1500 PLAINVIEW PEOPLE WILL GO

TOWN WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED IN AMARILLO TOMORROW

It is estimated that 1,500 Plainview and Hale county people will attend the big Tech. college rally and celebration to be held in Amarillo tomorrow. The business men met this afternoon and decided to close for the entire day, and the schools will also take a recess, in order that everybody possible can go to Amarillo.

The special train will leave at 7 a. m., and will arrive in Amarillo at 9:20. Hundreds of automobile parties will also go, and will leave Plainview under the management of L. P. Barker at 6 a. m., and will be in Amarillo when the special train arrives, following which there will be a gigantic parade through the streets of Amarillo, with the Plainview Boys' Band leading, and under the direction of Ray Knoohuizen, grand marshal.

The meeting at Amarillo will be possibly the largest ever held on the Plains, and will center the eyes of the people of the state on the Plains for the location of the Tech. college.

It is announced that eleven towns will send special trains to the meeting.

Those in the vicinity are Plainview, Floydada, Lockney, Lubbock, Canyon and the others will come from above Amarillo on the Santa Fe and from the towns on the Denver road.

Geo. E. Green to Take Trip

Mr. Geo. E. Green of the Green Machinery & Development Co., has been invited and has accepted the invitation of the Allison Mfg. Co., Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to be one of a party of seventy-five or a hundred dealers from the Southwest to make a trip to Milwaukee, for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with the tremendous facilities which are devoted to the manufacture of farm power equipment being marketed by this concern.

Special private cars have been provided for the trip and Mr. Green accepted the invitation and left Friday afternoon, March 30, to join other members of the party at Kansas City, from which point the party will proceed to Milwaukee where a three or four days sales service conference has been arranged.

An educational program consisting of addresses, short talks and demonstrations has been arranged which will acquaint each and every dealer with the importance of his connection with this splendid institution and Mr. Green is confident that the trip will assist in making him a better dealer and a greater factor in the new farm power movement which has overtaken the farmers of the nation and which is particularly apparent in this vicinity this season. Mr. Green will be back and ready for business about April 17.

Porter Whaley Here Yesterday

Porter Whaley, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was here yesterday, en route to Floydada to confer with the business men of that town relative to lowering the freight rates.

Gas Tax Effective July 1

WILL INSTALL CREAMERY

HASSELL, HARLIN AND HUFF BUY PANHANDLE PRODUCE COMPANY

Messrs. Frank Hassell, C. C. Harlin, and Z. T. Huff have bought the plant, buildings and business of the Panhandle Produce Co. from David and Miss Lula Blair Neal, and will continue the business at the same place. The Neals will continue with the concern for the time being.

The new proprietors are well and favorably known in Plainview and through this section, as live, energetic, genial young men, who can be counted upon to succeed.

They have bought additional realty and now have property 150x140 ft. on the railroad track.

They will within the next several months install a modern creamery, and add to same as the milk supply of this section increases.

They will continue to handle poultry

HORSE LIVES FOR THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS

Was In Family of W. E. Boyd For Thirty-Seven Years—Held to Be Killed

Possibly the oldest horse in Texas was that of W. E. Boyd, the local groceryman, which had to be killed last week on account of becoming so old and helpless. The horse, a grey one, had attained thirty-eight years, and had been in the Boyd family for thirty-seven years, having been brought here when the family moved from Williamson county eleven years ago. The horse, though fat and otherwise healthy, became so helpless that it could not arise when down, and it was thought best to kill it, which was done by a neighbor as the members of the Boyd family could not bear to do so or see it done. The horse was foaled in Washington county.

TEXAS IS SWAMPED BY MAIL CATALOGS

Mail order houses are going after trade in agricultural areas harder than ever this year, evidenced by the increased aggressiveness with which mail order house catalogs are being put in the mails here this season. Local postoffice officials report that the largest mail deliveries of catalogs from eastern firms ever sent through the Texas postoffices.

This week two freight car loads of National Cloak & Suit Co. catalogs were shipped direct to Wichita, Kansas, and were mailed from there to patrons in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Postage on the bulk shipment amounted to $5,065, being the largest volume of postage ever sold by Wichita postal officials in one sale.

From Hutchinson, Kansas, come similar reports of extraordinary mail order house catalog distribution this year. Already three freight car loads have been shipped to Hutchinson for distribution.

SUMMER GIRL TO GO WITH-OUT A STITCH ON HER

Chicago, Ill.—The summer girl of 1923 will flit about without a stitch on her. She may use pins, but no stitches, it was revealed today at the annual convention of the Fashion Art League of America.

The 2,000 dressmakers from all over the country attending the convention decreed that gowns will be "draped" and the "seamstress" must give way to the "draper."

The summer girl will be entwined in a riot of lotus flowers, cha-riot wheel designs and long-backed camels they said. The girls are copying styles promulgated by old King Tut, 3,500 years ago.

Marriage Licenses

Clifton D. Potter and Miss Lee Montague, March 31. Both parties live in Floydada and they were married in Plainview.

Carroll Wardlow and Miss Mattie Ruth Davis. Both parties live in Plainview. Her mother is Mrs. G. T. Davis.

