Fair This Year Temporarily Abandoned Because of Disinterest; Future Talked

Because of lack of interest, a proposed Terry County fair apparently will be abandoned, at least for this year.

That such an event would be "nigh impossible this year" was brought out in an hour-long session among civic leaders Tuesday.

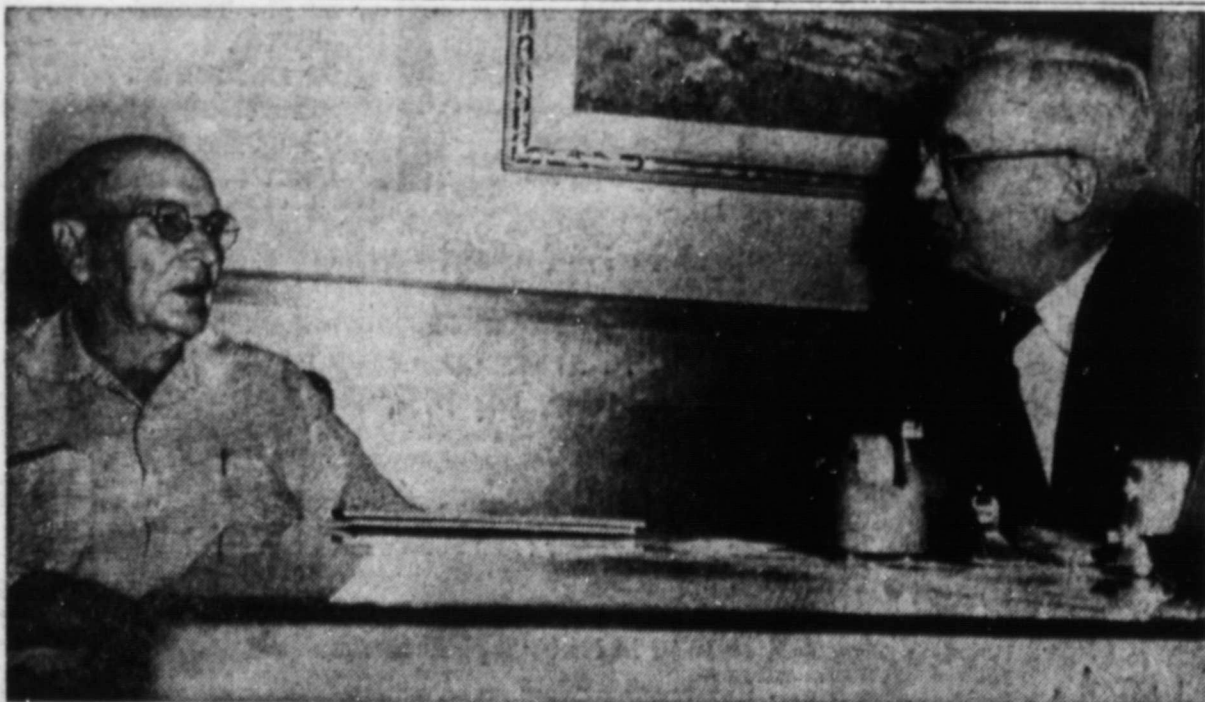

Attendance at the meeting emphasized the disinterest: About 36 had been expected, and about a dozen appeared.

Moderators were Leo Holmes of Brownfield State Bank, and J. L. (Dusty) Kemper, Chamber of Commerce president.

The possibility of a fair in the future was agreed upon by those present, and plans were made to feel out the opinions "of every club, group and organization in Terry County about such a fair."

Opinions Are Sought
That a fair once again might be held here originated last week among several members of the Terry County Sheriff's Posse, now disbanded. They discussed the idea with other leaders, and Tuesday's meeting was set to determine the final outcome.

Letters sounding out the feelings of the organizations will be mailed this week by Joe See No. 1 Page 2

IN THE PICTURE — It was Aug. 6, 1936, and J. O. Gillham assumed executive management of Brownfield State Bank. The city's population was about 3,800. Deposits in the institution totaled $380,000. On Tuesday, Gillham observed his 21st anniversary with the bank, and it was business as usual, except for greetings of friends aware of the occasion. The picture had changed considerably in the two decades: City's population is estimated at 10,000-plus, and Brownfield State Bank deposits at end of 1956 totaled $12,500,000. Shown with the bank's president in picture above is B. C. Moore, late of Arkansas and now of Austin, Moore, who owns an irrigated farm west of Brownfield, has been a bank patron for more than 16 years. Among items to which Gillham attributes much growth of the bank to its present standing: "A fine team of directors and employees, modernized farming, long-standing patrons and the growth of Brownfield." In 1944, he organized the Leveland State Bank, and is current chairman of its board. In 1951, he organized the Yoakum County State Bank at Denver City, and is its president. In 1951, he helped organize Brownfield Savings & Loan Association, and is its president. Gillham has served as president of South Plains Bankers Association, Panhandle Bankers Association and Texas Bankers Association (1944-45) and chairman of the TBA 7th District. He moved to Brownfield from Pampa, where he was associated with First National Bank. He also has served two terms as state representative from the 98th District. Hobby: his family. Four portraits of his four grandchildren occupy a prominent place in his office. Gillham and his wife, Ruth, live at 804 East Tate. They have reared three daughters here: Mrs. J. C. Powell Jr., of 904 East Buckley, Mrs. Robert Lee Craig of 604 East Reppeto, and Mrs. Robert N. Elderly Man Riding Bicycle Is Injured When Hit By Truck

