With the ever-growing face of the City of Friona our town is beginning to take on a "new look" all the time.

This week we received this letter through the mail which does a fine job of expressing the changes in our fair city to one of our local citizens, Mrs. Curtiss Murphree.

We thought Mrs. Murphree did a fine job of putting down her ideas of a growing town and will pass her definitions on to you.

"Going down Main Street of Friona these days reminds us of the broad grin on the face of an 8-year-old boy who's mouth has more space between teeth than he has teeth.

"Friona reminds us of that small boy growing up in so many ways---as they lose their first tooth it takes away that baby look---then as the new ones start coming in they look so large.

"There is hope that the boy is growing normally, soon to become a full-grown person with a handsome smile of beautiful teeth.

"As Friona began to lose her old buildings and these become replaced by big, beautiful buildings such as the Bank, Ware's, Hurst's, The Star and the many fine Churches, the old timers begin to notice that "little Friona" was growing up.

"People were moving in from every direction to this 'land of milk and honey.' It seems as though the cream was skimmed off other towns and farms and brought this way.

"We can see Friona soon to be a grown young person, with a broad smile, full of beautiful new teeth (buildings) welcoming any newcomer or stranger to the home.

"The old timers who have known this place for so many years are as proud as new Pappas of their first grown son.

"In case you wonder why this was written---Our little boy, Friona, lost another tooth this week."

Yes, Mrs. Murphree you pretty well hit the nail on the head with your descriptions. We should all be proud of the distance Friona has traveled and we can help out by putting our share of the load as our town struggles through the pangs of "growing up."

It had been so long since the moisture had come to our part of the country than this tale from the magazine Texas Parade sorta filled a bill for us.

A young man from deep West Texas returned to his hometown for a visit after being away quite a while---in college studying for the ministry. Wandering around town greeting friends, he struck up with an old rancher, the operator of a big outfit.

The cowman shook hands warmly.

"How's the weather?" the young man asked. "Been getting

County Valuation Changes Due This Year for Farms

Valuation changes on Parmer County farmlands will be effected this year, marking the first deviation from the "distance from the county seat" system since the county was organized.

Personal and in-city property will not be affected by this change.

Early in the year, the commissioners court appointed four committees from the county precincts to study farmland and to classify or evaluate it into seven different categories. Depending on the quality of the land, it will now be valued at from $4 to $10 per acre for tax purposes.

This new valuation system will recognize the natural "fair market value" influence of a property's worth. Irrigated land, for example, that lays well, is fertile, and otherwise ideally suited for farm production always commands highest market prices. Therefore it carries the "No. 1" valuation tag of $10 an acre.

Land marked by draws, playa lake depressions, and without irrigation water, on the other hand, would draw the minimum rate of $4 per acre.

There are five other categories in between these upper and lower classifications which are supposed to answer for most variations in the quality or worth of a piece of farm property.

This change will become effective for the 1959 tax roll. That is, beginning Oct. 1, taxes will be payable under the new system of valuation.

Over a half century ago when the county tax framework was drawn up, the term "county seat" carried much more emphasis--not only in politics but in economics as well--than it does today. Therefore, the "zone" valuation system came to be popular and Parmer was one of the counties that adopted it.

Land in the zone closest to the county seat carried the highest valuation. Land the greatest distance from the county seat carried the lowest valuation.

Up until now, rates for the four different zones had ranged from $4 to $7 per acre. This system of values did not take into consideration such factors as irrigation water, natural fertility, or even cotton allotments, which often have more to do with land's worth today than merely its location.

In effect, then, the change of the commissioners will be a move toward a more up-to-date system of valuing land, but that is not the only purpose it will serve. The reappraisals will result, over-all,

Friona Lions Club presentation of Law West of the Pecos Friday night grossed an estimated $750 according to the bookkeepers Saturday morning.

A total of $650 in ticket money and candy receipts were collected at the show Friday night in the auditorium with an estimated $100 or more in advance ticket sale money still out.

Deon Awtrey, president of the club, says that he wishes to express the appreciation of the entire club for the fine response given the presentation.

"The folks were real nice to us at the show the other night, and we hope that we can return their trust by putting the money which we made to good use building a better community," says Awtrey.

Friona Gets More Buildings

One new office will have its formal opening Tuesday and three other buildings are in the process of construction in Friona to mark the forward progress and the "new look" in downtown Friona.

Southwestern Public Service Company will hold its official opening Tuesday in their new home south of the post office while carpenters are working next door on the construction of the new home of the Friona office of the Plainview Production Credit Association.

Meanwhile over on Main Street Carl Fairchild is busily getting the groundwork going for the construction of a new concrete tile and brick building on the site of the old Pastime Club building.

The removal of the old wooden and stucco building marked the end of an era in Friona.

The old building has housed many businesses during its use and at the time of its removal was the oldest business building still in use in Friona.

Up the street half a block

Ralph Roden's Bi Wize drug store is spreading out in the new quarters and will be fully organized in June according to Roden.

Out on the West Highway 60 the OF&O Company is moving into their new home south of Terry's Shop.

OF&O was formerly at home in the Truitt Building north of the Friona Star. They will be through moving into the new quarters within a few days according to Howard Ford.

Would You Invest 4c For $30,000?

From the overline on this you might think that there is something to be pulled over your eyes, but we assure you that this is just about the truth.

Just think that all it may take is for each of the residents of the Friona Independent School District to write one letter, cost 4¢, to their representative, Jess Osborn in Austin, or write Walter Rogers, our senator and tell them that they would like to see SD 5 or HB22 passed this year and it would mean a return of $30,000 to our school district.