Losses 140 Head of Cattle

It is reported from Floydada that N. A. Armstrong of that town, a local cattle and hog buyer lost one hundred and forty head of heifer yearlings one day last week. They were in pasture on the Blanco Canyon, and on going to the pasture with some hands he had employed to help dehorn them found them missing. The first thought was that they had strayed off but after making a thorough search for them Mr. Armstrong has decided that they were stolen. Several clues are being run down but so far nothing has been heard of the missing cattle.—Abernathy Review.

A Bad Bargain

A ducky who had recently married was asked by the farmer for whom he worked how he and his Mandy were getting along.

"Not very well, boss. The fact is, Mandy and me've done parted."

"Parted!" exclaimed the farmer. "Why, you were just married. You know, Sam, you can't leave Mandy. She's your wife and you took her for better or worse."

"That's just it, boss," said Sam, "I shore did tell that pashon that I took the gal for better or wus. But, Lawd, dat gal is wus'n I took her to be."

Congressman Jones is at home. Congressman Marvin Jones arrived in Amarillo Thursday from Washington and will remain there until the next session of congress.

A special session of congress is not considered likely, Mr. Jones said.

FIVE PRIZES GIVEN AWAY

MONTHLY FIRST MONDAY DRAWING BRINGS LARGE CROWD TO TOWN

A very large crowd attended the monthly drawing under the auspices of the Plainview Merchants' Association, held at the bandstand yesterday afternoon.

Prior to the drawing Mr. Thomas, the new county agricultural agent, made a short talk relative to the work he expects to do, and asked the cooperation of the farmers of the community.

W. A. Nash also made announcement of the excursion to the Tech. college rally to be held in Amarillo tomorrow and urged everybody to attend.

PROPOSED STATE ROAD AMENDMENT

SPECIAL ELECTION WILL BE HELD FOURTH SATURDAY IN NEXT JULY

There is going to be a special election the fourth Saturday of next July to vote on an amendment which would add a new section to article eight of the constitution, in order to conform to the requirements of the federal aid act. This is the amendment proposed by the Texas Highway Association and reads as follows:

"The legislature is authorized and directed to provide for the creation, establishment, construction, maintenance and repair of a system of improved highways throughout the state to be under the control of the state; and in order that the state may provide the means, revenues and instrumentalities for the establishment and maintenance of such a system of highways, the legislature is empowered to levy and cause to be collected specific excise and ad valorem taxes in addition to those permitted for other purposes in the constitution, but such ad valorem tax shall be imposed only for the purpose of retiring the bonds authorized by the vote of the people of this state as provided for hereinafter in this section. When said system shall have been designated and taken over for the state as provided in Section A hereof, the legislature is authorized to make provisions for the equitable compensation to such counties for the value of such improvements as have been theretofore contracted for by the counties in the state.

"Provided also, that save for the state highway system, in all other respects, counties shall have the right to build, construct and maintain roads, turnpikes and bridges within their respective boundaries and the constitutional provisions relating thereto are not qualified or repealed by reason hereof.

"The legislature, at a regular or special session, is authorized and directed to pass and enact all the appropriate legislation necessary to carry out and effectuate the purpose and intent of these articles."

MANY BREAK DOWN AND SOB

MEN'S SERVICE SUNDAY BY EVANGELIST JONES WAS SOUL STIRRING

The second week of the great revival closed with wonderful meetings all day Sunday. Just one more week remains of the scheduled three weeks meeting.

The meeting for men only Sunday afternoon was the greatest single meeting that Plainview ever witnessed. Mr. Bob Jones spoke on the subject, "The Sins of Men," and for over an hour he shelled the woods. Hundreds of men responded to his invitation at the close of the meeting. One prominent attorney stood with tears streaming down his face and between sobs made his confession and gave his testimony. It was a thrilling moment. Men by the scores in every part of that great audience broke down and cried. It was a scene that will never be forgotten by any man who was privileged to be at this great service.

At the same hour Mrs. Loren Jones spoke to women at the Presbyterian church, the church being packed to the doors. This too was a great service. Mrs. O'Keefe lead the song service and Mrs. Tom Carter presided at the piano.

An interesting feature of the Easter praise and testimony service was the statement by a lady whose husband is a traveling man to the effect that the ladies of Plainview should give a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Bob Jones for loaning her husband to Plainview to make folk think fast and live better. Being the wife of a traveling man she knows the sacrifice that it takes to have her husband away for weeks at a time while she holds the fort at home.

At the close of the address which was based on the fourteenth chapter of Mark several women responded to the invitation to accept Christ as their Saviour.

All three sermons at the auditorium Sunday were the strongest appeals we have ever heard. And the response to these efforts was very gratifying.

The platform and stage at the auditorium was beautifully decorated with ferns and lilies by the girls of the Wesley Class of the Methodist church.

Sunday afternoon the great audience of men were delighted with the singing of the male quartet composed of Matt Cram, Jake Burkett, Marvin Garner and E. M. Ballinger.

Sunday night Mrs. Cantwell thrilled the audience with her beautiful voice in the singing of a special number "Ashamed of Jesus."

