Well the Pancake Breakfast is over now, and much to our surprise both J. C. Claborn and you truly survived the almost constant bombardment of popping sausage grease.

Although, we must admit, there was a time when it looked as if the sausages would win out. Apparently Wes Foster fought his battle of the batter with good luck for we never heard a word of difficulty from him.

All in all the Rainbow Girls were pleased with the result of their effort. The girls worked hard (almost as hard as the grown folks) and they had fine support from you folks.

We noticed an article in the Matador Tribune recently, written by Douglas Meador when Doug laments the passing of the cowboy era.

He says -- The cowboy is gone except on motion picture and television screens. He has been succeeded by a man who usually drives to the range in a heated automobile with his saddle horse towed along in a trailer. He may frequently drive a greater distance in an hour than the horse could travel in a full day on foot.

The modern rider probably has a nylon lariat rope tied to the pommel side of his saddle horn. He heats his branding irons on a butane fire and smokes ready-rolled cigarettes. He drinks his coffee from an electric percolator and sleeps under an electric blanket.

All this is true as far as it goes, but we know one fellow that may take odds with Doug on this issue.

Shirley Smith, foreman for the Seamount outfit, was a sorry looking sight indeed a couple of times this past winter.

True, he drove a pickup from his place to the pasture, but Shirley told us the heater on the hoss didn't work too well when he got there in the middle of one of our snows last year.

After working all day and half the night getting the critters squared away he had stopped for a cup of coffee in a local cafe when we saw him.

True, it was warm then, but from the looks of Shirley it hadn't been too comfortable where he had been for about 48 hours.

The process of cowboying has been modernized, but like all the generals who talk about push-button warfare, there is always going to be someone who has to do the dirty work before the job is done.

In this case someone still has to ride a hoss, throw the lariat and stay out in blizzards to take care of those cowcritters.

Visitation Day Set For Pre-Schoolers

Principal Tom Jarboe has announced that the annual visitation day for pre-school age children, who will enroll in the first grade this fall, has been set for Friday, April 10. On this day all first grade students will have a holiday.

Jarboe suggests that each child who attends bring 30 cents to pay for his lunch at the cafeteria and for milk to drink in the afternoon. Parents are requested to send a slip of paper with the child's name, parent's name, address, telephone number, child's birthdate, and bus number if the child rides a bus.

The purpose of this day is to introduce the child to a school day as nearly like one of his first days at school as possible. Each child may go to any of the first grade rooms, but will be rotated to all rooms during the day to give him an opportunity to become acquainted with each teacher.

The first grade rooms are numbers 1, 2, 3, and 13 in the elementary building and number 103 in the junior high building. Children who do not ride buses will be dismissed at 3 and parents are asked to call for them at that time. Those who will ride a bus home will be taken care of at the school until 4.

Jarboe further states, "In order for the child to get an introduction to a day in school, it is best if no parents accompany the children on visitation day."

Dillie Kelley Resigns Superintendent's Post

Dillie M. Kelley formally resigned as superintendent of the Friona Independent Schools at the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Fisd Monday night effective at the end of the present school term.

Kelley resigned to take the position of Director of finance at Brownfield this July.

Kelley says, concerning his resignation "The decision to move from Friona was a difficult one to make. However, I definitely feel that the offer is an opportunity for advancement in the field of school administration. Since my early college years I have been interested in the type of position which I will have with the Brownfield system."

Kelley came to Friona in the fall of 1949 from Buena Vista Independent School.

He served in the Friona schools as principal of the high school from 1949 through 1954 when he was appointed superintendent of schools.

Kelley is a native of Montana, in Anderson county in East Texas, and after his graduation from high school attended North Texas State College at Denton. He is a veteran of World War II having served four years in service.

He married the former Cornelia Hightower in 1944 who also taught in the Friona schools for two years and served in the capacity of cafeteria supervisor for one year. They have two children, Neal, 8, and Mary Beth, 6.

LAKESIDE 66 NEW MANAGER--Jim White, above, has taken over the manager of the Lakeside 66 station on west Highway 60 in Friona.

City Council OK's Bid On New Well, Fire Truck

Clowe and Cowan, Inc. of Hereford was awarded the contract for the digging of a new water well for the city of Friona for their low bid of $10,463.35 at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night.

Reeve Chevrolet was awarded the contract for the purchase of a truck and chassis for the purpose of building a new fire truck for the only bid presented with their bid of $4,335.11.

The two bid-taking proceedings occupied the council for about three and a half hours Monday night.

Bids on the water well were received from Big T. Pump Company, $11,139.50; Wintroath Pump Company, $12,661.25 and D. L. McDonald of Amarillo, $14,256.25.

In addition to the cost of the gravel packed well the council okayed the purchase of some $7,000 worth of other equipment which will be necessary to put the well into use in the city's water system.

The new well will be dug on the city property adjacent to the Staley Addition in the west part of town.

The well, which will be gravel-packed, is designed to produce 500 gallons of water per minute at the water plant.

R. E. "Red" Smith, of the engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith & Cooper of Lubbock, was on hand to work with the councilmen in going over the bids and counseling with them on the matter.

The bids themselves were opened by Mayor R. L. Fleming and Smith at 2 p.m. Monday. Following that time Smith tabulated the bids and presented them to the council that evening.

