HALE COUNTY FAIR EXHIBIT IN PRIZE WINNING CLASS

FINE PRODUCTS OF FARM, GARDEN AND ORCHARD SHOWN—BESPEAK CROP DIVERSITY

The Dallas News of Friday had the following to say relative to the Hale county exhibit at the Dallas fair:

Hale county received and arranged yesterday the delayed portions of its exhibit and now has a booth that many believe will be well up in the prize-winning list. R. P. Smyth, J. O. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. George Saigling are in charge of the display. For the last ten years Hale county has been a dangerous contender, both at state and national shows. Attesting to this are ribbons and loving cups displayed in the booth. One of the cups represents the grand championship in county exhibit at the International Soil Products Exposition in Denver in 1915; others, first place at the Amarillo state fair in 1915 and 1917, and the other sweepstakes at the Waco Cotton Palace in 1916.

Only alfalfa is lacking in the display for crops for which Hale county is most famous, Colonel Smyth said. One of the bales to be sent to the fair was lost in transit and the other has been placed in the farm and mill department to be judged, he explained. This will be put in the booth after the judges have finished with the farm and mill section.

"We believe our wheat crop this year will reach nearly 2,000,000 bushels," Col. Smyth said. "Before the wheat embargo went into effect this year's crop. It is likely that Hale county produced more wheat than any other county in Texas this year. The average yield was in excess of twenty bushels per acre."

In addition to samples of wheat, maize and kaffir, which averaged about a ton of heads to the acre, are displayed. "Georgia Rattlesnake" watermelons and Honey Dew Melons which taste something like a cantaloupe, are attracting attention. The slogan displayed is "Nothing Shallow but the Water." The significance of this, it was explained, is that Hale county has deep nonalkaline soil, combined with water at a depth of thirty to sixty feet. While the water is encountered at a shallow depth, the wells for irrigation by means of centrifugal pumps are sunk from 100 to 200 feet deeper, with the water rising to the level of the first stratum.

Canned fruits and vegetables, peanuts, broom corn and other field crops and fresh vegetables bespeak the diversity of the county. The apple display is a feature of the booth.

"Before feed got so high a year or two ago Hale county led the state in hog raising," said Col. Smyth. "The majority of the hogs were sold, but with the heavy grain crops this year swine growing is again becoming prominent. Our people have the money to buy live stock, as testified by the deposits in the banks of Plainview, the county seat, which has about $2,500,000. It should be considered too, that only a small portion of our crops have been sold. Many people who became wealthy in the oil fields are buying farms in the Plainview district."

Jail Been Empty Three Times

Chas. Wilson, jailer, says the Hale county jail has been empty three times within the past five years, being now without a prisoner. Once there was as many as nine prisoners in it, but as a rule there are only one, two or three.

HALE COUNTY GETS FIFTH PLACE AT FAIR

Exhibit of Farm and Orchard Products Wins Cash Prizes of About $200

Hale county was awarded fifth place in the county exhibits at the Dallas fair Saturday. Ellis won first, Cooke second, Hill third and Bell fourth. A cash premium of about $200 went with the award to Hale county.

Homer C. McNamara and John H. H. Erickson of Greenville and T. A. McCallard of Dallas were the judges. The displays of farm, orchard and garden products from Texas counties were judged on the following score card: Corn and kaf-firs 250, cotton and wheat 250, oats and barley 50, alfalfa and sweet clover 50, peanuts and cowpeas 50, annual forage crops 50, fruits 50, fresh vegetables 50, other crops not displayed under above classification 50, attractiveness, arrangement and neatness of exhibit 150; total 1,000.

Following is the list of winning counties:

Ellis county 1st; Cooke, 2nd; Hill 3rd; Bell, 4th; Hale 5th; Harrison, 6th; Collin, 7th; Donley, 8th; Gregg, 9th; Swisher, 10th; Baylor, 11th; Terry, 12th; Wheeler, 13th; Oldham, 14th; Childress, 15th; Haskell, 16th; Hall, 17th; Van Zandt, 18th; Dallam, 19th; Franklin, 20th; Dawson, 21st; Potter, 22nd; Randall, 23rd; Gray, 24th; Fisher, 25th.

In the individual products Hale county won many blue and red ribbons, but so far no list has been received.

PRESIDENT CONTINUES TO HOLD OWN, GRAYSON SAYS

Third Week of Rest Cure Begins With Respiration, Temperature and Heart Action Normal

Washington, Oct. 13.—President Wilson continued to hold his own today and entered the third week of the rest cure prescribed by Rear Admiral Grayson, with his temperature pulse, respiration, heart action and blood pressure at a normal stage.

The attending physicians, it was indicated, will maintain their adopted policy of not denying rumors or getting into any discussion concerning them.

Whether the president is well enough to perform his official duties was referred to briefly during an executive session today of the foreign relations committee, in connection with an effort to get action on a resolution by Senator Poindexter, republican, Washington, asking for a report regarding Chino-Japanese relations. At the suggestion of Senator Williams, democrat, Mississippi, consideration of this resolution and several others were postponed.

Gets Both Legs Broken

Carl Gardner, son of Ben Gardner, of this city, got both legs broken Saturday. One leg was broken in the ankle and the other between the ankle and knee.

Carl, who lives with his grandfather, C. G. Hall, at Tulia, had been to Hereford with a football team, and he and two other boys had just left the town en route home, when he was turned over.

Mr. Garner went to Hereford Saturday afternoon. The boy is now in a hospital there, and his wounds are healing.

Mason Gets Three Years

Grady Mason, age about twenty-one years, was tried in district court in Floydada last week, for the killing of Elder Morris about eighteen months ago, and was given three years in the penitentiary. Last year he was given a two years' sentence, but the case was reversed by the higher court and sent back for trial.

Big Rain at Petersburg

Commissioner E. B. Shankles says five inches of rain fell about Petersburg last week, and the whole country was flooded. The lakes are brimming full and the roadways across them are covered with water.

Will Vote on Shantung

Much interest is being manifested in the vote in the senate this week on the Shantung amendment to the peace treaty, as the vote will to a considerable extent be a test on final ratification.

COMPLETE REVIEW OF RESOURCES AND INDUSTRIES OF PLAINVIEW COUNTRY

News Arranges for Fifteen Weeks' Series of Articles Covering Every Phase of Section's Activity.

Realizing that there is no method of publicity more valuable to the development of the resources of a community, than newspaper publicity, and the fact that Plainview and Hale county are today facing a period of growth and development unprecedented in its history, the News has completed arrangements for conducting an industrial campaign through the next fifteen weeks.

Several leading business men of the city were interviewed before The News decided to put on this campaign and the plan met with their unqualified approval. The plan adopted will be a very effective one in that it will extend over a period of time and not be published in one large edition, which as a rule, contains so much material that the average reader does not have time to read it.

The News has secured the services of Mr. R. K. Evans, who has spent more than ten years actively engaged in publicity work and has done most effective work in West Texas, the Panhandle country and New Mexico. Mr. Evans has worked in conjunction with Chambers of Commerce in this territory and has letters attesting the extensiveness and value of his work. He is assisted by V. C. Harvey, who gathers statistics around which Mr. Evans weaves his story of the development and opportunities of this section.

