Special Vote to Pick New Government

Last year about this time a rather humorous story concerning a carload of Negroes and a suitcase full of bobcat made its way around the Golden Spread.

Now this story was never exactly nailed down as to its true origin and this year another story is making the rounds of the coffee stops.

The story--as we heard it one morning this week over a cup of coffee goes like this-- One of our local men was down in the Red River country combining wheat and had his machine parked by the side of the larger lakes making repairs.

He looked up and saw a white Cadillac full of Negroes making its way down the bumpy road to the lake.

The auto was pulling a 14-foot boat with a 50 horse Mercury motor upon it.

The group set about putting the boat in the lake and after a couple of didoes came back to the bank where one of the party got out of the boat and got a pair of water skis all fixed up.

After a few minutes of preparation the Negroes had things ready to go.

The boat had drifted about 20 to 30 feet from the bank and the Negro on the skis was standing in water about three feet deep.

The skister wrapped the lines securely about his wrists and with about 10 feet of slack rope curled in the water in front of him looked toward the boat.

The man at the throttle of the boat hollared at the ski enthusiast and asked--"Is you ready Ski Cat?"

"I'se ready, Motor King!", was the hurried reply from the one with the skis.

The Negro at the throttle jammed it wide open and needless to say with those 50 horses crammed wide open the boat literally jumped from the water.

The Negro on the skis stood waiting for a few seconds--then Wham!

When the boat pulled all the slack out of the line the poor luckless fella on the skis was jerked plumb out of the water and went skipping along like a tin can on a newly wedded couple's exhaust pipe.

We never heard the end to the story --- but we can imagine that there was at least one "cool cat" in the group.

Speaking about tall tales we received this clipping in the mail the other day.

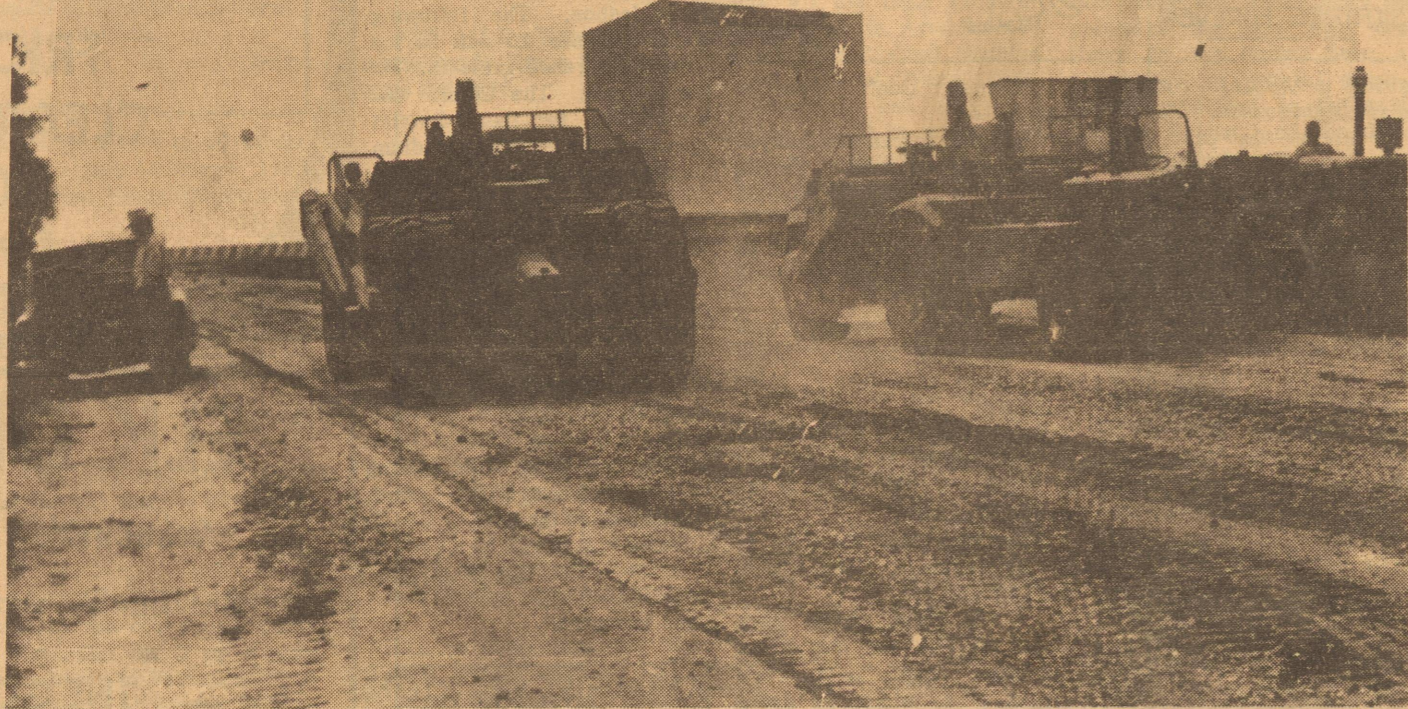

The story concerns a group of youngsters bragging about the money-earning abilities of their parents.

The musician's son was bragging about his dad. He said, "My dad draws a couple of lines, puts dots on them, calls it music and gets $25 for it."

"That's nothing," said the poet's son, "My dad scribbles a few lines, calls it poetry and gets $50 for it."

"Huh," said the minister's son in disdain, "My dad scratches notes on a few sheets of paper, gets up and reads it off and it takes six men to bring the money down to him."

RRC Hears Plea For Service

Andy Hurst and Steve Bavousett returned from Austin Monday evening where they had attended a hearing of the state Railroad Commission as public witnesses.

Both Hurst and Bavousett appeared before the commission on behalf of the Santa Fe Trail Motor Freight company who recently purchased a state permit from the Lang Motor Freight Company for service from Lubbock to Farwell. The Santa Fe Company is now trying to obtain a permit from the commission for extending the service from Farwell to Friona. If this permit is granted, it will then be a straight line service from Dallas to Friona.

The hearing was called to determine if a need for such service was needed. Word has not been received at this time from the commission as to whether or not the permit was granted.

BLACK TOPS INTERMEDIATES

Bengor Wins League Title

Bengor's Pee Wee ball club has won undisputed first place in their league with a record to date of six wins and no losses. The Bengor nine have two more games to play this season and even if they lost one or both of them, they would still be in the number one spot.

All the other teams in the Pee Wee league have lost three or more games, thus Bengor cannot be moved from that enviable top rung of the ladder.

Three teams in the Pee Wee league are still in the running for second place. Ethridge-Spring now holds the second spot with a four win, three loss record, followed closely by Rockwell with a three win, three loss credit. Rockwell is followed by Friona Motors who now holds a two win and four loss record. These three teams still have enough games left to cause the second place position to remain undecided at this time. Co-op now has one win and six loss credit and are in the cellar in that league.

Black has now taken the lead in the Little League with a seven win and one loss record followed closely by Hub with seven wins and two losses. There is still a chance that a play off game will be needed and if so, the time will be announced.

Holding down third place in the little league is Brook-

SIX LETTERMEN BACK

Football Workouts Set To Begin August 17

Approximately 45 boys are expected to report for football workouts beginning August 17, reports Earl Smith, head football coach at Friona High School. Among those returning will be six lettermen including Gary Goetz, Ronnie Castleberry, Gary Bradley, Gary Brooks, Jim Greeson and Jerry Rankin.

Workouts will be held once a day beginning at 8 a.m. and ending at 10 a.m. the first week. During the second week of drills, the workouts will be from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Members of the Friona Chiefs who will be moved up from the B squad will include Tommy Massey, Lynn Baxter, Kenneth Harrington, Jobey Claborn, Jackie Hight, Luther Metcalf, Tommy Barker, Owen Drake, Glendol Jones, Leslie Curry, Joe Ayers and others.

Some of the sophomore class will include Larry Drake, Lee Gibson, Bobby Daniel, E. C. Wilson, Johnny Miller and others. The list was not complete at press time, but a complete list of all participants will be carried at a later date.

