Third Pay Zone Is In Prospect At Lea Project

A third pay formation for the Anderson Ranch (Multiple) field of Southwest Lea County, New Mexico, is in prospect at Continental Oil Company and others No. 3 Anderson Ranch.

Drillstem test was taken in the Pennsylvanian from 12,140 to 12,170 feet. Tool was open eight hours. A 2,300-foot water blanket was used. Gas surfaced in 13 minutes at the rate of 8,500,000 cubic feet per day. Distillate flowed out with the gas. It gauged 30 barrels during the last two hours through a one-half-inch choke.

Operators were reversing out recovery on last report.

This project is a northeast offset to the Devonian opener of the field and 860 feet from north and east lines of section 11-16-32e.

The other producing formation in the field is the Wolfcamp.

Production Tests Are Being Taken At Chaves Opener

Production tests were underway Wednesday at Forest Oil Corporation No. 1 Federal-General American Oil Company, rank wildcat and discovery in Northeast Chaves County.

After swabbing natural for three hours and 10 minutes at the rate of 7.82 barrels of fluid hourly, operator washed perforations from 7,828 to 7,860 with 500 gallons of mud acid.

After swabbing out load, the project kicked off and flowed to pits 17 minutes and then to tanks during the first 45 minutes it flowed 44.4 barrels of oil through open two-inch tubing.

The well was shut in 20 minutes and then opened up on a one-half-inch choke. Three 30-minute gauges followed. They were 21, 25 and 18.4 barrels of oil for each of the periods.

The wildcat is eight miles north-east of production in the Lightcap field and 1,980 feet from west and north lines of section 7-7a-31e. It is 48 miles northeast of Roswell.

Ellenburger Oiler Extends Limits Of S-C Reagan Field

Ellenburger production has been extended one locality north in the Big Lake, West (Multiple) field of South-Central Reagan County.

The new extension is The Texas Company No. 2-AC State, completed for a calculated daily flowing potential of 1,008 barrels of 49.5 gravity oil through a 24 1/2-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 2,020-1 and tubing pressure 1,300 pounds.

The potential is based on an actual 11 hour flow of 463 barrels of oil.

Production is coming from open hole section at 9,290-9,340 feet.

Location for this second Ellenburger producer for the field is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 9, block 11, University Lands survey.

NW Garza Wildcat Installing Pump To Test, Complete

Clifton Thomas of San Angelo and associates appear to have a wildcat in sight at their No. 1 Honolulu-Sims, Northwest Garza County wildcat.

The prospector is located approximately 1,980 feet northeast of the nearest production in the PHD (San Andres) field. It is eight miles northwest of Post and 330 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 1,282, B5&F survey.

This project is bottomed at 3,530 feet. It has 5 1/2-inch casing cemented on bottom. That pipe has been perforated at 3,493-3,520 feet.

Swabbing Off

The perforated interval had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. After recovering the acid load and residue the well had swabbed at the estimate rate of between 100 barrels and 125 barrels of oil per day.

Amount of water being made, if any, has not been reported. Operators are installing a pump to test and complete.

Location has been made for a south flanker to the indicated new oil well.

It will be Clifton Thomas and associates No. 1 Honolulu-Speck. Drilling with combination tools is to start at once. It is projected to 3,600 feet.

70 American Captives Ride Freedom Trail

PANMUNJOM—(AP)—Four hundred happy Allied war captives rode Russian trucks down the dirt road from North Korea to freedom Wednesday.

The massive, five-week Korean war prisoner exchange was on—12,763 UN troops, including 3,313 Americans, for 74,000 Reds.

The Communists said 392 more prisoners, including 70 Americans, will be liberated Thursday (6 p.m. CST, Wednesday).

Seventy Americans came out of the bleak Communist prison camps in the first day's exchange, many with laughs and shouts, all with heartfelt thanksgiving to be homeward bound.

One Grim Report

For them and 330 other former Allied captives the Korean War finally had ended, nine days after firing stopped at the front on July 27.

However, the sharp joy was blurred by a grim report from the first American officer released.

Maj. John Dujat of Richmond, Calif., told newsmen the Reds had sentenced some U. S. officer captives to long prison terms only two days ago for "instigating against peace."

That was seven days after the armistice.

Dujat was swept into the home ward processing before he could elaborate. In a later interview at nearby Freedom Village he didn't add to his first report.

In Washington, Pentagon and State Department spokesmen declined comment.

70 More Are Due

The 400 Allied troops released included 250 South Koreans, 26 British, 23 Turks, 12 Filipinos, seven Colombians, seven French and one each from Greece, Australia, Canada, Belgium and South Africa besides the 70 Americans.

The Allies sent back 2,760 Chinese and North Koreans.

Seventy more Americans—42 of them sick and wounded—will be in (Continued on Page 12)

10 Texas Prisoners Return Wednesday

By The Associated Press

Ten of the first 72 American service men freed by the Communists in Korea were men from Texas.

The men were:

Pfc. Patricio Guerrero, 2nd Division, son of Simeon Guerrero, San Marcos.

Pvt. Frankie Dobbins, 1st Cavalry Division, son of Mrs. Jose Dobbins, Anson.

Sgt. Jesse Bingham, 24th Division, son of Mrs. Nora Bingham, Raymondville.

Pfc. Floyd Pendarvis, 24th Division, son of William Pendarvis, Gilmer.

Jesse McElroy, of Sherman, brother of Mrs. Myrna Banzer and Mrs. Herbert Sampson, both of Sherman. He was the first Navy prisoner to come back in the swap.

Pfc. Eduardo de Anda, 187th Airborne Regiment, son of Mrs. Louisa Ortiz de Anda, El Paso.

Cpl. Johnny Trevino, 2nd Division, son of Jose Trevino of Houston.

Pvt. Felipe Pahaceco, 24th Division, son of Mrs. Isidra Ramirez, Laredo.

Pfc. William Dominguez, 1st Cavalry Division, son of Jose Dominguez, Mercedes.

Pfc. Miguel Galvan, 2nd Division, son of Mrs. Rosa Trevino, Harlingen.

Spotty Area Moisture Lifts Agricultural Hopes For Fall

They were spotty, they did some good.

But the rains that hop-scotched through West Texas Tuesday and Wednesday just didn't have the tenth-round punch needed to kyo this area's crop-stunting drought.

The pain was dulled, though, when crop prospects got a little boost from the man on the street and farm leaders alike.

"I think the rain will help what little cotton we have in the area," Charles Champion, PMA official here, said Wednesday.

Rains up to an inch and a half were reported about five miles southeast of Midland and one inch south of the city.

Tuesday's temperature climbed to 99 degrees before slipping to a low of 70 degrees early Wednesday.

Forecasts held out for partly cloudy skies and scattered thunderstorms through Thursday. Temperatures are due to stay about the same.

Over in Odessa, half an inch of rain was recorded at the Texas Electric Service Company—with some downtown talk of an inch and a half.

Odessa Marine May Have Been Last Texas War Fatality

ODESSA—(AP)—The last Texas killed in action in Korea before the fighting ended may have been a Marine from Odessa.

Pfc. Seth Britt, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Britt, was killed in action July 26, a few hours before the truce went into effect.

The Marine Corps told the Odessa parents Britt was killed in action July 26, 1953, in Korea in performance of his duty and service of his country. No other details were available.

Britt was an oil field roughneck before he joined the Marines in 1951. He went overseas two months before he was killed.

Britt was the third known Odessa serviceman killed in action in Korea in the last 10 days of fighting. Three other Odessa Marines were wounded in Korea during the last 10 days of the shooting war.

Dulles, Rhee Attain Quick Agreement On Agenda Items

SEOUL—(AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and President Syngman Rhee reached quick agreement Wednesday on ground they will cover in four days of talks. They were reported to have decided to seek an international post-armistice Far Eastern political conference between October 1 and 15.

When the UN Assembly convenes August 17, it is to arrange details of the international conference which, by terms of the Korean armistice, must start by October 27.

A qualified source said Dulles and Rhee agreed that Korean questions left unsettled by the war should rate primary attention at the conference.

Dulles told reporters he and Rhee agreed to discuss these points at their four-day conference which may determine if the Korean truce becomes lasting peace:

1. The Korean political conference which, by terms of the armistice, must be held by late October and, presumably, the joint U. S.-Korean stand which will be taken there.

2. A mutual security pact between the United States and South Korea which may be drafted during Dulles' visit.

3. American economic aid to South Korea, 200 million dollars of which was approved by Congress last week.

Dulles said he would call on Rhee daily until Saturday, with the next meeting set at 10 a.m. Thursday (7 p.m. Wednesday, Texas time). Meantime, members of his party will meet with South Korean government officials to work out details of the policy issues.

The big trouble in Odessa was caused by lightning and slick-road accidents. Four persons were injured in a wreck caused by rain-slick highways and at least two others were struck by lightning.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. Walker Foster Nugent, all of Fenwell, were injured in an auto crash eight miles west of Odessa on Highway 80.

The Rhodes, driving east, tried to pass a car and, falling to get back in line, collided with the Nugent car. All told highway patrolmen heavy rains clouded their vision.

Blonde Bombshell Pulls Out After Trail Of Destruction

A 22-year-old blonde bombshell said farewell to Midland Wednesday, and peace officers breathed a sigh of relief.

The diminutive little eye-ful exploded Tuesday afternoon with a violence that left Sgt. James Simons with aching shins. Detective Sgt. Wayne Taylor with burning ears and Chief Deputy Sheriff Ouy Fletcher with a torn-up jail cell.

She was picked up by Sergeant Simons on West Wall Street after police had received complaints of a drunken woman.

At police headquarters, she proceeded to deliver a couple of effective kicks at Sergeant Simons' shins.

Regan Blames 'Old Guard' Politicos For Failure To Cut U. S. Spending

By COPE ROUTH

Ken Regan pulled out a cigarette and stared at it moodily.

"I went to this session of Congress," he explained, "with high hopes of reducing expenditures and lowering taxes."

"But, thus far, I have been very disappointed in the position taken by the Administration."

He paused to choose his words as he leaned back at his desk in his office on the ninth floor of the McClinton Building.

The first session of the 83rd Congress had just come to an end and the representative of the 19 West Texas counties in the 18th Congressional District was back to rest and visit a few weeks.

For seven years he had been in Congress and now he was midway in his fourth term.

"Understand, now," he continued, "thoughtfully smoothing the unlighted cigarette between his thumb and forefinger."

"Understand, it isn't that I believe President Eisenhower was not sincere when he stated these two purposes during the campaign. Hard Core Of Politicians

"But he has surrounded himself with a hard core of politicians in the Republican Party and they have warned him of the hazards to the party which might accompany the carrying out of these objectives. "They are afraid there would be some measure of unemployment and the people immediately would call it another Hoover depression."

Regan pulled himself forward, hunched over the desk and wielded the cigarette light as a schoolteacher would use a pointer at the blackboard.

"Personally," he continued, "I'm still of the opinion that the good purposes to which Candidate Eisenhower dedicated himself should and could be accomplished."

He laid the cigarette back on the desk and leaned back again to stare at the ceiling.

"You know, President Eisenhower has stated that he did not fear Russia and I continue in that belief that I have held for some time," he began again.

"Two much fear has been engendered to the detriment of our national economy."

"I was not opposed to the initial Marshall Plan established seven years ago on the theory we would spend not to exceed $17,000,000,000—some people even considered that a staggering figure to spend over a five-year period—to help rehabilitate Western Europe. Floodgates Opened

"After all, we had contributed to its destruction in air raids and other actions of war."

"But once the floodgates of the Treasury were opened, we found various other avenues of spending in Europe and already this has (Continued On Page 12)

And, on the way to the Midland County jail, she aimed a barrage of flavorful adjectives in the direction of Sergeant Taylor, who was trying to keep her from jumping out the door of the police patrol car.

After being locked in her cell by Fletcher, she proceeded to tear up her bunk, ruin a perfectly good galvanized garbage can and splinter a fairly new broom.

She quietly pleaded guilty of drunkenness Wednesday in Corporation Court and Judge Edwin Stitt agreed to fine her only $15 if she would pay the $15 worth of damages to the jail cell and leave town quickly.

AW COME ON, WHO DONE IT?

Business was dull in the pre-dawn hour between 3 a.m. and 4 a.m. at Marshall Patton's service station on West North Front Street.

So Patton, sitting in an automobile, dozed off while waiting for business.

Thirty minutes later, he told Detective Sgt. Wayne Taylor, he woke up, sold 75 cents worth of gasoline and went into the station to make change.

The cash register was gone, along with about $51 in cash inside of it.

Benedum Trend Area Restored To Full Schedule

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Benedum Spraberry field in Upton and Reagan Counties is back on the statewide 21-day allowable schedule.

The Railroad Commission designated the reservoir Tuesday as a separate field from the Spraberry Trend. The trend is on a curtailed 11-day schedule in an effort to halt wasteful gas flaring.

Spraberry field rules otherwise will apply to the Benedum. The separation was asked at a hearing July 16.

Polio Incidence Mounts In Texas

AUSTIN—(AP)—Polio cases mounted to 92 in Texas last week, the highest incidence for the year. The previous high was 89 for the week ended July 11.

Harris County reported the most new cases, nine.

The year's total rose to 946, compared to 2,370 a year ago.

One Survivor Rescued, Five Seen On Raft

LONDON—(AP)—A big 10-engine U. S. Air Force bomber, blazing like a meteor, plunged into the North Atlantic early Wednesday and its 23 men jumped into the icy waves.

Fourteen hours after the RB-36 reconnaissance plane went down a British ship, the Manchester Shipper, radioed she had picked up one survivor and recovered one body 420 miles west of Prestwick, Scotland.

Trio Injured In Car Crash East Of City

Three persons, including an El Paso minister, were in Midland Memorial Hospital Wednesday, having been injured at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday when their automobile went out of control and rolled over on U. S. Highway 80, nine miles east of Midland.

The Rev. O. F. McKinney, 36, pastor of the El Paso University Presbyterian Church, suffered a bruised forehead and a possible rib fracture while Barbara Sewell, 19, college student from Monahans, suffered a back injury. Jimmy Nabhan, 37-year-old El Paso school teacher, received a laceration of the left arm and an ankle injury.

The trio, driving toward Midland after attending a youth encampment at Cisco, was reported to be in good condition.

Bill Pinkston, Stanton constable, said the car, driven by Mr. McKinney, went out of control on the slippery highway, overturned twice and ended up on its wheels on the roadside.

British planes also participated in Wednesday's search, along with ships of several nations.

