BETTER PRICES NOT PERMANENT

Alleviates Condition on Farms But Does Not Provide Solution to Farm Problem—Lowden

SEES NEED BETTER MARKETING

Former Governor Illinois Says Competitive Marketing Has Disappeared in Other Fields

By United Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. Sept. 30.—The increase in the American farmer's income during the past year has utterly failed to solve the fundamental farm problem, Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, declared today in an address before the American Bankers Association Convention here.

Nothing could be further from the truth, he said, than the claim that better prices proved "that the situation upon the farm was righting itself."

Only by organization within itself for the marketing of products and for other common ends could agriculture cure the economic ills that still afflict it, regain its rightful place in a highly organized world and restore the proper balance between itself and other business activities, Lowden said.

"Though farm conditions are somewhat better than they have been in recent years," he pointed out, "they by no means assure the future of the industry. The farm problem is not solved. It will be well for us if we recognize this fact."

Asserting that agriculture is sadly out of gear with the other parts of the economic structure, Lowden said that, in an era in which progress is attained only through organization the farmer has been the last to realize the value of organization for its own sake.

"In all other fields of commerce unrestricted, free and open competition in the marketing of products has been gradually disappearing," he continued. "In all other industries there has been a growing tendency to stabilize prices, largely through the organization of a few great corporations which have taken the place of innumerable smaller independent units. In agriculture alone have the methods of marketing made no improvement, except as to the sale of those products which are now being marketed through cooperative associations."

In urging organization for farmers, Mr. Lowden said he did not mean that they should operate their farms through cooperative management, but should work together for the solution of problems concerning the marketing of their products and the restoration of the prices they receive for their products and the prices they pay for other commodities.

"Cooperative farm marketing associations are no longer an experiment," he said. "Wherever cooperatives have been employed, there you will find agriculture in its best estate. The farms are better improved and are kept in a higher state of cultivation and repair. I can foresee the day when every farmer will be marketed by the farmers themselves through an organization of their own creation."

GIN MAN KILLED

W. G. Owens, 55, Whirled to Death in a Farmer Gin at Roscoe—Twisted in Up in Line Shaft

Special to Reporter.
ROSCOE, Sept. 30.—W. G. Owens, 55, was whirled to death by a line shaft in the Farmers Gin here at 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

A bolt had slipped off and the man reached across the twirling line shaft to replace it on the pulley. In some way he slipped and was whirled around.

Death was instantaneous. The man's left side was crushed in and the arm broken in two places and nearly twisted from the body.

The body was shipped to Blooming Grey, the old home, Wednesday night. An investigation as to how the accident occurred is being conducted by the county sheriff.

OFFICER FAILS TO GET PROMOTION

Navy Bureau Chief Ends Four Year Term Today and Loses Temporary Rank of Real Admiral

Promotion Board Left Name Off List of Promotions—Is Now Captain—In Teapot Dome Affair

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—J. K. Robison, chief of the bureau of engineering of the United States Navy, who in 1924, with Edwin Denby, secretary of the navy, was the center of naval participation in the Teapot Dome and Doheny oil scandal, ended his four year term as bureau chief today, and reverted from his rear admiral rank to the rank of captain.

The navy selection board failed to include Robison in the list recommended for promotion to President Coolidge, and Robison thereby lost his rear admiralship held temporarily by virtue of his office.

If Robison is not approved by the promotion board before November, 1926, he will retire at that time at the statutory age of 64 with the rank of captain.

Robison's request for immediate retirement was refused by the president last spring.

STAMFORD, Sept. 30.—Thieves here removed the safe of the Stamford Bottling Works today from the office thereof. Not much cash was contained in the safe so the loss will not be heavy. No trace of the safe has been found yet.

MITCHELL RAPS KILL CATTLE IN NAVAL OFFICERS DISEASE CENTER

Declares Dispatch of Shenandoah on Midwest Trip Criminal—Officials Subject Prosecution

TESTIMONY IS LIMITED

Tells President's Air Inquiry Board That Junior Officers Do Not Dare to Testify

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Disparaging the dirigible Shenandoah on a voyage into the interior was a "criminal violation of the Federal law," Col. "Billy" Mitchell, storm center of the air controversy, told the president's Aircraft Board today. Whoever issued the order for the trip which resulted in a collapse of the airship in an Ohio storm and death of 14 men, should be held legally responsible he declared.

