SCOUT CAMP TO BE OPENED SOON

Annual Encampment of Buffalo Trail Council Boy Scouts to Start on August 10-10 Days

PREPARE FOR OPENING

Scout Executive and Other Officials Setting Up Camp on Rudd Ranch—Take Boys to Camp

The 10 days beginning August 10 will be wonderful days in the lives of some 150 Boy Scouts of Nolan, Mitchell, Scurry and Fisher counties as that is the date of the annual summer encampment of the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council.

Scout Executive W. S. Barcus, and camping chairman, J. D. Corbin of Rotan are spending this week at the camp site on Dr. Rudd's ranch 7 miles west of Maryneal where they are supervising the setting up of the camp and preparing for the reception of the boys and leaders who are scheduled to arrive at camp Monday afternoon, August 10.

These men speak in glowing terms of the natural beauty of the camp site and the wonderful opportunities for scouting activities in that section. There is a large quantity of large trees for shade and several good swimming holes some of which are so clear that the gravel bottom can be seen through several feet of water. One of the special attractions is Pemberton Lake, located on the Jones ranch which joins that of Dr. Rurr. Both Dr. Rudd and Mr. Jones are enthusiastic boy lovers and are glad to make their property available to the boys of this section for their annual camp, it was stated.

The boys will be transported to the camp by people of the various communities who are interested in boy work and those transporting the boys will have an opportunity to inspect the camp site.

Sunday, August 16, will be visitors day. Parents and friends of the boys are urged to visit camp on that day. Church services will be held Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, Rev. Theodore Yoder of Snyder, preaching at that hour.

In driving to camp, drive south from Roscoe on the Maryneal road 12 miles to a lane turning west. Follow this lane to a gate at the end of the lane and then follow signs to camp.

The camp leaders are to gather at the camp site Thursday afternoon, August 6, to perfect plans for the camp.

The Sweetwater Luncheon Club, whose members will assist in transporting the Sweetwater Scouts to camp, voted at its last regular meeting to visit camp on Thursday afternoon, August 13. A special meal will be prepared for these men and many of them will stay for the camp fire program at 8:00 o'clock.

MUCH INTEREST

Congregations at McMillan Revival Here is Made Up of People from Many Nearby Towns

Interest in the revival meetings of the Church of Christ at Elm and Main streets, is marked by very large attendance, and most excellent attention. People have attended from Post, Snyder, Hermleigh, Pyron, Wastella, Roscoe and other towns and communities of the surrounding country, during the past week.

The subject of Evangelist McMillan's address Tuesday evening was "The Conversion of the Ethiopian Officer," Acts, 8th chapter. This, he said, was one of the outstanding examples of conversion under the last commission. On Wednesday evening the evangelist will discuss the conversion of the great Apostle Paul. His lessons are very interesting, as is the congregational singing. Meeting continues through the week, and until Sunday night.

PRISONER MAKES PLEA FOR LIFE

Clem Gray, Sentenced to Hang, Wires Governor for Executive Clemency States Innocence

CONVICTED OF MURDER

Sentenced for Alleged Slaying of Man in Titus County—Lawyer Confers With Governor

By United Press.

AUSTIN, Aug. 5.—Reiteration of his innocence and a plea for escape from the electric chair was contained in a telegram received today by Governor Miriam Ferguson from Clem Gray, at Huntsville. Gray is scheduled to go to the chair early Friday morning unless executive clemency, unfeared so far, is forthcoming.

Gray was convicted of slaying Otis Ballard, in Titus County. G. B. Calloway, Dallas attorney, conferred with Mrs. Ferguson today and attempted to secure commutation of Gray's sentence.

An eleventh hour appeal by Gray in a telegram to the governor for clemency follows:

"As I approach the tragic end of my earthly career which will inevitably result unless you intervene, I feel constrained to make this final statement and appeal. I solemnly swear that I did not kill Otis Ballard. Neither did I know of any intention on the part of any one to kill him at that time or any other time. In the name of justice and for the sake of my dear wife and two little boys, I beg for executive clemency in this crucial hour."

The Governor did not announce what her course would be.