Aside from the great preaching of Bob Jones every service is filled with interesting features. The song services are very enjoyable and Plainview is delighted with the music of his revival.

Two Rabbit Drives

We are requested to give notice that rabbit drives will be held Thursday and Friday, beginning at 9 o'clock each day. The drives will start from the Clements farm three miles west and two miles north of Plainview, and everybody is urged to take part.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

GOV. NEFF STATES LEGISLATURE IS TO MEET ON APRIL 16

Austin, April 2.—Announcement that the legislature will be called into special session on April 16 was made by Gov. Neff late today. The governor did not issue this proclamation today but will do so within a few days. The session will consider revenue and appropriation matters and law enforcement measures it is understood.

Announcement of the date for the special session came unexpectedly. It was more in order that the members may have the two weeks notice as the governor had stated he would give. Several legislative committees, including the appropriation and finance will meet here immediately to begin preliminary work on measures to be introduced. Members of the eleemosynary committee under Representative C. E. Beasley, of Sulphur Springs arrived today and tomorrow will begin investigation of eleemosynary institutions in Austin.

The committee appointed to investigate recent awards of the text book commission also will meet here immediately according to information from Representative R. A. Baldwin, Secretary of the committee. Witnesses, members and book companies will be notified of hearing before the committee.

PROSPERITY IS PROMISED FLOYD COUNTY THIS YEAR

Rains Put Wheat In Best Condition Than for Years—Other Crops Assured

Before we descend the caprock towards the setting sun, it is our good fortune to be able to report another good March rain which fell this week. Government measure test placed the fall at three-quarters of an inch, but we believe the test was incorrect and that all tests and figures lies sometimes. From the shape the roads are in, it looks like we got fully an inch and then some more. At any rate we have had another splendid season, and wheat is practically insured.

This is the second good rain we have had during March, and while we have had some winds, and all that, this month has been a record breaker for moisture. It now looks like prosperity is riding in the front ranks in Floyd county. We have the best prospects for bumper wheat and other crops this country has seen in many a year.

Wheat is looking fine and is very promising. We have better prospects for wheat than we have had at this season of the year in a long time. The wheat is well rooted, stood the winter fine and is growing nicely. By midsummer we will again see the familiar wheat wagons and trucks going by at all times of the night, and hear the whoop of the teamsters and the toot of the truck. Yes, prosperity has come. We look forward to the dawn of a new era in Floyd county. Good crops this year will put this country in elegant shape.—Lockney Beacon.

Baby's Body Found Buried

Amarillo, April 2.—The body of a perfectly formed baby girl was found on some small boys Sunday afternoon on a vacant lot in the 600 block on Jackson street.

Investigations by the police department showed that the baby apparently had been buried about a week. The body was wrapped in an old blue work shirt and was buried about six inches in the ground underneath a pile of lumber.

The boys who were playing on the lot were attracted to the spot where the infant had been buried by the attempts of a dog to dig into the pile of lumber. They unearthed the body, thinking it to be a rabbit.

Investigations are now under way to determine if some light can be thrown upon the mystery that surrounds the identity of the child and the method of disposing of the body.

The body of the child was buried by the Blackburn Funeral Home yesterday afternoon.

Weather Report for March

March was a colder month than usual, also it was the wettest March since 1915, so the report of Local Observer W. J. Klinger shows.

The average maximum temperature for the month was 65.3 degrees, and the average minimum was 31.3. The average was 48.3, or 2.6 degrees below normal. The highest temperature was 76 on the 21st and lowest 9 degrees on the 9th.

The rainfall was 2.41 inches, which was 1.06 above normal average.

The rainfall so far this year was 3.53 inches. In other years it was: 1915, 4.02; 1916, 1.03; 1917, .34; 1918, 1.82; 1919, 3.52; 1920, 1.91; 1921, 2.38; 1922, 2.86.

Returns Seventy-Five Indictments

Floydada, April 2.—The Floyd county grand jury adjourned Friday afternoon after being in session for five weeks. Seventy-five indictments were returned during the term, sixteen of which were for felony charges. The report of the grand jury was declared to be one of the most comprehensive and thorough ever returned, according to Judge W. P. Leslie of Colorado, Texas who presided over the Floyd county District court last week, having changed benches with Judge R. C. Joiner, who has been on the bench at Sweetwater during the same time.

Schools Teach Fire Prevention

Floydada, April 2.—The Floyd county and Floydada public schools are teaching a course on fire prevention which was arranged through the efforts of Mrs. L. V. Smith, chairman of fire prevention movement of the Federated Clubs of the Seventh District, and Mrs. Glad Snodgrass, chairman for Floyd county for the 1922 Study Club at Floydada. It is thought that Floyd county is one of the first in Texas to adopt fire prevention as a regular course in the public schools.

Eddleman Daughter Dies

The one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Eddleman of near Providence died Monday, and will be buried today.

The Castro County Interscholastic League will be held at Dimmitt on the 6th and 7th of April.

