

Mandel convicted, must leave office

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel was convicted by a U.S. District Court jury today of 17 counts of mail fraud and one of racketeering, stemming from an influence trading scheme involving horse racing.

Five codefendants were also found guilty on the same 17 counts.

The jury delivered the verdict after being deadlocked during 13 days of deliberations. The trial was the second for the governor and his five codefendants. The earlier trial was declared a mistrial after the jury found out about a jury tampering effort. Mandel was never linked to the charge.

The seven men, five women jury had not responded to an effort by U.S. District Court Judge Robert L. Taylor to end the deadlock.

Taylor had offered on Monday to repeat the instructions he had given the jury.

Bible fund has surge

The Howard County Ministerial Alliance's Bible Fund experienced its best 24-hour surge ever for the period ending at noon today, when gifts totaling $1,896.50, were tabulated.

The rally pushed the total raised during the campaign to $5,431.50, which means the drive is slightly more than half way toward its $10,000 objective.

The upsurge benefitted for the most part Monday and this morning from churches and organizations within churches, although an anonymous giver contributed $360 and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bair responded with a $200 gift.

The Forsan Baptist Church collected $376.50 toward the campaign. Another $300 came out of the Trinity Baptist Mission Fund while the East Fourth Baptist Church chipped in with $350. Dr. and Mrs. Allen R. Hamilton, old friends of the drive, contributed $100.

The giving must be intensified in the next few days, if the alliance is to achieve its goal, since school has already started in some areas and gets under way next Monday in others.

Checks made out to the Bible Fund can be forwarded to the Herald for clearance.

'Hot' chemical not sold here?

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — A pest-controlling chemical suspected of causing sterility in men and cancer in animals is "too hot to sit on" and a national alert on the hazards of the chemical may be issued soon, a federal official says.

Federal officials said after the disclosure Monday of a National Cancer Institute study of DBCP — dibromochloropropane — that they will await further test before issuing an alert.

Howard County Agriculture Extension Agent Bruce Griffith said that the chemical was listed with six or seven other pesticides in a guide given out to area farmers.

"We give them the guide if, say, they have a problem with nematodes in their tomatoes or something," said Griffith, "and from there they go out and buy what they can get."

Both Big Spring Seed and Chemical and Jay's Farm and Ranch Service Center say they do not carry the substance.

"Well," commented Griffith, "if they do have it under a trade name or something, there's not a whole lot of it being used. And if they don't sell it all then most likely there isn't any about."

Animals injected with DBCP in the study got cancer, said Dr. Channing Meyer, chief of the medical section for hazard evaluation at the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH).

The cancer study "in and of itself should raise suspicion as to whether it is a human carcinogen (cancer producer)," Meyer said.

Meyer said NIOSH "is definitely leaning towards" issuing a national alert on DBCP if results of further tests on chemical workers substantiate earlier findings of sterility.

Boris Osheroff, principle environmental officer of public health for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said Monday that DBCP is "too hot to sit on," and confirmed in Washington that the chemical probably would be the subject of a national bulletin.

He declined to discuss the recent NCI study, but said a 1973 study found stomach cancer in rats and mice given high doses of DBCP, which is used to control pests in soil.

Meyer said more data should be available by the end of the week, when Dow, Shell Oil Co. and Occidental Chemical Corp. — which also market DBCP — report further results of sterility tests they are conducting.

Etcyl Blair, Dow's director of environmental health and research, and Dr. H. Charles Scharnweber, corporate medical director, were unavailable for comment on the possible link to cancer.

Vance outlines plan for Chinese hosts

PEKING (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance completed an extensive outline of U.S. foreign policy for his Chinese hosts today, but a spokesman said the key issue of normalizing relations between the U.S. and Chinese governments was "only touched on."

Vance held his second meeting with Foreign Minister Huang Hua, who came to the government guest house where the secretary of state is staying for a 2½-hour session. U.S. spokesman Hodding Carter said the talk today and the first 2½-hour meeting Monday were "very useful, very serious and very businesslike."

"All we have had basically so far is an exposition of our own," Carter reported.

He said Vance presented "a great deal of material" but no written proposals. Huang asked no questions on Monday and only a few today, Carter said.

Last training flight set

According to the Webb AFB information office, the last training flight, flown out of Webb AFB will leave the ground Wednesday.

The flight will be made up of both T37 and T38 trainers and is probably going to take place in the morning.

The last plane to leave Webb will fly out on September 1.

To point out 'man in black'

Davis' wife takes witness stand

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Ice-blond Fort Worth socialite Priscilla Davis took the stand again this morning to point a finger at her estranged husband Cullen — the "man in black" she claims shot her and killed her lover and her 12-year-old stepdaughter.

"Good luck," a well-wisher said as he shook hands with Mrs. Davis who came to the courtroom surrounded by deputies and guards. The shapely Mrs. Davis, 36, wore a pink suit with a white ruffled blouse which contrasted with the revealing costumes she wore often at social affairs in Fort Worth.

As she has done previously, Mrs. Davis was expected to point to her estranged husband as the gunman who triggered the shooting spree at her showplace mansion last Aug. 3. She is the state's key witness in the case.

She spent much of the morning identifying color snapshots taken inside and outside the mansion and correlating them with a pointer on a large chart mounted in front of the jury box.

She testified only briefly Monday and did not touch on the shootings.

Davis is on trial for the slaying of his stepdaughter, Andrea, 12. He is accused also of the shooting death of Stan Farr, 30, and the wounding of Priscilla and a young visitor to the mansion, Gus Gavrel.

A bitterly disappointed Davis learned Monday that a Fort Worth judge had denied his application for bond, thus ending his temporary freedom after 48 hours. He said nothing ever hurt him more. State Dist. Court Judge Tom Cave, the presiding jurist in an earlier ill-fated attempt to try Davis in Fort Worth, exercised his jurisdictional authority and ended the defendant's freedom under $1 million bond.

Mrs. Davis was the second to testify Monday, following Domestic Relations Judge Joe Eidson of Fort Worth as the state's leadoff witness.

One Mile Lake cited health hazard, residents claim

By JAMES WERRELL

Irate citizens appeared before the city council at this morning's regular meeting to address two particular problems that have recently come to light.

One group questioned what could be done to see that the drainage of One Mile Lake go ahead on schedule. The project was stalled recently when local environmentalists claimed that draining the lake would endanger several different species of wildlife.

The complaints had reached the ears of Federal Housing and Urban Development Agency (HUD) officials, and the agency decided to freeze funds for the project until further information was made available.

"I have lived on the northwest side of town for 15 years, and we have had problems with the lake for all that time. I am very disturbed by the fact that this project is stalled," said Howard Walker, Midway Road.

"There is no way to make a recreation area out of this place, and the residents and businessmen are tired of the odor, the flooding and the mosquitoes. My wife got encephalitis from the mosquitoes," he added.

The council requested that those in favor of draining the lake send letters or petitions directly to HUD.

"There have been numerous public hearings and no one showed up. Now they want to stall this project. Well, they had their day in court. Maybe you should poke those (HUD) people and see what happens," recommended Councilman Harold Hall.

Another group attended the meeting to further complaints about teenagers parking in business lots on Gregg Street.

"I am a citizen who loves Big Spring, but we have a problem along Gregg Street, and it seems that our hands are tied. We need help in this matter," said Joe Langford, manager of the Sherwin Williams Store, 1608 Gregg. "I realize that part of the problem is that kids don't have much to do in this city, but there must be something we can do."

City Attorney Jim Gregg explained that the only way to control the problems is through enforcement of criminal trespass violations. This requires businessmen to display signs warning about trespassing.

"If violators have been warned in some way, then an officer can ask them to move. But if they move, there is nothing we can do. If they refuse to move then we can arrest them," said Gregg.

Councilman Harold Hall offered his own solution to the problem.

"I own a vacant lot down on East Fourth across from Pollard Chevrolet. The kids are welcome to sit down there, and park, and watch the cars go by as long as they want to," he said.

City Manager Harry Nagel told the worried businessmen that an extra patrol car with two officers would be used in the near future to help control the problem.

The first reading of previously announced ordinance raising the tax rate 25 cents and adopting the tax assessment roll for 1977 passed perfunctorily. Another reading and public hearing on the issue is scheduled for the next regular meeting of the council.

In other business, council members:

—passed a second and final reading of an ordinance closing Bell Street between Block 17 and Block 18 to allow the use of Eighteenth Street as an entrance for the proposed St. Mary's Episcopal Retirement.

—passed a second and final reading rezoning Webb AFB property from agricultural to heavy industrial.

—passed the first reading of an ordinance adopting the annual budget.

—awarded $216.50 to Debra Shultz, for water damage to her home caused by mistakenly turning on water pressure when Ms. Shultz was away from home, and her taps were turned on.

—accepted minutes for a meeting of the Parks and Recreation Board, and regular and special meetings of the city council.

In his city manger's report, Nagel informed council members that an anonymous donor has offered the city 40 acres of property adjacent to city limits.

"At the proper time, I will be able to reveal who this person is, but at this point he wishes to remain anonymous," said Nagel.

According to the city manager, the property owner has required only that the land be used for "public purposes." It may be sold by the city, but special requirements will be set up by the present owner for its sale.

Chamber wants lake drained

Bill Albright, vice president of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce said today that the Chamber Executive Committee would do everything they could to support the drainage of One Mile Lake.

Albright said it was in the interest of the community of Big Spring to drain the lake for health reasons, nuisance of mosquitoes, and the stench which now prevails.

He explained that the drainage of One Mile Lake was one of the top priority goals set up for Big Spring by the Chamber and that it should be carried through.

Asked if he had heard the theory that mosquitoes would breed faster in the still water after drainage of the lake, Albright replied "I've heard a lot of things."

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Old policy

Q. If a city employe wrecks a city vehicle he is laid off for three days without pay. If a fireman is late for work he is laid off for 15 days without pay. Why the difference in punishment? It would seem that the vehicle would be worth more than a late fireman.

A. "Those involved in public safety are in a different criteria from other city employes for what should be obvious reasons," said Harry Nagel, city manager. "Public safety employes have higher standards to meet. What would happen if five firemen were late for work, and we had a serious fire while they were out? This has been the policy here for many years, and it is the same in most cities," he added.

Offbeat: 'Preposterous' sermons

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Now that vacillando, anamnesis and tohubohu have been dealt with, the Rev. Dr. Leslie Pugh is preparing sermons on pastiche, accidie and anomia.

