WILSON DRAFTS STERN ANSWER TO CARRANZA

SIX-THOUSAND-WORD DOCUMENT WILL BE DELIVERED TO MEXICAN AMBASSADOR DESIGNATE.

NATIONAL GUARD MOBILIZING

Funston Will Fill the Gaps in 1,800-Mile Guard Line on United States-Mexican Border.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Upon Carranza's reception of a stern refusal to heed his demands for recall of American troops from Mexico hinges the question of a Mexican war, in the opinion of President Wilson's close advisers. They were prepared tonight for the possibility of open hostility after the note, which will be sent forward tomorrow, has reached Carranza's hands.

No indication has come that the First Chief's attitude of implacable hostility would be shaken by the reiterated declaration of the latest communication that the United States has no aggressive or warlike purpose toward Mexico, but is firmly resolved to protect her borders and end brigandage in the border states.

The reply to Carranza's note demanding recall of General Pershing's expedition was in the hands of the Government printer tonight, preparatory to its delivery and publication tomorrow. Secretary Lansing had intended to send it forward today, but at the last moment minor changes and additions to the 6,000-word document necessitated delay. Although it had been planned to send it by special messenger to Mexico City, the situation has changed, and it probably will be handed to Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican Ambassador designate.

National Guard Mobilizing.
While the diplomatic steps were in progress today the Nation was stirring throughout its width and breadth with the movement of National Guardsmen mobilizing to guard the border. At least 100,000, and possibly a larger number, were preparing for active service under President Wilson's call. For the present their mission will be purely one of defense, but should war come they will be ready also for that. No marching orders for the new forces had gone out tonight. They will not be assigned for border duty until mustered into the Federal service.

Even when mobilization is completed only such units will be ordered south as General Funston desires to fill the gap in his 1,800-mile guard line. The remainder will rest on their arms at the State mobilization camps for the present, awaiting the turn of events.

Official reports from many quarters show that a flame of popular feeling against the United States is being kindled throughout Mexico. Apparently it is being done with the sanction of General Carranza, for the acts in many cases are those of his authorized military or civil agents.

CLARENCE DISCHON TO ARMY HOSPITAL FOR OPERATION.

A telegram was received in Plainview this afternoon that Clarence Dischon has been taken to the army field base hospital at San Antonio, from Sanderson, for an operation for acute appendicitis.

Y. M. B. L. EMPLOYS JAY P. GREEN AS SECRETARY.

Last night the board of directors of the Young Men's Business League employed Jay P. Green as secretary of the league. Mr. Green will assume his duties immediately.

BACK FROM CONVENTION.

Mrs. W. L. Braddy, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association in Plainview returned Sunday from San Antonio, where she attended the State convention.

NEW LAND LIST WILL BE READY FOR DISTRIBUTION.

J. T. Robison, commissioner of the General Land Office of Texas, writes The Herald that on July first a list of lands that will be offered for sale September 1 will be ready for distribution. The lists are free and will give further information. Those desiring lists should write the commissioner, at Austin.

BROOKS WOULD HAVE POLICE ARMY OF THE WORLD POWERS

Is With the President on Preparedness and Favors Prohibition by Constitutional Amendment.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. S. P. Brooks, of Waco, candidate for the United States Senate, spoke in Plainview to a large audience in the Knight Auto Company's garage. W. W. Kirk, one of the charter members of the Plainview Brooks-for-Senator Club, introduced him.

Judge Brooks stated that he was a plain citizen, who had never before aspired to political position. He stated that he had no political alliances. "I have no machine," he said. "If the political machine is what it is often said to be, I wouldn't use one if I had it."

He stated that the will of the people was very often not expressed in the men who secured offices of public trust, for, quoting, "rich bad men have bought the offices and poor bad men have sold themselves for offices."

He stated emphatically that he was opposed to indiscriminate pensions. He was careful to explain that he would pluck no "star from the crown of glory of veterans of real battles, or honor from men who had valiantly served their country," but scored "graters" who have secured pensions when in reality they have never seen real war service and were shirkers and cowards in times when their country called on them.

He opposes the unrestrained use of the franking privilege. The free-seed practice, which is a favorite means of appealing to voters, he branded as a "graft." He favors the Agricultural Department's sending out good seed to real farmers who will plant, cultivate, harvest and report on the crops so that real progress may be made in agriculture.

He favors the creation of two new cabinet offices; namely, first, Secretary of Health, who will keep closely in touch with the world's progress in sanitation, surgery, medicine and allied sciences and see that knowledge is imparted so that the general health of the populace will be improved; second, Secretary of Education, who will perform a similar service in his realm.

The assumption of express business by the Government and combination of it with the parcel post and a system of daily by wire market reports, to be posted in the post offices, are espoused by the "pedagogue," as he is pleased to call himself.

Another plank of his platform favors a conference at Washington to define the rights of neutrals in case of war and to outline a new international law, with a large non-partisan army to police and enforce the law, this army to be stronger than any army of the several powers forming the pact.

Prior to Dr. Brooks' talk, Daniel E. Garrett, of Houston, presented his claims to the people. He is candidate for Congressman-at Large from Texas.

DAIRYING IS GIVEN BOOST BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Secretary Will Go to National Tractor Demonstration and Extend Invitation to Plainview.

Two hundred farmers within a radius of ten miles of Plainview will receive Hoard's Dairyman, a publication on the dairying industry, as compliments of the Chamber of Commerce of Plainview. Yesterday, at the weekly luncheon of the Industrial Committee, the committee was authorized to compile the list of names.

Col. R. P. Smyth, secretary, will be sent to the National Tractor Demonstration at Dallas to see what will be necessary for Plainview to do to entertain the southwestern tractor show next year.

The committee decided not to send an exhibit to the Texas State Fair, since the products of the Plainview country are well known to those who attend this fair.

COUNTY FARMERS' INSTITUTE WANTS MEMBERSHIP OF 250

Seven Delegates to State Meeting in Austin, July 17-19, Named Saturday.

Two hundred fifty active members is the goal of the Hale County Farmers' Institute. At the regular meeting Saturday C. E. Moore, W. A. Nash, Capt. T. J. Tilson and L. N. Dalmont, were appointed by President E. A. Zollicoffer as a membership committee.

D. C. Dove, assistant organizer with the State Department of Agriculture, and Col. Welton Winn, marketing expert, addressed the institute.

Robert Hoover was named as secretary of the institute. Delegates to the State Farmers' Institute were elected as follows: E. A. Zollicoffer, L. N. Dalmont, Robert Hoover, W. A. Nash, C. E. Moore, M. B. Johnson and H. S. Hilburn.

The railway companies will furnish free transportation to the delegates. The convention will be held in Austin, July 17-19.

Special emphasis was laid on the Panhandle Farmers' Congress, which will be held in Amarillo August 24-26. Delegates from the local institute will be named for this meeting at a later date.

The next meeting will be held on the last Saturday in June.

The committee endorsed the movement of the Y. M. B. L. of Plainview to organize the shippers in this territory to present their claims to the Railroad Commission August 8.

COUNCIL HEARS PROPOSAL TO MOVE OLD EGGE GARAGE

Pearson Tenders Resignation as Attorney for City Account Border Duty.

The City Council last night accepted the resignation of City Attorney L. R. Pearson and employed in his stead the firm of Graham & Graham. Mr. Pearson stated that he felt that he could not do justice to the work while he was away with the Plainview military company, and asked to be relieved.

There is a city ordinance which provides that no warehouse may be constructed in a certain district of the city larger than 20 by 25 feet, and that such buildings must be located on the rear of lots on which buildings are now erected. H. T. Akers owns the building near the Ellerd Building, and wishes to move it on the rear of the lots on which his barn is located. It would cover about three lots, being 30x70 feet. The matter of allowing the building to be moved was referred to the city attorney.

The ordinance on driving stock through the city and the water ordinance were passed to a second reading.

At the next regular meeting of the ordinance which proposes a city automobile registration fee will come up for final action. It has been amended so that each car is registered only once, instead of annual registration, as was first proposed.

LAMB COUNTY WILL HOLD ITS FIRST PRIMARY ELECTION.

H. R. Miller, county chairman of the Lamb County Democratic Convention, was in Plainview yesterday on business. This year Lamb for the first time will hold a primary election. Heretofore the candidates have offered themselves for offices only in the general election in November.

REVIVAL SINGER INJURED IN WRECK ON TEXAS & PACIFIC.

Professor R. E. Huston, of Greenville, arrived yesterday morning to conduct the singing at the revival meeting at the First Methodist Church. Mr. Huston was a passenger on the Sunshine Special, Texas & Pacific fast train, which went through a small bridge three and one-half miles west of Putnam Saturday night. He sustained a sprained ankle. Forty persons were injured, some of them seriously.

MATINEE 2:15 EVENING 7:45

MAE I. THEATRE, SATURDAY, JUNE 24TH

ADMISSION 5c AND 10c

The Herald's Review of the Movies

Thursday is "Who's Guilty?" day at The Olympic.

