SETH WARD COLLEGE NOTES.

The second term of our school has opened with gratifying prospects. Most of the students of the first term are with us again, and a number of new students have matriculated. Every department has an increase in attendance. President W. M. Pearce visited at Hale Center on the second Sunday, and addressed a splendid audience at that place on Sunday morning, at the Methodist Church. Seth Ward College community is continually growing. Mrs. S. S. Rhea, a former resident of the down-town section, has moved from the ranch to their new home, near the college building. Mr. Bell, of the Lockney community, has bought, and has moved to his place, near the college, and has placed his children in school. Mr. Hamilton, formerly a resident of this section, has moved back from Kress. A number of other citizens have moved in, and all houses on the hill are occupied. The Philosophian Literary Society held an annual open session last Saturday night, in the College auditorium. Each number on the program was well given. The debate was the feature of particular interest, the question for debate being "Resolved, That Woman Suffrage Would Be Detrimental to Texas." Strong arguments in favor of the affirmative were given by Robert Hendry and Perry Fort. These arguments were well answered by Earl French and W. E. Nelson, on the negative. The judges rendered the decision in favor of the affirmative. Members of the society, the student body and the faculty were gratified to have present such a large audience. And we were glad to note the splendid representation from Wayland faculty and student body. Arrangements have been made for an intercollegiate debate between Seth Ward and Wayland Colleges. The debate will be given in April, and the question submitted is: "Resolved, That the Initiative and Referendum Should Be Adopted in Texas for Legislation." Among the recent visitors at the College were William Ferguson, a former student and member of the Philosophian Society, who spent Saturday night with friends here; Miss Mabel Betts, of Hereford, who visited with her sister from Sunday until Tuesday; Miss Leona Bates, of Amarillo, who visited with Mr. and Mrs. Pearce, and Mrs. Jessie Loden, of Nacogdoches, who visited with her cousin, Miss Mabel Daniel. The revival services that are being held at the College opened Sunday night, with a large crowd in attendance. President Pearce conducted the first service of the meeting. Rev. Bruce Meador, of Stamford, came in Monday, and is doing the preaching. Brother Meador is a consecrated young man, full of life and enthusiasm, one who is much interested in school work and school life. The College choir has done splendid work in its organization and practice, and furnishes good music. The solos and quartets are features of the music especially appreciated. Services are held twice a day, promptly at eleven o'clock in the morning and at seven-fifteen o'clock in the evening. We hope that every one who can possibly do so will attend these services.

CUT THE HIGH COST OF LIVING.

W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." No opiates. R. A. Long's Drug Store. —Adv. 4

MRS. RODGERS

SUMMARY OF THE NEWS OF LAST WEEK.

The speech made by President-elect Wilson in Chicago has produced a variety of comment in financial circles, and 3,000 letters and telegrams were waiting for Wilson when he returned to New Jersey. Some of these commended him for his frank expression of opinion, but most of them counseled a little more reserve in public utterances. His comment to the press after looking over the letters, was: "I stand pat. I have given no consideration to the reports of Wall Street's dissatisfaction with my remarks." The President-elect announces that he has not seriously considered any appointments except Cabinet positions. He says he will not even intimate the date of a special session of Congress until after he reaches Washington, and says the first intimation of what the special session will be asked to consider will be in his inaugural address.

Elliott Major, thirty-fourth Governor of Missouri, was inaugurated in a hall decorated with 4,000 roses. The special train from St. Louis was an hour late and the ceremony was nearly over when it arrived. At the inaugural reception at night, Felice Lyne, of Kansas City, recently appearing in grand opera at Hammerstein's opera house, London, sang "The Last Rose of Summer" and "Coming Through the Rye." John Dudgeon, an old-time Missouri fiddler, furnished music for the square dances at the inaugural ball. Governor Major's address was very florid, and has been the subject of widespread chaffing; the subject of widespread editorial chaffing in the newspapers of the country.

The British Government is to pay the National Telephone Company $62,576,320 for its system, which will be operated by the Government. The company asked $105,000,000, but the price was reduced by a board of arbitrators.