GUARDS TESTIFY SCOTT IS SANE

Men Who Stood Guard Over Condemned Man in Death Cell Declare Scott is Not Insane

WIFE IN COURT ROOM

Sits by Mother of Millionaire Murderer—Jail Official Says Scott Insisted He Was Sane

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—In a super-heated court room, jammed with spectators, Russell Scott today heard witness after witness declare that he was sane and fully capable of understanding what it means to be under sentence of death by hanging.

Several jail guards who watched Scott since February 14, 1925, the day that sentence was imposed, contradicted the defense claim that the prisoner is "prison crazy" and not capable of realizing his predicament.

Some of the state witnesses acted on the death watch, and they were of the unanimous opinion that Scott had not shown signs of insanity.

For the first time since the sanity hearing started, Mrs. Katherine Scott, wife of the prisoner, came into the court room. She sat among the spectators beside Mrs. Rilla Scott, mother of the condemned man.

She listened attentively to the testimony and winced every time the witness concluded with the flat remark: "Russell Scott is sane."

An assistant superintendent of the county jail told of Scott insisting that he was sane. This was on the morning that Judge David issued a stay of execution on the plea of William Scott Stewart, chief defense counsel, that his client was insane.

"I heard a reporter ask Scott whether he was insane," the jailer said. Scott replied, "No, I am sane."

The state regards this as one of its strongest points in its efforts to prove Scott sane and thus make him eligible for the gallows.

The new liner, named "The Asturias," will go into the South American Service of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company.

War Vet Regains Children

Claude N. Logan, veteran of the A. E. F., has at last unraveled several miles of red tape and regained his children, Nathan Barzen, 5 (right), and Nelmer Barzen, 7. He married a German girl, Cecille Barzen, while with the army of occupation in Germany, but military officials wouldn't grant him the wedding and he had to leave his family behind. Then the mother died, and he sent money for the children to come to his home at Springfield, O. Immigration officers held them up again, and it was only through the intervention of Senator Fess of Ohio that Logan finally got them.

FOUR WOUNDED IN WILD GUN BATTLE

Alleged Forger Runs When Bank Officials Become Suspicious of Check—Starts Firing

THREE OFFICERS HURT

Two Policemen and a Deputy Sheriff Wounded—Fight Is Through Busy St. Louis Streets

By United Press.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—Two policemen, a deputy sheriff and an alleged forger were dangerously wounded in a running gun battle that led through the heart of the financial district here today. The alleged forger appeared at the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. and asked to cash a check. The incident was immediately labeled as a forgery and the bank officials were called.

The man who presented the check started to run out the door. He knocked down James O'Neal, bank guard, and took the guard's revolver.

Weaving thru the mass of traffic, the alleged forger dashed down the street, brandishing two revolvers and ran into two traffic officers at the intersection of 2 of the busiest streets. He exchanged shots with them, wounding both.

In an alley he encountered a deputy sheriff and shot him in the leg.

The man then commanded a passing motor car and forced the driver to speed down the street.

At another street intersection a traffic officer opened fire, but was unable to hit the man. The near carped man leaped from the running board of the car and ran into a building, taking refuge in the basement. Officers piled after him and started firing, wounding the man in the abdomen. He is not expected to live.

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Approximately 50 persons were injured, several seriously, when 2 street cars, crowded with workers, crashed head on on the far south side here today. Twenty-two persons were removed to hospitals.

The cars were running on a single track at the point where the accident occurred. One car had passed the switch, the motorman failing to observe the speeding southbound car approaching. Heavy fog partially obstructed his view.

HIGHWAY SESSION OPENS THURSDAY

Two Day Highway Meeting Will Begin Here Tomorrow Morning—Sessions at Court House

WILL ARRIVE TONIGHT

Expert Judges, Commissioners and Engineers to Start Arriving Tonight—Active Program

Discussions of various systems of highway maintenance, talks on road problems by visiting county officials, a drive to Lake Trammel where supper will be served and an address on the court house lawn by highway commissioner Joe Burckett, will be the features of the first day of the highway meeting here Thursday and Friday.