Summer Sundays are a good time to use "unusual and preposterous" words as sermon themes, says the pastor of Mayflower Congregational Church, a United Church of Christ parish.

July and August, Dr. Pugh says, is "a ready-made time to do things which people can smile at."

On July 24, the pastor used "vacilando" to describe his wanderings, meaning that he was going somewhere but didn't care whether he got there.

On July 31, Dr. Pugh discussed anamnesis — "against amnesia, living memory, the need to be in touch." Last Sunday, he spoke about tohubohu, or chaos and confusion.

Next will follow pastiche, an artistic work imitating the style of a previous work. On Aug. 21, it will be accidie, the failure to be glad. The series finale Aug. 28 will be on anomia, the inability to affix a noun to an object.

"They (the parishioners) now talk to me about the dictionaries they use," he says. "It's made them more literary. And it's drawn more of them into church on Sunday. That can't hurt at all."

ACTOR DIES — Actor Sebastian Cabot who played the bearded butler in the television series Family Affair, died early today at his home in Victoria, Canada. He was 59.

Sebastian Cabot dies

VICTORIA, Canada (AP) — Actor Sebastian Cabot, who played the bearded butler in the television series Family Affair, died early today of a stroke at his home here. He was 59. Born in London, England, Cabot moved with his wife and family to the United States in 1955. A rotund, bearded man, he appeared in the movies of "Kismet," "Terror in a Texas Town," "The Time Machine" and "The Family Jewels." Cabot also played in the TV series Checkmate from 1959 to 1962. But he was best known for his playing of the staid but soft-hearted British butler in Family Affair, a series about the trials of a bachelor raising two small children in New York City. Cabot is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son.

Patty told not to smile

NEW YORK (AP) — Patty Hearst never smiled before the cameras during her 1976 bank robbery trial because her attorney said such pictures would make the public "think she is frivolous" and look at her trial as "a lark," writes Janey Jiminez. The former U.S. marshal who spent 350 hours with the newspaper heiress has written a book "My Prisoner," which is condensed in the September issue of Ladies Home Journal. She wrote that "The Patty Hearst I came to know is a far cry from either the devil caricature perpetrated by the SLA or the demure angel fashioned by her lawyers." The account also claims Miss Hearst was upset about a book written by Steve Weed, her fiancé until she was abducted by the Symbionese Liberation Army. Weed said he told the SLA members during the abduction, "Take anything you want but leave us alone." But Miss Hearst was quoted as saying "Weed's words were ... and leave me alone. If you really love someone, how can you say, 'Take everything but leave me alone!'"

Dean now a writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Former White House counsel John W. Dean III, in town to promote the paperback version of "Blind Ambition," his book on Watergate, says he is a fulltime writer. "I have to make a living, and I've chosen to want to write," said Dean, 39. "The titillation of scandal is gone out of it, and now it seems something to take some perspective on," he said Monday of the Nixon White House affair. Dean said his wife Maureen, also a Watergate author, has had television and movie offers but most of them were "pretty clearly an effort to exploit her."

Redford on sewer panel

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Actor Robert Redford was sworn in as chairman of the Provo Canyon Sewer Service District. Redford and his family live in the canyon and he owns a ski resort in the mountains just east of town. Redford, wearing denim trousers and an open-necked western shirt, told the Utah County Commission Monday that preliminary studies on feasibility of a sewer system in the canyon are under way.

Carter reaffirms support of ERA

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter will reaffirm his personal support of the proposed Equal Rights Amendment by meeting with the leaders of more than 70 groups planning to march Friday in support of the ERA, the White House says. The President also will proclaim Friday as Women's Equality Day. "The President is not only sensitive to Women's Equality Day, but is taking the opportunity to reaffirm his absolute belief in the ERA," presidential assistant Margaret Costanza said Monday. The White House at first indicated that Carter had rebuffed appeals from two congresswomen to issue a Women's Equality Day proclamation. The day commemorates the 19th Amendment to the Constitution, which gave women the right to vote. Rep. Margaret Heckler, R-Mass., who heads the Congresswoman's Caucus with Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., received a letter Monday from presidential counsel William Nichols saying that Carter had decided not to issue the proclamation.

Presley will 'biggest'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Elvis Presley, who gave diamonds to girlfriends and Cadillacs to strangers, left his fortune to his family and excluded his former wife and his fiancée in his will. The will, filed for probate Monday, likely will be "the biggest ever filed in the state of Tennessee," said Probate Court Judge Joseph Evans. Presley, 42, was found unconscious at his Graceland mansion last Tuesday and pronounced dead of a heart attack at Baptist Hospital. An inventory of Presley's wealth, expected to be several million dollars, is being prepared and court officials said it may be longer than the usual two months before it can be filed. "The size and complexity of it may cause them to run into difficulty in filing it in 60 days," Probate Court Clerk Bobby Dunavant said. The rock 'n' roll superstar's 62-year-old father, Vernon Presley, once a Mississippi sharecropper, was named executor of the will.

The 13-page document was drawn up at Presley's Graceland mansion and dated March 3, 1977. It was witnessed by Charles Hodge, Presley's guitarist; Ginger Alden, his fiancée; and Ann Dewey Smith, wife of Vernon

Malpractice trial waged

The $750,000 malpractice trial of Dr. R.B.G. Cowper continued today in 118th District Court. In Monday's testimony, Dr. Cowper testified concerning the events surrounding the September, 1975 gynecological operation which allegedly left the plaintiff, Marijo Newby Halfmann, severely burned. Cowper's nurse, Nancy Leach took the stand in early testimony today to continue the narrative of the incident.

BUSINESS AS USUAL TODAY — For the first time in many years, the Ritz Theatre was closed to the public Monday. Workers raced to complete work on the entrance to the historic old theater. The movie house reopens today with the film featured on the marquee here. Owner Ike Robb said the present plans are to open the Ritz's unique dual screen concept Friday, Sept. 2, at which time he hopes to feature top-rated movies on both screens. The main section of the theater seats 468 while there are 241 seats available in the balcony. Moviegoers will buy specially-colored tickets to see either of the two attractions booked by management.

Deaths

Ernest Miller

Ernest Clant Miller, 59, died at 1:45 this morning in a local hospital. Services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Burial will be in Belvedere Cemetery. He was born February 15, 1918 in Comanche County. He married Bea McClelland May 25, 1940 in San Angelo. They moved to Big Spring in April 1951 from San Angelo. He was a retired civil service employe, retiring in February 1977 after 29 years of service. He was a member of the Carl Street Church of Christ and a veteran of World War II. He is survived by his wife, Bea, Big Spring; two daughters, Paula Sigmon, and Mrs. Arthur (Elaine) Farris, San Angelo; one son, Marshall L. Miller, Big Spring; six grandchildren; one brother, Dale Miller, San Angelo; three sisters, Mrs. John R. Jones, Eldorado, Mrs. Polly Leatherwood, Odessa, and Mrs. Willie Newsom, Tye; numerous nieces and nephews.

Della Parmley

MIDLAND — Services for Mrs. Della Mae Parmley, 88, who died Monday in Midland hospital, will be at 2 p.m., today in Ellis Funeral Home's Chapel here. Burial will occur in Resthaven Memorial Park. Mrs. Parmley was the mother of J.W. Parmley, Big Spring.

OLIVER REED Oliver Reed, 71, died at 6:15 a.m. today in a local hospital after a six-week illness.

Oliver Reed

Services are pending at River Welch Funeral Home. He was born March 13, 1906 in Saint Joseph, Mo. He attended school in Marked Tree, Ark., and attended Palander Smith College in Little Rock, Ark. and Henderson Business College in Memphis, Tenn. He and his family stopped in Big Spring to spend the night May 5, 1929 but he continued to stay here for the remainder of his life. He started to work for Eberley Funeral Home in 1932, and continued the association with River Welch Funeral Home and later the River Welch Funeral Home until his death. He was active in the establishment of the North Crest Apartments and was the first manager of the apartment complex. He married Lillian Bonner April 19, 1931 in Big Spring. He was a member and deacon of the Mount Bethel Baptist Church and a member of the F.A.M. Lodge. He is survived by his wife, Lillian of the home; a sister, Mrs. Viola Thomas, Big Spring; and several nieces and nephews.

Marines, KKK trials

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — Military legal officers geared today for resumption of courts-martial trials for nine black Marines accused of raiding a barracks room occupied by white Leathernecks last Nov. 13. The trials have been in limbo since March, when defense attorneys asked the Court of Military Appeals in Washington, D.C., to remove the cases from Marine Corps jurisdiction. The court refused last month. Initially, 14 blacks were charged with barging into the room where seven white Leathernecks were holding a beer party. All but one of the whites was hospitalized for injuries inflicted by clubs and sharpened screwdrivers. In pretrial hearings, the blacks testified they were attempting to carry out a retaliatory raid against a base Ku Klux Klan cell, but struck the wrong room. The Naval Investigative Service subsequently said none of the injured whites were KKK members. The incident, however, revealed the existence of activity by the white-supremacist group on the base, the nation's biggest Marine installation. The Marine Corps expects the trials to run past mid-October.

'We're just having good time' at Marx' rites

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three memorial services were held for Groucho Marx. Two, held by his family, excluded Erin Fleming, the comedian's longtime companion. A third was held by Miss Fleming. "We're just having a good time," the 37-year-old Miss Fleming said Monday night. "There are a lot of writers, entertainers and contemporaries of Groucho's here. Carroll O'Connor, Eric Segal, all the boys ... and all the dames, too. They're bringing me presents, like a 'You Bet Your Life Game.'" Miss Fleming's get-together came only hours after the family held a private service before the body of the 86-year-old comedian was cremated.

10 die after police rush hijacked bus

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Ten Mexicans died in a hail of grenades shrapnel and gunfire when police stormed a bus hijacked by two leftists in an attempt to free a comrade from prison. Officials said one of the hijackers exploded a grenade as police charged the bus early Monday on a highway in central Mexico. The blast killed five of the passengers and one of the hijackers. The second hijacker was shot and wounded, a spokesman said. Gunfire killed four more persons, the spokesman said. But officials would not say whether the lethal bullets were fired by the police or the hijackers. Five persons were seriously hurt.