The casket in which Miss Ella Ewing, the tallest woman in the world, was buried, at Goring, Mo., was 8 feet 8 1/2 inches long and inclosed in a steel vault to guard against grave robbers. Her home at Goring was specially built for her, with doors and ceilings to accommodate her height, which was 8 feet 3 inches.

The parents of every child born in England after January 13 will be entitled to $7.50, if they are insured under the new National scheme of insurance. The mother will also be entitled to sick benefits. Of the 1,200,000 born each year in Great Britain, about 1,000,000 will come under the provisions of this act.

Two English aviators, L. F. Macdonald and Inglis, were drowned in the River Thames. They were flying down the river when their air craft swept downward, and the engine exploded as it struck the water.

Senator Gore has introduced a bill to increase the United States Supreme Court from nine to eleven members. The number has not been increased for 50 years, although the business has multiplied several fold.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has given $10,000,000 to aid wayward women of America, and from this fund homes will be established in the large cities where women who wish to reform will be given financial aid while making the effort. In a general way, the plan is to establish homes where women may find food and shelter if they care to leave their surroundings. Positions will be found for them. In these homes there will be no restraint. The women may come and go as they see fit and pay no board until positions are obtained.

The steamer Uranium, bound for New York, went aground on a reef near Halifax and her 880 passengers were taken off in Government boats. The passengers were in a panic after the vessel struck, but were taken off without fatalities. The crew remained on the vessel. A gale struck the liner soon after the crew left, and for a time she was in danger of being wrecked on the rocks. The Uranium struck on the same ledge of rocks where the Atlantic struck April 1, 1873, and 600 lives were lost.

The electoral vote of Utah will be carried to Washington by a woman, Mrs. Margaret Zone Witcher, the first of her sex to be chosen as a messenger to the Electoral College.

The United States Supreme Court has received the "Jim Crow" case of Miss Pearl Morris, who sued the Alabama & Vicksburg Railroad because three negroes occupied berths in the car where she slept. The local court gave her $15,000, all she asked, but the Supreme Court of Mississippi reduced the damages to $2,000. Her attorneys contend that separate sleeping cars as well as day coaches must be furnished for negroes. The railroad appeals on the ground that the complainant is not entitled to damages.

Fifty lawyers representing many heirs of Titanic victims have begun suits against the White Star line for damages. The limit for filing suits has been extended to February 11, and attorneys for the company assert the liability of the owners does not extend beyond passage money and the value of unrecovered personal effects. Several points in international law will be brought up by the court proceedings. The claims for damages aggregate $10,000,000.

Electors in 48 states met at their respective State capitols and cast their votes for President and Vice President. One set of returns will be forwarded by mail from the State capitols to the President pro tempore of the Senate. Another set will be sent by messenger from each State. The votes of Utah and Vermont, four each, were cast for President Taft and Nicholas Murray Butler, named by the National Committee to succeed the late Vice President Sherman, who died a few days before election.

Dr. C. W. Richardson, of Washington, was sent by the Pujio Money Trust Committee of Congress to Miami, Fla., to examine William Rockefeller and see if he was able to testify. Dr. Richardson has reported that Rockefeller can stand two hours on the witness stand, and his testimony will be taken at his Florida home, on the ground that he cannot with safety undertake the trip to Washington.

The letters stolen from John D. Archbold, head of the Standard Oil Company, were sold for $45,000, according to testimony of William Winkfield, negro messenger, employed by the Standard Oil Company. He says he had two associates in stealing the letters which were published and implicated several members of Congress. There were 45 of these letters, and Winkfield says he received $15,000 for his share of the price. The purchaser was Hearst's New York American.

The third trial of Dr. B. C. Hyde, of Kansas City, charged with murdering his wife's uncle, Col. Thomas H. Swope, has begun. Senator Reed will return from Washington to aid the prosecution. On his first trial Dr. Hyde was convicted and sentenced to prison for life. The Supreme Court reversed the case, and the second trial ended abruptly when one of the jurors, Harry Waldron, escaped from the custody of the marshal and was not found for several days. It is expected that the trial will last a month or longer.