The first RB-36 to sight the raft immediately dropped a boat and radioed the other air and surface craft. A second RB-36 appeared and also dropped a boat. The merchant ship Uruguay also reached the scene.

The Air Force crew listed no Texans. The commander of the RB-36 was Maj. Arthur Beam of Bedford, Del. The Air Force first had listed Beam as a Texan from Waco.

The wreckage was sighted at 5:36 a.m. Texas time, more than eight hours after the big plane plunged into the water.

First indication of trouble came when the plane reported an engine was on fire. Nineteen minutes later the pilot messaged that the plane was out of control and "we are leaving the aircraft."

Montgomery Polio Wave Erupts Anew

MONTEGOMERY, ALA. —(AP)—A hull in Montgomery's police siege ended abruptly Tuesday with the reporting of two deaths and two new cases.

Dread bulbar polio, almost always fatal, was listed as the cause of death for Roy Carter, 28, an airman stationed at Maxwell Air Force Base, and Gerald Bailey, 11.

The county score now stands at seven fatalities among the 103 cases of infantile paralysis.

A 22-year-old girl and a five-year-old boy were the latest cases. Both came down with the paralytic type.

The boy had been given an injection of gamma globulin, but the girl was not in Montgomery last month when serum was given to 33,000 youngsters.

MARLENE DIETRICH THINKS IT'S FUN— World's 10 Best-Dressed Women May Okay Hem-Hike

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Women on the best-dressed list have a mixed reaction to Christian Dior's shortened hemline, an international survey revealed Wednesday.

Reached at fashionable spas and summer homes on both sides of the Atlantic, some of the fabulous 12 indicated pleasure at the prospect of a change. Others differed. Here are some comments.

for an intermediate length, neither too long nor too short. But I can't take sides for either Mr. Hartnell (British designer for the royal family, who champions longer skirts) or M. Dior without seeing their designs. It is only by seeing the dresses on the mannequins that I could decide what I like."

Suit Own Figure
Miss Louise Arpels of New York (reached at her Paris home). "I like Dior's short dresses and I've already started to shorten my hem. However, I'll never wear my skirts right up to my knees, because I'm too tall for it. I think women will protest, but they'll accept the shorter length. I personally think a shorter skirt looks much better than just a little piece of leg showing. Women should adapt the shorter skirt to suit their own figures."

Mrs. Winston Guest (in New York). "It all depends on how good your legs are. If the men like it, I guess it's all right. But if you're tall like I am (five feet six and one-half), I think it's a very uncomplimentary length. It sort of cuts you off. It's for women who are five feet four and have legs like Marlene Dietrich. I'm sure no one in America will be pleased. But Dior has to do something to sell those expensive dresses."

Marlene Dietrich (in New York). "We have worn short skirts before, and liked them. We always need something new to keep things interesting, but it's not necessary to go to extremes. Anyway, it's much easier to shorten your skirts than to lengthen them. I think it's fun to change."

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Jr. (visiting friends at Bethany Beach, Del.). "I'll shorten my skirts within reason, but I don't believe short skirts are becoming to most women. I'll wait to see what Charles James (New York custom designer) has to say about it all before I do anything."

Mme. Heri Bonnet (in Paris): "My prediction is that within six months everyone will be wearing shorter skirts. I found Dior's clothes very beautiful and I think this has been ignored in the future over the shorter skirts. You know sometimes we wear skirts a little shorter, the times change and we wear them longer. Every woman wears what's becoming to her, but I think the Dior trend will catch on."

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower said that she is not contemplating any change in her skirt length at present. She now wears her skirts at mid-calf length.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, who with Mrs. Eisenhower was an added star on this year's best-dressed list, said in Washington: "Duchess Not Talking"
"I am too busy to think about raising or lowering my hemline. My hemline will remain in status quo so long as I'm in government."

Mrs. William Paley, of New York (reached on the French Riviera): "I haven't seen the Paris collections yet, so I cannot say."

The Duchess of Kent's private secretary told reporters: "Even if the duchess had seen our skirts she would not express them."

Countess Rudolf Crespit, of Rome, was vacationing at a remote mountain resort in Brazil and could not be reached for comment. Mrs. Byron Fox, of New York, also was unavailable.

Briton Says Reds' Efforts To Create Friction Fell Flat

MUNSAN, KOREA —(AP)—The first British officer liberated Wednesday from Communist captivity said the Reds tried to create rifts between British and Americans in a prison camp near the Yalu River—but it didn't work.

"The Chinese would insinuate to the British they were better than the Americans and they would insinuate to the Americans they were better than the British," said Lt. Anthony Perrins of the Royal Northumberland Fusiliers. He comes from Slapton-by-Leighton-Buzzard, Bedfordshire, England.

"There were crude attempts to get us to agree with them. Needless to say, one didn't," he added.

Close-ups and Longshots:
There may have been news of protest when Producer Stanley Kramer cast Van Johnson as Lieutenant Maryk in "The Caine Mutiny" but Kramer is insisting that "the role will make Van a bigger star than ever."

Watching Van rehearse a scene for the film with the forehead scar he received in that motorcycle accident showing prominently—MGM always covered it with make-up—Kramer told me:

"Everyone thought of Kirk Douglas as a washy-washy character but I thought of him as a fighter and put him in 'Champion.'"

"While Van was getting all that publicity as a song and dance man in Las Vegas, I kept remembering his acting in '30 Seconds Over Tokyo.' That's why he's playing Maryk."

The combination of the new 3-D and wide-screen movies, it's now believed, will sound the death knell for the double feature menace.

Now if something would only come along to eliminate popcorn!

The Broadway musical version of "Seventh Heaven," with Edith Piaf and Gregory Ratoff, will be minus the movie's hit song, "Diana," Victor Young, who's writing the score, couldn't clear the movie tune for the show. Victor and Peggy Lee, by the way, are collaborating on a Hollywood Bowl concert in September and he's telling us:

"Peggy is two of the greatest women I've ever met. She's a young Mae West on the stage—a great performer. But at home she's a woman."

Basil Rathbone answered a SOS from Hollywood and leaped from the stage to movie stardom when the "talkies" were born. Now it's wide-screen films, again requiring experienced emoting, and again Rathbone has made the stage-to-movie leap.

Working for a movie camera for the first time in seven years in Bob Hope's "Mr. Casanova," Rathbone grinned about the roles he and other New York stage actors played when they were brought to Hollywood and the new sound movies.

"We were hired to hold up little babies who couldn't act. All the pretty little faces are gone now, but the real talent is still around."

There's an ironic note to Betty Grable's departure from Fox, which means that Mitzel Gaynor may now draw roles originally leg-marked for Mrs. James. Mitzel's first film at the studio was a Grable starrer and Betty went out of her way to help her.

Remember Mitzel:
"The picture was 'My Blue Heaven.' The script called for the camera to shoot Betty over my shoulder, but she didn't think it was fair. She asked our director to let us play the scene 50-50—with the camera on both of us."

"What other studio would do that with some young chick? Anybody else would have had me upside down so that just my feet showed."

Bataan Survivor Released By Reds In POW Exchange

SAN JOSE, CALIF. —(AP)—Cpl. John L. Dixon, 32, who was released by the Communists Tuesday in Korean prisoner of war exchange, also is a survivor of the Bataan death march of World War II. "It makes me feel just fine," said his father, John A. Dixon.

John enlisted in the Army in 1939 after graduating from high school in Ventura, Calif.

Captured in the fall of Bataan he was a prisoner of the Japanese four years, mostly working in coal mines and dropping from 180 pounds to 90.

After World War II, he left the Army but re-enlisted and went to Korea with the 24th Division. He was wounded, recovered and went back to the front, where he was captured Jan. 3, 1951.

Pirates Take Cargo, Release Freighter

HONG KONG —(AP)—The British freighter Admiral Hardy, which radioed July 29 that she had been boarded by pirates off the Red China coast, Wednesday messaged that she was released last Monday but said "Our cargo was confiscated."

Haymes-Hayworth Gossip Mushrooms

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—An attorney's disclosure Wednesday that crooner Dick Haymes wants a quick divorce gave impetus to gossip romantically linking the singer and actress Rita Hayworth.

S. S. Hahn, attorney for Nora Edington Flynn Haymes, said conferences are continuing as she and Haymes attempt to agree on divorce plans. He said a financial arrangement has been tentatively agreed upon.

Haymes and Miss Hayworth, who divorced Moslem Prince Aly Khan in Reno last January 26, have been dating steadily.

Acts Readied For Olio Part Of Melodrama

Acts for the olio part of the Summer Mummies show, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," are being shaped up for the show's Friday opening, Bill Adams, olio director, said Wednesday.

The hour-long olio, which, according to the dictionary, is the vaudeville part of a show, will feature, among others, a magician and a barbershop quartet. Buck Kirksey, Midland magician who appeared last year, will be back with a new bag of tricks. A magician only in his spare time, Kirksey is a member of the City-Council Health Unit.

Last number on the program will be the traditional barbershop quartet which will lead the community singing.

Curtain-time will be 8:20 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the American Legion Hall.

Tickets are on sale at Albert S. Kelley's, 113 North Colorado Street.

Acting for the olio part of the Summer Mummies show, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," are being shaped up for the show's Friday opening, Bill Adams, olio director, said Wednesday.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

One thing to remember when you're a house guest is not to wait until the last minute to get train, bus, or airline schedules to find out what time of day you are going to leave. Remember it may not matter much to you whether you leave at 7 a.m. or 10 p.m., but it may matter a lot to your host and hostess.

Next to knowing when a house guest is to arrive, the most important thing is knowing when the guest plans to leave.

A warm-weather wardrobe in disciplined cotton might well include these three dresses. Summer playdresses versatile enough to go dancing (left) has narrow top of pineapple tucking, optional shoulder straps and three-cornered stole to tie or drape. We show it in olive green. For city life, this cardigan front dress (center) has shallow, rounded neckline and sleeves that are gathered into tight cuff just below the elbow. We've pictured it in gray. A second sun dress (right) has optional shoestring halter and three-cornered stole. Fabric is dark green cotton dotted in aqua. This dress could also serve for late afternoon or informal summer evenings. All three designs are by Betse Cann in junior sizes.—By Galle Dogas, NEA Woman's Editor.

Alumni Clubs Plan Barbecue

The Stanford and California Clubs of Midland have announced plans to hold a barbecue Saturday in Cole Park for alumni, their families and guests.

Those planning to attend are asked to send in their reservations as early as possible. The price is $1.75. Stanford alumni should make their checks payable to R. L. Parker, 404 West Illinois Street, telephone 2-5606. California alumni should send their checks to L. Swords, Union Oil Company, telephone 4-8231.

Children under 10 years of age will not be served barbecue, club officers said, unless their parents pay the full price for food and refreshments.

Baseball is scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. and the barbecue will be served at 6:30 p.m.

'Bureau Pre-Cancels' Is Program Topic

The Rev. W. R. Mann presented a program on "Bureau Pre-Cancels" Tuesday at the meeting of the Midland Stamp Club in the home of Milward Miller, 604 West Kansas Street.

The club discussed future activities, with particular emphasis on ways to bring in Midland stamp collectors who do not belong to the club. It was announced a swap session will be held August 18, and the next regular meeting will be September 8.

Those attending included Clem E. George, William H. Caster, Horace Skinner, Robert L. Clarke and A. W. Rutter, Jr.

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

Mrs. Al Boring and her daughter, Ann, honored Royce Rae McKee with a "gadget shower" Tuesday evening in the Boring home at 110 Ridgelea Drive.

Miss McKee is the bride-elect of Larry Allen Bedford. They are to be married August 15 in the First Methodist Church, Midland. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKee, 907 West Michigan Street, and Bedford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bedford, 1110 North Big Spring Street.

The bride-elect's colors of American Beauty and ice blue were used in decorations throughout the party rooms. The serving table featured a centerpiece of American Beauty roses and blue carnations.

Guests present included Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Bedford, Camilla Birkhead, Peggy Whitson, Pat Pryor, Wanda Burnside, Toya Chapple, Sue Johnson, Suzanne Young, Diane Moscrop, Carol Dickerson, Lois Black, Nell Cole, Mrs. Boring, Miss Boring, the honoree and three guests from Odessa including Doris Summers, Melba Clark and Dot Graham.

Mrs. Ditzell Is Naomi Hostess

The Naomi Circle of the St. Mark's Methodist Church met Monday in the home of Mrs. Leon Ditzell, 305 East Pine Street.

Mrs. Ned Swallow spoke on the "Purpose of the Woman's Society of Christian Service." Mrs. B. P. Roland gave a reading from Psalms; Mrs. Bill Thomas spoke on "What Methodists Believe," and Mrs. C. S. Aycock, guest speaker from another of the church's circles, gave a brief report on the four studies for the coming year. She was the WSCS representative to the school of missions held recently in Lubbock.

Members decided to accept the suggestion of the United Council of Church Women that they send a duffel bag filled with heavy winter clothing to a foreign country.

It was announced that the Naomi Circle members will be in charge of the special feature of the general WSCS meeting August 24. The next circle meeting will be August 17 in the home of Mrs. Milton Miller, 1907 North Tyler Street.

Mrs. Swallow presided for the meeting and Mrs. Ditzell gave the opening prayer.

Guests were Mrs. Aycock, Mrs. H. M. Schermerhorn and Mrs. Al Sindler.

Remember This New Word

"Motorcide," a new word introduced recently into the English language, should be of vital interest to every motorist.

It is defined as: "The killing of another human being or of one's self through the operation of a motor vehicle—usually the result of negligence or wanton carelessness."

It doubtless is a word which will have to be used all too often in the days, months and years ahead.

"Motorcide" was coined by N. K. Woerner, chief of the Statistical Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, and Lewis E. Berry, supervisor of public education for the Public Safety Department, to refer to traffic fatalities.

The new word made its initial appearance in the Texas Motor Vehicle Traffic Summary booklet issued by the Department of Public Safety.

"Motorcide" in Texas claimed the lives of 2,498 persons during 1952 and 2,546 during 1951," the booklet states. "By the end of 1953 another 2,500 lives will have been lost through the needless and expensive method of 'Motorcide'."

The ultimate solution to the "Motorcide" problem in Texas rests with YOU and only YOU!

Remember this new word when you take to the highway for a Sunday drive or for a vacation trip.

Golf Comes To Stanton

Things are looking up all over... Stanton, the county seat of Martin, now has a golf course.

Our neighboring community to the east went a long time without this "modern convenience," but finally had to give in to the pressure from the boys and girls who like to follow the little white balls over the pasture.

