CHARGE FILED AGAINST DRIVER OF WILD AUTO

A complaint was filed in Justice Donald's court late Monday afternoon against John Thompson, in which he is charged with reckless driving. Thompson is the man who said to have run down Constable Moore late Saturday night, in which Moore was rather seriously injured. Justice McDonald stated that Thompson had not been arrested, and so far as he had been to ascertain his whereabouts is known. Reports from the Looney home this morning stated that he was considerably improved, and was able to sit up much of the time.

A call was issued Tuesday by F. A. Blankenbecker, Republican county chairman of Eastland county, for precinct conventions to be held throughout the county at 4 p. m. Saturday, July 28. The county convention will be held in the Eastland city hall at 4 p. m. Saturday, August 4, one week later. At the precinct conventions delegates will be chosen to the county convention at which a county ticket will be selected and delegates and alternates chosen to the state convention to be held at Fort Worth August 14. A state ticket will be selected, a platform adopted, a state chairman and 31 members of the Republican state executive committee chosen at the Fort Worth convention.

The precinct conventions will be open to all qualified voters, regardless of previous political affiliations, who believe in the principles of the great "log cabin" party, and will support in good faith the nominees of its national convention. The various chairmen will post notices of the places where these conventions are to be held. The county convention of August 4 will send 4 delegates and the same number of alternates to the state convention.

The West Cisco precinct convention will be held at the city hall and the East Cisco meeting at the Hilgenberg Tire Co. store.

DOG AND HARE CHASE CAUSES CAR SMASH-UP

An auto crash of unusual and peculiar causation, and somewhat disastrous in results, is reported to have occurred a few days ago, on Bankhead highway, east of Cisco. In this crash two cars were more or less damaged, a rabbit and a dog were killed, but no human was hurt. As these cars were approaching a dog chased a rabbit across the highway. The first car struck the rabbit, causing the car to careen across the highway. The second car struck the canine population when it struck the dog that was chasing the rabbit, and it was deflected in its course, coming in collision with the other machine. Result: One rabbit, one dog, killed; two cars smashed and two men badly frightened. All because the dog chased the rabbit. The names of the drivers could not be learned.

The XXth Century club, sponsors of the Cisco public library, is building a temporary home to house the library on the lots owned by that club in the 200 block on West Sixth street. "This is only intended as a temporary library building, as the club has plans for a more elaborate home in the near future," one of the leading members of the club stated this morning.

J. H. Latson has the contract for the present building, which will be 15 by 30 feet, into which the library will be moved as soon as completed, probably by the first of next week. The library, at present, is located in the city hall, but it was understood that its location there was only until other quarters could be provided.

The XXth Century club owns a beautiful site, where the temporary building is being erected, which the club has held in reserve for the permanent home of the library in several years. When the permanent home is built this building can easily be removed to give place for a more substantial building, and one that all Cisco will be proud of.

BOY BITTEN BY BIG RAT IS IN SERIOUS SHAPE

HOUSTON, July 17.—Bitten in more than a dozen places by a large wood rat while he slept, Marcellus Lowe, 9, was reported by physicians to be in a critical condition today. The boy, who was sleeping on a porch last night, was awakened by the animal which he thought was his dog. He was severely bitten before he could fight the rat off. Physicians warned the family to take precautions against rabies.

2 ARRESTED IN THEFT OF CAR FROM CISCOAN

The car, reported to have been stolen from Mrs. Lula Bridgett Monday, has been located and two men have been arrested, according to a message from Sheriff O'Bar, at Abilene, to the Cisco police. Sheriff O'Bar stated that the thieves had dismantled the sedan by removing the body, which they left in a canyon near Abilene, and had taken the chassis into town and were working on it when the officers arrived. Both of the men were placed under arrest, and the Cisco police notified. Armed with warrants of arrest for Bill Hendricks and Louis Cochran, "Tub" Wilson left Cisco early this morning for Abilene to bring the pair back to Cisco where complaints are pending in Justice McDonald's court, charging them with automobile theft.

Wurzbach Faction Will Do Some Bolting of Its Own in Texas and Turn from Hoover to Al Smith

PORT WORTH, July 17.—White and negro Republican voters of Texas, belonging to the Wurzbach faction, and whose number leaders claim is close to 250,000, will bolt their party and vote for Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, it was declared here Monday by J. M. O'Hara, organization manager for the Republican state committee and W. M. (Goosenick) Bill McDonald, political leader among Texas negroes.