Mrs. C. H. Anthony, of Muncie, Ind., has sprung a new sensation on New York by wearing a diamond tiara on her right arm. It is four inches wide, and a dazzling personal decoration. Mrs. Anthony's 1912 bid for notoriety was wearing slippers with diamonds set in the heels.

Miss Katherine I. Harrison, who was for 25 years confidential secretary to the late H. H. Rogers, head of the Standard Oil Co., has slipped away from New York to avoid testifying before the Pujio Congressional Committee. She is known as "The Oracle," and is credited with knowing more about the business of the Standard Oil Company than any of its officers.

Mrs. J. Bordun Harriman, of New York, head of the women's Wilson forces during the recent campaign, will turn her country home at Mount Kisco, N. Y., into a rest cure. Her husband recently lost some of his money and his health, so Mrs. Harriman finds it necessary to do something.

Lieut. Fletcher and his company of Filipino scouts killed 50 natives classed as outlaws in a South Lano engagement. There were no casualties on the American side.

Mrs. C. Reven, Plainview, Texas, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and kidney trouble, and they did me a great deal of good, although I did not take them regularly. They gave me complete relief when I was so stiff and lame that I could not stoop. It is now two months since I got this remedy from the Long Drug Company. Judging from my own experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, I can recommend them for troubles from the back and kidneys." (Statement given January 18, 1911.)

"CABBAGES AND KINGS."

Truck Gardeners Are Becoming Independent Through the Use of Motor Trucks.

"Cabbages and kings" is a phrase usually quoted in a spirit of levity, but nowadays there is more significance in the coupling of the term than the average person believes.

"Truck gardeners are among our best friends and patrons," says President John N. Willys, of the Gramm Motor Truck Co., of Lima, Ohio.

"Truck gardeners who operate motor trucks find themselves enabled to carry on their business on a large and more profitable scale; they have more time to themselves for the study of advanced methods to assist in their calling and for recreation, and the return for their labor is greater. Motor trucks, as opposed to horse and wagon delivery in truck gardening, allow for great loads in less time than formerly, and for higher prices for products, because, through rapidity of transportation, it arrives on the market in fresher condition.

HOUSEWIVES PLAN CO-OPERATIVE STORE.

Kansas City Women Will Battle High Cost of Living; $1 Membership Fee.

A co-operative store for Kansas City housewives is on its way, says a Kansas City dispatch. At a meeting of the Housewives' League last week it was decided to open subscription lists for sustaining members, each of which will pay $1 or more, which they can withdraw later if they choose.

will be sold without profit.

Mrs. Willard Q. Church is president of the League. Mrs. Church thinks that $2,000 will be necessary to start the store.

"The housewives will probably run the store we plan only for a time, until prices are forced down," Mrs. Church assured the members of the League.

"After prices are forced down and the public sees what an excellent thing a co-operative store is, public sentiment will probably take over the store."

BUILDING MODEL HIGHWAYS.

Department of Agriculture Is Assisting States in Road Improvement.

In the last bulletin of the Office of Public Roads it was stated that at the close of 1909 8.66 per cent of the roads in the United States were improved. This represents a gain in the total road mileage improved for the five-year period, 1904-1909, of 1.52 per cent.

In the three years that have elapsed since then it is roughly estimated that the percentage of improved roads has gone possibly close to 10 per cent. It is estimated that if 20 per cent of the public highways were improved—each highway being selected and improved with a view to the proportionate traffic upon it—a high degree of efficiency in highway transportation would be reached.

In the five years preceding March, 1912, the Office of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture has built 215 object-lesson roads; in all, about 300 miles of road fifteen feet wide, and by expert advice aided in the formulation of more than 650 model county road systems, resulting in most instances in beneficial reforms. It has also assisted twenty-six states in effecting equitable state-aid plans.

PROFITS IN HOGS.

Harry A. Nelson Tells South Plains Breeders Some Ways of Increasing Income.

"Hogs cannot be profitable if they are not prolific," says Harry A. Nelson of Miami, Texas. Mr. Nelson spoke to the Panhandle Swinebreeders' Association at Amarillo last week on "How to Increase the Profit."

"The best way that I can see to increase profit is to decrease cost," Mr. Nelson says. "And as hogs will thrive on a greater variety of foods than any other animal, the problem of reducing cost has many solutions."

