

Britons Conquer Mt. Everest As Coronation Gift To Queen

LONDON—(AP)—Queen Elizabeth II took time out on her Coronation Day Tuesday to send congratulations to the British expedition that planted the Union Jack atop 29,000-foot Mt. Everest.

The feat—man's first successful attempt to reach the world's highest peak—was announced Monday night by Buckingham Palace.

The news that two climbers in a party headed by Col. John Hunt had battled their way successfully to the icy summit in the Himalayas on May 29 was relayed to the Queen first. A palace spokesman described the dramatic news as a "coronation gift."

In her message, cabled to the British minister at Katmandu, the capital of the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal, the Queen said:

"Please convey to Colonel Hunt and all members of the British expedition my warmest congratulations on their great achievement in reaching the summit of Mt. Everest, (signed) Elizabeth R."

The Queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, also sent his congratulations. A message from Hunt relayed to Buckingham Palace said, "All is well."

The final assault on the Central Asian Peak on the Nepal-Tibet border—reportedly the third attempt by Hunt's 18-man expedition within the last few weeks—was made by New Zealand bee-keeper, Edward P. Hillary, 34, and a veteran guide of Nepal's Sherpa tribe, 28-year-old Tenzing Norgay.

London newspapers hailed the achievement as the beginning of a new Elizabethan era of British daring. They compared the deed with the triumphs of Captain Cook, Sir Francis Drake and Antarctic Explorer Robert Scott.

A New Zealand and a tribesman from Britain's longtime ally Nepal won the final victory. Tenzing was looked upon here as another symbol—like the coronation—of Commonwealth unity. Reportedly they carried Nepal's flag to the top, along with the British colors.

The climbers raced against the approaching storms of the Summer monsoon. It had been reported that they had failed to reach their goal during the brief spell of good weather and had given up hope.

Ten other Everest expeditions in the last 32 years had been beaten back by the numbing cold, fierce winds and lack of oxygen that produces extreme weariness and plays mental tricks with climbers at the extreme Himalayan heights. Eight of the previous attempts to scale Mt. Everest had been by Britons.

by deposits of pigment serves as a protection against the sun's rays and at the same time allows the sun to get in its good effects. Tanning takes time, however, because the pigment or coloring matter does not come to the skin at once.

The first exposure to the strong Summer sun should be short. A few minutes lying in the sun each day for several days is much better than a long exposure resulting in a burn. Gradually the length of time in the sun can be increased as the tanning progresses. After a week or so there is little danger of sunburn.

A number of ointments or lotions can be placed on the skin and will protect somewhat against rays of the sun and promote tanning rather than burning. There are a great many of these substances on the market. Regardless of what is used, a little common sense is in order.

The temptation to soak up a lot of sun the first good day should be resisted. It does no good to get too much and serious harm over and above a tender, painful skin can develop.

When warm weather arrives many people carry their enthusiasm for the sun too far. After a winter in the factory or office, people are pale and easily burned. With the opening of the beaches and recreation spots the first clear Sunday is an invitation to overexposure to the sun. This results in the inevitable Monday morning crop of bright red skins, blisters and short tempers.

A severe sunburn is not only uncomfortable but doesn't help the health any. Although the sun's rays are beneficial in moderate quantities, when there is too much of it the skin is destroyed and harmed.

The action of the sun on the skin leads to the production of a substance called vitamin D, which is necessary for good health; it probably has other good effects as well. When part of the skin is killed by too much sun, however, the good effects are lost.

The proper amount of sun to take at the beginning is just enough to cause a gradual tanning or tanning. The tanning which is caused

Experts See Nonstop Nipple Just Around Corner

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Parents: Next time Junior's bottle stops up, may be just around the corner.

Nonstop nipple, if indeed it has not already been invented, may be just around the corner.

This and other facets of nursing bottle lore are offered the public in an exhibit on the evolution of nursing necessities. The bottle accounts for 233 patents.

The rise and fall of the long sucking tube is depicted. It was patented in 1864 as an invention designed so that a baby "can take the reservoir in its arms and the spout in the mouth," but lost popularity after 30 years.

Charles M. Winslow of Roxbury, Mass., obtained the first nursing bottle patent in the U. S. in 1861. The first rubber nipple was patented four years later. In the interval, nipples were of ivory or silver—the latter perhaps for infants born with silver spoons in their mouths.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A flurry of applications raised to 44 Tuesday the number of bids for educational television channels throughout the country. An additional application came in from Puerto Rico.

Twenty applications were filed with the Federal Communications Commission in the last two weeks, many coming in Monday.

The FCC's formal order reserving 184 channels for educational TV expires Tuesday.

DALLAS—(AP)—Sheriff Bill Decker took 80 jail prisoners in a barren cell after they refused Monday to eat a noon meal of butter egg noodles, beet and onion salad, pudding and bread.

The prisoners turned on water faucets to flood floors of three cell blocks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smiley of Boaring Springs, Texas, were recent visitors in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smiley, Jr.

Las Vegas, Nev.—(AP)—The atomic test scheduled for pre-dawn Tuesday has been postponed 48 hours because of unfavorable weather and probable radiation hazard.

Two directors looked for at least 75 seventh and eighth graders for the second day of the school.

John Wayne Says Wife Lies In Charging He Struck Her

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Actor John Wayne, a six-foot-four former college football player, has testified he has held her hands or feet.

He denied, however, that he ever struck Mrs. Esperanza Wayne, former Mexican film actress, who seeks $9,250-a-month temporary alimony pending trial of a separate-maintenance suit in October.

Asked to explain methods for such protection, Wayne continued: "I have held her hands and I have held her feet, but only to protect myself."

In addition to alimony and attorney's fees, Mrs. Wayne seeks an order restraining her husband from resorting to physical violence.

Wayne, charging his wife with misinformation and untruths, contradicted most of 10 days' testimony presented in her behalf.

He denied their trip through South America under RKO sponsorship was in the nature of a bonus. He said it was for publicity purposes.

A gift of 5,000 shares of stock in Republic Studios, Wayne said, was presented to him by Herbert J. Yates, studio head.

"I deny ever telling her the stock was a bonus or that I was trying to beat income taxes on it," the actor declared.

He also denied her assertion that RKO paid for their $130,000 Encino home as a tax dodge. He said the studio had assumed the mortgage at lower interest, but that he was paying $150 a week for the property.

Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz aren't a bit worried about their TV fans not accepting them as newweds when they co-star in the film version of "The Long, Long Trailer" for MGM. "We'll be playing two entirely different people in a plot that has nothing to do with 'I Love Lucy,'" is Desi's argument. Maybe he's right.

Fox can take a bow for honor and decency. The studio could have cashed in easily, but didn't, on the sensationalism of a movie queen who became a nun with all the sexy bathing suit art slated as a come-on in billboards for her last flicker, "The Girl Next Door."

Mrs. Harston's Dance Pupils Give Program

A large audience of Midlanders saw "The Twelve Dancing Princesses" dance program presented by Georgia Goss Harston Monday night in the Midland High School Auditorium and sponsored by the Optimist Club.

Proceeds from the event will go to the Optimist Club's program of work for boys.

The program was presented in two scenes. In the first scene, the prince had stationed himself outside the princesses' door to keep vigil and try to discover how their shoes were worn out each night.

Scene two was laid in the magic garden, where the princesses entertained their guests and danced the night away.

Mrs. Charles Marsh served as narrator for the program and music was provided by Annette Smith and Mrs. Ralph Chambers, pianists.

Midlander's Kin To Be Honored IN Mississippi

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ricketts and children, Linda Lee and Randall, 2209 Harvard Drive, will leave Thursday for Mt. Olive, Miss., to attend a celebration honoring Mr. Ricketts' father, Dr. W. F. Stroud.

Dr. Stroud, a pioneer physician of Mississippi who is completing 50 years of medical service, is to be honored by the community of Mt. Olive on June 13.

Seven children of Dr. Stroud plan to attend the celebration. Mrs. S. C. Fillemann, who teaches biology in Odessa High School, and Mrs. Ricketts are the only children of the honoree who are Texans.

The oldest son, Dr. C. M. Stroud of St. Louis, who was nationally known in the field of allergy and internal medicine, died three years ago. His son now is in Harvard Medical School, having graduated cum laude from Harvard University last year.

Dr. W. F. Stroud was graduated from the University of Tennessee School of Medicine and attended Sewanee College. He has served for many terms during the past years as mayor of Mt. Olive and had a large part in establishing the State Sanatorium at Magee, Miss., and the Charity Hospital at Jackson.

He estimates that he has delivered about 3,000 babies. He has delivered 11 children to the same couple and a few years ago delivered the fifth child to the same couple.

Other counties to be represented will be El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Reeves, Upton, Reagan, Ector, Andrews and Martin.

Pauline McWilliams, county home demonstration agent, will accompany the girls to McCamey for the encampment.

Dr. James Bethea Takes Over Texas' Hospital System

AUSTIN—(AP)—Dr. James Bethea has taken office as the executive director of Texas' huge state hospital system.

Betha, a retired major general, once was commanding officer of McCloskey General Hospital at Temple and of Brooke Army Medical Center at San Antonio.

Betha has been assistant dean of the University of Texas Postgraduate School of Medicine in San Antonio for a year.

Betha took over the state hospital system under an administrative reorganization plan that specifies a medical man must hold the post. He will have five divisional aides to direct different phases of the hospital program.

Language Of Mexico Most Interesting Avers Linguist

Joe S. Donkos of 1933 Pinkstydink Street takes the position that the language of Mexico is the most colorful and interesting of all the foreign tongues. He cites an example in the words "fiesta" and "siesta". What words are more descriptive than these? What beautiful dreams they conjure! Fiesta and siesta.

The point that Joe wants to make is that if you owned one of those scrumptious Jacobson Power Mowers, that every day for you would be "Fiesta". You would celebrate the day you bought it, and every time your lawn needed a bob, you would have another Fiesta. There's nothing like a good old-fashioned Fiesta. And we would like to point out that if you have enough Fiesta you can have more siesta. You take one of those gem-like, orange colored Jacobson mowers, apply it lightly, once over, to a lawn for about an hour, and presto—siesta. And, boy, how you can siesta when you know that job is done!

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEH —(AP)— The cold war between Communist and Nationalist China never ceases but the hot war is of almost negligible proportions.

Some copies say the wraps were taken off Chiang Kai-Shek—but Chiang held nowhere to go. Many people here feel that any full-scale invasion of the mainland is out of the question without full-scale foreign—in other words, American—support.

Chiang and other top Nationalists repeatedly have said no aid in ground forces will be required. That is another way of acknowledging that air and naval would be needed, also full-scale logistical support.

Post Office Box Rental Rates Due To Increase Here

An increase of 50 per cent on the basic rates of postal boxes will go into effect in Midland and throughout the United States July 1, Midland Postmaster N. G. Oates announced Tuesday.

"This is the first increase in the basic rates of box rentals since 1907," said Oates, "and has been ordered as part of the overall effort to balance the postal budget. The department is doing everything it can within reasonable limits to meet today's high cost of services and goods and is raising rates only where it seems justified."

The smallest box at the Main Post Office here now rents for $1.50 a quarter, he pointed out, and will be hiked to $2.25. The largest boxes, which rent at $5 will go up to $7.50.

Since the box rental rates are based on postal receipts at each post office, Oates says, the boxes at the Main Post Office here are considerably higher than at Station A, 308 North Marfield, where the small boxes now rent for 75 cents and will be increased to $1.10. There are more than 200 unrented boxes at Station A, the postmaster stated, mostly the smaller boxes.

Dulles Urges More Support For Near East, South Asia

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of State Dulles returned from his survey trip to the Near East and South Asia declaring that this strategic area, like China, could fall victim to Communist domination.

"The situation calls for urgent concern," Dulles said Monday night in a nationally broadcast and televised report on his 20,000-mile tour of 12 countries.

He said he found the United States "suspect" because of its alliance with France and Britain, countries suspected by some non-Europeans of trying to restore their colonial interests. The Arabs, he said, harbor a "deep resentment" against this country for "more fearful of Zionism the movement in support of a Jewish state than of communism."

Saying that the U. S. had given most of its postwar attention to the "very important, but not all-important" Western European area Dulles observed, "It is high time that the U. S. government paid more attention to the Near East and South Asia."

Orderly Self Government

"It came as a surprising shock when the 450 million Chinese people, whom we had counted as friends, fell under Communist domination," he continued. "There could be equally dangerous developments in the Near East and South Asia. The situation calls for urgent concern."

Among Dulles' conclusions were: 1. "Western powers can gain rather than lose from an orderly development of self-government." The U. S. should honor the "proud peoples" of the area and can, without breaking from the framework of Western unity, pursue its traditional dedication to political liberty. Arab states. The U. S. will use appropriate means to reduce ten-

2. The U. S. can help raise living standards "not with masses of money but by contributing advanced technical knowledge about transport, communication, fertilization and the use of water for irrigation."

Defense Organization

3. To reassure Arabs, it must be made clear that the Eisenhower Administration stands firmly behind the 1950 declaration that the U. S., Britain and France will not permit any violation of frontiers or armistice lines by either Israel or the Arab states.

4. It is up to the countries involved to promote a Middle East defense organization, "a future . . . possibility" and meantime the U. S. can help strengthen the interrelated defenses of those countries which want strength.