The plan is to make our Tuesday issue each week an industrial issue. Some phase of industrial life and business activity will be thoroughly and exhaustively exploited each week. The agricultural conditions, retail and financial conditions, stock raising, real estate and realty values, schools and school facilities, will be some of the subjects exploited, in fact, when the campaign is completed every phase of industrial life and business activity will have been gone thoroughly into and plans for hundreds of extra copies circulated will make this campaign valuable not

LIEUT. BOB FLETCHER, WOUNDED HERO, HERE

Lost Both Legs on No Man's Land, Where He Laid Thirty-Six Hours

Lieut. Bob Fletcher returned to Plainview Friday night, to spend several days with relatives and friends. He will leave tonight for Buchanan, N. M., to visit his parents, and will then return to a hospital in Washington City.

A year ago Lieut. Fletcher lost both legs on No Man's Land in France, while fighting. The story of his thrilling experiences was published in the News last January.

A shell struck close to him, taking away both legs. He lay weltering in his blood on the battle field for thirty-six hours. Finally he was found and taken back into the American lines, unconscious, and gangrene having set up. The surgeons said it was no use to give him any attention, as he could not live, and others needed their services. He was then taken back further to a hospital, where surgeons again refused to attend him, and put him in a room to die. After two days they found he was still alive, and one of them said, "Well, you have more nerve than any fellow I ever saw, and we will see what we can do for you." They amputated his legs close to his body, put tubes in his body to drain off the gangrene poison which had by the time gotten up to his stomach.

He made a determined fight, and with the help of the surgeons, his life was saved.

He remained in the hospital in France until in the spring and was brought back to America, since which time he has been in a hospital in Washington City. His wounds have healed and he is fat and healthy. He has been decorated several times for bravery. He expects to in time get artificial limbs. The government pays him about $200 a month, including his insurance.

alone from the standpoint of stimulating industrial trade conditions but will foster immigration and the investment of outside capital.

Every article to be published will be submitted to the chairman of the Board of City Development of Plainview for approval as to the authenticity of the statements contained therein and as to the thoroughness of the compilation.

With the co-operation of the business interests of Plainview and the Shallow-water Belt throughout the next fifteen weeks this campaign will be most the most effective method of exploiting to the outside world the vast field of resources in this section of West Texas.

Sun is Again Shining

The sun shown out again yesterday and though there were clouds last night and early this morning, Old Sol is again showing his face today—and we hope he will continue to smile for weeks, for the farmers are needing warm clear weather so they can harvest their row crops, some of which are considerably damaged already.

PROPOSES 15c ROAD TAX FOR PLAINVIEW PRE

WOULD GIVE $8,000 ADDITION FOR IMPROVING ROADS INTO PLAINVIEW

Commissioner L. W. Sloneker of this precinct has proposed to the commissioners' court that an election be ordered for Plainview precinct, authorizing a special tax of 15c for road purposes.

Mr. Sloneker says such a tax in this precinct would raise about $8,000 a year, which would be available for the improvements of roads in this precinct, in addition to the other road money received.

With such a fund another complete road grading outfit could be bought and maintained, and would be solely in this precinct. His policy would be to first put all bad places on the roads in good shape, then begin a program of working each road, making it perfect, and not be skipping here and there as has been done.

Mr. Sloneker says that a big bond issue for hard-surfacing the roads is clear out of the question, as it would mean on a $2,000,000 bond issue more than $100,000 a year for interest only, and this would necessitate taxes being raised two to three times as much as they now are. Whenever the county is more thickly settled and people are living on each quarter-section and less, then they can be in a position for piked roads.

STRIKERS PLOT TO RISE AGAINST FEDERAL TROOPS

Bulletins Scattered Calling on Workers to Wrest Control from Military

Gary, Ind., Oct. 13.—Pamphlets announcing a plot to wrest control of this city from the federal troops were scattered throughout the downtown district this evening. The bulletins called on the workers to rise against the military. Intelligence officers have been unable to find the source of the pamphlets.

Colonel W. S. Mapes, commanding the federal troops at Gary, declared the spreading of the propaganda was one of the most dangerous developments of the strike situation.

Colonel Mapes said that any new attempt at violence would be met with the severest repressive measures.

Eastlander Buys Plainview Property

W. H. Thompson of Eastland county has bought from Mrs. M. F. Gardner her residence property, consisting of a large dwelling and acreage property in Seth Ward addition, and the two business lots next to Brown Motor Co. building on the north. Bess Thompson engineered the deal.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and two children came in yesterday morning to look after the property. They will possibly move here later.

Aviators Fly Across Continent

Two bunches of aviators, possibly two dozen machines, last week started from San Francisco and New York to fly across the continent and back again. Several have succeeded in making it one way, and will now make the return trip. Five aviators have so far been killed in the race, and several planes demolished.

Wild Ducks are Numerous

The lakes in Hale county are now covered with thousands of wild ducks, and the editor saw fully a hundred on Lake Plainview yesterday. In some parts of the county they are damaging feed crops in the fields.

People say they are very wary and it is hard to get within shooting range of them.

New Bakery to Start Soon

Lynn Pace has returned from Illinois and informs us that he expects to have the new bakery in operation soon. The machinery will be here at an early date, and then he will install it as quickly as possible. "It will be some bakery, too," he added.

Well, its time to put the turkey bird on full feed. November 27 is not far distant.

A mother living in South Plainview calls her small son "Flannel"—because she shrinks from being washed.

There are no millionaires in Plainview, but there will be a flock of them soon—when their oil wells come in.

One thing hasn't gone up in price.
Poll tax receipts continue to be sold at pre-war prices. Better buy yourself one, brother or sister, in order to take part in next year's fun.

Hale county banks have about $3-500,000 on deposit. This is about $350 for each person in the county.
It is possible that not another county in the state can make such a showing.

Already the local political pot is beginning to boil. Last week three persons mentioned to the editor that they intend to be candidates for county offices in next year's campaign. The more the merrier.

If every newspaper in the country would stop printing a word about these interminable strikes and lockouts and squabbles generally, there would soon be an end to the whole troublesome mess. Publicity is the life of strife.

Every person in Northwest Texas should vote against the proposed $75-000,000 state road bond amendment.
The money will be spent down in the state, and the people of the Plains will have to pay the taxes to support it. Let's not be left with the bag to hold.

The pastures in Hale county are fine for the fall and winter, but there is a dearth of live stock to eat it.
The short pasturage, short crops and high-priced feed last year caused stockmen and farmers to sell their stock down to a minimum. If a person's foresight were as good as his hindsight everybody would become wealthy.

A man from Grayson county tells us that between thirty and forty families from that county have bought property in Hale county and have located here. He could also have said that they are prospering, are satisfied with the Plains and do not contemplate moving back, though Grayson is one of the best counties in North Texas.

