AN ELEGANT CHURCH BUILDING

THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY.

Occasion Will Be a Happy Event for the Faithful Members, Who Are Proud of the Edifice.

The new home of the members of the First Christian Church in Plainview is finished, and next Sunday is the day especially set apart to dedicate the structure and mark the opening service in the new and elegant edifice, one that reflects credit upon all who have co-operated in its building, and one of which the members of this congregation have just cause to be duly proud.

Plainview has added another to the list of commodious and ornamental church structures, and, while no attempt at elaborate exterior design was made, yet the First Christian church is sufficiently large and commodious to meet the demand, and in its interior arrangement and artistic finishing there are but few churches in West Texas to equal it.

Prior to the movement to erect the present building the members of this denomination in Plainview met and held service for several years in a small frame building, which is now a part of the Club hotel.

The congregation and membership increased numerically and financially, and the old structure became too small to properly accommodate the Church membership; therefore it was sold, and the congregation was for a time without a home. Services were held in various halls and rented buildings, and the Church had a frequent change of pastors.

Revs. J. M. Howard, H. M. Bandy, T. G. Nance and others have preached at various times, and Evangelist R. R. Hamlin has held two protracted meetings under the auspices of this denomination.

The present pastor, Rev. Jewell Howard, began his service with the Church here in January, 1909, and that his ministry has proven fruitful the present numbers, spiritual interest and effective membership is convincing evidence.

In common, the officers, members and friends of the congregation now await the dedicatory service to formally occupy and enjoy the building which stands as a monument to their zeal.

The church was incorporated on May 29, 1909, and subscriptions were raised to build the present structure, on the lots previously acquired, at the corner of Eureka and West First streets.

The building committee was composed of J. F. Garrison, Hon. Jas. R. DeLay, Judge H. C. Randolph, Judge J. E. Lancaster and Dr. W. N. Wardlaw.

O. G. Roquemore, of Amarillo, drew the plans and was consulting architect. The work was not let by contract. Until his death, which recently occurred, Solomon Bruner, one of the staunch lay members, supervised the construction and gave liberally of his means and time in forwarding the work.

One of the large memorial windows on the north side of the building was donated by his estate and bears his name.

A feature of the decorative design of the building are the large and costly art windows, donated by local members of the Church, the one on the south being given by Hon. Jas. R. DeLay, and dedicated to the young women and young men of Plainview, and the artistic window in the inner vestibule being donated by J. F. Garrison.

The baptismal font is convenient in arrangement, easy of access and is backed by a pretty window in which the river of Jordan is depicted, and the lights are so arranged as to give the effect of an actual baptism in the historic river.

The lighting effect in the building is splendid and heightens the delicate blend of the pea green wall tints with the ceiling decoration.

The painters art is very much in evidence in the ceiling designs, the colors blending in perfect harmony and bringing out the full design of the best of steel ceilings, which adds to the beauty of the interior.

The pulpit and choir loft are carpeted with rich materials, and the bowl-shaped floor arrangement, with comfortable opera chairs, gives a full view of the pulpit from any part of the house.

The balcony arrangement is ideal, and, with this additional room, the building will seat 600.

The finish of the entire interior is in hand-rubbed oak, and the railings and balcony design shows graceful curvings and blendings.

In fact, every detail of the interior is in excellent taste and finished in the best materials obtainable.

The location for the building is ideal, occupying as it does a corner on two of the most prominent streets and within easy walking distance of the principal residence section of the city, and, being of buff brick construction, the building is truly an ornament to that block.

With the exception of the brick, which came from Coffeyville, Kansas, and the pews, all material in the building has been furnished by local firms.

The only thing needful to complete the equipment of this elegant church home is a pipe organ, and this feature is to be added in a few months.

Dedicatory Services.

Promptly at 10:30 o'clock on next Sunday morning dedicatory exercises will be held in the new building. Rev. E. W. Allen, of Cincinnati, Ohio, will preach the dedicatory sermon.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a special children's meeting will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Howard, and, while no children are expected at the morning service, on account of the large crowd anticipated, a full attendance of the young folks is desired at the 3 o'clock service.