A 71-year-old Brownfield man was injured seriously early Wednesday morning when a truck backed over him as he rode his bicycle through the intersection at Story and Lubbock Road.

E. E. Baker of 921 North Third sustained a broken left leg and right ankle when a truck driven by George Jones, 53, of Lamesa, struck his bicycle. Treadaway-Daniell Hospital attendants described his condition as "improving" at noon Wednesday. He is scheduled to undergo surgery.

Investigating officers said the truck was backing north on Lubbock road to dump a load of gravel into an asphalt-laying machine when the accident occurred. They said apparently Baker attempted to cross behind the vehicle when he was struck.

Bond Is Set for Negro In Wife-Shooting Here

Tommy Gene Everidge, Brownfield Negro, is in county jail in lieu of a $3,000 bond set Monday on charges of assault with intent to murder. Bond was set by justice of the Peace Lonnie Rhyne.

His wife, Ida Mae, whom is alleged to have blasted early Saturday morning with a .410 gauge shotgun, is in fair condition, according to the sheriff's office.

Services Held Here For Retired Pioneer

Final services were held Tuesday for J. W. Moore Sr., 83, retired stock farmer who lived at 602 East Tate.

Moore, who died Sunday, was a native of Alabama, and had lived in Terry County since 1907, moving here from Hamilton County.

Services were held in Presential Hill Church of Christ, with John McCoy, evangelist, officiating, assisted by Elder Joe Chisholm. Burial was in Terry County Memorial Cemetery, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Survivors include the widow; four daughters, Miss Creola Moore, Mrs. Howard Black and Mrs. Hoosey Key, all of Brownfield, and Mrs. Jarvis Nowell of Plainview, and Three sons, Lloyd Moore and Donald W. Moore of Brownfield, and J. W. Moore Jr., of Plains; one brother, Jim Moore of Clovis; two sisters, Mrs. E. A. Key of Clovis and Mrs. J. E. Gordon of Lubbock, and 21 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

MIGHT BE RABID!

You Seen This Dog?

A reddish-tan and white dog of nondescript breed which bit a 7-year-old girl here about 12 days ago may be rabid.

Brownfield police and the girl's parents this week still were trying to find the animal so that it could be placed under observation.

Victim was Jane Priest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Priest of 1095 East Lake. See No. 4 Page 2

A Terry County farmer living on Route 4 was appointed and sworn in Monday afternoon as commissioner of Precinct 3.

He is Eulice H. Farrar, and replaces Mrs. B. R. Lay Harrison, who lost her job when the office was declared vacant the same day by County Judge Herb Cheshsir.

Mrs. Harrison was not present when Farrar was sworn in, nor did she make an appearance during the day-long session of the Commissioners Court.

It was Monday a week ago that the county judge had informed her that she must resign or the law would force him to declare the post vacant because of her recent move to Petersburg. He had asked her to tell him of her decision "in two or three days."

Other present Monday were Commissioners E. S. Tankersley of Precinct 1, Carl Stephenson of Precinct 2 and Bob Burnett of Precinct 4, County Clerk Wade Yandell and County Atty. Morgan Copeland.

Before he took the action which ousted Mrs. Harrison from her office, Judge Cheshsir quoted Section 14, Article 16 of the Texas Constitution:

"All civil officers shall reside within the state; and all district or county officers within their districts or counties, and shall keep their offices at such places as may be required by law; failure to comply with this condition shall vacate the office so held."

Since her election last November to the four-year office, Mrs. Lay was married to Ed Harrison, Petersburg farmer.

"My sole reason for declaring the office vacant," Judge Cheshsir made quite clear, "is that I believe Mrs. Harrison to have moved to Petersburg to make her home with her husband."

"I wish to make emphatically clear to this court and to the public," he explained more than once, "that my action is not based on whether her work has been satisfactory, but on the sole premise that she has moved to Petersburg, out of Terry County."

Thrips Present In Nearly All Fields; Poisoning Begun

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following cotton insect situation release for August 1 is prepared by county agents, vocational agriculture teachers, USDA and Texas A&M.)

Weather conditions continued favorable for growth and fruiting of cotton. While the rate of fruiting was very satisfactory in many plantings, excessive shed in many plantings, excessive shed of tiny squares continued in other fields.