Whether this is good or bad, we wouldn't know, but most communities have at least one and more often two or three golf courses. It is termed progress and we surely are for progress.

At least it will be much easier to determine where the male citizens of Stanton are when they are out of their offices most any afternoon now. FORE!

Some men work hard and save their money so their sons won't have the problems that made men of their fathers.

Don't tell all you know. It's discouraging to learn how little it is.

Now For The Real Magic

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Senator Tobey, on deathbed, sent controversial cancer drug to Taft but doctors did not use it on Ohioan; Flurry of banter as N. Y. 300th-anniversary 50-cent coinage is okayed.

WASHINGTON — The heart-breaking story now can be told of how New Hampshire's crusading Senator Charles Tobey, on his own deathbed, sent a cancer drug to his dying friend, Robert Taft. Senator Taft's doctors did not use it.

Yet the controversial drug, krebiozen, has been used with considerable success on many cancer patients in early stages, and was used to relieve pain with "dramatic success" on two other senators—Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan and Brien McMahon of Connecticut.

The background story is that Tobey's son had cancer and was cured and Tobey had battled with the New England branch of the American Medical Association because he felt they were opposed to some of the newer and more revolutionary treatments for cancer.

Following this, he started a secret Senate investigation of an alleged conspiracy of the American Medical Association to restrict cancer cures.

Because the A.M.A. spends more money influencing Congress in lobbying before that body—$309,514.93 last year, more than any other group besides the utility lobby—Tobey was afraid his probe would be stopped. So he kept it secret even from the Interstate Commerce Committee of which he was chairman.

However, he obtained $40,000 from the Senate to investigate "certain matters in interstate commerce" and hired an expert investigator, Benedict Fitzgerald, to probe the doctors' lobby. Fitzgerald now has drafted a preliminary report which indicates that certain members of the American Medical Association conspired with certain drug companies to suppress krebiozen.

The A.M.A., of course, has the laudible motivation of trying to keep harmful medicines away from the public. However, many doctors, including members of the A.M.A., feel that it has gone a little too far in some of its policies.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

The point of today's hand would be comparatively unimportant at rubber bridge. North would probably play the hand at a contract of four hearts, losing a spade, a heart and a club.

In a tournament, however, it is important to score the maximum on every hand. Hence you sometimes play a hand in no-trump even when you have a fine major suit just because the score for a no-trump contract counts 10 points more than for the same number of tricks at a major suit.

Today's hand is a case in point. South even opened the bidding with one no-trump despite the rather shabby heart holding in order to have the best possible chance to get into a no-trump contract eventually.

West opened the four of spades, and dummy won the first trick with the jack. Declarer led a low club from dummy, East played low, and South won in his own hand with the queen.

South now made a key play by leading the queen of hearts from his own hand. West followed with the singleton jack, and dummy played low. East couldn't afford to win this trick since it was obvious that South still had a heart and would therefore be able to run the rest of dummy's long suit later on.

After some thought, therefore, East refused the trick. It was clear that East held the ace of clubs and that he would hold it to kill dummy's king of clubs. Since there was no side entry to the hearts, declarer decided to abandon the hearts and return to the club.

South led a low club. West followed with the ten, and dummy's king drove out the ace. East returned a spade, and now declarer cashed the ace of spades, the top diamonds, and his two remaining clubs.

By this time South had taken in nine tricks and he could afford to cash dummy's ace of hearts as a tenth trick. This alone would outscore those pairs who played the hand at four hearts instead of four no-trump.

An extra dividend developed, however. By the time South had run all of his tricks, East had only hearts left in his hand. After dummy took the ace of hearts, the ten of hearts forced out East's king, and East was obliged to return a heart to dummy. Declarer therefore made 11 tricks at no-trump, for a very fine score.

With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been: North 1 Heart 1 Spade 2 Clubs Pass 2 Hearts Pass ? You, South, hold: Spades 7-5, Hearts K-9-4, Diamonds 8-3-2, Clubs A-K-J-10-8. What do you do?

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Next Six Months May See President's Program Ready

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The second six months of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Administration may turn out to be a lot more productive than the first.

The first six months largely was a period of organization. The second six months will be a period of planning. And with Congress out of town for its long recess, the atmosphere should be more conducive to good planning.

When the 83rd Congress returns for its next session in January, however, it is apt to be confronted with a stack of blueprints. This will be the Eisenhower program—the program that failed to develop with much clarity in the first six months.

One explanation of Congress' lack of accomplishment might lie in that it was given so little of a constructive nature. The new appointees will be left to Congress with time on its hands for destructive criticism, blowing off steam and playing politics. This made for debate and headlines, but little solid achievement.

The record the Eisenhower Administration makes on which to base its claim for votes in the 1954 elections will have to be made in the coming year.

Organize Executive Agencies By way of preparation, 10 reorganization plans for the executive agencies have been approved. They cover the Departments of State, Defense, Justice and Agriculture. Also the Export-Import Bank, Civil Aeronautics Administration, Council for Economic Advisors, Office of Defense Mobilization and Mutual Security Administration. Finally, a new Department of Health, Education and Welfare has been given Cabinet status.

This probably is only a beginning. A new lease on life has been given to the Commission on Reorganization of Government. It will develop new plans for the summer, working again under the chairmanship of ex-President Herbert Hoover.

Other White House commissions will be on the job making more plans for Congress to check on next year. Among the more important are: a commission on government functions to study the relationship between federal, state and local government; another to study U. S. resources of the future; study foreign trade and tariff policy; and a commission to take another look at universal military training.

Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey has been asked to make recommendations by the end of the year on how to remove inequities from the tax structure and simplify the tax laws. The Treasury is working with the Congressional Committee on Taxation on this project.

A permanent Agricultural Advisory Commission is being set up to replace a temporary organization and it should have ready an Administration farm policy by the year end. The House Agricultural Committee is making a cross-country tour during congressional recess, and it may have some ideas of its own.

A-Bid three hearts. Since you have 11 points in high cards and a good fit for your partner's suit, you are clearly entitled to invite a game. Since you might count points for the doubler and for the king of your partner's bid suit, you would not be criticized for jumping to four hearts.

Two men met on the street. One said, "I hear you've just been made president of the company." "Yes," the first one continued, "Six years ago, when you were just starting with the company, I tried to borrow $10 from you, and you refused. How about loaning me ten now?" "No."

"Well," said the first one, "one thing is sure—success hasn't changed you any."

"Hello!" Archer came over to the sidelines, his smile taking them both in. "Going to stay and see my future big leaguers try to bash in each other's heads and stave in a few ribs against the boards?"

"Such brutal sport!" smiled Avis. "Like wrestling, it always arouses the savage in me and I find myself yelling, 'Kill the bum.' I suppose you've never seen the game played, Lilli?"

"I never have," said Archer. "One side tries to—"

"Some other day, Archer," Lilli hadn't seen him for a long time, and now in his kindly eyes there was a hint of reproach, a look of hurt, of the small boy's "What have I done now?"

He seemed to have forgotten Avis. "Where do you keep yourself?"

"Right here. You know that. I have lots to do—"

"I understand you have a sideline—a literary-criticism."

"Old blabber-mouth Rowan, I'll bet, told you that," said Avis, not to be left out. "Isn't it good of Lilli to give Gavin a hand with his bid for literary fame?"

ARCHER nodded glumly and excused himself to go put on his skates.

"What have you got that I haven't?" Avis followed him with wistful eyes. "I might as well have been a block of ice. You sure can draw them to you."

"Gavin—be's family, you see. I pretend I don't think the Waylands are such a much, but Gavin is tops in my book—and so, in his way, was Giles."

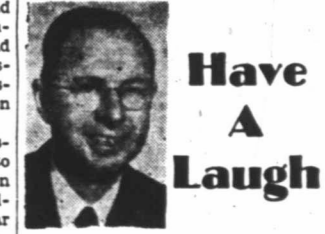

AND there, thought Lilli, you have it right in a small nutshell. Your precious men, your priceless family, I had my say experience with one of them, now if I tell the story of that, after I've let myself fall for this

"What are you doing to Gavin?" she asked in her usual

"There's one thing about a windy day—people see more of each other."

"I'd love it—if it was over me."

Have a Laugh

Two men met on the street. One said, "I hear you've just been made president of the company." "Yes," the first one continued, "Six years ago, when you were just starting with the company, I tried to borrow $10 from you, and you refused. How about loaning me ten now?" "No."

"Well," said the first one, "one thing is sure—success hasn't changed you any."

"Hello!" Archer came over to the sidelines, his smile taking them both in. "Going to stay and see my future big leaguers try to bash in each other's heads and stave in a few ribs against the boards?"

"Such brutal sport!" smiled Avis. "Like wrestling, it always arouses the savage in me and I find myself yelling, 'Kill the bum.' I suppose you've never seen the game played, Lilli?"

"I never have," said Archer. "One side tries to—"

"Some other day, Archer," Lilli hadn't seen him for a long time, and now in his kindly eyes there was a hint of reproach, a look of hurt, of the small boy's "What have I done now?"

He seemed to have forgotten Avis. "Where do you keep yourself?"

"Right here. You know that. I have lots to do—"

"I understand you have a sideline—a literary-criticism."

"Old blabber-mouth Rowan, I'll bet, told you that," said Avis, not to be left out. "Isn't it good of Lilli to give Gavin a hand with his bid for literary fame?"

ARCHER nodded glumly and excused himself to go put on his skates.

"What have you got that I haven't?" Avis followed him with wistful eyes. "I might as well have been a block of ice. You sure can draw them to you."

"Gavin—be's family, you see. I pretend I don't think the Waylands are such a much, but Gavin is tops in my book—and so, in his way, was Giles."

AND there, thought Lilli, you have it right in a small nutshell. Your precious men, your priceless family, I had my say experience with one of them, now if I tell the story of that, after I've let myself fall for this

Beside the Laughing Water

A Romance by LOUIS ARTHUR CUNNINGHAM

THE STORY: The Waylands came a London across Lealey and the death of Giles Wayland during the war. New Lilli Greeme, teacher of English and drama at Edgewood school, sees Avis here! In love with Gavin she is. Giles' widow knew that Lilli is Lealey Gray.

headlong way, without any buildup or finesse. "Why, nothing. I never even see him—not since that night he was at your house and walked me home."

"That's what I mean. Maybe I should have turned my question around—what did Gavin do to you?"

"Really, I don't see—"

"Oh, come on, Lilli! Avis had a wicked look in her eyes. 'Are you afraid of him? Did he try to make love to you and scare you? Haven't you ever met a real man before?'"

"Yes to everything," said Lilli. "Quint character! What seems to be the matter? You've hooked Gavin, I can tell you that. I never thought he'd fall for a woman again, but here you come along and in a few months he's running around all ga-ga about you, while you treat him as rather like the dust beneath thy chariot wheels, the flower beside thy door and all the rest of it. Even the literary aid is done by remote control like one of those 'You Too Can Write' courses. I don't get it."

Lilli was a bit weary of Avis by now. "I came here to teach English, not to fall in love. I'm quite content with my work here—"

"My eye! No girl—certainly not one with your looks—is content without a man or the prospect of one. I wish I knew what was the matter with you. I like Gavin—be's family, you see. I pretend I don't think the Waylands are such a much, but Gavin is tops in my book—and so, in his way, was Giles."

She learned the truth of this soon enough. Avis came to her in the rink where she was watching the girls practice figure-skating—Avis looking darkly lovely in a white fur parka and gay crimson scarf.

"What are you doing to Gavin?" she asked in her usual

"There's one thing about a windy day—people see more of each other."

"I'd love it—if it was over me."

So They Say

No power can long suppress the truth, and the truth is that today a full-scale attack within the immediate future would find Allied Command, Europe, critically weak to accomplish its present mission.

—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, when relinquished command of NATO forces.

If their ideas and governments differ from our own, we must understand their problems before we become too critical. What's good for America is not necessarily good for our allies in the far east.

Looney Withdraws From Ouster Case

AUSTIN —(AP)— State Bar officials have been called to meet here August 13 to decide on action in removal proceedings against District Judge Woodrow Laughlin of Alice.

Bar President Everett Looney of Austin called the meeting Tuesday and withdrew as counsel for the judge.

Looney said his reasons were his health and objections of State Bar officials to his representing Laughlin.

His withdrawal was made in a formal motion filed with the State Supreme Court. Its acceptance was considered routine.

The court agreed last month to investigate removal charges brought against Laughlin by 11 attorneys who practice in his 79th District Court in politically explosive South Texas.

Judge D. B. Wood of Georgetown was appointed master in chancery to take testimony August 17.

Looney said his physician advised him he will not be physically able to act in trial of any contested case until after September 1.

He said two State Bar officials, Vice President R. V. Nichols of Fort Worth and Chairman Vernon Hill of Mission called on him in his hospital room July 30.

They told him, he said, that some of his colleagues among the Bar's directors "felt that it was improper" for the bar president to appear as counsel for Laughlin.

"Out of deference to the wishes of these colleagues," Looney said he wished to withdraw.

Also representing Laughlin is former State Senator C. C. Small, Sr., of Austin.

Looney advised Bar directors and officers by letter of his withdrawal and called them to the meeting at 9:30 a.m. August 13 "to discuss and decide what action, if any," should be taken by the State Bar in the removal proceedings.

FENCEMENDING TO COME LATER—

Congressmen Rush Abroad As Junketing Season Opens

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The congressional junketing season is under way and before it ends next January the American congressman probably will be a familiar figure from the Congo to California.

Not all between-session traveling turns out to be a pleasure jaunt. Despite the jocular treatment reserved for this activity on Capitol Hill, most lawmakers take the inspections with deadly seriousness.

And, instructed by their travels, returning members have been able to legislate on problems which have sometimes stumped the experts.

Probably the most ambitious travels of this year have been charted by the House Agriculture Committee and the Senate Foreign Relations and House Foreign Affairs committees.

The House Agriculture members already are rolling around the country on an arduous bus jaunt that will take them into practically every farm area between now and winter.

Look For Uranium

They are after first-hand information from the grass roots level preparatory to writing new farm support price laws next year.

House Foreign Affairs members will be in the Far East, Near East, South America and Europe before snow flies. Their Senate colleagues tentatively have agreed on travels to Latin America, the Far East and the Middle East.

The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee has tickets for the Belgian Congo to look over uranium mines.

Asia and the Far East will see a House armed forces subcommittee, while two other subcommittees are pointing at Europe.

Even To Korea

House and Senate public works groups probably will cover large parts of the United States and Alaska, as will the Interior Affairs Committee.

