VOLUME 66, NUMBER 4

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1990

OUR FRIONA STAR Football Contest has always drawn a number of "mailed-in" entries, but it seems that as time goes by, the distance covered by this type of entry is growing.

This year for instance Dr. Kyle Barnett, who lives in Salt Lake City, Utah, has been a regular entrant in the contest. Kyle, who is the son of Wesley and Doris Barnett, is an internist at Salt Lake City. He hasn't missed a week yet, and isn't doing that badly in the contest, either. We understand he has a race going with brother David, who is a senior at FHS. Also a regular name seen in the contest this year is that of Ron Cain. Ron's name should be fairly familiar with many of our readers, since the Cains are former residents, and Ron was an active member of the Booster Club, etc., while here. The Cain children, who included Kerry Cain and Lance Gatlin, were varsity starters in high school sports while they lived here, and contributed a lot to FHS athletics. Now, Ron is mailing his entry in each week from his home in Corpus Christi. Another Friona native now living out of state is Alesia Tucker, who is currently working for the Excel Corp. in Wichita, Kansas. Alesia hasn't, to our knowledge, missed a week entering the football contest since she moved to Wichita, and had been a regular contestant in the event a long time prior to that. Tim Elmore, who is a school teacher at Kemp, Texas, is another long-time entrant who never misses 2. a week. Tim started entering the contest about the time he was in high school, which has been quite some time ago, and he has been a regular, wherever he has lived. These are some of the "farther removed" contestants that we have each week in the contest. Also on a regular basis, we have contestants who mail us their entries from the immediate including area, Lazbuddie, Bovina, Lubbock, Hereford, Lariat and Muleshoe. Mal Manchee, who started his teaching career at Friona and is now the curriculum director with the Hereford School system, is another one of those who has probably not missed sending us an entry in over 20 years. (Late note-found after writing this piece that Manchee took the win in this week's event-Editor) Another Hereford resident, Wayne Amstutz, subscribes to the paper every year for the expressed purpose of entering the contest, and he rarely ever fails to pay for his subscription with prize money he wins. R.L. Blakely, a former local businessman and another Hereford resident, also has been an entrant in our contest for a number of years, but we have missed seeing his name in it this fall. For a number of years, Gene Ezell, who was the postmaster, and Flossie Rhinehart, postal clerk at the Bovina post office, were regular entrants in our contest, both here and in the Bovina Blade. We've also missed these two names in our contest, since their retirement a few years back.

72-WHEELER...Clarence Martin said it was the biggest load he'd ever seen come through Friona when this giant storage tank was transported through town on Monday of this week. The truck and trailers, according to count, contained a total of 72 tires, and the rig had a platform at the rear where a man sat to steer the rear portion of the load. It was not acertained as to where the big tank was headed, but it left going north on State Highway 214.

C-C Proposes To Purchase Decorations

The Chamber of Commerce has an amount of money on hand that was donated for fireworks in past years that it plans to use for new Christmas decorations, if members don't object.

The cost of such decorations is fairly high, and the Chamber is planning to try to purchase a few such decorations each year and build up this department.

Board Members Told

New trustees to the Friona appointed to one two-year term.

New members include: Vergil Friona ISD Special Education. Ichtertz, representing Noon Lions; Mary Lou Taylor, Modern Study Steve, are the parents of two Club; Mary Ortiz and Donice Jones are at-large representatives.

Vergil Ichtertz, his wife Judy and their two daughters, Tricia and Christy, have made Friona their home for several years. Vergil is pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church and Judy is employed by the Parmer County Counseling residents of Friona and are retired.

Donice Jones and her husband, daughters, Stephenie and Kimberly. Steve is a city patrolman and Donice works as a police dispatcher.

Holdover members include: Lee Witten, chair; Mercedes Williams, vice chair; Roy Miller, treasurer; Buford Hartwick, Terri Cox, Donna Mears, Deb Hendley and Dana Jameson.

Retiring members are Carmaleet Truitt, Dave Hutson, Linda Welch and Dale Mann. Darla Bracken, librarian, serves as secretary.

FIRST COTTON...Dennis Anthony, right, ginned the first bale of cotton at Friona Farmers Co-op Gin. Anthony is congratulated by gin manager Jerry Butman. The first bale was ginned on October 17, and was grown north of Friona. The 1990 cotton looks to be excellent quality and yield, and the market features a much better than average price at this point.

We appreciate all of our participants in the football contest, and more especially those who send them in from "afar," because they have to take the trouble of getting them into the mail.

And, although very few of these ever send along a message with their entries (sometimes they do), it's sort of like hearing from old friends each week during the fall. It's one of those longtime customs that we enjoy.

FLAG PRESENTED...Friona Superintendent Hal Ratcliff, right, and Junior High Principal Tommy Hancock hold the flag which was presented to the local junior high by Governor Clements in Austin last weekend, signifying that the local campus is "exemplary." This was in addition to the $13,700 cash award. The flag was unveiled at Thursday morning's assembly program.

America's reserves of natural gas are vast. Unlike oil, which increasingly comes from foreign sources, virtually all of our natural gas is produced right here in North America. From an environmental standpoint, gas is the cleanest burning of all fossil fuels. Increased use of gas can help reduce atmospheric pollution such as acid rain. So, gas can be relied upon to help clean up the environment.

What's more, gas is a reliable way to save money on heating your home and providing other forms of household energy. For example, over five years a gas water heater saves on average, hundreds of dollars in energy costs. In addition, natural gas heats water faster than electricity.

Finally, gas is always readily available. Think about it. When is the last time your natural gas went off?