"In order to decrease the cost of raising pigs, you must increase the litters. If your hogs are not prolific, purchase foundation stock from some reliable breeder whose hogs are prolific and have quality. A registered hog is the best investment, because, by the use of breed books, you can find the number of pigs farrowed in every litter. If a family has been prolific for a long time it is reasonable to assume that with proper care the offspring will be prolific."

Get Rid of Unprolific Parents.

"When the little fellows begin to arrive, mark the sows that are not prolific and sell them as soon as they become marketable. Always keep the most promising pigs."

"The next most important step is to reduce the feed cost. The more range you give your hog the healthier and happier he will be. After you have threshed your grain, fence in your stacks and let the pigs pick up all of the shattered grain. They will thrive on grain that no other animal can get."

"You can get no better pasture for hogs than winter wheat," Mr. Nelson says. "When peanuts have matured turn the hogs in and they will fatten so quickly that you can scarcely recognize them as your hogs. Let the hog harvest his food. It saves you expenses and increases the growth of the hog."

"Another feed that should be kept before hogs at all times is salt and ashes or soft coal. This will keep them from eating young pigs and chickens."

Use the Silo.

Mr. Nelson thinks that the time is coming when silos will be more common than barns are now. Ensilage is too bulky to use as a single ration for hogs, but ensilage is a splendid ration combined with grain. The silo was built primarily for the dairy cow; the silo, milk and pigs make a profitable combination.

ANOTHER ALL-THE-WORLD PLAN.

Founder of Laymen's Missionary Movement Proposes a Plan Requiring $500,000 a Year.

J. Campbell White, the projector of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, and chief speaker at big mass meetings in many cities two or three years ago, has lately submitted to officials of foreign mission societies in the United States and Canada, and to many pastors of leading churches, a new foreign mission plan that is, if descriptions of it are correctly reported, far and away in advance of former plans.

The plan contemplates the selection of seventy men, after the number of the seventy disciples of Christ, at one time recorded. These men are to charter a ship, and invite to join them many other men of America, and, during 1913, they are to journey around the world, visiting the mission stations and studying conditions. Speeches are to be made to the workers and the converts on the fields, and during the time the ship is between ports those aboard of it are to pray, to study, to plan.

Returning to the United States, the seventy men, filled with information and enthusiasm, are to enter upon a five years' campaign, visiting all cities and talking mission to all who will listen. Former campaigns are to be eclipsed. The expense is estimated at $500,000 a year, or for five years at $2,500,000. This sum can be furnished, it is claimed, by men of America who are increasing their wealth rapidly. It is confessed that no apology will be offered for demanding sums so large. The campaign concluded, the year 1920, the anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims, will be fitly celebrated by the seventy and by others.

The plan awaits the action of leaders, and the first year expense. It is claimed that the results of the Laymen's Missionary Movement warrant this new and larger campaign.—Dallas News.

A TRIUMPH.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles was discussing, with the aid of a map, the Turkish war.

"That last engagement, General," a reporter asked—"would you say that last engagement was a triumph for the Turkish arms?"

"Rather a triumph for the Turkish legs," Gen. Miles replied.—Ex.

HOUSTON AND DALLAS LEAD IN BUILDING PERMITS.

Nine Texas Towns Issue Permits Aggregating $22,294,570 During 1912; $3,198,176 Issued in December.

A census on the amount of building and construction work in Texas taken by the Texas Commercial Secretaries and Business Men's Association shows that approximately twenty-six million dollars was expended for buildings and repairs in the cities and towns of the State during 1912.

Of this amount, the nine leading cities of the State issued permits aggregating a total value of $22,294,570.

Throughout the year Houston and Dallas alternated in leading the other cities of the State in the amount of permits issued monthly, but Houston finally captured the honors for the year with $4,979,309, and Dallas was second, with $4,966,898, just $12,417 less than her Southeast Texas rival. Fort Worth took third honors, with a total of $3,299,333; San Antonio was fourth, with $2,778,760; El Paso fifth, with $2,227,045; Galveston sixth, with $1,879,166; Waco seventh, with $1,259,940; Austin eighth, with $525,213, and Beaumont ninth, with $378,906.