Alaskan statehood was one reason for travels thataway. Members of the House Appropriations Committee plan to travel through Asia and Europe to see how our money is being spent abroad.

Two House government operations committees plan to go to Korea to check up on handling of war surplus and Korean rehabilitation.

They Went Thataway

In the United States, the junketing activity will be considerably more varied.

The House Veterans Affairs Committee will be traveling to big city headquarters of the Veterans Administration; the Post Office Committee plans to study post offices in major cities; the Senate Agriculture Committee expects to look into imports of Canadian wheat; the drought and national forests in the Southwest and Northwest; a House judiciary subcommittee goes to Texas City, to study claims arising from an explosion there some years ago.

Then the House Un-American Activities Committee has tentative plans for inquiries outside of Washington, including Michigan.

A House labor subcommittee will send a nine-man group under Chairman McCornell (R-Pa.) into the North and South to study what is being done for the physically handicapped.

Ike, GOP Leaders To Talk Debt Limit Issue Next Fall

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) said after a White House conference Wednesday that leaders of Congress will discuss with President Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey about September 25 the question of a special session to raise the national debt limit.

Knowland, elected Senate majority leader Tuesday, talked with the President soon after Eisenhower's return from the governors' conference at Seattle.

The President requested last week legislation increasing the debt ceiling by $5 billion dollars from the present $75 billion. The House approved his request, but the Senate Finance Committee tabled it, 11-4.

Knowland said leaders will see the President about 10 days after the third quarter tax receipts are known.

These receipts, he said, will be a main factor in determining whether Congress must be called to raise the debt limit before its regular session beginning January 6.

Knowland also discussed with the President the advisability of getting the Administration's program before the next session early enough to spread the work load over six or seven months.

In this way, he said, Congress could avoid piling up major work at the end of the session, as happened last weekend and on many previous windups.

Knowland said he went over with the President the record of this Congress and what may be anticipated for next session. He said he did not take up specifically the President's broadcast Thursday night.

He said he did not discuss the bill on the President's desk repealing the 20 per cent movie admissions tax.

MEN AND WOMEN TAKE OFF FAT

If you have decided to reduce, why not do it pleasantly and easily, without starvation, diet or back-breaking exercises. Just ask your druggist for four ounces of liquid Barcontra. Mix with grapefruit juice as directed on label. Then take according to directions.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Dorrie H. Hooks, 2901 S. 14th St., Abilene, Texas, states she lost 12 pounds taking Barcontra — and Eddie Faye Taylor, 2516 E. 8th St., Amarillo, Texas, wrote us as follows: "I have lost 25 pounds taking the new improved Barcontra and five inches off my waist line. I am very pleased with the results I get from Barcontra. It makes me feel so good and I have so much more energy."

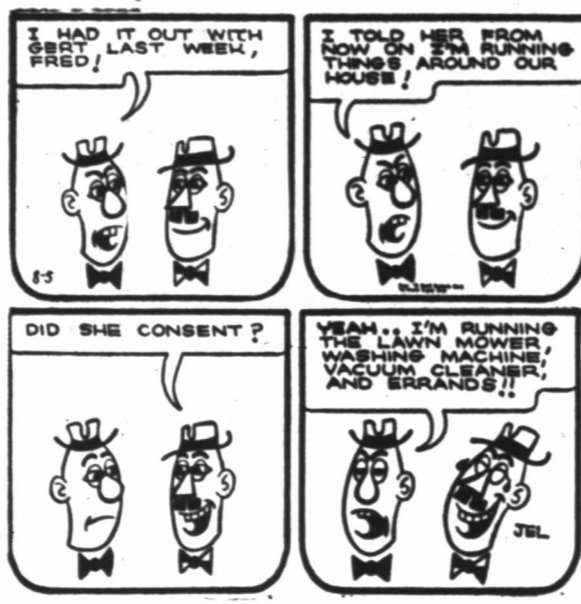

Peiping Radio Blasts Dulles' Korean Aims

TOKYO —(AP)— The Communist Peiping radio Wednesday labeled the talks in Seoul between U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and South Korean President Syngman Rhee an attempt to manipulate the post-armistice Korean political conference.

The broadcast accused Dulles of trying to "hypnotize the Allies and world opinion to cover up his schemes to manipulate the political conference together with Rhee."

Reds Spurn Protest On Lost B-50, Deny Knowledge Of Crew

LONDON —(AP)— Moscow radio said Wednesday the Soviet Union has spurned a United States protest against the shooting down of an American bomber off Siberia July 29.

The broadcast quoted a Russian note as saying the Moscow government had no knowledge of the 16 men missing aboard the U. S. plane.

The big B-50 bomber was forced into the sea. Only one of the 17 crewmen was rescued by an American Naval vessel but the United States has said it had information others may have been picked up by Russian craft.

The Moscow broadcast quoted the Soviet note as declaring the American protest "completely groundless." It had been filed by Washington officials after an earlier Russian charge that the U. S. bomber had flown over Soviet territory and opened fire on Russian jet fighters.

The United States denied the charge and claimed that the Russian MIG jets had attacked the bomber 40 miles out over the Sea of Japan.

The new Soviet note declared the Russian government "has in its possession no information whatever about the U. S. aircraft, which withdrew in the direction of the sea, or about its crew."

Platte Oil Pipe Line Dedication Scheduled

CASPER, WYO.—(AP)— The 1,149-mile Platte oil pipe line, one of the longest in the United States, will be dedicated Saturday.

The ceremonies will be held at the main pump station four miles west of here. One of the principal speakers will be Senator Hugh Butler (R-Neb.), chairman of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

The pipe line runs from Cutham, near Worland, Wyo., to Wood River, Ill.

Brave Mother Leaps Into Well, Rescues 19-Month-Old Son

GREENVILLE, S. C.—(AP)— A gallant mother defied injury and death when she leaped into a 63-foot well to save her 19-month-old son, who had fallen in it Tuesday.

Mrs. Thelma Eshleman jumped down the well into four feet of water to rescue her son, Teddy. They were pulled out by firemen and policeman with a hose roller.

Mrs. Eshleman said she was preparing to wash the porch. "I had taken the cap off the well and had gone to look at the chickens when the older children came around the corner and said Teddy had fallen in."

She said she remembered nothing about jumping into the well.

The child was scratched and bruised, but otherwise uninjured. The mother also was uninjured.

Indigestion Shoves Aside Bamboo's Birthday Plans

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Bamboo, the Philadelphia Zoo's most publicized ape, was 27 years old Wednesday, but his birthday party has been canceled.

The middle-aged (comparable age of a human being: 64), gray-haired gorilla's usually nasty disposition has been aggravated by a stomach disorder.

Consequently, there will be no cake made of Bamboo's favorite cereals; no tempting watermelon with banana candies to hurl at passers-by — a sport the lean, tough ape takes to with indiscreet delight.

Bamboo's normal diet of grain, fruit and vegetables to keep him trim and healthy was upset by some ununiformed visitor who tossed other food into the cage the other day.

Bamboo arrived at the zoo in 1927 as a scrawny infant. Experts figured he had not long to live. Curator of Mammals Frederick A. Ulmer, Jr., credits his survival to his rigid diet. Now Bamboo is the biggest, strongest, largest and, probably, meanest gorilla in captivity.

His keeper insists it isn't captivity that's given him such a distorted outlook toward the human race.

"He just has an unfortunate personality," he said. "You must know plenty of people like him."

To Renew the Spirit Which Built Our Country

... Faith in Ourselves

Since the beginning long, long ago at Valley Forge and on Bunker Hill, Americans have had reason to be proud of their country — and themselves.

From the valleys, the mountains, the plains — from all the States of the Union — they have come to stand wherever blood wrote our history!

And not in war only: But in peace and in the good, clean work of the farm and factory, we have given of ourselves that our nation might prosper.

Americans have cause to be proud — to have faith in themselves.

Sometimes these days, it seems, some of us forget the proud company we have joined . . . forget the brave names on monuments where bronze blackens with weather . . . forget the great deeds graven in granite.

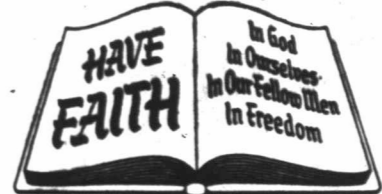

Haven't we cause to have faith?

Haven't we the duty to have faith in ourselves — and to let the world know it?

Each of us can help revive the spirit which built our country — by placing Faith in God . . . in Ourselves . . . in Our Fellow Men . . . and in Freedom.

Each of us can help revive the spirit which built our country by keeping these Four Great Faiths and by proclaiming them to the world — not always in words, but surely always in deeds.

Write today for a copy of the article, "Our Four Great Faiths", and for reprints of this advertisement. Mail request to: J. B. Shores, Director, Employee-Public Relations, Texas and Pacific Railway, Dallas, Texas. No charge, of course.

Artesia Waylays Odessa By 7 To 3

ARTESIA —(P)—Artesia was never headed here Tuesday night as the Drillers defeated the Odessa Oilers for the second night in a row here.

The Drillers downed the Oilers, 7-3, Tuesday with only one inning resulting in more than a single run for either team. Artesia plated three men in the seventh.

Wes Ortiz gave up 12 hits to the Drillers as Len Ruyle for Artesia allowed Odessa batsmen eight, well scattered. Ortiz wasn't in much trouble until the seventh, when the Drillers got three runs off three hits from the third hurler. One run was scored on a wild throw to second base, however, and another man came in on a fielder's choice.

Midland Swim Team Building Bigger Roster

The JayCee's Midland swimming team, about 20 strong at present, plans to build a much larger entry for the two-day Junior Olympics meet at Odessa Friday and Saturday.

W. S. (Bill) Montgomery, swim team director, said Wednesday the JayCees are attempting to gather on the squad a number of swimmers who currently plan to compete as individuals. "We want to make the Midland team as strong as possible. A lot of swimmers have been seeking information with the meet director Bob Clark before considering swimming on a team."

"We want to get them all in our group," he said.

Any swimmer, 16 and under, wanting to join the Midland club can contact Montgomery at phone number 2-5267 to get into the Odessa meet. It will be held at night both Friday and Saturday at the Ector County pool.

The Midland roster, Montgomery said, must be made up before 4 p.m. Thursday.

Guerra Trips Ashers, 9-2

CARLSBAD, N. M. —(P)—San Angelo exploded for five runs in the third inning to sew up a 9-2 victory over the Carlsbad Potashers Tuesday night. Old Guerra went the distance for the Colts.

The Potashers' big blow was a homer by Merv Conners in the first inning. In the sixth inning, Pitcher Audie Malone protested a strike, and Umpire Tex Harper ejected Malone and Manager Pat McLaughlin, who also protested.

A crowd of 2,000 saw the Colts grab a 2-1 lead in the second inning on singles by Rudy Briner, John Malgrain and Dick Stone.

In the third inning, the Colts went to work in earnest. Briner was hit by a pitched ball, Bill Winn tripled, and Dick Stone drew a walk. That was all for Starter Gene Wulf.

Malone came on and walked Guerra and Joe Nudson, new Potashers catcher, threw wild to third, in a bid to nail Morales. The throw let Morales score.

The Colts were then subdued until the eighth inning when they added another pair of runs.

Mallett-Led South Made Cage Choice

HOUSTON —(P)—Schoobly basketball squads wind up practice Wednesday for the annual All-Star game of the Texas Coaching School with the South a pronounced favorite to win its third game in a series starting back in 1946.

The South, coached by Buster Brannon of Texas Christian, boasts an advantage in height and scoring power and features Jerry Mallett, the great South Park (Beaumont) player; Ellis Olinstead, 6-9 1/2 center from Galveston, and peppery Jack McCall of Temple, who has become the apple of Brannon's eye.

The North hinges its attack around Dick O'Neal of Poly (Fort Worth) a 6-6 youngster who averaged 24 points per game in the last season. And it may have as much speed as the South with Ramon Towry of Vernon beginning to push his way into the starting lineup. Towry impressed Coach Bill Henderson of Baylor greatly in workouts Tuesday.

The game, scheduled for Thursday night at Rice gymnasium, is due to draw 2,500 fans.

The coaches indicated they would start these lineups:

South—Jerry Mallett, South Park (Beaumont), and Jack McCall, Temple, forwards; Ellis Olinstead, Galveston, center; Jim Swink, Rusk, and Glen Fields, Big Sandy, guards; North—Fred Woods, Pampa, and Delbert Shofner, Center, forwards; Dick O'Neal, Poly (Fort Worth), center; Melvin Wright, Amarillo, and Jim Skinner, Irving, guards.

Garland Bishop Out As Abilene Official

ABILENE —(P)—Garland Bishop, business manager of the Abilene Blue Sox of the West Texas-New Mexico League, was relieved of his duties here Tuesday.

Manager Herschel Martin of the Blue Sox had resigned Monday and assumed the manager's post with the Berger club of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Indians Split With Rockets, Invade Artesia Wednesday

ROSWELL —(P)—Wayne Crawford delivered a line single to plate Ricky Gonzales with the winning run in the ninth inning here Tuesday night as the Roswell Rockets nudged Midland, 4-3, to take a split in their doubleheader. Midland won the first game, 7-3.

After each team had hoisted numerous scoring opportunities, Crawford lined a single into right field and Gonzales raced in from second with the winning run, bringing with him one of the hottest rhabarbs of the season.

Mickey Diaz lined a perfect throw to the plate, but Plate Umpire Helton Ustad ruled that Gonzales had brushed the plate with his hand before Catcher Art Bowland put the ball on him, bringing a wild, furious, but short-lived argument between the entire Midland team.

The Indians took full advantage of shoddy Rocket fielding to notch an easy win in the first game behind Max Newcom. Five Roswell errors, a pair of passed balls and generally poor defensive play made it easy for the Indians.

In the nightcap, the Indians hopped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Glen Selbo singled in a pair. Art Bowland had walked and Julio de la Torre doubled him to third to set the stage for Selbo's blow.

Low Dawson's lead off homer in the third gave them a 3-0 advantage before Roswell finally found the range on Ralph Atkinson.

Atkinson had allowed only a bunt single before Roswell rushed in three runs in the fourth on singles by Crawford, Buddy Grimes, Al Costa and Al Valdes and a Midland error. And it stayed there, tied at 3-3.

to force the game, scheduled for only seven innings, into an overtime. Roswell's ninth inning run came with none out. Gonzales led off with his sixth hit of the night, a single, and took second when Bill Wollett gained life on Scooter Hughes' throwing error. Crawford then singled him in.

