After winning GOP nomination

Ford picks Dole as running mate

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — President Ford today chose Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas to be his running mate in the Republican campaign to retain control of the White House.

Ford announced his choice at a news conference less than 12 hours after he triumphed over Ronald Reagan in the balloting for the GOP presidential nomination.

Ford's choice is to be ratified at tonight's closing session of the convention.

Introducing Dole at a news conference, Ford noted he and Dole had served together in the House for eight years.

"He has been a great team player," the President said. "His philosophy and mine coincide almost exactly. Bob Dole is a great campaigner."

Moments before the announcement, a leader of a group of delegates trying

...Ford's VP choice

to generate support to draft Reagan for the second spot on the ticket said the drive had collapsed. "At this point, I think we're dead," said Rep. Lou Frey of Florida.

Ford said he had told Reagan he planned to choose Dole and "Gov. Reagan has endorsed my selection of Bob Dole as my running mate."

Reagan met with his campaign workers and told them, "Sure, there's a disappointment in what happened. But the cause, the cause, goes on."

At Reagan's side crying quietly as he bid his farewell to his staff, was his wife, Nancy.

The selection of Dole was somewhat of a surprise. He was not among those mentioned by several sources as the finalists in Ford's search for a running mate.

The names being mentioned most often were Reagan, Sen. Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, Treasury Secretary William Simon, and William D. Ruckelshaus, former deputy attorney general.

But in the end, Ford chose the Kansas senator who has never lost an election since he was elected to the Kansas legislature in 1950 at the age of 26. Dole was elected to the U.S. House in 1960 and to the Senate in 1968.

Dole addressed the convention Monday night and his speech was a hard-hitting attack on the Democrats.

Referring to the Democratic platform adopted at the party's convention in New York City last month, Dole said, "I'd be afraid to stand on that platform, much less try to run on it...It isn't safe. It is weak. It tilts so far left that any of us would slide off."

One of the first congratulatory calls received by the President today was from Jimmy Carter, his Democratic opponent.

In a telephone conversation from his home in Plains, Ga., Carter told Ford he wasn't surprised that Republicans appeared to be uniting behind Ford.

Many Texas Republicans frustrated

Wrinkle says he will not help Ford with campaign

(Special to the Herald) Winston Wrinkle, alternate delegate to the national Republican Convention, told a reporter for the Hart Hanks bureau in Kansas City that "I will not help Ford with his campaign in the fall. So help me God, my hands may get numb from being sat upon."

Mrs. Dorothy Hall, the second alternate from Big Spring said in a telephone call to the Herald today, said "I think there were a lot of things said in the heat of emotions and disappointment. There was a sign in the Texas delegation, however, that sticks in my mind. It said, 'I'd rather eat crow than peanuts.'"

Bill Sheppard, delegate to the convention and on the Texas ballot for Reagan during the primary was not available for comment today.

"However," Mrs. Hall stated, "We've all voted Republican a long time. We received word at noon today that Sen. Bob Dole from Kansas will be the vice-presidential nominee. That would be our second choice to Connally and we aren't too disappointed over that." Then she added, "We keep hearing that there will be a draft Reagan movement but I think he's made it very clear that he will not accept regardless. We caucused at 2 a.m. today and decided that anything that backs Reagan we are for and anything he wants to do about it is all right with us."

The alternate said, "On the way back to our quarters, there were a lot of tears. I remember a 15-year-old boy crying and saying, 'Why doesn't anybody understand how important it is?'"

"We just did everything we could think of to help him. That long demonstration was from the heart. We just wanted the other group to know how strongly we felt about our candidate."

"We're all hoarse. We're tired. We haven't had five hours of good sleep in three days and we're a little bit frustrated," Mrs. Hall continued.

Wrinkle, who is manager of KBST radio station was taped on his station earlier in the week claiming that Reagan was going to get the nomination despite all of the polls.

Ralph Brooks, local campaign chairman for President Ford and Mrs. Jack Lipscombe, who worked for President Ford prior to the primaries, were not elected as delegates to the convention after Texas was cleanly swept by the Reagan camp.

Mrs. Lipscombe said here today, "I think our party had the two best candidates in the United States. I am thankful that our local Republican party at a county level passed a resolution to support which ever was nominated at Kansas City."

"The election of a Republican president and the keeping of the two-party system is crucial at this time to America. I am extremely happy over the selection of Robert Dole. He was here in the Big Spring area at a fundraising dinner a few years back and was extremely popular with Big Spring Republicans."

Brooks said today, "I thought the spirit shown by Texas at the convention was wonderful, whether we agreed on a candidate or not. I think the GOP Party has had a wonderful shot in the arm from this campaign. We are an excited party because we are concerned with the future and the rights of the individual."

"Certainly, Texas had the right to support the candidate of their choice. That is an individual right. Now we will be supporting the candidate that was the choice of the majority of the Party. And we will need to work hard to win in November."

AGONY AND ECSTASY — California delegate Patricia Colon, left, Santa Barbara cries on the floor of the GOP Convention in Kansas City early morning as West Virginia Governor Arch Moore, right, happily announced that his state's 20 votes for President Ford gave him enough votes for nomination. Ms. Colon was a delegate committed to Ronald Reagan, who lost the nomination by a 1,187 to 1,070 margin.

Fun to start Sept. 20

Howard County Fair planning meet held

Big plans for the annual Howard County Fair are under way. Dates are Sept. 20-25. A planning meeting was held Wednesday with Neil Fryar presiding. Skipper Driver will serve as this year's general superintendent.

The Fair Association will pull out all the stops and will include a full week of fair activities, including side events such as the annual Shrine Circus Sept. 20, the annual barrow show Sept. 20 and 21, a heifer and steer show Sept. 23, a tractor pulling contest Sept. 23 and 24, the annual Chamber of Commerce Agriculture Appreciation Barbecue and a farm tour Sept. 24.

There will also be a pet show Sept. 24 and a horse show and county roping Sept. 25.

The carnival is expected to operate every night of the week and special exhibits will include the ladies division, farm products, arts and crafts and commercial.

Area bands will be invited to participate on various nights. The fair, re-activated three years ago after a number of years that it was non-existent, has proved to be very popular in the area, with thousands of people attending.

Among the chairmen of some of the top events this year are Bruce Griffith and Ronnie Wood, barrow show, calf show and agriculture exhibits; Elbert Long and Derwood Blagrove, tractor pulling; Skipper Driver, horse show and roping; Al Stephens, Chamber Agriculture Barbecue; Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, women's division; Bruce Wright, pet show; and the local Shriners for the circus.

The agriculture governmental organizations including the Soil Conservation Service, the county agents, the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service and the Farmers Home Administration will conduct the farm tour.

Other details will be announced as enthusiasm increases during the final weeks of preparation. Arnold Marshall, last year's fair superintendent, was at the fair barns today checking out the facilities for the big event.

Bible Funds Drive deadline nearing

Although the Howard County Ministerial Alliance's drive for Bible Class funds passed the half-way mark this morning, time is getting short if the campaign is to succeed.

A total of $3,237.50 had been collected this morning. Objective in the drive is $6,500.

The money is used to underwrite expenses for the teaching of holy scriptures in high schools in Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan. Federal law forbids the use of tax money for such classes.

Donations can be made either directly to Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the First Baptist Church, or to The Herald, which is helping coordinate the drive.

Latest donations included:

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ector T. Franco; a brother, Lorenzo Franco; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Santos Franco; and a maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mercedes Randon, of Belton.

Funeral services are pending at Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Capt. Jones recalled a similar tragedy in 1971 when one small boy died in a car fire near the Veterans Administration Hospital. Three children barely escaped. He said, "Leaving kids alone in a car is a dangerous situation, but it happens all the time. When are people going to wake up to this problem?"

Charges may be filed

Car fire kills local baby

By DANNY REAGAN A seven-month-old Big Spring baby was fatally burned Wednesday as it lay unattended in a car behind the Salvation Army.

Lt. Jim McCain of the juvenile division talked to District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III Wednesday afternoon about possible negligent homicide charges being filed in connection with the incident.

Moore reportedly agreed to the request and formal charges were expected to be filed this afternoon.

At 2:45 p.m. Wednesday, Big Spring police and fire departments responded to an automobile fire report on Aylford Street, near the Salvation Army Building.

Capt. Jack Jones of the local police said that two citizens had already rushed over to the burning car before official units arrived. Someone from across the street apparently used a private fire extinguisher to fight the blaze, according to Jones, and someone at the scene reportedly pulled the baby out of the car before it was gutted by flames.

According to a witness at the scene, the baby suffered third-degree burns over 100 per cent of his body.

Capt. Jones stated that the fire had started in the right-hand section of the rear seat, and he and the fire marshal theorized that a cigarette may have been thrown out and fell back into the car, smoldering for an undetermined length of time and eventually starting the blaze.

But the definite cause of the fire has not been determined at press time.

The baby had been left on the front seat of the vehicle, and Capt. Jones stated that the mother had been in the Salvation Army approximately 10 minutes.

The baby was taken to the Malone-Hogan emergency room in critical condition. At 6:30 p.m., the baby was taken to the airport to be transferred to John-Sealy Hospital in Galveston.

A portable suction unit, a device used in the transportation of badly burned victims, volunteered by Webb AFB, was used in the transfer.

The baby arrived in Galveston at 8:35 p.m., was treated by burn specialists there, but died six hours

Webb impact report release due Sept. 15

Environmental Impact statements on both Kinchelov AFB, Michigan, and Craig AFB, Alabama, will be released at the same time the statement on Webb AFB is made public, a spokesman for the Pentagon said this morning.

Sept. 15 is now the proposed target date for release of the statements, which will influence the final decision on closure of military installations around the country, but the reports could be delayed beyond that date, according to the Pentagon spokesman.

Action/reaction: Store hours quiz

Q. Why won't some of the stores in town stay open until 9 o'clock Saturday night for the benefit of newcomers, and for husbands who don't like to drive their wives to Midland or Odessa to do their shopping?

A. Terry Hanson, chamber of commerce manager, said that it is not economically feasible for stores in Big Spring to stay open later than 5:30 p.m. Saturday. "Past year's experience has shown that the traffic in the stores doesn't warrant the majority of businesses staying open," said Hanson.

Offbeat: Detective horsing around

Police Detective Leroy (Yankee Cowboy) Spires had a jolting experience Wednesday.

He had just purchased a horse and was trying it out. The horse suddenly became ill, reared up and fell dead on top of the police detective.

Two women at the scene were unable to get Spires out from under the horse and summoned help.

The police detective was pulled from under the horse when help arrived, no worse for his experience. However, Spires is not planning to apply for the Royal Mounted Police any time soon.

After 'brutal murder' of U.S. officers

U.S., North Korean forces put on alert

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — The United States and North Korea today put their combat forces on alert in the wake of Wednesday's slaying of two American officers in the truce village of Panmunjom.

"We have taken the precautionary move of increasing the readiness status of the forces in the area," a Pentagon spokesman said in Washington.

North Korea announced it had ordered its armed forces into a state of combat readiness because of the U.S. reaction to what American officials called the "brutal murder" of the two officers.

All American military personnel on leave in Korea were ordered to return at once to their units and the United States warned North Korea that the club-and-axe killing of the two Americans "jeopardized the entire framework" of the 23-year Korean armistice. But Pentagon officials in Washington discounted the possibility of American military retaliation.

A broadcast by North Korea's official Central News Agency said the United States "took a combat posture by issuing an emergency order of alert to the units of the U.S. forces occupying South Korea.

"This is the prelude to the war adventure that the U.S. imperialist aggressors may perpetrate," it declared, announcing that North Korean President and Communist party leader Kim Il-sung has ordered all North Korean army and paramilitary Red Guard units into combat readiness.

In a series of escalating warnings, the two sides issued conflicting versions of the bloody fight Wednesday over an allied attempt to trim a tree at Panmunjom, each accusing the other of starting it and each side saying its men were outnumbered.

Making no mention of any fatalities, North Korean broadcasts called the clash "a free-for-all" that injured personnel of both sides. It said five of its guards suffered wounds ranging from light to heavy.

Allied military sources had said three North Koreans were believed fatally injured.

One Communist broadcast said the North Koreans were falsely accusing the North Koreans of carrying axes but in fact the North Koreans now hold as evidence "the axe used by the enemy," which was an Austrian type used by the U.S. Army.

"Never before since the cease-fire was formally signed has there been the outright and brutal murder of joint security area security force personnel," said a letter to Kim Il-sung from Gen. Richard Stilwell, the American head of the United Nations Command.

"This was not the eruption of an unplanned argument. It was the deliberate murder of UNC personnel who, while engaged in routine maintenance functions of a type your personnel often perform, were attacked unmercifully by a numerically superior force wielding axes and clubs."

Stilwell's letter was read at an emergency meeting of the Military Armistice Commission in the truce village about 300 yards from the spot at which the United States charged that North Korean guards "brutally murdered" Capt. Arthur G. Bonifas, 33, of Newburgh, N.Y., and 1st Lt. Mark T. Barrett, 25, of Columbia, S.C.

The United Nations Command said about 30 North Korean guards armed with axes and metal pikes attacked a working party of Americans and South Koreans who were trimming trees in the security zone around the truce buildings. The U.N. Command said for American enlisted men and five South Koreans were injured, and military sources said three North Koreans were believed killed.

