FAMILY IS UNITED AFTER 58 YEARS

Mrs. Pollyanna Busby, 96 Years Old, Has Prayed Every Night For Over Half Century For Her Boys.

BOYS STOLEN IN CHILDHOOD

Brought to Texas From Mississippi After Close of Civil War, They Grew to Able Manhood.

FRANKLIN, Texas, March 20.—For 58 years Mrs. Pollyanna Busby, 96, has prayed nightly. She has asked that her three sons, stolen from her at the close of the Civil War, be returned.

Now the three sons, grown to manhood and fathers of families, have been reunited with their aged mother.

It looks like a queer twist of fate. But, says Mrs. Busby— "It is only an answer to my prayers. It is a proof of the potency of prayer."

Here is the story—a story equal in its pathos and heart interest to Longfellow's tale of Evangeline and Gabriel:

In 1865 Mrs. Busby was living happily in Meridian, Miss., with her three sons—William, 8, Henry, 5, and Stephen, 4. The father, a Confederate soldier, had been slain at Vicksburg.

Texas Emigration On At that time vast numbers of families in the war-torn Confederacy were emigrating to seek this fortune in Texas.

One of these emigrants was the Meridian village doctor, William and Henry, the two older Busby boys, interestedly watched the physician as he loaded his meager household supplies into his ox-cart.

"Jump in, boys, and I'll give you a ride," said the doctor.

That ride did not end until the boys, their resistance conquered by blows with ox-whips, reached the doctor's claim in Texas. There they were reduced to the status of peons, laboring on the farm without pay and subjected to cruel mistreatment.

They finally effected their escape. Working from farm to farm, they reached the Oklahoma frontier.

There they grew to manhood. They labored hard, saved their earnings, married, bought farms, pro-

One Enters Clergy. William, a man of strong religious convictions, finally became a Baptist minister.

Meanwhile, back in Mississippi Stephen, the youngest son, too was stolen and taken to Texas. He escaped, went to Oklahoma and settled on a farm there.

More than a quarter of a century ago Henry and William learned of Stephen's identity.

They believed their mother had emigrated to Texas.

At the beginning of this year their search for her was still on. Henry, now 66, was a farmer at Okemah, Okla., Stephen, 64, was prospering on his land at Thakerville, Okla.

Grandson Starts Quest. William, now 69, was living the quiet life of a clergyman at Mangum, Okla. His eldest son, H. G. L. Busby, likewise had heard the call of the church and had been ordained a minister.

On the shoulders of the younger man William unloaded the task of seeking the long-lost mother.

Young Busby became pastor of a church here in Franklin. In his spare hours he traveled miles into the surrounding country, stopping at every farmhouse and inquiring for information of his grandmother.

Finds Clew. Finally, on an errand of mercy, Busby stopped one night for food at an isolated farmhouse near Marquez. Replying to questions, he told the farm woman of his quest.

"Why, there's a woman just a piece down the road who's spent her life hunting for her three sons!" said the farm woman.

Leaving his dinner untouched, young Busby leaped into his flyover and went to the indicated farm house.

There he found Mrs. Busby—now Mrs. Dukes, for she had remarried. She told Busby her story.

"You are my grandmother!" he said.

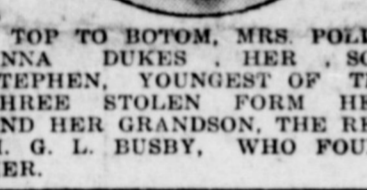

Telegrams brought the three sons to Marquez as soon as they could travel.

"My only wish in life has been fulfilled," Mrs. Dukes said.

WARM WEATHER Has Two Wives, Both Legal IS THE PROMISE

Weather Man Says That March 21, First Day of Spring Will See Real Spring Weather Enroute.

BLIZZARD SWEEPS ON TO EAST

By The United Press. WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—The arrival of spring tomorrow will be accompanied by much warmer weather throughout the country, the Weather Bureau forecasted today.

Rapidly rising temperatures are expected.

The warm wave will extend to West Texas, according to the weather report received for this locality via the Sweetwater Vulcanizing Company radio. The report follows:

TO PLANT COTTON Mitchell County Will Have 15,000 Additional Acres in Cultivation This Coming Year.