It is through a series of results graphically and dramatically depicted in "Sowing Wild Oats," the two-part drama of Pathe's "Who's Guilty?" series, that the evil of judgment too quickly formed is brought vividly to the fore.

Turnbull employs both Hugh and Henry Scott as confidential employees. Both are deeply in love with Marjorie Turnbull; but, despite her father's faith in Henry rather than Hugh, Marjorie loves the younger brother. Old Turnbull gives some valuable bonds in Hugh's care, and the latter, eager to meet Marjorie and elandestinely married, misplaces them.

Henry tries to cover his brother, but Turnbull believes Hugh has stolen the bonds. Weakly permitting himself to be persuaded into a hasty departure by the well meaning Henry and Marjorie, Hugh runs away. Then, when he reads in the newspapers the next day of the general belief of his guilt, he feigns suicide. Marjorie and Henry, believing Hugh dead, are married. Later Hugh comes back. Bitterly he accuses Henry of charging him with the theft so that Henry could marry Marjorie. In a struggle between the brothers, Turnbull is accidentally killed. And then, too late, the bonds are found. But for all this who was really guilty? Was it one of the individuals concerned—or can the tragedy more properly be blamed on a too general proneness to judge seeming circumstances as fact?

Other than the special feature of the program at The Olympic Thursday is "The Beloved Liar," a three-reel number featuring Thomas Jefferson as an old violinist who befriended two children.

Thursday The Ruby will present Bryant Washburn, Elizabeth Burbridge and Pat Calhoun in the "Golden Lies." The story deals with two brothers, both of whom are in love with the same woman. After the heroine is stricken with blindness, the elder of the two men proves that he alone is worthy of her.

The Ruby also offers "Hughey, the Process Server," on Thursday. Hughey Mack, Kate Price, William Shea and Flora Finch, the Vitagraph Comedy Quartet, contrive to inject a number of laughs into this one-reel farce, of which Olive Flammer is the author. The theme of the picture is promising, but is only fairly well developed. Wally Van made the production.

The third attraction on the program at The Ruby Thursday is "Billy's Lucky Bill"—Billy Reeves, the English comedian, in a one-part Lubin Comedy.

"Ham Takes a Chance" is the leading feature of the program at The Ruby Theatre Friday, a one-reel Kalem Comedy, in which Lloyd V. Hamilton returns to the screen after his accident. "Ham Takes a Chance" is a rapid-fire comedy in which "Ham" gives an exhibition of knife-throwing that is truly marvelous. He and Bud join a small road show, and Bud, of course, is the target when "Ham" displays his skill. The picture is equal to the best of the "Ham" comedies. Ethel Tear, Gus Leonard and Jack MacDermott help make the nonsense palatable.

"The Double's Trouble" is another comedy number at The Ruby Friday. Alice Howell, in her usual eccentric role and also as a conspiring countess, together with Harry Coleman, are the leads in this comedy, which is fair, while not presenting anything uproariously laughable.

The slavey in the hotel usurps the place of the countess and then innocently betrays a gang of crooks. The finale introduces a laughably sensational climax.

"Animated Weekly," one reel of current events, will be included in the program at the Ruby Friday. Many scenes from the Mexican border will be shown.

"Vernon Howe Bailey's Sketch Book" is the last number of Friday's program at The Ruby.

"Molly Make-Believe" will be presented at The Olympic Friday.

"Molly Make-Believe" disregards realism; coincidence there is aplenty. The story is fantastical; it seldom comes down to harsh realities. It is really "make-believe" in its major aspect from open to close.

J. Searle Dawley has shown his plavers to full advantage. His light effects merit praise, particularly the manner in which the scenes staged in a train are handled from this point of view. The results of a train wreck are shown. This is obviously the result of a real wreck, and they are welded in with the enacted scenes excellently.

To our way of thinking, the picture will go exceedingly well at a children's matinee, for it has much in it that will appeal greatly to minors, such as the fairy-tale aspect of the entire affair, the little boy, Master Dick Gray, who is prominent in the cast, and the clever dog, Merry, who is an actress.

Grown-ups who are tired of rapid melodrama, shootings and killings, betrayings and unfaithful wives will doubtless enjoy the simplicity and charm, the humor and the vein of pathos of Molly's experiences; and then there is Marguerite Clark, who is an actress.

Miss Clark, in the title role, makes She is always pretty to look upon, even though the scenario of Eleanor Hallowell's story gives her only a few opportunities to display her ability.

Mahlon Hamilton, as the society man who is cheered by Molly when his fiancée has practically forsaken him, and Gertrude Norman, as Molly's grandmother, have the other chief roles. Helen Dahl, Edwin Mordant and J. W. Johnston complete the cast.

The main idea results from the establishment of Molly's "Serial Letter Company." She furnishes real letters from imaginary people to all her customers, and the society man employs her just for the fun of it. The result of this and of one or two meetings between the two is a happily concluded story. This theme is elaborated by the introduction of other customers of Molly, one a little girl who dies. The humor introduced is of a most gentle variety.

"From Out of the Past" is the first of the attractions at The Ruby Saturday.

"From Out of the Past" (Vitagraph), Feb. 12.—The familiar situation of the brother and sister learning of their relationship only after they have fallen in love with each other, is the big motive of this three-reel drama, written by Ruth Randolph and produced by Wm. Humphrey. Miss Randolph has handled her subject skillfully, however, and sustained the interest to the finish. The cast is a long one, William Humphrey, Garry McGarry, Eulalie Jensen and Carolyn Birch having the principal parts. The drama is well played.

"The Perils of the Rails" is the latest episode of "The Hazards of Helen" railroad thrillers, with Helen Rose Gibson, the most daring girl in pictures, in pictures, will be shown at The Ruby Saturday.

"Beamed by a Beanshooter" is the last number of the program at The Ruby Saturday.

"Beamed by a Beanshooter" (Vitagraph), March 10.—The mission of this one-reel photoplay is to burlesque the melodrama hero and his wonderful exploits. It accomplishes its purpose, and the entire cast, which includes Charles Richman, Arline Pretty, Leo Delaney, Ethel Corcoran, William Dunn and Edward Elkas, seem to have thoroughly enjoyed themselves while acting it. Mr. Richman's skill with the deadly beanshooter is in a class by itself.

The tenth episode of "The Strange Case of Mary Page" is coming to The Olympic Saturday. There is no lack of action in the visualized testimony of the witness examined during this session of the trial of Mary Page. A plot to entrap Langdon when he runs against Pollock for Congress is shown, and Mary is implicated in the affair. The new clew is given to Langdon by a detective, who informs him that Pollock had a quarrel with several men over a card game the night before the murder.

A splendid two-reel Southern story, "Miss Blossom," featuring Val Paul, Myrtle Gonzales, Alfred Allen scores Fred Church will be presented at The Olympic Saturday. Val Paul scores a fine little success in his characterization of the mountain lad who didn't want to be known as "po' white trash" in spite of his drunken father. The story is made human and appealing by this one character, though the others are also pleasing in their way. The settings are as picturesque and beautiful as one could wish, and the plot is a good one. This number is sure to find favor with the average patron.

"Billy's War Brides" will be presented at The Olympic Theatre Saturday as a third attraction. This features Wm. Garwood as a young bachelor, who dreams that after the war all men must have not less than three wives. He marries four girls of different nationalities, who present him with twins, triplets, and even more babies. The idea is broad, but handled in a harmless way. It proves fairly amusing.

A large and well assorted box, eatables of all kinds, was left at The Ruby on last Friday, when "The Fall of the Alamo" was shown to a large audience, to be sent to Plainview Company L, at Sanderson, Texas. While the greater part of the packages went to individual members of the company, there were several who sent packages to the company as a whole. Among these were Mrs. R. C. Ware, who sent cake and candy; Mrs. Ross D. Rogers, who sent candy; an unknown party who sent a large cake; the Elk Barber Shop, which sent cigars and cigarettes; the Lye Drug Store, which sent cigars and cigarettes; the Young Men's Business League, which sent fruit and cigars, and Judge J. E. Lancaster, who sent enough chewing gum for the whole company, and advised them to "quit ragging and take a chew on me."

The box was sent to the company by express Saturday. A sufficient amount was taken from the proceeds of the ticket sales at The Ruby Friday to prepay the express on the box.

TRIANGLE IS EXCEPTIONAL PROGRAM—APPEARS REGULARLY.

The Triangle and Keystone features shown at The Mae I. each Friday are attracting considerable attention. The Keystone comedies are proving exceptionally entertaining.

On Saturday, June 24, the first installment of the series, "The Secret of the Submarine," will be shown at The Mae I.

Incidentally, "The Battle Cry of Peace," has been booked by this theatre for a July performance.

FEED THE GRAIN SORGHUMS.

Live Stock Is the Most Profitable Way of Disposing of These Heavy-Yielding Crops.