RANCHMEN KILL INSPECTORS

TWO CATTLE INSPECTORS SLAIN AT SEMINOLE—TWO RANCHMEN BEING HELD

Tom Ross, 40 years of age, and Milt Good, both stockmen, are in custody at Seminole, Gaines county, following the shooting to death last night of H. L. Roberson and W. D. Allison, inspectors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association.

The double killing took place in the lobby of a hotel at Seminole last night, according to word received here. The two inspectors were in Seminole preparatory to going before the grand jury today in cattle theft cases. Ross and Good surrendered after the killing.

Attorneys and officials of the cattle raisers association will leave Ft Worth today for Seminole to make an investigation.

Murder charges were filed against both of the ranchmen.

The two inspectors were seated in the hotel and when the stockmen entered the shooting following immediately. Bad feeling is said to have existed for some time between the four men. In fact, the entire range district had become excited over the cattle theft investigation, conducted by the two inspectors and over the charges that had been filed. Charges of cattle theft had been filed against both of the men now accused of murder, and the trouble is believed to have risen from this. Allison, former sheriff of Midland county for many years was a veteran West Texas officer and was a member of the posse which overtook and killed the Mexican insurgent Orozco near Sierra Blanca a few years ago.

It is supposed that Allison and Roberson were in Seminole to appear before the grand jury in connection with cattle theft cases. Allison and Roberson were at the time of the shooting talking in a hotel lobby with District Attorney Gordon B. McGuire. Milt Good and Tom Ross, held in connection with the shooting, live in Terry county and west of Seminole, respectively.

INCREASED AUTO TAX TO AID TEXAS ROADS

The increased cost of automobile licenses under the bill passed Thursday by the legislature will not be an unmitigated burden on the automobile owner, says a well known auto dealer.

While the new law will increase the cost of auto licenses, in some cases almost tripling the present tax, the funds will be used for the building and maintenance of roads.

The taxes on the few standard cars are given so the owners will know what to expect when they pay their auto tax on Jan. 1, 1924, when the new law takes effect: Buick-6 $19.77, Case $19.88, Chalmers, $18.38, Chevrolet $11.45, Dodge $16.20, Essex $16.85, Ford $10.65, Hudson $22.65, Overland $11.45, Studebaker, light six and four, $17.03, Willys-Knight, $17.85, Nash $18.38.

Large Eagle Captured

N. W. Uselding is the possessor of a large eagle which he felled near his home this week. From tip to tip of its wings it measured six feet and ten inches, and weighed 18.

When the eagle was captured a note which contained the following was tied around his neck: "I was caught in wolf trap in the canyons, set by Bill Helm. I am the champion fighter, have just whipped three dogs and could lick as many more. If I am captured please be good to me."

But Mr. Uselding had no way of knowing what was in the note, until too late to carry out the request. Upon first sight of the eagle he thought it was a calf in the pasture.

S. T. Whitman took the body of the bird to Amarillo for mounting.—Happy correspondent in Tulsa Herald

The horse which A. L. Maupin, veteran deliveryman, has driven to his wagon, died last week, caused by a fall. It is quite a loss to Mr. Maupin.

TECH COLLEGE BRIEF FINISHED

BOOKLET OF POINTS ON WHICH PLAINVIEW ASKS FOR SCHOOL

It is a booklet enumerating the many points upon which this town asks for the location of the institution, and should make a good impression on the committee.

The government meteorologists declare there is no artificial methods or schemes by which rain can be made to fall.

The democratic campaign committee has begun its fight to defeat President Harding for re-election, and the chances are growing brighter that it will succeed.

Rev. Edwards of Philadelphia claims there is no hell. Then, where does a delinquent subscriber who puts his local newspaper back in the post-office marked "refused" without paying what due go?

Strangest income tax story comes from Boston where a barber, having 13 dependent children under 18 years of age, is granted $7700 exemption in making out his income tax return. His income, however, was only $2,200.

It isn't a very nice thing to say, but we can't believe Mr. Chaplin is head over heels in love with Pola, or he wouldn't be worrying about whether his income is sufficient to get married on. A young man deeply in love knows that even an income of $10,000 a week is ample.

Henry Ford expects to revolutionize farming so that cultivating the land can be done by machinery and should not take more than twenty-five days a year of a farmer's time. Even this rosy prophecy will not effect the bunch on the corner, for they don't propose to farm, except with their mouths, even five days a year.

It is a cold day in August when the Gould family doesn't pull off some sort of a marital stunt. George J. Jr., was divorced from his wife, a former actress in France a few days ago. There have been possibly twenty divorces among the children and grandchildren of old Jay, and the bunch isn't so very old as yet.

Thirty-eight insurgent republicans have banded together in a program for legislation and control in the new congress. An appeal was sent today to members of the new congress asking them to join in the movement. The insurgent bloc, now out in the open with an avowal of its purpose, expects to take advantage of the close situation between the two parties and by wielding balance of power force the house rules and important committees to reorganize. The letter to new members inviting them to express their views on what should go into the program for legislation was signed by Nelson of Wisconsin and Woodruff of Michigan, as chairman and secretary of the "progressive republican conference."

IN A MINOR STRAIN

The highest ambition of a majority of men is to get something for nothing.

