Conatser Says His Confession Was Forced

ACCUSED MAN DENIES FIRING FATAL BULLET

ANSON, Oct. 21.—Denying emphatically that he fired the shot that killed Sheriff Bob Smith of Fisher county at Roly last August, and declaring he was not armed at the time and never owned a gun, Lloyd Conatser, charged with slaying the sheriff, took the stand in his own defense today. The youthful defendant made a complete repudiation of the confession he is alleged to have made to the authorities of Taylor county. He declared he was forced to make the statement.

COMMITTEE TO RULE TONIGHT ON ELIGIBILITY

The district interscholastic league executive committee will meet tonight at Ranger when the question of eligibility of numerous high school stars of the district is expected to be definitely settled. Among the players whose eligibility is under fire are four from Rangers including D. Whitehall, the Short brothers, and Seth Hubbard; Britton, Stephenson transfer to Abilene; and Bill Johnson of Eastland. Ranger has been amassing documentary evidence to show the Whitehall and Short boys eligible and as confident is Coach Cherry that they will be ruled-eligible that he has announced he will not let them in today's game with Eastland. The case of Seth Hubbard has not been developed so far, however, and it is unlikely that he will start today. Rumors are also current that Cherry has a surprise in store for Saturday. It had been supposed that he would use Blackmond to replace Peppers, ruled out of the game, but it is said that someone else will start in that position. Eastland, it is believed, will play Bill Johnson, Coach Dave Pena having satisfied his own mind that the former Stephenville star is eligible.

POLITICIANS DRAW PAY; DON'T WORK

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Investigation in the Republican-supervised state census of 1925 has reached out to include prominent Democratic Tammany politicians. Persons recommended for appointment to census jobs by Tammany politicians, including Mayor James J. Walker of New York, it was testified, drew salaries and in two cases, at least, were not known to have done any work.

Walker refuted charge NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Mayor James J. Walker takes sharp exception to testimony that brought his name into the census inquiry proceedings at Albany. He flatly contradicted the testimony of La Fayette B. Gleason, secretary of the Republican state committee and chief supervisor of the 1925 census, that a man given a census appointment by the secretary of state at the mayor's suggestion, had received $2,000, although he did not work. The mayor said: "I happen to know he served the state loyally and efficiently, and let me add, if it is of any interest, he kept every dollar of his pay."

U. S. Chief Geologist Smashes Fall-Sinclair Defense When He Says Tea Pot Dome Not Draining

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Dr. George O. Smith, chief U. S. geologist, smashed one of the main contentions of the Fall-Sinclair defense when he testified there was no danger of drainage from the Teapot Dome naval reserves when the reserves were leased by Fall to Sinclair. The defense has relied greatly on this point and said it was an impelling reason for the lease. On examination, Smith said Fall called him into conference and directed him to send an expert to the reserve to investigate conditions. He sent K. C. Heald, former head of the oil and gas section of the bureau. Heald reported there was no immediate danger of draining Teapot Dome. Smith said, "Did you report this to Fall," asked Roberts. "Yes."

Enjoined From Speaking in High School Building, Frank Norris Addressed Multitude at Park

J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist church of Ft. Worth, addressed a gathering of Ciscoans from a truck at the Mobley hotel park Thursday night on "Al Smith and the Presidency." The Fort Worth pastor had previously announced he would speak on "Fundamentalism," but changed his subject and took occasion to urge the listeners not to support Gov. Al Smith of New York for the presidency in next year's campaign. He asserted that Smith's membership in the Catholic church would give the presidency a direct connection with the Roman papacy, should Smith be elected. He also asserted that Smith's wet sentiment should make him unavailable as a candidate, in so far as prohibitionists are concerned. He denounced bootleggers and the liquor traffic in no uncertain terms, and detailed some experiences he had had during his ministry in converting barkeepers and saloon owners. At the conclusion of his address, he led the crowd in singing familiar hymns.

