IN CONFERENCE ON REPARATIONS

Ten Nations Represented at Office of Ramsay McDonald, in Parley on German Debt.

OUTLOOK IS OPTIMISTIC

Since Last Conference, France and Belgium Have Invaded Ruhr, Germany Has Quit Paying.

By The United Press.

LONDON, Eng., July 16.—The fifteenth important inter-allied conference since the Versailles treaty opened this morning in the spacious offices of Ramsay McDonald, at the foreign office, where statesmen of ten nations gathered around the long horse shoe table for still another consideration of reparations.

In the 18 months since the last fatal conference at Paris, January, 1923, the French and Belgians have invaded the Ruhr, and Germany has ceased her payments. The Allies recently took over the experts' report as a basis of settlement, and it is for the consideration of ways and means under the report that the present conference is assembled.

Outside the foreign office a great crowd of Londoners and many American tourists stood all morning watching the delegates arrive.

There was an air of cheerful optimism in the foreign office corridors, and statesmen spoke to each other as if there was a possibility of this time settling the difficult reparations tangle.

CHILD RECOVERING

Cressie Mills Sanders Less Seriously Hurt Than First Thought.

Cressie Mills Sanders, who was injured when hit by an automobile driven by "Buster" Goble on N. E. 3rd street Monday night, was resting well Wednesday, according to her aunt, Mrs. Butler at 510 E. N. 3rd street. Injuries proved to be less serious than the first reports indicated and the child will probably be out in a few days. Her mother, Mrs. Sanders, is expected to arrive from Wichita Falls Wednesday night.

A deal has been closed wherein Otto Carter and J. Jackson become the owners of the brick building formerly occupied by the Sweetwater Machine Company. They purchased it from George Howell.

The consideration was reported to be around $5,500.

The new owners plan extensive improvements to the property, and expect to lease it to some interested concern.

Pay Fines.

County Attorney R. D. Cox went to Roscoe Tuesday where four cases of gambling and two cases of drunkenness were filed in Justice Court of precinct No. 5. Defendants in the gambling cases and one in the drunkenness charge pleaded guilty and were fined $31.40 and $12.70, respectively. The other defendant in the drunkenness case will fight the case, it is reported.

DENY GRAIN DEAL

Announcement of Sale of Five Companies Premature, A. F. B. F. Says in Statement.

By The United Press.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 16.—Announcement made yesterday by the Rosenbaum Grain corporation of the sale of five grain companies to farmer co-operatives was premature, the American Farm Bureau federation declared in a formal statement today.

The consumation of the deal must wait the sanction of the Federation and other farm organizations, the Bureau stated. Definite steps in that direction were taken with the incorporation of the Grain Marketing company under the laws of Illinois, the statement held.

AT THE END OF THE TRAIL—First and exclusive picture of the funeral of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., son of the President of the United States as the flower blanketed casket was carried by U. S. Marines into Edwards Congregational Church at Northampton, Mass., where the boy was known by everyone. Thousands lined the streets as the procession moved to and from the church. Cabinet officers and men and women high in affairs of the nation attended the ceremonies.

The Hansells, former members of the cult, charged that they were induced to join under the impression that the House of David was a strictly religious cult, and they later learned it was a blind for the immoral practices of "King Benjamin" Purnell and "Queen" Mary, leaders of the colony.

By The United Press.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 16.—The search for Major Samuel H. McLeary, missing for two weeks, continued today with fast waning hope that he would be found alive.

Reports that he had been seen this week in the vicinity of Winston-Salem failed to materialize, as has every other of the dozen clues to his whereabouts. The new story that he has been murdered and his body concealed near Enfield, N. C., was scouted by searchers and friends, who pointed out that the artillery officer was enroute from Raleigh to Charleston when he disappeared, and that Enfield is considerable distance from this route.

Court Sustains Injunction Given To Piggly Wiggly

By The United Press.

COLUMBUS, O., July 16.—Clarence Sanders, whose sensational success and subsequent collapse as organizer and head of the Piggly Wiggly chain grocery system attracted national wide attention, is now definitely restrained from regaining his lost millions through another such enterprise.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today upheld the Federal Court of Memphis, where an injunction was issued to the Piggly Wiggly corporation restraining the former head from organizing a chain of grocery stores, similar to the Piggly Wiggly system. The corporation maintains that to do so would be an infringement on their chain store patent rights.

Dr. Duggan, After Personal Investigation, Declares Disease Typhus, Not Typhoid Fever.

By The United Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 16.—Quarantine against Starr County on account of typhus fever was considered today by the State Health Department. While no official statement was issued by State Health Officer Dr. Malone Duggan, it is known that he has threatened to establish a quarantine against the infected region unless the local authorities fully cooperate with the department in efforts to prevent the further spread of the disease.

Starr County authorities claim that the disease is typhoid, and not typhus. Dr. Duggan, who has made a personal investigation of the situation, diagnosed the disease as typhus, and issued a statement to that effect. He claims that there are 15 cases in Rio Grande City.

No decision had been reached at noon today in a conference on the quarantine between Dr. Duggan and Governor's officials.