O'Hara in a statement issued charges that "patronage peddling in Texas overshadows by far that which has been developed in connection with the Republican investigations in Georgia," and that "the Texas Republican organization under the domination of R. B. Croger of Brownsville is nothing more than a patronage organization and the methods used to collect money to sustain it are highly illegal and bordering on strong-arm tactics."

Discussion of the number of voters claimed by the Wurzbach faction, which leaders placed at close to 250,000, brought forth comment on the total Republican votes in recent elections which were as follows: In the election of 1912, 73,329; in 1916, 100,000; in 1920, 120,000; in 1924 when the Texas Republicans made their biggest record, 294,970; in 1926 the figures dropped to 31,531. O'Hara organized a pre-convention fight in Texas against the nomination of Hoover and proposes to carry the fight to a conclusion in the November election in behalf of Smith.

PARIS WOULD HAVE ANTI-WAR PACT SIGNING

PARIS, July 17.—It was reported this afternoon that Foreign Minister Briand will issue invitations to the world powers to meet in Paris to sign the American anti-war treaty.

DALLAS, July 17.—The statewide meeting of anti-Smith Democrats got under way today amid a salvo of cheers as former State Senator V. A. Collins, delivering the opening address, branded Governor Al Smith, the party's presidential nominee, as a "traitor to the constitution" and added "We are here for the sole purpose of starting a statewide campaign to carry Texas for Herbert Hoover and to defeat Al Smith." About 400 were in attendance at the meeting.

Harmony Reigned at Directorate Session W. T. C. of C.; Wade Re-elected at $10,000 Per Year

The Cisco delegation and directors attending the first quarterly session of the West Texas chamber of commerce, held at Coleman Monday, on their return to Cisco reported one of the most harmonious sessions yet held by the organization of that body. Devoid of even an undercurrent of discord, or an intimation of threatened opposition, the present administration was fully endorsed with the reelection of Homer D. Wade as manager for the 1928-29 term, and his staff, as appointed, was approved. No suggestion of any reorganization plan was made, they stated, or contemplated by the directorate. However, the committee on by-laws was instructed to make such suggestions as it thought wise to be adopted as amendments to the by-laws, and to report its suggestions to the next meeting of the directorate for consideration.

PARIS WOULD HAVE ANTI-WAR PACT SIGNING

The directors went on record as favoring a constitutional convention for the purpose of drafting a new Texas instrument, establishing an equitable water rights policy and readjusting the present system of taxation. Walter Cline, representing the Wichita Falls area, from whence the major criticism against the policies of the West Texas chamber of commerce was fostered, gave full endorsement to the present management of the body and expressed satisfaction in the annual

Continued preparations of the grounds that surround Legion hall are under way to have everything in readiness for the big celebration that will be staged in the air day affair of John William Butts post, American Legion, here July 25, for the flag-raising and dedication of the Legion home. The indications are that Cisco will be filled with candidates that day, as most of the state candidates have been invited, and all the district and county candidates have been sent notices of the celebration. "We have heard from practically everyone to whom we sent invitations, and all have responded with acceptances, saying they will be present, either in person or by representation," said Adjutant Yates, of the local post.

THE CARELESS KILLER.

Not long ago three little children ran joyously down their front steps and along the path to the sidewalk. The occasion of their running joyously was that they saw their mother approaching from across the street.

Of course the driver of the killer car was sorry; he wouldn't have killed that woman for anything had he thought about it in advance. But he hadn't thought about it; so he had taken from three little children the only mother they had, and he had given them the terrible experience of seeing her slaughtered.

Wouldn't this be a wonderful world if folks wouldn't take a chance on doing the other fellow damage? Wouldn't it be a splendid place to live in if everyone would measure what he does in terms of what might result to the other chap?

"My God!" said the man whose wife had been killed by the careless autoist. "Just for the sake of indulging his desire for speed he killed my wife. Just think of it! That rate of speed really meant nothing to him. There was nothing vital to him in his going so fast."

MYSTERY.

The spectacular disappearance of Captain Lowenstein, the Belgian Croesus, continues a mystery as engrossing as fiction, or more so. What a great situation for a novel or film! Few authors, though, would have dared to take such liberties with reality as seem to have been taken in this case.

CEMETERY PETTING.

The Association of American Cemetery Superintendents discusses seriously the subject of petting in cemeteries. The parking of auto parties for petting purposes has become such a nuisance that city cemeteries with fences and gates have taken to closing their domains against the public in the late afternoons.

WANTED—A CELL.

The district attorney at Fresno, Cal., received an odd request the other day. It was a letter from a citizen who wanted to be "framed" and sent to the penitentiary for life. The citizen evidently was not crazy.