After the address, R. W. Mancill, who had introduced the speaker, introduced him to Chief of Police G. E. Bedford, whom he thanked for his services in keeping excellent order among the crowd which, he said, was larger than could have been taken care of indoors.

The address had been transferred from the high school auditorium, where it was originally scheduled to be given, to the open air because of an injunction which had been granted in the afternoon by Judge George Davenport in district court at Eastland. A deputy sheriff served the injunction papers on members of the school board, preventing them from opening the building to the minister, and also served the writ on Mr. Norris shortly after he arrived in Cisco.

Safe blowers Thursday night broke into the Palace theatre here, broke open the safe in the office of Manager K. N. Greer, and escaped with approximately $100 in cash, it was reported to police Friday morning. The robbery was discovered early Friday morning by the janitor who came down to clean up the building, and Manager Greer was immediately notified. MILLIKIN ASKS PROTECTION FROM SHERIFF

LOCKHART, Texas, Oct. 21.—Attorneys for A. V. Millikin, condemned slayer of Mrs. Virginia Petty of San Antonio, today filed a motion with Judge M. C. Jeffrey asking for protection for the defendant from Sheriff Ellison, alleging that the officer approached Millikin and abused him for complaining he had not been sufficiently fed. Millikin is being given an insanity hearing here following his 15 day reprieve by Governor Moody on the eve of his execution. It was learned today Millikin had been taken to Austin again last night, the third time this week for further questioning. The court last night issued an injunction, putting a stop to this practice. These motions taken by the defendant are taken as an indication the defense will see to have the case taken to some other county.

State Boys' School Must Pay More to Get First Class Man As Head, Says Board Chairman

LEAHY WRITES OWN APPEAL TO HIGH COURT

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—Harry J. Leahy, under death sentence for the murder of Dr. J. A. Ramsey of Mathis, has written his own plea to the court of criminal appeals in his cell in the Georgetown jail. The highest court in criminal cases is to hear the appeal on November 2. Leahy has sent his own brief to the court. Leahy was a law student at the time he was arrested on the murder charge. He has continued his studies during his confinement. He will not be permitted to argue his own case in the court of criminal appeals. Though the constitution gives every accused a right to be heard himself, or by counsel or by both self and counsel, the state courts have previously held that the right extends only to the original trial and does not permit a convicted defendant to take part in the argument of the appeal. In his cell at Georgetown, Leahy has prepared more than 110 pages of argument to offset his conviction. Besides, he personally read and reread the record of the case prepared for submission to the court. In it there appears many a notation made by him. He is a stickler for short clear sentences. On page after page, long sentences have been cut up into shorter ones of unmistakable meaning.

AUSTIN, Oct. 21.—Texas can not get a suitable man to make the State Training school for boys an industrial school at the salary allowed by the legislature, according to H. H. Harrington, chairman of the state board of control. The building has been provided and the machinery has been purchased. The state appropriation bill provides an $1,800 a year man for the place. Up to the present the boys have been given farm work. The school at Gatesville has 800 acres. In busy seasons the boys formerly were hired out to work on farms about the school. This resulted in charges of political favoritism in distribution of labor. Governor Moody stopped it this summer with an order that the boys be no longer hired out. Harrington's statement is issued as an individual, not as chairman of the board of control, he said. He said that if the institution is to be made a real industrial school "it will be necessary to have a superintendent who has had the necessary training to visualize the work as outlined or adapt himself whole heartedly to the changes necessary in the management of the institution."

KING ALFONSO SAVES BOMBS AIMED AT HIM

MADRID, Oct. 21.—King Alfonso XIII. of Spain is one of the most unusual collections in the world. It might be termed a "collection of attempts," for it contains all documents and articles used on different attempts upon the life of the monarch. Each piece is carefully labeled with indications of the date, place and a resume of the circumstances and events which took place. The remains of bombs are the most numerous, but there are also daggers and deadly weapons of all kinds and shapes. A half-filled bottle containing poison which was poured into the milk of the baby-king, figures among the collection. The king likes very much to show a unique fire-arm made after the drawing which were found in Paris during one of his visits to the capital. The anarchists intended to profit by this little journey to make rid of Alfonso, but the plans were discovered by the police, as well as the details for a special gun. When the king heard of it, he immediately ordered one like the plans. But the principal piece in the entire collection is the skeleton of the unfortunate horse killed by a bomb on the wedding-day of Alfonso and Princess Ena. He was one of the four drawing the wedding-coach.