Coach Smith in his first year as mentor for the Chiefs will be aided this year by Roy Simmons, who has coached in the Friona system the past three years, and by Bill Adams, who comes to Friona this year from McLean Junior High.

Smith says the Chiefs will be as big as anyone in the district this year and should be as fast as most of them. He points out the desire will be tremendous among the players.

The coaches all feel good toward the future prospects. However, nearly all the boys will be green at the first of the season, but Smith explains most of them will get their feet wet pretty early. There will be more depth this year and this will cause players to have to fight harder than ever before to earn a spot on the starting team.

Smith further points out that the attitude of the boys cannot be too highly commended. They all seem ready and raring to go and this is a wonderful trait to have.

Concerning district play this year, Smith says, "Dimmitt should be the strongest team in the district. They didn't lose any players from last year's district championship team, and they have six boys returning that were placed on the all district team.

"Tulia should be close behind Dimmitt in strength, followed by Canyon, Dalhart and Friona. Of the last three, it could be anyone's guess. Canyon should be the strongest, but we should be able to stay with both them and Dalhart.

"We're not going to set the world on fire or anything like that," Smith continued, "but neither are we going to be left out in the rain. I feel as though our boys will give anyone a close fight, and there isn't going to be any of those one-sided scores. I believe all the games will be hard-fought, close-scoring affairs.

"Also, the future years look bright for Friona. We have good calibre material now and should continue to have it for years to come, from the grade school on up."

Smith went on to say that this season will only be the second year for Friona to be in Class AA, which is a larger and tougher bracket than Class

WITH JUNE

During the past weekend the Floyds drove over into Oklahoma to visit relatives. Dry land farming is most common in the section of the state which we visited. Crops there are beautiful. Cotton and maize look as if it had been irrigated. Erick, the town where our relatives live, is mostly populated by older people who have modest homes and take pride in growing flowers and vegetables. Never have we seen more beautiful yards than we saw in Erick this past weekend.

On the way down we noticed that there was a new ultra-modern Golden Spread Motel at McLean. Now we're wondering if Golden Spread motels will be as thick as Sands Motels. Seems strange when you think how names of various business enterprises get started and catch on.

Think Sands is the most popular name for a motel over a large section of Texas. At first we thought they were all part of a chain, but later learned that each one was individually owned.

One incident proved our thinking. "You never go very far without meeting a Frionan." As we watched our two older daughters board a bus in Erick Sunday bound for Oklahoma City, a familiar face appeared in the doorway of the bus. Mrs. Leonard Gonsler was also going to Oklahoma City.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bob Adams of Alanreed were in the Star office. They are going to be new teachers here this fall. He will be the freshman coach and she will teach one section of the sixth grade.

At the time the couple was in the office, they were searching for a house to live in. Friday of this week someone called in to tell us a house was available, so we stopped in Alanreed Saturday afternoon and called Mrs. Adams.

There was an old-fashioned crank type telephone in the cafe where we stopped. Two ladies were in the cafe along with several customers. Everyone in the cafe spoke highly of Mr. and Mrs. Adams and the ladies were most helpful in assisting us in getting the call through.

Kindness shown passersby is seldom forgotten. At the present time we don't know the name of the cafe, but you can bet that the next time we are in Alanreed we will be stopping there for a meal or coffee.

Another interesting observation we made while driving down the 66 going east was a car literally loaded down with tumble weeds. The late model station wagon had Pennsylvania license plates, luggage in the rear and a boat on top.

Several large weeds had been fastened onto the boat and were riding pretty good. Then smaller ones were sandwiched between the bags, boxes, etc. Wouldn't it be interesting to know what grows in Pennsylvania that would be so fascinating to us and so commonplace to the local residents?

Local farmers who sometimes feel like the fellow in the song who says, "I've had lots of luck and it's all been bad," should have taken a drive in the vicinity of Kress, Edmondson and Hart Tuesday afternoon of last week.

Lots of crops were badly damaged by hail. Some farmers who lost crops completely were making plans to take advantage of the situation as much as possible. Several were heard to remark that this would be an ideal set up for changing locations of wheat acreages.

Since the allotment of acreages has been in effect, it has been just about impossible for farmers to rotate wheat with row crops. By keeping the row crop land clean until wheat sowing time, they will have a head start on next year's wheat crop and be able to rotate their crops, too.

Seems like they are following the advice of the fellow who said, "When fate hands you a lemon, make it into a lemonade."

It is interesting to note the way professions sometimes seem to run in families. Two that we think of right now are the Taylor and Lewis families. Ralph Taylor is a barber. His sister, Helen, is a beautician. Hop Lewis is a barber and Waneta, his sister, is also a beautician. Then when you take into the consideration the fact that Waneta Lewis married Ralph Taylor, you've really got a mixed-up situation.

When we look into the future and think "WHAT NEXT?", we might stop and look back a few years and then we'll really wonder. Less than 300 years ago all lenses for eye glasses were being hand ground with crude machines.

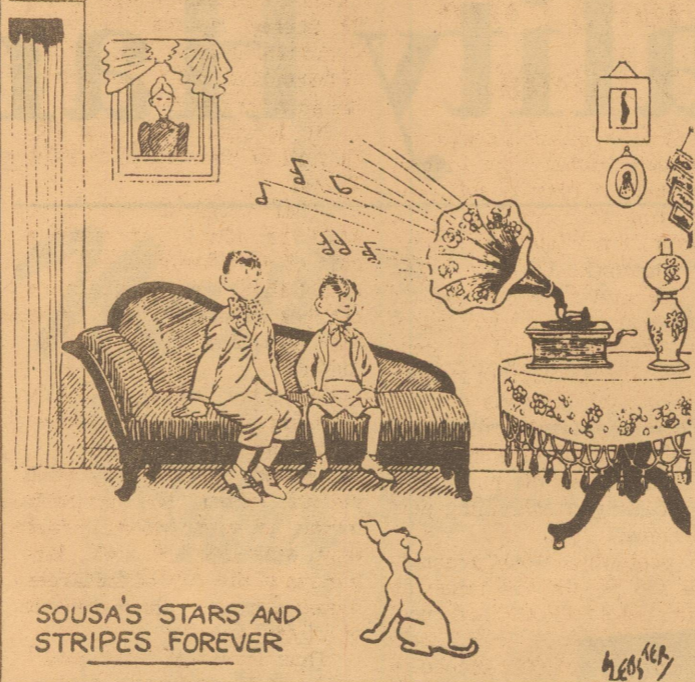

It isn't too early to start inviting relatives and friends to visit us during Maize Days. Committees are working hard to make the event a success and all of us should begin making preparations to do our bit.

The same evening Hub downed McCaslin by a score of 15 to eight. Winning pitcher was Jackie Clark and losing pitcher was Jerry Cass. No homers were made.

Wednesday night the all-star players were chosen for both the Pee Wee league and the Little League. The names were not available at press time however, but will be published in the next edition of the Star.

The all-star games will be played on the evening of August 8 at the Little League park. The first game will see the Pee Wee all-stars pitted against one another, followed by the little league all-stars.

WHY DO WITHOUT THIS CONVENIENT LITTLE TOUCH... LET ALONE

THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

BIGGER BRAKES

Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

GREATER ROOMINESS

Official dimensions reported to the Automobile Manufacturers Association make this point abundantly clear. For example, Chevy's front seat room is up to 5.9 inches wider than in comparable cars. And Chevy even offers more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars!

MOST ADVANCED ENGINES

We'll let SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED talk about Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." And every motor magazine concurs! There are eight V8's to pick from—the widest choice in Chevy's field.

FRESH STYLING

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine's experts took one look and said, "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling."

HIGHER TRADE-IN

N.A.D.A. Guide Books carry the proof of Chevy's extra trade-in value. They show that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to a solid $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevy's field.

See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer and see how much more Chevy offers!