Dulles said his conferences with Gen. Naguib in Egypt convinced him the Egyptian quarrel with Britain over the Suez area can be settled.

The same is true, he said, about the bitter dispute between India and Pakistan over Kashmir.

IT'S MINERAL "SNOW"—What looks like a wintry scene is actually a group of trees covered with pumice dust in Wairakei, New Zealand. The area is rich in underground steam pockets which scientists are trying to use for electric power. In their search, which has taken them 1500 feet below the earth's surface, they also found heavy water, indispensable in producing atomic energy.

Reds Launch Heavy Attacks In Eastern, Central Korea

SEOUL —(AP)— More than 4,000 North Korean and Chinese Reds slammed against 11 Allied main-line positions and a handful of outposts Tuesday as big-scale Communist attacks exploded in Eastern and Central Korea.

American and South Korean infantrymen smashed 10 of the main line attacks, nine of the bloody eastern front and one on the central front.

Fighting for trench-line positions just in front of Luke the Gook's Castle on the eastern front still raged.

Three South Korean troops of the 12th Division were counter-attacking for a second time against Reds who hammered their way to Allied lines.

An Eighth Army briefing officer said the bitter fighting on the eastern front was the heaviest in that section in more than a year.

Some 2,500 North Korean Communists overran two small outposts and stormed four main line positions on or near Anchor Hill. All four attacks were beaten back by troops of the 15th ROK Division, the Army said.

Another 750 Reds—a full battalion—hit Americans of the U. S. 45th Division in three attacks against Sand Bag Castle. Each time the attackers were stopped at the barbed wire by rifle and machine gun crossfire.

In the Luke's Castle fight, 500 to 750 Reds threw a three-pronged attack against the Castle defense lines and against two main-line positions east of the Castle. The two eastern prongs were smashed.

North of the Punchbowl, American soldiers battled hand to hand for 20 minutes in their own trenches and hurled back 175 Reds who overran a listening post and clawed their way into Allied lines.

Another 175 North Koreans were beaten off in a three-pronged push against two ROK outposts at a main-line position between the Punchbowl and Anchor Hill.

ROK defenders broke up a 150-to-200-man Chinese attack against Capitol Hill positions, on the East-Central Front.

On the western front seven small Chinese jabs were tossed back.

One Driver, Two Tickets

MILWAUKEE —(AP)— Ronald Zakowski, 19, was convicted of reckless driving Monday even though he never touched the steering wheel.

He was a passenger Saturday night in the auto in which John R. Ritzel, 18, led police on a 46-mile chase. Officers said Zakowski advised Ritzel on the progress of police pursuit.

Circuit Judge Leo B. Hanley said Zakowski was as much of a reckless driver as Ritzel and cited a state law which says one who "counsels" a law violator may be charged with the same offense.

Both youths were placed on probation and had their driver's licenses suspended for one year.

Rhee Insists Chinese Reds Must Withdraw From Korea

SEOUL—President Syngman Rhee said Tuesday South Korea will "cooperate with the U. S. at any cost" but declared he will insist to the end on withdrawal of Chinese forces from North Korea after an armistice.

Rhee said he had received a three-point message from President Eisenhower, but refused to disclose its contents. The 78-year-old leader's statement came on the heels of a report from Washington that he had proposed to Eisenhower a mutual defense pact plus substantial U. S. financial and military aid as South Korea's price for accepting Allied truce terms.

Rhee said he had not yet replied to the message from Eisenhower but that he would do so "very soon."

The violent opposition of the Rhee government since the latest Allied truce proposal was submitted last month precipitated a crisis so serious that it threatened to wreck chances for a truce in the almost three-year-old Korean War.

Reaction to the Allied plan will not be known until Thursday, when they are resumed.

Rhee made his remarks Tuesday to newsmen while attending a British Commonwealth Division parade in honor of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

Doomed Atom Spies' Attorney Plans New Rehearing Motion

NEW YORK—The attorney for condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg says he will move for a new trial, perhaps later this week, on the ground of what he calls new evidence.

The lawyer, Emanuel H. Bloch, made his intentions known in Federal Court Monday as the judge who dooms the husband and wife team warned that their time is running out.

Congress Sentiment Favors Ike's Reorganization Plans

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's plan to reorganize the Council of Economic Advisors won bipartisan Senate backing Tuesday and appeared likely to get congressional approval.

Congress permitted the three-man council to die April 1 by shutting off its funds, although legal authority for the council still exists in the 1946 Employment Act.

The agency is supposed to supply the President with economic data and advice he needs for decisions to keep the nation's economy on an even keel.

The reorganization plan sent to Congress Monday technically does no more than enlarge the administrative duties of the council chairman and make him the reporting officer to the President.

However, Eisenhower accompanied the plan with a message in which he said he intended to appoint three members of the council and take action "to reinvigorate and make more effective" the agency.

AS 7,500 NECKS CRANE AND CREAK— Charles Sees Royal Mom Crowned, Does Her Proud

LONDON (AP)—At that golden moment for which he, too, is destined, the little boy was indeed a prince royal Tuesday.

The Duke of Cornwall, Prince Charles of Britain, heir to the throne, did his mother proud. He was a good boy.

It was only sometime later, after the crown had been placed on the head of Queen Elizabeth II and even after his father, the Duke of Edinburgh, had advanced to the altar for communion—it was only then that the blond darling of England acted like a four-year-old.

Prince Charles sucked his thumb. His granny, Queen Mother Elizabeth, who minded the youngster, whispered quick words to him and his royal dignity returned. Charles was again a dutiful son and heir.

They saved a seat for the boy. He had been promised he could sit with all those grownups if he would behave. A great craning and creaking of 7,500 necks at the time of the queen's anointment signalled the arrival of her son.

He asks questions

Dressed in a white shirt and knickerbockers, his hair meticulously parted, Prince Charles sat in the royal gallery with the queen mother.

The chubby hands grasped the gallery ledge and he peered over the railing at the wonderful things going on. In a few minutes, the queen mother gave him something to stand on and Charles had a better view of the fascinating heralds and all those other things that dazzled even his elders.

He now was a solemn lad and a somewhat puzzled one. He turned around many times to find out what was happening.

His aunt, Princess Margaret, answered the questions that sprang from childhood. The questions became more and more abundant.

He encounters problems

But at the moment of crowning there was not a better boy in all of Christendom.

Later, the sole child in an assembly of so many older people became noticeably the liveliest person in the royal gallery. He became seriously engaged with the problem of a handkerchief he found projecting from his left sleeve. He examined his hands with great diligence and care. He gazed most thoughtfully at the thumb which had found his mouth.

Finally, Charles peered intently over the side of the gallery, looking at the little pages, dangerously thin talking distance.

He bows politely

As his mother was returning to the throne at the end of the communion, Charles was sent home. It was not punishment. His time in the abbey had been budgeted carefully to allow for childish restlessness.

The prince did not particularly want to leave. He shook hands politely with those near him and bowed goodbye to all the royal ladies.

A red uniformed attendant led him out. Back at Buckingham Palace there was unfinished business.

Forces Overseas Pay Their Homage To Elizabeth II

WITH BRITISH COMMONWEALTH DIVISION, KOREA—(AP)—Fighting men of the British Commonwealth gave a rousing three cheers for Queen Elizabeth Tuesday and fired an artillery salute along the fronts in honor of her coronation.

The high spot of the Coronation Day celebration by the Commonwealth Division was a royal salute during which the royal standard of Australia, Canadian and British troops, many of them on storied fighting units.

During the morning guns of the division's artillery fired across the front in the 101-salute royal salute, a signal for every man in the division to give three cheers for her majesty.

Cockney Dons Coronet, Peer Drops His As Unexpected Events Punctuate Holiday

LONDON (AP)—Coronation Day at Southampton: Cockney actress Sally Gray starred Monday bluebloods Tuesday by announcing she's really the third Lady Oranmore and Browne and then appearing at Westminster Abbey complete with coronet.

Mrs. Gray, 35, was cited in the 1900 divorce suit brought by the second Lady Oranmore and Browne. By her secret marriage to the Hon. Edward Grey she became mistress of an ancient castle and a 6,000-acre estate in Ireland. She shares, too, in his family motto—"boldly and faithfully."

Eight Tudor-garbed yeomen who guarded the priceless crown jewels in Westminster Abbey throughout the night were oddly armed. They carried—as always—their ancient pikes. For added safety they wore revolvers strapped round the waist of their gold and crimson tunics.

Star turn of the pre-procession wait: 40 under-14 schoolgirls who marched down the royal route. They were taped together changing style to make sure none would get lost.

The first casualty of the day in Westminster Abbey was a London girl reporter who stumbled on the stairs and sprained her ankle.

The Duke and Duchess of Sutherland arose early Tuesday to attend the coronation and discovered jewelry they valued at 30,000 pounds ($84,000) had been stolen from their home.

The back door was open but there was no sign of forced entry. It was the duchess' second jewel theft in less than three years. In November, 1950, thieves lifted 50,000 pounds ($140,000) worth of gems from her Surrey estate. In both instances, the jewels were generations-old family heirlooms.

Some berobed peers, unaccustomed to ceremonial dress in these days of austerity, had difficulty handling their regalia as they arrived at Westminster Abbey Tuesday.

One nobleman stumbled and almost fell getting out of his car. Another dropped his coronet and a nearby soldier had to retrieve it for him.

Prime Minister Churchill went to a museum for part of his coronation costume.

He wore a huge star of the Order of the Garter—three one-half inches across—which belonged to his ancestor, the Duke of Marlborough. It was loaned him by a museum for the occasion.

Before the royal procession Tuesday, scores of casualties among the crowd along the route were taken to first aid stations, most of them suffering from cold and exposure as the result of long waiting.

At one point 64 persons were treated up at 8 a.m.; at another 87.

One man caught in the surging crowd suffered a broken leg.

Brilliantly costumed rulers of British protectorates added Oriental splendor to Tuesday's coronation procession.

They rode in four carriages. In the first carriage was the Sultan of Kelantan, wearing green robes embroidered with gold threads. He carried a kris, or curved dagger, made from an elephant tusk. The Sultan was accompanied by Queen Salote Tupou of the Tonga Islands in the Pacific, an immense and handsome brown woman, six feet three inches tall. Her Tongan ceremonial dress included a loose blouse, ankle-length skirt and an apron of brown pandanus leaves.

Then came the Sultan of Perak, in brilliant robes of blue and wearing a diamond-studded headdress. He also carried a kris. With him was the Sultan of Sabah.

The Sultans of Brunei and Johore rode in the third coach and the Sultana of Labu and Selangor in the fourth. The latter's garb, worth a king's ransom, included a gold belt studded with diamonds, a sari and loose trousers of gold brocade, a gold neck chain set with diamonds and a kris encrusted with rubies and sapphires.

Barbara Bond, 23, brought a bottle of champagne 3,000 miles from her Baltimore home to toast the coronation. She waved it proudly

Duke Of Windsor Sees Rites By Television In Paris Home

PARIS (AP)—For the second time in his life, the Duke of Windsor was on the sidelines Tuesday at the coronation of a sovereign of the British realm, a crown he gave up for the woman he loves.

The duke and his wife, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson of Baltimore, watched the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II on television in the home of a close American friend, Mrs. Margaret Thompson Biddle of Paris and New York.

About 100 guests were at the Biddle home, in the center of Paris, to watch.

The duke and duchess had front row seats before the screen. They talked animatedly until the ceremony in London began to reach its climax, then fell silent.

"It was a very impressive ceremony," the duke said.

He had not been invited because protocol bars former heads of state from attending the coronation.

Queen Elizabeth was nine when the duke gave up his throne to George VI Dec. 11, 1936. He had been king of England about 11 months from Jan. 20, 1936. George VI was crowned king in 1937.

"Moving Ceremony"

The duke, who is converting an old mill outside Paris into a country home, wore a dark suit to Mrs. Biddle's party, and the duchess a dark, short dress, with a tiny white hat on the back of her head.

At a break in the television showing, while the queen was being anointed, the duchess said, "It's a very moving ceremony, and perhaps more moving because she is a woman."

The duke was asked if he had gone through the anointing part of a ceremony when his father was crowned. He replied "only the part of rendering homage."

Various guests sat beside them from time to time, including former French Premier and Mrs. Rene Pleven; Gen. and Mrs. Alfred Grenadier; Mrs. Harrison Williams of New York; and U. S. Ambassador and Mrs. Douglas Dillon.

WEST HAMLIN, W. VA. (AP)—The scheduled biennial election won't be held Tuesday.

There weren't any candidates. Same thing two years ago. The administration of Dr. G. O. McClellan, mayor, will stay in another two years.

Tea, Prayer, Visit To Tots Begins Day For Young Queen

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II began her Coronation Day with a cup of tea and a prayer.

The young monarch awoke early, about 7:30 a.m. Her maid delivered the usual tray of tea and placed it on the bedside table.

There was something different this morning, however, for on the tray was a posy of fresh flowers with a little note reading:

"With every possible good wish today and always. From Mac and Smith."

The signers were her personal maid, Mary MacDonald, and her undermaid, Helen Smith.

On arising, the Queen knelt alone in her bedroom and prayed. She breakfasted in her private apartments overlooking Buckingham Palace gardens.