With this bombshell Mitchell concluded his testimony before the board, which then proceeded to hear testimony from other fliers. Mitchell first cited a law which provided that only experienced flying officers should have command of the Shenandoah but when asked later for an explanation of this theory he said he had not intended to criticize the personnel in charge of the ship.

He said the Shenandoah carried no parachutes. "I believe it was criminal to send a ship out without a parachute on a voyage like that."

"But you also say the ship did not have a qualified crew," interposed Representative Vinson, Ga.

"The officers who controlled the flight were bungling amateurs," Mitchell said, explaining he did not refer to the men on the airship who were "fine officers as far as I know." Chairman Dwight Morrow of the board, announced that it would take no action on Mitchell's charges that Naval officers who ordered the Shenandoah westward are liable to prosecution. It is expected that in view of Mitchell's statement he might be asked to appear before the Naval Board of Inquiry.

Mitchell roused the board by saying that there was "always indirect coercion" in hearings of this kind.

"Why, right now, over there, the general staff officers are taking down verbatim records of every word that is said here," he added.

"Well, you realize this is a public hearing," chairman Morrow said. "Oh, well, by these men here I know that junior officers who testify will weigh their words very much," Mitchell answered.

MUST KILL 2,000 MORE

Guard Thrown Around Contact Cattle and Expert Believes Can Prevent Spread of Disease

By United Press.

HOUSTON, Sept. 30.—One hundred and forty head of cattle were killed and burned here yesterday in the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease in new territory near Alagoa. Between 1,500 and 2,000 "contact" cattle in his area which embraces approximately 10 square miles will be killed and burned, according to Dr. Marion Imes, federal expert in charge of the work.

"The situation may not be as serious as it looks," Imes said, "as the cattle are in a corner, fenced in on two sides by railroads and on a third by heavy fences. We have a guard about the cattle and hope to prevent any spread of disease."

Advice was received through the night from Washington that Great Britain had extended its embargo on imports of livestock, hay, and straw including New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana and California, for fear of the foot and mouth infection now prevailing in Texas.

TO STUDY WORK

Sunday School Specialists to Have Conference at First Methodist Church Here

Beginning at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, a group of specialists in Sunday School work, sent out by the General Sunday School Board of the Methodist church at Nashville, Tenn., will conduct a Sunday school institute throughout the entire day. There will be five in the group, including the superintendent of Sunday school work of the Northwest Texas Conference. They will take up the following departments: The Elementary Department; the Adolescent Department; The Adult Department; The Department of Teacher and Leadership Training.

In the morning the Institute will probably be conducted all together, in the afternoon they will separate into departments, and in the evening all come together again in the main auditorium. Every one interested in Sunday School work is invited to be present throughout the entire day. This is an unusual opportunity.

And few things make a girl madder than not kissing her when she knows you could.

ROUGH SEAS HALT RESCUE WORKERS IN DIXIE SERIES

All Operations at Scene of Sunken Submarine Suspended Today as Waves Interfere

RESCUE ALIVE DOUBTFUL

Divers and Navy Men Give up Hopes of Taking Men Alive from Hull of Sunken Craft

By United Press.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 30.—All rescue operations in connection with the sunken submarine S-51 have been suspended for today. Heavy weather developed in the early forenoon, compelling abandonment of plans to attempt to hoist the hull with the cranes Monarch and Century and diving operations inside the hull.

The breeze was so stiff and the sea so rough that Admiral Christy could only call off operations for the day. It was not even possible to allow divers to explore the hull for the undercurrent was too heavy. If the diving were to be continued, it would have meant the divers' lives would be jeopardized.

With this new string of ill luck, hope of finding any of the men alive vanished almost completely. Navy men said during the forenoon that they had "expectations but no hopes" in connection with the finding of the men alive.

But the divers themselves, as a result of six descents yesterday, are thoroughly convinced that there is not a living man locked in the S-51.

May Attempt Salvage

NEW LONDON, Sept. 30.—With divers content that the submarine S-51 contains only corpses and with the derricks, Monarch and Century, and divers unable to operate because of the rough seas, it is believed here this afternoon that the present rescue work will soon have to be abandoned and "salvage operations" taken up.

A recommendation to this effect to the navy department from Admiral Christy in charge at the scene of the S-51 disaster will probably be forthcoming soon.