Such shed could not be attributed to insect damage in many instances since infestations were often light. Increased insect activity was observed in many fields throughout the area.

Thrips were present on cotton in all fields. Infestations were generally light. See No. 6 Page 6

Florida Lifts Texas Fruit Quarantine

A quarantine of more than 20 years' standing against the movement of Texas citrus fruit into Florida has been lifted.

Negotiations by the Texas Department of Agriculture succeeded in removing the barriers which had shut off an important market for state products. Florida citrus has been sold in Texas during most of the nearly three decades that our own fruit was barred here.

Rio Grande Valley fruit growers and the entire citrus industry will benefit from the new agreement.

Washington Report

By RALPH YARBOROUGH U. S. Senator

I hope you will pardon this rather tardy first report to you. However, I know that you sent me up here to work for you and represent you in the Senate where hundreds of things are happening every day directly affecting your pocketbook and how you and your family live. So I have spent my time in the Senate rather than on literary efforts.

One of the best examples of how things are happening up here to affect your pocketbook is the way the Administration is cramming "Bensonization" down the throats of the farmers.

It is well known up here that Ezra Taft Benson would be delighted to do away with parity altogether. As I pointed out in the Senate, Texas farmers have undergone seven years of drought and the worst floods since the Europeans settled in our area, but it is questionable whether they can withstand another year of Benson.

Another matter I have been greatly concerned about up here is the refusal of the Administration to put into effect the lower FHA down payment provision voted by the Congress. Many home builders in Texas are going to the wall because of these excessive cash requirements.

But even worse, many of our good Texas families are cramped up in inadequate housing. We in Congress voted the lower down payment, but this Administration is stalling, while home builders, appliance suppliers, carpenters, painters and the people who want to buy a home, suffer.

I also have been working hard to get a postal pay increase and pay raises for all other present and retired federal employees. I was very gratified last week to receive a letter from the group of postal employees at the Dallas terminal annex.

They said: "The postal employees and their families want you to know we are grateful for the interest you have shown and the work you have accomplished in their behalf, and we do once again solicit your aid by asking your support in the Senate for HR 2474."

To those employees and to retired and present federal employees all across Texas, I want to reply: You most certainly will receive my continued support and work. Anyone who sees the postman these August days walking his rounds in the hottest sun and dodging the neighbor's dog knows that this man, trapped with a fixed income amid today's runaway inflation, needs a living wage.

Washington activity in the other key Texas industry, oil, also illustrates the pocketbook angle. This concerns foreign oil imports. As you know, for the last few years the big oil companies have been flooding the local market with hundreds of millions of dollars worth of this foreign oil.

They have pumped so much of it into the U. S. that there hardly is a market left for our Texas oil.

After much hard work, we have been able finally to force the Administration to acknowledge in some manner their earlier promises to lower these ruinous imports. The long-delayed Cabinet committee report on imports was released last week and recommends, for the good of national defense as well as the domestic economy (and that means Texas), a sharp cutback in these imports.

If the big companies abide by these recommendations, it will be a sweeping victory for all Texans.

Since I arrived in Washington 95 days ago, I've testified before Senate and House Committees for nine dams and water projects on eight different Texas rivers; I've voted to cut 3½ billion dollars of the Republican budget and I've dipped the Administration's hard money and high interest rate policies seventeen times, but I haven't gotten the ticks off our economy system yet.

We can't go into everything at this time, but next week we will report on further matters directly relating to your pocketbook. Meanwhile, I urge every one of you to write and tell me what you think needs immediate attention.

New Well Finishing Method Is Possible

In the future it is possible that the petroleum engineer will be able to prescribe quickly and accurately the best well-completion method and predict productivity with the use of well logs, a University of Texas engineer predicts.

Well logs are records of progress in drilling a well, containing notes on formations penetrated, casing used, etc.

Dr. Sylvain J. Pirson adds that although the use of well logs and their interpretation is still problematical, the system shows very good promise.

"At present the well log has much more limited, although highly valuable, use," he explains. "Now analysis of logs is limited to determining water saturation and porosity of rocks. To get relative permeability (the relative ability of oil and water to flow simultaneously through the rock), cores gift certificates will be found elsewhere on this page. Be sure and read the story—you may have won $50 in gift certificates.

from the formation must be cut and tested, a relatively slow process. If the relative permeability can be derived simply and directly from the well log, then that information can be applied at once in the field.

A very significant aid to production practice will be made if the field engineer can make accurate, on-the-spot predictions about a well's performance and the best completion method to use for it, he pointed out.

This summer Dr. Pirson is one of 12 college professors retained by Pan American Petroleum Corporation to make informal studies of various projects at the firm's research center in Tulsa, Okla.

He joined the University of Texas faculty in 1956, after serving as a research scientist for Pan American Petroleum Corporation and teaching at Pennsylvania State University.