Police beat Blue Moon bullets

Someone pumped five bullets into the Blue Moon Lounge just after midnight Monday and destroyed a clock and mirror. According to reports, there was no one in the lounge at the time, and the report was put under a criminal mischief heading. Value of the clock and mirror have not been determined at this time. Most crime in the city of Big Spring Monday was attributable to mischief makers who caused over $150 damage to private property. At 7 p.m. Monday, juveniles bearing golf clubs destroyed a florescent light bulb on the east side of the Bush Country Lounge. The eight-foot long bulb will cost about $10 to replace. Verter Gross, 1500 Cherokee, is now missing a window on the west side of his house after juveniles destroyed it with rocks, at about 12:45 p.m. Monday. The window will cost $35 to replace. Another rear view pick-up truck mirror was reported broken by the Carr Well Service, Knott Rt. Box 19 between 4 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Monday. According to reports, the mirror will cost the service company $50 to replace. Yet another mirror was broken Saturday night on a car belonging to Rubin Reavis, 3711 Connally. Reavis, who reported the incident Monday, estimated the damage at $10. While Bonifario Salazar, 422 Dallas, was enjoying the Malone-Hogan Hospital Picnic Saturday afternoon in the City Park, someone slashed his tire. The tire cost $26.03. Burglars did $25 damage to a window screen when they broke into a residence at 1509 Sunset belonging to Mrs. Jane Caffey, Rt. 1 Box 589, sometime Sunday or Monday. Nothing has been found missing from the apartment at this time. The Kent Oil Company was proud owner of a brand new Weedateer machine for about an hour Monday before it was stolen. According to reports, the new weed machine was left in the back of one of the company's pick-ups for a few

Hise praises board

Big Spring teachers and aides were officially welcomed to the district and to the 1977-78 school year Monday by interim Superintendent Lynn Hise. Hise thanked the teachers for their practice through the long summer. He told the 450 teachers assembled in the high school auditorium that "this could be the greatest year in the history of the school district." "Despite the problems faced by the school board," he said, "we have succeeded in getting all certified personnel assigned to teaching positions. All auxiliary personnel have been assigned." Hise praised the school board for dealing with "more problems over this summer than most boards deal with in five to 10 years." Hise noted the Senate salary increase and praised the teachers for waiting so patiently. "Any other group of professionals would have either been planning a strike or carrying one out," he said. Hise also noted that the district Texas State Teachers Association meeting will be held in Big Spring in November. "We may be sitting in stadium chairs in that coliseum," he said, "but we'll be having a meeting better than anything seen in Odessa or Midland." "There are healthy signs of confidence and trust between the administration and the teachers. Despite the conflicts and myriad issues faced by the school board, we remain a family facing our jobs, concerned with interpersonal relationships, and with the same long-term goals of education in a free society." Before Hise's report, the teachers heard several other comments from other guest speakers. Mayor pro tem Polly Mays welcomed the teachers on behalf of the city. Mrs. Mays described the early years of education in Big Spring, which seemed to consist mostly of discipline for female teachers. She spoke humorously of men teachers not being allowed to crop their hair short in the early days unless "they were balding or had a scalp disease." She closed her welcome by listing some achievements of the district, including the 1955 integration, the first in Texas, and she placed her faith in the teachers present to carry on that kind of achievement. Next, the group heard Bill Albright, Chamber manager. Albright wished the newcomers a big West Texas "howdy." "How valuable you are!" he said. "It is the educational system which shapes our young people and drives the wheels of progress." Albright described briefly Chamber activities relating to education for the year, including recognition of the valedictorian and salutatorian of the class. Thirdly, the teachers were welcomed by Board President Roy Watkins and members Al Valdes and Mrs. Carol Hunter. "We're looking forward to a good school year," said Watkins. "The board has given you some challenges, but I have not one iota of doubt you'll rise to them." The meeting finished up with short addresses from the two Texas teacher groups. Shirley Beauchamp represented the Association of Texas Educators and Peggy Irwin represented the Texas State Teachers Association.

LYNN HISE ... welcomes teachers

Bizzare story of Dr. Hill begins

HOUSTON (AP) — Another chapter in the bizarre story of Dr. John Hill begins today with jury selection in a $7.6 million civil suit brought by Hill's family in connection with his slaying in 1972 at his plush River Oaks home. The surviving Hill family alleges in the suit that Houston oil millionaire Ash Robinson masterminded a plot to have Dr. Hill killed to avenge the death of Joan Robinson Hill, Robinson's daughter and Hill's first wife. Hill, a prominent plastic surgeon at the time of his death, was about to go on trial for the second time on charges of murder in the death of Joan Robinson Hill. Hill was accused of failing to give proper medical care to his wife in 1969. His first trial ended in a hung jury.

There are no criminal charges against Robinson but the Hill family hopes to prove Robinson's alleged part in the plot and to collect civil damages. The scene in State Dist. Court Arthur C. Lesh Jr.'s court Monday looked like a meeting of the characters in two books that have been written detailing the life of Dr. Hill. The plaintiffs are Connie Hill, Hill's third wife; Robert Ashton Hill, Hill's son and Robinson's only grandson, and Myra Hill, Hill's mother. At Monday's pre-trial hearing, they sat stiffly one row in front of Robinson, 79, and his wife Rhea. At the conclusion of the one-hour hearing, the Hill family sat patiently while the Robinsons walked out the courtroom into the glare of television lights. Two women now are serving prison sentences after being convicted in connection with the Hill slaying. Marcia McKittrick, who identified Robinson as masterminding the plot, now is serving a 10-year term in connection with the conspiracy to kill Hill. Lilla Paulus is serving a 35-year term after being convicted of taking $25,000 to find someone to slay Hill. Also charged in the Hill case was Bobby Wayne Vandiver, who was shot to death in Longview in a 1974 confrontation with police. Ray Bass, attorney for the plaintiffs, said Paulus and McKittrick will be called to testify during the trial, which Bass said would take four to six weeks.

Rain reported in Wichita Falls

By the Associated Press
Despite the threatening conditions, Mother Nature was expected to yield more bark than bite today.

Thunderstorms during the night dropped only .08 of an inch in the Waco area. However radar reports showed heavier amounts in some of the storms. This morning Wichita Falls was the only Texas point reporting a thunderstorm.

WEST TEXAS — Partly cloudy today, tonight through Wednesday. Widely scattered thunderstorms across the southwest today and most sections of the state tonight. Highs today and Wednesday in the 90s in the mountains and northern regions to 105 in the Big Bend area. Lows tonight 60s in the north and mountains to mid 70s in the south.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are forecast today from Florida and the eastern Gulf to the Great Lakes. Showers are also expected in the Northwest. Cooler weather is expected from northern Plains through most of the East but most of the nation will be warm.

panel, headed by former Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, also blamed television and the nation's divorce rate in its 75-page report on the results of a two-year study.

He said the new regulations are designed to carry out that congressional directive. "Let me emphasize that these proposed regulations are not designed to jeopardize legitimate family farm operations," Andrus said. "They are designed to help the family farmer, not agribusiness."

Officials said they expect the rules to be challenged by landowning interests. For more than 20 years the federal Bureau of Reclamation has financed water projects that convert marginal land into some of the nation's most valuable agricultural acreage.

The regulations would zero in on absentee owners by requiring future purchasers of excess lands to live within 50 miles of the land they wish to buy.

The decline in Scholastic Aptitude Test scores constitutes "serious business warranting careful attention by everybody interested in education," the group said.

Since 1963, the average score in the Scholastic Aptitude Test verbal section has dropped 49 points, from 478 to 429. Mathematics scores declined 32 points, from 502 to 470.

Scores range from 200 to 800. The 2½-hour test is given by the College Entrance Examination Board to about one million high school students a year as a tool for colleges trying to gauge future academic success.

The report noted that the 14-year period was divided into two seven-year time brackets by societal events. The report said the decline before 1970 was due largely to a change in the kinds of students taking the test. In the seven years since, with the test-taking group stabilized, other developments in the schools and society were held responsible.

Between two-thirds and three-fourths of the decline until 1970 was related to the "notable extension and expansion of educational opportunity in the United States," the panel said.

With many more young persons staying in high school and going on to college, the panel said, there has been a greater proportion of test takers who have lower high school grades and who come from the low-income and minority groups which traditionally score low.

Alice policemen taking truth tests

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Alice, Tex., policemen began making the 50-mile trip to Corpus Christi by three and four Monday to take lie detector tests for which they volunteered.

Department of Public Safety officers administering the tests to 24 Alice officers said the process was going on schedule.

The polygraph examinations are part of an investigation into the department and into drug traffic in Alice.

The investigation was sparked when Alice Mayor Ren Reid requested action from the Jim Wells County grand jury. Texas Ranger Gene Powell is leading the probe, and he said results of the tests would be made available to the grand jury.

Powell said he would make no further comment until the investigation was completed.

Alice police Lt. Gabriel Chapa said he thought all officers should be examined by Friday.

Police Chief Juan Rodriguez said earlier that he and his men had volunteered to take the examinations. Rodriguez had said he would be the first in line to take the test.

AJRA awards roped by two Borden girls

Two Borden County girls were among those receiving awards at the conclusion of the National AJRA Rodeo recently in Snyder.

They are Talley Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Griffin II, and Becky Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller.

Talley finished the season as the runnerup in girls' barrel racing in the 13-15 age bracket. That earned her the title of Reserve World Champion Barrel Race for the 1977 AJRA season. Her reward was a belt buckle.

Miss Griffin had first place wins in barrel racing at Iraan, Del Rio, Lamesa and Big Spring, all won on her big gray horse "Luv."

Talley also won in breakaway roping at Sweetwater and Gail. A freshman student at Borden County High School, Talley has another season of eligibility remaining in the 13-15 age bracket.

Miss Miller was named National Finals Queen during the Snyder show and also received a belt buckle.

Becky, a freshman at Borden County High School, also has placed at AJRA rodeos early in the season in barrels and poles but had her horse "Tony" come up lame before the AJRA finals at Snyder. She also has another year in the 13-15 age group.

Other finalists from Borden County included Glen Gray, ribbon roping and breakaway; Kelly Williams, barrels; Gayla Newton, barrels, poles and tying.

TIA proposing air fares cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trans International Airlines wants to slash charter air fares to Asia by more than 50 per cent.

In a request filed Monday with the Civil Aeronautics Board, TIA proposed using wide-body DC10 jets for the economy flights between five U.S. cities and Hong Kong and Tokyo.

