Youth Caught at Anton After Days Of Anxious Search

Leaving home on foot early Monday because his teacher threatened to "kepp him in every evening" if he did not recover a text book which he declared was stolen, Hilton Smithers, 14, wandered over the plains and Panhandle of Texas until late Tuesday night when he was taken into custody by a deputy sheriff at Anton. Young Smithers is a Sweetwater High School student and son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Smithers.

The boy's father left over the Santa Fe at noon Wednesday enroute to Anton and will return, home with the youth.

Hilton was last seen early Monday when he left home presumably to go to school. He told his parents and friends Sunday that a text book had been stolen from him, that he had no way of recovering it, and that his teacher was going to make him remain after school if he did not get the book back, according to reports.

Determined against staying after school, the youth left home and his whereabouts were unknown until his apprehension Tuesday night 150 miles from Sweetwater.

West Texas and plains officers had been notified, and his description had been broadcast over radio to locate the missing lad.

FIRE BOYS WILL MAKE INSPECTION

Committees from Fire Department to Inspect City in Connection With Clean-Up Drive

FOR FIRE PREVENTION

Plan to Remove Fire Hazards—Fire Marshal to Mac Second Inspection of Premises

Committees from the Sweetwater Volunteer Fire Department, announced today by fire chief Childress, will make a thorough inspection of buildings, homes and premises over the city in connection with the clean-up campaign being conducted here during Fire Prevention Week. Two committees have been named to make the inspection and report to the fire chief and fire marshal.

The committees are, south of Second street, Police Chief Gordon Hendrick, R. D. Cox, Jr., and Lester Turner; north of Second Street, assistant fire chief J. H. Brown, Lloyd Rogers and Guy Morris.

The committee, when fire hazards are found or where they discover conditions that should be changed for the best interests of fire prevention will call the attention of home or property owners to the same. Elimination of existing hazards is expected to result from this inspection.

Fire Marshal Withers will follow up the inspection by a second inspection tour, and reported hazards that have not been eliminated will again be called to the attention of property owners. Formal complaints will probably result if conditions are not altered to comply with fire prevention standards and the report of inspectors, according to fire officials.

At a meeting of the members of the fire department this week, a resolution was passed asking the city commission to clean out fire plugs that had become obstructed, and to clear away a space around each fire plug that was obstructed by posts, trash, weeds, etc. The resolution also asked that a fire plug be installed at Camp Joy, in the eastern edge of the city, on the water main that extends to the cypress plant.

Here is a scene at Fairmont, W. Va., where John L. Lewis and fifty other officials of the United Mine Workers are attempting to unionize a coal field. The non-union miners are shown leaving the mine, while a deputy sheriff stands guard over a long line of striking union miners. Forceful injunctions prohibiting picketing have been served on the union leaders.

SHIPPING BOARD HEADS SEVERED

Rear Admiral Cone Follows Palmer Who Was Ousted Yesterday—Assistant Resigns

CONE MAKES STATEMENT

Says Action of Board in Defiance to Wishes and Policies of President Coolidge

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Rear Admiral H. I. Cone, vice president and general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, resigned today. He asked chairman O'Connor to accept his resignation as soon as possible. Commander S. P. Fullinwider, assistant to the president of the Fleet Corporation, also requested President Crowley to accept his resignation shortly after Crowley was sworn in as president.

"The Shipping Board defied the wishes and policies of the president of the United States in discharging Palmer, who was carrying out the policies of the president," Cone said in a statement, "without other consideration I cannot as a retired naval officer, serve longer."

Palmer Fired

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—With Admiral Leigh Palmer formally ousted as president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, the United States Shipping Board today started operations on its own policy and the sale of its own fleet.

Elmer E. Crowley of Boston, who was selected as Palmer's successor, started as executive head today. Palmer declined a "courtesy" appointment as vice-president in charge of operation of the ships in European waters of the fleet.

A sub committee composed of Chairman O'Connor and Commissioners Benson and Plummer will begin a survey and rearrangement of personnel at once. Retirement of Rear Admiral H. H. Cone, vice president and general manager of the corporation, is expected, as Cone has been closely associated with Palmer.

This action on the part of the Shipping Board still further widens the breach between it and President Coolidge.

Nolan County to Be Represented at State Fair—W. C. Calvert to Resign as County Agent

Nolan county will be represented at the Dallas Fair opening Saturday by a display—arranged by C. C. Wilson and J. W. King of Roseco with the assistance of County Agent W. C. Calvert.

