by the local delegation that this would not be enough and after further discussion Commissioner Morrison raised his offer to $1,500, which was accepted by the local delegation. When the proposition was put to a vote it was ratified by the court unanimously.

Mr. Koonce further stated to Commissioner Morrison that if he was not in position at this time to begin work that Commissioner Poe of the Rising Star precinct, Eastland county, was at this time at leisure with his grading crew, and had agreed to do the work provided it met with the approval of the Brown county court, and stated further that Mr. Poe was ready to begin on the work Monday, August 15, and rush it to completion. Mr. Morrison stated that this plan was perfectly agreeable to him as he could not get on the work before the middle of September and the proposition for Mr. Poe to do the work was accepted by the court, all agreeing that it is highly important to get the road in shape at once for the movement of the fall crop.

Poe to Do the Work

Mr. Koonce further stated to Commissioner Morrison that if he was not in position at this time to begin work that Commissioner Poe of the Rising Star precinct, Eastland county, was at this time at leisure with his grading crew, and had agreed to do the work provided it met with the approval of the Brown county court, and stated further that Mr. Poe was ready to begin on the work Monday, August 15, and rush it to completion. Mr. Morrison stated that this plan was perfectly agreeable to him as he could not get on the work before the middle of September and the proposition for Mr. Poe to do the work was accepted by the court, all agreeing that it is highly important to get the road in shape at once for the movement of the fall crop.

OKLAHOMA'S STATE SLEUTH FACES TRIAL

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 12.—Texas officers can not lay their hands on Jose Alvarado, governor Henry S. Johnston's personal detective. After intermittent hearings lasting several weeks, the executive refused to extradite Alvarado on a charge that he burglarized a bank at Wildorado, Texas, May 27. Governor Johnston, however, disarmed the detective, and turned him over to Osage county, Okla., officers for trial on a charge of stealing $1,500 from a prisoner who was under arrest. In denying the Texas requisition, Gov. Johnston revealed a close friendship with Alvarado, declared his sleuth had been "framed" on several occasions, and concluded: "Alvarado has offended the criminal world more than any other man I know."

Gov. Johnston permitted Alvarado to select a guard to protect him from mobbing while en route to Osage county.

Erwin Eliminated From Dallas And Hong Kong Flight Prize By Forced Landing, Easterwood Says

DALLAS, Aug. 12.—After a conference with the starting committee of the national Aeronautical association today, Col. William E. Easterwood definitely announced that Captain William P. Erwin's forced landing yesterday disqualified him from the Dallas-Hong Kong flight prize. Captain Parker, who made a minute examination of the plane when it returned here Tuesday night said that the "wobble" and engine pumps were working perfectly when Erwin returned to Love Field after experiencing trouble at Colorado City. Easterwood believes the flyer's unfamiliarity with the pump probably was responsible for the forced landing.

Conference Saturday May Result In Air Mail For Cisco; May Make This Stopping Place On Route

A telegram from Minton T. Ramsey, representative of the West Texas Air Transport, Inc., received at the chamber of commerce Friday morning, said he would be here at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon to discuss with local citizens the possibility of Cisco becoming a stopping place on the proposed air mail route from Fort Worth to Midland. As a result, a conference is to be held at the chamber of commerce at 4 o'clock Saturday to discuss the project, and it was urged that all those interested in the project be present.

ACCIDENT AT BAIRD BRINGS DEATH HERE

S. A. Allen, 43, a tool dresser employed in the Baird oil fields by H. O. Creager, died late Thursday afternoon when he had just reached the Graham sanitarium after being brought here from Baird. He was injured fatally Saturday when his automobile overturned on the Bankhead highway just this side of Baird, and after being treated there for several days, he was placed in an ambulance and started to the hospital here. His condition was too grave, however, to stand the trip, and death came just after the ambulance reached Cisco.

Mr. Allen is survived by his widow and three children. Funeral services are to take place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Gun-sight in Stephens county.

Typo Union Chief Beats Opposition

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 12.—President Howard and his faction today had apparently vanquished the executive faction at the International Typographical union here. The split came to a head yesterday when the old age pension law of the organization was changed to make the retirement age 60, and the members' union was refused permission to withdraw from the international union. President Howard had supported the action taken at yesterday's session.