Bob Crozier Shows Film To Lions

Bob Crozier, soil conservation unit leader from Friona, presented a film on soil conservation to members of the Friona Lions Club at their regular meeting Thursday night. The movie showed effects of several types of land neglect and how they could be corrected saving valuable topsoil. During the business session the members discussed the possibilities of the club sponsoring a drive for the purpose of constructing a swimming pool in Friona.

A pool which would accommodate 135 people would cost an estimated $21-25,000 and a pool for 200 persons would cost around $31-$35,000 according to a report by Danny Bainum. After discussing earlier efforts to get a pool in this area a committee was appointed to see if the other civic clubs and organizations would help the Lions support such a drive.

ORDINANCE NO. 323

An ordinance by the City Council of the City of Friona, Texas to amend Ordinance No. 87 passed by the Board of Commissioners on the 1st day of December, 1952, and declaring an emergency:

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Friona, Texas:

That hereafter Section 35 shall be added and made a part of said Ordinance No. 87, establishing the installation charges on water meters larger than the size 5/8" x 3/4" meters.

Therefore, Section 35 of said Ordinance No. 87 shall henceforth read as follows:

Section 35--The City shall collect from the property owner, on water meters larger than size 5/8" x 3/4", that portion of the cost of the larger meter over and above the cost of a 5/8" x 3/4".

That from and after publication of this ordinance any person, firm, partnership, association of persons, or corporation, or any agent or employee thereof, who shall violate any of the rules, regulation or provisions of this ordinance, or any part of it or portion thereof, by any act whether of omission or commission or cause the same to be done, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine in any amount not exceeding $100 for each and every such violation. Each violation of each part or any part of this ordinance shall be and constitute a separate offense and where such violation is a continued act, each day such violation is continued or permitted to continue shall be and does constitute a separate offense and be punishable accordingly.

The fact that the present ordinance, being Ordinance No. 87, is inadequate for the regulation of installation charges on water meters creates an emergency and public necessity that the rule requiring all ordinances be read at three meetings before final passage be suspended and this ordinance shall take effect immediately after its passage and publication.

Passed and approved this 6th day of July, 1959.

Activity Increases For Law Officers

After a week of relative quiet, business picked up for county law enforcement officers during the past week.

Curry Pruitt, 38, Portales, was picked up in the New Mexico city and returned to Farwell to face charges of breaking and entering and theft of a watch. He is alleged to have stolen the watch from a truck belonging to Felix Winegeart.

Pruitt's bond was set at $1000 and he has been bound over for the grand jury, which will sit in September. Breaking into a vehicle is automatically a felony in Texas. Pruitt was working on the farm of M. A. Black near Friona. Winegeart had had his truck there for wheat harvest, and Pruitt is charged with getting into the truck and taking the watch on July 13.

The worker, who was employed by Black, moved to Portales a short time ago. He was found to have the watch in his possession when arrested.

Antonio Andrada, 40, and Ernest Garcia, 29, were arrested and charged with drunkenness and fighting Sunday afternoon. They were picked up on an Oklahoma Lane farm. The Spanish American men were tried in Roy Thornton's JP court and both pled guilty. They were fined $19.85 each.

Manual Garcia, 25, Muleshoe, was picked up in Friona Monday morning by Ben Moorman. The Bailey County man was charged with driving while intoxicated. He pled guilty in Judge Loyde Brewer's county court Monday afternoon and was fined $50 and costs, and three days in jail. Two male companions traveling with him at the time of his arrest were tried for drunkenness in the Friona JP court. They pled guilty and were fined.

Manual Moreno, 34, Friona, pled guilty in Judge Brewer's court Monday morning to a charge of transporting whisky for the purpose of sale. He was fined $150 and costs.

Ben Moorman and George

Reynolds picked Moreno up and discovered a case of whiskey in his car Sunday night. He paid his fine and was released.

Walter Baker, 27, Muleshoe, pled guilty in county court Saturday morning to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $50 and costs by Judge Brewer.

Highway Patrolman Freeman of Muleshoe picked Baker up following a one-car accident near Clay's Corner about a week ago. Baker was slightly injured after turning his car over.

He paid his fine and was released.

Fishermen Return Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dutton and children, Jan Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rule and Patsy and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Mann returned Sunday after a ten day fishing vacation in Colorado.

In addition to visiting several points of interest, the group visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boots Rule, former Friona residents, at Delores, Colo.

Jackson Enlists In Navy

Fred Jackson Jr., a former student of Friona High School and employee of Friona Wheat Growers, recently enlisted in the US Navy. Jackson will receive his recruit training at San Diego, Calif., then will report to one of the navy's schools.

Enlistment arrangements for Jackson were made by the local Navy recruiter from Clovis, who is at the Bi-Wize Drug in Friona Monday of each week. Any young man interested in any of the schools or programs offered by the US Navy should contact the recruiter.

Cattle numbers in the United States increased by 3,500,000 head from January 1958 to January 1959 and total for the nation on last January 1 stood at 96,851 head, said John G. McHaney, extension economist. Most of the inventory increase, he added, was in young beef stock.

County Law Agencies Have Cooperation, Communication

BY DON WATKINS
Whenever "10-33, 10-33" is called out over the base radio in any Parmer County law office, you can be sure that all lines of communication to the various law agencies in the county and elsewhere are cleared. This signal is the emergency traffic signal for the communications system used by these offices.

Parmer County has one of the most efficient and effective systems of two-way radio transmitting and receiving in the state. This efficiency is not from the equipment alone but also because of the personnel. No matter what time of day or night or no matter what the reason, Ben Moorman, Friona chief of police, or Charles Lovelace, Parmer County Sheriff, always feel free to call on one another for aid.

This aid is freely given by all the officers on both the county and city level. It is not this way all over the state today. Ben Moorman says, "Cooperation is the mainstay of any organization. Without it, any cause can easily be lost or any combination totally disrupted. The law officers in this county believe this strongly and as a result we cooperate with one another at all times."

This same feeling is held by Sheriff Lovelace. The spirit of cooperation held by these officers has saved time, not to mention countless dollars to the taxpayers.

The communication system used by the county aids tremendously in this program of cooperation and law enforcement. The county and city officers use the two-way radio system. There is a radio in every sheriff's department car and police radio car.

Sheriff Lovelace has two radios in his automobile, one for the county hook up and one that is connected directly to the Clovis Police Department. Moorman has a 100-watt unit in his patrol car. With this unit he can talk directly with any office in the county and also neighboring counties.

Every office in the county has a base station which transmits and receives any message. Messages can be received and relayed to points all over the state in a matter of minutes.

Both Lovelace and Moorman have additional radio sets in their homes. In case of an emergency, it takes only a matter of seconds for either of them to contact all patrol cars in the county. If a call comes in at night, they can put the call over the radio while they are preparing to leave the house and have the officers on duty speeding to the scene.

This radio system has proven invaluable a number of times to these agencies. Not long ago, Friona City Patrolman Ed Duke was listening to a report on a stolen car. Even while the description of the car was being sent over the radio, Duke saw the vehicle in question passing through Friona and as a result stopped and arrested the suspect.

This is just one case in many. Many times, either Lovelace or Moorman has needed to pick up a person in Friona or Farwell. With the use of the radio, they call ahead to the respective town and have the local officers contact the wanted person before they go to the expense and time of driving to the town. In a year's time, this system will save the taxpayers hundreds of dollars.

The same cooperation is involved between the county officers and Clovis. The police department in Clovis has the same radio system and is tied directly to the Sheriff's office in Farwell. And Parmer County officers can call directly to Clovis for any emergency that might arise and vice-versa.

Sheriff Lovelace reports that Parmer County is the only county in the state where a direct hook-up with a neighboring state is available. This comes at some expense to the Clovis Police Department in that they lease the cables from the telephone company that connect them with the Farwell base station.

Bovina is not left out of the picture. There is a base station there and Deputy Sheriff Henry Minter has the same system in his car.

The entire county is covered by this system. It can and has been used for family emergencies. With this type of system and with the fine spirit of cooperation, county citizens can feel secure.

Firemen Return From A & M

Three members of the Friona volunteer fire department returned to Friona Saturday after spending a full week at Texas A & M College in College Station, attending the 30th annual firemen's training school.