Tenant Over City National Bank Holds Up Improvement Planned For Bowen Building.

Improvements to the Bowen and City National Bank buildings recently announced have been indefinitely postponed according to a statement by Berry Bowen, owner of one of the buildings involved.

The contemplated improvements included new fronts, removal of the iron stairway on West North second and substitution of a stairway between the two buildings and other expensive remodeling.

According to a statement issued by Berry Bowen, the improvements were prevented by one of the tenants in the City National Bank Building, whose lease does not expire until January 1, 1925. It is understood that this tenant had secured quarters elsewhere.

$100 A Month For Teaching School Without Scholars

WICHITA, Kas., July 16.—Miss Hazel Burns has again been employed to teach a scholarless school in Thomas County, Kansas. She has been engaged at $100 a month and will soon start in her third year at opening the school house in the morning staying there all day and closing it in the evening without having had a single scholar to teach. It is said that most of the patrons of the district have no children and those who do have sent them to the city schools at Colby.

If the teacher is dismissed and the school closed it is said the district would be forced to consolidate and consequently would lose the heavy taxes paid by the railroad which runs through the district.

So they continue to hire a teacher although there is nothing for her to do.

PUNCTURED LOUD SPEAKER Man of Action Shot First When He Heard Noise.

DALLAS, Texas, July 16.—Jesse Compton, of Vickery, is a man of action. He shoots first and asks questions afterwards.

The other night Jesse heard a rasping voice in the darkness of his room. Seizing his pistol, he cut loose a volley in the general direction of the sound, called the police and turned on the light.

His new loud speaker was riddled with bullets. He had gone to sleep leaving the radio connected.

His only comfort is that his aim was good.

DESTROY 250 IDAHO HOMES

Vast Timber Tracts Fall Before Flames in British Columbia—Mine Property Consumed.

By The United Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 16.—Fires running through the forests of the Pacific Coast today centered their fury in northern California and northern Idaho, with at least 24 persons missing, and two injured.

Fires in northern Idaho destroyed 250 homes in the Pink Creek Canyon country, razed the buildings of the Nabob mine, with a loss of $500,000, and were threatening the Constitution Mine. Twenty employees of the Nabob mine were reported to have fled back into the hills for safety. Their whereabouts were unknown.

Four members of a colony on Puerpucine Creek, near Nelson, British Columbia, were still missing after the fire had raged between them and the villages where others took refuge. Vast timber tracts in the colony have been destroyed, with two mills owned by the colony, and today the fire was raging toward Porto Rico and Clearwater, B. C.

In northern California, the Clamath national forest appeared to be the scene of the most disastrous fires today.

Charge Use of "Needle Ball."

SPECIAL TO THE REPORTER. RANGER, Texas, July 16.—Unusual antics of the base ball used in a recent game between Ranger and Parks were due to the fact that victrola needles had been thrust in the cover, it was charged at a meeting of the Oil Belt League here. Added weight on one side of the ball caused many baffling breaks, and the outfielders watched in amazement as the ball twisted and bent through the air. Weatherford, Ranger pitcher, alleged to have used the needle ball, was suspended.

A REPUBLICAN VIEW

The following editorial on the Democratic party, from a rock-ribbed Republican newspaper of New York State, gives an interesting angle on what some of the members of the Grand Old Party think of the candidates chosen at the New York convention:

After more than two weeks' labor the Democratic national convention finally nominated John W. Davis of West Virginia to be sacrificed upon the altar of his party. It must be said, however, that the nomination fell to one of the best of the Democratic leaders. A comparatively young man—fifty-one years of age—he has served in congress and was solicitor general of the United States and ambassador to England in the Wilson administration. He is an attorney of distinction and has represented large corporate interests; a man of recognized ability and probity, he will have the confidence of the American people, but will make no appeal to special interests or factions, such as Governor Smith, or even William G. McAdoo would have done.

John W. Davis is a much abler man than the last Democratic nominee, James M. Cox of Ohio, and will, therefore be a more formidable adversary. It will be necessary for Republicans to get out their full vote, and if this is done there need be no fear as to the result of the November election. It should be a campaign to be fought out upon the principles and policies of the two parties, and upon the records they have made in American history. And upon that issue the Republicans can go confidently before the people to ask for their suffrages.

All things considered, it is fortunate that the Democratic convention finally decided upon a man of the ability and reputation of John W. Davis. If, by any chance, the whirligig of politics should place him in the White House he would be a safe and able leader of the United States among the nations of the earth, and he would command the respect and industrial interests of the country.

With men like Coolidge and Davis, as the respective standard bearers of their parties the campaign should be free from personalities and devoted to issues. No such bitterness or factionalism should be brought into it, as might have been done with the nomination of some other men whose names came prominently before the convention.

It must have been good luck rather than good judgment that led the convention to name a man like John W. Davis for president, for, certainly, had wise calculations entered into the selection of such a man, the same convention could hardly have descended into the ridiculous that it did in the nomination of a candidate for vice president. There is no favorable comparison between the head and the tail of the ticket.