In allotting children nature seems to give the poor men more than they can afford.

Common sense and plain work have more to do with success than all other things put together.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK

A gentleman is one who does not have to prove it.

A religion that lacks tolerance should not be tolerated.

One reason some people do not feel good is because they do not do good.

One of the colossal blunders of all ages is that ideas can be conquered by force.

Always be too busy to pity yourself, but never too busy to sympathize with others.

You can insure against theft, fire and murder, but not against the teller of smutty stories. No insurance company could possibly pay the damage done your character.

Nothing is more difficult than absolute intimacy between children and parents, even when there is much love between them for on the one side respect discourages confidence, and on the other the idea, often erroneous, of the superiority of age, prevents parents from taking seriously enough the child's feelings, which are often just as interesting as those of grown up persons, and almost always more sincere.

A man near Anson is trying to domesticate prairie chickens and quails as an experiment. It is said that he is having considerable success with the blue quails and the prairie chickens but the bob whites are more of a problem.

ALL A MISTAKE

The reason why the navy needed $6,500,000 to "modernize" the guns of some of our capital fighting ships was because Great Britain was doing the same thing and we had to match them to keep up as a first-class naval power. The navy got the $6,500,000. Now it develops that the information that Great Britain was spending money to increase the effective range of her big guns was all wrong. The $6,500,000 was obtained for the navy under representations which are now proved to be false.

It is remarkable that the United States government has confessed this with frankness. Practically speaking however, there wasn't much else to do about it, since the British government has given the United States its assurance that the yarn about increased range of British guns was without foundation. It remains to be seen whether the navy will now turn the $6,500,000 over to the "conscience fund" in the United States treasury. By rights that is where it belongs.

We have here an outstanding illustration of how the competition in armament is carried on. In many cases the basis of increased armament is not an actual increase in the armament by some foreign power, but merely the rumor of the increase. Suspicion and not genuine danger is the origin of most international friction. Suspicion begets fear and fear begets hatred—and out of hatred comes war. It has been said that the course of nations is guided solely by selfish interest. It would be better to say that the course of a nation is guided by its conception of its interest. That conception may be a misconception. As applied to armament in time of peace it frequently is.—Dallas News.

MORE COURTS IN TEXAS

It is easy to believe that seventy-five per cent of the people of Texas were in agreement with Gov. Nuff that there was no need for more permanent district courts and his suggestion for a temporary court for temporary transfer of judges to clean up the congested dockets was apparently accepted by the press and the people as sound policy but the legislature became riled because the governor sought to exercise his Constitutional right and intimidated that the legislative department was failing to measure up to full efficiency and to rebuke him they re-passed the several court bills over the executive veto. The legislators who thus voted to provide these unneeded courts will not be able to explain to their people why they did it. Even people in the territories effected are displeased with their action and in counties outside of the districts concerned they will resent such unnecessary expense.

The Quannah Tribune-Chief is in one of the newly arranged districts and that paper says: "There is very little work to do for a district court in this section but that did not keep a bunch of politicians from cutting this district up in two, so that some more pie would be distributed at the expense of the taxpayers. We hope the latter will keep that bunch in mind."—Amarillo Tribune.

THAT AWFUL TENTH CENTURY

During all the known history of the world there was never a century worse for humanity than the tenth in Europe. With superstition the one great thought, the people, great and small, turned into ignorant beasts. Bathing was unknown, food was eaten only with the hands, even agriculture was forgotten. The people crowded here and there in the most miserable huts. Shoemaking became a lost art. People wore rags or straw for the foot, and rags, straw, or untanned skins for clothing. Houses were uncommon and the European world was deserted by learning of all kinds.

It is a hard task to even attempt to tell what happened in the ninth, tenth and eleventh centuries, because there were no contemporary historians for about two hundred years, and all we know is from writings of the Moors. The Popes appear to have been in control and they fought Emperors and kings until Europe was covered with anarchy. Rome was prey to terrible disorders with violence, bribery and assassination. Infamous loamen ruled almost the entire world, cities fought among themselves, cities fought cities and all was chaos until a republican sentiment came through the Greek, Indian and Moorish stragglers who came drifting along during the eleventh and twelfth centuries, and from that period the modern Europe began.

An appearance of delicacy, and even of fragility, is almost essential to beauty.

The eyes of our souls often begin to see only when our bodily eyes are closing.

Good Manners—Greetings

The well-balanced man or woman heads the art of greeting acquaintances properly. The more one goes, the more he will meet and the more he must greet. A greeting can be either repellent or attractive; it can bar one's way to social progress or can help one along the road to popularity.

1: A man meeting a woman acquaintance on the street lifts his hat from his head with the hand farther removed from her, and bows.

2: A man on the street never shakes hands with a woman without first removing his right glove "Pardon my glove" is bad form. At the opera or ball he keeps his glove on.

3: Gentlemen always shake hands when introduced; women usually; but women rarely offer their hands to men just introduced to them.

4: Acquaintances usually shake hands on meeting. There should be strength and warmth and sincerity in the handclasp.

5: Only at a wedding do people greet each other in church; then their greetings should be exchange briefly and in low tones.