That recent gulf storm certainly was a tremendous disturbance of the weather. It raged in ferocity eight days after striking east of Florida before it struck Corpus Christi, and then turned inland. The weather all over Texas has been unsettled for more than three weeks since the storm wrecked Corpus Christi.
Down in the state the cotton crops have been greatly injured by floods and

According to the National Educational Association, the public schools of the United States are short thirty-eight thousand teachers, while some sixty-five thousand of those employed are below the required standard.
This really means a teacher shortage of one hundred and three thousand. This condition is due to two causes: First, this is the day of specialists—three to five special teachers are employed where one formerly sufficed. Secondly, the low salaries paid teachers. There are doubtless plenty of teachers, but they are drawing higher salaries in other occupations. As a result the education of our children suffers.

Adair Suicide a "Fake"
Word has been received by the mother and sister of L. P. Adair, Mesdames Lizzie L. Adair, and H. C.
Crie, of Tahoka, from relatives in Fort Worth, to the effect that the report in the daily papers in Fort Worth of the suicide by drowning in Lake Worth last week, was "fake."
No word has been received from Adair and his son. The police believe a prank was played on them by small boys who play about the lake. However a man was seen to swim a shore on the afternoon of the reported suicidal.—Tahoka News.

The International Farm Congress,
which was in session at Kansas City
last week, went on record as deploring strikes. The resolutions adopted recited that organized labor is demanding more production of the farmers all the time, and at the same time is demanding less production of its own members. This is true.
The world is demanding that the farmers produce more and more, in order that the people may have a sufficiency of clothing and food, and while the farmers are trying to meet the increased demand for food and clothing they are hindered and hgr-assed because other branches of labor are curtailing production. When the farmer goes to buy plows, hoes, wagons, mowers and threshers he is told that many of the factories that make these things are locked tight because of troubles between manufacturers and employes. He is also annoyed by railroad tieups and frequently it is impossible to get the things he must have or to ship the products of his toil. The point of the farmers is well made; they are not getting a square deal from other branches of labor, and they have a real grievance. And think what would happen if the farmers should retaliate by curtailing the production of food and clothing material.

IN A MINOR STRAIN

Another sure way to get into trouble is to flirt with temptation just to show how strong you are.

The only features of grand opera that many people don't like are the words and music.

A man will work his wife to death and then square himself by putting
"At Rest" on her monument.

And we would not need the Ten Commandments if vice was as monotonous as virtue.

A lot of working girls who are now out on strike for an eight-hour day will get married later on and work eighteen hours for one-tenth of the money they are now getting.

Too many young men promise themselves that they will rise in the world and be somebody later on when they are middle-aged. The time to go over the top is right now when you are young and can stand the gaff.

Oil Well Mass Meeting Held

On Monday afternoon heralds were distributed over town stating that an oil well mass meeting would be held at the court house that afternoon, and that Plainview citizens would be present at the meeting.
Only a few Tahoka citizens were in attendance at the meeting, which was held in the directors rooms at the Guaranty State Bank. Messrs. J. A.
Crisler, J. A. Hayes and J. M. Reddy of Plainview, came down Monday and represented that city in the matter of drilling a second well in Lynn county. If a sufficient amount of stock is subscribed in Tahoka and Plainview, the well will be drilled.
Already several thousand dollars has been raised for this purpose. The Plainview men returned home Tuesday and will put the matter before those interested in oil developments here. It is expected that they will return here within the next few days and report what they will do towards the financial end of the proposition.
Tahoka citizens are anxious that a second well be put down to a depth of 3500 feet.—Tahoka News, Oct. 10.

What of the "Flu?"

The suggestion that congress make an appropriation to be used in devising a specific remedy for influenza draws attention to the baffling nature of the disease. The best medical men in the country had unusual opportunities to study the infection in the epidemic last year. There were hundreds of thousands of men in army camps under conditions most favorable to observation. Yet after strenuous efforts to combat the disease the United States Public Health Service
reports that no remedy and no preventive have been discovered.

There are still medical men, the most conspicuous of whom is Rosenow of Rochester, Minn., who believe they have obtained good results from the use of a preventive vaccine. The weight of opinion, however, including the special committee that made an investigation for the American Medical Association, is that vaccination is ineffective.

Whether the organism has been found that causes the disease is still in dispute. As this organism must be the basis of any vaccine or serum treatment, progress cannot be made until the bacteriologists are certain they have the right germ to work with. There must be general agreement that the organism has been isolated before we can begin to look for specific means for dealing with it.

Advance has been made in certain particulars. Experience in the army caeps showed that crowded living and sleeping quarters were bad. Fatigue also has its effect. Early in the epidemic, before its seriousness was recognized, men were often kept at work for two or three days while they were fildly ill. The disease went much harder with them than those who stopped work at the first symptoms. Doctors and nurses who prided themselves on their robust health and their resistance to infection frequently came down with the "flu" after loss of sleep or other severe fatigue. The person who takes care of himself, eats plenty of nourishing food without overeating, and gets enough sleep,
is acting intelligently to keep well.

As to the probability of another epidemic this autumn the forecasts are favorable. The public health service regards a recurrence as possible, but does not expect to see it severe. The field was pretty thoroughly burned over last year. Most persons who were susceptible had the disease. It is not believed there are enough susceptible persons left to give food for an epidemic anything like the proportions of the one last year.—Kansas City Star.

TULIA

Oct. 10.—Stanley Sigler has bought the Ormsby residence from Dennis Zimmermann. Mr. Sigler and family moved this week to their new home.

W. E. Hall, of Amarillo, arrived in Tulia the first of the week and has actively entered upon his duties as local manager of the telephone company.

On Thursday evening, October 2nd,
Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sternberg royally entertained a few of their friends with a "42" party. Six tables were arranged for the games,
at the close of which it was found that Mr. W. H. Donaldson held high score. The hostess then served a delicious salad course and cake and hot chocolate.—Herald.

with the bunch on the corner. He offers to give the entire bunch work heading maize on his farms, at so much per ton, without board. So far he has had no acceptances. Some of them have said they would work for so much per day and board, but insist the rules of their union provide that four hours is a day's work.

Road Notice to Land Owners

In the matter of the Petition of J. C. Homan and others for a Public Road in the County of Hale,
THE STATE OF TEXAS

To all persons concerned:
Take notice, that the undersigned Jury, appointed by the Commissioners Court of Hale County, Texas, to lay out and survey a Public Road, as Petitioned for by J. C. Homan and others, beginning at the southeast corner of section 14, block S-4, and running thence due north to the N.
thence on section line to a point due south of S. W. corner section 20, block S-1; Hale county, thence north on section lines to N. W. corner section 19, thence west to county line, and to assess damages resulting from the establishment of said road, will on the 20th day of October, 1919, in dis-

To the Farmers and Flour Users of Hale County;

We take this method to notify you that we are still making a fine Flour for Bread, Biscuits and Pastry cooking.

The Plains wheat has more gluten this year than most any other wheat on the market, therefore assuring to the user of flour made of the Plains wheat a better rising quality, and all mills are anxious to buy the Plains wheat on this account.

One outstanding fact is, if you use our flour you get as good a quality as can be found any where and get it for less money. If you do not find it where you trade, call at the mill.
Every sack guaranteed.

Miss Emerson Becomes Bride of Albertine Bickett

On Sunday, Oct. 12, at the home of the bride, near Halfway, occurred the marriage of Mildred Alberta, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Theodore Emerson, to Albertine Bickett, only son of Mr. Chas. A. Bickett.