AUSTIN — Labor unions in Texas now are welded into one 300,000-member organization. The mammoth merger was accomplished at a joint AFL-CIO convention in this city.

Sharp internal disagreements heartened those who fear the potential political power of such a massive group.

A resolution, recommended by labor's civil rights committee, condemned the 55th Legislature for passing "immoral and undemocratic" laws concerning school segregation. Gulf Coast delegates balked. Finally, the convention compromised by adopting the national AFL-CIO civil rights plank, worded in a more general language.

Delegates also criticized Texas' daily newspapers; the Texas Tech Board of Directors; the Republican Party; and highway contractors.

Endorsed were a state income tax on corporations; an increase in individual income tax exemptions; federal aid for school construction; higher pay for teachers; and honesty among union officials.

AFM Jerry Holleman was elected president. CIO'er Fred Schmidt was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

AN OPEN LETTER TO CONGRESSMAN CELLER

Author Urges Congressman To Call Early Hearing on Bills Banning Income Tax, Government Business Competition

By WILLIS E. STONE
(EDITOR'S NOTE: Willis E. Stone is author of the "Proposed 23rd Amendment" and president of the American Progress Foundation of Los Angeles.)

Hon. Emanuel Celler, Chairman, House Judiciary Committee, Washington, D. C.

Dear Congressman Celler:

On June 13 you wrote to Mr. Dan Foley, Fairmount, West Virginia, to acknowledge his plea, which was but one of thousands, that you call hearings on H. J. Res. 123 (a proposed 23rd Amendment to remove government from competition with its own citizens) and on H. J. Res. 232 (to repeal the income tax amendment).

These two proposals, which are so very closely related, have since been combined into a single proposed Constitutional Amendment—H. J. Res. 355—which is awaiting hearings by your Committee.

Mr. Foley made a fair request of you. He properly assumes that it is the function of our Representatives to hold public hearings, and to thoroughly explore all phases of such important questions. Unfortunately, you did not respond to that very logical request.

In your letter to Mr. Foley, you apparently assumed, and properly so, that the two Resolutions involving taxing and spending are inseparable parts of the same thing, but you seem to have misjudged the issue, the logic of the proposals, and the determination of the American people to have something done about it. Your letter read:

Called Negative Proposal
"This proposal is, in the main, a negative one, since it does not propose an alternative which will permit the government to raise essential monies for essentially Federal expenditures such as defense measures, veterans' benefits, interest and the general expense of running the Federal Government."

Millions of Americans take issue with you on this. They contend there will be adequate revenue for all properly authorized functions of government.

There is an enormous quantity of evidence to support this view, so they regard the proposal as extremely positive, in the pattern of American tradition and constitutional precedent, proposing a reduction in revenue.

Urges Public Hearings
To determine the merits of these opposing viewpoints requires hearings, and the American people look to you, Mr. Celler, as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, to call these hearings.

You have urged the "cautious" approach, but is there any greater caution in such a grave issue than that of drawing out in a public hearing the full truth of every phase of this question of taxing and spending? Such hearings would reveal a very "practical and realistic alternative" to the income tax evil — one that has been carefully documented.

Section 1 of both H. J. Res. 123 and H. J. Res. 355 provides: "The Government of the United States shall not engage in any business, professional, commercial, financial or industrial enterprise except as specified in the Constitution."

This would terminate the corporate activities of more than 700 federal agencies. These activities have taken over 40 per cent of the land area and 20 per cent of the industrial capacity of the nation.

They compete with American citizens on an interest free, rent free, cost free, tax free basis.

Even with such fantastic privileges, these federal corporate activities directly and indirectly consume more than one-half the total revenue of the federal government to pay their losses and hidden costs.

The list of the more than 700 federal corporate activities which compete with private enterprise on such un-American terms, together with a reprint of H. J. Res. 355, are being sent to you for your study.

Surely, with such data before you, Congressman Celler, you will agree that a "practical and realistic alternative" to the income tax is available and should be thoroughly studied in public hearings.

The issue is squarely before you, Sir. Surely, in the interest of truth and the well being of all the American people you will initiate public hearings on this issue, and soon.

Examination Announced For a Tractor Driver
U. S. Civil Service Commission announces examinations for a tractor driver (light), WB-7, at $1.74 per hour for employment in the vicinity of Lubbock.

Information and applications may be obtained from the post office or from the executive secretary at Reese Air Force Base.

Some 9 1/2 million Chinese died from famine in the year 1877-78.

New Law Is Tough On Crooked Buyers
Texas farmers should beware of doing business with unknown or "traveling" fruit or vegetable buyers on a credit basis unless the buyer is licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

"Hot check" dealers and fly-by-night buying contractors of past seasons are experiencing crack-down by the department this year.

