CISCO SCHOOL STAFF FILLED; 2 ARE NAMED

The faculty for the Cisco public schools has been completed with the election of Miss Helen Kopp, of Leonard, Texas, as high school home economics teacher, and that of Dr. G. C. Morris as teacher of music. It was announced this morning. Miss Kopp is a graduate of the College of Industrial Arts, at Denton. This position has been held open for some time, as Supt. J. J. Youngblood and the trustees have been careful to get one well qualified to fill this position.

COMMISSIONS AS POLICE ARE REVOKED

Commissions to special police prior to July 1 have been revoked by order of the chief of police, said Mayor J. M. Williamson this morning. This does not mean that those who may be commissioned as special police at any time previous to July 1 have no authority to function as police officers.

Raskob, New Democratic National Chairman, Listed as Republican in 'Who's Who; First Job at $1 Week

NEW YORK, July 12.—John J. Raskob, new chairman of the new national committee, is to be one of the leading financiers of the country from a dollar a week bookkeeper country town.
Raskob was born 49 years ago in West, N. Y. His mother was of French descent and his father's family came originally from Alsace. His father died while Raskob still young and so responsibility was placed on the country boy at an early age.
Raskob studied bookkeeping and stenography and got a job at $5 a week. He demanded $7.50 after six months and got it, but his next application for a raise was denied. Raskob decided to make a change. He heard that Pierre S. DuPont, who was running the street railways of Ohio, was in need of a secretary and he wrote to him, asking a salary of $1,000 a year. DuPont sent for the "country bookkeeper" at the terms asked. Raskob's rise was rapid. In coming to himself, the financier did not overlook the element of chance, but he believes it is something more than that to which his success is attributable.
"I may have been luck," he said in an interview recently in telling how he became a director in the General Motors corporation.

COTTONSEED CONSUMPTION SHOWS SLUMP

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The census bureau's report today stated that 4,562,237 tons of cottonseed were received at mill for the 11 months ending June 30, compared with 6,325,409 tons for the same period last year. During the same period this year there were 4,621,327 tons crushed with 6,238,114 last year.

TEXAS LIONS TO FRONT AT CONVENTION

DES MOINES, July 12.—One of the most unusual events of the International Lions' convention here was the appearance Wednesday of a four-page newspaper issued by members of the Texas delegation. It was said that this was the first time that a state delegation ever issued a newspaper at a Lions convention. The paper said that 61 Lions clubs had been organized in Texas this year under the direction of District Governor Rosenquest of Eastland, bringing the total to 101. The paper made the claim that this was more lunch service clubs than any organization had in any other state. Thirty-five of the Texas Lions clubs were organized in June.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR COTTON IN MORAN SECTOR

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Moore, who live eight miles northeast of Moran, were shopping in Cisco Wednesday. Mr. Moore says there has been a heavy acreage planted to cotton in his section on account of a partial failure in grain, owing to late frosts and dry weather. He says there are hundreds of acres in cotton in his community this year that have not been so planted in several years before. If no insects should interfere, prospects are for an unusually good crop. The stalks are now from a half-knee high to more than a knee high and show signs of heavy fruiting. The dry weather is not interfering with the growth as cotton is naturally a dry weather plant. If the price should be good he and his neighbors will think they struck it rich this year, provided of course, that the yield should come up to present prospects.

Sheep and Goat Industry of West Texas One of Greatest in U. S. and Should Be Protected, Lee Says

West Texas as a state, and the United States as a nation, are not as proud of the sheep and goat industry as they should be, according to R. Q. Lee, former president of the West Texas chamber of commerce, who is now engaged in the campaign for congress from the Seventeenth district. Lee himself has a large flock of goats and has produced much mohair upon his Stephens county ranch. He has made quite a study of the wool and mohair industry of the nation and it was during his administration as president of the West Texas chamber of commerce that he secured recognition of the importance of the sheep and goat industry by requiring that they be added to the lithographed letter-heads and other literature of the organization which hitherto had not recognized the sheep and goat man.