We didn't figure in but one letter in the cost above, if you did break down and write both men naturally it would double your costs and send that part spiralling to 8¢ if the Republicans haven't changed mailing costs between now and publication time.

Seriously speaking however, the FISC faces two things this year.

One to make ends meet the district will have to raise the taxes about 30¢ or, two, pray that the bills above are passed.

That's just about how it goes. Last week The Star Editorial gave a rundown on the two bills mentioned. They are better known as the Hale-Aikin Bills over the state.

The bills have nine parts to them, each of which would effect us here in our school district.

The bills are designed to better distribute the Foundation Program to help the schools which are growing by leaps and bounds such as ours.

Of course we face this fact, the bills will take something away from the schools which are losing students each year so they will probably fight these bills.

In visiting with our superintendent this week he has pointed out some vital information concerning the passage of these bills and how it effects us here.

Dillie Kelley, superintendent of our schools, set up two budgets, one based on our present evaluation and the other set up of what it would be if, IF, the laws were passed.

The cost of operation and maintenance in our school will remain the same regardless of what happens in Austin, it will do to keep this fact in mind.

As pointed out last week these new laws would allow us help on our teacher allowances. In fact under the new set up the state would allow us money for five additional teachers as compared with 10 we now have to furnish completely on our own. (This means about $20,000 right here)

Boiling down the entire rundown the costs next year for the Friona Independent School District will run an estimated $412,313.00.

Under the present set-up the income for the district will be $382,067.00 (A difference or in the red of some $30,000.)

Under the new laws, IF passed the income to the district would be $410,327.00. (Still in the red, but it will be a lot easier to make up $2,300 than $30,000.)

There are two really outstanding parts to the proposed program which would go a long way toward helping our needs here. One, is the part of the bill which would allow the school to claim the current year's Average Daily Attendance instead of the prior year's ADA.

The other is the difference in basing transportation costs on present costs instead of costs 10 years ago.

These two figures alone would mean $3,000 more in the transportation allowances from the State Minimum foundation fund and $20,000 more in teacher allowances.

So, if you figure you have the time to spend 4¢ and the paper and envelope sit down and write Osborn or Rogers, or both and tell them about our situation and how you feel about it.

Everyone is hurrying and scurrying around high school preparing for semester tests. This week the students have reviewed; next week they take the tests.

Thursday the SFC staged a clean-up hour in conjunction with the annual visit of the "coke man." Due to rainy weather, however, the cokes had to be served in the gym and the students failed to be able to clean up the lawn.

After all of the politicking for SFC officers Gerald Daniel won president and Kay Struve won vice-president. Their opponents were Kitty Black and Gary Goetz. The voting took place Monday during the noon hour.

Tuesday evening the music department gave its final concert of the year. The students played various new numbers as well as some of their contest numbers.

Some of the junior girls gave Miss Smith a shower Wednesday following school. She received many gifts and thanks each girl for them.

The Trebelaire sang for the Fireman's convention last week. The girls sang favorites as well as their theme song. Together. Also singing were the Millerettes singing "On The Isle of Capri."

As the end of the year is drawing nigh the library is missing a book which has been missing nearly all year. The name of the book is "The Trouble with Lazy Ethel." Anyone knowing the whereabouts of this book is asked to return it.

Tests will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Thursday morning in the auditorium there will be an awards assembly.

A little gun play -- Little Will, with Father's gun. Punctured Grandma, just for fun, Mother said, "You hateful lad, it 'twas the last shell Father had!"

WITH JUNE

Our apologies this week go to Myrtle Deaton and Myrtle Latham. In a story about a Girl Scout trip last week we inadvertently used the name Deaton when we should have used Latham. Since we know that Myrtle Latham is a fifth grade student and Myrtle Deaton is Mrs. Everett Deaton, there's really no excuse to offer for making such an error.

All there is left to do is to say we're sorry and will try to do better next time.

While we're on the subject of errors, there's several new additions to our collection of typographical errors that appear in other papers. One was in a classified ad in a daily paper. It read, "For Sale - Good milk boat."

Another one also appeared in a classified ad. The party placing it had peanuts for sale and according to the ad they were "trashier cleaned."

Recently we have heard a lot of discussion about "average daily attendance" in our local schools. Since the amount of money received by the school from one state fund is dependent upon the "average daily attendance," this is a very important subject. We, as parents, should investigate the subject further.

It is vitally important that parents of each pupil in school make every effort to see that our "average daily attendance" is as high as we can make it. Not too long ago the only person affected by absence was the pupil who was absent.

This situation is rapidly changing and the number of teachers each school can support is determined to a great extent by the number of days in each year that we send our children to school.

Of course, no child should be sent to school when he or she is ill, but then none of us should allow a child to be absent for every trivial reason under the sun.

Two pupils in our school that have above average attendance records are Willene Baxter, daughter of the Oscar Baxters, and Dale Cunningham, son of the James W. Cunninghams. Willene is an eighth grade student and has not missed a single day since the first year she was in school.

Dale's record may be even better than Willene's since he is a sophomore this year. Can't say for sure, but it seems that last school term he had to miss a few days on account of having measles and had never missed a day before.

One solution to the problem might be to encourage each child to add one more thing to his hobby of collecting. Collecting perfect attendance awards could be a rewarding hobby in more ways than one.

Another solution to the problem would be to eliminate contagious diseases. Think the scientists are working on this. In the lower grades especially many absences occur during the spring when there are large numbers of cases of mumps, measles and chicken pox.

The contagious disease problem is being solved for the youngest member of the Floyd family at the present time. Susan has had chicken pox and now has measles. Since she's already had mumps, she shouldn't have to miss many days of school because of childhood diseases.

