Mauzey Elected Road President

Nolan County Judge Chosen as First President of Texas Road Maintenance Association at Session Here Today.

ORGANIZATION IS COMPLETED

All Officers Named in Final Session This Afternoon; Nearly 300 Present for Morning Meeting; Select San Angelo.

The highway maintenance meeting, which was attended by nearly 300 superintendents, engineers and foremen, county judges and commissioners and Joe Burkett, highway commissioner and other members of the State Highway Department, came to a close here Friday afternoon when the Texas Road Maintenance Association was made into a permanent and state-wide organization, and officers of the association were elected. A. S. Mauzey, county judge of Nolan county, who has been one of the foremost leaders in sponsoring the organization and in arranging for the Sweetwater meeting, was elected president of the association.

A recognized leader in highway building, a vigorous exponent of highway maintenance by the state rather than by the contract system, and one of the foremost figures in convention activities here Thursday and Friday, the honor that came to the Nolan county judge was no more than expected by highway men here from the four corners of Texas. He was elected temporary chairman at the beginning of the session here Thursday morning, and his election as first president of the new maintenance association which came into being here this afternoon followed.

Choose San Angelo

Other officers elected were T. A. Bandy, maintenance superintendent, San Angelo, vice president; Victor Gilbert, county judge, Callahan county, Baird, secretary; Will Dawkins, highway foreman, Taylor County, Abilene, treasurer.

San Angelo was chosen as the next meeting place by the members of the association just before the meeting adjourned at 1:45 today. Cisco was the only other city in the race for the convention. The next meeting will be held at San Angelo December 3 and 4.

Name Resolutions Committee

A committee of five was named to draft by-laws, regulations and resolutions which will be presented to the membership at the San Angelo meeting in December.

The committee is composed of Judge Mathison, San Angelo; Road Superintendent J. L. Hawkins, Lubbock; Division superintendent Joe Gresham, San Angelo; Judge Luker, Comanche county; Engineer Larry O. Cox, Amarillo.

Defines Organization

The general plan and scope of the proposed organization was discussed by Highway Commissioner Joe Burkett and by Judge Victor Gilbert, Baird, at the opening of the morning session Friday. The district court room was packed for the second day's session, and 300 persons heard the highway commissioner as he explained the organization that was formed this afternoon. To work in the interest of better roads, for more efficient and satisfactory road maintenance, to lend a moral support to the highway commission in road maintenance problems, and to educate the public in the matter of methods, aims and importance of scientific highway maintenance were some of the things set forth by Burkett and Gilbert in addresses this morning.

Sweetwater, and Nolan county officials, were thanked for the splendid meeting and for hospitality exhibited during the sessions, by Judge Gilbert in his splendid talk.

Necessity of Maintenance

Gilbert's talk was on the varied types of maintenance required in the widely scattered sections of Texas, the necessity of proper and correct maintenance and need of co-operation with the state highway department.

The county commissioners court is more closely in touch with and more vitally interested in road maintenance in each respective county than any other body, Gilbert declared, and he added that "regardless of legislation, no one feels more deeply the responsibility and problems connected with highway maintenance than does the commissioners court."

Gilbert attacked the plan of working convicts on state roads, and declared that this method of state repairing and maintenance would never prove satisfactory.

Support State Maintenance

A number of talks supporting the stand which Judge Mauzey took late Thursday in attacking the late-maintenance

The vigorous denouncing of the contract method of road maintenance was made by contract plan, were made by various county officials this morning, the feature of the Thursday afternoon session, and approval of that stand was voiced by many today.

In the majority of discussions it was apparent that officials favored the maintenance of roads by the state department, rather than by private contracts. Talks to this effect were made Friday morning by county judges Winston, Terry county, Luker, Comanche county, Mathison, Tom Green county, and Hall, Scurry county.

Many Are Eligible

Shortly before noon Friday, discussions centered down to the matter at hand, the organizing of the Texas Road Maintenance Association. Chairman A. S. Mauzey, in outlining preliminary plans of the association, indicated that the scope and work of the body would be state-wide and that many would be eligible for membership.

