UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT CORRECTS ERRONEOUS IDEAS.

President Meses Urges People to Provide More Adequate Facilities for Education of Youth.

Many erroneous statements have been widely published about the position of the University authorities in the event that the Constitutional amendment submitted in Senate Joint Resolution No. 18 should be adopted. It seems fitting, therefore, than an authoritative statement should come from one who is in a position to speak for the University.

The Amendment does not contemplate, and gives no authority for, the consolidation of the A. and M. College and the University in Austin.

The Amendment gives no authority to move the Medical Department.

The Amendment gives no authority to move the College of Industrial Arts for women.

The Amendment gives no authority to move the Sam Houston Normal, the Southwest Texas Normal, the North Texas Normal, or the West Texas Normal.

The Amendment will in no way change the Constitutional relations between the University and the A. and M. College, the College of Industrial Arts, or the four State Normals.

If the Amendment is adopted, the authorities of the University will continue to develop the course of study as seems best for the needs of its three-ty-three hundred students. Four hundred and sixty-one of these students, in the regular session alone, came direct from the farm, and more than a thousand of them are preparing to teach in the common schools. It is probable that the demands of these students will require more courses than we now offer in agriculture, both for those who plan to teach agriculture in the public schools and for those who expect to go back to the farm. If the capacity of the University, the A. and M. College, the College of Industrial Arts, the four State Normal Schools and the public schools were doubled, all of them could not supply the needs of the three hundred and fifty thousand white farmers of Texas.

The Directors of the A. and M. College, in their last biennial report, state that nearly a million dollars are needed at once for buildings. Under the provisions of the Amendment buildings could be provided without delay at an immediate cost of $50,000 a year. Moreover, the adoption of the Amendment would forever free the College from the danger of being unable to get buildings from appropriations should another Governor, or the Supreme Court, consider such a method unconstitutional. Should this Amendment fail, and should another disastrous fire revisit the College during the administration of a Governor who considered appropriations for A. and M. buildings unconstitutional, how would it be possible to replace the burned buildings? I cannot think that the opponents of the Amendment have seriously considered the question.

I have spent twenty of my best years in educational work in Texas, and I expect to spend the rest of my life here. I am more confident than ever that the people of Texas wish to develop all their educational institutions and will deal generously by them. The pending Amendment, in my judgment, is the most equitable and beneficial measure in the interest of every higher educational institution that has been submitted to the people during my long residence in the State. I confidently urge every friend of education to vote and work for the Constitutional Amendment submitted in Senate Joint Resolution No. 18.

S. E. MEZES,
President of the University of Texas.

GRAIN DEALERS ENDORSE FARMERS' UNION PLANS.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 9.—The Texas Grain Dealers' Association at their Fifteenth Annual Convention, recently held in this city, passed a resolution to the effect that "It is the sense of the Texas Grain Dealers' Association that we approve the Farmers' Union, and do not oppose its work."

This endorsement followed an address by Peter Radford, President of the Farmers' Co-operative and Educational Union of Texas, on the middleman and the distribution of farm products. In his address, Mr. Radford stated that he did not believe the middleman is needed under a correct system of distribution of farm products. He said it now costs the farmer fifty-six cents on the dollar to market his products, and this, he considered, entirely too much. He declared that with the formation of a Central Selling Agency better conditions would prevail.

"I do not expect to see perfection ever exist," declared Mr. Radford, "so long as these great problems are left for human minds to solve, but as we learn more and more of each other we will better understand each other's needs and requirements, and then will be in better condition to co-operate for the common good of all."

ORGANIZING FOR COLORADO TO GULF AUTOMOBILE ROAD.

Counties Along the Fort Worth & Denver Are Improving Highways.

Counties along the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad are organizing individually for road improvement. Interest in this matter was stirred up by a general meeting called at Childress some two weeks ago by Seth B. Holman, of Amarillo, for the purpose of securing along that route the official Colorado-to-Gulf Automobile Road.

Dallam County, Hall County and Wilbarger County have organized during the last week. Organizations have been perfected in practically every county from the New Mexico line to Wichita Falls.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS SHORT.

Kansas City Stock Yards, June 9.—Only 8,000 cattle arrived here today, consequently prices ruled strong and trading was active. This moderate run is attributed to the fact that sufficient rains have fallen the latter part of last week in many parts of Kansas City territory, causing feeders to withhold shipments.

Heavy native steers are selling up to $8.60, light-weight steers and yearlings, which are being eagerly sought for by the packers, are bringing $8.25 to $8.60; Western steers brought $8.25 here today, cows $5.50 to $7.25, bulls $6.00 to $7.25, and veal calves up to $10.50. Stockers and feeders remain firm, sales mostly ranging from $7.00 to $7.75.

A feature today is the large run in the quarantine division, over 2,000 cattle and calves arriving here, mostly North Texas "caked" steers, sales ranging from $6.75 to $8.00.

After having experienced a big slump last week, hogs rallied again to-day, and the market closed strong. Top $8.50, bulk $8.40 to $8.45. Prices depend on the volume of the supply, but it does not appear that any disastrous break is imminent.

The sheep market is also in a flourishing condition here today, after last week's bad close, 10,500 arriving here to-day. Receipts are largely from Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas. Prices are strong on everything, spring lambs up to $8.00, native wethers up to $5.75 and ewes $5.25.

HOW WINDSOR GETS FACTORIES.

Municipal Ownership and Taxation Exemption Bring Industries to It.

For more than two years one new industry a month has been opened up in Windsor, Ontario. Windsor promotes industrial growth by making special concessions and by a system of municipal ownership of factory sites. The city secures the best property available at the lowest possible cost, makes all necessary improvements, and then holds it to be sold at actual cost in sites of any size required.

Manufacturers settling within the factory district or elsewhere in the city, and agreeing to employ at least twenty-five hands, are granted an exemption for ten years from taxes, other than school and local improvement rates, which no city can remit, free water for ten years and free light for ten years. Windsor is the center of automobile business for Canada, occupying a position in the Dominion similar to that of Detroit in the United States.—London Globe.

The first car of roasting ears to reach the Kansas City market was shipped from South Texas and handled through the Southern Texas Truck Growers' Association, at San Antonio. The stock was of excellent quality, and the distributors at Kansas City had little trouble in moving it for $1.75 to $1.85 a case of seven dozen ears each.

worse off he is. Success depends almost entirely upon the brains, judgment and business ability of the dairyman. Simply cutting down expenses will no longer do.