An interesting display of agricultural products of Nolan County will greet visitors to the fair as showing the resources of this section.

Incidentally this will be W. C. Calvert's last work of this nature as he has informed County Judge A. S. Mauley that he will leave his present position at the close of the current year, January 1.

Mr. Calvert will at that time have completed his 13th year of service as Nolan County Agent, a record exceeded by only three other county agents in the state and equalled by only a very few.

GENERAL SCORES MITCHELL PLANS

Head of Marine Corps Derives Unified Air Service Plan and Gets Storm of Applause

ISSUE WORRIES LEGION

Commander Drain Endeavors to Keep Controversial Matters from Convention Floor

By United Press.

OMAHA, Oct. 7.—Major General John A. Lejeune, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, today swept the fight against a unified air service as proposed by Col. Mitchell right out in the open when he told the American Legion National Convention that the air service was an official part of the army and navy.

"Tearing away the air service from the army and navy would be like taking legs from a man's body," Gen Lejeune said in his address which to the surprise of Col. Mitchell's followers was greeted by a storm of applause.

"The air service is vital to both the army and navy. It can save the lives of thousands of infantrymen in battle and is the eyes of the navy. Personalities must be sunk in the greater need for the proper maintenance of the armed forces of the nation," Lejeune told the Legionaires.

Drain Opposes Action

By United Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 7.—The controversy over Colonel Billy Mitchell, suppressed during the ten hour visit of President Coolidge yesterday, threatened to break out again on the floor of the National American Legion Convention today.

Friends of the fiery Colonel insisted on introducing resolutions favoring a unified air service. In the fight is every way possible Col. Mitchell telegraphed delegates friendly to him to help him and many of these want the Legion to go on record in his favor by a vote of confidence as well.

James A. Drain, National Commander today said he would make every effort to keep matters of a political nature off the floor.

Drain is depending upon the favorable impression left by President Coolidge to help suppress controversial issues like the Mitchell matter.

Wild Geese Heard

The cool spell Wednesday night was accompanied by a flock of wild geese, according to reports from those who heard the eager "honking" of the joyous migrants to the southland, driven from northern breeding grounds.

The Library Board met Tuesday and discussed plans for the rummage sale to be held here the 15, 16, and 17 of this month. The sale will be held this year in the front part of the M System grocery store. The committees for gathering up of the merchandise will be announced in Sunday's paper.

Norther Brings 35 Degree Drop In Temperature

With the thermometer soaring to 94 degrees Tuesday, this section enjoyed one of the warmest days October has presented in recent times.

But early in the evening a cool norther blew up and before midnight a 35 degree drop had been registered, the thermometer going to 59 according to the Sweetwater Vulcanizing Co. volunteer weather observers.

The norther brought other things as well. An epidemic of bugs of all shapes, sizes and colors but all alike in their degree of persistent annoyance flooded the city and rendered life near a light very uncomfortable.

LEGION HERE TO ASSIST AT FAIR

Offer Services to Fair Association at Meeting of Local Post Tuesday Night—Enter Parade

PLAN FOR ARMISTICE

Will Stage Unusual Celebration Here November 11th—Refuse Accept Scudday Resignation

Outlining their plans of participation in the Nolan County Fair, discussion of an Armistice Day program, and voting to attend the District Convention at Brownwood Sunday were the high points in an active session of Sweetwater Legionaires in a regular meeting of the Oscar McDonald Post here Tuesday night.

The American Legion here will play a prominent part in the Fair this month, according to indications at the meeting. Legionaires formally extended their services to the Fair Association and placed their aid and co-operation at the disposal of fair workers in arranging for the annuity county festival.

The American Legion colors, with color guard, will be a unit in the mammoth parade that opens the fair here Oct. 28, it was announced last night. In addition, the local post plans to enter a decorated car in the procession.

Legionaires will establish a booth in the main exhibit building, displaying collections of war relics and souvenirs from the World War. A Legion member will be on hand at all hours to explain and show the collection and incidentally, a recruiting station for new members for the organization will be maintained.

On Armistice Day, Sweetwater will probably be the scene of the most unique and original celebration ever staged here on November 11, according to plans discussed at the session. Breaking away from the routine program that has featured past celebrations, Legionaires this year plan to arrange the most interesting and worth while program ever presented here. Full details have not been completed, but one of the features of the occasion will probably be soldiers and a battery of artillery in action at night.

