TO DEVELOP OIL FIELDS

F. E. Kistler Returns From Oklahoma With Parties Whom He Has Interested.

That the Toyah oil fields are to again be operated we learn from the Enterprise of that place, which has the following to say in its last week's issue:

F. E. Kistler returned last week from Oklahoma, where he had been for a couple of weeks looking after interesting parties in the Toyah oil fields. With him came Mr. Wilkerson who represents a company with practically unlimited capital and who made a proposition to Mr. Kistler which was accepted and work was at once begun to fulfill Kistler's part of the contract. At the present the situation looks good to all those interested in the work. The proposition as outlined to the Enterprise is that Kistler secures leases on so much land for the company and they agree to commence actual boring within ninety days from the date of the contract.

The company will in the event sufficient land is secured, commence on the Texas Company's well No. 1, West of Toyah, and may begin simultaneously with this on the Kistler well. It is supposed that 3,000 feet will be dug as a test for oil, unless oil is struck in paying quantities before that depth is reached.

Mr. Kistler has secured considerable contracts already and has hopes of completing the desired amount in time to hold the company to their part of the contract. The time is short in which to complete this work if these people are to go ahead with this development work, and those who have not placed their lease with Mr. Kistler already, should do so at once if they wish to see the development of the country forge to the front as it should. As it is you have nothing and no prospect of getting anything out of your oil prospect unless you do something like into this and why hold back and retard the game? Don't be a drawback to your country, but get in the game while you have a chance and show to the world that you have the interest of country and fellow man at heart as well as your own personal interest.

Some Watermelons

Chris Ritz, that good "Old Settler" was in the city the first of the week with a load of melons, grown on his farm southeast of Pecos. Two of these melons were placed on the scales and weighed 127 1/2 pounds.

He didn't forget the printers and brought the fine melon that tipped the scales at 60 pounds and of course it goes without saying that the boys, including the editor, enjoyed the treat.

Wall Glasscock, of the Pecos Dry State Co., left Wednesday for St. Louis and other points east to purchase the fall and winter stocks for his house. He expects to be absent several weeks.

B. F. Elliott and wife of Havana, Cuba spent several days in the city with their niece, Mrs. M. W. Collier and the family. They left Wednesday afternoon for El Paso and other points in the West where they will visit other relatives.

Old Settlers Reunion

To Be Held September 15, at Pecos. The program will consist of a Parade, Barbecue and Speaking.

Everybody who has resided in Reeves County prior to 1894 are invited to attend and bring their families and friends.

A good time will be had by those attending.

A special train will be run over the P. V. S. Ry. on Sunday, September 14th.

CHRIS RITZ, Chairman.

Charles Cooper left Wednesday afternoon for Comanche, Texas, to spend some time with the "home-folk"

White Ribbon Orphanage

Capt. J. T. Lynn and wife, founders, are covering the state in the furtherance of their work. Capt. Lynn says:

"Our mission is to help homeless orphans into private, Christian homes free of charges to parties concerned. Our work is non-sectarian and only approved Christian homes are considered.

We have many homes now for orphans and place children direct from where we find them into private homes. We will appreciate any information of orphans needing our services. Address with stamp, White Ribbon Orphanage, Box 164, Ft. Worth, or Box 345, Decatur.

Joe Levin was in from the Crystal Water ranch yesterday and reported that they had 4 good rains in that neighborhood within the past week, and that everything was in fine shape.

Mrs. Ralph Williams returned the first of the week from a visit to her parents at Deming, N. M.

John Brocat, a popular tonsorial artist, has leased the barber shop of Joe Breedlove and will now be glad to see you. Joe found it necessary to get out doors for a while and will devote his time to the culture of bees.

The Misses Davis and mother are spending the week at the Verhalen ranch this week.

L. W. Anderson returned Tuesday from a business trip to Fort Worth and Dallas.

E. W. Johnson is in Big Springs looking after some business matters this week.

Mrs. Mary Henry Woods is visiting this week, at the home of Mrs. L. R. Wilson at Balmorhea, and will go for a week-end visit to the Kingston ranch.

J. W. Wilson has the thanks of the Record Times force for a large sample of the fine melons he is now marketing at this place.

Ben Earler left Tuesday night for New York where he will purchase the fall and winter stocks for the El Paso Store. He informed us he would be gone about three weeks or a month and that he will lay in as fine a stock as was ever brought to the city.

