"THE RAINMAKER"....Ye Editor may have hit upon the secret to helping the area when it is badly in need of moisture, which it has been early this year. The only thing is, I'm not sure I'm up to the challenge.

In late June of 1992, Ye Editor was leading up to having eye surgery, when on a raunchy Friday night, the area had a whopping storm that left over 1.5 inches of rain, bringing flooding to some parts. Funnel clouds were spotted north of Friona and northeast of Bovina.

Lisa McLellan, our ace photographer, got some outstanding aerial photographs showing the flooding on some of the area's bulging playa lakes.

Then, just this past Monday, March 7, Ye Editor once again had given up to have sinus surgery, hoping to solve serious headache problems.

Carol had remarked as we packed up Sunday to head for Amarillo that one thing about it: although it was early March, we hadn't had any difficulties getting around, from the weather standpoint. Funny how little-remarks like that come back to haunt you.

About midnight on Monday, Ye Editor heard "Crash! Bam!" some of the loudest thunder we'd ever heard, followed by the pitter-patter of rain drops. The sound of raindrops to many of us is much better for inducing sleep and rest than a pill. The next thing we knew it was morning.

The weatherman had said the day before that there might be some snow flurries by early Tuesday morning when we were scheduled to leave for home.

Carol, as my "designated driver," had been hoping for a nice, dry road coming home. Instead, we found that an inch or two of snow had already fallen, and up to four more were expected.

After surveying the situation, we decided that the roads were probably as good at that point as they would be for the next day or so, and came on home. It was Carol's first experience driving on fairly serious snow and ice, but we made it.

Were we pleasantly surprised later on, when we checked our official government rain gauge, and found 1.12 inches of moisture. That's the most moisture we'd had at any one time since October 20, 1993.

It also made Ye Editor "two for two" in the surgery/rainmaking department. But we're not sure if we're anxious to test this theory any further.

The only other time Ye Ed had even had stitches was the time, as a fourth-grade student at Oklahoma Lake, I failed to keep behind the backstop, and was hit across the mouth by a bat that slipped from the hands of "Slamming Sammy" Sudderth.

My teacher, Ruth Bonds, took me to the Muleshoe hospital, where they had to sew up my lip. They thought at first that I might lose a couple of teeth, but I was able to hang on to them. Thank goodness it was a glancing blow from the bat. If Sudderth had hit the ball, it surely would have been a home run.

Miss Bonds took me to the hospital in her car, and when we got home, she kissed me on the cheek and told me how proud she had been of me because I didn't ever cry through the whole ordeal. And since Miss Bonds was the heart-throb of us fourth-grade boys, that almost made it worth the pain.

Come to think of it, I believe it rained on us a little bit coming back home from the hospital.

Tickets for the 38th annual Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet are currently on sale at the Chamber office on Main Street. The banquet is set for Saturday, March 19 at 7 p.m. in the Community Center.

"We feel that everyone will enjoy hearing Kenneth Wyatt at the banquet and we urge everyone in the community to purchase their tickets and plan to be on hand for this big event," says Chamber Manager Teresa Buske.

Cost will be $15.00 for adults and $12.50 for students. A few tickets will be available at the door at slightly higher prices.

Well-known cowboy artist-poet-minister Kenneth Wyatt of Tulia will be the featured speaker for the banquet. Dr. Wyatt is the author of several books on art and is a much sought after speaker for after dinner affairs. He works in oil, watercolor, pencil, pastel, charcoal and sculpture.

In addition to the keynote speech, there will be awards presented to the Man and Woman of the Year, Teacher of the Year, Most Courteous Employee of the Year, Outstanding Boy and Girl Students of the Year, and the SWCD Farmer of the Year.

Theme for this year's banquet is "Friona: The Economic Heartbeat of Parmer County."

The Women's Division of the Chamber is currently taking donations at a dollar per chance for a weekend get-a-way in Amarillo. The drawing will be held during the banquet. Proceeds from this drawing will go for the group's "Pennies For The Park" project to beautify and improve our city's park facilities.

Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber office or from various Women's Division members, and will also be available at the door prior to the Chamber Banquet.

PENNIES FOR THE PARK--Members of Tammy Whiteley's third grade class are shown making the first deposit at Friona State Bank for the local park improvement project sponsored by the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce. The youngsters collected aluminum cans and saved their allowances for a total of $50.00 for the project, which will include playground equipment, picnic facilities and overall beautification of the City Park.

City Race Has Three Candidates

Only three candidates had signed up for the City Council race as of Thursday, according to Paula Wilson, City Manager.

Terms of Mayor Clarence Monroe and aldermen Tom Randolph and Jim Atwell are expiring.

These three have filed for re-election, Mrs. Wilson said.