On the new fire truck proposal the council okayed the bid from Reeve Chevrolet, which was the only bid received. City Manager Albert Field told the council several other firms had picked up the specifications but didn't turn in a bid.

Fire Chief Reuben Taylor was instructed by the council to work with Field in contacting several fire-truck companies and secure bids on the equipment on the truck to see who will outfit the fire engine.

In other business the council discussed more paving requests, but as they represented only scattered areas the matter was tabled. C. W. Dixon asked the city for a written agreement for the use of sewer water for irrigation purposes. This request was denied.

Those present at the meeting included councilmen Ralph Smith, Glenn Reeve, Eddie Meil, Forrest Osborn and Mayor Fleming and Field, city manager.

Entered as second class mail matter July 31, 1925, at the post office in Friona, Texas, under the Act of March 31, 1897. Published each Thursday.

Let's Look Ahead

Partly because of the present farm surpluses and screams of vote-minded politicians and other victims of pressure groups, today's farm population is steadily declining and is expected to continue.

This fact lies forgotten but what is being overlooked now, will in a few years cause the screams to be in the other direction.

Today there is a lot of farm production being stockpiled each year. This is costing the government money.

Each year some program designed to cut back production comes out of Washington. BUT---what the nation's policy writers are overlooking is today's expanding population plus an ever-dwindling farm population. Then, in addition, to folks moving to town, is the town gobbling up the land.

Today, as never before in our history, land is being utilized for more city dwellings, increased highway construction, airport construction, industrial development and so on. So, as our farmers move to town, the areas of our land used for production of agricultural products is being cut down also. What is the answer to this?

Well, in about five to 10 years we will see, yes and just HOW we'll see.

By that time big business and government controls will have squeezed more thousands of folks off the farms, cut back acreage to where the small farmer is a thing of the past and about that time they will begin bellowing about "more productive to feed our nation."

It is too bad that men never learn. Back in the '30's meat, fiber and grain were destroyed and not 10 years later these same items were top on the critically short list.

But---there is little satisfaction in just being able to say---"I told you so."

Applications Must Be Filed Soon

The Parmer County Chapter of the National Foundation announced this week that, with less than one month to go before the deadline for filing applications for its 1959 Health Scholarships, no Parmer County young people have applied for scholarships in nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy, medicine and medical social work. All applications for four-year financial assistance in these fields, amounting to a total of $2,000 per student, must be received by The National Foundation, 800 Second Avenue, New York 17, N.Y., by May 1st, said Raymond Euler, Chapter Chairman.

The March of Dimes scholarships in nursing, physical therapy and occupational therapy are being offered to high school seniors; those in medicine and medical social work to upper classmen in college.

"Time is running out," said Euler. "Many young people who have been thinking of the end of the school term in June as the time to decide what to do and where to go for higher education probably don't realize that it will be too late to qualify for one of these awards."

"Careers in the health field are exciting and rewarding -- and demands for the services of well-trained men and women far exceed the supply. By starting their education for health professions now, qualified young people can equip themselves for a future in which the specter of unemployment is non-existent and will be for many years to come."

Euler said it would be a tragedy if opportunities for March of Dimes assistance for college work are missed "simply because it is spring and May 1st seems a long way off."

A handsome woman is always right.

Girls Study Picnic Foods

At the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the 4H Club at the Community House a study of picnic foods was made. Following the study and a brief business session a picnic meal of roasted weiners and smores was prepared and served.

Some members of the club are making plans to enter the county contest Saturday of next week. Jimmie Lou Wainscott will conduct the next regular meeting of this group.

Those present were the two leaders, Carrie Tatum and Ala Mae Gibson, and the following girls: Brenda Deaton, Velma Faith, Sharon Dean and Diann Gibson.

Light fluffy fillings for cushions can be made by cutting a roll of cotton in small squares. Heat the squares in the oven for half an hour, but don't let them scorch. Each square will swell to twice its original size.

Cook Of The Week

Mrs. E. H. Cummings Pursues Three Hobbies

Our cook of the week this time is a mother and grandmother who modestly admits she has three hobbies, growing flowers, cooking and spoiling her grandchildren. Members of her family might add another to the list since she spends a great deal of time making pictures of the grandchildren.

Although Mrs. Cummings is not a native of the Panhandle, she has lived here a long time. She was born in Collin County and moved to Lockney with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tatum, when she was a child.

After graduating from Lockney High School, she attended West Texas State College at Canyon before her marriage to E. H. Cummings also of Lockney. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings moved to the Lakeview Community from Lockney in 1926 and lived there until they moved to Friona about three and one half years ago.

During the years the family lived on the farm, Mrs. Cummings cooked, sewed, garden-ed, raised chickens and did chores around the place, but she still found time to grow a large number of flowers each year. After the couple built their new home on West Sixth Street in the Loop Addition, it was necessary for her to grow fewer flowers because of lack of space.

Besides growing flowers, which she cuts and shares with friends and others who are ill from time to time, Mrs. Cummings always makes several trips a year to the mountains and spends hours gathering material for artificial bouquets for her home and for gifts.

She says, "Since Ennis is somewhat of a meat and potatoes man, I have to do my baking and cooking of anything sweet for the children, grand children or someone else."