Special to The Reporter. COLORADO, Mar. 20.—A drive into the country in any direction from Colorado cannot but cause one to note the scores of new fields being cleared for cultivation this year and the number of new farm homes dotting the horizon everywhere. Many of these new farms are being put in within large pastures, heretofore contributing nothing save to support of range cattle, says the Colorado Record.

In addition to the new farms being improved for cultivation there are scores of already established farms about which an addition in the cultivated area is to be noticed. The hauling of cord wood, burning of trash and breaking of virgin sod is the order of the day in every community of the Colorado territory.

According to figures compiled by the Chamber of Commerce, approximately 15,000 acres of virgin land will be put under the plow this year. Last year an area almost as large was transformed from pasture lands to well improved fields. Maintenance of this record for a few years will place Mitchell County among the largest agricultural producing counties of West Texas.

Much of the farm lands of this county will be planted to cotton again this year, according to W. A. Dulin, county farm agent. There will be an unusually large acreage planted to early sorghum grains, Dulin states, because of the excellent condition prevalent over this section.

The introduction of pure bred hogs, dairy and beef cattle and poultry on scores of Mitchell County farms during recent months is another asset frequently noticed. Much of this is the result of work by the county and home demonstration agents among the rural people and the boys and girls clubs.

EXTEND TIME. Time for qualifying in the Golf Tournament has been extended to Monday, March 26, owing to inclement weather.

WARREN O., March 20.—A petition just introduced in common pleas court here has reopened the most unusual divorce tangle in modern law history—a legal maze featured by a peculiar twist of fate which has made a man the possessor of two wives, both legitimate.

The case involves: Thomas H. Wells, Jr., youthful Youngstown (O.) millionaire and war veteran. Stacia Welch Wells, saleswoman and manicurist, Well's first wife. Marion Povie Wells, daughter of a New York editor, Well's second wife.

The petition which will reopen the case has been presented to common pleas court here by the first wife. She requests the court to set aside the divorce granted Wells in 1921.

This she asks despite the fact that the court of appeals already has vacated the divorce, reversing the decision of the local court.

History of Tangle. Here is the history of the unique tangle: Stacia Welch and young Wells grew up in Youngstown as childhood sweethearts where Wells was the son of a prominent family and Stacia the daughter of a steel worker.

Wells severed connections with his childhood town when he went away to college. Stacia, after having suspended ribbons and homery over the counters of a Youngstown department store, went to New York to become a manicurist.

There Wells, in the metropolis in quest of diversion, met her in a theatre lobby. The romance of childhood was revived. They were wed by a Hoboken (N. J.) justice.

Wells established his home in a luxurious country near Youngstown. Then he served the military service where he became known as the "millionaire doughboy."

DEBTOR NATIONS TO BE PRESSED United States is Going to Proceed With Collection of Six Billion, Four Hundred Million Owning.

ENGLAND'S PLAN IS SUGGESTED United States Treasury Department is Working On The Situation—Ask Nations To Pay Up Debt.

By The United Press. WASHINGTON, Mar. 20.—New negotiations for the settlement of the remaining six billion four hundred million dollars which the allied nations owe the United States will soon be undertaken.

Italy, France, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and others may be informed officially, it was learned at the treasury department today that this government is prepared, in view of the British settlement, to proceed further with the task of refunding.

While there is no disposition on the part of the United States government to hasten negotiations with the governments which have not yet paid, members of the American Refunding Commission believe that it is proper that the remaining debtors should be invited to negotiate on the basis of the British settlement or suggest terms.

JUDGE SCORES LIQUOR GUILTY

District Judge W. P. Leslie Sternly Admonishes Youths For Violation Of The Prohibition Laws.

"NOT FRIVOLOUS NOR TRIVIAL"

Bert Day Draws Suspended Sentence Five Years On Charge of Passing A Forged Instrument.

Proceedings in the District Court up to noon Tuesday included two suspended sentences for violation of the prohibition laws and a five year suspended sentence meted out to Bert Day on a charge of passing a forged instrument.

The Day case was tried Tuesday morning and the others late Monday afternoon.

Judge C. P. Woodruff addressed the jury for the defense in the Day case for the first time since his return to the practice of law January 1.

The trial of J. L. Pitts of Roscoe on a charge of operating a still was proceeding in District Court Tuesday afternoon. The evidence had been presented at 3 o'clock with argument by counsel to follow. It is possible a verdict will be rendered late today.

Elmer Lowe and J. Wallace Perry received a three-year suspended sentence late Monday afternoon, following their plea of guilty to a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor.