DO WE WANT THE BANKHEAD ASSOCIATION TO SUCCEED? AN EDITORIAL

A supreme test of Cisco's loyalty to her own farmers and poultry producers is now in progress. On its result will probably hinge the future of the Bankhead Poultry Producers' association, a non-profit making organization formed for the express purpose of creating a market for poultry products raised in Eastland county. The Bankhead association has accomplished part of its purpose already; whether its benefits will be lasting depends upon the people of Cisco and the other cities of Eastland county. The association has resulted in improving the quality of poultry products on the Eastland county market, and it has created a ready market at substantially higher prices for the products of poultry ranches here. Work of the organization has made Eastland county famous as "The Egg Basket of Texas."

U. S. CITIZEN KIDNAPED IN OLD MEXICO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Robert Edward Pirie, an American citizen, was kidnaped by bandits from his ranch near Vicente, Guerrero, Mexico, yesterday according to a telegram received by the state department today from Edward H. Mall, American consul at Durango. The message stated that the bandits also ransacked Pirie's house. Mall said he was leaving for Vicente to make an investigation and would report immediately upon his arrival there. Mall further stated, according to the state department, that while he has notified local authorities, he has advised them not to send troops pending an investigation.

DOLE PRIZE FLIGHT OFF TO TUESDAY

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 12.—With the nine Dole pilots themselves approving a four-day delay, government inspectors today worked desperately to qualify the starters by noon Tuesday, the starting date. The decision of the flyers, taken in concert last night, ended a day of acrid controversy over possible postponement of the race. Early in the day the starting committee recommended two weeks' respite to enable the planes to get into condition for the flight to Honolulu.

The Honolulu chapter of the National Aeronautical association disapproved the suggestion for two weeks' delay. With only two airplanes out of nine licensed, the airmen took things into their own hands. Meeting at the Oakland airport, they voted a four-day moratorium to permit all to qualify. The first two planes to be licensed were the San Francisco Examiner's "Golden Eagle" and Lieut. Norman Goddard's "El Encanto." Major Livingston's monoplane and the Griffin-Pentz "Oklahoma" were expected to qualify today. Flyer planes and flyers must therefore be examined and licensed before next Tuesday.

RAIN TO BE GREAT HELP FOR CROPS

Following showers of Thursday afternoon and night, a light rain fell in Cisco Friday morning for several hours. While the rain was not very heavy, it fell gently with the result that practically all of it soaked in without run off. The rain is expected to be of great benefit to feed crops and much of the late cotton will also benefit, the hot weather of recent weeks having almost stopped the growth. Poultry especially will be aided by the moisture which is expected to swell the yield into a bumper crop around Cisco. Late summer gardens and lawns likewise were helped.

Labor Regrets Coolidge to Quit

RAPID CITY, S. D., Aug. 12.—Following President Coolidge's unexpected announcement that he did not choose to run for election, the department of labor made an exhaustive survey to determine what effect it had on labor leaders throughout the country. Secretary Davis said today on his arrival to see the president. The unanimous response was expressed of sincere regret that the president will retire from the public service, he added.

Later he revived slightly and throughout the night showed signs of improvement.

export at all." The problem is to enable the rest of the world to meet its obligations to our government and people without deluging us with gold and starving foreign countries of their gold, and also without killing our industries by deluging us with manufactured goods. Raw materials for our industries make the best form of debt-payment. Next to those are manufactured goods and agricultural products which do not compete with our own production. Industrial statesmanship ought to be able to work out something more along this line.

ALL SMASHED UP

A man called at our house and asked for work. He was led around to a lawn mower and told to turn up against it. After pushing the machine for a while he was seen to stop and lie down under a tree. Investigation showed him to be half fainting. He explained under quizzing that he had had nothing to eat that day and that he had recently been discharged from a hospital. He displayed a badly torn up leg, where the bone had been re-enforced with metal, and he showed a spine permanently twisted. When asked how he got that way he said that one evening when he and his wife were out in their car a speedfiend with a one-eyed flivver came along on the wrong side of the road and knocked them over a thirty-five foot embankment.

If a man smashes another man he is required to put up a bond to protect that man. If a man attaches another man's bank account he is obliged to furnish bond to protect that man. But a financially irresponsible person with the mentality of a child six years old can get into a high-powered automobile which is as dangerous on the highways as a railway locomotive run when and where he pleases endangering everyone in his path, and yet he is not made to provide indemnity for those whom he may injure or kill. If he runs some poor innocent devil down and cripples him for life, nothing is done about it except to charge in give the offender a fine or a prison sentence. But that does not help the chap whose body is smashed and whose earning power is ended.