An Agricultural Protective Act is now in force over the entire state requiring fruit and vegetable buyers to be licensed and bonded unless they operate on a cash basis.

Growers are urged to check an unknown buyer's TDA license before turning over their crops on a "pay-later" basis. Purchase agreements must be made in writing. A licensed buyer is a bonded buyer and the farmer is protected from bad checks or contract failures. Penalties of up to $1,000 fine and a year's jail sentence are provided to snuff out unscrupulous operators of years past.

Okra Hit As Source Of Breeding For Bollworm

The constant battle against the destructive pink cotton bollworm has resulted in the placement of okra under insect control regulations. Okra, like cotton, provides excellent breeding, feeding and hibernating quarters for the pink bollworm. Many commercial fields of okra pose a threat to area control measures long after cotton has been plowed under as a preventive against insect build-ups.

No. 8—

However, the same period brought good news to factory workers as average weekly wages jumped some $2. In the higher brackets were workers in coal and petroleum products, up $4.76 to $113.16 per week, and those in chemicals, up $2.49 to $103.34 per week. Less fortunate were those in apparel and fabric products, up .37 to $43.92.

Fleahoppers were present in most fields throughout the area. While most infestations were reported as light to medium in most localities, heavy populations were present in some fields in Collingsworth, Dawson, Hall, and Lynn Counties. Heaviest infestations were generally found on the earliest planted cotton. Lygus bugs were reported on cotton throughout the area. While infestations were generally light, damaging infestations were found in Bailey and Dawson Counties. Bollworm activity increased during the week. Although only scattered plantings had developed sufficient infestations to warrant control, the worms were found in light infestations on cotton in a majority of fields. Since cotton is in a very attractive stage, the crop should be watched closely for the appearance of eggs and small bollworms. The worms should be controlled as soon as damaging infestations develop in order to protect the already delayed fruit set. Leafworms were found in an increasing number of fields. Medium to heavy infestations were reported in Borden, Dawson, Mitchell, and Scurry Counties.

Chesher also quoted Article 2341 of Vernon's Annotated Civil Statutes: "In case of vacancy in the office of commissioner, the county judge shall appoint some suitable person living in the precinct where such vacancy occurs, to serve as commissioner until the next general election." The judge and commissioners did not discount the possibility Monday that the ousted commissioner could fight the action. One course open to her, it was explained, is that she could seek a court injunction from the district judge. In the face of such a possibility, Farrar told the court that he would decline to accept any salary checks until the matter was settled completely. Judge Chesher said that he would notify Mrs. Harrison of his action by registered mail.

as Agricultural Extension Service. Timely showers helped pasturage and late crops in some areas. But were too late for corn and feed. DRYS LOSE — Anti-prohibitionists still are riding high in local option elections. So reports the Texas Liquor Control Board. Orange and Culberson Counties favored continued sale of alcoholic beverages by one-sided margins. VOLUNTARY CUTS—Texans seem to have adopted a dubious "wait and see" attitude toward Pres. Dwight D. Eisenhower's request for a voluntary 10 per cent cut in oil imports. For months Texas officials and industry leaders have sought White House help to restrict the flow of foreign oil into the country. They blamed "excessive imports" for the dwindling demand for Texas oil. State oil allowable slipped month by month to an all-time low. State revenue estimates, heavily dependent on oil taxes, were dragged down correspondingly. After study by a cabinet committee, the President's advisory asked importing companies east of the Rockies to reduce crude oil imports to 10 per cent below the 1954-56 average. Implied was the suggestion that mandatory quotas would be imposed if the voluntary program doesn't work out. Gov. Price Daniel called it "a step in the right direction." But, he said, the step "does not go as far as is necessary to meet the present emergency." He suggested there should be no waiting period before applying positive government controls and that 10 per cent was not a "realistic reduction."

Miss Sue Carol Winton of Lubbock Is Bride of Jerry Wayne Hendrick Friday

Miss Sue Carol Winton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell O. Winton of Lubbock and former Brownfield resident, became the bride of Jerry Wayne Hendrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Hendrick of Lorenzo at 8 p.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church at Lorenzo.

The Rev. Marvin E. Fisher, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring rites before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli centered with a large fan of tropical foliage and white gladioli and flanked with candelabra.

Miss Sherrill Hendrick, organist, offered traditional wedding music and accompanied Walter Ellis who sang "I Love You Truly", "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Wears Original Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown, designed and made by her mother, of embroidered nylon organdy. The fitted bodice was designed with a boat neckline and tiny set-in sleeves encrusted with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt over lace was waltz length. Her silk tulle shoulder-length veil depended from a tiny headband of iridescent sequins and seed pearls, and she carried a white orchid surrounded with agapanthus atop a white Rainbow Bible.

