He castigated Nixon

Ike's tapes revealed

HOUSTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower secretly recorded conversations in his oval office over a five-year period, including one in which he castigated then-Vice President Richard Nixon, the Houston Chronicle said Saturday in a copyright story.

recording meetings in October 1953 and continued at least until December 1958, the Chronicle said.

The Chronicle said that although the existence of the taping system was a well-kept secret of the Eisenhower administration, some top officials were aware of the tapings including former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Transcripts of the tapes generally were prepared by the president's trusted personal secretary, Mrs. Ann C. Whitman, who had problems in understanding the tapes. Many of the tapes were paraphrased rather than transcribed word-for-word, the newspaper said.

Following one transcribing, Mrs. Whitman noted "Large portions of tape were completely garbled. The noise of the machine itself is so great that the words, while loud enough, cannot be understood."

Nixon, who was forced to resign as president in August 1974 partly because of his own secret tapes, was criticized by Eisenhower in one of the transcribed conversations on June 29, 1954, the Chronicle reported.

According to the story, the conversation included this scenario:

Eisenhower was upset with Nixon for his outspoken criticism of the Democratic leadership's handling of foreign policy.

Eisenhower started by telling Nixon that he wanted to talk with him about what the president called Nixon's "castigation" of Democratic handling of foreign policy. Secretary of State Dulles was trying to obtain bipartisan support for his policies, Eisenhower said, and Nixon's speeches clearly endangered Dulles' efforts.

RAPE SUSPECT CHARGED — Behind the desk, Traffic Officer Ray Meek, left, and Sgt. Jimmy Hensley write the report while Sgt. Jimmy Wallace attends to their prisoner, Michael Russell Nelson, 22, of Taylor, who has been charged with the rape of a local woman. Meek arrested Nelson 11:40 a.m. Friday when he recognized him as fitting the description of a man who had allegedly raped a local woman in a downtown business office around 11 a.m.

Community Concert series is assured for new season

Enough money has been raised to assure the concert series budget for 1979-80, the board of directors of the Big Spring Community Concerts was told at its meeting here Thursday evening.

Jean Kuykendall, president of the association, expressed gratitude to the people of Big Spring for their purchase of memberships and especially to some 60 patrons and sponsors for their contributions.

Mrs. Kuykendall stated: "Although we deeply appreciate patrons and sponsors, I would much prefer to sell individual memberships because the concerts offered are well worth seeing by as many people as possible."

Although the campaign has officially closed, memberships and patron donations will continue to be accepted by Mrs. Kuykendall at telephone number 263-3948 or at 2608 Rebecca through Nov. 2.

The first concert in Midland is Nov. 10. It will be "The Big Band Festival of the Fabulous Forties."

The first concert in Big Spring will be Nov. 13 and features "The California Boys' Choir."

Mrs. Kuykendall concluded: "I want to thank all the campaign workers and board members for their hard work toward keeping the community concerts in Big Spring."

Accused rapist fails to post $50,000 bail

A $50,000 bond has been placed on a 22-year-old Taylor man who was arrested here Friday in connection with the rape of a 24-year-old local woman.

Michael Russell Nelson reportedly entered a downtown business office Friday morning and asked a woman who was alone in the office for directions to a hospital. When she started to show him the location on a map in her desk, Nelson allegedly grabbed her around the throat, threw her to the floor and forced her to submit.

The rape allegedly occurred just inside the front door of the office building. After the assault, police received a call requesting aid from a nearby business office at 11 a.m.

Police were alerted to be on the lookout for a man, nearly six-foot tall, weighing 160 pounds with very short brown hair.

Traffic Officer Ray Meek spotted a suspect fitting the description crouching under the west viaduct of Gregg Street. Officers speculated that Nelson may have been waiting for a train to pass by on which to make his escape. Nelson, arrested at gunpoint at 11:40 a.m. Friday, has been formally charged with rape.

Nelson, a transient, reportedly arrived in Big Spring with two other men on a train. He was transferred from the city jail to the county jail at 4 p.m. Friday and is being detained in lieu of $50,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

Focalpoint

Action / reaction: Holidays pay

Q. Do we have any rights as workers to take off on national holidays, if our company elects not to declare them as holidays? If we work, do we qualify for time and a half?

A. There are no federally required holidays. So says the U.S. Department of Labor, Wage and Hour Division. According to that office, if an employee is asked to work on a holiday, it is treated as a normal day under the law. Although an employer can pay a premium, if he so chooses, he is not required to do so under the law.

'Deck is stacked'

NAVASOTA, Texas (AP) — Coordinator Edward Fritz of the Texas League of Conservation Voters said Saturday, "Everything considered, the deck is stacked against the average citizen and his environment."

Fritz, who lives in Dallas, said out of the 15,000 lobbyists in Washington, only 50 represent environmentalists and consumers.

"These 50 receive the least pay," said Fritz. "Other lobbyists are generally out to make money for the firms they represent, so those firms can afford to pay more."

"Under pressure from industrial interests, Congress and state legislatures are already retreating from the environmental protection laws of the early 1970s. In order to obtain funds for their operations, and to keep their jobs, most bureaucrats are joining in the retreat," Fritz said.

Fritz's remarks were prepared for delivery to the annual meeting of the Texas Association for Environmental Education at Camp Allen.

Stab murders linked?

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Two Texas Rangers are seeking a possible link among stabbing murders in three cities, it was reported Saturday.

The Austin American-Statesman quoted Waco Sgt. Bob Prince as saying he and Bryan Ranger Bob Connell had found "some similarities" in the deaths.

The victims were LeShan Muhlinghaus, 20, slain Oct. 12 in her College Station apartment; Sandra Dubbs, 34, whose body was found Oct. 8 alongside Interstate 35 near Austin; and Cheryl Bellingier, 26, slain Aug. 13 at her home in Farmers Branch, a Dallas suburb.

Local investigators said Friday they had no suspects.

Senseless regulations

SEMINOLE, Texas (AP) — Chairman John Poerner of the Texas Railroad Commission said Saturday "senseless regulations" pouring out of Washington not only hamper the production of oil and gas but also alternate energy sources.

"Let's stop senseless over-regulation and start looking for new oil fields and bringing in new production," said Poerner. Otherwise, he added, America may soon become "the land of the regulated and home of the fearful."

Poerner's remarks were prepared for delivery to an Oil, Agricultural and Businessman Appreciation Day audience.

"Energy costs have soared as the federal Department of Energy has mushroomed into the fastest growing regulatory agency in the nation," Poerner said. "And federal regulation inhibits not only the production of oil and gas, but also of alternative energy sources that we sorely need."

Covenant Players scheduled at First Presbyterian Church

First Presbyterian Church will host the Covenant Players tonight at 7:30. This international repertory drama group will appear in the church's sanctuary for a service of worship in drama.

Christian worship has often been described as a drama in which all of the worshippers participate. They offer the drama to God who is the audience. During this hour of Sunday night worship, the Players will present the various parts of traditional Christian liturgy in vignettes and short plays. They will highlight the drama of adoration, confession, thanksgiving, illumination, and supplication.

Much of what the Covenant Players do is based on the method of preaching employed by Jesus Christ who used many parables. This tradition comes to us through the medieval church which used story telling proficily to communicate to believers who could neither read or write. The Covenant Players have been in existence for sixteen years. There are 45 full time touring groups who have performed over 450,000 times in 17 countries around the world. Giving ancient truths a modern touch with their drama, they have stirred and challenged people to take a closer look at themselves and the practice of their faith.

The general public is encouraged and invited to come to the First Presbyterian Church for this unique and interesting program.

JFK's library finally dedicated

BOSTON (AP) — Sixteen years after his death, John F. Kennedy's library was finally dedicated Saturday in a moving celebration of the slain president's memory.

John F. Kennedy Jr., not quite 3 years old when his father was assassinated, passed the keys to the library to President Carter, who shared the podium with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and other members of the family.

Carter remembered the slain president as a man who "summoned our nation out of complacency and set it on a path of excitement and hope."

Behind the speakers rose the gleaming concrete and glass building that holds the memorabilia, papers and other reminders of the Kennedy Library. The John F. Kennedy Library sits at the water's edge on Columbia Point, a former city dump that juts into Boston Harbor.

Edward Kennedy said his brother "would have loved this site and the library his family and friends and country have built to celebrate his life."

The speeches were delivered on a warm Indian summer morning before 7,000 guests, many of them political appointees and former Cabinet members who shared power with John Kennedy.

Among them were former Secretary of State Dean Rusk, former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and John Kenneth Galbraith, Kennedy's ambassador to India.

Edward Kennedy likened the building to a lighthouse, the same imagery used by the architect, I.M. Pei. "For the great and humble in other lands, it will be a beacon signaling the message of this nation," he said. "A lighthouse bearing witness to Jack's truth that America at its best can truly light the world."

Carter said the building was like a great cathedral, because it took so long to build. "But it more than justifies the wait," he said. "Its grace and dignity are worthy of the man whose memory it will nurture."

Edward Kennedy said that despite the 14 years between them, he and John Kennedy had a special bond. "He taught me to ride a bicycle, to throw a forward pass, to sail against the wind."

John Kennedy Jr., 18, a freshman at Brown University, was introduced at the ceremony by his sister, Caroline, 21.

State's top legal officer watching Clements squirm

By JIM DAVIS
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — In Washington, D.C., the attorney general is appointed by the President and plays on his team. In Texas, the attorney general is elected by the voters and usually plays hardball against the governor.

Mark White illustrated that distinction last week when he happily filed suit against SEDCO, the drilling company founded by Gov. Bill Clements, for its role in Mexico's Gulf oil spill.

In comparison, the U.S. Justice Department last week announced a special counsel had found no evidence of crimes involving President Carter's family peanut business. The attorney general had appointed a Republican as investigator to avoid any claims of a cover-up.

That precaution wouldn't be necessary in Texas. Here, few attorneys general have gone out of their way to protect governors, even when they belonged to the same party.

The state's top legal officer is too much of a stepping stone to the Governor's Mansion for there to be any warm feelings between the governor and the attorney general.

Remember the hatred between Democrats Dolph Briscoe and John Hill when they were governor and attorney general, respectively? Briscoe knew Hill was a threat, and Hill proved it by defeating the incumbent in the 1978 Democratic primary.

That little feud may be remembered as brotherly love compared to the Clements-White battle. Hill was just a dissident within the Briscoe-led Democratic party, an ambitious politician with a super-ego who decided he could beat the incumbent.

White is a top officeholder of a Democratic party that desperately wants to send Republican Clements back to Dallas, and many Democrats see White as the man to give him the shove.

Clements labels the suit against SEDCO and a Mexican drilling firm as politically inspired, of course. White denies that, of course.

White is keeping his role in the oil spill suit prominent but low key. He called in reporters and television cameras to announce the suit but ignored opportunities to attack Clements openly. That's politically smart.

Clements is in an embarrassing position regarding the oil spill. He denies any personal interest in the suit because he put all his SEDCO stock in a blind trust before taking office last January, but that's a weak argument. The trustees are unlikely to dispose of that stock before Clements leaves office and resumes control, and the governor's son currently runs the company.

White doesn't have to take political advantage of the situation overtly. He can just project an attitude of "Shucks, I'm just doing my job," and watch Clements squirm.

State Democratic Party Chairman Billy Goldberg is urging political analysts to go slow in calling Texas a two-party state just because it elected Republican Clements as governor last year.

In a recent interview with Harte-Hanks reporter Jackie Calmes, Goldberg said Republicans will have to wait two more years to find out how strong they really are.

"It would be pretty easy for a Republican to conclude that, 'Oh well, we now have a two-party state.' Frankly, I think they are smart enough not to conclude that. I think they have moved in that direction (of a two-party state), but I think the 1982 election will be much more crucial than '80 or '78," he said.

In the You-Can't-Win category, Gov. Clements and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby are calling for increasing the state gasoline tax because state income from that tax is dropping.

The income is dropping because Texans are using less gasoline these days, which we had been led to believe was desirable and patriotic.

The powerful highway lobby is worried because lower tax income means less money for highway construction and maintenance.

'Well-Site Geology' offered

The Permian Basin Graduate Center will offer "Well-Site Geology" Wednesday 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. at the PBGC Building, 105 W. Illinois, Midland, instructed by dr. Jack G. Elam.

Among the topics to be discussed in the class are: techniques of obtaining the best drilling samples; examination of drilling samples and evaluation of shows therein; drilling time plots and correlations; picking coring points; on site and lab examination of cores; use of core analysis for proper evaluation in conjunction with electrical logs; duties of well-site geologist on DST's; formation evaluation by hydrocarbon well logging techniques; and relative costs of various methods of well evaluation.

Dr. Elam received his A.B. and M.A. degree in geology from U.C.L.A. and his Ph.D. from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He has been on the faculty at various academic institutions and is president of the Permian Basin Graduate Center. He has worked for both a major and an independent oil company, a firm of consultants, and has been Consulting Geologists since 1951.

Fee for the session is $30. For more information or registration call 563-2311 or 683-2832.

WHY SHOULD YOU CONSULT A PHYSICIAN?

Because you know a physician has to spend so many years at a medical school and internship in a hospital that he has knowledge about diseases and their treatment that you could not gain. Because, when everyone but a physician selects a medicine to take, they usually do not treat the cause of the trouble but only try to stop the pain or discomfort. Similar symptoms are often present in differing medical problems. A physician, aided by new diagnostic techniques, x-rays, urinalysis, etc., can find out what is causing your trouble and prescribe the one particular medicine he decides is best for you. That is why, if self-treatments do not help immediately, it is wise to go to a physician before a possible serious disease can develop.

12,840 visitors lured by Heritage Museum

Webb Air Force Base has been closed for two years so, obviously, Big Spring visitors aren't coming just to see their sons graduate.

According to Heritage Museum Curator Gerri Atwell, tourist traffic in the museum has been unusually good this quarter. Thirty-five states have been represented several times over along with more than 75 Texas cities and towns and the countries of Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Ireland and France.

Total visitors registered this quarter at the museum were 3,396. Total for the year is 12,840 with three months left to go. The total includes 576 students from Marcy School and Jack and Jill, and the Library Reading Club.

The Taylor art show was well received, according to Mrs. Atwell, and drew 600 visitors during the two-day show. Susan Lewis, interim exhibits chairman, is credited with having done an excellent job of hanging and arranging the 63 paintings in limited space. Publicity was handled by Joe Pickle who prepared a taped narration and presented a slide show of Caylor paintings to service clubs and other groups.

Bee Zinn, chairman of the reception committee, hosted a party and furnished champagne while Jerry Worthy, first museum president, provided boutonnières for hosts and hostesses.

Janel Davis, president, presented Howard and Pauline Duff a plaque of appreciation for their interest and work in securing so many Caylor originals and reproductions for the museum at no cost to the museum.

Mrs. Duff was unable to attend the show. Response from the community was great, according to Mrs. Atwell. Following the show, she showed the slides to the Federal Retired Employees Association.

Seven new members and three renewal members have been signed up at the museum, bringing the membership total for the quarter to ten and the year's total to 356.

Seventy donations for memorials were received during the quarter and some 396 newsletters were mailed in October. The Heritage Museum has received its bulk rate mailing permit.

Beware of the con man's sales pitch

Con artists prey on people of all ages, but they specialize in duping the aged.

For some reason not quite clear, the senior citizens are most vulnerable to the schemes tried by the unscrupulous. It could be that the old were raised in times when it was considered that a man's word was as good as his bond. Some say greed plays a factor in the success of any con game — a person advanced in years wants to score big in what time he or she has left on this earth and is attentive to any get-rich-quick plan, if the scheme is cleverly arranged.

THE CROOKS who prey on the poor and the elderly are the most despicable people of all. Without conscience, they take from people who simply cannot afford it.

Some of the better con artists have been busy in this part of the country in recent months. Posing as representatives of the Social Security Administration, the crooks all too often bilk the aged out of their meagre funds. Invariably, they open their sales pitch by saying they are on the scene to "help." They promote confidence and a spirit of openness with the intended victim.

They speak in terms of arranging higher benefits. Especially vulnerable are those who have no income other than that provided by Social Security.

Many of the elderly who have not provided well enough for their retirement feel great concern for anything that has an effect on their checks, even if the suggested change amounts to only a few dollars.

Any recipient of a Social Security check approached by a stranger who expresses a great deal of interest in the amount of money the individual receives should call his or her nearest Social Security office about the matter. They should also ask for verification of the petitioner's credentials.

ON OCCASIONS, such callers have other reasons for getting inside a home. They use the visit to "case" a residence, seeing if there is anything worth stealing.

Social Security recipients have been known to fall victim, too, to swindlers who sell them unneeded or "supplementary" medical insurance. If such con artists make up with only the initial premium payment, they are that far ahead of the game.