The winning blow came off Releifer Mike Rainey, who turned in a brilliant piece of fireman work in the seventh to prolong it. With the bases loaded and none out, Rainey came on to put out the fire without trouble.

Midland moves to Artesia for two games Wednesday and Thursday.

Russians Claim Power Lawnmower Invention

The Soviet Russian News Agency "Tass" in an official announcement of merit, awarded the Grand Star of the Bolshevik, Russia's highest honor, to Joseph Stalin Doak-sinski for the invention of what is described as "a power operated device for the trimming and leveling of grass." It is to be presumed that this verbage must indicate that, at last, the USSR has discovered the joys of the power lawnmower. We imagine that this tool will not be popular in the East, as it evidently will smack of capitalism.

We would like to get "Tass" straight on the matter, however. It was not Comrade Doak-sinski who was first with the power mower. The first successful power mower was built in a backyard workshop in the United States of America, by a Norwegian immigrant boy, Knud Jacobsen. Knud, even as you and I, thought that lawnmowing was too great a task, and set his mechanical skill to the perfection of an engine operated device to do the chore for him. As so often happens, those that see his machine perform wanted one like it, and before Lenin could have said "Vodka," the Jacobsen Manufacturing Company was born and power lawnmowers have poured forth in a steady stream for more than thirty years.

We are proud to be associated with such a company and we invite you to try a Jacobsen Power Mower on your own lawn at our risk!

Dallas Tennis Vet Wins In Nationals

ALLENTOWN, PA. —(P)—Defending champion Mel Dragna of Seattle, Wash., had to rally to win his first match in the opening of the National Senior Tennis Tournament at the Oakmont Tennis Club Tuesday.

The 50-year-old champion downed veteran Earle Frey of Lancaster, Pa., 1-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Bernard Clinton, Dallas, second-ranked senior player nationally, defeated Bernard Leitheiser, Wyoming, Pa., 6-0, 6-3 in the first round and handily downed Murray Gould of Lancaster, Pa., 6-0, 6-2 in his second-round match.

In other matches:
Harold Zehner, Reading, Pa., defeated John Hoff, Dallas, 8-6, 9-7.
K. Spriggs, Washington, D. C., defeated W. H. Ball, El Paso, 6-2, 6-2.

James L. Lucas of 110 W. Pine Street, has been named local agent for the State Farm Insurance Companies, it was announced here today by Mr. H. P. Childress, of San Angelo, Texas, District Manager.

Mr. Lucas will represent the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company, largest writer of broad coverage auto insurance, State Farm Life and State Farm Fire are companion companies of State Farm Mutual, the State Farm Life being one of the fastest growing companies of its kind in the world.

The first of the State Farm Insurance Companies was organized in 1922. Since that time the Companies have expanded to where they operate now in 29 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. State Farm Mutual has more than 2,000,000 policyholders and more than 6,500 representatives throughout its area of operation.

In announcing that his business would be carried on at 110 W. Pine Street, Mr. Lucas said that he was prepared to offer complete insurance service to the residents of this community in an organization that has long been known, not only for its service but for its economical cost to its policyholders.

Giles Calls For Crackdown On 'Dusters' Following Tiff

MILWAUKEE —(P)—Managers Charlie Grimm of the Milwaukee Braves and Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers were warned Tuesday by National League President Warren Giles that umpires in the current series will order removal of any pitcher they think is throwing a duster.

Grimm, asked about Giles' directive, said, "It's the usual order after a fracas like the one Monday night. I put it on the bulletin board where all the players will see it."

Dressen said, "It won't affect me because I never tell my pitchers to throw dusters."

Braves and Dodgers surged out of the dugouts Monday night as Milwaukee Pitcher Lew Burdette and Dodger Catcher Roy Campanella squared off after Burdette struck Campanella out. The husky negro backstop had to hit the dirt twice to avoid pitched balls, and he said Burdette insulted his race. Burdette denied it and said Campanella did the name calling.

Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn club, commented here Tuesday that Giles' directive is a step toward what he thinks is a needed change in baseball rules. "If the umpire thinks a pitcher is sufficiently wild to endanger the batter or the catcher or umpire," he said, "he should have the power to have that pitcher removed, without going into the matter of intent."

The rule requiring the umpire to rule on the pitcher's intent is too difficult to enforce, O'Malley said. "Intent is a very serious thing," he added. "You're accusing a man of trying to do something malicious, something dangerous. The rule ought to be changed to avoid that."

George Kell, third baseman for the Boston Red Sox, tied a major league record by playing 157 games at third base in 1950.

Phils' Roberts Cops No. 19

By BEN PHEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The Robin Roberts express is running right on a schedule that could make the young Philadelphia pitcher the major leagues' first 30-game winner in 19 seasons.

The strong-armed right-hander has stepped up his tremendous pace of last year—when he won 28 and lost seven—by almost two weeks. And he's improved in almost every measurable pitching department in doing so.

Roberts won his nineteenth game Tuesday night, a five-hit, 2-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. He's lost seven. At this same point a year ago he had a 16-6 record.

He has pitched 35 more innings and eight more complete games. He's struck out 36 more than a year ago while walking only 17 more. He's given up 39 more hits but he has a lower earned-run average, 2.35 to 2.48.

The last 30-game winner was Dizzy Dean back in 1924. He appeared in 50 games that season but completed only 24. Roberts already has completed 26.

A good fast ball pitcher Roberts had his control working to near perfection against the Cardinals Tuesday night. Back-to-back doubles by Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter produced a St. Louis run in the first inning, but from then on it was all Roberts. He struck out seven and walked two.

As usual, Roberts' victory came when the Phils sorely needed it. By winning, they pulled a game and a half ahead of the first-place Cardinals. Had they lost they would have dropped to fourth.

Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati, 2-1, and Chicago posted another defeat on the stumbling New York Giants, 3-2. League-leading Brooklyn was held by rain in Milwaukee.

In the American League the "haves" beat the "have nots" in four battles between first and second division teams.

The New York Yankees crushed Detroit, 15-0. Chicago whipped Philadelphia, 8-3. Cleveland defeated Washington, 3-0, and Boston got an eight-game losing streak beating St. Louis, 6-2.

The Yankees lead Chicago by five games and Cleveland by seven and a half.

We Raschl, one of the league's better pitchers, broke a major league batting record. He drove in seven of the New York runs against Detroit, an all-time high for hitting pitchers. The previous best was six.

Greeted with the bases loaded on each of his first three trips to the plate, Raschl delivered two runners in the second inning with a single, three in the third with a double and two more with another single. On his fourth trip, with nobody on base, he grounded out.

Chuck Stobbs of the Senators held Cleveland to five hits but the Indians managed to bunch three of these in the eighth inning to score all of their runs. Mike Garcia posted victory No. 13. He, too, gave up five safeties.

Chicago reports claim all is not well with the White Sox but the Athletics didn't notice it. The Sox, who had succumbed to the A's 10 times in 13 meetings, exploded for six runs in the fourth inning. Virgil Trucks won his ninth game since joining Chicago with a four-hit performance.

Boston came from behind in the eighth to trim the Browns. Floyd Baker, who once played for St. Louis, doubled with the bases loaded during the rally that gave Maury McDermott his eleventh victory.

The Pirates' victory at Cincinnati ended a four-game winning streak for the Redlegs. Danny O'Connell tripled home the two Pittsburgh runs in the eighth against loser Jackie Collum. Error Face and Murry Dickson held the Reds to four hits.

Only three home runs were hit in seven games and two of them came in the New York-Chicago contest. Clyde McCullough hit one for the Cubs and Monte Irvin for the Giants. Gil McDougald of the Yankees got the third one. Sal Maglie drew the New York loss, seventh in nine games for the Giants on the current Western road trip.

LEGION NINES RESLATE GAME

The American Legion baseball all-star squads, from the four Midland teams, reset their final game for 5:30 p.m. Thursday at Borden Field after rain canceled the encounter Tuesday.

Players from the winning Westerners and fourth-place Eagles make up one team while Brooks Stores and Hornet players form the other.

Jesse Hatfield probably will start Thursday for the Westerners-Eagles against either Lonnie Howard or Dale Jobe.

Four Returnees On Ryder Squad

CHICAGO—(AP)—Only four hold-over golfers from the previous squad have been named to the Ryder Cup team which will represent the United States against Great Britain in the 1953 matches at Wentworth, England, October 2-3.

The 10-man U. S. team named Tuesday by the Professional Golfers Association of America includes:

Jim Turnesa and Walter Burkemo, automatically selected as winners of the 1952 and 1953 PGA championships; Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Dave Douglas, Jack Burke, Jr., Ed (Porky) Oliver, Cary Middlecoff, Fred Haas, Jr., and Ted Kroll.

Only Snead and Mangrum, of the 1953 team, were on the U. S. squad which last met England in 1949. Snead, Burke, Oliver and Mangrum were the only holdovers from the last Ryder Cup unit which competed at Pinehurst, N. C., in 1951.

96 Golfers To Play In Goldsmith Tourney

GOLDSMITH—The fourth annual Goldsmith Invitational Golf Tournament, to be staged here August 22-23, will restrict its field to 96 entries, officials have announced.

Arthur W. Shaw, club secretary-treasurer, said that the Goldsmith Country Club has extended an invitation to the first 96 players to post qualifying scores and a $5 entry fee before 5 p.m., August 21.

The competition for medalist awards gets underway at 1 p.m. August 22 with the first matches starting at 7 a.m. the next day.

Little Leaguers Rally For Victory

PLAINVIEW—A spunky Midland South Little League All-Star team bids for the district championship here at 5:30 p.m. Wednesday against Lubbock's Northwest League stars.

Midland gained the finals only by a brilliant comeback when it subdued Lamesa, 4-3, in the seventh, and extra, inning.

Until the sixth, good fielding by the Lamesa nine protected its hurler, Barr, in his scoreless pitching duel with Jimmy Brunson of the South club. Lamesa then broke the scoring ice in the last round for a seemingly insurmountable three runs lead.

North Tutor Impressed By Larry Friday's Blocking

HOUSTON—(AP)—Football squads preparing for the All-Star game of the Texas Coaching School had their roughest work yet Tuesday and the scrimmage sessions produced some new prospects for stardom.

Coch Johnny Vaught of Mississippi, tutoring the favored South, liked the way Reuben Saage, hard-running back from Bellville, performed Saage tore into the line like a truck, offering a serious threat on the ground to the North's peace of mind.

Teaming with the passing of Doyle Traylor of Temple, Saage made the South a heavier favorite than ever to whip the North in the game Friday night at Rice Stadium.

Little Bobby Morris of Seymour was the sensation of the North workout Tuesday afternoon as he roamed far and wide through the so-called first team in a tough scrimmage session promoted by Coach Dallas Ward of Colorado.

Ward also was greatly impressed with the terrific blocking of Larry Friday of Midland, due to start for the North in its bid to beat the ponderous and versatile South.

Ivy Dean Hunt of Bartlett, hard-working guard on the South squad, suffered a bruised hip in the scrimmage but it was not serious and Hunt will be available for service in the game.

Southpaw Joe Muir, former pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, quit the Hollywood Stars in the Pacific Coast League to become a state trooper in Maryland. He had a 5-2 record when he left the club.

Vanguard Of India's Repatriation Group Departs For Korea

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—The vanguard of India's delegation on the Korean Repatriation Commission left Wednesday for the war-torn peninsula to prepare for the task of screening prisoners who do not wish to return to their homelands.

Foreign Secretary R. K. Nehru, leader of the 12-member advance group, told newsmen at the airport he would consult both United Nations and Communist commanders on arrangements for the commission's work.

Maj. Gen. S. P. P. Thorat, Indian Army chief of staff, who will command Indian forces guarding the prisoners, said about 5,000 troops now are assembling at Jhansi, in Central India, for Korean service. They are expected to leave about August 28.

GOP Solons Aiken, Capehart Eye Foreign Relations Post

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) said Wednesday he has about decided to take one of the vacant places on the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee in the next session of Congress.

This appeared to make it virtually certain the two openings would go to Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) and either Aiken or Senator Flanders (R-Vt.).

Capehart, who has indicated he plans as of now to go on the committee, voted against the foreign aid program this year. Aiken and Flanders have supported the Administration's foreign programs generally.

The foreign relations group will have a particularly important role to play in the session beginning next January 6.

The Mutual Security Act, under which overseas military and economic assistance is authorized, expires next June 30. It will be up to the committee, along with its House counterpart, to make the initial decision as to whether to extend it.

The vacancies on the Senate group are caused by the recent deaths of Senators Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and Charles W. Tobey (R-NH).

A decision by Aiken to go on the committee would have the effect of shutting out Flanders, who also has expressed keen interest in the post.

The committee posts probably will not be filled again until January.

Seniority governs the assignments

Aiken now ranks fifth in this respect on the Republican side of the Senate. The only two ahead of him who are not on the committee—Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Hugh Butler (R-Neb)—have not indicated any plans to change their present committee places. Each senator is entitled to two committee assignments.

Capehart is tenth in seniority, Flanders fifteenth.

Aiken said he plans to keep his Agriculture Committee post—he is chairman of that group—and give up his seat on the Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

Capehart would keep his Banking Committee post—he heads it—and drop off the Interstate Commerce Committee.

Other Republicans who have been eyeing a foreign relations post include Bricker (Ohio), Ives (NY), Jenner (Ind.), McCarthy (Wis) and Malone (Nev.), in that order of seniority.

BERT SCRIVNER

Scrivner To Study At Berkley School

Bert Scrivner, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Scrivner, 1002 Johnson Street, will leave Midland "in a few days" to continue his study for the ministry at Golden Gate University, Berkeley, Calif.

Scrivner, a licensed Baptist minister and a member of Westside Baptist Church, received his bachelor of arts degree last June from Hardin Simmons University, Abilene.

He is a 1948 graduate of Midland High School, and attended a business school in Midland before entering Hardin Simmons.

Scrivner and his wife, Wanda, will make their home in California following his four years at the university.

Eccles Criticizes Hard Money Policy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Marriner S. Eccles, frequent critic of the Truman Administration's money policy, now says the Eisenhower Administration is heading too fast in the opposite direction.

The former Federal Reserve Board member has written Senator Douglas (D-Ill.):

"The extremely tight and hard money policy . . . since the new Administration took office seems unjustified and to have gone too far . . ."

Eccles, a lifelong Republican, used to contend Truman's money policy contributed to inflation. Now a Utah banker, he was asked by Douglas for his opinion of present government fiscal policies. The senator made public the reply Tuesday.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And How Uncle Bunkum Was Caught

Many people have asked me how it happened that Uncle Bunkum was caught by the Monkey Catcher and taken away to live at the zoo. It happened a long time ago when Uncle Bunkum was only a monkey boy, and Daddy Ringtail, our monkey friend, was only a boy himself.