The plan requires approval from the governments of Japan and the Crown Colony of Hong Kong as well as from the CAB.

The reduced fares would "generate substantially increased Asian travel and introduce an entire new market of American tourists to the Orient," said the charter airlines president Henry P. Huff.

Under TIA's plan, a one-way fare to Hong Kong from Los Angeles would cost $299. The present fare is $656. TIA would offer other cut-rate deals from New York, Chicago, Oakland and Seattle to the Orient.

Passengers would have to make reservations in advance.

Book focuses attention on popular game

Whenever a new book is published by local authors, it is an important occasion for the town.

This is especially true for an excellent new publication, entitled "Dominoes Texas Style."

Written by Big Spring's George McAlister and Lloyd McLeod, the book may make this community the domino capital of the state, or maybe the nation, perhaps even the world.

The book the landmark start of what will probably become a major event in Big Spring next year: the national tournament for "Texas style" partnership dominoes.

The tournament, which will likely be in the Dora Roberts Coliseum at Howard College in the spring, will be sponsored by American Petrofina. It may attract hundreds of the best domino players in the U.S. for what might become the world series of the game.

THE NEW paperback, which sells for $5.95, is a book of interest to either the new domino player, the novice who intends to become serious, or the near professional bone clicker.

It begins by explaining that there are several distinctive types of dominoes played in the U.S. This book deals mainly with the style in this region of the country.

This game is called "Draw 7" or "Texas style," and it is favored by the authors because it is more complicated and challenging than other types. Mathematically there are

1,184,040 different hand drawings. The first double played becomes the spinner and the only spinner which can be played from four sides. In the West Coast game called "Five Up," each of the four players draw five dominoes, leaving a kitty (or bone-yard) to be drawn from rather than passing. In this game, there are only 98,280 possible hands, and each double can become a spinner to be played from four sides.

The authors point out that dominoes played on the East Coast are called "Sniff." While the game is similar to "Draw 7" (Texas style) in that only the first double (called the Sniff) can be played on four sides, only five dominoes are drawn.

McAlister and McLeod also trace the origin of dominoes back to dice, probably the earliest gaming instrument of man, and the earliest gaming instrument of man, and the earliest references to dominoes in China at about 1120 A.D.

The authors speculate that the name "domino" came from a hooped cape popular in France when dominoes were introduced. They note the cape was black in color with a white lining and was sometimes worn with a mask. The double ace domino resembles a mask.

"Dominoes Texas Style" will undoubtedly become the definitive work on the subject. The authors have labored for two years to organize and illustrate a game they obviously love.

It shows in the dedication, which is to all wives, especially their own, who have so often heard, "Honey, just one more game and we're going to quit."

Departments clash

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — President Carter's new Dept. of Energy isn't even open for business yet, but it is already the focus of a backstage brouhaha.

The White House has issued marching orders to 5,000 Army and Air Force employees to make room for the energy bureaucrats. They are taking over the James Forrestal Building, a massive, modern white structure conveniently located in the heart of downtown Washington.

Ironically, the civilian energy experts are chasing the brass hats from a building named for the first secretary of defense.

CARTER ISSUED the confidential eviction notice in a June 3 memo to the General Services Administration (GSA), but news of the order quickly leaked out to everyone in town.

Everyone, that is, except Defense Secretary Harold Brown, who wasn't told of the president's decision until nearly a month later.

It was the GSA's responsibility to inform the Defense Dept. of the eviction, claimed a White House spokesman. But in classic buck-passing fashion, GSA refused to comment on the memo on the grounds it was a White House document, not GSA's.

In any event, the White House wants the building vacated post haste.

The man with the least time to clean up his desk is Maj. Gen. H.R. Vague, the Air Force's judge advocate. He has until October 1st to evacuate his seventh-floor office, the most luxurious suite in the building. The reason, apparently, is that the pedantic, pipe-smoking energy secretary, James Schlesinger, has his eye on the posh quarters and is eager to move in and begin solving the energy crisis.

The unfortunate Vague, meanwhile, will be banished to a nondescript office building in an area known as Buzzards Point.

To make matters worse, no one is sure which government agency will pick up the tab for the move. Federal regulations require that GSA pay for such forced relocations, but an internal Dept. of Defense memo explains that "the regional GSA administrator has already indicated he has no funds for this purpose."

Additional funds for the bureaucrats to change places, the memo observes, "would be difficult to obtain from the Congress."

The only thing that is perfectly clear is that the taxpayers will foot the bill. It could amount to $6.9 million.

PATRONAGE PLUM: During his campaign, Jimmy Carter promised repeatedly to reform the way things are done in Washington. But he has shown he can dispense patronage as skillfully as any political ward boss.

We recently reported that the White House was considering Patrick Delaney, the son of a powerful congressman, for an obscure but lucrative job on the Susquehanna River Basin Commission. The young Delaney has been a law school dropout, stock salesman, race track official and Richard Nixon fundraiser. But he lacks any experience whatever in water resources. Now we have learned that Carter's political major domo, Hamilton Jordan, has given Delaney the job without consulting anyone at the Interior Dept. which oversees the commission.

Frustrated officials at Interior had interviewed several qualified candidates, but their recommendations were ignored by the White House.

"They're shoving him down our throats," one Interior official complained.

JORDAN HIRED the congressman's son, our sources say, a week before Interior officials sent their own recommendations to the White House. One official told us he had never heard of Delaney until the word to hire him came down from Jordan's office. The White House, our sources explain, viewed the commission as an ideal spot to hide a congressman's unemployed son.

The White House apparently hopes the favor will be returned by the appointee's father. Rep. James Delaney, D-N.Y., the powerful chairman of the House Rules Committee. Presumably, the 76-year-old Irishman will now be more amenable to speeding the flow of legislation the president wants passed.

Delaney had previously pressured President Ford, say our sources, into appointing his only child as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission. But a Senate staff investigation found the young Delaney to be totally unqualified. It wasn't long, however, before the new administration found a $50,000-a-year plum for the congressman's son.

"We expect the president to announce the appointment after the August recess," a spokesman for Jordan's office told our reporters Bob Gettlin and Tom Rosenfield. Added another White House official: "Obviously, when Jordan's office makes an appointment, it considers the person qualified."

'It wasn't easy'

Art Buchwald

MARTHA'S VINEYARD, MASS. — If President Carter really wants to get the housing business on its feet I think he should talk to me. No matter where I seem to go on vacation, they start building a house on the next lot.

I don't know where they get the information, but I suspect the contractors have a nationwide computer that tells them where I'm going to rent a house for the summer. As soon as the word is out, they buy the lot next to the house and start constructing a home, a garage — or if that fails, a new sewer.

THIS YEAR was no different. I rented a house in the woods. There wasn't another human being within three miles, when I signed the lease. The next morning two bulldozers arrived and starting smashing down all the trees. Three men were studying blueprints.

"How did you find me?" I asked.

"It wasn't easy," one of the men said. "We were told you rented the Fainsod House and we started building across the street. We had the home half finished when we realized we made a mistake. So we dropped everything and came out here to build this house first."

"Why me?" I asked desperately. "I only get a month off. Do you have to build a house in August?"

"It's nothing personal," one of the other men said. "We always build houses when people are on vacation. It's the best time of year to hammer."

"But nobody can get any sleep."

"LOOK, MISTER. Everyone dreams of having his little vacation home by a rippling brook or next to a blue lagoon or on the side of a mountain. But somebody has to build it. When it's built another person comes along and says, 'I'd like one just like that.' So he buys the next lot and starts building his dream house. The guy in the first house goes bonkers while the house next to him is being built. It's happening all over the country. The hills are alive with the sounds of wood saws, electric drills and dump trucks full of bricks. Do you think you're special?"

"But I rent," I protested. "I should get special consideration."

All three men laughed and one said, "That's why we're here. You renters think you can get a free ride in the summertime and have a quiet vacation because you don't own a house. Well, you're living in a dream world. We'd rather start a house next to a renter than an owner any day. An owner will put up with a certain amount of hammering and sawing because he'll be there forever. But a renter has only three weeks or a month and we can really ruin his time."

"I've never done anything to you," I protested. "Why do you want to build a house next to me at this time? Can't you wait until September?"

Why breast swell prior to period

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Every month just before my period I have a swelling of my breasts. I find it difficult to wear a bra at these times. Often the sensation is painful. What causes this, and what can I do about it? — Mrs. P.L.

Congestion and tenderness of the breasts are not uncommon a few days prior to menstruation. It's estimated that about 10 per cent of women experience it. It usually comes shortly after the woman ovulates. The hormones secreted at that time cause blood to rush to the breasts, resulting in an engorgement of tissue. It's all in anticipation of pregnancy. If there is no conception, then the "alarm" is called off and the breasts return to normal.

You don't give me much information to go on to help you specifically — your age, for example. If you have breast cysts, that condition could be aggravated by the premenstrual congestion. Women with cystic disease of the breast often report severe pain at these times of the month.

I would not allow the symptoms to go unchecked, even though it is probably a harmless natural swelling. You should go in at the peak of your congestion problem. Breast lumps are more easily detected at such times.

Perhaps you need nothing more than a few aspirins to tide you over the temporary discomfort. In severe cases, diuretics (water pills) can help relieve the condition. Some women may gain as much as 3 to 5 pounds from fluid retention before menstruation, and some of this may be in the breasts, causing such tenderness.

If your breasts actually enlarge during the premenstrual period you may have to purchase a suitable bra to wear during that time. Perhaps cutting back a bit on your salt and fluid intake in the premenstrual days will help also.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I've heard there is a drug helpful as a cure for a stroke. If so, what is it, and what have been the results? Your answer will be of great interest to all "strokers." — J.G.

I'm sure it would be. However, I am not aware of a drug that "cures" stroke. I assume you mean by "cure" a repair of any damage done to the brain cells.

Of course, there are many drugs used to alleviate the various factors involved in the stroke itself, such as high blood pressure. Meanwhile there are practical steps you or any stroke victim can take to minimize the crippling effects of stroke once it has occurred. My new booklet "Stroke — Hope and Help," has been well-received by victims and family members of victims. If you want to read further into the subject, send 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald, and I'll send you a copy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MR. K.N. — You have a neurosis concerning your heart beat. If six doctors have told you nothing is amiss, then certainly nothing is. Stop listening to your heart beat and get some psychological help, which you obviously need badly.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If a woman becomes pregnant while having an IUD in place is the device left in place or removed? — Mrs. S.