The automobile is the most deadly individual force that jeopardizes mankind today. There is no other agency that kills and maims so many. Every law-maker in the United States knows that fact. Every intelligent child knows it. But what is being done about it?

Before a man is allowed to take his four-wheeled potential engine of destruction out onto the public roads, he should be required not only to pass a rigid driving examination, but he should be obliged to take out a bond to compensate so far as possible any damage he may do. An accident policy for the other fellow should be as obligatory as a license for the car.

If you have ever seen a poor chap lying on the ground under a tree gazing ruefully at his shattered body broken by an automobile driven by some financially irresponsible somebody, you could better realize what I am trying to get at.

THE FIRST MODERNIST

Lady Astor, famous American-born member of the British parliament, told an audience of Irish Presbyterian clergymen the other day: "Eve may have been bad, but she was an angel compared with the weakling Adam. Eve was the first protester. She protested because she didn't want to live in a fool's paradise which seemed good enough for Adam. Eve wanted knowledge and wisdom. Adam came out rather badly in that story." In other words, Mother Eve was the first modernist. Left to himself, Adam was, and would have remained, a fundamentalist.

Uncle Sam's gold supply last month, already pretty large, was increased $95,000,000. That was just about twice the excess of American exports of merchandise for the month. Gold keeps on coming in. But the world's supply of gold is not unlimited. An American financier observes: "We soon will have to take something else than gold in payment for our exports. 'GLOOMY GUS' SCANS RANGER GRID PROSPECT

Gus Coleman, whose "gripings" appear daily in the Ranger Times, casts aside his usual gloom in a recent signed article in which he discusses the football prospects of Ranger high school for the coming season. He sets down in black and white the results of a conference he had with Coach Blair Cherry regarding the Bulldogs' material, as follows:

Practically every town in the district has already had its football team as winning the district championship this fall and going on into the state race.

Some have been quite optimistic and have the Ranger Bulldogs high up in the running and others have the championship flag practically placed here without a game having been played as yet.

We have been watching football teams, football games, and football players for a good many years, but yet don't feel like placing any too much confidence in any pre-season forecasts because we don't make any great claims to see a mighty fine bunch of boys and a hard bunch of fighters. Then comes the reserves from last year who have shown promise, some of them played in scheduled games but not enough to earn a letter. We can call to mind at present the names of Bohannon, Tackett, Mitchell, Blackmon, McLaughlin, Hamilton, Frammell, Nourse and there are probably a couple more that have slipped our mind.

In addition to this we find that there are at least three big fellows on account of various reasons but who are still under the age limit and have announced their intention of coming out for football this year. This list includes "Humpy" Phillips, 200 pound fullback, T. Hinson, 190 pound tackle, who will make a fine running mate for Garland Homan, and E. Whitehall, half back.

Heavier Team
It will be seen that this year's team will be by far the heaviest team that has represented Ranger in the last three years and the same playing tactics are not possible with a team of their weight that are possible with a lighter team. Then it follows that the letter men and reserves will have to learn to do a lot of things in a different way from what they have been doing. It will be to some extent like teaching old dogs new tricks.

Then you can take the backfield up for consideration and see that Coach Cherry faces the problem of developing something that a Ranger team has never had; that is, a backfield that acts and functions with such balance and harmony and teamwork that they can overcome the fact that they do not have a single triple threat man back there.

Needs Triple Man
There is in a nutshell is the problem that the coach is facing. He must develop men specializing in one thing be it running, passing or kicking, unless some sort of a miracle comes over one of the boys and he develops into a triple threat man by the time training is under way. However, miracles do happen. But they can't be depended upon and when you get a good break one time you are pretty sure to get a bad break the next. Last year when all the big fellows were thrown off the team it looked like the team was ruined. But along came a fellow by the name of Taylor who was as unknown in football as Lindbergh was in aviation, and Coach Cherry put it up to him to go in there and put out his best. He did just that and it gave the other boys the pep and courage they needed and, though they were the underdogs all year they managed to go into the semi-finals and were pronounced by many authorities as the "Miracle Team" because they fought it out to a finish with all comers although often outweighed 20 to 30 pounds.

Men Must Change
But that was last year and you can't figure on another miracle this year. The boys have their chance. They have as brainy a coach as any football team in the country. There are bigger and better football teams being produced by their rivals every year, and the Bulldogs will have to be a little bigger or a whole lot better to win out.