MRS. ROSS IS CHAIRMAN OF DEMO WOMEN

2 CISCOANS TO AID IN BAYLOR $2,000,000 DRIVE

WACO, July 12.—Every corner of Texas will be represented when more than 500 Baptists assemble in Waco Friday, July 20, to launch the Greater Baylor University campaign for $2,000,000. Attendees will include Baptist pastors, laymen and Baylor alumni. They will hear all campaign plans. Rev. A. C. Miller and H. V. Nigro, both of Cisco, will represent that territory at the meeting. Rev. Miller is a member of the convention committee of 100, selected by the Texas Baptist general convention in Waco June 5, to promote the campaign. Nigro was chosen at the same time to serve with the alumni committee of 100. Both are expected to be at the meeting. If $2,000,000 is raised, it means aggregate of $4,300,000 for Baylor university, with the two million dollar gift from Dallas and $600,000 from the general education board. The campaign will be used for retirement of indebtedness and to create additional endowment.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE TURNS GUNS ON 'After and ake

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The first gun in the Anti-Saloon League's battle against Governor Smith was sounded today by General Superintendent F. Scott McBride in a public statement predicting that "a condition worse than repeal" would follow if Smith is elected. McBride declared that a Smith victory would handicap law enforcement by the appointment of complaisant judges and would bring about a condition worse than repeal.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION IS RAISER OF IRE

Be One of Largest Ever Held

LUFEDERS, July 12.

Crowds that thronged the Baptist camp grounds on the banks of the Clear Fork of the Brazos at the first day of the camp meeting Wednesday indicated that the 1928 meeting will be one of the largest in point of attendance yet held. This optimistic view was expressed in the opening address of President Walter Jackson, when there was approximately 750 people on the grounds.
Special seats are reserved for the booster crowd, children between the ages of 7 and 14, and another section was reserved for young people above 14. W. R. Underwood of Albany, fourth vice president, chairman of the sanitation committee and police of the grounds, explained encampment regulations.
No Mixed Bathing
Study hours are each morning and the recreation period is from 3 to 6 o'clock each afternoon. Bathing will be from 6 to 7 o'clock a.m. and at no other time. Mr. Underwood said. He also said that there will be no mixed bathing and that bathers must wear adequate clothing over bathing suits, to end from the river.
Garbage cans have been provided in all sections of the camp and no fires or piles of garbage will be permitted, he pointed out. Garbage will be removed from the camp three times daily.
Col. R. L. Penick of Stamford, known as "the daddy of the encampment," praised the order of the encampment in past years, saying, "We do not have many rules, for I believe that 'He who is ruled least is ruled most.' The main rule of this large encampment is 'Do Right.'"
Scouts Direct Traffic
Col. Penick referred to the driving ordinances, requiring one-way drives, with Boy Scouts in charge of traffic. He said that during past four years, with the scouts in charge, there has not been a single accident at the encampment, "not a single fender smashed."
Miss Lillian Penick of Stamford, introduced by President Jackson as the "Power behind the throne" of the Y. W. A. girls, announced that the Y. W. A. hut will be finished today, and that at least 70 girls are expected at the hut. Mrs. Flournoy of Stamford is Y. W. A. hostess.
The main speaker of the evening was Dr. Millard A. Jenkins, pastor of the First Baptist church of Abilene. Dr. Jenkins said in part: "We are living in a noisy age, a day of hurry, and bustle. We sometimes wonder why our prayers are not answered. This is the reason: God speaks in a still, silent voice. We should shut out the noise of life and let in the whisper of God. If we are not expecting our prayers to be answered, they will never be." "God never disappoints expectant people. It is faith alone that fails us. Wait upon God. Be girdled for instant obedience to do the slightest indication of the Master's will."
"Out of the Rut"
"Man needs to change his cloak of life. Discard the old cloak of weariness and take on the cloak of the strength of the Lord."
"God help us to get out of the rut, for a rut is only a grave with both ends knocked out. If we wait upon Him as our souls dictate, we will be renewed in strength. Let the keynote of this encampment be 'Lead plant my feet on higher ground.'"

LOVE OF LIFE.

The famous Dr. Voronoff, who believes that with his gland treatment he can extend human life to 150 years, has been asking people whether they care to live that long, with negative results. Two-thirds of those questioned say they do not. Dr. Voronoff, however, doesn't believe them. "The love of life," he says, "is the most profound of human instincts. I have been guided by the knowledge that to every living person, young and old, rich and poor, healthy and diseased, life is sweet. There is something sacred in the way men cling to life, even under the most appalling circumstances. And all less profound considerations must give way before the irresistible and triumphant love of life." Generally speaking, this seems true.

CHIROPRACTIC IS RIGHT

In 40 states of the Union people who received HEALTH from the use of CHIROPRACTIC SERVICE, given as is given in this office, demanded and got legal recognition for Chiropractic, thereby assuring they could keep it and have it when needed by them in those states. There is no better demonstration and sound manifestation of people's satisfaction than for them to do such a thing.