The grain sorghums are to the Great Plains region what corn is to the corn belt, says a new publication of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Farmers' Bulletin No. 724. They are heavy yielders, and the most profitable disposal of the large crops is a vital problem for farmers in many sections of the United States. A few of the growers of these grains may be able to sell them directly at a profit. For the great majority, however, feeding live stock is practically the only way in which they can secure a market. Those who fully appreciate the feeding value of these crops, says the bulletin already mentioned, will not hesitate to convert them in beef, pork, mutton, milk, or poultry. It is true that the grain sorghums have a somewhat smaller feeding value than corn, but this fact is more than offset by the heavy yields of the former in semi-arid sections where corn fails.

And the cost of production and consequent market price of the sorghums is cheaper than corn, thus rendering it the cheaper feed.

The South Plains is primarily a stock-farming section, and the feeding of grain and marketing on hoof is increasing in popularity.

The grain or nonsaccharine sorghums which are grown most extensively in this country are kaffir, milo, feterita, kaoliang, shallu, and durra. They may be fed green, both the cured plants and the seed or grain may be fed, or they may be cut for silage. The composition of these sorghums is very similar to that of corn. In general, therefore, they should be fed in much the same way. Alone, they do not form a balanced ration, and some feed which is rich in protein must be given also, if profitable results are to follow. Cottonseed meal or cake and linseed meal have been most widely used to supply the needed protein. Soybean meal, peanut meal, brewers' grains, etc., are also frequently fed in connection with sorghums. Where alfalfa, clover, or other leguminous hay can be had, however, the addition of concentrates rich in protein is not necessary.

For forage and silage the grain sorghums compare quite favorably with corn. Well cured stover and fodder from kaffir, milo, etc., are well liked by live stock, and in some sections constitute practically all the roughage which the stock receive during the winter. Linseed meal, bran, oats, or leguminous hay should be fed to young stock as well, in order to produce good growth. Silage is, however, perhaps the most economical form in which the grain sorghums may be utilized. When cut at the proper time, when the seeds are in the stiff-dough stage, sorghum silage has a feeding value practically equal to that of corn silage. It is particularly useful in the rations of cattle, as it aids in keeping the body in proper tone and increases the appetite of the animals. The amount to be fed varies with the kind of stock on feed, and other components of the ration. A few pounds will do for a calf, while a heavy-producing dairy cow or a heavy steer may need from 40 to 50 pounds.

With sorghum silage, as with sorghum roughage in any form, concentrates are necessary for the best results. Dairy cows, working horses, and fattening animals all need other food. The increased growth and the higher finish produced by cottonseed meal, for example, usually justify the additional cost of feeding this concentrate in connection with silage. The following rations suggest some of the combinations which may prove desirable. There is no standard formula which can be recommended for every locality, and the rations which follow must be varied to suit local conditions.

WHO ARE THE SUCCESSFUL FARMERS OF THE SOUTHWEST?

Balner Says, "Those Who Have Adopted Diversified Farming With Livestock."

In nearly every community there is at least one farmer that is more successful than his neighbors. The reason for this greater success is not that this particular farmer is always lucky, but rather that he has adopted the kind of methods that his conditions require.

Many farms have failed in the Southwest, as well as in other parts of the United States, because in coming into this new country from some other place they have not realized the necessity for changing methods to suit their new conditions, but rather have persisted in carrying out their old ideas and plans. On the other hand, success has come to thousands of farmers here, who have studied their conditions and have governed themselves accordingly. Too many are attempting to farm without livestock. General success does not come through crop farming, alone, in this country. Diversified farming is rapidly gaining ground. Then, in answering the question, "Who are the successful farmers of the Southwest?" the reply comes quickly: Those who have adopted a system of diversified farming in combination with livestock. Both the wheat and the cotton farmer is now beginning to realize the importance of some kind of livestock. Even the alfalfa producer of the irrigation belt is realizing that there is more money in feeding at least a part of his crop at home, rather than to ship all of it out on an immediate cash basis.

The most dependable crops of the Southwest are feed crops, and when it comes to selling them as soon as they have matured, for cash, the returns are not always satisfactory. Occasionally there is a year when these crops do not fully mature, on account of a poor season, and then there is very little chance to sell for cash. Demonstrations go to show that even during good years to handle crops through livestock increases the return, often double that of cash value.

The dairy cow, the hog and the hen have always done more to establish success on Southwestern farms than any other line of livestock. This same trio has made a reputation as "mortgage lifters" in nearly all of the old-established farming districts further north and east. This line of livestock adapt themselves to farmers of limited means, on average-size farms. Many Southwestern farmers prefer the beef cow to the dairy type, and this is exactly what should be adopted where conditions will justify. Dairy cows, however, adapt themselves to very much more limited conditions than beef cows, and naturally combine with hog and poultry production.

The number of hogs handled by Southwestern farmers has probably doubled within the past three years. It has been fully demonstrated that the right kind of farming will insure grain of kaffir, milo and feterita every year, here, and the returns from these grains are being doubled through hogs.

The little hen is no more looked upon as a scavenger, but rather as a necessary source of revenue. It is not uncommon for Southwestern farmers to realize a profit of $1.00 per hen per year, above the product consumed on their own tables.

Headquarters, 4th Texas Regiment,
Marfa, Texas, June 14, 1916.
Plainview Evening Herald:

As I have nothing to do for a few minutes, I will try and write a few lines on the soldier boys' life in Marfa. There are about eight hours every night that we have nothing to do but sleep and fight tarantulas. Marfa is situated on the Southern Pacific and is the county seat of Presidio County.

The boys here have to drill about eight hours a day. The sun doesn't fall to come down on this desert sand, either.

There were sixteen of us boys made a trip to Mexico last week. We were gone five days. We went to La Jitas. We took eight Packard motor trucks loaded with hay and oats for Troop N of the Sixth Cavalry. Now, believe me, riding a Packard truck loaded with 6,300 pounds of hay and oats is not like riding a jitney on the streets of Plainview. Most of us boys had much rather be home than in this part of the world.

I guess Company L is getting along very well. Haven't heard from them since I have been here, only through The Herald.

We have plenty to eat now, such as it is—hardtack and white beans three times a day, and that sure goes hard with us three Plainview boys who are here.

Cornell and Workman leave here today for Marathon. They are with the supply company.

Sure is dry here. Hasn't rained since last September, and when the wind blows the alkali dust sure flies. You Plainview people don't know what windy days are.

Hoping to be in Plainview soon, I am a Plainview boy in no man's land.

KRESS PERSONAL NEWS.

KRESS, Texas, June 19.—Millard Dushman was a business caller in Kress last Monday.

George Rousser, of Kress, motored to Tulla last Tuesday.

There was a pretty bad wind and hail storm at Kress last Tuesday evening. It did considerable damage to the crops.

Buch Hamilton and Miss Vera Beck, both of Kress, were married, at the bride's home. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

George Rousser, of Kress, and Miss Edna Myers and Miss Maude Skipworth motored to the canyons last Sunday evening. They said they had a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Rousser returned to Kress last Saturday morning, from Houston, Texas, where they had been for Mrs. Rousser's health, but she came back in worse condition than she was when she left Kress. She is very low at present. Their many friends give them their deepest sympathy.

Mr. Tandy and Miss Florence Gaylor, of Kress, were married last Thursday evening. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

Mrs. J. C. Gilbert was thrown off a colt last Thursday week and was hurt pretty badly, but is better at present. Her daughter Rena is at home now for some time.

Mrs. F. Rousser, of Kress, passed away Sunday night, the 18th, about 12 o'clock. She has gone to a much better place, where there is no more pain, sickness, death or weeping. Mr. Rousser wishes to thank his many friends for being so kind while his wife was so low. Their many friends give Mr. Rousser and family their deepest sympathy.

Misses Johnas and Maggie Estes spent Sunday with Mrs. Will Rousser and family.

MOUNT VERNON PEOPLE WILL ATTEND SINGING CONVENTION.

MOUNT VERNON, Texas, June 19.—The Mount Vernon Sunday School met Sunday, the 18th, with a good number present. Rev. Billberry preached at four o'clock.

The little showers the past week have been enmighy good for the farmers, but a good rain is very much needed.

Quite a number of Mount Vernon people are planning to go to Midway June 24 to attend the singing convention.

The health of the community is fine. A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Brazeale June 17.

Mrs. M. S. Dunman, from Menard, Ark., is visiting Mrs. Z. A. Dunman and family this week.

Fred Cox has purchased a new Ford car.

Mr. Haines and family and Mrs. Roxie Harp went to Petersburg Sunday in Mr. Haines' new Ford car.

If It Isn't in The Herald

Find Out Why It Isn't

The many expressions of confidence in THE HERALD'S advertising columns and belief in their inclusion of nearly everything worth while are especially gratifying because they typify exactly the reputation that we seek and that we think THE HERALD deserves.

THE HERALD offers to its readers practically every opportunity that is worth while to purchase all the necessities and luxuries of life and to better the condition of living in every phrase of activity in which the human race is interested.