Early this week we received some very pretty "Thank You" notes. The printing is in gold and the inside is blank for the graduate, bride or other recipient of gifts to write personal notes to the givers.

Stop by the office and see these notes. They would make very nice graduation gifts, too.

Mrs. Noah T. Young, Mrs. Roy Young of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Young and daughters, Jan and Karen and Monroe Young spent the week-end visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pulliam and other relatives at Lubbock.

Hale Center, Tex., Farmer Reports—

8100-pound Average Grain Sorghum Yield

J. C. Hurt, successful farm owner of Hale Center, reports unusually high yields of grain sorghum. He says: "Planning with J. W. Trimmer, Sr., tenant, on the proper use of Phillips 66 Ammonia and water really paid off for us."

"On one plot of 18 acres, we planted our sorghum on 20-inch rows. We side dressed it with 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia when it was five inches high. Then, following careful use of our water, we cut an average of 8100 pounds per acre from this plot. On another 300 acres, using 100 pounds of ammonia and the right amount of water, we averaged 6000 pounds."

"Without ammonia, the average yield around here is about 3000 pounds."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin . . . yields of sorghum grain or silage are increased . . . profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage . . . more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia . . . it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

GOD'S PLAN FOR EACH LIFE

At this time of year when many young people are graduating from school and trying to choose the course that they will follow, it is of great importance that we remember that God has a plan for every life. He is the one to make the choices for us. In James he taught us to say, "If the Lord will we shall live, and do this or that." Too many times we do not take Him in to account when we make our plans. We should rather seek His will as the plan for our lives and as to how to carry out each detail of it. To seek the Will of God is the greatest adventure, to find the Will of God is the greatest discovery, to know the Will of God is the greatest knowledge, and to do the Will of God is the greatest achievement. May the Lord help each person of us, young or old, to realize that this is the greatest truth for each of us. That God has a purpose for us and that we can know that purpose if we will but look to Him for it and follow as He leads.

L. A. SARTAIN.

Bettie Sue Shearer, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Shearer of Portales, died Saturday of last week from severe burns which she accidentally received at her home right after noon the same day.

She was outside with her older brothers, who were attempting to remove a broken handle from a shovel by burning it out. Apparently gasoline was being used to burn the handle from the shovel. Bettie Sue's clothing accidentally caught fire and she was severely burned.

After being rushed to Roosevelt County Memorial Hospital for treatment, it was reported that she had received severe burns over 70% of her body.

Mrs. Shearer and two of Bettie Sue's brothers received minor burns while frantically attempting to remove her clothing.

The Shearers, who are former residents of the Circleback community of Bailey County, lived in the Hub community before moving to portales about two years ago.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 1 p.m. in Wheeler Mortuary at Portales. Burial was in Portales Cemetery.

Survivors, other than the parents, include three brothers, Jimmie 11, Dennis 9 and Dickey 8; one sister, Billie Fay 2; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Turner of Needmore; one uncle, Richard Turner of Muleshoe; and a cousin, Shawnda Turner of Muleshoe.

All games will be halted at 10:00 / 10:30 P.M. (depending upon whether it is double header or not). The game will be considered complete if at least four innings have been completed. A team that is ahead found guilty of stalling by decision of the umpire shall have the game postponed to a later date.

SEE YOUR QUALITY BUICK DEALER...AND Get inside the clean winged beauty of Buick '59

Watch Dale Robertson in Tales of Wells Fargo on NBC-TV Monday Nights

Along with the most talked about style on the road today goes performance new even to owners of previous Buicks... and too great for you to miss.

Buick '59 is livelier yet smoother, more powerful yet thrifter, as any previous Buick owner will tell you. And credit goes to the turbine smoothness of Buick transmissions, plus the new responsiveness of Buick "Wildcat" engines.

At the wheel, too, you'll find new handling ease and finned-brake sureness that owners put high on their "most liked" list.

But that's far from all these owners tell us. They talk about new operating economy from the most efficient power plant on the road today. About quality of finish and detail, and of quietness that even beats the best of Buick heretofore. They speak of reliability... and they speak of the pure pleasure of owning a Buick '59... in ways that warm the heart.

But the best spokesman for Buick '59—and what it can do for you—is a Buick itself. Why not go to your Buick dealer and get the inside story, today?

TO OWNERS OF CARS IN "THE LEADING LOW-PRICED 3" ... You'll be surprised how easily you can own a Buick LeSabre instead! Be sure to ask your Buick Dealer about "THE MOST IMPORTANT $200 IN THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD!"

FOUNDED FRIONA STAR —

Uncle John To Observe 91st Birthday Saturday

"Oh, you're the new man." He finally asked someone why he was called the "new man" and was told he was the first man to settle in Friona in over three years.

Most of the people during these early years were passing Friona up for other places. But grow it did, and a Chamber of Commerce was begun. It soon died out, however. "Uncle" John knew that Friona could be a better town with another chamber active. He discussed the idea of a new chamber with several of the business men and the Chamber of Commerce was reorganized. "Uncle" John was made Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and it was his job to bring a paper to Friona.

There had been a paper in Friona, the Friona Sentinel . . . This paper was shortlived as it had been sold to some Clovis, New Mexico men and moved to that city. "Uncle" John began screening applicants. He talked with several and decided that none of the applicants had enough stability. He further pointed out the applicants would have no money invested in Friona. They had all stated a desire to run the paper from another town.