"Dairying needs readjustment. We must keep dairy cows instead of just cows. We must have dairy knowledge instead of doing as father did. Most dairymen have only a vague and confused idea as to what really determines their profits. Large sums of money are invested in land, in extensive and expensive buildings, costly horses, tools and machinery, and high-priced feed and labor. Then all this outlay is turned to raising crops that do not yield anything like the amount of digestible nutriment per acre that should and could be obtained, and to feeding and caring for a herd of cows utterly unable to return a profit because of inefficiency and poor care. The same money and labor expended in an intelligent manner upon the same farm and an efficient dairy herd would return a handsome profit.

One Failed—The Other Paid Out.
"The chief obstacle to progressive dairying lies in carrying it on in a slipshod manner, without well-balanced, intensive methods. Many dairymen try to make money without applying business principles. The milk producer must stop guessing. It is the net result from a cow that tells whether she is making a profit. And no man, no matter how good a judge of dairy conformation, can know what that net result is if he does not keep a record.

"A great part of the cows are kept by men who are simply cow keepers, not dairymen. Even on what would be considered good dairy farms there is frequently aimless breeding, thoughtless and shiftless feeding, care and housing. All of which results in lack of sufficient returns. What a picture is the following, from a recent letter written by a resident of Illinois: "Within a radius of ten miles from where I have lived for thirty years there are produced annually at least 200,000,000 pounds of milk—an average of ten eight-gallon cans a day for every quarter-section—under conditions of such deplorable ignorance that I cannot find adequate comparison for them. Not one dairymen in twenty has anything like a true conception of the production of his individual cows. I cannot think now of one who is making tests to know if each cow is profitable, or the reverse. Again, where great ignorance such as this prevails, great filth goes with it hand in hand."

"Farms have been made and lost in the dairy business—both more fre-

THE DAIRY THAT PAYS A PROFIT.

Do You Keep Cows, or Do the Cows Keep You?

"What is dairy farming? Is it a real business and a man's job, requiring brains, management and skill of a high order, or is it simply a side issue, an adjunct of farming affording the women and children the means of getting a little pin money?" asks Wilber J. Fraser, in The Country Gentleman.

"Most people are likely to consider it the latter. And so it was in the early days, when farming was carried on simply to secure a bare living. Today most people are farming for the purpose of making money, and under these circumstances the question of good and poor cows and good and poor feed becomes vital. A cow that does not pay a profit over her feed and keep is a drawback to the dairyman, because he actually loses money on each one of this kind in his herd; the more he has of them the quently than is supposed. I know several instances where men of good habits started with farms paid for and lost them in dairying, either because of poor cows, poor feeding, poorly-chosen crops, or through poor management, or a combination of these. I also know many dairymen who started with nothing and at the present time have good farms, which they have paid for by the sale of dairy products.

"One man owned a farm of 120 acres. He kept 20 cows and employed two men to help him in the work. The expenses so greatly exceeded the income that the farm was finally lost. Then the farm was purchased by another man. He kept three hired men and 63 cows on the same 120 acres of land, producing thirty cans of milk a day during the flush of the season. His milk for one month, shortly after he began, brought $840. This is an example of brain fertility, not soil fertility, for the soil was the same.

"As a broader illustration of the great difference between dairymen in their ability to make money, the following figures are taken from actual records collected during the past year from more than 300 dairy farms of all grades in one community:

"Three dairymen made more than $5,000 above all expenses, including interest on the investment; eight, including the first three, made more than $3,000; and twenty made more than $2,000. Two dairymen lost more than $1,500 each, and ten, including the two biggest losers, lost more than $1,000 each. There was an actual difference in earning capacity between the highest profit and the great loss of more than $6,700. There is a difference between the eight highest and ten lowest of more than $4,000 each annually.

"Let me see, then, where the leaks in milk production occur and how they may be prevented. Since the efficient dairy cow is the foundation of the whole commercial dairy industry and the chief factor in making money, she will be discussed first. The actual relation of the efficiency of the individual cow to the real profits is little realized.

"Every dairymen should ask himself of every cow in his herd these questions: How much milk and how much butter fat does she produce a year? What is the cost of her feed for one year? Of the labor? What profit does she return each year? How much is she worth to me? Are the net returns so low that she should be replaced?

Cows That Did and Others That Didn't

"Striking differences exist in the productiveness of individual cows. As an illustration, look at the records of two cows in the University of Illinois dairy herd:

"Cow A in 12 years produced 87,102 pounds of milk and 4,318 pounds of butter fat, a yearly average, including time dry, of 7,258 pounds of milk and 360 pounds of fat. In her best year she gave 11,146 pounds of milk and 581 pounds of fat.

"On the average dairy farm Cow A would have returned a profit of $47 a year, or for the 12 years $564 clear profit above paying for her feed, housing and care. She was bought for $50 when four years old, and had only ordinary treatment—no better than she would have received on a good dairy farm. Remarkable as is the performance of this grade cow, she is not heralded as standing apart, but only as a great leader of the thousands of money-making cows in our dairy herds.

"In striking contrast to Cow A and the class she represents is Cow B. With equally good feed and care, Cow B's average production for eight years was only 4,639 pounds of milk and 158 pounds of butter fat. Her production was but two-fifths that of Cow A, and she lacked $3.16 a year of paying for her board and keep. There is a difference in earning capacity between the two cows of more than $50 annually.

"To show that this great difference between individual cows is not exceptional or confined to the University herd, two cows, known as No. 1 and No. 3, were purchased from a large herd in the dairying region of the State and taken to the college farm. Fed and cared for in the same manner, their average production for three years was as follows: No. 1, 11,390 pounds of milk and 404 pounds of fat; No. 3, 3,830 pounds of milk and 138 pounds of fat.

"Number 1, kept in the average dairyman's herd, under ordinary conditions, with her product sold at creamery prices, would return an annual profit, above the cost of feed, care, housing, and all other expenses, of $77. No. 3, under similar conditions, would lack $7.70 each year of paying the actual expenses of keeping her. A herd of 40 cows such as No. 1 would return a clear profit of $3,080 a year; a herd of 80 would return $6,180. Eighty like No. 3 would lose $616 annually for a dairyman.

The Dead Line of Production.