In purchasing the necessities of life one likes to feel that the particular article finally selected has been chosen from among the greatest possible number of similar articles that could be found with a reasonable amount of effort. Only in the advertising columns of THE HERALD can the maximum range of choice be found.

In addition to the regular display columns of THE HERALD, which contain the most vital kind of purchasing news for the housekeeper and the business man, the Want Ad Columns of THE HERALD have earned a wide reputation as a most remarkable directory of human endeavor.

The casual newspaper reader cannot begin to appreciate the efforts that are constantly made by THE HERALD'S advertising department to place before our readers every opportunity and advantage that can contribute to comfortable and economical living.

So, when we tell you occasionally that THE HERALD gives you more advertising than you can get in any other South Plains medium, please remember that you are the gainer and rejoice with us that we are continually able to increase our service to you in this respect.

SAN DIEGO INVITES TOURISTS.

The Panama-California International Exposition extends the most hearty invitation to every automobilist in the United States and Canada to drive to San Diego and participate in the unique program of spectacular automobile events to take place on the thirty-acre demonstration field in the heart of the Exposition.

Those who make a transcontinental journey to the Exposition will be given a reception to linger a lifetime in their memory.

The Exposition has just gotten up a series of beautiful medals of gold, silver and bronze, these to be given to long-distance tourists arriving at the Exposition between April fifteenth and December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and sixteen.

The reception committee here will pin a gold medal on the transcontinental tourists, silver on the ones making a journey of two thousand miles, and everyone coming over five hundred miles gets a medal of bronze.

The reception given these parties will make any effort they have made well worth while, and through the publicity and special-events department, their achievements will be heralded by motion pictures and newspapers around the world.

San Diego invites you to the most unique motor show ever given, and will make your trip worth while.

C. W. McCabe, dealer in Dodge Brothers cars in San Diego, is making special efforts to care for all tourists traveling in Dodge Brothers motor cars.

DEVELOPING AN "ALFALFA HOG."

The corn belt produced the lard hog. It was easier to throw corn to the hog than to pasture it. Leguminous feeding came too slowly. The West was and is long on legumes. The alfalfa hog was predicted, though it has not materialized. Grains are clear and easily marketed. The small-bellied lard hog, if it survived, became narrow-faced, big bellied and heavy in the forequarters. First the lard hog must redevelop a belly that will handle bulk. While it was doing this it became rusty. It took some generations before the belly could grow a hog to reasonable proportions that would ripen before it aged.

Deprived of the weed seeds, grubs, worms, roots, and most of the weeds, the alfalfa hog had a hard time of it. It had to build over the alfalfa way. If anyone gets the alfalfa-hog idea strong, he is beyond argument. We need the alfalfa hog, or, at any rate, the sow, because within reason alfalfa is one of the best basal hog feeds, and one that must always be at hand in Western farming. The pasture sow, like the range cow or ewe, should be bred for that purpose. She should have the ability to use the maximum of coarse feed, which will not, however, lead to her progeny's losing all pork qualities, so that an early, quick-burly can be economically matured at from 6 to 8 months. Breeders' Gazette.

FORD'S PLAN OF SHARING PROFITS IS A SUCCESS.

Henry Ford announced the plan whereby his employees should share in the profits of the company early in January, 1914, and put the plan into effect on the 14th of that month. A minimum wage of $5.00 for every profit sharer startled the industrial world and provoked unlimited discussion, liberal criticism as well as commendation.

Sufficient time has now elapsed to indicate clearly the wisdom of the plan and its entire success. Statistics were gathered in two surveys, one in 1914 after the plan had been in operation for five months; the other has just been completed. Coming as they do two years apart, an excellent basis for comparison is furnished.

The average bank deposit of the 29,314 men now employed is $204, as against $62.12, the average of the 12,960 men employed in 1914. The bank accounts of the present Ford employees total $5,968,636, an increase of nearly $5,000,000 over two years ago. The number of bank depositors has increased from 5,872 to 17,116.

The men are now buying homes worth $21,787,493, an increase of eighteen and a half million.

The improved living conditions of the men and their families are clearly reflected in the statistics. In 1914, 2,572 carried life insurance totaling $2,471,663; in the year 1916 17,116 men are carrying $14,822,916, an increase of over $500,000 a month. Two years ago only 364 of the men owned their homes; today 1,136 Ford men are home owners.

The total wealth of Ford employees, as represented by bank accounts, real estate and real estate equities, is $8,096,460, an average of $617.33 for each man. Nearly 12,000 more men are now renting homes than in 1914, which has caused the number of men paying board bills to decrease 50 per cent.

WHEELS OUT OF ALIGNMENT CAUSE WEAR ON TIRE TREAD.

"Whenever a motorist detects his tires undergoing unusual tread wear he should at once make certain that the wheels are true," is the declaration of R. S. Wilson, manager of the service department of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio.

"Disalignment of wheels is the unsuspected cause of the premature demise of many tires. When the wheels of a car are not parallel, the tire must undergo a diagonal grind as it passes over the road surface. Sometimes an axle becomes bent by a severe blow, or the steering apparatus gets out of adjustment. Often demountable rims are not put on straight. Bearings sometimes become worn and permit the wheels to wobble. In any case, the tread soon grinds off and the fabric of the tire is exposed to many destructive agencies.

"By close observation you can distinguish many cars being driven with wheels perceptibly out of true. In numerous instances the motorist is not aware that his tires are being subjected to abnormal wear until the announcement comes in the form of a worn-off tread or a blow-out.

"After your car has received a hard bump you should see at once that the axles have not been bent or the wheels knocked out of true. Your tire dealer or garageman will usually be pleased to examine them, or, if his service does not cover this, will suggest where it can be done."

NEW FRANKLIN BUILDING.

Ground has been broken for an extension of the plant of the H. H. Franklin Manufacturing Company in Syracuse, N. Y., which will provide 143,000 additional square feet of floor space. This is the fourth important factory addition started by the company within twelve months.

Upon completion of the building the plant will have facilities for the production of fifty Franklin cars a day.

The structure, to be devoted to general manufacturing operations and the shipping department, will represent an investment of $500,000, including machinery. It will be three stories high and constructed of reinforced concrete. Provision is to be made for adding three more floors as requirements demand.

The latest Franklin building will span four railroad tracks, permitting all loading under cover.

TIRE REPAIR HINTS.

One of the large tire manufacturing companies, which is necessarily familiar with every phase of repair work as well as the original processes of manufacture, offers the following suggestions to repairmen, and they are also entirely apropos for private owners who mend their own casings:

"When dark curing cement is used in repairing a white tread, dark lines and marks are left, which inevitably spoil the appearance of the most workmanlike job. We have, for some time past, been using white vulcanizing cement in our own repair department, and with such excellent results that we are adding it to our regular line of repair material.

"Sand bags may be used instead of air bags in curing tread cuts. Internal pressure only is needed against the tread in such repairs. For each sectional mold size, one sand bag and one steel bar will be needed. The bag should be of heavy canvas, shaped like a common salt bag and loosely filled (not packed) with fine sand. The steel bar should be of one-inch section about a foot long and curved so as to fit the mold. The sand bag is placed within the casing, which is dropped into the sectional mold and the steel bar is laid along the sand bag, concave up. The clamp screw is now twisted down on the mold against the center of the bar. This spreads out the sand bag and supplies the necessary pressure against the tread. It is a good plan to drill a hole or slot in the bar, so that the clamp screw can get a grip."

GRAIN AT LONE STAR IS BETTER THAN EXPECTED.

LONE STAR, June 19.—Our farmers are quite busy these days harvesting their grain, which they consider very good after so much dry weather.

This part of the Plains is still dry, only small showers having fallen.

Several of the Lone Star people attended church at Providence Saturday night. Rev. Haynie, of Plainview, preached.

Mrs. Will Bradford, of Tulsa, is visiting her brother, E. G. Foster. Mrs. Bradford as been quite sick, but is now improving nicely.

Bob Reeves and several others went fishing on the Blanco Canyon last week.

Mesdames Wilson and Simms, of Sunset, were callers at Mrs. Cas. Merriks' last week.

W. P. Boyd and wife, son, Brit, and daughter, Maggie, of Dimmitt, visited at the E. C. Dodson home last Thursday, and also visited friends in Lockney.

Lewis Hooker and family, of Wichita Falls, are visiting their kinfolk, the Dodsons, Frys and Wilsons, and they all took a trip to the Canyons and spent a pleasant day.

Sunday School was largely attended on last Sunday afternoon.

W. B. Hatchett and Cleve Hartman were transacting business in Plainview last week.

Mrs. J. R. Mahaffy's brother, Mr. Askey, is spending a while with them.

Mr. Woolfork and R. W. Smith have returned from New Mexico, where they have been on business.

"COUNTY PULLER" IS TITLE GIVEN AN OKLAHOMA MAN.