He was merely old and poor, and wanted to get into some place where he could be assured of food and shelter for the rest of his life. He is 83. He had been a night watchman and had lost his job. He went to Chicago to live with his son, but his son's wife didn't want him around, so he hitch-hiked back to Fresno.

NO HIGHWAY POSTERS.

Ohio's state highway director has ordered the removal of all political posters from state highways and directed that none shall be placed along such routes in the future. He points out that plastering the roadsides with such posters greatly lessens the value of the warning and guide signs which have been set up at great cost for the benefit of motorists.

WORK WORTH WHILE.

Gilbert Frankau, author of several successful English novels, gives up his profession for something more worth while. "Writing books is a good hobby or a pleasant occupation for a woman," he explains, "but for a man with any ambition it is far too small a thing. I am 44 years old, and feel it is time I did something else."

Indications are that the northern tier of counties of the Texas panhandle will produce this year more than 4,500,000 bushels.

GUTTER IS SET AFIRE BY AUTO LEAKING GAS

EASTLAND, July 17.—All of a sudden, Saturday afternoon the peaceful street in front of the Connelley theatre was changed into an almost movie-like activity, when an old touring car, which had quietly been dripping its gasoline contents into the gutter, for evidently a long time, suddenly burst into flames in front of the magazine shop, and presto, the gutter, which unnoticed had become a river of gasoline, was suddenly a river of fire, with high leaping flames.

CIRCULATION RACE IS CLOSE AS END NEARS

FREE COUPONS MUST BE "IN" BY THURSDAY

The last published standing of the workers in the Cisco Daily News and Weekly American and Roundup subscription drive, before the drive comes to a close, show that the race is still a close one and with the reserve points to be counted there is not a wide margin of difference in points the workers have at this time. There is every evidence that when the race closes Saturday night and all the points are counted there is not going to be a great deal of difference with many of the leaders at this time.

Many of the workers will realize that just a few more subscriptions would have secured the points that would have put them over the greater number of points so they could have won the better prizes.

The workers are invited to call at the Daily News office Thursday afternoon or night and turn in their last coupons and subscriptions they way have secured for this week.

Second paid subscriptions, subscribers who will pay the second time and move up their date to a future one, will gain for the workers the most points. The second payments would give all the points that were given on the first paid subscription, plus 600,000 extra points for the second payment. Workers who will go over their territory and make their last appeal to their friends will no doubt be the successful ones to win the better prizes. The drive will close Saturday night.

SYNOPSIS
Chuck White, member of a gang leader, has fallen in love with Rose, a lovely cabaret dancer. The Professor, believing Rose knows the whereabouts of $200,000 mysterious money stolen from the Mercer National Bank, corners her in a lonely room where she has been staying. Chuck and his supposed "aunt," suspecting Chuck of double-crossing, the remainder of the gang overpower him and force him on a train. Chuck manages to escape and reaches the cottage just in time to save Rose from the Professor's awful desires. He frees and the Professor sinks to the ground.

A little cry escaped Rose's lips as she stared at the crumpled figure on the floor. Then, as the meaning of all these sayings and events flashed through her mind she suddenly knew the truth—or at least that she could only believe to be the truth. Chuck had thought all the time that she had taken that money from the satchel! His love? had been a shallow pretence, a later face. From start to finish he had betrayed her, fooled her, lied with her!

Chuck, realizing that Rose believed the Professor, realizing that the actions of the afternoon had done little to strengthen her trust in him, tried to plead with her. "Rose, Rose, honey, listen! I love you, I do love you, Rose." He suddenly he jumped up, grabbed the little fellow, lifting him to his feet and tried to embrace her, but she only pushed him away. "Lies, lies, lies!" she cried. "All lies, no, Rose. Please listen to me, Chuck was frantic in his effort to try to convince the girl of his sincerity. But Rose was too blinded by the light to see or hear anything. She fled from the room and fled to the stairs, her broken sobs ringing pitifully. Still calling her name, Chuck turned to follow down the steps she went, stopping only for an instant to snatch a coat from the hall rack as she ran out into the night, Chuck weary, rain-soaked figure straggled into the little railroad station Meadowvale. Silently Rose seated herself on the hard wooden bench in the waiting room. The double-bellied stove in the corner of black and disconsolate, the city coal scuttle beside it attest to its disuse. Near it a box of B, mottled with dark spots, and a spittoon. Behind the bench several large crates and a dozen milk cans waited for the train out. A dismal, smoking lamp cast but a faint erratic glow over the room.