The day a Star reporter called on Mrs. Cummings she had just finished making a number of Easter bunnies for table decorations. They were made from marshmallows, colored toothpicks, bits of colored paper and cloves for eyes, nose and mouth.

Mrs. Cummings says, "One of my favorite recipes is for cornbread. My husband especially enjoys hot cornbread and I enjoy making it."

CORNBREAD

- 1 egg
 - 3/4 cup condensed milk
 - 1/4 cup water
 - 1 Tablespoon vinegar
 - 1 teaspoon sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon soda
- Add vinegar to milk and water and let stand ten minutes. Then add egg, salt and soda and mix well. Then add 2/3 cup flour and 1 1/3 cup meal. Beat well and bake at 450 degrees 15 to 20 minutes.

One of the favorite cookie recipes which Mrs. Cummings uses is for:

CHERRY OATMEAL DREAMS

- 3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1 teaspoon soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 2 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
 - 1 cup butter
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 2 eggs, beaten
 - 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry liquid
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/2 cup maraschino cherries
 - 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- Sift flour, soda and salt together. Combine with rolled oats and set aside. Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, cherry liquid and vanilla and beat well. Stir in dry ingredients, cherries, and nuts. Shape into small balls, using 1 rounded teaspoon for each. Coat with rolled oats or chopped nuts, if desired. Top each with cherry half. Place on greased cookie sheets and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 6 dozen cookies.

Two recipes for sweet breads have been recommended by friends and relatives over a wide area. Both of them keep well in the deep freeze and may be baked any time it is convenient with the homemaker to be served when desired.

APRICOT BREAD

- 1/2 cup chopped dried apricots
- 1 1/4 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- few grains of salt
- 1 cup milk
- 3 cups sifted flour

3 teaspoons baking powder
Blend sugar and eggs. Sift flour, salt and baking powder. Add to blended sugar mixture. Then add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Bake 1 hour in 350 degree oven.

ORANGE DATE BREAD

- Juice of one orange
 - 1/2 cup nuts
 - grated rind of one orange
 - 1/2 cup hot water
 - 1/2 teaspoon soda
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 2 cups flour
 - 2/3 cups chopped dates
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1 egg
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 3/4 cup sugar
- Chop nuts and dates and add to juice and rind. Then add hot water and butter. Add one egg, beaten. Sift flour, salt, baking powder, soda and sugar. Add to fruit mixture. Bake in greased loaf pan in a 350 degree oven for 1 1/4 hour. Cool before serving. Serve plain or with cream cheese balls rolled in orange rind.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Cummings are Doyle, who is associated with his father in the operation of Cummings Farm Store here, and Sue, who is now Mrs. Wayne B. Stark of Hereford. The grandchildren range in age from three to eleven years. They are Kenny, Nate and Connie Stark of Hereford and Scott, Terri Sue, Kirk and Lisa Cummings of Friona.

THE BULWARK OF A COMMUNITY IS ITS CHURCHES

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

You know the hymn -- "How firm a Foundation?" Of course you do.

But it's more than a hymn. To many it is a way of life.

The foundation is faith. Faith that gives every day a shining new quality. Faith that provides a strong shelter in time of need. Faith that sustains you in sickness and trouble, that makes life a great adventure, truly worth living.

One does not find faith in a vacuum. You find it as a member of a family, as a member of a community. Worshiping together every week, with those you love, with others who believe as you do -- gives you a closeness, a strength to carry you through with hope and courage.

You can build a stronger, richer life -- on a firm foundation of faith.

Worship together this week . . . every week?

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length formal wedding gown of white lace over net. The fitted bodice was designed with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which ended in points over her hands.

She wore white lace mitts and her waist length veil was attached to a tiara of pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations.

The wedding marches were played by Mrs. Roy V. Miller Sr. at the organ. Mrs. Miller also accompanied Luann Hardesty as she sang "Because."

MR. AND MRS. DELVIN LANGFORD

Janie Parker Becomes Bride Of Delvin Langford

In a double ring ceremony, which was read by Rev. Hugh Blaylock at the Friona Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, Janie Parker, daughter of Mrs. Tommie Parker, became the bride of Delvin Langford. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Langford of Farwell.

A background for the ceremony was formed by baskets of flowers flanked by white candelabra and entwined with white satin bows. The wedding march was played by Dorthy Hough at the organ.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Johnnie Parker of Hereford, wore a ballerina length dress of white eyelet batiste over cotton satin. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a tiara of pearls, which was borrowed from her cousin, Mr. Bob Poteet of Lubbock. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of orchids and carnations.

For something old she wore an heirloom ring which has been in the family five generations; her dress was new; for something blue she wore the traditional garter; and for good luck a penny was worn in her shoe.

Carolyn Parker, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Joann Beaty and LaVohn Dean. The bridal attendants wore identical sheath dresses of blue cotton satin and carried white lace fans.

Candlelighters were Joan Williams of Belen, New Mexico, cousin of the groom, and Carolyn Langford, sister of the groom. Alice Coffman, another cousin of the groom was the flower girl. These three wore blue polished cotton dresses with matching headbands.

Jimmy Moss, cousin of the groom, and Johnny McCuan of Portales served as ushers. Leon Langford of Farwell served as his brother's best man.