"Continuing the experiment, the department of dairy husbandry purchased the best and poorest cows, so far as appearance was concerned, from five different dairy herds. They were shipped to the University and careful records kept of all feed consumed and milk and fat produced. The record of eight of these cows from four herds for one year follows, the cost of the milk and butter fat produced by the different cows being computed at the prevailing market price for feed where all the feed was purchased and the cows were fed in the stable the year round:

Herd	Number of Cow	Pounds Milk	Pounds Fat	Cost of Feed
				per 100 Pounds Milk	per 1 Pound Fat
A	83	11,794	282.4	$0.61	$0.19
	84	8,157	324	.87	.21
B	85	9,592	406.3	.75	.18
	86	3,098	119.2	1.56	.40
C	95	14,841	469	.56	.18
	96	7,686	324.1	.80	.22
D	97	8,563	291	.78	.23
	98	1,411	52.8	2.77	.74

The best cow produced more than ten times as much milk as the poorest cow, and produced it at 56 cents per 177 pounds of milk, in marked contrast to the $2.77 required by the poorest cow to produce the same amount. Cows Nos. 85 and 95 produced butter fat at a feed cost of 18 cents a pound, while Cow No. 86 charges 40 cents and Cow No. 98 74 cents.

"Nor is this by any means the largest amount of butter fat cows are capable of producing. Jacoba Irene, a Jersey cow tested by this station, produced one year 962.79 pounds of fat, and in three consecutive years 2,363 pounds of fat, an average of 787.67 pounds of fat a year. The highest record is that of Banostine Belle DeKol—1,957.34 pounds of fat in one year. The five cows with the highest official records averaged 1,094.8 pounds of butter fat a year.

"The department of animal husbandry has kept accurate records of individual cows in the Illinois University herd for a number of years, and has also the records of more than 2,000 individual cows in dairy herds throughout the State. Based upon the value of the cow, milk, butter fat, calf, and manure, and also upon the cost of feed, labor, depreciation on cow, interest, taxes and housing, it is shown that under ordinary farm conditions, with the product sold on the common creamery market, a cow must produce approximately 4,000 pounds of milk and 160 pounds of fat a year to pay for feed and labor. Cows producing less than this are kept at an actual loss. For every 1,000 pounds of milk produced above this the cow returns yearly a profit of $10.

"A cow producing 5,000 pounds of milk brings in a yearly profit of $10, of milk returns a profit of $40, or four times as much. Ten cows producing 8,000 pounds of milk each would return as much profit as forty cows producing yearly a profit of $10.

while a cow producing 8,000 pounds of milk brings in a yearly profit of $10, of milk returns a profit of $40, or four times as much. Ten cows producing 8,000 pounds of milk each would return as much profit as forty cows producing yearly a profit of $10.

"A cow that produces a large amount of milk may require considerably more feed than the cow of low production, but the increase in the cost of feed, labor and other expenses for a year is nowhere near in proportion to the increase in the value of her product. The cost of keep increases only $35 a cow from 2,000 to 10,000 pounds production of milk, yet the income increases $115, or more than three times as rapidly as the expense.

Many men are milking cows that are not paying for their feed. Yet the task is continued, year after year, in the vain attempt to make money with a class of cows utterly unable to return a profit.

A South Plains Opportunity.

Because of climatic conditions, the abundance of pure water and the luxuriant crops of alfalfa, millet, maize, kaffir and sorghum possible under irrigation, together with the certain market offered by the creamery in Plainview, the South Plains affords rich opportunity for dairy farming.

The dairy cow, the silo and an irrigation well are a combination which means large profits and sure profits if the owner will make a business of his undertaking.

RECORD PRICE FOR CALVES BROKEN.

Two Car Loads Sold for $9.50 per 100 Pounds on Fort Worth Market.

All record prices of the Fort Worth market for calves were broken Monday, when two loads from the estate of Winfield Scott brought $9.50. There were 152 calves in the loads, weighing an average of 193 pounds, and were sold by the Evans-Snyder-Buel Company. The ranch of the Winfield Scott estate, where the calves were raised, is twenty miles west of Fort Worth. The calves from the same ranch last year were also record breakers.

Friday all previous records were broken for the Fort Worth markets when calves sold for $9, but Monday the price was the best in the history of the country.—Fort Worth Record.

LOBBY PROBE TURNS UP NEW TESTIMONY.

Witnesses Say That One Hundred Thousand Dollars Has Been Spent to Defeat Free Sugar.

Former Governor Carter and Sidney Ballou told the Senate lobby investigation committee Tuesday of their activities in behalf of Hawaiian sugar producers.

Carter testified he received no payment and paid his own expenses. Ballou testified that he was the regular Washington agent for the Hawaiian producers and received $12,000 yearly salary and $3,000 for yearly expenses. Both agree the sugar people spent about one hundred thousand dollars in the campaign against free sugar, but denied tangible communication between Hawaiians and the United States beet producers.

SITE FOR FISH HATCHERY SELECTED.

A fish hatchery, to be established and maintained at the expense of the State of Texas, will be installed in the southeastern end of the State Fair Park, at Dallas. The city is to furnish twenty acres of land and the necessary water for the undertaking. Colonel W. G. Sterett, State Fish and Game Commissioner, after an inspection of the site offered by the city officials of Dallas, pronounced it ideal for the purpose, and the Mayor has been authorized by the Park Board to attend to the proper transfer of the property to the use of the State.

1913 WHEAT BRINGS 85 CENTS AT WICHITA.

Wichita Falls, Texas, June 9.—The first 1913 crop wheat arrived here late Saturday, from the farm of Joe Zaludek, two miles east of the city. It graded 62, No. 2 red, and was purchased by the Wichita Mill & Elevator Company for 85 cents a bushel.

There has been but little threshing in Wichita County so far, but several outfits will begin work this week.

FIRST TEXAS CANTALOUPE $25 A CRATE IN CHICAGO.

The first Texas cantaloupes to arrive on the Chicago market brought $25 a crate of fifty-four melons. The South Water Street firm that received them had previously contracted for their delivery at this price to two Chicago hotels before the melons were delivered, otherwise they could have been sold for $35 a crate.

DISSOLUTION OF KODAK TRUST ASKED BY GOVERNMENT.

Dissolution of the so-called Eastman Kodak Trust was asked in a suit filed by Attorney General McReynolds in Buffalo, N. Y., Monday.

The following are named as defendants: Eastman Kodak Company of New Jersey, Eastman Kodak Company of Buffalo, N. Y., Monday. New York, George Eastman, Henry A.

