CONE JOHNSON SPEAKS HERE

VISITORS FROM SURROUNDING COUNTIES HEAR SPEECH.

Speaker Devotes Almost Entire Time to Discussion of Prohibition—Declares It the Main Issue.

Plainview gave Hon. Cone Johnson a right royal greeting on Thursday, and his supporters exerted themselves in the warmth of the welcome they extended him.

The candidate arrived in the city at 1:10 p. m., and was met at the depot by members of the reception committee from the Hale County Johnson Club and a crowd of 250 citizens and delegates from surrounding counties. The Floydada band added a musical welcome to the Tyler candidate at his first stop on the Plains, and several ladies assisted the reception committee in doing the honors.

Automobiles hurried the candidate, members of the committee, ladies and band to the Ansley bank building, where, after lunch, an informal reception was held for a short time.

Arrangements had been made with the railroad companies to hold local trains, north, south and east, for three hours, to allow delegations from surrounding towns to attend the speaking, and the schedule of the reception and speech were timed accordingly.

A number of prominent citizens of Hale and visitors from five surrounding counties called during the short time of reception to meet and pay their respects to their favorite prohibition leader.

After a few minutes spent in greeting the members of the committee, an auto parade was led by the band, in two large machines driven abreast, to the tabernacle erected by the several churches for the purposes of revival meetings.

Seats had been provided for 1,100, and the structure would not accommodate the crowd, which was estimated at from 1,500 to 2,000.

Seated on the platform were Johnson supporters to the number of 40, representing all precincts in the county and a number of surrounding towns. The ladies who were assisting the reception committee occupied front seats on the platform, and lawyers, capitalists, editors, farmers, merchants and stockmen wore Johnson badges and other evidence of their membership in Johnson Clubs.

W. A. Parker, chairman of the Hale County Johnson Club, welcomed the visitors to the city and presented Hon. L. G. Wilson, the well-known capitalist and retired lawyer, who introduced the speaker.

Mr. Wilson is an orator of no mean ability, and his fervid endorsement and high compliments to the Tyler man roused the crowd to loud and continuous applause.

The ladies had decorated the speaker's stand with a large bouquet of sweet peas, but as the stand was needed by the speaker for use of several kinds of voice stimulants the flowers were removed to the press tables.

Mr. Johnson was not in his usual fine physical fettle, and was somewhat travel worn, and his voice was far from its usual strength, he having to resort to the constant use of lemons, peppermints and candy to maintain its force.

The audience responded so readily in sympathy with the speaker and his expressed views that he exerted his vocal powers to the limit, and, before going far into his speech, was well warmed up to his subject.

With a mere statement of the limited time at his disposal, he plunged into the subject of prohibition—State-wide, submission, constitutional amendment, statutory enactment, or by any means to rid Texas of the saloon business and whiskey interests.

"One of the candidates in this race is an avowed anti, one a pro and the other two are straddlers," said the speaker. "Mr. Colquitt and myself are engaged in a hard struggle, as representatives of the saloons and prohibition, and about all the other fellows are doing is to bother the fighters.

"Prohibition has been made an issue in this campaign, and there is no place in it for Davidson or Poindexter. They offer nothing to the prohibition crowd."

The speaker recited the vote for submission and the events leading up to the refusal of a sufficient minority in the State to defeat the proposition to carry out the will of the people and the demands of the Democratic party, and asked, was the whiskey traffic more powerful than a sovereign people, that it could over-ride, over-rule and repudiate what the large majority of the people said they wanted, and, also, the demands of the party.

"We have ordered the question of submission printed on the ticket again, we will again have it incorporated in the State Democratic platform, will again ask a legislature to submit a constitutional amendment. And suppose the whiskey crowd secures the election of 11 senators and they defeat the bill, and you have a governor in office who says that no other kind of prohibition except constitutional prohibition is lawful—what relief have you? Every other candidate except myself tells you that you are at your row's end.

"What will you do if you are elected?" asked a man in the audience.

"If I am governor and a few members of the legislature kill the prohibition amendment, I will call on the majority to give the people relief by statute—the same old statutory way which has been used to run other evils out of Texas."

The speaker said that statutory laws had throttled gambling dives and driven the bucket shops out of the State.

"We have statutory prohibition in force now on Sundays and election days, and why could we not legally make it to include court days, even when the justice court is in session, or when the ladies' aid society meets? All of these objections and technicalities offered as arguments against statutory prohibition are but breast-works being thrown up to hinder the battle to drive the whiskey business out of this State.

"Mr. Colquitt really should have his name on the Republican ticket, rather than on the Democratic, but his platform with reference to dealing with the question is more legally tenable than Judge Poindexter's, as Colquitt puts us all on an equality, with his local option law, but Judge Poindexter goes him one better, in saying that the doctrine of local self-government does not apply to country people. He draws a three-mile ring around country school houses and churches and prohibits the sale of whiskey in that circle, where there are no saloons, as the country people have already drawn a larger circle than he has, but he doesn't want any circles in the towns and cities where the saloons exist.

"Why not make the circle apply to cities like Dallas, where you could catch 210 saloons in a three-mile net?"

"If we are going to have prohibition in circles let's enlarge the circles to four or five miles, and have them lap over on each other.

"It seems that Judge Poindexter believes in statutory prohibition by the three-mile-circle method."

After other arguments along the same line, the speaker declared that "If, in this election, prohibition gets its throat cut I will know where to look for the pocket knives with blood on them, they will be found in the pockets of prohibitionists. Colquitt and his crowd won't be guilty of the assassination."

The speaker then took up the charge of his being a new convert to the cause, and said that he admitted having once been on the other side, but had been a convert longer than was generally known to most people.

He was severe in his criticism of Judge Poindexter for reading one part of a sentence in a letter written by the speaker in 1908, and produced the original letter, reading it in its entirety and commenting on it freely. The letter as read was a severe denunciation of whiskey and the liquor traffic in its entirety.

The speaker closed with a splendid

His speech, as a whole, was well received, and the speaker was congratulated by a number at its close.

METHODIST ACCEPT COLLEGE

"TRIP AROUND THE WORLD."

Some great man once said that travel broadened the mind. If that is so the citizens of Plainview, of both sexes and all ages, had an opportunity on Thursday, from 4 to 11 p. m., to enlarge their mental faculties in more ways than one, by taking the "Trip around the World" planned and executed with infinite care by the ladies of the Methodist church.

Buying a ticket at Fergusonville, from W. W. Jones, the genial ticket agent, ye reporter, after having the ticket punched by Mrs. Elmer Hoyle, was immediately made to feel at home by the presence of the Stars and Stripes draped in graceful profusion over doorway and wall, demonstrating the fact that we were still under the kindly care of Uncle Sam. Here the travelers were shown into the White House, and graciously received by President and Mrs. Taft, who were personated by Martin Lindsey and Miss Willie Darsey, both of them ably representing the first gentleman and lady in the land. A good, substantial lunch was served in the dining room of the presidential mansion, and eaten with sound American appetites, from a table decorated in the patriotic red, white and blue.

Then—presto! change!—the big touring car of Sam Ansley carried our party swiftly to the home of A. E. Harp, which was transformed into fair, flowery, beautiful Japan, where dark-eyed girls in silken kimonos served tea in true Japanese style. Those dainty, almond-eyed maidens, Mrs. Walter Gray Burch and Misses Ola Long, Jewel Bracken, Clestine and Gene Harp, observed the poetic silence and demure quiet characteristic of the Island Kingdom, not a word breaking the charm as they waved their fans in stately fashion and waited on the bewildered but delighted tourists.