Stilwell's letter, read to the joint armistice commission by its senior U.N. member, U.S. Rear Adm. Mark P. Frudden, said the North Korean attack was "an unprovoked act of severe brutality" and "an open and flagrant act of belligerency."

North Korean snatched axe from worker, then hacked U.S. officer

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — A North Korean soldier hacked a U.S. Army captain to death with an axe snatched from a South Korean worker assigned to the United Nations Command (UNC) in Panmunjom. The five, escorted by 11 U.S. and Korean military guards, were trimming a tree near the Bridge of No Return when a fight broke out with about 30 North Koreans on Wednesday.

Seoul newspapers today carried an account by Kwak Huihwan, 40, one of five South Korean workers assigned to the United Nations Command (UNC) in Panmunjom. The five, escorted by 11 U.S. and Korean military guards, were trimming a tree near the Bridge of No Return between North and South when a fight broke out with about 30 North Koreans on Wednesday.

The United States charged the North Korean guards "brutally murdered" Capt. Arthur G. Bonifas, 33, of Newburgh, N.Y., and 1st Lt. Mark T. Barrett, 25, of Columbia, S.C.

Kwak's account, as carried by the Korean Times:

"I saw a reinforcement of as many as 100 North Korean soldiers rush toward the scene aboard two trucks across the Bridge of No Return.

"Some of them were armed with axes, metal pikes and red clubs. They joined 15 other North Korean guards led by a first lieutenant in the assault upon about 10 UNC officers, including a captain and a first lieutenant.

"We had cut a few branches of the tree when the North Korean guards dashed toward us aboard a jeep. They had watched us working on the tree for a while before they picked a fight with the U.S. captain.

"The Communist officer shouted to the captain, 'Stop the work!'

"The Communist guards attacked him and grabbed him by the throat. One of the Communist guards shouted 'Kill him!'

"One of the Communist guards then snatched an axe from one of my colleagues, dashed toward the U.S. captain and hacked him in the head and shoulder. The ill-fated officer fell to the ground and died."

Carter congratulates Ford on win

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Jimmy Carter offered his congratulations to President Ford today and said he wasn't surprised when the President told him that Republicans were uniting in a spirit of harmony.

Carter talked to Ford at 10:20 a.m., EDT, and said moments later through a spokesman that the President and new Republican nominee said he had been through "a very good convention and a hard-fought battle."

When Carter won the Democratic presidential nomination last month, Ford phoned him to offer congratulations.

Today, Carter quoted Ford as saying that "a lot of harmony has been developing since the nomination."

Carter said he told Ford, "I anticipated that; I'm not surprised."

Carter said he first called the President in his hotel suite in Kansas City at 8:31 a.m. after he heard Jack Ford, the President's son, say during a television interview that his father was up and working.

But Carter said when President Ford called him back at 10:20, the President said "I was in the sack" when Carter called earlier.

The Republican and the Democratic nominees talked for three minutes.

On Wednesday, Carter told reporters that his opponents are correct when they claim there is much he does not know about the workings of government.

"I am trying as best as I can to compensate for that inadequacy by gathering around me people who can supplement my own knowledge and experience," Carter said.

That, he said, was the reason for the series of briefings on domestic and international issues to which he has invited experts from around the country.

His third and last briefing this week focused Wednesday on international economics. Domestic social programs and energy were discussed earlier in the week.

Reagan to remain public

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Ronald Reagan, his long campaign for president over, plans to remain in the public eye, speaking out for conservative causes and Republican unity, but not as President Ford's running mate. Reagan said early today he will stand by earlier statements that he would never accept the vice presidential nomination. But he refused to rule out a convention draft, which his supporters had discussed on the convention floor.

"I'll answer that if and when it comes," Reagan said.

No one wanted to change

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The end was a bitter end for Ronald Reagan's most zealous acolytes. "Do any states want to change their votes?" the convention chairman asked after West Virginia's vote put President Ford over the top. "No! No way! Hell no!" chorused angry alternate delegates in the California seats. Others responded with curses. They shook their fists in the air and made thumbs-down gestures and, gradually, a few at a time, got up and left.

No-frill trend reversing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans put fewer extras in the new homes they bought last year, but analysts say the shift to no-frill homes was short-lived and probably is over. New Census Bureau figures show that homes built in 1975 generally were smaller, had fewer bedrooms, bathrooms and garages, and were less likely to have central air conditioning. Economists say the recession that began to lift in mid-1975 spurred the trend. Despite the economies, the median new home price jumped 9.5 per cent in 1975 to $42,600 from $38,900.

But he refused to rule out a convention draft, which his supporters had discussed on the convention floor.

"I'll answer that if and when it comes," Reagan said.

No one wanted to change

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The end was a bitter end for Ronald Reagan's most zealous acolytes. "Do any states want to change their votes?" the convention chairman asked after West Virginia's vote put President Ford over the top. "No! No way! Hell no!" chorused angry alternate delegates in the California seats. Others responded with curses. They shook their fists in the air and made thumbs-down gestures and, gradually, a few at a time, got up and left.

Hotel 'victim' of disease

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The elegant Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, an uncounted victim of "legionnaires' disease," is launching a public relations campaign to restore its tarnished image. It is suffering now because it was headquarters for a state American Legion convention last month. Since then, 26 people, all with some connection to the convention, have died of a still unidentified disease, with some connection to the convention, have died of a still unidentified disease.

No-frill trend reversing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans put fewer extras in the new homes they bought last year, but analysts say the shift to no-frill homes was short-lived and probably is over. New Census Bureau figures show that homes built in 1975 generally were smaller, had fewer bedrooms, bathrooms and garages, and were less likely to have central air conditioning. Economists say the recession that began to lift in mid-1975 spurred the trend. Despite the economies, the median new home price jumped 9.5 per cent in 1975 to $42,600 from $38,900.

Tidal wave biggest killer

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — The tidal waves that swept more than a quarter of mile inland were blamed today for most of the casualties in the earthquake in the southern Philippines. The latest official toll is 3,131 killed, 3,117 missing and 89,274 persons homeless.

Unofficial sources estimated 80 to 90 per cent of the dead and missing were drowned or swept away by the 30-foot waves from the

Moro Gulf which the first quake early Tuesday sent smashing into the southwest coast of Mindanao island and the adjacent Zamboanga peninsula. Brig. Gen. Antonio Villanueva, head of a relief and rescue task force, made an aerial inspection and reported many bodies floating along the coast. It was believed that most of the missing had been swept out to sea by the receding waves.

Gloria Bitancor, a 35-year-old mother of five in Pagadian City, said she last saw her year-old daughter "waving for help as her tiny fingers disappeared into the water."

"Pandemonium broke loose when the quake struck," said Mrs. Bitancor, "and everybody was crying and shouting and warning the entire neighborhood of a tidal wave coming at us.

"I panicked and tried to gather all my five children into my arms. When the waves swept us out together with our house, I found that my arms were empty.

"My tears came too late — I was too shocked to cry. That is how I lost my girl."

Along the coastline nearby Pagadian City, "what used to be a beautiful site of fishing villages now is a mass formation of mud littered with debris from houses swept away by the killer wave," a correspondent for the Manila Times Journal reported after a flight along the coast.

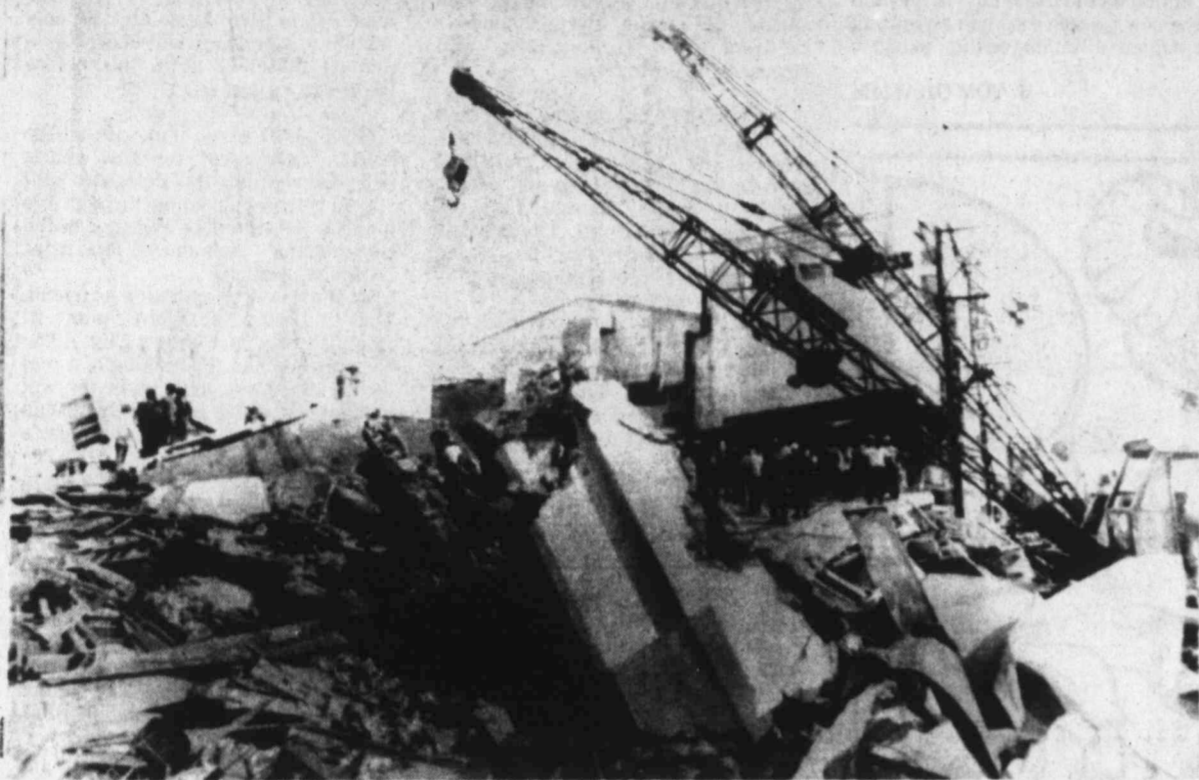

President Ferdinand E. Marcos ordered the release of nearly $3.5 million for more medicine. Pounding the table during a conference with officials of the National Disaster Coordinating Center, he demanded: "What are we going to do to prepare for an earthquake?" The president added that by this afternoon he wanted a realistic set of instructions on precautions to be taken to cope with future quakes.

Military planes were taking off around the clock with relief supplies, and the navy was striking them along the stricken coast. Marcos was told more than 3,000 military men were engaged in relief and rescue work.

Officials said there were ample supplies of rice in the stricken area, and that medical stocks and other essentials were being moved in quickly.

Radio and television stations launched Operation Compassion, a drive for donations of money and goods to supplement government efforts.

The United States offered 15 helicopters from the carrier Tripoli, which reportedly could reach the disaster area in 36 hours, and four C130 Hercules cargo planes. Marcos told the air force "to keep this in mind."

Scattered showers sprinkle state

By The Associated Press
Thundershowers peppered the Texas coast south of Houston and in the Gulf of Mexico between Corpus Christi and Brownsville early today, but most of the state had fair skies.

Some patchy middle and high cloudiness also covered portions of South Central Texas, with scattered cloudiness over West Texas.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 60s and 70s, but extremes ranged from the 50s in the Davis Mountains to near 80 along the coast.

A few thundershowers were reported near dawn on the coast near Freeport, south of Houston, with lighter showers extending inland to Angleton and Alvin and extending offshore to 40 miles south of Freeport.

Heavier thundershowers were widely scattered offshore from 50 miles east of Corpus Christi to 125 miles southeast of Brownsville. The nearest rain to land was just east of Padre Island north of Brownsville.

The highest temperature in the state Wednesday was 99 at Wichita Falls.

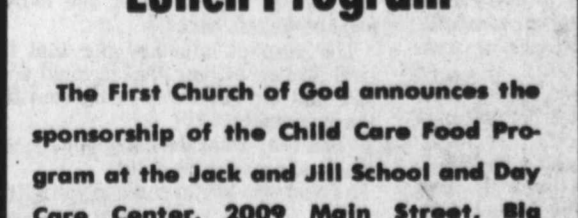

McAllen recorded more than two inches of rain Wednesday, while San Antonio received nearly an inch and Marfa one-third of an inch.

Ten more blacks killed in riots

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — Rioting, arson and looting continued for the third day today in black townships outside Port Elizabeth. Police gunfire killed 10 blacks and wounded 23 Wednesday, the police announced today.

Angry crowds of blacks burned two schools, a hospital and a shopping center early today. Property damage in the three days of violence was estimated at more than a million dollars. The police said 31 blacks were arrested.

Meanwhile, the multiracial committee which has been negotiating the future of South-West Africa, or Namibia, set Dec. 31, 1978, as the date for the territory's independence from South Africa.

A transitional government to handle the transfer of authority and establish a constitution will be set up shortly, the committee said.

Neighboring black-ruled countries have repudiated the committee and contended that it is a puppet of South Africa's white minority regime because the government refused to let the South-West Africa People's Organization (SWAPO) participate in the negotiations. SWAPO is fighting a guerrilla war along the northern border in which at least 442 guerrillas and 61 South Africans have been killed since 1973.

The disturbances around industrial Port Elizabeth, at the southeast corner of the country, began Tuesday and escalated Wednesday with a march by 500 high school students in sympathy with blacks killed earlier. The crowd grew to 4,000, and the police opened fire when they refused to disperse.