AGREE ON PLAN

Negotiations Between U. S. and French Delegation Reaching More Favorable Stage

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—A high official of the American debt funding committee today swept away any doubt concerning the success of the French debt negotiations, declaring that both sides are working toward an agreement.

While no joint session of the French and American commissions is yet definitely scheduled, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary Hoover, and Senator Smoot met finance minister Caillaux and three members of the French mission at noon to discuss the "safe guard clause."

The Americans have balked at the French version of the proposed clause and at noon today they met to attempt to reach an agreement of the matter.

Governor Ferguson and Prison Board In Amity Over Abolition of Neff Honor Farm

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Abolition of the Pat Neff honor farm by the prison commission meets the approval of Governor Miriam Ferguson, she said today following her return to Austin from Victoria.

Former Governor Jim Ferguson also said that the commission was right in abandoning the honor farm.

Explanation given by the prison commission for its action in abolishing the honor farm "about covers the subject of why the farm was done away with," the Governor said.

CATS CHAMPIONS IN DIXIE SERIES

Special to Reporter.

ATLANTA, Sept. 30.—Fort Worth won the baseball championship of the South again here today, taking the deciding game of the Dixie series from the Atlanta Crackers, one to nothing.

The game was a hurling duel between Joe Pate for the Panthers and McLaughlin for the Crackers. Both pitchers were given support that bordered on the sensational sparkling with double plays and marvelous stops.

WHAT PRICE DREAMS Long ago men of West Texas dreamed of a senior college to be established where it would be more accessible to their children.

Came years of work, struggle, propaganda and effort. Ignorance, prejudice, jealousy and inertia had to be overcome. Setback after setback were encountered. Delay and intrigue hindered proceedings.

Today is a day when dreams come true. The Tech College is open at Lubbock. Pupils from all over the west have entered its portals for that training which only a college can give.

And the men of West Texas whose efforts are responsible for its creation can today thrill with the pleasure of a task well done.

COLISEUMS

America is to have a coliseum larger than the famous structure of Rome. San Antonio has found an abandoned rock quarry which will make an ideal coliseum after the bottom of the pit is smoothed over and seats are chiseled in the rocks.

It will be another great monument to the American desire for great sports events and mammoth spectacles.

Ancient Rome boasted of one coliseum, devoted to spectacles of cruelty and barbarism. This country now has scores of stadiums rivaling the coliseum in size, but devoted to wholesome sport and community service.

ASK WILBUR RESIGN

Curtis B. Wilbur is called upon to resign his post as secretary of the navy in the leading editorial in the New York World.

Pointing out that during the Harding and Coolidge administrations the navy has lost 12 vessels, more than twice as many as were lost during the world war, the newspaper blames Secretary Wilbur for what it terms the "demoralization" of the navy.

"Secretary Wilbur has forfeited the care of the public," the World says, "in deeming his record neither fortunate nor wise."

"His resignation is in order."

CARELESS PARENTS

The Abilene Reporter, in a recent issue, quotes District Judge Woodward of Coleman, in his speech to a recent grand jury in his district.

"District Judge Woodward of the Coleman-Runnells district 'spoke a mouthful' in charging the grand jury at the regular term of court at Ballinger this week.

"Deploring the fact that environment is responsible for much of the present-day crime, Judge Woodward is quoted by the Ballinger Ledger as declaring that 'fathers and mothers will pen their livestock up at night, and let their boys and girls run loose.'"

"Don't let your boys and girls run around at night with this slick-haired jelly bean bunch; it won't do, gentlemen," the judge continued.

"He further expressed the opinion that if the fathers and mothers of the country did not take charge of their boys and girls he did not know what would become of them.

They are irresponsible. They cannot be expected terms, but Judge Woodward has put his finger on the trouble.

"Children that are given a free rein to do according to their own sweet pleasure generally get into trouble.

"They are irresponsible. They cannot be expected to exercise the intelligence and sound judgment of grown-ups. Somebody must do their thinking for them up to a certain age. If the parents don't do that, nobody else will.

"Many a parent is under the delusion that his child can and will do no wrong. But it's a safe estimate that 90 per cent of irresponsible young folks turned loose wholly without restraint will bring misery on themselves or on others. Heredity is a wonderful thing to contemplate, but environment is a great moulder of character that cannot be ignored."

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON.—Recent events in Washington probably have given a pretty widely spread impression that all isn't well with American national defense.