In this office you get that same high class CHIROPRACTIC SERVICE. For I've been trained in CHIROPRACTIC in that sound way which provides knowledge and ability which can deliver that sort of CHIROPRACTIC SERVICE.

though suicides bring it into question, and old people are often found to be quite willing for the end. Health and happiness have a great deal to do with it. The animal side of man instinctively struggles to live. The mental side of him is something different. People who say they do not want to live beyond the normal human period are influenced by the knowledge that extreme age usually means helplessness and loneliness. But if they can have their life-term doubled without any more suffering than age brings now, and with friends and associates of their own generation preserved along with them, there should be no fear. It would only be repeating what has already occurred—the doubling of the average life period. It isn't length of years, though, that is of first importance. The essential thing is to live, to crowd one's time with experience, knowledge, thought, and the wisdom that should follow. We live to learn; and often the short-lived live and learn more than the long-lived.

WELL OFF.

It is the opinion of R. Arthur Wood, president of the Chicago Stock Exchange, that there was never a time when industry and commerce in the Middle West were so stable as they are today. "I believe it can rightly be claimed," he says, "that more people are saving money than has ever before been the case." If this is really true in the Middle West, it may be true in other sections of the country. It affords gratifying food for reflection as people start off on their summer vacations.

RUNNING MATES.

Another of the ways of an American with politics is the relative importance he attaches to the office of vice president during the campaign each year. The "running mate" or the "tail of the kite" is about the description of "the man on the dry goods box." To the field of candidates at a convention it resolves itself into a decision for or against "playing second fiddle" in the actual or alleged "party harmony" that must be created after the selection of a presidential nominee.

But a nominee for the vice presidency is a potential president of the United States. Either "Joe" Robinson or "Charlie" Curtis may be in the white house for 3 years, 11 months and 29 days by no other process than that of destiny crowding close upon the heels of those Americans who supported the "kite" with no thought of its "tail."

Many notable presidents reached the white house only by that process. The late "Tom" Platt believed he had submerged the popular

"Teddy" Roosevelt by the simple expediency of maneuvering him into the "second fiddle" place on the McKinley second term ticket. In the law of probabilities, what chance would Calvin Coolidge have had to be president seven years by the popular acclaim, machine politics and convention route? Chester A. Arthur was a similar illustration of overtrown "dope." He was a "balance" selected to restore equilibrium to a situation that had become vobly by the steadfastness of the "immortal 303" who were the Borahs, Reeds, Heflins and Norrises of their day and time. If they could have known their astrology, that man Arthur would have remained merely another delegate. In that instance, as in those of Tyler and Fillmore, the "second fiddlers" rose to the opportunity. In that of Vice President Johnson, the place left empty by the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, was poorly filled. It might as well be said that the country has been "lucky" in all of such instances except that one which affected the lives and for-

W. T. C. C. WILL TELL REST OF WORLD OF WEST TEXAS

First Goal, That of Selling Section to Other Parts of State, Realized in Ten Years, President Bourland Says

FORT WORTH, July 13.—The first goal of the West Texas chamber of commerce has been fully realized in the ten years of the organization's existence. West Texas has been advertised to the rest of Texas and the usefulness of the chamber's existence has been fully demonstrated to the people of West Texas themselves. From now on the chamber will enter on another and larger phase of work, that of selling West Texas, as a home or as a field of investment, to the rest of the United States.

This is the gist of a statement made here by A. M. Bourland, president of the organization.

"We have succeeded in selling West Texas to ourselves. The next step is that of interesting others in its possibilities," declared Bourland.

Firm Foundation

This enlargement of the work of the organization, together with the fact that there are now only about four cities in the entire western part of the state large enough to entertain the annual convention, will have a tendency to change the character of the annual gatherings. Bourland intimated.

"I am for anything that will make the West Texas chamber of commerce a better organization and make it better able to be of help in the development of West Texas," Bourland declared.

"During the last ten years we have built a firm foundation. There are many good features in the West Texas chamber of commerce, and possibly some features that need changing or strengthening.

"It is not my idea to make any necessary changes alone. In fact, I have the backing of many of the men of West Texas in putting over whatever changes are needed."

With reference to the annual convention, it was pointed out that in the future they will probably be less noisy, not just gatherings of bringing people together to have a good time, but that the business programs will be stressed to a larger extent. Development of the business function of the organization is essential if the chamber is to continue to fulfill its mission. The annual gatherings must take on a more serious, businesslike atmosphere, Bourland believes.

Select Committees

The only cities that are large enough to be hosts to these yearly meetings are Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, El Paso and Waco, the president said. While Vernon, Lubbock or Abilene might like to be hosts to the organization, they are unable to do so, on account of the tremendous size to which these gatherings have grown. It required the entire hotel capacities of Fort Worth to entertain the last convention, Bourland pointed out.