Social Security Administrations who call on people at home don't mind being asked for credentials. They are supposed to carry such identification with them at all times. And such identification includes a picture of the proper owner.

Cherry Orchard Syndrome

Evans, Novak

WASHINGTON — Early this month at his retirement home in the Southern California desert surrounded by political advisers, Gerald R. Ford passed by his last real chance to run for president in 1980 — clearing away the unreality that has hovered over his party's nominating process.

Like so many critical political decisions, this one was not spelled out. Ford ended the meeting by merely saying he would re-examine the situation next spring — when it will be too late to do anything. Dreams of Jerry Ford returning to the White House may yet dance in the former president's mind, but scarcely in anyone else's.

THAT QUICKLY INTRODUCES reality for substantial numbers of Republican leaders who view the prospective nomination of Ronald Reagan with dismay. Now that the possibility of an easy rescue by Ford is gone, they face a long-odds struggle to stop Reagan that will require lots of skill and even more luck.

So apparently ends the Republican Cherry Orchard Syndrome for 1980. Journalist Murray Kempton once compared moderate Republicans fighting the inevitability of Barry Goldwater at the 1964 national convention to improvident Russian aristocrats fighting financial ruin in Chekov's "The Cherry Orchard." In both cases, they counted not on their own meager resources but on imaginary outside help that never arrived. For much of the subsequent 15 years of political decline, that has been the position of the moderates.

The Cherry Orchard Syndrome reappeared this year when anti-Reagan Republicans, instead of rolling up their sleeves for a candidate of their choice, waited for Ford. Even veteran South Carolina Republican Harry Dent, a former Nixon aide and an anti-Reagan conservative, was saying, "The man who will win the nomination has not yet entered the race." That could only mean Ford.

Ford was obviously anxious to be president again, but not to slug it out with Reagan in primaries. Thus, as we reported earlier, Ford's political counselors decided to put it to him squarely: If he wanted to stop Reagan, he must run in the primaries; if he wanted to run, he must begin now.

ATTENDING THE MEETING at Ford's Rancho Mirage home near Palm Springs were five operatives from his 1976 campaign: Rep. Richard Cheney of Wyoming, Ford's former chief of staff; Washington lawyer Dean Burch, former Republican national chairman and Nixon aide; Washington lawyer John Marsha, a former Virginia congressman and Ford aide; California political consultant Stuart Spencer; Michigan pollster Robert Teeter.

Nobody specifically urged the former president to run. But this course seemed favored at least by Spencer and Teeter, who suggested Ford could deliver a staggering blow to Reagan in the New Hampshire primary Feb. 26.

Ford responded by deciding not to decide: Let's wait until spring — after New Hampshire. It was a fuzzy way of saying no.

The impact was immediate. Spencer quietly passed the word on the political circuit to forget about Ford. The Bailey-Deardourff political consulting firm, which handled Ford's 1976 campaign and was ready to do the same in 1980, entered serious negotiations to join Sen. Howard Baker's campaign instead. And in Columbia, S.C., Harry Dent changed his tune.

Pills can help dry mouth

Paul G. Donohue, M.D.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I've had this problem of too much salivation for about five years. I've been to three different doctors for my trouble. Two of them gave me the tablet Polaramine and the other gave me Pro-Banthine. These helped, but were not a cure. Over the year they became expensive.

Now I'd like to know what kind of a doctor to go to who might help find a cause of my problem and cure it. — Mrs. R.H.B.

Do you mind if I use the technical term for excess salivation? It's a ptyalism (TIE-a-lism). I like those words that begin with a "P" that is not pronounced. Sometimes drugs lie behind this problem, especially those containing iodides or potassium. Infections of the mouth (as pyorrhea or tooth abscess) can cause it. You might consult an ear-nose-throat specialist (otolaryngologist). (Those folks should really do something about that name).

The Polaramine is an antihistamine, one effect of which is to cause drying of the mouth. The Pro-Banthine is a different class of drug. It also causes the mouth to become dry.

Dear Dr. Donohue: How long does it take for an ulcer to grow to maturity? I am talking about a duodenal ulcer. Does it take a month, a year, five years, or what? Please write something about ulcers. — P.J.

An ulcer is an ulcer no matter how "mature" it is. If one is not treated it gets worse. Thus, ulcers may get bigger or smaller, but, unlike boils, they are not said to "mature."

A duodenal ulcer is the same as an ulcer anywhere else. An ulcer is simply the loss of covering tissue.

Laymen usually associate the word ulcer exclusively with the problem in the stomach or the duodenum (the first part of the small intestine just beyond the stomach). But ulcers can develop in the skin, the eye, or the urinary bladder, to give a few examples.

Ulcer of the duodenum means that some of the lining in that part of the intestine has eroded. How long this erosion goes on before it creates obvious trouble varies. But once the lining is gone, it's an ulcer, no matter how big or small.

A duodenal ulcer heals much like one of the skin does. A scab forms and a new surface lining grows back. A small scar remains, just as on the skin.

The time involved in healing also varies depending on how soon an ulcer is detected and how effective treatment is. There's a fuller discussion of treatment in the booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For a copy send 25 cents to me in care of the Big Spring Herald to cover costs of printing and handling. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dr. Donohue: What can you tell a young man of 80 about a slow-beating heart? Mine varies between 36 and 42 beats a minute. I'm 5 feet, 10 inches and weigh about 150. Blood pressure is OK, I don't drink or smoke. I've had two blackouts in the last two months. — W.Z.

For a man of your age, who has had two "blackouts" in the last two months, and who has a heart rate of 36-42, I'd say it's time to take the next step. It certainly sounds like you could stand a heart pacemaker to speed up your heart rate. This is not a big operation and you should inquire about it.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Since coffee contains caffeine, a notorious stimulant drug, could withdrawal from coffee, as when it is restricted suddenly in your diet, cause withdrawal symptoms like any other drug withdrawal? — J.G.D.

Sure. The idea is for the person suffering symptoms of withdrawal, as headaches, to taper off gradually.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am a 22-year-old newlywed. My husband tells me I grind my teeth during the night. I don't know if I did it before my marriage because I've never had to sleep with anyone! But my father used to grind his teeth in the night so loudly that it would wake us kids up. What causes people to do this? My husband is losing sleep and I'm getting worried. — L.L.

The two most common causes of bruxism are anxiety and malocclusion of the teeth. Your dentist can fashion for you a soft device to wear over the teeth at nighttime to protect them.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Is rheumatism peliosis the same as rheumatic fever and can it cause a heart murmur? — L.M.

The correct medical name is peliosis rheumatica, also called "Schonlein's disease." It has nothing to do with rheumatic fever, but it's easy to see how the word "rheumatica" would throw you off.

This illness (peliosis rheumatica) is characterized by an allergic skin rash and redness along with swelling and itching. There is also joint pain and swelling (where the word rheumatica comes into it).

Peliosis rheumatica usually is what is called "self-limiting," meaning it subsides on its own, usually in from one to six weeks. Very rarely the kidneys may be affected, but not the heart or the heart valves, which may be damaged in rheumatic fever.

Many medical words and combinations of words sound alike and I'm sure give rise to similar confusions among patients.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My boyfriend says that if I really loved him I would let him have sex with me, and that there is nothing wrong with it as long as we love each other. I have not been brought up that way, but wonder if maybe I should give in to him. — J.F.

DEAR J.F.: No, you should not. I commend you for your high principles, and you should stick to them. There are several reasons for this.

One reason, of course, is that your principles are right. In God's eyes it would be wrong for you to give in to your boyfriend. Sex is a marvelous gift God has given us, and in His design it is to be used only within the commitment of marriage. It is far too wonderful an expression of love to be given away cheaply. "It is God's will that you should be holy; that you should avoid sexual immorality; that each of you should learn to control his own body in a way that is holy and honorable, not in passionate lust like the heathen, who do not know God" (1 Thessalonians 4:3-5).

There are other reasons why you should not give in. For example, you should be careful about allowing the physical side of your relationship to become so important that it crowds out other parts of your relationship. This can happen very easily, even to the point that physical attraction may blind you to potential problems in your relationship. There is much more to marriage than sex, and you need to use the time of courtship to get to know a person's personality in all kinds of ways.

There is also another concern. From what you indicate, your boyfriend is apparently not a Christian. I believe the Bible (as well as experience) teaches us that a Christian should not knowingly marry a non-Christian. At this stage in your life you need God's guidance. If you have never fully committed your life to Christ, I urge you to do so.

For Dead Bank Robbers
A $5,000 reward will be given to any person who kills someone committing a robbery in the bank. No reward will be paid for the apprehension of a live bank robber.

Fake oil shortage?

WASHINGTON — French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing is already in "la soupe" over charges that he accepted diamonds from "Emperor" Bokassa I, the deposed bloody-handed dictator of what is once again the Central African Republic.

What may get d'Estaing even deeper in the bouillabaisse is his friendly relationship with another dictatorship, however. There is disturbing evidence that the French president has been covering up the murder of two French nuns by the secret police of the military junta that rules Argentina.

OUR SOURCES TELL US that d'Estaing was personally informed by a high Argentine official last June that the two nuns, who were arrested by Argentine security agents almost two years ago, were in fact dead. Yet d'Estaing never made this information public, despite the fact that the nuns' disappearance was a "cause celebre" in the French press.

The nuns, Sisters Alice Domon and Leonie Duquet, were kidnapped in December 1977, for taking part in activities protesting the human rights abuses of the Argentine military dictatorship, which has systematically kidnapped, tortured and murdered thousands of Argentines suspected of opposing the autocratic regime.

Sister Alice was seized in Buenos Aires on Dec. 8, 1977, along with a group of Argentinian women who had met to discuss placing a newspaper ad about their missing sons and daughters. Two days later, Sister Leonie was abducted.

DESPITE REPEATED INQUIRIES from Catholic church authorities and the French government, there was no word from the Argentine government on the missing nuns. Our sources claim they were murdered by the junta's security agents — and the Argentine official's admission to d'Estaing lends credence to this belief.

Yet the French president has said nothing about the Argentine official's admission that the nuns were dead. One reason for his silence may be that he is reportedly planning an official visit to Argentina, and the revelation that the nuns were dead would undoubtedly cause such a public outcry in France that d'Estaing might have to call off his trip.

The sordid root of d'Estaing's reluctance to dispense the junta and risk damage to Franco-Argentine relations, apparently is money. French investment in Argentina has been booming since the military seized control of the unhappy country in 1976. Even more importantly, France has become probably the biggest source of armaments for the South American dictatorship, according to the Washington-based Council on Hemispheric Affairs (COHA).

NAPOLEON REFERRED contemptuously to the English as a nation of shopkeepers, but the French have proven themselves no slouches when it comes to turning a franc. After the United States cut off arms shipments to Argentina because of the dictatorship's atrocious record on human rights, France moved in with true Gallic élan.

Official government records show that from 1968 to 1977, France sold only $30 million in military equipment to Argentina. But from early 1977 to early 1979, French munitions makers sold a whopping $400 million worth of armaments to Argentina.

Footnote: A French Embassy spokesman in Washington told our associate Gary Cohn that a high Argentine source did indeed inform the French government — unofficially — that the two nuns were probably dead. But he insisted that no hard evidence was provided, so there is still a slim hope that the nuns are still alive. The embassy spokesman explained that the best way to protect French citizens in Argentina is to stay on good terms with the Argentine government — a haunting echo of the attitude that led to the humiliation of France by another dictatorship four decades ago.

DANGEROUS DUST: For seven years, shipyard workers on the Gulf Coast of Louisiana served as unwitting guinea pigs for two Tulane University doctors, who sat by and took notes on men inhaling dangerous silica dust instead of trying to prevent them from developing deadly silicosis.

The study, by Drs. Morton Ziskind and Hans Weill of Tulane's medical school, was funded by the federal government.

Dr. John Froines, deputy director of the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, called the $174,847 federal grant to study "poorly protected sandblasters" — as the Tulane doctors candidly called their subjects — "one of the saddest chapters of the agency's history."

Froines told us, "Instead of taking the position that exposure to silica dust should be controlled, they were performing experiments on the men." Froines said, "we had ethical problems with that study," and the agency cut off the doctors' funds in 1974. Much of the credit for the cutoff belongs to Dr. William Johnson, who was acting deputy director of the agency's field studies in 1973.

JOHNSON FOUND that sandblasters and other shipyard workers were exposed to dust that exceeded federal safety standards by 1,000 times. And it was no ordinary dust. The content of "free silica" — the agent that causes silicosis — was a sky-high 90 percent.

Johnson alerted Louisiana health officials to the danger. Their reply was that they hoped the Tulane study would find a solution "protective of the workers without the sacrifice of important industrial operations."

National Association of Life Underwriters convinced

FTC is dangerous to your life insurance

By EILEEN McGUIRE "The National Association of Life Underwriters has determined that the FTC is dangerous to your life insurance," reads a pamphlet that is being distributed by life insurance agents.

The pamphlet, published by the National Association of Life Underwriters, is a reply to the Federal Trade Commission's claim that term life insurance is the best buy.

According to agent Ed Alford of Abilene, guest speaker at the Oct. 18 noon meeting of the local Life Underwriters Association...

Underwriters Association meeting, a report that was not approved by the FTC was given by FTC staff to a reporter in Washington, D.C. That report quickly made national headlines and indicated that the Federal government was informing the public that term insurance is a better buy than whole life.

"We're not in this business to get rich," Alford told local members. "If we are, then we're in the wrong business."

"The report refers to lovely commissions. Lovely commissions? Don't they realize that our commissions never increase?"

"I've yet to see when term insurance is a better deal," FTC's advice, according to the pamphlet, "may prove excellent in some cases; however, it can prove disastrous for the person who either lives beyond the period of the term insurance (most term insurance expires at a certain age) and has no insurance at all when he dies, or lives so long that the premiums for the term insurance (they increase with age) grow so high that he can no longer afford them and is thus forced to lapse his insurance."

"Curiously enough, while one government agency — the FTC — seems to be urging people to buy term insurance because it is cheaper, another government agency — the Veterans Administration — has recognized the danger inherent in over-reliance on term insurance and advises veterans 'The effect on our term policyholders of the steep insurance premium increases required at the older ages has been of great concern to both the Veterans Administration and the Congress.'"

The V.A. is encouraging its policy holders to consider converting to whole life due to term's increasing premiums, according to the pamphlet and Alford. Alford also spoke in regards to the 1980 presidential election and voiced concern over a national health insurance program supported by Ted Kennedy.

He said that it is estimated that the program would cost $45 billion a year.

"That's $350 for each family in addition to paying social security," he said. He said that in England and other nations where a national insurance program is in operation, some patients must wait six to eight months for surgery.

Alford stated, "85.9 percent of American families now have insurance. Mr. Kennedy wants to spend $45 billion to cover 10 percent of the population."

"Regardless of what the federal government says, we help other people," said Alford. "We create money for other people. If we do well enough, we may create some for ourselves."

Alford encouraged local insurance agents to encourage the support of LUPAC (Life Underwriters Political Action Committee) which has opposed a restriction on the amount of political contributions.

In other business at the Thursday meeting, local agent Walter Stroup was presented a National Sales Achievement Award by member Ray Weir as well as 25-year National Quality Award plaques. The plaques recognize Stroup as having qualified for the National Quality Award for 25 years.

Membership chairman Stroup reported that there are currently 26 paid members in the local association. Larry Sheppard was welcomed as an incoming associate member.

Also present at the meeting was Sandra Rhodes, an R.N. and paramedic who will be working with the group in performing physical examinations for clients.

John Bennett, president, presided over the business meeting and urged members to watch the Phil Donahue Show Nov. 9, 9 a.m., on NBC when Thomas Wolfe, president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, will present a rebuttal to a previous show that was hostile to insurance agents.

Conservatives pacing migration to Texas

By JACK CALMES
Harris-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — About a million persons moved to Texas from other states during the past decade, and their numbers mean not just quantity but also quality for the state, several population experts say.

A recent U.S. Commerce Department report on Sunbelt migration generalized, "The movers are likely to be younger and better educated than those left behind — a greater loss to the area of origin than the mere numbers would imply."

In Texas, the gain is being shared by all areas as significant numbers of out-of-staters settle in places other than Houston and Dallas, various data show.

The typical new Texan is a white-collar conservative — "the Houston corporate type" — Austin pollster John Henson says. Migration of blue-collar workers so far has been less significant, he says.

Polster V. Lance Tarrance, whose Houston firm has studied that area's phenomenal growth for political candidates, says the new arrivals are better educated than the average Texan.

"There's no doubt about that," he says. "Therefore, they have to be what we call upscale. Politically, they are more moderate to conservative."