This impression is correct. The controversy over the merits of war versus surface forces isn't the only trouble. Still worse, army and to some extent, navy morale is shattered.

Whether one considers Col. "Bill" Mitchell right or wrong in his aviation views, nobody can hold that the opinions he expresses of his superiors are those of a man in a frame of mind to work effectively toward the ends that they deem best.

Now Col. Mitchell is not alone in an unfavorable opinion of these same superiors. He simply is the only one who says in public just what he thinks.

A great part of the War Department is fairly saturated with discontent.

Any number of officers are ready to voice such sentiments in the strong terms if assured they won't be quoted and thus get into difficulties—which not many of them can afford to disregard as Col. Mitchell can.

Still, they do talk with an occasional outsider and, of course, far more freely among themselves.

It isn't aviation deficiencies solely that all the kicking is about. The complaint is that the country's whole military establishment is running down.

That it's on a peace instead of a war basis is recognized as all right, but the malcontents' argument is that retrenchment has gone altogether too far.

Maybe the establishment's size is adequate, they say, but its quality is being allowed to deteriorate.

In short, the growling, in its last analysis, is directed against the administration's economy policy.

Dissatisfaction in the Navy Department isn't quite so acute. The personnel, however, feel the pinch of tight times. Armament limitations are bitterly resented, too.

However, the navy men are not so seriously at odds among themselves. Probably this is due in part to the fact that they haven't been split by the aviation dispute which has rent the army.

Few if any navy airmen take the position that their service has rendered all others obsolete. Or, if they do, they keep it to themselves.

Nevertheless the departmental atmosphere is one of depression and discouragement.

MRS. CHITWOOD SELECTS MEATS

from

Aldredge & Hattox

for the Reporter

Cooking School

The well-known quality of meat from this market led Mrs. Chitwood in her selection as it has so many women of this city.

But Mrs. Chitwood looks beyond the market, to see where Aldredge and Hattox prepare their fresh meats. She found that they used Wade Brothers new sanitary killing plant, with a most rigid insistence on all sanitary requirements of the State Department of Health. Thus she knew, as other patrons of this market know, that only the choicest meats, prepared in the most sanitary manner are sold here.

WADE BROTHERS

new killing plant provides these sanitary facilities and Sweetwater is one of the very few cities in West Texas that has a plant of this high standard. Thus patrons of Aldredge and Hattox have a double guarantee of both Wade and Aldredge & Hattox in this highly important matter of sanitation.

USE WILSON PREPARED MEATS

Mrs. Chitwood will use Wilson's hams and bacon in her demonstration as a matter of course, making her selection on the basis of quality, as do so many other Sweetwater people.

Some improvements in frying

by MRS. IDA CHITWOOD
Mrs. Chitwood is conducting the popular Cooking School Class being held by the Reporter this week. In this article Mrs. Chitwood explains how she fries foods so deliciously, and gives four valuable recipes.

Whenever I think of the frying pan, I think of Crisco, the digestible vegetable shortening and cooking fat—for I have found Crisco as big a help in my work (especially frying) as the frying pan is.

With Crisco I can fry everything without any smoke. When I am through I can save every drop of the Crisco for the next fry, no matter what it is, because Crisco doesn't absorb the taste of foods cooked in it. You would never know it was used before.

And I have found that the foods I fry in Crisco are the tastiest I have ever eaten—the most attractive, too. They are never greasy either, as Crisco doesn't stick to the foods. It simply cooks them in a delicious way as any of my recipes below will show you. For the same reasons I always use Crisco for deep frying.

As a matter of fact, I use Crisco for all my work in my cooking classes. My Crisco pie-crusts are always light and flaky. I like Crisco for cakes, too, because they come out even and whole and never fall. Almost everyone who tastes them thinks they are made with butter.

Hashed Brown Potatoes

(3/4 lb or without green peppers)
Delicious either way and you can fry them to a lovely golden brown in Crisco without smoke or scorching.

6 medium size cold boiled potatoes
3 raw green peppers
Salt and pepper
Chop potatoes fine, season with salt and pepper. Remove seeds and stems from peppers. Wash, drain and chop fine. Mix with potatoes. Put in enough Crisco to completely cover the bottom of the frying pan. Heat slowly. When hot add potatoes, and cook slowly, stirring occasionally with a fork. When partly brown fold into omelet shape on one side of the frying pan. Fry until a rich brown. Turn out on platter, keeping the omelet shape.