Daddy Ringtail stopped the swinging of Uncle Bunkum. He began to get ready to run. He asked:

Uncle Bunkum please, please to jump right down from the swing and do some running himself. "Hurry!" cried Mother Ringtail, but Uncle Bunkum didn't hurry. He didn't get down from the swing. He said he was hungry and he wished someone would bring him a sandwich of scrambled coconut to eat. And all the while he was sitting there with Mother Ringtail and Daddy Ringtail asking him please to get down from the swing and run. A voice was shouting from down by the river: "I am the Monkey Catcher. I am, I am, and I'm going to catch me a monkey and take it home to my zoo." The Monkey Catcher was the someone doing the shouting, of course, and he was coming nearer, nearer.

Daddy Ringtail hid in some bushes when he saw that Uncle Bunkum wouldn't run. Mother Ringtail hid there with him. They waited to see what was going to happen. It happened, all right, all right. There came the Monkey Catcher. "Happy day!" said Uncle Bunkum from where he sat in the swing with his tall swooshing along on the ground. "I'm the Monkey Catcher. I am, I am," the Monkey Catcher said, "and I'm going to catch me a monkey for my zoo."

Knee-Peeking Dior Gets No Sympathy In Midland

By TRACY FLIKER
Reporter-Telegram Staff

skirts (should they be several inches shorter or not?) has found Midland's ladies ready with their answer which is almost unanimously a booming protest that things should stay the way they are.

Ann Tipton

Martha Kerlin

Dior's "live line" as he dictated it in Paris.

A street to sidewalk and office to coffee shop canvases here revealed that most Midland ladies aren't the slightest bit interested in revealing more of their legs or going along with Dior, Hattie Caranegie or others for the sake of being fashionable.

These Midland office girls, housewives and career women apparently are more practical about the matter, one reason possibly being that a new wardrobe could be expensive.

However, the biggest vote for the present length of the skirts, which average 12 to 14 inches from the floor, is that it has proved to be the most comfortable—both mentally and physically.

Many Midland women chorused that when they used to try to sit down in one of the short skirts they had a fight on their hands to keep the hemline from going over their knees — which is one worry that some men probably will never come to understand fully.

"No Harm In Admiring How do the men feel about it? How much influence their vote may have is anybody's guess but Patrolman E. S. Crisp of the Midland Police Department had this to say:

"I'd like to see them higher. Personally I always have liked the shorter skirts better. These long skirts look too old-timey."

Crisp, who walks a downtown beat, concluded, "There are very few women that pass who don't get at least one look from a man. And when a little more leg is showing they usually get several looks. Why shouldn't they? They're supposed to look feminine and everybody knows that there is no harm in admiring pretty legs. The men like it and the women like it."

Barber And The Beauty E. D. Shaw, Midland barber, expressed much the same sentiment, adding that although dresses "are not at a bad length now, they could stand being a couple of inches shorter — just a little under the knees."

Diplomatically he added that the problem is one for each girl to decide herself.

"Short dresses are a real credit to some girls and a handicap to others," he said.

But back to the votes that count.

Carole Loop

Grace Weatherall

Ann Tipton, who runs her own secretarial service as well as designing and making her own clothes, says she isn't "just about to throw away all my clothes and make new ones to conform."

"Hiddeous" With Knees Here are a few candid opinions of other secretaries around Midland.

Grace Weatherall — "I'll never wear them short again."

Elsie Plicks — "I think the present length of about 12 inches is the most attractive."

Betty Brown — "Mine will stay long."

Martha Kerlin — "The medium length, about 14 inches, is best for me."

One secretary came forward with the opinion that short skirts will look "hiddeous" with high heels whereas the present lengths make for a "very attractive and presentable figure."

Carole Loop, Midland High School senior, says she likes skirts fairly long, "about 12 inches from the floor."

Males Scratch Heads All this business about skirt lengths seems pretty amusing to the average male who has watched the styles go every which way for years—including sideways. But for women it is a serious issue ranking possibly a little higher than the ups and downs of the world.

A thought provoking reminder from the past is the way women complained so loudly when skirts started showing the feminine ankle and gradually crept up to the knee line years ago. Then another kerfuffle wall went up from the multitude when skirts worked their way down from the knee to mid-calf length after World War II.

When the curtain goes down on the latest act in this perpetual drama of the hemline, possibly the skirts will go up again. Anybody taking bets?

Appeal Lodged In Avary Case

MONAHANS — Aggravated assault conviction and subsequent $750 fine assessed against Ward District Clerk J. C. Avary will be appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin, probably in October, Defense Attorney Murray Howe has announced.

The appeals court is now in recess and it is thought unlikely that the Avary case will come up before October.

Motion for a new trial was overruled Saturday by County Judge Carl D. Estes. The hearing was set originally for July 27, but was postponed until July 29 at Avary's request. Estes then put off his decision until Saturday, asking more time to review the transcript of testimony.

Avary's conviction and fine grew out of charges by Velma Powell, Monahans telephone operator and Korean War widow, that he and Mrs. Avary beat her February 14. Charges against Mrs. Avary, however, were dropped.

Midlanders Attend Company Barbecue

MALJAMAR, N. M.—At least 12 Midlanders were on hand here Saturday for the annual Buffalo Oil Company barbecue, where approximately enough, buffalo steaks were served.

Midlanders attending included Mr. and Mrs. Kirt Espy, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Taubman and Sherman, W. E. Scott, Susan and Ricker, Mac Barnes and Betty, Miss Shackley and Margaret Riely.

Representatives from the Tulsa, Dallas, Midland, Artesia and Maljamar offices heard speakers discuss company progress and new projects now underway by Buffalo Oil. Television was shown during the barbecue.

War's Ravages Can't Dim Beautiful German Scenery

By J. H. ALLISON
Special Correspondent

WIESBADEN, GERMANY — People never again would engage in war if they could see the devastation which has been wrought in this country.

Buildings damaged, great cathedrals ruined and blocks of houses blown away. Many war casualties — men minus arms and legs — seen on the streets.

Germany has not had the money to rebuild as they have in Holland and Belgium under Marshall Plan funds. The Germans, however, have not lost their spirit and they are rebuilding as they can. Most of them are industrious, working 14 and 15 hours a day.

Beautiful countryside as we sailed down the Rhine from Cologne to Koblenz and on to Wiesbaden. We passed many old fortifications and visited one of our cemeteries where 8,400 of our men who were killed in the Battle of the Bulge are interred. Some day people will outlast war with all its horrors.

Vineyards are much in evidence along the Rhine, with people busy tending their grapes.

The population of the Wiesbaden area is in excess of 230,000. Railroads do a big business and there is large volume of river shipping. The United States Air Force has a large installation here.

The shops are doing a thriving business as a result of the tourist trade, but the clerks are not as courteous as in England and Holland.

Gasoline, incidentally, sells for 65 cents a gallon here. Beautiful scenery everywhere — something the war did not destroy.

$150,000 Project Asked In Andrews

ANDREWS — A four-point Andrews $150,000 bond issue petition has been accepted by the Commissioners Court here.

A second petition, however, may be in order since, said Judge Milton Ramsey, the court feels a larger amount may be needed to finance the four projects now under study.

Advice from architects and finance experts will pave the way for future plans. Need of more funds would necessitate filing a new petition.

The projects and the amounts now set include erection and furnishing of an agricultural and mineral exhibit building, $95,000; park improvement of a county golf course (with grass greens), $40,000; park improvement of stock and rodeo grounds, $12,000; and park improvement of the Andrews County baseball field (including fences, bleachers and sodding), $3,000.

Two Brothers Die When Car Stalls In Death Valley

LONE PINE, CALIF. — The bodies of two brothers were found Tuesday in Death Valley near Bad Water, lowest point in the nation and one of the hottest.

Sheriff Charles Cline said Charles Henry Ludlow III, 20, and Randall Casey Ludlow, seven, died of the heat or thirst after their car stalled.

The two had left their San Diego home Saturday to drive to Death Valley National Monument.

Cline said all vehicles entering the area are checked carefully to determine that they have enough gas and that the Ludlow car apparently stopped with a vapor lock.

Temperature in the area—280 feet below sea level—was 110 Tuesday.

Youth's Vacation Junket Cut Short

PEORIA, ILL. —(AP)—The vacation trip of two Peoria 16-year-olds was brief but eventful.

Thomas Snyder and Phil de Arcos loaded their auto with camping equipment Tuesday and started out for Brainerd, Minn. Two blocks away, both boys heard cooking gear clanking in the back seat. Both turned to see what was happening. The auto knocked over a utility pole.

Snyder was injured. De Arcos was charged by police with inattention.

NEW MEXICANS HERE Mr. and Mrs. Harry Starkey of Carlsbad, N. M., were business visitors in Midland Monday.

Pioneer Air Lines To Serve Snyder

DALLAS—The Civil Aeronautics Board has notified Pioneer Lines that it can serve Snyder on the route from Dallas-Fort Worth to Midland instead of on the route from Dallas-Fort Worth to Lubbock and New Mexico.

Gen. Robert J. Smith, Pioneer president, said service to Snyder would start as soon as the necessary ground and communications equipment can be obtained.

The CAB decision came as the result of a Pioneer application for reconsideration. In the earlier decision, the Board awarded Pioneer authorization to stop at Snyder between Abilene and Lubbock's Pioneer's Dallas-Fort Worth to Albuquerque route.

asked that this be changed so that Snyder could be served on the Dallas-Fort Worth to Midland route. The City of Snyder agreed to this change.

Under the new Civil Aeronautics Board order, Pioneer will provide a minimum of two roundtrips daily to each of the three intermediate points between Midland and Abilene—Sweetwater, Snyder and Big Spring—and must stop at two of the three cities on all flights.

Lawyer's Admitting Tax Fix For Demo Fund Stuns Panel

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House investigators were stumped momentarily Wednesday by a lawyer's bland testimony that he raised $30,000 for the Democratic Party in 1948 through a fee paid him for helping a businessman win a favorable tax ruling.

Moisture—

The other lightning victim, Alfred Arnold, 2114 West Fifth Street, escaped injury when knocked half-way across the room where he was sitting when the lightning struck.

Rains ranging from one to three inches fell over a narrow strip through Fisher County. Palava reported up to three inches in a three-mile area.

Roscoe listed one and a half inches Tuesday afternoon. Farm lands in that area got up to .75 inch. Light hail also peppered the Roscoe region.

Nature of the rain was reflected by reports from Big Spring. Westside Big Spring listed .56 inch—while across town, .44 was recorded on the east side.

Snyder's rainfall for Tuesday and Wednesday totaled .82 inch. Ackerly Area Soaked

An unconfirmed report Wednesday had the Ackerly area getting up to two inches of moisture. Official report from the city itself, however, listed one-half inch.

Other West Texas cities listing rainfall included: Colorado City, .08 inch. Anson, .70. Rotan, .70. Sweetwater, .44. Amarillo, .40. Lubbock, .17. and Stanton, less than .50.

North Texas, too, felt the welcome relief. Around Electra, the Associated Press said, 75 to three inches fell. All stock tanks in the Sunshine Hill area were over flowing.

High thermometer readings Tuesday included Presidio 106, Cotulla 106, Wink and Laredo 102, Dallas 101, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Austin 100.

and Snyder interceded in the tax case with Revenue Bureau officials. Mayock said he funneled the $30,000 to the Democratic committee under names of "fake contributors" to sidestep the political corrupt practices law, which sets a $5,000 limit on individual contributions. But he flatly refused to name those he said "strutted as big contributors to the party."

"I took a chance I don't want to whine about it. The party was in desperate straits, and if what I did was illegal the blood be on my head," he said.

The remainder of the $65,000 fee, he testified, was split among himself and two other men he said had steered him to the New York businessman.

They were summoned Wednesday by the House Ways and Means subcommittee for their version of the case. They are Louis Markus, a businessman, and William Solomon, insurance broker.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France are expected to consult promptly on Russia's acceptance of German unification.

The Big Four meeting on German unification this fall. Soviet objections to point action among the Western Powers, as set forth in a note released by Moscow Tuesday night, were regarded here as mainly propaganda.

They did not appear to make the slightest difference in the thinking of Western diplomats, who were due to go ahead with proposals fairly soon for a date and place for the Big Four foreign ministers meeting.

The three Western ministers, after their Washington meeting, had proposed July 15 that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov meet with them to discuss an Austrian independence treaty and, for Germany, "the organization of free elections and the establishment of a free all-German government."

The Soviet reply, delivered Tuesday to the three Western embassies, counterposed that the foreign ministers discuss:

1. "Measures to decrease tension in international relations."

2. "The German problem including the problem of reestablishment of German unity and the conclusion of a peace treaty."

The Western governments seemed certain, however, to take a long and careful look at Soviet suggestions for including Red China in a possible conference later on decreasing world tension generally.

In the first place, the Western Powers over the last several years usually have insisted that tensions can be removed best by solving specific problems such as the unification of Germany.

The note which Moscow announced Tuesday night was due for careful study here. U. S. officials said they were not sure what conditions proposed might prove to be unacceptable.

Initial reaction, however, was that the Russians appeared to have accepted the meeting proposal in a manner which made further negotiations desirable.

Decisions on a formal reply may await the return of Secretary of State Dulles, now conferring in Korea with President Syngman Rhee.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The "loser" of a November 4 election was the adjudged winner Wednesday after special Judge Royce Oxford ruled that Armando Longoria is the duly elected commissioner of Precinct 3 in Starr County.

The court held a recount Tuesday that gave Armando Longoria 408 votes to 337 for J. M. Longoria, who earlier was declared the winner and who has held the county commission since his post.

In the recount, Oxford ruled that initials only were not enough to count as write-in votes. Many ballots were marked only with initials of the contestants.

Armando Longoria brought the suit which was heard here without either the defendant, J. M. Longoria, or his attorney appearing.

The two postponed cases was scheduled to begin last week. When District Judge Woodrow Laughlin failed to appear, lawyers elected Oxford as a special judge under a rarely-used Texas law.

Laughlin asserted he was too busy with other cases to hear the election suit. A group of South Texas lawyers are trying to get him ousted. They charge unfairness and inability. State Bar President Everett Looney withdrew Tuesday as one of Laughlin's attorneys for the hearing August 17.

Two Rangers and an assistant attorney general, sent as observers by Attorney General John Ben Shepherd, attended the hearings and saw the recount.