Again taking the rapid transit car we were transported to distant Sweden, the home of W. L. Harrington, which for the time being was changed into the "Land of the Midnight Sun" by beautiful and appropriate decorations. Mesdames R. A. McWhorter, J. W. Campbell, R. Scott Cochran, Byron Hale, Misses Florence Harrington, Edrena Roberts, Joe Keck and little Mary Smiley and Lizzie Webb, of Hale Center, and Wilhemina Harrington, all in picturesque peasant costumes of gay-colored shirts, white bodices and becoming capes, served delightful coffee and sandwiches to the hungry travelers, who again started on their long, but pleasant trip, arriving in due time at Alaska, the home of L. P. Martin, where the thermometer was ten degrees below zero and everything was covered with glistening snow and gleaming ice. Glaciers and flocs were on every side, and bears and bear skins made one think that Teddy had been to Alaska as well as to Africa. By some strange magic, unknown to Polar discoverers, the North Pole, a veritable pole, was found to be in Alaska, with Peary victoriously planting the Stars and Stripes on the top, while Cook ingloriously struggled at the foot.

Miss Rosa Fowle and Mesdames Frank Carter, Robert Meyer and L. P. Martin, in gowns of snowy whiteness, served ices and cakes.

Here the tickets were collected, the travelers separated, and the knowledge that they were again on their native shore was enjoyed by the weary tourists.

The affair was given for the benefit of the building fund of the new Methodist church, and was a success from start to finish, every detail being carefully looked after by those who took part. The names of the faithful workers behind the scenes are too numerous to mention, but to them belongs much of the credit for the undertaking, and, also, to those gentlemen who so carefully conducted the travelers from one country to the other.

Dr. G. W. Carter, Jack Harris, Tom Wilson, W. A. Martin, Carl Donohoo, Lee Shropshire, W. A. Reid, Dave Collier, Ed Hays, Earl Keck, B. T. Mitchell, R. D. Hatchell, J. J. Ellerd, R. M. Ellerd, Frank Pierson, D. M. Thomas.

R. McGee, the Santa Fe station agent at this place, arrived Monday from Woodward, Okla., where he had been visiting for a couple of days.

Several members of the Floydada lodge were present during the same evening, and a team from each of the places gave exhibitions of work with their degree teams.

After the business session, the visitors were banqueted and toasted in elegant and enjoyable manner.

Those in attendance from this city were:

DISTRICT CONFERENCE FAVORABLY CONSIDERS PROPOSITION.

Will Require an Endowment, Which Is Practically Assured, According to Statement of Principal.

The District Conference of the M. E. Church, South, met in Lockney on last Thursday, with Presiding Elder Hardy, of Plainview, in the chair and the largest attendance of any previous meeting in the history of the district, there being over 175 delegates present.

Before adjournment, on Monday, the conference voted to recommend to the Annual Conference, which meets in Clarendon in November, that the proposition of the Plainview committee to convey Central Plains College to the Church be accepted.

An endowment of $50,000 will be required, and the principal, Rev. E. P. Riley, states that this amount is almost assured.

A committee was appointed to act in conjunction with similar committees from other districts in West and Northwest Texas to consider a movement to build a great sanitarium at some point in this section, to be owned, controlled and operated by the Methodist Church. This subject has been privately discussed for some time, and the matter is now assuming definite shape.

Dr. L. L. Gladney, former president of Central Plains College, was recommended for admission to the General Conference.

The conference delegates subscribed $305.00 to assist the Bovina Church in rebuilding their church, recently destroyed by a storm.

A woman who was a victim of tuberculosis, and in need of aid, was assisted by a liberal donation.

Resolutions complimentary to Rev. G. S. Hardy were adopted, this being his fourth year as Presiding Elder of this district and the limit of his stay.

Miss Margaret Miller, of Lockney, and Mr. Crawford, of Silverton, received the free scholarships in the Southwestern University, at Georgetown, two of these scholarships being allowed each district in Texas in return for the $100,000 raised for an endowment of a theological department in honor of Bishop Seth Ward, the resident bishop of Texas, who died in Japan, last year.

Pastors, delegates and visitors enjoyed the full hospitality of the Lockney people, and the sessions of the conference were of great interest. The reports of the ministers were excellent, and all the pastoral charges are in good shape and indicate the best year's work in Plains' Methodism.

Bud Pipkin, of Strip, was a Plainview visitor this week.

L. F. Cobb left on a business trip to Hereford on Thursday.

George W. Stair and wife are visiting relatives at Aurora, Missouri.

Miss Beulah Nobles left on Thursday for a visit with relatives at Chariton, Iowa.

Misses Mavis Perry and Eula Maberry, of Hale Center, visited Mrs. E. Graham on Thursday.

Will D. Anderson, of Hale Center, was in the city on Thursday, taking in the Cone Johnson meeting.

Uncle Bob Lemond, of Hale Center, was in the city Thursday, whooping for his favorite in the governor's race.

The following were among the visitors from Tulla on Thursday: T. W. Tomlinson, candidate for representative; A. W. Calahan, of The Tulla Standard; T. A. Ross, county clerk; Rev. Holt, pastor of the Baptist Church; City Marshal Jones, Calvin Shelton, A. B. Martin and Chester Hutchinson.

A NEW MILKING MACHINE.

The city editor of a paper in a town not far distant was invited out by a dairy friend to see a patent milking machine, which the milkman had just installed. On his return to the city, the reporter made the following attempt at describing the lacteal appliances: "A new milking machine has just been invented, and is in successful operation in the D—dairy. It is an electric motor fastened to the cow, the electricity being generated by a small dynamo attached to her tail. She switches her tail, the dynamo starts, and by means of a bevel gear and block and tackle the milk is extracted, strained and the pail and strainer hung up to dry. A small phonograph accompanies the outfit and yells 'So' every time the cow moves. If she lifts her foot to kick the dingus slides over a whatnot and the phonograph says 'Damn it!' If she continues to kick a hinged arm grabs up the milk and stool and 'lams' her on the back until it loosens a patch of skin the size of a dishpan."—Exchange.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR BANNER CLASS.

Miss Marie Cox entertained the banner class of the First Presbyterian Church last Friday evening, at her home, on McClelland street. The rooms were prettily decorated with red and gold, the class colors, the same motif prevailing throughout the evening. The walls were hung with miniature banners, each containing the jumbled letters of some one's name, and afforded an interesting contest in the effort to straighten them out.

Another one of great interest was the fishing game, the guests fishing with a red pole and golden line in the pool of fortune, each one catching a little red fish bearing an appropriate verse, foretelling a golden future for the successful fisherman, the verses being read aloud, amid peals of laughter.

Other amusing contests enlivened the evening, in addition to which the hostess served a dainty salad course, in which the class colors were also used.

This most charming of functions was enjoyed by Misses Jessie Kerr, Grace Murray, Gwendoline Hanby, Edna Sanders, Verne DeJarnette, Marquenta Hulén, Marie Bryson, Ruby Crompton, Jennie and Bertha Hancock, and Gamaliel Graham, Leonard Bryson, Harold Hughes, Roy Stewart and Horace Lindsay.

LAWN PARTY.

(Delayed from last week.) The Dowden ranch was the scene, on last Wednesday evening, of one of the most charming of the June parties.

A platform had been erected on the brilliantly lighted lawn, on which the young people danced, while those of older years played five hundred. Punch was served throughout the evening, and an ice course before the guests departed for home.