Free canisters for volunteers

Volunteers wishing to collect funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association Labor Day Telethon may pick up official collection canisters at their 7-Eleven Store.

As part of its corporate sponsorship of this year's Jerry Lewis Telethon, The Southland Corporation has arranged for each of its 7-Eleven Stores to be an official distribution and collection point for the canisters.

Each canister is identified by a number and must be returned at the end of one week. Volunteers wishing to continue their efforts may obtain a second canister upon turning in the first one.

The Southland Corporation's 5,800 7-Eleven Stores nationwide have set a goal in excess of $1 million to be contributed to the MDA-Jerry Lewis Telethon.

'Good town to invest money in'

The front page of the Aug. 13 Big Spring Herald was unusual in that it contained news of two projects totaling almost $1 million for Big Spring.

One project is the planned construction of a new 64-unit motel by Rip Griffin of Lubbock.

GRIFFIN, OWNER of a truck stop at Interstate 20 and U.S. 87, says he will begin work immediately on the two-story motel directly east of the truck stop.

Griffin wasn't frightened at all by the fact that Webb Air Force Base is being studied as a candidate for closure.

His vice president, Joe Wofford, said, "We think this is a good town to invest some money in."

Another major project announced is that of First Baptist Church to add $500,000 in facilities to its church, located at 705 Marcy Drive.

A FUND-RAISING campaign will begin in October for the 40,000-square-foot addition which will contain a chapel, a family life center, a new suite of offices and more education space. The membership has voted to approve the project.

Both of these projects are signs of optimism among West Texans.

Coming on the same day as they did in the newspaper, they had an impact of confidence building in Big Spring.

Conventions differ

Around the rim

James Werrell

With the major news of the day emanating from Kansas City I feel compelled to make some comparisons (mostly irrelevant and prejudiced) between the Democratic and Republican Conventions.

ACCORDING TO figures presented the other night on CBS, the average Democratic delegate contained more minorities, women and people under 30 years of age than its Republican counterpart. The average Democratic delegate has also received more formal education than the average GOP delegate.

About the only area in which the Republican delegate came out on top was in the size of his salary.

My own observations lead to the conclusion that Republicans are more concerned with holding an orderly and dignified gathering than the Demos. In Tuesday's convention meeting Robert Dole, presiding chairman, went to great lengths to clear the delegates and media-men from the aisles.

As a "nattering nabob of negativism" (Spiro '71) in the media myself, I resented the fact that newsmen were strong-armed away from the action. The reporters almost missed the story when a Utah delegate ripped out the New York delegation's floor phone.

If the attractiveness and poise of one's family could win elections, Ford would triumph by a landslide. I'm surprised Ford hasn't considered his wife as a running mate.

The most cogent point made about Rule 16C, requiring the selection of a running mate by Ford before Wednesday, was made by a young woman from Minnesota. She asked, in essence, why the Reagan forces placed so much importance on bringing the delegates into the VP selection process when none of them had had a hand in choosing Schweiker, Reagan's nominee.

It is ironic that, though the path was a little more convoluted, the only suspense remaining for the Republicans two days into the convention is who Ford will choose as a running mate. (I write this before Wednesday's gathering.)

IT IS ALSO ironic that with all the built-in excitement for this year's GOP convention, the delegates still appear to be just going through the motions. This is more evidence of the Republicans' legendary, lackluster heavy-handedness.

As one friend (Hey, that's no friend. That's Danny Reagan) puts it, "Kansas City is Pabulum City." The Republicans had the making of a real three-ring circus, but again the wet blanket descended and the Grand Old Party proved as dull as this year's Democrats.

The Republicans seem to have a corner on the market of old warhorses of the Goldwater-Landon variety. All the Democratic legends except for Humphrey have gone on to the big baby-kissing contest in the sky. The Republicans can use all the oldies-but-goodies they can find because of an ex-president whom they have rarely and barely will mention. The Demos have finally gotten around to mentioning Johnson.

Finally, this year's award for the man who is in the best spirits with the least justification goes to Vice President Nelson Rockefeller.

In conclusion at this point in time (it's catching) I would like to state that despite the relatively comatose nature of both conventions, they were (are) still the most exciting shows in town.

The excitement comes from watching a process that often seems to degenerate to a rabble or a scene at a horse race, but where the outcome is always in the hands of the lone American voter.

Yippies protest

Art Buchwald

KANSAS CITY — On a hill just above the Crown Center in Kansas City, where President Ford is staying, are about 250 Yippies with signs protesting the various socio-economic problems of the country. Many of the signs are printed, but not printable, at least not in this paper. Compared to previous conventions the protestors of '76 are only a drop in the bucket, and in some ways look as outdated as the Republicans they are protesting against.

WHEN PRESIDENT FORD arrived at his hotel they all started screaming at him from their hillside perch. I noticed one lad, though, who just sat there and wasn't screaming or yelling or waving a sign. He attracted my attention.

"Why aren't you yelling obscenities like everyone else?" I asked him. "I'm an uncommitted protestor," he replied. "I haven't decided yet whether I'm going to curse Ford or Reagan."

"You're the first uncommitted protestor I've met," I said. "Both sides must be wooing you like mad."

"You would think so," he said bitterly. "But I haven't heard from either the Ford camp or the Reagan camp as yet. Of course I don't have a telephone so I'm sorta hard to reach. But if they were really on the ball they'd find me."

"Did you come to Kansas City as an uncommitted protestor or did you decide to become one after you got here?"

"My original idea was to protest the nomination of Gerald Ford for pardoning Nixon. Then Reagan started picking up steam so I switched and decided to protest against him for wanting to get us in a war with Panama."

"THEN REAGAN picked Schweiker as his candidate for Vice President, and I said 'I'm not going to protest a guy who picks a liberal with his voting record in the Senate.' So I decided I would go back to protesting against Ford. Then suddenly Schweiker says he agrees with Reagan on most issues, and now I don't know who the hell to be against."

"Everybody else on this hill seems to be protesting Ford. That should help him get the nomination from the Republicans."

"The Ford people claim they have 1,190 Yippies protesting the President, the Reagan people claim they have enough Yippies cursing them to win the nomination on the first ballot. But the truth is, if you eliminate the FBI and CIA undercover agents, who are screaming at both candidates, neither one of them has it locked up. The convention is still going to be decided by the uncommitted protestors who are waiting to see which way the wind is blowing."

I noticed a sign next to him that said "X!&!... or words to that effect."

"You've left a blank in the space next to your unprintable epithet," I said.

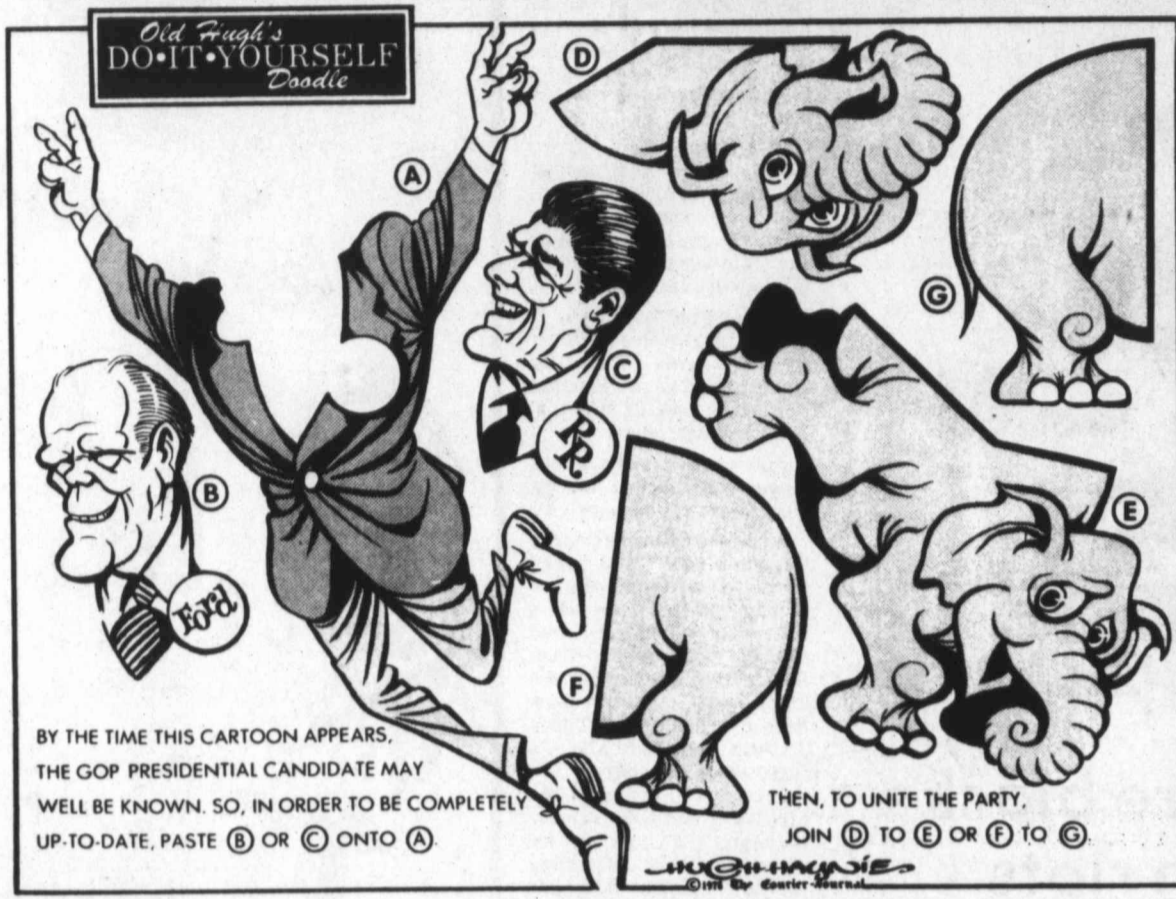

"YEH, I HAVE a magic marker in my pocket and when I decide which guy I really hate the most I'll put his name in."

"What does it hinge on now?" "Probably who Ford chooses as his running mate. I'll be honest with you. There isn't a tinker's damn difference between them ideologically. My only concern is who can give Carter the best contest. Protesting is a lot of work and if the Republicans come up with a weak ticket I may sit the election out."

"So this could be your last hurrah." "I would say so. The party is finished. Look at all these idiots standing on the hill screaming every obscenity in the book at the delegates, and the President, and no one even looks around. Even the cops don't give a damn about us any more. When you have a party that doesn't get shocked at Yippies, man, it's all over."

"What would it take for you to commit yourself as a protestor to one or the other of the candidates?"

"An offer of secretary of state or 10 ounces of grass — whichever is worth more."

Flu can leave gland scar

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, age 37, developed a hard lump in the gland just below his right ear following a flu illness three years ago. Since then he has had this swelling checked by three different doctors. None seemed concerned and all suggested he come back only if it enlarges.

Can you tell me how, without a biopsy, it is determined that a swelling of this type is of no concern? — Mrs. G.H.

The fact that it has not enlarged in three years time would account for his doctors' apparent lack of concern about it. They have probably looked for other nodes in classic locations such as the groin and armpits. Finding none would rule out a generalized infection. A virus (for example, a flu variety) often will settle in a node in this way and cause infection. The scarring from such an infection would cause a lump to form. However, apart from the lymph node possibility, one must also rule out a possible tumor of the parotid gland. That would be located below the ear. It would be very firm in consistency, fixed in place. A lymph node would be moveable. The parotid glands are the ones involved in mumps.

I would be inclined to have it removed. A biopsy is the only way to determine the exact nature of any tissue. If this matter is causing you distress, you have a right to seek one.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me just what "spoon nails" are and how you get them. I can't tell for sure, but I think mine are in that category. Am I undernourished or what? — Mrs. T.H.

They are called spoon nails because there is what is called a "saucerization" in the central portion — a gently dip in of the surface. Nail symptoms are many and varied and they may or may not indicate some underlying disorder. In most cases they merely raise mild suspicions that may or may not be confirmed by further diagnosis.

With spoon nails one might suspect such problems as iron deficiency, perhaps a thyroid disorder — either underactive or overactive. Sometimes spoon nails can mean only that the nails are softer. That could be an inherited quality. Lack of sufficient protein is another possibility. Nails are a fascinating subject. The various symptoms and their possible meaning are discussed at length in my booklet, "Solving Your Nail Problems." If you want to be a "nail detective," it might help. For a copy, send 35 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BURP" — A.

My original idea was to protest the nomination of Gerald Ford for pardoning Nixon. Then Reagan started picking up steam so I switched and decided to protest against him for wanting to get us in a war with Panama.

THEN REAGAN picked Schweiker as his candidate for Vice President, and I said "I'm not going to protest a guy who picks a liberal with his voting record in the Senate." So I decided I would go back to protesting against Ford. Then suddenly Schweiker says he agrees with Reagan on most issues, and now I don't know who the hell to be against.

Everybody else on this hill seems to be protesting Ford. That should help him get the nomination from the Republicans.

But the truth is, if you eliminate the FBI and CIA undercover agents, who are screaming at both candidates, neither one of them has it locked up. "An offer of secretary of state or 10 ounces of grass — whichever is worth more."

Election strategy

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

KANSAS CITY — The big question nagging the Republican delegates here is whether all the sound and fury has been worth the aggravation. The GOP is so deep in the hole, according to the polls, that it may not be able to climb out by November.