County judges, commissioners and engineers from over the state were expected to begin arriving in Sweetwater tonight for the opening of the session here tomorrow morning. Others will arrive on Thursday morning trains for the meeting which will be called to order at 10:30 a. m.

All business sessions will be held in the district court room at the court house, A. S. Mauzey, county judge, announced Wednesday.

The welcome address tomorrow morning will be made by Judge John J. Ford, mayor of Sweetwater, after the meeting is called to order. The meeting will get down to business immediately, and the main theme of the session and the central thought of the entire program will be apparent from the very start, when a discussion on "The Importance of Highway Maintenance" led by R. K. Baker of Snyder, will open the Thursday morning business meeting.

Joe Gresham of San Angelo will lead the discussion on the subject "Shall the State continue to build gravel roads for primary highways?"

The construction and maintenance of earth roads will be discussed during the Thursday morning session, with Larry O. Cox of Amarillo, the leader.

The afternoon session, which will begin at about 1:30, will feature additional highway maintenance discussions and talks. The importance and necessity of proper drainage will be discussed by George A. Field of Lubbock, and the maintenance of brick and macadam roads will be discussed by George E. Franklin of Eastland. A. S. Mauzey will lead the discussion on the question "Is there any advantage of state maintenance over maintenance by contract?"

At 5:30 p. m. Sweetwater citizens will drive visitors to Lake Trammel where supper will be served. Many cars will be needed for the trip, and those who will furnish cars are urged to report to the B. C. D. office or to city or county officials. A drive over the city will be made following the return from Lake Trammel. The visitors and Sweetwater people will then gather at the court house lawn where a concert by the Sweetwater Band will be given.

Following the concert, an open air address by Hon. Joe H. Burckett, State Highway Commissioner, will be made. The second day's session will get under way Friday morning at 9 o'clock. It is on the second day that the meeting will probably perfect the organization of the proposed Highway Maintenance Association of Texas, elect officers and appoint a committee to draw up by-laws, resolutions and regulations, and select the next convention city.

Several other Legionnaires from this county will probably attend the Fort Worth convention, in addition to the delegates elected Tuesday night.

The convention of the Legion will be held September 2, 3 and 4.

JAPAN POLICY TO CHINA IS SAME

Japanese Government More In Sympathy With Chinese Nation, Cabinet Meeting Announces

RESTORE SOVEREIGNTY

Activity of China in International Life to Restore Sovereignty—Alliance Former

By United Press.

OSKA, Aug. 5.—Though Japan, as well as Great Britain, is felt to be the main target of the recent anti-foreign attack in China, the Japanese government does not feel the situation calls for a change in Japan's fundamental policy toward China.

This was decided at a cabinet meeting recently after full consideration of a report made by foreign minister Shidehara.

The present Japanese China policy can be said to have been radically changed compared with her imperialistic policy of a few years ago. Generally speaking, Japan is now rather sympathetic towards the spirit of the Chinese government.

As an example of this feeling, Minister Yoshizawa's comment can be quoted. In an interview commenting on the situation he said: "I believe that the spinning issue will soon be solved amicably. Japan has been hit badly by the Kiang and Hankow uprisings, but China is in a transitory period, and allowances must be made. The Chinese people are extremely excitable, so we must deal with the problem tactfully."

Japan feels the root of the difficulty is to be sought in the awakening soul of young China in international life. It is the movement of young China which aims at the restoration of Chinese sovereignty. It is still questionable whether or not China has reached that stage, but it is true that since the time of the Paris and the Washington Conference, the movement has assumed a more serious and systematic character.

Many organizations have been formed to attain the aim, among which the Anti-Imperialists' Alliance, Pekin Students' Federation, China Diplomatic Reform Society, Girls' Mutual Scholastic Association, Social Young Men's Society and about 50 other bodies may be counted.

These organizations formed a strong alliance last year. This was the most successful culmination of anti foreign movement ever realized in China. Another organization which must be scrutinized along with this alliance is the Nationalist Party.

Japanese, in general, rather sympathetic with the root spirit of the movement, and it is yet to be inadvisable for Japan to adopt measures of coercion against the Chinese, thereby intensifying their resentment. But on the other hand Japan feels absolutely justified in co-operating with other powers and in adopting strong measures to protect her nationals in China.