Those making the trip were Pete Hollis, assistant fire marshal, Ralph Shirley, assistant chief and Kenneth Williams.

During the week-long meetings, the local firemen studied latest methods in fire fighting, were shown the most recent apparatus and had combined operations in fighting fires of common origins.

Hollis also attended lectures on public relations, investigations, explosives and arson cases. He reports that all firemen were given demonstrations on sprinkler systems using water and systems using CO2.

Films were shown during the week illustrating the causes of fires such as gas, cigarettes, electric wiring and others. Talks were given by the Texas Department of Public Safety along with the Railroad Commission. Hollis says that all these departments are now working with the local firemen for investigation of arson cases. Whenever a local fire marshal or chief has any doubts concerning the origin of a fire, they only have to call any of the mentioned departments for aid with their investigations.

It is an infamy to die and not be missed.—Carlos Wilcox.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Watkins and Dempsey Watkins over the weekend were Mrs. H. O. Ger-neth of Sherman, Mrs. J. H. Frith of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Bette Watkins of Diana, Texas.

Mrs. Helen Watkins of Dallas, who has been a guest in the Watkins home several weeks, accompanied the group.

County Bond Sales Hit Halfway Mark Friona APD Gets New Uniforms

Sales on the series E & H savings bonds have reached 58.6 per cent of the 1959 goal set for Parmer County, Frank Spring, county chairman has announced.

The goal set for this year is $96,000. Thus far this year, there has been a total of $56,303 in bonds sold and $2,739 sold in the month of June alone.

The state's goal has been set at $182.5 million. Sales in the state for the first half of 1959 were $81,960,468 which is 49 per cent of the year's goal.

There has been an increase of 11.4 per cent over the month of May for the entire state.

Friona's Auxiliary Police Department received new uniforms Monday night at their regular meeting. The six members of the organization will wear the uniforms at all duty stations from now on.

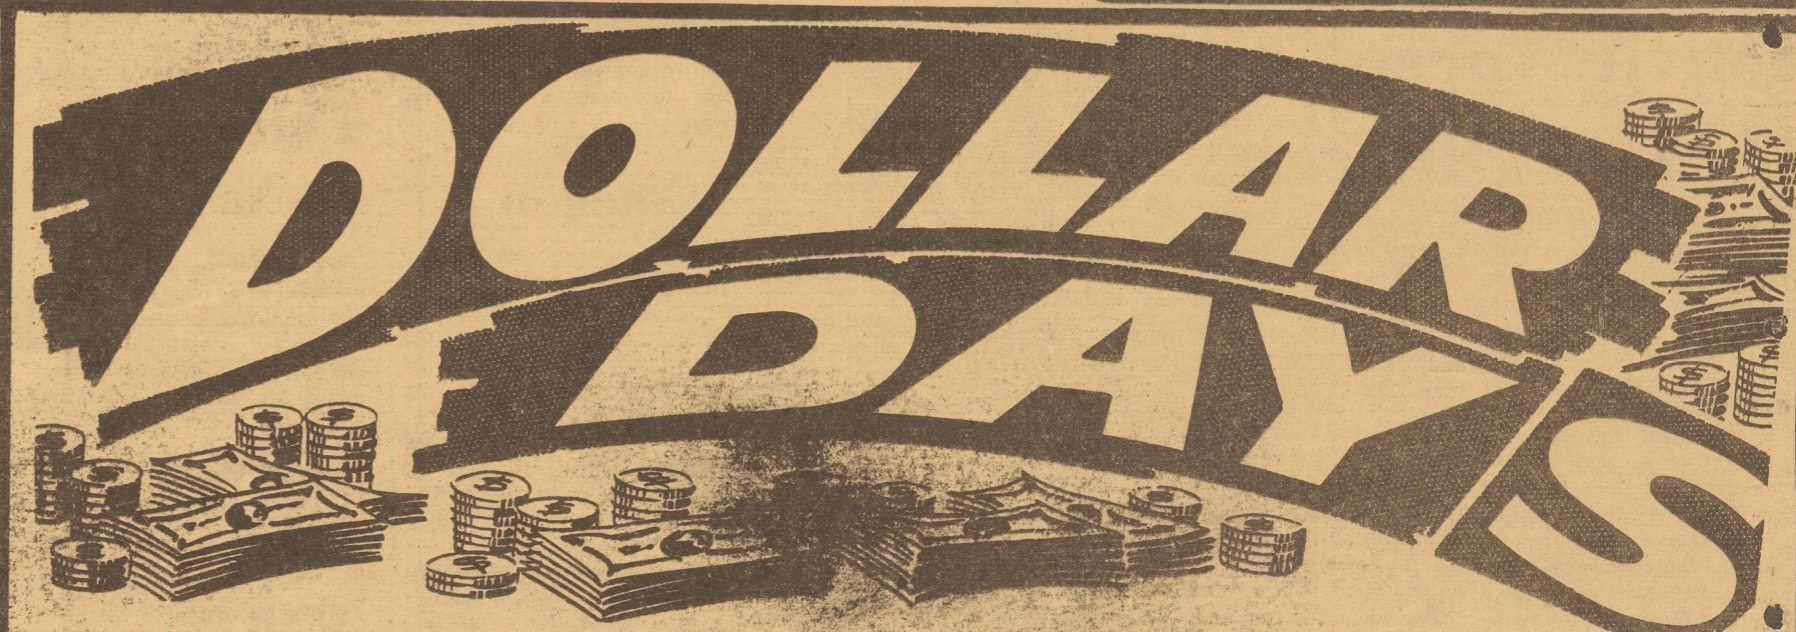

The uniforms consist of dark blue trousers, light blue shirts and white caps.

The APD was organized approximately one and one half years ago as a reserve police unit in Friona. They serve in all types of emergencies. This year they will aid with the Maize Days Celebration and all football games held in Friona. The members of the APD have the same authority as any other officer in the Friona police department.

AIR CONDITIONING COSTS LESS TODAY
Home owners whose remodeling plans include air conditioning would be wise to investigate the importance of insulation to home cooling.
When a house in insulated with 6 inches of mineral wool in the ceiling, a minimum of 3 inches in walls, and 2 inches in floors where needed, air conditioning costs can be cut in half.
This is because the efficient, heat-stopping qualities of mineral wool reduce heat penetration so effectively that a smaller, less expensive air-conditioning system can be used with good results.
In addition to this savings on the initial cost of equipment, its operating costs are lower because of its smaller size. A further benefit is lower bills for winter heating fuel.
These recommended thicknesses of mineral wool are available from building material dealers in hats or blankets. For older homes, mineral wool can be blown into walls, ceilings, and floors under air pressure.

If you drink like a fish, don't drive, swim!
Every man's life is a fairy tale, written by God's fingers.

For Want of a Nail

*For want of a nail, a shoe was lost;
 For want of a shoe, a horse was lost;
 For want of a horse, a rider was lost;
 For want of a rider, a kingdom was lost.*

Through the centuries this bit of philosophy has been used to bring home a fact we've all observed . . . how an insignificant event can lead to more and more important occurrences . . . and eventually to great calamity . . . or to great good.

▶ The casual purchase of a pair of shoes . . . a garden hose . . . an occasional chair . . . a tube of toothpaste . . . multiplied thousands of times . . . is the base upon which the prosperity of every community is erected.

▶ Better paying jobs, more profitable business, more valuable property . . . better schools, stronger churches, fuller living . . . depend on these thousands of little transactions . . . each one important as each brick is important in a great structure, and as the fabled nail was important to all the people of a kingdom.

▶ One drop of water out of the ocean makes it a smaller ocean; every penny of local money that is spent in some other town makes this community smaller and less prosperous . . . and every penny that is spent here at home means a little better place to live for all of us who make our homes here.

MRS. BILLY JOE SACHSE

Helen Taylor Weds Billy Joe Sachse

Miss Helen Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earsel E. Taylor, became the bride of Billy Joe Sachse of Canyon, grandson of Mrs. F. M. Sachse of Quitaque at the First Baptist Church in Canyon at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Dr. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony. The altar rail of the church was draped with satin and centered with a Grecian pedestal holding a white urn filled with large white gladioli.