Attendant in Blue
Miss Nancie Davy of Wichita Falls was maid of honor. She wore an aster blue taffeta dress with escalloped lace over the bouffant skirt and carried a white satin parasol edged with a wide lace ruffle, filled with white asters. Miss Zumbrum, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Joe Winton, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers and candlelighters were Kenneth Woods and Don King of Lubbock. Nicky Barnard of Lubbock was ring bearer.

Reception at Church
A reception honoring the couple was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Wilma Davy of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Sylvia Burger of Lubbock, Mrs. Roger Albertson of Muleshoe and Mrs. Marvin Fisher of Lorenzo.

The serving table was laid with blue net, caught with blue satin bows and wedding bells at each corner, and was centered with an arrangement of white asters. A memory candle, adorned with pearlized grapes and open white roses, centered another table.

Live At Canyon
For a wedding trip, the bride chose a navy blue sheath dress with an empire jacket trimmed with white collar and cuffs. With her ensemble, she wore white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride attended Brownfield and Monterey (Lubbock) high schools and her husband is a graduate of Lorenzo High

Survey Reveals Diet Of South Is Better Than 20 Years Ago

Nutritionally speaking, Texans and other southerners are eating better these days than they were twenty years ago.

Comparing the hang-over depression days of the thirties with present-day living conditions, people will not find this information too surprising.

Still, foods need not be expensive to be nutritious, and the trend of Southern families toward better-balanced diets, as evidenced by a recent survey is encouraging.

To illustrate, a study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in 1936 showed about 40 per cent of southern diets to be poor.

Judging from the same standards used in that study, a similar survey conducted in 1955 indicates only about 20 per cent of Southern family diets to be nutritionally deficient now.

This is not to say, however, that 20 per cent of Southern families actually are undernourished since the levels of nutrients recommended provide for a safety margin over average needs.

The most common fault among diets studied was a shortage of vitamin C, calcium, vitamin A, and riboflavin, in that order. About 80 per cent of Southern families were getting two-thirds of the vitamin C recommended, 90 per cent had diets providing two-thirds of calcium and vitamin A recommendations, and other nutrients studied were being consumed at an even higher degree.

The most discouraging aspect of the study was the finding that Southern diets, while greatly improved, are still below those of the United States as a whole, and that there is a more direct relationship between Southern income level and nutritional quality of diets than in other regions of the country.

Bald eagles are so named because of the effect of the white feathers on their heads.

School. The couple will live in Canyon, where the bridegroom will attend West Texas State College.

Ceremony Read in McCamey Unites Patricia Brown, James Szydloski

In a ceremony read at 4:30 p.m. July in the First Methodist Church at McCamey, Miss Patricia Brown, daughter of Mrs. Lois Hill of Albuquerque, N.M. and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bynum of McCamey, became the bride of James Szydloski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Szydloski of 802 East Tate.

The Rev. Weems S. Dykes, pastor of First Christian Church in McCamey, performed the double ring rites before an altar banked with tall baskets of pink and white gladioli and Bells of Ireland, with streamers draped off the sides and carrying over into banks of greenery on each side. Candelabra holding pink glittered tapers backed the greenery.

played traditional marches and a prelude that included "I Love You Truly" and "Traumeri". She accompanied Miss Diane Wheat who sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Wears Original Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, wore an original model gown of ivory Dupioni silk and imported alencon lace over net, designed with portrait neckline framed with drapery of fabric holding escalloped lace and embroidered with seed pearls. The fitted bodice, with puff sleeves, completed with gauntlets worn over the hands, terminated with a point at center front waistline. From this stemmed a full skirt of fully shirred silk with stiffened lower edge, worn over hoops, which swept into a short train at back. Her veil of silk illusion net depended from a crown edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of sweet-heart roses centered with an orchid.

Attendants Wear Pink
Miss Tawana Helms of Lockney was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Rebecca Affleck of Big Spring and Jan Galloway of Wichita Falls. They wore identical gowns of pink nylon chiffon over net and taffeta, fashioned with portrait necklines with bands over the shoulders tied with large bows. The fitted bodices were shirred and ended with points at center front waistline, accented with cords. Joining these were immense waltz-length skirts of shirred chiffon. Headaddresses were matching circular veils held with looped velvet bandeaux. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and the bridesmaids carried white gladioli.

Doug O'Dell of Brownfield was best man. Groomsman and ushers were Kenneth Baker of Seagraves, Danny Deal of Pampa, Jerry Kessel of Mead and Jimmy Billings of Brownfield.

Home Reception Held
A reception honoring the couple was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bynum. Flowers centered the table from which punch and wedding cake were served.

For a wedding trip to the western states, the bride chose a navy blue suit with an orchid corsage.

Live In Lubbock
The couple is at home in Lubbock, where Mr. Szydloski is an engineering major at Texas Tech.

The bride is a graduate of McCamey High School and attended Texas Tech. Her husband is a graduate of Brownfield.

Edward VIII abdicated the British throne Dec. 11, 1936.