Arrivals of the past five years are generally middle- and lower-management persons in their twenties or early thirties — younger than those who came just before them, Tarrance says.

"The first wave of new Texans that came in — particularly in the early seventies — were older upper-management officials, 50-ish and above — corporate vice president types."

Small merchants and industry employees followed. They come to Texas because of its growth and are not themselves a cause of the growth, Tarrance says.

Blue-collar workers have been coming all along, he says, but they have been overlooked in the attention given white collar movers.

In addition, many retirees also are drawn to Texas, mainly by its climate, University of Texas government professor David Perry says.

Perry, an author of several books on Sunbelt migration, says many retirees are part of "an old boy military network." They settle mainly in the Rio Grande Valley and Gulf Coast areas, such as Corpus Christi, where they may have served and where they can enjoy year-round recreation.

UT researcher Thomas R. Plaut, in a copyrighted article in the recent Texas Business Review magazine, estimates that from 1967 through 1977 the state attracted an average of 94,300 persons a year. That is 38 times the annual average of 2,500 he says moved here from 1950 to 1967.

He predicts Texas will continue its above-average growth, particularly in rural areas and smaller urban areas, despite a slight decline since the peak year of 1975 — when 142,000 persons came here from other states.

The above-cited Commerce Department study shows that Southern and Western states gained 1,385,000 in population from migration from 1975 through 1978. In comparison, 1,386,000 persons left the Northeastern and North Central states.

Another Commerce Department study, this one using workers' Social Security records for 1970 through 1976, shows that almost 40 percent of the wage earners who moved to Texas in that period came from 21 Northern states.

Slightly fewer, 37.9 percent, came from 15 Southern states and Washington, D.C. Workers from 11 Western states accounted for about 23 percent, with more than half of those coming from California. Hawaii and Alaska are not included in the data.

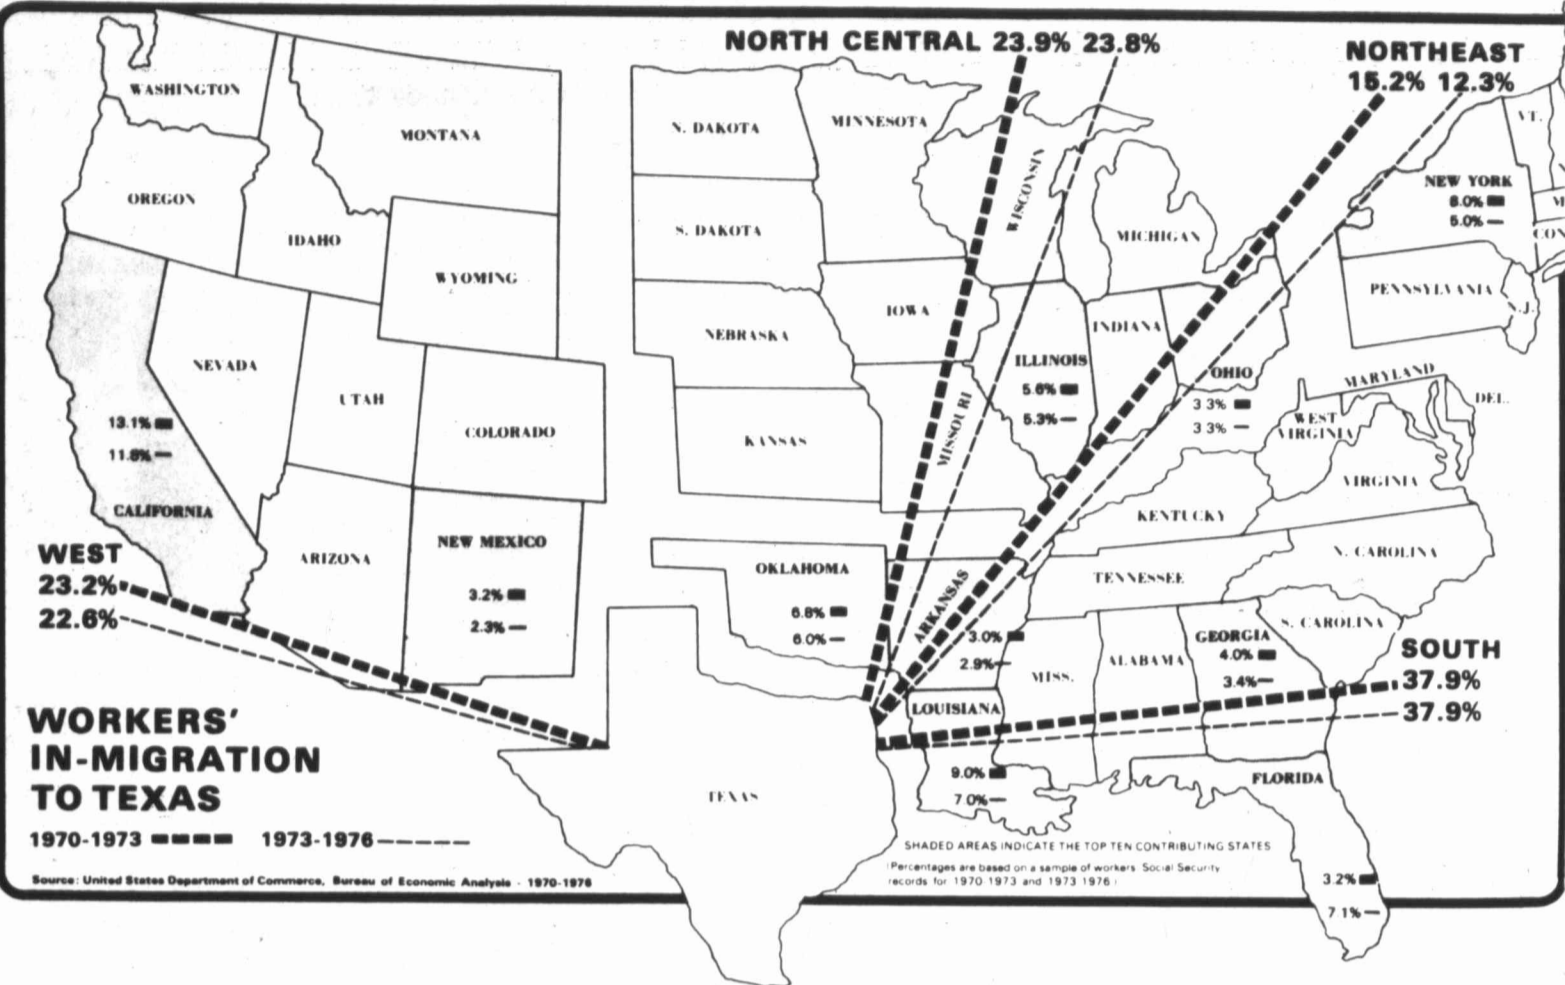

California, itself a top magnet for mobile Americans, was Texas' number one source of new citizens, contributing more than 12 percent. Only three northern states — New York, Illinois and Ohio — are in the top ten.

Other states in the top ten are Texas neighbors Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas and New Mexico, and fellow Sunbelt states Florida and Georgia.

Plaut's magazine article points out two ways that Texas' migration differs from national patterns. First, although nationwide there is a swift to small cities and rural areas at the expense of big cities, Texas metropolitan areas continue growing faster than other areas of the state, although the city-country growth gap is narrowing.

Second, Plaut says, Texas has bucked a trend related to hard economic times: "While Americans tend to be less mobile during recessions because of the decline in job opportunities, net migration into Texas actually increased during the 1974-1975 recession."

"This is because economic conditions were so much better in Texas than they were in the rest of the country," he says when Texas' population began to take off in the late 1960s, growth from migration was limited primarily to the Houston and Dallas-North Texas regions. Although North Texas has continued to attract out-of-staters, rates have fallen below 1960s levels.

Scholarships helping ease 'college crunch'

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite rising college costs — this year up 9 percent over 1978 — middle-income parents may find the burden of putting their children through college somewhat eased, says the head of an organization that tracks down sources of financial aid through a computer information bank.

"In addition to scholarships, some long-overdue relief is now provided by the passage of the Middle Income Assistance Act," says S. Robert Freede, president of Scholarship Search, which has been locating funds for students since 1972.

This marks the first time the federal government has offered economic aid to parents of college-bound youngsters where the parents' income does not exceed $25,000.

"It's a step that has been applauded by most student financial aid experts," agrees Mary Ann Maxin, financial aid director of the Student Assistance Council, a financial counseling group. "But the grant may not exceed $1,800 a year, an amount that doesn't cover half a year's tuition — even at state-supported colleges and universities where average tuition costs are up to $3,500 as opposed to $3,000 last year.

"Parents can make life easier on themselves," she advises, "by utilizing the new federal program along with a resource tool for locating scholarships."

More than 75 percent of the nation's college students are on some sort of financial aid package, according to Ms. Maxin. The typical package, she says, is one-third scholarship, one-third grant and one-third workstudy.

Even so, Freede points out, much available scholarship money goes unclaimed. "Last year a staggering total of $135 million in student financial aid went begging because parents didn't know where — or how — to look," says the previously retired businessman who founded Scholarship Search when he was confronted with the high cost of educating his own three college-age children.

"Today, when parents are hit with a nearly 10 percent increase per year in costs of a college education, that figure becomes even more alarming," he adds. Most parents think that their children aren't bright enough — or poor enough — to qualify and consequently they just don't even bother to look for money, Freede explains.

"But there is real gold there," he points out. "Scholarships are available for religious affiliation, union groups, major areas of study, professional associations."

While it does not guarantee that financial aid will be granted, the search group claims a success rate of 40 percent.

"Our computer, which matches individual need with student eligibility, has more than 250,000 source items, representing more than $500 million in student financial aid resources," Freede says.

Fun fund revealed

DOWNNEY, Idaho (AP) — Marsh Valley Junior High principal Ron Jolley has a system that gives students an alternative to vandalism — a party.

Jolley says that when vandalism — a party began to get out of hand, he told students at the start of the next school year he was putting $300 into a fund.

Vandalism to school property was to be repaired from the fund, and any money left at the end of the school year would be used for a party.

Last spring, students had nearly $150 for their party.

A big thermometer is displayed at Marsh Valley Junior High hallways showing the level of the vandalism fund.

Jolley says students have gained more pride in their building and students appear more involved in the effort to cut vandalism.

Jolley says no school can end vandalism. "There are always a few who enjoy inflicting damage," he said. "Slowing it down is about all any school can do."

Yes, he's running

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Former Gov. Dan Evans says he doesn't care what any poll might say, he's going to run — in the third annual reunion governor's invitational two-mile run.

Announcement of his participation came from Supreme Court Justice James Dolliver, corresponding secretary for the event, who said:

"In response to a query from your secretary our beloved leader said: 'Yes, I will run.'"

"Here, indeed, is a man for our times. Without a moment's hesitation, with no regard for public opinion polls and with no fear of the future he said, and I repeat once again that marvelous response: 'Yes, I will run.'"

Evans, president of The Evergreen State College, is normally accompanied on the run by former political associates, agency heads and members of the capital press corps.

This year's run is scheduled for Oct. 31 at the Stevens Field track in Olympia.

BSSH vol elected state council chief

Mrs. John (Lexen) Weaver of Midland, a member of the Big Spring State Hospital Volunteer Services Council, was honored at the recent meeting of the Volunteer Services State Council for the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, by her election to the office of chairman of the organization.

Mrs. Weaver was installed to a one-year term during the closing session of the Corpus Christi gathering of volunteers. Her past involvement with volunteer activities in the mental health field includes serving as vice-chairman of the Wichita Falls State Hospital Volunteer Services Council and as chairman of the Public Responsibility Committee at Wichita Falls. State-wide office is not new to Mrs. Weaver as she has served two years as vice-chairman of Region II and two years as secretary. Following her family's move to Midland, she became involved with the Volunteer Services Council for Big Spring State Hospital as a representative of the Public Responsibility Committee.

A native of West Texas, Mrs. Weaver is from Lamesa where she graduated from high school. Later, she attended Texas Tech University at Lubbock. She is married to John Weaver, a petroleum engineer with Texaco and they are the parents of four children.

When asked the purpose of the Volunteer Services State Council, Mrs. Weaver explained, "The purpose is to explore and develop new areas of volunteer services to benefit the clients in twenty-eight state schools and hospitals. We act as an advisory group in matters of standards governing volunteer services statewide, and we act as a clearing house for information to local Councils. We are responsible also for information concerning the impact and effectiveness of the volunteer programs. The Council provides information to citizens of Texas so they may know how their mental health and mental retardation tax dollars are spent. Perhaps our main purpose, however, is to endeavor to establish strong ties between the twenty-seven Volunteer Councils and the 12,000 volunteers who belong to these Councils and make up the membership of the State Council."

In addition to Mrs. Weaver, BSSH Volunteer Services Council was represented at the meeting by 15 volunteers from Midland, Lamesa, Colorado City and Big Spring as well as four staff members. Those attending were: Mari Tidmore, Tup Ferguson and Geri Collins from Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Howard McSpadden, Jr. and W.E. Womack from Lamesa; Dona Reed, Della Fox and Minnie Howell of Colorado City; and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, Dolores Norred, Doris Day, Jo An Monson and Gene Puckett of Big Spring. Hospital staff members attending were: Shirley Shroyer, Randy Huey, and Sonya Swindell of the Volunteer staff and Grace R. Ferguson, MD., M.P.H., BSSH superintendent.

The meeting attracted volunteers from throughout the state and featured workshops on improving volunteer programs for state facilities serving the mentally ill and mentally retarded citizens of Texas. "This year's meeting was exceptionally informative and enjoyable," commented Mrs. Swindell, Circuit Rider Program Director at BSSH.

Guerrillas assassinate commander

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Guerrillas assassinated a top military commander and blew up two power plants as the nation's largest leftist group prepared to defy the new junta with a mass demonstration today in the capital city of San Salvador.

Gunmen ambushed Col. Tadeo Martell, the armed forces inspector general, as he left his home Friday morning, an official source said. Martell died at a hospital several hours after the shooting.

The assassins scattered leaflets at the scene claiming guerrillas of the Farabundo Marti Popular Liberation Forces were responsible for the shooting. It is one of several leftist groups fighting to install a Marxist government in this Central American nation.

Guerrillas also claimed responsibility for bombings Friday that destroyed the Mascota and Cucumacayan power plants on the outskirts of the capital as groups of masked youths torched 11 buses on city streets. Another power plant serving the capital was destroyed by a guerrilla bomb Thursday night.

Today's demonstration was called by the Popular Revolutionary Bloc despite an official ban on public gatherings.

The bloc, an organization of peasants and workers that claims a membership of 30,000, has vowed to fight the new junta which seized power Monday in a bloodless coup, toppling the military-backed regime of President Carlos Humberto Romero.

The junta, with two military officers and three civilians, has appealed for an end to political violence and promised economic and social reforms and eventual elections.

Most leftist leaders claim it is "nothing more than substituting new faces in the old regime." But in a surprise move Friday, two Marxist guerrilla groups — the February 28 Popular Leagues and the People's Revolutionary Army — announced support for the new government.

"The junta has shown goodwill and we are not going to fight it. The burning of buses this morning and the bombing of three power plants were actions that could not be called off. But we are not going to repeat them," said a Popular Leagues spokesman, who asked not to be identified.

"Political conditions are changing and there must be accommodation because insurrection can fail," the spokesman said. He said he also spoke for the People's Revolutionary Army, an affiliated organization.

Degree mills in Texas draws fresh fire

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The director of certification for the Texas University and College Coordinating Board says a proposed action would give the board more control over out-of-state schools operating Texas campuses.

The board Friday gave first approval to an action withdrawing its recognition of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. Schools accredited by the association previously had been allowed to open Texas campuses without coordinating board approval.

The action requires a second vote before it becomes final.

Pepperdine University of California — which has campuses in Houston, Dallas and Canyon — is the only Western Association-accredited university now operating Texas campuses.

The board also was told Friday that the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools has approved a revised agreement Under the new agreement the board will accompany North Central Association officials on visits to Texas campuses of schools with association accreditation.

The board had threatened to withdraw recognition of the North Central Association. The association accredits three out-of-state schools in Texas — including Antioch University. The Ohio-based university, faced with investigation by Texas officials last week announced the closing of its Mission, Austin and San Antonio campuses.

The action against the Western Association and the new agreement with the North Central Association was spurred by board members concern about the out-of-state operations.

Board member Wayne Thomas of Hereford said tighter control is needed "so we will not have degree mills in Texas where out-of-state institutions are selling degrees."

Calvert said the problem is that board officials had no way of knowing what the out-of-state schools were doing on their Texas campuses.