The Duke of Edinburgh was up early too. He and the Queen, proud parents, visited the nursery. Nurses Helen Lightbody and Mabel Anderson were trying frantically to quiet their two excited royal charges—Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

The four-year-old prince sensed it was a big day ahead for him. He was to see part of the coronation ceremony in Westminster Abbey.

The Queen's guests breakfasted in their suites. They included the Duke of Edinburgh's mother, Princess Andrew of Greece, the crown prince and princess of Norway, and Prince and Princess Axel of Denmark.

The whole palace scene in the early part of the morning was one of quiet activity—except in the nursery.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

What appeared to be a good joke came in here this week from Seattle, Wash., via post card: "I nominate for Longhorn League 'Rookie of the Year' Gene Grant, shortstop with Carlsbad."

Now how could anyone in the Pacific Northwest be a Longhorn expert, know the circuit's goings on? Yet Rowan Howard of that town, when saying "1953 is Grant's first year in pro ball, 'apparently' is keeping up close. Bet you, the same as I, didn't know Grant is something so spectacular? But look at his figures according to the most recent release: 34 hits for 12 rbi's and a .333 average.

Grant, for sure, looks good although someone should send the Seattle fan a clipping or two of Grant's own teammate, Ike Jackson.

Webb's Formula Improved Upon

The big negro also is a rookie, right off the Kansas City Monarchs roster. Howard's choice, I'm afraid, would run a not-so-strong second if sports writers and the loop managers were to be balloted at present, Jackson, you see, hovers close to 500 in hitting (.441 through early last week), with 27 hits and nine rbi's.

Jackson at the time had played in nine fewer games.

Manager Pat McLaughlin of the Potashers deserves credit aplenty for his landing those currently leading first-year players. And while gaining that applause, he can bow for following Harold Webb's formula that a team is only as strong as its veterans.

Potashers Pat, though, goes Webb one better with a second axiom, a team is only as good as its weakest link. With more than four spots (since the league allows five veterans) he's done an excellent job of team building. Consider his youngsters, Grant and Jackson, and his limited service players, Elias and Pedro Osorio, Carroll Olson, Woody Pennington and Clint Rogas. His vets, Merv Connors, John Wulf, Marshall Epperson and Audie Malone, speak for themselves.

Pat is first to boast, "We have the best balanced team in the league." The standings second the motion.

Incidentally, it might not be safe to mention rookie of the year balloting to the Odessa bosses. A. D. Ensey, business manager, has suggested the league drop such a selection in the future. "Makes it awful hard to sign the player the next year," he contended.

He makes a good point, for you can't find the 1950 Oiler nomination, Pitcher Al Sokolowski, in league figures these days. It takes a win to earn a mark.

B-W Could Inherit Had-Rags

Not that Odessa is being picked on, but here's another story overheard—it was told with crossed fingers. They say Odessa saved the franchise when the second largest crowd of the season, more than 900, appeared Saturday.

That said that as soon as Webb cleared out for Ballinger-Winters, the Oiler would go to Lamesa.

MISCELLANEOUS: Wonder whether Harold Webb figured to gain a smile from Dallas owner Dick Burnett, whom his club is ted to, when he nicknamed the new Ballinger-Winters team the Eagles or intended to get year-old uniforms next season?

Few will doubt that Doyle Traynor, the Temple great, won't come through as a Baylor star, which will give the Baptists probably the greatest parade of passers in all-time SWC estimation. Going down the line the Bears had Jake Wilson, Lloyd Russell, Billy Patterson, Jack Wilson, Adrian Burk and Larry Isbell.

Cleveland Pitchers Want More Work

CLEVELAND —P— Mike Garcia was peeved. The St. Louis Browns had just knocked him out of the box and in the second inning.

"I need more pitching," moaned the Cleveland pitcher, winner of 22 games last season. "All that rain and this blasted schedule have been murder."

That was a little over a week ago.

Mike and his two pals on Cleveland's terrific Big Three pitching staff—Bob Lemon and Early Wynn—have been complaining like that all season.

Quite logically, Manager Al Lopez pointed out Tuesday that they'll get enough work from now on. The blanks on the schedule are just about gone.

"Morever, Lopez added confidently: "I think all three of them will win 20 again this season."

Actually, the figures show that these three still have an excellent chance of approaching the almost incredible total they set last year of 67 victories.

As of Tuesday, they have won 14 and lost 10. Last year at this time they had won 15 and lost 11.

"They're all three slow starters," said one member of the Indians' front office. "You watch. Around July 1, they'll be hot as a pistol."

"We were a little worried about Wynn at first. He's been arguing salary and reported two weeks late, and we didn't think he'd be ready in time. But he's won five and lost two so far, whereas he had a 5-4 record a year ago."

"What they want is to work every fourth day, especially Garcia and Wynn."

Garcia is a little behind. He had a 6-3 tally last year, 4-3 this year. Lemon looks about the same: 4-4 last year, 5-5 this year.

HURTH CLAIMS GAME TO BE DESPITE TV

NASHVILLE, TENN.—(NEA)—President Charlie Hurth of the Southern Association is not one of the present-day baseball alarmists.

"Since I have been in the game—and I started in 1926—there was always something which was going to kill baseball," Hurth said. "Today it is television. I have no fear of television."

San Angelo Sends Midland On Road With 12-6 Reverse

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor The Midland Indians, two defeats the worse for a shabby home stand, journey to Big Spring Tuesday night treading dangerous waters at the outset of a six-day road trip. Don Dalley is next Midland moundman on duty.

Jay Haney's Tribe fell a second straight time Monday to San Angelo, 12-6, but not that defeat nor the fact that Roswell is grasping for the fourth place position is the Braves' big concern.

They're pressing; it's evident.

It shows big since there's less noise, more quiet on the field and in the dugout—why? Evidently because the Indians are a big hit, big run club that's lost six of the last 10 outings to fall into a shabby fourth place position.

It's a hard-to-cope-with problem, attempting to break a slump by concentrating on it—perhaps too much so. Tensing, consequently.

That seemed the situation this weekend, and Monday mainly.

For, in the first place, a walk and two singles shook up rookie Pitcher Dick Young in the first inning and he let up on his steam to grove a gopher pitch to the Colts' power-batter Glenn Burns. And the result was a grand slam homer.

Mad, then, Young set down the next 10 batters and waited until he was ahead in the ball game at 5-4 in the fifth before Burns came up to unnerve him again.

The mighty Colt cleanup man found Andy Morales and John Margarin aboard and you could have guessed the wound up Indians down a BB gun. Burns, relaxed, tried to hit a worried pitch, a mifle and mislead by only about 4,800 feet. His

Indians Obtain Mickey Diaz In Exchange For Bill Brown

In a move designed primarily to strengthen the defensive outfield, the Midland Indians announced Tuesday that they had traded outfielder Bill Brown to Big Spring in exchange for Mickey Diaz. No money was involved.

The trade will enable the Indians to shift Tex Stephenson to left field—a position more familiar to him than center field which he is now playing.

Diaz, a left-hander, will take over the center field spot and is expected to lend the support there that the Indians have been sorely lacking.

Especially helpful should be the limiting of runners to singles by alert fielding, setting up possible double play situations at which the Midland infield excels.

In making the trade, the Indian management also considered this factor: Diaz is a limited service player and will be a limited service player next year, too. Brown with a veteran next year. With Diaz, the Indians will have an all-limited service outfield in 1954, permitting Haney to concentrate on infielders and pitchers for his limit of five veterans.

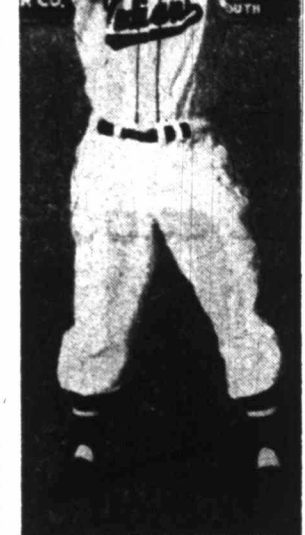

Big Spring has been dickered for a right-handed hitting outfielder and tried to obtain Midland's Hayden White. However, the Indians turned thumbs down on that offer.

The Indians also announced the outright release of Pitcher Bill Winn, who indicated he would try to land with San Angelo or would return to Austin and retire from baseball for the current campaign.

In announcing the trade, Manager Jay Haney said that he "was sorry to see Brown go," but the ball club came first. There was no doubt that Brown was a popular player with the Midland club and with his fellow teammates.

In 30 games for the Indians this season, Brown has handled 54 chances and fumbled eight of them. His fielding average is a meek .852.

Diaz is described by Sports Editor Tommy Hart of the Big Spring Herald as "the best hustler the Braves have. There's no question of his fielding ability."

BILL BROWN ... Goes to Big Spring.

The latest figures released by the Longhorn League showed Diaz and Brown with identical .291 batting averages. Brown currently is batting .319 while Diaz, Hart says, is hitting "around .320 at the present. Thus, there is no loss in hitting, except that Brown hits the longer ball. He has seven home runs; Diaz has two. Diaz holds a slight edge in doubles, however, with eight to Brown's five.

Haney, while lamenting that Brown had to be traded, is enthusiastic with Diaz.

"He can really go get that ball," he beamed.

This move alone could hold the Indians into first place. Many hits that have been dropping in safely in center and left should turn into pious, and the help to the pitchers in this respect will be tremendous. Many times this season a timely catch would have ended an inning which the opposition has turned into a rally, which in turn has cost the Indians several ball games. The new setup should alleviate this problem immensely.

Tigers Could Lose Most Tilts In History Of American Loop

DETROIT —(AP)— Detroit could lose more games this season than any other team in American League history. So far you can blame the pitchers for the sad situation.

The record for most losses in one season is 117, set by Philadelphia in 1916.

The Detroiters are a sorry last. 18 1/2 games out of first place. They have dropped 31 of their 41 games.

Fred Hutchinson, the skipper, has had to use 114 pitchers, an average of 2.72 a game.

Ousted TCU Stars Claim 'Horse Play'

DICK YOUNG ... Loses first start.

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Two of three freshman football players expelled from Texas Christian University say another student's broken nose was an accident and just innocent "horse play."

The boys expelled were Luther Borgeson, Odessa, guard; Julio Laguarda, Houston, quarterback, and Don Caylor, Plainview fullback.

They were involved in a dormitory disturbance in which a flying fire extinguisher struck Aubrey Owen, another student, and broke his nose.

Borgeson, who played football at Forest High School in Dallas, now lives in Odessa. He said the dormitory incident was just "horse play" on the part of the boys and "nobody had any intention of hurting anybody."

Laguarda said the whole business was an accident.

Borgeson was running down the hall with the fire extinguisher, he said. "Suddenly he flipped the thing over his head. He didn't see Aubrey who was coming out of a door at the time."

Both Laguarda and Borgeson said they considered enrolling in the University of Mexico or Mexico City College.

Borgeson admitted he threw a bottle.

Caylor was not available for comment.

Borgeson said the three were on probation in connection with "party raids" several months ago but that "none of us had anything to do with that. When the dormitory disturbance occurred we were made examples of."

In Abilene, Rainey Owen, father of the student injured, said Laguarda and Caylor were expelled for a different disturbance. A university official said the boys had been on "probation" for a previous incident.

Ben Hogan Will Play In Britain

NEW YORK —(AP)— Ben Hogan is going to play in his first British Open Golf Tournament next month if he can get a hotel reservation.

"I've had my entry cable in and I'd like to play," the 40-year-old Texan said Monday night before leaving for Pittsburgh to shoot for his fourth U. S. Open title. "But there are some commitments I must get out of and I have to get a hotel reservation."

"The hotel problem has me worried. There is one hotel in the vicinity of the course and I understand it is filled up. If I can't get in, I can't play."

The British tournament will be held at Carnoustie, Scotland, just across the bay from St. Andrews, July 6-10.

Although he has won three U. S. Opens, two PGA crowns and two Masters championships and is generally rated the greatest golfer of the era, Ben never has played in a British event. His only trip to England was as nonplaying captain of the U. S. Ryder Cup team in 1949, right after his near-fatal auto accident.

"I decided I'd play in the British Open because so many people have been urging me to do so," Hogan said. "Also, I've always wanted to try out their different playing conditions over there."

"I'd like to see how I can do with the smaller ball and on those greens. You know, when playing over there, you don't pitch to the greens as we do here. You have to pitch and run."

The greens of English and Scottish championship courses are baked to concrete hardness by constant winds whipping in off the sea. Variable winds, sand dunes and gorse (a type of prickly evergreen shrub which lines most fairways) offer other hazards.

"Another reason I decided to play is that the July dates may promise warm weather," Hogan added. "I can't play in the cold. I lose all my coordination."

Murry Dickson established a major league record for home runs allowed by a pitcher in a season (39) in 1948. He was with the Cardinals then.

Braves Get Real Test On 10-Day Road Trip

By JOE REICHEL, Associated Press Writer

Just how good are Milwaukee's amazing Braves? The next 10 days may supply a definite answer. Charlie Grimm's second-place team at Ebbets Field Tuesday night starting a three-game series with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Then comes a four-game series in Philadelphia followed by another four-game set in New York.