In the absence of Mrs. Dowden, who is away for the summer, Mr. Dowden and his sons, Will and Ethelbert, were assisted in entertaining their guests by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Burch and Mrs. J. Buchheimer.

The personnel of the remainder of the party was: Misses Edna and Florence Harrington, Jewel Bracken, Edrena Roberts, Eula Mae Alley, Ada Knight, Mae Kinder, Joe Keck, Mildred Buchheimer, and Messrs. Sam Earhart, Guy Jacob, Luther Bain, Grady Pipkin, and Will and Ethelbert Dowden.

MOONLIGHT PICNIC.

The grand moonlight picnic scheduled for Tuesday night came off in due time, the Baracas proving themselves royal hosts to the Philatheans and other invited guests. Four large floats, two autos and other conveyances conveyed the one hundred picnickers to the beautiful grove three miles east of Plainview, where such gatherings are usually held.

A bountiful supper had been provided, which was followed by ice cream, both courses being eaten off of wooden platters, in true picnic style.

The chaperones of the party were Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Gillon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watson and M. and Mrs. W. B. Joiner.

BRIDGE CLUB.

The Bridge Club was pleasantly entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Robert E. Burch, at her home, on Walnut street. Three tables were provided for the members and Mrs. J. O. Wyckoff, the only invited guest. Orange sherbert and cake were served near the parting hour, and thus another delightful meeting was recorded on the annals of the club.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

(Delayed from last week.) Children's Day was observed last Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian church. A most interesting program was rendered, each child doing their part well in song and reading. The pastor, Rev. Posey, made a good talk, and excellent music was rendered by the choir and classes. The children had been carefully drilled by Miss Effie Casey and Mesdames McKey and Norwood, and much credit is due these ladies for the success of the occasion. A collection of fifteen dollars was taken for the cause of missions. The church was simply decorated with ferns and cut flowers, presenting a fit setting for the innocence and charm of childhood.

I. F. E. CLUB.

(Delayed from last week.) The I. F. E. Club met with Miss Ada Knight on last Saturday afternoon. Three tables were provided for five hundred, Misses Mae Kinder and Eula Mae Alley tying for high score in the game. Miss Knight was assisted in serving a dainty ice course by Miss Ola Long.

FORTY-TWO PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher Garrison honored their cousin, Miss Maggie Dice, of Belton, with an informal party on last Monday evening, at their home, on Slaton street. After several games of forty-two, a dainty ice course was served the following guests: Misses Mae and Madge Hall, Miss Frederick, Misses Dale and Ella Dillingham, and Judge Lancaster, J. J. Lash and John Allen.

KERR-CHUMBLEY WEDDING.

At the pretty home, on Highland Addition, of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Chumbley a wedding service was performed on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, uniting in marriage their youngest daughter, Miss Dovie Chumbley, and Laurence Kerr, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kerr, of this city.

With potted ferns and vases of sweet peas, the reception hall was transformed into a bower of beauty, where Misses Jessie Kerr and Rebecca Chumbley presided at the punch bowl. The same flowers and greenery were effectively used in the other rooms.

Attended by Miss Ella Pickett, gowned in pale lavender silk, and Frank Pearson, who was best man, the bride and groom entered, to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Mrs. Teague, sister of the bride, and stood before Rev. R. A. Walton, who, assisted by Rev. John P. Kidd, pastor of the Adams Street Presbyterian Church, sealed the vows that made them one.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chine, simply trimmed with rare lace and worn over white silk slips, while the groom wore the conventional black.

An informal reception followed the ceremony, at both of which only the immediate relatives and close friends were present. Fruit and ices were served, by Misses Jessie and Jennie Kerr and Rebecca Chumbley.

Miss Agnes Chumbley, sister of the bride, was ill on the night of the marriage, and was, therefore, prevented from taking an active part in the wedding festivities. Her place was taken by Mrs. Will C. Kindle, of McKinney, sister of the groom. Gowned in an elaborate lingerie frock, she received the guests at the door, welcoming each one.

The presents were varied and costly, the groom's gift to the bride being an exquisite pearl ring.

Mr. Kerr is a successful young business man, of great ability and promise, and the bride is known for her beauty and sweetness of disposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerr will be at home to their friends after the 26th, in their pretty new home, on West Second street. They have the good wishes of their many friends for a bright and prosperous future.

CHURCH RECEPTION.

To greet the new pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. W. A. Posey, late of Wichita, Kansas, the members of the Church, including the Ladies' Aid Society, gave a reception on last Tuesday evening, that Mr. Posey and his family might meet the pastors of the city, and other friends of the congregation.

Seated by Masters Casey Hughes and Horace Lindsay, the guests listened to a well-rendered program, beginning with "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," and embracing two violin solos by Mr. O. A. Puder, Mrs. E. R. Williams playing his accompaniment.

The address of welcome was made, in happy vein, by County Judge Mayfield, followed by Rev. C. E. Hastings, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. Hastings' short address was appropriate and filled with the true spirit of heartfelt religion.

The reading of the 103 Psalm, by the pastor, and a vocal solo by him were special features of the evening. After the closing hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," a general hand-shaking ensued.

Lemon punch and cake were served in abundance, presided over by some of the fair maids and matrons of the church. The church was prettily decorated with banners of welcome, sweet peas and streamers of red and white. The occasion was one of pleasant remembrance and genuine friendship—a red letter evening in the church history of Plainview.

G. B. C. CLUB.

The G. B. C. Club held an open meeting on Wednesday evening, with Miss Bessie Wilson, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson, corner of White and Harp streets. Immediately upon the arrival of the guests they were served with punch, by Clara Belle Wilson and Myrill Wilson. Games interested the boys and girls until the serving of cream and cake on the lawn.

Those in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hale, Misses Georgia Brashears, Amy Nash, Lillie Nance, Marquenta Hulén, Ina Dowden, Patty Dalton, and Olin Brashears, Liston Dunaway, Louis Wardlaw, Earl Owens, Maple Wilson, Gamaliel Graham, Wallace Davenport.

WATERMELON PARTY.

Miss Lillie Nance entertained some of the younger set on last Tuesday evening, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Nance, corner of Walnut and East Main streets. An ice course was served, followed by ice-cold watermelons. The eating and cutting of these occasioned much merriment, and a general good time ensued.

The guests were Misses Amy Nash, Georgia Brashears, Bessie Wilson, Patty Dalton, and Messrs. Wood, Stephens, Kemp, Olin Brashears, Liston Dunaway, Louis Wardlaw.

Plainview business men are raising a protest at the action of the secretary of their Commercial Club in sending club printing to Dallas. They claim that real boosters trade at home, and that when Commercial Club work is sent out of town for printing, especially when there are two well-equipped shops in the city, the secretary is boosting Dallas, not Plainview.—Amarillo News.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells and urinary disorders, kidney weaknesses may be the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and keep them well. Can Plainview readers demand further proof than the following statement?

Mrs. E. J. Shaw, 501 Lamar Ave., Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "I have no doubt that a cold was the cause of backache in my case. From the time the complaint attacked me, I do not think that I had a moment's relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I was so weak that I was unable to do any work that brought a strain on my back. I used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and was soon as strong and well as ever. This remedy gave me complete freedom from my trouble, and consequently I cannot speak too highly in its favor."

BAPTIST COLLEGE CORNERSTONE

TO BE LAID WITH IMPOSING CEREMONIES ON JULY 13.