It's bad manners for any person except with the gravest reason, to fail to return a bow of civility; no man ever is justified in "cutting" a woman of good repute.

Avoid the Attractive Married Man: You'll Only Make Yourself Unhappy

She's a pretty young girl, and she is madly in love with her employer. He is a married man with five children, but he tells her that his wife doesn't understand him, and how unhappy he is at home, and that he never really cared for a woman until he met her. He is always hanging over her typewriter, and calling her into his private office for dictation, and she takes her out to lunch, and all the other girls are gossiping about her, and she is very unhappy, and wants to know what to do about it.

Why, there is only one thing to do under the circumstances. If you were in a burning building you would risk your neck jumping out of a window and fleeing to a place of safety. If a wild beast was pursuing you, you would break the sprinting record getting away from it. If you were in an automobile, skidding around a dangerous curve, you'd jam your emergency brake down good and hard and try to stop yourself from going over the cliff.

Believe me, daughter, you need to pursue the same tactics when you are confronted with a moral peril that you do when confronted with a physical one. Remove yourself as quickly as possible from the danger zone. Flee from temptation. Stop going wrong. There is more virtue in absence of body than in all the ten commandments in a love affair.

The girl who falls in love with a married man is a very pitiful figure, and in these days, when men and women work side by side in every occupation, she is a very common one.

For in business, as in society, proximity does it deadly work. Congenial souls draw together, and the knowledge that a man is married does not erect an insurmountable barrier between two hearts that are really mated.

Sometimes the man is a villain, a wolf in sheep's clothing, who preys on the unsophisticated little lambs in his fold. Oftener he is just as much the victim of circumstances as the girl is.

He did not intend to fall in love with her, or to win her love, but his marriage was a failure; he was bitterly miserable, starved for companionship and affection, and when he found this in some girl employe, or some woman fellow worker, the inevitable happened. They fell in love with each other.

The situation is bad enough for both, but it is infinitely worse for the girl, for there is no clean road to happiness for her out of their dilemma.

If she cherishes the unlawful love that she has for another woman's husband, she must feed her heart on dead sea fruit that turns to ashes on her lips. She may have her moments of stolen joy, but they are only moments, between long, bleak hours of hopeless longing, and desires for what can never be hers.

She wastes the springtime of her youth and beauty on a man who can give her nothing in return. She lets the marrying time of her life go by, and in the end drifts into a sour, disgruntled, disappointed old maidenhood, for she has given so much of love to the man who could not marry her that she has nothing else to give to the man who would marry her.

The girl who falls in love with a married man pays a still further penalty in a smirched reputation. Her

MEDITATIONS

My roots are grounded deep in domesticity.
Times I strain and sway—
My spirit snaps and whines to be off on the wings of the wind,
To be free of dishwater, dust and that deadly custom of taking food thrice daily,
To leap and to bound across the infinite plain
Like the shallow-rooted tumbleweed.
I lean upon the kitchen window-sill this spring-blown day
And watch those gypsy tumbleweeds and wish—
The beans boil over. The children come for lunch.
My roots are grounded deep in domesticity.
You, poor aimless tumbleweed, have only freedom.
Freedom is a poor thing compared to the deep rich soil
In which my roots are grounded.
You will tumble along until you blow into some fence corner
With thousands of others of your silly, tumbling sort.
The farmer will set you afire to be rid of you.
But I, for all that I shall never know the joy
Of gipsying free across the plain,
If I should blow away some day there'd be a little earthquake
Where my deep roots, in tearing loose, would throw a man,
A home and children into desolate confusion. —G. H. G.

relations must, perforce, be more or less clandestine, and scandal makes the most of the love-making that is done under the rose.

Worse still, the girl who is in love with a married man is eaten up by the fiercest jealousy that ever tears at a human breast. The man may swear until he is black in the face that he loves her a million times more than he does his wife. The fact remains that the other woman is his wife, that he goes home to her, that she stands at his side in society, that she bears his name, and that she is the mother of his children, and the mistress of his house. And as the girl in her lonely room thinks of these things, and pictures the man she loves in his own home, she knows the torments of the damned.

Hopeless love. Weary waiting. No husband. No children. No home. Nothing in life but a job. Torments of jealousy. Giving all for a man who either goes back to his wife, or falls in love with a younger face. That is the reward of the girl who falls in love with a married man, and who does not try to separate him from his wife.

But suppose she does take her own at any cost to others. Suppose she induces the man to divorce his wife and marry her. What then? No lasting happiness is built on the ruins of another's happiness. No woman can break up a home, and widow a sister woman, and make little children fatherless, without knowing in her soul that she has done the most cruel and dastardly deed on earth. No love that she buys at such a price is worth it, or has any blessing on it, or any serenity in it.

She may try to silence her conscience by saying that the man's wife was not worthy of him, that the wife did not love him as she does, and that he had already ceased to care for her, but all of that does not justify her crime against little, innocent, helpless children. Nothing can alter their father's duty to them, and no sophis-

Mrs. Ella Nittler Dies

Mrs. Ella Nittler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richey, was born at Murray, in Young county, Texas, March 25th, 1894. She died March 24th, 1923 at Plainview and was buried at Hale Center where she had resided for about eight years with her husband.