110 blacks pay $125 to eat with Clements

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The 110 black businessmen and educators who paid $125 to eat lunch with Gov. Bill Clements and hear him speak through a tiny sound system considered it an honor, according to the master of ceremonies of the luncheon.

The Friday event was billed as the first meeting of the Black Advisory Council — a council the governor's office calls a "bi-partisan group" set up "to advise the governor on matters of concern to the black community."

"You got the cream of the crop... the top businessmen in the state and they all are paying for the privilege of supporting the governor," said Tony Davis, the Dallas advertising executive who was master of ceremonies.

While the governor's office billed it as the first in a series of meetings aimed at staying in touch with the black community. Pat Oles of the Clements' campaign organization said the luncheon was a fundraiser.

Joe Kirven, a Clements' administrative assistant, said the money would be used for council expenses — and to help pay off Clements' campaign debt. Hotel officials said the lunch coast about $15 per person.

Kirven called his boss "the greatest governor the state has ever had." He told the black leaders, "You had a hand in (his election). You will serve as his advisory council."

Clements told his supporters he wants to see better opportunity for small and minority businessmen in Texas.

Cougars batter Ponies

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston quarterback Delrink Brown fueled a 20-point first quarter — aided by four Southern Methodist fumbles — with a 7-yard touchdown run and 9-yard touchdown pass to key the 5th-ranked Cougars to a 37-10 Southwest Conference football victory Saturday night.

It was a drastic turnaround from two years ago when the Mustangs scored 20 points in the final 39 seconds to beat the Cougars in the Astrodome.

In this game, three of UH's five first-half scoring plays followed SMU turnovers.

Brown hit Lonell Phea with a 62-yard bomb on the second play of the game to set up a 29-yard field goal by Ken Hatfield before the Mustangs started their fumbling act.

Receiver James Collier fumbled first and UH defensive end Sam Proctor recovered at the SMU 19. Three plays later Brown ran 9 yards untouched for the first Cougar touchdown.

SMU fumbled three of the next four times it got the ball and Houston added 10 more points on a 39-yard field goal by Hatfield and Brown's 9-yard touchdown pass to Terald Clark with 1:19 left in the opening quarter.

The Cougars, ranked eighth nationally in rushing, capped their first half with a 24-yard touchdown run by backup quarterback Terry Elston.

SMU linebacker Byron Hunt grabbed a fumble by Alan Polk in midair and ran 25 yards in the second quarter for SMU's only touchdown. Eddie Garcia kicked a 45-yard field goal for SMU in the third period.

Hatfield added a school-record-tying third field goal with a 37-yard boot in the third quarter and backup fullback David Barrett rammed 2 yards early in the fourth quarter to complete the UH rout.

The loss, SMU's third in a row, dropped the Ponies to a 3-3 record overall and 2-2 in SWC games. The Cougars are 3-0 in the SWC and 6-0 for the year, equaling their best start in history.

SMU quarterback Jim Bob Taylor hit Collier with passes of 24 and 11 yards to set up Garcia's third-quarter field goal by the Ponies never could overcome the sluggish first quarter when they had the ball for only 10 offensive plays.

Collier's fumble came after he had caught a pass from Taylor. Houston's John Newhouse ran 12 yards on the first play and Clark gained 2 more before Brown's touchdown run.

SMU's Mitchell Bennett fumbled the next two Cougar punts. Hatfield missed a 51-yard field goal try and converted a 39-yarder after Bennett's second fumble. Lawrence Woods and Donnie Love recovered the fumbles.

White rips Notre Dame

(Related picture 2-B)
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — All-American Charles White rushed for a career-high 261 yards Saturday and decided one of college football's greatest individual ground-gaining duels with four short second-half touchdown runs that sparked fourth-ranked Southern California to a wild 42-23 victory over Notre Dame and record-setting Vagas Ferguson.

White surged past Terry Miller of Oklahoma State, Ted Brown of North Carolina State and Ed Marinaro of Cornell into third place on the all-time rushing charts with 4,796 yards. He carried 44 times, most ever for a running back against Notre Dame.

The 185-pound senior tailback who trails second-place Archie Griffin of Ohio State by 381 yards, scored on runs of 3 yards and 1 yard in the third quarter and put the game out of reach on a pair of 1-yard plunges in the final period.

White's third touchdown capped a furious 7½-minute stretch, in which the Trojans outscored ninth-ranked Notre Dame 21-3, as the two long-time inter-sectional powers combined for more than a combined 1,000 offensive yards.

His heroics overshadowed a 185-yard performance by Ferguson, who became Notre Dame's career rushing leader with a total of 2,847 yards.

Ferguson gained all his yardage in the first three periods and scored Notre Dame's first two touchdowns on runs of 1 yard and 21 yards.

Paul McDonald, Southern Cal's cool-hand quarterback, accounted for the Trojans' other touchdowns with 12-yard passes to Dan Garcia in the second period and Kevin Williams in the final quarter.

Wildcats are upset, 31-16

COMMERCE, Texas (AP) — Led by tailback Cary Noiel's two touchdowns, East Texas State delighted its homecoming crowd with a 31-point third-quarter explosion to blitz Abilene Christian 31-16 Saturday afternoon, in Lone Star Conference action.

Four ACU turnovers led directly to ETSU scores in that hectic third period, which featured Noiel's rushes, two Wade Wilson touchdown passes to Jim Morton and a Mike Munsch field goal.

Texas takes tumble

Aroused Porkers win

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Tight end Darryl Mason's tumbling touchdown reception and Ish Ordonez's vital fourth-quarter field goal carried the aroused, 10th-ranked Arkansas Razorbacks to a pulsating 17-14 upset of second-ranked Texas Saturday in a Southwest Conference meeting of the unbeaten.

Mason's spectacular third-quarter catch of a 7-yard pass from Kevin Scanlon and Ordonez's 31-yard field goal gave Arkansas just enough room to escape the Longhorns. It was Ordonez's 15th consecutive field goal — an NCAA record. With 1:29 to play, Texas charged to the Arkansas 33, where barefoot sophomore John Goodson's 51-yard field goal attempt was short into a 24-mile-an-hour wind.

With Arkansas leading 17-7, Texas sophomore tight end Lawrence Sampleton somehow caught a tipped, 35-yard pass from Donnie Little to pull Texas within the final margin with 5:01 left.

The frustrated Razorbacks, who hadn't beaten the Longhorns since 1971, shook off an early 37-yard touchdown run by Texas' A.J. "Jam" Jones to dominate the second half and send the stadium record crowd of 55,838 at War Memorial Stadium into delirium.

Freshman Gary Anderson of Columbia, Mo., gave the Razorbacks heart just before halftime when he bolted 28 yards for a touchdown to even the game 7-7.

The game-winner came after a critical Texas mistake when sophomore Ricky Richardson forced Little to fumble and another sophomore, Jeff Goff, covered it for Arkansas at the Horn 29.

Scanlon then passed 16 yards to Mason, who lost a shoe in the process. The Razorbacks worked the ball to the Texas 7. On third down, Scanlon found Mason all alone with a wobbly pass that Mason snagged at his shoetops as he rolled over in the end zone.

Then Arkansas iced the game against the second-best defense in the country by charging 66 yards in 16 clock-eating plays to set up Ordonez's 31-yard field goal with 8:25 to play.

Arkansas increased its overall record to 6-0 and the Razorbacks are 3-0 in SWC play. Previously unbeaten Texas dropped to 4-1 overall and is 1-1 in league play.

In Texas' last gasp, the Longhorns got the ball with 3:52 to play on their own 43. Arkansas seemed to have the drive stopped when Johnny "Lam" Jones made a leaping catch over the middle on fourth and 19. The play stood for 23 yards and Texas had a first down at the Arkansas 33.

The hard-pressing Arkansas defense forced three hurried incomplections before Goodson failed in his attempt to tie the game.

Arkansas took it to Texas starting with the first play of the game. With three wide receivers in the lineup and speedy Bobby Duckworth at tight end, Scanlon drove long down the middle and All-America safety Johnnie Johnson intercepted and returned it 24 yards to the Razorback 46.

Texas had to punt, but Anderson made the mistake of fielding the ball on his 1-yard line. Arkansas couldn't move and quick-kicked the ball to the Razorback 46.

The Longhorns had to settle for Goodson's 41-yard field goal attempt and it went wide.

Texas struck for a touchdown on its next possession. On second and 9 from the Arkansas 37, "Jam" Jones set sail wide with a pitch from Little. Jones turned the corner and followed a block by Leroy King on Trent Bryant to score standing up.

Arkansas battled back in the second period with the gusty wind at its back on a humid, 85-degree day.

Duckworth dropped a sure touchdown pass and Arkansas had to punt, but safety Kevin Evans made a leaping interception at the Longhorn 40. Anderson exploded on his 28-yard touchdown run with Robert Farrell chopping down on the back of Vance Bedford for the key block.

It was the first rushing touchdown allowed by Texas this year.

Tigers rip Kentucky

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Freshman Jessie Myles scored on a 1-yard run midway in the fourth quarter Saturday night to cap a Louisiana State comeback and give the Tigers a 23-19 Southeastern Conference Victory over stubborn Kentucky.

A fumble at the LSU 10-yard line by Shawn Donigan — Kentucky's first turnover of the game — set up the winning touchdown. Myles scored three plays later.

Kentucky, a two-touchdown underdog, twice tried to rally in the final five minutes, marching to the LSU 37 before Chris Jones fumbled and in the final two minutes moving to the Tigers 27 before falling two yards short of a first down.

A 20-point, second-half rally engineered by quarterback Steve Emsminger, offset a brilliant performance by Kentucky freshman quarterback Terry Henry who ran for one touchdown, passed for another and set up a third with his passing.

The victory boosted LSU to 4-2 overall and 2-1 in the SEC, while Kentucky fell to 2-4 and 1-1. LSU put together a pair of 80-yard drives late in the third quarter and early in the fourth after Kentucky had built a 19-3 lead. Emsminger's 3-yard run capped the second march.

McMurry is triumphant

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Dudley Woodard broke loose for touchdowns runs of 47 and 30 yards in a 80-second span during the final four minutes of play to give McMurry College a 41-24 football victory over Colorado College here Saturday.

Woodard rushed for 193 yards in 16 carries for game ground-gaining honors.

The Tigers had led 7-0 and 14-8 in early going on a 9-yard run by Pat Geonetta.

In Coetzee bout

Tate gains decision

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — Big John Tate, cautious early, used short punching and his great strength in the second half of the fight to score a unanimous 15-round decision over Gerrie Coetzee and win the World Boxing Association heavyweight championship Saturday night.

Tate, who came in at 240 pounds but had no problem handling the weight, showed great patience in the early rounds, trying to finesse Coetzee into mistakes. Then, beginning in the seventh round, Tate began scoring heavily to the body and the head, and took control of the fight to become the successor to the retired Muhammad Ali.

The fight between Tate, a black from Knoxville, Tenn., and Coetzee, a white South African, drew a paid crowd of 81,000 to the Loftus Vers-feld rugby stadium. Tate gave the crowd little to cheer about over the final rounds.

The fight, which was criticized by American civil rights groups because of South African racial policies — about 25 persons picketed the NBC building in New York Saturday — was watched by an integrated audience. However, the crowd was predominately white, ticket prices ranging from about $345 down to $12. It was the first time blacks were permitted to attend any sporting event in the stadium.

The fight, called by the Rand Daily Mail of Johannesburg, the nation's largest white newspaper, the most prestigious sports event in the history of this nation which has been barred from many areas of international sport, ended with Big John smiling broadly and Coetzee's manager, Hal Tucker and his wife, Rina, in tears.

Referee Carlos Barrocal of Panama scored it 147-144 for the 24-year-old Tate. Judges Ken Morita of Japan saw it 147-142 and judge Carlos Martinez Cassas of Argentina had it 148-145.

The Associated Press scored it for Tate 146-139. Tate has singlehandedly taken care of South Africa's attempt to climb onto an important international sports platform — the heavyweight championship. The former migrant worker stopped South African Kallie Knoetze in eight rounds last June 2 and now has taken care of Coetzee to gain a share of the title.

The World Boxing Council recognizes Larry Holmes of Easton, Pa., as the champion.

Promoter Bob Arum said he thought it possible that Tate and Holmes could fight in the fall of 1980 for universal title recognition. Arum said Tate's first WBA title defense could come in February against Mike Weaver, Scott LeDoux, Earnie Shavers, Ron Lyle or possibly Leon Spinks.

Coetzee, who weighed 222, forced the tempo in the early rounds as Tate was content to circle and faint. Then, in the third round, the 24-year-old South African landed a right hand to Tate's jaw. It was the kind of right that floored Spinks three times in Coetzee's one-round victory last June 24.

Coetzee's right buckled Tate's knees, but the man with legs like oak tree trunks, would not go down.

Tate's strategy obviously was to save himself for the later rounds.

He did the job well. "I feel super, man," said Tate. "I feel like the champion of the world."

Baylor sets all-time record in Army rout

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Walter Abercrombie rushed for 91 yards and scored two touchdowns as the Baylor Bears rolled up 612 yards on offense, an all-time school record, in defeating Army 55-0 Saturday.

Baylor, which gained 331 yards rushing and 281 passing, opened the scoring in the sixth minute of the first quarter, when quarterback Mike Brannan passed 51 yards to split end Robert Mitchell. Abercrombie then scored twice, on runs of 6 and 5 yards to give Baylor a 21-0 lead after the first quarter.

In the second period, quarterback Mickey Elam hit fullback Mike Lively over the middle for an 83-yard pass and run for a touchdown. Robert Bledsoe kick field goals of 34 and 22 yards before the half which ended Baylor 34-0.

In the second half, Baylor scored three more times with Dennis Gregory going around end for 20 yards, third-string quarterback Steve Smith passing 30 yards to Bo Taylor for a score and Smith scoring on a 5-yard run.

The 55 points was Baylor highest point total since 1929 and it was the Bears first shutout since 1972.

This was the fourth highest point total against Army and the highest since 1975 when Stanford got 67 points. The 55-point spread was Army's largest losing margin since 1973 when Notre Dame beat the Cadets 62-3.

Tide battles back

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Major Ogilvie raced for two third-period touchdowns as top-ranked Alabama, stymied early by four lost fumbles, overcame a 17-0 deficit and defeated No. 18 Tennessee 27-17 Saturday in a Southeastern Conference football game.

It was the 15th consecutive victory for the defending national champions, but it did not come easy.

Tennessee struck for two touchdowns and a field goal on three straight possessions to shock the Crimson Tide with an early 17-0 lead.

The total came against the nation's No. 1 defense against scoring, one that had allowed only nine points through five games.

Ogilvie's first touchdown, a 1-yard plunge with 9:40 left in the third quarter, came after Ricky Tucker intercepted a Jimmy Streater pass at the Tennessee 30. Ogilvie had raced 16 yards on the play before his touchdown that cut Tennessee's lead to 17-14.

The Crimson Tide came right back with a 70-yard drive that required 14 plays and 7½ minutes to take the lead with only five seconds left in the quarter on a 6-yard run by Ogilvie, who rushed for more than 100 yards on the hot, muggy afternoon.

The Tide put the game on ice with an 80-yard march early in the fourth quarter, which ended on Don Jacobs' 13-yard keeper with just over six minutes to play.

Midland Bulldogs shocked

ABILENE — The Abilene Eagles used a six-yard pass from quarterback Loyal Proffit to tailback Leo Parrish in the latter stages of the game to take a come from behind 13-10 win over the Midland Bulldogs in a District 5-AAAA game played here Friday night.

Midland had taken an early lead on a 23-yard pass from Bulldog quarterback Michael Feldt to wide receiver Russell Hasy, but Abilene rallied to tie the game at 7-7 before the intermission when Eagle fullback Willie Roberts bolted over from 15 yards out.

Midland then took a 10-7 lead in the third stanza when Bobby Stovall kicked a 21-yard field goal.

The game was also very close statistically, as Midland held a 13-12 lead in first downs, while Abilene had a 267-252 advantage in total offense.

The loss dropped Midland for the race for the district championship with a loop mark of 1-2 and a season record of 4-2, while Abilene is now 2-1 in District 5-AAAA competition and 3-3 on the season.

Lead fades, Grady loses

GRADY — Three-Way powered its way to a 48-14 victory over Grady here Friday night after Grady had grabbed an early lead.

Three-Way is now 5-1 on the season. Grady is 3-2-1. The Wildcats host Wellman next Friday.

Three-Way scored first in the opening period when James Simpson, a real wheelhorse all night, ran 50 yards across the double stripes. The try for point failed.