Exercises under Auspices of Masonic Order—Hon. Jewell P. Lightfoot to Deliver Address.

A two-days' celebration and exercises incident to laying the cornerstone of the new Baptist college will take place in this city on July 13 and 14.

The college building is completed far past the cornerstone stage, and work is now well under way on the second story, but arrangement was made that a tablet and vault could be inserted in the proper place.

The exercises on the 13th will be under the auspices and conducted by the Masonic order, and Hon. Jewell P. Lightfoot, Attorney General of Texas, has notified the local lodge that he accepts their invitation to deliver an address on that occasion.

It is proposed to hold a general rally and conference on the day following the cornerstone laying, and a suitable program will be arranged for that date.

A large number of visitors from surrounding towns are expected to attend the exercises and also participate in the conference, intended to arouse interest in the success of the college.

THE TELEPHONE GIRL.

The following reference to the telephone girl, though hardly up to the standard of Emerson, hits off the situation about as it is:

"The Telephone Girl sits still in her chair,

And listens to voices from everywhere.

She hears all the gossip, she hears all the news;

She knows who is happy, and who has the blues.

She knows all our sorrows, she knows all our joys;

She knows every girl who is chasing the boys;

She knows of our troubles, she knows of our strife;

She knows every man who is mean to his wife.

She knows every time we are out with the boys;

She hears the excuses each fellow employs.

She knows every woman who has a dark past;

She knows every man who's inclined to be 'fast.'

In fact, there's a secret 'neath each saucy curl

Of that quiet, demure-looking Telephone Girl.

If the Telephone Girl would tell all that she knows

It would turn half our friends into bitterest foes;

She would sow a small wind that would soon be a gale—

Engulf us in trouble, and land us in jail.

She could let go a story which, gaining in force,

Would cause half our wives to sue for divorce;

She could get all the churches mixed up in a fight,

And turn all our days into sorrowing night.

In fact, she could keep the whole town in a stew

If she'd tell a tenth part of the things that she knew.

Now doesn't it really make your head whirl?

When you think what you owe to the Telephone Girl?"

THE WEATHER TROUBLES.

Rainmaker Hunt Is Flirting with Voters in Briscoe County.

That there has been a slight interruption of the weather service wire to the dampness depository for the past few weeks has, perhaps, been noticed, and in casting around to discover the reason for the temporary dryness The Herald learns that Rainmaker Hunt, of Canyon, who regulates such affairs in this section, has been over in Briscoe county flirting for the favor of the voters over there. The gentleman says he can generate sufficient hot air to induce the atmosphere to turn loose all the moisture on hand, and, if such is the case, and he and Hughes, of the Silverton Herald, should turn loose at the same time, old Briscoe county would be visited by such a flood that Mr. Noah's little presentation would be classed as a freshet in comparison.

That there is no guesswork or haphazardness in the system used by the "Old Reliable" the following letter will show:

"Editor Briscoe County Herald, Silverton, Texas.

"My Dear Sir:

"I have just noticed in The Herald of the 22nd ult. something relative to the matter of the intervention of the editor of The Hale County Herald in regulating the rainfall of this country. You remarked through the columns of the B. C. Herald that you might need me in Briscoe this summer. Well, I am coming, and if you will promise not to forestall the safety valve of the goddess of rain, as did the editor of the Hale County Herald, I can influence sufficient hot air at least to cause low barometer, thereby causing a disturbance in the political atmosphere to break the ether spanning above, so that there would be sufficient air cells to let through the ozone of the upper world, which, when it comes in contact with the humidity of the lower world, there will be a (J. C.) Hunt for the assimilation of the two and cause a weakening of the resistance of the luminous meteoric phenomena that shuts out the avalanche of precipitation which attracts the verdancy of the fields and which produces a vastation of vermillion conditions, or whatever that is.

"Now, if your readers have not studied the conditions outlined you might explain more fully editorially, so that if I do happen in Briscoe county in the near future, which is altogether probable, they may be able to treat with me on amicable terms.

"I will always be found to be communicative, ready to talk, and extremely anxious to explain, and in the best of humor and kindest regards. I am anxious to once more visit the Garden of Eden and verify the versimilitude which you utter.

"Yours truly,
"J. C. HUNT."

OUR ICE MEN.

Mr. R. C. Malone and son, Charles A. Malone, of Plainview, proprietors of the Malone Light and Ice Co., of that city, called at The Herald office Monday. It is the policy of this paper to give home enterprise preference and support over enterprises abroad, and, since we have no ice factory in Tulsa, we think our people should patronize our nearest neighbor in this line. We have no doubt this Plainview concern can furnish ice just as cheap, and perhaps cheaper, than other concerns at a greater distance from us.—Tulsa Herald.

If the thrifty citizens of Tullaliland will but try the pure Plainview product of our ice plant is a safe assertion that their future patronage is assured. Made from water as clear and pure as ever flowed from mother earth, and by machinery as modern as is made, why shouldn't the factory here furnish ice to all the territory tributary to this place; and, from all reports, they are doing so, to the eminent satisfaction of the dealer and consumer.

INJUNCTION CASE ARGUED.

Opinion of Court of Appeals Expected on Saturday.

Attorneys from this city representing the Commissioners' Court of Hale county appeared before the Court of Appeals in Fort Worth last week and argued the appeal of the defendants in the court-house injunction matter. The court indicated by a line of questioning that one issue in the case would be further considered, but, on account of the nature of the case, a decision is expected on to-morrow, which is the weekly opinion day.

The selfish person should not blame others so much for it.

Really, isn't it amusing how some of our local financial lords are overawed in the imagination of their own supposed greatness?

Discourage the demagogue. There are too many men in this State with brains to encourage the aspirations of a blatant brayer whose only claims to popularity lies in an appeal to prejudice.

We love all the legislative candidates, but oh! you Hunt! Drift hitherward, that we may pour out a little of our political affection, and, incidentally, secure a shower of desirable dampness.

Everybody interested has had their say about the city hall matter. Now, suppose we drop the subject and cultivate a little friendly feeling and all join issue in doing something for the development of Plainview and Hale county.

The rifle squad from Amarillo came near walking off with all the honors in the State shoot held for the volunteer soldiers at Austin last week. You can't down anybody who lives in any part of the great Plainview country, for they are filled with the Plainview spirit and never accept defeat. Great is Plainview and the entire Plainview country.

The clerk in the U. S. customs office at New York who gave away the secrets of the American Sugar Refining Company on the underweights reported on imported raw sugar was awarded one hundred thousand dollars as payment for the information. While the price was somewhat steep the government made a good trade, as over two millions were added to the treasury and five officials and employees of the Sugar Trust are headed toward the penitentiary, as a result of the peaching of an employee.

Senator Burton, of Ohio, has announced authoritatively that he expects to remain a bachelor as long as he lives. There is, of course, no law against a bachelor thinking he is living.—Dallas News.

And there is no need of a law to recall the fact to a married man! He is daily reminded of his servility at home, and the grocer and butcher mention the matter to him about the first of the month. Senator Burton likely spends all his salary on himself, and, as chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee, he is beamed sufficiently by his fellow members to make up for some of the pleasures of the benedict.

TWO NEW STATES.

The bill giving separate statehood to Arizona and New Mexico has passed both houses of Congress, and, if the provisions are carried out, there will be two new stars added to the flag within the next two years. The constitutions to be adopted by the proposed states shall first be approved by the President and Congress, and the bill provides that if Congress, "the next regular term" after the constitution is submitted, fails to disapprove of the constitution, then the President alone may approve of the constitution and statehood be proclaimed.