Wilma Norton and Martha Blair sang "Always Faithful Ever True", "I Do", and "The Wedding Prayer". They were accompanied by Dorthy Hough at the organ and Pat Foster at the piano.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall. Guests were served wedding cake and punch by Mrs. Johnnie Parker, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Frank Reed.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Langford, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Langford, Mrs. Jim Moss and Anita, Mrs. Joyce Coffman and children. Mrs. D. O. Rolland and Doris, and Jerry McCuan all of Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Clark and Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Sharp of the Pleasant Hill Community;

IT happens nearly every day around here. A couple of kids come in, browse around, look over our new cars and then, like many people do when they inspect an automobile—kick a tire. We love the kids and we love to see them kick, because to us it means something.

For even the kids know that this is one place where the welcome mat is always out. Top Yields of Cash and Silage Crops, Using Ammonia Art Hegi, successful Hale County farmer, says: "I use Phillips 66 Ammonia pre-plant on all my crops. My yields per acre since starting to use ammonia are: cotton, 2 bales; grain sorghum, 4500 pounds; castor beans, 1900 pounds; Sargo silage, 20 tons.

"My practice has been to apply Phillips 66 Ammonia in the following amounts: cotton, 45 pounds per acre; sorghum, castor beans and sorghum silage, 100 pounds. My yield increases have given me considerably higher profits per acre."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer--a full 82%.

Modern Study Club Presents
Chautauqua Tuesday Evening

The Tuesday evening program at the Modern Study Club meeting at the club house featured a Chautauqua with all numbers being presented by local talent. The program was opened with a devotional "Highway Of Life" presented by Wilma Jones. Convention reports were given by Mildred May, Rhea Foster, Lillah Gay Gee, Eufala Ethridge and Vera Bainum.

A one act play "Suing The Professor" was presented by Sarah Ann Miller, Grace Whitefield, Doris Hall and Deke Kendrick with Tom Lewis directing. Jan Welch sang "Brahms Lullaby" in German. This song was taught to her by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Charles Schlenker. She also sang "Dee Hoot Owl" accompanied by Diana Taylor at the piano.

This was followed by the singing of "Christopher Robin Saying His Prayers" and "My Garden" by the three Welch sisters, Jan, Gay and Holly with Diana Taylor accompanying at the piano. Then Diana Taylor and Karen Sue Osborn presented a piano duet "The Spinning Wheel." Karen Sue Osborn also played a piano solo, "Spring Mood."

The star of the show was a 1929 glamour girl who did the Charleston, depicted by Al-lo Reeve. "The Medicine Show" was presented by Deke Kendrick, Doris Hall and Grace Whitefield with Sarah Ann Miller as narrator.

Hostesses, dressed as medicine men of the Chautauqua were Fern Awrey, Carmaleet Truitt, June Spring and Lucille Latta, who sold balloons, popcorn, crackerjacks and whirly birds from a brightly lighted booth.

There were 24 members present. Guests were Lunell Horton, Juanda Jarrell, Mary Bavousett, Ann Ayers, Sarah Barber, Quova Nell Jones, Mary Kate Zeman, Mary Lou Cason, Mamie Lou Welch, Martha Pruett, Jan Welch, Diana Taylor, Karen Sue Osborn, Gay Welch, Mabelle Hartwell, Holly Welch, and Mrs. Gage Knox.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Sesame Acreage Expected To Rise Slightly in 1959

Opinions gathered from seed dealers and farmers and the "general attitude" prevailing at two meetings held in the county during the past week have indicated a slight increase in sesame acreage in Parmer County during 1959.

This probable increase is in the face of a recommendation from the Texas Sesame Seed Growers, the organization which has nursed the new crop along on the Plains for five years, that production should be kept at 1958 levels.

It should be pointed out, however, that 1958 was one of the best years on record for producing a bumper crop (except during planting time when a good stand was difficult to obtain), and that "normal" yields might be expected to result in a decrease in production if the same acreage should be maintained.

Meetings were held at Farwell and Friona last week and representatives of the Association, including Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president, told farmers the position of the commodity in respect to markets.

Parker reminded farmers that even though sesame is considered minor in the over-all farm picture in the area, that Parmer County is the biggest sesame producing region in the S.

He emphasized the need of producing a quality seed product—one of which this area is easily capable if growers try to do it.

Parker feels that a production of about 10 million pounds of the oilseed crop should be the goal of the Association this year. If that production is maintained, he feels the price received for sesame will be around nine cents a pound. If overproduction results, the price may decline.

Sesame is still "growing up" in marketing and many new applications are being found for its use. Two of the most promising, Parker says, are Siga-Tees, a potato chip-like product produced by a large eastern potato chip maker last year and received with enthusiasm in that part of the country; and canned sesame bread sticks, a brand new product being manufactured by General Mills and one due to hit the market within the next two weeks. The sticks are expected to be available from growers in this area.

Figuring sesame acreage is tough from several standpoints. In the first place, farmer intentions are not "firm" this week, but even more important, if they were it still needs to be remembered that the harvested acreage is nearly always quite a bit less than the planted acreage. Acreage abandoned in sesame production is hardly ever less than 10 percent, and usually runs up to 30 percent of the total land set aside.

That needs to be kept in mind when evaluating the thoughts of the two county seed dealers.