At 4 o'clock p. m. a general communion service and fellowship meeting is to be held, and there will be short addresses by all the pastors in the city.

Rev. Allen will also deliver a sermon at night, and Rev. Homer T. Wilson, who is to be present at the dedication, will continue the nightly services during the week.

A number of the churches of the city will hold no services during the day and will unite with the members of the First Christian Church in the exercises incident to the dedication of one of the prettiest, most comfortable and commodious of the many splendid houses of worship in Plainview.

TEACHERS FOR COLLEGE.

The trustees of the Wayland Baptist College met recently and added several teachers to their faculty. Three have been heard from accepting the positions to which they were elected.

Miss Mae Belle Battle, B. L., of Waco, has accepted the chair of English. Miss Battle is well-known to the people of this part of the State, having taught in Central Plains College (now Seth Ward College) for the past three years, and has been eminently successful in her work.

Mrs. Rurie V. Littell, of Lincoln, Neb., will be the teacher of stringed instruments. She has had many years of experience as student and teacher in music. Mrs. Littell is a graduate of the Stringed Instrument Department of the Nebraska State University, and is also a member of the Temple Orchestra, of Lincoln, Neb.

Prof. General Perry Bruner, of Louisville, Ky., has been elected director of music. He is an A. M. graduate of Georgetown, Ky., having taken the fine arts course, which makes music a college study. He comes highly recommended, having had ten years of experience as teacher of piano, organ, and voice.

These teachers will not only be a great addition to the faculty of Wayland College, but will be of great benefit to the musical circles of Plainview.

BACK FROM THE "BREAKS."

Misses Mary and Willie Haynes, of Quitaque, came up last Saturday, bringing with them W. R. Simmons and family, whose auto got out of commission while in the "breaks" and refused positively to climb the cap rock again, until it had rested awhile, but, through the kindness of these young ladies, Mr. Simmons and family reached home in due time.

PLAINVIEW WINS TWO OF THREE

CHILDRESS BALL PLAYERS ARE NOT NEAR SO CHIPPY NOW.

Both Teams Well-Matched, and Fair-Sized Crowds Witness Fast and Snappy Games.

Plainview, with the reorganized ball team, who are playing the game as it should be played, took two of the three games from Childress team this week.

That Childress aggregation of ball tossers are no mean antagonists, either. They know a few things about the game, and they have made a practice of dealing out defeat to teams in this section until they had become obsessed with the idea that they could put one over on Plainview, but they are not near so chippy now as before their trip to this section.

It is a credit to any town to have any but a professional club to beat a bunch of the ability of those Childress fellows, and, while the score margin in the two games the home team got away with was rather too small for the comfort of a majority of the crowd, yet the Plainview boys demonstrated their quality and their ability to go in fast company, although they have been organized but three weeks.

On Tuesday the Childress team took the game, by a score of 5 to 2. It was a case of "too much Baxter." That fellow Baxter gets real bad in the box at times. He and Killough constituted the battery for the visitors, and Gilbert and Rowan performed a like service for Plainview.

On Wednesday they broke better, and Filgo fooled 'em to the tune of 7 to 5. Filgo and Rowan vs. Broyles and Killough.

Thursday's game was the stellar attraction of the series. Childress had a record to sustain, and Plainview a short, but straight, string of wins, to which every fan expected them to add another—and they did, but it took 13 innings to do it. After both sides had bombarded the horsehide for nine innings, with a tied score of seven, the players staided down, while the rooters saw that nothing disastrous took place until the 13th. With two men out, Brashears waded into one, and they sent word to a farmer out in the country to bring the ball in the next time he came to town.

When it comes to larruping the horsehide, that fellow Brashears, who farms one of the outer gardens, is a beaut. He has developed a habit of breaking up games with a walk-around when runs mean something.

J. Harris handled the indicator during the first games, and Bob Meyers kept them straight on the final one.

A crowd, fair-sized in numbers, but some of whom were woefully short on finance, witnessed the series. Because the team was organized too late to build a regular ball park, some of the blooded sports figured that by donating a dime to the collector they are entitled to witness the game. The management says that there are but few of his class of knot-hole spectators, but one is entirely too many. It takes money to keep up a ball team, and the Plainview players and management deserve the best of support.