Under the bill, the constitution of the two proposed states can not possibly be ratified by the people and submitted to Congress before the session next December, which would put the matter up to "the next regular term" of Congress, which convenes in December, 1911. That Congress, by failing to approve the constitution, could prevent the proclamation of statehood until the end of the long session in 1912.

Another provision in the bill objected to by the Democrats is the section which prescribed under what conditions of suffrage the first set of state officers shall be elected, after the state has a constitution of its own, and regardless of what conditions of suffrage that constitution may provide.

By a strict party vote of 42 to 19, the Senate bill containing these provisions was substituted for the House bill, and the bill was then passed by a vote of 65 ayes and noes.

The House accepted the bill as it passed the Senate, and the long-looked-for and greatly-desired privilege of statehood is now up to the voters of the two territories.

THE SALOON CANDIDATE.

The Herald believes in the wisdom of the policies advocated and the platform outlined by Judge Poindexter, but we are not so terribly wrought up over the gubernatorial campaign as to believe that Texas will go to the demitition bow-bows if either of the other three candidates should be elected. We believe Commissioner Colquitt the least desirable of the offerings for the office on account of his pandering to an element which, to use an expression already famous, is "undesirable" in Texas.

The Commissioner makes no secret of his favor to the liquor interests, and, knowing the machinations and manner in which the leaders of that element participate in a political campaign, it is safe to assert that Mr. Colquitt is something more than merely verbally bound not to disturb, but to help maintain, present conditions as effecting the saloon interests in this State. The saloon element seldom takes a man's word for what he will do in certain contingencies, and in this State men much higher up than Mr. Colquitt have been asked to put their pledges in writing. What kind of a document Otto Wahrmond or Jake Wolters holds against Mr. Colquitt would be interesting reading.

BROTHERLY ADVICE.

The West extends a hearty welcome to the spring crop of young men graduates. Come on and reform us. But, on account of the paucity of the petticoat kind in our section, she will extend a much heartier welcome to the reforming traits of the more refined sex. West Texas wants wives. Some high-brows say that young lady graduates do not develop into good life companions, but, then, they are mostly old bachelors. These college "grads" are kute kids all right—after they forget that college dope.—Hale Center Live Wire.

"Physician, heal thyself." If the Live Wire editor, of Adonis feature and intellectual cast of countenance, wants a wife and thinks so much of the sweet girl graduate, who takes to social culture rather than to substantial cookery, why don't he put a love hitch on one of them and tie her to the editorial sanctum. Scientists say that it is almost as easy to live on love as it is on hot air with complimentary encouragement—and that is about all an editor gets these days.

THE PLAINVIEW COUNTRY.

Amarillo is to have a Federal building, and the improvement will be a credit to one of the progressive cities of the great Plainview country, whose development is a delight to every one whose interests lie in Plainview and in the territory embraced in the great Plainview country. Plainview and Plainview people will always be found ready to add to the prosperity of any of the towns in the Plainview country, and Amarillo's upbuilding will not only prove of beneficial local effect, but will reflect the glory of the Plainview country and add to the volume of the Plainview country trade.

Great is the Plainview country! Great is the spirit of the towns therein and great is the assumption and presumption of the Amarillo Daily News.

OUR WOMEN—BLESS 'EM.

In increasing the proportion of educated people to the whole people, is the world growing wiser, in the best sense of that term?

At this season of June brides and June sweet girl graduates, at least this is a seasonable topic.

Does "book learning" add to or take from the store of happiness of the human race?

This is not asked in any spirit of mean levity.

Our grandmothers were taught to play a little on the piano, to memorize some poetry, to figure a little and were venerated with French and spattered with some fine arts.

But—

They were also taught how to make cloth with the spinning wheel; how to cook a meal; how to darn socks—an accomplishment that is without a peer—and every one of them was versed in the refined art of making biscuits worth eating.

In the days that are gone—but, let us hope, not gone forever—when a young man married he got a helpmate.

In this day and time when he marries he doesn't know whether he is getting an angel who is an educated expert in the art of reading bargain advertisements and tra-laling hifaluting songs, or whether he is getting a helpmate who can do the marketing and then turn the marketing into satisfying dishes.

The poets tell us we can live without books and love and such pabulum, but we can not live without dining.

The poets have a way of telling the truth in a manner that doesn't hurt.

In view of the trend education has taken in the last few years, The Record has no hesitancy in asserting that should the South be called upon to-day to go through another such experience as she went through during the Civil War, the South could not hold out a year.

Why?

Because not 1 per cent of the women of the South know how to make clothes.

Not 5 per cent of them are accustomed to undergoing privations without a "holler" that would frighten any man.

Not 10 per cent of them want to show you that they can rule the world by rocking the cradle.

Not 15 per cent of them know how to darn socks.

Not 20 per cent of them know how to make biscuit.

Not 20 per cent of them can broil a steak in a manner that whets the appetite of those who whiff the rich aroma.

And this list could be extended indefinitely.

There are more women to-day who know how to work a typewriter, who know how to dance and to two-step, to the exclusion of the more practical virtues, who know how to pour pink tea gracefully, who know when chiffon is fashionable and when it is not, than ever before.

But these things are not calculated to produce contentment when the times issue a challenge for sacrifices.

Wars are won, Napoleon said, on the stomach of the army. Marches are not made in ball rooms, but with the legs of the fighting men.

Hence, good cooking and sock darning are the two essential things that womankind should be taught.

The times are out of tune with the necessities that may arise.

Won't somebody be a leader in the crusade that will set our education back on the right track.—Houston Record.

THE DIGNITY OF LABOR.

Surely there is no duty before this country more insistent than that of making the dignity of labor an aggressive, splendid fact. The duty will not be performed by telling the workmen that the poor will go to heaven and the rich will go to hell. That is played out. Nor will it get anywhere for pharisees to tell the workmen that they must not be so extravagant. That might do for Chinamen, but not for American workers, with their fine ideal of having some fun as they go along. Only a sincere recognition that the other fellow has some rights which the money-getter is bound to respect will suffice to work out the details of this great and inspiring problem of our time.—Kansas City Star.

We hope Plainview will get the Bassett road, and if the town of Plainview, as a whole, were as persistent as The Herald they would get it, and no mistake.—Herald (Silverton.)

Plainview stands ready and waiting to put up the wherewithal to secure any additional railroad connection, and if Mr. Bassett wants to build into and through a country—the great Plainview country—where the tonnage will make his road a profitable investment, Plainview will furnish her share of the requirements, both in finance and in freight.

THE SALOON CANDIDATE.

The Colquitt leaders from all parts of the State met in Dallas last week to plan a whirlwind campaign. They issued an address, and the first name on it was A. M. Busch. Rather suggestive of the principal donor to Colquitt's campaign fund.—Comanche Pioneer-Exponent.

No doubt but that another member of the Busch family, whose first name is Adolphus, is also considerably interested in the success of the anti candidate. By the way, what has the Commissioner-candidate said about Judge Poindexter's unqualified statement that the brewers and saloons were furnishing the funds for Colquitt's campaign. Judge Poindexter offered to prove the statement if called upon to do so, but up until the present no one has denied the truth of his assertions. The whiskey element does not usually donate to political campaigns unless they not only expect but have an iron-clad agreement for a return of favors. Judge Poindexter has put it square up to Colquitt and his managers, and says he will resign from the race if he can't prove his charges. What does Colquitt say?