Strong, Walter S. Hubbell and Frank S. Noble, all of Rochester, N. Y.

Restraints, the Government declares, have been imposed upon the business of competing manufacturers by the terms of sales in which Eastman-made goods were handled exclusively by so-called Eastman dealers, who were not allowed to handle the goods of competitors until November, 1911, when “terms of sale” were amended to restrict only Eastman goods manufactured and marketed under existing patents. The terms of sale also fix resale prices. Injunctions are asked against those practices.

Complaint also is made that certain larger retail stock houses owned by the Eastman companies are conducting business under the names of the original owners.

Unfairness Charged. Unfair competition is charged through the alleged practice of the Eastman companies in marketing through one of its competitors a certain film as if it were the product of an independent, suppressing the fact that it is made by the combination.

It is alleged that the General Paper Company, of Germany, the world's greatest producer of raw photographic paper, sells raw paper in the United States at a discount to the Eastman companies and refuses to supply any other manufacturer or dealer in this country.

The Eastman Kodak Company of New Jersey, a holding company, has an authorized capital of $35,000,000, of which $26,000,000 has been issued.

The Eastman Kodak Company of New York, the operating company of the combination, is a $5,000,000 corporation, manufacturing and marketing photographic supplies.

SPRINGFIELD FIRE LOSS IS $500,000.

Springfield, Mo., June 9.—Fire which started in the basement of a department store here this morning, within two hours destroyed a row of buildings on the public square, causing damage estimated at $500,000.

The fire got beyond control because of low water pressure. Fifteen buildings were destroyed with all their contents. The fire is thought to have started from defective electric wiring.

Among the heaviest losers estimated were: The Heer Department Store, $200,000; Rep's Dry Good Company, $35,000; Osborne Jewelry Company, $10,000; Ross Drug Company, $50,000; Nathan Dry Goods Company, $25,000; Queen City Bank, $15,000; Weaver Shoe Company, $10,000.

MILITARY AVIATION SCHOOL AT SAN ANTONIO.

According to recent plans of the War Department, one of the largest military aviation schools in the United States is to be established on the military reservation adjacent to Fort Sam Houston, near San Antonio, Texas.

Brig.-Gen. George P. Scriven, chief signal officer of the United States Army, recently conferred with Brig. Tasker H. Bliss, commander of the Southern Department, and following this conference it was announced that about twenty instructors and ample equipment for the training of about eight men at the same time would be sent to San Antonio.

DOUBLE U RANCH BUYS FIFTEEN BIG SILOS.

Breakfast Food King Will Fatten Stock by Modern Food Preparation Method.

Fifteen silos will be installed at the Double U Ranch this summer by C. W. Post's holding, which contains 220,000 acres, according to the Fort Worth Record. These silos will be used for fattening calves before shipment to the Fort Worth market.

For the first time in history finished cattle were brought in from Garza County. Seven loads of big steers and two loads of hogs came from that county Monday off the Double U Ranch. J. F. Hartford, manager of the ranch, who is a prominent figure in the livestock industry of Texas, was in charge of the entire load. Mr. Hartford declared that the silo is a boon to the cattle industry, and that fifteen would be installed this summer on the Double U Ranch. While on his visit to Fort Worth, he said: “We have seen what the silo will do, and you will see silo-fed stuff in great numbers coming from the Double U as well as from other ranches within less than another year.”

The Double U Company, on the advice and at the direction of Mr. Hartford, is preparing to fatten calves and turn them into baby beef. He declared that a great deal of shrdlu clared that there was a great deal of money in this method, and heartily indorsed the Baby Beef Club movement which has been sweeping the State under the direction of the Fort Worth Stockyards Company.

While speaking of his shipments to the Fort Worth market, he said: “We are highly pleased with the treatment we have received here, and we believe that Fort Worth is the best market in the country.”

ARMY DISCARDS HELMET FOR CAMPAIGN HAT.

Washington, D. C., June 9.—The American campaign hat has prevailed over all competitors as the ideal headgear for soldiers in the tropics, as well as for those in temperate climates, and the new army uniform regulations accentuate that fact by omitting to make any provision for the issue of helmets to the troops.

All American soldiers sent to the Philippines in the early days of American occupancy were equipped with white cloth helmets as well as the campaign hat, but the soldiers would have none of the former, except on parade, when it was worn under compulsion.

Twenty-six thousand of these helmets lay for years in the army depots, but any hope that they might finally be used disappeared when the Secretary of War decided that a white helmet could not be well worn with a khaki uniform, so they were ordered sold.

FRANK TRUMBULL PRAISES TEXAS.

Texas and Oklahoma now seem inclined to treat the railroads fairer than New York, according to Frank Trumbull, chairman of the Katy Board, in an address at the banquet tendered him by Wichita Falls citizens. Mr. Trumbull cited the fact that New York had passed a crew law, which measure Texas had turned down. Mr. Trumbull, accompanied by President C. E. Schaff, General Manager W. A. Webb and other Katy officials, is inspecting the road's properties.

NAMED FARMS.
So many arguments can be advanced in favor of naming the farm that it seems strange that in traveling over the country so few farm names are noticed.

It would seem that every one who owns a farm, makes it his home where his children are to be reared and their characters formed, would feel proud of the farm, jealous of the reputation of his farm home and anxious to let it stand for all it means. Be the farm large or small, it is a kingdom within itself. It is an empire that supports the "royal family" and contributes toward the support of the State and the Nation.—Farm and Ranch.

THIRTY YEARS OF GROWTH.
The University of Texas is celebrating this year its Thirtieth Anniversary. Two hundred and seventy-six degrees were conferred; during the year nearly 3,400 young men and women received instruction from our central State school.

The University records among its alumni men who have rendered large service to the Commonwealth. In commerce, in industrial development, in affairs of Church and State, men upon whom the State University has placed its stamp have led on.

The University has had first place in the development of the citizenship of Texas; it stands no lower in ultimate financial returns.

A growth from infancy to the proud position which our University now holds among educational institutions of the Nation is a gratifying record for thirty years. The record might have been more splendid had the wisdom of the lawmakers provided more adequately for its needs. Inadequate financial support has become embarrassing.

Surely the people of Texas will no longer cripple the service which our University would render to the State by parsimonious financial support. The demand is immediate; the investment will yield large returns to Texas.

OUR SPELLING BEE.
The spelling bee has lost its sting. The good women have robbed our erstwhile Friday afternoon crown of its thorns.