Some doctors remove the IUD (intrauterine device) and others don't. The device is outside the amniotic sac and has no contact with the fetus. Nevertheless, the chances of miscarriage increase if it is left in place. If retained through the pregnancy it is expelled at birth. Removing it or not is a "judgment call" based on the individual patient's situation, the length of pregnancy, and other factors.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Who made Satan? — W.H.L.

DEAR W.H.L.: Satan was originally an angel in Heaven, with all of the other angelic beings created by God. Satan then rebelled against God, gathered some angels on his side and declared war in heaven. "There was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels, and prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven. And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him" (Revelation 12:7-9).

Jesus said: "I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven" (Luke 10:18).

God created the angels, but not the evil that they committed. Evil always comes about in the same way, by a denial of some truth. The angels were created with a knowledge of truth, but some of them began denying part of that truth. As a result they became selfish, proud and lustful for power. Evil is not a created thing. It comes automatically by a denial of some truth.

This fact emphasizes how important it is that the Christian church faithfully proclaims the truth of God to the world. It is only as people return to the truth that they will forsake evil. All Christian people are also faced with the necessity of remaining constantly faithful to the truth.

Carter will repay bank for flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential spokesman Jody Powell, conceding that Jimmy Carter and his campaign committee owe more than $1,700 for flights on an airplane owned by a bank Bert Lance once headed, says a complete review of Carter's campaign records may take four years.

Powell said Monday that the tab for flights in 1975 and 1976 on the plane of the National Bank of Georgia was $1,793.70.

He said the Carter campaign committee would use leftover campaign funds to reimburse the bank at least $865.80. Carter could end up paying the remaining $927.90 if it is determined that the flights involved were not legitimate campaign expenses, the spokesman said.

Powell said at the daily White House news briefing that "the President has decided he will personally reimburse any portion of the flights that were not campaign expenditures."

The press secretary said the five flights in the twin-engine Beechcraft airplane carried Carter around Georgia and into Tennessee for campaign events, meetings, a dinner with Lance and a vacation at a coastal resort.

Lance, Carter's budget director, is a longtime personal friend of the President and was head of the National Bank of Georgia at the time of the flights.

Questions about the flights arose last Thursday when Lance held a news conference after the Comptroller of the Currency released a report on the personal finances of the budget director. The report said an investigation had found no evidence to warrant criminal prosecution of Lance in connection with his personal finances.

The biggest questions involve a flight on June 13 to Sea Island, Ga., from Americus, Ga., and a return flight on June 19. Powell said Carter has asked White House Counsel Robert Lipshutz to ask the Federal Election Commission to determine who should pay for the flights, valued at $657.90.

Powell said Monday accountants and the commission are reviewing campaign records from Carter's 1976 campaign. He predicted it may be 1981 before the review is completed.

Although Carter flew to Sea Island for a vacation after the last round of presidential primary elections, he met there with campaign aides, plotted strategy for the Democratic National Convention and talked about the vice presidential selection process, Powell said.

If the flights were campaign-related, and the bank was not reimbursed, they could be considered bank contributions to the Carter campaign, which would be illegal.

If free use of the aircraft was not reported, that also could be considered a violation of federal campaign expenditure reporting laws.

Powell asked whether any campaign laws had been violated, said: "Clearly, you are supposed to reimburse on a campaign expense."

He said the campaign committee already has paid $150,000 to reimburse corporations for use of private aircraft.

MONTESSANO, Wash. (AP) — Stealthy loggers equipped with muzzled chainsaws and pickup trucks are the Pacific Northwest's counterpart to the cattle rustlers of the prairies. They're stealing majestic red cedars worth millions of dollars.

Wife of fired exec to testify

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The wife of fired Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. executive James Ashley was expected to testify today in the trial of $29 million damage suit against her husband's former employer.

Already, three of Ashley's four children have taken the witness stand to describe the effect on their family of Ashley's dismissal from his $55,000-a-year job in October 1974.

The children said they lived in seclusion after their father's dismissal, fearing their friends would think that they were criminals.

Ashley's wife, Bonnie, was to testify near the end of the plaintiffs' case against the telephone company. The trial is in its third week.

The suit, filed by Ashley and the family of T.O. Gravitt, contends Gravitt was hounded to his death and Ashley wrongfully fired as a result of the Bell internal investigation.

Gravitt was head of Bell operations in Texas when he committed suicide at his Dallas home Oct. 17, 1974.

A Harvard University psychiatrist testified Monday that Gravitt was not insane or mentally ill when he killed himself.

Hostages threatened by con with razor

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP) — A convict at the Darrington Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections, angered by his parole status, held two persons hostage for eight hours with a straight razor Tuesday before releasing them unharmed.

Warden Loyd D. Hunt said the convict Donald Lynn Willtrout, 28, serving a 17-year sentence for robbery, released Philip Carona, 52, and Kathy Wootton, 30, unharmed late Monday night.

Hunt said Willtrout was in the officers' barber shop and climbed into the area between the ceiling of the first floor and the floor of the second level.

"He crawled and worked his way over to the education office," Hunt said, "kicked the ceiling out, dropped down and captured the two hostages and barricaded himself in the education office."

Willtrout was upset because the TDC parole board had passed over him for the third time, Hunt said. The warden said Willtrout was seeking a rehearing and was not trying to escape.

"I couldn't promise him anything on a parole because that's handled by a different department," Hunt said. "We were able to find something we could both live with though."

Hunt, exhausted after the long ordeal said "I told him nothing physically would happen to him if he surrendered, but I could not offer amnesty." In return, Willtrout released the hostages and surrendered.

Farm Trade-off of votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Consumer Federation of America, which threw its considerable lobbying weight behind the successful House campaign last month to assure substantially higher government supports for 1977 wheat and feedgrain crops, is calling in its chits.

"Consumer Federation would like to continue working with farmers on mutually beneficial legislation, particularly the creation of an Agency for Consumer Protection, the federation's number-one priority," a recent three-page news release from the organization says.

That's the closest the release comes to a pitch for "cards and letters to your congressman" in support of the consumer-agency bill, tentatively scheduled to be voted on in the House next month.

But congressional staff aides say privately that there should be no doubt about a trade-off of votes after the effort it took to secure the higher supports in the face of opposition from the Agriculture Department and the House leadership, all of whom support the proposed consumer agency.

Accompanying the news release was a letter from Iowa Democratic Rep. Tom Harkin's office, thanking the consumer federation for "your active support... (in) helping smaller family farmers to stay in business."

Twelve other Democrats from grain states signed the letter. It reviewed the consumer group's past activities on behalf of small farmers and its refusal to support the 1973 beef boycott that produced long-lasting antagonisms between the cattle industry and con-

Retardation Commission, contradicted testimony given earlier

Testifying for Bell, Dr. Frazier said the investigation could not have driven Gravitt to kill himself.

"Had he (Gravitt) been completely innocent, he would not have been bothered by the accusations. The bad part of his life was about to be exposed. He didn't want to face the music."

"Events don't drive people to suicide, inner feelings do," he added.

In a suicide note, Gravitt said he was bothered by questions Bell investigators were asking his employees.

Meat red in storage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 641.99 million pounds of red meat in cold storage July 31 was 12 per cent below the June 30 mark and 1 per cent less than last year, the Crop Reporting Board says.

Frozen beef holdings totaled 391.1 million pounds, up 2 per cent, and frozen pork, 177.4 million, up slightly.

But supplies of butter in cold storage were more than double, while those of potatoes, cheeses, fruits and eggs also were up sharply.

value of agricultural imports, shrinking the favorable balance of trade by 18.4 per cent to $10 billion.

While meat imports have been smaller and the increased sugar imports have been cheaper, higher prices for coffee, cocoa, tea, vegetables, fruits and nuts are responsible for the import boosts, a recent analysis said.

Negating beneficial impacts for most farmers from the record $24-billion in exports are the movements in both value and volume of wheat and feedgrains. The value was down nearly 15 per cent to $7.8 billion for the first nine months of the fiscal year and is projected at only $10 billion for the full year, an 18 per cent drop.

Farm exports value to rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department now expects U.S. farm exports for the year ending Sept. 30 to rise by 5.4 per cent in value from a year earlier despite a forecast decline of 6.7 per cent in volume.

That would mean 111.1 million tons of commodities shipped out, compared to almost 117.8 million a year earlier, but the products would be worth $24 billion compared to last fiscal year's $22.76 billion.

USDA also foresees a jump of one-third, from $10.5 billion to $14 billion, in the “I'm in the Financial Department at Texas Electric, so I know electricity is costing more to make because of higher plant and fuel costs.

But I'm also a Texas Electric customer — and my bills are higher, too. I've found this tips booklet very helpful. It's full of energy-saving ideas.

Like keeping your thermostat set on 78 degrees or higher during the summer. Waiting until you have a full load before you run the dishwasher or the washing machine. Turning off unused lights.

If you're serious about saving energy and money, just write 'send the book' on the comment portion of your electric bill.”

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 24, 1977

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have a good chance to get your affairs on a more solid and secure structure so look for a combination that has proven successful in the past to gain the advancement that appeals to you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Confer with a bigwig and learn how to have greater success in the future. Seek new means through which to handle duties more efficiently. Avoid danger of all kinds now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Put those new ideas to work that will please new contacts you recently made and will lead to mutual benefits. Listen to what a partner has to say about a trip or how to advance in near future.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle obligations in a most conscientious way and you have added profit. A new attitude toward loved one brings good results.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Please associates more and come to a better understanding, have more success. Do whatever will give you more respect with the public in general.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Put more originality into your regular work and you get better results now. Taking some new health treatment will help to revitalize you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Enjoy some form of amusement you like during spare time. Creative work can also be toned up and made more ideal. Take no risks where your credit is concerned.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Do whatever will bring more accord at home with kin and don't lose your temper. Some new interest you have in mind must be placed on a firm foundation first of all.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Talk over big plans with associates and work them out intelligently. An expert could be of assistance to you also. Avoid those who are costing you too much money to entertain.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your monetary matters should be handled conservatively if you are to make progress. Talk it over with an expert who can be helpful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study personal goals and do whatever will help to gain them. Later get together at some group affair with friends and get good results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Organizing your interests more intelligently will lead to greater success in the future. Don't confide in others either. Taking a loved one for granted is not wise; show more devotion instead.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do whatever will improve friendships that are wearing out at the seams. Take time for worthwhile entertainment, but first get important work out of the way.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have many practical abilities. Be sure to give enough education to equip your progeny for big success. Add psychology to curricula for better communication with others.