STATE AD VALOREM TAX RATE CUT THREE CENTS BY BOARD

'SUIT' OFFERED BY MAYFIELD IS JOKE TO RIVAL

AUSTIN, July 17.—Congressman Tom Connally, candidate for the United States senate, provoked laughter and applause with a verbal pass at his opponent, Senator Earle B. Mayfield, in the latter's home town here Monday night.

HARPERVILLE

The 4-H club of Harpersville, with the other 4-H clubs of Stephens county, met in their annual entertainment at Lovers' Retreat for a two days' outing.

AUSTIN, July 17.—The state ad valorem tax rate for general revenue purposes was fixed late Monday by the state automatic tax board for this year at 22 cents on the $100—three cents less than the present rate.

The new rate combined with last year's, making 47 cents, is the lowest figure for two years of any administration in the last 14 years, and is 11 cents lower than the combined rate of the Ferguson administration of 1925-26, the board noted in a statement.

School tax remains at the maximum of 35 cents and Confederate pension tax at 7 cents, making a total state tax of 65 cents. This will insure a continued $15 per capita appropriation for the public schools, and all rural aid schools qualifying for rural aid will receive a six months' school term again.

An anticipated large increase in valuations failed to develop. Less than 5 per cent increase was found in the $3,975,409,296 total valuations, which include all except eight counties. These counties were figured into the total on the basis of last year's assessment estimates. The eight include Wichita County and its last year valuation of $70,000,000. An estimate for this year had not been made Monday.

The valuation total on which the new rate was figured showed an increase of about $150,000,000 over last year.

Church Should Maintain Its Non-Political Mission, Bishop Candler Says, Refusing to Join in Strife

ATLANTA, Ga., July 17.—In a formal statement emphasizing the "non-political mission and work of the church," Bishop Warren A. Candler, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Monday, declared he saw no reason to dissent from the position.

The statement, the bishop said, was in answer to inquiries concerning his personal position "on pending matters of political interest, and asking advice upon the same." It came two days before the scheduled assembly at Asheville, N. C., of a conference called by Bishop James Cannon of the same church, and Dr. A. J. Barton, Baptist leader.

The Asheville meeting has been called for the purpose of laying plans to defeat the wet Tammany candidate for president and to secure the election of dry Democratic congressmen and senators. The sponsors have emphasized that the conference is not a church affair but one to preserve the ideals, unity and perpetuity of Southern democracy.

Bishop Candler's statement quoted at length from bishopric letters and addresses, beginning with 1865, which contained varied expressions against any participation by the church in political affairs. The position taken, said the bishop, was "in agreement with the words of our Lord before Pontius Pilate, 'My kingdom is not of this world'."

Bishop Candler said he felt no disposition to dissent or depart from "this established and scriptural position of my church."

"Offering no criticism of others, I propose to abide unflinchingly by this principle," he declared, discharging conscientiously my duties as a citizen and fulfilling with fidelity my commission as a minister of Jesus Christ."

The statement quoted from the address of bishops before the general conference of the church at Memphis, Tenn., in 1894, which set forth that the church "was strictly a religious and in no wise a political body."

"As a church, we are not related by affiliation or antagonism to any political party. As a citizen, every man should carry his judgment and conscience into politics and all other spheres of life," the quotation said.

With reference to political matters, Bishop Candler said the pastoral letters of three pioneer bishops of 1865 contained the following exhortation to the preachers:

"Know your high calling. Preach Christ and Him crucified. Do not preach politics. You have no commission to preach politics. The divinity of the church is never more strikingly displayed than when it holds on its everstraightforward way in the midst of worldly commotions."

ESTON GUARD HONORS VETERAN NEGRO DRUMMER

HOUSTON, July 17.—The old of dark drummer of the House Light Guard armory has gone to his last march.

John Sessums, who for 45 years was drummer of the Light Guard Veterans association, is said to have been borne to his home by members of the association in which he drummed for 45 years.

White hands beat the drum that John had played so long.

FOOD TIME GUY—"Out And In."

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The two greatest political publicity machines in the United States history are getting ready to grind behind the stage-settings of both great parties.

The Republicans have a start on the Democrats. Under Henry J. Allen, former publisher of the Wichita Beacon, as director-general, they have assembled a strong staff whose executives are mainly former Washington correspondents.

Democratic plans have not been announced. But they have the large publicity staff which functioned for Governor Smith in the pre-convention campaign and it is being kept intact and ready to go in New York, directed by the same board of advisers which has served Smith so well in state campaigns.

New York Center.