He Makes $10,600 On His Goats

SONORA, Tex., Oct. 21.—Talk about the hard times of agriculturists meets a deaf ear with B. M. Halbert, rancher near here. On a $12,000 investment in goats, Halbert will make $10,600 this year. Halbert purchased 800 registered goats a year ago. He placed 80 goats to the section with 20 cows and 200 sheep. Four hundred and fifty of the goats were bred does from which he raised 375 kids. During the year he has sold 50 bucks for $5,200; 2,000 pounds of mohair in the spring for $1,600; 3,250 pounds of mohair in the fall for $1,700, and 175 does and 50 kids for $2,900. "Experience has taught me," said Halbert, "that the annual return on an investment in registered goats is from 25 to 70 per cent."

BOY WAS SICK

Texas Tells How He Got Acquainted with the Good Work of Black-Draught as a Laxative. Glenora, Texas.—"I had a sick spell when just fifteen years old," says Mr. George W. Maness, R.F.D. 2, this place. "Anyone who has had chills, like I had, is apt to remember them. I was a sick boy—just lay around the home, weak. My skin was yellow and I could hardly stand up. I had hard chills. "My father gave me quinine. Someone told him to give me Black-Draught with it. He brought some home, and they fixed it up like a tea. It wasn't very good, but I was so sick I would take anything. "After a few days, I began to feel better. I was hungry and could eat. I kept on taking the tea for awhile, and I got well. I haven't had chills since then, but I have taken a lot of Black-Draught since that time. It is a family medicine with me. "Where assistance is needed in the way of a laxative or cathartic, Theford's Black-Draught should be taken, as often as necessary, to open the bowels and put them in a healthy and normal state of activity. Try it; it's a dose. NC-185 is about to take possession of said building and appropriate it to his own use and benefit, and divert it from the free public school purposes, and conduct in said building religious worship and denominational gatherings, contrary to the laws of the state of Texas, the constitution of this state and the constitution of the United States. 4.—That some of the members of the school board, whose names are unknown to the plaintiffs are threatening to give permission to the said J. Frank Norris to use the building for religious and denominational purposes, and are threatening giving to the said J. Frank Norris the keys to said public free school building, built solely for educational purposes. 5.—That there is disagreement in the school board as to granting permission to the said J. Frank Norris to use said building, and plaintiffs allege upon information and belief, the said J. Frank Norris has never secured permission from the majority of the board to use said building for religious purposes. 9.—Your petitioners respectfully represent to this honorable court that defendants who compose the school board of the city of Cisco are without valid and legal authority to grant and give permission to the said J. Frank Norris to use said school building for religious purposes, and their acts and attempted and contemplated acts are ultra vires, and that a few members of the school board, nor all the members can do such acts which are outside their scope of authority granted them by the legal and qualified voters and taxpayers in the city of Cisco. 10.—The school building was built, constructed and erected by levying taxes on the citizens of Cisco, and the said citizenship is composed of members of different churches than that to which the defendant J. Frank Norris belongs, and his lecture and talk will be repulsive to them, and repugnant to the religious principles and doctrines for which they stand. That the said J. Frank Norris will be using a building paid for by them for his sole and personal benefit, and will be used to deliver a lecture in which he will denounce the religious doctrines for which some of the members of the city of Cisco believe in, and will be used to deliver a religious discourse in, and that in said religious discourse the said defendant, J. Frank Norris will ridicule the principals and religious doctrines for which some of your petitioners stand, and for which some of the taxpayers in the city of Cisco believe in. 12.—Your petitioners are each of them interested in the said public school building and the free public school system of the city of Cisco, and that by the use of said building for religious purposes, they will suffer irreparable injury; and that the damages suffered by them will be conjectural. That the plaintiffs and each of them are without an adequate remedy at law, and unless this Honorable Court will join the unlawful use of said school building for private and religious purposes, they and each of them will suffer irreparable injuries. 13.—The plaintiffs are reliably informed and verily believe, and therefore allege on information and belief, that unless the defendants are restrained from the use of the said building for religious purposes, a great property damage will be done to the said school building. Wherefore premises considered, plaintiffs pray that the defendants and each of them be cited to appear and answer herein, and that each of them be enjoined and restrained from using the said high school building for religious and denominational purposes, and that upon a final hearing hereof the said injunction be made perpetual, and the defendants be forever enjoined from using said high school building for religious and denominational purposes, for cost of suit, and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, that they may be justly entitled to, and of this they will ever pray.

