National Stock Convention Goes to Los Angeles

Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan. 14.—Fred H. Bixby, of Long Beach, Cal., was chosen president of the American National Livestock Association to succeed United States Senator J. R. Kendrick, Sheridan, Wyo., at the close of the 25th annual convention here today. Other officers include: C. M. O'Donnell, Bell Ranch, N. M., first vice-president; M. K. Parsons, Salt Lake City, Utah; E. C. Boice, San Carlos, Ariz.; E. L. Burke, Omaha, Neb.; L. C. Brite, Marfa, Texas, and William Tollman, Baker, Ore., second vice-presidents; Sam H. Cowan, Fort Worth, attorney; John W. Springer, Denver, treasurer; T. W. Tomlinson, Denver, secretary. Los Angeles was chosen as the 1923 meeting place.

Colorado stockmen are not too far away to engage in what promises to be a lucrative business in the republic of Mexico, Virgil V. Parr of the bureau of animal industry, Washington, D. C., declared at today's session. He said the Texas stock raisers were counting on it.

Parr Tells of Mexico Conditions
Mr. Parr, who only recently returned from a trip through Mexico, accompanying a train of 11 cars of livestock, all of which was offered for sale to Mexicans, told of conditions there as he had observed them. "The livestock business of Mexico," he said, "today is only about 15 per cent of that which exists there in normal times. There are prospects of much good business on the part of the American stock raisers, and it will be 25 or 30 years before Mexico will become a competitor."

It what he was pleased to term "tax virtue" lies the solution of too much of the troubles which the country is experiencing at the present time, according to Charles B. Rhodes, of Orchard, Colo., who addressed the convention. He is a former vice-president of the organization. He said in part:

Tax Exemption Assailed
"While writing under our tax payments it is not pleasant to feel that many of our well-to-do neighbors are practically exempt through holding tax exemption securities and through the ownership of diamonds, jewelry, silver plate, costly furniture, libraries, all easily concealed or the costs minimized, thereby getting off scott free.

"We stockmen must eject the beam from our own eye before we can properly, accurately and honestly discern the mote in the eye of our neighbor. At the risk of asking a disagreeable question or two, we do not know of mortgages on stock, though no disclosure is made of the number mortgaged, all on for the benefit of the assessor? By the same token is not this deception practiced at times for the benefit of the forest reserve people, when we want to smuggle into the summer pastures more than our allotment? No doubt our taxes on grazing land is too high. One of the results of too free buying of high priced land for grazing purposes is the present hard situation among us."

Declaring that provisions of the transportation act, the arbitrary rule of making rates has resulted in the present unjust and unreasonable rates, which impose such enormous burdens upon the livestock industry as to destroy its prosperity, ruin the industry and under present prices a cost of production makes it extremely difficult in most cases and impossible in many, to recover from unprofitable conditions in business, the association adopted a resolution urging the repeal of section 15A of the act to regulate commerce as amended by the transportation act, and that the power of the State be restored as provided by the bill known as the Capper bill now before the committee on interstate commerce of the senate.

It was also urged that additional enactments should be passed as may be necessary to protect the public against the obligation to pay rates based on unreasonable and unfair rates of railroads. In all, some 32 resolutions were adopted by the con-

The C. C. C. Organizes Athletic Club

The Christian church has organized a basket-ball team under the name of the "Christian Church Cubs." The team will have their court at the residence of Mrs. L. C. Brite. They are going to have lights on the court, so as to enable them to play games at night.

The team is in hope that the other churches in Marfa will soon do the same, so that they may have a church league like other cities have every year.

At the first meeting of the team, they decided on the name, the colors, which are maroon and white, the captain, who is William Bailey, the treasurer, who is Donald Church, and for coach, who is Henry Coefield.

The team expects to have a game with the Alpine Christian church in the near future. The boys are hoping that the people of the town will turn out and give them their most earnest support, as this is what they need most. This organization will not only be of benefit to the boys of the church, but to the High school team.

Everybody come out and support them and they will put up a good game for you. There is only one trouble with the people of this community and that is, that they don't back up the boys in their athletics. Look at Fort Davis—they have the support and see how they are winning. Get busy people and let the boys know that you are behind them, as they hope to beat Ft. Davis in the near future.

Don't forget the championship Basket Ball tournament at Alpine, February 2-3-4, to establish the champs of this district.

How would you like to see Marfa champions. Then come out and see for yourself.