On each side of the center pedestal stood floor baskets filled with gladioli. Seven candelabra filled with pale pink tapers flanked the center arrangement. The floral setting was completed with palms fashioned of jade foliage and spaced at graduated heights in the choir.

Mrs. T. A. Williams of Friona, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a powder pink sheath dress of imported cotton with pink lace mitts and overskirt. Her headpiece was a powder pink velvet bandeau. Her corsage was a cluster of pink carnations with English ivy.

J. W. Noble Jr. of Amarillo was the best man. Serving as ushers were Ray Stephenson of Amarillo, Charlie Brown of Claude, Charles Peckenpaugh and LeRoy Wooten, both of Canyon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length dress of Alencon lace styled with Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves. The swirling lace skirt was highlighted with panels of tulle extending to the hem of the bouffant skirt.

Her veil was attached to a crown of Alencon lace and outlined by sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white stephanotis and satin streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bride, wore a rose beige two piece dress with matching accessories and a corsage of glamelias.

The groom's grandmother, Mrs. Sachse, wore a navy dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

A reception in fellowship hall of the church followed the ceremony. Assisting with hospitality were Mrs. Lloyd Buchanan, Mrs. Roy Franklin, Mrs. Clayton Taylor, Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mrs. Glenn Taylor and Chloe Ann Black.

For a wedding trip to Colorado Mrs. Sachse wore a pink sheath dress of brocaded cotton and white accessories. After August 4 the couple will be at

The bride is a graduate of Friona High School and is currently employed at Lena's Beauty Shop in Canyon. Her husband, a graduate of Quitaque High School and former student of West Texas State College at Canyon, is now employed at Pantex.

Thoughts

"Thoughts control the citadel of the soul and put the king of their choosing upon the throne."--Lynn Harold Hough

Christ was the master of good thoughts. He knew that thoughts were the seeds of acts, the basis of character, the revelation of what a person really is.

Paul urged the Philippians (4:8) to think good things and thereby put goodness in control of their lives. If you think things that are true, truth will dominate your life. If you think things that are honorable, you will become honorable. If you think things that are just, you will be just. If you think things that are pure, you will move toward purity. If you think lovely and gracious thoughts, you will become lovely and gracious.

It is important that we think good thoughts and avoid thoughts of the obscene and ugly.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Cantaloupes Nearing Harvest

Gateway Produce in Bovina is busy preparing its shed and equipment and growers are keeping an eye out for hail clouds as this year's cantaloupe crop nears harvest time.

Harvest is expected to begin about August 5th, about two weeks later than last year. Fewer acres were planted this year than last but yield per acre is expected to be higher. There are about 435 acres in the Bovina area compared to over 600 last year.

Market prospects are also better. Current price is $4.25 per crate. Last year the market rose to just over three dollars at its highest.

Gateway will process and handle cantaloupes for about a dozen farmers around Bovina, including a nine-member growers' association. Included in the growers' association are Bob Wilson, Tom Caldwell, Arlin Hartzog, Leon Grissom, Billie Sudderth, Bud Crump, James Boardman, Wendol Christian and Eddie Redden. Harvest is expected to take about six weeks, ending around September 25th. Eight key men who work as packers in cantaloupe harvest will arrive from California in time to help with the Bovina harvest. They will form the nucleus of the harvest crew.

The packing shed will use 35 to 40 local workers and 100 workers will be needed for picking crews. These will probably be mostly national laborers. Also required in the harvest process will be 15 trucks and drivers to transport the melons from field to shed.

Last year 36 farmers in the Bovina area raised cantaloupes that were processed by Gateway. The produce company built their Bovina shed last year.

Last year's low price is responsible for the drop in the number of cantaloupe growers this year, according to a spokesman for the growers' association.

Contracts signed by growers and the produce company call for $1.75 per crate to be paid to Gateway for processing plus 42 1/2 cents per crate for picking and hauling to the shed. The rest of the proceeds will be divided at the rate of 75 per cent for the farmer and 25 per cent for Gateway.

This year's crop will be excellent if hail stays away until after harvest time, according to Billie Sudderth, a member of the association whose cantaloupes will be ready for harvest about August 10th.

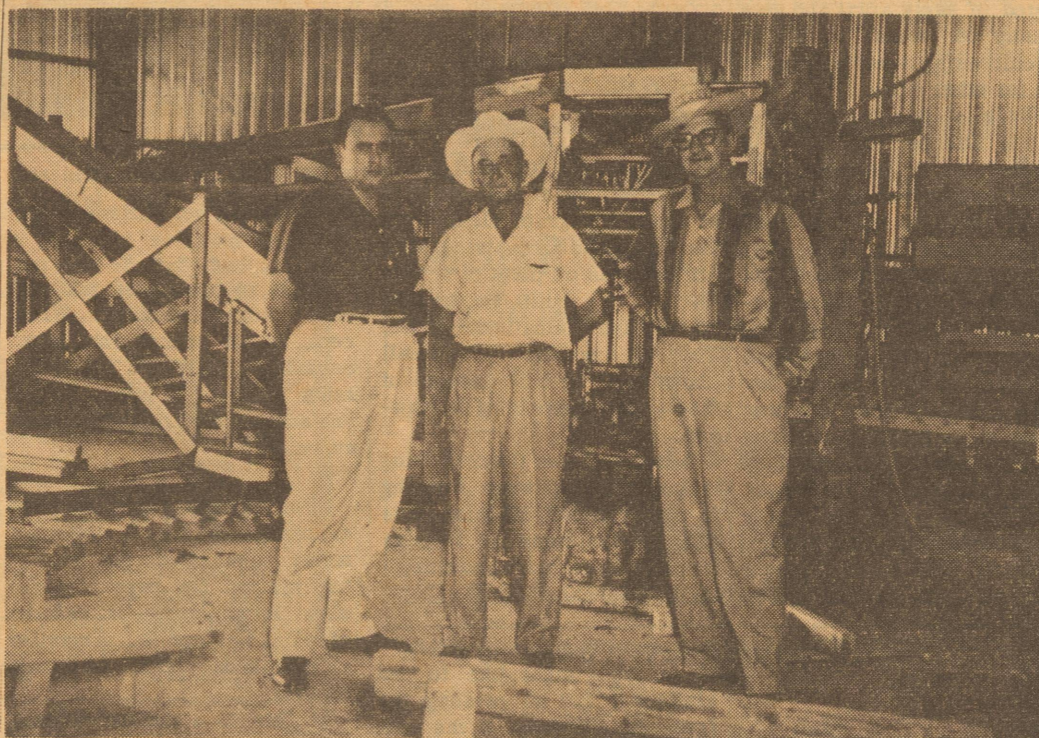

Sudderth planted double rows on an 80-inch bed. He says this method has proved very satisfactory, making less hoeing and better utilization of water. Sudderth's melons are about softball size. He has an excellent crop, yield wise.

O. W. Rhinehart and Tom Caldwell have earlier crops that will be about the first harvest.

Bovina is getting set for its second cantaloupe harvest when national laborers will be more numerous, cantaloupe trucks will crowd roads and it's hoped, farmers will cash in on a profitable venture.

BILLY SUDDERTH OF BOVINA has a good field of cantaloupes on his farm east of town. He planted his 'loupes on 80-inch beds this year and reports that the crop is showing excellent prospects.

READY FOR THE 1959 CANTALOUPE, these men represent the management of the Bovina Gateway operation. They are, left to right, Mario Trevino, office manager; Otto Ables, shed manager; and Charlie Flynn, owner. Behind them is equipment that will be used in the processing operations.

Give To CROP And Feed Hungry People

All over the nation, people are again being given the opportunity to share the abundance produced on our farms. The 1959 CROP appeal will be launched in all counties of Texas this month when collections of wheat, peanuts, cotton, rice and cash will be made to care for homeless, starving refugees in countries where war, disease, and poverty rule.