County judges, commissioners, highway engineers, foremen, state department officials, and all private citizens interested in the work will probably be admitted for membership, it was indicated. Further discussions in talks at the morning session were that contractors, road machinery and equipment salesmen would be barred from the organization. Mauzey urged that the organization be kept "free from personal interests and free from politics."

Urges Gasoline Tax

A plea for the gasoline tax for financing road maintenance was made by Judge Stephens of Benjamin county. He pointed out the revenue that may be derived from that source and other good points of such a taxation. Geo. Cunningham, of the highway department, Austin, made a brief talk on collection of automobile taxes. He especially stressed the necessity for closer enforcement of bus service cars and truck regulations, and the collection of proper taxes from same. He called attention to the fact that cars that were rented with or without drivers, were subjected to the regular service car or bus tax. He also pointed out the common practice of registering trucks below actual tonnage. Many trucks were registered for two tons and then loaded with a half or one ton more than capacity as registered, he stated. He hinted at a suggestion of having a highway foreman in all sections made deputy sheriffs with highway police authority, to enforce bus, service cars, and truck tax regulations.

Pleased With Entertainment

Compliments for the entertainment afforded them in Sweetwater were heard on all sides from the visitors here Thursday and Friday. The hospitality of the city was praised. Visitors expressed delight with the entertainment of Thursday night when they were taken on a drive over the city, to Lake Trammell where supper was served, and with a trip through the United States Gypsum Company plant east of town.

Before the morning session got under way Friday, the visitors were guests at the R & R Palace theater where two reels of pictures were shown showing actual road construction and repairing. The films were furnished by a road machinery company.

In spite of cloudy weather and a drizzling rain, Swatter Park was well filled this afternoon with spectators who either Swatters and the Boston Plumber Girls crossed hats.

When the Street Floated Away

They had a heavy rain in Detroit—almost a cloudburst—and it flooded dozens of streets. Streets that were paved with wood or composition blocks suffered heavily as the blocks floated away and were scattered all over the city when the waters subsided.

PLAINS SOAKED

Heavy Rains Fall in Lubbock Section During Night—Crop Conditions Excellent

LUBBOCK, Aug. 7.—Lubbock county was soaked again last night with a heavy rain beginning about midnight. Torrents of water fell accompanied by a thunder storm the remainder of the night. The weather bureau here reports 2.23 inches this morning while reports from Levelland and Littlefield report 3.50 inches there, indicating that the rainfall was much heavier west of Lubbock.

With rains and showers most every day for the last two weeks, the south plains is thoroughly soaked and farmers are beginning to look with a worried expression at the heavy clouds that hang continuously overhead for the first time this year. Farmers are beginning to fear that too much rain will fall in this section.

Crops are clean of weeds and with dry weather from now until harvest time for feed crops and picking time for cotton, yields will be heavy.

DECLINE TO ACT

I. C. C. Declines to Make Ruling on T-P Petition to Halt Midland-Northwestern Line

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today declined to act on the petition of the Texas and Pacific railway for abandonment of the 65 miles of line of the Midland and Northwestern railroad, claiming it lacked jurisdiction.

The ruling of the commission, however, left the way open for the road to abandon the track on authority already given it by state authorities of Texas.

Hope for Baldheads

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Here is hope for baldhead men. According to assertions made at Chester, England, before a meeting of sheep breeders, a Japanese scientist has just compounded a new tonic which when injected into the veins of a sheep produces an ordinary year's growth of wool in two months' time.

Under the new method, it is said two or three shearings a year are possible where formerly breeders only got one.

Up to the present time, so far as is known, the new tonic has not been tried on human beings.

COMMISSIONER CONVENTION

Delegates from Over Nation to Meet in San Antonio in September

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 7.—San Antonio will be the host of several hundred insurance commissioners from all over the United States when they meet here in annual convention from September 14th to 18th inclusive. Jno. M. Scott, Texas Commissioner of Insurance, will be the official host to the delegation, and has announced that an elaborate and worthwhile program has been arranged for the entertainment and information of the visitors.