At The Music Hall

The first three nights of this week Geo. Landrum, manager of the Music Hall gave away five $4 bills each night as a special attraction. The pictures shown were up to the usual standard. Thursday night a special feature picture, "The Star of Bethlehem," was shown to a full house.

FAIR OFFICERS ARE AT WORK

Everything is Being Whipped into Shape to be Ready for the Opening September 16th.

Reeves County Fair officers are working hard for the fair that is to be held in September from the 16 to the 19 inclusive. From all indications, T. B. Pruett, president of the Fair Association, has his committees working hard in order that our annual fair will be a success.

Every one interested in the fair, and wishing to take a part in any of the exhibits, should apply at once to the proper parties in order that room may be provided for the large agricultural exhibits that will be on hand during the fair. The parade committee is already at work and a number of decorated vehicles will be in the parade. The poultry committee, headed by H. H. Johnson, is preparing for a large exhibit, and the prizes given will be much larger than in 1912.

Judging from indications, a number of fine horses will be here at the race meet, and would advise that the Reeves county owners of horses begin getting their horses in training in order to be in position to secure some of the capital prizes.

The good crops of the present year, and general conditions, indicate that we will have one of the best fairs ever held in West Texas, and all the railroads are taking an interest in this work. Below you will find rates that the T. & P. has issued on their lines, and in fact, all lines in West Texas are doing the same, in order that we may have a goodly number of Eastern people with us during the fair.

With such men as we have at the head of the fair this year, and with the numerous committees working, there is no reason why the Reeves County Fair should not be a shining light for all West Texas. The secretary is inviting all counties of West Texas to enter, as good prizes are offered for county exhibits and we are expecting a number of these counties to enter and Reeves County people had better begin getting ready for the prizes.

Any information relative to the premiums will be taken care of, if referred to the secretary and the catalogs in full will be out in a very short time and every one interested can obtain same at the Fair Association's headquarters, or by mail.

Subject—Reeves County Fair, Pecos, Texas, September 16, 17, 18 and 19.

R. M. Harkey, Secretary.

In addition to this, we have received the assurance of a good many lines in Texas, such as the I. & G. N. and Cotton Belt, etc., to the effect that they will accept our tender of Class "A" and "B" fares and make such rates and arrangements effective from points on their lines, which I am quite sure will have the effect of stimulating quite a nice travel for the occasion, at least, I trust so.

Very truly,

GEO. D. HUNTER

A Double Wedding

Thursday evening, August 14th, at St. Katherine church, Rev. Father Chiverier, performed the ceremony that joined together in holy wedlock, Richard (Nick) Ritz and Miss Ida Nold and Edward Ritz and Miss Alma Bloxom.

Mrs. Mann played the Mendelssohn Wedding March as the happy couples entered the church, which was filled to its capacity with the many friends of the contracting parties.

The young people are all well and favorably known to the majority of our citizens, who join the Record Times in wishing the young people much joy and happiness in their wedded life.

They will make their home on the Ritz ranch, southeast of the city.

Max Krauskopf has just finished installing a 6 inch pump and a 35 h. p. Alamo oil engine for Brooks & Browning. The lift of water is about 75 feet and is now throwing about 800 gallons a minute and the water is still full of sand.

Mrs. B. E. Saddler of Fort Worth returned home Wednesday afternoon after spending several days in the city the guest of her niece, Mrs. M. W. Collier.

J. I. Taylor of Houston, is in the city visiting his mother, Mrs. A. O. Taylor, and sisters, Mesdames T. B. Pruett and H. N. McKellar.

The Pecos Melon Growers Association have to date, shipped nine cars of Challenge cantaloupes, besides the express shipments. The cars have gone to Pittsburg, Pa., St. Louis, New Orleans and Kansas City. The express shipments have been very heavy and have run from 50 to 100 crates a day since the beginning of the shipping.

Mrs. T. H. Bomar left today for an indefinite visit to her old home in North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lynch were busy the past week moving their household effects to the Crystal Water ranch where they will locate permanently.

Mrs. R. L. Crothers accompanied by her little daughter, Doris Dean, left Sunday for Austin, Texas, for an indefinite visit with relatives. Born, Monday evening, to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Otto, a daughter, and while this is the twelfth child born to them Ed is as happy as a king. The little lady makes the sixth daughter.

The Rex Theatre Opens

Wednesday evening the Rex Theatre, a new "movie," was opened to the people of Pecos. They were greeted with a fair attendance, and those attending seemed to be well pleased with the pictures shown.