A pass from Ronald Chee to Allen Wagner, good for 24 yards, got Grady on the scoreboard and tied the count at 6-6. Jarry Key converted on a kick to send the Wildcats ahead, 8-6.

Grady scored again near the end of the first quarter on a 35-yard run by Chee.

It was all Three-Way from that point. Simpson scored all the visitors' touchdowns. He raced 22 yards for a tally and Tommy Brown converted to tie the count at 14-14 early in the second.

Three-Way went out in front when Simpson broke loose on a three-yard run. Brown again converted to the Three-Way team was in front, 22-14.

That's the way it stood until the third, when Simpson galloped 28 yards for a six-pointer. Brown converted to make it 30-14.

Simpson scored again shortly thereafter on an 18-yard run to make it 36-14.

In the fourth, Simpson scored twice on runs of 30 and 34 yards. Simpson simply was too fast and too strong for the Wildcats.

SW Texas is upset, 28-14

NACOGDOCHES, Texas (AP) — Junior tailback Paul Hood tied a school scoring record with his 11th touchdown of the year, rushed 25 times for 163 yards and led Stephen F. Austin to a 28-14 upset of Southwest Texas State Saturday in Lone Star Conference action.

The Lumberjacks put the game away with an 18-point outburst in the second quarter, on a field goal and short plunges by Hood and Mike Cotton, plus Hood's two-point conversion run.

The loss dropped SWT to a 6-1 record, 2-1 in LSC play, while SFA improved its record to 5-2 and 2-1 before a capacity homecoming crowd.

Bulldogs shock Winters; 14-6

COAHOMA — Coahoma's Bulldogs, inspired by a Homecoming Crowd, defeated the Winters Blizzards, 14-6, here Friday night.

The victory was the third in six starts for the Big Red. In conference play, Coahoma is 2-1.

Overall, Winters is 15 and 2-1 within the league.

Neither team scored in the opening period. Coahoma, however, got on the board 55 seconds into the second quarter when Gary Gee went over from inside the one-yard line. The touchdown climaxed a 65-yard drive. Spot Paige booted the PAT.

Winters came back to get a touchdown on a one-yard run by Pat Fallis. A 64-yard pass play set up the score. It took the Blizzards three plays to go over from the one.

In the second, Coahoma scored again on a 12-yard run by Clint Elliott. The drive covered 70 yards. Paige converted on a kick.

In the last half, Coahoma mounted an 80-yard drive but Winters dug in to hold on its own ten. The Bulldogs went moving the ball at Winters' eight when the game ended.

Jerry Roever did an excellent job of blocking for Coahoma. Individually, the Coahoma ball carriers were impressive. Ambrosio Uranga gained 115 yards in 19 carries for a 4.3-yard average. Clint Elliott picked up 60 paces in nine carries for a 6.7-yard norm. Chubby Abreo advanced the ball 51 yards in seven attempts for a 7.3-yard average. Gary Gee picked up 31 paces in ten efforts for a 3.1-yard average. The Bulldogs averaged 5.6 yards every time they ran the ball.

Gary Gee and Clint Elliott came up with timely interceptions for Coahoma. Defensively for Coahoma, Gary Bayes and Jerry Roever were outstanding for Coahoma. Roever had 15 tackles, Bayes 14.

Course record enables Strange to take lead

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Fourth-year pro Curtis Strange charged out of the pack Saturday with a sizzling course record round of 10-under par 62 to grab the lead after three rounds of the $200,000 Pensacola Open.

Strange, who never has won a PGA tournament, holds a 1-shot lead over former U.S. Open champion Orville Moody, who birdied the final two holes for a 4-under-par 68. Strange has a three-day total of 14-under-par 202.

One shot in back of Moody at 204 is a group of four golfers — Bill Kratzert, John rookie Mike Nicolette, John Mahaffey and Dan Pohl. Second-round leader Morris Hatalsky fired an even-par 72 but lost ground and now is 3 strokes back at 205.

Strange blistered the 7,133-yard Perdido Bay Country Club course with six birdies on the front nine for a 30. He added a birdie at 11 and another string at the 14th, 15th and 16th holes to go with eight pars to better the course and tournament record by two shots.

"I'm like that," Strange said. "I just get hot and the birdies seem to come in bunches. It's my best round — my most consistent round since joining the tour."

Buckeyes throttle Badgers

Scorecard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Art Schlichter figured in four touchdowns Saturday to lead undefeated and sixth-ranked Ohio State to a 59-0 romp over Wisconsin, the Badgers' worst defeat ever, in a Big Ten Conference college football game.

The worst setbacks previously for Wisconsin were 56-0 defeats by Ohio State in 1975 and Michigan two years ago.

The victory was the Buckeyes' seventh overall and fourth in the conference, as they beat the Badgers for the 20th straight time. Wisconsin, 2-5 overall and 1-3 in the league, never has won in 57-year-old Ohio Stadium.

The margin of victory was Ohio State's largest in 72 games, dating back to a 60-0 whipping of Northwestern in mid-1973.

A crowd of 87,585, Ohio State's 68th straight home sellout, watched Schlichter run 4 and 2 yards for touchdowns and fire scoring passes of 14 yards to Chuck Hunter and 20 yards to Gary Williams.

Ohio State, a 20-point favorite, opened with a pair of 14-point quarters and had settled the outcome by halftime. The Buckeyes ran their margin to 38-0 in the third quarter before Buckeye substitutes took over.

Cornerback Ray Ellis returned a Steve Parish pass 27 yards and No. 2 quarterback Greg Castignola ran 1 yard for the other Ohio State touchdowns. Vlade Janakievski also kicked a 19-yard field goal.

Split end Howie Lewis went high into the air at the goal and out-fought Rice safety Mike Downs for the ball, landing in the end zone for a 37-yard touchdown pass on Tech's first possession.

The Red Raiders moved 44 yards in three plays the second time they had the ball. Reeves spotted flanker Edwin Newsome, cutting across the middle with a step on cornerback Ricky Thomas, and hit him with a 29-yard strike as Tech took a 14-0 lead.

Hadnot gained 137 yards the first half on 21 carries. A 7-yard gain on his final carry before intermission bettered Donny Anderson's 2,280 career rushing yards for Tech and left Hadnot second only to Larry Isaacs 2,633 yards.

Hadnot, who played tight end his sophomore season before being converted to a running back last year, now has 2,349 yards.

The Owls lost fullback Earl Cooper in the first quarter. He was upended after catching his fourth pass of the day from starting quarterback Randy Hertel. He walked off the field but never returned.

Reeves completed 8 of 12 passes for 102 yards and the two touchdowns and rushed 14 times for 87 yards.

Rice's defense, which ranked last in the SWC, stiffened after giving up the two early touchdowns. Tech took over at its 2 after a punt early in the second quarter and moved 91 yards but had to settle for Adams' 24-yard field goal.

Ted Watts returned a punt 66 yards to the Rice 11 and linebacker Rusty Maroney intercepted Hertel at the Owl 33 later in the quarter, but the Raiders got only a pair of field goals out of them.

Hertel, who completed 13 of 26 passes for 129 yards, hit Hosea Fortune for 11 yards and Hubble for 28 yards to move Rice to the Tech 28 late in the first half, but tackle Jim Verden sacked Hertel for an 8-yard loss to end the threat.

Hoffmann completed 6 of 15 passes for 57 yards. David Smith intercepted a Hoffman pass inside the Rice 30 in the last minute of play, and the Raiders let time expire.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Ron Reeves staked Texas Tech to an early lead with two touchdowns passes and later ran 11 yards for another score in a 30-7 Southwest Conference victory over Rice Saturday.

Fullback James Hadnot gained 202 yards in 34 carries for Tech to become the Red Raiders' second-leading rusher ever.

Bill "Blade" Adams kicked field goals of 24, 26 and 24 yards for Tech and kicked all three extra points, running his career total to 34 extra points without a miss.

Split end Howie Lewis went high into the air at the goal and out-fought Rice safety Mike Downs for the ball, landing in the end zone for a 37-yard touchdown pass on Tech's first possession.

The Red Raiders moved 44 yards in three plays the second time they had the ball. Reeves spotted flanker Edwin Newsome, cutting across the middle with a step on cornerback Ricky Thomas, and hit him with a 29-yard strike as Tech took a 14-0 lead.

PECOS — Pecos toppled Andrews from the ranks of the unbeaten here Friday night, winning, 14-3, by scoring twice in the last seven minutes of play.

Andrews scored first with 9:29 left in the game when Van Eisenbach connected with a field goal from the 20.

Pecos then drove 59 yards to score. Larry Mosby went the last yard for the tally.

Pecos failed to convert but it didn't matter. The Eagles came back to get another. Mosby again did the honors from only one foot away. Mosby passed to Danny Garcia for the two-point conversion.

Snyder edged by Lake View

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo Lake View edged Snyder, 6-3, in District 3-AAA action here Friday night.

The Chiefs drove 63 yards for their only touchdown the second time they got the ball. Mike Doyle did the honors on a four-yard run.

Sam Willis picked a field goal for Snyder's only points with one second left in the first half.

Over Rice Owls Raiders romp, 30-7

junior quarterback Robert Hoffmann came off the bench to lead Rice to its touchdown midway through the fourth quarter. He threw an 8-yard pass to Robert Hubble for the score.

Tech raised its record to 3-3-1 for the year, and 2-2 in SWC action. Rice is 1-6 and 0-4.

Nebraska triumphs

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Kenny Brown became the first University of Nebraska wingback to rush for over 100 yards as the No. 3-ranked Cornhuskers registered a 36-0 Big Eight Conference football shutout over Oklahoma State Saturday.

Brown, who exceeded performances by 1972 Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rogers, amassed 111 yards on eight carries and combined with a two-touchdown performance by junior Jarvis Redwine to completely outman the Cowboys.

Nebraska dominated both ends of the field, holding Oklahoma State to an unimpressive 75 yards in total offense at the half while running up 318 yards in the same time.

The Cornhusker defense now has managed to prevent a touchdown during the last 16 quarters and has held opposing teams scoreless during the last 13.

Kicker Dean Sukup hit a 23-yard field goal to begin the romp. Other points came from Tim Smith, who combined with quarterback Tim Hager on a 42-yard scoring pass; Jim Kotera, who scored from 5 yards out, and Anthony Steels, who also went in from the 5.

Coyotes nudge Loraine, 44-22

LORAIN — The Borden County Coyotes mastered the Loraine Bulldogs, 44-22, in a District 3-B football contest here Friday night.

The Coyotes scored 14 points in the opening period, 12 more in the second quarter and 15 in the final two rounds.

The win was the third in seven starts for the Coyotes. The Loraine team now has the same record.

OU is slow to awaken

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Quarterback J.C. Watts scored two third-quarter touchdowns and Billy Sims ran 5 yards for another, awakening a sluggish Oklahoma offense and sparking the eighth-ranked Sooners to a come-from-behind 38-6 victory Saturday over Big Eight upstart Kansas State.

The underdog Wildcats led at halftime 6-3, on Darryl Black's 1-yard touchdown run, while the explosive Sooner offense only was managing four first downs and 33 yards total offense.

But the Sooners, 4-1, marched 80 yards with their first possession of the second half to take a 10-6 lead and command of the game.

After Watts scored on a 1-yard plunge, the junior quarterback directed an 82-yard drive on Oklahoma's next possession, scoring on an 18-yard option run out of the wishbone.

Simms, the reigning Heisman Trophy holder, capped another 80-yard march early in the fourth quarter with a 5-yard touchdown run and finished the day with 67 yards on 16 carries. The Sooners broke it open early in the fourth period, with a quick 80-yard scoring march, which featured a 49-yard run by freshman quarterback Stanley Wilson.

Reserve quarterback Kelly Phelps scored the final two touchdowns on runs of 14 and 36 yards as Kansas State fell to 2-4.

Eagles batter Garden City

STERLING CITY — Sterling City handed Garden City its seventh straight defeat here Friday night, winning, 41-0.

The Eagles powered their way to 367 yards, 319 yards of which came on the ground.

The Bearcats, frustrated all night, completed only two of nine passes and could never get near the Eagle goal line.

Tony Dodds, Bruce Marck, Ray Rodriguez and Steve Griffin each scored a touchdown for Sterling City while Thomas Fuentes crossed the goal line twice.

Todd Nolepuddy added three extra points and Shane Colvert one for the War Birds.

Sterling City built up a 21-0 lead at half time and dominated play from the opening whistle.

Sands JH is now 1-2-1

NEW HOME — Sands Junior High played New Home to a 6-6 standoff here Thursday. The Sands Ponies now have a 1-2-1 record.

Santos Ybarra scored Sands' touchdown on a 65-yard run.

Steve Alvarez, Santos Ybarra, Chris Wigginton, David Franco and Joe Hernandez played well on defense for Sands while Mitchell Gutierrez glistered on offense.

Sands is defeated, 28 to 6

ACKERLY — The New Home Leopards withstood several threats to defeat Sands, 28-6, here Friday night.

Billy Paul put the Leopards ahead in the first quarter on a two-yard run.

Sands, which was in the process of playing its finest game of the season, came right back to tie the count when Jesse Ybarra raced 57 yards to pay dirt.

In the second, New Home went out in front to stay on a one-yard run. Mickey Keith kicked the PAT to make it 13-6.

In the third, Mickey McClintock ran the kickoff back 65 yards for another New Home touchdown. Murray Keith converted for two points.

In the fourth, Billy Paul scored again for the Leopards from the two, after which New Home again converted.

Sands threatened several times during the game but couldn't mount the offense to get in to the end zone again. Sands had a touchdown called back in the second due to a penalty. Shane Wigginton passed to Albert Ybarra for a touchdown that was negated by an offsides call.

Jesse Ybarra gained 118 yards for a 6.9-yard average for Sands. Fullback David Long and the whole Sands' offensive line played well.

On defense, David Long came up with 16 tackles, and Jesse Ybarra, David Hall and Shane Wigginton 18 each.

The Mustangs play at Meadow next Friday. Meadow suffered its initial loss Friday, yielding to Wilson, 17-7, after six consecutive wins.

By NATHAN POSS

The Odessa Permian Panthers used two early turnovers for quick scores en route to a 21 point first quarter, then played their usual salty defense to take a 35-7 win over a much improved Big Spring Steers team on a warm night in a District 5-AAAA game played here in Memorial Stadium Friday.

Permian scored its first 28 points in the contest in the first 12 minutes, three seconds of the contest, then held off a suddenly inspired Steer team throughout the remainder of the game. The Panthers appeared ready to substitute freely early in the second stanza, but the Steers wouldn't quit, forcing the Permian team, now 3-0 in District 5-AAAA play and 5-1 on the year, to use its regulars until the final three minutes.

Big Spring received the opening kickoff and used a 14-yard completion from quarterback Jimmy Marquez to tight end Mark Knight for a first down, but the Steers fumbled the ball away to Mojo on the next play on their own 30.

Permian used seven plays to light the scoreboard, with quarterback Kelly Howard scoring on a sneak from the one with 8:11 remaining in the opening stanza. Roy Dunn's kick was good to the Panthers a 7-0 lead.

Marquez fumbled under the heat of a stunting Permian defense on the Steers next offensive play, with the alert Panther defense recovering on the Bovine 14. It took Coach John Wilkins crew only two plays to crack paydirt, with fullback Alan Hainline bolting over from the two with 7:48 still left to play in quarter one. Dunn's PAT boot was true.

Permian scored on their next possession on a six-play, 43-yard drive culminated by Howard's 22-yard pass to split end Mike Chalambaga. Chalambaga took a quick out from Howard, evaded two Steer tacklers and raced in for the third score for the visitors in the opening stanza with 4:19 remaining. Dunn converted the PAT.

Following a short David Coffey punt, Permian started on a scoring march once again against the shell-shocked Steers team. Mojo used nine-plays to move the 49 yards, with wingback Terry Brown scooting in on the first play of the second quarter. Dunn booted the PAT.

Coffey was intercepted by Permian cornerback Mike Fowler on the Bovines next possession, but Big Spring free safety Mike Terry made a nifty interception of a Howard pass on the Permian drive to give the Steers a first down at the Mojo 45-yard line.

Coffey, who played an extremely sharp game and hurled the pigskin much better than the statistics would indicate, then led the Steers on a flashy scoring drive.

Coffey was intercepted by Permian cornerback Mike Fowler on the next Steer possession, but Big Spring stiffened for the first time defensively in the contest. On the next Permian possession, Big Spring free safety Mike Terry intercepted a Howard pass and raced 25 yards to the Permian 19, although a clipping penalty moved the Bovines back to the Mojo 35.