In passing sentence, Judge Leslie delivered a most scathing exhortation to them in open court saying the penitentiary was staring them in the face, because they had violated the law of the great State of Texas.

"Bootlegging is a most serious offense. It is not a trival or frivolous matter," said Judge Leslie in part. Continuing, he said:

"You young men have violated the laws of the Great State of Texas, the state to which you owe your life and liberty. Do you lack appreciation, are you ungrateful for all this state has done for you, or are you merely lacking in common sense?"

"You were young men with great opportunities before you. Why did you take off down an alley and pursue the degradation of the bootlegger and his vile wares. You have heaped shame and disgrace upon yourselves and upon your families."

"You still have a chance. The jury in this case has seen fit to suspend sentence upon you. You have a rough and rocky road to travel to re-establish yourselves as citizens of reputation and standing in the community."

The court room was crowded while an aged mother and a bride of three weeks wept quietly as Judge Leslie concluded his stern admonition:

Lowe is from Mitchell County and Perry resides near Roscoe.

AGAIN SENTENCED. Roy Mitchell, Waco Murderer, Gets Death Penalty Second Time.

By The United Press. WACO, Mar. 20.—Roy Mitchell, found guilty Saturday of the murder of W. E. Holt and sentenced to death, drew the death penalty again today.

It took the jury three minutes to bring in a verdict of guilty on the charge of murdering Mrs. Deneamp, the companion of Holt at the time the latter was murdered.

CARS COLLIDE. By The United Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Mar. 20.—Over sixty persons were injured when two street cars collided at East Springfield today. All city ambulances were rushed to the scene and hospitals notified to be ready to receive the injured.

DWELLINGS DESTROYED. By The United Press. KEY WEST, Fla., Mar. 20.—Thirty-five dwellings were destroyed in a fire here today. The flames were brought under control when enlisted men from the army and navy stations were called into service.

FOR REV. E. W. McLAURIN. The American Legion Post and Auxiliary will hold a farewell reception Friday evening in the Legion room at the Court House in honor of Rev. and Mrs. E. W. McLaurin, and the Boy Scouts. A program is being arranged.

SCHOOL BOARD.

The first Saturday in April comes the election of four members of the School Board. The members whose terms expire at that time, constituting a majority of the Board, are Hubert Toler, J. H. Snell, T. W. Farris and Ney Sheridan. President F. G. Robertson Secretary M. B. Howard and Mrs. W. W. Beall are the members retaining office this year.

Serving the public is a thankless task at best. Service on the school board is especially arduous. There is no financial compensation. Possibly no city institution reaches so many families as do the city schools. On that account the finger of criticism is always ready for that which is done as well as that which is not done.

At the same time there is nothing fundamentally more important to this city than its schools. Nowhere is it more important that the best men and women of this town serve than on the school board. Men and women are needed, who are big enough to see the needs of the schools and who will work tirelessly and enthusiastically to make them a great power in the advancement of Sweetwater.

Here is a matter upon which a committee of citizens interested in the welfare of this city can well become active. It can interview these retiring members, find out whether or not they are willing to make further sacrifices of time from their business and of peace of mind to serve the public. And if they are not, then to make sure that they are succeeded by the right type of men and women, who will continue the high ideals that have ever characterized the Board in the past.

TO SAVE.

A very attractive booklet issued by the U. S. Savings System tells what the government is doing to encourage the people to practice economy and thrift. About twelve years ago the Postal Savings System was established, chiefly for the benefit of the foreign-born who would trust their earnings only with the government for safe keeping. During the war the national savings movement grew in importance when War Savings stamps and certificates were sold to persons of small means who wanted a safe investment, and who patriotically wished to meet the requests of the government for money to carry on the war. But these savings securities were not adapted to after-war conditions, and a new method to carry on the savings movement was devised. The government Savings System was reorganized and Treasury savings certificates were issued to take the place of war savings securities. New life was injected into the system and it is now working upon broad lines. It is conducting a campaign of education to teach the people to save; to have them avoid the swindling operations which take hundreds of millions of hard earned money from them; and, it is offering for sale a sound, safe, and convenient form of investment in denominations within the reach of all, and which are fully explained in the booklet.

TRAIN IS COMING.