Fort Worth leads all other cities of the State in the largest amount of permits issued in any one month of the year with a total of $2,258,854 for the month of December.

December was the heaviest of the months in building activity, there being a total of $3,198,176 in permits issued in the nine cities during the last month of the year.

HOG SHIPMENTS SHOW DECREASE FOR 1912.

Fort Worth Live Stock Market Receipts Make Good Showing in All Classes Except Swine.

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 22.—Every class of live stock shipped to the Fort Worth Live Stock Market, with the exception of hogs, showed a large increase over the 1911 shipments, according to the report of the Fort Worth Stock Yards Company, issued for the twelve months ending December 31, 1912.

A comparison of the figures on the shipments and receipts of live stock of the Fort Worth market and the other live stock markets of the United States shows the local market the only one to make substantial gains during 1912.

The total receipts and shipments of cattle for 1912 was 775,321 head, against 690,840 head in 1911, showing a gain of 84,481. The calf receipts and shipments for 1912 were 263,958, and 192,713 the previous year, showing an increase of 71,245.

The sheep receipts for 1912 were 283,814, and 186,535 in 1911, an increase of 97,279.

Horses and mules increased 11,564 in number, being 49,025 in 1912 and 37,461 in 1911. The car loads of all stock received in 1912 were 38,508, and 35,132 in 1911, an increase of 3,376 cars.

The decrease in the number of hogs was 168,622, being 387,579 in 1912 and 556,201 the year before.

PROFIT IN GROWING STRAW-POTATOES.

Farmers in St. Louis County Have Proved Value of This Method.

Farmers in St. Louis County, Missouri, have found that the growing of straw-potatoes pays well. That they have not as yet been grown very extensively is due probably to the amount of straw which it takes to produce them. But when straw is cheap and plentiful they undoubtedly pay.

Prepare ground for planting straw-potatoes the same as you would for corn. Plough up the land deep; add stable manure if possible; harrow and pulverize the ground thoroughly. When the ground is in the proper condition, mark off the rows with an ordinary corn marker, making the rows 15 to 18 inches apart. Plant the potatoes in these shallow rows 14 to 18 inches apart. Cover by hand or with plow three to five inches deep.

Before the potatoes get up out of the ground drag down the ridges and cover the whole field with straw three or four inches deep. Old musty hay may be used; in fact, clover hay makes larger potatoes than straw, because of the added fertility which leaches into the ground. Leave the straw on the ground until harvest time. The potato tops grow right up through it.

When harvest time comes remove the straw in sections, dig the potatoes in that section and put the straw back to be turned under as a fertilizer.

Potatoes raised in this way come out large, smooth and white, and some claim they have a better flavor than those produced in the common way. In St. Louis they often bring 15 to 25 cents more per bushel than other potatoes. They yield per acre 450 bushels and up, according to the richness of the soil.—University Missourian.

ARCHBALD IS IMPEACHED ON FIVE INDICTMENTS.

Senate Votes 68 to 5 Against Commerce Court Jurist; Can Never Hold Office Again.

Judge Robert W. Archbald of the Commerce Court has been impeached by the United States Senate, and is forever debarred from holding any position of honor or trust under the Federal Government. He asserts he has done nothing wrong, and says he will return to Scranton, Pa., and practice law. The conviction was on five of thirteen indictments. The chief charge was that while cases against the Erie Railroad were pending in his court he purchased property from the road at a low figure. The vote for impeachment was 68 to 5. Those voting against impeachment were Senators Burnham, Catron, Oliver, Paynter and Penrose. This was the tenth impeachment proceedings brought before the United States Senate since it was organized, and the third conviction. Judge Archbald is the only one of the accused to appear before the Senate in his own defense. He will resume the practice of law.

W. R. Fox, 195 W. Washington St., Noblesville, Ind., says: "After suffering many months with kidney trouble, after trying other remedies and prescriptions, I purchased a box of Foley Kidney Pills, which not only did me more good than any other remedies I ever used, but have positively set my kidneys right. Other members of my family have used them with similar results." Take at the first sign of kidney trouble. R. A. Long's Drug Store. —Adv. 4

A CALL FOR REFORM.