He then told the Chamber of Commerce that he could give them better newspaper service than any of the applicants. He was given the go-ahead signal by the chamber. A list of names for the new paper was submitted and the chamber selected the Star, submitted by A. W. Henchel, president of the Friona State Bank at that time.

On July 27, 1926, the first edition of the Friona Star was published. The paper consisted of eight pages; four patent print by the Western Newspaper Union of Oklahoma City, and four home print. "Uncle" John did all the paper work on an old Royal Typewriter. He would write the news, ads and features on this typewriter. He used only a typewriter for about 12 years, until a Babcock cylinder typepress was purchased and put into use.

The printing was first done by the Clovis News in Clovis, New Mexico for $25 a week. The Star was published in this manner for a year. The Clovis News then informed White the cost of printing would have to be increased to $35 a week. White then called the Hereford Brand, owned by Seth Holman. Holman could not print the Star for any less, but offered to buy it. White sold the Star to Holman in 1927, but was to remain as editor.

In 1928, Holman sold the Star to Nunn-Warren of Amarillo and White was replaced as editor. He remained out of the field for 11 months until Nunn-Warren asked him back. The Star had decreased from an eight page paper to a four page one during this 11 month period. In 1930, White again took over the editorship of the paper and held this position until he bought the paper from Warren in 1944. From 1944 to 1954, he owned and operated the Star, until he again sold it, this time to Jimmy Gillettine and Mrs. Seth Holman. From 1954 on, "Uncle" John was no longer officially connected with the Friona Star. He had been editor or owner of the paper from 1926 to 1954, except for 11 months, a period of 27 years.

Persuaded by his family to return, "Uncle" John did so in 1954. However, not liking the retired life, coupled with too many years in the printing business, he came out of retirement in 1956 to start a small printing shop. He operated this shop until his 90th year when pneumonia forced him to leave it.

In recalling the early days, "Uncle" John says when he first came to Friona there was a grocery store, a general store, a post office, a livery stable and blacksmith shop, a bank, a hotel and a lumber yard. The population was said to have been 300, but he says "I sure couldn't see that many."

Some of the old timers he recalls as still being in Friona are Floyd Reeve, Mrs. Floyd Schlenker, Tom Crawford and Clyde Goodwine. The methods of farming of course have changed considerably. There was no water coming from pumps then as now. All the farmers depended on rain, and White recalls there was a dry year for every five, but the dry years became more frequent as the years passed. He says there was a good bumper crop at least once every five years, and that these bumper crops kept him and many other farmers out of the poor farm.

The Frion Draw, now a dry streambed, used to have running water every year, due to rains in New Mexico. It used to flood frequently, and the biggest flood in the history of the town was in 1941. Ironically, the same year was the year of the worst dust storm in his memory. The air was literally black with dust, says "Uncle" John.

He received the name "Uncle" John during World War II. During that conflict, he ran a column in the Star for the service men in the Friona area. The service men would write him letters and he would publish them free of charge. He had three nephews in the war and when they would write, they would simply head their letters, Uncle John. He published the letters as they were, other service men began writing Uncle John, and the name has struck ever since.

On his 90th birthday last year, the Kerr Paper Company of Amarillo sent him a bouquet of long stemmed red roses. There were 90 of them, one for each year of his life.

"Uncle" John now lives with his daughter, Mrs. Orma Flippin in Friona. His wife died in May, 1941.

"Uncle" John is respected by all in the community. He helped to build the town, helped it grow from 300 people to over 2500 people. He needs no better memorial than to look around and see the churches, the paved streets, the schools, the businesses, the homes and the good earth.

BY DONALD WATKINS
"Uncle" John White, founder and for 27 years editor or publisher of the Friona Star, will be 91 years of age Saturday. White was born on May 23, 1868 near Rockwood, Illinois, in Randolph County, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ethalides White. He received his education in Rockwood, completing eight years in the grades and one year at a privately owned Normal School in Valparaiso, Indiana. After completing his formal education, he taught school in the Rockwood area for 12 years.

On Thanksgiving Day, 1899 he married Florence Symphon in the Presbyterian Church in Rockwood. As far as he knows they were the first couple to be married in that church.

They had two children. A son, Fred White, now operates an electric shop in Friona and a daughter, Orma Flippin, is employed at the Friona Post Office.

During the year 1908, White was deputy sheriff of Randolph County, and it was while serving in that capacity that he was introduced to West Texas and the Panhandle area.

George W. Wright at this time, had a contract with a land syndicate to sell land in Deaf Smith and Parmer counties. Three of Wright's agents came to Chester, Illinois, the county seat of Randolph. As White knew most of the people in the county, they asked him to locate people who might be interested in the Texas Panhandle. White received no pay for this, but was invited, free of charge, to go with a land excursion to Friona. These excursions were leaving Kansas City, Kansas for Friona twice a week. White obtained permission from the county sheriff to make the trip, and in October, 1908 reached Friona for the first time.

White returned to Chester and completed his term as deputy sheriff. He worked for awhile at the county newspaper, worked for one year at an abstract office and then decided to farm some land he owned in the county. His farm was leased and the lease would not expire for two years. The tenant would not surrender the land, so through Mrs. White's persuasion, "Uncle" John came to the Panhandle of Texas. He had purchased a quarter of a section in Deaf Smith county when he was there in 1908. He shipped what farm equipment and personal belongings he had to Friona by rail and he and his wife and children arrived there August 16, 1914. He has been in Friona ever since.

He worked for a year on the farm of T. D. Ballard, and in 1915 purchased 268 acres from an Ohio land agent. He still lives on a portion of this original 268 acres.

During the intervening years of 1915 to 1926, Friona was growing, little by little. It was a slow growth, however.