The Cow, Sow and Hen Train that is coming to Sweetwater Thursday night means more to this town than is perhaps realized. It is bringing experts from the A. & M. College of Texas, which ranks as an educational institution with any of them. It is bringing exhibits of livestock, poultry and better farming so that farmers can see with their own eyes what can be done. It is preaching diversification, pure-bred livestock and scientific farming, which will mean the economic salvation of West Texas if carried out. The Santa Fe Railroad is paying the bill for this train. All that this company asks Sweetwater to do is to see that there is a large crowd of citizens and farmers present to profit by the message that is presented. Sweetwater can well do that, and in addition it can, and should, express its appreciation to the Santa Fe for this progressiveness and interest in this section. Of course, the Santa Fe will profit directly by the development of this territory. But will this territory and Sweetwater profit any the less. If the development urged by this train takes place? Every business man in Sweetwater should bring a farmer friend to the Santa Fe depot Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

BOOTLEGGING.

In District Court Monday Judge Leslie addressed some very pungent remarks to two young men who had pleaded guilty to violation of the prohibition laws. The judge's remarks were addressed to two who had pleaded guilty—they may well be heeded by some others who haven't pled guilty—yet.

WEST TEXAS NOTES.

Clean Out Rattle Snake Dens—Walter Robinson was in town Wednesday and stated that the men of his community held snake hunts last Friday, Saturday and Tuesday, and killed one hundred and thirty-four reptiles in their dens.

They covered a stretch of country three miles long and on a dozen different farms and ranches. They made special gigs and when they located a rattle snake den they proceeded to clean it out. They would secure from one up to thirty-four snakes in a den. The largest was a rattler about six feet long and having nine rattles. One of the snakes killed had thirteen rattles.

All the dens faced south or south-west and were found in the cliffs. The hunters had some exciting times especially so when they found a big rattle snake or two coming from the rear while they were all busy at the mouth of the den, and not noting the approach of the snakes until they were almost underfoot.—Big Spring Herald.

What Killed The Ram?—Sweetwater and San Angelo are having a controversy over what killed the famous "Jubilee Ram." Sweetwater says that the bell weather had been without good water so long that he overdrank himself at Trammell Lake, while San Angelo says that that their sheep had been accustomed to good water and the lake water killed him. The facts of the case are that said Ram was not able to expand to much "pep" as his companions had that day. Again he might have died from loneliness as he had to hob-nob with boosters and politicians and did not have his lady associates along to comfort him. Again the Ram might have died from being "puffed up." He had his picture made with the governor. He had a promise that his wool would be made into cloth in a Texas Mill. He "lobbied" with dignitaries in the Hotel Wright, all of which may have had something to do with the "untimely death." Another theory is that the Ram died from being "gassed" while on the road back home from Sweetwater. That is, a Sweetwater suggestion. There must have been lots of gas on the Orient Special on the return to San Angelo.—Hamlin Herald.

New Church Building For Roscoe—Plans have been made by the committee of the Methodist church to build a new edifice. The structure is to be constructed on the present site and will be of stucco or brick veneer. The building will probably be larger and have a basement. Plans have been for the work to proceed within the next month or two. A new addition has already been added to the parsonage, in the form of a sleeping porch. This addition has added a great deal to the appearance of the house and gives more room.—Roscoe Times.

New Publication Company Formed—The Herald observes its neighboring paper, the Stamford Leader has been purchased by a company of Stamford men and the firm incorporated as the Stamford Leader Company. George L. English is treasurer and business manager. With this change of firm name in Stamford, the Hamlin Herald takes the place as the oldest printing firm in Jones County. The Western Enterprise at Anson was recently purchased and is now in new hands.—Hamlin Herald.

OPEN MIND COLUMN.
SUBJECT:—"TECH ALREADY LOCATED" (?)

Editor Sweetwater Daily Reporter: Dear Sir:—

In as much as the writer located in Abilene, during the year of 1889, where he spent a little more than twenty years "happily," assisting in the meantime to build a beautiful city, of which he is justly proud, the article appearing in your Sunday paper, of March 18th, where Abilene made the statement that they already had the "Tech College" located, was naturally, interesting to me; and I am wondering how and where they obtained this all important "news item?"

It is further—and more—interesting to note that Abilene by their writers own statement, admit, although unintentionally, the fact, which is well known to all the folk of West Texas, who are at all posted and familiar with the facts, that Sweetwater, is, beyond question, the most centrally located of any city in the entire West.