Charles W. Bryan, who was named as candidate for vice president, is governor of Nebraska, elected upon the strength of his brother, William Jennings Bryan, and is a man without personal strength or popularity. His nomination was made to appease the Bryan wing of the party, which was so strongly opposed to the nomination of Davis—a compromise with principle in the hope of securing factional support. Charles W. Bryan has shown some of the qualifications of a statesman. He will be a liability for the party to carry through the campaign, rather than an asset upon which it can draw in time of need.

In his nomination as candidate for president the New York convention rose to the heights, and then immediately descended into the depths of comedy in hopes of appeasing one man who has been a drag upon the party wheels for thirty years.

The Chap Who Wins.

The chap who wins is he who grins
When everything goes wrong,
Who laughs aloud before the crowd,
And sings his merry song.

Who's up at break of day to take
His place within the line,
And forge away throughout the day,
With courage strong and fine.

Who'll take his stand with ready hand
A smile upon his face,
And drive ahead with steady tread
Until he wins the race.

No race is won by those who run
With limping, lagging gait,
But by the powers the race is ours
Who hustle while we wait.

Lady Says She Was In a Desperate Condition, But "Now in Splendid Health" After Taking Cardui.

Dale, Ind.—"About three years ago," says Mrs. Flora Roberts, of this place, "I had the 'flu', which left me in a desperate condition. I had a bad cough. I went down in weight to little over one hundred pounds. I took different medicines—did everything, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I hurt so badly in the chest at times I would have to go to the door to get my breath.
"I would have the headache and... was so weak I felt like I would just have to sink down and stay there."
"My nerves were shattered. I looked for something awful to happen—I would tremble and shake at a noise."
"My mother said, 'Do try Cardui', and my husband insisted till I began its use. I used two bottles of Cardui... and noted a big improvement in my condition. I kept up the Cardui and weigh 180 pounds. I am now in splendid health—sure am a firm believer in Cardui, for I'm satisfied it did the work."
After a weakening illness a tonic is needed to help regain lost strength. Many thousands of women have found Cardui exactly what they needed for this purpose. It may be just what you need. Try it. All druggists'. NC-155

Chrysler Makes Sure—Then Adopts Balloons

The Brougham

It is doubtful if the public fully realizes how important it is that any car equipped with balloon tires be designed to get the greatest satisfaction out of them. The pivotal steering of the Chrysler; its extra-wide fenders, which eliminate spatter, meet the particular requirements of balloon tires. Pivotal steering means steering pins inclined to a line which passes through the center of the tire's contact with the road. These pins turn on ball thrust bearings, as easy as you steer ordinary size tires.

The Chrysler Six is designed for balloon tires from the ground up. It is characteristic of Chrysler engineering, however, that it has worked with the tire makers in developing special six-ply, high-speed balloon tires for standard equipment.

The six-ply, high-speed balloon tires used on the Chrysler Six are specially designed and constructed, to meet the higher speed capacity of the car and still provide the greater resiliency of ordinary balloon types.

The exhaustive tests of Chrysler engineers mean that Chrysler owners now have the advantage of full mileage service, with all the resiliency and easier riding of balloons.

Needs Funds For Efficient Education, President Says.

DENTON, Texas, July 16.—The College of Industrial Arts here has reached a crisis in its history and unless the necessary funds for its economical and efficient administration are provided, the public need not expect efficient service in educating the young women of Texas. This statement, made yesterday by President Bralley, was issued in connection with the recent filing in Austin of the college's appropriation budget for a lump sum of $1,751,800 to provide and maintain buildings, salaries and equipment for the next biennium.

Five buildings are included in the program outlined by college authorities. They are a library, dormitory, vocation-educational building, music hall, and hospital. Hundreds of C. I. A. students are now living in private homes near the campus, facilities in the dormitories being inadequate to meet the demand.

HAD WONDERFUL TRIP

Farrar Visited Many Cities Enroute to Elks' Convention.
Gus Farrar, county clerk, and popular member of the Elks' Club here, has returned from a two weeks' trip to Boston where he attended the 60th annual national convention of the B. P. O. E. where 2,000 Elks gathered for one of the biggest celebrations and conventions ever held by that organization.

Mr. Farrar traveled on a special Texas Elk train from Dallas to Boston. He stopped over in Dallas, St. Louis, Columbus, Washington, Pittsburgh, and New York, and stated that the Texas delegation was entertained royally by local Elks clubs in each of these cities. He declared that every Elk who attended the convention had a wonderful time and that the boys at Boston certainly knew how to entertain.

AMUSEMENTS

Jackie Coogan, is back in rags! After appearing as a little crown prince in "Long Live the King," the screen's great child star will now be seen in more familiar garb in his latest Metro picture, "A Boy of Flanders," which is coming to the Palace Theater for a two day engagement, starting today.

"A Boy of Flanders," called by critics the best of Jackie's productions, is a free adaptation of the literary masterpiece of Ouida, "A Dog of Flanders," which tells the beautifully touching story of a boy and a dog. This gives the little star the greatest chance at acting—real acting—he has ever had, and provides the finest entertainment he has contributed to the screen.