Rev. G. I. Smith said the words that made them one and after congratulations the assembled relatives and friends partook of a bountiful wedding dinner.

The bride was beautifully gowned in light blue taffeta, with trimming of silver lace.

Both young people are well and favorably known in their respective communities, and are starting on life's journey with the best wishes of their many friends. They received many useful gifts.

A. FRIEND.

Parent-Teachers' Association

The Parent-Teachers' Association will meet Friday, Oct. 17th at 3:30 o'clock at the high school auditorium. The program that was to have been given last month, and was postponed will be given at this time.

The program follows:
Reading—by president, Mrs. Blockson.

Violin solo—Prof. Crabb.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Peterson.
Address—Prof. Patty.

All the members are urged to be present.
SECRETARY.

Red Cross Branch Will Elect Officers

The Plainview branch chapter of the Red Cross will hold a meeting in the offices of the Texas Land & Development Co. Wednesday night at 7:30 for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. All members are urged to be in attendance.

Choir Recital at Methodist Church Sunday Evening

The choir recital at the Methodist church Sunday evening was indeed a very creditable affair, and was equal to possibly anything ever given here on the chautauqua or lyceum circuits. The program as published in last Tuesday's News was rendered, under the direction of Mrs. Arilla Peterson, choirist, with Mrs. Tom Carter organist, R. M. Crabb, violinist, and Miss Carrie Bier and Mrs. Guy Jacob, accompanists on piano.

There were anthems, quartettes, duets, solos, and the large audience was well repaid for its attendance.

Wayland College Faculty Recital

One of the highest class entertainments of its kind ever presented in Plainview was that given by the young ladies of the fine arts faculty of Wayland college in the college auditorium Thursday evening, Oct. 9th. In spite of the unusually adverse weather conditions, there was a good house. The attendance and generally good attention showed that the Plainview people appreciate real art.

Miss Lorraine Walker, director of piano, accompanied by Miss Edith Duke at 2nd piano, opened the program with the C minor Concerto of Beethoven. In the presentation of this number and the two Etudes from Chopin later in the evening, Miss Walker's keen interpretation and mastery of technique convinced her hearers that she is an artist in the truest sense. The Harp Etude with its flowing melody and rich harmonic background, which suggested the mellow tones of a harp, was particularly beautiful.

Each of the selections read by Miss Smith, head of the department of Expression, belongs to that class of literature which appeals to the highest instincts of the human soul. The reader in her quiet dignity and easy stage manner charmed her audience with every number. By her powerful delivery, her character representation in the many varied types, and her especially choice selections from the standpoint of culture, Miss Smith displayed rare talent.

Miss Duke, director of Violin, was technically equipped to meet the demands made upon her in the de Berlioz Concerto, always preserving the artistic meaning of the composition. She was delightful in the lighter group by Carl Venth, her master. Her closing number was the exquisite Kreisler arrangements of the Spanish Dance by Granados, in which she showed musicianly temperament.

Throughout the program there was evidence of a sincere devotion to her particular art on the part of each of the performers. The spontaneous applause of the audience showed their appreciation and thorough satisfaction, and each performer was recalled a number of times.

The program follows:

Concerto No. III, C. Min, Beethoven, (Cadenza by Reinecke)—Lorraine Walker.

How the La Rue Stakes Were Lost, Chas. N. Hood.—Alby Ray Smith.

(a) Air de Ballet, Carl Venth.
(b) Scottische Rhapsodie, Carl Venth.—Edith Duke.

Two Etudes, Chopin; No. 13 (Harp Etude); No. 7 C Major.—Lorraine Walker.

Absolution, E. Nesbit.—Alby Ray Smith.

Concerto Op. 76 No. VII, Ch. de Berlioz, Allegro Maestoso.—Edith Duke.

The Mustard Plaster, Howard Fielding.—Alby Ray Smith.

Spanish Dance, Granados-Kreisler.—Edith Duke.

Memorial to Great Naval Deed.

Were it possible for the British people to forget that greatly daring naval deed of the war known by the uninspiring title of the Zeebrugge raid, the present movement on foot to commemorate it will assure for it perpetual fame. Happily the initiative has been taken by the city of Bruges, so there is not the slightest element of vainglory in the idea of a memorial to be erected on a suitable site within a few yards of the spot where the blockships Intrepid and Iphigenia were successfully sunk. The actual sinking of these vessels for the purpose of preventing the German submarines using the canal to Bruges, was rendered possible only by the gallantry of the attack made by the old cruiser Vindictive, which was afterward sunk across the fairway at Ostend. Standing on an elevation, the monument will be visible far out to sea.—Christian Science Monitor.

Suspense Worse Than Attack.

There are sailors who will tell you that the actual torpedoing of a vessel was not very much worse than the suspense and the many false alarms—any of which might have proved to be an enemy submarine. A merchant captain was looking out to sea one day, when in the distance he thought he saw something dark and round. He watched to see whether it would move. It did move, and then suddenly it dived. There was no time to do anything, since he did not know from what direction the torpedo might come. He waited. To his horror the dark, round object rose from the waves only 30 yards away from the boat. He said it was the worst moment in his life until he realized on further inspection that the "periscope" was in actual fact a large seal with a dirty yellow neck and a full crop of whiskers.

War and Roller Skates.

It is a far cry from the world war to a child's roller skates, but according to the fashion expert of Popular Mechanics Magazine, roller skates of the latest approved model are after the style of British fighting tanks. Novelty always being uppermost in the juvenile heart, it matters not that the new skates are a bit snowshoelike in size. The new skates are like all others except that they are surrounded by tanklike bodies made of light sheet metal.

The Source of Most Good Luck.

"How do you happen to have such good luck with roses?" asked the neighbor.

"Don't know," replied the amateur gardener, "unless it is because I hoe the ground a lot and spray them a lot, and work with them a lot."

CHURCHES

Bishop McMurry Will Preach At Methodist Church Oct. 22.

Announcement is made that Bishop McMurry will deliver a sermon at the Methodist church the night of October 22. He will preside over the Northwest Texas Methodist conference at Lubbock Nov. 16, and will visit several of the churches in the district before the conference. He recently returned from a visitation to the Methodist mission fields in China, Japan and other Oriental countries.

Dr. I. E. Gates Arrives To Hold Baptist Revival

Rev. I. E. Gates arrived this morning from San Antonio, to assist Pastor Jenkins in a revival which begun at the Baptist church Sunday morning. Services will be held morning and night each day.

Dr. Gates used to be pastor of this church, also president of Wayland college. He is looking fine, and says he is in fit condition to give Satan a sure-enough tussel.

Methodist Church

Big results are expected from the Sunday school campaign of the Methodist church, which closes next Sunday, Oct. 19. Each of the two divisions are determined that they will be the winner of the contest, and before the week is ended every Methodist home will have been visited and the town thoroughly canvassed. Each of the teams get away with a daily even start on last Sunday, and no doubt the work done during the concluding days of the campaign will be the determining factor in bringing victory to one side or another. A program of special music, readings, etc., has been arranged for the morning. Auto services will be provided for the aged people, who desire to be present. Persons desiring information along this line are asked to phone No. 30.