It took the Steers only four plays to score, as Coffey raced 15 yards on a daring scramble on third down for new life at the Permian 20. On the next play, Coffey fired a strike on a counter-option pass to flanker Mike Domino over the middle, good for 20 yards and the first Big Spring touchdown in 5-AAAA play. Edward Vela booted the PAT to narrow the Permian lead to 35-7 with 5:29 remaining to play in the half.

Big Spring, thanks to a 37-yard run by the speedy Ben Watson, moved to the Permian 25-yard line on the next Steer drive, but Permian recovered a Coffey fumble two plays later to stop the Steers momentum.

With the Big Spring team suddenly the proprietor of some much needed confidence, Permian was unable to move the ball with much success in the third stanza. But the Mojo defense was its usual stubborn, disallowing the Big Spring team a first down as the two teams staged a defensive struggle throughout much of the second half.

With just under eight minutes remaining in the game, Coffey's punt was mishandled by a Panther punt returner, but a Permian lineman recovered on his own 21 to keep the Panthers in command.

In command they were, as the poised Permian team then iced the game away on a 79-yard, 10-play drive culminated by Hainline diving over from the one with only 3:58 left to play.

The big play in the Mojo scoring drive was a 33-yard scamper by wingback Brown on a reverse. Dunn concluded the scoring in the evening with his PAT boot.

For the Steers, a big hand must be given for never letting up after the big Permian first quarter. The Steers outplayed the Permian starters in the final three stanzas, and looked like a competitive team for the first time since their 7-0 win over Hobbs.

Sparking the Steer defense were the play of Terry, strong safety Rocky Torres, linebacker Knight and defensive tackle Jack Odom.

Coffey did not have impressive passing statistics in the contest, but hit his receivers with consistent accuracy throughout the affair. He also showed a much needed ability to pick up yardage on sweeps and when his receivers were covered.

Big Spring will now face the unenviable task of trying to defeat the tough Midland Lee Rebels this week in Midland. The Rebels were ranked ninth in the state before the top rated Cooper Cougars defeated them by a score of 28-14 Friday night.

Permian now will face its most important game of the year next Friday when they travel to meet the Abilene Cooper Cougars in a showdown of the 5-AAAA undefeated teams.

Campbell story doubted

SEATTLE (AP) — The word out of Houston this week was that Earl Campbell, the Oilers' star running back, was listed as questionable for a Sunday game with Seattle at the Kingdome.

Informed of that news, Seahawks' Coach Jack Patera responded sarcastically, "That means he'll probably carry the ball 35 times Sunday."

Campbell, the 1977 Heisman Trophy from the University of Texas, led the National Football League in rushing as a rookie with 1,450 yards last season.

In his second year in the NFL, he is the No. 1 rusher after seven weeks with 771 yards.

In the Oilers' last start, a 28-16 victory over Baltimore to improve Houston's record to 5-2, Campbell suffered a severe thigh bruise.

But regardless of the news from Houston, Patera and the Seahawks have prepared all week to see the bruising 5-foot-11, 224-pounder from Tyler, Texas, this weekend and Thursday Campbell's status was changed to probable.

Houston Coach Bum Phillips insisted he does not worry about his ace running back, who is averaging 24 carries a game this season.

"Earl blocks as well as he runs with the football," he said. "No, I don't worry about him getting injured because he carries so often. That's part of football. I've seen backs who carry only three times get hurt."

The Oilers, tied for first place with Pittsburgh in the American Football Conference's Central Division, have been installed as two-point favorites over the 2-5 Seahawks.

Seattle, which won nine games in the third year of the franchise, lost to San Diego 20-10 last Sunday.

While Campbell is having another banner season, Houston quarterback Dan Pastorini has been having a subpar year. He has only a 43 percent completion average and has 12 interceptions in 135 attempts.

NFL Roundup

Ottis Anderson to face revived Cowboy defense

It's been a long time since Ottis Anderson exploded onto the National Football League scene with a 193-yard rushing performance... a very, very long time for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Anderson, the Cardinals' No. 1 draft choice out of Miami, has done just about everything expected of him. He's third in the National Conference in rushing with 663 yards and has added 21 receptions for 150 additional yards.

But despite his performance, starting with that near-record yardage against Dallas — the Cowboys won the game 22-21 on a late field goal — St. Louis has failed to become the NFC East contenders that so many fans figured they'd be. They're 2-5, rattling around the division basement along with the New York Giants, four games behind co-leaders Dallas and Philadelphia — and they play the Cowboys in Dallas this Sunday.

Sunday's other games are Philadelphia at Washington, the Giants at Kansas City, Atlanta at San Francisco, Baltimore at Buffalo, Cincinnati at Cleveland, Green Bay at Tampa Bay, Oakland at the New York Jets, Miami at New England, Chicago at Minnesota, Detroit at New Orleans, Houston at Atlanta and San Diego at Los Angeles. On Monday night it's Denver at Pittsburgh.

After being chewed up so royally by Anderson, who came within one yard of Alan Ameche's first pro game record, the Cowboys began reestablishing their Doomsday Defense, to the point that it is now the conference's best against the rush.

They take a 6-1 record into the game and are rated roughly 10-point favorites to beat the Cardinals — but Cowboys Coach Tom Landry, never one to take matters lightly, observes: "O.J. is still running well. It's not going to be an easy day." Anderson gained 73 yards in St. Louis' 24-20 loss to Philadelphia last Sunday.

As if facing Dallas' defense wasn't enough, the Cards must also try to prep their own defense (second in the NFC against the rush but ninth against the pass) for an onslaught by Roger Staubach.

The Cowboys' quarterback is No. 1 among conference passers and has thrown 11 touchdowns while being intercepted only three times.

Last Sunday night against Los Angeles he completed 13 of 18 passes for 176 yards and three TDs. He now owns the Cowboys' TD passing record of 137, having passed Don Meredith's 135 during the 30-6 victory over the Rams.

Considering all of that, St. Louis Coach Bud Wilkinson was asked what the Cardinals would have to do to defeat Dallas.

"Be very lucky," he said.

The Eagles are riding a fivegame winning streak, their longest since starting the 1961 season 7-1, thanks to Wilbert Montgomery's thundering hoofbeats. He's second in the NFC in rushing with 696 yards (30 behind Chicago's Walter Payton), and leads the conference's non-kickers in scoring with 48 points on eight touchdowns, five rushing and three receiving.

Plains blocked an attempted field by Craig Eiland late in the game to preserve a heart throbbing 10-9 win over the Stanton Buffaloes in an important District 5-A game here Friday night.

The win gives the Plains team a district record of 3-0 and a season mark of 4-2, while Stanton dropped to 2-1 in the District 5-A game here Friday night.

Stanton took an early 7-0 lead when tailback Richard Perez scored for the three-yard line capping a Buffalo drive, with Eiland booting the PAT.

Neither team could score in the second stanza, with Plains finally tying the game midway in the third stanza on a 10-yard run by quarterback James McElroy.

Stanton again played excellent defense in the contest. The Buffs held the Cowboys to only six first downs while accumulating 13 themselves, and Stanton also held a 13-6 advantage in the first down department. But it was not enough.

Plains upsets Stanton

Plains blocked an attempted field by Craig Eiland late in the game to preserve a heart throbbing 10-9 win over the Stanton Buffaloes in an important District 5-A game here Friday night.

The win gives the Plains team a district record of 3-0 and a season mark of 4-2, while Stanton dropped to 2-1 in the District 5-A game here Friday night.

Stanton took an early 7-0 lead when tailback Richard Perez scored for the three-yard line capping a Buffalo drive, with Eiland booting the PAT.

Neither team could score in the second stanza, with Plains finally tying the game midway in the third stanza on a 10-yard run by quarterback James McElroy.

with Johnny Curtis' PAT knotting the score at 7-7.

Plains then took the lead for good in the latter stages of the third stanza, when Curtis booted a 26-yard field goal to give the Cowboys a 10-7 advantage.

The Stanton defense, which has been extremely stingy thus far, added two points to the Buffalo cause when they tackled McElroy in the Plains and zone in the final quarter, but that would be as close as the visitors could come.

Wylie whips C-City

ABILENE — The Abilene Wylie Bulldogs used Gordon Asbury's 134 yards rushing and two touchdowns, plus two touchdown receptions from Dennis O'Dell to race to an easy 41-8 win over Colorado City here Friday night.

The Wylie offense, which staked the undefeated Bulldogs to a 34-0 halftime lead, amassed 498 total yards in completely dominating the game, while the visitors could manage only 181 total yards. Wylie also led in first downs by a 21-14 margin.

Terry Casey had 69 yards rushing for the Bulldogs, kicked five extra points and had two pass interceptions to also aid in the Wylie win.

Wylie is now 3-0 in District 6-AA play and 6-0 on the season, while Colorado City is now 2-1 and 2-3-1 overall. It was Wylie's first win ever against Colorado City.

Pecos edges Andrews

PECOS — Undefeated Pecos scored two touchdowns in the final seven minutes of the game to take an important 14-3 win over the Andrews Mustangs in a District 2-AAA game here Friday night.

The game was deadlocked until the final stanza, when Andrews' Van Eisenbach drilled a 29-yard field goal to give the Mustangs a short lived 3-0 lead with nine minutes left to play.

But Pecos came right back, driving 59 yards on their following drive, with Larry Mosby bulled over from the three with 7:01 remaining. The PAT failed.

Andrews fumbled the ball away for the fourth time in the game shortly after, with Pecos recovering on the Mustang 48. Eight plays later, Mosby iced the game by sneaking over from the one, with Wylie then passing to Danny Garcia for the two-point conversion.

Garden City English classes view play

By LANI KAY FRERICH

Busy school days have been overflowing into the weekends lately. Last Saturday, Oct. 13, several teachers and students attended the UIL workshop in Odessa. Mrs. Evans attended the journalism workshop; Mr. Rackley and Mrs. Stringer attended the one act play workshop; Tommy McDaniel attended the ready writing workshop; and Bryan Stringer attended the number sense workshop. Anyone interested in any of these events can talk to them about what they learned.

Today, the English IV class will go on the outing they had planned earlier this month. They will be leaving Garden City at 12:30 to attend a play, "The Taming of the Shrew", at Odessa's Globe Theatre.

Next Saturday, Oct. 27, the FTA will travel to Monahans for the District XVIII convention.

Big Spring High School Queen nominees picked

By LORRAINE LANGFORD
Homecoming preparations are going strong. Clubs and organizations are picking nominees and building floats. Competition between classes is fierce.

"Youth of the World" is the theme for the floats. This is based on the fact that 1979 has been declared International Year of the Child. Participants have chosen countries and will develop floats accordingly. Prizes to be offered in the larger division range from $110 to $25. The four best floats will be picked. In the smaller division, prizes will range from $75 to $20. Car entries will be eligible for $35, $25 and $10 prizes. Parade time will be 4:30 p.m. Friday, and the Homecoming Queen will be crowned at 7:30 p.m. There will be a reunion for ex-students at the Cactus Room at Howard College. On Saturday, there will be an Open House at which members of the School's Hall of Fame will be recognized. A dance for students will get under way at 8 p.m. Saturday while one for ex-students gets under way an hour later. Bible Class members have are being accepted. Those giving the donation will be eligible for a drawing.

An edition of the Corral will come out Oct. 30. This will be a special Halloween edition. Also, the names of five students' code numbers will be hidden in the Corral. Those finding their code numbers can contact the Corral staff for $5 prizes.

The winner must present his or her ID to win the award.

Officers are Rondal Beene, vice president; Connie Hicks, secretary; Rachel Garcia, reporter; Carolyn Torres, parliamentarian; and Glenda Koil, treasurer.

Don Meredith goes undercover on NBC

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Meredith, the former Dallas Cowboys quarterback now wellknown as an analyst on ABC's "Monday Night Football," takes up a new dramatic role, as a man who infiltrates the Ku Klux Klan for the FBI.

In the end, his wife leaves him, his friends turn on him, he is portrayed in court as a traitor and forced into exile under an assumed name.

Meredith plays Gary Thomas Rowe Jr. in the NBC movie "Undercover With the KKK," which airs Tuesday night. The film is based on Rowe's book about his experiences as an FBI informant in the 1960s inside a Klan klavern in his hometown in Alabama. Rowe testified as an eyewitness for the FBI in two trials stemming from the murder of Viola Liuzzo, a civil rights worker from Detroit. The first ended in a mistrial and in the second, the defendants were acquitted.

Three Klansmen later were convicted in federal court of violating Mrs. Liuzzo's civil rights and were sentenced to prison.

At the opening of the film, a narrator says Rowe was indicted for murder on Sept. 20, 1978, by a grand jury in Lowndes County, Ala. "Mr. Rowe was indicted for the murder of Viola Liuzzo after this film was completed and the nature of his involvement is still unclear," the narrator says.

In the movie, Rowe is pictured only as a witness as Mrs. Liuzzo is shot to death in her car on an Alabama highway. The broadcast of the film was held up by NBC after Rowe's indictment.

Meredith says he had trouble adjusting to the role. "I haven't had many roles like this as an actor. I can't say I would particularly like Gary Thomas Rowe, and that made it even more difficult to get some slice of what he was like.

"The thing I feel about that movie and that particular kind of role is that this is a very real story. Those kinds of things can happen. You wonder why somebody could do that.

"The thing I tried to hang my hat on all the way through was that I've seen a lot of people who just want to be somebody," Meredith says. "And all their life they seem to get shortchanged."

Meredith says he played Rowe as a man insecure because of his lack of education, and as a man who sought sexual security in affairs with other women. In the film, his wife leaves him after an affair.

SONG WRITER, SINGER — When Karla Bonoff, pictured here during a recent interview, turned to singing songs she had written she discovered people thought she was aping the original singers.

Singer's mixed blessing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Karla Bonoff, songwriter, was pleased as punch when Linda Ronstadt recorded three of her heartfelt love ballads a few years back. That is, until Karla Bonoff, performer, started singing them before audiences.

Then the pleasure was somewhat tempered by the realization that most people thought she was aping Miss Ronstadt.

It was an understandable misunderstanding. Miss Bonoff's recorded versions of "Someone to Lay Down Beside Me," "Lose Again" and "If He's Ever Near" were not nearly as well known as Miss Ronstadt's renditions of the same songs several months earlier on her "Hasten Down the Wind" album.

"Most people don't read the credits on records, or if they buy cassettes, they don't have any credits," Miss Bonoff, 27, explains matter-of-factly, her ego apparently none the worse for the wear.

"So when I first went out on the road, I was finding that people — if I didn't explain on stage that I wrote them — were thinking that I was playing songs I learned off a record," she recalls, a rueful laugh lighting up her dark, madonnalike features.

As a result, Miss Bonoff made it clear to all prospective buyers that she wasn't interested in selling any of the songs on her new second album, "Restless Nights" (watch for the single "Trouble Again").

It took her almost two years to write the music for "Restless Nights," a rush job compared to the seven years that went into her 1977 debut album.

Before that, as a guitar and piano-playing teen-ager in West Los Angeles, she had concentrated more on the melody end of songwriting.

Media and government: Who's running whom?

By MARY CRAWFORD, Librarian

The Anthony Hunt Library

Do you ever have the feeling that the media is running our government and that "Big Brother" really is watching you?

David Halberstam had this conviction, and he put it on paper in a book titled "The Powers That Be," published by Alfred A. Knopf in 1979. In this book Halberstam gives the inside history of four of America's greatest media institutions: Time Inc., the Washington Post, the Los Angeles Times, and CBS.

All four of these media are rich in money and resources, hugely powerful, and the creation of a few men and women whose individual obsessions and dreams are a part of the organizations themselves. We get a "behind the scenes" look at these people and the men of political and financial power with whom they deal.

Powers opens our eyes to the domination of government by the media.

David Halberstam, a Pulitzer-prize winning journalist, gained his information about the four companies from his experience as one of the country's leading journalists. Seven years went into the making of the book, and he tells his story well. You will recall Halberstam as the author of the popular book "The Best And The Brightest."

Another book on American politics is "The Gay Place" by Billy Lee Brammer, published by the Texas Monthly Press in 1978 (originally published in 1961 and reprinted by special arrangement with Houghton Mifflin).

Brammer idolized Lyndon Johnson and worked for him for many years as a writer. Then he decided to write a book about him, and "The Gay Place," a novel in three parts, takes place in a city that resembles Austin. His hero in the book is Governor Arthur Fenstemaker ("windowmaker" in Hill country German), and he is the fictional manipulator of a large Southwestern state that resembles Texas but remains anonymous. Fenstemaker prefers to introduce himself as Arthur "Goddam" Fenstemaker, and he comes on scene whooping, gesticulating, waving a big white Stetson and grinning broadly.