NEW EASTLAND STOCK LAW STIRS UP IRE

EASTLAND, Oct. 21.—Court action may result if the city of Eastland insists in enforcing the ordinance recently passed by the city commission governing the keeping of certain livestock within the city limits. The ordinance, which was passed by the commission on Oct. 11, prohibits the keeping of cattle, horses, mules, jacks or jennets in pens, barns, or other places within less than 200 feet of any private residence, hotel, boarding house, business house or office within the city limits. The keeping of such livestock in the city under such conditions is declared by the ordinance to be a public nuisance. The ordinance was passed with an emergency clause and is now in effect. The penalty for violation of the ordinance is a fine of not exceeding $25 for each offense. City Manager Cheatham stated this morning that the commission recommended that no prosecution be made or violation of this ordinance for a few days in order that the people might have time to become acquainted with its terms. Publication of the ordinance brought forth a storm of protest from the citizens and the matter has been the subject of heated discussion where people gather on the streets and in the various business places in the city. So objectionable is the ordinance to some that they declare they will not obey it and if their cows or other livestock are removed from their premises they will take the matter to court and contest it to the last resort. Other say that if such an ordinance is enforced that large numbers of families, who depend largely upon milk from their cows for a living, will move from the city.

RANDOLPH BADGERS DOWN RANGER IN HARD GAME

Badgers Exhibit Rock Wall When Tricky Ward's Eleven Nears Goal; Stars Battle Former Team Mates

In spite of the fact that Randolph college made 17 first downs to Ranger's four, numerous bad breaks prevented the Badgers from scoring more heavily, and the Cisco eleven battled scorelessly through the first period. Manley blocked a Ranger punt and Perrine covered the ball on Ranger's 6-yard line. Watkins plowed two yards and Couch went over for the touchdown. Blanton kicked goal.

For Ranger, Frankie Phillips, Carter, Taylor and Lemley played great football, but the Badger defense was too great for them to overcome. In fact, the Ranger team as a whole proved somewhat of a surprise to the Cisconians who saw the game. Coach Tricky Ward having developed a team of far greater strength than it had been anticipated here.

Following are the line ups:

|-------------|----------|-------------|
| Randolph | Position | Ranger |
| Smith | | Grubbs |
| Blanton | | Britton |
| Nabers | | Shipp |
| Manley | | Cooper |

| Purdue | | Francis |
| Harrison | | Wilson |
| Watkins | | F. Phillips |

| H. Phillips | | Taylor (c) |

Substitutions: Randolph, Harrell for Harrison; Harrison for Harrell; Ranger, Knight for Grubbs; Shelton for Francis; Francis for Shelton; Hunt for Phillips; Shelton for Knott.

Points—Randolph punted 11 times for average 20 yards; Ranger, 13 times for average 20 yards.

First downs—Randolph 17, Ranger 4.

Penalties—Randolph, six for 70 yards; Ranger, three for 25 yards.