The electrical, player piano was an attraction that was enjoyed by many of our citizens.

Races During the Fair

Numerous inquiries have been received from outside as well as local horsemen regarding the races to be pulled off during the Fair next month, showing that considerable interest is being taken in this part of the coming entertainment.

It was our intention to publish the racing program this week, but the call for the statements of the condition of the banks, together with the delinquent tax list forces us to cut that together with other good matter out this week.

The purses are good, and there will be good races. If you have a good horse get it in shape and try for a prize.

Some Crops in Barillo Valley

The following estimates of the crops in the Barillo "spread-out" was furnished us by one of the farmers of that section and we believe that it can be relied upon as being a true statement of the crop conditions.

Crops on the J. W. Wilson farm are estimated as follows: 40 acres maize, 1 1/2 tons per acre, 20 acres maize one ton per acre, five acres of June corn 35 bushels per acre, two acres cane two tons per acre, one acre water melons $200.00.

On the M. G. Darter farm eight acres of cotton will produce a bale per acre 15 acres of maize 1 1/2 tons per acre 5 acres of June corn 35 bu. per acre, two acres in water melons $200.00 per acre, one-half acre of blackeye peas 15 bushels.

J. C. Short's farm will produce as follows: 10 acres maize 1 1/2 tons per acre, one-half acre watermelons $100.00, one-half acre cantaloupes $50, one-fourth acre tomatoes $80.

On Rudolph Haef's farm the estimate is as follows: 30 acres maize 1 1/2 tons and 10

WANTS TO BUILD INTO VALLEY

President of Tennessee Ry. Co. Looking Over Valley To Select Possible Route.

That another road will be eventually built, or an extension added to one we already have, is only a matter of a short time. The subject seems to be ever present, but those interested do not seem to be able to decide which direction would be the most advantageous.

From the Roswell Daily Record we clipped the following, which is an account of a party sent out by a Northern railroad to look at the prospects in the Pecos Valley:

Pecos, Texas, Aug. 9.—Considerable interest was taken by Pecos Valley people in the conference here this week between Bird M. Robinson, president of the Tennessee railroad company, and representative of various Pecos Valley cities. It is understood that Mr. Robinson has come to Pecos and this section of the country for the purpose of deciding upon the feasibility of building a railroad into the Pecos Valley and the conference here was arranged for the purpose of talking the matter over with Pecos Valley people. Among the Valley Cities represented in the conference were Roswell and Artesia. Roswell was represented by Judge J. T. McClure, Clark Dille and R. H. Kemp, while Artesia was represented by Secretary Dinsmore of the Chamber of Commerce of that place.

No announcement has been made as to the outcome of the conference and it could not be learned what Mr. Robinson thinks of the matter since he declined to discuss the matter for publication. It is, however, that he has in mind the construction of a railroad into Pecos Valley probably from San Antonio.

Thomas Trammel, a well known oilwater banker and promoter, also interested in the venture and was through his efforts that the conference here were arranged.

V. G. Collins who has accepted position with Max Krauskopf in the central department, was called to home in Sweetwater the middle of the week by sickness in his leg.

He Try For Next Meeting

E. Kiser, chief of E. W. Chayton and Archie Hart of the fire department will leave for Sweetwater Monday to attend the next meeting of the Panhandle men's association, which will be on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

They will make a strong effort to the next meeting held in Pecos will be a good thing for Pecos, as there is no estimating the knowledge to be gained from these meetings by interchange of views.

Joe Farnum returned Tuesday from St. Louis where she went to purchase a line of fall and winterinery, which she will soon have for the inspection of her customers.

de Cargill of Toyah, was a Pecos visitor last Sunday. He said the lid being on here did not least interfere with his business.

King of Balmorhea was a visitor to the city this morning.

PECOS EXPERIMENTAL STATION

Report of the Local Experimental Station That May Be of Interest to Our Readers.

From the Twenty-fifth Annual Report of the Texas Agricultural Experimental Stations, issued recently, we reprint the report of the Pecos sub-station which appears in same.

Before giving the report a resume of the objects and aims of experimental stations would not be out of place. In regard to this the author has the following to say:

The agricultural experiment stations of the United States had their origin in an Act of Congress known as the "Hatch Act," approved March 2, 1886. This Act states that they were established—

"In order to aid in acquiring and diffusing among the people of the United States useful and practical information on subjects connected with agriculture, and to promote scientific investigation and experiment respecting the principles and appliances of agricultural science."