"Uncle" John recalls when he first moved to Friona, every one he would meet would say,

We've heard of some pretty sneaky ways of getting rid of tickets, and had a few devious deeds played on us in the past, but the way in which Ross Ayers got rid of two adult tickets and one child's ticket to the Lions presentation of Law West of the Pecos just about took the cake.
As a few of you may remember John Lamb played the part of Judge Bean in the play back when it was given here before.
Well, Ross played the part this year, and during the advance ticket sale campaign he mailed John the two adult tickets and a student ticket in a COD letter.
John paid for the letter we found out later.
But---we didn't see John at the play the other night.
John now lives in Waco where he is in business.

COUNTY VALUATIONS--
in an upward adjustment of the total land valuations.
The court has chosen this method as being the most equitable means of increasing, by a moderate amount, the income of the county. Under the new system of values, the total tax roll is calculated to increase from about $10 million now to $12 million for the new plan.
The county tax rate of $1.25 per $100 valuation would result, then, in an increase in county taxes of roughly $25,000 per year.
This extra revenue is sorely needed to meet ever-expanding expenses in the county. Maintainers are one of the county's biggest expense items. They cost around $12,000 each as recently at 1947. Now they sell for about $20,000 each.
The only county debt on the books is $4,000 for road machinery warrants.
And all across America a gigantic road building program is underway. Most of the major highway networks are being built under federal and state programs, but the effect is felt on the county level also. Parmer County has a lion's share of national highways, and will be expected to help provide expensive right-of-way for widening these highways.
For example, Highway 70-84 from southeast of Lariat to Farwell will soon be expanded to a modern four-lane highway. The cost of the right of way to the county alone will be about $60,000.
Besides these heavy capital expenditures, the ordinary expenses of operating any business--be it privately owned or run by the government--are increasing. Salaries, fuel, lubricants, maintenance, supplies, and other items are sweeping along in the tide of inflation.

The reason the commissioners have managed to delay an increase in taxes this long is because of the natural pattern of growth that has continued on county farms. Improvements added to farms has made it possible for the tax roll to grow from around $6 million in 1947 to the present $10 million level.
This has gone a long way toward paying for increased expenses, and it's just now beginning to fall a little behind. Actually, the county is in excellent financial shape--much more so than many of the counties of the Plains. The commissioners just want to keep things that way.
Loyde Brewer, county judge and chairman of the commissioners court, says this week that many taxpayers are confused about the coming session of the court, which will be partly for the purpose of sitting as a board of equalization.
Notices were sent out to property owners last week notifying them of the change and of the court session. The law requires that taxpayers be informed of any increase in taxes, and so the cards were sent out.
The notice is not meant to be one requiring property owners to appear at the meeting, Brewer points out. "If a person thinks that an error in their taxes has occurred, they MAY, if they desire, appear before the board of equalization," he explains.

Help rescue safety-- accidents are killing it.

James Mabry Wins Award At Wellington

James Mabry, of the Hub Community, was awarded a check for $100 and presented with an engraved plaque for being the Outstanding Farmer at a dinner honoring the Region One winners of the Texas Soil Conservation Districts held at Wellington Saturday night.

Miss Celia Berry, of Bovina, although not present at the dinner, was named second place winner in the region for her essay on Saving the Soil and Saving Texas at the dinner. Area residents who made the trip to Wellington Saturday night included Mabry along with A. L. Black and Bruce Parr, both directors of the local Soil Conservation District.

Mabry was earlier named winner of the title of Outstanding Farmer in the Farmer County Soil Conservation District and went on to win regional honors as did Miss Berry with her essay.

An estimated crowd of 350 persons attended the dinner where a total of 30 regional and district winners were recognized and presented checks and plaques for their honor by Walter Humphrey, editor of the Fort Worth Press and founder of the Save the Soil and Save Texas awards.

Edd C. McLeroy, farm representative of the First State Bank of Dimmitt was named outstanding non-farmer conservationist at the banquet.

More than a million farm residents, according to the National Safety Council, are injured in accidents each year.

The National Safety Council says it is human failure—not motor vehicles, machinery or equipment—that is the basic cause of farm accidents.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate James Mabry on winning the outstanding conservation farmer award for Region I of the State of Texas. The award was presented to him last Saturday night at the Save Soil and Save Texas Banquet in Wellington. Also, our congratulations to Celia Berry of Bovina for placing second in the school essay contest.

Now is the time to start thinking about planting soybeans. More and more farmers are showing interest in this crop as a soil improving crop as well as a cash crop for part of their land.

Soybeans is a summer legume which adds nitrogen to the soil when inoculated. Suggested planting dates are for May 15 to July 1. Seeding rates for large seed varieties are 30 to 45 pounds in rows and 60 to 70 pounds drilled. For small seed varieties, 15 to 30 pounds in rows and 45 to 60 pounds drilled.

The Texas Section of the American Society of Range Management is holding a field day near Wheeler, on June 12. The tour will start on the Tom Britt ranch and will visit adjoining ranches. Good range management will be seen. Spectacular results in brush control will also be observed. Research station personnel, college professors, and range specialists, as well as a large group of ranchers is expected. The starting point is nine miles east of Wheeler on the farm-to-market road. Starting time is 9:30 a.m. The field trip will continue in the afternoon.

WASHING COTTON SHAG THROW RUGS

One advantage of small cotton shag rugs is that they can be washed. But how they look after tubbing depends a great deal on your laundering methods, according to extension home management specialists. First decide whether your washer can take your rug. Specialists say any rug of more than five pounds dry weight probably is a bit heavy for a washer and dryer regardless of size. Better send heavy ones and those larger than three by five feet to a laundry.