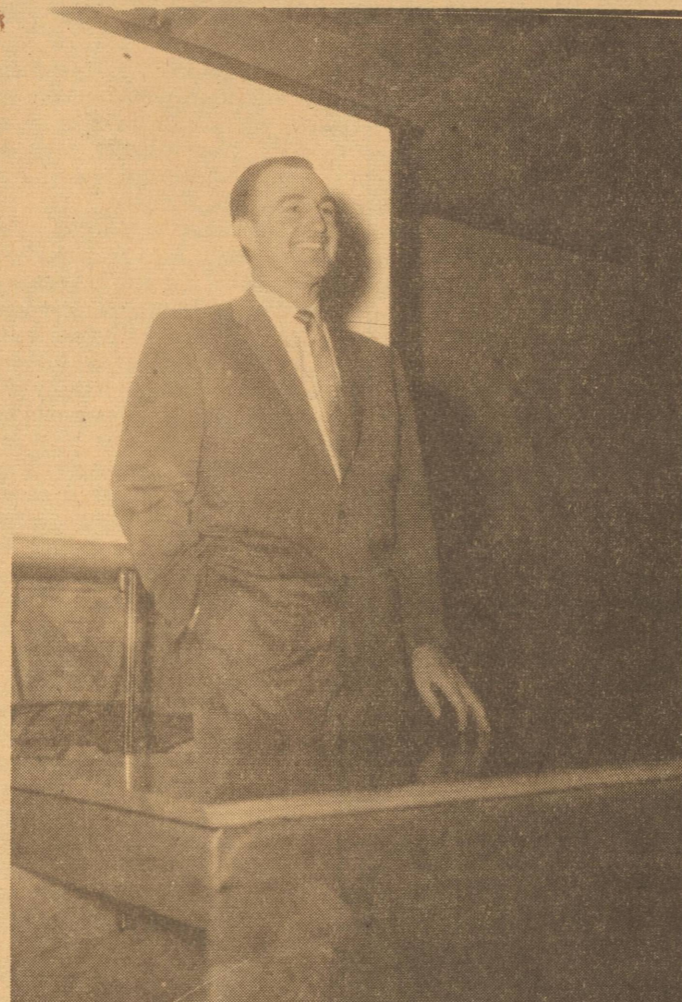

At Farwell, C. M. Henderson believes that between 3000 and 3500 acres will be planted to sesame in his immediate area, which he considers to be a radius of about 15 miles from him. That estimate would include considerable Curry and Bailey County production. He says that the increase is probably up about 10 percent for his customers.

Doyle Cummings of Friona says sesame acreage in that area will be "about the same" as in 1958 although there is some swapping around of growers and the picture is not definite at the moment. Some growers are increasing, one is quitting, and some are cutting down. A new grower or two is in prospect, though, he says, which will keep the picture about even with last season.

Acreage in the Friona area is expected to be between 2000 and 2500 by Cummings.

Rainfall Is Timely

ROBERT L. PARKER, executive vice president of the Texas Sesame Seed Growers, appeared on two grower programs in Parmer County last week. He cautioned farmers against overproduction of sesame but indicated that markets are expanding.

Rain of the most pleasant kind has come to the Parmer County area. It fell well, and it came at a very opportune moment. Farmers couldn't be happier.

The showers, which moved in behind a whistling cold front that hit the High Plains Tuesday morning, were intermittent through the day and continued through most of Tuesday night. Wednesday morning there was still a drizzle but the clouds were due to break up and the weather clear.

Most points in the Parmer County area caught between .75 and 1.25 of moisture. As a general rule, the southern part of the county fared better in the rain gauge.

Parmer farmers haven't had much hope for the dryland wheat crop for three or four weeks now, so the rain's beneficial effect on those fields is questionable at this point. It will help, all right, but most of the dryland wheat has already deteriorated to a substantial degree.

On the other hand the rain is regarded as extremely beneficial as supplementary pre-planting moisture. The majority of farmers have been pushing their pre-irrigation at maximum speed during the past week or two, and an inch of rain will certainly help them get over their land quicker.

This is the first moisture of any consequence in 1959 for the Parmer County area. A snowfury or two can be remembered, but moisture received from these spells was scarcely measurable.

amount of their valuable irrigation water wastefully.

He concedes that farmers have their problems, especially the ones who are farming soils with heavy clay content where adequate penetration is difficult, but maintains that it would certainly be worthwhile to try to reclaim the valuable surplus water that sloshes out of the ends of so many fields.

"Most farmers don't realize the value of the water they are pumping," he says. "It is an extravagance they can ill afford."

This is as much a matter of the inability on the part of farmers to grasp elementary book-keeping as anything else. So many farmers, when trying to reduce their expenses to a piece of paper, consider the "cost" of their water whatever their gas or butane fuel bill is.

The truth is, of course, that their water is worth much, much more than that. A $300 per-acre piece of land, for example, would probably bring $50 if it did not have water under it. So, as that valuable $250 deposit of water is mined away, the value of the land is decreasing although the owner may not think so.

Besides what the water is worth when in storage, it becomes even more valuable when brought to the surface. On top of the ground we usually measure its value in terms of acre-feet. So many acre feet of water will produce so many pounds of cotton, grain sorghum, or some other crop. The value of the crop may then be translated into the value of the water.