And it further states that—

"It shall be the duty and object of said experiment stations to conduct original researches, verify experiments on the physiology of plants and animals, the diseases to which they are severally subjected, with the remedies for the same; the chemical composition of useful plants at their different stages of growth; the comparative advantages of successive cropping as pursued under a varying series of crops; the capacity of new plants or trees for acclimation; the analysis of soils or waters; the chemical composition of manures, natural or artificial, with experiments designed to test their comparative effects on crops of different kinds; the composition and digestibility of the different kinds of food for domestic animals; the scientific and economic questions involved in the production of butter and cheese; and such other researches or experiments as may in each case be deemed advisable, having due regard to the varying conditions and needs of the respective states and territories."

The Hatch Fund carries $15,000 per annum, and is still available. In 1906 the "Adams Act" was passed by Congress, "for the more complete endowment of agricultural experiment stations now established or which may hereafter be established in accordance with Act of Congress, approved March 2, 1886."

Five thousand dollars was appropriated for the first year with provision for an annual increase of $2,000 over the preceding year, the total amount paid the experiment stations by the Federal Government amounted to $30,000, as is now the case with the Texas Station, but with the provision that all the appropriations under this Act "shall be applied to paying the necessary expense of conducting original research experiments bearing directly on agricultural industry of the United States."

Not over five per cent of the Hatch or Adams fund can be used for buildings or repairs. This together with the fact that the Station at College Station has received a dollar of State appropriation, explains the inadequate condition of buildings and equipment at this time.

will throw some of the stations their main appropriation.

who were shown through the place recently, promised to do all in their power to have the appropriation of $2,500 per year raised to $7,500. A glance at the following report of the Pecos Station will readily convince the most skeptical that such a showing needs encouragement in a financial way.

Report for season of 1912:

The Pecos sub-station is located near Pecos, Reeves County, and results obtained here are applicable to the cultivated valleys of the trans-Pecos region. The average annual rainfall for the last three seasons was 8.75 inches. This section is supplied with underground water which can be had for irrigation of crops by the use of pumped wells. This irrigation season extended over a period of six months during which time the pumping plant on the station was in operation 77 days of ten hours each, and lifted a total of 25,410,000 gallons of water. This water was distributed over an area of thirty-five acres and had equal amounts been distributed to all plats, would have been the equivalent of an irrigation of 26.73 acre inches. The total cost of naphtha, cylinder oil, hard oil, the distribution of water, plus a ten per cent depreciation of machinery, was $310.95 or $8.88 per acre, not including bordering, ditching and so forth. This soil is very porous, and much water is lost by seepage in its passage from the well to the plats to be irrigated.

Improvements.—During the early part of the present year a new pumping plant was installed to replace the old one, which, although it served its purpose in the beginning, was poorly installed and of low efficiency. The new plant is installed on modern principles and will furnish sufficient water to irrigate the farm, which consists of eighty acres. A substantial barn, a poultry house, and a tool shed have been erected, which, together with the buildings placed on the farm last season, give the necessary equipment for conducting experimental work.

Work Under Way.—Experiment work is being conducted at this station brush, was by far the most promising. It produced a heavy yield of brush superior in quality to both the Dwarf or Standard. The brush was fine, long and very uniform. Its yield was 560 pounds per acre, and while the yield of Standard broom corn was somewhat heavier, its value was not considered as great.

Sorghum-Legume Mixtures.—Owing to the value of Sorghum-Legume mixtures for ensilage and for hay, experiments are being undertaken to determine (1) the best varieties to use in mixtures, (2) proportions of seed required, and (3) the best seeding rate for mixtures. The results secured this season will form a basis for future work with sorghum-legume mixtures. The readiness with which these crops may be grown together, the increased value of the crop resulting, due to the introduction and the beneficial effects of legume on the soil is also being taken into consideration, and some interesting and valuable results are expected.

Cowpeas.—Eight varieties of cowpeas were grown in cultivated rows for hay and seed production. No. 56, Unknown; No. 5, Iron; No. 58, New Era; No. 59, Whippoorwill were the highest yielders of forage, in the order mentioned giving more than a ton to the acre. No. 58, New Era, No. 60, Clay, No. 57, Red Ripper, were the heaviest seed yielders, in the order mentioned. A large number of red row selections were grown and notes taken for future reference and use, in following up the cowpea work.

Peanuts.—Small Spanish, Tennessee Red and Virginia peanut varieties were grown. Results were favorable to the small Spanish variety. Furrow irrigation was practiced in producing this crop.