If you decide you can wash your rug in your washing equipment, do so before the rug becomes very soiled. Vacuum it thoroughly first. Use hot water if the rug is quite soiled, warm water if it's not so dirty. Use the soap or syndet (synthetic detergent) you like for colored cottons.

Place one rug or two smaller ones in the washer. Be careful how you load some machines. Balance the load. With one rug you may have to add bath mats or bath towels for balance. A wash period of six to eight minutes should be enough. Rinse well to remove every bit of washing compound. Any left will increase future soiling.

A dryer fluffs shag rugs beautifully. Overdrying has a tendency to mat the pile, so check the drying time carefully. Rugs can be successfully dried on a line, too, whether they are washed in an automatic or non-automatic machine. With a wringer type machine, loosen the rollers before you pass the rug through.

A fabric softener added to a last, clear rinse water makes shag rugs more fluffy.

USING SAWDUST FOR MULCHES

Arguments have gone back and forth for years on the matter of using sawdust for mulching plants, with much evidence both for and against the issue, according to Sadie Hatfield, extension homestead improvement specialist.

One concern has to do with the fact that plants sometimes tend to become pale green or yellow after they are mulched heavily with chips, shavings, bark or sawdust. Many people think that sawdust and woody wastes are poisonous.

This is not the case. Scientists with the Bureau of Plant Industry investigated and found several years ago that the yellowing is brought about by a soil, microbe, not by poisonous material in sawdust or other woody waste. These microbes like nitrogen so well that they use it up; hence, the plant does not get enough to make green leaves. We now know that a heavy application of nitrogen fertilizer will put enough food into the soil for plants and the soil bacteria too. Commercial fertilizer containing nitrogen or barnyard or chicken manure applied before the sawdust or with it, helps supply this need. One bushel of manure to each 100 square feet, or to each 100 feet of row should suffice. If plant leaves show signs of yellowing, apply one or two cups per 100 square feet. Sprinkle heavily or irrigate to insure immediate use of the nitrogen. Sawdust will help to "mellow" a hard soil and make it easy to cultivate. It helps soil to hold water. It is good for heavy soils and sandy soils, too.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Raymond Schueler, chairman, and others of the weed committee, met with C. W. Guttridge, engineering consultant of Santa Fe Rail Road offices in Amarillo last week. Mr. Guttridge called on Monday, stating that he would be in Friona Tuesday morning and that he would like to meet with representatives of the committee. All who could be reached by phone came. Mr. Guttridge stated that the railroad is planning on obtaining their own equipment for treatment of bindweed on their right of ways adjoining their farms, they would be treated. The farmer would, of course, be expected to treat the weeds extending to his property, too. The committee will be working out methods of plotting these weeds in the near future and letting you know about it.

Two wheat informational meetings were held in the county last week. One was at Hub Community Building Tuesday night and the other at the Legion hall in Bovina Thursday night. Very few attended, but Roy V. Miller, chairman of the wheat committee hopes that the information gained by those present may be communicated to others. It is impossible to work intelligently on a solution unless the actual problem is known and understood to some extent.

Because time ran out, there will be no change in the procedure for filing on gas tax refunds on the state level this year. Farm Bureau's bill to make an annual, simplified, un-notarized procedure, like the Federal Tax Refund process, was passed by the House last week and sent to the Senate. That was as far as it got because of a lapse of time.

RATS—The majority of U. S. Supreme Court justices agreed that a health inspector may search a home without a warrant. According to a statement of Justice Douglas, who dissented in the decision, the decision implies that the fourth amendment, which heretofore protected your home from official searchers without a warrant of authorization, was intended to protect those possibly subject to criminal prosecution. That, of course, eliminates protection for the average citizen by the fourth amendment. What do you think of this?

CONSIDER THIS: The thought of foolishness is sin; and the scorner is an abomination to men. Proverbs 24:9

Marketing agencies get about 60 cents of our food dollar now, and the farmer about 40 cents. Approximately half the food marketing dollar goes to pay for labor.

Wool Sewing Contest Opens

Of the 30 million women and young girls who are stitching their way to the biggest home sewing boom in U. S. history, about 5 million in 20 western states are eligible to enter the 1959 "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest.

The urge to create is the clue to the new zeal for home sewing, according to the Wool Bureau, which sponsors the contest along with the nation's wool growers.

While American women can usually buy any item of apparel, they get a great feeling of pleasure and accomplishment from this ability to make their own garments.

In fact, American women today are creating better wool garments than did their grandmothers, because of new easier to use sewing machines such as the slant-needle automatics and the improved printed patterns with easy-to-follow instructions.

The annual "Make It Yourself With Wool" Contest is a challenge and an incentive to the creative instincts of home-sew girls in this community from ages 14 to 22. The contest pays off in all-expense-paid trips to Paris, London and Rome via Pan American jet flight, in scholarships, sewing machines, savings bonds, and assorted prizes totaling $45,000. Top scholarship is a $500 Coats and Clark award for the most fashionable garment in the national finals.

All a girl has to do is make a dress, suit, coat, sports outfit or ensemble of all-wool fabric and enter it. Competitions are held in two divisions: junior for girls 14 through 17 and senior for ages 18 through 22. There is also a sub-deb division for beginner sewers 13 to 16 who may enter local competitions only with either a skirt or a jumper. Every girl who enters the contest receives a free sewing booklet called "Let's Sew With Wool."

The 1959 contest, which has just got under way, runs through the end of this year. Texas State Finals will be held sometime this fall. National Finals will be held next January in San Antonio, Texas.