Passes—Randolph attempted 6, completed one for six yards; Ranger attempted 9, completed 4 for 75 yards.

former Lobo, added his strength to that rock wall.

The Randolph touchdown came early in the second quarter after the two teams had battled scorelessly through the first period. Manley blocked a Ranger punt and Perrine covered the ball on Ranger's 6-yard line. Watkins plowed two yards and Couch went over for the touchdown. Blanton kicked goal.

Both boys seemed to have great delight in gaining long distances through or around the line which used to open the way for them, and were instrumental in breaking up the Ranger attack whenever it became dangerous. Phillips made numerous gains on line plunges, while Walker starred on returning punts, end runs, and cutbacks through tackle. At one time Walker ran for 60 yards, but the play was brought back for penalty. Cecil Couch played his usual spectacular game, with several long runs to his credit. It was Couch also who outran a Ranger back, chasing him out of bounds when he appeared in a good way to make a touchdown.

But as sensational as was the Randolph offense, the line outshone it at times. Twice in that final half breaks of the game gave Ranger the ball within one yard of the Badger goal. But each time the Badger line held like the rock wall the pep squad girls yell about. The first time Taylor, sensational Bulldog fullback of last season, pounded the line four successive times but the best he could do was advance the ball to within four inches of the Badger goal line. The second time, after a couple of passes had advanced the ball to within a yard of the goal line where Johnny Walker downed Carter, the receiver, Taylor hit the line three times without scoring, and the fourth time he lost the ball on a fumble. In stopping the Ranger attack near the goal line, Charlie Blanton, big tackle with the Lobos last season, played perhaps the greatest game of his career. The big boy stopped Taylor single handed twice when the scoring effort was made, and was instrumental in stopping him the other two times. Purdue, another Joel Hunt and the other menaces of the Aggie push-over squad. Dope figures the Aggies to win by two to four touchdowns. Dope, however, is a dangerous toy to play with; upsets is a fool on which Horned Frogs of the past have thrived.

Second in interest to the Aggie-Horned Frog go is the intersectional tilt between the Mustangs of S. M. U. and the Tigers of Missouri. Coach Gwin Henry's squad has been knocking 'em over up in the Valley circuit this season, and S. M. U. has had its touchdown machine at work, grinding out 146 points in four games. On the offensive the Mustangs look mighty good, but on the defensive they may be a bit weak. George Waters, big tackle, will not be in the game Saturday and probably is out for the balance of the season with an injured back. He will be missed in the Mustang line.

Couch Henry plans a shift in the Missouri line up, putting Harry Howe, Texarkana sophomore, at halfback and John Waldorf, Kansas City high school star, also a sophomore, at center.

It is rather hard for even a patriotic Texan to imagine the Mustangs holding the Missourians to no score, but the S. M. U. boys retain enough of the glory that was theirs to be one of the best drawing cards in the conference. They have a fast team—one of the speediest in the Southwest—and it will be exceedingly hard for the boys from where they have to be shown to keep Mann, Hume et al from crossing the Missouri line—and they may cross it enough.

However gratifying the Longhorn's unexpected win over the Vanderbilt Commodores may have been, from a conference championship viewpoint, Vandyl's defeat may be of disastrous consequences to Clyde Littlefield's proteges, for they go into Saturday's game against the Rice Institute Owls exceedingly corks, expecting to have little competition. If one goes back into the annals of football history—not very far back, at that—one may recall the trip a confident Texas team made to Houston in 1924—and lost to the owls. The Longhorns are a crippled team this week, with both Joe King and Eddie Butler, stellar quarterbacks, on the sick list, leaving Johnny Estes to guide the Steers on the field. King is nursing the "fin" and Butler still is limping with an injured knee, although he may get into the game Saturday. Big 'UM Rose, with an ankle hurt in the Vanderbilt game, also is not expected to play against the Owls.

The Rice showing in the zone early periods of their game with S. M. U. last week reveals the owls to be a dangerous foe—for anybody's team. Last year Texas won in a walk in the rain, 29 to 0.