Alfalfa.—A considerable area of alfalfa was seeded during March for study of alfalfa hay and seed production problems. These plats made only fair growth, but produced a good root system, and became well established. They will afford excellent material for study the coming season. Plats of alfalfa inoculated and those without inoculation showed nodules alike in about the same number, indicating that this soil is supplied with natural inoculation.

Miscellaneous Legumes.—Kulthi Moth Bean and Velvet Beans were grown. The first mentioned crops appear to be of considerable value for this section. It is doubtful if the Velvet Bean is suited to conditions here. A large number of soy beans, Mexican Chick Pea and other legumes were planted and germinated well, but they were destroyed by rodents early in the season, so that no results are reported here. Field notes however, were taken and recorded for future reference.

Both Billa and Rosello frijoles were grown and produced heavy yields. This crop should be planted as early as May, in order to escape the hot summer weather. This crop is of great promise to this section.

Small grain.—Forty-two plats were planted to wheat, oats, barley and rye and all germinated well. Severe sandstorms, however, early in the season, destroyed these and no results were obtained. Fall seedings would be likely to withstand the spring winds, and other plats will be seeded this fall.

Cotton.—Thirty-two selections of cotton were grown with fairly good success, considering conditions. No. 118 and a selection made at this Station last year gave the heaviest yields, producing 1200 pounds of seed cotton per acre. Other varieties ranged as low as 480 pounds to the acre.

Sudan Grass.—Sudan Grass, T. S. No. 49, planted June 29, gave a yield of approximately one and a half tons of cured hay per acre. Early plantings would probably give much heavier yields, owing to the fact that it requires only about 30 days to mature a second crop from the stubble. It is very promising grass and in addition to its hay value, will likely become of considerable value as a summer grazing crop.

Laguna Corn.—Laguna corn, planted June 28, gave a yield of 26 bushels shelled grain and 1100 lbs of fodder per acre. Laguna corn under irrigation promises to be a very valuable crop for ensilage purposes.

Orchard Trees.—Two acres were set to orchard trees, including a number of varieties of pear, peach, apricot and plums. Exceedingly warm weather early in the season, followed by two days of cold weather, killed a number of these trees. However, a good per cent of them are now in thrifty condition and promise to eventually give a good orchard. The dead trees have been removed and will be replaced by new plantings.

From the report you will doubtless note that the station was on its first legs, so to speak. Wonderful improvements, in every line has since been made, and those who have not yet visited the station should do so at once.

Costly Treatment

"I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also a hospital in New Orleans but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and am now all right." Sold by all dealers.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural praise of the remedy, and especially in this the case of a severe attack of either when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all dealers.

A. & M. News Notes

R. B. Pearce, instructor in civil engineering and in charge of farm terracing work at the A. M. College has the following to say concerning terracing: "In the middle west and northern section of the State where grain is grown to a great extent the months of August and September constitute the best time of the year for preparing the soil to retain the fall and winter rains and also to put the land in such condition that it will not wash into the gullies and be ruined.

"Break deeply and properly terrace the hill land that has been planted to grain last winter and the farmer will find that there will be very few gullies next spring and also that his land is much easier cultivated and will give a decidedly greater yield.

"Don't despise the old hen on the farm. She is a great money-maker if properly cared for," says John C. Burns, of the animal husbandry department at the A. & M. College. "Feed her right and she won't try to eat the feed put in the trough for the horses and cows. Provide clean roosts and a clean place to nest and she will pay you $2 a year at the least. Those who have properly cared for the ordinary scrub chicken on the farm have found that their labors were met with big returns. She will also give you a good living at home.

The Texas Experiment Station at the A. & M. College will soon issue a bulletin on "Hog Cholera." This bulletin will be off the press within a few days and may be had by addressing the Director of Experiment Stations, College Station, Texas. The book was compiled by Dr. R. P. Marsteller, of the A. & M. College veterinary department. It gives a history of hog cholera, its signs, how to combat it, and gives valuable information on the production of the hog cholera serum which is produced extensively at the A. & M. College.

The Farmers' Congress and Institute which was in session at A. & M. College July 28th to August 2, was by far the most successful meeting ever held. The registration reached 2146 and there were fully 700 persons in attendance who did not register. Next year the Farmers' Institute will be held two days prior to the opening of the Farmers' Short Course at the College.

Who licks the labels ?