Her sisters, Misses Lillian and Irene Richey, and her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Johnson and family and several other Lockney people were at the funeral, which was held at the Methodist church at Hale Center on Monday afternoon, March 26th, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Nittler was converted at the age of fifteen, while still living in Young county, and joined the Methodist church. She and her husband were members of the Young People's Sunday school class and she expressed her desire to go back to the church and have her membership changed to the place of her residence, and have her little baby dedicated to the Lord in Baptism as soon as she was able to go to church. But death claimed her before she was able to carry out her plans. But God knows about her intentions and heard her prayers, and she pointed upward and said she was climbing the celestial mountains just a little while before she died.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Geo. Palmer of Hale Center, assisted by the Baptist pastor of the same place and Rev. R. N. Huckabee of Lockney.

This excellent young woman was known for her good works and was often found in homes of sorrow and sickness, doing what she could to relieve their suffering and cheer them in their sorrow.

She will be greatly missed by all who knew her. Her husband has a great responsibility for the care and training of his little three weeks' old son. But he is determined to win his battle.—Beacon.

HAPPY UNION

April 2—Easter has come and gone. Now, maybe, we will soon have some spring weather.

There was an Easter egg hunt at the school house Sunday afternoon. Quite a bunch of children enjoyed hunting the many colored eggs. Ernest Matisler won the prize for finding the most eggs; he found nineteen.

N. A. Owens of Hunt county has moved back to the Plains. He formerly lived in Plainview. But went to Hunt county and brought back with him a bride. We wish for them much happiness. They have been pleasant guests in the home of his son, Henry Owens.

The Co-Operative club met Friday with a good attendance and there was an interesting meeting. The guests were Mesdames R. L. Moore and J. W. Neil. They are cordially invited to come again and all others who wish to do so. It is no secret organization and the club and community need to cooperate, for that is the name of the club.

Friday being the last day of school and the teachers so rushed with their work, that they did not have time to arrange a program, the community will take well filled baskets and have a regular picnic dinner at noon. There will also be a ball game in the afternoon. We hope the entire neighborhood will go and see the good work our teachers have been doing.

ABERNATHY

March 29—Miss Constance Irvison was brought home last week from one of the sanitariums of Lubbock where she has been for the past two weeks recovering from an operation which she underwent some few weeks ago.

Rev. J. T. Howell was a visitor among his friends in Abernathy Monday from his home in Tahoka. Rev. Howell is very well pleased with his location.

The Methodist ladies held their bazaar last Saturday and were well patronized by the people of the town as well as from the country. A net sum of money was realized from the lunches they served and many nice hand made aprons, bonnets, etc., t.e.y. had for sale.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Friday the subject of improving the streets was brought up. As the Hale county road grader was on the town section, this was thought an opportune time to get them to help grade and build up the main streets.

Mr. T. B. Stone, the overseer for the roads in this end of the county, had talked with County Commissioner J. H. Hooker, who was in charge of the county road work here. Mr. Hooker promised to go fifty-fifty with the town in filling in the streets. After this matter was discussed pro and con from various angles it was decided to take up the proposition and a subscription last started. Enough money has been subscribed up to this time to insure good streets and the work will begin immediately. We can always count on our citizens to do things that will help build up the town, if we can only get them together and decide what needs to be done. A committee was appointed to see about opening roads into Abernathy. This committee is to meet with the commissioners of Hale and Lubbock counties and press our needs. On this committee was appointed, C. G. Goodman, Herman Schulz, A. G. Gilbert, H. C. Hill, F. W. Struve and A. N. Hardesty. ### GEORGE BERNARD SHAW SAYS ABOLISH POVERTY

In Interview Tells Why Impoverished and Weak Should Be Killed If Civilization Is to Survive

Written specially for Plainview News by George Bernard Shaw, interviewed by F. V. Conolly, through Antocaster service.

London, March 29.—"Why do you think poverty must be abolished, Mr. Shaw? The churches declare 'Blessed are the poor.' Another common aphorism is that 'God made both rich and poor.' I asked the renowned Fabian and dramatist.

"Pat came the reply: 'I dislike poverty, and notice that my feeling about it is shared to the extent that everybody who can avoid it does so, even at the cost of committing any atrocity that is not technically criminal.

"The church, giving the Apostolic succession and very little else to its unfortunate curates (not to mention many of its bona fide clergymen), naturally proclaims them blessed.

"The aphorism that God made both rich and poor is a lie. Naked we come into the world and naked we go out of it. If we choose to rob one another in the interval, that is not God's fault. It might as well be said that God made archbishops and burglars as a justification of burglary."

"In the preface to your play Major Barbara entitled 'First Aid to Critics' written in 1905, you asked with the utmost gravity and the deepest sense of responsibility, would not an habitually poor man do ten times less harm, as a prosperous burglar, incendiary, rascal or murderer, to the utmost limits of humanity's comparatively negligible impulses in these directions than by living contentedly in his poverty? Do you still hold this view?"

"YES."