True, in our boyhood there were no thorns in the crown of him who spelled-down his school. We contemplate no prouder moment in life than when, as a barefoot boy, we "stood up" that Friday afternoon after all the rest of the school had missed their word.

The contemplation of such a feat thrills us yet; but we tremble at the ordeal. In fact, we never could have been prevailed upon to run the gauntlet now had not the women of Plainview issued an order. There is no shirking when Plainview's women call. July is the month set; you have to pay for the privilege; and you serve the Civic League.

Our blue back speller is musty with the river's dew and worn by the dust of the Plains. We fear that the mastery of its contents is now an impossible task. In fact, we favor simplified spelling. But in the face of our sisters' call we shall stand in the lines again. And hit or miss—there is no cross, no thorns.

The spelling bee has lost its sting.

OUR EXCELLENT INTENTIONS.
I am quite clear that one of our worst failures is at the point where, having resolved to be angels, we drop back into the old matter-of-fact life and do just what we did before, because we have always done it, and because our fathers and mothers did it; all of which may be the very reason why we should not do it.
There is no station in life, and no place in one's home, where, if he want to enlarge his life by caring for people outside himself, he may not start on a career of enlargement which shall find the answer to our question to be that the man who enters upon infinite purposes lives the infinite life. He enlarges his life by every experience of life.—Edward Everett Hale.

FROM EUGENE FIELD'S POEM "GOD BLESS YOU."
"I love the words, perhaps because
When I was leaving mother,
Standing at last in solemn pause
We looked at one another;
And I—I saw in mother's eyes
The love she could not tell me,
A love eternal as the skies,
Whatever fate befell me.
She put her arms around my neck,
And soothed the pain of leaving,
And though her heart was nigh to break,
She spoke no words of grieving.
She let no tear bedim her eye,
For fear that might distress me,
But kissing me she said good-bye,
And asked our God to bless me."

"THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH."

This is an oft-quoted phrase, but nowhere is it more applicable than in regard to advertising. We need not be so very old to remember the day when we eyed all advertisements and advertisers with suspicion. The advertisements were regarded as traps to catch the unwary and the advertisers as "quacks" or "fakers."

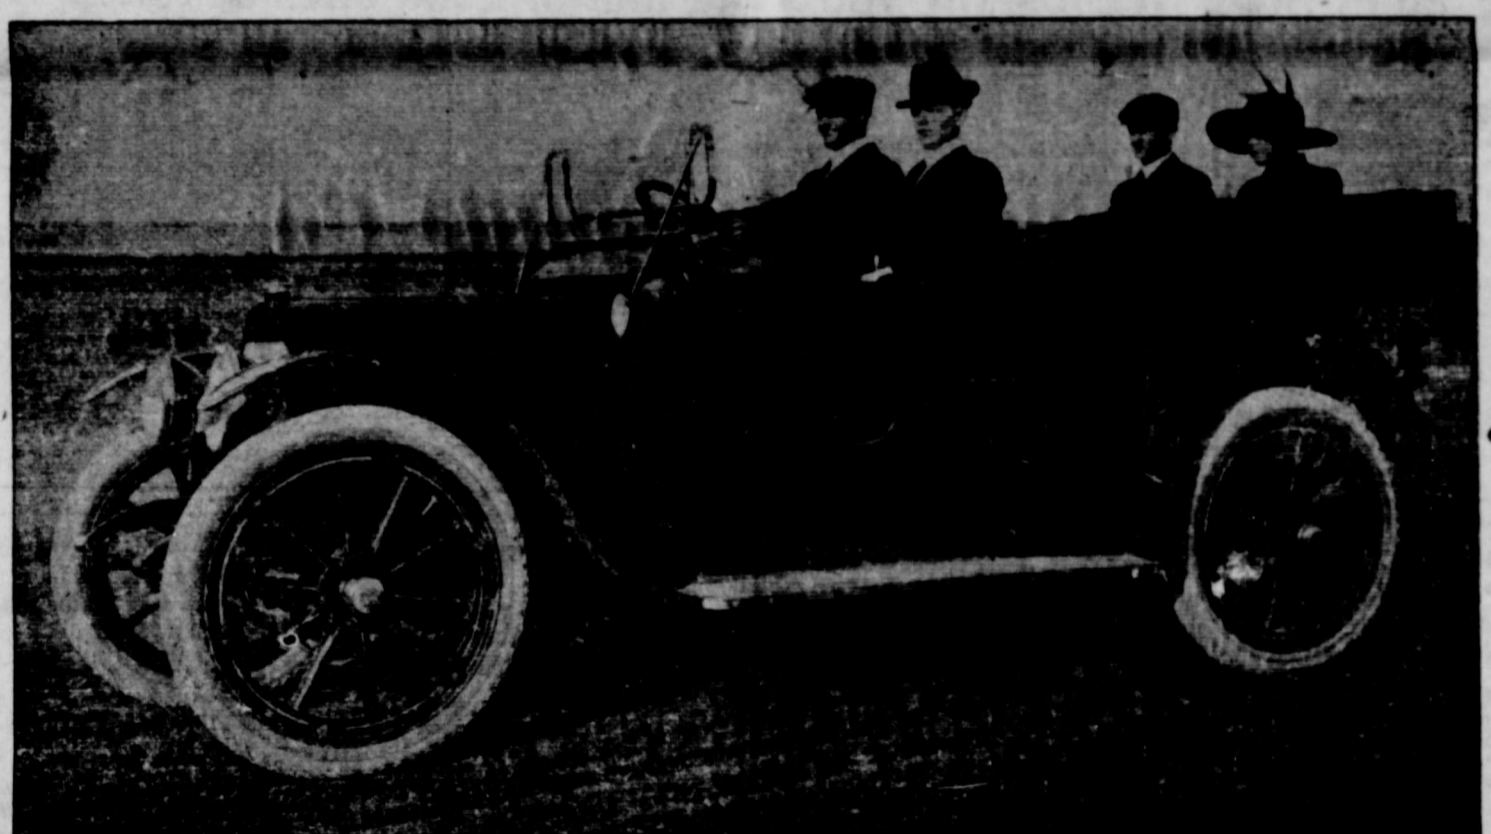

Not so many years ago a woman picked up a newspaper and exclaimed: "Just listen to this: 'Blank & Blank desire to call the attention of their patrons to their fall importations of suits and wraps.' I never saw Blank & Blank advertise before. I wonder if they are going to get cheap!"