Light Turn-Out At Cotton Meet

The county-wide cotton meeting at the Hub Monday night was lightly attended. An excellent program on all phases of cotton production was presented, and emphasis was on "Quality Cotton."

George Pfeiffenberger, executive vice-president of Plains Cotton Growers, headlined the meeting. Specialists from the Extension Service included Fred Elliott, cotton specialist; John Box, agronomist; and Connie Garner and Duane Russell, Entomologists. Many slides, depicting various phases of production, were shown.

Pfeiffenberger says he thinks things are looking better for the cotton industry in the immediate future. Both "A" and "B" growers will probably receive good prices for their cotton this year, he feels. Consumption of cotton both at home and abroad is on the upgrade. Mills are booked for production as much as six months ahead, he says.

Cotton quality, not only from the standpoint of grade and staple, the two long-time standbys of the industry, but also from the standpoint of many other characteristics that affect the spinability and quality of the quality of the fabric itself are becoming increasingly important, the farmers were told. Fiber fineness, its strength, and purity are being ranked by buyers right alongside grade and staple these days. It was pointed out, Pfeiffenberger told of two lots of cotton in a test that could not be made to spin. They were identical in grade and staple to other lots, but contained an oil content—probably the result of careless harvesting.

The Extension specialists went over early season insect control, fertilizers, irrigation, and harvesting. Considerable time was spent discussing spindle-type pickers, which are just coming into use on the High Plains.

Bill Nichols and James Mabry were re-elected as Farmer County members of the PCG board of directors. Mabry is a farmer at Hub; Nichols is agriculturalist for Friona State Bank.

On April 15th, any kind of money is a collector's item.

SAVE WATER AND INCREASE PROFIT BY PLANTING GRAIN SORGHUM LATE

By N. W. KRAMER
Agronomist in Charge, Sorghum Investigations
Texas Agricultural Experiment Station

Most of the grain sorghum varieties grown in Texas mature 90 to 120 days from planting date. Since only part of the frost-free period in the southern High Plains is used to produce the crop, a wide range in planting dates is possible. Some parts of the growing season are much more favorable than others for the growing of the crop, so the yields produced may be affected considerably by planting dates.

Since the factor most commonly limiting sorghum yields is water, it would appear that yields would be increased if the crop could be planted at such a time that available water could be utilized more effectively by the plant. Research indicates that this is indeed true, and that yields can be affected greatly by planting dates, most probably because of the effects it has on water use.

Most of the water used in the production of sorghum or any other crop is lost by the plant into the atmosphere through a process known as "transpiration." The rate of transpiration is affected by the characteristics of the plant, the soil, and by the condition of the atmosphere around the plant. The loss of water from plants is increased by high temperatures, low humidity, wind movement and sunlight. The period of highest water use by the sorghum plant is from the pre-boot stage to about the soft dough stage; this period usually begins about 40 days after planting and continues for about 40 days in varieties of average maturity. Highest temperatures, highest solar radiation and lowest humidity usually occur on the Plains in June, July and early August. Therefore, sorghum should be planted so that as little as possible of the high water-use period of plant growth occurs during this period of high transpiration. More sorghum per unit of water is produced when this procedure is followed. Experimental data fully support this contention.

In 1958 temperatures in June and July were higher than average; consequently, water use also was higher than average. This caused 1958 data to indicate greater yield increases than usual from later planting dates. The following 1958 figures from six representative varieties on the Sandyland Experiment Field near Brownfield show this extreme effect:

Treatment	Grain Yield
Planted May 7, irrigated	1977
Planted June 19, dryland	2770
Planted June 19, irrigated	4348

A number of kafir varieties have been grown at Lubbock with planting dates as the only variable. In these tests irrigation was adequate and fertility was high. Results are shown below:

Planting date	Grain yield
May 20	4600
June 5	5643
June 20	6774

The results from date-of-planting experiments are such that it can be recommended that grain sorghum should be planted from June 15 to June 25 in most of the High Plains area for highest yields and most efficient utilization of water, regardless of whether the crop is grown under irrigation or on dryland.

Exceptions to the June 15-25 dates should be made for certain conditions. Where the soil has a low water-holding capacity, especially in the sandy areas, early planting is advisable if the soil profile is full of water early in the season and it would appear that much of the normal April-May-June rainfall might be lost by percolation if a crop were not planted early. Under such conditions April plantings are usually better than May plantings. Where wind erosion is a serious hazard or where the water supply is inadequate to water all the acreage in a relatively short period of time, these factors may be as important in determining planting dates as are prospective yields.

In the northern part of the High Plains cotton area there should be less competition from cotton for water when sorghum is planted late than when it is planted early.

The reaction of sorghum to planting dates is so marked that the time of planting is one of the most important decisions to be made in sorghum production. In many cases, planting date alone may be enough to make the difference between a profit or a loss from the crop.

The choice of a favorable planting date is absolutely essential in obtaining maximum profit from a sorghum crop.

THE FARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

While we see as does the President on many farm issues (and these are largely a reflection of Secretary Benson's thinking), we cannot be persuaded that the chief executive is properly advised on his subject at all times.

Our difference with Eisenhower is more a matter of degree than principle. Like the President, we believe that the nation's farmers now have too many restrictions under which they must operate. The successful, efficient farmers of the High Plains are being penalized by a program that seeks to "level" them with small-unit, low efficiency farms all over the nation.

Averaging out any industry and holding back its progressive elements is the sure way to stagnation, as the old farm program now clearly shows. A program designed to give everyone a "fair share" by legislative means always lowers the whole instead of raising it.