Poverty As Destructive As Influenza Epidemic

"In the preface to Major Barbara you also wrote: Suppose we were to abolish all penalties for such activities, and decide that poverty is the one thing we will not tolerate—that every adult with less than, say, 369 pounds a year, shall be painlessly but inexorably killed, and every hungry half naked child forcibly fattened and clothed, would not that be an enormous improvement on our existing system, which has already destroyed so many civilizations, and is visibly destroying ours in the same way?"

"Can you improve on this proposition?"

"No. Why not ask me 'Why influenza should be avoided?' or 'Why hell should be considered as an undesirable residence,' as inquire 'Why poverty must be abolished?'"

"Security; the chief pretence of civilization, cannot exist where the worst of dangers, the danger of poverty, hangs over everyone's head, and where the alleged protection of our persons from violence is only the accidental result of a police force whose real business is to force the poor man to see his children starve whilst idle people spend fortunes in killing them selves with drugs and overfeed fat dogs with the money that might feed and clothe them.

Poverty As Stupid As Cause of World War

"There is nothing to be compared not even the wickedness

CHURCHES

Workers Conference of Staked Plains Baptist Association

The Workers' Conference of Staked Plains Baptist Association will meet with the Baptist church in Plainview Friday, April 6th, 10 a. m. Dr. T. E. Finney of Wichita Falls and Mrs. J. M. Dawson of Waco will address the meeting.

Held Meeting at Kress

Rev. L. H. Davis, pastor of the Methodist church in Abernathy, closed a very successful revival of more than a week at Kress Sunday night.

Services at the Baptist Church

There were 512 in Sunday school Sunday and 114 boys and girls in the Junior choir.

The pastor preached at 11 a. m. to a large congregation and a mixed quartet consisting of Mesdames Matthews and Anderson and Messrs. Gardner and Day sang "Thou thro' sin be as scarlet." There were three additions to the church for baptism.

The services next Sunday as usual, Sunday school 9:45 a. m., The four B. Y. P. U.'s at 6:45 p. m. The pastor will preach at 11 a. m., and special music will be arranged. Every member urged to be present.

There will be no preaching service at night on account of the Methodist meeting at the city auditorium.

HARLAN J. MATTHEWS, Pastor.

First Christian Church

There will be regular services at our church next Sunday at 11 a. m. At this service the Ladies Missionary society will take the regular Easter offering for benevolences. This matter was overlooked last Sunday, and that is why we are attending to it next Sunday.

Let every member of the church and every friend, be present next Sunday at 9:45 for the Bible school. This is the only Sunday school in Plainview that uses the Bible as its only text book. The tenth chapter of Acts is the lesson for next Sunday. Study it and come with us next Sunday.

We had two confessions and baptisms last Sunday and are expecting others next Sunday. Conversion is the result of teaching, and the forgiveness of sin is the blessing of obedience.

Everybody cordially invited.

W. C. WRIGHT, Minister.

St Mark's Episcopal Church

The Episcopal church of Plainview has made wonderful progress since September first when Rev. E. H. J. Andrews took charge of the parish.

The attendance has increased fourfold and much interest is manifested at all the services.

The Auxiliary met every Monday during Lent and services were held twice a week by Mr. Andrews. There were daily services during Holy week.

On Easter Sunday the church was filled both morning and afternoon with the members and many interested outsiders.

The decorations were beautiful and appropriate to the anniversary of the Resurrection morn.

Among other good things that the Auxiliary is planning for the present is a Saturday market. The first will be held next Saturday afternoon at Donohoo-Ware furniture store. Everything good in the eating line will be on hand for Sunday's dinner.

Bishop Temple Coming

Right Rev. E. A. Temple, D. D., Bishop of North Texas, will make his annual visitation to St. Mark's Episcopal church, in this city on Sunday and administer Confirmation at the 12 o'clock service.

which inspired and brought about the war, to the stupid levity with which we tolerate poverty as if it were either a wholesome tonic for lazy people or else a virtue to be embraced as St. Francis embraced it. If a man is indolent, let him be poor. If he is addicted to the fine arts or to pure science instead of to trade and finance let him be poor. If he is not gentleman, let him be poor. If he chooses to spend his urban war time wage of 2 pounds a week or his agricultural twenty-five shillings a week on his beer and his family instead of saving it up for his old age, let him be poor. Let nothing be done for the undeserving; let him be poor. Serve him right! Also—somehow inconsistent—blessed are the poor.

"Now what does this 'let the poor mean? It means let the weak, let him be ignorant, let him become a nucleus of disease. Let him be a standing exhibition and example of ugliness and dirt. Let him have rickety children. Let him be cheap and let him drag his fellows down to his price by selling himself to their work. Let his habitations turn our cities into poisonous congeries of slums. Let his daughters infect our young men with the diseases of the streets and his sons revenge him by turning the nation's manhood into scrofula, cowardice, cruelty, hypocrisy, political ineptitude, and all the other fruits of oppression and malnutrition. Let the undeserving become still less deserving; and let the deserving lay up for himself, not treasures in heaven, but horrors in hell upon earth. This being so, is it really wise to let him be poor?"

The march of events has not ceased to change his opinions.