The boys will play here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and on Friday they will attend a picnic at Petersburg and play the team there.

The following players were engaged in the games with Childress: Gilbert, pitcher and outfielder. Rowan, catcher and pitcher. Lemonds, first base and catcher. Stribble, second base. Campbell, short stop. Queen, third base. Brashears, left field. Ryan, center field. Hornsby, center field. Filgo, right field and pitcher.

FROM CATTLE RANGE TO FARMS

A PLAINVIEW CITIZEN TELLS OF AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT.

Hale County Is the Banner Farming Section of the West—Every Kind of Grain a Success.

A recent issue of The Drovers' Telegram, of Kansas City, contains the following concerning a Plainview citizen who believes in telling of the virtues of his home country:

"J. B. Posey, of Plainview, Texas, is a good specimen of the progressive class of the cattlemen of the Plains country of that State. Eighteen years ago Mr. Posey landed in Hale county, where he is the owner of a large amount of land, and where he carries on a good deal of farming. Besides his farm and land interests, Mr. Posey is vice president of the Citizens National Bank of Plainview. This season he has a string of aged steers on a pasture near Arkansas City, Kan., where he has just been looking after them. 'Just state that we are not ranchmen now, but farmers,' remarked Mr. Posey. 'We all farm now, and I just want to say that Hale county, where I live, is the banner farming spot in all the Plains country of West Texas. We can raise more feed for stock and more grain there, with less rain, than can be produced here in Missouri, with double the amount of rainfall. Every kind of small grain grows there; also every variety of forage feed, including alfalfa. This year our crops are good. The old ways of doing things have been discarded, and we are farming and handling stock now more on a business basis. And we have that progressive and thrifty class of farmers. They have been coming in from many parts, and bring with them some of the very best ideas. It is that class of people who make the best kind of citizens, as well as successful farmers. And the farming industry is being developed very fast. The population is on the increase very fast. Plainview now has a population of over 4,000, and is an up-to-date little city. Within the next few years, with a few more railroads through that country, we are going to attract attention. We are raising good crops, and we are raising better cattle, and taking better care of them, than we formerly did. No cattle starve to death in that country, for the reason that they are provided with plenty of feed."

PETERSBURG PARAGRAPHS.

Newsy Notes and Personals from the Heavy End of Hale.

Petersburg, Texas, July 6.—The great National holiday, July 4th, passed quietly—extremely so—in Petersburg. The wheels of industry were unavoidably stilled, as the grain was too wet to thresh. The ground was too moist to plow, but our people, or most of them, busied themselves with "piddling" about their places, doing odd and deferred jobs. Some of them were unaware that the day we celebrate was upon them. There was no celebration here of any kind. Our merchants are up-to-date and are thoroughly converted to the latest "safe-and-sane" ideas regarding the Fourth, and there were no fireworks, no giant crackers or other death-dealing apparatus. In Petersburg, consequently,

"Not a drum was heard, Nor a funeral note"—not even a promissory note served to interrupt the quietude that was so dense it could have been punctured by the sad refrain of an expiring swan. While the negro, Jack Johnson (now "Mr. Johnsing," I presume), was upper-cutting Jim Jeffries, to the chagrin of many deluded spectators, one of the denizens of Petersburg celebrated "the Glorious Fourth" by getting his hair cut. He enjoyed his haircut much more than the aforesaid deluded spectators enjoyed their show. Another one of our citizens believed a campaign lie on a candidate, and likewise enjoyed himself—as compared, of course, to the deluded spectators. And thus "it went," in Petersburg, until "When at last night came on they repaired to their respective homes, declaring they had had the time of their lives" living the simple life of the "safe and sane."

When, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for the people of the Petersburg community to employ safe and sane methods we can give to those of any other ballwick cards and spades and beat them hands down. But, this is not often necessary.

Most of the grain is cut, and threshing the "bundle stuff" proceeds. Some of the grain was bound, and some headed and stacked. That which is "going through the sweat" will be threshed after the bundles have been disposed of. The quantity is somewhat short of expectations, but the quality is excellent.

Many in this country believe the acreage to fall wheat will be more than doubled this year. As it is not thought advisable to plant wheat on sod land, the available "old" and second-year land is much greater than formerly, and the acreage will be greatly increased.