A number of Legionaires announced their intentions of attending the district convention at Brownwood Sunday. Approximately half a dozen ex-soldiers from here will represent the local post at the Brownwood convention.

Out of respect of, and in honor of the Post Commander, Roy Scudday, his resignation offered Tuesday night was not accepted and he will continue to be Post Commander, at least in name, until December 31, when his term expires.

In refusing his resignation, which was read at the session, a Legionaire who made the motion, said, "Our Post Commander has headed this post through a very active and successful season. He has worked untiringly in the interest of the American Legion, and out of respect to him and in honor of him, I move that the resignation not be accepted."

The motion carried unanimously and Scudday, who moves this week to El Paso to make his future home, will be commander of the Oscar McDonald Post until his term expires. Vice commander Jess Robertson will be in active charge of the post.

PROSPECTS

There is every indication that there will be more cotton made in this section than ever before.

There is correlated with that fact that there will be more money in circulation in this section than ever before.

The crop is later than usual in moving to market this year, which means that fall business is going to be correspondingly later.

With farmers in a large majority of cases going to be clear of debt there is no reason for hesitating in saying that this country is due for a large measure of progress.

Let it be intelligent and well guided.

WORLD SERIES

Today begins the classic series for the baseball championship of the United States and of the World when Pittsburgh and Washington teams clash at Forbes Field.

Of course there are some folks who don't know what it's all about and care less, but during the game time there are a lot more folks who will follow the plays eagerly, as they are flashed everywhere by wire aid by radio.

What amounts to a suspension of business will ensue in more places than one while the scores are being piled up.

STAPLE IS GOOD

Cotton Grown in South End of County Commands Premium Over Middling Basis

Aided by favorable weather conditions as well as good seed, cotton growers on the Divide around Nolan, Dora, Maryneal and Roscoe are getting a premium for their cotton due to the unusual length of the staple.

Cotton grown in the south end of the county is grading from an inch to an inch and a sixteenth and cotton buyers are eagerly paying from 50 points up over middling for this extra long staple. It is eagerly in demand and buyers are not waiting for it to be brought in before bidding on it.

Cotton grown north of town and in the southern section of Fisher county is not so popular. More unfavorable weather conditions produced a shorter staple, grading from seven-eighths to an inch.

The Elks lodge throughout the country are directing the campaign. During "Save Old Iron Sides" Week, students will be asked to contribute

SOCIETY

Entertains Bridal Party

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Whaley entertained with a most pleasing bridge party Tuesday evening honoring Miss Thelma Howard and Joe Bowen whose wedding will take place the middle of next week.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and forming a most unusual background for the bridal party, with six tables in play during the evening. At the close of the games a palatable salad course was served to the guests. On each plate were small brides. The bridal scheme was also carried out in the tally.

The high score went to Mrs. Frank Murchison, who was presented with a box of lavender, James Henry Beall Jr., received the high score for men and was given a desk blotter. The prizes given the two honorees were a bronze incense burner and plaque of the Wedding Trail.

Wednesday Bridge Club

Mrs. Gus Farrar entertained the Wednesday Bridge Club most pleasingly Wednesday at her home at 104 Beall Street.

Cut flowers in bud vases and baskets formed a beautiful background for the game. After several interesting games a most attractive and delicious salad course was served to the club. Mesdames M. C. Monroe and Harry Bondies played substitute hands during the afternoon.

Choral Club Meets

The Sweetwater Choral Club, after being inactive during the summer season, has opened for the 1925-26 season here, the initial meeting being held Tuesday afternoon from four to five in the Wright Apartments. About 20 members were present at the first meeting out of a total membership of about thirty.

The club plans several public recitals this season. Thomas Dawes is director of the club and has planned a most interesting study for the club this year, with the capable help of the president, Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald and the splendid accompanist, Mrs. John Hubbard.

Miss Snell Entertains With Bridge

Miss La Nell Snell delightfully entertained the members of Miss Thelma Howard's bridal party Saturday afternoon on Oak Street.

Cut flowers were used for the decorations and the color scheme was pink, yellow and green. The tables were covered with pink, yellow and green covers with napkins to match. The color scheme was also carried out in the tally cards and score pads which were indeed charming.

After several games were played a delicious salad course was served. A most attractive-bridal ice cream course followed the salad. The color scheme was carried out in the cream, and the angel food was made into rolls stuffed with colored icing and tied with ribbon.