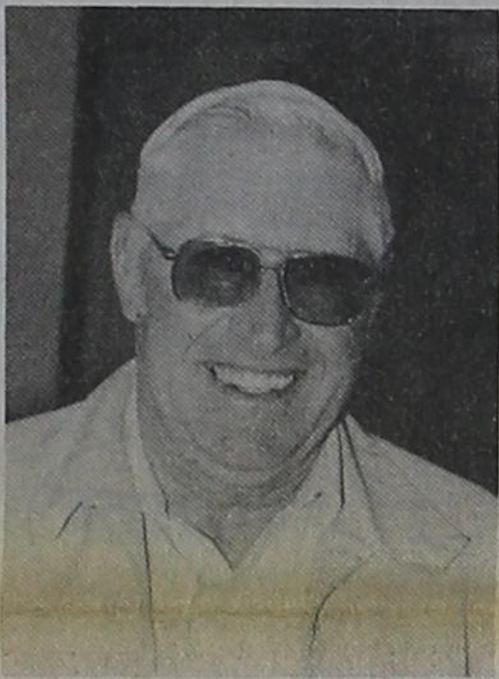

Also, it was revealed that the deadline for filing for the city race was being extended to March 30 as per a legal motion by LULAC, in order to give prospective LULAC candidates a "fair" opportunity to file.

Three Spots Are Open On Hospital Dist.

It was announced this week by Bill Neely, administrator of the Parmer County Hospital District that three positions on the Board of Directors will be up for election on May 7.

FRIONA STATE BANK

Happy Homemaker

By JUNE FLOYD

Thanks to a suggestion by an out-of-town reader, the Happy Homemaker is taking on a new dimension. She suggested that we make the column an exchange of household and gardening hints, interesting tidbits and other information.

If any of our other readers need something or have something to share, just let us know and we will pass it on.

By the way, if you'd rather we didn't use your name, please make a note of it. Otherwise, we'll presume it is all right to use it.

This sounds like a very good idea to me. After all, isn't that what being a good homemaker is all about--sharing recipes, cooking and baking hints, gardening suggestions and other items of interest?

In addition to making this suggestion, our reader requested three recipes. She is a former Friona resident and wrote, "Do you have the recipe Decimae Beene used for yeast rolls?"

Her letter continued, "Her rolls were so delicious and she was very generous in sharing them with others. Very often, she would pop in with a pan of raised rolls just ready to put in the oven about lunch time."

My answer to that question is positive. The Floyd family just happened to be one of the many lucky ones she shared rolls with and we've had the recipe many years.

We call it "Decimae Rolls" and here it is:
 2/3 cup sugar
 1/4 cup shortening
 1 teaspoon salt
 2-1/2 cups hot water
 3 well beaten eggs
 1 package dry yeast
 6-8 cups flour

Mix sugar, shortening and salt. Add hot water, stir well and let cool. Add eggs. Dissolve yeast in small amount of lukewarm water and mix well. Add flour. Refrigerate overnight. Keeps very well.

We use this recipe for cinnamon or other sweet rolls and like it very much.

She also wrote, "I would like to have a recipe for an oriental 'pile on' that we enjoyed about 20 years ago. It was served at a party and each guest was asked to bring one item to contribute to the meal. Some of the ingredients I remember were chow mein noodles, cashews, pineapple, bean sprouts and chicken. Then, my memory fades out. If any of your readers could furnish me with the recipe by sending it to you for publication, I would appreciate it."

Now, folks, we need your help. Maybe some of you were at that same party, or know about the ingredients needed to finish it. If so, please send them to me.

Her third request was for "Play Doh."

I don't have one with that particular name. However, I do have the following, which is called "Creative Dough."

1 cup all-purpose flour
 2 teaspoons cream of tartar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup water
 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
 1 teaspoon vanilla, if desired
 About 15 drops favorite food coloring

Cook all ingredients in 1-1/2 quart saucepan over medium heat 4 to 5 minutes, stirring vigorously, until mixture forms a ball. Remove dough from saucepan and let stand on counter 5 minutes. Knead dough about 30 seconds or until smooth and blended. Cool completely. Store in airtight container in refrigerator.

Another out-of-town reader sent the following cobbler recipe. I've not tried it yet, but it seems that nothing could be simpler.

MEXICAN COBBLER
 1 can apple pie filling
 2 teaspoons cinnamon
 12 flour tortillas
 1-1/2 cup water
 2 cups sugar
 1/2 cup oleo

You may need to chop apples. Put 1-2 tablespoons filling in each tortilla. Sprinkle with cinnamon and roll. Place in baking dish. Heat water, sugar and oleo until oleo melts. Pour over rolled tortillas. Cover and chill overnight. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

She added, "We have let it set as little as 4-6 hours and have also baked it immediately after getting it prepared. Cherry, apricot, blueberry or whatever pie filling would probably be just as tasty."

About ten years ago, the American Heart Association sponsored a "Cooking For a Healthy Heart" seminar in Amarillo. It was conducted by Irene Keating, Potter County's home economist.