By that time, the rest of the league should know whether the Braves are to be taken seriously.

Despite their lofty perch, there are still some rival managers who insist the Braves are playing over their heads and will drop back among the second-divisioners when the weather gets hot and the going gets tougher.

Grimm, the jovial skipper of the Braves, dissents, naturally. "We're up there to stay," he says. "Our pitching has been great, our infield has been tight and our hitters have begun to find the range. From what I've seen thus far, we are as good as any team in the league."

Certainly the Braves have been the surprise of the league. With six weeks of the season gone they are only a half game behind the league-leading Dodgers. All teams enjoyed an off day Monday. A victory Tuesday night would put the Braves on top.

This is the same club experts picked to finish sixth and seventh. A good part of the explanation lies in the shuffling of sophomores. Third baseman Eddie Mathews, who boasts a .321 batting average, 14 homers and 37 runs batted in; the resurgence of shortstop Johnny Logan, the fine showing of rookie pitchers Don Liddie and Bob Ruhl and outfielder Bill Bruton, and the return from service of batsmen Johnny Antonelli and Del Grandall.

Not to be overlooked is the tremendous reception the transplanted Braves are getting in their new home.

Just how important is encouragement and fan enthusiasm to a professional athlete? "It gives you a lift," says Sid Gordon, the socking outfielder of the Braves. "It makes you want to play that much harder, run that much faster and hit and field that much better."

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who, like all baseball people is delighted with the Braves' showing, thinks the Milwaukee fans deserve a big assist for their team's fine play.

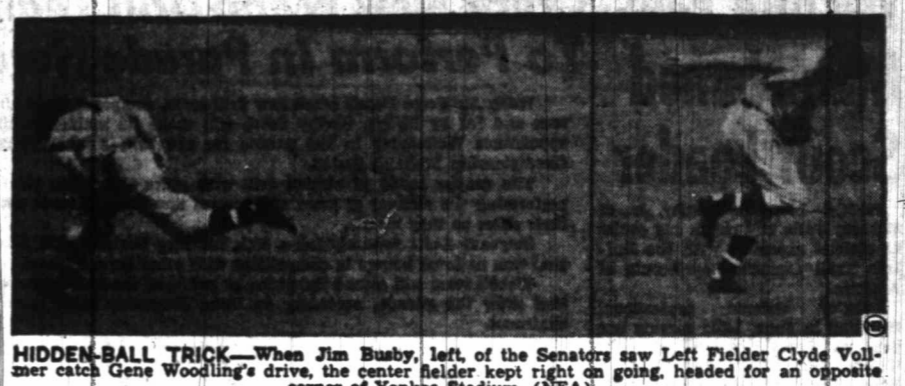

"Maybe it sounds like hokey," he says, "but I'm convinced that a team reacts to that kind of support. It puts out a little extra."

With the exception of the Braves, the National League races are running normally. Brooklyn, Philadelphia and St. Louis are up there with the slow-starting Giants right behind them. The New York Yankees, as expected, are setting the pace in the American with Cleveland and Chicago striving mightily to overtake them.

The Boston Red Sox, surprise of the American League, face their annual test. Can they prove successful on the road? They open a 14-game Western tour in Cleveland Tuesday night. A double loss in Washington Sunday dropped them out of the first division.

If the Yankees are going to be overhauled, it will have to be on the road. The world champions have won 17 of their 21 home engagements. They open a 14-game tour of the West with a game in Chicago Tuesday night. The White Sox and Indians, who will be at home during the next two weeks, have a four and one-half game deficit to make up.

In the National, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and New York, among the contenders, will be at home during the next fortnight. The St. Louis Cardinals and Braves will be on the road, not to return home until June 16. It should be an interesting two weeks all around.

Huff Paces Open Trial At Lubbock

Boyd Huff, Midland Country Club golf professional, fulfilled a contention that "I really know that course" and proved his knowledge Monday with a 142 to lead Lubbock sectional qualifiers for the National Open.

Huff, a bananamae better, thus joins the runner-up here, Jack Harden of El Paso, as winners of the two West Texas positions in the National Open. That meet starts June 9 with 36 holes of further qualifying in store for Huff, Harden, 11 other Texans and a nation-wide field of competitors. The Open proper, with defending Champion Julius Boros the only exempt player, gets underway June 11 for three days.

The Midland pro at Lubbock fought back from a four-stroke deficit after the 18-hole morning round. He had carded a two-over 73 to lag behind front-running Gene Mitchell, the host pro on the Lubbock Country Club course, and five others.

Mitchell played the outgoing 18 in 69 strokes.

Huff's complete card was 73-69-142, even par. Hardin followed with 71-72-143. Mitchell ended with a 69-75-144 and Lafayette Franks of Dumas 71-73-144 as the first two alternates.

The rest of the cards, with amateurs designated: Glen F. Welsh, San Angelo, 73-74-146; Raymond R. Marshall (a), Lubbock, 73-74-146; J. K. Bradshaw (a), Lubbock, 74-79-153; Murray N. Tripp (a), Lubbock, 79-75-154; Paul P. Jones, Lubbock, 81-75-756; and Bill Keith, Carlsbad, withdrew after 27 holes.

Bill Roden and Bobby French of Odessa, amateurs, were two of four entries who did not compete.

Fred Hogan of Midland, a U. S. Golf Association official, directed the play.

Fisher Hurls Cards Into League Lead

Bobby Fisher pitched the Cards into first place in the South Little League standings Monday as he blanked the Eagle on six hits while his teammates provided him with a bevy of runs for a 10-0 triumph.

While the Eagles were being shut out, Dickie Box clouted a bases-loaded triple to give Fisher a working margin. He also had a single, hitting honors for the day, however, belonged to Jimmy Murphy of the victors, who garnered three hits in four trips.

The victory was the Cards' sixth against two defeats, while the loss was the Eagles' third in nine starts.

Tuesday, the Yankees tackle the Cards.

Travelers Stave Off Traders, 17-13

The Travelers protected their Pony League lead Monday but had to fight off a spirited American Traders' bid to win a wild 17-13 victory at Permian Field.

At Pony League field, the second-place JayCees kept pace with a decisive 10-5 triumph over the Optimists. Lupe Hernandez, three-run homer was the big blow. Red Hedges, winning pitcher, and the Optimists' Joe Clemens shared hitting honors with two-for-four plays.

Dennis Patton and Larry Cooper hit home runs and shared the pitching duties in the Travelers' triumph. Cooper was the winner.

Hudson Paces Civitans' Win

The Pirates sparked afield with two double plays and outthrew the Civitans, bowing nevertheless, 5-6, in their Northeast Little League game Monday.

Bill Hudson proved the big difference, clouting two home runs in four trips for the victors. The Civitans collected seven hits to eight for the losers.

On defense, the Pirates completed one double play on the catcher—the ball got away from the catcher—he retrieved it in time to stop a runner racing home. The backstop, Teddy Tedford took a play from Pitcher Don Wallace and fired to third baseman Leonardo Hernandez to produce a second twin-killing.

The victory put the Civitans in second place with a 5-4 mark. The others are Red Sox 5-2, Cats 4-4 and Pirates 3-7. The Cats and Red Sox meet at Crockett at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Craig Spins No-Hit Game For Odessa

ODESSA—Charles Craig, 19-year-old rookie left-hander, became the third pitcher in Longhorn League history to pitch a nine-inning no-hitter Monday night.

Craig hurled his masterpiece, an 11-0 victory, against Big Spring, walking seven batters and striking out four.

Odessa had 13 hits with Roberto Fabian getting three for four including a first-inning homer with none on. Leo Eastham had a homer for Odessa in the third with one on.

The only other no-hitter over the nine-inning route was hurled by Derwood Cox of San Angelo against Sweetwater in 1948. Rudy Larona of Artesia hurled a seven-inning no-hitter against San Angelo in 1951. Ernie Nelson of Midland twirled a no-hitter against Vernon in 1950.

Cox's game later was removed from the record books.

Craig was in trouble in only the ninth inning. He walked the first man to face him in this frame and struck out the second, Wally Hanna, Big Spring third baseman, then hit a slow roller down the third base line and Craig moved over, fielded the ball and fired a rifle shot to first to get Hanna by inches. Mickey Dias hit a hard grounder to Barney Batson. Odessa first sacker. The ball bounced out of his glove and the runner advanced to third. Curtis Barrett then grounded out. Batson to Craig, for the final out. The play was close.

Longhorn Loop Boasts Umpire Who's A Scholar

ABILENE—The Longhorn League can lay claim to the best educated umpire in organized baseball.

He's Gerald Pooler, a veteran of five years professional umpiring and a scholar who is completing work in a few months on a doctor of education degree from North Texas State College.

Pooler already has a bachelor of physical education and master of science degrees from the same college. He is an instructor at the Denton College and keeps in physical trim by umpiring in the Summer and officiating football and basketball in the Fall and Winter.

League President Hal Sayles signed Pooler Monday, but he is no newcomer to the circuit. He worked in the Longhorn League two years ago.

Pooler started his professional umpiring career with the Sooner State League in 1948. He was in the Western Association one season and the Big State League two seasons.

Epperson Loses First Game As Carlsbad Loses Twin-Bill

CARLSBAD—(P)—Roswell, the only team with an all-season victory margin over Carlsbad, turned the tables on the Potashers twice Monday night 6-4 and 6-0, knocking them out of first place in the first game and whipping Marshall Epperson a first time in the second game.

Rookie Joe Barcardi spun five-hit ball to shutout the Carlsbad club in the second game. It took only six Rocket hits to end Epperson's string of victories after eight straight.

Roswell jumped on Audie Malone for three runs in the third inning and added two more off reliefer

Hank Williams in the fourth to prevail in the first game. Two walks, a fielder's choice, Bob Murphy's single and a double by Modesto Perez brought in the runs in the big frame.

Carlsbad pushed over four runs in a belated rally in the last of the seventh on three consecutive singles by Woody Pennington, Gene Wolf and Gene Grant, and then a two-run homer by Merv Connors.

Southpaw Zoldak Hurls For Rainiers

SEATTLE—(P)—Sam Zoldak, who has hurled for Cleveland, St. Louis and Philadelphia in the American League, is now doing his mound chores for the Seattle Rainiers in the Pacific Coast League.

The 31-year-old southpaw from New Hyde Park, N. Y., was declared a free agent by the Athletics last February and spent the Spring training season with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League. He was unable to reach a salary agreement with the Leafs and recently made a deal for himself with the Rainiers.

Zoldak has been in professional baseball since 1928 when he pitched for Palatka of the Florida State League. He made his American League debut with the St. Louis Browns in 1944.

Martin Stays To Win Twice Over Eagles

ARTESIA—(P)—Artesia's "round man," 270-pound Frank Martin, pulled the iron man stunt Monday night as he went the distance in both ends of a doubleheader to pitch the Drillers to 8-3 and 5-1 wins over the Winters-Ballinger Eagles.

The six-foot-one performer allowed the Eagles only five hits in the first game and halted them with four in the second. The only trouble he experienced in the second game was Larry White's homer in the fourth inning.

The wins were his third and fourth without a defeat since joining the Drillers some 10 days ago.

While Martin was holding the Eagles in check in the nightcap, his mates sounded off for 10 hits off Howard Morgansfern. They bunched four of these, by Jackie Wilcox, Joe Bauman, Bill Haley and Bob Prsley, with a base on balls and an error for three runs in the third inning, all they needed to win.

A pair of home runs featured a five-run outburst that snapped a 3-3 tie for the Drillers in the sixth inning and gave them a win in the first of the two seven-inning contests.

Art Neal, on option from Carlsbad, poled his second round-tripper of the night for two runs and Joe Bauman had a solo homer in the upturning that sealed the game.

Neal's first homer, also with one on, was in the third inning, and Joe Calderin also had a one-run homer, in the second, for the winners.

F. Addington Man To Beat In Southern

DALLAS—(P)—The star-spangled field of 129 that has been taking the par 71, 6,499-yard Lakewood Country Club course, apart in practice rounds started playing for keeps Tuesday in the Southern Amateur Golf Tournament.

Slender Floyd Addington, Southern Methodist University sophomore, who trimmed par with 69's two days then tied the course record with a blazing 65 Monday, was the man they watched as the bulky field went through the first 18-hole qualifying round.

The second is scheduled Wednesday and match play for the 63 low shooters plus defending champion Gay Brewer of Lexington, Ky., who does not have to qualify, will start Thursday.

There were plenty of sub-par rounds in the final tune-ups, with L. M. Crannell, Jr., of Dallas, former Trans-Mississippi Champion, doing a 67. Brewer played the course for the second time but complained he was not stroking the ball sharply. He did not reveal his score.

But another former champion, Arnold Blum of Macon, Ga., made it in 69.

Blum, Dick Collard of New Orleans, Eddie Merrins of Meridian, Miss., and Don Cherry of Wichita Falls and New York, were rated leading contenders for Brewer's title. Dallas, which has 65 players in the field, looks to its David Spec Goldman; Floyd Addington and his brother, Don, a teammate on the Southern Methodist golf team, and Leroy McMullen to take home the bacon.

Other sharpshooters given high ratings include Joe Conrad and Stan Mosef of the North Texas State College Golf team, and Ernie Voster of Fort Worth, winner of five tournaments this year.