All other crops are in the best possible condition, and promise big yields.

J. R. Davis, N. M. Sell, John Hegi, M. Heard and others are building granaries in which to store their grain. Much discussion is being indulged in with reference to the prices locally for this wheat crop. Our farmers are anxious for the grain men to explain why wheat sells in Hale and adjoining counties at from 23 to 25 cents per bushel less than Chicago prices, and they say they are especially desirous of this explanation since the quality of their wheat is so good. Can or will the Plainview grain men give them this desired information? All other grain men are entitled to a trial, also. By all means, let us hear from them. "Be not like dumb, driven cattle."

A. J. Randolph and family spent the early part of the week in "the breaks," whither they went a-plum-bing bent. It is now thought there will be a violent break in the plum butter market.

Society circles are agog hereabouts over the wedding next Sunday, when Mr. Lon B. Fletcher, of Plainview, will wed Miss Grace Smith, of Petersburg. I hope to be able to give you readers the details of this notable affair in the next issue of The Herald. The new building, for the Petersburg News, is nearing completion. We are advised that 100 teams have been put to work at the cap rock on the grade of the Altus, Roswell & El Paso railroad, and that the laying of ties and iron will be begun at no distant day at Lockney. So mote it be.

R. G. Herd's fine team of horses ran away on Wednesday evening, and made a couple of laps around the square. The buggy was somewhat demoralized, but the horses were uninjured.

Mrs. W. A. Todd, an old resident of Plainview, passed through here on Wednesday, en route for Lubbock.

COLLEGE CORNERSTONE TO BE LAID NEXT WEEK.

Masonic Fraternity to Have Charge of Event—Prominent Speakers to Be Here.

Extensive preparations are being made to entertain the great gathering expected on the occasion of the cornerstone laying of the Baptist College, next Wednesday, July 13.

A two-days program has been arranged, and it is proposed to serve a basket dinner on both days. Every detail of arrangement insures an enjoyable occasion, and Plainview is to put on air equal to the occasion of the initial ceremonies of one of the great educational institutions in the West.

On Wednesday, the cornerstone ceremonies will be conducted by the Masonic fraternity, and Attorney General Jewell P. Lightfoot is scheduled to deliver the oration.

Thursday is to be a general rally day, and it is proposed to have speeches by a number of prominent citizens and educators of Texas and promote an increase of interest in educational affairs.

The college building is now well under construction, and, in its present degree of completion, it shows to be a magnificent structure, and one that will be a credit to West Texas.

The public is invited to attend the exercises, and the features of entertainment will be varied and interesting.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Plainview, Texas, July 6, 1910. I wish to deny the rumor that is circulating over town that the returns from the Jeffries-Johnson fight, at Reno, were held up here before giving them to the people.

The truth of the matter is, the wires were down and we were unable to get them. I made one trip to the depot and back to get them fixed up. The returns were sent to the opera house as soon as received. No one is to blame for the delay, whatever.

Yours respectfully,
(Signed) H. L. CONVERSE,
Manager, W. U. Telegraph Co.

FEMALE BASEBALLISTS.

The Boston Bloomers, a so-called ball team of refined females, who say they can play the National game with sufficient skill to keep from being mobbed by the crowd whose coin they get, are billed for an exhibition game in this city, on Saturday.

GOOD RAIN.

On Wednesday night the Plainview country was blessed with a good rain. According to a certified report, 1.36 inches fell, lasting for more than an hour, and accompanied by some wind and electricity.

During the last ten days the precipitation has been general over Hale and some of the adjoining counties, thus making the growing crops an assured thing in the South Plains country. The prospect for fall wheat is good, and the apple crop promises an abundant yield. In connection with these, the other never-failing crops that grow in this portion of the country are in good shape and bespeak excellent conditions for the winter months.

The rain is reported to have been good as far north as Amarillo. The entire country needed it and rejoiced at the downpour that came Wednesday evening. This country can do with less humidity than almost any other, but when the rain does come the plains blossom like roses in June and bring gladness to the hearts of man and beast.

THE PLAINS COUNTRY.