All standing committees for the year have been selected, but names have been withheld pending acceptance by those chosen. The committee members were selected by Bourland, Howard D. Wade, manager, and other leading West Texans from among those especially fitted to solve the problems their committees will have to face.

Organization plans will be studied by the board of directors at a meeting to be held July 16 at Coleman.

506,000 BUSHELS WHEAT IS HANDLED AT AMARILLO

AMARILLO, July 12.—More than 500,000 bushels of new Panhandle wheat, equivalent to $700,000 in money, was handled through the Amarillo grain market Tuesday.

Railroads in Amarillo Tuesday night reported 449 cars, or 500,000 bushels of the new crop, shipped into the city for the day. In addition, there was train after train of wheat passing through Amarillo en route to other concentration centers such as Wichita, Kan., and Port Worth.

The effect of the Panhandle's new grain crop, which is turning out in yield far better than expected a week ago, is already being reflected in bank deposits. One Amarillo bank alone Tuesday showed an increase of almost $1,000,000 in the past eight days or since the market officially opened. The city's five banks show a gain of $2,285,600 in deposits for the past week.

MILK-FED PIG DEFEATS MATE, 269 LBS. TO 70

COLORADO, July 12.—William Griffith, 4-H club member of Lorraine, has just completed a four-months test in which a balanced ration was compared to an unbalanced ration in feeding hogs.

Griffith's club pig which was fed milk, ground maize and a commercial pig feed, weighed 269 pounds at six months of age while the other pig, which was from the same litter but fed maize and kitchen slop, weighed only seventy pounds at the same age.

The club pig gained three pounds per day during the last fourteen days of the feeding period and the cost of a pound of pork was 5.3c a pound.

There are 150 boys taking 4-H club work in Mitchell county and approximately half of them are specializing in feeding a market pig. Club work in this county is in charge of County Agent W. S. Foster.

MORAN FARMER PROFITS FROM SWARM OF BEES

MORAN, July 12.—Z. C. Wagley, who lives on his ranch 6 miles southwest of town reports that he has had good luck with honey bees. Mr. Wagley states that three years ago a swarm of bees decided to make their home in his barn, and last week he robbed them for honey. After he had completed the robbery he was elated to find that he had gotten 86 pounds of fine honey.

The bees had settled between a partition in the barn. One slab of honey covered a foot board about three feet long, and was well sealed.

LIFE'S GREAT GAMBLE

AN AIR PILOT WHO CARRIED MAIL FROM NEW YORK TO CLEVELAND WAS KILLED.

ON HIS PERSON WERE FOUND LETTERS ADDRESSED "TO MY BELOVED BROTHER PILOTS AND PALS" AND MARKED "TO BE OPENED ONLY AFTER MY DEATH." THIS WAS HIS MESSAGE:

"I go west, but with a cheerful heart. I hope what small sacrifice I have made may be of use to the cause. When we fly we are fools, they say. When we are dead we weren't half bad fellows. But everyone in this wonderful aviation service is doing the world far more good than the public appreciates. We risk our necks, we give our lives, we perfect a service for the benefit of the world at large. They, mind you, are the ones who call us fools. But stick to it, boys. I'm still very much with you all. See you again."

Young people, are you living as this young man lived? Business men, are you living like this youth who carried your mail? Christians, is your religion as real as this young man's?

Jesus lived like this youth, and from Him he most likely got this vision of life. Why not help the Church spread this kind of living?

NOTICE, VISITORS!

Don't think that because you are away from home you are away from friends--there are many friendly churches in Cisco and Eastland county, all denominations. They extend to you a cordial invitation to attend their services.

HOOPER TO BE GIVEN RELEASE FROM CABINET

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 12.—President Coolidge intends to accept the resignation of Secretary Herbert Hoover from the cabinet, leaving the nominee free to engage in his electoral campaign for the presidency unhampered by the duties which the commerce department would impose on him.

The exact date when the resignation will be made effective was said at the White House not to have been decided upon. It is understood, however, that this will depend chiefly upon the selection of a suitable successor to Hoover.

The chief executive and the Republican nominee will discuss the matter Monday when Hoover will visit the summer white house. Coolidge, however, already has made up his mind not to ask Hoover to remain in the cabinet during the campaign.

No date has been set for acceptance of Secretary Work's resignation. Numerous names have been highly recommended to Coolidge for both forthcoming vacancies in the cabinet, and although the chief executive as yet has reached no definite choice, he rapidly is thinning down possible candidates for the posts.