Crack New Webb Drill Team To Perform In Parade Here

Webb Air Force Base's crack new drill team, composed of 46 airmen and led by M/Sgt. Shelby Scott, will make its maiden public appearance Wednesday in the parade for the 19th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo.

The snappy squad of airmen drill with rifles and white gloves, performing the manual of arms and several unorthodox stunts with their rifles as they march.

Sergeant Scott formerly led a 50th Infantry Division drill team that won national honors in competition with other service teams. Webb's team will attend the rodeo as guests of the rodeo association after the parade, according to Duke Jenson, rodeo parade chairman.

Lane-Clardy Firm Offers Bonus For All State Oil

AUSTIN—(AP)—An offer to purchase all state-owned oil production at the prevailing market price plus a two per cent bonus was made by the State School Land Board Tuesday.

The offer came from the Exchange Oil Purchasing Corporation, a subsidiary of the West Coast Petroleum Company, which is planning a pipe line from Midland to near Los Angeles.

Alvin Lane and Bert Clardy, both of Dallas, spoke for the corporation. Production belonging to the state through royalties is estimated at about 15,000 barrels a day. That includes about 4,000 barrels belonging to the permanent university fund.

Lane and Clardy told the commission the corporation will pay $2,500 for a two-year option on the purchase under terms of a five-year contract. A similar contract has been executed with New Mexico for 17,500 barrels a day.

Lane said the pipe line will be started as soon as $0,000 barrels of oil a day are contracted for. He estimated it would take a year to build the line. It would have a top capacity of 300,000 barrels a day.

Russia was represented by Ambassador Jacob Malik. The actual act of crowning, presided over by the archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, came at the end of an hour-long ceremony in the abbey. First Elizabeth was recognized as the "undoubted queen" and took her oath on the Bible.

She was anointed in the ceremony which dedicates a ruler to the church. Her official title is, "Elizabeth the Second, by the grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and of her other realms and territories queen, head of the Commonwealth, defender of the faith."

The route from Buckingham to the abbey was about six miles. The smiling sovereign, lovely in the crimson velvet robe of state that covered her elaborately embroidered gown, nodded and raised her hand continually to the wildly enthusiastic

State Tidelands Leasing To Resume In December

AUSTIN—(AP)—The state made plans Tuesday to resume leasing its tidelands in December. In a statement released by the Tideland Commissioner Bascom Giles told the State School Land Board of which he is chairman he is now studying submerged land tracts that might be offered for lease sale.

There has been tremendous interest, he said, in Gulf exploration. Thirty-two permits are now in effect for geophysical explorations there.

Enforcement of permit regulations in the Gulf will be surrendered back to the state July 1 by the Army Engineers, Giles said. The Engineers have controlled enforcement during the federal dispute over title to the Tidelands.

Enforcement of permit regulations in the Gulf will be surrendered back to the state July 1 by the Army Engineers, Giles said. The Engineers have controlled enforcement during the federal dispute over title to the Tidelands.

Gafford Tops Texas 'Open' Qualifiers

Twelve Texans and one Louisiana qualified for the National Open Golf Tournament in sectional trials held in Texas Monday with Raymond Gafford, Dallas professional, shooting 136 to tie for second in the nation.

Gafford shot his four-under-par 136 over Colonial Country Club course at Port Worth. Others qualifying there were Doug Higgins, Fort Worth, 149; Ray Hill, Dallas, 150; Amateurs Leroy McMullen, Dallas, and Joe Conrad, Denton, 150; Amateur Don Cherry, Garden City, N. Y., and Wichita Falls, 152, and J. T. Hammett, Snyder, 153.

At Houston John Garrison of Alice led the way with four-under-par 140. Gray Little of Lake Charles, La., with 143; Chuck Klein, San Antonio, with 145, and Amateur John Garrett, Houston, with 150, were the other qualifiers.

Boyd Huff of Midland and Jack Harden of El Paso got the qualifying spots in Lubbock. Huff with par 142 and Harden with 143.

Fred Hawkins of El Paso qualified at St. Louis with 146. Texans qualifying through their finish in last year's National Open were Ben Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum, Byron Nelson, Harry Todd, Earl Stewart and Bill Trabandt, Dallas.

Pat Abbott of Memphis led the nation's qualifiers with 135. Gafford and Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., tied for second.

150 Men Report For Jury Service At Sundown Trial

LEVELLAND—(AP)—A venire of 150 men reported at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday for the murder trial of Jack Killingsworth, 29, charged with shooting a friend he accused of forcing his wife to make love.

Attorneys indicated they thought the chance of obtaining a jury here was about 50-50, or less. The shooting occurred February 27 in Sundown, 10 miles to the south. The victim was Richard McChristal, 37, a teacher.

Killingsworth, Sundown High School teacher, called McChristal out of rehearsal for a faculty murder party, "Meet the Body." He fired 11 rifle bullets into McChristal, told other members of the cast what he had done and went home.

The next day Killingsworth said he shot his friend because "I just went crazy" when Mrs. Killingsworth told him McChristal had forced her to make love.

Parade

Members of Midland Fair's parade committee are Frank Cowden, Jr., John Nobles, Jr., Courtney Cowden and Jimereson.

Big Show Wednesday And that's about it. The big show is Wednesday at 4 p.m. "We think it'll be three times as long and twice as good as last year's march," Jimereson said.

"These people have put in a lot of good work on the floats and the riders still are pouring in. Those who attend the first night's performance at 8 p.m. Wednesday will have seen the best parade Midland's ever held that afternoon."

And here are more prizes and the rodeo fans who'll give them away.

Best Clown—$20 hat, Model Shop, Scharbauer, Hotel Building.

Most Typical "Old Timer" Cowboy—Western hat, Wilson Dry Goods.

Most Attractive Cowgirl (15 years of age or over)—Choker, Vosatko's Jewelry.

Postal Receipts Show Decrease

Midland postal receipts decreased 1.58 per cent in May compared to May of 1952. Postmaster N. O. Oates said Tuesday, marking the first time a decrease has been noted for a single month compared with the same month of a previous year in more than 19 years.

Total receipts for 1954 were $29,015, Oates said but added the Midland Post Office did not become a first class office until 1936.

May receipts totaled $38,330,665 compared to $39,066,13 for May, 1952. There also was noted a drop of approximately $4,100 for the April receipts for this year, which were $42,424.34.

Oates attributed the drop to the slackening in the oil business in the area, which supplies the bulk of receipts.

Most GOP Solons To Back Air Cuts

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Young (R-ND) said Tuesday after a conference of all Republican senators that he thought most of them would go along with the Air Force cuts proposed by the Administration.

Young, secretary of the conference, reported on the closed-door session.

He said Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass), Armed Services Committee chairman, reported on the proposed five billion cuts in Air Force appropriations and gave "some very interesting figures."

Saltonstall's report was a defense of the revised military budget and an effort to show it will not harm the nation's preparedness buildup, Young said.

End Of Profits Tax Termed Insurance Against Recession

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Elisha Gray testified Tuesday that the best insurance against a recession and unemployment would be to let the excess profits tax die June 30 as scheduled.

Gray, president of the Whipool Corporation of St. Joseph, Mich., was the leadoff business witness before the House Ways and Means Committee against President Eisenhower's request to extend the levy six months.

Gray said the tax would expand to prevent business from expanding to pick up a slack in unemployment caused by cutbacks in defense spending and in government jobs.

Gray agreed with Representative Mills (D-Ark) that the tax would expand to prevent business from expanding to pick up a slack in unemployment caused by cutbacks in defense spending and in government jobs.

Cy Young Declines White House Visit

DOVER, OHIO—(AP)—An invitation to dine with President Eisenhower last Monday night to 86 years of full living.

Cy Young, 86, the baseball immortal, decided he couldn't make the trip to Washington Friday, even to dine with the President.

"I don't feel quite up to it," said Young at a banquet marking the opening of the first Little League in Dover.

Young, who set all manner of pitching records during his days with Cleveland and Boston around 1900, had been invited also to attend a Democratic-Republican congressional baseball game Friday night.

Wrong Bank, Say Suspects

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Two Fort Worth men pleaded guilty Monday to charges of conspiracy to rob a bank, but denied any connection with the Maypearl bank that actually was robbed.

Guy Herring, 53, an aircraft worker, and Joe Burris, 35, unemployed, were in jail in lieu of $10,000 federal bonds.

Herring and Burris signed statements for the FBI in which they admitted meeting two negroes near Grandview and planning the robbery of a Grandview bank. They said they lost their nerve and abandoned the plan.

One of the negroes was identified in the statements as Harvey Tutt, 26, escapee from a mental institution, who is in jail under $25,000 bond. He is charged with robbing the Maypearl bank of $2,995 Wednesday.

Location is 330 feet from north and west lines of the south half of section 114, block 1, H&TO survey. It is nine miles northwest of Hamlin and 14 miles east and a little north of Rotan.

Phillips Completes New Pay Opener In SW Ector Area Pool

Phillips Petroleum Company has completed No. 2-A Millard as a Wichita-Albany discovery in the Fenwell (Mullipsy) field of Southwest Ector County.

The new pay opener was completed for a daily flowing potential of 708.16 barrels of 41.2-gravity oil through a one-half-inch choke.

Production is from perforations at 6,870-6,700 feet.

The well made 67.53 barrels of salt water in addition to the oil. Gas-oil ratio was 1,535-1 and tubing pressure 200 pounds.

The potential was based on an actual 12-hour flow.

No. 2-A Millard was drilled into the Ellenburger where it failed to develop commercial production and was plugged back to 6,745 feet for the completion in the Wichita-Albany.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 25, block B-15, pt. survey and one mile northeast of the town of Judkins.

Ellenburger Makes Good Oil Flow In S-C Crane Wildcat

Heavy oil flow from the Ellenburger has been developed at Gull Oil Corporation No. 1 P. J. Leawildcat in South-Central Crane County. 12 miles west of the town of Crane.

The flow came on a drillstem test from 8,248 to 8,286 feet. Tool was open 11 hours and 35 minutes. Gas surfaced in 15 minutes. Fluid surfaced in 18 minutes. The well was cleaned to pits 17 minutes where it flowed approximately 75 barrels of oil and mud.

Flow was then turned to tanks where it gauged 1,195.08 barrels of oil in 11 hours. Recovery was 300 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud below the sub. It was 10 per cent oil. Flowing pressure was 2,800 pounds and 15-minute shutin pressure was not reported.

Another DST Hole was deepened to 8,317 feet. Another drillstem test was taken from 8,286 to 8,317 feet. Tool was open five and one-half hours. Gas surfaced in 10 minutes and fluid in 35 minutes. It was cleaned to pits five minutes and then flowed to tanks, 425 barrels of oil in five hours. No water was made.

Operator reversed out 66.20 barrels of clean oil and 10 barrels of oil and gas-cut mud to pits.

Recovery below the sub was 367 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. It was 18 per cent oil.

Operator was drilling below 8,317 feet in dolomite.

Phillips Will Drill Ellenburger Tests In Gaines, Terry

Phillips Petroleum Company has announced plans to drill two Ellenburger wildcats in West Texas, one in Terry and the other in Gaines County.

The Gaines County project will be drilled as No. 1 Crest, 625 feet from south and east lines of section 74, block H, D&W survey.

The rank wildcat is 15 miles east of Seminole and in the central-east portion of the county.

It is scheduled for a 14,000-foot bottom. That depth will allow for tests of the Ellenburger.

Phillips will drill No. 1 McLauren as a rank wildcat in Southeast Terry County, 12 miles southeast of Brownfield.

Drillite has been staked 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 36, block 0, H&OB survey.

It is scheduled for a 12,500-foot bottom.

NE Nolan Wildcat Develops Oil In Tests Of Caddo

T. A. Kirk of Eastland has uncovered oil on three drillstem tests of the Caddo at No. 1 J. W. Lynch wildcat in Northeast Nolan County.

The Caddo was topped at 6,036 feet. No elevation has been reported.

Open 140 minutes on initial test from 6,015 to 6,046 feet, recovery was 520 feet of oil. Subsequent test from 6,036 to 6,046 feet recovered 210 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud. Flowing pressure was 225 pounds and 15-minute shutin pressure was 1,296 pounds.

Third test was run from 6,066 to 6,106 feet with tool open one hour. Gas came to the top in 28 minutes and oil in 45, with no estimate of production.

Recovery was 60 feet of water. Flowing pressure ranged from 725 to 2,040 pounds and shutin pressure after 45 minutes was 2,500 pounds.

Casing will be set on bottom for completion attempt through perforations.

Location is 660 feet from east and 1,180 feet from south lines of block 290, Daniel Magee survey and four miles east of Sweetwater. It is one and one-half miles north of the Favor field.

Schleicher Wildcat Swabbing To Test Canyon Sand Pay

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr. of Dallas No. 1 Virgil Powell wildcat in Central-East Schleicher County, was swabbing oil at the rate of five barrels hourly on last report.

Production is coming through perforations in casing opposite the Canyon sand stringer from 3,370-30 feet, 3,586-94 feet and 3,600-10 feet.

Operator has not decided whether to fracture the formation or to put the well on pump and complete natural.

No. 1 Powell is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 21, block A and 24 miles east of Eldorado.