Plainview has adopted the Advisory Supplement to the Sanitary Code of Texas, and has appointed officers for its enforcement. The regulations have also been printed in pamphlet form, and a copy may be obtained from the City Secretary, and every citizen who desires to co-operate with the officials in their efforts to enforce these regulations for the protection of health and general community benefit should secure a copy and read the requirements. Almost every question of public and private sanitation is dealt with and explained in the ordinance as passed, and it is written in plain and easily-understood language.

The chief sanitary officer and inspector is evidencing some activity toward enforcement of the law, and his efforts should meet with every encouragement. No man or family has, or should have, the right to imperil the health of the community by not observing such regulations as will minimize the danger of disease. Careless citizens should be notified of their negligence and obstinate ones should be made an example of. Clean up! If not willingly, then do it because you are compelled to.

DELINQUENTS MUST PAY.

Under the above caption the Sedalia (Mo.) Democrat, editorially, says:

"Editor Fay, of Lyons, Ia., has been called to Washington City because his subscription list is not as well paid up as the law requires.

"He will have to explain to government officials why he has not compelled his subscribers to pay up, according to postal rules.

"An inspector had visited him two months previously, and his subscription list was said to be pretty thoroughly paid up, but evidently it was not sufficiently so.

"It seems a little tough that a newspaper owner has to be hauled up before the government on the charge of having violated federal laws just because he does not eternally keep dunning his subscribers for the small sums they owe on subscription; but it is like the end of the world—no man knoweth when it cometh; and no editor knows what day an inspector may pop in and ask to see the lists."

The editor of the Gazette, at Hope, Arkansas, is running the New Testament on his editorial page, as a serial story, and his readers declare it one of the most attractive features presented. In a state where the voters send the Hon. Jefferson Davis to the United States Senate it would not seem out of place to publish chapters of the Old Testament as news items. A number of the "hill-billies" wouldn't know the difference!

An Indiana boy is credited with writing this composition: "Patrick Henry was not a very bright boy. He got married and then said: 'Give me liberty or give me death.'"

EDITOR KILLED BY HIS WIFE

T. E. STREIGHT, OF MCGREGOR, DIES FROM PISTOL WOUND.

Tragedy Occured in His Home, Near the Midnight Hour—Wife in Jail, but Makes No Statement.

T. E. Streight, editor of the McGregor Mirror, one of the best-known newspaper men in Texas, was shot and killed by his wife, at their home, on last Saturday night.

The tragedy occurred near the midnight hour, in their private bedroom, and, while admitting the deed, Mrs. Streight would make no statement as to the cause.

The wife was arrested and confined in the jail at Waco, and an examining trial, to determine whether or not she will be allowed bail, is to be held in McGregor on Friday.

The killing created consternation in their home town and considerable interest in this section of the State. In this city are a number of former residents of McGregor, and many personal acquaintances of the family were shocked by the news of the sudden and deplorable tragedy.

It was known here that there previously existed unhappiness in the Streight home, but no one suspected the trouble to produce such fatal violence.

Mrs. Streight has a sister living here, Mrs. Eula Merrill, and a brother of whom are now in Waco, to assist who is sheriff of Castro county, both their sister.

INNER PLAYER-PIANO.

Cayton's Inner Player-Piano, on exhibition at the R. A. Long Drug Co.'s store, is attracting the attention of the music-loving folks, and is agreeably surprising some with its marvelously correct and faithful rendition of the most difficult, as well as the most simple, music. To the tired business man who loves good music to be able to play for himself, when he most desires it, his favorite numbers is a blessed privilege to all who buy and use these marvelous Pianos. To the weary housewife who is too busy to "serve the term" of "practice" necessary to be able to play by hand (the old way) this instrument of the modern, improved productions of the best piano factories is a boon heretofore not in reach of the busy lovers of good music. The ladies, especially, are invited to call and see it.

AT COTULLA.

A letter has been received at The Herald office from Dr. O. H. Judkins, stating that he has located at Cotulla, Texas, and asking that The Herald be sent to him at that place. Dr. Judkins lived in Plainview more than two years, and during that time he made a clean record for himself as a citizen and physician. His friends here regret to give him up, but, in doing so, they heartily commend him to the people of Cotulla.

A TRIP TO THE HARP RANCH.

One of the many pleasant attentions paid Rev. R. A. Walton, of Kentucky, during his stay in this city was an auto trip, on last Tuesday, to the Harp ranch, through the courtesy of A. E. Harp and family. In a car with Mrs. Walter Gray Burch, Miss Celestine Harp and Marvin Edwards the two preachers, R. A. Walton and John P. Kidd, were rapidly driven to the ranch. After looking at the harvesting of the wheat crop, and other interesting sights on an immense and well-cultivated farm, including fifteen hundred sheep and a thousand lambs, in one bunch, the party stopped for lunch at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Buchanan, where they rested for the homeward trip, reaching Plainview before dark.

RETURNED FROM NEW MEXICO.

T. Mayhugh, who has been absent for several weeks on a camping tour in New Mexico, came in Monday, and reports that Mrs. Mayhugh and Tom Carter, who went for their health, are greatly improved by the trip. They are now camping at Pine Lodge, on the top of the Capitan mountains, six thousand feet above sea level. Surrounded by pine trees from seventy-five to a hundred feet high, they are breathing balsamic odors and living the simple life of a summer camping party.

FLOYDADA COUPLE MARRIED.

Married, at the residence of the bride's parents, in Floydada, on Tuesday night, Miss Vestal Ware to J. D. Pelphrey, both of Floydada.

The bride is well known in this city where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ware, formerly lived, and where she attended and graduated from the high school.

The groom attended Central Plains College in this city last year, and has a number of friends here.

The happy couple are spending their honeymoon in the city, the guests of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Cannon.

GASOLINE STOVE EXPLODED

The fire department was called out on Tuesday, the alarm being caused by an explosion of a gasoline stove at the residence of B. F. Hatchell, on East California street, from which a slight blaze started but was extinguished by neighbors before the arrival of the department. There was no damage of consequence.

EVANGELIST LEFT.

Rev. R. A. Walton left on Thursday, after conducting a two-weeks meeting at this place. Several accessions were made to the church during the meeting, and much good was effected among the members of the various churches.

REGULAR TICKET OF ALDERMEN

ELECTED WITHOUT SERIOUS OPPOSITION ON LAST MONDAY.

No Great Interest Manifested in Election to Fill Vacancies—New Board Meets Monday.

No great interest was displayed in the election of three members of the Board of Aldermen to fill the vacancies caused by resignations.

Only three petitions were filed for places on the ticket, the names of Charles McCarmack, D. D. Shipley and T. W. Sawyer, and they received, respectively, 192, 191 and 190 votes.

Scattering complimentary votes to the number of 15 were cast for various parties, who were in no sense candidates and did not desire the office. The intimated opposition to the regular ticket did not materialize.

The newly-elected members will qualify at the regular meeting of the council, on next Monday.

The Board will then be composed of Aldermen Pipkin, Mitchell, McCarmack, Shipley and Sawyer.

MODEST DESIRES.

I wish I had an income which Would set me free from every care; I have no yearning to be rich— To be a burdened millionaire. I merely want enough to make Me independent all my days— To leave me free when I'm inclined To put my work away and find Enjoyment where my fancy strays.

I wish I might have youth and health, And liberty to come and go; I do not ask for boundless wealth— I'd like a settled income, though. I merely want to have the right To claim the things my tastes demand.