It is probable that Smith's main publicity work will be done from New York, unless the issue turns on Republican corruption in which case the Washington office of the Democratic national committee, which has a full-time publicity force, will be active.

The Democrats are in the pleasant position of anticipation. A publicity war chest will come near matching that of the G. O. P. than in many years past. They also expect to be helped by the personality of their candidate.

Added to the countless columns of newspaper and magazine matter to be sent out, the biggest radio hookups in history will carry the voices of Hoover and Smith delivering their major speeches, into millions of homes.

Newspaper Men Engaged.

Among the Washington former newspaper men engaged in the Hoover publicity headquarters are A. H. Kirchhofer, managing editor of the Buffalo News; Harry J. Brown, president of the Gridiron club of Washington; George Aker, former Washington correspondent of the Minneapolis Tribune, now Hoover's secretary and a dozen more.

Kirchhofer will have the job of organizing Hoover press bureaus in Chicago, New York, the border states, the Northwest, and other points where the fight is expected to be hottest. Brown is liaison agent between Herbert Work, Republican national chairman, and the press.

Wizard Evans, Head of Klan, Says Organization Will Take No Part in Presidential Election What?

CHICAGO, July 17.—Despite persistent reports to the contrary, Hiram Wesley Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, declared there is no political significance about the secret biennial convocation of the organization which opened today in the Eighth Street theater with grand dragons and district heads of every state in the union in attendance.

Evans said that because of the "hot" issues involved, particularly that of religion, the Klan will take no part in the coming presidential campaign. He insisted that the impending four days' meeting, which it is understood will be addressed by United States Senator James

Thomas Heflin, of Indiana, is for Klan business alone.

Men who said they were Klan leaders from the national headquarters in Washington, in a Sunday night conversation on a train en route from the capital, said that the meeting was for the purpose of mapping out the Klan's activities during the presidential campaign. They added the main purpose was to solidify the opposition of the Klan to Al Smith, Democratic nominee. They stated other purposes for the meeting but the imperial wizard denied these with considerable heat and said it would be inflammatory and unfair to publish them, inasmuch as they did not come from men with authority to speak.

The conversation in which the statement was made was casual, such as might arise between any group of men interested in the campaign as they sat in the smoking compartment.

One of the men who made the statement was registered at the Stevens Hotel, where all the rest of the Klansmen, including Imperial Wizard Evans, are making their headquarters. The imperial wizard said he was not acquainted with this man and that he could definitely state he was not connected with or employed by the national headquarters nor any state headquarters. He promised an investigation and disclosures concerning that man.

"These statements are without foundation in fact," he said across a banquet table at Palmer House, where all the Klansmen gathered during the evening. "The issues in this campaign are such that I have determined the Klan shall stay out of it. The issues are too red hot. The politicians are not going to draw us into it."

some believed seriously, when an aerial bomb shot skyward and fell into a crowd of 3,000 persons watching a fireworks display near Swisvale tonight. Injured were rushed to near-by hospitals.

A certain Smith man also seems to have found great merit in keeping silent.—Charleston Daily Mail.

TABERNACLE PERMIT WON IN DALLAS FIGHT

DALLAS, July 17.—The city building inspector announced Monday he had issued a permit for a temporary Evangelical Baptist church tabernacle here, valid for 18 months, on instructions of the city commission.

However, the controversy between the church congregation and property owners in the neighborhood of the partly-finished structure appeared unsettled.

Announcement was made that the property owners in the vicinity of the structure had appealed issuance of the permit to the city board of appeals on grounds that the tabernacle violated provisions of the city building code. The board of appeals has the power to overrule the city commission's action.

Meanwhile, the temporary restraining order granted further work on the building against further work on the building remains in effect. Hearing will determine whether the injunction shall be made permanent is scheduled for Wednesday at which time Judge Young may postpone the hearing until the city appeals board reviews the issuance of the permit.

The controversy between the church and property owners resulted in the confinement in jail for five days of the Rev. Earl Anderson, pastor of the church, who was found guilty of contempt of court for violating the temporary restraining order. Work on the structure was carried on by women and children after Judge Young had issued an order for the arrest of all "men" who were laboring on the tabernacle, and until he changed it to read "man, woman or person."

Property owners secured the temporary injunction on the ground that the tabernacle was only semi-fireproof and extended beyond the building limits, interfering with plans for street widening.

Mr. Capucin was showing off his newly born infant to admiring relatives.

"What a dear!" exclaimed the fond aunt. "She has her mother's complexion."

"Good heavens!" exclaimed the baby's father. "See that she doesn't swallow it."