Hill trying to comply with Bullock's request

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Comptroller Bob Bullock's request for information on tax delinquent files is being filled as fast as Atty. Gen. John Hill can do it, Hill said Monday.

Hill filed a brief in the Texas Supreme Court in opposition to Bullock's suit to force Hill to tell him the status of each of more than 5,600 delinquent sales tax cases.

Bullock filed suit in the high court against Hill Aug. 10.

In his reply brief, Hill says he has daily assigned a minimum of two clerks and two attorneys to compile the information.

Bullock has publicly criticized Hill several times since Hill said he is thinking seriously about running for governor next year.

Bullock, who also wants to be governor, earlier made a determination that Gov. Dolph Briscoe cannot be defeated, and he announced his support for Briscoe.

"By the terms of the constitution, the attorney general, not the comptroller, is the chief legal officer of the state with primary responsibility for legal proceedings," Hill said in his brief.

Since he is doing his best to furnish the information, Hill said, there is no issue about Bullock's entitlement to the data Bullock says he needs to computerize his records.

Neither is there an issue involving the Open Records Act, Hill said, because that law was not intended to apply between government agencies.

"The only issue is whether the comptroller of public accounts has a right to have access to and primary control over the tax files of the attorney general," Hill said.

"The files of the attorney general's office, contrary to the comptroller's perception of the breadth of his authority and responsibility as the comptroller of public accounts, are not the responsibility of the office of the comptroller of public accounts," Hill said.

'President' mad enough to sue Country is missing from phone listings

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Telephone Company today begins delivery of 955,000 new Manhattan telephone directories. Missing among its 767,992 listings is the Government of Montmartre, and its "president" says he's mad enough to sue.

"We're the only foreign country in New York," says Barry Richmond, a theatrical entrepreneur whose name is also missing from the many catalogues of show business notables.

Richmond says he'll take the phone utility to court in a $2 million libel-restraint of trade suit.

The whole hassle began last year when the local media couldn't help but notice a 35-line listing in the phone book under the heading: "Montmartre, Govt. of." There was a listing for the ambassador's residence, one for a Montmartre-U.S. Joint International Boundary & Water Commission and one for the Theatre Du Grand-Guignol De Paris.

"The phone company apparently became embarrassed about the press coverage and decided to strike Montmartre from the directory," said Richmond in a telephone interview early today.

Richmond went to the State Public Service Commission on June 24 and again on July 5 to insist that the phone company had no right to withdraw recognition of the country.

"I quoted precedent going back to Pericles," Richmond says, explaining that he used precedent to show that small sovereignties have been tolerated within the boundaries of larger ones ever since the Golden Age of Greece.

Richmond says the PSC seemed to uphold his position in the June meeting, which was informal, and then go against him in July. He took the case to a Manhattan federal court, which upheld the PSC decision that the phone company could withdraw the listing.

The phone company position, stated frequently and reaffirmed in a telephone interview with a spokesman today, is that people have to trust what they read in the phone book. "As best as we can, we try to protect the integrity of the phone directory," the spokesman said.

But Richmond says the phone company simply has no sense of humor.

To what end does the Serene Federal Republic of Montmartre exist?

Richmond says that the country was originally formed to help bring the French comedy theater Grand-Guignol to the United States. He claims to have purchased rights to the theater company.

President Barry Richmond says many things. He says he is 45 years old. He said he was 45 last year.

Will freeze prices in '77

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican businessmen will freeze prices until the end of the year in an effort to combat 18 per cent annual inflation, according to a business group spokesman.

Businesses belonging to the Business Coordinating Council will also pay the equivalent of 15 days pay to each worker, based on the minimum salary before the end of October.

Jorge Sanchez Mejorada, president of the council, told President Jose Lopez Portillo the council has resolved to carry out a 10-point program to help the nation during the present economic crisis, now a year old.

Members of the council will train unemployed, providing scholarships for training for up to six months. Public and private banks will make over $170 million dollars available to medium and small businesses for credit.

The minimum wage in Mexico City is $4.41 dollars a day.

Labor leader Fidel Belazquez, leader of the powerful Confederation of Mexican Workers, said Monday purchasing power has dropped 48 per cent since last November.

The Peso was devalued last August, throwing the country into a recession still being felt.

Stock up for school at Gibson's Discount

It's hard to believe, but it's time for school to start. Drop by Gibson's today and stock up on some of the economical buys they have for school supplies this year.

People were already starting to pick up bargains last week at Gibson's in their back-to-school section.

They not only have a big supply of notebook paper, pens, pencils, tablets, glue, colors and many other school items, they also have clothing for back-to-school.

Check their clothing department for good buys for school days. Gibson's has a motto, "If you didn't buy it at Gibson's you paid too much."

And they have just brought in that large selection of school supplies to help you with the shock of the cost of sending a child to school nowadays.

Drop by Gibson's and go to the back of the store, near the sporting goods department and check out their merchandise and prices in school supplies.

Drive south on Scurry Street and you'll come to Gibson's large Big Spring store.

If you have one roach, you will soon have more

They have 14 babies a day.

Frightening isn't it! But that's the birth rate of a single female cockroach. We certainly hope there is no such population in your home but if you see ONE roach... or ONE ant... or ONE spider...

BEWARE! there are plenty of relatives nearby. Don't spray these bugs to death, one by one, buy the best preventative and the most effective bug killer on the market today... Johnston's brush on No-Roach.

No-Roach is effective against all crawling insects—cockroaches, ants, spider and silverfish. One application stays effective for months.

It's clean... and easy to use.

Just brush the colorless, odorless coating where you want it. Dries quickly to form an invisible film that stays effective for months. Brush Johnston's No-Roach in cabinets, on baseboards, door sills, window frames... wherever you see roaches and ants. Use Johnston's No-Roach and forget about bugs for months! Get No-Roach at: Safeway, Furr's, Piggy Wiggly, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all grocery stores. Dist. by Kimbell.

Mockingbird Song Ends On Up Beat

DEAR ABBY: I am the man who wrote to you about the mockingbird. My wife had loved that bird so much, she even recorded his song on tape. Then my wife died last year, and the bird returned. His song recalled so many memories, I felt that if I didn't destroy that mockingbird, I would surely go mad!

How grateful I was for your concern. You said time and faith in God would heal my broken heart, and you urged me not to harm the bird. Then you asked your readers to write in with suggestions and told me to watch your column.

Imagine my joy when on June 20th your entire column was filled with letters from others who had lived through a similar torment, offering suggestions to comfort me.

The best solution was to re-enter the wonderful world of matrimony, and that's exactly what I have done! I recently married a beautiful woman, and all the loneliness and despair is behind me.

Thank you, Abby. Please sign me, FORMERLY DESPERATE, NOW BLESSED, or . . .

RALPH

DEAR RALPH: Thank you for letting me know that the advice from my readers helped you. Self-pity and dwelling on an irretrievable loss is for the birds. Good luck to you both.

DEAR ABBY: I am the editor and publisher of the Daytona Beach Morning Journal, which has carried your column for many years. I couldn't believe my eyes when I read your quote: "Emerson said, 'Pay every debt like God wrote the bill.'"

I knew that Emerson never in the world would have written such a line, so I looked up the quotation and sure enough it read, "Pay every debt AS IF God wrote the bill."

Abby, how could you?

HERBERT M. DAVIDSON

DEAR MR. D.: I plead guilty as charged. Will you settle for a "mea culpa" and a promise to be more careful in the future?

DEAR ABBY: Our 12-year-old daughter received a lipstick for her birthday. Should she be allowed to use it, even though her father objects?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: No. Parents make the rules for their children. (If someone gave her a motorcycle, would you allow her to drive it?)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GRIEVING STILL": The most consoling bit of philosophy I've ever come across was written by Benjamin Franklin to the daughter of his deceased brother, John, on the occasion of his death. I quote, in part:

"A man is not completely born until he is dead. Why then should we grieve that a new child is born among the immortals?"

We are spirits. That bodies should be lent us while they afford us pleasure, assist us in acquiring knowledge or in doing good to our fellow creatures is a kind of benevolent act of God.

When they become unfit for these purposes, and afford us pain instead of pleasure, instead of an aid become an encumbrance and answer none of these intentions for which they were given, it is equally kind and benevolent that a way is provided by which we get rid of them.

Death is that way."

Television good for tots?

Watching television for play is sometimes good for children and sometimes not, says Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M.

Children's programs are good when they aid in cultural, emotional or intellectual development, and only parents can decide which program is good for their family viewing.

Since children learn from play and television is a form of passive play, it teaches—but it enriches only when program goals are the same found in other forms of instructive play, she says.

Television offers some of the values that play offers, and television can add to a child's development—physical, therapeutic, educational and creative. Television also provides self-insight and social and moral development, the specialist explains.

Wise parents select programs that offer these values—and meet family goals and standards, Miss Taylor adds. Also, she advises parents to select television programs and timetables that do not replace family time, exercises, outdoor play or friendships with other children.

Forsan Boosters to meet

Forsan Booster Club will host a "get acquainted ice cream social, Thursday, Aug. 25, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

The special is for the community of Elbow and Forsan.

At the program, the faculty of both Elbow and Forsan schools will be introduced.

The club will have a regular meeting Sept. 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria for an election of new officers for the upcoming school year.

"In addition to stimulation and amusement, children can be encouraged to emulate the 'good guys' they meet on television. It is easy to identify with the moral characters who catch the thief, help the loser, rescue Lassie, or, by whatever means, save the day," she says.

"Also, with early and frequent exposure to lessons in art, music, drama and science, young viewers benefit as they could never have before television. Programs offer trash and treasure, but supervised, limited viewing provides children with learning experiences that broaden their worlds," she contends.

On the other hand, too much television—and unmonitored television, can be a form of destructive play, Miss Taylor cautions.

If children are allowed to watch all kinds of programs, they see great amounts of the negative—at a time of major moral development in their lives.

"They may be exposed to an over-emphasis on crime, terror and the abnormal," the specialist says.

Television "overtime" tends to interfere with family time together—and thus, relationships. It can rob children of eating and sleeping time, too, the specialist points out.