WISE INTRUDER CONFUSES COPS

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—A police alarm went out that a prowler was in the basement of a St. Louis home. I. A. Long, president of the Board of Police Commissioners, riding around with his two daughters, answered the call along with two patrolmen.

The officers, guns drawn, yelled a warning at the basement door. Nobody came out. The officers went in. Long waited. There was a flurry of noise but no shooting. Then the officers came out and reported:

"Nothing in there but an owl, sir."

Chest Budget Study To Continue Here

Study of budgets for the Midland Community Chest member agencies will continue next Tuesday. Joe T. Dickerson, head of the Budget and Admission Committee, reported Wednesday.

This year's budget committee plans a goal above last year's campaign total of $77,626.73 marked a meeting of the committee Monday night in the Midland National Bank recreation room.

Regan Blames 'Old Guard'—

Regan paused to recall his own trip to Europe—at his own expense—to observe what was being done with American tax money.

"Practically every department of government," he chuckled, "has tried to get in on the act."

These include the armed services, the Department of Justice, the Agriculture Department, the Department of Education, UN, UNRRA, UNESCO, NATO and so forth."

He picked up that cigarette again and waved it menacingly.

"Our most recent appropriation for Mutual Security aid—which I think could have been eliminated entirely—was approximately $5 billion," he explained.

"And that, despite the fact they had on hand 10 billions in unexpended funds. And, further, despite the fact there were indications they were using the old double-entry dodge to show double expenditures for individual items."

"Yet," he added, "the President and the Republicans in Congress insisted the MSA appropriation could not be cut one dollar."

Believes He Sincere

"And they couldn't tell you why." This time the congressman pulled out a lighter, snapped it into flame but halted just before putting it to his cigarette.

"Don't get me wrong," he insisted. "I still believe the President sincerely wishes to keep his pledges to the millions of voters who brought about his election for the reason they wanted a change. And that didn't mean merely a change in faces. They wanted a change in the ruthless extravagances in government operations.

"But the pressure was too great from his close advisers."

The heavy patter of rain on a window interrupted Regan and he stood up to peer through the blinds at the unexpected mid-afternoon shower.

"It was quite a blow to many members of the Congress," he finally continued, turning from the window, "to find, following the strong appeals of the President and his party leaders for bigger appropriations, that they came up with a request to increase the national debt limitation 15 billions—from 275 billions to 290 billions."

"It seems strange that they try to increase the debt against the taxpayers in our own country so the money can be used to reduce the debt and lower the taxes in the countries we are aiding in Europe. Old Guard Goes Liberal

"You know, we are a great and strong nation—mainly because of the coalition of so-called conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats which had helped win the election."

"But those conservative Republicans are being more liberal now than the Democrats ever were."

He shook his head sadly as he added:

"When I went back to Congress this time," he continued, "I took some pride in being a member of the coalition of so-called conservative Republicans and Southern Democrats which had helped win the election."

"But those conservative Republicans are being more liberal now than the Democrats ever were."

Regan Blames 'Old Guard'—

Regan paused to recall his own trip to Europe—at his own expense—to observe what was being done with American tax money.

"Practically every department of government," he chuckled, "has tried to get in on the act."

These include the armed services, the Department of Justice, the Agriculture Department, the Department of Education, UN, UNRRA, UNESCO, NATO and so forth."

He picked up that cigarette again and waved it menacingly.

"Our most recent appropriation for Mutual Security aid—which I think could have been eliminated entirely—was approximately $5 billion," he explained.

"And that, despite the fact they had on hand 10 billions in unexpended funds. And, further, despite the fact there were indications they were using the old double-entry dodge to show double expenditures for individual items."

"Yet," he added, "the President and the Republicans in Congress insisted the MSA appropriation could not be cut one dollar."

Believes He Sincere

"And they couldn't tell you why." This time the congressman pulled out a lighter, snapped it into flame but halted just before putting it to his cigarette.

"Don't get me wrong," he insisted. "I still believe the President sincerely wishes to keep his pledges to the millions of voters who brought about his election for the reason they wanted a change. And that didn't mean merely a change in faces. They wanted a change in the ruthless extravagances in government operations.

"But the pressure was too great from his close advisers."

The heavy patter of rain on a window interrupted Regan and he stood up to peer through the blinds at the unexpected mid-afternoon shower.

"It was quite a blow to many members of the Congress," he finally continued, turning from the window, "to find, following the strong appeals of the President and his party leaders for bigger appropriations, that they came up with a request to increase the national debt limitation 15 billions—from 275 billions to 290 billions."

"It seems strange that they try to increase the debt against the taxpayers in our own country so the money can be used to reduce the debt and lower the taxes in the countries we are aiding in Europe. Old Guard Goes Liberal

Captives—

The Reds who went north in the first day's exchange erupted at the last minute in defiance of the Allies. Many ripped and ruined their new American-provided uniforms, snarled and cursed American officers and flashed anger. The display obviously was aimed at propaganda for the Red newsmen and photographers who stood nearby.

Message in Blood

In contrast, the Allied troops showed what they shouted—"Glad to be here!"

"Welcome home," answered soldiers and newsmen.

Some South Koreans broke down and wept. Some didn't even know there was a truce. They had left their northern prison camps not knowing what awaited them.

One tearful ROK repatriate bit a fingertip and traced in blood: "The Communists never defeated us."

Most of the Americans were simply, quietly happy. One returning prisoner threw his Chinese blue clothing sharply to the ground. Another laughed. Some weaved.

Touch Of Tenderness

And mingled with the brightness was a touch of tenderness as waiting hands picked up stretchers of sick and wounded men who came from prison camps on their backs.

About half of the 70 Americans were sick and wounded.

The American prisoners were sped to Freedom Village, 12 miles south of Panmunjom, for showers, food, quick medical treatment and the first processing for their trip home.

The British were taken to Camp Britannica and the South Koreans to Camp Liberty, both near Freedom Village.

Turkish soldiers were the first to cross the line. They arrived yelling loudly and warmly greeted their comrades.

A group of South Koreans was next over. Then came the first Americans.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The "loser" of a November 4 election was the adjudged winner Wednesday after special Judge Royce Oxford ruled that Armando Longoria is the duly elected commissioner of Precinct 3 in Starr County.

The court held a recount Tuesday that gave Armando Longoria 408 votes to 337 for J. M. Longoria, who earlier was declared the winner and who has held the county commission since his post.

In the recount, Oxford ruled that initials only were not enough to count as write-in votes. Many ballots were marked only with initials of the contestants.

Armando Longoria brought the suit which was heard here without either the defendant, J. M. Longoria, or his attorney appearing.

The two postponed cases was scheduled to begin last week. When District Judge Woodrow Laughlin failed to appear, lawyers elected Oxford as a special judge under a rarely-used Texas law.

Laughlin asserted he was too busy with other cases to hear the election suit. A group of South Texas lawyers are trying to get him ousted. They charge unfairness and inability. State Bar President Everett Looney withdrew Tuesday as one of Laughlin's attorneys for the hearing August 17.

Two Rangers and an assistant attorney general, sent as observers by Attorney General John Ben Shepherd, attended the hearings and saw the recount.

Former Midlanders Injured In Traffic Collision 'Improving'

Bill Havenstrite and Don Beauchamp, former Midlanders injured critically in a truck-car crash near Ballinger last week, were reported "improving rapidly" Wednesday at the Ballinger Clinic-Hospital.

Attending physicians said the two men, both employees of The Western Company who were transferred from Midland to Ballinger, were "doing better than at first anticipated." Both still are hospitalized, but have been removed from the critical or serious list.

The Western Company workers were riding with another former Midland employee, Ivan O. Bevel, when their car collided with a dump truck driven by Daniel J. Bradley of Ballinger. Neither Bevel nor Bradley was injured.

Angelo Rites Held For Tinker Infant

CRANE—Funeral services for Patricia Ann Tinker, infant daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Edward Tinker of San Angelo, former Crane residents, were held at 3 p.m. Monday in the Goodfellow Air Force Base Chapel.

Chaplain Jerome R. Merwick officiated and interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

The infant died Thursday night at the GAFB hospital. The parents and four brothers survive.

Captain Tinker, who is stationed in Japan, flew home for the services. Mrs. Tinker, the former June Armstrong, is the niece of J. D. and Gayle Young.

APCO Prospector In Andrews Gets Shows In High Devonian

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 8 W. F. Cowden, deep wildcat in the shallow Emma field of Central-South Andrews County has found some shows of oil and gas in the Devonian and is making more hole.

Top of the Devonian is at 10,270 feet. Elevation is 3,175 feet. That gives the wildcat a datum of minus 7085 feet on the top of the Devonian.

It is 235 feet high to the top of the Devonian in Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-FF University, an Ellenburger dry hole three miles to the west.

This wildcat is 10 miles south and slightly west of the town of Andrews and 270 feet from south and 1,222 feet from east lines of section 102, W. F. Cowden strip, SF-9956.

It ran a two-hour drillstem test in 35 minutes. The gas volume was not gauged or estimated.

Recovery was 350 feet of slightly gas cut water blanket and 33 feet of heavily gas cut drilling mud.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 215 pounds and the shut-in bottomhole pressure after 15 minutes was 163 pounds.

Magnolia, Et Al Schedule Project In Andrews Field

Magnolia Petroleum Company, Texas Eastern Production Corporation and others spotted location for a 12,700-foot Devonian project in the Magrux (Mullipry) area of Northeast Andrews County.

The prospector is to be drilled as No. 2-2B Faken Block, 660 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 37, block 40, T-3-N, O&MM&A survey and 14 miles east and slightly north of the town of Andrews.

Pump was being installed at Schermerhorn Oil Corporation No. 1 Montague, wildcat in West-Central Pecos County, and completion attempt made.

Operator perforated casing opposite the section at 3,065-3,100 feet and fractured with 6,000 gallons of sand oil. The project then was swabbed for two and one-half to three barrels of oil on each run of the swab. No other details are available on the test. Production is from the Yates sand.

Location is 2,850 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 106 1/2, block OW.

Two new wildcat locations have been set for Northeast Rannels County.

Murray Petroleum Company of San Angelo will drill No. 1 A. R. Workman two miles northeast of Hatchell and 2,763 feet from north and 2,309 feet from east lines of section 525, H. C. Bliss survey.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 5,000 feet, beginning at once.

That makes it one-quarter of a mile east of production in the Winters (Caddo) field and one and one-quarter miles west of the Nora (Gardner) field which produces from pay at an average depth of 4,104 feet.

Projected depth is 5,000 feet. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Continental Oil Company No. 1-1 University, three-quarters of one mile south of the discovery well of the Pritchard (Devonian) field of Northeast Andrews County, recovered 4,860 feet of free oil and no water on a drillstem test of the Devonian.

The test was taken from 12,515 to 12,565 feet. Tool was open three hours. There was a strong blow of air throughout the test. Recovery, in addition to the free oil was 2,500 feet of water blanket.

Flowing pressure was between 1,335 and 2,725 feet and shut-in bottom hole pressure was 5,275 feet. Length of the shut-in was not reported.

No top of the Devonian has been called yet. Operator is now coring below 12,566 feet in line.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 1, block 8, University Lands survey. It is 16 miles northeast of the town of Andrews.

There is a water carrying formation between the two pay sections and interested observers are inclined to the idea that the water is coming through the perforations opposite the pay formations on account of canals in the cement back of the casing.

The project is bottomed at 6,690 feet in the Ellenburger. The casing, which was set on bottom, is perforated from 6,078 to 6,088 feet and from 5,006 to 5,026 feet.

As soon as the squeeze job is completed.

The Upton failure is Vickers Exploration, Ltd., No. 1 University in the central-south portion of the county.

It was abandoned on total depth of 11,801 feet in the Ellenburger after a drillstem test from 11,680 to 11,801 feet developed 540 feet of salty sulphur water-cut mud and 6,160 feet of salty, sulphur water.

Location was 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 12, block 5, University Lands survey and nine miles southeast of Rankin.

The Fisher County failure is J. W. Jorgensen, 1-B Morton in the northeast portion of the county two miles northwest of the Blockline field.

The duster was quit on total depth of 3,850 feet in line.

It was drilled 330 feet from south

Pool in NW Reagan Gets New Extender

Southland Royalty Company has extended the Adkwell portion of the Spraberry Trend Area of Northwest Reagan County one-half mile to the east on the south side with completion of No. 2-44-A, O. F. Boyd.

The new well was finished for a calculated 24-hour potential of 666.6 barrels of 40.5-gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 29.1.

Potential was based on an actual 12-hour flow through a one-half-inch choke from open hole producing 3,980 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing was set and total depth of 7,265 feet. Top of pay was picked at 7,265 feet. Elevation was unreported.

Pay section was fractured with 4,500 gallons. Tubing pressure was 300 pounds with packer on the casing.

Location of the new oiler is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 44, block B, University Lands survey and 25 miles northwest of Big Lake.

T. A. Kincaid Funeral Held

Funeral services for Thomas Albert Kincaid, 84, who came to West Texas in 1888 with only $3 in his pocket and later amassed land holdings of more than 100,000 acres, were held Wednesday.

He died Tuesday in a San Angelo hospital.

Kincaid, upon coming to San Angelo, once said he "had a regular contempt for anybody who would fool with sheep," but he realized the importance of the wool business and in 1924 became the president of the Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. He held the position ten years.

One of the organizers of the Wool Growers Central Storage Company here, Kincaid was a member of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee from 1937-39.

Although he divided most of his land holdings in Crockett, Upton and Uvalde Counties among ten children in 1934, he did not sell his last herd of livestock until 1938.

Born in Bastrop County, he lived in Ozona during most of his life in West Texas. He moved to San Angelo in 1943 after the death of his wife, the former Miss Ada D. Drennan, the first white girl born in San Angelo.

Survivors include his sons and daughters, J. Bert Kincaid of Rankin, Mrs. R. P. Lynn of San Angelo, and T. A. Kincaid, Jr., E. D. (Bud) Kincaid, Mrs. Lee Childress, Mrs. V. I. Pierce, Mrs. B. M. Harwick, Mrs. Marbury Morrison and Mrs. W. E. Friend, Jr., all of Ozona, and two sisters, Mrs. Don Keeble of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Dee Barker of San Antonio.

SCS Tour Studies Moisture Storage, Irrigation Needs

How soils affect the storage of moisture in a field and the frequency with which irrigation is needed was seen in a tour of irrigated farms north of Midland Tuesday by a group of Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District co-operators.