FOR HARDSHIP CASES

Tuition Waivers Must Be Filed By Sept. 20

Students who are residents of Texas will have until Sept. 20 to file applications for the "hardship" waiver of the $25 per semester tuition increase voted by the 55th Legislature, University of Texas officials announced this week.

Students whose applications are received after August 15 should be prepared to pay the full $50 per semester tuition fee, but will receive a refund of $25 if their applications are acted upon favorably.

The September 20 date was set, officials said, to prevent injustice because of failure to receive information. September 20 is the last day of registration for the fall semester at the university.

Dean of Student Services H. Y. McCowan explained that it requires a full month to secure the information on each application required by law and to process the application.

McCowan added: "For that reason an original deadline of August 1 had been set for receiving applications. Some deserving students, however, may be unaware of the statutory provisions and we are establishing the refund procedure to take care of them."

The tuition act authorizes the granting of $25 per semester tuition waiver on the basis of demonstrated financial need.

In determining financial need, consideration must be given to the financial capacity of the parents, and to the student's own efforts to finance his education as evidenced by part-time jobs, and loans from private sources.

Requests for applications for tuition waiver should be sent to the chairman of the committee on loans and scholarships information at the University.

No general revenue appropriations were made by the legislature to state colleges and universities for the tuition waivers, but each institution was directed to grant waivers of the tuition increase—$25 each semester—in cases of need, up to a fixed percentage of their estimated total local fund receipts.

FOOTBALL SEASON NEAR

Tech Football Ticket Sale Moving Rapidly

An early ticket sell-out to the Texas Tech-A&M football game in Lubbock Sept. 28 is expected by Jimmie Wilson, business manager of athletics. "There's a good possibility that when we finish filling orders on hand we shall have only end zone seats remaining," Wilson said. Capacity crowds also are looming for the Louisiana State and Baylor games. Tickets are being sold on the 10-yard line for those contests.

"Only the fact that we have not sent 5,000 tickets to LSU and Baylor, as we did A&M, keep those games from being virtually closed out now," Wilson said. "There has been a strong ticket sale on the South Plains for the LSU and

Texas Game And Fish Commission Sets Times on Hunting Season and Bag Limit

Open season and bag limits in Texas for the 1957 hunting season now have been pretty well established, according to the executive secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. At a meeting in Austin the Commission set down the seasons for migrating birds. These will need final approval of the Fish and Wildlife Service, which will be forthcoming soon. The deer season generally begins November 16 and extends through December 31. This is for white-tailed deer, especially in the Hill Country. Turkey season, for the most part, is open at the same time, with one gobbler permitted.

Antlerless deer permits will be available from landowners in certain areas where too many deer are present. Drawings for permits on the Management Area hunts will be held in October. The mule deer season west of the Pecos has been set for November 20-27 inclusive.

There will be open dates on antelope in the Trans-Pecos country October 1-3 and October 5-7. This hunting will be by permit. The Panhandle antelope season will be October 14-16 and October 17-9. The hunt will be permitted in defined areas in Hartley and Oldham counties. Antelope hunters will be selected through a public drawing in Austin.

The Panhandle deer and turkey seasons will be November 16-25 inclusive. Quail season will be December 1 to January 16, generally throughout the state.

The Commission also recommended a white wing dove season in the Valley to be held on alternate days, September 13, 15, and 17, 12 noon to sunset with a bag limit of 10 birds in the aggregate. The regular dove season recommended will be for 47 days in the north zone to begin September 1 and 48 days in the

Bamboo Touted As New Specialty Crop

Bamboo can be used for something more than orientaling window shades and fishing poles. As a new money crop possibility for Texas' lumber-growing regions, bamboo is a natural.

As a source for pulp fiber, bamboo has a potentially bright future because: It grows faster than soft woods and yields four to six times as much pulp per acre;

It could be harvested mechanically, eliminating the saw and the ax; it would be cheaper to handle at the pulp mill; it will grow almost anywhere that the average minimum temperature doesn't go below five degrees—ready-made for east Texas' climate.

Also, bamboo fiber has proved to be better for certain specialty papers—such as fastical tissue and fine writing papers—than other soft wood pulp. Bamboo could never replace the reliable pulp-producers we have today. But in our time of crop restrictions, allotments, curbs and controls, it certainly shows promise as a possibility for idle Texas acres.

south zone beginning October 1.

The Commission also recommended opening of the duck season this year on the first Friday in November.

"A new digest of the hunting and fishing laws of Texas now is on the presses and will be ready for delivery where licenses are sold, or they can be ordered by postcard from the Austin office," the executive secretary said.

"Juries... have been the firmest bulwarks of English liberty."

The words above were written in 1789 by a great man—Thomas Jefferson. He was looking back on centuries of British history to find advice to guide the United States. Out of that history, he came to the conclusion that "the opinion of 12 honest jurymen still gives a better hope of right" than any method of determining the truth in a criminal case.