In the smoke-filled backrooms, party leaders frankly doubt that Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale can be overtaken by election day. But they intend to put up a battle. Here is their secret strategy:

FIRST, THEY must cool tempers and soothe animosities. The party pros believe they can do this. Both President Ford's campaign manager, Rogers Morton, and Ronald Reagan's manager, Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., have assured us that they will be able to bring their forces together for the campaign ahead.

Second, they must bring the high-flying Jimmy Carter back down to earth. The pros say they have no alternative; they must open up on Carter with all their anti-aircraft batteries; he must be riddled full of holes or their ticket won't stand a chance.

The trigger man will be the vice presidential candidate. The GOP strategists hope their No. 2 man can enthrone the Democrat's No. 1 man in a running exchange. The two may scratch and scar one another. But if the strategy works, the Republican presidential candidate will stay above the battle and remain comparatively unscathed.

Some of the party's lesser lights, meanwhile, will concentrate their fire on Walter Mondale. They believe he is vulnerable because of his liberal record.

The Republicans will try to portray the Democrats as big spenders, as wasters of the taxpayers' hard-earned money. President Ford tried to impose a $395 billion spending ceiling on Congress for the 1977 fiscal year. But the Democratic leadership added $18 billion and adopted a $413 billion ceiling.

Of course, the truth is that the President caught Congress off guard by requesting a spending ceiling that was unrealistically low. The final figures weren't available on the actual spending in fiscal 1976. Under the law, a spending ceiling can't be set until the previous year's level is determined.

So Congress could hardly accept the President's $395 billion ceiling without the risk of violating federal law. Clearly, he was playing politics when he proposed the ceiling. The higher $413 billion ceiling was determined, in large part, by the subsequent spending figures.

FORD HAS refused to cooperate, meanwhile, with the new congressional budgeting process. Yet when he was still a congressman, he fought for a better budget system. Now that Congress has one, he is bucking it.

However, the budget is complex and the astronomical figures difficult to understand. The GOP strategists believe they can use the figures to show that the Democrats are spenders and wasters.

GUNS FOR REAGAN: As a post-script to the Republican convention, the story can now be told of how supporters of Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter wound up on an advisory council backing Ronald Reagan.

They thought they were supporting the gun lobby. But after they signed on as advisors to the Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms, the group solemnly endorsed not only Saturday night shoot-em-ups but also Ronnie Reagan.

Indeed, the group poured more than $16,000, some of it perhaps illegally, into Reagan's drive for the presidency. The unwitting advisers may be even more upset to learn that the group contributed $1,000 to the House pain-in-the-neck, Rep. Larry McDonald, D-Ga. This was his reward, apparently, for writing the solicitation letter hitting up gun lovers for money.

Big Spring Herald M

Dear Editor: Wednesday at approximately 2:35 p.m. a fire occurred within a car near the Salvation Army. Here is a story for the women of Big Spring:

I ran over to the car that was being put out by two employees of Bob Brock Ford, when I arrived the car was still burning and a lot of smoke was pouring from the car.

The woman who owned the car was standing about 20 feet from the car crying and yelling.

There was so much going on that I didn't even stop to listen to the woman, then I heard the woman yell "my baby, my baby" I stopped to listen and she yelled the same thing again. I yelled to a man fighting the fire and told him that there was a child inside.

A person on the other side of the car looked in and turned to me and with a whisper said that the child was dead. I looked, but couldn't tell, so I ran to the other side, I looked in to see the baby still breathing. I told a fireman near the car that the child was breathing. He reached in, took the child out of the car and laid it on his coat.

The ambulance arrived about that time and took the child to the hospital.

The baby had third degree burns over 85 per cent of the body, as near as I could tell.

I called the hospital about an hour and twenty minutes after the baby had been taken there.

The hospital informed me that it had done everything that it could do, and that the child was being sent to the burn center.

I can't say what the baby's chances are, but I pray for the child. I would also like to come to you with only a small favor to ask. Please, whatever the mothers do, don't leave your child in your car, not even for a second.

The mother of this child didn't know and didn't think that anything would happen, but it did and neither I nor anyone else can change that, but everyone can pray for the child. I blocked the view of the child's mother, I thank God that the child was alive, and I pray that the child may live and to see the mother hold her baby again.

Program designed to help ministers be ministers

Clinical Pastoral Education is a program designed to help ministers be ministers. Foy Ritchie told the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday meeting in the Settles.

GOP wives stars of Convention

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The First Lady, a former dancer, and the former first lady of California, a former actress, are as different in their showstopping convention roles as in their daily campaign style.

Betty Ford, the President's wife, swung into the arms of singer Tony Orlando and danced to the tune of "Tie a Yellow Ribbon" at Tuesday night's session of the Republican convention.

Nancy Reagan, wife of former California Gov. Ronald Reagan, stood quietly, smiled and waved. They brought down the house.

Hours earlier, it was Nancy Reagan who undertook an exhausting day of campaign travel while Betty Ford made a single public appearance and worked quietly behind the scenes.

Both women attended a brunch held by the National Federation of Republican Women. They met briefly and shook hands.

Mrs. Ford told the group, "There is nothing I am more concerned about than getting more women into government... More power to them."

Mrs. Reagan was not called upon to speak.

Then, the two first ladies — veteran entertainers and veteran campaigners — went their separate ways to boost the political futures of their husbands.

Mrs. Ford has attended relatively fewer teas and made fewer public appearances at the convention than Mrs. Reagan. Since arriving Sunday, Mrs. Ford has privately chatted with delegates in the suite of convention rooms rented by the Ford forces.

Mrs. Reagan went from the brunch to the Royal Hills Nursing Center, then attended a tea at the Kansas City Museum and a noisy reception for young Republicans at a downtown hotel.

Along the way she made time for interviews on the bus and said several times, with increasing exasperation, that her husband will not accept the No. 2 spot on the GOP ticket. It was not the crush of well-wishers or the pace of the receiving line, but rather her time with the fragile, pale and the dying at the nursing home that touched her deeply.

It was hardly a place to reap votes or inspire election workers, the nursing home where residents crave compassion, not promises.

The home turned out in its Sunday best, or at least its best pink slippers and faded dressing gowns, with wisps of bright yarn to pull back wisps of hair.

Mrs. Reagan spoke to everyone who gathered, and they responded with childlike pleasure, or sunken stares.

"Oh, thank you for coming. You're so pretty and we're so honored," said Sally Gray, 96, as she gripped a walker with one hand and handed Mrs. Reagan a white orchid corsage with the other.

Mrs. Reagan kissed her. Upstairs, with the most severely disabled and bedridden, Mrs. Reagan's cheery exterior melted in quick tears as 92-year-old Ellen Peppergias bent over the bedside of her friend, 84-year-old Ida McMillan.

Ellen wished her a good sleep, kissed her and said the Lord's Prayer.

Outside, Nancy Reagan dried her eyes.

"I guess that really got to me," she said.

Eggceptional day for hen

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — One of Ulla Westerholm's white leghorn hens hit the daily double recently when it laid an egg within an egg.

When the huge egg was opened, out came both white and yolk and left inside was another completely whole egg, still uncracked.

the CPE program at Big Spring State Hospital, explained how the training is aimed at helping ministers to pinpoint the things which are bothering their people.

BSSH is one of some 200 institutions in the United States qualified to certify institutional chaplains for their professional roles. BSSH's program has had 37 students during the past three years and these have come primarily from Texas but range as far away as Connecticut and Indiana.

The program is divided into two phases — the introductory one a 40-week part-time situation where ministers come in for one day a week of study, hospital visitation, and intrapersonal relationships which may set the basis for emotional and mental therapy. At least, he said, the latter is a "safe place" where ministers can unburden themselves about their own problems.

The second phase — advanced — puts ministers on a full-situation at the hospital, doing much the same thing more intensively for nine months. They receive a stipend as a chaplain's assistant during the period.

"We hope to teach them to go back to the community and learn to listen, to learn to know where people hurt," said Ritchie. "Also, we learn not to look upon people with mental illness or trouble as odd balls, but those who have problems as part of the growing or maturing process."

Some lay people, interested in counselling and religious work, take part in the introductory course, he added.

At Wednesday's meeting Jack Lemons, pastor district governor, inducted Wayne Henry as a new member.

Longet trial probably won't begin Aug. 30

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Entertainer Claudine Longet's trial on charges of killing her lover probably will not begin on schedule Aug. 30 because the prosecution has appealed a ruling suppressing her diary and other evidence, the judge says.

Miss Longet, 35, former wife of singer Andy Williams, has pleaded innocent to manslaughter in the March 21 shooting death of professional skier Spider Sabich.

The prosecution appealed to the state Supreme Court after Judge George E. Lohr granted a defense motion to suppress Miss Longet's diary and some personal papers. The judge ruled that investigators violated her rights by removing them from a dresser drawer.

Radio club of Lubbock to host 3,000 Sept. 4

The Flatlander's Radio Club of Lubbock, one of the largest radio clubs in the southwest, will host 3,000 to 5,000 CB'ers from all over the nation Sept. 4 through Sept. 6 at the fourth annual Labor Day Jamboree.

The big jamboree will be held in the merchant's building on the South Plains fair grounds where the camping facilities and camper hookups will be available.

Proceeds of the three-day event will be donated to the Texas Boy Ranch in the Lubbock area, a favorite project of the Flatlanders.

Grand prizes worth over $1,500, including a Pace AM & SSB Base, a Royce AM Base, a Console sewing machine with cabinet and an AM Mobile radio will be given away, as well as many other valuable door prizes such as a television, mobile radios, a bicycle, watches and crocheted items.

Booths displaying the latest in radio equipment will be set up along with engraving, patches, jewelry and other merchandise. Several radio clubs will also have booths displaying merchandise.

The jamboree will get under way at 9 a.m. Saturday, with activities planned the entire day. There will be a Saturday night dance in the Aztec room at the Southpark Inn, starting at 8:30 p.m. Activities are also planned for Sunday and Monday, with the main door prize being given away at 4:00 p.m. Monday.

For jamboree information one can write Flatlanders Jamboree, P.O. Box 1045, Lubbock, 79408 or call Charles Yett at 806-765-5370 or Jack Morris at 806-792-0542.

FROM HAIR TO THERE — Nicolaus Stassinios of Athens, Greece, goes to this length to point up his pride and joy after winning the "Mister Mustache 1976" contest, an annual event held in Taranto recently. The mustache measures 44 inches from tip to tip. Stassinios was the only non-Italian among 45 contestants.

636 cases pending Criminal docket continues jammed

The number of pending county criminal court cases continued to inch upward during July. July started with 618 cases pending and ended with 636 on the criminal docket. County Attorney W. H. (Bill) Eysen Jr. filed 34 new cases and saw 25 appealed from lower courts. Guilty pleas were entered in 22 cases, including 17 for driving while intoxicated. County Judge Bill Tune dismissed 17 misdemeanors and returned two to lower courts for the original judgments. No jury trials were held. In civil action, Judge Tune entered four agreed or default judgments. There were new suits filed. On July 31, there were 209 civil suits pending in county court. The county clerk's office, which prepares these statistics for the Texas Judicial Council, counted 25 probate cases filed during July.

Lawsuit filed against actor

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Barry Newman, who played "Petrocelli," has been accused in a lawsuit of negligent driving that led to the death of a man. Barbara Hoppe of Green Valley, Ariz., filed the suit in Superior Court alleging that Newman's negligent and reckless driving last April 22 caused a traffic collision in which her husband, Herbert, was injured. The suit said the accident provoked a heart attack which killed Hoppe several weeks later. The suit asks unspecified damages. Police records of the collision said Hoppe suffered a wrist injury, was treated at a hospital here and released. Newman was here filming the since-canceled series.

Ridin' fence

Can't get away

with Marj Carpenter

When you hit the road on vacation, you don't really ever get away from your home town. This came out pretty strong to me on my vacation last week when deep in the tall timbers of the Piney Woods, I picked up the Nacogdoches Sentinel and began to read the sports page.

Houston, Port Arthur and Beaumont areas. They are great. "I consider the district we are in (District 14AAAA) one of the roughest in the state. District 5-AAAA (West Texas) ranks with our district. The teams include Abilene, Cooper, Big Spring, Midland Lee, Midland, Odessa High, Odessa Permian and San Angelo Central. "Longview's Lobos, who won the District 14-AAAA last fall, lost to Odessa Permian 10 to 9 in the AAAA semi-final playoff last December at Lubbock." Well, hail to thee, wise coach. This is a tough football district. People around here tend to forget that when Big Spring, the smallest of the lot, ends up often at the bottom of the heap. In other districts in Texas, they might be champions. And they may fool this district one of these days — yet. While ridin' fence way off along the coast and up in the Piney Woods, we visited a couple of our old friends who were coaches in West Texas. In Nacogdoches, we visited the Pete Smiths. Pete was baseball coach in Andrews in the year they advanced to the state finals and is Dean of Housing at Stephen F. Austin. He's some fisherman and we had a great time there. Over at Port Arthur, we had great fun at Carol's and Bob's. It was like seeing a section of Big Spring. Coaches Bob Burris, Bob Glover, Mike Carraway, Tommy M'ss, Ron Stump and Corky Smith are ready and rearing down there for football to start.