Irrigated cotton fields on the H. R. Solomon, Jim Deavenport, Norman Drake, and Minter Reynolds farms were examined by 17 farmers and others interested in sprinkler irrigation.

The amount of water applied and frequency of irrigation on each field were described. The group observed and discussed the effects of the different watering schedules on the crop and moisture conditions in the soil.

Ben Osborn, work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, led the discussion and pointed out differences in the soils affecting the storage and use of moisture.

In one field, two different types of soil were observed 15 days after the last watering. One was dry while the other still had plenty of moisture, although both had received the same irrigation all season.

The tour was one of a series sponsored by the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District to give farmers an opportunity to study ways of improving the efficiency of irrigation in the Midland area.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Restless, Fussy Children May Be Spoiled, Insecure

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Mrs. S. asks for a column on restless and fussy children. "My 4 1/2-year-old daughter," she says, "has been a more or less fussy child since infancy. Her constant restlessness and not knowing what to do with herself has gone to extremes. Although she is badly spoiled (we are staying where there are five grown-ups in the house) I can't believe this is the doing cause. She is never satisfied with doing anything for more than five minutes and she worries about everything and anything constantly. Do you think she will outgrow this?"

I should add that Mrs. S. says the doctor has examined her daughter and found nothing physically wrong. Here, evidently, is a problem with which many parents are faced to a greater or lesser degree. Some of the things mentioned by Mrs. S. should be considered normal for a 4 1/2-year-old child, such as the youngster's being not satisfied to do anything for more than five minutes. Practically all small children are unable to concentrate for long on one thing, and grown-ups should not expect them to.

In a way this may supply part of the clue to the problem since the fact that Mrs. S. considers lack of concentration as a fault suggests that perhaps she is expecting too much of her four-year-old.

But from the information given it does sound as though this youngster was overly nervous and perhaps unhappy. She may be over-indulged by the many grown-ups with whom she comes in contact in the house or she may feel that her parents are neglecting her for other interests. Either of these could make the youngster emotionally upset and "fussy" as the mother calls it.

Needs Security

A child needs to feel the security which only the parents can supply; but there is a need also for increasing freedom and responsibility in a world in which the child eventually will have to face by himself.

Discipline is necessary if nervousness in younger—and older—children is to be avoided. Discipline need not be harsh—in fact, it's just as easy to make a child nervous by excessive harshness as it is by a lack of discipline altogether. The proper choice of physical punishment or other forms of discipline such as confinement to the bedroom, is difficult and often a real test of parenthood.

Parents can help most by watching the physical and mental development of their children and maintaining calm discipline and good example. Children want affection and a show of interest in their affairs. Too little attention from the parents, like too much, can lead toward emotional instability, bad behavior, or just "fussiness" as Mrs. S. calls it.

Some Repatriated Prisoners Too Sick To Enjoy Freedom

FREEDOM VILLAGE, KOREA—(AP)—Seventy Americans, the horror and boredom of Communist prison camps behind them, savored their first taste of freedom Wednesday at this village created to speed them on their way home.

Eight of the men, strapped tightly to stretchers, were flown here aboard four helicopters from Panmunjom, where they were freed.

There were few tales of torture, death and maiming on the lips of the liberated prisoners, who appeared happy but bewildered.

Some interviews were conducted with frequent interruptions from censors and the men obviously had been told there were only certain subjects they could discuss.

"The War Department caught hell after some of the stories the sick and wounded told when they got out last April," one officer said in referring to the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners last Spring.

Censors Restrict Stories

One prisoner said he was captured because a South Korean division collapsed on the flank of his U. S. division. The censor and an interview officer quickly interrupted: "You cannot write that!"

The censor was told by one reporter that he wrote the story when it happened more than two years ago.

The same censor refused to allow the ex-prisoner to discuss deaths of Allied captives on a mid-Winter march from Seoul north to the Yalu River "except those deaths you actually saw yourself."

At the helicopters carrying the eight litter patients whirled down on the landing strip, ambulances sped them to clean hospital cots and expert care.

None was smiling.

A hospital corpsman remarked sadly: "Here it is the happiest day of their lives and they are too sick to appreciate it."

The first two litter patients were Cpl. Richard M. Davis of Booneville, Ark., a 2nd Division infantryman, and Sgt. James Davis, 25, Mullin, S. C. Both had spent more than two years as prisoners of the Communists.

It Feels Wonderful

James Davis said many of his friends starved to death in the early months of 1951. He described treatment in Red camps as "pretty tough."

"It feels wonderful" to be back, said Richard Davis, who was captured Nov. 27, 1950. He said "there's not many men left" of those captured with him.

One man tried to rise from his stretcher as it lay just outside an ambulance, but he was too weak to stand alone.

Another sat stolidly in an ambulance reading a small Bible.

A convoy of 10 ambulances brought other liberated prisoners here from Panmunjom.

One of the first items was a good American meal.

And the Navy said 14,000 pounds of fresh stores have been loaded aboard the transport General Walker, which will carry the first group of liberated prisoners home from Inchon. Normally, transports do not draw fresh supplies in the Orient.

But the Walker will provide its passengers with fresh milk, fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables, fresh meat and other perishables.

High Rate Of Tuberculosis Found In Released Captives

FREEDOM VILLAGE, KOREA—(AP)—The head of the hospital at Freedom Village reported Wednesday doctors found a high percentage of tuberculosis and other lung diseases among returned UN prisoners of war and said, "I am not sure they will all recover."

But Col. Fred W. Seymour stressed that in the past "we have pulled some of them right out of the grave."

Seymour said over 30 men had "active pulmonary lesions" of the first 60 U. S. and other UN repatriates who entered the evacuation hospital Wednesday.

Seymour gave no breakdown on nationalities, but said the bulk was Americans.

Seymour told newsmen "the first group we received was at least as sick as any in Operation Little Switch," the exchange of disabled captives three months ago.

He said the "vast majority" of the men received at his hospital will be flown to Tokyo instead of taking the boat trip home from Inchon.

"Some of them evidently have been sick for some time," he said. "Had I been the one to decide, they would have been eligible for repatriation last April."

Seymour said some of the released POWs had definite malnutrition, but "it is difficult to say whether it was the result of their illness."

The colonel said it seemed the Communists "for the last few months have been feeding them (the prisoners) much better. We would have expected malnutrition, but those today not sick were not badly nourished."

"This might explain their better attitude," he said.

Howard TV Row Flares

BIG SPRING—A rousing TV battle swelled in Big Spring Tuesday as operators of two more radio stations joined the Channel 4 parade—bringing to three the number of applications for the same channel in Big Spring now under Communications Commission study.

First to apply Tuesday for the TV channel was the Big Spring Broadcasting Company, operator of radio station KBST, followed closely by the Big State Telecasting Company, operator of KTXC.

KBST officials already have announced plans for their television station. If the application is okayed, they say, the station will be on a 1,000-square-foot area on the Howard County Junior College campus.

Lewis Seibert, owner of Station KOKL in San Angelo, said Tuesday that Donald Goss, San Angelo architect, is preparing plans for the building.

Building plans had not been announced Wednesday by the Big State Telecasting Company.

Third Channel 4 for Big Spring application under the Communications Commission eye was filed last July by Texas Telecasting Inc., which operates station KDUB-TV in Lubbock, and is owned by Lubbock interests.

The commission now must determine which station deserves the Channel 4 nod. Only one of the three stations may hold that channel in Big Spring under federal ruling.

Midlanders Attend State 4-H Camp

Two Midland farm leaders and four area 4-H Club members will return to Midland Sunday from a four-day State 4-H Conservation Camp in Tyler.

Attending the Tyler meeting are County Agent Charley Green, Home Demonstration Agent Pauline McWilliams and four youths, Donna Howard, Sandra Roberts, Audie Porter and Leonard Porter.

Clark Says Truce Not World Peace

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark says the Korean armistice does not mean "that we have brought peace to that troubled part of the world."

The general, commander of United Nations forces in the Far East, reminded interviewers Tuesday that the armistice is "just an agreement between commanders to stop the fire."

It is the job of the political conference still to be held, he added, to try to make peace.

Clark received military honors on arrival here Tuesday for conferences before going back to his Tokyo headquarters.

Andrew W. Zinke, 79, Midlander's Father, Interred At Roscoe

SWEETWATER—Andrew William Zinke, 79-year-old resident of Roscoe since 1908 and father of Mrs. Lillie Bauman of Midland, died Tuesday in a Sweetwater hospital after a illness of several weeks.

Funerals were held at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Lutheran Church in Roscoe, the Rev. Roy Grote, pastor, officiating. Interment was in a Roscoe cemetery.

Zinke, a native of Austin County, married the former Pauline Hildebrandt at Hallettsville, Dec. 17, 1901.

Survivors include three sons, Louis Zinke of Shiner, Herbert Zinke of Hermleigh and Charles Zinke of Roscoe; three daughters, Mrs. Della Marth of Roscoe, Mrs. Zelma Helmers of San Angelo and Mrs. Bauman; 20 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

Reds Brag About Fine Care They Gave To War Prisoners

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The Red newsman said Pfc. Harold Dunn of Baldwinville, N. Y., who had been a prisoner for more than 30 months, "was showing visitors the prizes he won in competitions in the prisoner of war camp."

These were said to include bracelets, brooches, an ivory cigarette holder, silk scarves, lacquered jewelry boxes and other articles.

The Chinese correspondent said Dunn told him they were for his girl friend in New York.

The broadcast apparently was intended to counter in advance reports of ill treatment of the prisoners. It said:

"There have been times when food, shelter or medical supplies were not available, but when these conditions existed for the prisoners they also existed for the Volunteers (Chinese Red Army)."

Texas Yell Echoes As Names Of Freed Prisoners Come In

By The Associated Press

The first Communist trucks bearing United Nations prisoners of war returned to freedom's side arrived at Panmunjom at 8:55 a.m. Wednesday, Korean time. The ubiquitous Texans were there.

An American was second in the second truck of three vehicles waiting while UN officers conferred with Chinese officials. He yelled Aug. 18, 1951. That was just a few days after Jesse got to Korea. Jesse didn't know Jimmie was dead for a long long time.

"My other boy, Sterling, was in the Air Force in Japan. He was there three years. He's back going to school in Brownwood now." Mrs. Bingham said her sergeant son is 27 years old, had been a prisoner for two years and was a member of the 24th Infantry Division. Jimmie was 22 when he was killed. Sterling is 23.

Counting The Days

Mrs. Abe Dobbins of Anson, mother of Pvt. Freddie Dobbins, 21, was equally jubilant and thankful. "I'm so happy," said Mrs. Dobbins, a negro cook. "I want him to come home quick. I've been counting the days days. He's been a prisoner two years, nine months and 15 days."

Private Dobbins was returned to the UN command on a stretcher. Mrs. Dobbins said the last letter she got from Freddie he had written that he was "low sick in a hospital." Two days after the truce was signed, she had a telegram that Freddie had been ill with pneumonia.

Dobbins went overseas in September, 1950. The negro youth had been working in a cafe in Odessa before entering the Army.

"When he gets home," his mother said Tuesday night, "I want him to do anything he wants. I want him to make up for all those bad days he's spent."

In Sherman, Mrs. Myrna Banzer said she was "so happy I can't think much." She is the sister of Jess McElroy, the first Navy prisoner to be released by the Communists.

Navy Plane Gunner

A student at Sherman's Austin College when recalled to service in 1950, McElroy was a gunner on a plane from the Carrier Valley Forge. The plane crashed in Red territory, Dec. 13, 1951. A World War II veteran, McElroy formerly lived in Oklahoma, but had been a resident of Sherman 10 years.

In Oklahoma City, his father, J. R. McElroy said, "I was kind of hoping he'd be first, but figured he would be one of the last. It's great news."

"We're going to have a family reunion," Mrs. Banzer said. "He lived with us here in Sherman."

Another sister, Mrs. Herbert Sampson, also lives in Sherman.

Pendarvis and his wife wept when they learned Private Pendarvis had been freed. They learned of his release from friends after static had drowned out his name on their radio.

Within 30 minutes, four of the Pendarvis children joined their parents in a celebration at the family home in Glimmer. They were Mrs. Louise Coleman of Ore City, Mrs. Boyd Butler of Glimmer, Ralph Pendarvis of Longview, and John Pendarvis of Ore City.

Asked if she had given up hope, Mrs. Pendarvis said, "I guess I did sometimes. I stayed awake many a night and prayed."

Her Prayers Answered

"That is about the way it was for Mrs. Luisa Ortiz de Anda of El Paso, who said, "Thank God he's safe now. My prayers have been answered."

Mrs. De Anda said she never gave up hope and had prayed daily at the home-made altar of the Virgin in her two-room home in El Paso.

But Mrs. De Anda's young daughter, Lupe, jumped out of bed and joyously shouted, "Gracias a Dios!"

Stull in her night clothes, the "tid sister" of Pfc. Eduardo de Anda, said, "We'd kinda given up hope." Eduardo was reported missing Nov. 30, 1950, shortly after arriving in Korea.

Not until Christmas, 1951, was the family told that Eduardo was a prisoner of war.

In Houston, the family of another repatriated Texan fell asleep while listening to the radio for information. "My father and I had been listening very closely but dropped off to sleep until you called," the sister of Cpl. Johnny B. Trevino told The Associated Press. She is Mrs. Nellie Perez.

The father, Jose Trevino, 54, is a Missouri Pacific Railroad foreman. Although very excited, Mrs. Perez knew how long Johnny had been a prisoner:

"Two years, eight months and three—no, four days," she said breathlessly.

Without an exception, the relatives of the repatriated prisoners of war wanted their soldiers brought home at once.

"I want him to stay here on the farm now," Mrs. Nora Bingham, Route 3, Raymondville, said of her son, Sgt. Jesse H. Bingham. "I want him back," she added. "I had three sons in the service. Jimmie was killed in Korea. He was killed Aug. 18, 1951. That was just a few days after Jesse got to Korea. Jesse didn't know Jimmie was dead for a long long time."

"My other boy, Sterling, was in the Air Force in Japan. He was there three years. He's back going to school in Brownwood now." Mrs. Bingham said her sergeant son is 27 years old, had been a prisoner for two years and was a member of the 24th Infantry Division. Jimmie was 22 when he was killed. Sterling is 23.

Counting The Days

Mrs. Abe Dobbins of Anson, mother of Pvt. Freddie Dobbins, 21, was equally jubilant and thankful. "I'm so happy," said Mrs. Dobbins, a negro cook. "I want him to come home quick. I've been counting the days days. He's been a prisoner two years, nine months and 15 days."