A few weeks ago the same woman said to a friend: "I had been hunting all over for that Oriental embroidery, and had given up finding it when I just happened upon the very thing I wanted at Blank & Blank's. I told the man it was a pity they had not advertised it and saved me tramping all over the city."

This is a true story. The same woman, the same shop, nothing changed but the time and the point of view.

Women today feel aggrieved if the dealers do not keep them informed of their stock through the medium of the good newspaper.—Star-Telegram.

"TRAVELER" FEATURES LIFE AT WAYLAND.
Second Issue of Year Book by West Side School Contains 128 Pages.

More than 100 plates were used in the publication of the second issue of The Traveler, issued by the students of Wayland College. The book contains cuts of the faculty, officers of the alumni association and of the seniors, with a history of each. Each class has a cut and a full-page drawing of the class.

Perhaps the feature of the book is a full-page half-tone of a class rush between the students in the academy and the freshmen for a flag which has been placed on the college building. The fine arts departments and the commercial school have been well set forth.
Each of the four literary societies of the college has a page history, with pictures of the officers of each. The college debaters and the athletics of Wayland are given a prominent place. A number of original cartoons and art drawings of particular merit have been used in The Traveler.

This issue of The Traveler compares favorably with the year books gotten out by the old colleges which have been issuing annuals for a quarter of a century. A copy of the book would give much pleasure and be an ornament to every home in Plainview.

HELPS FOR POULTRY RAISERS.
Agricultural Department Blames the Producers for Bad Eggs.

Washington, D. C., June 10.—Convinced that means could be found to overcome the loss of several million dollars a year in the egg industry, the Department of Agriculture has just completed an inquiry into the causes of bad and addled eggs. In a statement issued today, the investigators fix the blame on the farmers and poultrymen.

"The greatest part of the loss is due mainly to ignorance or indifference on the part of the farmer and producer," says the report, "and only a small part is caused by carelessness on the part of the buyer and shipper."
The department urges the observance of five simple rules in the conduct of the egg industry and sets them forth as follows:

- "Give the hens clean nests.
- "Gather eggs at least once daily.
- "Keep eggs in a cool, dry place.
- "Market eggs at least twice a week.
- "Kill or sell all mature birds as soon as the hatching season closes."

A PRETTY COMPLIMENT.

The American custom of giving banquets for men only, and then allowing the banqueters' wives—hungry and thirsty—to look down on the feast from a balcony—this custom may not be very gallant, but it afforded Lord Morley, on his recent visit to New York, the opportunity for a pretty compliment.

Lord Morley, at one of these banquets, looked up at the balcony, glittering with lovely women, and exclaimed:
"Ah, now I understand the meaning of the Biblical phrase, 'Thou madest man a little lower than the angels.'"—New York Tribune.

BAND A BANDSTAND!
The citizens of Plainview should take the matter in hand to build the boys a suitable bandstand to give their out-door concerts. The band is one of our best entertainers, and the boys are rendering some first-class music at each of their concerts, and the citizens should take a hand and build them a decent place to give these concerts. Every night that they give a concert they have to run all over town and hunt up chairs and a suitable place, sit around on the muddy streets if it's muddy, and are to a great disadvantage to give these free concerts to the people.
There are several men who are willing to give a small part of their time to help build a stand, and if they would get together and help put up a stand they could do it in a short time. There are several good locations that can be secured to build the stand, and why not build a bandstand for the boys?
An appreciative audience attended the concert last night.
"A FRIEND."
UNFAIR TO THE DRUGGIST.
The Old Joke About "Something Just as Good" Doesn't Apply to This Drug Store.
You have probably heard dozens of times the old story that a drug store was a place to "get something just as good." There is at least one druggist in the world that you can't say this about.
It is certain that an inferior article will never be substituted for a guaranteed one by R. A. Long Drug Co.'s drug store. Take, for instance, a safe, reliable remedy for constipation and liver trouble like Dodson's Liver Tone. This harmless vegetable liquid has proved so satisfactory a liver stimulant and reliever of biliousness, and to entirely take the place of calomel without any danger or restriction of habits or diet, that there are dozens of preparations springing up with imitations of its claims.
But Dodson's Liver Tone is guaranteed to do all that is claimed for it, and if you are not satisfied with it R. A. Long Drug Co. will hand your money back with a smile. Any person going to this store for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone will be sure of getting a large bottle of this genuine remedy in exchange for his half dollar.

UNIVERSITY BONDS FAVORED BY ALUMNI

Association Registers Vote for Proposed Amendment; Fort Worth Man Re-Elected President.

Austin, Texas, June 9.—After a business meeting lasting nearly all day, the University of Texas Alumni Association this afternoon went on record in favor of the educational bond amendment and pledged itself to wage a Statewide campaign to carry the election which has been called for a decision by the people.

At the close of this discussion the following officers were re-elected:

C. K. Lee, of Fort Worth, president; John W. Phillip, of Dallas, vice president; John A. Lomax, of Austin, secretary; E. J. Matthews, of Austin, treasurer.

J. J. Terrell, of Temple, and Palmer Hutchinson, of Houston, were two new members elected to the executive committee.

Celebration in Full Blast.

The thirtieth anniversary of the University of Texas with the greatest celebration ever arranged in this city opened in full blast today. Since Saturday hundreds have been pouring into the city, and the register this morning had totaled more than 1,000 alumni and former students of the University, with every train bringing in hundreds.

Yesterday morning the opening gun of the celebration was fired when the baccalaureate address was delivered to the 1913 class, in the University auditorium, by Dr. J. J. Vance, of Nashville, Tenn. At night he delivered another address to the students and friends in the auditorium of the University Y. M. C. A.

The meetings of several committees last night proved more get-togethers, and no business of any kind was transacted.

Several classes have joined forces and the campus in front of the law building gave the appearance of a circus ground yesterday, when a huge circus tent was erected and a number of cots and other articles were piled inside.

The business meeting of the Alumni Association will be held this morning at 9:30. An address will be delivered by Fritz G. Lanham. Following the business meeting the class day exercises will be held in the auditorium of the University, and at 1:30 a luncheon will be held on the University commons dining hall for the women alumni.

Ball Game and Barbecue.

In the afternoon a baseball game will be played between the University championship team of the Southwest and the alumni team, composed of former stars and captained by "Star" Baldwin. After the ball game, a barbecue has been arranged, at which Governor Colquitt, Hon. F. M. Bralley, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and C. K. Lee, of Fort Worth, will make addresses. They will be introduced by Major George W. Littlefield.