Fish

(3 New Hints)
1 Use enough Crisco to partly cover the fish
2 Fry slowly and do not turn until almost done
3 Turn only once
Fried without smoke; fried without wasting left over Crisco; fried without breaking. Don't be afraid to use plenty of Crisco. It won't be wasted even when fish is fried in it. Simply strain it back into the can and use it again.

Clean the fish, leaving it whole or cut in steaks. Wash in cold water and dry in a towel. Dust with salt and pepper, roll in flour or cornmeal, and put into the frying pan when the Crisco is hot. Use a palette Turner to turn. Garnish with parsley and lemon.

How to fry without smoke:

1 Put Crisco into cold frying pan. To thoroughly cook the food (for example, a fish) without smoke or scorching, fry slowly using enough Crisco to partly cover it. It will not require the constant attention frying does when only a little fat is used. The Crisco will not be wasted. You can use it again for frying other things.

French Fried Parsnips

If you like parsnips, you will like them fried this way. Fried in deep Crisco, they will be browned evenly on all sides, not a bit greasy, having the full natural flavor of the parsnip, with no added taste of fat.

Take cold boiled parsnips, peeled either before or after boiling. Cut off the small end and then cut the large end in quarters lengthwise. Dip in milk, roll in flour, then fry in deep hot Crisco just as you would French fried potatoes. Have the Crisco heated to 400 degrees, or when a cube of bread browns in 20 seconds. When the parsnips are brown, take out and drain on soft paper. Sprinkle with salt and serve hot.

Fried Apples

An attractive way to serve them and easy to fry perfectly without smoke when you use Crisco.
Peel and core three large apples. Cut them in slices half an inch thick. Dip each slice in cold milk, then roll in flour. Put enough Crisco in frying pan to entirely cover the bottom, and when hot put in the apples. Fry on both sides to an even golden brown—about two minutes for each side. Remove with a skimmer, drain on soft paper, dust with powdered sugar, serve on a hot dish in a folded napkin.

2 Put frying pan over low heat. As soon as Crisco is melted put in a small piece of bread. As soon as bread starts to brown put in the fish.

3 Cook slowly until fish is nearly done, then turn to brown the other side. With plenty of Crisco in the pan the fish is easily turned without breaking. If you wish until it is almost done.

4 Strain the Crisco into an empty can and use it for the next thing you want to fry. No one will know you have fried fish in it.

Obtain the Crisco mark for a superior shortening, manufactured and distributed purely by The Crisco Company, Chicago, Ill.

BOTH TEAMS ARE SHY ON RESERVE

Neither Pirates Nor Senators Have Utility Material to Replace Regulars if Injured PLAYERS BIG FACTOR

Injury to Peckinpaugh Would Greatly Injure Washington Flag Chances in World's Series

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Reserve strength is a vital factor to be considered in depicting the chances of the Washington Senators and the Pittsburgh Pirates in the world's series.

They are two good ball clubs, representative champions out of a pair of hot races in which their opposition extended them to the very last. They have good pitchers, good catchers, good infielders and good outfielders.

Yet either team could be wrecked by one injury as the reserve strength on the bench is not the usual championship's caliber. One spike turned in the ground, one blow from a batted or pitched ball, one slip on the grass and the whole tide of battle might be turned in the series.

The Senators had a narrow escape in the world's series last fall. The team was fortunate in going through the season without serious injuries and the lack of reserve power was not apparent until Peckinpaugh pulled up with a charley-horse and had to sit on the bench.

Result of Peck's Injury

Bluege had to be moved over from third base to shortstop and Miller, who was not even a minor league infielder had to be used at third. Poor Miller, trying with all the gameness of a real fighter, found himself in every pinch and he was almost useless. The Senators, of course, finally beat the Giants but it was luck more than class that dropped the Giants in the last game.

Bucky Harris learned his lesson from that experience and he got busy this year and collected some veteran reserves. He got Mike McNally from the Boston Red Sox but Mike didn't hold up and was passed to the minors. He secured the veteran Deacon Scott, from the New York Yankees, but Scotty is not good for many games and he has slowed up to a walk. He picked up Joe Harris from the Red Sox also and found him very handy when Joe Judge was hit on the head with a pitched ball in Detroit and was forced to the bench for weeks. Harris is not the best of fielders but he is one of the most dangerous batters in baseball.