Sitting around munching on fish filets and boiled crab, we talked fishing and football. Went up to the wonderful athletic facilities there at Port Arthur High and viewed their film of the spring scrimmage. Looks good. But that's also tough football district with State Champion Port Neches-Grove sitting right there in the district. But Bob Burris and Doug Etheridge have known each other's ways a long time. Both of them produced winners at Hobbs. Etheridge was in Monahans when Bob was in Hobbs and then he was in Hobbs when Bob was in Midland. It ought to get interesting down there in the coastal bend.

But even though I couldn't get completely away from Big Spring and former West Texans, you would have laughed at this land lubber out setting crab traps and all that good stuff. Far away from the fence, I still ran into Big Spring and after a couple weeks of the ocean, the tall trees and the beauties of the east, I headed home. As my son and I came out of San Angelo, we muttered, "Finally, there is the big sky. It's beautiful. We're nearly home." Back to ridin' fence.

Israel should pay for raid

NAIROBI, Kenya — Uganda President Idi Amin says Israel must pay for the loss of lives and property in the Entebbe airport raid and for the "hospitality" he extended to the hijacked hostages. Amin sent a cable to Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin giving him a week to respond to these demands, but making no specific threats if he failed, Radio Uganda said Wednesday in a broadcast monitored here. Uganda has claimed that 20 of its soldiers were killed in the July 4 Israeli raid to free hostages taken in the hijacking of an Air France Airbus by pro-Palestinian terrorists. Some of the hostages later said Amin appeared to be giving full support to the hijackers.

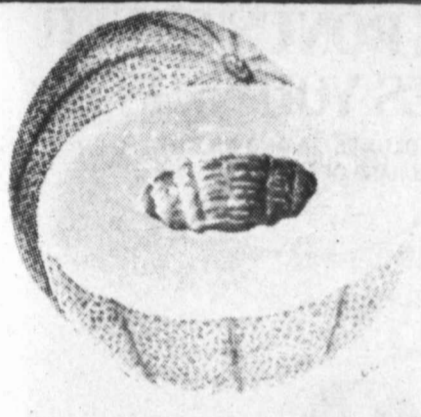

Ford collision teen arrested on drug charge

NORTH WILWOOD, N.J. (AP) — James Salamites, whose car collided with President Ford's limousine last fall, has been placed on three months probation and fined $25 in connection with a drug arrest. Salamites, 20, of Meriden, Conn., had been arrested here July 14 after police were called to a disturbance at a gas station and found what they said was some hashish in his car. In a brief municipal court session Wednesday, Magistrate Edwin Bradley accepted a defense motion that Salamites be granted a conditional discharge on a charge of possessing drugs. He then pleaded guilty to a charge of creating a disturbance. Last Oct. 14, Salamites' car collided with Ford's limousine at an unguarded intersection in Hartford, Conn., after Ford had left a Republican fund-raising dinner at the Hartford Civic Center. No one was injured in the collision.

Radio fan bounces signals off moon

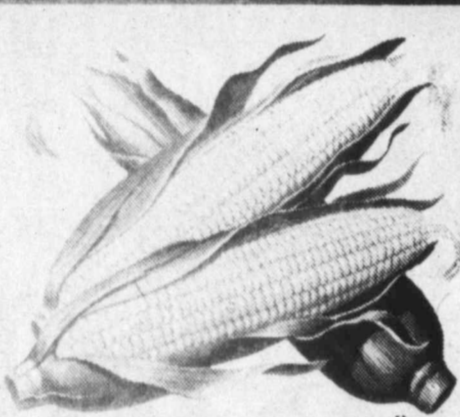

COLLIERVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — In the multitude of communication media, Paul Wilson has utilized one of the most unusual forms. From his home here, Wilson manipulates a homemade, 18-foot metal "dish" atop a 35-foot platform in his back yard and bounces radio signals off the moon. Wilson, a TV technician, constructed the radio device from surplus U.S. Army communication parts in a span of three years. After completion of the transmitter in 1974, Wilson said, he was able to bounce his microwave signals off the moon and another amateur radio hobbyist in Maryland picked them up. "It was the first time any amateur on this frequency had made contact like that," Wilson said.

Most killed since 1970

Earthquake activity lull shattered in 1976

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earthquakes have killed tens of thousands and wreaked devastation on three continents this year, making 1976 the deadliest year for quakes since 1970, U.S. experts say.

The U.S. Geological Survey said Wednesday the number of severe quakes doubled since June, indicating that 1976 may reverse the apparent worldwide earthquake activity lull reported since 1973.

Survey scientists said 10 major earthquakes and three great quakes already have occurred this year. The long-term average is for about 16 to 18 major and one great quake a year.

A major quake registers magnitude 7 or greater on the Richter Scale. A great quake, registers 8 or more. Every increase of one number on the scale means the ground motion is 10 times greater.

The USGS National Earthquake Information Service in Golden, Colo., reported only 11 major shocks in 1973. There were 12 in 1974 and 13 in 1975. The first great quake since 1971 also occurred last year.

Earthquakes have taken more than 27,000 lives, and possibly many thousands more so far this year. This makes 1976 the deadliest year for quakes since 1970 when more than 67,000 were killed in Peru and Turkey. This year's toll includes 23,000 deaths in Guatemala in February, 900 in northeastern Italy in May, 600 in Bali in July and at least 3,100 killed in the Philippines this week as a result of quakes.

The USGS said the death toll is expected to go higher because of expected fatalities from major quakes in China July 28 and afterwards. China has not released casualty figures for the quake and severe aftershocks that devastated the Tangshan area 100 miles southeast of Peking and largely destroyed Tientsin, the nation's third largest city. "Looking at the time of the quake (3:45 a.m.), its magnitude, the high population ... and the types of construction in the area, some of our scientists ... say they would not be surprised if deaths go into the hundreds of thousands," a spokesman said of the China disaster. Also not included in the figures are deaths from major quakes that hit the Soviet Union April 8 and May 1, and unconfirmed reports of 9,000 killed in Western New Guinea on June 25. USGS scientists say too little is known about worldwide earthquake activity to determine the significance of periods of high and low activity. Seismic activity tends to be episodic, they say, with periods of relative quiet alternating with periods of active movements. In the first half of 1976, quake activity was slightly behind average. "Patterns of recent years were continuing until June," a USGS spokesman said, "then it picked up like no one could believe." And no one can say if the increased activity will continue, he added.

San Angelo jury misunderstood Hays verdict?

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — A controversy has developed in this West Texas city over whether or not a jury understood its options when it convicted former Castroville City Marshal Frank Hayes of aggravated assault in the death of a prisoner.

Foreman Luther Sheldon told the San Angelo Standard Times Wednesday that jurors were confused by the wording of the choices open to them for conviction and the charge to the jury made by state District Court Judge Earl W. Smith.

Later the same day, Sheldon told television station KCTV in San Angelo that there was "no confusion."

Sheldon told the television station the jury convicted Hayes of "death by aggravated assault."

675 rigs spinning

Total number of operating rigs last week was up in Texas to 675 over 660 the previous week.

A year ago, the figure was 640. The total in the United States was up to 1,709 this week with 1,661 the previous week and 1,651 a year ago.

West Texas again leads the list with 110 in one district and 51 in another, far above any other districts of the state in the rig count.

Five other jurors, who declined to be identified, agreed in separate interviews with the newspaper that there was confusion.

One woman juror said she and other jurors were surprised, shocked or stunned when told the maximum sentence for Hayes would be 10 years. "We thought we had gotten him for a little more than that," said the woman, who declined to be identified.

Another woman juror said she thought that aggravated assault that resulted in death automatically carried a murder charge.

"If the jury inadvertently returned the wrong verdict, it is tragic," said Judge Smith. He said he knew of no recourse or procedure for the jury to reverse its verdict.

Hayes was convicted of aggravated assault in the shotgun death of Richard Morales on Sept. 14, 1975.

Fem, daughter in daily double

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — It was a stork race all the way recently between Mrs. Ronald Peterson and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Curran.

The daughter, Kathleen Curran, 20, won when her son, Erick, arrived at 1:11 a.m. Then at 11:07 p.m. the same day, the mother, Zella Peterson, 39, delivered a new son of her own, Michael.

Morales had been picked up by Hayes on a burglary charge. Court testimony showed he was shot while in Hayes' custody. His body was found 300 miles away from Castroville in South Texas city.

Hayes said in court the shooting had been accidental. Other court testimony showed Hayes took Morales out of the police car and told another officer to leave him alone with the suspect at an isolated road.

Sheldon told the newspaper the jurors had assumed that when they agreed on the aggravated assault conviction, they thought they were convicting him of murder by aggravated assault since Morales had been killed. He said the jurors had a choice between finding Hayes insane, guilty of first degree murder, murder by aggravated assault, criminally negligent homicide and accidental homicide.

The trial record showed that in his charge to the jury, Judge Smith outlined two methods of committing murder saying it could be committed if "a person intentionally or knowingly" causes the death of an individual, and if a person "commits or attempts to commit a felony offense such as aggravated assault and in the course of that act causes the death of a person."

In his formal written charge to the jury, Smith said: "If you believe from the evidence ... that defendant Frank Hayes did commit or attempt to commit the felony offense of aggravated assault ... intentionally and knowingly using a deadly weapon ... and did intentionally and knowingly threaten (Richard) Morales ... and while in the course of that aggravated assault did commit acts which were clearly dangerous to human life ... and if you believe that Hayes did thereby cause the death of said Morales by shotgun wound, you would find the defendant guilty of murder."

But he added that if the jurors found that Hayes did not cause the death of Morales while still committing a felony offense of aggravated assault, they should find Hayes guilty of aggravated assault.

SERVICE FOR A QUEEN — The employees here certainly don't lack serving pieces, but they don't lack serving ideas either. From left to right, they are Lynn McWherter, Lucille Brown, Maurine Hanks, Judy Kloss, Betty Gamboa and Lynette Brooks.

Blums blooms in the kitchen

The employees in this jewelry store on Main exchanged their usual jewels for some of the more edible varieties like a rich and fluffy coconut custard pie.

Or for a company dinner try stuffed pork chops, an unusual surprise, with baked squash, an economical dish in the summer. Top it off with fresh apple cake, and the dinner is a success.

And for quick energy, the peanut patty is high in protein.

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — You might call Amarillo the Helium Capital of the World. According to a leaflet put out by the Amarillo Convention and Visitors Board, "Today in excess of 90 percent of the free world's known helium supply is to be found within a radius of 150 miles of Amarillo."

Although the city of 143,000 people was once a center of research in and production of the lighter-than-air gas, it is now principally the focal point of the country's helium conservation program. Helium produced at plants as far away as Kansas is piped or shipped by train to the reservoir at the Cliffside Gas Field about 15 miles northwest of Amarillo. The helium is stored in porous rock about 3,500 feet below the surface. About 38.4 billion cubic feet of helium has been put in storage there by the federal government and slightly less than one billion cubic feet of helium is stored there by private companies.

Amarillo is truly Helium Capital

What to expect from a married man

DEAR ABBY: You once printed a letter telling girls who were in love with married men what to expect. You titled it "Never On Sunday." Please try to find it and run it again. I want to send it to my daughter. Thank you.
TEARING MY HAIR IN TULSA

DEAR TEARING: Here's the letter. I hope it helps.
DEAR ABBY: May I give your readers the benefit of my very valuable experience? I address this to any woman who is in love with a married man:

Never expect to see him on Sundays or holidays. Never call him at home. Don't ever expect him to take you out in public, but be prepared to entertain him at your place. He may bring a bottle or the steaks occasionally, but in actual dollars and cents, you will spend more on him than he'll spend on you.

Never depend on him in times of personal crisis. Don't believe him when he tells you that his wife is a shrew, cold, homely, too fat (or too thin), and she hasn't slept with him in 10 years.

Don't expect his wife to divorce him if she catches him. She knows that you aren't his first affair and won't be his last. Also, she's not about to give up her social status, financial security and retirement income because of you. However, her discovery will probably terminate his affair with you, so be prepared to get some new clothes, circulate and find another man whose wife is a shrew, cold, homely, too fat (or too thin), and hasn't slept with him for 10 years. Sign me... HIS WIFE

DEAR ABBY: This may be the most unusual letter you've ever received. You may even toss it into the wastebasket thinking it's a put-on, but I assure you it is not.

I am a 42-year-old man who is marrying a 38-year-old woman. It's my first marriage and her second.

Please don't faint, Abby, but I am a virgin—if one refers to a man who has never had any sexual relations in his life as a virgin.

I know absolutely nothing about sex, and I'm scared to death that I will mess up on my honeymoon.

I am too ashamed to ask any of my close friends what to do. One day I tried to get some information from a casual acquaintance at work and he looked at me like I was nuts and said, "Just do what comes natural, man, do what comes natural." Then he walked away.

If I knew what was going to come natural I wouldn't be so worried.

Can you help me?

Doris Arcand honored with surprise shower

Mrs. Doris Arcand was honored with a surprise baby shower Wednesday evening August 17 in the Barcelona Apartments club room.

Decorations included a baby tree made by Mrs. Pat Radcliffe used as a centerpiece. Mrs. Paul Carroll baked and decorated a pink and blue cake in the theme of "Rock-A-Bye-Baby".

Guests included family, friends and Mrs. Arcand's sorority sisters. She was given gifts by the guests and games followed.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Radcliffe, Mrs. Carroll and Mrs. Kathering Bartholomew.

Clubhouse Oil club celebrates 22nd year

The Desk and Derreck Club met Monday evening August 16 in the Cosden downtown office building for a covered dish supper to celebrate its 22nd anniversary.