There will be present at the church a welcome committee, which will greet the new members and direct them to the various classes. Remember Methodists you are needed next Sunday, and all the Sundays and other days. Your church, your school and your class call and expect you to be present promptly at 9:45 to help put over the drive for new members and to again pledge your allegiance and continuing help.

Presbyterian Church

Services both morning and evening Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:45. Sunday evening service at 7:30.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual bazaar and market November 26th.

Marriage Licenses

Harry Austin and Miss Verda Mae Sherman, Oct. 9. Parties live at Hale Center.

W. M. Morton and Miss Mary Walker, Oct. 10. He lives on the Sanson ranch, and she lived at Lockney.

H. R. Cliver and Miss Mary M. Burns, Oct. 11. Both parties live near Plainview.

Albertine Bickett and Mildred Alberta Emerson, Oct. 11.

Lost Art.

A. H. Powell tells a good story in that interesting little volume entitled "Handicrafts and Reconstruction," recently published, about the disappearance of the fine wheelwrighting of a generation ago. "The difference between the old and new atmospheres of work came out vividly between two wheelwrights, one old good, the other bad modern. The last was filling in a mistake with putty, and must fall to praising it—'A fine thing is this putty'—to hide his shame. Says old good, 'Why deant ye meak the halff thing o' putty then?' and walked away." It is only the genuine craftsman who can find the real contentment in his work, and it is equally only the monotony and sameness of mechanical work that makes a man weary of it.

New Harbor on the Baltic.

It is reported from Copenhagen that a new harbor is to be constructed at Korsor, which is a Danish seaport 60 miles west-southwest of Copenhagen. The cost of this work is estimated at 30,000,000 kronen and it is stated that American capital has been interested. The harbor will have a depth of ten meters as against nine meters in Copenhagen and large quays will be built with ample facilities for handling merchandise.

Big Demand for Watches.

Watches are not being turned out fast enough by American manufacturers to supply a demand which, according to the representative of one large producing concern, is greater today than ever before. Leading factories fell behind in their regular output last year, when their plants were busy filling war orders.

UNION STEEL STRIKES NOW WANTING TO ARBITRATE

EMPLOYERS OPPOSE RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY LABOR MEMBERS

Washington, Oct. 13.—Labor's resolution proposing intervention in the steel strike will come before the national industrial conference, without recommendation from the central committee, as the first order of business tomorrow, it was learned authoritatively tonight.

The committee devoted only a small portion of an all day session to consideration of the arbitration resolution. Owing to the opposition of a majority of the five members of the employers' group in the committee, a favorable report could not be obtained and the resolution will follow the only possible course open—back to the main body of the conference.

Members of the conference expressed the opinion tonight that the proposal will meet the same fate tomorrow.

A strong majority of the employers' group is known to oppose intervention in the strike, and action can be taken only with the approval of each of the three groups, voting separately. Delegates entertained but little doubt that more than half of the public representatives will vote for the resolution, but pointed out that in the employers' group only the agricultural representatives look with favor on the arbitration plan.

The central committee is reported to have made substantial progress today in devising a method of procedure for "putting all the members of the conference to work."

A number of sub-committees for consideration of specific problems, together with a policy for the assignment of resolutions to those committees, will be recommended to the conference tomorrow.

Under this arrangement it appears probable that conflicting views on fundamental issues will be threshed out and a basis for agreement reached in these select committees.

Cotton advanced in price $12.50 a bale last week, on account of the damage by the gulf storm and the continued rainy weather all over Texas. The New Orleans price closed 34.37c.

MR. CAR OWNER READ THIS

Suppose you have a tire that's worn down to the fabric. You are afraid to drive it because you know its likely to blow out any time. So you junk it, throw it away, or give it away. Have you ever stopped to think of what becomes of that tire?

Well, if the tire is of a good standard make this will be the story, in most cases.

It will some time find its way to some tire shop and be rebuilt and put on the market again.

The man who buys it will get very nearly as much service out of it as you have gotten, and it has cost him only about half what it cost you. Who is the loser?

FALL BRINGS ITS BLOUSES

Georgette crepe remains the favorite fabric for blouses and autumn presents it in adorable styles. Among them are two-color models in which dark and light colors are combined, as shown in the picture above.

Mrs. Ben Wofford Dies
Mrs. Ben Wofford died at the Shafer house in this city, yesterday morning, from influenza-pneumonia, after an illness of but several days.

The funeral was held at the cemetery this morning, Dr. E. E. Robinson conducting the service.

The deceased was 68 years, 3 months, 22 days of age, and was born in Louisiana.

She was married to Mr. Wofford, who survives her, about thirteen years ago.

She leaves no children. H. A. and C. D. Wofford of Plainview and Mrs. A. W. Sternberg of Tulia, are step-children.

Asister, Mrs. Ward, from down in the state, was at the funeral.

DEAR CUSTOMER

We're glad to hand you herewith a few illustrations of some beautiful blouses we've just received, and beg to call your attention to prices as compared to several mail order concerns, whom it is easy to match in prices, or even undersell.

National Cloak & Suit Co., No. 6D1043, $10.95. Ours No. 5v60, $10.95. Ours would be picked quickly because much newer style, and as good value.

Montgomery & Ward's No. 15E8094, $9.75. Ours, No. 5359, $9.95. Again ours is better style and value, also much prettier. Judge for yourself.

National Cloak & Suit Co. No. 6D1099, $9.68. Ours, No. 5358, $9.45. Ours has a pretty contrasting yoke, and is hemstitched, which theirs lacked.

National Cloak & Suit Co., No. 6D1006, $8.75. Ours, No. 5356, $8.45. Ours is a prettier waist and yet you get to trade at home if you buy ours.

National Cloak & Suit Co., No. 6D1048, $8.98. Ours, No. 5357, $8.95. Displayed together ours would be selected just as quickly, and no extra carrying charges.

Phillipsborn, No. 2R5543, $7.98. Against this we have three styles at $7.45 to $7.95, and of which are more handsome.

Now Comes Some People's "Long Suit"—Sears Roebuck The House that is so Good on Cheap Stuff

For their Crepe de Chine No. 27T4040, $7.55. Ours, No. 5350, $5.95. Ours is Georgette and embroidered, theirs is not.

We match their No. 27T4210, $6.50, with our No. 5052, only $5.95.

Their No. 27T4035, $7.98, with our No. 5351, at $5.95. 33 1-3 per cent in our favor, and you have no carrying charges to pay.

The cut above shows a wonderful line in Satin, Crepe de Chine and Georgette, in this beautiful line, that we guarantee at $5, can't be beaten in value by any of the above named houses, or any other at any price they have up to $5.98.

There are a number of ways it is to your advantage to trade with Barrier Bros. Dry Goods Co., when there could be only one for you to send your money—and that is price saving, and we've proved that it can't be done. So kindly give us your business.

This is what Barrier Bros. Dry Goods Co. do for you in one line, and we can do just as well in anything we have to sell, as we advertised last spring.