The plates held for favors miniature brides bouquets with the frill made of marline and center of candy flowers. At the close of the games Miss Bessie Bell held high score and was presented with a most unusual perfume container. Miss Ina Lee Ely held low score and was given a cut glass bud vase. Public Relations

THE West Texas Electric Company is a public servant operating a public utility, designed to meet a fundamental public need. It is fully aware of the limitations—and the obligations—involved in such a relationship. The West Texas Electric Company has one thing to sell—service. In payment, it must receive from the people not only their money, but also their good will. The good will of the people of this state and of this city is essential to the West Texas Electric Company.

It is our business to deserve it and give value received—just as it is our business to give service to patrons in return for their money.

Good will is based on understanding, and we believe it is vitally important to the future of your community that its citizens shall know and understand the policies—and the problems of their public utility organizations.

It is important that, in their treatment of these organizations, the people shall be guided by their best judgment of what will actually promote the welfare of this community.

It is important for them to know that, if the community is to enjoy a future commensurate with its opportunities, money must be spent for development in such amounts as only the investing public of the country can supply.

In its dealings with the public, the West Texas Electric Company realizes that its service must achieve the highest standards of economy, efficiency, honesty and courtesy.

To that end the Company and its representatives will continue faithfully to address themselves.

In return, it asks that the public, in assessing its qualifications for rendering this service, approach the task in a spirit of calm open-mindedness, remembering that, in the last analysis, we share a common aspiration—the ultimate growth and prosperity of this community.

West Virginia Lady Says That She Was in a Serious Condition, But Is Stronger After Taking Cardui.

Huntington, W. Va.—"I was in a very weak and run-down condition—in fact, was in a serious condition," says Mrs. Fannie C. Bloss, of 1964 Madison Avenue, this city. "In my left side the pain was very severe. It would start in my back and sides. Part of the time I was in bed and when up I didn't feel like doing anything or going anywhere.

"Life wasn't any pleasure. I was very pale. I was nervous and thin, and so tired all the time. "My druggist told me that Cardui was a good tonic for women and I bought a couple of bottles. I took two bottles, then I noticed an improvement. I kept on and found it was helping me. I have taken nine bottles. I'm stronger now than I have been in a long time." Cardui is made from mild-acting medicinal herbs with a gentle, tonic, strengthening effect upon certain female organs and upon the system in general.

SEARCH OLD HOUSE FOR MONEY

The little mountain home of "Aunt Ann" Hawkins. In the front yard can be seen some of the furniture wrecked in the gold hunt. At the right one of her relatives digging for gold.

By NEA Service. HUNTSVILLE, Ark., Sept. 26.—In the heart of the isolated Ozark hills, far from the railroads, the movies and other forms of civilization, "Aunt Ann" Hawkins lived alone in her mountain home.

Her few neighbors and her many relatives called her a miser.

Like so many of the Ozark mountaineers, she trusted no one, and openly voiced her hatred for all her relatives, saying she hoped they never would get a dollar of her money.

They found her dead the other day.

There was no will but much wealth, for her father had left her $70,000 in cash in 1895 and for thirty years she had spent almost nothing.

The funeral was no sooner over than relatives began to swarm to the little mountain home to claim their share of "Aunt Ann's" fortune.

The relatives soon found that "Aunt Ann" in her efforts to keep relatives from getting her money had hidden it all over her home and little farm.

A great money hunt began at once. The house and farm are almost wrecked, but the hunt for gold continues. So far about $3000 of the $70,000 believed "secreted" on the place have been found.

The money was hidden in every conceivable place. When the great eight-foot walnut mantelpiece was removed from the wall, gold worth $1300 tumbled out.

The native stone hearth was torn up and beneath it was found a can of gold. An old gourd in the kitchen, when emptied of string, netted $75.

Coins worth $129, were found in the cellar.

A sack of old ginned cotton was worked over by hand and gave up many gold pieces.

Excitement prevailed when some one found an old pocketbook containing $7000 in bills—but it proved to be worthless Confederate money.

More gold was found in the crevices of an old four-poster bed on which "Aunt Ann" died.

In an old pouch two ancient gold bracelets, beautifully carved and undoubtedly the height of fashion in Colonial days, were found.

The search for gold is being made under the direction of a court with provision that all of "Aunt Ann's" relatives must share equally in whatever wealth is found.

Immediately after her father's death in 1895, "Aunt Ann," then 51, refused to let any of her relatives come on the farm.

Her father's threshing machine lies today where he left it more than 30 years ago.

"Aunt Ann" once sold a copper kettle to a revenue agent for $200. He gave her a bogus check and after that she refused to allow anything to be removed from the farm.