At the close of the seminar, the attendees were presented a leaflet containing some of the recipes which had been recommended during the course. Three of my favorites are being shared with you this week. Here they are:

DATE-NUT ORANGE BREAD
 2 cups pitted and chopped dates
 1/2 cup boiling water
 1 medium orange
 1/3 cup sugar
 1 egg or equivalent egg substitute
 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 1 cup white flour
 1 cup whole wheat flour, minus 2 tablespoons
 1 teaspoon baking soda
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 to 1 cup chopped walnuts

Pit, chop and cover dates with boiling water and set aside. Grate the rind of the orange. Peel off and discard the white membrane of the orange. Cut up pulp, remove seeds and blend in blender until nearly smooth. Combine date and water mixture, orange rind and orange pulp. Add sugar, egg (or egg substitute), extract and oil. Mix thoroughly. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Add to wet ingredients. Stir until moist. Fold in chopped nuts. Fill two small (approximately 7-1/2 x 3-1/2 inch) loaf pans about half full. Bake at 325 degrees 35 minutes or until toothpick inserted in middle of loaf comes out clean. Yields 2 small loaves, approximately 124 calories per serving.

APPLE BRAN MUFFINS
 3 cups raisin bran flakes
 1/4 cup skim milk
 1/2 cup cooking oil
 1/2 cup sugar
 2 eggs
 2 cups flour (1 cup may be whole wheat flour)
 1 tablespoon baking powder
 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup chopped apple

Combine cereal and milk. Let stand until softened. Add oil, sugar and eggs. Add combined dry ingredients, mixing just until moistened. Fold in apples. Spoon into greased (I use Pam) muffin pans. Bake at 400 degrees until done about 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 24 muffins. Muffins can be frozen and reheated in the microwave.

PEPPER STEAK
 1 pound lean boneless sirloin steak, trimmed
 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 1 clove garlic, peeled and crushed
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon ground ginger
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 3 large green peppers (or 2 green and 1 red), cut in strips
 2 large onions, thinly sliced
 1/4 cup soy sauce
 1/2 teaspoon sugar
 3/4 cup beef broth
 6 ounces water chestnuts, sliced (optional)
 1 tablespoon constarch
 1/4 cup cold water
 4 green onions, cut in 1/2 inch pieces

Freeze steak for 1 hour to make it easier to slice. Cut slices 1/8 inch thick across grain. Heat oil in skillet. Add garlic, salt, pepper and ginger. Saute until garlic is golden. Add steak slices and brown lightly 2 minutes, remove meat. In same pan, add green peppers and onions. Cook 3 minutes. Return beef to pan, add soy sauce, sugar, broth, water chestnuts, constarch dissolved in cold water and green onions. Simmer about 2 minutes until sauce thickens. Serve over hot cooked rice. Yields 6 servings, approximately 230 calories per serving.

The following two recipes were left overs from my previous two columns and I thought you would enjoy them. They came from Friona State Bank's cookbook of its customers' favorite recipes.

FROZEN DESSERT
 By Nita Clark
 1-16 ounce can cranberry sauce
 1 package (12 ounce) small marshmallows
 2 (1/2 pints) whipping cream
 1/2 cup nuts
 2 ripe bananas (mashed)
 Whip cream until stiff, adding 2 tablespoons sugar. Stir in cranberry sauce, small marshmallows, mashed bananas and nuts. (Save out 1 cup of marshmallows to line a 13"x9" pan.) Pour mixture over marshmallows and freeze for at least 6 to 8 hours before serving.

FRUIT ROLL
 By Lucile Eastep and Grace Whitefield
 1-14 ounce can (sweetened condensed) Eagle Brand milk
 4 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 cup glazed (candied) cherries
 1 cup candied pineapple
 1 pound package dates (pitted and chopped)
 1 cup nuts (walnuts or pecans)
 1/2 pound miniature marshmallows
 1/2 pound graham crackers
 (Take out 10 crackers and roll fine for covering.) Roll remaining crackers rather coarse.

Mix Eagle Brand milk and lemon juice well. Add cherries, pineapple, dates, nuts, marshmallows and coarsely rolled graham crackers. Mix well. (Best to mix with hands.) Form into 2 rolls and cover with finely rolled crackers. Roll until all cracker crumbs are used up. Store in refrigerator. Will keep in refrigerator from 3 to 4 weeks. Freezes well.

I like the sentiment expressed in the following poem:

Thanks For Dirty Dishes
*Thank God for dirty dishes,
 They have a tale to tell.
 While other folks go hungry,
 We are eating very well.
 With home and health and happiness,
 We shouldn't want to fuss.
 By this stack of evidence,
 God's been very good to us.*

It is an original by Elsie Matheny of Portales, New Mexico.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

DAVID'S DILEMMA!