MRS. W. G. YOUNG

A wire reached Marfa from El Paso Thursday morning, announcing that Mrs. W. G. Young had died at 7:35 p. m. The body arrived in Marfa this morning and will be buried tomorrow—Saturday, the 21st.

The El Paso Times of January 19 says: Mrs. Hattie Young, aged 60 years, wife of W. G. Young, proprietor of the undertaking establishment at Marfa, Texas, died at 8 o'clock last night at a local hospital. Mrs. Young was brought to El Paso last Monday week. An operation was performed three days later.

Her husband and five children survive. The children are Walton S. Spencer of Moorpeck, Cal.; T. A. Spencer, of Marfa; George E. Spencer, of Ysleta; Mrs. R. R. Ellison, of Deming, N. M., and Miss Louise Young, Marfa, Texas.

The body in charge of the Simmons Hartford undertaking establishment, will be sent tonight to Marfa, accompanied by her husband and two of the children. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning in the Sacred Heart Catholic church at Marfa, of which Mrs. Young was a member. Father Paloma will officiate. Burial will be in the family plot in the Marfa cemetery.

The burial took place at 9:30 Saturday morning. Mrs. Young came to Marfa thirty years ago from Uvalde, Texas, and has been a resident of Marfa continuously since. She was an enthusiastic member of the W. O. W. Circle and was a leading spirit in all charitable undertakings. Her departure from our midst will not only be the source of profound sorrow to her husband and children, for she was a most loving, kind and thoughtful wife and mother, but she will be greatly missed by her many friends, for she was a loyal friend.

The editor acknowledges the receipt from its author, Capt. J. B. Gillett, of his book recently published, entitled: "Six Years With the Texas Rangers."

As soon as possible we look forward to the reading of his book with a great deal of pleasure. The Captain lives in Marfa, is a gifted writer and a very fine gentleman. He is a pioneer of Western Texas, was an officer of the law during the days that tried men and proved their metal, and knows of the things of which he has written, and therefore, his book is a most valuable contribution to West Texas history.

Later we expect to write more in detail of this valuable work, and its author.

That very fine preacher, Dr. Marion Nelson Waldrip, pastor of our great McKindree church, of Nashville, Tenn., in making his announcement, recently said: "Many of you do not attend services on Sunday night simply because you do not think it is stylish to do so," but a number of the people here said they stayed away from services last Sunday night because the church was so cold in the morning. But you come along and we will try to have the church warm next Sunday.

Facts you should know when you buy a car

The question of greatest importance is not what you will be allowed for your old car but the price you pay for the new car and the value received.

You are money out if allowed $100 more for your old car, yet have to pay a $150 higher list price for a new car when the comparative value is not there.

A purchaser's loss is only postponed when trading allowances are made above a used car's real value. The deal that may appear most satisfactory to you in the beginning may prove to be the most expensive in the end.

No one receives anything gratuitously in this world—don't be misled by false allowances.

We believe that any sales policy which encourages the giving of fictitious values for used cars is an injustice to the public. We wish to establish definitely the fact that the Buick Motor Company has never followed this policy; rather has always based the price of its product upon actual costs and when costs came down, correspondingly reduced the price of its cars to the public without any camouflage whatsoever

The New Year

THE year that has just closed means something different to most everybody. To some it has brought a great joy; to others a great sorrow; to many, both grief and gladness in full measure. Many of us have gone along the regular, uneventful path, filled with the happiness of love and work and the joy of everyday things, which, after all, is the best happiness.

To youth the New Year means a long, pleasure-filled evening and the writing of a new date on their letters. They look neither forward nor back. They make resolutions because it seems the correct thing to them to do. They keep them sometimes and it helps make them better stewards and workers, but it is not a serious matter with them—just as it should be with you.

Older folks, however, look back a bit on the year of a busy year—not systematically, but with a general sweeping glance that usually makes them a bit uncomfortable at things left undone or failures to make good on they had intended. Many have been just one thing disappointed that gives them a little warm feeling round their hearts—maybe not. The great sorrow or great joy stands out with more meaning to them than to youth. The another milestone passed.

The New Year may not present very bright prospects to some, but these same older folks know that there is something better in store than what the immediate future seems to offer—know that unhappy things can't last—that they are pretty sure to lead to something greater and better—know that even if they can't understand the reason for sorrow and trouble that there is a reason—know it deep down within themselves, though outwardly they resent and rebel against fate. It is not blind faith or optimism that teaches this, but reason and knowledge of life.