As you will not, the Abilene man said, in part: "Sweetwater, and all other points, need not put it down for "pat" that they have the College. But there is one thing they can put down as "pat," and that is the locating committee appointed by Governor Neff will locate the Tech College in West Texas at a point that is accessible, from all directions, in a section that contains the different formations of soil that is required in the "Tech Bill" and as centrally located in West Texas as is possible in order that All West Texas, as a whole, can get to without "troublesome" layovers and delays in transportation."

It is a well known and undisputed fact, that Sweetwater is in possession of all the above requirements—and I firmly believe, in which my faith grows stronger each day, that, when they shall have gone over the situation carefully, as they will do, of course, the locating committee will locate the Tech College at Sweetwater, where, if located for the convenience of the people of West Texas, it rightly and deservedly belongs.

Please let it be understood that I am not fighting Abilene, for I assure you I am not, because I love Abilene and her folk, but I am fighting for Sweetwater, for two reasons, namely: Those being because Sweetwater is my home and because the Tech College located at Sweetwater WILL SERVE MORE PEOPLE OF WEST TEXAS and WITH LESS EXPENSE IN GETTING HERE THAN ANY OTHER PLACE IN WEST TEXAS.

We have as good land and as much of it as any section of West Texas, the BEST WATER, in an unlimited quantity, the capacity of which we can easily and quickly double, should it become necessary. With THREE BIG TRUNK LINE RAILROADS, WHICH IS MORE THAN ANY OTHER CITY BETWEEN Fort Worth and El Paso CAN CLAIM. What more could the committee ask?

A. H. HERRING.

AT THE PALACE.

Good Comedy Drama Here:—"The Ghost Breaker," a picture which must be classed among the finest comedy-dramas of the year, had its initial presentation at the Palace Theater last evening, and was most enthusiastically received. Wallace Reid, the star, beautiful Lila Lee, and Walter Hires, were excellent in their respective portrayals. The story starts off with a thrilling feud fight in Kentucky, and winds up in a ghost infested castle in Spain. Mr. Reid is delightful in his portrayal and Lila Lee is charming as ever as his leading woman, playing the role of a Spanish senorita to perfection. Walter Hires is seen as a negro servant and provides much relishable comedy. The picture is well worth seeing. It will be shown again tonight.

In addition to the above splendid bill, two news reels and a Larry Seamon comedy are shown, completing an evening's entertainment that is an enjoyable one, indeed.

DO YOU REMEMBER how you used to be on the job bright and early to see the circus parade? Remember how you thrilled as the lions, tigers, and the big, lumbering elephants passed in review? How the horses, the blare of the bands, the antics of the clowns, and the glitter of it all inspired you with a fervid determination to see the real show—the big performance in the tent?

YOU DIDN'T REALIZE IT THEN, BUT YOU WERE GETTING A LOT OUT OF AN ATTRACTIVE ADVERTISEMENT.

Perhaps you don't realize it NOW, but other advertisements, just as attractive, just as interesting and far more valuable to you, parade daily before you in the columns of The Sweetwater Reporter.

The merchants and makers of everything you want or need, here display before you their most attractive wares, It is truly "THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH."

The whole purpose of any advertisement is to excite your curiosity, gain your interest, arouse your desire; to tell you something you don't know; to remind you of something you have forgotten; to convince you of something over which you have been hesitating.

In short, the purpose of an advertisement is, in one way or another, TO MAKE YOU HAPPIER.

"TREND OF MUSIC IS DOWN."

Old Masters "Reached High;" New School "Grovels," Says Pianist.

L. Dean Hatch in the Outlook.
 "The trend of modern music is down," said Leopold Godowsky recently in a conversation which I had the good fortune to see and hear. They were talking about the drift of the present school of music, meaning of course, not the universally condemned jazz and ragtime, but the best creative art in harmony that our generation has produced.
 "The trend is down," said the great pianoforte master.
 "Nothing that has been done in the last thirty years will live. In another twenty-five it will not be found. It must die. There is nothing in it to keep alive—to make live."
 "The old masters," he explained, "they had a basis. To be exact, I suppose there is nothing in the world that has not a basis. But Beethoven, Bach, Brahms, Mozart—these men worked on the best foundation they knew in life. They took for their inspiration—what shall we call it?—the Church? Maybe religion is the better word. But now, of recent time, the composers think only of material things, so that all they have to give us is little pictures, motifs, trifles of description. These things have no roots. They will vanish like the snow on the hills."
 "Then there is this modern school that boasts the wild dance for a basis." The refined poet musician shrank visibly at the thought. "Imagine the ultimate results of evolving music from the dance of savages that howl about a cave fire while they kill and eat one another. Compare that with music inspired by the most beautiful Gothic cathedral, where the thoughts and harmonies rise up to the lofty arches, which themselves but represent aisles in the mighty forest stretching upward to heaven. "There it is in a nutshell. The old masters reached as high as they could. The new school grovels as low as it can go. The one lives; the other dies. It is very plain."