WHEN DAVID WAS A REFUGEE FROM KING SAUL, AT ONE POINT, HE BROUGHT HIS LITTLE ARMY TO KING ACHISH, A PHILISTINE KING, AND ASKED FOR SHELTER. ACHISH GAVE DAVID THE TOWN OF ZIKLAG TO LIVE IN AND DAVID, IN RETURN, PROMISED TO PROTECT KING ACHISH'S LANDS. (1 SAM. 27:5-6) OF COURSE, DAVID DID NOT INTEND FIGHTING HIS OWN PEOPLE ON BEHALF OF THE PHILISTINE KING ACHISH, BUT HE MADE A GREAT PRETENSE OF DOING SO! FOR MORE THAN A YEAR, DAVID REMAINED IN HIS REFUGEE HAVEN, FIGHTING OFF PARTIES OF BANDITS AND BRIGANDS. KING ACHISH WAS MORE THAN PLEASED WITH EVERYTHING THAT DAVID DID! HOWEVER, DAVID'S SUBTLEFEUGE FINALLY TRIPPED HIM UP, IN THAT THE KING SUMMONED DAVID, WITH HIS ARMY, TO JOIN WITH THE ARMIES OF THREE OTHER PHILISTINE KINGS TO GO TO WAR WITH KING SAUL AND THE ISRAELITES! DAVID KNEW THAT HE COULD NOT FIGHT AGAINST HIS OWN PEOPLE... BUT WHAT TO DO?!

HOWEVER, DAVID'S DILEMMA WAS SOLVED BY THE PHILISTINES THEMSELVES! WHEN THE PHILISTINE KINGS SAW DAVID'S BATTLE-TESTED AND HARDENED TROOPS MARCHING AT THE REAR OF THE PHILISTINE TROOPS, WHEN THEY PASSED IN REVIEW, THE KINGS WERE DISMAYED AT THE THOUGHT THAT DAVID'S TROOPS MIGHT TURN ON THEM IN BATTLE TO AID THE ISRAELITES... DAVID AND HIS MEN WERE IMMEDIATELY EXCUSED FROM THE BATTLE!!

Prairie Acres Party Line

By CAROL McINTOSH

In my last article, I said hello to everyone in the area. Well, I understand that there are a lot of people who used to live here or know others who do that also read the Friona Star. I think it's wonderful that these folks want to keep a little bit of Friona in their hearts. So, here is a great big HELLO to them.

We want to welcome Leontina Padilla, who is from Earth, Texas, to our home. Come by any time and get to know her.

Our activity department is in the process of getting a Monthly Newsletter in operation. If anyone is interested in receiving this, please give Sarita a call at 247-3922.

This week, I want to thank 6th Street Church of Christ for having the monthly birthday party; First Baptist and 6th Street Church of space for these luncheons. Cost will be $10.00 and tickets may be purchased at Ethridge-Spring Agency on Main Street.

The Heritage Society held a pre-Christmas "Luncheon In The Depot" in December and the event was quite well-received by the townspeople.

Proceeds from the luncheons will go toward the maintenance of the old restored Depot building in the City Park, which is managed by members of the Heritage Society.

President Is Named For Farm Bureau

Voting delegates of the Texas Farm Bureau elected Bob Stallman as the organization's eighth president on December 1, 1993. Stallman joined the TFB board as district 11 Director in December of 1987, and was elected vice-president in 1991.

A third generation rice farmer, Stallman began farming in 1975. He formed a family partnership with his father and brother. In 1989, he took over the family farming operation when the partnership was dissolved.

He served on the TFB State Resolutions Committee, the Blue Ribbon Goals Committee, and the State Health Advisory Committee. In January of 1994, Stallman was elected to the American Farm Bureau Federation Board of Directors.

The Colorado County farmer graduated from Columbus High School and received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Computer Sciences from the University of Texas.

He is a past member of the Columbus ISD board of trustees, serving six years, and was president and vice-president. Stallman was a member of the Colorado County ASCS Rice and Soybean Committee, and was selected as 1986 "Man of the Year in Agriculture" by the Columbus Rotary Club.

In 1989-90, Stallman represented TFB on the General Land Office's Coastal Management Plan Advisory Committee. He currently serves on the Colorado County Agriculture Advisory board.

Bob and Connie Stallman have two daughters, Angela and Kimberly. The Stallmans are members of the First United Methodist Church in Columbus, where Stallman serves on the administrative board.

One of our nonagerians, Goldie Griffith, has had another birthday. She was 91 Monday, March 7.

She reported, "I didn't have a party like last year, but had a fun weekend. Ann Houlette and Wilbur and Lawana Moore, all of Dumas, came down on Sunday and took me to lunch. Then, after services at United Pentecostal Church that evening, I was honored with a reception."

Also, Joyce Houlette called and sent a gift from Houston and Rev. and Mrs. Gary Silvestri treated her to lunch on Monday.

She said, "I also had several other calls and received several gifts."

Congratulations Goldie! The Star staff extends sincere best wishes for you during the coming year.

Out-of-town guests in the home of Leon and Jeffie Talley last week were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ray, longtime residents of Hooker, Oklahoma, who were enroute home after spending the winter in Arizona.

Also, Suzy and Sydney Talley, who live in Norman, Oklahoma, and Troy and Nicole Talley of Lubbock.

The Talley family lived at Hooker seven years before moving to Friona in February of 1983.

Randy Weatherley returned home Sunday evening after spending a weekend in Oklahoma City.

He attended the World Championship Timed Events finals and visited Will Rogers Museum.