ARMY ANNOUNCES NEW AUTO ENGINE

Development of Powerful New Engine By Army Engineers Announced at Chemical Society Meet

DRIVEN BY ETHYL FLUID

Power to Be Increased—More Mileage Results—May Revolutionize Auto Industry

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—A motor that may revolutionize the automobile industry has been developed by United States army engineers, it developed today at the convention of the American Chemical Society.

The engine is driven by ethyl fluid and will double the mileage for automobiles, it was claimed, and will increase by approximately 28 per cent, the relative horse power of motor driven vehicles.

The engine was devised at Camp Holabird, Maryland, under the direction of Arthur W. Harrington, army engineer. It has been thoroughly tested out in army trucks and proven practicable, it was said.

Stewards of the Methodist church will henceforth probably carry their spare tires into session with them or leave their cars at home and walk to the meetings.

The stewards were in a 45 minute session Tuesday night at the church and when the meeting was over and the group walked to their cars, it was found that two spare tires had been stolen during the meeting.

The tires were stolen from the carriers on the cars, both Fords, of Jesse Hemby and J. S. Schooler.

ALPINE CLIMBERS KILLED

Wind Sweeps Two Over Cliff Into Deep Abyss—Villagers, Celebrating, Hit by Storm

By United Press.

TURIN Italy, Aug. 5.—A hurricane raced thru the Alps today, tearing up houses, uprooting trees and endangering the lives of dwellers among the peaks.

From Monte Rosa came the word that two Alpine climbers had been swept away by the swirling force of the storm.

One of them was blown into an abyss while the other, for a fleeting moment, clung to a rope above the great chasm and then a stronger blast swept him down into the depths.

Another tale of tragedy came from Ivrs, relating the fate which had befallen ManteBarone, 7,000 feet above the sea level.

There the pious villagers were celebrating the feast of their Redeemer when the hurricane roared in from the mountains, knocking down houses and trees. In its path, the wind seized a woman and dashed her, as if she were no more than a straw, down into the abyss below.

From Bolzano on the border of Tyrol, came the report that the customs warehouse had been burned with enormous damage.

AUSTIN, Aug. 5.—Protest against the application of a pardon for Sango Ybarro, Mexican, under 99 year sentence for the murder of a deputy sheriff, John S. Davis near San Marcos, June 7, 1913, was made today to the state board of pardons by the widow of the slain officer, Mrs. Blanche Davis of San Antonio.

Mrs. Davis filed with the board a signed petition urging that executive clemency be denied.

Most of the signers are Hays county citizens.

Salas Castillo, convicted with Ybarro and given 99 years, was pardoned by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, June 6, last.

Davis was killed while attempting to quell a disturbance at a Mexican dance.

A CITY BEYOND REDEMPTION

Every time Chicago has some new adventure in banditry, of a character more thrilling and lethal than its last one, its leading citizens hold a few more mass meetings to demand better law enforcement. The last is running true to form. "Chicago's civic bolshies today joined forces in an active crusade against crime," says a dispatch. "The stigma of 'The Crime Capital of the World' must be removed." The usual set of good resolutions is paraded about. The bar association offers "any number of our ablest attorneys" to act as special prosecutors, and judges will again forego their vacations to hold midsummer criminal court.

But somehow these recurrent shows of interest in city government do not produce results. The gunmen are as bold and defiant as ever, and are not frightened into either mercy or reform. Perhaps they read the Chicago newspapers. These contain daily evidence of how Chicago's maudlin public sentiment proceeds to forget all about the victims of gunmen's bullets in its exhalation of the killers. They are elevated to heroic plane; their pictures are in every journal; flowers bring tribute and fragrance to their cells. And later "any number of our ablest attorneys" are in court for a fee, helping the killers to dodge the hangman, while other able citizens are exhorting the state legislature to rid Illinois of the disgrace of capital punishment.

When a community's aptitude for government breaks down in this manner in doesn't need occasional mass meetings to reflect the amazement of its citizens. It needs either an old-fashioned western vigilance committee to hurry the known offenders to the end of a rope or a revival such as Herrin has just had that will turn men's thoughts from murder to grace. If matters go on as they are "the crime capital of the world" will have neither.