The visit of the commissioners is considered significant, inasmuch as the assistant attorney general has ruled recently that companies without a Texas charter may enter the state to loan money without being supervised and without paying taxes on premiums collected during the 18 years past, during which they were prevented from writing business in Texas under certain conditions because of the Robertson law of 1907.

Fifty Officers Ring Martin Home Near C. I. A. Campus and Firing Starts—Killed Deputy

By United Press.

DENTON, Aug. 7.—Blasted out of his home by five minutes of machine gun fire, W. A. Martin was held under guard here today pending examining trial in connection with the slaying of R. B. Parson, deputy sheriff, late yesterday.

More than 200 shots were fired by officers from half a dozen counties, summoned by officers here after Martin had barricaded himself with six other persons, including a woman, in his home opposite the campus of the College of Industrial Arts here.

Residents in the vicinity of the Martin home, bordering on the campus of the college, were warned by officers to leave when the peace overture started.

Fifty peace officers from surrounding counties and villages ringed the Martin home to prevent his escape.

The cause of the shooting of deputy sheriff Parson which precipitated the "war" was not known, according to Sheriff Fry. Parson was shot 11 times, dying instantly without drawing his gun, witnesses said.

Was Second Battle

DENTON, Aug. 7.—R. B. Parson, 52, deputy sheriff, was shot and instantly killed here later Thursday afternoon. The shooting occurred near the business center of the city, and a large crowd gathered immediately. Martin was indicted last winter in connection with a gun battle in downtown Denton. Martin, with two other men, barricaded themselves in the Martin home following the battle last winter, their defense and efforts to resist capture being similar to the Thursday fight.

They held officers at bay for 24 hours after the gun fight in the winter.

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 7.—Cheated in a last minute attempt to end his life, George Clem Gray, 46, former prohibition agent and deputy sheriff of Titus county, was sent to his death in the electric chair here early today for the slaying of Otis Ballard in 1923.

Gray protested his innocence to the end.

The doomed man was dragged to the electric chair with blood streaming from his neck which he had slashed with a safety razor blade.

He was pronounced dead at 12:08 o'clock, four minutes after the current was applied.

Negro Forced Girl's Escort to Side of Road While He Dragged Girl From Car—Arrested

By United Press.

EXCELSOR SPRINGS, Mo. Aug. 7.—Authorities here are taking precautions to prevent an attempt at lynching Miller Mitchell negro laborer, held in connection with an attack this morning on Maude Holt, 18, living on a farm near here.

Miss Holt and her companion, Leonard Utt, were returning in an automobile from a picnic about 1 a. m. when the negro forced Utt to stop the car.

Utt said the negro, armed with a revolver, forced him to remain defenseless while Miss Holt was dragged behind the car and attacked.

Utt has identified the negro who was arrested about 5 a. m.

Gray went to his death after a long but unsuccessful attempt to secure commutation.

Gray's wife wired her last message from Georgetown last night.

Gray was sentenced for the slaying of young Ballard whose stripped body was found weighted down in a creek. Gray denied striking the fatal blow, but admitted helping a negro, Burl Kemp, dispose of the body.

Pleas Ignored

AUSTIN, Aug. 7.—With the hour approaching yesterday for the execution of Clem Gray, no word was given out from the Governor's office in regard to action on the condemned man's plea for clemency. Throughout the day, messages poured in asking that the sentence be commuted.

Gray gradually lost hope for a stay of execution as the death hour drew near. His appeals to the governor, and the messages and visits of his wife and his two sons to Austin proved futile.

Dr. W. T. Ballard, father of the young man Gray was alleged to have slain, was in Austin Thursday to ask that the execution of the sentence be carried out.

FINDS FORTUNE IN RUINS

Underground Chapel in Mexico Gives Up Gold and Silver

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 7.—Among the ruins of an ancient underground chapel near Torres Junction, Sonora, Mexico, an American has recovered three bars of gold and ten bars of silver, valued at $750,000, according to E. A. Howard, construction engineer for the Southern Pacific railway.