Van and Rene Spikes, former residents of the Hub community, and Delbert Davis of Hereford were also among those who attended the Timed Events finals.

Scooter Russell, our Bovina Blade office manager, had a nice telephone conversation with Coy Walker of Plainview. Coy was our UPS delivery man for many years and was critically injured in an accident August 17, 1992. Many of our readers have asked about him.

He said they are now calling his condition Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy. He suffered severe head injuries and some brain damage in the accident.

He said the nerves in his head are growing like they should, but his brain doesn't know where to direct the messages. He has lots of burning pain in his forehead and his eye and they have been treating him with nerve blocks where they inject alcohol into the nerves in his neck and alongside his "Adam's apple."

This deadens the nerves for awhile and takes the pain away. He has had these treatments seven times at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock as an out-patient and each time, it takes longer for the pain to return.

He said he will always remember how kind the Friona and Bovina people were to him and sends everyone regards from him and his wife, Janice. We remember what a good job he did for us while working for UPS and it was always a treat to have him drop by because he is such a pleasant person.

Coy appreciates hearing from all of us and if you would like to drop him a card, his address is Coy Walker, 2814 West 19th, Plainview, Texas, 79072 and his telephone number is 293-2966.

Seeing a familiar face on the front page of one section of the Amarillo Daily News happened three days out of four recently.

The lead story in the Region Today section was a report on the Braille ministry of St. John Lutheran Church, Lariat. Martha Schueler, who lives in the Rhea community, was pictured binding paper together with spirals to complete the Braille books, which the church distributes around the world.

The following day, Ardith Rolen, deputy sheriff of Sherman County, was pictured escorting a man, who was being tried for the murder of a state trooper last summer, from the Stratford jail to the courtroom.

Then on the front page of the Scene section, Arian Archer, Miss Amarillo Area 1994, was shown in a two column by thirteen inch photo as she applied Carmex to her lips in a big way.

Miss Archer is the daughter of Dick and Crista Evans Archer of Borger and the granddaughter of Myrtice Evans, who lives here.

Now, I'm wondering who will be next?

Out-of-town weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny W. Hand were Heidi Johnson of Fort Worth, and Kelli Jon and Karson Nance, who live in Stephenville, Texas.

Other Sunday guests in the Hand home were Heather Wiecek and Dustee Gee of Amarillo; Wessie Hand and Ashlee and ALlee Gee, all of Friona.

I'm curious about how Baker Duggins would answer the question: "What is the favorite role you've played in your lifetime?"

We've known him as a classroom teacher, basketball coach, counsellor, husband, father, father-in-law and grandfather.

My guess is that the last one would be close to the top of a list if he made one.

Last weekend, he and his wife, Margaret, had the pleasure of having their two granddaughters, Abby and Holly Carter of Amarillo, while their parents, Tony and Sharla Beth, spent some time on the ski slopes near Ruidoso, New Mexico.

From a telephone conversation with him, I came to the conclusion that things just don't get much better than having the granddaughters around.

Ron and Libby Procter spent the weekend in Edmond, Oklahoma, where their daughter, Jenny, is a student at Oklahoma Christian University of Science and Art.

For several years, my number four grandson, Brandon Dickson, who lives in Ruidoso, New Mexico, has been insisting that I acquire a pet. He got on this kick after seeing a television program which supported the theory that older people who live alone live longer and better lives if they have a pet.

About ten months ago, Brandon called and asked if the family's two pets, Moramor, a large orange colored cat; and Maggie, a small gray Schnauzer dog, could stay at my house for awhile.

Since they have been here, they've given me a lot of pleasure watching their antics and contrary to what some people think, "fighting like cats and dogs" really can be a contradictory statement sometimes.

These two get along beautifully and play together constantly. They also eat together, drink together and sleep together.

In the "Here's To Your Health" section of the "Happiness" magazine, which is distributed each week by Mike and Claudia Hanes and Bi-Wize Health Mart the following report appeared: "HOW PETS WORK THEIR MAGIC: Researchers have discovered nine ways in which pets help increase their owners' health and resistance to disease: (1) They provide companionship; (2) They give us something to care for; (3) They provide pleasurable activity; (4) They are a constancy in our changing lives; (5) They make us feel safe; (6) They return to us play and laughter; (7) They are a stimulus to exercise; (8) They comfort with touch; (9) They are pleasurable to watch.

There are some advantages which were not listed. One that I can think of is--no more signs of mice in the garage or back yard.

Now, I'm wondering how it is going to be when my pet sitting days are over and trying to decide whether I'd prefer a dog or a cat. The ones I have in my care are both very nice to have around.

Weekend guests in the home of Darrell and Anita Harris were Scott and Johanna Tutor Drdul and children, Lauren and Nathan, who live in Hereford.

Johanna is the daughter of Diana Taylor Tutor, Anita's granddaughter.

The rest of the story...last week's Town Talk reported that Carolyn Trimmell had been gone a few days while helping her parents, Elvin and Wilma Johnston, move from Amarillo to Denison, Texas.