KEEP THAT JOB

Every large community has its unemployment problem, but none that compares with Hollywood's. In that city there are at least 25,000 beautiful girls and 5,000 ambitious young men waiting to win stardom in the movies. They come from everywhere. And the longer they remain in Hollywood the farther they seem to be from stardom—or even a job.

Many of these young people were lured to the motion picture capital by fake scenarios and acting schools whose business it is to exchange empty promises for the meager savings of their victims. After the latter's money is gone they were left stranded and disillusioned.

The situation became so distressing that the Associated Advertising Clubs and the Motion Picture Producers' Association decided to end it. Eighty-five of the fake acting and cooking agencies have been driven from business. And better still, the Producers' Association has just announced that henceforth it will operate its own casting bureau instead of accepting candidates recommended by private agencies. Since the industry employs upward to 200,000 people every year, this movement to protect the welfare of those who are eager to succeed is something that proceeds along the right line. It means fewer broken hearts and empty purses for the thousands who have no chance, yet who under past conditions came to this victimized by sharks.

Meanwhile the reform that is under way will not begin and end with Hollywood. The Associated Advertising Clubs will carry to every community the warning that if it has any youth or maiden overreager to crash into

Game and Gold in British Columbia's Cariboo Country

HUNTERS IN CAMP ON QUESNEL LAKE

There is something romantic about the very name Cariboo, the old and new gold rush region of British Columbia, and even if a few "sour-doughs" are staking claims the hunter still has a wonderful chance in the greatest big game country in North America. So states E. S. Knight, outfitter of Ashcroft, B. C., whose headquarters near Quesnel Lake are reached by a 200-mile automobile trip from the Canadian Pacific Railway at Ashcroft. Moose, caribou, grizzly, brown and black bear, deer and mountain goats are plentiful, as well as ducks, geese, grouse and big trout in all of the streams. It is a hunter's and fisherman's paradise!

The Cariboo is the favorite haunt of the silver-tip grizzly, and if the grizzly happens to be a lady, with cubs, or a wounded gentleman grizzly weighing half a ton, the hunter who craves excitement may get all he wants. He can beat it to the tall timber, or go up a small tree. Your real experienced grizzly hunter usually picks out his tree before he shoots. It's a great thing to know where you are going next. However, nearly every hunter drops his big silver tip without leaving terra firma for a tree. Fall hunting in the Cariboo and the Cassiar is very good, according to Fred Mansell, of North Vancouver, B. C., who killed a grizzly more than 11 ft. from nose to tail not long ago. Kibbe & Turner and Thompson Bros., of Barkerville, B. C., all of whom know the country well and have excellent guides. Streams running into the Pacific up which salmon go to spawn are favorite haunts of big grizzlies, and in higher ground caribou and moose with wonderful antlers are shot by visiting hunters. Last year one hunter was called from his tent in the early morning by his guide and saw a magnificent bull caribou curiously inspecting the camp but a few rods distant. The game had actually come to the hunter, and a well-placed shot added a splendid trophy to the sportsman's collection.

YOUNG BOB

Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., has announced that he will be a candidate for the place in the United States senate vacated by the death of his distinguished father. The independent progressive wing of the republican organization in Wisconsin is for him, and the regulars of the party, responsive to a courteous hint from President Coolidge and Senator Butler, will not fight him. With such influences in his favor young LaFollette has excellent chance to win both the nomination and election. If he loses it will be because Wisconsin lacks confidence in his ability to carry on the public service to which his father devoted a lifetime and effort. It is not likely that lack of this faith will be the Wisconsin verdict. Young Bob has good character, he is a convincing orator, and in many places throughout the nation he has given proof of his devotion to the LaFollette principles and his capacity to sustain them, even on the floor of the United States senate. There is some thing that appeals to popular fancy in the way he has elected to carry on in the political mission in which his father was pioneer, instead of turning his admitted talents to winning lawsuits and fees. Besides even if from choice he becomes a political bob cat in the senate, charging at ancient wrongs and attacking entrenched privilege, with never the least concession to time serving or deviation from principle, the nation can stand the service too. It does not want the senate to be reduced to the dead level of harmony and compromise, and to subservience and bootlicking intended in Gen. Dawes' new plan. Since an occasional political rebel is needed to keep nation caution on edge he might as well come from Wisconsin as anywhere. And if for the next generation such a non-conformist is to bear the name of LaFollette all the better, both for time and tradition. Young Bob has a glorious chance May he be equal to its demand.