"For every hour of the day and night, for every day of the year, a murder is done in the United States." Figures for 1912 are not available; there were 8,975 homicides during 1911. The average is ten times that of England.

Fewer than one assassin in eighty has gone to the gallows. Fewer than one in ten has gone to the penitentiary.

In England not 3 per-cent of convictions are reversed. In America nearly 50 per-cent have been reversed. In England a speedy trial is the rule. In America a trial without drawn-out delays is so unusual as to attract National attention.

"Due process of law" has run rough-shod over decency and right. The records seem to indicate that justice is too largely a matter of influence and affluence.

Do you wonder that President Taft has characterized the administration of criminal law in America as a disgrace to our civilization?

Is it not dishonor that the legal profession does not make a concerted and mighty effort to blot out this disgrace?

"SOUTHWARD THE STAR OF EMPIRE."

With the opening of the Panama Canal world trade routes will be revised. Taking the line of least resistance, rivers of tonnage from the Mississippi Valley and Central West will pour through Gulf ports.

Will Texas claim her share of this golden flood?

CARD OF THANKS.

have sleeping in their bosom the wealth of an empire. And thousands of tons of freight from neighboring states should pay toll to Texas every day en route to the ocean highway.

To properly handle this traffic, Texas railroads must be double tracked. It will require 10,000 miles additional railroad to afford market facilities for the yield of our farm lands. Public highways must be laid out and constructed in order to reach the market house.

This situation calls for the best brains of the Commonwealth. The reward for him who can lead his State to the commercial supremacy just ahead is fame and fortune and the gratulations of a prosperous people.

It is a situation to which the Legislature now in session might well give serious consideration.

We desire to express our sincere and heart-felt thanks to all our friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown us during the brief illness and death of our beloved son and brother. We shall never forget the tender sympathies shown by those who had part in the beautiful floral contributions.

Especially do we desire to thank Robert Brahan, Leonard Bryson, Fred Bull, Irwin Kerr, Alban Cox and Everett Bryan, the pall bearers, for their last tribute of love to our dear one. F. L. BROWN AND WIFE, CARL BROWN, FRANK BROWN.

IN MEMORY.

Edward Samuel Brown was born at Onarga, Ill., May 19, 1898, and died at Plainview, Texas, January 18, 1913.

The whole community was shocked last Sunday morning when the word went round that Ted Brown was dead. We could hardly believe it. He was taken with apoplexy Saturday evening at six o'clock, and died at eleven o'clock that night.

The funeral was held at the First Presbyterian Church on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and was conducted by the pastor, Rev. S. Park.

He joined the church when he was eight years old, and was everywhere recognized as a stalwart Christian boy. He was a favorite with all who knew him. Ted was in the tenth grade in High School, and his record shows faithful work.

The First Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member, will miss him; he was always in his place and willing to do the work assigned him. Whether in the home, the church, the school, the band or the orchestra, he was the same quiet, careful boy. It is rare that a boy of fourteen years touches so many people, and we are sure that his influence will be a benediction to all he has met.

So young, so full of hope and promise; but God said "It is enough, come up higher." The Lord has rounded out that which was incomplete, made perfect that which was imperfect, taken to Himself one of His rarest jewels, and we should not complain, because "He doeth all things well."

We sympathize with the father and mother and brothers in their affliction, and pray that God's abundant grace may comfort them.

HIS PASTOR.

GREATER THAN "THE LION AND THE MOUSE."

"The Third Degree," Charles Klein's great play to be offered at the Schick Opera House on February 3rd, remains the triumphant public benefactor that it was recognized to be on its premier performance, over a year ago. The play not only entertains its hearers, but it instructs the larger portion of its patrons in a harmful police practice of great interest to the commonwealth. The interested attitude of the audience toward "the third degree" scene tends to indicate how few really are familiar with the method of police inquiry laid bare by the author if the play. AT THE THEATRE

WELL QUALIFIED

Gertrude Ritchie, who plays the role of Annie Jeffries in the United Play Company's production of "The Third Degree," which will be seen at the Schick Opera House February 3, was born on the high sea, reared on the Canadian border, visited in Maryland and now claims her home in Texarkana.