Older folks know that the year is bound to bring happiness and relief to those who are now heart-sorrow and trouble.—Mrs. J. L. Kestle, in the Detroit News.

BLACK NEW YEAR PUDDING

Ingredients: One cupful black molasses; one cupful thick sour milk; one dessertspoonful salt; beat well. Add one teaspoonful salt; one grated nutmeg; one-eighth pound citron, chopped fine; one-fourth pound sweet, chopped fine; four dry figs, chopped fine; one dozen almonds, minced fine; one cupful seeded raisins; three raw tart apples, chopped coarsely; three cupfuls flour. Mix all together, steam in a buttered mold for three hours and dry for 15 minutes in an oven. Serve with any good pudding sauce. This will serve 15 persons.

Resolutions

Let's us girls form little clubs and boycott th' mop top hair cut.

Let's break up th' practice o' wearin' cloth top shoes with broken arches.

Let's all resolve t' spend our money at home.

Mothers, keep a closer surveillance on your daughters in 1922.—Abe Martin.

JUDGE E. F. HIGGINS

In this issue Judge Higgins announces for re-election to the office of Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals Eighth Supreme Judicial District. There are twenty-two counties in his district. On the T. & P. it extends to and includes Martin county, of which Stanton is the county seat; on the G. H. & S. A. it extends to and includes Terrell county, of which Sanderson is the county seat.

Judge Higgins was born at Bastrop and was educated there in the public schools and afterwards at the Southwestern University at Georgetown, Texas. At an early age, in 1886 he was admitted to the bar. He began the practice of law in his native home, but soon afterwards moved to Houston, where he was associated in the practice of law with the late Jonathan Lane, one of the leading lawyers of Texas. In 1905, owing to ill health, he moved to Alpine.

Upon the creation of the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso he was appointed Associate Justice of the Court, which position he has since served.

Judge Higgins, before his elevation to the bench, was regarded as a splendid lawyer and for one of his age, considered one among the very best in Western Texas. Since his elevation to the present position he has ably demonstrated that his is the judicial as well as the legal mind. Judging by remarks made by members of the bar of this district, Judge Higgins will be re-elected without doubt.

E. T. McDONALD

The name of E. T. McDonald is presented this week as a candidate for the office of tax assessor, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held on Saturday, July 22, 1922.

Mr. McDonald has lived in this county a number of years and before this has never asked for an office. This year he expects to be and is now an active candidate for the above position. The office of Tax Assessor is one of the most important and carries with it great responsibility. So far as known Mr. McDonald is the only candidate. He is honest, capable and if selected, without doubt, will prove to be the right man in the right place.

MRS. TROXIE DAUGHERTY

In this issue the name of Mrs. Troxie Daugherty appears as a candidate for County Treasurer of Presidio County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, which is held this year on Saturday, July 22, 1922.

Mrs. Daugherty has lived in Marfa for a number of years, and has always filled responsible positions with credit, having always the perfect confidence of her employers.

At this writing she has no opposition for this responsible office, and without question, if elected, she will discharge its duties with ability. She discharge its duties with ability. She will discharge its duties with ability. She discharge its duties with ability. She will discharge its duties with ability.

January Carnival OF ECONOMY

The sale that has caused competitors to wonder how it is done and why we should offer such class of merchandise that we handle, at such unheard-of prices.

Our great reduction prices are just what we advertised in last weeks paper. We want to start the New Year right, and we feel in sacrificing our profit and selling our goods at less than cost for two weeks, is the best advertising we can get, and that in the long run it will pay us FIRST. It will show our friends that a sale of this kind under present conditions, shows that we want to help cut down expenses as much as is in our power to do so. Second: Our great success in the past and our future success to come, will be the kind of treatment we extend to our friends and customers under the abnormal conditions that has prevailed.

Come in; compare our prices, and we are convinced you will agree with us that we are doing, in every way, what we advertise.

HAROLD KING

In this issue of the New Era the name of Harold King is presented to the voters of Presidio County as a candidate for Sheriff. Mr. King before coming to this county, lived for many years in the adjoining county of Jeff Davis, where he had considerable experience as chief deputy under ex-Sheriff Davis. About five years ago he moved to Marfa, and for the last three years; up to a few months ago, he served the State as ranger, stationed at Marfa and Redford most of the time. Mr. King is widely known in this and adjoining counties, and enjoys the reputation of being a citizen, loving peace and observing law and order; and it is believed, that if selected for the responsible position of sheriff he will conduct himself with credit and honor.