Howard told the tale of the strange find on his arrival at Nogales Junction. He met the treasure seeker at Torres Junction with the gold and silver in his possession, he said.

In addition to the valuable bars, the American found old plaster statues of saints and ten iron boxes filled with coins bearing seventeenth century dates.

According to the story told Howard the lucky American located the ancient chapel with the aid of a chart given him by a Mexican woman residing in the United States. The document had been handed down to the woman through several generations. She died recently he said.

It directed the finder to Torres and he excavated the church and found the treasure, finding everything as described in the chart.

Science is training the vitamin and when its content has been analyzed and is related by chemistry, a synthetic food will be put up in capsule form and man may carry three meals in his vest pocket.

"Some day science will produce food from inorganic substances like mud, dust and rocks," said Dr. Zeil. "It will simplify eating."

"The concentration of vitamins in small capsules will them be possible. Small quantities of food, containing large numbers of the necessary vitamins, can then be manufactured to replace the huge meals now consumed."

INVOKING THE REFERENDUM

In Kentucky's primary election for members of the legislature the chief issue was that of placing a man on horse racing, or the methods by which it thrives. In a measure the election was a state wide referendum on Kentucky's favorite sport. The result was disastrous to the reformers who wanted to do away with racing. They will have only a minority in the legislature not enough to make the least headway against the institution they have been fighting. But the greatest blow to the reformers is that their mighty crusade has collapsed and there will be no further occasion for hat passing. Kentucky's politicians were wise in carrying the issue to the people. There is nothing like a referendum for disposing of such disputes, and political leadership is finding it out. Cities as well as states are beginning to learn that the referendum has its uses when it comes to solving problems in the amusement field. Its aid is being invoked in every thing from dancing to prize fights and with a decisive result that leaves no excuse for quibbling on the part of either reformer or politician.

A DESPAIRING PRINCE

Lady Drummond Hay has discovered a new exhibit in human distress. It has to do with Germany's ex-crown prince. His soul is tried because he has fallen upon evil days, and he is not as other crown princes are. In his own confession, disclosed to the lady interviewer, the ex-crown prince replies: "How I envy the Prince of Wales. Lucky fellow. He can go when and where he pleases. I like to travel too, and see the world, but I can't, can I?" Poor prince, with one misery more than Job's, and no succor at hand. But why doesn't he make a break for liberty, and streak it for American shores? If the slacker Bergdoll could break out of America and into Germany an ex-prince ought to be able to go the route the other way. Over here, employed in-cog as mill hand or bricklayer, no prince past or present would have anything on him. He could travel and see the world and go when and where he pleases and ride in one of the 19,000,000 American motor cars. Before Lady Drummond Hays abandons her ward to the bottomless pit of despair she should commend him to the uplifting service of any American agency for the unemployed.

AMUSEMENTS

PALACE

So much criticism has been levelled at motion picture producers and directors in the past for their inaccuracy in reproducing scenes showing newspaper offices and reporter at work that J. Gordon Edwards, who directed the Fox Special production, "It Is The Law," which comes to the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday, used the city room of one of the New York papers as his model in building a news paper office scene for the picture. He even went further than that and enlisted the services of several genuine New York reporters to appear in the scene.

The section of the newspaper office which will be shown reproduces a busy corner in the office of the Morning Telegraph. When the call for honest-to-goodness reporters went out so many of them showed a suppressed desire to get into the movies that Director Edwards hadn't room for them all.

LYRIC

Picturesque frontier life in towns where gunplay was a daily exercise and bullets settled arguments instead of words is vividly visualized in "The Rainbow Trail," Tom Mix's latest William Fox starring vehicle, which opens today at the Lyric Theatre.