Bring in your order made out to Sears Roebuck, and we will fill it at their price, and save you the freight and money order expense.

HALE CENTER

Oct. 13.—Wedding bells have been ringing quite merrily in our town the past few days. Saturday morning Rev. C. H. Bryant spoke the words which united in marriage Miss Mildred Short and Robert Lemond Claxton. Just the near relatives witnessed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Ed Short and the groom the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Claxton. The young people have the best wishes of a host of friends as they go to their home of the Claxton ranch, southwest of town. Sunday morning near relatives and friends gathered at the Haven hotel where Miss Lillian Robinson and Mr. Clark Longan took the vows of holy wedlock, Rev. C. E. Painter officiating. Miss Robinson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Robinson of the Haven hotel and Mr. Longan the son of Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Longan. These young people have the love and respect of a host of friends and many good wishes go with them as they enter on what we all hope to be a long and happy journey. These young people left immediately after the ceremony for Amarillo, where they groom has a position in one of the banks. Miss Augusta Short came up from Lubbock Saturday morning to be present at the marriage of her sister and also of her friend, Miss Lillian Robinson. Miss Myrtle Springer left Sunday morning for points in Nebraska, where she expects to spend some time with relatives and friends. Miss Lena Whitacre and brother, Clyde, and Guy Whitacre, came over from Plainview Saturday to be present at the Robinson-Longan wedding. S. A. Snyder of Roscoe is here on business. R. W. Lemond, Mesdames Claxton and Wall left for Waco Saturday morning, where they will attend the meeting of O. E. S. Bishop McMurray of the Methodist church will be in Hale Center Oct. 21st, at which time the Methodist church will be dedicated. Mr. and Mrs. Parker have been up from the Claxton ranch, visiting with friends the past two weeks. Mrs. Hessling has gone to Iowa for an extended visit with relatives. Miss Grace Bryant returned to Clarendon Friday morning, where she will attend school the coming year. S. R. Burham was a business caller in Plainview Friday. Mrs. G. H. Bryant entertained her parents from Lockney last week. ANCHOR Oct. 12.—This community is surely in the mud and no sunshine yet to dry it up to speak of. Farmers are very busy trying to save their crops. We find our crops damaged considerably, first by the gnats and later by the rains. Some of the farmers have sown wheat and the talk is there will be considerable wheat planted around here this fall. E. A. Shackelford left Saturday for a two weeks visit with his parents in Missouri, also to attend their golden wedding. Mrs. E. A. Vaughn of Crosbyton spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. S. E. Leckliter, last week. She reports crops fine in and around Crosbyton, but lots of rain, making gathering slow, and help is scarce. A cousin of Mrs. C. J. Sturdevant's was up from Waco for a few days' visit lately and reports that country having plenty of rain. They report ed one man lost his corn crop on account of sunflowers taking it. They couldn't get a team to go through them with a man driving them. Say, we are ahead yet, aren't we? Mrs. S. E. Leckliter has been suffering with rheumatism the past three weeks. Bro. Longan of Hale Center filled his regular appointment at this place Sunday. He preaches for us two Sundays out of each month—2nd and 4th. Our Sunday school is progressing nicely. Commissioners' Court The commissioners' court is holding its regular monthly session. The Santa Fe railroad has been ordered to put a grade and crossing where Fifth street in Abnathy crosses its track. The bonds of G. H. James, public weigher at Hale Center, and his deputy, G. F. Clark at Abnathy, were approved. JOB PRINTING—The News wants to do your job printing. Best work, quick service, reasonable prices.—Phone 97.

FOILED PLAN FOR ALLIANCE

How Bismarck Frustrated Negotiations Which Had Been Opened Between France and Austria.

An incident from Mr. C. G. Robertson's life of Bismarck throws interesting light on the methodical way in which Bismarck worked out his state policies. It concerns the negotiations opened between France and Austria after 1863 for an alliance against Prussia. Emperor Francis Joseph had emerged from the Seven Weeks' war desirous of revenge and with substantial forces still intact. Napoleon met Francis Joseph at Sulzburg, and a few weeks later the Austrian emperor traveled to France with his military suite and gave orders that the imperial train should stop nowhere on German soil, and, in particular, that it should pass the South German courts at night in order to avoid embarrassing interviews.

Nothing marred the monarch's peace of mind until, in the dead of night, the train approached the German frontier near Baden-Baden; there it suddenly came to a standstill. The aide-de-camp, on inquiring for the reason, was shown a lonely figure wrapped in a dark military cloak standing in a pouring rain. The stranger wanted to speak to the Emperor Francis Joseph. Who was he? It was King William of Prussia!

Thus, on a dark September night in 1867, did the emperor of Austria and the king of Prussia meet for the first time since Koniggratz. The interview lasted several hours and took place in the rear carriage of the imperial train. What passed is not known, but the writer is satisfied that William of Prussia asked Francis Joseph not to betray the German cause, and warned him of the forthcoming Franco-German war. On reaching Paris Emperor Francis Joseph proved adamant to the most tempting offers of alliance. The incident remained a secret; a few local papers referred to it as merely a slight mishap to the imperial train!—Youth's Companion.

NAME MEANS WHITE ISLAND

Probable Explanation of Why Island of Great Britain Has Been Called "Albion."

"Albion" is the oldest name by which the island of Great Britain was known to the Greeks and Romans. Great Britain and Ireland were known by the general appellation of the Britannie Islands, while the former was designated by that particular name of Albion or Alwion, and the latter by that of Ierne, Iouernia or Erin. Caesar does not use the word Albion; his name for England was Britannia. Pliny says: "The name of the island was 'Albion,' the whole set of islands being called 'Britannic.'" The word "Albion" is still the only name by which the Gaels of Scotland designate that country; and the word signifies in the Gaelic language, white or fair island. The word "alb" itself is not now in use in Gaelic, but is probably the same root that we find in the Latin adjective "albus," and in the word "Alps." The name of Albion was probably given to England by the Gaels of the opposite coast, who could not fall to be struck by the chalky cliffs that characterized the nearest part of Kent. Some authors derive it from Albion, son of Neptune by Aphrodite, who according to the fabulous story went into Britain, established a kingdom and first introduced astrology and the art of building ships. He was killed at the mouth of the Rhone with stones thrown by Jupiter, because he opposed the passage of Hercules.

Left the Secretary Guessing.

The following story is told of the late Joaquin Miller, the "poet of the Sierras." A certain club desired the poet to address an annual meeting, for which an elaborate program had been prepared. The secretary wrote a letter to Miller, telling him of the purpose of the gathering and requesting his co-operation. In due time there came an answer from the poet. It was in his own hand and covered four pages. In vain the secretary puzzled over the manuscript. He passed it on to the president, the board of directors and the members in turn, but all failed to decipher the scrawl. The question before the club was, "Has Miller accepted or has he declined?" The secretary finally sent the following note to the poet: "My Dear Mr. Miller—Your letter received, but I have been unable to determine whether you have accepted or declined our invitation. If you will be present on the date mentioned, will you kindly make a cross at the bottom of this letter? If it will be impossible for you to appear, will you kindly draw a circle?" In due time the letter came back, but the secretary could not decide whether the poet had drawn a cross or a circle!