Honolulu, Signal Final Extension To Hockley Field

Honolulu Oil Corporation and Signal Oil & Gas Company reported potential test on a stepout to production in the Ropes (Pennsylvanian) field of Southeast Hockley County and announced site for a new test in the area.

No. 1 Rosser, 288 feet from north and 525 feet from west lines of sub-division 40, league 13, Howard County School Land survey, was completed for a natural 24-hour flowing potential of 309 barrels of high-gravity oil.

Gas-oil ratio was 393-1. Choke size has not been learned.

Production is from open hole at 9,220 feet, where seven-inch casing is cemented, and total depth of 9,346 feet in the Pennsylvanian.

The new project is Honolulu Oil Corporation and Signal Oil & Gas Company No. 2 Rosser. Site is 288 feet from north and 1,575 feet from west lines of sub-division 40, league 13, Howard County School Land survey.

per cent oil, 46 per cent mud and 40 per cent salt water.

The flow was through perforations at 12,145-151 feet after formation had been washed with 900 gallons of mud acid.

Location is 660 feet from east and 4,820 feet from south lines of league 256, Briscoe County School Land survey.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 4-B Glass, project in the Glass (Pennsylvanian) area of Southwest Martin County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 11,718 feet in the Pennsylvanian.

It had some shows of oil, but not enough for commercial production.

Location was 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 20, block 28, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Brown & Wheeler Installing Pump To Final Dawson Test

Brown & Wheeler of Fort Worth is installing pump for completion attempt in the San Andres at No. 1 Fowler, wildcat in Northwest Dawson County.

The tester was acidized with 9,000 gallons above 5,019 feet, the plugged back depth. A nine-hour swabbing test recovered 27 1/2 barrels of oil, five to seven per cent emulsion and the remainder 34-gravity oil, plus five and one-half barrels of water and oil emulsion.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block M, EL&RR survey and 11 miles northwest of Lamesa. It is two and one-half miles northwest of the Mungerville (Pennsylvanian) field.

Honolulu Finishes Good Producer In SW Sterling Area

Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 7 Herbert Cope has been completed as a good oilier in the Weddell field of Southwest Sterling County.

The new well was finished for a daily flowing potential of 766 barrels of oil.

Production is from open hole section at 5,111 feet, where seven-inch casing is cemented and plugged back total depth of 5,133 feet. Total depth is 5,198 feet.

Gravity, gas-oil ratio and choke size have not been reported. Pay section had been fractured.

Location is 1,950 feet from south and 1,869 feet from west lines of section 28, block A, TC survey and 24 miles southwest of Sterling City.

Field In NE Nolan Gets New Tester

Blount Drilling Company of Midland has staked location for No. 1 Graham as a one-mile west extension to the White Flat field of Northeast Nolan County.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 35, block 20, T&P survey and five miles west of Trent.

Projected depth is 6,000 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Prattice In Yoakum Gets NW Extension

The Prattice field of Northeast Yoakum County has been extended one location north and west with the completion of Tennessee Production Company No. 1 F. A. Crutchfield.

It was finished for a daily pumping potential of 33 barrels of 30-gravity oil plus 68.5 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 253-1.

Production was from perforations between 5,970-82 feet in seven-inch casing cemented at 6,066 feet, on total depth of 6,065 feet. Plugged back total depth is 5,983 feet. Top of pay was picked at 5,968 feet, elevation unreported. Pay section was acidized with 5,250 gallons.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 14, block D, John H. Gibson survey and five miles northwest of Tokio.

Continental Blacks To Build Big Carbon Plant At Ponca City

HOUSTON—Continental Blacks, Inc., a newly formed organization will build a $2,750,000 plant at Ponca City, Okla., designed to manufacture 40,000,000 pounds annually of high abrasion black from oil.

Organization of the new company was announced Tuesday by L. F. McCollum, president of Continental Oil Company, and Robert I. Wishnick, New York City, Continental.

Mr. Wishnick, and the The Shamrock Oil Corporation, Amarillo, will be joint owners of the new enterprise.

Construction of the carbon black plant, which will receive its raw materials from Donoco's refinery at Ponca City, will start this summer. It is expected to be completed by mid-1954.

Sales of the facility's products will be handled through the Witco Chemical Company, New York City.

High abrasion carbon black is used primarily by the rubber industry in the production of rubber tires. A small percentage of the product goes into producing other industrial rubber products. It also is used as a black pigment to color inks, plastics and other products.

Continental Oil Company also is co-owner of Continental Carbon black plants at Eunice, N. M., and Sunray, Tex., and Continental Oil Black Company, operator of an oil black plant at Lake Charles, La.

Three Speakers Are Slated For Meeting Of Oilwell Drillers

Senate's Party Line Split Over UN-Red China Proposal

WASHINGTON—Party lines split in the Senate Tuesday over a proposal to shut off American contributions if the United Nations seats China's Communist government.

This proposal was the focal point in a foreign policy controversy in which Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) said that if present truce negotiations fall the U. S. should move aggressively in Korea and take the "calculated risk" of war with Russia.

Knowland, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said he believes most U. S. Allies would support such a move. He voiced uncertainty about Great Britain.

Knowland also said in an MBS radio broadcast Monday night he does not believe Allied terms would represent a "truce with honor."

He said they would leave Korea divided and invite efforts by Red China to grab a UN Security Council seat.

With Knowland in the vanguard, many Republicans lined up behind a committee-approved rider to a money bill which would bar payment of U. S. funds to the UN if it granted a Security Council seat to any nation branded an aggressor by the UN. That means Red China.

Democrats generally opposed the rider and Senator Hill (D-Ala.) said it would be discussed at a party policy committee meeting Tuesday.

The Republicans also scheduled a party caucus and a policy meeting, presumably to test out GOP sentiment.

Senator Tobey (R-NH), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he regards the rider as "an expression of no-confidence in President Eisenhower."

There were reports the President might make his position clear before the Senate votes on the issue, probably in midweek. He said previously the rider seemed to be very drastic.

Money Debate Continues Meanwhile, the Senate continued debate on money provisions of the bill, which carries $1,104,379,000 to run the State, Commerce and Justice Departments for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) denounced the measure, as it came from the Appropriations Committee, as a "phony" in which "wastefulness masquerades in the guise of economy."

He promised to offer amendments he said would save 233 million dollars.

Chairman Birdges (R-NH) of the Appropriations Committee, on the other hand, defended the bill as an economy measure which he said is almost 39 million dollars below figures already approved by the House.

Democrats succeeded Monday in knocking out of the bill a rider which would give Secretary of State Dulles blanket authority to fire anyone in his department in the next year if he thought the national interest demanded it.

"Calculated Risk" Senator Cooper (R-Ky.) called the UN rider "an improper piece of legislation" although he said he is opposed to Red China's admission to the UN. Most senators agreed on that point.

Knowland said U. S. Allies have been "encouraging communism in Asia" by coming out openly for admission of Red China to the UN.

"If they succeed in that they will give Communist China so much prestige that I think it will be very difficult to keep communism from overrunning the rest of Asia," he said.

Knowland sided with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) in declaring that if truce efforts fail this country will have to seek "other alternatives" in Korea even at the "calculated risk" that Russia might come into the war.

Legion, commanded by W. G. Abbott. The Midland High School junior will join 450 Texas youths at Lone Star Boys' State June 7-13 in Austin for the event. Only boys classed as high school juniors are eligible. Young Howard was chosen by the school for his outstanding leadership, services to his school and community and on scholarship merits.

He is president of the City Council of Youth fellowships in Midland, president of the Episcopal Youth Fellowship, and a member of the Youth Center Junior Board. At school he has been manager this past year of the football and track teams, an honor roll student, a member of the M Club, the Junior Classical League and Biology Club.

As a freshman he was a member of the school student council and a delegate to the state convention of student councils in Dallas. He will be a senior in the Fall. In Austin, the boys will conduct state affairs in the State School for the Deaf. They will visit the Legislature, elect their own officers, consider measures and elect a governor. All phases of state government will be studied.

The program will be climaxed with an "inaugural ball."

Old England Crowns Fairest Of Queens With World-Wide Hope For Better Days

By HAL BOYLE

LONDON —(AP)— Britain crowned the fairest queen in all her troubled history Tuesday and looked to her to lead one-fourth of the world to happier times.

The coronation of Elizabeth II was the mightiest pageant of our generation, and it was many other things:

It was the Middle Ages marching confidently through the 20th Century, an old way of life holding its own in a new way of life, the weaving of ancient threads into a fresh pattern.

It was a cry to God for guidance... a Cinderella tale... the moment of a lifetime for a 27-year-old mother dedicating all her years to reign but not to rule in the service of 610,000,000 people... a symbol of wealth taking the vow of obedience to the welfare of needy millions.

It was a young queen humbly accepting her duty... and most of her subjects taking the day off to celebrate proudly in a land and time where few have had much to celebrate of late.

Inventory Of Humanity

It was a fanfare of trumpets and weaving banners in the wind... a sea of flags... a crash of many martial bands... the burst of guns signaling to a doubtful world that its most far-flung empire is here to stay and intends to add more centuries to its story... the tread of troops that have fought in distant climes and sailors who have looked up at lonely stars from faroff seas and thought of home... Tommy Atkins and Jack Tar, always ready "to have another go at it."

It was an ocean of faces that were an inventory of the human race... black and white and yellow, old and young, turbaned and hatless, rich and poor, weeping and laughing and breaking their throats with cheers at a sight most—and perhaps all—might never see again... and deep pride and a yearning hope that this event might be the bright portal to peace and better days for all.

Rainbow Explodes

And over this vast turbulence of color and sound and emotion, this moving march of Britain's past into Britain's future, it was as though a rainbow had exploded, showering this heart of empire—grey London's still war-battered streets where Shakespeare dreamed—with millions upon millions of the flowers that England loves, and each child's hand in the massed throngs could pet a petal.

The coronation was all these things, and it was more:

It was probably the greatest single family party the Commonwealth and Empire has had in living memory... a tremendous revival of spirit and reunion of patriotism that gave all the same reason for dressing up—the queen, the classes, the masses.

Brewery Horses, Too

It was an hour of solidarity for all... many a peer in ermine rode

Vacation Season Begins In Earnest As Industry Booms

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK —(AP)— Vacation time starts in earnest this month. Resort owners are happily expecting their biggest year.

Incomes are higher for many people. Factories are granting longer vacations and more paid holidays. More factory workers than ever will be hitting the road.

Some factories will be closed for longer periods this year. That will affect industrial production figures, especially in July. The steel industry believes this may give it an assist in catching up on its backlog of orders.

But not all of the citizens included in this happy vacation prospect. More teachers than usual will be looking for Summer jobs.

"Industry will have an added source of manpower this Summer in the thousands of teachers harassed by inflation and low salaries," says Arthur Croft, publisher of Teacher's Letter, a Washington fortnightly. Questioning 25,000 teachers around the country, the paper reports 59 per cent said they would work this Summer. Of these 18 per cent expect to work in the field of education, others in paid community services, manufacturing, clerical work, agriculture, merchandising and selling. Summer camps and construction work.

Two Weeks With Pay

Factory workers fast are catching up this year with clerical workers in paid vacation privileges, according to the National Foremen's Institute, which keeps an eye on such developments. Collective bargaining this year is breaking through the traditional pattern of "one week after one year's service and two weeks after five," the institute says.

The institute says almost 95 per cent of the nation's corporations have some form of paid vacation.

"In general," it finds, "clerical employees get a better break on vacations than do production workers. But the differences are bound to disappear in the normal course of collective bargaining pressures."

DAIRY MERGER — O. D. Dillingham of Abilene, founder and president of Banner Dairies, is shown signing the papers that make the company he had headed for 27 years the Banner Division of Foremost Dairies, Inc. It is one of the largest dairy mergers in the nation. Seated at left is Paul E. Reinhold of Jacksonville, Fla., chairman of the board of Foremost Dairies, and standing is Lloyd B. Hughes of Dallas, Foremost vice president.

The MATURE PARENT
Let's Just Relax And Realize We Are Imperfect Humans

She was a young woman of great elegance. Her hair and her casual tweed suit were worn with such aggressive simplicity that you knew she spent time and money on supporting the simplicity. As she and her little daughter entered the crowded, rush-hour bus, her face took on a certain closed look as though she felt she had to protect herself against something hostile and dangerous in the rest of us who swayed on our straps, pressed and close together. Half-way down the narrow aisle, the little girl suddenly twisted free from the maternal hand on her shoulder. In a high, furious, piping voice, she shouted, "Stop pushing me, mother! You've hurt my arm. Leave me alone!" The closed look on her mother's face cracked in a painful flush. It exposed such humiliation that I had to avert my eyes.

So our fellow bus-riders and the waiter. We and Johnny are not always perfectly considerate and polite to each other. So why are we compelled to suggest that we are a Madonna and Child who just happen to be riding a bus or eating in a restaurant? Such a compulsion means we have been trained out of happy, relaxed acceptance of ourselves as members of the imperfect human race. It means, when we are violently repressed on buses, we won't be able to say cheerfully, "I'm sorry I pushed you. The bus is crowded. Look, there's a word in the ad you can spell. Can you discover which one it is?" (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

As I stared out my window, I thought: This is both sad and important. What is happening is agony for this elegant young woman who has been taught never to raise the human voice in public. Nothing in her overprotected, expensive existence has prepared her to cope with her child's honest anger in a crowded, rush-hour bus. Though she takes such pride in the control of her own rage at being pushed, she can't control her child's. Thus, her pride is frustrated and outraged. The question is, will she forgive this humiliation? I bet she won't. I bet there are screams tonight at bedtime.