The following article, by Rev. I. E. Gates, in The Plains Baptist, is a true representation of local conditions, and should be one of the most attractive inducements to the class of citizenship the Plains country needs:

"The most ideal place in Texas to preach is on the Plains. You can't hurt yourself, no matter how hard you work. I have never been able to put a collar down with perspiration preaching on the Plains; no need to wear celluloid to save laundry bills out here. You can rant as much as you please with perfect ease and safety. No need for throat tablets or panaceas. You can put the throttle wide open and run your machine to the limit without damage to your running gear. My chest expansion has increased two inches since I came, and I can preach like a negro at a Georgia camp meeting and ride twenty miles after church, and sleep like a baby in perfect health. We need no fans in church; ventilate the house and you are ready for business. Nobody goes to sleep on you, the air is cool and bracing and everybody is full of life and vigor and look you straight in the eye. A man can't keep from killing himself preaching to such people. Brother preacher, you want to come to the Plains for your summer work. I have turned down every invitation to hold meetings beyond the Cap Rock this summer in order to avoid the oppressive heat. I am sleeping under a blanket all the time, with comfort. This is hard for you Central Texas folks to believe. I know, who are sweltering and moping perspiration all the time, but you must remember I am three thousand feet above you, in the cool, bracing atmosphere of the clouds. The water is fine, as it pours out of a pipe from a well run by a windmill. The old-time spring of the mountain can't beat it—always cool enough to drink, without ice. The milk house, by the well, keeps the milk and butter in perfect condition—no "Blue John" to drink, but the pure Jersey milk from an alfalfa-fed cow. This beats fried chicken for the preacher. People live better here than any place I know. Gardens and roasting ears are at their best in August, when others are growing corn. Fruits of all kinds grow in abundance here, if the frosts are not too late. This year we will have a fair crop of apples and a few peaches. This is a great melon country, and white people get them all—no negroes south of Amarillo, and only a few there. This will always be the white man's country, and the very best class of people live here. The majority of the people here go to church. Even in the towns and out in the country, the people go for miles to church. The people are educated and cultured, and this makes it easy for the preacher. The morals of the people are good. We have prohibition, and observe the Lord's day better than most places. Any preacher looking for a better place, where he can do good and rear his children in a healthy moral atmosphere, will do well to come to the Plains. We can work harder, preach more and feel better than anywhere else in Texas. We are growing some great churches out here, and these Westerners are not stingy with their money. They give to everything—Churches, Schools, Colleges and Missions. They the town-builders, railroad-promoters, and every one of them are optimists. We are doing things on a great scale—plowing with steam plows, racing over these plains in autos, living easy, got plenty, not covetous, happy, and doors thrown wide open to new comers all the time. Solomon in all his glory never enjoyed life more than we, nor had fewer troubles. Every man is a king on the Plains. He feels rich all the time, and many of them are rich. The best place for a young man to make his fortune of any place I know. Come and stay with it, and you will succeed. We need more preachers. Many good churches are now in need of pastors. There is Lubbock, Tahoka, Happy, Kress—all on the same line of railroad—pastorless, or were a few days ago, besides a number of smaller churches. If you want to come West write me, and the chances are that you can be located at once. I am doing the work of my life in building Wayland Baptist College, and I like my work and expect to see it completed and endowed and filled with the brightest young men and women of Texas."

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION AUTHORIZING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A HOME FOR WIVES AND WIDOWS OF CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

House Joint Resolution No. 7.
Joint Resolution to amend Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, so as to authorize the grant of aid in the establishment and maintenance of a home for the disabled and dependent wives and widows of Confederate soldiers and sailors and such women as aided the Confederacy, and making an appropriation.

Be It Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

SECTION 1. That Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 3. Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, associations of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1880, and who are either over sixty years of age or whose disability is the proximate result of actual service in the Confederate army for a period of at least three months, their widows in indigent circumstances who have never remarried and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since March 1, 1880, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors anterior to March 1, 1880; provided, said aid shall not exceed eight dollars per month, and provided further, that no appropriation shall ever be made for the purpose hereinbefore specified in excess of five hundred thousand dollars for any one year. And also grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided, the grant to aid said home shall not exceed one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for any one year, and no inmate of said homes shall be entitled to any other aid from the State; the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home; and provided further, that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity.