Too bad so much of it is still going unchecked into the bar ditches. Too bad for us and too bad for the coming generation of farmers.

Causing lots of excitement in area farming circles this week is, we understand, the offer by several grain dealers to contract delivery of this fall's milo crop at $1.50 net to the farmer. That is, the dealer would be hitting a market agreement of about $1.60 and the farmer's take would be about $1.50.

There probably are some farmers who are consigning their crop under such an arrangement, or one similar to it, but we have not as yet run into anyone who has. It's mostly a case of talking about it, it would seem.

We understand the offers are being made in good faith and that we may be hearing more of the same in coming months.

Just what this portends in terms of the 1959 milo market is hard to guess. In fact, if anybody knew just now he'd be in a good position to make some handsome speculation money.

We do view the signs with encouragement, however.

The deadline for redeeming grain from government loan for the large 1958 crop has passed. Estimates are of the most rudimentary sort at this early date since March 31 was the deadline, but Commodity Credit ownership will probably amount to about one-half of last year's crop.

In the meantime, the local grain market is healthy. Feed pen operators are paying $1.90. It could be a heck of a lot worse.

Safflower Plantings Due in Parmer County

It is certain that safflower, in an amount as yet undetermined, will be grown in the Parmer County area this year. That was made clear at a meeting sponsored by the Farmers Union and Safflower Oil Corp. of Colorado, held at the Hub Friday night.

About 60 farmers were present to hear the sponsors' representatives explain details about the program under which safflower will be grown. A total of 20,000 acres will be sought on the High Plains this year.

Safflower is a relatively new crop—not only in this area but in the nation as well. Its acreage has exceeded 100,000 only since 1957. An oilseed product, safflower is used chiefly in the manufacture of paints and varnishes, but it has numerous other possible industrial applications.

In recent years it has shown promise as a potentially sought after food for human consumption. Safflower yields a "non-saponified fat" that has been established as useful in helping control the build-up of fatty deposits in the circulatory system which are contributory to heart disease. In concentrated form safflower has medicinal value because of this unusual property.

Farmers Union and the company have entered into an agreement to build a mill somewhere on the High Plains to process the seed. The Parmer County area is considered a good possibility for its location. Plans are to have it built next year.

In the meantime, farmers are limited to only 20 acres of production and officials want them to take the commodity on as a "trial" crop this year to see what results are obtained. Seed yields are expected to run from 1000 to 2500 pounds per acre and the growers will be assured of a price of $62 a ton.

Safflower officials are "shooting straight" and making it clear that farmers should not be expecting to make big money their first year in safflower production.

Another meeting will be held at Farwell the 17th.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

Stanley Yankus, the Michigan farm rebel, has attracted a lot of national publicity in his fight against government regulation of his farming enterprises.

He has made good on his threat to sell out and leave the country. Last week he sold his farm and before very long he'll be bound for Down Under where he hopes to start life all over again.

We are having trouble deciding whether Stanley's act has been one of courage or cowardice. Surely it took courage to give up all he has ever had in this country. Not exactly give it up, maybe, because he does have the cash equivalent of what his farm was worth, but it is true that he is leaving behind something definite for something a lot less certain.

But leaving America behind isn't the way to solve his problem, because running away from things won't ever take the place of meeting difficulties face to face.

Dave Sherill, the district agricultural agent, was giving the county the once-over this week. We found a few minutes to visit with Dave about one of our favorite subjects: irrigation.

Dave isn't exactly the talkative type but he did make it clear that the farmers of this area are still using a large

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

The quail, pheasants, doves, rabbits and other wildlife grown on the farms and ranches provide most of our hunting. Even much of the big game such as deer, antelope, and wild turkey comes from privately owned lands.

Most of our wildlife crop is grown and harvested on land used mainly for cultivated crops and livestock. This means that farmers and ranchers are the key to abundant wildlife. Much of our fishing is also affected by the way farmers and ranchers manage their land.

Farms and ranches make up 60 per cent of the land in the United States. Most of this land is in soil conservation districts. Altogether, more than 85 per cent of our hunting land is privately owned or controlled. Therefore, the land use decisions of farmers and ranchers can cause an abundance or a scarcity of wildlife.

Windbreaks of trees and shrubs are planted on farms and ranches for the protection of farmsteads and livestock against damaging winds. These windbreaks provide food and cover for many kinds of wildlife. They are the favorite nesting places for many of the game birds.

The Soil Conservation Service, as part of its assistance to soil conservation districts, helps individual land operators apply many soil and water conservation practices that increase wildlife.

The soil Conservation District is making several species of trees and shrubs available this year for the establishing of windbreaks. They are Arizona cypress, red cedar, poplars, honeylocust, desert willow, Russian olive, vitex, multiflora rose, and pyracantha. The Arizona cypress will be ready for delivery on or about May first. The bare rooted stock may be received when desired.

Applications for the trees may be obtained at the SCS office in Friona, Steve Messenger's in Friona and the County Agent's Office in Farwell. Orders must be received before April 20.

The "Refinishing Furniture Workshop" last Wednesday had 34 in attendance. I gave a demonstration on removing the finish. Each of these persons will go home and remove the finish from their piece of furniture. The next session will be attended by one or two leaders from each club. These leaders will then teach the others in their clubs. It's lots of work, but you really have a sense of accomplishment when you are through.