Training will start the first of September and, for fear of successful contradiction we are not risking any prophecies until we see the boys work out and see how they are taking to the new tricks that they must necessarily learn by reason of the changed characteristics of the team from previous years.

BUSINESS NOW ON FIRM BASIS OVER AMERICA

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—How firm is the foundation of business was clearly shown the last few days.

Those walls have not been undermined. They met an unexpected shock in the Coolidge announcement with unexpected rigidity. While this blow was entirely psychological, the answer of business took a direct financial form in the reduction of the discount rates of some of the federal reserve banks.

"Business as usual" was the watchword as the week closed. The employment situation is more satisfactory from the employers' standpoint than at any time in years. It also is satisfactory to the great majority of workers. This is highly important and significant, for if workers don't and can't work they won't and can't buy. Wages have been high in general, but worker efficiency has shown a marked increase. There is no labor shortage, but no severe shortage of jobs, while the cost of living is less than last year.

Prospects Bright
On the other side of the picture the bureau of labor statistics reports there are more than a million unskilled laborers who are underpaid, with the wage in some industries as low as $17 a week. But labor turnover is lessening and the prospects for the remainder of the year are favorable for both workers and employers.

As a result of these facts and recent improvement in crop conditions, merchants, wholesalers and manufacturers anticipate that retail sales, the backbone of the commercial structure, will hold well up to the 1926 levels. The period of seasonal indutrial dullness has been passed. The steel industry is picking up, although the improvement is more psychological than it is physical. Introduction of new models in the automobile field has provided a needed stimulus while the fact that the many large Ford plants are reassembling workers and are on the verge of a period of large production is bound to have a spurring effect. Some of the less fortunate companies have continued price cutting, but without disturbing the serenity of the most successful factors in the trade.

All Lines Active
Building activities will remain at or around present levels for months. Contracts already awarded assure this. This means continued demand for materials and activity in lumber, cement, glass, stone and brick.

The non-ferrous metals have turned more active and prices have shown corresponding strength. Copper registered the more impressive gains but lead and zinc also rose. The improvement in European demand was the factor which effected this. Silver was the exception, declining on sales made by the Indian government.

Oil still is awaiting results of attempts to stabilize and reduce Seminoles production. The statistical position of coal has improved, but not the attitude of the buyers. Chemicals are in fine demand especially the insecticides used against the boll weevil and the Japanese beetle. The improvement in production of rubber goods and textiles has affected the textile groups.

Textiles Improve
The cotton textiles continued to do better, with the South now running most of its mills above one shift normal capacity. The woolen and worsted mills show a weaker lack of ability to follow but raw wool demand is good and prices firm. Furs are moving upward despite the approach of the August bargain sale season. Newsprint production is outrunning consumption and price shading has made its appearance. Tire manufacturers predict a good consumer business during the last half of the year and with the price of crude rubber steady this business is expected to be done on a satisfactory basis.

No Services For Methodists Sunday

It is taking longer to repair the First Methodist church than originally contemplated. The auditorium cannot be used for services Sunday, August 14. The officials of the church have announced that there will be no services next Sunday. "However, we are assured that it will be ready for use on Sunday, August 21," the announcement said. The pastor will be at home by that time.

"Warfield's advice decided me on Luckies"

At the Fairfield Country Club Hugh Beaumont explains to Miss Ethel Burnside how he came to prefer Lucky Strikes.

The Noted Actor, David Warfield, writes:

"Among other things, when young actors come to me for advice, I always say, 'Take care of your voice, cultivate it—and watch your smoking.' Usually they eye the cigarette in my hand with some suspicion. And then, I offer them a Lucky Strike—a cigarette I smoke freely, and have yet to feel the slightest effect on my throat. I've been told that toasting does that for this cigarette. When I smoke 'Luckies' my throat is beautifully clear and unirritated." David Warfield

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

Reports from various sections of Callahan and adjacent counties indicate a wide variance in the condition of the crop even in adjoining fields. Some fields appear to be heavily damaged by insect infestation while others in the same vicinity show little insect disturbance. Rain is generally needed. Picking will begin at least two weeks earlier than usual, and estimates place the prospect of Cross Plains glazing slightly below last year, due principally to a heavy decrease in the acreage planted.

Panhandle—The name of "Panhandle Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture" has been adopted here due to widening activities of the commercial organization. Roy