"The Rainbow Trail," one of Zane Grey's pulsating and dramatic narratives of the old west, is another of that famous author's works to be transcribed to the screen by the noted Fox western star. It follows "The Last of the Duanes" and "Riders of the Purple Sage." Profusely scattered through the picture are many new Mix thrills. Lynn Reynolds, veteran director of western dramas, noted for his thoroughness and realism, directs Tom Mix in the latest Zane Grey story.

QUEEN

Cal Edwards (Pete Morrison) and his pals, Wind River Bill and Hank Hawkins, occupy the "Three Friends" Ranch. The payments have lapsed and they receive a letter from Xyethia Tomkins, the owner, that she will soon arrive to take possession.

Mon-sieur Jacques, Jules, (acting as Xyethia's chauffeur) and others are following Xyethia for a certain map she has hidden which shows the location of a treasure. Elsie (Peggie Montgomery) a girl being taken care of by Xyethia is continually abused by the plotters who want that map. Her brother, a cripple, is forced by the gang to do their bidding. Jules prepares some food for the friends on the morning of the treasure hunt—the friends eat and fall asleep. Jules tells Xyethia that the friends do not want to go along.

On the way the plotters stop her and Elsie and steal the map. Sam, the cook on the ranch, escapes and tells the three friends. They rush to the rescue. The plotters are beaten—and Xyethia finds the treasure—a map of hieroglyphics telling about ancient diets! Jacques and his gang nearly die from their disappointment—Xyethia is now on friendly terms with the friends. Cal asks Elsie and her brother to stay on the ranch.

New Poison Gas

OSKA, Japan, Aug. 7.—While agitation is on in many countries for abolition of poison gas as an instrument of warfare a Japanese chemist has brought forward a new gas which is the most deadly known.

A quantity of the gas which escaped destroyed trees and all other vegetation near the laboratory.

SUMMER DESSERTS

Marshmallow Delight
1 lb. marshmallows, 2 cups chopped pineapple, 1 pint evaporated milk, 1 cup white cherries, 1 pint cream, 1/2 tsp. almond flavoring, 1-2 lb. blanched shredded almonds.

Combine cream and evaporated milk, chill and whip until stiff. Cut marshmallows with scissors into eighths. Fold marshmallows, pineapple, cherries and almond extract into cream; keep chilled, and when ready to serve sprinkle almonds over top.—Serves 10

Whipped Cream Sauce
1 cup whipping cream, 3/4 cup powdered sugar, 3-4 cup evaporated milk. Combine milk and cream, chill and whip finally folding in the sugar. Keep cold until ready to serve.

Stuffed Peaches
Peel and cut large mellow peaches in half; remove stones and fill cavity with chopped marshmallows and blanch shredded almonds. Press in halves together and serve with whipped cream sauce. Allow two medium peaches for each person.

KEEP KOOL SALADS
The way we withstand the midsummer's sweltering heat depends largely upon the diet. Some need to have appetites coaxed while others need to have them curbed.

Of all the foods that are suited to the hot weather diet, those that are neither too heavy nor too heating, yet are full of real nourishment, are salads.

A successful salad at any season must be made from cold foods and the raw vegetables must always be fresh and crisp. Some materials, like meat and vegetables, need to be prepared by chopping into medium fine pieces but should never be mangled or mashed. Other materials as fruits and some vegetable can be more attractively served by leaving in large crisp lettuce leaf and garnished with some contrasting fruit or vegetable, a salad is tempting and satisfying. Almost all fruits and vegetables can be used in salads. The thing to remember is to select materials in the salad combination that go well together, to use dressing that is best liked, and to have contrasting colors that will make it attractive. The possibilities of salads are limitless and no other part of the meal is more interesting to prepare or to eat.

Boiled Salad Dressing
1 cup evaporated milk, 3 tbsp. vinegar, 2 eggs, 1-4 tsp. salt, 2 tsp. melted butter, 1-4 tsp. mustard, 1 tsp. sugar, Few grains cayenne.

Combine salt, pepper, mustard and sugar and add to well beaten eggs.