PALACE

"Married Flirts" a screen reproduction of the Louis Joseph Vance novel "Mrs. Paramor," which comes to the Palace Theatre today, was made at the same time the novel was published. In fact, the picture was released and came out simultaneously with the book. Robert G. Vignola directed the film production which tells a smart, brilliantly cynical story of the ultra-modern, restless, half-idle social set. The complications, which are many, are said to be handled with great ingenuity.

Pauline Frederick plays the title role; Conrad Nagel appears as Perley Rex; Mae Busch is cast as Jill Wetherell and Huntley Gordon as Pen Wayne. Paterson Dial and Paul Nicholson also have two important parts. This is the first of a series of productions to be made by Robert Vignola for Metro-Goldwyn. Julia Crawford Ivers made the film adaptation. It is a Louis B. Mayer presentation.

Cave Girl

Cramped and Suffered

"My back and head would ache, and I had to go to bed," says Mrs. W. L. Ennis, of Worthville, Ky. "I just could not stay up, for I would cramp and suffer so. I was very nervous. My children would get on my nerves." It wasn't a pleasure for me to try to go anywhere, I felt so bad. "My mother had taken at one time, so she insisted that I try it. I took four bottles of Cardui, and if one should see me now they wouldn't think I had ever been sick. "I have gained twenty pounds, and my cheeks are rosy. I feel just fine. I am regular and haven't the pain. "Life is a pleasure. I can do my work with ease. I give Cardui the praise." Cardui has relieved many thousands of cases of pain and female troubles, and should help you, too. "Take Cardui. At All Druggists"

Pepsinated Calomel Is Better than the Old-Time Sickening Kind

It is gentle, imported English Calomel, combined with Pepsin and other helpful ingredients. It is mild but certain, causing no harshness or unpleasantness and will absolutely relieve indigestion, biliousness, bad cold, constipation and sick headaches. And best of all it does it at once—quickly and pleasantly. Take one small tablet at bed-time and you will get up hungry and feeling fine. Recommended by

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Although nearby beaches are thronged with women in one-piece bathing suits, Southampton and other select resorts prove that women of social prestige have ruled the one-piece suit out.

At all better class resorts women are wearing formal little suits of silk or cretonne which are made on tunic lines with straight trousers. Usually an old fashioned chintz design or a Chinese pattern is chosen. The tunic may be slit up the sides and joined by narrow bands. Straight little trousers extending above the knee are newer than bloomers. Often they are of contrasting solid color. Half socks are also taboo at smart resorts. One either wears long nude toned hosiery or the limbs are bare. Vivid kid mules are worn on the feet and later doffed for bathing slippers.

Black cretonne suits figured in vivid floral designs are perhaps as popular as any others. The bandana which drapes about the head over the snug-fitting rubber cap may be of brilliant hood satin or of solid black. "One sees" many bathing wraps which are indescribably beautiful. Even the Spanish shawl is pressed into service. One matron wore a shawl embroidered in multi-colored flowers over a black silk suit.

This season there is a great diversity of style on the beach. Color rages rampant and women look like so many little girls dressed in figured frocks. Only the very young Misses wear the formal dress types. Among the popular colors chosen one the one-piece costumes are royal purple, tan, Copenhagen and navy.

Thieves Carry Jade Tower

By United Press.

PEKIN, Aug. 5.—Theft of the top off the Jade Tower has given Pekin police, experienced though they are in the skill of Chinese thieves, a notable detective problem.

The tower in question was constructed more than 2,000 years ago within the Hsi Huang Sau, a Lama temple. Its top contained 300 ounces of gold with a market value of $6,000.