Myrick family meets for reunion

The Myrick family met at Comanche Trail Park Aug. 13 for a reunion in which more than 45 attended.

Grace Myrick, 79, was the oldest in attendance, and her great-granddaughter, Kimberly Dawn Myrick, was the youngest. Kimberly is nine weeks old.

For medicinal purposes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beer, according to an Assyrian tablet of 2,000 B.C., was one of the foods that sustained passengers on the biblical Noah's legendary Ark.

The United States Brewers Association says the tablet is the first recorded mention of the brew, which has been credited with healing powers throughout history.

Saxons, according to the association, used beer, warmed and blended with medicinal roots to cure hiccups. Syrians used beer to induce relaxation and Arabs used it in bread as a leavening agent. Today, the drink is part of a multitude of recipes of all kinds.

Poisons should be kept under lock

Every year over 100,000 children poison themselves accidentally by drinking cleaning fluid, eating fistulas of aspirin, or swallowing any of a host of other potentially dangerous substances found around the house.

Parents can prevent many of these accidents by anticipating such possibilities and taking steps to keep children from poisoning themselves.

Here are a few ways to prevent accidental poisoning of children, according to the Health Insurance Institute:

Keep all potentially poisonous substances locked up. If your medicine cabinet where you keep your cleaning compounds will not lock, keep your drugs and cleaners in another place under lock and key.

Never transfer hazardous substances from their original containers to a glass, cup or soda bottle, or anything else that might indicate to a child that it contains something to eat or drink.

Get rid of unused medicines and household products by emptying them down the toilet or drain. Rinse the container before discarding it.

One of the first things a parent can do when a child swallows something that may be poisonous is to call the doctor. Be sure to keep the remaining contents of the bottle or box which the child sampled to identify the poison and estimate how much was swallowed. Without this vital information a doctor's course of action could be delayed.

If you cannot reach your doctor readily, call your local poison control center, your community hospital, or the police. It's a good idea to keep a list of these numbers near the telephone.

A good precautionary move, according to poison control experts, is to keep handy any ounce bottle of ipecac syrup to induce vomiting, if that is what the doctor advises.

Youth compete in revue

COLLEGE STATION — State 4-H Dress Revue is Abilene-bound — where approximately 50 youth will compete Sept. 15-17 for top state honors — and model in a fashion show at the West Texas Fair, which runs concurrently with the Revue.

Contestants at the state level are winners of county and district contests — and the top winner in Abilene will represent Texas at the National Dress Revue in Chicago at National 4-H Congress this fall, according to Marlene Odle-Kemp, a State 4-H Dress Revue coordinator and a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Dress Revue is an optional part of the statewide 4-H Clothing Program, Mrs. Odle-Kempsays.

Murcer's 'Gipper' dies

ALUMET CITY, Ill. (AP) — Scott Crull's family has only praise for Bobby Murcer, who was one of the bright spots in the boy's brief life and, tragically, a symbol of one of its dark moments.

Scott was 12 years old when he died of bone cancer Monday.

Death came just two weeks after Murcer, his idol on the Chicago Cubs, told Scott he would try to hit a home run for him in a game at Pittsburgh. Murcer hit two homers.

It also that night that a television announcer told Scott, and the nation, what his parents had kept from him since his disease was diagnosed three years ago: He was dying.

"His parents just felt it was best not to tell him," said Linda Crull, the wife of Scott's brother, Kenneth. "That's what you're supposed to do with children. That way they can look forward to getting better."

A Cubs' spokesman said Murcer was "very saddened" by Scott's death and did not want to talk about it. "We're thankful we were able to provide Scott with a little happiness near the end," the spokesman added.

Although the fairy tale crumbled into a nightmare, Kenneth Crull said "Bobby Murcer did a wonderful thing for Scott. What Bobby Murcer did for Scott is the highlight of his whole life."

"He was absolutely thrilled about it," said Linda. "The whole family is very grateful to Bobby Murcer and thinks it was super of him to do it. That's the only bright spot that Scott's had for a long time."

Crull added: "What Bobby

Murcer did was great. But what happened afterward we'd just as soon forget about."

Scott was an avid Cubs fan who spent hours watching the baseball team on television. That's what he was doing the night of Aug. 8.

After Scott saw Murcer's second homer, announcer Keith Jackson told a national audience what had been relayed to him by a Cubs' official.

Jackson said Murcer, at the request of a Crull family friend, had telephoned Scott before the game. He also said that Scott was dying.

Family members said

Scott's condition had been worsening in recent months. They said they didn't know whether death was hastened by Scott's knowledge that he had terminal cancer.

"He never said too much. He pretty much kept to himself about the whole thing. He was glad that the man called," said Crull. "He was further up the line, but we didn't expect it to be this soon."

Last week, Scott's pain intensified. Thursday, he entered St. Margaret's Hospital in Hammond, Ind.

Friday or Saturday, Scott saw the Cubs beat the Los Angeles Dodgers on television, said Crull. Sunday Scott was in great pain and at about 6 a.m. Monday he died, minutes before his parents reached the hospital.

Nearly 10 hours later, Murcer hit another homer for the Cubs for the winning run in a 3-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

"The Cubs won a game and, I guess, both of them triumphed," Murcer and Scott," said Crull.

Pep rally is tonite at 8

Big Spring High School students will take one night off from hanging out on Gregg Street to help usher in the 1977 Steer football season.

The BSHS band, twirlers, cheerleaders, volleyball team, Quarterback Club, State Champion Teenage Baseball Indians, coaches and, of course, the football team will gather in the Comanche Trail Park Amphitheater tonight at 8 o'clock for what is hoped to be the largest and loudest pre-season pep rally in the history of the school.

The heck-raising and barn-burning activities tonight prelude the locals' first clash of the season, a scrimmage against the Sweetwater gridders this Friday at Memorial Stadium, kickoff time, 7:30 p.m.

The first actual game of the season is the following Friday, Sept. 2, at home against the top 3A team in the state, Andrews.

All students, parents, relatives, friends, acquaintances, strangers and pets who would like to show support for the locals are urged to attend tonight's clambake.

Who will win Gong Show?

KANSAS CITY (AP) — If the Kansas City Royals survive their white-knuckle battle with Chicago, Texas and Minnesota in the American League West, some credit must go to an ugly, beat-up yellow gong.

George Brett picked it up in an Oriental shop three weeks ago at the end of a 1-5 road trip that appeared to peril the team's chances of repeating as division champion.

A few days later, the team began voting the "Gong Award" after each victory to the player committing the stupidest, most embarrassing mistake.

Protesting futilely amid raucous banter, the culprit allows the gong to hang at his dressing room stall until it is passed to someone else after another victory.

It is a group of adults acting silly, on the surface. But tension and anxiety are sub-surface things.

"Unless you've gone through it yourself, it's hard to understand the pressure these guys are under," said coach Steve Boros. "Something like this relieves the tension and helps keep the game fun. But they really struggle to plead their defense."

Catcher Darrell Porter got the Gong Award Sunday after the Royals beat Boston and moved one game ahead of Chicago and Minnesota and 1 1/2 games ahead of Texas. Porter was cited for standing at the plate without realizing he had been called out on strikes.

"It adds to the feeling of fellowship and togetherness, even though I got a real deal this time," said Porter.

Prep QB dies from injury

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A 16-year-old high school quarterback has died from internal injuries he received in a weekend football scrimmage.

Kenneth Bennett, a junior at St. Augustine High School, died Sunday after undergoing emergency surgery, Athletic Director Andrew Davis said.

Bennett complained of stomach pains following Saturday's scrimmage at Capitol High of Baton Rouge. He was taken to a Baton Rouge hospital, where the cause of his pain was diagnosed as a stomach bruise and he was sent home, Davis said.

However, later that night, the boy complained of more severe pains and he was taken to a hospital here. He died following an operation early Sunday.

WTC sets tournament

SNYDER — Western Texas College golf coach Bob O'Day has announced the First Annual Western Texas partnership tourney to be hosted by the athletic department.

The tourney costs $60 per team and will take place on August 27 and 28 on the campus of Western Texas College.

The first two places in the four flight competition will receive a set of irons, and there will be a free barbecue Saturday night.

Interested entrants can call O'Day to register at 915-573-9291.

Coahoma QBC meet

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Quarterback Club is sponsoring "Meet the Bulldogs" night tonight at 7:30 in the Coahoma High School Gymnasium.

An ice cream supper will accompany the introduction of players. All Bulldog supporters are urged to attend.

Ranger cavalry arrives

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Just when the Texas Rangers were about to take a big dive in the American League West Monday night, up jumped their version of their U.S. Cavalry — catcher Jim Sundberg.

Sundberg, a golden glove catcher who critics claim has a bat of tin, delivered his 10th game-winning hit of the season as the Rangers came from behind to nip Milwaukee 8-7, in a game delayed 43 minutes by rain.

The Ranger catcher, who picked one Brewer off base and nailed another one trying to steal, slapped a two-out, two-run single in the bottom of the seventh inning. The victory kept the Rangers within 1 1/2 games of Kansas City.

"We had to have this game after the Yankees beat us three straight," said Sundberg. "It just seems like I'm always the one who is coming up in the clutch situations."

Sundberg has delivered in the clutch this year more than any time in his brief major league career. He now has 55 RBIs and his best previous high was only 36.

His batting average is hovering around the .300 mark, compared to averages of .247, .199 and .228 in his other three years in the big leagues.

Asked if he knew he had 55 RBIs, Sundberg said, "Damn right I do, and I'll tell you one thing, I'm going to get a lot more."

He added, "I didn't want to sound snappy or smart-alecky, but I just have more confidence than I've ever had in my life. I've choked up on the bat and I know the manager (Billy Hunter) is going to let me stay in there when the game is on the line.

"It makes defense a lot easier for me to play, too, when I'm hitting well."

Adrian Devine earned his 10th victory against six losses in relief of Bert Blyleven, who is attempting a comeback after a 10-day layoff with a groin pull.

Ed Rodriguez, now 3-5, was the victim of Sundberg's continuing rampage against AL pitchers.

Astros hit-and-run

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets played a little hit-and-run Monday night. John Stearns did the running, Bruce Boicclair did the hitting and the Mets came away with a 2-1 victory over the Houston Astros.

J.R. Richard was breezing along with a three-hitter and a 1-0 lead thanks to his own RBI single in the second inning when he waived Stearns to lead off the Mets' seventh. Manager Joe Torre disdained a sacrifice and Stearns stole second.