"Most of my life has been spent in localities to which no one with a sense of humor would refer except as 'somewhere else,' and the most of that time has been spent by me wishing that I were 'somewhere else.'" So runs a statement from the clever actress to a newspaper man who was anxious to know where she lived.

"I was born on an ocean liner three days out from France," the letter continued. "My parents made their home on the Canadian border. In that house our kitchen was in the United States, our parlor in the Dominion. I made an extended visit to my relatives who lived in Maryland, which is either in Maryland or Delaware. Now my home is in Texarkana, where the front porch is in Texas and the back one in Arkansas. If the people who come to visit us come in the front way, I claim I am a Texan, and when anyone comes in the back way I tell them I am an Arkansan.

"I have been on the stage for seven years. My first big success was Emma Brooks, in "Paid in Full." In that play I lived in a Harlem Flat the first act in fair circumstances. In the second living in luxury, then back to the Harlem Flat. So it has always been a difficult matter to know where I am.

"I am now in one of the biggest dramatic hits of recent year, "The Third Degree." I love the play and love the part of Annie Jeffries, and I just live the character of Annie every night I play the part."

everybody. Women and girls are not required to do any manual labor in cultivating their crops, but are expected to supervise and manage them only.

The crops mentioned must be grown in the order named.

Competition by Schools.

The teacher and trustees of every public school district are invited to secure a four-acre tract of land to be entered in this class in the name of the school, and to be cultivated by the pupils, as a most practical course in agriculture.

The corn must be weighed in the shuck when it is fully matured and thoroughly dry, in the presence of two disinterested witnesses, and no estimate of the yield will be accepted.

At maturity, and when thoroughly dry, the Kaffir corn or milo maize must be headed, leaving shanks not more than three inches long, and all of the grain must be weighed in the presence of two disinterested witnesses.

The cotton must be weighed in the seed in the presence of two disinterested witnesses. A written statement of the gin weight of the lint cotton, signed by the ginner, must also be made.

The cowpeas may be harvested, but the weight of same, when thoroughly dry, must be reported and the yield must be determined by actually weighing the peas in the presence of two disinterested witnesses. The cowpea vines when thoroughly matured must be plowed under as a fertilizer for next year's crop. The ground rent, cost of preparing the soil, cost of seed and cost of cultivating this crop will be refunded to prize-winning contestants, and every landlord is asked to co-operate with his tenants who enter the contest by remitting the rent, cost of preparation, cost of seed and cost of cultivation, as the land receives all of the benefit and its fertility is conserved and increased.

When the cowpea vines are at the best and are ready to be plowed under, each contestant, in the presence of two disinterested witnesses, shall cut and weigh the vines from a plot measuring ten feet each way (making one hundred square feet), that is a fair average of the entire acre. Contestant and his witnesses shall make affidavit as to the number of pounds of hay. The number of pounds of peas from the entire acre must also be reported.

Texas Corn Club.Class B—Texas Corn Club:

Competition in this class is open only to boys and girls 10 years of age or over, and under 20 on January 1, 1913.

For the largest yield from one acre of merchantable corn, to be weighed thoroughly dry, cost of production considered: First prize, $500; second prize, $300; third prize, $250; fourth prize, $125; fifth prize, $75, and for the fifty next best results $25 each, a total of fifty-five prizes in all, amounting to $2,500.

All the corn must be actually weighed in the shuck, when it is fully matured and thoroughly dry, in the presence of two disinterested witnesses.

Texas Cotton Club.Class C—Texas Cotton Club:

Competition in this class is open only to boys and girls 10 years of age or over and under 20 on January 1, 1913.

For the largest yield from one acre of middling cotton, to be weighed both in the seed and in the lint, cost of production considered: First prize, $500; second prize, $300; third prize, $250; fourth prize, $125; fifth prize, $75, and for the fifty next best results $25 each, a total of fifty-five prizes in all, amounting to $2,500.

Contestants in classes "B" and "C" are not required to do all of the work themselves necessary to produce the crop, but must have control and exercise personal supervision over it; this applies especially to girls.