If the Hawkins had invested their money instead of hoarding it, there would be a small fortune for all the relatives. For $70,000 at 4 per cent compounded interest would have netted $336,000 in 40 years; at 6 per cent the fortune would have gone $720,000.

But "Aunt Ann" shunned everything modern like compound interest.

Would you pay several thousand dollars for an automobile that could travel only six miles an hour?

Undoubtedly you wouldn't but that is what was done when Paramount purchased a horseless carriage, said to have been made scores of years ago, for use in "Not So Long Ago," which Sidney Oleott directed.

The story is one of an old inventor once very wealthy, who has spent his entire fortune devising a horseless carriage. For these scenes Paramount located an old automobile which is said to have been one of the first ever made. It is one of the few of its kind remaining in the United States when "wide open" is capable of setting the terrific pace of six miles an hour.

Featured players in "Not So Long Ago," which was adapted for the screen by Violet Clark, are Betty Bronson and Ricardo Cortez. The picture is showing today and tomorrow at the Palace Theatre.

BUMPS ON YOUR FACE MAKE PEOPLE SCRINGE

For this reason Black and White Ointment and Black and White Soap are making friends by the thousands because people can get them from their nearest dealer without a lot of explanation and they do quickly get rid of all these skin ruiners.

TO ABOLISH SLAVERY

Japan Takes Steps Against Extensive Red Light District

TOKIO, Oct. 7.—Japanese reformers have started a movement to eliminate the Yoshiwara, center of "white slavery" in the Orient.

Certain members of the Privy council have been approached by the reform leaders and have agreed to support the campaign for gradual elimination of white slavery on the basis of the League of Nation's convention for prohibition of the traffic in women and children for immoral purposes.

A section of the Council is reported in favor of approving the convention with reservations, while others, including Dr. Baron Yamawata advocate full and immediate approval to "abolish the terrible national disgrace" of the Yoshiwara.

More than 100 social organizations are participating in the campaign which will be in full swing this month.

Probably no country in the world has more licensed prostitutes than

Japan. And Japanese who have traveled in western countries are fully aware of the criticism of the Occident against the great red light districts.

It may be explained that the Japanese hitherto have not looked upon red light districts with the same feeling as westerners. In fact, heretofore a mother could legally sell her daughter into a house of the Yoshiwara; it was deemed simply a business transaction.

And, sometimes the girl came out later with a comfortable income assured her and without any brand of shame.

Mrs. Albert Brann will leave Wednesday night for Dallas where she will visit with friends and relatives for several days. She will be joined there by Dr. Brann the latter part of the week.

BUMPS ON YOUR FACE

MAKE PEOPLE SCRINCE

People who have been embarrassed repeatedly on account of disfigured skin on their face, neck, arms and hands, caused by eczema, tetter, rash, boils, pimples, etc., are nearly always sensitive about these things to the point of feeling that everybody is watching them and talking about how bad they look. For this reason Black and White Ointment and Black and White Soap are making friends by the thousands because people can get them from their nearest dealer without a lot of explanation and they do quickly get rid of all these skin ruiners. The 50c size of the Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap. (adv)

TO ABOLISH SLAVERY

Japan Takes Steps Against Extensive Red Light District

TOKYO, Oct. 7.—Japanese reformers have started a movement to eliminate the Yoshiwara, center of "white slavery" in the Orient.

Certain members of the Privy council have been approached by the reform leaders and have agreed to support the campaign for gradual elimination of white slavery on the basis of the League of Nation's convention for prohibition of the traffic in women and children for immoral purposes.

A section of the Council is reported in favor of approving the convention "with reservations" while others, including Dr. Baron Yamada advocate full and immediate approval to "abolish the terrible national disgrace" of the Yoshiwara.

More than 100 social organizations are participating in the campaign which will be in full swing this month.

Probably no country in the world has more licensed prostitutes than

Japan. And Japanese who have traveled in western countries are fully aware of the criticism of the Occident against the great red light districts.

It may be explained that the Japanese hitherto have not looked up red light districts with the same feeling as westerners. In fact, heretofore a mother could legally sell her daughter into a house of the Yoshiwara; it was deemed simply a business transaction. And, sometimes the girl came out later with a comfortable income assured her and without any brand of shame.

Mrs. Albert Brann will leave Wednesday night for Dallas where she will visit with friends and relatives for several days. She will be joined there by Dr. Brann the latter part of the week.