WEST TEXAS NOTES.

Del Rio Herald Boosts Woolen Mill.
 —A woolen mill in Del Rio that would furnish employment to 1,000 men, women, boys and girls of the working class, and of sufficient capacity to manufacture all the wool of this section would probably pay handsome dividends annually and be worth millions of dollars to the town and immediate section of country, says the Herald of Del Rio. There will be such a mill established somewhere in this wool producing section within the next two years, and possibly within the next few months, and the town that gets it will be the town that gets in the lead and gets action quickest.

Irion Sheepman Hopeful.—"There was a time, and not so many years ago, when cattlemen and sheepmen were not on speaking terms, but now we handle both cattle and sheep on the same ranch, and are very chummy all around, as it was the sheep that prevented us from sinking out of sight the last year and a half," declared H. C. Simpson, a San Angelo, Texas, a big sheep and cattle rancher in Irion county, in the ranch territory of that state, says a Kansas City news story. "The high price of wool this year is going to put all flockmasters back on their feet in fine shape," added Mr. Simpson, who handles both cattle and sheep. "Cattle ranches the last few years suffered far heavier losses than flockmasters, so we at last recognize that sheep are the life savers after all. Years ago it was thought cattle and sheep could never be handled on the same ranch, and in fact, cattlemen did not want to handle sheep, nor associate with their owners. We were sort of stuck up, but the heavy financial losses cattlemen sustained and the rapid return of the flockmasters to a normal basis, caused us to change our minds. There is little doubt now but what we will get around 50c a pound for our wool this spring, which will put a vast amount of cash in circulation in the big sheep territory of South Texas. It will mean millions of dollars scattered over that territory. And we never saw our section of the State in better shape for grass and feed, nor stock doing better."

Moving Sheep to Schleicher.—Henry Clark came in from the ranch last Friday visiting with his parents Saturday he left for the John Clark ranch, where he has had his sheep. He is preparing to take them back to his ranch in Schleicher county.—Mertzon Star.

Booleggers Not in Clover.—The Junction Eagle opines that the boolegger is not in high clover in that section of the country. Sheriff Gibbs and his deputies last Sunday night confiscated a practically new Ford roadster, a 30 gallon still, 25 feet of coil and a quart of whisky.

Boost Angelo For Tech Site.—Throw away that hammer and boost! boost! as you have never boosted before and we will help you. Knock and you are going to knock alone because no one is going to help you. Do you want to be on the popular side? Then boost. They are the popular ones. We must do something to help San Angelo locate that Tech school. You of course, can't see the benefit, but anything that helps West Texas will help you, so boost to locate the Tech school at San Angelo.—Mertzon Star.

TO BEAUTIFY.
T. & P. Station At Colorado to Have Park.

Special to The Reporter.
COLORADO, Mar. 20.—A. E. Pistole of Big Spring, divisional superintendent of the Texas & Pacific, while in Colorado, stated that he would cooperate with the Civic League and the Chamber of Commerce in improving the plat east of the passenger station into a parklet, on condition that the city furnish water free of cost to the railway company for watering the trees, grass and shrubbery proposed.

"We do not have available any funds to expend in improving the park now," Mr. Pistole stated, "but we will haul, free of cost, to Colorado any trees or ornamental shrubs you may select to be found along our lines, and we will help keep the property beautiful." Mr. Pistole recommended that non-bearing mulberry trees and a species of cactus to be found in the vicinity of Abilene should be especially attractive for growing in the proposed park.

BRIDES.
The prices of wives in Tibet has slumped to seven goats apiece, reports Sven Hedin, noted explorer. That is the standard price asked in this mysterious Asiatic country by fathers with marriageable daughters. After the wedding ceremony, says Dr. Hedin, the single brothers of the groom purchase an interest in the bride. So a wife in Tibet often has a harem of husbands.

As you will agree, the family systems of Americans and Tibetans are far apart in transubstantiation.