The first D&D club was formed in 1949 in New Orleans and now has over 6,000 members.

Among the 22 members present were three guests, Mrs. Charles Lusk, Mrs. Weldon Boggs and Mrs. Bill Emerson. They were welcomed by the president, Mrs. John Rains.

Orientation was given for this year by Mr. W. E. Barnett. The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Alma Golnick.

The next meeting will be held September 20, the third Monday of the month in the Cosden office building.

Volunteers honor end of program

The summer Junior Volunteer program at Big Spring State Hospital ended Thursday, climaxing with an informal luncheon honoring the youth workers and their parents.

Certificates for outstanding service were presented to Delaina McQuerry, Shana Anderson, Toni Pettitt and Wakenda Payte. Debby Thompson and Alen Mince, also recipients of the special certificates were unable to attend. The presentations were made by Mrs. Genie Crooks, Volunteer Services administrative technician and the luncheon hostesses were Mrs. Norma Tinley, Mrs. Pat Monroe and Mrs. Sonya Swindell.

The summer program, begun over 10 years ago, is open to young people who are at least 14 years of age. Working under the supervision of unit personnel, the volunteers assist the hospital in numerous ways, from answering telephones to escorting wheel chair patients. This year, young people had added areas of responsibility in rehabilitation therapy, maintenance and library services. Miss Thompson, who served as a library assistant, has completed two years as a volunteer.

"These teenagers have brought youthful enthusiasm to the hospital, offering friendship and serving wherever they were needed," said Mrs. Jo Bright, who coordinated the junior volunteers, patients and staff have all gained from the experience."

Study says break-ups of pregnancy-weddings not higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Couples who conceive a child before they wed do not have a significantly higher breakup rate than those who wait until after the marriage ceremony to start a family, a government report shows.

The report said that 81.6 per cent of women in the last half of the 1960s who married after becoming pregnant still were with their husbands at the time of the 1970 census, compared to 85.5 per cent of women who were not pregnant when they wed.

"When I was growing up, girls were urged to keep their bodies pure and those who represented themselves as the moral arbiters of society enforced this feeling," said Henry Smith of the Census Bureau.

"Here the statistics seem to suggest that a girl who becomes pregnant before marriage and marries the father seems to make out as well as the girl who kept her body pure," he said.

The figures were contained in the Census Bureau's first report on premarital childbirth.

The report shows also that 52.6 per cent of first children born to black mothers in 1969 were illegitimate, compared to 10.1 per cent of first babies born to white mothers.

The survey also shows that illegitimate first babies increased in recent years among blacks but remained nearly stable among whites.

About 18 per cent of black women between the ages of 45 to 50 reported having their first child out of wedlock. Of black women 25 to 30 years old, 38.2 per cent reported illegitimate first births.

Among white women in the 45 to 50 age group, 5.7 per cent reported having their first child while single. The figure was 6.4 per cent for white women of the younger 25-to-30-year-old generation.

Demographers, sociologists and social psychologists say that economic, social and cultural differences, and the availability of birth control methods explain differences in premarital child conception among races.

Mrs. Joy Dryfoos of a Planned Parenthood's research group, the Alan Guttmacher Institute in New York, said that illegitimacy rates will drop as birth control becomes more widespread.

"The conventional wisdom is that the black culture is more accepting of illegitimacy than the white culture," she said. "I would also suggest that the differences are related to the availability of birth control, abortion and sex education. I would expect a decline in black illegitimacy in the next report because our studies show that blacks are using abortion services more than we expected."

Haul up $2,315,263
Group of VA employes operating silver mines

A group of Veterans Administration employes are operating silver mines — right where they work. And last year these "miners" hauled up $2,315,263 in precious metal and by-products. The mines are located in a number of VA's 171 hospitals and consist of recover tanks and associated equipment to recapture silver from X-ray film and the chemicals used to develop the pictures. VA's silver reclamation program has been going on since 1962 and Fiscal Year 1976 was a banner one for it. A total of 235,397 troy ounces of silver were recovered from X-ray developing solution during the year and, in addition, VA collected 1.1 million pounds of scrap X-ray film with a value of $1,177,119. In the first year of its silver reclamation program, VA realized a net income of $27,327 — all of it from the sale of scrap film no longer needed for medical purposes. The silver mines netted a "profit" of $51,395 in fiscal year 1963 when 21,469 troy ounces of silver were recovered from solution and 132,500 pounds of film were sold. In those days, silver was valued at $1.23 per troy ounce. Today, with a value in excess of $4 a troy ounce, VA's silver operation is far more extensively developed and profitable to Uncle Sam. In a typical hospital the silver recovery unit utilized an electrolytic process to collect pure silver on a multiplicated cathode. When full, a cathode will contain as much as 300 troy ounces of silver worth well over $1,200 at recent prices. The silver is removed from the cathode at one of several VA processing centers around the country and stored until sold. Proceeds from the sale of the metal go into VA's revolving supply fund for the operation and maintenance of the agency's supply system. An innovation last year saw the agency begin processing its scrap film to recover silver, instead of selling the film as in previous years. Silver bullion worth $709,665 was recovered by this method. During Fiscal Year 1964 VA also completed tests and evaluation of new electrolytic recovery units which, it is expected, will bring a further increase in the yields from its silver program in the years ahead.

Konny's trip

School is starting soon, the winds have already started and the fishing is beginning to get down to the serious angler.

Here's the scoop:

LAKE THOMAS

Mrs. Tidwell reported a slow weekend. "The wind is keepin' 'em away!" she exclaimed. But some people did have luck.

A couple from Odessa caught 19 channel cat between 1-6 lbs. on minnows. They also caught six "pretty big" crappie.

A Tahoka couple caught six 3-5 lb. cats on minnows as well, and another couple caught 16 cats from 1 1/2-6 pounds on Catfish Charley.

George Vineyard of Snyder caught 23 "real good" catfish, from 2 1/2-5 pounds on minnows from the bank. Mrs. Tidwell also said a number of people are catching a few bass and catfish off the bank, and a "lot!" of people are catching the big carp on rod and reel off the bank.

Tuesday, about 35 to 40 Texas Parks and Wildlife men were at the lake cleaning it of old trotlines, taking up all the lines without recent dates. Mrs. Tidwell said they removed "boat loads" of them.

A number of campers are staying at the lake now, and Mrs. Tidwell said that she is packed with reservations for labor day.

MOSS CREEK LAKE

Ed McCain reports "fair" fishing this week. The catfish are biting some, and a few black bass have been taken out. Jessie Bedwell caught a five or six pounder on artificial bait, a plastic worm.

Most fishermen are having bad luck this week. "A good rain would help everything," said McCain.

McCain estimates the lake is going down at a rate of about two or three inches a day.

"Two more 14" walleyes were pulled out of the lake this past week, so at least they're still in there growing.

LAKE SPENCE

The strippers are running in 40-ft. water. Most are being caught about 20 to 30 feet deep on slabs. But they are still hitting top-water baits early in the morning and late at night.

The blacks are running shallow, and are also hitting top-water baits early and late in the day. The channel cat are biting on cut shad and shrimp, mostly in the coves about 10 feet deep. The yellow cat are still biting some, and are biting mostly on goldfish.

There were a few catches reported:

E.W. Becker and Wilbur Rosentetar, Midland — 5 blacks to 2 1/2 lbs., 16 crappie to 1 lb. (caught on minnows); Adam Gillihan, Big Spring — 6 1/2 lb. strip; Derwood and Jimmie Sherrill, Poway, Calif. — 39 channel cat to 3 1/2 lbs., and one black at 4 pounds; Lois and Bill Schwager, Odessa — 6 blacks to 2 1/2 lbs., 4 channel cat to 2 lbs.

"I can't turn them down"

Ali leaves fans to train

NEW YORK (AP) — Muhammad Ali's voice was loud and clear and confident, just as if he was speaking at a packed Manhattan news conference or before 25,000 idolators at the airport in Kuala Lumpur.

But it came over a telephone line from Show Low, Ariz.

"What are you doing in Show Low?" the questioner asked, his voice betraying the doubt he felt.

"I wanted to get away from people so I could concentrate on training. I can't turn them down," said the heavyweight champion of the world who fled late last week to this dot on the map from his well publicized — too well — farm at Berrien Springs, Mich.

Ali is scheduled to defend the title Sept. 28 in Yankee Stadium against tough Ken Norton.

So, because of what will be a stern test for his abilities, the 34-year-old champion said he has had to forsake people, leeching people and pretty people — "The prettiest women in the world are among my people" — and seek refuge at a training camp at the Show Low Airport.

To get to the camp, and Show Low, you fly from Phoenix on Cochise Airlines.

And now a word from Kountry Konny, back from her vacation in the great outdoors (she didn't catch one fish).

Konny says

"If you ever decide to pick up your sleeping bag and do some traveling, take a road that will lead you to Montana via Colorado and Wyoming. I just returned from a camping trip through that country, and it was fantastic.

"This time of year the wildlife is very plentiful, and seems to enjoy putting on a show for those interested. We camped one night in Wyoming at a campground that was surrounded by hot springs on one side and a river winding its way through on the other.

"The next morning we ventured out of our tent, and had the pleasure of watching a large moose eating breakfast just across the river.

"The animals aren't the only living creatures in this high country that like to entertain. There are those specimens called "tourist trappers," that like to entice the innocent bystander (usually tourists) into spending their limited vacation money.

"I happened to be one of those innocent bystanders. On one highway, there were signs every mile or so advertising a wildlife exhibit. They supposedly had a 1,600-pound moose and a full-fledged grizzly bear, in addition to other various wonders of the forest.

"We entered a small enclosed room, and after paying the $6 fee, it was too late to back out. We opened the curtain to find a large room filled with wild stuffed creatures.

"As we left the building, we stopped by one last sign that read: 'If you think you didn't get your money's worth, you didn't know what you were looking at.'

"Well, we knew what we were looking at... a tourist trap. But there was nothing we could do. There were also plenty of signs that read 'No Refunds.'

"But that was the only bad incident on a trip filled with fantastic scenery. If you're ever up that way, remember to stay out of traps, and don't set any yourself."

Innocent Bystander, Konny

The fish are still biting. August is supposed to be very good for angling. But many people don't report their catches and so we don't know.

But chances are that the fishing will be good up through November, so report in if you come across any miracle fool-proof catching system. Spence and Thomas still seem to be your best bet. Good luck.

TEE SHOT FOR ARNIE — Arnold Palmer follows through on his tee shot on the 12th tee of the Wethersfield Country Club golf course in Wethersfield during the pro-am event of the tourney Wednesday. The 72-hole, $210,000 tourney started this morning.

Renee come-lately

"Woman" refuses sex test

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Renee Richards, who was Dr. Richard Raskind before undergoing a sex change operation, doesn't think she has a chance of playing tennis at Forest Hills.

She's refused to take the chromosome test that the United States Open championships have ordered this year for all the women entries. Although the 41-year-old ophthalmologist says there will be an appeal, she termed her chances of success "zero."

As Richard Raskind, she fathered a youngster, practiced medicine and played outstanding tennis in the East. Last year the sex change operation was performed.

Now Dr. Richards wears tennis dresses and when she held a news conference Wednesday, she also wore a pink sweater.

A left-hander standing six feet tall, she showed power in her serves and forehand smashes while on the court. Although many believe that she would be a strong factor at Forest Hills, she said the younger women must be favored.

The transsexual Dr. Richards will play in the Tennis Week Open this weekend at South Orange, N.J., but she says the only reason she has come into the spotlight is that someone revealed her identity.

"I moved 3,000 miles and went into practice here," she said. "I played in tournaments in Orange County, Calif., without incident. When I played in La Jolla a television newsmen revealed my identity."

Fort Stockton and Sweetwater tangle in a football scrimmage on the Stanton High School field this evening.

Junior varsity units of the two schools square off about 6:30 p.m. The varsity teams take the field about 8 o'clock.

Both are Class AAA schools. In other area football action, the Forsan varsity will scrimmage with the Klondike varsity on Klondike's home turf. The game will begin 6 p.m. Friday.

Tornadoes blow the Aztecs away

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Tornado shut out the Los Angeles Aztecs 2-0 here Wednesday in the first round of the North American Soccer League playoffs.

The Tornado moves into the second round Friday against the Southern Division champion San Jose Earthquakes in San Jose.

The first Dallas goal came three minutes into the game on a 10-yard shot by Kevin Kewley, the midfielder from Liverpool, England. Kewley rammed in a right-footed shot after back Neil Cohen picked off a header from Los Angeles' Ron Davies and found Kewley open for a pass.

The icing goal came late in the second half on an unassisted shot by Jeff Bourne, another Englishman. Bourne took the ball after a throw-in, and passed it to Tommy Tynan. Tynan dribbled it to just outside the penalty area, from where he scored.

Steve Pecher, playing in a harness because of a shoulder separation, bottled up LA's dangerous Davies all night.

Football fans, seek seats soon

Big Spring football followers who want to reserve the same seat locations they had last year in Memorial Stadium must make known their wishes no later than 5 p.m. Friday.

Reservations for 1975 ticket holders are being made in the School Business Office, located in the School Administration building.

Next week, the tickets will be sold on a first-come, first-serve basis. The cost is $10 per copy and the tickets are good for five games. The 1976 Steers open on the road against Andrews Sept. 3. They play home games against Hobbs, N.M., Sept. 10, Abilene High Oct. 1, Midland High Oct. 8, Midland Lee Oct. 22 and San Angelo Central Nov. 12. Only Hobbs will be a non-conference game.