Owing to destruction of a bridge at a certain important river crossing, an Oklahoma county has employed a stockman living nearby as official county puller at a salary of five dollars a day. His duty is to keep a team on each side of the river to tow automobiles across.

NEW RESTRICTIONS PLACED ON TICKY CATTLE SHIPMENTS.

Interstate Shipments Within the Quarantined Area Affected by Changes in Federal Regulations.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 19.—Hereafter cattle not intended for immediate slaughter can not be moved from one State to another within the area quarantined on account of the cattle tick, unless they are accompanied by a certificate of Federal inspection or dipping. In the case of cattle intended for slaughter previous permission must be obtained from the proper authorities of the State into which they are to be sent before the shipments can be made.

These requirements are laid down in new regulations of the U. S. Department of Agriculture which become effective July 1. They have been rendered advisable, it is explained, by the rapid extension of work of tick eradication and by the movement to make this a State instead of a county matter. The free areas which now exist in all of the tick-infested States must be protected from reinfection, and in those sections where eradication work is now in progress or about to be undertaken, the importation of ticky cattle is regarded as undesirable. State regulations similar to this have been in effect in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Oklahoma for some time, the position of these States being that they already have all the cattle ticks they can afford to eradicate and do not care to import any from outside.

Another change in the regulations requires all cattle shipped interstate from the area quarantined for scabies to be accompanied by a certificate of Federal inspection or dipping. Hitherto such cattle have been allowed to go out uninspected, provided the cars were placarded "Uninspected Clean Cattle" and "Uninspected Exposed Cattle," as the case might be. The area under quarantine for scabies has been so greatly reduced by eradication work, however, that it is now possible to inspect all stock shipped from it, and the former privilege of shipping without inspection is regarded as no longer necessary.

Still another change provides that swine shipped interstate for any purpose except immediate slaughter must have cleaned and disinfected cars. The object of this regulation is to provide an additional safeguard against the spread of hog cholera to breeding or feeding herds.

INTERNATIONAL DRY-FARMING CONGRESS DATES ANNOUNCED.

EL PASO, Texas, June 19.—The dates for the Eleventh International Soil-Products Exposition have been set for October 17 to 26, inclusive. The annual sessions of The International Dry-Farming Congress and International Irrigation Congress will be held during the progress of the Exposition. All of these events will be staged at El Paso.

The International Soil-Products Exposition, which has been held in conjunction with the Dry-Farming Congress for the past ten years, promises to be larger and better than ever this year. Complete exhibits are being prepared in not less than thirty states, provinces and nations. In addition, there will be numerous collective exhibits from counties and districts throughout the Western and Southern parts of the United States, and the usual large line of individual exhibits.

States Will Compete.

There will be a lively contest for the magnificent trophy cups and cash prizes to be awarded to the states making the best exhibits. Last year, when the Exposition was held at Denver, Kansas took first prize, Nebraska second, and Oklahoma third. In 1914, at Wichita, Arizona was first and Colorado second.

An Annual Event.

The Exposition is conducted annually, under the management of The International Farm Congress (the Dry-Farming Congress), and is the only permanent interstate and international event of the kind in existence. About ten acres in buildings and grounds are being provided for the 1916 Exposition, close to the business center of El Paso.

Separate Dry-Farm Section.

The premium list for this year, which will soon be ready for distribution, makes a special provision for products grown under dry-farming conditions. In this section, competition is restricted to exhibits grown without irrigation, and where the average annual precipitation is less than 25 inches. In the general classes, competition is open to the world.

Government to Exhibit.

Several new and interesting features will be added this year. Among these will be a complete exhibit by the United States Reclamation Bureau, covering all phases of irrigation farming, and illustrating the progress that has been made by the Government in reclaiming arid lands by irrigation. About one hundred million dollars has already been expended in this work, which is one of the most important under the Government's charge.

The United States Indian Department is arranging to stage an exhibit of Indian products and works of industry and art. This will be the most complete exhibit of its kind ever collected, and will represent the Indians of many states.

The agricultural appropriation bill in Congress carries an item of $20,000 to provide for an exhibit by the Department of Agriculture, as usual.

President Wilson to Open Exposition.

President Woodrow Wilson has accepted an invitation to formally open the Exposition, with an address to a joint session of the two Congresses. Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, and David F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture, are also on the program.

MILK AS A BRACER.

According to the Philadelphia Press, the Pasteur Institute of Paris has just made the declaration that one of the most powerful stimulants known is milk. It has been in use for months now as the one stimulant for the French soldiers in the trenches, and its effect on them has amply justified the statement made by the famous institute in regard to it.

Milk has been used liberally to stimulate the French soldiers before they go into battle, and its effects have been such that the French government has urged the sale of milk in preference to other soft drinks behind the trenches when the soldiers go off duty for their spells of rest and recreation.

That the qualities of stimulation should be demonstrated in the fighting men should commend the beverage to those engaged in the pursuits of peace in those parts of the world where Mars does not now rule. While alcohol may fire the brain and dull the sensibilities, and thus impart a false courage, milk, according to the learned scientists of the Pasteur Institute, performs the work of keying up the individual without affecting the keenness of his senses or the coolness of his judgment. This is necessary to the mode of warfare which this war has exemplified, but it is no less necessary to the man working in the office, in the studio, in the battle for a living. High courage and a clear perception of what they are doing is necessary for the best work in all the handicrafts and in trade.

The fluid has heretofore been considered synonymous with all that is mild and peaceful. Advocates of preparedness have referred to "those milk-and-water pacifists." The "milk of human kindness" has no suggestion of powerful stimulation.

But science has discovered, among its many wonders, that the patient cow has a punch in milk that necessitates the addition of no produce of the still to make itself felt on the human system. It has discovered a new and harmless "bracer."

The Plainview Evening Herald

—PUBLISHED TWICE-A-WEEK—

—Published Every Tuesday and Friday Evening by—THE HERALD PUBLISHING COMPANY,
 Corner Broadway and Second Sts.

HERBERT S. HILBURN, Editor E. B. MILLER, Business Manager

Entered as second class mail matter July 1, 1914, at the Post Office at Plainview, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879

$1.50 a Year; 75c, 6 Months. Advertising Rates on Application.

COWS, HOGS AND POULTRY ARE SUPPLEMENTARY.

A step to farm prosperity is home production of everything possible that is consumed on the farm. Saturday D. C. Dove told the Hale County Farmers' Institute that stock farming is the most profitable. He said that the cows, hogs and poultry supplemented each other and that they were a sure means of bringing about farm prosperity. He bases his conclusion on actual experience and observation in this and other states of the South.

ABOUT A MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM.

One good thing which The Herald wishes for Plainview is a municipal auditorium. There are towns no larger than Plainview which find such buildings an aid in their cultural and commercial development.

Plainview is to entertain the Young Men's Business Leagues of Texas next spring. There is no suitable auditorium for their meetings. For public speakings of all kinds there is no secular building which will accommodate the people. The District Court room is far too small for many political meetings held there.

Musical and artists' concerts must be taken to the churches, if ample room is provided to seat the people comfortably.

The people of Arkansas City voted bonds to the amount of $60,000 for an auditorium. Of course, a special charter provision enabled them to carry out the enterprise on a municipal basis. Bowie, a Texas town, is interested in the construction of a municipal auditorium.

Plainview can have the auditorium she needs by a little concerted action.

ECONOMIC VALUE OF CIVIC BEAUTY.

Civic beauty, as The Herald has often expressed it, has an economic value. The strength of a nation does not consist in the size of its navy or its standing army, nor in the wealth and material prosperity. The nation lives in the hearts of its citizenship.

There is a natural human response to beauty. "Beauty is God's handwriting." One who has a chance to grow up in surroundings of cleanliness, order and beauty has every chance in his favor of becoming a model citizen, and even one model citizen is an asset to a community.

As in the individual, the love of the beautiful exists in the community. Not every town as a municipal unit tries to attain civic beauty, but the live ones do.

Every effort that Plainview can put forth to make an attractive town, one of civic beauty, is worth while.

A specific effort on the part of the City of Plainview is the agreement to furnish for the park at Lake Plainview 30,000 gallons of water per month free of cost for flowers and shrubs. Lake Plainview is privately owned, but it is used by the public, and it is nothing more than fair that the public should help in maintaining the park. Thirty thousand gallons of water per month is small pay for a park like that at Lake Plainview.

THE HEART OF A CORPORATION.

In the past quarter century there has been a change in the attitude of corporations toward employees. Maybe you believe that the change has come by force, that employees have taken the initiative; maybe you believe that it is partly by force and partly a development on the part of the corporation—that men of big business have more heart. At any rate, you will recognize the existence of the spirit of humanitarianism which is now pervading all industry.