Not the Baker nor the Dishwasher nor the Cook. In fact, no one.—It is pressed on the moist dough and then put in the oven for 30 minutes or more when the temperature is 400 degrees no danger of any germs.

No, we do not wrap the bread till after it is cooked.

How do we get the loaves so nice and round ?

Why, we have a round pan to bake them in.

Where is this bread baked ?

In our own oven, back of our building. We would be pleased to have you come in between eleven and twelve o'clock and see us take them out of the oven.

Though the Record Times was not commissioned to print the delinquent tax list of the county, the contract being awarded to the Enterprise of Toyth, we, this week, through the courtesy of Editor Hibson, reproduce same. Our reasons for doing so are manifold. In the first place the list is an advertisement, pure and simple, and to accomplish its purpose must reach the greatest number. Without the least reflection on the other papers of the county, we claim for the Record Times a circulation of more than twice theirs. Especially is this so in regard to non-resident subscribers. Many of the latter take the county seat paper with the intention of getting just this class of news. Another reason is the amount of the fact that of late we have been deluged with letters asking when the list was to appear. So, to sum the situation in a few words, we are reprinting the list this week solely for the benefit of our readers.

Why is the Carnegie Library? We have been pretty busy of late trying to do the above question. We have not the least idea why it is or how it is nor when it is. We know where it is and that's all. Several attempts were made to get at some kind of a footing, but as far as we learned, every effort at concerted action somehow or other resulted in the donation of about one hundred volumes. This, as far as our knowledge goes, is all that has been done. The honors of having a Carnegie in one's town, are to our minds, empty ones after all. Let's swap it back to Andy for a silver medal for the oldest settler.

The entire world is at attention. All are awaiting the answer of Don Senor Huerta to special envoy Lind. From the latter not a peep can be got as regards his mission to the Mexican capital.

One noticeable feature is the fact that our friend, J. W. Moore, seems to have fallen into a job of work.

Pecos is prosperous. Until recently we would hesitate before we ventured such an opinion. But, like our friend, Sherlock, we base our opinions on certain deductions. When any town makes an pretence of supporting two movies at one and the same time that town is, beyond the shadow of a reasonable doubt, prosperous.

Bear in mind the fact that the Reeves County Fair opens next month. Get the dates in your mind, and talk the fact freely. It will be a big improvement over the previous fairs in every respect, and that is saying a mouthful. If you have occasion to write your friends mention the fact that we are going to have the greatest exhibit of irrigated products ever shown in the Southwest on September 16, 17, 18 and 19.

Experiment of different crops under conditions here, the cost of irrigation and methods of reducing this cost by elimination of seepage and application of water. Work is all being conducted as to methods of soil preparation, time and method of seeding, and variety tests of alfalfa, grain and forage sorghum, corn, small grains, legumes, grass and other forage crops. Crop results only will be reported here, this is the first season's work, and much of the work is just fair started, owing to newness of etc. The station farm is in excellent condition for the coming season's crop and the work well started.

Grain and Forage Sorghums Blackhull kafir, Feterita, Red ka Shalla, Dwarf milo, and several other grain sorghums were grown per seed production. Dwarf milo the heaviest yielder, producing bushels of threshed seed per acre. An early maturing Blackhull kafir, T. S. No. 35, was also an excellent yielder. Feterita produced 2 yields but was not considered as to either Dwarf milo or kafir. Sorghum apparently requires a great more water than milo, kafir or feterita. Heaviest seed yields had when plants were four in apart in a row. Sumac Sorge C. No. 176, was by far the heaviest yield of forage, producing 16 pounds per acre. Orange S was second in forage production while Blackhull kafir was third. The heaviest forage yield was cured from plants grown in 36 rows, with plants two inches

Remarkable Cure of Dysentery

"I was attacked with dysentery about July 15th, and used the doctor's medicines and other remedies with no relief only getting worse all the time. I was unable to do anything and my weight dropped from 145 to 125 pounds. I suffered for about two months when I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. I used two bottles of it and it gave me permanent relief," writes B. W. Hill of Snow Hill, N. C. For sale by all dealers.

Many People Die from Blood Poison

A little scratch on the hand, a blister, or small abrasion of the skin is often fatal because the poisonous germs start the infection.
That is why when Hunt's Lightning Oil comes in handy as an application to the abrasion, kills all germs that may have lodged there, preventing infection and death. It pays to keep this remedy in your home. Especially where there are children. All druggists in the country sell 50c bottles.