SEC. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Texas at the regular election of State officers in November, 1910.

The sum of $5,000.00, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses of carrying out the provisions of this Resolution.

W. B. TOWNSEND,
Secretary of State.

A PLEASANT FOURTH.

The members and friends of the Sunday school of the First Methodist Episcopal Church spent the Fourth very pleasantly, at the home of A. B. Coryell, five miles northwest of Plainview. The party consisted of more than one hundred, who drove in wagons provided for their transit. Games of various kinds were indulged in until the noon hour, when all were summoned to the dinner table, lavishly spread under the shade of the trees. After the dinner hour, an unusually interesting program was rendered, terminating with an impromptu address by the pastor on "Our Country and Its Destiny. At 3 p. m., every one was served with ice cream and cake, gratis. In the cool of the evening the party drove to their homes, feeling thankful to the host and the Sunday school for such a rare treat.

Don't wait until too late. Be sure to be in time. Just in time with kidney pills Means curing the back. Before backache becomes chronic; Before serious urinary troubles set in.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this. Here is testimony to prove it: Mrs. M. A. Jenkins, Quanah, Texas, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life, and, more than that, have made it worth living by ridding me of kidney trouble. I was badly run down when I first procured this remedy. The doctors had candidly told me that there was no hope for my recovery, and I believed this to be true. I was so low that my relatives were called to see me before I died. My case was pronounced dropsy, and various parts of my body were badly swollen. I was only able to get around by using two canes as a support, and then I could not stand for over five minutes at a time. The third day after I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, however, I was able to go into the kitchen and prepare dinner. I continued using this remedy and it effected a complete cure. I can not praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly in return for what they have done for me."

A BEAUTIFUL, HOME WEDDING.

Hale Center, Texas, June 23.—At the hour of 11 a. m., Tuesday, June 21, at the home of the bride's parents, W. Y. and Mrs. Fannie Price, three miles east of Hale Center, the words were spoken by Rev. C. E. Clark, pastor of the Methodist church, that united in holy matrimony J. F. Frye, of Tullia, and Miss Jo Elmira Price, of Hale Center.

It was a typical home wedding, the guests being confined strictly to immediate relatives of the bride and groom, those present being Miss Susie Frye, Mrs. Clyde Cooper, Mr. Wilma Bivens and Mr. Shows, all of Tullia; George and Russell Hale, of Plainview; Dr. and Mrs. Adams, of Lubbock; Grandma Hale and her son, Mr. Hale, of Waco; Mrs. Robert F. Alley and Rev. C. E. Clark, wife and daughter, of Hale Center. These, with the bride's parents, brother, sister and her family (Walter Day and two children), constituted the guests.

The bride was elaborately dressed in rich champagne silk. The groom was handsomely attired in conventional black.

The couple, as they stood for the marriage ceremony, presented a sight of beauty, manly strength and happiness. The wedding march was softly and effectually rendered by Miss Susie Frye, of Tullia, sister to the bridegroom.

Immediately after the ceremony all parties repaired to the dining room, where were served refreshments which were both pleasing to the eye and ample for the appetite. All parties made a good hand in this part of the performance, except the bride and groom; of course they were excusable.

The feast being over, the bride laid away her bridal gown and appeared clad in a beautiful traveling dress of old rose, coat-suit style, and was ready for the overland journey, which was soon begun in an automobile (all decorated for the occasion) to Tullia, their future home, the bridegroom being a young business man of that place.

A fitting reception was given the happy couple on Wednesday evening, at the home of the groom's parents, in Tullia, which was a joyous occasion to all present.

The following parties from Hale Center attended this second feast: W. Y. Price and wife, Mrs. Walter Day, Mrs. Dr. Adams and Mrs. Robt. F. Alley.

The bride is one of Hale Center's charming young ladies, and we see her leave us with regrets.

We wish for this happy pair a long life—of few sorrows, many joys, no wants, abundant supplies, seldom clouds, often sunshine.

At home, in Tullia, Texas, to their friends.—Tullia Standard.