A notable example is the action of the Wells Fargo Express Company in its new pension plan, which went into effect June 1. The pension idea is not new to society, nor is it new with Wells Fargo; for they have been granting pensions to old men for more than a quarter of a century, and for the past fourteen years the pension board has been a distinct feature of its general organization. But distinctively new with this company is the plan of granting pensions or aid to sick or disabled men. Even the man who has been in the employ of the company but six months is eligible to full pay for six months and half pay thereafter if injured while on duty; if injured while not on duty he is allowed pay during enforced absence, in accordance with a very generous table of time allowances.

Sidney Lanier, in his famous poem on commercialism, says the world needs less head and more heart. There is nothing antagonistic, fundamentally, between capital and labor; they are complementary. Disclosure of the heart of the corporation is a development of the age that will tend to level the social lump.

Food for Thought

The wisdom of the wise and experience of ages may be preserved by quotation.—Benjamin Disraeli.

A thing is never too often repeated which is never sufficiently learned.—Seneca.

As soon as politics penetrates the precincts of the tribunals, justice has to leave.—Guizot.

Every thought marks a line on your brain. The more you think it, the deeper you sink it. Think the same thing often enough and it eventually becomes a groove—an instinct. When good thinking, clean thinking, efficient thinking become habits, they automatically lead to good work, clean living, and efficient methods. Success is a consistent, persistent mental attitude.—Herbert Kaufman.

If you have skill, use it—cash it. If you have not skill, get it. It is no shame to be commonplace—the shame is in staying so.

The longer I live, the more I am convinced that half the unhappiness of mankind arises from little stoppages—from a duet choked up, from food pressing in the wrong place, from vexed duodenum or an agitated pylorus. Old friendships are destroyed by toasted cheese, and hard sucted meat has led to suicide. Unpleasant feelings of the body produce corresponding sensations of the mind and a great scene of wretchedness is often sketched out by a morsel of indigestible and misguided food.—Sidney Smith.

A nation is made great, not by its fruitful acres, but by the men who cultivate them; not by its great forests, but by the men who use them; not by its mines, but by the men who work in them; not by its railways, but by the men who build and run them. America was a great land when Columbus discovered it; Americans have made it a great Nation.—Lyman Abbott.

GETS EXTENSION ON FURLOUGH.

L. R. Pearson, clerk of Company L, Fourth Regiment, Texas Infantry, has been granted a five-day extension on his furlough. He will probably leave for Sanderson Sunday.

ELECT SPANISH TEACHER.

Miss Florence Davis, of McKinney, has been elected as teacher of Spanish in the Plainview High School. Miss Davis has taught in the public schools of Portland and McKinney.

Readers' Forum

"HOGGISH AMARILLO."

In last week's issue of the Plainview News appears an editorial under the above heading, which does not represent the sentiment of the Plainview people, as I understand it. The editorial accuses Amarillo of being hoggish because a number of her citizens are candidates for district offices, and practically threatens Judge Hall with ostracism unless all of the district candidates from that town withdraw from the race.

Now, I want to call attention to a little thing the News has overlooked. Plainview has been going some in the last few years—Kinder and Ellerd for judge and district attorney, Kinder and Penry for judge and district attorney, and Penry for the Legislature. We now have Tilson in the Legislature, and his service has been so satisfactory that he is running again without opposition. We have Joiner for judge, and I prophesy that the people of this district are going to keep him as long as he wants the office. We have two candidates for district attorney and a candidate for Congress who is almost sure to be elected. Isn't that going some?

But, as to the threat to defeat Hall for judge of the Supreme Court, if Hall is the best man for that office, we should elect him. He lives in Amarillo; and, I firmly believe, is by far superior to his opponent. I shall vote for him because he is the best man for the place.

If Amarillo is in the lead with a man who is best qualified to serve the people, we should vote for him. If our man is the best man, they should vote for him. Let's get the thing straight, and don't forget that WE have been GOING SOME. H. C. RANDOLPH. Plainview, Texas, June 19th, 1916.

MARRIAGE LICENSE ISSUED.

MRS. RACHEL ANN FAIR.

Inscribed to
 REV. G. F. FAIR.

She went away from earth to be with God—
 Turned from the weary paths her feet had trod;
 She saw the light that shines beyond the Sea,
 And heard His voice that said "Come unto Me."
 Why should you weep? She rests in peace, asleep,
 To wake no more in sorrow's vale to weep!

Close by your side, more than a score of years,
 To cheer you on and drive away your fears—
 Helped you to make your way when days were dark,
 And bid you hope when storms would toss your bark;
 You now can say that God, through her, was there;
 Though all unseen, was present ev'rywhere.

Though sweetest memories cling 'round time and place
 When her sweet life beamed forth in wondrous grace,
 Let bitter sorrow find a sweet surcease
 In that fond hope that soon you'll find release
 From earth, and go to that far, rad'n't shore,
 And from the loved and lost you'll part no more.

She found a resting place far in the West,
 On fertile plains, where flowers bloom on its breast:
 Her spirit went to God, to be at home
 And wait, at that far Gate, till loved ones come.
 Her course is finished, and she's run her race
 And seen her loving Savior face to face.

—James Allen Crutchfield.

Company L Gets Its First Pay.

In Camp, Sanderson, Texas,
 June 18, 1916.

Well, this makes three weeks since we have been stationed here, and we are now completely settled down to our army life, and every day we hear less complaining. The boys are beginning to see that we are here for a spell and the better view they take of it the better it will be.

One day this week we took a hike of about 5 miles out the road and back into camp, over the hills. The boys all stood up to it like regulars.

Thursday we received an inspection of equipment, camp and feet. Inspection was made by Major Hill and Lieutenant Dr. Bruce. Everything showed up in fine shape.

Friday and yesterday we were given target practice, shooting at targets at a distance of 200 yards. Some very good scores were made both days, but not as good as will be made after we have received more practice.

I will be unable to write very much this week, as there is nothing to write about. All that is going on is eat, drill, sleep, target practice and guard duty, but that is all routine work; there is nothing interesting about it. As there have been several of the boys home on furloughs and two of them there now, you will no doubt be able to learn more from them than I can write about.

Two of our members, Joe Workman and Cornell, who have been on detached service, have rejoined our company as drivers, or, in army slang, "mule skinner." We will receive our mules this week. There will be eight of them, so you can see these boys will sure have their hands full taking care of them. Yesterday was pay day, and the boys were happy for a few hours, but as the pay was so small and they all owed so much, there was very little left two hours after they had received it.

The boys are in good health at this writing, and as every precaution is being taken to keep them in good health, I don't suppose that there will be very much if any sickness in camp.

Our smallpox vaccination did not take very well, as our friend Gibbs is the only member who has a sore arm, and his arm is getting some better.

No doubt on next inspection we will get our arms scratched again.

The boys were all pleasantly surprised the other day when they found out that they were going to receive a company box, and their mouths are sure watering right now in anticipation of the contents of that box.

The boys in camp who are members of the Y. M. B. L. have asked me to take this means of thanking the League for their kindness in remitting their dues while in the service. It sure is appreciated, for 50 cents here looks as big as $5.00 at home.

Yours truly,
 W. J. KLINGER.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

The Highland Club will be entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Joiner.

MRS. T. P. WHITIS HOSTESS PRESBYTERIAN LADIES' CLASS.

The Ladies' Bible Class of the Presbyterian Sunday School was entertained Thursday afternoon by the teacher, Mrs. T. P. Whitis, at her home, on West Tenth Street.

A short business session was held, the class organized, and the following officers elected: Mrs. J. H. Lyons, president; Mrs. W. E. Risser, vice president; and Mrs. E. B. Hughes, secretary.

Biblical questions and contests followed, and an ice course was served by the hostess to the members of the class.

ENTERTAINS FIDELIS CLASS.

Wednesday the Fidelis Class of the Baptist Sunday School entertained the Berean Class, at the home of Miss Effie Murphy, on Restriction Street. Contests, games, conversation and music provided engaging entertainment.

Punch was served throughout the evening. At the conclusion of the contests and games, ice cream and angel food cake were served.

"THE FIVE W'S."

The following girls met at the home of Miss Hazel Sawyer on Wednesday, the seventh, and organized a club composed of the following members: Misses Alma Armstrong, Effie Murphy, Zephia Brown, Lois Hatcher, Thelma Reeves, Ruth Dillingham, Mollie Goode, Dora McCarley, Lucy Glenn, Fern Winn, Otelia Graham, Nancy Sanderson, Myra Murray, Mary Wayland and Hazel Sawyer.

The name selected for the club is "The 5 W's." They will meet each Wednesday. Last Wednesday they were entertained at the home of Miss Alma Armstrong, and next Wednesday the club will meet with Miss Zephia Brown.

ECONOMICS CLUB ENJOYS PICNIC AT THREE-MILE GROVE.

Last Thursday evening the Economics Club No. 1 met at the Three-Mile Grove for a moonlight picnic. They were, however, forced to return to town on account of a threatening rain storm.

Those who did not go home went to Mary Bryan's, where the supper that had been prepared for the picnic was spread. "Though the thunder roared, the lightning flashed and the floods descended," it did not disturb the girls, who displayed an appetite which was not at all economical.