County Supports Quotas

Parmer County farmers agreed with those in other parts of the nation that marketing quotas for wheat should be retained for the coming year. The vote, box-by-box, in Parmer County was as follows:

Bovina--63 for, 5 against; Friona 98 for, 8 against; Rhea--24 for, 9 against; Oklahoma Lane--41 for, 2 against; Lazbuddie--57 for, 6 against; Farwell--37 for, 9 against.

State-wide (preliminary) results indicate Texas farmers approved quotas by an 85.7% majority. A two-thirds or more majority is required to maintain quotas.

CROP is the Christian Rural Overseas Program of Church World Service. Four hundred and forty million pounds of grains, oils, rice, meat and other staples have been given destitute people all over the world since CROP was formed as the relief collection agency of the churches in 1947. Included in this total are Government donated surplus stocks of food, which Church World Service distributes overseas and for which CROP pays administrative charges, such as overseas warehousing, repackaging, and costs involving final distribution.

But CROP's main purpose remains that of asking for, collecting, and shipping abroad gifts of food produced on the farms of America. In this way more food is shipped and only in this way can sudden emergencies be met when danger to human lives dictates quick action and immediate help becomes vital.

CROP is primarily a community action program; it is nondenominational. Gifts from CROP reach refugees and other needy of any color, creed, or religious affiliation. CROP gifts sow the seeds of democratic good will in countries where this is important. As again this year we gather great harvests, let us be mindful of those who are hungry, sick, and diseased, and give that they too might have a more abundant living.

NICKEL-CADMIUM BATTERIES

Recent tests have disclosed that sintered-plate, nickel-cadmium storage batteries used for starting diesel engines in railroad refrigerator cars promise to give over ten years more service than conventional lead-acid batteries.

NEWS FROM THE

FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

An amendment that would have practically killed the Farm to Market road program was defeated in the House in Austin last week. It was an amendment proposed to HB 4, which would have stopped the 15 million dollars per year being appropriated for this purpose. The vote was 104 to 21 to kill the amendment. Our representative, Jesse Osborn, as usual, voted with the farmer on this amendment. In fact, all representatives of this part of Texas voted correctly.

During the regular session, SB 22 was passed that will require owners of trailers, semi-trailers, house-trailers with an empty weight of 4,000 or more pounds to obtain a certificate of title for such trailer. Farm trailers and farm semi-trailers are exempt from having to obtain a certificate of title for such trailers when used for hauling the farmer's own farm products. This law becomes effective on August 11, 1959. In some parts of the state, the Department of Public Safety has been issuing tickets for "unlicensed trailers" falling in the above category.

This we copied: "The stupidest man alive is the one educated beyond his capacity to think."

The weed committee met Monday night to correlate information received regarding bindweed plots on railroad and state highway rights of way. They are making plans to assist in continuing this eradication program. Your reports of plots that may have been missed will be appreciated by members of the committee.

If you have some ideas you would like your state or United States representatives to know about regarding farming, why don't you bring those ideas in to the office, or send them in. They will be included in resolutions the members of Parmer County will vote on in October's convention.

Safflower May Give County New Income

A new money crop may be sinking roots into Farmer county on a permanent basis.

Safflower is the crop and nearly 300 acres are being grown on an experimental setup this year for the first time in the county. Four hundred acres were planted but hail and heavy rains washed and hauled out much of it.

Farmers' Oil Mills is the name of the organization that sponsored planting and will handle marketing. The organization is the result of cooperation between Farmers Union and National Safflower Co. Farmers Union owns 50 percent of the organization and National Safflower 49 percent.

Safflower is a thistly-looking plant that is deep rooted and hearty. It takes most of its moisture from two feet below the surface and thrives on hot arid climates such as that of the High Plains area.

T. O. Lesly, who farms between Clay's Corner and Hub, can testify to the hardness of the plant. He has 20 acres that was planted between a field of milo and a field of wheat.

In May, a hailstorm destroyed both the feed and wheat. Lesly was sure the safflower was also destroyed since it was stripped of leaves and practically beaten into the ground. But by the time he replanted the milo, and was ready to plow up the safflower, the hardy new crop had recovered from the hail and was doing fine.

Spokesmen for the safflower company say this area is well suited to growing the crop.

Besides being resistant to hail, the plant's liking for dryness and its ability to draw water from deeper down requires less irrigation than crops that have more shallow root systems. Also safflower is planted in early April and gets a jump on weeds, so hoeing and cultivating is less expensive than for other crops.

Price of this year's crop will be $62 per ton. Yield is expected to be between 1000 to 3000 pounds per acre.

Lesly says he believes yield can be higher than this after farmers learn more about the new crop. The only other experiments with the crop in Texas were in 1941. Yield then was 1200 to 1800 pounds per acre. Lesly pointed out that if improved farming methods increase safflower yield as they have cotton and milo, safflower could be as good or better money crop than cotton now is.

Another point in safflower's favor, and perhaps the best to surplus-plagued area farmers, is the demand for it. National Safflower Co. has assured farmers that there is demand for all safflower that can be grown in the area this year.

Oil from safflower seed is used principally in paints and varnishes. It also has medicinal value because it yields a non-saponified fat that helps control fatty deposits in human circulatory systems.

General Mills Food Products is interested in safflower possibilities for human consumption and has agreed to conduct a nation-wide advertising campaign promoting it if National Safflower Co. can provide enough oil to assure fulfilling orders the campaign should create.

Each farmer planted only 20 acres this year. This year's crop will be used for next year's seed and more acres should be planted next year.

The organization will designate at least one grain elevator in the county as a receiving point for seed. An oil plant is scheduled to be built somewhere on the High Plains in the future. There is a possibility two small plants will be built instead of the larger one originally planned.

Lesly believes the only thing lacking in safflower farming is higher yields. He thinks this will be overcome as soon as farmers learn more about raising the plant.

rim of dime store plain sun glasses. The effect is very glamorous."

Remove from heat, add and mix in sugar and biters. When cool, spoon prunes into jars, covering tightly and refrigerating at least 8 hours before you serve them. Drain and serve as relish.

For several years we have canned okra for frying, but never have tried the following method for preparing the okra. Mrs. George W. Palmer of 4208 Garland St., Amarillo recommends the following method.

"This is a method of canning okra to be opened later and fried. Guaranteed not to be slimy. Wash okra and cut up as for frying. Spread out on clean cup towels and let dry overnight. Next morning sprinkle with salt and corn meal.

Pack into clean jars and process at 10 pounds pressure for 30 minutes. When it is to be eaten, again roll in corn meal and fry in hot fat.

For something very different and tasty the following recipe is one you will want to use over and over.

SPICED PICNIC PRUNES
 1 1 - pound package large prunes
 1 quart hot water
 1/4 cup cider vinegar
 1 3-inch stick cinnamon
 6 whole cloves
 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 1/2 teaspoon aromatic biters
 Cover prunes with hot water and allow to soak one hour. Simmer the prunes in mixture of vinegar, cinnamon and cloves until prunes are plump and tender, about 45 to 60 minutes.

nuts up without even a nibble?" If so, you might like to use aluminum foil to prolong the freshness of some of the next batch you make.

By wrapping fresh doughnuts securely in foil and storing them in the deep freeze, you may have fresh doughnuts several days without re-making any. When you are ready to serve them, simply pop them into the oven and heat them fifteen minutes before removing the foil. Then serve them hot.

If you are still searching for a good buttermilk pie recipe, you might like to try this one:

VANILLA BUTTERMILK PIE
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 2/3 cup sugar
 3 eggs
 3 tablespoons flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 2 cups fresh buttermilk
 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
 9 inch unbaked pastry shell
 whipped cream and nuts, if desired
 Combine butter with sugar and cream, beating until fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add flour and mix well. Stir in salt, lemon rind, buttermilk, and vanilla; mixture will appear curdled.
 Pour into pie plate lined with unbaked pastry. Bake in oven preheated to 325 degrees and bake 35 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. If desired, top with whipped cream and finely chopped nuts.