This book has been termed "the best novel about American politics in our time" by none other than Gore Vidal, the well-known political writer. It is often considered the one great modern Texas novel — and its reprinting confirms its popularity. David Halberstam considered it "the best book written about Lyndon Johnson," and literary critics have recognized Arthur Goddam Fenstemaker as the greatest politician in American literature.

The governor strides through the background of the book, wheeling and dealing, arm twisting, ear bending, and fixing everyone's destiny. He is an old-school politician, "a compound of Biblical wisdom and Hill country homily," equal parts Solomon and Judge Roy Bean, with perhaps a touch of sly old Sam Rayburn.

Incidentally, the title of the book "The Gay Place" carries no contemporary overtones. It comes, instead, from an obscure poem of F. Scott Fitzgerald: "I know a gay place that nobody knows."

Though Billy Lee Brammer worshipped Lyndon Johnson, and there was a closeness between the families of the two men, when Billy Lee decided to write a book about his idol, the friendship ended. For when he turned his sights full on the politician, he dug out and bared the inner truth of the tall Texan more than any other writer of his day; he wrote of Lyndon's failings as well as his greatnesses.

When Vice-President Johnson finally mentioned the novel to Billy, he denounced it and expressed a loathing for it. To have this criticism from the man whom he adored broke Brammer's heart. The two never were together again, and Billy Lee never had faith in anyone again — least of all himself. He was finished as a writer, his personal life failed, he became caught up in the drug scene, and he died, a sad and physical wreck, in 1978 at the age of 48.

Both of the above-described books are available to all area residents at the library on Howard College campus.

GOP contenders scrambling for backers freed by Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican presidential contenders are scrambling for the supporters freed by former President Gerald R. Ford's announcement that he's out of the race.
 Ford announced in Washington on Friday that he has "made a firm decision not to become an active candidate for the nomination of my party."
 He said he would reconsider only if the party felt it was essential for him to run or if unforeseen circumstances develop.

"I urge those who may have held back in order to ascertain my intentions to jump into the fray on behalf of the candidate of their choice," Ford said.
 On the Democratic side, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota came out in support of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts for the Democratic nomination next year, as did Maine Gov. Joseph E. Brennan.
 Speaking to a high school audience in Kennedy's home state, McGovern said he has "urged Kennedy to run," and added that he will "be one of the first to endorse his candidacy." McGovern was the Democratic presidential nominee in 1972 and has been critical of President Carter in the past.

Candidates for the GOP nomination praised Ford's statement and some suggested it means new support for them.
 One of the first reactions was from Ronald Reagan, who also was in Washington on Friday. "I think it's consistent with what he's been saying all along," the former California governor said. But Reagan said he didn't think Ford's decision necessarily would make things any easier for him. "There's still quite a battery of candidates," said Reagan.
 Former CIA Director and former U.N. Ambassador George Bush said in Wilmington, Del., that Ford's statement would clear the air and "I expect to pick up some support."

CARD OF THANKS

Educators will discuss professional standards

A proposed new set of professional standards will provide the major point of discussion for more than 600 educators expected to attend the 32nd annual Texas Conference on Teacher Education to be held at the Austin Hilton Inn Oct. 28-30.
 Local teachers will not be represented by a Big Spring delegate at the meeting, according to School Superintendent Lynn Hise.
 Dr. M.M. (Lyn) Gubser, director of the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education in Washington, D.C., will keynote the 7 p.m. opening general session.
 Conference participants will turn their attention to a series of detailed discussions on suggested new standards for updating teacher education from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Oct. 29. Topics for these group meetings will include: regional accreditation, financial support for teacher education, organizational structure, faculty characteristics, policy commitment, student development, facilities, planning and review, and evaluation for quality control.
 A panel representing each discussion group will report its findings to the overall conference from 8 to 9:30 p.m.

The new Commission on Standards for the Teaching Profession replaces the former State Board of Examiners. Ms. Grimes, director of secondary instruction and learning resources, Marshall Independent School District, chairs the 16-member group. Henry Wheeler, Spring Branch ISD superintendent, is vice chairman.

Military Major Welch given medal

Army Major Thomas A. Welch Jr. was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal, recently for a period in which he served as comptroller Headquarters, 17th Aviation Group (Combat) in Youngsan, Korea from 1978 to 1979.
 The award reads, "His thorough knowledge of comptroller programs and his unique ability to apply them to aviation units enabled him to manage a 7.5 million dollar budget with outstanding results. Particularly noteworthy was his idea to establish a budgetary advisory committee that insured all commanders participated and understood the total financial status of their respected commands."
 Major Welch, son of Mrs. T.A. Welch, 1500 Harding, is a 1962 graduate of Big Spring High School and a graduate of Texas Tech University. He completed officer candidate training at Fort Sill, Okla. In 1967 he served in Germany, Vietnam, Hawaii and before his tour in Korea was area commander of recruiting in Canton, Ohio.
 He holds the Bronze Star, Air Medal, three meritorious service medals and other awards.
 Major Welch is presently on assignment at Fort Sill, Oklahoma as executive officer of the commandant.
 His wife is the former Sandy Lee of Fort Worth and they have two children, Randi and Lee.

'Ladies in white' no longer an applicable term Big Spring nurses celebrate Texas Nurses week

By MICKIE DICKSON

Mayor Wade Choate signed a proclamation Oct. 3 officially designating the week of Oct. 21-27 Texas Nurses Week in Big Spring.

The nurses of Big Spring area are being honored during the week by a coffee Wednesday in the Reddy Room of Texas Electric Company from 12-5 p.m. The coffee is hosted by the Texas Nurses Association for all nurses with the support of all banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions.

Student nurses are hosting a coffee for Howard College Nursing School alumni and the advisory board Monday from 2-4 p.m. in the Tumbleweed Room at HC.

Nurses will man a consumer's booth at Highland Mall Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Texas Nurses Association is sponsoring a poster contest for all fifth grade students to be displayed around town in merchant's windows. Taco Villa, Winchell's Donut House and Baskin-Robbins have donated gifts for all children who enter posters in the contest.

Spring City Uniform Shop is offering a discount to all TNA members that buy uniforms from them.

The Texas Student Nurses Association has decorated windows in Anthony's, in Highland Mall and in the college bookstore in the Student Union Building at HC.

Activities of the week are being coordinated by TNA and TSNA.

The nursing profession is changing and expanding daily from the traditional white uniformed female person working in hospitals with the development of various specialty areas which include male nurses and many nurses in street clothes.

The nurse anesthetist is one of the oldest nursing specialties recognized. Nurses may be found now in many supervisory capacities like Lettie Lee, director of HC Nursing School; in intensive care and coronary care units, occupational health in many businesses and industries, the public health nurse doing visiting in the home, home health care and in unusual positions like the nurse midwives.

Some nurses are entering independent nursing practice in joint practice with physicians and other health care providers. Health maintenance practices may include dietician, physical therapist, respiratory therapist as well as registered nurse.

The more unusual roles are not too common in Texas yet, but are on the horizon.

Beginning with the educational aspect of nursing, Howard College, in addition to their long-standing and highly respected vocational nursing program, initiated their associate degree nursing program (leading to licensure as a registered nurse) January of 1976 and graduated 15 students August, 1977. Ancillary nursing personnel are also trained at HC through the medication and nursing aide programs which are taught by registered nurses. Beginning this year a series of continuing education seminars for RN's have been initiated in co-sponsorship with the local district of TNA.

Linda (Mrs. Bob) Miller, began teaching associate degree nursing at HC in January. This is a two-year course of college plus nursing courses. In 1980 the instructors of ADN must hold masters degrees. Mrs. Miller is studying on her masters in guidance and counseling a U.T.P.B. in Odessa.

Mrs. Miller says, "It is very rewarding to see our nursing students grow and mature emotionally and academically. I teach psychiatric nursing and in that part of the course, students learn a lot about themselves and gain insights in personality."

"This course teaches communication skills, active listening and assertiveness skills, emphasizing dealing with client's feelings," Mrs. Miller continued.

"The basic job of a nurse is to maintain 'wellness' and not just to treat illnesses, so people are no longer thought of as patients, but as clients. Therefore, we can offer them so many more services and be more receptive to their general health needs," she reiterated.

Nurses rolls are expanding greatly because the community as a whole needs home health care by visiting nurses due to the increasing age of the population. There is a need for helping people stay well by using nurses in teaching or consulting capacities.

The HC nursing program is teaching students the importance of being involved and staying informed politically by being active members of their professional organizations, the TNSA and TNA.

June Hutchings, an RN with 20 years nursing experience since her graduation from Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Lubbock, teaches the vocational nursing students. Ms. Hutchings says that RN's teach in whatever setting they're in, but there is a world of difference in teaching in a hospital and in college. She spends a lot of time preparing to teach both at home and at school, keeping up with the new scientific advances and trends in nursing. The years of experience she has as a hospital nurse helps her in the rewarding vocation she is now pursuing.

Sue Easterling is a graduate of HC's first RN class, having worked as an LVN since 1961 when she graduated from the former Medical Arts LVN School. Ms. Easterling teaches nursing aides, preparing them to assist the RN's in caring for patients correctly, and a class in pharmacology for medication aides.

Four generations of Sue's family attended her graduation from HC School of Nursing August of 1977, her mother and father, sister, her four children and two grandchildren. Nursing is one profession that can be successfully combined with homemaking.

Ms. Easterling says that the local hospitals are all excellent training grounds for student nurses, RN's, LVN's and nurses aides.

Ellen (Mrs. John) Brooks is a nurse practitioner in Dr. J.E. Mathews office at Malone-Hogan Clinic who works with vascular studies, which is essentially the study of the blood vessels, arterial, lymphatic and venous studies.

Mrs. Brooks says that her purpose is not to replace the physician, but to screen patients by obtaining a history and a nursing physical assessment which relates to vascular problems.

From the test results and the symptomatology a decision is made by the physician as to whether further invasive testing, possible surgery or whether the patient is to be observed on a conservative basis.

Another important function of her job is teaching. She can act as a liaison between the patient and physician, interpreting the doctor's diagnosis and treatment plan to the patient. Another reason for teaching is preventive health care measures. Teaching the patient, for instance a diabetic, proper diet, foot care and other things. Also the dangers of smoking. The nicotine in the tobacco causes the arteries to constrict, therefore decreasing the blood supply to the outer extremities as well as affecting blood pressure and heart rate among other things. Ultimately causing arteriosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries.

Mrs. Brooks scrubs in the operating room to follow the patient through surgery, having seen them on admission. Then she monitors the patient immediately after surgery to pick up any problems immediately. This is in arterial surgery involving the aorta and distal arterial vessels.

"I think that so many people die daily with cardiovascular heart disease that believe it is a natural cause of death. The public needs to realize that with proper diet, not smoking, good exercise and yearly physical examinations that this problem can begin to be eradicated," said Ellen. "The American Heart Association provides an important source of information which the public can utilize to educate themselves regarding cardiovascular disease and can implement this in their daily lives to hopefully decrease the number of deaths related to cardiovascular disease," continued Ellen.

Some of the non-invasive tests are segmental blood-pressures, which is taking the pressure at different levels in the leg and evaluating the pulses in the extremities. She has a doppler machine which costs several thousand dollars on which she can do several things like Cerebrovascular studies which can rule out a blockage of the carotid arteries which could cause a stroke if blocked. Venus tests are done for thrombophlebitis.

She runs treadmill tests to rule out blockage in the arteries in the legs.

Mrs. Brooks graduated in 1977 from Texas Christian University with a BS in nursing. She is married to John Brooks, news director of KBST. Her goal is to return to school within the next few years and get her MS in cardiovascular nursing. She works with Dr. Mathews and Dr. N. Rao, general and vascular surgery.

Mrs. Brooks is membership chairman of TNA and is on the executive board of the Heart

MALE NURSE IN I.C.U. — Terry Sims, RN, works in the Intensive Care Unit at the Veterans Administration Medical Center. Sims education includes pre-med and he has some work toward a masters degree.

Association.

Terry Sims, a male nurse at Veterans Administration Medical Center Intensive Care Unit, has been nursing for six years. Sims graduated as valedictorian from Wellman High School, then took a pre-medical course with heavy emphasis on math and science in South Plains Junior College in Levelland in 1964, completing 39 hours in two semesters. He then took three semesters at Texas Tech in pre-med in Lubbock in 1965-66.

While serving in the U.S. Air Force in Nha Trang in Vietnam from July 1968 to 1969, Sims decision was made to pursue a nursing career. While on an R. and R. in Bangkok, Thailand, he noticed that the Buddhist young men serve as priests of sorts between the ages of 18 and 21 at which time they live modestly, begging for their food. In this area of the world it is considered degrading for a man to be touched by a woman, so many young men perform health care tasks.

Sims graduated from the University of Texas in May, 1973 with a BS in nursing and practiced at St. David's Hospital in Austin on an orthopedic surgical floor.

Resigning from St. David's he came to the VAMC here in 1973 where he worked under Maizie Roberts, head nurse on the general medical floor. During a four-month tour on the medical pulmonary floor, he took an introductory course to coronary care nursing at VAMC.

In the fall of 1975 Sims started practicing a combination intensive care which included coronary, pulmonary, medical and surgical patients under Marianne Simpson, head nurse of the six bed I.C.U. Later on he and his wife, Jan Calle, applied to the Baptist Foreign Mission Board so he turned down an offer of the head nurse position in the I.C.U. at VAMC.

He accepted the position of head nurse of the 40 bed medical-surgical unit in September 1977 and served there until January 1979.

Resigning from VAMC, he accepted a part-time position at HC as clinical instructor in Associate Degree Nursing. While there he completed six hours of masters degree level counseling courses at U.T.P.B. His nursing experiences at VAMC proved valuable in teaching.

Sims returned to VAMC in June of this year as staff nurse in I.C.U.

Since August, 1978, Sims has been researching a presently unused concept regarding communications and its application in providing more efficient nursing care to recipients of health care services. His present plans include part-time involvement as a hospital communications consultant.

Sims has very rarely been aware of any discriminatory offense directed toward him as a man in a predominately female profession, and never from patients or other nursing staff members.

Sims also reiterated that the more current emphasis in nursing is preventive nursing and more family involvement.

Cathy Carey of VAMC out patient unit, has been a nurse for four years and with the VA about two years. She teaches diabetic and hypertension classes to in patients as well as out patients. Cathy was raised in a small farming town, Gilman, Iowa, and had wanted to be a nurse since six years of age.

Ms. Carey uses films, charts and handout materials such as booklets in addition to demonstrating in her teaching capacity. She is also a cardio-pulmonary resuscitation instructor at VA. She is taking several courses from U.T.P.B. working on her masters degree, and is active in TNA. Addie Brown, school nurse at Big Spring High School and wife of Dr. George Brown, physician at the Big Spring State Hospital, is another out of uniform nurse.

Mrs. Brown is one of four nurses in the Big Spring Independent School System, and spends Mondays at Moss Elementary School. The primary duty of a school nurse is drop-in care of student health problems. The student is interviewed and treated or referred. Mrs. Brown says that she ordinarily does for the student only what she would do for her own children at home.

Immunization record keeping is the second primary duty, where the Howard County Health Department and all the doctors, clinics and hospitals in town are most cooperative in sharing information about students.

Physical measurements which includes a vision check, a hearing check with an audiometer, weight, height, teeth check, throat and hair check are done on every student in school, plus anything else upon referral.

Mrs. Brown has one or two high school students in the office working for credit. This is an elective subject. In addition, Howard College has each of their RN students spend a week with a school nurse working as a pediatric nurse.

Emergencies occur at school only occasionally, in which case doctors, parents and other applicable personnel are contacted.

Lots of paper work is involved in school nursing and the school nursing office is inspected by the State Department of Health at least once a year.

Mrs. Brown has been a school nurse 20 years and likes it very much. She states that if a nurse has a flair for independence, school nursing is a good vocation.

Mrs. Brown is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association, the nurses branch of which meets as a sub group when the general TSTA meets once each year.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith have three married children, four grandchildren and three children in high school, Nick, 17, Anthony, 16 and Heidi, 14. Nick is vice president of the Key Club, Anthony buses dishes at the K.C. Steak House and Heidi runs the farm on which they live.

Carol Smith, wife of Dr. Taylor Smith, works out of Best Home Care, Inc. at College Park Center. Mrs. Smith graduated from HC School of Nursing May, 1978 and worked at Malone-Hogan Hospital in I.C.U. and on the surgical floor a year and a half.

The purpose of Home Health Care Inc. is to provide skilled nursing services for former hospital patients who still require nursing care at home, or patients who need care who have not been hospitalized. Most, but not all, are Medicare patients.

Mrs. Smith supervises two full time and one part-time LVN in providing treatment programs in accordance with the doctors' orders. Plans are to hire another RN and a nurses aide in the future.