Priests guarded the temple by day and by night—not with any idea that the top would be removed from the tower, but because of valuable objects stored within. Yet one dark night, expert burglars managed to enter, scale the tower, remove its gold top, and make off with a number of golden images for good measure.

CARVED ANATOMY

Mexican Lover Is Held by Friends of Rejected Sweetheart

DALLAS, Aug. 5.—A sweetheart of Ben Martini's brown-skinned citizen of "Meheco" was placed in jail as were her three companions who sought to extinguish Ben's lights at Mesquite, near here.

Ben, according to available information, had been transferred to another cenitola, and this aroused the jealousy of the first sweetheart. The rejected lady appeared at the nuptial ceremonies, armed with the customary stiletto. Securing the aid of three friends, the lady cornered Ben and while her companions held Ben in place, she wandered back and forth across his anatomy with the business-like weapon by standers said.

Ben went to the hospital and the wedding was indefinitely postponed.

What the World Is Doing

Surfboard Riding on Land Is the Latest Sport

Surfboard riding on the turf, behind a motorcycle, was introduced recently at the Crystal Palace, London. The boards were attached to fast machines and the skill of the drivers and riders furnished new thrills to the thousands of spectators. It is said that greater ability is required to navigate the surfboard on land than is necessary for its use on water, while the speeds made were often in excess of those that even the fastest of motorboats have ever attained.

When Plants Sleep

The riddle of sleep, which scientists for centuries have endeavored to solve, is now perplexing in the case of plants, for their habits in this particular are widely different. A variety of sensitive plant, the mimosa, gets drowsy and folds up its leaves on the slight provocation of a dark cloud passing over the sun, while the night-flowering cereus bursts open only at the approach of darkness. Some plants go to sleep at midday while many kinds of aquatic flowers open at dawn and close at night with great regularity. Plant sleep is said to vary from ten to eighteen hours and is believed to indicate a nervous system in vegetable life somewhat akin to that of animals.

Radio Programs Are Bottled for Future Broadcasting

Radio programs from America are "bottled" and re-broadcast a day later to European listeners by means of a system a German inventor has devised. His equipment consists partly of a long, hard steel wire which is run on spools through a powerful magnetic field. As the impulses are received, they are stored within the wire and when it is run through the broadcasting apparatus later, they are re-sent just as they were registered.

Bees' Honey Output Doubled with Aluminum Combs

Bees will be able to store up more than twice as much honey with aluminum combs that are being made for them. It is figured that it takes fifteen pounds of honey for the bees to manufacture a single pound of honeycomb. Since they require several pounds of wax in which to store their honey, they will save at least seventy-five to a hundred pounds of honey by using the manufactured holders. The metal combs are painted with pure beeswax and are used in the production of extracted honey, where the combs are placed in a machine, called a honey extractor, and whirled around and the honey thrown out by centrifugal force. The empty combs are returned to the bees for re-filling.

Cleaning Tarnished Silverware

Tarnished silverware can be cleaned by means of a solution consisting of 1 oz. of cyanide of potassium (poison) dissolved in a quart of water.

The work can either be immersed in the solution or rubbed with a rag saturated with it. After cleaning, the silvers were must be thoroughly washed in clean water and wiped dry.

Corn-Shock Tightener

Binding corn shocks is easily done with a simple device of the kind shown in the drawing. It consists of a broom handle about 3 ft. long, and a length of sash cord provided with three steel hooks, as shown. In use, the cord is whipped around the shock and one of the hooks is slipped over the handle about 10 or 12 in. from the end. By pulling the handle toward himself, the user causes the hook to slide down to the end and the cord is drawn tight. The handle may then be turned downward, the cord holding the shock together while it is being bound with ordinary twine. The tightener is released by lifting the handle so that the hook can be detached.

Messenger Boy Discovers $5,000 and Promptly Returns It

DALLAS, Aug. 5.—Donald Ball, 18, Western Union messenger, found $5,000 in cash and checks lying in the middle of the street and he returned it immediately to the firm to which it belonged.

Donald's exploit placed his name across the front pages of the afternoon newspapers. Even an Alger hero would have envied him in his glory.

Donald received a dollar reward and the thanks of the firm. "All in a day's work," was his comment.