The Baylor Bears have a hard nut to crack in the Centenary gentlemen, who started the Southwest by defeating Guy Morrison's Mustangs two weeks ago. But S. M. U. went to Shreveport vastly over-confident, forgetting that it was a weaker Gentlemen team they drubbed in 1926 with a stronger Mustang aggregation than the 1927 edition. Baylor, at least, will not go into the game over-confident. The team that wins will do some football playing.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, dropped as championship contenders by their loss to Texas A. & M. Aggies last week, play a non-conference game with the Missouri school of Mines at Fayetteville. These two teams have not met of recent years.

The Southwestern conference schedule for Saturday: Texas Christian university vs. A. & M. at Fort Worth. University of Texas vs. Rice Institute at Austin. Southern Methodist university vs. Missouri at Dallas. Baylor vs. Centenary at Waco. Arkansas vs. Missouri school of Mines at Fayetteville.

Breckenridge Starts Pointing For Battle With Lobos Only Two Weeks Off; Bobcats Boomed

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 21.—Having passed two hurdles in the race to the district title the Breckenridge Buckaroos are priming themselves for the contest with Cisco yet two weeks off. Meanwhile they will meet the Merkel eleven on the local gridiron here Friday afternoon at 3:30, the fourth class B team to be played by the Buckaroos this season.

Breckenridge by a combination of circumstances heads the top of the percentage column in the Oil Belt section but that position has been accorded not so much because of the undefeated record of the Buckaroos as because of the fact that only two other teams in the district have engaged in official games, Eastland and San Angelo being these teams.

Breckenridge by virtue of a tie with Eastland and a victory over San Angelo has a standing of .750 per cent. Eastland, with their single class A game resulting in a tie has a .500 per cent standing while San Angelo rates .000 with one defeat and no win to their credit.

The Buckaroos, however, have their hardest competition yet to face, Cisco, Ranger and—We pause for emphasis—Abilene, yet to face.

There is no need to say the Lobos are a powerful organization, more powerful this year than last year, perhaps. The gold and black has dominated oil belt football ever since the decline of Abilene following their state championship record and the departure of Shotwell for other fields. Only once since 1924 have the Lobos failed to advance to the district title, Ranger defeating them last year

Three Southwest Conference Teams Seek to Break Tie Existing Since Last Season; Others in Big Battles

By FRANK E. GRAHAM

FORT WORTH, Oct. 21.—Three Southwestern conference teams Saturday will try to determine what was not decided in games last year—just who is the best. Texas Aggies meet the Texas Christian university Horned Frogs at Fort Worth to continue last season's contest which, on Kyle field, ended in a 13-all tie, and the S. M. U. Mustangs are host to Missouri Tigers in one of the intersectional headlines of the conference, seeking a decision from last year's 7 to 7 draw; contest in the Tiger den. With one other conference battles and two invasions by powerful neighbor elevens, Southwestern conference fans should have a nice week.

The Aggie-Horned Frog clash will be the most eagerly watched game of the week. Last year the Christians performed an almost unheard-of feat—holding the Aggies to a tie on Kyle field—and the Farmers are out to rebuke and chasten the Fort Worth lads for their daring audacity. The Frogs are worried for the Aggie eleven has shown more strength in the early part of the season than for

"Yes, Willard Mack is right, Luckies are best," says Paul Berlenbach

Popular pugilist tells his manager, Benedict Sterns, that Lucky Strikes are the finest cigarettes.

Willard Mack,
Noted Author, Producer and Actor, writes:

"We people of the theatre are, as a rule, extremists. This is the reflex action from overwrought nerves. When a man smokes forty cigarettes a day, as I do, he must be sure of his brand. I smoke Lucky Strikes because I have found they are soothing to the nerves and at the same time they cause no throat irritation. My voice is always in perfect condition and I am never troubled by any coughing which might be annoying to me in my work as an actor."