Harris also picked up Bob Veach from the Red Sox to use him as a pinch hitter and for occasional duty in the outfield. He also has Nemo Leibold, for spare duty in the outfield and a youngster, Jeanes.

As catching reserves the Senators have the veteran Hank Soveroid and young Tate. Muddy Ruel, who has been doing most of the work behind the bat is badly worn from the strain. He is a little fellow and has to work chiefly on nerve. He is a great little catcher but his work fell off badly late in the season, the loss of strength showing chiefly in his poor throwing to the bases.

The Pirates received a heavy blow when "Lucky Johnny" Rawlings perhaps the best utility player in baseball broke his ankle late in the season. His work at second base during the final drive of the Pirates was a piece of art and without him the Pirates certainly would have had more difficulty if they did not actually lose the pennant.

As utility infielders the Pirates have the veteran Stuffie McInnis, who can still bat even if he is as slow as a truck, and Ems and Thompson. The team would be in a serious plight if anything happened to Traynor or Wright.

In the outfield the Pirates have as reserves, Carson Bigbee, a good relief man, and Haas, a youngster. Bigbee has slipped a lot in the last two years but he is still good for a game or two.

The Pirate catching staff has a good reserve in Spencer and two alternating regulars, Johnny Gooch and "Oil" Smith.

Mediocre Reserves

Compared with the brilliant reserve staff the Giants had in the world's series last year the utility men of the two champion teams this year is decidedly ordinary. It is not fair, however, to compare any team's secondary strength to that of the Giants because John McGraw has recruited more high class reserves than any other two teams in baseball.

The Pirates, however, will be much less liable to need reserves than the Senators. The Pirates are comparatively a young club and the players can stand the wear and tear better than the veteran Senators. If anything should happen to Peck during the series, the Senators probably would blow their chances.

Mrs. Chitwood's Judgment Is Confirmed by Hundreds of Ladies in this Section

There are more Hotpoint Ranges in use in Sweetwater homes than any other make. There is a reason for this. If there is not an electric range in your kitchen, attend Mrs. Chitwood's School and learn why she prefers the Hotpoint. Or visit your neighbor's kitchen and learn from the experience of actual users why the Hotpoint is best. So neat, so clean, with no smoke smell or soot to dirty the kitchen or utensils and with heat always under control. There is an automatic feature on the Hotpoint Range. You can put your dinner in the oven in the morning, set the switch at any hour you wish. The heat will automatically turn on. Then if you wish, the heat will be turned off at any time you set. And another automatic feature prevents the oven from overheating, so nothing can be harmed by too high a temperature. The heat is there when you want it, and off when you want it. There is nothing to get out of order, nothing uncertain.

Hotpoint Ranges are sold on easy terms. A small down payment, and the balance as you pay your light bill. Won't you come in tomorrow, select the model you desire and have it installed? Always glad to show you the fine points about the Hotpoint—and a call at our office will place you under no obligation whatever unless you wish.

Your Future and our Future

YOU often say of a man, "The more I know him, the better I like him." Of course as you come to know him better you learn his faults and failings as well as his virtues and achievements; you discover his little human weaknesses and his splendid many qualities; but you get to understand him — and you like him. You figure that, after all, he's a whole lot like yourself, with about the same up hill and down dale to go in life, and you know that he needs your friendship and you want his.

Well, it's the same way with a business — especially a business that has direct dealings with you. An electric light company is not a piece of machinery; it's a human aggregation, with just as keen and fine an aspiration to get on in the world as any individual. It has to work for its living the same as anybody. It has to earn the money with which to pay its bills and maintain its credit, and make enough so it can "save up a penny for a rainy day." It has to plan for its future the same as anyone else. It has the same problems as the rest of us to face, only, perhaps, on a larger scale. Every red-blooded Company, like every red-blooded man, wants to stand four-square with the world.

It is friendship and good will that count in the business world today. The West Texas Electric Company wants your friendship. We believe that our future and your future are identical. The continued growth and prosperity of the West Texas Electric Company and the community which it serves are interdependent. We want you to know us better and we believe that when you do, when you comprehend some of our problems, when you consider some of our achievements, when you realize some of the splendid possibilities before us, you will be as enthusiastic as we are about our mutual welfare. Let it be a bright one.

Your Electric Servant,
West Texas Electric Co.