What the editor didn't know at the time this was written was that she also assisted her son and daughter-in-law, Glen and Alisa Perkins Trimmell, move from Weatherford, Oklahoma to Mount Pleasant, Texas.

Assisting with two long distance household moves in one week seems like an enormous task.

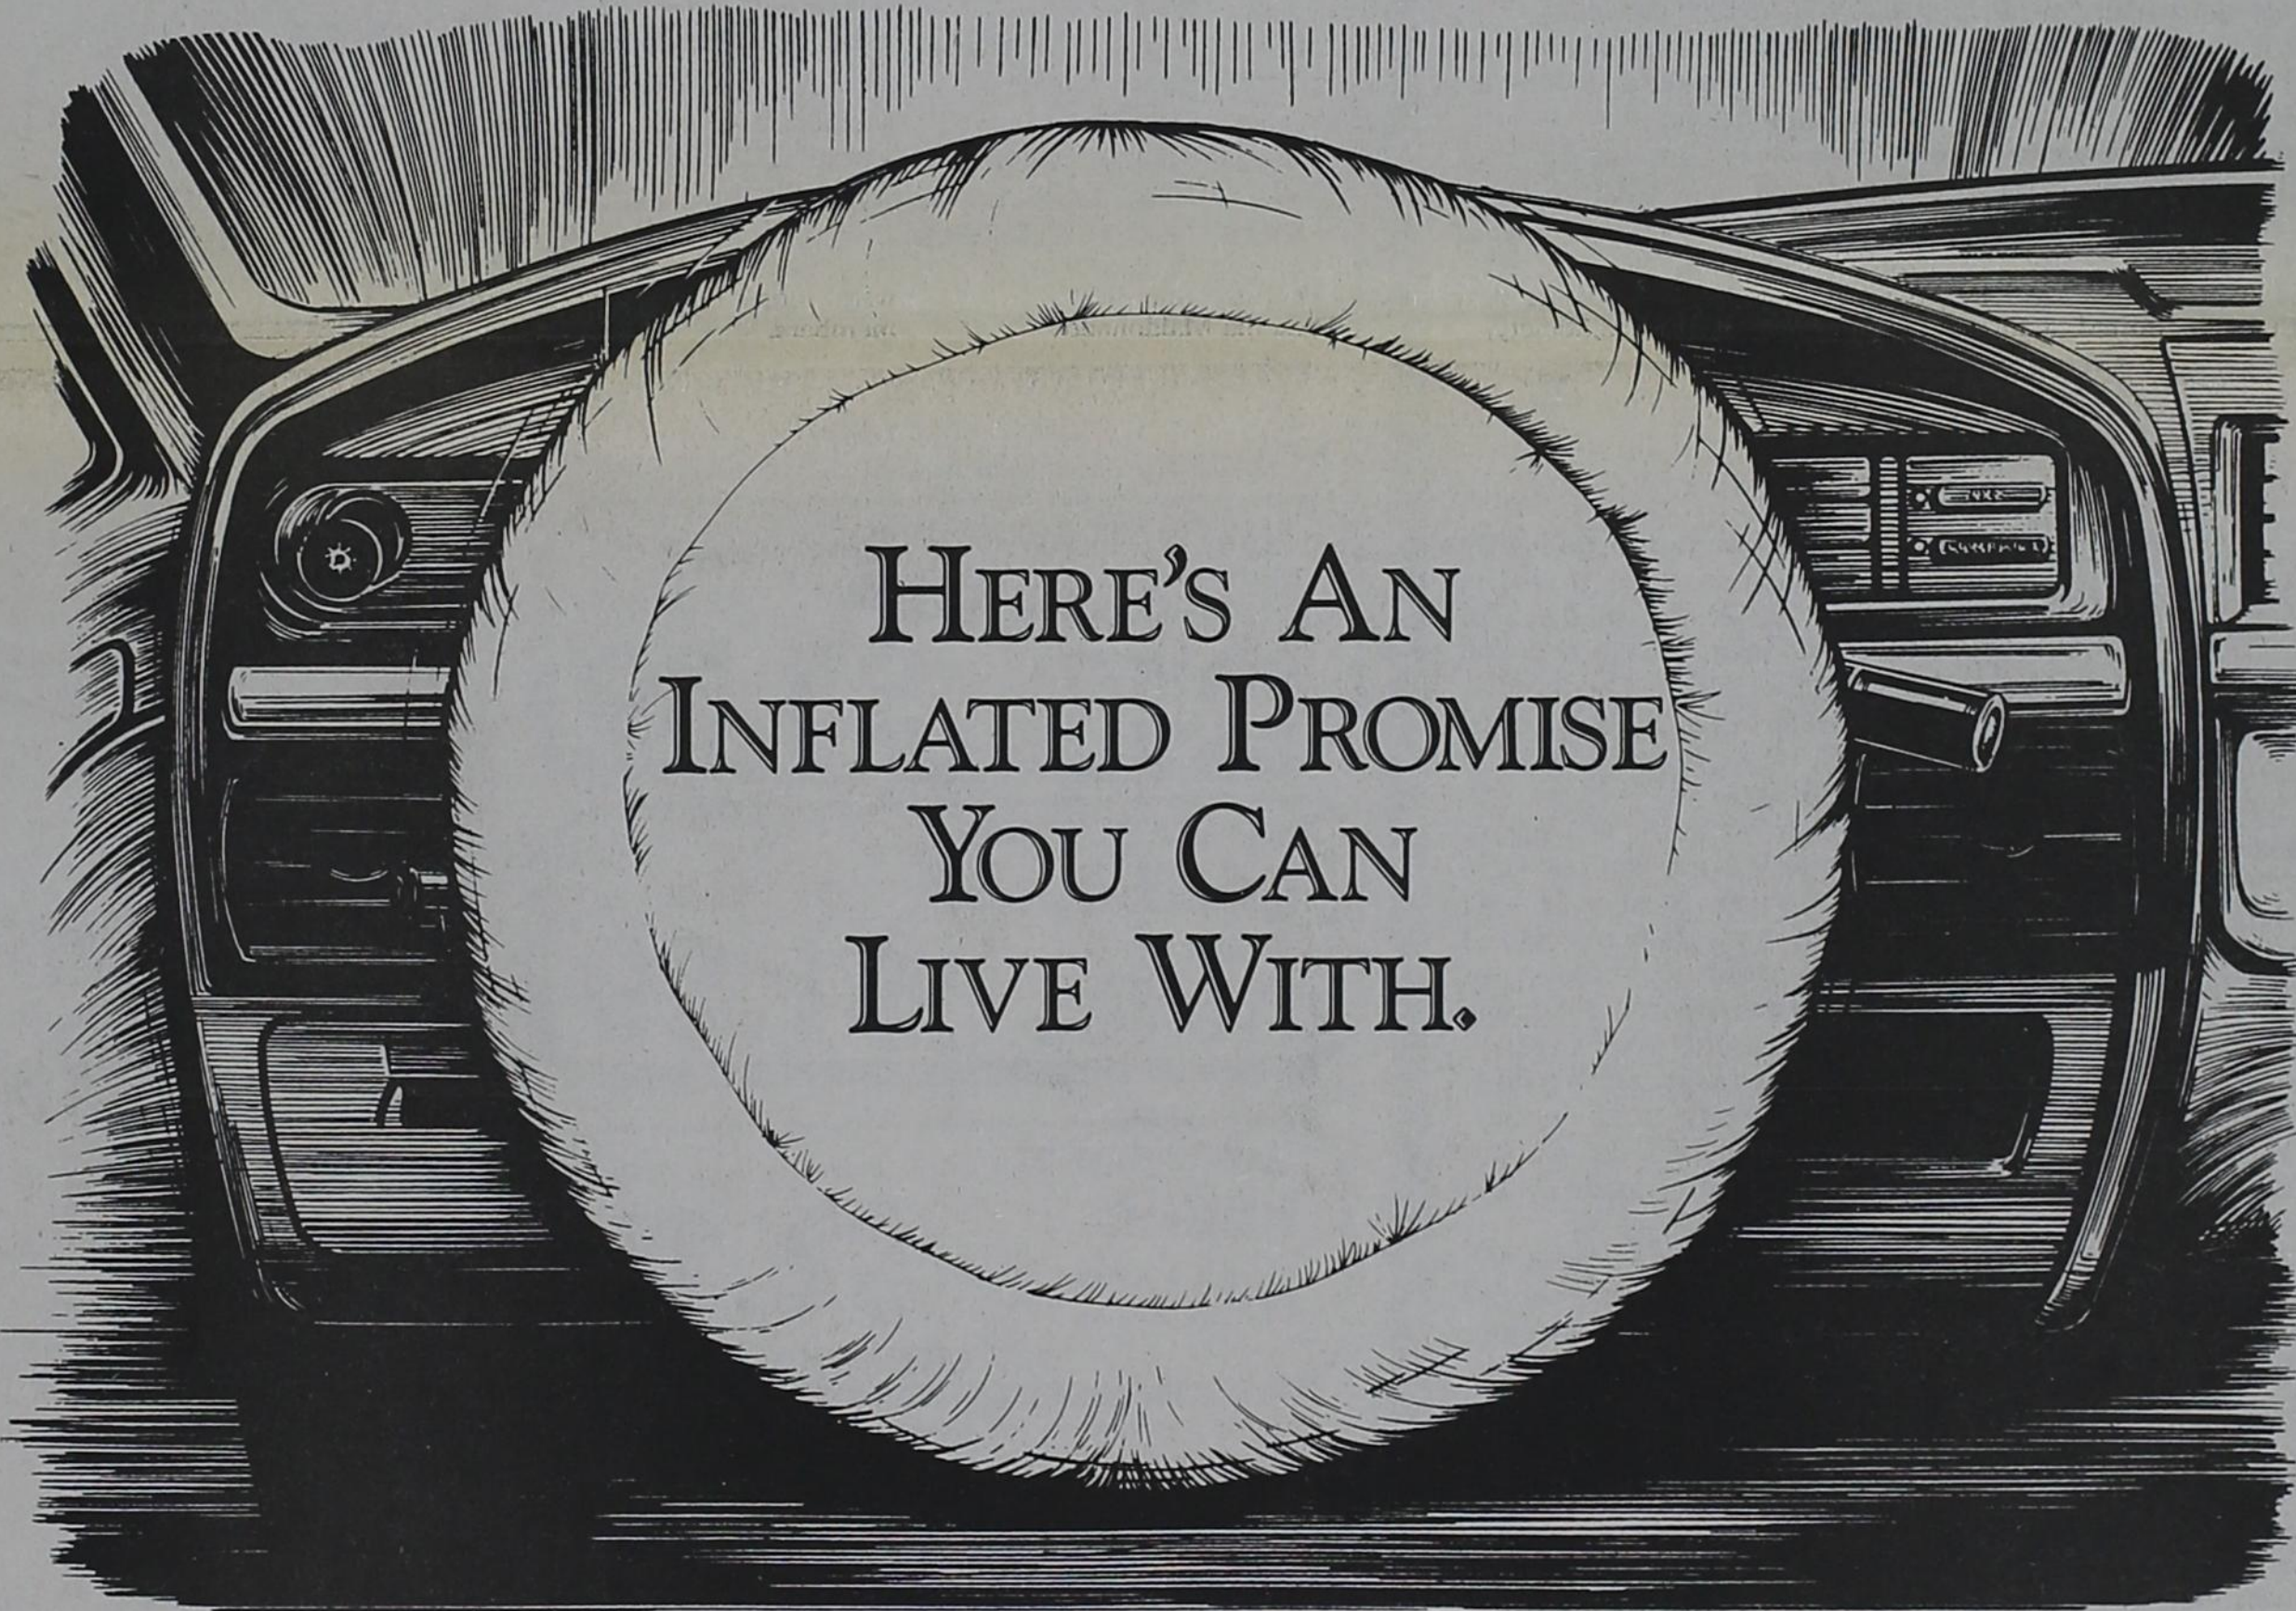

Little Stetson Reed, youngest son of Lisa and Tom Reed, observed his second birthday Sunday. His parents honored him with a birthday party in their home.

Special guests were his paternal grandparents, Tom and Glenna Reed, who live in Groom, and two aunts, Angie Reed of Groom and Donna Reed of Amarillo.

Other guests were Gary, Kay, Charlie and Josh Snead and Steve Dodd, whose home is in Portland, Oregon, and Dee Ann Ray.

Stetson's older sister and brother, Shayli and Sawyer, were in on the fun, too, of course.

YOUR EYES

Dry Eyes

Nature provided our eyes with tears to wash away irritants, lubricate the normal blinking action of the upper lid and even regulate the temperature of the eye. Sometimes, though, the glands under the upper lids reduce their production of tears--perhaps because of age or medication; the result is called "dry eyes." There are not enough tears to spread across the eyes when you blink; the dryness may produce a burning sensation, too.