Bulgaria Land of Roses.

If one visits the rose fields of Bulgaria in the early hours of a June morning he will find the peasant folk busy gathering roses. Everyone who can goes to the fields to pick roses. The picturesque costumes amid the blooms of roses look very beautiful to one standing on a hilltop overlooking the sea of flowers.

The roses are gathered while the dew is still fresh upon them, because the roses yield more attar if gathered before the heat of the sun dries out the leaves. As the baskets are filled with open and half-open buds and blossoms they are taken to the distillery nearby, where the attar is distilled.

MR. PROGRESSIVE FARMER

April, 1883, I started Farm and Ranch. I believed then, although the number in Texas was not very numerous, that the progressive farmers and livestock breeders would patronize a read farm and livestock paper, serving faithfully their interests at all times. I was not disappointed in my conclusions.

Many who became subscribers with that first issue have continued to read Farm and Ranch without missing a number. I value very highly their continued loyalty and faith in Farm and Ranch, and leave it to them, and to the many who have since become patrons and friends, to say if I have kept faithfully my promise to make the paper a powerful, consistent supporter of the best interests of the people whose patronage I have asked for and received.

Farm and Ranch was, at first, published only once a month, later twice a month. Now it is a big illustrated weekly. It has been, at all times clean, interesting, instructive and reliable. In these I know I have not at any time failed.

Now, after thirty-seven years, always personally on the job, it is my ambition to have very man in Texas who has faith in farming in its different branches become a subscriber to Farm and Ranch.

Send me your subscription, and if, after reading Farm and Ranch each week for three full months you are not satisfied that you are getting even more than full value for the subscription price, write me and I will Ranch, I refer to your neighbor who is already a subscriber.

Talk about adventures!
Men in the Navy come home with the kind of experiences that most chaps read of only in the books.

Here's your chance!

Uncle Sam has, as you know, a big Navy and gives red-blooded young fellows like you an opportunity to step aboard and "shove off".

What will you get out of it? Just this:

A chance to rub elbows with foreign folks in strange parts of the world.

The chance for good honest work on shipboard—the kind of work that teaches you something real; the kind of work that puts beef on your shoulders and hair on your chest.

You will get 30 care-free vacation days a year, not counting shore leave in home or foreign ports.

You will have the kind of comradeship in travel that sailors know.

You will have regular pay, over and above your meals, lodging and your first uniform outfit—good stuff all of it.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

EASY TO TALK TOO MUCH

One Must Admit There Is Much Truth In the Sage Reflections of Mr. Goslington.

"It is my opinion," said Mr. Goslington, "that beggars talk too much. For instance, this morning I met a man who asked me for a nickel with which to buy a cup of coffee. As I was reaching for the nickel he kept right on talking, telling me among other things that he hadn't had anything to eat for three days, which I knew of course was false, and which detracted very much from my pleasure in giving."

"I am an easy mark. Perhaps as I grow older I shall grow harder, but as I feel about it now I would rather give to a dozen frauds than take a chance of missing one man who was hungry. Still I don't like the fraud to be too obvious; and I am sure there must be many prospective givers who, when the beggar keeps on with that surplus talk, rescind their original determination to give and keep their money in their pocket. Surely you would think the beggar would learn wisdom and talk less, wouldn't you?"

"But the beggar is not the only man. How often do we hear it said of some banquet speaker that he is a good talker but he talks too much! This may seem a harsh way of putting it, but that's what people say. This speaker starts engagingly and talks for a time to the pleasure of everybody, wandering on then interminably to the complete obliteration of the first favorable impression. Here the only result is the tiring of the speaker's hearers; but talking too much might have a far more serious result in the case of, say, a man applying for a job.

"Many a man has talked himself out of a prospective job. He goes to the employer with what he wants to say clearly laid out in his mind, he says this clearly and simply, and the employer practically made up his mind to take him; but then the applicant keeps on talking, to his own undoing. As he talks he reveals himself in a light less favorable; he discloses perhaps some peculiarity that may not really be a detriment but that strikes the employer not agreeably; and so this job that at first the applicant had felt perfectly sure of slips away from him entirely and without his realizing just how it all came about.

"The beggar is far from being alone in overtalking. There are many men in many walks who lack the fine gift of knowing when to stop."

Fascination of a Helmet.

The Hun helmet possesses a strong fascination for the American soldier. Apparently he is not able to resist the temptation to capture one whenever or wherever he sees it. A news story from the Rhine country tells us that German policemen of the towns occupied by the American troops have given up wearing helmets. Many of the policemen gave them up because they had none to wear. Others discontinued their use because the American officers made the discontinuance a request. The American soldiers, it is explained, couldn't resist the impulse to capture them. The German policemen were rushed all along the Rhine and deftly unbanned. It all shows that the primitive instinct that urges a victor to take from the conquered some symbol of his submission continues strong in the warrior breast.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Old Mexican God Unearthed.

A statue of "Xochipilli," Aztec god of flowers, has been discovered by William Nivian, an American archeologist who has been in Mexico recently. The statue, the representation of the god known to have been discovered in virtually a perfect state of preservation in modern times, was dug up at Atzacapotzalco, a suburb of the capital, and which, prior to the coming of Cortez, was the seat of a powerful Indian nation, but which, at the time of the conquest, was the great slave mart of the inhabitants of Tenochtitlan, home of the Aztecs and the site of the modern city of Mexico. In addition to its slave trade, Atzacapotzalco was noted for its expert jewelers and wonderfully cultivated gardens. "Xochipilli" is supposed to have presided over one of these ancient gardens.

Yet Another.

The number of proposed undersea tunnels is increasing every day. Already to that under the Straits of Dover has been added the suggestion for one under the Irish channel. And now comes Colonel Rubio y Bellve, who has obtained permission from the Spanish government to carry out the preliminary soundings with a view to connecting Spain with Morocco by tunneling the Straits of Gibraltar. The proposal is that the new tunnel should sink west of Tarifa and come to the surface again east of Tangier. This would make it, roughly, some twenty miles long, which is within three miles of the greatest breadth of the straits, a breadth which varies from eight and a half to twenty-three miles.

Swallow Is Enemy of Mosquito.

If you want to free the neighborhood of mosquitoes encourage swallows to make themselves at home, says the American Forestry association. These birds feed almost entirely upon obnoxious insects and they will do much toward protecting orchards and other trees from insect pests. No better investment can be made, therefore, than some houses set out for martins or other swallows. Of the blue swallows the purple martin is the largest, the male being entirely blue above with a gray breast. Swallows are highly migratory, most of them spending the winter in South America.

Eggs 50c Per Dozen At White's

In Exchange for a $1.00 Package of LEE'S EGG MAKER.

Which makes 100 lbs. of the best Egg Producing Food in the world when mixed with Bran, Shorts, Ground Oats, Speltz, etc.

READ WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT IT

I think your egg maker fine. My hens are laying twice as many eggs since using it.

Your egg maker is just fine. All that you claim for it.

The egg maker I ordered from you some time ago has proven far superior to any so called egg producer I have ever seen or used.

I have been using it with excellent results. I am getting nearly five times as many eggs since I started using your egg producer.