WORKERS ARE CLOSELY GROUPED WITH DRIVE NEARING END

Contestants Interrupted Last Week by Holiday Have Chance Now to Amass Lead of Points

The Daily News and Weekly American country wide subscription drive is coming to a close with a number of workers running in the race for the most points as nearly even as even can be. This week will no doubt tell a different story. The workers who make a good showing for subscriptions for the week by Saturday night, will no doubt have a better standing next week, the last week of the campaign. The drive closes Saturday, July 21.

The 600,000 points to be doubled for each new one year subscription to the Weekly American and subscriptions to the Daily News to count as two years for the extra double points, four three months or two six months to count as one year from the offer this week. The double points will be issued to the workers for every year that they or their friends have sent in for every week of the drive. The repeat points will be a big item with the leaders. This week ends the opportunity to secure the high points. The points offered for subscriptions the last week of the drive will be for less.

Many of the workers almost gave up the race last week and turned in the smallest amount of returns for subscriptions that have been made during any other week of the drive. The Fourth got in the way of everyone and it was a week's holiday, almost, instead of one day. This week the home stretch of the race is on. The last lap is being made and the workers who have had determination to win will make the best effort to secure subscriptions and gain the high points and be counted as winners of the two Chevrolet cars and all of the many awards that will be made after the close of the drive.

RAIN IS NEEDED BY LAMPASAS CROPS BADLY

Writing to the Cisco American and Roundup, George W. Barr, Cisco Civil War veteran, who is spending some time in Lampasas and other counties in that section of the state, says everything is exceedingly dry and rain is badly needed. He says:

"Small grain has been harvested and threshed. Oats averaged about 25 bushels per acre, and there was a large acreage. Wheat harvested around 15 to 20 bushels per acre, but corn will be short if it doesn't rain within a few days. Cotton planted early looks very well but is late. Oats are retailing at 50 cents per bushel, wheat from $1 to $1.25, but there has not been much wheat raised in this section, which includes the counties of Brown, Mills, Lampasas and Hamilton. Hamilton county has the best crops I have seen since I left Eastland county, but the general cry is short crops of every kind.

"In politics no one seems to know which way the cat is going to jump. One hears more talk about Wardlaw than any other candidate for governor. Most everyone I meet is in favor of him.

"When Dan Moody came out for attorney general I was a strong supporter of his candidacy for that office, but when he fell for the K. K. K. or the Klan fell for him, I quit him like a 'steer in the road.' The way his friends quit him on his proposed amendments should have convinced him that the voters have repudiated him. The way it appears to me is that 'Dan's the man' that's going to be defeated this year.

"Well, I took in the convention o. k. by radio. Wasn't it funny? One man said 'the convention was in Texas, but Texas wasn't in the convention.' It seemed like. Dan wanted to get out of the Union. However, I guess it will come out all right in the primaries, for it seems that our West Texas candidates will get their share of the votes down this way."

SEAGOVILLE MAN PLANTS SECOND POTATO CROP

Two crops of potatoes off the same patch in one summer is the objective of E. E. Turner, manager of the M. E. Jones farm on Highway No. 40, a few miles north of Seagoville. Last week Mr. Turner harvested twenty-five bushels off a small patch and Monday he was planting some of the same potatoes back for the second crop, which he expects to be ready for the early fall market. Mr. Jones, who has business interests in South America, left Monday for that continent to be gone several months.

Mr. Jones has owned this farm of 100 acres for sixteen months and last winter completed an eight-room brick veneer home. He has about twenty-five acres of fruit orchards, mostly peaches. Mr. Turner expects to raise bushels of corn on sixty acres this summer. He grows nearly a kind of field and garden that will grow in this section of the country.

OF A SOCIAL NATURE

Prize of Cisco Couple
A pleasant surprise took place Sunday morning when the prize of Miss Cora Rupe and the prize of Mrs. J. G. Rupe was solemnized at the Presbyterian church of Eastland. The bride was lovely in pink white, while the groom looked handsome in a dark suit, both of which were appropriate for the occasion. The ceremony was held at 10 o'clock and the bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for a honeymoon trip to the coast and other points along the coast which they will reach about the middle of the month. Miss Rupe is a daughter of Mrs. J. G. Rupe of 605 Broadway, and at the time of marriage was employed as a stenographer in the department of Mr. McGregory. She is employed by the Acorn Store, Inc., of Cisco. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. McGregory of Abilene.

The hostess served an ice course to the following guests: Mesdames C. C. Clifton, John Ducker, C. C. Moore, Joe Hanrahan, W. W. Wallace, W. J. Armstrong, O. C. Cope, W. K. Essen, Reggie Henderson, Bob Carswell, Jack Kelly, and Miss Mayme Davis.