By buying season tickets, the subscriber takes advantage of a cheaper rate. Single game ducaats cost $2.50, as compared to $2 if all five are purchased at once. The price goes to $3 a ticket, if the fans wait until they arrive at the gate to purchase the pasteboard.

Par four, 408-yard, hole 12 has an elevated tee, a fairway that rises gradually to an elevated green, a gully about 45 yards in front of the green to the left and an out-of-bounds all the way from tee to green on the right. It is a par-five hole for women.

There are baby trees to the left about 235 yards out and one big tree on the right about 130 yards from the green. The tree on the right can affect your approach shot if you slice your drive.

The grass is very good on this hole cutting down on any roll. Because of its elevation the green holds straight-on shots well. However, this elevation also makes any shots from either side of the green difficult to hold.

This is one of the best holes on the back nine and a par is a good score.

shot on windy days and a six or seven-iron on calm ones. Average golfers sometimes need up to a three-wood on windy days, but can use a two or three-iron for their approach shot on calm ones.

Distance is important on the drive, but direction is important on the approach shot — you want a straight shot onto the green. If you miss the second shot you want to be short. Putts are easier to make going up to the pin than from the side.

Patience and perseverance pay off for pitcher Bartley waited, put it together

By JAMES WERRELL
Pride, patience, perseverance and a winning smile have helped make Teddy Bartley the Cinderella ballplayer of the year.

In one sense it would have been hard to guess a couple of years ago that the boy would make it to the State Little League Tournament. Maybe it would have been harder to guess that he would enter the tourney with a 9-0 season pitching record and a no-hitter under his belt.

There were probably some who didn't recognize Teddy when he pitched a two-hitter for the Midland Northern All-Stars, trouncing San Angelo 4-0 in bi-district play.

But those who saw him play in 1973, wearing leg braces to combat a possibly crippling disease affecting both legs, surely saw a winner.

He had played for two years of minor league baseball here with no handicap. Then, during the 1973 season, he suddenly found himself faced with a disease that confined him to either crutches or leg braces while he received medical treatment to try to beat the illness.

The braces slowed his game down, but didn't dampen his winning spirit. With encouragement from his family (his father, Lonnie Bartley, former Big Spring banker, managed the team), teachers, classmates and members of his church, he played out the season.

And there were frustrations. Teddy's father would sometimes have to pull his son out of the game because the opposition was taking too many bases on bunts. Teddy faced it with a chin-up, "whatever's best for the team" attitude. One observer who has watched him play for many years said, "Teddy seemed to be waiting and waiting, and putting it all together."

It came together this year. He had an opportunity reserved for only a few, to play in the state tournament. Though Midland Northern lost both of its games, the tournament was an experience the boy will never forget.

"We messed around a lot and lived in a dorm at Baylor (during the state finals)," said Teddy. "We, the team, had a quarter of a floor to ourselves with two guys to a room."

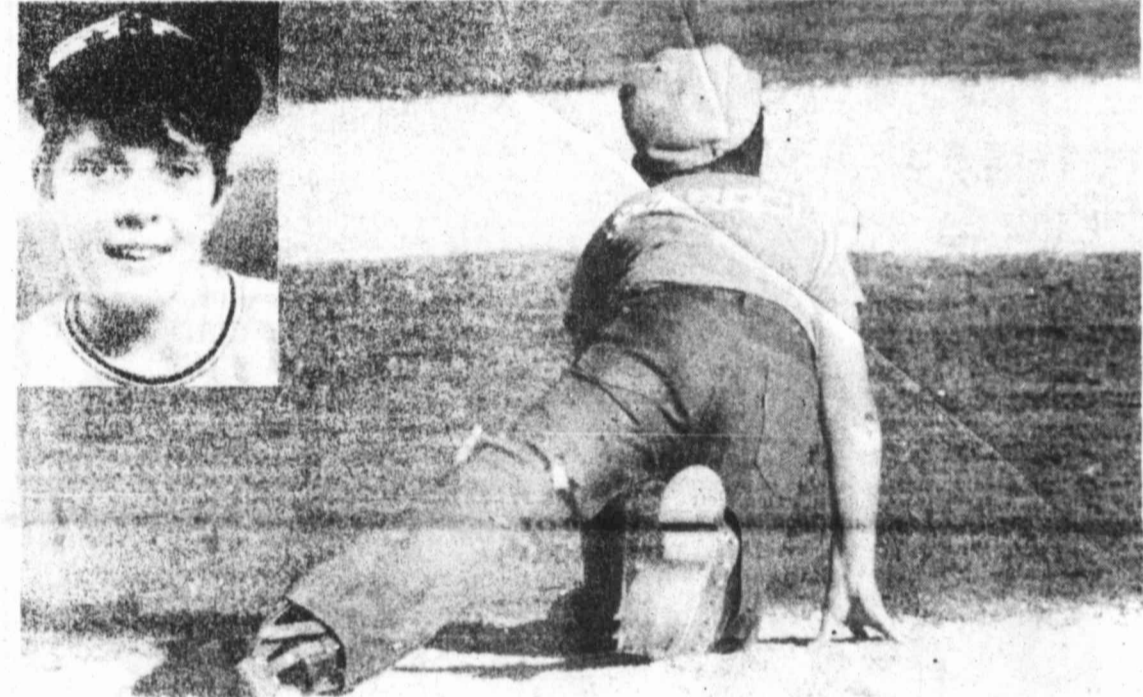

The young pitcher also had a chance to meet Baylor football coach Grant Teaff and ex-Dallas Cowboy Bob Lilly at a special banquet for the players.

Who are Teddy's favorite pitchers? "I really like Louis Tiant with the Red Sox and Don Gullett with the Cincinnati Reds," he said.

"Well, I'll be playing in the Pony League next season. That's for players 13 and 14 years old. Some of the guys will be older but I plan to work hard. I have pretty good curve and drop balls," said Teddy who blushes at being called the star pitcher of his team. "I've also always dreamed of joining the pros," he added.

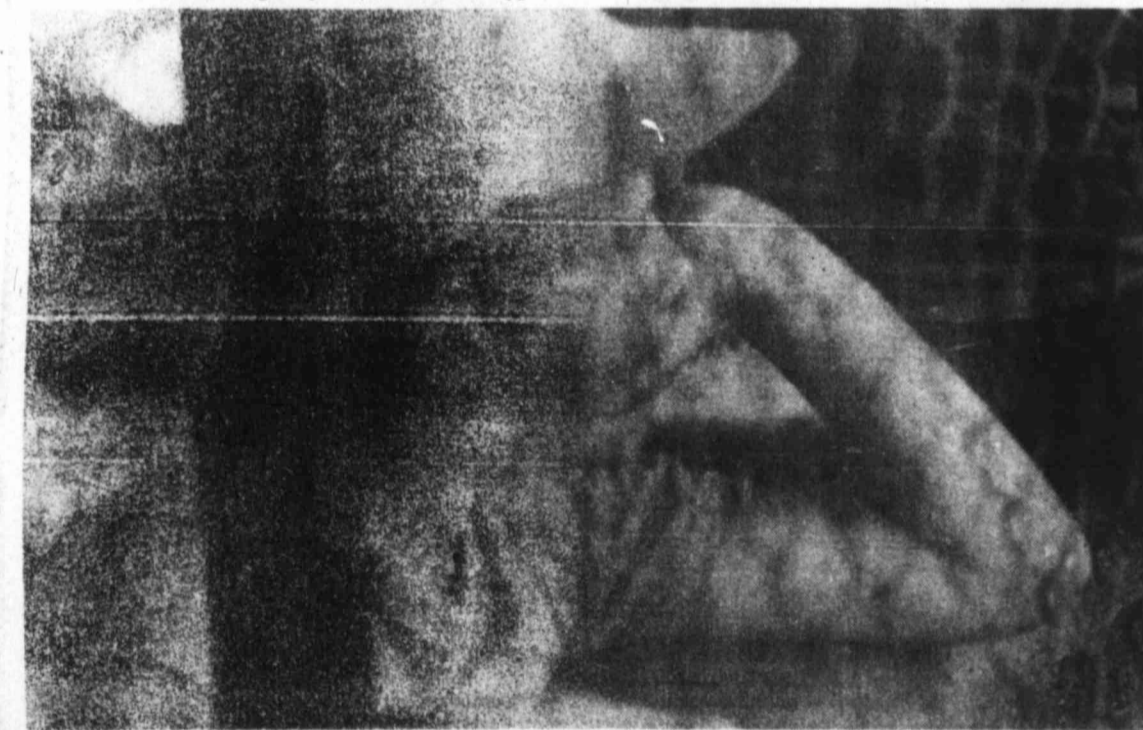

A TOUGH BREAK — Father and team manager Lonnie Bartley tells his son that it might be time to put in a relief pitcher in a minor league game in 1973. "Whatever's best for the team" was Teddy's attitude then.

THEN AND NOW — In a 1973 game Teddy goes down trying to snag a hit that got by him. The inset (upper

WAITING — "Waiting and waiting, and putting it all together." Things were different in 1973 when Teddy spent more time in the dugout watching the action.

Yankees down Rangers 8-6

Goltz faces Palmer and wins

By The Associated Press
Eight days earlier, Baltimore's Jim Palmer had pitched a one-hitter to beat Dave Goltz and the Minnesota Twins 2-0 but Goltz was more concerned with the Orioles' batters when the two hooked up again Wednesday night.

"I'm not throwing against pitchers, I'm throwing against the hitters," Goltz said after turning back 16-game winner Palmer and the Orioles 5-1.

In ending Baltimore's five-game winning streak and dropping them 10½ games behind the Yankees in the AL East, Goltz held the Orioles to six hits before giving way to Bill Campbell with two out in the eighth.

Palmer allowed eight hits and four runs in 62-3 innings, but three of the runs were unearned because of errors by shortstop Mark Belanger and right fielder Reggie Jackson.

Yankees 8, Rangers 6

Batting right-handed, White drove in the Yankees' first run with a third-inning homer off Jim Umberger after Texas kayoed Ken Holtzman in the second inning and piled up a 5-0 lead. White added a two-run double off Umberger as the Yankees scored five times in the fifth inning and won the game with a two-run shot off right-hander Steve Hargan in the ninth, the fourth time in his career White has homered from both sides of the plate.

Indians 4, Royals 1
Dennis Eckersley and Jim

Kern combined for a six-hitter. Cleveland scored all their runs off Al Fitzmorris in the seventh inning. Eckersley held the hard-hitting Royals to two hits until the eighth. The Indians broke a scoreless game open on Rico Carty's two-out double, an intentional walk to Boog Powell and a single by Larvell Blanks.

Brewers 3, A's 1

Jim Slaton fired a four-hitter with last-out help from Ray Sadecki and Jack Heidemann delivered a decisive two-run single off Vida Blue in the eighth inning following a twoout intentional walk to Gary Sutherland. Slaton lost his shutout with two out in the ninth on Bert Campaneris' infield hit, two wild pitches and on Don Baylor's single.

Angels 5, Tigers 4
California scored the winning on Dave Collins' single, a stolen base, passed ball and Detroit relief ace John Hiller's wild pitch. Ryan allowed nine hits before giving way to John Verhoeven in the 11th and his 17 strikeouts were a season high in the majors. The fireballing right-hander had a 3-1 lead until pinch hitter Dan Meyer's two-run homer with two out in the ninth inning.

White Sox 4, Red Sox 2

Bucky Dent hit a two-run homer, Jim Spencer a solo blast and Rich Gossage pitched out of three bases-loaded situations with only slight damage. The homers were the 19th and 20th off Ferguson Jenkins this season.

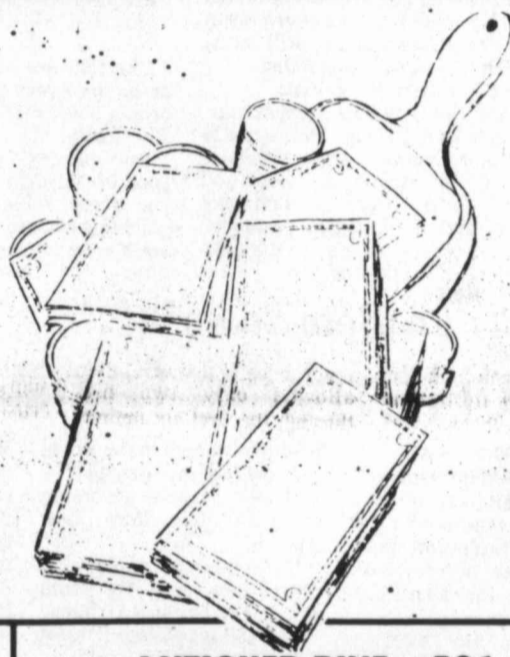

STREAK FOR HOME — Teddy Bartley scores a run for Midland Northern in bi-district play against Midland National. Northern won the game and clinched the title with Bartley at the mound.

TAGGED — Joe Hernandez (12), centerfielder for the Midland Cubs is tagged by El Paso Diablos catcher Terry Stupit on an attempt to steal home. The play was part of a double steal put on by the Cubs, and the throw that spelled doom for Hernandez came from Diablos shortstop Orlando Ramirez. The Cub steal from first to second was successful.