"It was a hit-and-run play and the pitch was low," Stearns explained. "Richard has a slow delivery and I got a decent jump. You've got to move a man some way. Joe like to hit-and-run a lot and it gives the batter a chance to move a runner up a base and this way you don't have to give up an out. A hit-and-run is a much better play than a sacrifice because it puts more pressure on the fielders."

Stearns went to third on Lee Mazzilli's soft single and, after Doug Flynn bounced out, pinch hitter Boicclair came through with a double, scoring both runners.

"Bruce is more valuable playing once in a while when I can use him for defense and for pinch hitting," Torre said. "This is the kind of a club we have to have, but we haven't been able to run because we haven't been getting men on base."

Boicclair's clutch blow made a winner of Pat Zachry, 7-12, who allowed five hits in seven innings but issued six walks and had to work out of several jams as the Astros stranded 11 runners. Skip Lockwood worked the final two innings to earn his 18th save.

Fourth-stringer snaps

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A fourth-string quarterback in the National Football League could be likened to a guy trying to walk up a down escalator. He's got big problems.

Take Mike Cordova, and almost nobody did in the NFL. He was the last quarterback selected in May's player draft. The Philadelphia Eagles decided to take a look at the Stanford graduate.

When Cordova reported to the Eagles' training camp he found himself behind quarterbacks Ron Jaworski, Roman Gabriel and John Walton. His chances of sticking were about as good as the Eagles' making the Super Bowl: slim.

Spencer out, broken neck

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Maurice Spencer, a four-year veteran cornerback with the New Orleans Saints, is out for the rest of the National Football League season with a broken neck.

Team doctor Ken Saer said Monday that Spencer would not be able to play again this season because of a fracture suffered in Saturday's victory over the Buffalo Bills.

Saer said Spencer would be put in traction for two weeks after which a decision will be made about whether to operate. Clarence Chapman, a second-year player from Eastern Michigan, will replace Spencer, Coach Hank Stram said.

Diablos cling

El Paso, behind the combined pitching efforts of Jim Dorsey and Carlos Perez, claimed undisputed possession of first place in the West Division of the Texas League Monday, while Arkansas stretched its lead to 2 1/2 games in the East.

The Diablos went ahead of San Antonio 3-2 in the fourth inning when Terry Stuey's sacrifice fly scored Floyd Rayford. El Paso finally won 8-2, and cling to a 1-game lead over Midland.

Dorsey boosted his record to 10-7, with Perez picking up a save for El Paso.

Ivan Murrell of Amarillo crashed two home runs, knocking in four runs as the Gold Sox knocked Midland out of first place with a 9-5 victory.

Juan Eichelberger is now 11-7 while Jack Ledbetter is 11-8.

The Arkansas Travelers scored three runs in the ninth inning to defeat Tulsa Drillers 3-2.

JAWORSKI SACKED — Eagles' quarterback Ron Jaworski's feet point skyward as he is tackled by New England Patriots' Raymond Hamilton (71) Monday during preseason play at Philadelphia. The Eagles lost yard on the play. The Eagles won the game, 21-10.

Raiders tired
LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Scrimmage sessions were set for Wednesday and Saturday as head coach Steve Sloan continues to run the Texas Tech Red Raiders through two workouts daily.

"A lot of the players got pretty tired today," Sloan said Monday. "Many of them pushed themselves late in the practice even though they were tired."

The Red Raiders practiced in a drizzling rain during the morning and 90-degree heat in the afternoon.

Bears sloppy
WACO, Tex. (AP) — Head coach Grant Teaff said if he watched the Baylor Bears' fall workouts as a casual observer, he'd say the team was inexperienced.

Teaff said the offense looks sloppy, and the only really bright spot is the play of the defensive secondary led by safety Ron Burns.

Teaff said he hopes hot weather will return to the state, because he knows it will be hot on Sept. 10 when the Bears open with Texas Tech.

Aggies booked
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — "We're still in a teaching process."

That's a comment from Emory Bellard, Texas A&M head coach, as he put his Aggies through a workout here Monday.

"I couldn't be prouder of this bunch. They have been working as hard as you can work," he added.

Bellard also said that freshman quarterback Rheet Darnell has left the team.

CARD OF THANKS

We greatly appreciate and want to thank all who sent cards, flowers, and food before and after the death of Mrs. Gates. Our special thanks for the care shown by Dr. Burnett and others at Malone-Hogan, the Alert Ambulance Service, the Family Medical Service and Caren Yeats' visits; Dr. Thomas and others at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. She had many friends here and was a brave example of a Christian mother.
Lovingly,
The Lynn Hise Family

Watergate episode

Marshall defends role of courts

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — Any attempt by former President Richard M. Nixon to defy the Supreme Court's order to turn over tape recordings of White House conversations about his aides' participation, Marshall said. "I submit that such a course would have been futile."
Marshall defended the role of the courts in the Watergate investigation in a speech prepared for delivery here at the Eighth Conference on the Law of the World.
Nixon resigned in August 1974, after the court, in an 8-0 decision, ordered him to surrender tapes and documents wanted as evidence in a trial of former presidential aides. The defendants were charged with covering up White House involvement in the break-in of Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate complex in Washington.
"There have been reports that President Nixon considered defying the court order to turn over his tape recordings" of White House conversations about his aides' participation, Marshall said. "I submit that such a course would have been futile."
"In a battle of moral authority, the allegiance of the people will lie with the courts, as long as the judicial branch acts responsibly under the law."
Marshall said the Watergate episode "was, in many ways, a triumph of law over lawless behavior; a triumph of the democratic process over those who sought to subvert it to serve their selfish hunger for power."
"When the president did resign, under threat of almost certain impeachment, his successor took office under constitutional procedures, peacefully and in strict accord with the rule of law," Marshall said.

Four DWI convictions

Traffic backs up cars for over four miles

PLAQUEMINE, La. (AP) — A Baton Rouge man police say has been convicted drunk driving four times is being held on charges of negligent homicide in connection with a collision that killed a Texas man and critically injured his wife.
Robert Powers Jr., 61, was headed the wrong way on an elevated section of Interstate 10 across the Atchafalaya swamp between Baton Rouge and Lafayette early Monday when the wreck occurred, police said.
He is now in jail here after being booked for driving while intoxicated—fifth offense; negligent homicide; negligent injury; driving while his license was under suspension; and driving on the wrong side of the road.
The accident tied up traffic on I-10 for more than three hours, leaving vehicles backed up for over four miles.

Today's my 51st birthday, which is the first year of my second fifty years. I was probably smarter the first year of my first 50 when I was toddling around the house in Mercedes. Oh, and incidentally, Happy Birthday Ted Groebel.
Do you have a favorite birthday through the years? Well, I have one and it's funny. Some people might not think so, but I shall bore you anyway.
When I was 7 years old, my mother gave me a birthday party. You have to understand that it was an event. Because when I was 7 years old, it was 1933, brother. And those was Depression years.
Depression with a capitol D. Very few kids had birthday parties. I was told that my mother had invited seven little girls. I don't remember getting to select the seven. So on the way home from school one day, I invited Andrew, who was my friend and lived eight blocks from the house.
The day of the party arrived. My brother, Walter, was sent to Grandpa's because there were to be no boys present. That's what they thought. Promptly at 4 p.m., Andrew arrived. He had on a suit. He carried a present.
Mother called me aside. "Did you invite Andrew?" she asked. "Yes, sort of," I admitted. "I have no extra favors," she told me. "Give him mine." She nodded.
The party began. We were to play "Drop the handkerchief" and then London Bridge. My knowledge of games was very limited. We had played London Bridge at Bible School and one child was an apple and the other a banana. I thought that was the way you played.
Since I was birthday girl, I was part of the bridge and Mother selected Nancy Prothro as the other. Nancy was Mother's guest and was two years older than me. I did not like Nancy. Nothing happened that day to change my opinion.
They let me decide what to be first. I said I would like to be the banana. Nancy then said she would be "The silver fairy princess in a golden chariot." I was stunned. What kind of apple was that?
I tried to stammer that I might ought to be something else. She said, "No, you've already chosen." So much for Nancy Prothro.
So the game began. Every little girl that came along definitely preferred being a silver fairy princess in a golden chariot. They made this choice even though I was trying hard to hold back the tears as each one chose against the banana.
My mother tried to call me aside to ask what was going on, but I ignored it. I hadn't invited Nancy. She had.
Andrew was the last in line. He was my only hope. And he came through. He definitely did not want to be a silver fairy princess in a golden chariot, but looked at me hard and chose the banana.
He got a firm hold on my waist and we pulled. We pulled that entire line of seven silver fairy princesses across the line to win for the banana.
I was red in the face and my new yellow organdy dress was torn at the waist.
But I had learned several things: 1. There are other things in the world besides apples and bananas. 2. Nancy Prothro does not always win. 3. Parties are not necessarily happy every minute. 4. Don't let your mother make the guest list.
And that's the way it was on Aug. 23, 1933, in Mercedes, where I used to run, skip and hop by the fence.

Candy's will challenged

HOUSTON (AP) — Jury selection continued today in Probate Judge Pat Gregory's court where two adopted sons of Candace Mossler are challenging a codicil that cut them out of a share of Mrs. Mossler's wealth, estimated from $12 to $20 million.
A petition filed by John Holloway, attorney for Daniel and Christopher Mossler, contends Mrs. Mossler falsely believed the two brothers would kill her or frame her on income tax evasion charges.
Mrs. Mossler died last October in her Miami, Fla., hotel room at the age of 62.
The brothers claim in the petition that Mrs. Mossler suffered from an insane delusion when she wrote the codicil, or addition to her will, in 1975.
The codicil said the two brothers and an adopted daughter, Martha Mossler Meredith, had "not demonstrated the care, love and affection for me which I deserve as their mother."
At that time, the three adopted children were plaintiffs in lawsuits alleging Mrs. Mossler had mismanaged the estate of her second husband, Jacques Mossler, a Houston and Miami banker and financier.
Mrs. Meredith has chosen not to contest the codicil.
If the disputed portion of the will is allowed to stand, the bulk of the estate would go to a son, Norman Johnson, a daughter, Rita Wilder and another adopted son, Edward Mossler.
Holloway's petition alleged that Johnson instigated Mrs. Mossler's