Just as cooking temperatures need to suit different foods, so temperatures must meet the needs of various fabrics.

Today's fabrics include so many different fibers, blends of fibers and finishes that homemakers are often puzzled about temperatures suitable for the different fabrics.

The best general rule when pressing blends of fabrics is to set the iron so that it is suited to the fiber requiring the lowest temperature, according to extension clothing specialists. However, when using a damp pressing cloth and a dry iron, the moisture in the cloth reduces the temperature.

Because the synthetics call for lower temperatures, blends of synthetic and natural fibers complicate the pressing problem. In the case of wool blends, they may be pressed successfully with a steam iron or with a dry iron and a damp pressing cloth.

Cotton blends are a different story. Combinations of cotton with synthetics can be a difficult problem because cotton will not always press smooth at a low temperature, yet many synthetics are damaged at high temperatures. One answer to this problem is to check each garment individually by ironing on a sample of the fabric or on an inconspicuous place like the edge of a wide seam.

Corn Acreage Rise Expected

(Editor's note: This is the third in a series of articles on new crops. Next week's will be about vegetables.)

Some people may feel that corn doesn't deserve the description "new crop." However, from the standpoint of its planting since the revolution wrought by irrigation on the High Plains, it must be considered in a different light, and hence the adjective "new" is perhaps appropriate.

Substantial acreages of corn gave way to combine-type milos long before the advent of the irrigation well, and the semi-arid Plains were found much 10 minutes. Heat 3 tablespoons bacon, sausage or ham drippings very hot; pour over lettuce. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Toss and garnish with hard-cooked egg put through a sieve. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Here's a pleasant dessert surprise for that packed lunch . . . Steam prunes over hot water until soft, then cool. Remove pits and stuff with nuts and dip in melted milk chocolate. The prunes will furnish some of the iron needed for rich red blood.

Use milk every day in a variety of ways. Statistics show that many people do not get enough milk or milk products in their diets to insure them of enough calcium for proper growth and maintenance. Vanilla ice cream topped with hot mincemeat makes a delicious sundae. Golden custard is a family favorite that provides both egg and milk. Top with whipped cream or dried milk and a dash of nutmeg.

In the meat department, you'll find ham or a turkey featured in most stores. Other selections include fresh picnics, loin roast and shoulder chops. Beef values are round and sirloin roast, arm and blade pot roasts and ground beef. Frying chickens are still economy buys.

Fresh fruit items at pleasing prices are oranges, grapefruit, apples, bananas and lemons. Strawberries are available in many markets at early season prices. Bargains at the fresh vegetable counters include white and sweet potatoes, celery, lettuce, carrots, cabbage, tomatoes, radishes and scallions.

less than ideal for producing a tall, thirsty plant that was subject to the hazards of insects, hot weather, and dry winds--of which this part of the world has a plenty.

Interest in reviving corn as a major cash crop has waxed and waned several times in recent years. The biggest pressure to increase corn acreage has been lower prices for grain sorghums and a relatively good demand for corn grown in this area.

Corn acreage took a big jump in the Parmer County area in 1957 when about 20,000 acres were produced. The resultant poor returns from very adverse weather conditions did much to discourage growing corn on the High Plains, and the acreage dwindled to about half that amount last year.

The opinion of farmers on the advantages and disadvantages of corn vary greatly, but in general, the problems break down into these categories:

1. Corn has great susceptibility to attack by stalk borers and ear worms, the former which is uncontrollable and the latter which is very difficult to control except by expensive hand spraying methods.

2. High winds nearly always result in heavy lodging of corn as harvest time approaches. This is often because of stalk damage by the borer.

3. Corn is a heavy user of water and the leafy, tender plant has little drought resistance. As a result, when the corn crop needs watering, the need is immediate and unless the farmer can oblige, deterioration sets in rapidly.

Even with these worries, corn can be produced by area farmers, there's not much disputing that. A good yield is considered one that falls somewhere in the 70 to 100 bushel range, which isn't bad even by Cornbelt standards.

Government support prices, which have been pegged at $1.12 per bushel this year, are up from $1.02 which was offered for non-commercial corn in 1958. This will doubtless have a noticeable effect on farmers' plans.

Any grain crop which has the potential of grossing $100 per acre draws more than one glance from Parmer County farmers.

To judge from past experiences (some of them sad ones) the formula for the corn producer of this area is: Plant early--harvest early. The idea is to mature a crop as quickly as possible and get it off the land before the corn bore cuts it first.

For a time it was thought that the normally dry harvest seasons of the High Plains were especially well adapted to use of the combination picker-sheller harvester. However, this idea is giving way to the two-unit harvest plan of picking the corn, letting it dry, and then shelling it in a separate operation. If combining is done at an early stage artificial drying is usually necessary.

County Agent Joe Jones says these hybrids seem to be well suited to this area under irrigation: Texas 30, 28, and 36, and Asgrow 101W and Texas 17W.

"Generally, corn will require the same fertilizer program as grain sorghum," he says.

"In the sandy areas both nitrogen and phosphate are required, while in the tighter soils nitrogen alone is getting the job done in most instances.