After two hours of eating and drinking and making merry, the girls left for home, all expressing their "sympathy" for the ones who did not stay for supper, and voting the "moonlight picnic" a success.

Those present at the grove were Misses Margie and Myrtle Saffle, Ardella and Lillian Sloneker, Mabel Scudder, Mary Bryan, Alberta Howell, Maurine Richards, Gladys Speer, Gladys Stovall, Lucille Glenn, Ruth Towery, Nita Nell DeJarnatt, Minnie Bell Clubb, Myrah Morris, Eva May Merrill, Susie Fullingim, Ruth Wolverton, Molly Goode, Pillah Rightmire and Blanche Reddell. REPORTER.

PICNIC FOR MISS GOODE'S SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS MONDAY.

A merry company of little girls who compose the class of Miss Burr Goode, of the Baptist Sunday School, enjoyed a picnic yesterday afternoon at the Three-Mile Grove.

They went out in cars at four o'clock, returning about seven-thirty.

Various games were enjoyed, and big rope swings were special attractions. Before departing the picnic supper was served.

Those present were Madeline Abraham, Josephine Abraham, Fannie Goode, Elizabeth Goode, Pauline Noble, May Lowe, Martha Lowe, Virgie Lockhart, Helen Jackson, Maurine Mathes, Ola Hooper, Louise Graves, Florence Hammer, Fayola Warren, Gladys Lovelady, Alice Holland, Alva Griffin, Miss Burr Goode and Mrs. O. B. Jackson.

CELEBRATING HARRIET VANDERPOEL'S BIRTHDAY.

Harriet Vanderpoel celebrated her eighth birthday yesterday afternoon with a little party from four to seven o'clock. Games were played on the lawn, and during the games fruit was passed among the guests.

When the gay little crowd was tired of play, the birthday cake, with the eight candles, was cut and served with ice cream to the following guests: Blanche and Ruth Hamilton, Elaine Speed, Mary Joe Burton, Margaret Bryant, Ola May Mitchell, Margaret Hall, Dorothy and Margaret Whitson, Wilma Bailey, Margaret Conner and Madge Wright.

FOR HUGHES SPRINGS VISITORS.

The Hughes Spring visitors were guests of honor at a well appointed luncheon and outing at the Pioneer Park Sunday.

At Methodist Revival Meeting

Professor R. E. Huston.

The revival meeting has begun at the Methodist Church, and the interest is increasing with every service. The pastor, Rev. J. W. Story, is doing the preaching, and Prof. R. E. Huston is leading the singing. The singing is one of the good features of the work. The members of the church and Christians generally are rallying to the work, and deep work of grace is already going on.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services and take active part in the work. The hours of service are 10 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. each day this week. Come and bring your friends with you.

CITIZENS' EFFORTS BUILD UP CITY, SAYS MR. WILLYS.

The only way to build a city, increase its industrial activities and establish for it an enviable position in the business centers of the world is for its citizens to get together and work together, in the opinion of John N. Willys, president of The Willys-Overland Company, of Toledo, Ohio, the largest automobile manufacturing plant in the world. Despite his active participation in the affairs of his immense factory, Mr. Willys contributes considerable time and financial assistance to the development of municipal growth. He is an enthusiastic supporter of all live Chamber of Commerce organizations. Recently the distinguished automobile manufacturer made a trip to Riverside, Calif., where the local Chamber of Commerce is conducting an exciting campaign for new members and civic upbuilding. In response to an urgent invitation, Mr. Willys gave a brief talk to the Riverside business men, in which he emphasized the necessity for them to work together and not depend on individualism.

"The only way you can build your city is by working together toward that end," declared Mr. Willys. "I don't build 950 Overland automobiles every day by my own efforts. No more can any man among you build Riverside. Individualism is an old and impractical theory; in my opinion, it is a hundred years behind the times. Work, and work together, is what will count. You must have the vision, you must believe in what you can do, in what your city can do."

"Any Chamber of Commerce can get new industries, if it will get after them. When I took over the automobile factory in my old home town of Elmira, N. Y., in 1910, it had 17 employees. Today we have 3,500 employees there, and in another year we hope to have 5,000. It was my interest in the city, in the Chamber of Commerce, which made me go to Elmira, when I might have done better, financially, in another community. But, now, the big factory there is making a prosperous and happy community. You'll find men who will become interested in Riverside in the same way and who will bring you industries. I don't know how much my local representative is doing for this Chamber of Commerce, but I know I want him in it. And, just to show my interest in the movement and in Riverside, I'm going to subscribe to ten memberships for three years for him, to get him started right."

"When we undertook to rebuild the Toledo Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Willys concluded, "we were a little alarmed at the amount of money which was being expended in that direction. We had been spending about $10,000 a year for that purpose. This year, however, we are spending $100,000 in the support of the Chamber of Commerce, and every time I return to Toledo I can see that the city is growing."

In an editorial comment, referring to Mr. Willys' remarks before the Chamber of Commerce, a Riverside paper had this to say: "This country needs more men of the Willys type. He has developed from the ranks and has earned all that he has. Riverside owes a deep debt of gratitude to the manufacturer of the Overland automobile, not only for the wonderfully encouraging words spoken by him to the Riverside boosters, gathered about the luncheon tables yesterday noon, but he happens to be one who backs up his words with ideas. If there is anything that more fully demonstrates this than his action in taking memberships in the Chamber of Commerce, that cost real money, we don't know what it is. We are for John N. Willys."

THE GENESIS OF JITNEY.

At last the great near-etymological mystery has been solved. For months the more or less leisured members of our national community have been convulsed to the springs of their respective beings by the mysterious origin of the name bestowed upon the humble wholesale motor conveyance known as the "jitney bus." Jitney is the circus man's name for the small change taken in by the side show and the pink-lemonade man. Here ends the effort to prove that the origin of the word is purely onomatopoeic. True, this may have been the ultimate beginning, for the word has an uncanny suggestion of disdain about it, but in its obvious origin, sense and not sound has governed its application to the cheap motor transportation agent. Once again we owe a picturesque and forceful description to the primitive but vigorous agency of slang.

In the meantime the jitney war goes merrily on, and the end is not in sight. Many cities contend, as in the wars of ancient Greece, for pre-eminence as the originator of the jitney idea. Phoenix, Arizona, makes as good a case as any for priority, and we may let it go at that. Throughout the Middle West and Far West street transportation companies are in despair and appeal to the generosity of the dear public to defend them from loss of revenue.

THE IDEAL WINDSHIELD.

Before discussing the various types of windshields, let us determine what are the functions which the ideal windshield must fulfill. Its primary purpose is, as its name implies, a windshield. It is to protect the driver and occupants of the car from the impact of the air through which they are being driven and also from flying particles of dust and rain or snow, as the case may be.

A single piece of glass supported above the dash would fulfill all these requirements, but it brings up complications which make it far from ideal. In the first place, rain and snow collect upon it, obscuring the view of the road ahead, and the fact of its being all one piece renders it impractical to move it aside in order to obtain a direct vision unobscured by wet glass. Then, too, on a very mild, warm day a solid windshield makes the car too stuffy. Thus we see that something more than a piece of glass is needed to make a good windshield.

Another type is made in two sections, hinged in the middle, so that the top may be folded back over the lower section. The greatest and rather serious disadvantage of this method of construction is the obstruction of vision caused by framing of the two sections, which forms a broad, opaque strip directly across the field of vision. Still another type, and probably the one which embodies the most advantages with the fewest disadvantages, is the one which is made in two sections with no cross-bars to obstruct the view, the upper section being pivoted to the two upright supports, one on either side at a point near the top, thus making it possible to swing the upper section out over the lower, forming a sort of canopy and giving the driver an unobstructed rain-vision. In this type the lower section is also pivoted at a point near its top, allowing its lower edge to be swung inward from the dash, making it possible to ventilate the car in warm weather and still be protected from drafts. This type usually embodies the automatic principle. That is, its sections will remain in any position in which they are set without resetting of thumb-screws. The principal disadvantage of this type is its comparative weakness, owing to the absence of any cross-bars to brace and strengthen it in the middle. To sum up, then, the ideal windshield is the one which possesses the greatest strength while embodying the advantages of clear view, rain-vision, and ventilation, and which is automatic.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller and family came in Sunday from a motoring trip to the central part of the State. They visited with relatives in Dallas, Houston and Dublin.

The Growing Tendency of the Age—

A noted English scientist asserts the tendency is toward "neurasthenia, nerves," etc." A remarkable statement!

No less remarkable is the cause which, he adds, "is not unlikely due to removing from our diet those elements of cereal food which Nature has hid in the husk of the grain, and which man in his ignorance discards."

The elements to which he refers are the well-known mineral salts of phosphorus, lime, iron, etc., removed in milling flour to make it white, but which physicians know are indispensable to normal, well-balanced nerves, bodies and brains.