At this particular time there is good reason to observe that the nation's producers of non-supported products are doing better than the ones that are supported -- but tightly controlled. Beef prices are currently the best example.

Beef prices don't always stay high, as any producer with a six-year memory will be quick to testify, but history shows that they always come back after moments of weakness in which "the men are separated from the boys," and production is reduced to conform more nearly to demand.

That is a harsh, rugged individual-type way to make a living, but the cowmen seem to like it and have made every effort to preserve their independence -- in good times and bad.

Still, we are unable to accept a return to the boom and bust philosophy for the average dirt farmer. There are so many farmers, and farming is such a far-flung and disorganized business that we seriously doubt if agriculture should ever be turned completely loose in the field and in the market place. The farms of the nation now have such a thick hide composed of layer upon layer of controls and supports that it almost exceeds the capacity of our imagination to contemplate what would be the result of two or three years of free-wheeling if the farm program should suddenly be tossed out en toto. A tapering off of protection would be one thing; sweeping away all vestiges of the old program is quite another.

Our philosophy is one of interdependence; farmers need the market protection that reasonable price supports can assure. But these supports, if ever allowed to substitute for real demand or to become contractual assurances of a reward from the government for farming poorly done, will in time be even more damaging than the several fluctuations of prices on an uncontrolled market.

The National Safety Council says more than 12,000 farm persons are killed in accidents each year. More than 5,000 of the fatal accidents involve motor vehicles.

Here's another dependable MM power unit designed to furnish low-cost, trouble-free performance. Smooth, 6-cylinder high-turbulence power and counter-balanced crankshaft reduce torsional vibration for longer engine life. Newly designed heat exchanger base pan keeps oil at proper operating temperature, greatly increases engine life and lengthens period between oil and filter cartridge changes. Pan acts as a cooler as well. Sight oil glass provided in base pan can be converted to oil-flow control valve for adding oil directly to crankcase from a barrel of oil, thereby keeping oil at a constant level. Pan attaches directly to an SAE standard flywheel housing and provides a rigid mounting of the power take-off for heavy belt drives, etc. Double-disc clutch and power take-off are of heavy-duty design.

Pakistanian Studies Soil In Area

Muhammad Alim Mian, a young soils technician from Pakistan, is in the Parker County area studying American methods of soil conservation. He is the equivalent of a work unit conservationist for an erosion control and soil conservation project in his native country.

Mian's home is thousands of miles away, but he has some of the problems that we have here on the High Plains and his work here will help him understand these problems better.

Pakistan, lying at the foot of the Himalayas, is sandwiched between India and Tibet. Climate of the country runs to extremes, and Mian's area is one that has about 30 inches of rainfall per year. Its altitude is about 2,000 feet.

Farmers of his area use no irrigation, but grow wheat, grain sorghum, and mungbeans.

Mian has been here four months and is due to stay two more. He is living at Hereford.

STUDYING SOIL FORMATION in the Parker County area are Herbert Bruns, right, soil scientist with the SCS and Muhammad Alim Mian, a work unit conservationist from Rawalpindi in western Pakistan. Mian is here under the U. S. International Cooperation Administration Program.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Most of us are familiar with the joke about what an Englishman once said about Americans. It goes something like this, "The American is a strange man. He heats his tea to make it hot, puts ice in it to make it cold, drinks it because it's bitter, puts sugar in it to make it sweet and lemon to make it sour."

Some of us use the same tactics when broiling meat. The primary reason we broil any kind of meat is to preserve the natural juices and vitamins. Up to a point that is good, but when we use a fork for turning each portion, we lose most of these juices and vitamins.

Any kitchen without tongs isn't a well equipped kitchen. They are not expensive and are available at any variety store, super market or hardware store.

There are a large number of uses for tongs besides turning broiling meat, too. They may be used for removing baked or boiled potatoes from the pans in which they were cooked, removing boiled eggs from the water, or any other household chore that requires moving hot objects.

Before very long most of us will be cooking corn on the cob. According to the experts the secret of preserving flavor in fresh corn is in the cooking.

Fresh corn should be cooked in just enough water to cover. Add 1 teaspoon sugar and fresh lemon juice to the water. Cover the saucepan and cook 8 to 10 minutes or until the milk is just set. The actual cooking time depends on the maturity of the corn.

It is generally agreed that freshly picked corn is more flavorful than corn that has been picked several days. The old adage "one hour from garden to containers" is still considered good advice whether

1958 Precipitation In Southern High Plains Tabulated

Precipitation data for the State of Texas have recently been released for 1958 by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Conserving rainfall is a segment of water conservation that is most vital to the continued prosperity in the southern High Plains area. With apparent abundance of underground water this segment has all too often been neglected.

Better use of rainfall would help to prolong the supply of stored underground water which actually is limited. At the same time, erosion of valuable top soil is minimized when rainfall is stored in the soil where it falls.

To increase the water intake rate of a soil several recommended procedures are available. Among other methods is chiselling, land levelling and adding organic matter.

If no plan is made available to store the precipitation where it falls, then the next best thing would be to use the rainfall after it collects in a depression for direct use by pumping onto surrounding land or by using it for recharging the underground formations.

If every individual would make an honest effort to put the rainfall to beneficial uses our problems of mining underground water would be lessened.

What everyone should keep in mind is that precipitation is free merely for the preparing to use it.

Below is a break-down of 1958 precipitation from stations throughout the southern High Plains.

The wife-beater had been hauled into court and fined $110. "I can understand the $100," said the man, "but what's the $10 for?" "That," replied the old judge solemnly, "is the amusement tax."