 Homemakers who prepare or help prepare income tax reports for their farmer husbands have probably often wished that a farming operation could be set up on the same basis as a business enterprise for tax purposes.
 Anyone who is interested in such a set up should read "Should You Incorporate The Family Farm?" by Forest L. Goetsch of Doane Agricultural Service, Inc. in the July-August 1959 "Nation's Agriculture."
 Some very practical advice is given on this subject and many farmers would probably be able to work out a solution to some of their income-tax problems in this manner.
 There are many advantages and each interested couple would have to study the plan before making any decision on the matter.
 Mr. Goetsch explains the matter pretty thoroughly and it makes interesting reading even if you decide to answer "No" to the question.
 Does your family fall into the category of "those who just love hot or fresh yeast doughnuts, but pass day old dough-

Wimberly New Sesame Manager

William F. Wimberly has been named general manager of Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. operations on the High Plains. Robert L. Parker, executive vice president of the farmer-owned organization, announced today.

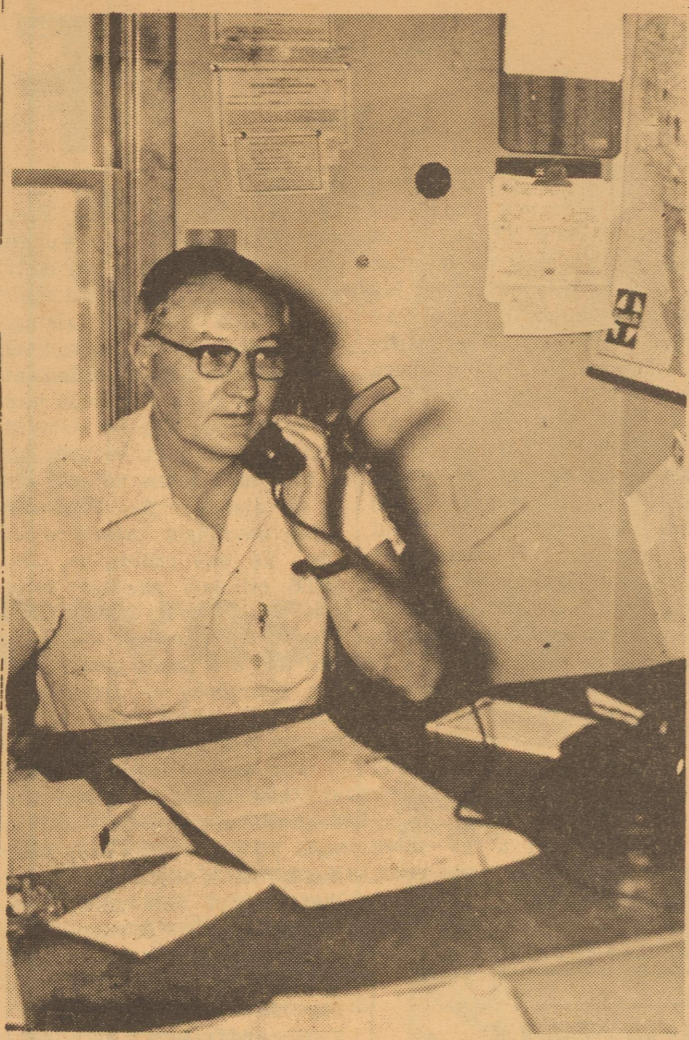

Wimberly will live at Muleshoe where Texas Sesame Growers maintains its High Plains headquarters.

Parker said that Wimberly not only will work directly with farmers in the irrigated areas of the Panhandle where approximately 85 per cent of the nation's commercial sesame is produced, but that he will be in charge of the organization's seed processing plant, its grain elevator and grain storage warehouses.

A large portion of the High Plains Sesame crop is processed through the new seed cleaning plant, and the grain elevator and milo storage facilities provide an additional service to the farmers of the area, Parker stated.

HELLO, CHICAGO?—John O'Haugherty, salesman for Friona Growers and Shippers, gets on the phone to sell potatoes produced in this area. During the harvest season when the highly perishable crop has to be kept moving, the telephone is the potato salesman's No. 1 tool.

Potato Market Breaks

Potatoes are moving through Friona Growers and Shippers' shed but the bottom has dropped out of the market since harvest began three weeks ago.

John O'Haugherty, salesman for the Friona company, says $2.05 per hundred is a good price currently. Most spuds have been going at $1.65 per hundred.

The market opened strong three weeks ago at around $4 and there were prospects that it might go higher. Instead it has been steadily dropping. Second week saw the price fall to $3.50 and last week it really slumped.

About four cars per day moved through the Friona shed last week. O'Haugherty says he expects the pace and, maybe the market, to pick up quite a bit this week. He expects an average of eight cars per day to move this week. Louisiana and Arkansas, two of the closer markets, have been closed to Texas potatoes because of an unusually large crop grown nearer. Louisiana began taking a few from distant markets last week and O'Haugherty expects Arkansas markets to open to outsiders soon. If so, this could give prices a boost.

Harvest is about one-third completed in the Friona area.

The outdoor enthusiast was all set to take a solo hike up into the mountains. A veteran old guide was helping check the hiker's provisions.

"Have you a map and compass?" asked the guide. "Absolutely,"

"... and a deck of cards?"

"No, replied the hiker, 'whatever for?'" "Might save your life," said the guide. "I always carry a deck. If you get lost in the woods, just sit down, relax, and start a game of solitaire. Next thing you know, some kibitzer will pop up behind you and start telling you what card to play next."

PREVENT SPOILAGE, POOR QUALITY IN HOME CANNED FOOD

You lose time, labor and money when your canned food spoils. If quality is poor, the food may lose appeal and nutritive value.

Three causes of food spoilage are: under-processing, faulty seals and improper handling, according to Marie Tribble, extension foods and nutrition specialist, Texas A&M College.

Work for top quality in your canned products by following these suggestions from the specialists.

- * Use young tender products . . . as fresh as you can get.
- * Gather and can in the cool of the morning.
- * Can in small amounts.
- * Clean food thoroughly . . . keep all utensils and containers clean
- * Use aluminum, unchipped enamel or glass for holding or pre-cooking food.
- * Aim for speed in preparation . . . "One hour from the garden to can is ideal."
- * Use proper type of can or jar for food being canned.
- * Have food hot when sealed unless canning vegetables by one-step cold-pack method.
- * Get a good seal.
- * Do not overcook or under-process.
- * Cool quickly.
- * Store in a dark, dry place.
- * Store in a cool place -- 50-70 degrees F.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

What would you do if the Congress of the United States suddenly turned over to you the problem of administering a farm program for this nation? We have thought quite a bit along these lines in recent days as we watch the events unfolding in the nation's most basic industry, and have decided that this would be a most difficult assignment for anyone.

Several years ago we saw the motion picture "Viva Zapata," which portrayed the life of the Mexican revolutionist who had great dreams of loosing his countrymen from the shackles of an oppressive government.

He won his war, and was finally ushered into the offices of "el presidente," where he took his place as the chief executive and proudly began to administer the affairs of state.

Within only a few days he came to the terrible realization that he was not intellectually equipped to cope with the intricate problems of governing a nation. His good intentions were smothered in the web-like entanglement of internal problems.

A short time later he left his office a disillusioned, bitter man, realizing too late that the lives he had spent so lightly to gain his position were wasted, and that he could not bring the reforms to the people that once had seemed so real to him.

We suspect that our farm problem would prove to be something like the problem that faced Zapata. Out in the "grass-roots" area where we live, things probably appear to be more simple than they actually are.

For example, if the writer were to have absolute sway in solving the ills of the nation's agriculture, his first act would be to eliminate the enormous surplus crop stockpile. But, just how would this be accomplished? Would we dump it in the sea or burn it? No, no, would be the cry of the public. Not with so many people in the world going hungry. That would be a national crime.

Very well then, let us give our surplus crops away to those who need them. First, we will give two billion bushels of wheat to India. What's that, Mr. Secretary of State? Did you say that would be quite impossible because Argentina, Canada, and Australia depend on the Indian market, and that if we give the wheat to India the wheat exports of these friendly countries will be in trouble?