'Winter Gardens' of Texas Visited by Ciscoans Who Praise It; Camp Martin of Boy Scouts Is Inspected

Judge Eugene Lankford and A. M. Mitchell, have just returned from an auto trip to the "Winter Gardens" of Texas—the Catarina country. Going down, Judge Lankford said, they stopped at Camp Martin, and took dinner Sunday with the Eastland county Boy Scouts, in camp at that place.

"Camp Martin is a wonderful natural camp ground," Judge Lankford said, "where the James empties into the Llano river, where the Scouts have an ideal swimming pool in the river, whose waters are as pure as ice and as clear as crystal. The Scouts have a combination mess hall, kitchen and commissary, under one roof, situated in a beautiful natural grove of pecans, overlooking the river.

"The officers seem to have the Scouts under better discipline than was the case while they were in camp last year. The arrangements of the camp are far superior to last year. All of the boys in camp are well and happy. One or two had slight bilious attacks, but first aid treatment put them in shape overnight.

"The camp is situated in the middle of a big ranch, in the midst of a great pecan grove, and gives the Scouts an opportunity to see and study all kinds of wild life, from deer to gila monster. In ages past this spot must have been the undeveloped emprise that could feed the world and the surplus would fatten every hog raised in America. "We visited Frank Nickel, who is living at Catarina, where he is prospering in the occupation of drilling water wells for those people. Water is plentiful, and some of it is artesian at below 200 feet. Mitchell owns property there and so does J. M. Heist, of Putnam.

"There is no limit to the agricultural possibilities of that section if energetic and intelligent application is applied to its development."

"From Camp Martin we proceeded to Catarina, and I was amazed at the wonderful undeveloped resources of that section. Catarina is located on the Taft ranch, which has been cut up and sold in small tracks. The only obstacle to that section's prosperity is the curse of absentee landlords, which has retarded much of the development of the Southwest. People come into those sections and buy the lands for speculative purposes, and never develop the natural resources. That section is an undeveloped emprise that could feed the world and the surplus would fatten every hog raised in America. "We visited Frank Nickel, who is living at Catarina, where he is prospering in the occupation of drilling water wells for those people. Water is plentiful, and some of it is artesian at below 200 feet. Mitchell owns property there and so does J. M. Heist, of Putnam.

RANGER, July 13.—L. E. Moyer, attorney for the Redpath-Horner chautauqua of Kansas City, was in Ranger Wednesday conferring with local business men in regard to reaching some form of settlement for the unpaid contract which brought the chautauqua here for a week's engagement two weeks ago.

Moyer was in conference this morning with those whose names appear on the contract, which holds a $29 liability clause for each of the 52 names. Other than to say that the situation was uncomfortable and that he believed a settlement could be reached, Moyer had nothing to say in regard to the contract.

North Grayson County, Once Knew Cotton Only, Now Grows Fruits, Nuts, Melons, Truck

DENISON, July 12.—Two years ago the Denison school board launched a co-operative move in the interest of agriculture, poultry and livestock in this immediate territory. Services of A. C. Casey were secured as teacher of vocational education in the public schools and agricultural representative of the chamber of commerce.

At first it was difficult to organize an agriculture class in the schools, but once one was started, students fairly flocked into the class, and on the second term the class was so large it was necessary to divide it into two sections. Experiments were started with students acting as farmers and livestock tenders, and the experimental stage has now passed and profits from the effort have been realized.

The Denison territory, like many other places in Texas, was practically a one-crop cotton district. Through the direction of Mr. Casey farmers were advised to diversify their crops, this being an excellent country for fruits, peanuts, melons, truck of all kinds. High school students were taught to terrace lands, cull chickens, judge dairy stock, grade cotton and similar work.

Using Fertilizer. Three years ago only ten tons of commercial fertilizer were placed on farm lands around Denison. A year later seventeen tons were used and this year sixty-one. This is a part of the program of truck and diversified farming.

Melons grown here brought the highest market prices last year when a market was established through a co-operative measure. This year the crop has been doubled and a market secured. The melons bear labels from the local farm association and are sought in Northern and Eastern markets.

Cucumbers were formerly raised on a small scale for local markets. This year it is estimated from five to seven carloads of cucumbers will be handled from Denison, something unheard of here.

Tomatoes this year were planted to the amount of 500,000 plants, and a market secured for their shipment in carlots.

Irish potatoes and other crops were late in their start on account of cold weather, however, a large acreage was planted.