"A good sound fertilizer program to follow on corn is apply about two thirds of the nitrogen and all phosphate before planting, and sidedress with additional nitrogen about 35 to 40 days after planting," Jones says the sidedress-ing should be put on before the plant has passed the 10-leaf stage.

Tests run at the High Plains Station at Halfway averaged yields of 93.2 bushels last year. Varieties tested were TRF 3, 9, 13, Texas 17W and Funk 779W.

Researchers at Halfway also agree that early planting and early harvest before lodging takes place seem necessary for successful corn production in this area.

WITH JUNE!

One of the prettiest things we've seen in a long time was the school cafeteria in readiness for the Junior-Senior banquet Saturday evening. With just a little imagination a person could have easily spent an hour or two in the Hawaiian Islands.

The tropical flowers were used throughout the cafeteria in profusion and the colors were varied. There were orchids, lillies, roses, tulips, jonquils and others we did not recognize. Most of them were made out of crepe paper by the girls of the junior class and their mothers.

After hearing much planning and discussion about the decorations we were very curious about how the tables would look. If you can imagine a group taking crepe paper, coils of wire and paper flowers and leaves and creating beautiful table decorations, then you can have some idea of what was done.

In the room decorations palm trees, mirrors and various other things were used to carry out the Hawaiian theme. After a number of tree making sessions at the Bill Baxter home last week a number of "real" looking palm trees were seen moving down the street Friday afternoon.

Some of the guests and those who did not work on the decorations may soon forget what they were like, but those who did the work will probably never forget them. Several women and girls who worked long hours making the flowers will probably enjoy making paper flowers for other occasions as the need arises.

Even though the turn out at the polls was, as one election clerk expressed it, "better than we expected," a lot of persons failed to exercise their right to vote and a large number of parents showed too much lack of interest in the administration affairs of the school.

One example of how things have changed in the past 60 or 70 years is seen by reading the following paragraph:

In 1881, when a girl's school in New York offered typewriter lessons, a number of men wrote protesting letters to the newspapers. "The delicate female constitution will never stand operating a printing machine," said one of them. But the delicate females risked it -- and now look.

The national statistics on the number of men and women in the printing field probably do not run parallel with ours, but in the Plains Publisher-Friona Star operation, we have four men and fourteen women.

Would you be surprised to know that in fourteen hours your heart beats 103,689 times; your blood travels 168,000,000 miles; you breathe 23,040 times; you inhale 438 cubic feet of air; you eat 3 1/4 pounds of food; you drink 2.9 pounds of liquids; you lose in weight 7.8 pounds of waste; you perspire 1.43 pints; you give off 2.6 degrees Fahrenheit; you turn in your sleep 25 to 35 times; you speak 4800 words; you move 750 major muscles; your nails grow .000046 of an inch; your hair grows .017414 of an inch; you exercise 7,000,000 brain cells. That is, if you are an average adult weighing about 175 pounds.

Have you seen the bus at City Body Shop? It has been purchased by the Friona Rainbow girls and is being repainted. In the very near future it will be ready to make trips anywhere any group, who desires to charter it, wishes to go.

Any group who is planning a trip should contact Pat Woodley, mother advisor of the Rainbow girls.

Someone is going to have an unusual experience Saturday of this week. Did you ever have to pay more for a license tag than you paid for the car you were going to put it on? Well, neither did most of the rest of us, but someone is going to real soon.

The person who buys the 99 cent car at Reeve Chevrolet Company Saturday afternoon will have to invest more than eight times that much for license plates for it. One good thing, though, is that it will not take much to pay the excise tax when you buy the plates.

Hi School Hi Lites

By Judy Smith

Friday, bright and early, the band members left to go to contest at Borger. The students missed the entire day of school, and did not return until late Friday evening. The band had a second division rating in performance. Contest was tougher this year since we moved up to AA division.

Has anyone seen some poor soul wondering around sleepy and half conscious? If they have it is one of the juniors who hasn't recuperated from the banquet. Don't misunderstand; it was great fun, but oh, so exhausting!

Almost everyone enjoyed Dr. Freeman's talk on hard work; his talk was very enlightening as well as entertaining.

Congratulations to those students who placed in the interscholastic league contest! It took much effort on the part of those who went because of the conflicting things that happened on Saturday.

Speaking of the interscholastic league, Gwen Green and Tommy Lewelled did quite well. They won first, and did not even know until the afternoon they played that they were going to play. The girls will compete at regional in the latter part of April, as will Ronnie Wood (won first in singles) and Ronnie Castleberry who won second in doubles.

Many of the boys who went to the track meeting nearly didn't make it back for the banquet. The meet was at Crosbyton and the boys had to leave early to make it.

Once again that catastrophe of six weeks test has struck! On Wednesday and Thursday of this week the high school people all were given these tests.

The band members have begun working on the music department's banquet which is scheduled for May 9. The senior members of the band will plan the banquet, as is tradition.

The one-act play cast presented their play to high school last week. "The Valiant" was enjoyed by almost everyone.

This week has been national F. H. A. week. Friday was designated as clean-up day for the lockers at school. Remembering last year, it is doubtful that the halls will hold the debris and students too. The choir goes to contest at Canyon tomorrow; they have been working on their numbers for quite some time. Good luck!