Then let us give the wheat to the people of Czechoslovakia, who have had a very short crop this year. Did you say that will be impossible also? And because Marshall Tito is suspected of plotting with communist nations?

The above imaginary international drama can go on and on, endlessly. There is no end to the trouble that a person would be up against if he should attempt a reform of the farm problem. Not only would other nations be affected by any big changes, but the internal disorder would have major political implications. The pressure to resist change is terrific.

In spite of the way that we talk about the Department of Agriculture, the state department, and the administration these days (and not without good reason, of course), we ought to realize how lucky we are that it is not our responsibility to solve these problems.

This is not true of the High Plains, we are sure, but the grain sorghum acreage for this year is down on a nation-wide basis. The acreage of sorghums to be harvested is estimated at 18.7 million acres—down nine percent from last year.

Nothing gives us a bigger kick than getting a water technologist to sit down and "talk shop" for a little while. They don't come around very often simply because they do their work out in the field, and don't have much time for talking.

The other day, however, Paul Rettman of the U. S. Geological Survey office of Plainview was in to see us and we enjoyed visiting with him very much. It took only a few minutes for us to discover that Paul was being downright careful about what he was telling us. The USGS officials obviously have told their men to stick to what they KNOW whenever they talk, and that's a pretty good policy for everybody -- although it admittedly takes some of the fun out of life.

For example, Paul can tell you how much the water has declined in well "A" and in well "B". If the declines were the same, it might be assumed that a third well halfway between "A" and "B" would have a like decline. But you couldn't get him to say that. It would represent something he didn't know--and couldn't know until he actually took measurements.

Well, you can see this sort of limited conversation. Questions like, "On the basis of information you have accumulated during past years, how long do you think the water supply of the Plains will last if the rate of withdrawal remains the same?" received only a polite shrug.

Some things we did come out of our visit with that you might be interested in:

The USGS wants to know if Parmer County wants a complete survey made of its water resources (much more complete than the "inventory" of 1956). It would cost money--perhaps several thousand dollars. A story on this will carry more details. It should appear within the coming month.

A big area is being set aside in the central part of the High Plains and careful measurements are being maintained over a three-year period to see how much water is really in the hundreds of playa lakes. So far we've just been guessing.

The high temperatures, low humidity, and dry winds of the High Plains result in a free evaporation table six feet deep! That is (theoretically, and on an average) if you exposed a six-foot deep pond of water to the elements on January 1, 1959, and no rain was permitted to enter it, it would have all evaporated by January 1, 1960. This has great significance for our surface water resources that are in the playa lakes.

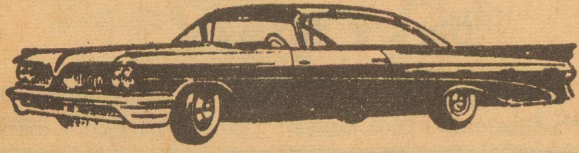

The average length "run-off" in a draw such as Running Water Draw following a localized rain is about 10 miles. To put it another way, if Bovina gets a two-inch rain tonight that will probably put water in the draw down to Lazbuddie, but not much further. Very little water is carried from the High Plains by any such natural drainage.

The draws do have good recharge possibilities. Water running through them fairly tre-quently keeps silt washing so that the draw bottoms don't get "tight" and they do allow considerable water to percolate downward. This factor is aided also because the draw channel has been eroded down into looser soil structures.

Surface lakes are the opposite. The silt rushes in from the fields. It is suspended in the murky water, but slowly settles to the bottom. Over the years this silt stacks deeper and deeper on the lake floor until it practically seals the bottom. Nearly all of the "disappearance" of lake water is due to evaporation.

The intake of recharge wells can be greater than their normal output, but this is discouraged because of the possibility of the recharge water carrying sediment into the water-bearing formation further than can be pulled back out by the normal "sucking" action of the well.

The Friona branch office of the Plainview Production Credit Association has announced an Open House to be held Saturday, August 1. The public is cordially invited to drop in and visit the new office building which is located next to the Southwestern Public Service Company.

The Friona office is one of five such branch offices located throughout this region. Other offices are in Muleshoe, Dimmitt, Floydada, and Littlefield and one is slated to be built in Tulla.

The main offices are located in Plainview. The PCA is one of the many sources of production credit for farmers in the High Plains Area.

Manager of the Friona branch will be Martell LeVeque, formerly assistant manager of the Muleshoe office. LeVeque is 29 years of age and married. He and his wife, Gloria, are the parents of an eight-month-old girl, Christie. They are members of the Methodist Church. LeVeque was graduated from Muleshoe High School and attended Texas Tech college in Lubbock. From 1930 to 1934, he served with the United States Navy at San Diego, Calif. He has been with the PCA since December, 1957.

LeVeque says of Friona, "This is the friendliest town I have ever lived in and is a very progressive community with a lot of community spirit."

"My wife and I are very happy to be here and would like to invite everyone to drop in and visit with us anytime."

Farm Credit Is Big Business

(Production credit for farmers in the High Plains area comes from many different sources including commercial banks, individuals and other. Showing rapid growth in the farm production credit picture is the Planview Production Credit Association. This organization now has five branch offices located in Muleshoe, Littlefield, Dimmitt, Floydada and Friona and a sixth office is slated for Tulia.)

In no area of the world does agricultural development match the intense, efficient methods of the irrigated portions of the Plains. And, because capital outlay and operating expenses are large in this highly industrialized area, probably nothing is more important to the success of the irrigation farmer than his productive credit requirements. Producing a crop today is a far cry from generations gone by. Maximum yield is the goal, and expenses to obtain maximum yields have climbed to new highs with each passing year.

Time was when wheat was "dusted" and never touched until harvest time. The elements of nature determined what the crop would make. Time was when row crops were planted according to springtime moisture, and the calendar wasn't watched nearly so closely as the soil moisture conditions. All this has changed, and changing, with it has been the farmers' over-increasing need for money to operate his farm. Most city dwellers would find it hard to believe how much it costs to raise a good crop these days.

This year has been an expensive one for the farmers. They have done more land breaking, more fertilizing and spent more money on machinery than in the past two years. Add to this the tremendous amount of hail throughout the Plains this season and the expense per farmer will be enormous.

However, the credit outlook is not as bad as it would appear. Martell LeVeque, manager of the Friona office of Planview Production Credit Association, has explained that the local PCA territory covers 7 1/2 counties in the Plains area. This includes all of Floyd, Hale, Swisher, Lamb, Cassata, Parmeter, Bailey and one-half of Biscayne counties.

To give a better picture of the credit outlook, LeVeque stated that in 1957, which was a poor year for crops, there were 856 members of the PCA in this territory. When the 1957 year ended, there were $4,001,000 past due on the books. In 1958, which was a far better year, the membership had grown to 1,000 and the carryover of the books from 1958 to 1959 was only $2,000,000.

The poor year of 1957 was offset by 1958. The farmers' returns in 1958 were sufficient to pay off the losses incurred in 1957. LeVeque says that most farmers had saved enough money on cost production in 1958 to offset any previous losses.

LeVeque is quick to point out that the two million dollar carryover from 1958 to 1959 is normal and does not reflect any poor year on the farmers' returns.

Already in 1959 there are 1,300 members of the PCA, an increase of 300 members over 1958.

Taking these figures and statistics listed above, and keeping in mind they come from only one source of production credit for farmers, one can see that the costs of farming have increased in the 1959 dollar volume in loans will be 30 million dollars (Continued on next page) tremendously with each passing year.

Not only have they increased but they are continuing to do so.

When only one source can predict that the dollar volume loans in 1959 will soar above 30 million dollars, and when there are various other lending agencies farmers do business with, it is easily seen that farm credit is big business.

When we think back to the time a horse drew a one-row lister across the fields to the present day when a tractor pulls equipment that can cultivate as many as six to eight rows at a time, and considering the difference between hay and gas and cost of machinery, explanations as to why capital outlay and operating expenses are high in this area need not be made.