There is a simple test with which your optometrist can measure the amount of tear fluid secreted by the tear glands. If it is determined that the production of tears is inadequate, your eye doctor may prescribe "artificial tears," a lubricating solution.

In certain cases, where normal tearing is seriously lacking, there is another alternative available; wearing a soft contact lens that will keep the eye moist and prevent the burning and discomfort that often accompany dry eyes.

High Price Doesn't Always Mean High Quality

One way of evaluating a stock is by looking at its price-to-earnings ratio (P/E). P/E is calculated by dividing a stock's price by its earnings per share for the past 12 months. For example, a stock selling for $20 that has earned $2 in the past 12 months has a P/E of 10 (20 divided by two).

A recent study illustrated the importance of considering P/E when choosing a stock. By tracking the stock that had the highest P/E on the New York Stock Exchange in March of every year from 1982 to 1992, the study found that each of the stocks went on to perform miserably in subsequent years. In fact, seven of those "winners" actually lost value.

This occurred during a time when the overall stock market increased in value. In fact, the stocks in the Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index more than doubled in value during the same period.

The stocks in the study had P/Es ranging from 24 to 70; in comparison, the P/E of the S&P 500 ranged from seven to 17 during the same period. The historic average P/E of the 30 stocks listed on the Dow Jones Industrial Average is about 14.

A high P/E might be a sign of an overvalued stock that could drop in market value. Most of the high P/E stocks in the study represented either a new technology or innovative business concept during their peak years, and investors bought the stocks despite sky-high prices. In every instance, new competitors entered the market, slowing and often neutralizing the pioneers' anticipated growth.

When stocks are priced too high in relation to their present earnings, investors pay for future expectations. If these expectations are not fulfilled, and the companies do not prosper as expected, the stock price collapses.

In choosing stocks, have reasonable expectations. Look for stocks with P/Es that are closer to conventional market trends.