Band concerts, together with a rendition of college songs, are to be held tonight on the campus at the University, and the final German will be staged at the Driskill Hotel.

TEXAS INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Temple.—The contract has been awarded for the erection of a modern brick building which will be the new home of the Temple Daily Telegram. With its removal to its new home the Telegram will add largely to its present plant equipment, one of the most important additions being the acquisition of a new $15,000 press.

Aransas Pass.—The cotton compress that is being erected here at a cost of $100,000 is nearing completion, and will be in operation in time to handle this year's cotton crop.

Stamford.—E. P. Swenson, senior member of the firm of S. M. Swenson, of New York and Texas, is in this city and will spend the next ten days going over his various interests in this section of the State.

Weatherford.—The work on the Federal Building, which will cost the Government $60,863, has begun, and is to be completed and the building ready for occupancy not later than August 1, 1914.

Comanche.—The Vanguard, a new publication, will be published in this city by L. D. Russell. A carload of printing machinery, formerly used by the Ballinger Ledger, has arrived here, following the consolidation of the two newspapers.

Coughran.—The track-laying crew of the San Antonio, Uvalde and Gulf Railroad has reached this point, and 1,300 feet of siding has been laid alongside the main line, affording freight facilities for new enterprises now under construction.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL ON FARMS IS IMPORTANT.

Farmers Are Coming to Realize That Careless Methods Menace Health and Breed Flies.

By DR. F. M. BOGAN, U. S. N., in St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Farmers all over the United States are beginning to realize that their methods of garbage and sewage disposal are responsible for much discomfort and disease to themselves and their families.

On farms where pigs are kept, practically all garbage, surplus fruit and vegetables are fed to the pigs. There can be no objection to this method of disposal, but the usual way of stowing garbage in open barrels or buckets near the kitchen door is a nuisance, and too much cannot be said to condemn it. If stored in this way in warm weather, the mass decomposes in a short time. Flies and other insects find in the open buckets or barrels an ideal breeding place, hence the locality always swarms with these pests. The offenses to the sight and smell need not be commented on.

Not only is such a condition of affairs a nuisance, but decomposing food is bad for pigs.

Every kitchen should have at a convenient distance a well-screened compartment for the garbage cans, which should be of galvanized iron. Wooden barrels can be used, but they are difficult to keep clean, as the liquids soak into the wood and the covers are never quite tight. A floor of stone, cement or brick should be laid, the surface a couple of inches above the surrounding ground. This floor should be longer and wider than the screened compartment, in order to prevent rodents from burrowing under the screens and to allow the floor to be more easily cleaned. The screen is built with raising top and two doors forming the entire front.

TEACH GIRLS TO MAKE HATS.

San Francisco High School Students Produce All Sorts of Bonnets.

A quaint little bonnet with a flower garden on it, exquisite French creations, with dainty decorations and other styles of headgear—some beautiful, some queer—fearfully and wonderfully made by a tiny school maid, are being exhibited in the millinery shop of the San Francisco Polytechnic High School.

With $5 worth of material the high school girls produce a beautiful hat that to the eye of the millinery connoisseur is perfect and with attractiveness enough to command the price of $40.

But for the beautifully decorated workroom, which is a pleasure to behold, with its handsomely decorated walls of patterns and posters, and the youthful, rosy cheeked milliners, a visitor would think himself in a high-class shop.

The millinery department of the school is carried on under the skillful directions of Miss Nettie Campbell, who is aided by James Ferguson, principal of the school. He was the originator of the movement to have the girls and boys of the school make things that would be of use to them and which would help them after graduation.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Studebaker

"That's the sixth Studebaker we've passed—the only kind to invest in"

The only kind—because, as I always say, when a man puts money in a thing he wants to know that he's going to get the worth of it out again.

That's plain business as I look at it.

That's why I say the price doesn't tell you anything at all. There's only one thing that talks—except the wagon itself. That's the name of the maker.

When you buy a Studebaker you're buying a vehicle that has behind it and in it sixty years of experience—sixty years of success—and sixty years of reputation for the square deal. That's why a Studebaker always looks good to me.

My father used to say that Studebaker honor was as sure as a United States bank note. He was talking after having used Studebaker vehicles since he was a lad, and he told me his father before him said, "Be safe—get a Studebaker."

Vehicle builders can't hold that sort of reputation nowadays without delivering the goods. A Studebaker wagon has the test in it. That's why a man gets the most out of it—why it's always an economy.

Dealers may say to you something else is just as good. But when you buy a Studebaker, you're making a safe investment every time.

Apperson Motors

THERE IS A MOTOR that tells its own story of power, endurance, economy and long life. T head separated cylinders, 2 1/2 inch valves, 5 bearing crank shaft—2 inch in diameter, aluminum crank case, spiral gears, cam shafts made of high grade drill rod stock and running on 4 bearings, hollow crank shaft oiling system and a powerful sliding vein water pump.

Elmer Apperson's Design

This is Elmer Apperson's design. He built America's first gasoline motor car. He invented the "JACK RABBIT" clutch then patented it. It is still in use. He invented the system of electric ignition and float feed carburetor.

This motor was practically the same 10 years ago. It was perfected then. The changes since have been minor and unessential. Other motors the same size deliver less power. Other 45 H. P. motors are much larger—a burden to themselves. The Apperson 45 H. P. motor is the only motor advertised at 45 H. P. that really develops that much power.

SELLS HAND-MADE BOOTS TO CITIZENS OF TWO NATIONS.

John Meisterhans Ships Product to Dakotas, New Jersey and Mexico; Output 450 Pairs.

One of Plainview's industries that little is said about, and probably less known about than its real merits warrant, is John Meisterhans' Boot and Shoe Shop. From this shop, on North Pacific Street, hand-made boots are shipped all over the United States. Just last week a pair was shipped to North Dakota. Some weeks ago a pair went to New Jersey, and another to Mexico.

Mr. Meisterhans says the average output of his shop is four hundred and fifty pairs a year, and the average price is twelve dollars. "A pair of hand-made boots hanging on my wall is as good as money in the bank," says Mr. Meisterhans. "I make boots and sell boots to buy more leather to make more boots."

A pair of boots in John's shop passes through the hands of three different workmen. "Uncle John" makes the boot top—drafts the stitched designs—and hands it complete to the vamp-man, where it is vamped and nailed to the last and shaped ready for the soleing man.