Although there were Christian missions in Sweden in the Ninth and 10th Centuries, it was not until the end of the 11th Century that Christianity was accepted definitely and established in the country.

Like her, we can feel real hate for the small Johnny who lets the world in on the fact that he finds something imperfect and objectionable in the way we push him through a bus or order his dessert from a waiter. When we feel it, we are intelligent if we recognize our hate as the result of our need to appear superior to our fellow bus-riders and the waiter.

FEWER CHRISTINES IN FUTURE? — Research In Texas Helps Dual-Sex Diagnosis, Care

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK—(AP)—A skin test to tell true sex was reported Wednesday at the opening of the American Medical Association's annual convention.
It tells whether a baby of mixed-up sex, or hermaphrodite, is really a boy or girl. It takes a new kind of look at cells taken from the skin or bone-marrow of the infant, to see if the cells are male or female in their heredity.
The answer tells whether the child should be made into and reared as a boy, or as a girl.
This method, plus others promising new cell clues to cancer, mental illness, and allergies, was described by the University of Texas, Galveston.
Sometimes babies are born having both male and female characteristics. Their true sex is in doubt and tragedies come because they are reared wrongly as boy or girl.
They may have one female sex gland—an ovary to produce eggs—and one male sex gland—a testis to produce sperm. The question is, are they predominantly boy or girl?
Study Of Cells
The answer can be had by looking at the chromosomes of ordinary body cells. Each cell of the body contains chromosomes, the necklace-shaped structures carrying the genes or units of heredity.
There's a difference between the male and female chromosomes in any cell. Male cells contain two chromosomes of unequal length. In female, the sex chromosomes form an identical pair.

Dr. T. C. Hsu, an associate of Dr. Pomerat, discovered a way of making tightly-packed chromosomes inside a cell separate, so they can be seen clearly and be counted and examined. Hsu found the chromosomes will spread out if there is no, or little salt in the fluid which is added to cells to keep them alive.
Happy, Normal Life
A look at the chromosomes in skin or bone-marrow cells can then tell a surgeon whether he should remove the ovary of testis of the doubtful-sex baby to make the child a complete boy or complete girl, to give the infant the best chance for a happy, normal life.
This is just one possibility in amazing research by Dr. Pomerat and associates.
He can take any kind of human body cells and keep them alive and growing through increasingly longer periods. He can take motion pictures, under a microscope, of the growing cells to help see what happens inside these basic elements of all life. New differences may be found between cancer cells and healthy cells.
Hay Fever Clues
The movies are made by snapping one picture every few minutes, then running off this film at ordinary motion-picture speed. The events taking two hours to happen inside a cell are seen within one minute.
One study could give new answers to control of allergies and asthma. Cells taken from inside the human nose are kept alive inside glass flasks. Then some hay-feverish pollen is added to the fluid. The nose cells go into violent, protesting reactions. The scientists hope to learn why and how they react, how their protests can be controlled to relieve allergies or asthma.

Nerve cells taken from human brains can be kept alive in this same way, to look for differences in brain cells of healthy persons and those mentally sick.

'GOLDEN MOUNTAINS'
The Altai Mountains, which help for the northern boundary between China's Sinkiang province and Outer Mongolia, derive their name from the rich gold deposits which they hold. Altai is from a Mongol word for gold, thus the "Golden Mountains."

Fitzgerald's Offers Latest Air Coolers

The Fitzgerald Company at 2906 West Wall Street, announces that the firm is prepared to provide Midlanders with the latest and most dependable air conditioning equipment available.
Having one of the largest heating and air conditioning staffs in Midland with 17 persons on the job, The Fitzgerald Company offers free professional engineering service on heating and cooling needs and installs equipment anywhere it is needed.
The firm specializes in evaporated cooling, warm air heating and refrigeration. All of their work and every piece of equipment which they install is guaranteed.
Cooling and heating units sold and installed by the Fitzgerald Company are nationally recognized as being the leaders in their field. They include the Chrysler Air Temp mechanical refrigeration equipment, the all gas fired Servel moving parts air conditioning units, and the General Motors Delco combination mechanical three-ton unit for Summer and Winter temperature control.
Cooling or heating is accomplished merely by the flip of a switch on these superb units.
UNCLE EF CIGAR STORE

Morris J. Fitzgerald and Frederic B. McLaren, co-owners and operators of the Fitzgerald Company, each have 19 years of experience in their field. Since the establishment of their business in Midland Feb. 1, 1949, the company has made approximately 900 installations of equipment in the Midland vicinity for both business and residences.
For professional guidance on your heating and cooling needs, call the Fitzgerald Company at 4-5801 or 4-7525 or drop by the office at 2906 West Wall Street. You will receive excellent service by courteous, experienced personnel.
Only in 1943 did the government of Italy arrange to have at least one telephone in every town which has a post office, and many small hamlets without post offices still do not have phone service.

Termite Fight Guaranteed By Pest Control Service

The Midland Pest Control Service, located at 466 South Marienfeld Street guarantees termite control for five years in a residence and offers a complete service in ridding business establishments alike of all crawling insects.
The firm also carries a pest control policy which completely insures against damage which might occur while work is being done, say owners and operators Bob Boydston and A. J. Green, who have 12 years of experience in the pest control business.
All work is done and supervised by one of the other or both of these men whose company has branches in Big Spring and Odessa.
The Midland Pest Control Service is a member of the Texas Pest Control Association and the National Pest Control Association as well as the Midland Chamber of Commerce.
Get Standard Bid
The complete service offered by the firm includes control of rats, mice, roaches, moths, scorpions, water bugs, silverfish, centipedes, termites, ants, ticks, fleas, bedbugs and moles.
Home owners will receive a standard bid of 10 cents per square foot floor space from the Midland Pest Control Service on termite work, which carries a five year guarantee. Thus the average home of 750 square feet can be rid of termites for five years for around $15.
Each home receives a residual spray, harmless to furniture and furnishings and clothing. This includes inside the house, in the attic and underneath the house. If the structure is on a concrete base, then the area around the outside foundation, Roaches, silverfish, rats, mice and all types of crawling insects will be exterminated from the home for two cents a square foot on a one-year's guarantee.
Commercial accounts, such as hospitals, offices, theaters, and cafes are serviced on a monthly basis.
During the past year Midland Pest Control Service handled fly and mosquito control work for the City of Midland and fogged alleys and sewer areas throughout the city. The firm also does work for nothing when homes which can't afford the service are referred to them through the City-County Health Department or the Chamber of Commerce.
Sells Fogging Equipment
The owners of Midland Pest Control believe that everyone buying a home should require their realtor to give them a termite inspection certificate from a reliable pest control operator.
They also point out that when a pest control operator comes to your door soliciting business, which is against a Midland City ordinance, you should check with the Chamber of Commerce as to their reliability. This will help eliminate highway tramps that give no service and, no guarantee for their work, the owners said.
The firm also sells fogging equipment which the home owner may operate himself. Boydston and Green will consult with anyone on just what to do to rid their own homes of pests.
The Midland Pest Control Service is listed on page 133 of the yellow pages of the new city telephone directory. The old address is listed there, they point out, but the new address is 405 South Marienfeld Street.

Midland Officers Club To Fold Up

Some 38 votes cast in a recent poll by the Midland Officers Club spelled the end of the group, the clubhouse of which was destroyed by fire earlier this year.
Votes, as counted by the Board of Directors, were 27 to rebuild the club, 22 to operate without building, 17 to spend funds for free activities and 38 to dissolve and disburse funds.
First-quarter dues for 1953 will be refunded and those members in good standing on Dec. 31, 1952 will participate in the remaining funds on a pro-rata basis.
Members' books must be sent to Vernon Redpath, secretary-treasurer by June 10, to be redeemed.

Truce Talk Critics

Neither the American government nor the American people have any right to feel they are above criticism at home or abroad. In this difficult age, no one holds a mortgage on right courses of action.

Yet it does not therefore follow that if we object to any particular piece of criticism we are being overly sensitive or unjustly trying to prevent others from speaking with the freedom we demand for ourselves.

Such charges have been made against us for protesting British, Canadian and Indian criticism of our conduct of the Korean truce talks.

The lengthy recess we called at Panmunjom was evidence we did not take this criticism lightly. But at the same time, American protests voiced in other quarters seem quite reasonable.

The U. S. government has been accused of asking too stiff a price for a Korean truce, of departing from the letter and spirit of a UN truce resolution approved last Winter by a large majority of UN countries, including America.

In this case, however, our foreign critics are not reading carefully, nor are they showing scrupulous regard for the ultimate fate of the 48,000 UN-held Red prisoners who have said they don't want to return to Communist lands.

Those 48,000 are the crux of the matter. It is their freedom the American government and its negotiators at Panmunjom are trying to protect.

It is a simple fact that since truce talks on this issue were reopened, we have made several concessions to the Communists, particularly as to the neutrals who would supervise the prisoner release.

It also is a fact, however, that the Reds at no point, in any plan so far offered, have given the slightest hint they would accept a proposal that would allow any of the prisoners to avoid repatriation to Communist territory. All their suggestions—without exception—clearly are based on the assumption that, one way or another, they finally would get back every Red soldier we hold.

Their proposal to leave the fate of reluctant prisoners up to a "political conference" is measured correctly by our negotiators as a plan offering repatriation on the one hand or indefinite captivity on the other.

Any compromise that yet may be worked out obviously must embody a time limit, so that men whose fate is unsettled by a political conference may see before them the unmistakable alternative of freedom. We believe two months from the time prisoner exchange starts is long enough. The UN resolution would let the UN decide the fate of unwilling repatriates if a political conference failed to do so in 30 days.

Since the most recent Communist plan mentioned no such limits, it is hard to see how India, Britain and Canada believe it jibes so well with the UN scheme.

The fate of these 48,000 men is a deep moral issue which cannot be compromised. That's what we're fighting for at the truce table. Any criticism which suggests we're simply being stubborn over minor technical points is absurd and ill-founded.

... However, The Doves Really Are Scoring!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: New Voice chief is expert on exasperation; Bustling Bill Johnson "sells" Ike on separate propaganda; Faces appropriations battle with GOP economists.

WASHINGTON — Bob Johnson, former head of Temple University, now head of the Voice of America, last week told President Eisenhower the following story about the difference between irritation, aggravation, and frustration.

"Two Marines were celebrating rather late one night," Johnson told Ike, "when one of them asked if the other knew the difference between irritation, aggravation, and frustration."

"No," replied the second Marine. "Well, I'll show you the difference," said the other, and it being 2 a.m., he picked up the telephone and dialed Oliver 2-3525. A sleepy voice answered the phone, and the Marine said, "Is Mr. Goldberg there?"

"You've got the wrong number," said the voice and hung up. "That," explained the Marine, "is irritation."

"Fifteen minutes later he dialed the same number and the same sleepy reawakened voice answered. Again the Marine asked: 'Is Mr. Goldberg there?'"

"I told you Mr. Goldberg didn't live here. Now don't bother me anymore. I want to sleep."

"That," explained the Marine, "is aggravation."

"Fifteen minutes later, the Marine dialed the same number. This time he asked: 'Are there any messages there for Mr. Goldberg?'"

"Go to hell!" replied the voice. "And that," explained the Marine, "is frustration."

"And that," continued Voice of America Director Johnson to Eisenhower, "is exactly the way I feel."

Haste Vs. Frustration: When Robert Livingston Johnson was a hustling vice president of Time Magazine, and later a bustling president of Temple University, he never worried about red tape.

Reporting to Eisenhower after weeks of trying to see him, Johnson told him how he now was stymied by red tape, wanted to take the State Department's propaganda and information services out of the State Department, set them up as an independent agency.

What Johnson didn't tell the President was that six times he had threatened to resign as a result of vacillation over whether he would remain under the State Department or become his own boss.

Here is the complicated story of what Johnson has been up against: Congressman Taber of New York, the renowned GOP economist, and his GOP colleague, our Cliff Clevenger of Ohio, have decided that so hard for economy that it has hired 32 professional staffers at $10,000 each. New Jersey's tax-probing Congressman Bob Keane has been sounded out by GOP leaders to run against Senator Bob Hendrickson in next year's Republican primaries.

Most revealing insight into the man who rules Nevada, Senator Pat McCarran, is in the current Reporter magazine. It gives the inside story of Hark Greenup, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, whom McCarran tried to put out of business because he dared criticize.

Harry Truman liked Ed Pauley's Hawaiian island, but got a little bored without anything to read. He's glad to get back to the U. S. A. In the old days, Hawaiian children used to swim to school from the little island to the bigger island.

The island once was owned by Max C. Fleischmann of yeast fame who, when called upon to testify in a lawsuit, was asked where he lived. Max replied: "Moku O Loe, Kaneohe, Oahu, Hawaii."