To travel when and where I please, To live a life of careless ease— But modestly, please understand.

I wish that I had talent which Would cause the world to grant me fame;

I have no longing to be rich— Great wealth is often tinged with shame.

I merely want to go my way, Unhampered by a single care, To never have an ache or pain, Or be expected to explain— To be applauded everywhere. Chicago Record-Herald.

LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATE HERE.

Hon. Jos. E. Farrow, of Dalhart, was a Plainview visitor on Thursday, in the interest of his candidacy for the legislature from this district. Finding that the interest in the gubernatorial race monopolized the attention of the voters, by reason of the presence in the city of Hon. Cone Johnson, the legislative candidate postponed an extended speech and announced that he would return here on Saturday and publicly present his whiskey in that circle, where there claims. He will speak at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. Farrow is editor of the Dalhart Texan, and has considerable acquaintance throughout the district.

BOY STEALS AUTOMOBILE

DRIVE A FINE PACKARD CAR FROM WACO TO AMARILLO.

Supposed to Have Passed Around This City on Their Trip—Broke Down and Were Caught.

Sheriff London and Deputy Martine were on the lookout on Monday for a couple of boys driving a fine five-thousand-dollar Packard auto, which was reported stolen from Waco on last week.

The fugitives had been traced as far as Lubbock, and it was thought they would pass through this city, but they evidently detoured around the town, for no further trace of them was found until they met with an accident, several miles north of Amarillo, and returned to that city for repairs, when they were picked up by the officers.

The boys gave their names as Herman Belcher and Eugene Luck, and said they were 18 years old and lived in Cleburne. They claim they only borrowed the car, intending to take a little ride, and would have returned it.

The Cleburne sheriff came after the joy-riders and returned with them in the car to Waco, where they are held on a felony charge of theft.

That such youthful drivers should bring such a noticeable car a distance of probably 400 miles, through a thickly settled country, and escape arrest until an accident forced them into town in daylight is something a little out of the ordinary.

The officers who made the arrest will receive a considerable reward, that was offered by the owner and the sheriff at Waco.

The car was taken from a public garage at night.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES.

CHURCH DEDICATION ON SUNDAY

METHODIST EPISCOPAL BUILDING NOW READY FOR SERVICES.

Congregation is Proud of Elegant Bungalow Building, on Corner of First and Grover Streets.

The opening services of the First Methodist Episcopal Church will be held on next Sunday, June 26, at 2:30 p. m.

Rev. J. F. Boeye, D. D., pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, Fort Worth, Texas, will be the preacher on this occasion.

Dr. Boeye is one of the strong preachers in the Methodist Church, and no one should fail to hear him. A large chorus choir will have charge of the music. The hour has been set so as not to conflict with any other services in the city, and this makes it possible for all to attend.

Dr. Boeye will preach also at 8 p. m., in the church. During the following week services will be held each night, when the pastors of the various churches will preach in turn. This will be "Fellowship Week," when it is expected and hoped that all will become well acquainted and know each other better.

The recently-completed church of this denomination is a neat and commodious bungalow, located on the corner of First and Grover streets, and the selection of a site was a fortunate one, as it is near the center of the principal resident section of the city.

The present structure was planned and intended to be used as a parsonage when the church membership is sufficiently strong in numbers and finance to build a finer building. The bungalow is of neat design and finish, and will comfortably seat 250. The building will be furnished with regular opera chairs, and these have been shipped from the factory, but will not likely arrive in time to be placed for next Sunday's services.

The growth in interest and members of this branch of Methodism in this city is largely due to the active efforts of Rev. C. E. Hastings, who has only been in charge of the work here for four months, and whose ministry has been favored with the able assistance of a small but devoted band of members.

Since they have secured their own church building they are full of increased energy and spiritual zeal, and expect ere long to be numbered among the strong church denominations of the city.

NO VEHICLES ALLOWED

Inside the Grounds of the City Cemetery.

The Ladies of the City Cemetery Association request The Herald to announce that no vehicles, except the hearse and carriages containing members of the funeral party, will be allowed inside the cemetery grounds. This regulation is necessary on account of the narrow streets, which do not allow carriages to be turned around without damage to the flowers and shrubbery.

The ladies have done splendid work in transforming the cemetery from a wild waste of grass and weeds into a beauty spot, and their interest should be encouraged and their wishes respected. It is entirely unnecessary for others, except as named, to drive inside the gates, and damage is done by so doing.

ALFALFA COMING IN.

A number of wagons are regularly engaged in hauling alfalfa from the fields northeast of this city to the local market and for shipment. The crop now being marketed is the second cutting and it is of fine quality, and the yield is fully up to expectations. A wagon loaded with a couple of tons of the bright-green, rich-hued and healthy-looking money-getting crop is a pretty sight indeed.

FINE WHEAT SAMPLES.

John Ligon, of Strip, was in the city on Tuesday, and was exhibiting a sample of wheat, grown on his place, which was of strong growth and well headed. He secured a good stand, and expects a splendid yield from his entire crop.

CANDIDATE FOR COMPTROLLER.

B. F. Teague, candidate for State Comptroller, was visiting the voters of Plainview this week. He was formerly chief clerk in the department to which he aspires to be head, and bears high recommendations as to his qualifications for office, and the people of his home county give him their unqualified endorsement as a gentleman of high character.

TO THE VOTERS OF HALE COUNTY

I want to go on record as being opposed to any combination intended for the benefit of any one of the candidates for assessor. Am sure such a thing is on foot. If so, it is started by a few men for the sole purpose of benefiting their favorite candidate, under the pretext that there is danger of a man from a certain section getting the office. I will say there is no such danger now, but if an effort at concentration is persisted in that alone will create the danger that they claim to want to avert. I don't think the people of Hale county need or want anybody to dictate to them who they shall vote for.

Let's have a fair, clean race, and after the great 23rd of July is passed, may all rejoice with the winning man, and try not to make his burdens as a servant too heavy.

(Adv.) W. C. FYFFE.

A WOMAN'S GREAT IDEA

is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys; purify the blood; give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath; smooth, velvety skin; lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50 cent at All Druggists. 25

TO OUR CORRESPONDENTS.

During the harvest season, The Herald wishes to publish authentic reports of grain yields, and the paper will deem it a favor if you will pay especial attention to the crops in your section and send us the actual figures, as given by the owners or threshermen.

AN AWFUL CRIME

the way some people are worrying their lives out, trying to use poor Fuel, when they can buy Good Coal from TANDY-COLEMAN COMPANY for less money. 25

JUDGE GOUGH SPEAKS HERE.

Candidate for State Senate Addressed Attentive Crowd.

Judge L. Gough, of Hereford, addressed a fair-sized, but attentive and appreciative, audience of voters in this city on Wednesday, in the interest of his candidacy for the State Senate.

His address outlined a platform that is not only a sound and safe one, but many things he advocates are of special interest to this section, and, from many comments heard on the streets after the speaking, it was evidently well received and made friends for the gentleman from Hereford.

Judge Gough is well known throughout almost the entire district, and his ability and integrity as a man are unquestioned. He stands squarely on the side of morality and clean government, and everything for the development and recognition of Northwest Texas.

MRS. CALAHAN DEAD.

Wife of Editor of Tulla Standard Expires in Fort Worth.

News was received in this city this week of the death of Mrs. Lora Hill Calahan, who died on Friday, in Fort Worth, where she had been for some three weeks in a hospital, for surgical treatment.