The cotton must be weighed in the seed in the presence of two disinterested witnesses. A statement of the gin weight of the lint cotton signed by the ginner must also be made.

Special Combination Prize.

To any contestant entered in both Class B and Class C, who shall win the first prize in each class, a special prize of $500 will be awarded.

Forage Crops.Class D—Forage Crops:

For the largest yield of merchantable grain, to be weighed in the head at maturity, and when thoroughly dry, cost of production considered, from two acres of either kaffir corn or milo maize (whichever the contestant prefers): First prize, $300; second prize, $200, and for the ten next best results $50 each, a total of twelve prizes, amounting to $1,000.

Competition in this class is open to everybody. Women or girls are not required to do any manual labor in cultivating the crop, but are expected to supervise and manage it only.

The crops in Classes A, B, C and D must be grown without irrigation.

Irrigated Forage Crops.Class E—Irrigated Forage Crops:

For the largest yield of merchantable grain grown by irrigation, to be weighed in the head at maturity, and when thoroughly dry, cost of production considered, from two acres of either kaffir corn or milo maize (whichever the contestant prefers): First prize, $300; second prize, $200; and for the ten next best results $50 each, a total of twelve prizes in all, amounting to $1,000.

Competition in this class is open to everybody. Women or girls are not required to do any manual labor in cultivating the crop, but are expected to supervise and manage it only.

A complete record by hours of the labor necessary to make each crop must be kept and reported on blanks to be furnished for that purpose.

No contestant may enter after April 1, and each contestant is requested by the Congress to notify his county newspaper that he has entered for a prize. The cost of production is as important as yield, the Congress says, and will be considered in determining the successful contestants.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

HOW TO RESISTChronic Coughs and Colds.

Strong, vigorous men and women hardly ever catch cold; it's only when the system is run down and vitality low that colds and coughs get a foothold.

Now isn't it reasonable that the right way to cure a cough is to build up your strength again?

Mrs. Olivia Parham, of East Durham, N. C., says: "I took Vinol for a chronic cough which had lasted two years, and the cough not only disappeared, but it built up my strength as well."

The reason Vinol is so efficacious in such cases is because it contains in a delicious concentrated form all the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, with tonic, blood-building iron added.

Chronic coughs and colds yield to Vinol because it builds up the weakened, run-down system.

You can get your money back any time if Vinol does not do all we say. J. W. WILLIS DRUG CO., (Adv.) Plainview, Texas.

"THE THIRD DEGREE."

"The Third Degree," to be seen at the Schick Opera House on Monday, February 3rd, seems to be the center of popularity, as theater-goers everywhere are said to be responding with great firmness to this remarkable drama. They give ample proof of their enjoyment of Charles Klein's cleverness in disclosing the evils too frequently occasioned by the police in making preliminary investigations, and the topic is surely a timely one here. The story of the play adheres to a plausible vein and is filled with a human interest that would make "The Third Degree" a success were it not the public teacher that it is. Adv.

WAYLAND COLLEGE NOTES.

All the College and two of the Academy classes have organized during the past two weeks. They are engaged now with the refreshing thought of class receptions and the like. The Junior class is the largest in the history of the school, there being sixteen enrolled.

"The Traveler" staff has been busy since the holidays working out plans for this year's edition. The plans call for about one hundred and twenty-five pages of matter, and will contain things of primary interest to those concerned in the welfare of the school. J. M. Pickett is editor-in-chief; Miss Lula Goode, assistant editor; J. W. Smith, business manager, and T. H. Reynolds, assistant business manager. These constitute the staff.

The Oratorical Association announces a debate with Seth Ward College to be held in Wayland Auditorium on the night of April 15th.

Friday, the 17th, proved a happy day for some of our students, in that they witnessed the dedication of another beautiful Society Hall. The hall was decorated with pennants of various organizations. A number of visitors were present and, together with the entire student body, filled the spacious hall to its utmost. After a most interesting program, punch was served to those present.

Some of our students attended the open session of the Philosophian Literary Society at Seth Ward last Saturday night.

Rev. J. W. Sheffold, of Merkel, has been selected as financial secretary, and is now on the field.