Add the milk and butter and cook in a double boiler until it begins to thicken; then gradually add the vinegar and cayenne. Remove from fire and chill thoroughly before using.

Mayonnaise Dressing
1 egg yolk, 1 tsp. sugar, 1 tbsp. vinegar, 1-2 tsp. salt, 1 tbsp. lemon juice, few grains cayenne, 3/4 cup salad oil, 1-2 tsp. mustard, dash paprika.

Put yolk of egg into mixing bowl and beat several strokes. Sift into it the mustard, sugar, salt and cayenne. Add the vinegar and stir constantly; then add three teaspoons oil, a drop at a time, beating constantly until the mixture thickens. When very thick, add lemon juice and remaining oil very rapidly. The whole process takes about seven minutes.

Stuffed Tomato Salad
6 tomatoes, 3-4 chopped celery, 1 green pepper, 1-2 cup chopped nuts, 1-2 cup chopped olives or onions, 2-3 cup mayonnaise dressing, paprika, crisp lettuce leaves.

Cut slices from tops to tomato and scoop out some of inside. Chop up the scooped tomato with the celery, nuts and olives. Sprinkle lightly with salt, add some mayonnaise and refill tomato. Place on top a spoonful of mayonnaise, sprinkle with a dash of paprika and a very thin ring of green

Creamy Salad Dressing
1 cup boiled or mayonnaise dressing 1-3 cup cream, 1 tsp. sugar, 1-3 cup evaporated milk.

Combine evaporated milk, chill and whip. Add sugar and then fold into the salad dressing. Especially nice for fruit salads.

Fluffy Ruffle Salad
2 heads iceberg lettuce, 1-2 lb cream cheese, 1 cup evaporated milk, 1/2 cup cream, 2-3 cup mayonnaise dressing, 2 tbsp. catsup, 12 slices sliced pineapple, maraschino cherries.

Combine cream and evaporated milk chill and whip stiff. Cream the cheese and fold into whipped cream with the catsup and mayonnaise. Cut crisp head lettuce into crosswise slices about 1-2 inch thick, and lay on salad plate. In the center lay a slice of pineapple. Put whipped cream-cream mixture into a pastry bag with a rose tube and force a fluffy way all around edge of lettuce up to edge of pineapple. Finally put a rose of the mixture in the center of the pineapple and garnish with a cherry or cube of red jelly.

YOU HATE TO LOOK AT A PIMPLY FACE

There is perhaps nothing more distressing to people who are bothered with them and surely nothing as displeasing to others who see them as pimples, blotches, bumps, rash, scrofula, eczema, "breaking out" and similar skin disfigurements.

But now Black and White Ointment and Soap are proving to be so dependable in quickly getting rid of these diseases of the skin, it seems foolish for people to neglect using them and making themselves attractive to others instead of being slighted all the time.

All dealers have Black and White Ointment and Soap, in the convenient low priced, liberal, packages. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. (adv)

Josephine Keating, of Chicago, was only 17, she'd lost her job as stenographer and couldn't find work. So she got a revolver and tried to hold up a taxi driver. She was so nervous though, that the driver took the gun away from her and carried her to a police station, where she is awaiting trial.

Accessories

A scarf and hat of beige-colored silk with cording at the ends of the scarf and the brim of the hat make a good pair of accessories to own. They are wonderfully helpful in dressing up a plain frock or severe tulleur.

Weak In Back and Sides

"Before the birth of my little girl," says Mrs. Lena Staniel, of R. F. D. 2, 1st-2nd, Mo., "I was so weak in my back and sides I could not go about. I was too weak to stand up or do any work. I felt like my back was coming in two. I lost weight. I didn't eat anything much and was so restless I couldn't sleep nights. My mother used to take so I sent to get it. I improved after my first bottle. Cardui is certainly a great help for nervousness and weak back. I took six bottles of Cardui and by then I was well and strong. Just did fine from then on. Cardui helped me so much. Thousands of weak, suffering women have taken Cardui, knowing that it had helped their mothers or their friends, and soon gained strength and got rid of their pains.