There is an abundance of fine grapes near Denison, and more have been planted in the last two years than ever before. Nearly every farm has grapes, and there are a number of places where grapes are the chief product.

Grapes from this county are shipped to many markets and this season will see one of the largest crops ever harvested.

In order to receive the proper cooperation and marketing meetings are held weekly in Denison with farmers having their own officers and transacting their own business affairs, assisted by Mr. Casey and the chamber of commerce.

The vocational educational program has increased and will spread over a wider territory next year, for it has evidence of assisting to give farmers fifty-two pay days a year instead of only one from the cotton crop.

Twenty years ago a registered milk cow was a rarity near Denison; now there are many herds of registered dairy cows. It has been proved that dairying and poultry as well as hogs go hand in hand with farming to make profits.

Denison plans to build a cannery to take care of a part of the fruit and berry crops grown locally.

Poultry Interest Grows. The poultry business has seen a big boom to North Grayson county and the landscape around Denison is dotted with "laying" houses for pure-bred hens.

Not only are farmers turning to poultry raising but railroad men, employees who work at railroad duties eight hours a day, are giving attention to poultry for their extra hours of time at home. Many railroad men have their own cow, hen and hog.

One farmer harvested 1,000 pounds of wool from his sheep near Denison this spring and along the Red river farmers are planning to put sheep on their farms.

Paper-shell pecans, also are adding to the pay days for the farmers of Grayson county who are co-operating and turning waste lands into profit.

Candidates to Be Given Chance to Reach Eastland Co. Voters in Daily News Political Edition

Candidates seeking office in Eastland county, from constable to congress, will be given the opportunity to reach many thousands of voters through the political edition of The Cisco Daily News of Monday, July 23, five days before the Democratic primary. The paper will be open to all candidates who will be allowed to tell the voters why they feel that they should be elected to office.

The date of the political edition will be especially favorable to the candidates. The News will have finished a subscription campaign that will place the paper before several thousand more readers every day, in addition to the several thousand that took it previously. Then, too, the primary will be but five days away, and the candidates' messages will still be fresh in the minds of the voters when they go to the polls.

The political edition will be strictly impartial and of benefit to the voters as well as to the candidates. The Democratic men and women may not have the opportunity to meet all the candidates and they will want to know something about the men and women who are seeking their votes. The announcements in the edition will tell them much.

Candidates should send in their advertising copy at once, with check attached.

TEXAS COTTON ACREAGE MORE THAN YEAR

AUSTIN, July 12.—Texas acreage of July 1 was placed at 366,000 acres in the United States department of agriculture for the state, released by H. H. Shultz, federal surveyor and crop statistician.

Only 16,850,000 acres were planted last year. The average yield is 16.85 pounds to the acre.

"Bringing the Texas cotton stand this year has been made up," Shultz said. "Replacement of excessive rains, severe winds, and the expenditure of a great deal of extra labor and money, June, some of the southern western counties were need badly, but many others, particularly over the eastern part of the state, had too much moisture."

"The cotton hopper is more plentiful than last year and is throughout the fields in all counties. Lice have multiplied since the rains."

Strawberries Found Profitable by Albert Gentry; Six Cows Add $35 Weekly to Basham's Income

Harpersville boasts of many progressive farmers, most of whom combine truck farming, dairying and other raising with their staple crop. Albert Gentry is one of the aggressive farmers of the Harpersville community who has branched in other lines than cotton. But most of the farmers in that community cotton has ceased to be a principal crop, though most of them plant a few acres in cotton. Gentry, several years ago, began a culture of strawberries, and last year realized sufficient from the sale of his berries and other truck crops to pay the operating expenses of his farm, as his sales amounted to $1,000 from these alone, besides his other crops. He has three acres of strawberries this year, from which he realized a nice income. Gentry owns a fertile farm of 440 acres, 250 of which are in pasture for his livestock. He has in addition 150 acres, of which 105 are in grain sorghums; 10 in corn; 10 in cotton; three in sweet potatoes; and three in strawberries. He is interested in a milk plant, and says he would buy additional acres to add to his farm as soon as there was a market for his milk. He is only now two cows at present—just what to supply milk and butter for his family—but has already decided to improve his herd as he has registered Jersey cow and others are good grade stock, and he has a head of cows that would be suitable for milking soon. Basham is another progressive farmer in the Harpersville community. Although a tenant farmer, he finds it pays to diversify. He is cultivating 85 acres on the R. A. farm, and while his cotton crop is considerably larger than average Harpersville farmer, he is neglecting his feed and other crops as he says it is more profitable to put all the eggs in one basket. In addition to the land he has in cotton he has reserved 75 in pasture, as he says he finds grass for summer pasture and now has eight acres up to a pretty stand. Native grass is providing an abundant pasture during the spring months.