Mrs. T. P. Whittis left on Thursday for Austin, where she will join her parents, Chief Justice and Mrs. W. M. Key, and go with them to Washington and New York, for the remainder of the summer.

THE FOURTH OF JULY.

But few fireworks marred the serenity of the Nation's birthday in Plainview; only at night were a few reports heard to break the stillness of the summer air. In place of sizzling fireworks and booming cannon, a few of the Plainview people celebrated by heing themselves to some of the shady groves to be found in Hale county and spent the time pleasantly and profitably under the shadows of the trees, with the usual accompaniments of full lunch baskets and plenty of ice and lemons.

First to start were Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lester, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Burch, Misses Ada Knight, Ola Long, Jewel Bracken, and Messrs. R. W. Otto, John McWhorter, Rector Lester, of Canyon, and Will Dowden. The party was conveyed by autos to Mr. Knight's beautiful alfalfa farm near Running Water, where they spent the day fishing for the finny tribe and indulging in other rural pastimes, reaching home in time to hear the latest reports from the Johnson-Jeffries fight.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McWhorter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Campbell and Mrs. R. W. Otto were among the invited guests, but were prevented from going

Next to leave were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd T. Mayhugh, Mrs. John Wayland, of Kansas City, and Miss Edna Mayhugh, who left about 4 p. m., in Mr. Mayhugh's auto, taking their supper with them and eating it at their beautiful and extensive alfalfa farm, also near Running Water, coming home in the cool of the evening, after a most pleasant outing.

About 7 p. m. another party of merry picnickers betook themselves to the beautiful Wayland grove, just south of the city, and cooked their supper in true Gypsy fashion, broiling bacon and scrambling eggs in the most approved camp style. In addition to these substantial sandwiches, fruit and other dainties were served. After an hour or two of pleasant recreation, the party returned and attended services under the tabernacle. The personnel of the party consisted of Mrs. Ellette, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Waller, Misses Mae and Madge Hall, Nell and Vera Holland, Blanche Frederick, Margaret Ballard, Ethel Thompson, and Messrs. Williams, Harp, Barcus, Shambaugh, J. E. Lancaster and Will Grigsby.

THE LADDERS WERE NEEDED.

Gee! what confidence the County Judge has in the ability of the Fire Department of Plainview!

On last Friday night the Judge, who is an aspirant for re-election to the office which he now holds, was possibly dreaming over the number of votes which he is sure to get, and he arose in the wee hours of the morning and turned in a fire alarm to put out the moon, and thereby save the destruction of the man in the moon.

He had possibly sat up all night to catch the large, round, laughing brilliancy as it emerged from the hills, and intended to gather the fire company together on the highest peak possible. Never questioning the length of the ladders or hose, or stopping to consider the pressure of the water, he rang central and, asked: "Where is the fire?" Central replied, "No alarm has been turned in." "Well, turn it in quick," answered the Judge.

Then it was that the crooked, shrill blasts of the fire whistle disturbed the innocent sleepers. In a few seconds the moon had risen to a clear height, and was well above the reach of the fire company and seemed to laugh triumphantly over its escape.

After the disappointing rally, the Judge retired again and thought to himself: "Well, you got away this time, but we will catch you later if you are not careful."

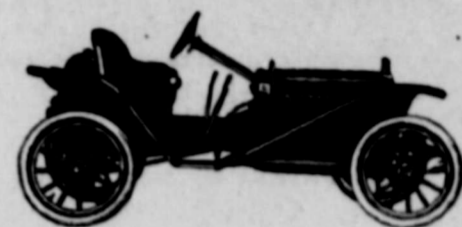

Hupmobile

The Hupmobile enters upon its second season with a record of most gratifying success. In the brief period of seven months it has achieved a greater success than any other car ever attained in its first year. The car has proven its merit and has justified the popular approval with which it has been received.

For 1910 we are continuing the good work and the car today stands as the most advanced, most finished product of the Automobile world.

The 1910 Hupmobile preserves the beauty of outline so noticeable and so popular on last year's car.

It has the same beautifully running engine, the same noiseless transmission, increased radiator efficiency and with the liberal factory guarantee back of every car, it is bound to be the leading small car in 1910, as it undoubtedly was in its initial year.