It almost stumped the court reporter Leslie G. Finley. Kentucky's Senator Clement was voted for Tideland oil despite the fact that Kentucky has no coastal oil, and despite the fact that the three top leaders in his state—Alben Barkley, Governor Wetherby, and Senator John Cooper—were all opposed. Cooper even opposed Eisenhower on Tideland oil.

After the senators had left the room, Secretary Wilson and his staff retired to a conference room. Reporters wandered into the corridor. Only a few spectators remained in the hearing room. Some of them strolled around the committee table and inspected the brass name plates indicating each senator's place.

Then at the desk where Wilson had been seated they noticed a black leather notebook on which was stamped in gold letters, "TOP SECRET, Budget and Fiscal Data, Office of the Comptroller, D.O.D. TOP SECRET."

Nobody bothered to open it, and it remained there, unattended, until the senators returned from voting and Secretary Wilson continued his

$5 Million Pay Raise To Congressman? Errors Recorded In Senator's Speech

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The proposed raise in salary to $28,000 a year for the 531 members of Congress would net the lawmakers about $8,000 a year apiece, or a $500-a-month increase in take-home pay. Tax experts figure it like this:

Present base pay of congressmen, $12,500 a year. With standard deduction of $650 for a married man and wife with no dependents—the federal income tax would be $1,712. This would make a net of $10,788. On top of this congressmen now get $2,500 expense money tax-free. This makes total income $13,288.

On the $48,000 income, with standard deductions of $1,900, the federal income tax would be $5,826. This would leave a net income of $18,164. The $2,500 tax-free expense allowance would be canceled under this arrangement.

The government would gain about $2,000,000 a year in taxes, at a cost of $5,000,000 in increased payroll. Peter Trips Up

Michigan's new Republican senator, Charles E. Potter, made a one-minute speech the other day in which he congratulated the New York longshoremen for their voluntary action in ending what the senator called "the shake-up system" of hiring waterfront workers.

It wasn't just a typographical error, because the senator referred to "the shake-up" three times during his remarks. Whoever okayed proof on the transcript of the senator's remarks for the Congressional Record probably will be shaken up, however, when he learns that the word is "shake-up" It is taken from the manner in which dock workers traditionally have lined up every morning to be picked by hiring bosses for the day's work.

Senator Potter, being a member of the committee investigating the waterfront racket, knew all about it. Labor Policy Unsettled

Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin went out to Chicago to make a speech before the International Ladies' Garment Workers' convention. Many people expected the secretary to use this platform for spelling out some of his ideas on U. S. labor policy.

He has been having so much difficulty in getting the Eisenhower Administration leaders to agree on a labor policy, however, that there wasn't anything on this subject he could say. He therefore confined his speech to "Labor's Role in International Affairs."

A break was called during Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's testimony before the Senate Appropriations subcommittee, to allow the senators to go back to the floor and vote on the new economic controls bill.

After the senators had left the room, Secretary Wilson and his staff retired to a conference room. Reporters wandered into the corridor. Only a few spectators remained in the hearing room.

Some of them strolled around the committee table and inspected the brass name plates indicating each senator's place. Then at the desk where Wilson had been seated they noticed a black leather notebook on which was stamped in gold letters, "TOP SECRET, Budget and Fiscal Data, Office of the Comptroller, D.O.D. TOP SECRET."

Nobody bothered to open it, and it remained there, unattended, until the senators returned from voting and Secretary Wilson continued his testimony. One of the speakers at a recent party given by a group of congressmen's wives turned to two of the honor guests, First Lady Mamie Eisenhower and Mrs. Estel Pina and declared: "Pushing."

"All the women of this country have something in common with both of you. They're in love with your men."

"Seeing-Eye" Wife: Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay explained recently that in these days he refers to Mrs. McKay as his "seeing-eye dog." The reason is that Mrs. McKay is good at remembering Washington faces and names, and he is not. The secretary confessed that when starting out for a reception the other night, he couldn't even remember what he looked like.

Simple Logic: Magazine writer Blake Clark's young daughter, who has spent a lot of time in Hawaii with her parents, quipped to her father: "Daddy, I don't want Hawaii to become a state. I want it to stay a beach."

Sweet 16: Remark by a society matron, overheard at a Washington cocktail party: "Oh! John Foster Dulles sent me my first orchid, when I was 16."

The Army's plan to build bases around major cities for the installation of "Nike" anti-aircraft guided missile stations is getting a hard eye from Pentagon budget experts.

Each Nike launching site requires huge concrete structures and complicated electronic equipment. On top of that each Nike base requires constant services of many troops. This creates a big problem in decentralized feeding and housing.

For this investment in land, permanent buildings and high maintenance costs, the Nike critics claim complete protection against enemy bombing is not provided.

Only one Nike can be fired at a time because of the numerous radio channels needed to guide it. The missile is extremely accurate, but the slow firing rate makes it a far from absolute anti-aircraft weapon in mass bombing attacks.

Conventional Plans: The Democrats haven't given up completely on Indiana National Committeeman Paul M. Butler's idea for a mid-term convention in 1954. While the original plan for a full-scale convention has been abandoned because of cost and southern Democratic opposition to fisting a party split on platform and policy, there still is much support for a rump convention of some kind.

This bob-tailed meeting wouldn't have as many delegates as a presidential-year nominating convention. Instead, it would be confined to Democratic congressmen and state party leaders. A meeting to adopt a mid-term platform would give the Democrats a national sounding board for their election campaign to regain control of Congress.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service "It is on defense that the champs usually shine," writes John C. Stabile, of Seattle, in a recent issue of the Bridge World Magazine. "The defense offered in the accompanying hand penetrated a bullet-proof contract."

West's king of clubs held the opening trick. The change of defeating the contract was not prominent.

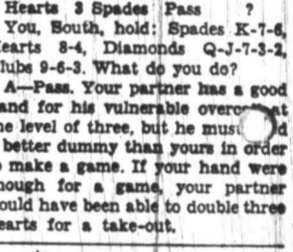

Card game hand diagram showing North, West, East, and South cards and tricks.

Opening lead—♠K

LITTLE LIZ

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been: West North East South 3 Hearts 2 Spades Pass 2. You, South, hold: Spades K-7-4, Hearts 8-4, Diamonds Q-J-7-3, Clubs 9-6-3. What do you do?

A—Pass. Your partner has a good hand for his vulnerable over the level of three, but he must bid a better dummy than yours in order to make a game. If your hand were enough for a game, your partner would have been able to double three hearts for a take-out.

Most of the differences between women and men.

ELIZABETH the Queen

FROM her earliest moments Queen Elizabeth has always had that interest in soldiers, uniforms and military customs which so animated her father.

I remember on one of the earliest of the Monday afternoon excursions on which Queen Mary used to take us, watching the little Princess as we walked slowly round an exhibition of tapestries.

"How lovely this one!" she would say, and then fall into something fascinating about the way in which it had been made and where it had hung in the past.

Queen Mary had much knowledge about such matters which was almost awe-inspiring. But though usually Princess Elizabeth used to hang on to every word her grandmother uttered, on this occasion I noticed her attention straying.

I followed her eyes and saw, across the room, three tall Guardsmen in their khaki uniforms. Princess Elizabeth was watching them intently, with that fascinated concentration a mother's modern child might bestow on a visiting film star.

She never took her eyes off them during the whole tour we made of the exhibition. I was amused when we got her home to 145 Piccadilly to notice that her first thought was to tell Mummy of this wonderful experience.

Her mother was always very firm with the children. She would take a great interest in their day's doings, and greet them with a "Well, darling, and what have you seen today?"

This time Princess Elizabeth was interested in repeating the words about the tapestry which Queen Mary had passed on to us. Instead, she ran to her mother and begged her, saying, "Oh, Mummy, I've had just retired, was full of interest in things military and she would praise for Queen Elizabeth, whose always stand fascinated at the window of 145 while the Guard marched across Hyde Park Corner in the mornings, splendid in their scarlet uniforms.

"Oh, look, Crawley," she would say excitedly. "Aren't they pretty?"

I used sometimes to see the same expression of interest across her face while she watched a parade of soldiers at a much later date.

How many much the routine of her life may weigh on her. I am sure the military side of it will never bore her.

ONE of Queen Elizabeth's most charming traits was exhibited in her insistence that her sister, Princess Margaret, should be given all the attention due her. This has persisted from childhood.

When Princess Elizabeth, even as a very small girl, felt that visitors or friends were making so much fuss of her that Princess Margaret was in danger of being neglected, Princess Elizabeth would settle the first opportunity to say, "And now you must come and see my little sister."

The first time I saw that thoughtful gesture was when Princess Margaret was so young that she was still using her perambulator, but old enough to enjoy having people round her and to resent finding herself alone when she awakes from the afternoon nap.

Princess Elizabeth made it her business to see that her sister was soon a center of admiration. This trait is still with her. Since which her marriage it has had less opportunity for expression; and besides, Princess Margaret, with a personality that draws interesting people to her, never has a chance to feel neglected.

QUEEN ELIZABETH has passed this on to her own children. An old ghillie who had spent years in the Royal Service at Balmoral, said: "I have just retired, was full of interest in things military and she would praise for Queen Elizabeth, whose always stand fascinated at the

So They Say

The federal (Australian) government is not happy about the position in Southeast Asia. The position smells of the events that led to the last Pacific war.

—Australian Foreign Minister Richard G. Casey.

There has been, to this moment, no reason to believe that Soviet policy has changed its frequently announced hope and purpose—the destruction of freedom everywhere.

—President Eisenhower.

Like Mr. Chamberlain at Munich, Churchill, Attlee and Bevan may believe they will be buying "peace in our time." The tragic fact is that they will only be making inevitable World War III.

—Senator William Knowland (R-Calif.) on British sentiment to admit Red China to UN.

I've had some of the most terrific political battles of any man alive, and I'm not through yet.

Have A Laugh

Medical men claim that we are taller in the morning than we are in the evening. Yes, and around the end of the month, we're shorter.

The famous evangelist, Dwight L. Moody, enjoyed asking a boy, "Would you rather be a bigger fool than you look or look a bigger fool than you are?" Whichever the reply, Moody would chuckle and say, "Impossible."

Only a friend can become an enemy—a relative is one from the start.

Negro Hand From Texas Put Bulldogging In Rodeo Game

By WILLARD H. PORTER
It was more or less by accident that bulldogging, or steer wrestling, evolved into a rodeo contest event. Never a regular chore of the range, it was started by a Texas negro, Bill Pickett, around 1903, near Austin.

steer's head in the air, twisting its neck until it fell to the ground. Finds Money In It Exploiting his new ability, the dusky Texan worked for many years for the 101 Wild West Show. One day he was injured and the stunt was performed by Lon Sealey, a 101 Ranch cowboy from Nogales, Ariz. Sealey, so the records go, was the first white man to bulldog steers for exhibition purposes.

phenomenally fast. In 1918 Mike Hastings, now foreman of the Cimarron Ranch in Peckskill, N. Y., dogged a steer in 12 seconds. But in 1949 at Pueblo, Colorado, husky Dub Phillips of San Antonio threw a steer in exactly three seconds! A few years before at Salt Lake City, Hugh Bennett of Falcon, Colo., and Dave Campbell of Las Vegas, Nev., both dogged a steer in 3.2 seconds. Oddy enough, they both went down on the same steer. Their time set a record for the Salt Lake show. Rules Of The Game
These feats were accomplished by "lap and tap" dogging, in which the dogger and his assistant, the "huser," rush after the steer as soon as it leaves the chute. To score such amazing time the dogger must catch the steer before it begins to run. The slower method makes both dogger and huser wait until the steer has crossed a designated line. If either cowboy breaks out before the line is crossed, the dogger is assessed a 10-second fine. Fast times for dogging demand a barrier, depending on the stock and length of start, vary from 8 to 18 seconds.

Dogging and husing mounts play a tremendous part in keeping the contestant whole. The huser's mount must keep the steer running in a straight line. The dogger's horse takes him right beside the steer, meanwhile matching the steer's pace. The dogger leans from the saddle and grabs the steer's horns. The horse veers off, leaving its rider clinging to the steer. Digging heels into the ground to stop, the contestant twists the steer down and when all four of the steer's legs are parallel to the ground and pointing in the same direction, the field judge drops his flag and the timers stop their watches. Homer Pettigrew of Chandler, Ariz., is one of the greatest of the contemporary steer wrestlers.

A powerful young man, he combines all the know-how of over 15 years rodeo experience with great courage and love for danger and excitement. When Pettigrew dogs a steer, it looks easy. But countless fractures and abrasions have convinced others that it's not!

Although the Western World is more familiar with the Vikings who sailed the Atlantic, there were other Viking enterprises of the Norsemen which penetrated Russia and from there traded as far south as Constantinople.

Daddy Ringtail And Pink Pills

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was lying still in his bed. His eyes were closed. But he wasn't asleep. He was a sick, sick wolf, he thought.

all to show how sick he thought he was.

"Mmm," said Dr. Shoobug, all to say to the Huffen not to fret himself. Dr. Shoobug was sitting about him. There was nothing to fret about.

"Pink pills," whispered the Huffen. "I need pink pills. I do, to make me well again." But Dr. Shoobug would not give the Huffen pink pills. The Huffen didn't need them. Dr. Shoobug knew he didn't.

"Ooooh!" moaned the Huffen.