John says he has been "boot-legging" in Plainview four years. His sojourn here has been quiet, but profitable. "Things have changed," says "Uncle John." "When I began boot making, in Graham, Texas, county seat of Young County, in 1877, I got eighteen dollars a pair for my boots, but now the highest prices stay close to twelve dollars."

Cape jasmines were given to visitors, ice cream and cold drinks were served and cigars were dispensed to those addicted to "the habit." Mr. Long gave away 750 cape jasmines during the afternoon.

FREE PLANS FOR RURAL SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

The Conference for Education in Texas, at Austin, has announced that they will soon have a new set of plans for rural high school buildings, adapted not only for school purposes, but also suitable for social centers, ready for free distribution.

The conference has plans for buildings from one to eight rooms, and has recently sent out over one thousand plans to 109 counties in Texas. Requests for plans for model buildings are being received from all sections of Texas, which is one of the most encouraging evidences of enlightened sentiment in regard to educational conditions and needs.

TOMATO ACREAGE IS CURTAILED.

The entire tomato acreage in East Texas is said to show a decrease of one-third. Car-lot shipments of "pinks" have started, and the prospective demand is good. The bulk of the shipments are being handled through the East Texas Fruit Growers' Association and the Woldert Company. Peaches are expected to begin to move in car-loads about June 10.

WATER IS WEALTH.

Layne Says South Plains Has Great Treasure House.

Water is the wealth of the Nation. It germinates and nourishes the seed from which grows the food of the world. It is the main factor in the distribution of food to the world. It is also the main factor in the production of power.

Virgin lands that have remained uncultivated for centuries for the lack of water have just been recognized as the sources of the country's future food supply. The lands now under cultivation cannot meet the ever-increasing demand. This, more than any other one thing, has made clear the wealth-producing qualities of water. When properly applied, it makes certain the prosperity of the farmer, upon which the Nation depends for support.

It can be said for a certainty that for years the fertile lands in the rain belts of this country have been settled upon and cultivated. It is also true that the land subject to irrigation from streams has been largely reclaimed.

The next great development in agricultural lines, therefore, must be in those lands having underground water-bearing formations from which water for irrigation purposes can be obtained. There are thousands of acres of land still unclaimed and uninhabited which are underlaid with this life-giving water—land on which, when this water is properly applied, can be made to produce wonderful crops which are undreamed of in the older agricultural countries.

Young? Yes--the oldest Ford is just ten years young--this month. And its youngest brother is the choice of the lot--a better car than those we built not long ago and sold at nearly twice its price. Big production makes the Ford price low.

More than 275,000 Fords now in service--convincing evidence of their wonderful merit. Ranabout, $525; Touring Car, $500; Town Car, $800--f.o.b. Detroit, with all equipment. Ford Motor Company or

Barker & Winn

There is no doubt in my mind but what the South Plains, with its inexhaustible water supply, will in time be one of the foremost countries in the irrigation world. Of course, what it needs is plenty of cultivation and the proper amount of irrigation at the right time and wide-awake farmers to keep things moving.

TWINS CELEBRATE ELEVENTH BIRTHDAY WITH PARTY.

Little Christelle and Clyde Owen, twins of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Owen, celebrated their eleventh birthday Thursday afternoon in a real jolly "birthday-cake-with-candles" style.

More than thirty little people romped and played on the lawn at the Owen home, 208 Grover Street, until their little bodies were tired and ready to be fed.

Mrs. Owens, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Miller and Mrs. R. S. Charles, gave them good things to eat on the lawn and then took them through the dining room, all decorated in pink and white, where the birthday cakes were cut. Little Grace McCormack cut the ring; Lena Aikman, the thimble, and Zella Hulien, the dime. There were two birthday cakes with eleven candles each. One of the cakes was the gift of little Robert Charles. The place cards were little Dutch twins.

During the social hour which followed, Mrs. Grady Pipkin, on the violin, accompanied by Mrs. Peyton Randolph, rendered solos, which were much enjoyed. Miss Mabel Wayland, accompanied by Mrs. E. R. Williams, sang songs that were especially pleasing. A three-course luncheon was served at the conclusion of the program.

PLAINVIEW BAND WINS THE LAURELS.

Masters of Music Make Merry the Picnic Party with Selections Sublime.

When the Plainview Band alighted from the train Friday evening and was escorted to the hotel, many eyes were focused on the band and ears trained in the direction to which they were to assemble, all eager to catch a glimpse and a sounding note from these musicians grand. All seemed to judge from the appearance and genteel manner of these gentlemen that this was a good band, and they were not disappointed in their expectations, for, without a single exception, this was the best band we have had the pleasure to listen to in some time. The music furnished was excellent, the behavior and sobriety of the boys above reproach, while yet they were jolly and full of fun, which is characteristic upon such an occasion.

The music from the instruments filled the crowds with enthusiasm and pleasing effects, the sweet strains floated out on the atmosphere like waves on the ocean deep, vibrating on and on, causing the person of melancholy tendency to feel happy, those presumably happy to feel highly elated, and the lover to feel as if all the world were a flower garden and paradise were there, all for the asking.

So great was the pleasing effect of the music that many were loath to depart from the scene of hilarity, and with a sigh of reluctance withdrew, hoping that ere long another such occasion will come to the people of Crosbyton. The band boys did so well that it behooves us to comment on their excellent performance. They have won the admiration of the Crosbyton people and carry off honors.—Crosbyton Review.

TEXAS AD MEN TO BALTIMORE.

Dallas, Texas, June 11.—One hundred and twenty-five Texans, representing all the principal cities of the State, left here on the "Blue Bonnet Special" of the M. K. & T. to attend the Baltimore convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America. Stops were made at St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Washington, where the Texas visitors were magnificently entertained and created quite an impression in the streets of these cities in their cowboy regalia and other paraphernalia of the traditional cowboy.

At Washington, the Waco delegation, accompanied by the entire Texas party, called upon President Wilson and invited him to attend the Cotton Palace at Waco this fall. Invitations from Governor Colquitt and a host of notables throughout Texas were presented to the President in addition to the personal persuasions of the Texas delegation.

On reaching Baltimore the Texas party marched through twenty-five blocks of the business section, from station to hotel, headed by a brass band with Texas banners flying. Arrangements have been made for 10,000 Cape Jesamines to be sent from Texas to the Lone Star party, to be distributed at the president's ball to all guests at the function.