Mr. Williams said that it looked to him as though if he had about ten good cows he could do pretty well financially. He added, however, that the per farm production must be increased. The present cost of feed is so high that the individual production must be increased if the farmers are to make money.

This fall Mr. Williams plans to plant enough bundle feed to supply him through the winter months and then will trade the larger part of his cotton seed for meal and hulls, in order to have the best and cheapest dairy feed through the winter months.

Such machinery is already here

Work will proceed faster on Cisco's new hotel with the arrival today of a piece of machinery, commonly known as the orange peel bucket, to be used in excavation. It should have reached Cisco several days ago and the delay in its arrival consequently caused the preliminary work at hotel site at D avenue and Fourth street to lag, according to J. F. Brown, supervisor of construction for the Bellow-Maclay Construction Co., contractors.

The air compressor, derrick, tractor and other machinery have been on the ground awaiting the arrival of the orange peel bucket, and now short work will be made on the excavation for the foundation of Cisco's new $400,000 hotel, which will have 110 sleeping rooms, each with a bath, and will contain five floors of guest rooms, the main or ground floor, the mezzanine floor and roof garden, making a total of eight floors.

ICEBREAKER IS CARRYING ON IN RESCUE WORK

MOSCOW, July 13.—Fresh wireless advices from the Russian icebreaker Krassin today showed that the soviet Noble relief committee was in error yesterday when it announced that the body of Dr. Finn Malmgren had been taken aboard the ship. Malmgren was left in a critical condition on Brock Island some time ago and there is no hope held now that he is still alive. After having saved Mariano and Zappi from lingering deaths, the Krassin today was pushing forward in further rescue work.

MILK SALES FOUND MORE PROFITABLE THAN BUTTER

(From the Marshall News.)

A Harrison county farmer who has been milking twelve cows has been selling on an average of $58.00 worth of butter a week. When the new milk plant started he determined to try out the matter of seeing which was the more profitable—making butter or selling the milk. At the end of the first week he asked for a statement from the milk plant and found he had to his credit $51.80. Not only did this mean that his cows had paid him $15.80 more per week by selling to the milk plant but he and his family had been relieved of the taking care of the milk, the churning, and the marketing of the butter. His wife says a perfectly good churn can be bought at a bargain at her home.

BAPTIST FIGHT AT DALLAS TO BE ARBITRATED

DALLAS, July 12.—Adjustment of the alleged difference in specifications of the two-thirds completed Fundamental Baptist church tabernacle in a Dallas residence district with those required by the city building code will be left temporarily to the church and the city building inspector.

By agreement of attorneys for the church, protesting property holders and the court decision of District Judge Towne Young scheduled for Wednesday as to whether the temporary restraining order against erection of the tabernacle should be made permanent was continued indefinitely.

Convinced that they would be in contempt of court if they took such action at the present time, members of the city commission refused to grant another building permit today. It was indicated that a permit for the present temporary structure, good for 12 months, would be granted provided all court litigation is dismissed by agreement.

The restraining order, which caused the imprisonment for five days of Rev. Earl Anderson, pastor of the church, for contempt of court, and brought a halt to construction on the building last Friday after women and boys had taken up the task left incomplete by the removal of men workers from their posts, will continue in effect until an agreement is reached.

CONATSER PAL GRANTED STAY FOR 30 DAYS

AUSTIN, July 12.—Believed insane from worry and death cell fear, Bill Smith, scheduled for execution early Saturday for participation in the murder of a Fisher county sheriff and his deputy, was granted a 30-day reprieve by Governor Moody.

The governor telephoned his decision from Corpus Christi to J. D. Hall, assistant secretary, after two state hospital superintendents had reported that Smith is unbalanced.

The alienists said the convict has become mad since sentence was passed on him, that "he is in a deplorable mental condition and should not be executed while in such condition." They declare that "for humanity's sake, he should be removed from the death cell without delay."

Smith probably will be taken to Jones county, where he was tried, for a sanity hearing.

Commutation of the sentence was not recommended, but the doctors thought he should be confined in an asylum for treatment. Lloyd Conatser, also convicted in the killings, was given 99 years.

Smith's position has been unusually unsettled. After the first examination, the physicians in a tentative report said he apparently was sane. Governor Moody then announced he expected to allow no additional clemency.

SHE'S STYLISH "Of course you're madly in love now, but do you think she's a girl that will wear?" "Very little."