Those Questions of Yours

What does light weight mean to me in the choice of an automobile?—One car has this type of construction, another car that. Which is right?—How can I judge quality?—How can I know when a car is built for economy and reliability?—How can I be sure of the relative value of air-cooling and water-cooling?—How can I determine upkeep costs?—Which car gives best service on the least gasoline?

These, and many more vital questions to the prospective automobile owner, you may solve for yourself by a study of the

KANSAS CITY STOCK MARKET IN DETAIL.

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, June 16.—A fairly liberal run of cattle has arrived this week, 10,000 more than came in same week last year, but prices held up well on beef cattle, except that there has been a seasonable widening of the gap between medium and low grades and the best cattle. Prime steers sold at $11.25, odd head $11.35, and prime pulpers reached $11.00, highest prices paid this year, and nearly two dollars above the highest price ever paid in June before this year. Medium to common steers sell downwards to $8.00. Kansas grass steers brought $9.00 this week.

Quarantine receipts amount to 214 cars this week, twice as many as came in same week last year. Most of this supply was fed steers from North Texas, which sold at $8.25 to $9.85, 8 cars from Russell & Brown, La Pryor, South Texas, selling at $8.00, and $8.25.

For County Commissioner, Precinct No. 2: J. W. ROBERSON.
For County Commissioner, Precinct No. 4: M. C. CORNELIUS, C. E. LOCK, M. T. BARBER.
Justice of Peace, Precinct 1—WALTER C. KICK.

here today, most of the South Texas grassers at $7.40 to $7.65, light-weight Oklahoma grass steers $6.35 to $7.25. Stockers and feeders are firm this week, the demand holding up better than usual this late in the summer, good stock steers around $7.75, good feeders at $8.00 to $8.50, best stockers up to $8.50.

Western pulp-fed steers are getting scarce, but Missouri corn and grass cattle are starting good, and North Texas is furnishing a good substitute for the pulpers. The Missouri and the quarantine cattle are starting several weeks earlier than usual, and it appears that fair receipts will come right along, a fortunate arrangement, for the market is amply able to take care of runs as large as we have been having.

Hog receipts today were only 5,000 head, and prices were again higher, top $9.90, bulk $9.50 to $9.80, the market 40 to 50 cents higher than a week ago. Disappointing receipts all around brought a quick return to higher prices, and commission men look for ten-dollar hogs through July and August. Average weights are running lighter than a year ago, indicating that owners are not disposed to take any chances in overstaying the market, which means that there is no great reserve supply of hogs in the country. Demand from Eastern killers is stronger this week than it has been for several weeks past.

Sheep and lambs have exhibited weakness regularly every day this week, but today prices were about 10 higher. Native spring lambs sold at $11.10, and clipped ewes are worth $6.75 to $7.00. Texas clipped wethers brought $7.00 today, and common goats $4.60. Arizona spring lambs are worth around $11.00, Arizona ewes $7.00. Angora goats to killers and for the country are selling close together, $5.00 to $5.25, common Mexican goats $3.75 to $4.75. Feeding lambs went out this week at $7.50 to $8.65, feeding wethers and yearlings $5.00 to $6.00, breeding ewes $6.50 to $7.50.

TRY IT! SUBSTITUTE FOR NASTY CALOMEL

Makes Your Liver Without Making You Sick and Can Not Sallivate.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist—has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may sllivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to

IS IT YOUR KIDNEYS!

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where the danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of this vicinity are constantly testifying.

Mrs. R. B. Meek, 813 North Spring St., Tyler, Texas, says: "About two years ago I used a couple of boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and found them to be a speedy cure for that dull, nagging ache in the back and other annoyances arising from disordered kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine medicine.

SPRING LAKE, Texas, June 20.—Wheat harvest has begun in this part of the county.

Mrs. O. C. Axtell and Misses Mary, Gladys and Fern Axtell were Dimmitt visitors Monday.

Mrs. H. M. Packard was calling on friends at Sunny Side Tuesday.

Mrs. J. D. Trumbull was hostess to an elaborate 12 o'clock dinner Thursday. After dinner those present rendered some very fine music, both instrumental and vocal.

Miss Hazel White is visiting friends in Hereford this week.

H. M. Packard went to Amarillo the first of the week.

Miss Lillian Owen arrived Saturday. She will spend the summer with her uncle and aunt, D. G. and Miss Mary Axtell. Miss Owen has spent so many summers here that she has made many friends, who are glad to see her.

Misses Etta and Myrtle Vore went to Dawn Saturday, where they will visit for a week.

W. S. Hall and James Reddington were Plainview visitors Wednesday.

Ralph Packard went to Plainview

the last of the week to get oil for Packard & Son's threshing outfit, which they expect to have in operation as soon as wheat harvest is over.

L. F. Harris pulled a car into Muleshoe from Spring Lake Saturday.

Mrs. O. C. Axtell and daughter, Gladys, went to Hereford Saturday to meet Ray Axtell. They drove their new Overland. Ray has been attending school at Manhattan, Kansas.

The young ladies' class gave a pie social Tuesday evening. A very fine program, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, had been prepared. Spring Lake has some fine musical talent, and it was gathered in this program. To say the least, we enjoyed a treat. The night was very threatening, which caused a number to miss this unique social. Notwithstanding this fact, the young ladies added $8.00 to their treasury.

SOUND OF HEADER PLEASING TO PETERSBURG FARMERS.

PETERSBURG, Texas, June 19.—The sounds of the headers are heard on the Plains. Everybody is busy and happy.

Miss Fay Garrison returned to her home, in Plainview, Saturday, after spending a few days with her friend Miss Evelyn Claitor.

Messrs. John Hegi, Sr., and Marcus Gregory have purchased a new header, jointly, and have a crew running it in the wheat fields north of town.

Quite a crowd attended Children's Day service at Carr's Chapel Sunday.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Vida Mae Stalcup to James Thomas Baysden, at the home of her father, at Kirk, New Mexico, June 18th. Miss Vida Mae has a host of friends here in her old home who send their best wishes to her.

Miss Pauline Collier had as her guests at dinner Sunday Misses Annie Hughes and Evelyn Claitor.

Austin Anderson was entertained in the home of L. C. Claitor Tuesday night. Mr. Anderson is a candidate for county judge.

Threshing will begin here in a few days.

The headers are running day and night now.

Henry White has purchased a new binder, and will bind some of his wheat.

The Mothers' Club meets Friday evening, at the school building. Success to The Herald.

SMITH ACCEPTS POSITION WITH NUNN ELECTRIC CO.

Glenn Smith, who for the past several months has been in the employ of the Texas Utilities Company, left yesterday morning for Amarillo, where he has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the Nunn Electric Company.

T. J. Foster, of Belton, will take the position made vacant by Mr. Smith's change.

DAVENPORT WITH GARRISON-CONNER ELECTRIC COMPANY.

Wallace Davenport has accepted a position with the Garrison-Conner Electric Company. For the past year Mr. Davenport has been in the employ of the Nunn Electric Company, of Amarillo.

WINS NEW FAME IN MEXICAN CAMPAIGN.

In the recent attack by American troops in Mexico which resulted in the killing of Col. Julio Cardenas, a Villa leader second in importance only to his chief, Dodge Brothers motor cars were the vehicles used in a thrilling charge. Without the fast-going, sturdy cars, it would have been impossible to have gotten to Col. Cardenas.

The Cardenas Ranch is so situated that it was impossible for the troops to approach within three miles without being sighted. Spies had reported to the American troops several times that bandits were making their headquarters there, but when cavalry would proceed to the ranch the bandits would have escaped and only the women and children would be left.

General Pershing finally ordered three of the Dodge Brothers cars attached to his division to be filled with men and started for the ranch. They proceeded quietly until they topped a rise nearly three miles from the ranch. Then the drivers "stepped on it" and raced for the ranch at a speed of nearly 60 miles per hour, although the going was so rough that the men in the tonneau of each car had to cling desperately to keep from being thrown out.

Colonel Cardenas, with two men, were at the ranch. They hurried out and attempted to escape, but the motor column was on them before they could get away, and in a pistol duel with Lieutenant Patton Cardenas was wounded and afterwards killed by troopers, when he tried to escape.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX VISIT WILLYS-OVERLAND PLANT.

The Chicago White Sox scored a new distinction the other day—although not in a baseball way—on a visit to Toledo to play an exhibition game with a Toledo amateur club. On this trip the club, led by "Plants" Rowland, manager of Comiskey's hopes, inspected the plant of The Willys-Overland Company, at the invitation of factory officials. This was the first time that a baseball club has ever visited the automobile plant in a body.

The players made a flying visit to Toledo after beating the Cleveland Indians twice. On the following day—Decoration Day—they were scheduled for two more battles at Detroit. Consequently they did not make an extended visit through the plant, but were glad of the opportunity offered to visit the high spots of the biggest automobile manufactory in the world. The new Administration Building, now almost completed; Building Number 75, where the light, economical Model 75's are assembled, and several other places of interest were viewed.