Have been using your egg maker for three or four years and find it an excellent preparation for getting the hens in good shape for laying after moulting. In 10 days one can see a change in egg production.

We had 12 and only 12 old common hens and after using egg maker a few weeks we were getting 12 eggs every day. Mrs. Polk and myself will prove this.—J. M. Polk, Queen City, Texas.

Name and address of any testimony above can be had at our store. Don't be buncoced into buying a substitute for the Genuine Egg Maker. Feed Lee's Egg Maker to Hens, and the hens will feed and clothe you. Eggs a Nickle each is mighty good easy money. Get plenty of them.

Simple Reason for Uncommon Position of Trees.

Tall Palmyra Palm Growing on Top of Bengal Fig Presents Curious Appearance—Naturalists Explain Apparent Phenomenon.

Every one has heard of small trees getting sown on larger ones, and appearing like little babies on the branches of their hosts. But in India it is, in some parts, fairly common to see the tall Palmyra palm growing as if from the top of the tree called Bengal fig. The appearance this presents is most curious and it has engaged the attention of nearly all travelers in the Thana district of Bombay, where the palm is especially abundant.

If one fancies how incongruous a very tall telegraph pole fixed into the middle of an oak tree and surmounted by a small crown of fan-shaped leaves would look, it can be realized how astonishing the first encounter with the Palmyra palm must be, when similarly united with a fig tree. An explanation, of course, had to be found, and the first casual observers might be divided into those that thought it a case of a hybrid, and the remainder who considered it a graft. But botanists know that no hybrid or graft has ever been produced between two species that are so distantly related as those in question. As a matter of fact, the introduction of these two friends to each other is made by some of the pretty little birds that abound in the region, including a few of the humming birds. Their principal food, George Michael Ryan tells us, consists of the minute fruits of the wild fig trees.

After collecting a few of these, they usually fly off to the top of a tall palm to enjoy them in peace. Some of the seeds fall and become lodged in the joints where the leaves spring from the stem. Here, in process of time, they germinate, throwing out roots below and branches and leaves above. But the roots of these fig trees are not content to draw their moisture and food from the little pocket of sand and dust into which they happen to fall. They soon multiply and spread far beyond their original home, into a thick network that covers and envelops the whole of the lower part of the Palmyra stem. Branches at the same time multiply above, forming a large bush, which, with the roots, monopolizes the situation and makes the palm look like a mere adjunct. But the palm does not mind. All the air it wants is for the leaves above.

The encircling sheath of fig roots, moreover, cause it no inconvenience, because it would not, in any case, increase in girth after it had once risen from the ground. It is, in fact, a case of symbiosis or mutual accommodation between the two species. The palm gives the necessary assistance to the baby fig, and afterward support to its maturing branches, while the foliage which these bear provides welcome shade to the roots of its patron.—Journal of Natural History Society of Bombay.

Film Stars Muen't Osculate.

The police of Japan do not like to see kissing in public and therefore film stars are not permitted to osculate on the screen. In six months up to March 1 the police censors removed 2,350 kisses from films. Only one kiss was allowed to remain. It was a kiss granted to Columbus by Queen Isabella and was shown in Tokyo only, as the censors deleted it before permitting the photoplay "Columbus," to discover the provinces.

Three hundred and fifty-three embraces were omitted from films, states the Far East. The titles of 2,144 photoplays were altered by the censors and 127 murder scenes were killed. Reels entirely prohibited numbered 57. Most films shown in Japan are from America and a large proportion of them originally contain a little kiss or so, showing the difference in standards between east and west.

Trying to Kid Him.

Down at Kelly field an instructor left on a fulough and his cadets were assigned to other "flights" for their flying practice. By mistake one was attached to a "circus" squad.

When his turn came he climbed into the rear pit and the instructor took him up to 6,000 feet, swung the machine into a spiral nose dive, and waved his arms above his head to indicate that the cadet should right the machine.

When the machine had dropped to 2,500 feet, gaining momentum rapidly, the instructor became alarmed and looked back at the cadet, who waved his arms above his head and grinned. The pilot grabbed the controls and made a safe landing.

The cadet explained that this was his first flight, and he thought the instructor was trying to kid him when he waved, so he pretended he wasn't scared.

Mexico to Restore Ruin.

The palace of Cortez, in the suburbs of Coyocacan, is to be reconstructed by the government and used as a museum for relics of the Spanish conquest. The structure, 400 years old, has been allowed to decay and ruin. The courtyard are ancient trees, under which Hernan Cortez and his familiars were wont to rest. These are hundreds of years older than the ancient building itself. The chapel attached to the palace is still in good condition.

KRESS

Oct. 8.—If you have any extra boats, bring them to Kress. If it continues to rain much longer we will certainly need them.

Mr. McGee and children of Arkansas, were here the latter part of last week visiting the mother-in-law, Mrs. T. J. Sanders. Mr. McGee and children will make their future home in Plainview.

J. H. Hamilton, manager of the Farmers' Mill & Elevator Co., was a business visitor in Tulia Saturday.

Elliott Rudd, who won his expenses paid to the State fair, will not be able to go, on account of being sick.

Madame Stork has once more made her rounds and left at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sjogren, a fine boy. The baby arrived at five o'clock Friday morning.

Mrs. M. E. Degge spent Saturday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blankenship of Lockney.

Miss Edna Adkisson took her Sunday school class to Tulia Saturday night to hear the natives of the Hawaiian islands sing and play. The little folks all report a nice time.

The Epworth League contest closed Sunday night, with the "Reds" as winners. It was put to a vote and both sides are to do the entertaining at the school house next Friday night.

Rev. Vinson returned Monday night from Quanah, where he has been for a few days.

Joe Hinkel, one of our sailor boys, arrived last week with an honorable discharge. He has been in the service of Uncle Sam for several months. He has crossed the waters several times—something new to him. We are very glad to see him home again.

The Kress high school is getting along nicely, under the capable direction of S. W. Reeves as principal.

The Tulia high school girls played the Kress high school girls in basket ball Friday afternoon. Reports on the game give the score as 21 to 12 in favor of Tulia. A large crowd witnessed the game, and all seemed to enjoy it.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard and children of Happy, are visiting in the home of Mrs. Sheppard's sister, Mrs. W. G. Adkisson. They are on their way to O'Donnell, where they will make their future home.

We had the privilege of having in our midst Sunday night our president of the district Epworth League, Mr. Lorin A. Temple of Tulia. He made us a splendid talk, which was very much appreciated by every one present. We were sorry Mr. Temple had to leave before the program ended, but, on account of rain, he thought it best.

Last Monday morning Clifton Dav- enport, one of our prosperous farmers, boarded the train for Dallas, to attend the fair. He will visit in East Texas before his return.

Ed Adkisson, manager of the Olympic theatre at Tulia, spent Sunday with home folk in Kress.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Elliott left Tuesday for Kansas City, where they will stay for a few days. From there they will go to St. Louis, where Mr. Elliott will attend the meeting of the National Grain Dealers' Association, and Mrs. Elliott will visit with her friend and former roommate, Mrs. Frank. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Cobb of Plainview.