The body was conveyed to Tulla on Sunday, and, followed by a concourse of friends and acquaintances, was interred in the local cemetery.

A bereaved husband and several children are left to mourn a wife's and mother's death, and The Herald, in company with the fraternity of this section, tenders condolence to a brother on the loss of his loving helpmeet.

ELEVATOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Cobb & Elliott are putting an up-to-date cleaner in their elevator, which compels them to add another story to their building. They are also building a new elevator at Lockney and are getting ready to take care of the wheat and grain crop, which promises to be of large yield this year.

PETERSON is open for business, in the Wayland building. 25

CAN SUCCEED IN HALE COUNTY

SO WRITES WOMAN WHO GIVES ACTUAL FACTS AND FIGURES.

Enjoys Good Health and is Satisfied with Conditions—Sells Butter and Eggs in Abundance.

The following letter, written to a Nebraska paper by a woman living in Hale county, in the Whitfield community, was furnished The Herald for reproduction, as showing what one woman was doing and how easy it is to succeed in this country, with a small degree of effort.

Such people as the writer are real developers and country builders, and the Plains has room for more of her kind. The letter is as follows: "Plainview, Texas, May 30, 1910. "Mr. F. L. Shoop,

"Kind Friend: After a brief time will endeavor to write a few lines to let you hear from the Plains of Texas again. Will say we are enjoying the best of health, and fine weather the past two months. Have had a rain for five weeks past, one every week, which makes things boom, and the smiles on farmers' faces won't wear off for some time. Wheat, oats and corn are in excellent condition, and prospects are for a big crop this year. I have 400 little chicks at the present time, and all kinds of garden vegetables to eat, except peas, but mine are all in blossom, but can get plenty of them in the stores. I have read in the papers of terrible hail storms and cyclones in other places, but have not had any here. One of our neighbors has 150 acres of winter wheat, and it is waist high—will be ready to cut in about four weeks—so don't believe that the Panhandle is so terrible as it is represented. It only takes a little time and nerve to brave some of the hardships that come our way sometimes. We can't have sunshine all the time. One thing sure, we have fine churches and schools and good teachers. This community is settling up fast, and still more of prospectors coming. We are milking four cows this year, and selling butter. I sold 30 pounds last week, getting 25 to 30 cents per pound for it all, but we hope soon to have a creamery at Lockney, which is only 13 miles from us. Fruit is going to be quite plentiful here this year.

"Will close, as I know that you have just emptied your waste basket, and maybe this will find its way there.

"Wishing you one and all a prosperous year, we remain,

"Yours truly,"

"MR. AND MRS. JAS. PULLEN."

PETERSBURG PARAGRAPHS.

Newsy Notes and Personals from the Heavy End of Hale.

Petersburg, Texas, June 22.—Today is said to be the longest day in the year, though the almanac I consulted said there are others. At any rate there is plenty of time between daylight and dark to-day to do good—and much good will be done in the Petersburg country this day of our Lord. Work is good, and there will be much work hereabouts, mostly in the harvest fields, but not all by any means. There are other ways of doing good, and Petersburg, as is usual when opportunity offers, has already shown a generous and unselfish spirit this glorious morning. A Mrs. Neville, who said she was a widow and that her home was in Anson, spent an hour here. She was accompanied by an invalid son, whom she said was in the last stages of that dread White Plague, consumption, and three small children. They were traveling, she said, in the hope of benefiting the health of her son. His wife was dead, and his two small children were along. She said they were destitute.

Several dollars in money and some provisions were given her, and the journey was continued, from here toward the south. 'Twas a pitiable sight.

There will be considerable fruit of various kinds in the orchards this year, but that fact will not be allowed to detract from the joys of wild plum gathering. Ed Jay and family and Bert Jay left this morning for the plum thickets. Messrs. John Allen and Tom Lowery and their families, and T. B. Jones and J. W. Roberson and their families, will leave on the same kind of mission n a day or two. Other outings have their pleasures, but there are none that affords the satisfaction and produces a greater quantity of hilarious joy than does wild plum hunting. Whether it is the ecstasy of finally getting relief from an excruciating stomach ache or the exquisite pleasure of clawing at the persistent chigger that furnishes such inordinate delight your correspondent cannot say, but "once a plum hunter, always a plum hunter." And now our grocers must order extra quantities of sugar, as preserving the wild plum is an established custom that will brook no interference.

Mrs. Mary Braselton, of Plainview, is visiting the families of Messrs. John Allen, of Petersburg, and John Dillard, of Estacado.

D. R. Bailey went to Crosbyton on Monday, and Dr. Hudson, who had been on a trip to the Abilene country, returned with him that night.

R. V. Young made a business trip to Plainview on Monday, returning on Tuesday afternoon just in time to sell a small bil of lumber to John Hegi. The latter gentleman continues to improve his farm-home section, northwest of town, and Rudie is always willing to sell the material. Mrs. J. C. Ford will leave to-morrow for Era, Cook county, to be at the bedside of her mother, who is reported very ill.

Dennis White, who some weeks ago suffered a broken leg, has about recovered, and his many friends are glad.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good, and, acting on this principle, Messrs. Charles Jay and A and W. Bourn have each lately erected windmills. Hereafter not so much wind will be allowed to go to waste in this neighborhood, and much more water will be brought to the surface, to be utilized and to evaporate. The Lord delights in helping those who help themselves, and when a windmill is erected in this country a direct help is at once instituted and a mark made for progressive civilization.

Mrs. Stambo, of Abernathy, passed through here yesterday, going to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pelphrey, who live about nine miles east of Petersburg.

Mr. Overton, of Strip, was here yesterday, buying binding twine and provisions. He reported the grain crop of his section as fairly good and the farmers prosperous and happy.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Randolph joined Mr. Randolph's parents on the Canyon for a fish fry the first of the week, but have returned home. Mr. Lee, of Emma, Mrs. Randolph's father, is now visiting them.

Ben Allen has returned from Abilene, where he has been attending school. He is glad to be in the higher altitude.

Miss Vallie Dale, of Estacado, passed through here on her way to Plainview, where she will visit her sister who is in the Summer Normal there.

Miss Edith Thorp has returned from Abernathy, where she visited her brother last week.

Mr. Graves, of Lubbock, who is to be connected with Petersburg's new paper, as one of the editors, has moved his family here. Mr. Huffstедler, the other editor, has had his family here for several days.

Messrs. J. W. McDaniel and Chas. Schuler and their families took a joy ride in the auto of the latter last Sunday, going east of town, and made an optical survey of the many fine crops and orchards in that locality. Mr. Schuler is from Oklahoma and Mr. McDaniel is from Missouri, and each of them were delighted with what they saw.

Wheat and oats, now being harvested, are turning out well.

CATHOLIC SERVICES.

There will be mass service in the K. of P. hall on Wednesday, June 29. Father Bier, of Amarillo, will be here on that date.

List your city property with C. H. WHITE LAND COMPANY. 26

Editor Joe Foster, of the Lockney Beacon, came over to hear Cone Johnson.

We are here to boost Plainview and Hale county. List your property with us. C. H. WHITE LAND CO. 26

Judge L. Gough, of Hereford, was the guest of Captain J. L. Vaughn and family while in Plainview.

Miss Maggie Dice left on Tuesday for her home, in Belton, after a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Garrison.

Miss May Crawford left on Monday with her brother Carroll Crawford to spend a month's visit at the latter's home, in Hutchinson county.