Mrs. Smith, who makes the initial visit, gathers information and set up the treatment plan in accordance with the doctor's orders, finds her work most rewarding. Doctor's refer patients or they can be referred by anyone. The criteria for eligibility is that the client must be home-bound, must require skilled nursing service and have a doctor's order in order to be seen by the RN.

Concerned that nurses know and meet a patient's right for quality nursing care services, member of the Texas Nurses Association adopted the following at its 65th annual convention, April 8, 1976.

The Sage Brushes observe Tole week

Oct. 21-28 has been proclaimed Tole and Decorative Artists Week in Odessa. Mayor Dick McManigle issued the proclamation for the local chapter of the National Society of Tole and Decorative Artists, the Sage Brushes, in conjunction with the National Week.

Formed in July 1977, the local chapter has grown to a membership of more than 100 Permian Basin artists. Organized to unite the many decorative painters of the area, the club has monthly meetings which include painting demonstrations or sessions as well as numerous paint-ins conducted by regional teachers.

The chapter sponsors a yearly Decorative Art Show and Sale in the fall. The 1979 show drew more than 1,000 Permian Basin residents. The proceeds will be used to have Annette Parks, nationally known instructor, come to Odessa to conduct a two-day painting seminar for members.

Mitzi Shoemaker, Publicity Chairman said, "We are using this time to make the community more aware of decorative art, it's many forms and the vast number of local artists that are in the Permian Basin."

The local chapter is recognizing Tole Week with displays in the Ector County Library, West County Plaza and Winwood Mall as well as other area craft shops. Faye Mikulenska, local instructor, will give a paint-in for the membership at bits October meeting at Saint Luke's Methodist Church.

Tole and Decorative painting is defined as the method of painting designs on any object to decorate or make a picture. The society recognizes that there are many forms of the art including the folk arts that have come from Europe such as Pennsylvania Dutch and Rosemaling. Early American Decorative Art, Country Painting and Tole Painting as it is taught at present incorporating many of the fine art techniques.

The National Society was organized in Tulsa, Okla., on Oct. 22, 1972. There were 84 charter members. The current membership is over 11,000. The 1979 national convention was held in Seattle, Wash. in May and was attended by over 1,700 members, two from the local chapter.

In addition the National Society has a certification program which recognizes teachers and painters who complete a selected number of paintings for each degree.

Tween 12 and 20 Case of the Gorgeous twin

By Robert Wallace, Ed. D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 14-year-old twin and I wish I wasn't. We are both girls but we don't look anything alike. My sister used to be the uglier twin but now she is gorgeous and she knows it. We never talk to each other in a nice manner. When we do communicate, we yell and fight.

I have heard that twins are real close but don't believe it. I'm closer to my stepbrother than my twin sister. Just thought you would like to know.

Denise, Wheeling, W. Va.

Denise: Would you and your sister be closer if she weren't so gorgeous?

dangerous fire hazard. If I were your parent, you would never be allowed to smoke in the house!

Dr. Wallace: I got a portable black and white television for Christmas and our family has a color television in the living room.

When I'm watching a program in the living room, my mom always walks in and changes the channel. She tells me she has worked hard all day and wants to relax.

When I argue with her, her boyfriend, who lives with us, comes in and tells me to watch my program on the black and white set.

This really bugs me and I need your advice.—Bryan, La Habra, Calif.

How to Be A Survivor

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to SCARED, a woman in a rough neighborhood who has suffered numerous purse snatchings and indecent propositions, who is afraid of being raped, and who wonders about carrying a butcher knife, fell below your usual standard of helpfulness.

You suggested she check with her local law enforcement as to "what kind of weapon (if any) a citizen is permitted to carry in order to protect life, limb and pocketbook. The laws differ from state to state." That comment might imply that a weapon DOES offer some protection.

Not only is the carrying of concealed weapons unlawful in most places, but it is a bad, unsafe idea. A person who pulls a knife on an assailant is very likely to lose more than just a purse; he is likely to be seriously injured in a struggle which most probably would ensue. (SCARED herself was badly injured trying to protect her purse.)

For that reason, crime prevention specialists are virtually unanimous in strongly discouraging the general public from carrying deadly weapons, or even keeping them around the home. Many accidental injuries and deaths have resulted from having such weapons at home.

It would be a fine service to your many readers if you would print the following suggestions:

SLADE GORTON, Attorney General, Olympia, Wash.

OUT ALONE

At night, try to stay on well-lighted streets; avoid door ways, shrubbery, dark shadows near buildings, alleys and other potential hiding places.

If possible, walk with a friend.

Better yet, take a bus. If there are few people on board, sit near the driver.

In a cab or friend's car, ask the driver to wait until you signal you are safely inside your house.

Don't hitchhike or accept rides from strangers.

Stay away from deserted laundromats or apartment house laundry rooms at night; be cautious even in the daytime.

Be alert in crowds, where pickpockets do their best work.

The safest place for a man to carry his wallet is in an inside or front pocket.

When you take out your wallet, be as discreet as possible in handling your cash. Remember that cash is a strong temptation to the potential robber, so try to avoid carrying it, especially in large amounts. Use checks or credit cards instead.

A woman should hold her handbag firmly and close to her body, preferably toward the front—never dangling at her side. In certain cases, it may be possible to avoid carrying a purse by concealing keys and a wallet in a pocket, for example. That is the best way to avoid having a purse snatched.

Don't leave your purse on a store counter or set it on the floor in restrooms, theaters, restaurants, or other public places.

IN YOUR CAR

Keep your doors locked and windows rolled up most of the way.

Don't pick up hitchhikers.

If someone tries to break into your car, honk your horn repeatedly.

If you are being followed, don't drive directly home. Drive to the nearest police or fire station, hospital emergency entrance, all-night restaurant or other safe place.

You should not travel at night when you know you have car trouble or are low on gas.

We have just received a new shipment of baskets including giant fans

Hart has program

The Big Spring Desk and Derrick Club, consisting of women employed in the Petroleum and Allied Industries, held their monthly meeting in the conference room of the Cosden Oil and Chemical Company's Refinery Office Building at 5:15 p.m. on Oct. 15th.

In the absence of President Vi Ballou, Sue Warren, vice president presided and introduced the guest speaker, Edward Hart, Quality Control Coordinator for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company. Hart has been a Big Spring resident since 1966 where he was stationed at Webb Air Force Base until his retirement in 1973. Hart has an associate degree from Howard College in Business, having attended ten colleges across the country. He and his wife, Jean, have four sons: Nathan, William, Jeffery and Schyler Edward (Sky).

Hart explained the procedures utilized in product control for the Big Spring Refinery and related facilities. He gave a detailed description of what happens to information received from each location and its importance in the computer, which results in the company having immediate knowledge of the volume and location of each product from each plant. This also enables the company to have the total amounts of raw materials utilized for each product, making forecast information finger tip at all times.

During the business session of the meeting a field trip was made to Fiberflex Products, Inc. Sue Warren gave the club an up-date on National affairs, having returned recently from the Association of Desk and Derrick Clubs Convention held in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

Members attending were Charlotte Sheedy, Beth Kay, Oleta Barnett, Thelma Rains, Sue Warren, Helen Green and Marguerite Cooper. The next meeting will be held at K-Bob's Restaurant on Nov. 19 at 7:00 p.m. with Curtis Strong as the speaker.

Reyes-Ramirez vows read in Catholic ceremony

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church was the setting for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Maria Elena de los Reyes and Ben M. Ramirez.

The Rev. Bernard Gully, pastor, performed the Sept. 29 ceremony before massive arrangements of white gladioli and pink spider mums adorning the back altar. Matching baskets flanked either side of the main altar. The prei dieu was enhanced with nosegay arrangements or pink carnations and baby's breath as were the family pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luis de los Reyes, Coahoma. Mr. and Mrs. Ventura L. Ramirez, San Angelo, are the groom's parents.

Mrs. Socorro Valenzuela, organist, supplied the wedding music.

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father wearing a floor-length gown of sheer white polychiffon fashioned with a high neckline adorned with faintly embroidered field flowers. The front of the gown featured roses laid on schiffli embroidered net trimmed with field flowers shaping a "V" design. Matching lace formed a crown on the bottom half to the skirt with roses scattered throughout the crown and on its peaks. A floor-length net veil outlined in lace fell from a headband of seed pearls and crystal flowers which matched the bride's bouquet.

The bride's bouquet was the traditional Spanish bouquet of seed pearls and crystal flowers. Following the ceremony the bride placed a fresh bouquet of white miniature carnations and baby's breath on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

The maid of honor was Marcia Nichols, Lubbock, who carried a colonial bouquet of white butterfly orchids tied with white satin ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Ida Trevino, cousin of the groom and Guadalupe Morales, both of San Angelo; Beverly Strickland, Lubbock; Irene and Carmela Ramirez, St. Lawrence.

Cushion maids were Grace Chavez and Melizza Kay Hernandez.

Best man was Hector Martinez, San Angelo. Groomsmen were Reggie Torres, Alvin Menchaca, Dwayne Norton and Carmen

MRS. BEN RAMIREZ

Martinez of San Angelo; Leopoldo de los Reyes, brother of the bride, Coahoma, and Oscar Zuniga, St. Lawrence.

Other attendants were Johnny and Yolanda Lugo, Midland, cousin of the groom; Robert and Luisa de la Pena, Midkiff, sister of the bride; Henry and Ester Esparza, San Angelo, cousin of the groom; Eddie Menchaca, cousin of the groom, San Angelo; Irma Wilks, Laredo, sister of the groom; Jose and Enequina Fierro, John and Margie Rodriguez, Ricardo and Petra Chavez, Ray and Maricela Subia and Jesus and Margarita Chavez, all of Big Spring.

Raquel Wilks, Laredo, niece of the groom and Lee Ann Patterson served as flower girls. Patrick Gonzales was the ring bearer. Silvia Amaro, Coahoma, cousin of the bride, was train bearer.

A reception honoring the couple was held at Dora Roberts Community Center immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was adorned with gardenia fragrances, candles circled with white roses. Small arrangements of pink carnations also enhanced the table. White streamers and wedding bells hung from the ceiling and adorned the ing, media, and price. Pat Klotz is chairman for this monthly event. Those members who have not already signed up may call her at 263-0397. The Art Association is grateful to the Citizens Credit Union for this opportunity to display work of its members.

Program Chairman Jean Hensley introduced Robert Traylor who gave a demonstration on chip carving, one of the oldest and simplest methods of wood working. Mr. Traylor displayed a variety of his carvings, ranging from a very small woodblock to a very large wall shield with crossed swords. He stated that he had been working with wood about three years and that the main expense is wood. He feels that number one sugar pine is best for the chip carving, although mahogany is excellent for actual carved pieces.

Tipping of the Brush went to Nita Moser, first, for a landscape; Dana Wilkinson second, for a landscape; and Linda Rupard third, for a still life. These will be displayed during the month of November at Citizens Credit Union, State National Bank, and Klip & Kurl Beauty Shop.

Daniel Greene of New York will conduct a workshop in Lubbock during April. However reservations must be made by Nov. 1.

Paul Kime will conduct a workshop at the Hobby Center Oct. 22-26. Call the Hobby Center for more information.

Clubhouse Child Study Club has Dr. Marshall on Program

The Big Spring Child Study Club met Oct. 10 at the home of Mrs. Spencer Wolfe with Mrs. Lenny Prudhomme as co-hostess. Twenty members answered roll call. Two new members were voted in to the club — Mrs. Harvey Rothell and Mrs. Michael Emerson.

A letter was read from the Big Spring State Hospital asking for Christmas donations. It was decided each member would make an individual donation for help with the Christmas program.

Mrs. Linda Walker introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Dr. John Marshall, Big Spring. Dr. Marshall spoke on "Learning Disabilities." He pointed out that there is a vast amount of information that has been collected on learning disabilities by numerous professional disciplines. He attempted to get some meaning out of some of this information by: a. Defining learning disability — b.

Listing common terms that are used interchangeably with learning disability c. Listing some of the possible courses. d. Listing some of the signs and symptoms that these young people demonstrate. He stated that the term learning disability is normally applied to a child who is normally bright, motivated and well adjusted but for one reason or another does poorly in the academic environment. He mentioned that perceptual skills are being investigated more and more due to their close relationship between these skills and a child's ability to learn. He presented several new screening tests that he utilizes in his office to test for perceptual skills deficits and some of the devices and techniques they use to help in training perceptual skills. The preschool child was also discussed. He pointed out that the preschooler who displays some of the signs of a learning disability should be tested and screened before reaching the school setting. He stated that he felt efficient vision may be an important factor in determining whether or not a child can function effectively in the learning environment and listed some of the tests employed in his office to determine this. He stressed the importance of treating as many symptoms of the learning disabled child as possible — but of equal importance was to teach the child in the area in which they were having problems. That once a deficit in knowledge existed the only way to improve or overcome that deficit was by employing new teaching strategies that take the child's problem into account and specifically and explicitly teaching the deficit area.

The next meeting will be Nov. 14 in the Dora Roberts Community Center with Mrs. Stanley Haney and Mrs. Jim Berringer as co-hostess.

Citizens Credit Union to sponsor monthly art shows for two artists

Members of the Big Spring Art Association held their October meeting at Kentwood Center with Corma Stovall and Ruth Sweett as hostesses. Della Burchett was welcomed as a guest.

Two projects in the near future are of interest to all members. The annual Art Club sale is to be held in the Highland Shopping Center Mall on Nov. 17. Members furnish their own tables and equipment. The Citizens Credit Union will sponsor a monthly "two-person" show, exhibiting six paintings per artist. This display will be open to the public from the first bank day of the month through the last bank day. All paintings must be framed, ready for hanging, and have an ID card giving name of artist, title of painting, media, and price. Pat Klotz is chairman for this monthly event. Those members who have not already signed up may call her at 263-0397. The Art Association is grateful to the Citizens Credit Union for this opportunity to display work of its members.

Program Chairman Jean Hensley introduced Robert Traylor who gave a demonstration on chip carving, one of the oldest and simplest methods of wood working. Mr. Traylor displayed a variety of his carvings, ranging from a very small woodblock to a very large wall shield with crossed swords. He stated that he had been working with wood about three years and that the main expense is wood. He feels that number

Predictors for treating borderline hypertension

"Predictors" of future high blood pressure help select which "borderline" patients should be treated by physicians, according to a Michigan specialist.

Repeated high school pressure readings, family history, obesity, fast heart rate, and racial background must be considered in evaluating the patient. "Generally those patients who present two or more of these risk predictors should be treated for their hypertension," Steve Julius, M.D. of the University of Michigan Medical School at Ann Arbor told physicians attending a medical symposium. Black patients in particular have a higher incident of high blood pressure. If a patient's parents had hypertension before age 50, the patient is clearly at a higher risk.

Dr. Julius spoke at a Medical Horizons symposium in St. Louis sponsored by Washington University School of Medicine and the CIBA Pharmaceutical Company.

Arts and Crafts Festival is well worth visiting

The third annual Arts and Crafts Festival at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum is a big success with 130 booths occupied by artists and craftsmen from near and far and local clubs selling all sort of edible goodies.

The festival will continue this afternoon from 1-6 p.m. and is well worth your viewing time.

At least 13 artists with national reputations are featured, like George Boutwell of Austin, J.D. Keel of Seagraves and Jim Thomas of Amarillo. Booths have been sold out for two months to artists and craftsmen from six states, Alabama, Arizona, Illinois, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico.

One of the craftsmen is Mrs. Avery Peterson, formerly of Big Spring where she became interested in shell craft. Currently a resident of Corpus Christi, this exhibitor lived in Big Spring for 23 years before moving to the gulf. She says she vacationed in Corpus Christi quite often while living in Big Spring and found that seashells and beach materials came "in handy in teaching arts and crafts at the Big Spring Boys Club and in my duties as a school teacher."

Mrs. Peterson says that she has learned a lot about seashells since she began working with them in her crafts and can now locate the best sites around Corpus Christi for specimens to use in her unique craft.

Another craftsman featured at the Art Festival is Ernie Roche of Hubbard who is a self-taught artist. Roche attributes much of his rapid success and recognition to this lack of formal training, for the new techniques he has developed reflect his own individuality.

Roche's sculptures range from figures of six or eight inches high to huge heads carved from tree trunks three or four feet tall.

Other craftsmen are Weldon Boggus, Fort Stockton High School principal, and Joe Franco, Comanche Elementary P.E.

Their clocks have been well received and some of the mesquite clocks are personalized with the name of the person being used as numbers on the clock.

The old wood from barns in the West Texas areas are developed into general store fronts and old barn fronts. These clocks are also personalized with brands or names on a hanging sign.