Reds and Phils still winning

Cards frustrate Jones

Randy Jones is having a great season — everywhere, that is, except at Busch Stadium in St. Louis. The winningest pitcher in baseball is reduced to frustration and failure in the Cardinals' park because of an "awkward" mound. "It's one thing to have a high mound with a slope but that thing has a 45-degree drop," said the San Diego left-hander after a 5-4 defeat by St. Louis Wednesday night. "If just goes down. There's no way that any pitcher can adjust. I did everything that I could with no success."

Jones, who earlier this season tied a National League walkless record, gave up five bases on balls while losing for the second time at Busch Stadium this season and the third time overall to the Redbirds. "I just couldn't keep the ball down and when I did get it down, it was too low," said Jones, 19-8, after failing to become the major leagues' first 20-game winner this season. "I was overstriding a good six inches and I was opening up on my delivery without anything working."

NCAA completes scandal probe

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) investigation of overpayment of University of Texas athletes by the Texas Senate has been completed and a report will be made soon, the Austin American-Statesman said today.

The newspaper quoted J. Neils Thompson, chairman of the UT men's athletic council, as saying he briefed the council on it Wednesday in an executive session.

"I hope the report will be issued some time next week," said Thompson.

He gave no indication of what the ruling might be.

The alleged irregularities involving at least six athletes who still have some eligibility remaining came to light last fall in news stories about an investigation of the Senate printing shop.

Big Spring ballplayers attend Midland salute

Many Big Springers turned out for a special salute to old-time ballplayers held in Midland Wednesday night. The lucky oldsters attended a program headlined by baseball greats Ernie Banks, now goodwill ambassador for the Chicago Cubs, and Bob Feller, ex-Cleveland Indian pitching ace. Oldtimers attending also had a chance to test Feller's arm in a short batting warmup session.

Following the festivities, the oldtimers watched a Texas League battle between the Midland Cubs and the El Paso Diablos. Midland used three hits each by Keith Drumright, Joe Hernandez and Scott Thompson to stop El Paso 8-5. Chuck Rogers, 10-13, got the win and John Caniera, 13-4, was the loser.

Amarillo's ace fireman Vic Bernal came on in the ninth inning to shut down San Antonio and record his 17th save of the season as the Gold Sox shaded the Brewers 5-4 to take over first place in the Texas League West Wednesday night.

In other TL action, Shreveport bullied Lafayette 9-1, and Jackson defeated Arkansas 5-3.

Bernal saved the victory for Amarillo's Bob Owchinko, 5-2. The winning run came in the bottom of the seventh inning on a run-scoring bloop single by Amarillo's Gene Delyon. Amarillo now leads El Paso by one-half game in the West.

A two-run home run by San Antonio's Dan Duran erased a 4-2 Amarillo lead in the top of the seventh frame. San Antonio's Jeff Byrd, 5-10, absorbed the loss.

Shreveport put together a 14-hit barrage, including home runs by Mike Edwards, Ron Mitchell and Harry Saferight, to pound Lafayette. Shreveport hurler Rich Anderson, 7-11, backed by five double plays, took the win. Ron Hodges, 2-3, bore the brunt of the Shreveport bats and took the loss.

Arkansas stung Jackson starter Mike Scott for two first inning runs before Scott settled down and went the distance, allowing a total of only six hits and recording the win.

Jackson's four-run sixth inning iced the game and preserved the Mets' one-run lead over Shreveport in the Texas League East Division.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 20, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is not the day to force any issues. Expect a return on an investment that was made in the past. Look to unusual persons and new conditions as the best means by which you can express yourself.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Expect some broken promises in the morning, but don't let this bother you since they will work out better later on. Be more broad-minded and get a new set of conditions operating in your behalf.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Arguing over money in the morning with others could have dire results. Calm down; something comes up so that all is better for you. Talk over joint projects with allies and improve them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Keep calm and don't lose your temper this morning and later you accomplish a great deal where the practical is concerned. Plan how to gain your personal aims more readily now. Relax tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have difficulty making important decisions in the morning, so wait until later in the day. Then you make up for lost time.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Steer clear of a pal who is after you for some personal favor you are unable to extend. Seek advice from an expert to help solve an important matter.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Use tact in handling a civic matter in the morning. Later, join friends for a good time. Concentrate on personal aims in the afternoon. Make the evening a time for solving intimate problems.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) This morning is not the time to make those changes you have in mind, but later all works out well for you. Listen carefully to the experts.

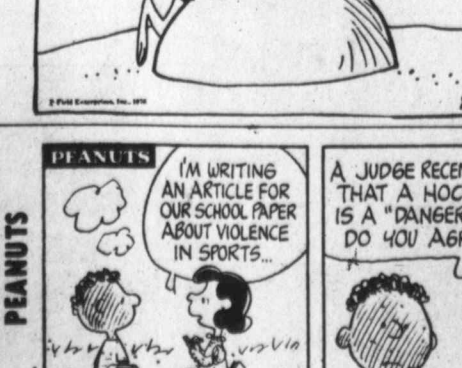

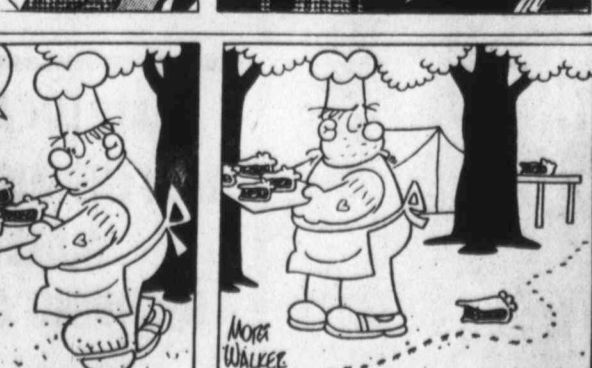

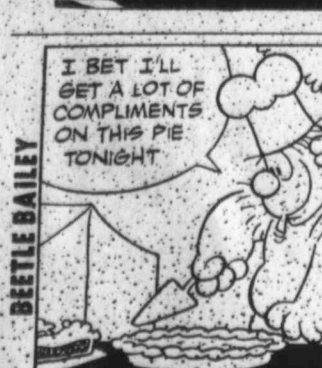

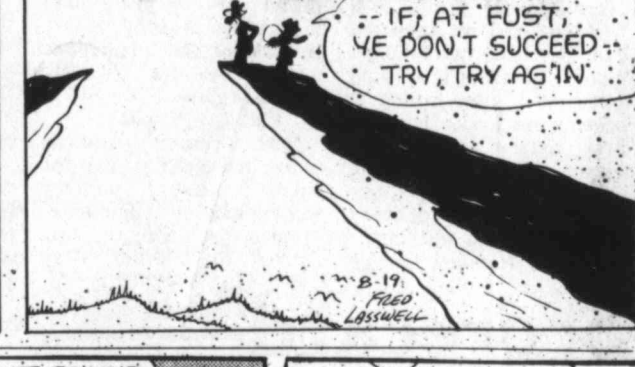

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care of responsibilities in the morning so you have time for the unexpected changes which occur later in the day. Avoid arguments.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you have a misunderstanding with a partner in the morning, do something of a conciliatory nature later. Some condition annoys you, but do something constructive about it quickly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You don't feel like tackling tasks in the morning, but keep at it and you free time for enjoying a good friend later. Do some civic work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Complete the work at hand before you go off on some new interest. Avoid one who wants to come between you and a loved one.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use tact at home and avoid possible arguments that could become serious. Later, you get a visit from a good friend. Not a good day to commit yourself to anything.

Biological pest control needs more development

WASHINGTON (AP) — The goal of some environmentalists for using biological methods instead of chemicals to control crop pests will require more effort and time before it is achieved, according to an Agriculture Department scientist.

Dr. Richard L. Ridgway of the department's Agricultural Research Service, said, however, that the use of biological controls — pitting beneficial insects against harmful ones — will expand significantly if better methods are found for producing and managing them.

"A wide range of useful beneficial insects exists in nature. However, adequate numbers are not always available in nature to provide desired control levels," Ridgway said.

Thus, he said, before farmers can turn to natural control of pests there will have to be a reliable source of supplemental beneficial insects for them to use.

Ridgway's remarks were prepared for the 15th International Congress of Entomology here Aug. 22. The report was released by USDA today.

One possible alternative is through the mass rearing of beneficial insects on a commercial basis, Ridgway said.

"There is a small, modest commercial industry and a few small cooperatives in the U.S. rearing and selling beneficial insects," he said. "However, as our knowledge continues to expand, augmentation can be expected to increase."

About 20 different kinds of beneficial insects currently are available from about 25 firms, Ridgway said. Some examples, he said, include green lacewings to control mealy bugs on pears, bollworms on cotton and aphids on greenhouse flowers. An egg parasite called Trichogramma is being used to control caterpillars on a number of crops.

A major task ahead is to develop less expensive methods of rearing and distributing parasites and predators, Ridgway said.

IN PROTEST — This earthy protest to proposed potty regulations sprouted in a field north of Hartline, Wash. The "prairie privy" refers to suggested federal Occupational Safety and Health Act regulations that would require farmers to install toilets and washing facilities within five minutes walking distance of work areas. Local farmers say it would be an awfully expensive way to replace the trusty roll of toilet paper now carried in the cabs of their trucks and combines.

Research key to recovering 100 billion barrels of oil

COLLEGE STATION — Texans could walk off and leave 100 billion barrels of oil underground unless more sophisticated and less expensive oil recovery methods are developed, reported Dr. Paul B. Crawford, professor of Petroleum Engineering and assistant director of the Texas Petroleum Research Committee, Texas A&M University Division, College Station.

The original oil-in-place in all the known oil fields of Texas has been estimated to be slightly in excess of 150 billion barrels of oil, Dr. Crawford reported. Cumulative production is approximately 40 billion barrels. It is expected that an ultimate recovery of near 50 billion barrels of oil will be obtained from ur known oil fields using the usual oil recovery methods. This leaves Texas with 100 billion barrels of oil, known to be in place, yet not recoverable using conventional recovery methods under the present economic conditions, Crawford said.

If through research we can learn how to obtain only ten per cent of this 100 billion barrels of "unrecoverable oil," this means that an additional ten billion barrels of oil may be produced from Texas oil fields. At ten dollars per barrel this would provide a gross income of 100 billion dollars for the royalty owners of the state. This is a real challenge, but the goals may be obtained through creative thinking in the research laboratories and practical planning by the oil and gas producers of Texas, Dr. Crawford continued.

If the necessary research is not done the oil will be left underground in our abandoned oil fields, Dr. Crawford concluded.

Completion in Sterling

A completion has been noted in Sterling County. Adobe Oil Co. of Midland No. 2-A McEntire has been recompleted to open upper Cisco production in the Credo, East (Cisco and Wolfcamp) Field of Sterling County, 10 miles north of Sterling City.

The well finished on the pump for 11 barrels of 35.6 gravity oil, plus one barrel of water through perforations from 7,351 to 7,479 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 9,818-1.

Location is 1,320 feet from the south and 21,180 feet from the east lines of Section 8, Block 23, H&TC Survey. Originally drilled to 7,180 feet and completed through perforations from 7,095 to 7,103 feet, the well has 5 1/2-inch casing set at total depth.

Over in Andrews County, Trans Ocean Oil, Inc., operating from Midland, will attempt to reopen Mississippi production in the Emma Field, with the re-entry and plugging back to around 10,400 feet, at No. 4 University Lands, former Devonian producer.

Operator plans to perforate and test from 9,824-10,084 feet. Location is 1,395 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of Section 36, Block 10, University Land Survey, 10 miles southwest of Andrews.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration has broadened one of its programs to help more low income families qualify for housing loans.

Effective Aug. 16, the Agriculture Department agency said Wednesday, applications will be considered from families with incomes up to $10,000 a year. The previous limit was $8,500 annually. The ceiling in Hawaii was raised to $12,200 from $10,700 and in Alaska to $15,000 from $13,500.

Federal law authorizes the agency to make loans to qualified rural and small-town families at reduced interest rates of as little as one per cent, depending on family income and size of the loan.

Martin County gains discovery

Martin County gained a discovery and one was indicated in Mitchell County. J.C. & R.E. Williamson, Midland, No. 1 Wolcott, Martin County Dean oil discovery, 1 1/4 miles west of the two-well Wolcott (Wolfcamp) field, one mile southeast of production in the Spraberry Trend area and 10 miles northwest of Tarzan, was finished to pump 36 barrels of 41 gravity oil, plus 1.2 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 1,250-1.

The Wolcott field produces at 9,128 feet and the nearest Spraberry production is at approximately 9,400 feet.

ALSO IN Martin County, the Breedlove multipay field of Martin County gained its current eighth Spraberry produce and a location west extension to that pay with completion of Amoco Production Co. No. 1 A.F. Faulkner, former Devonian producer, 15 miles north of Tarzan, to pump 53 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 2,019-1.

Production was through perforations at 8,627-897 feet, which had been acidized with 6,000 gallons and fractured with 60,000 gallons and 67,500 pounds of sand.

Location is 660 feet from the south and east lines of 6-Borden CSL No. 262.

Tool was open two hours on the test taken at 7,550-577 feet. Flowing pressure was 1,620-2,041 pounds; one-hour initial shut-in pressure, 2,310 pounds; and two-hour final shut-in pressure, 2,278 pounds.

Drilled to 7,577 feet, operator set 4 1/2-inch casing at 7,574 feet.

PRODUCTION was through perforations at 9,260-363 feet, which had been acidized with 5,000 gallons.