It is time to think about Thomas Jefferson. Clever lawyers have finally devised an adroit method to by-pass the jury system. They are attempting to write this method into the law under the name of "civil rights."

In its present form, the "civil rights" bill would:

Enable a Federal District Attorney to go into Federal court when he believes someone is to be deprived of a voting right.

Enable the Federal judge to issue an injunction against the acts which the Attorney General suspects may happen.

Enable the Federal judge to decide without a jury when the injunction has been violated.

Enable the Federal judge under criminal contempt proceedings without a jury to assess fixed jail sentences and fines.

In other words, the Federal judge—in each individual case—makes the law, decides when it has been violated, tries the defendants and fixes the penalties. All of this takes place without a jury.

An amendment has been drawn by three Senators—O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Kefauver of Tennessee, Church of this fall.

Dr. Norman Hackerman, chemistry department chairman, will speak at a symposium on passivity of metals in Darmstadt, Germany, Sept. 2-7. Dr. F. A. Idaho. All three are "liberals." All three believe in voting rights. But also they believe that a man should not be branded a criminal without the opportunity to state his case before a jury.

That is the sole issue involved in the jury trial amendment. Nobody objects to the courts having full power to enforce legitimate decrees and orders. Nobody objects to adequate safeguards for the right to vote.

But many of us object to devious schemes to convict men and women under criminal contempt without trial by jury. That is why we support the O'Mahoney-Kefauver-Church

BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS

Machine Tool Producers Wearing Smiles As June Orders Hit Increase For First Time Since Decrease Began in March

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT
Economic Analyst

NEW YORK — Machine tool producers are wearing smiles. New orders received by them in June jumped an estimated 20 per cent over the May figure. This increase broke a decline in new orders that started in March and continued through May.

Producers have kept shipments at a high rate. This has cut into backlogs but machine tool executives are not unhappy with the situation. They point out that the industry's 6 months backlog at the beginning of the year was an unhealthy condition and that the current 4 1/2 months level is a much more desirable one.

The 20 per cent figure is based upon an estimated $50 million worth of new orders for June compared with $41.6 million in May and $51.3 million in April. Shipments in June, as well as May, were almost $79 million.

TENANT COMFORT — Commercial buildings of all sizes, shapes and ages are having their temperatures taken electronically these days in what is developing into one of the more significant trends in building management.

The temperature readings, designed to promote tenant comfort rather than the health of the building, represents a new technique in the maintenance of indoor climate control in office buildings and other commercial structures.

It is giving old buildings a new lease on life by improving their competitive chances and introducing to new buildings important guarantees of tenant satisfaction and operating economies.

The new systems, developed by Minneapolis-Honeywell and known as supervisory data centers, make use of a complex thermostatic network directed by a centrally located control panel. They provide round-the-clock monitoring of indoor building temperatures and the instantaneous automatic adjustment of remotely placed temperature control equipment. This, to the delight of individual tenants, keeps office temperatures at the precise levels requested. More than 300 already have been sold.

THINGS TO COME — For those who are having trouble starting fires despite the large number of quick-starters available, there's another being marketed: a plastic bag full of corn cobs, impregnated with animal grease and vegetable oils. . . For the Kiddies, who aren't supposed to play with fire, an electric toy vibraphone powered by two batteries has just been introduced. . . Another item for picnic enthusiasts is a three-way combination bag capable of separating hot and cold foods.

MORE LIVING SPACE — The swift growth of gas heating "has created a market potential for the entire home furnishings industry and will continue to do so," an appliance representative says. His explanation is in terms of living space gained.

Edward R. Martin, director

New Device Will Be Boon To Dairyman

A headache of long-standing to the dairy industry may be nearing permanent relief through virtue of a new machine said to remove off-flavors from milk.

The new device, which uses steam and high temperatures to destroy and carry away grass, onion and other bad flavors, is actually an Australian flavor-removing machine which was perfected and further developed at North Carolina State College.

Although very expensive as an addition to a dairy plant, the machine is believed fully justified by dairy farmers who in recent years have had to install proportionately expensive equipment such as bulk cooling tanks themselves. The flavor-saver would prevent these farmers from incurring heavy losses due to rejections for off-flavor, which nowadays could amount to entire storage tanks of milk being wasted.

What the machine will not do is to disguise inferior milk, and for that the public can be grateful.

of marketing and statistics for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association points out that in older homes alone some 600,000 new customers a year for at least three years are expected to heat by utility gas and liquefied petroleum gas. That is just slightly under last year's pace.

"Most of these customers," he says, "will gain space through the compactness of modern gas heating equipment, the elimination of fuel storage facilities and other factors, such as the opportunity to relocate equipment."

"If you figure each of our modernization heating customers gaining a mere 100 square feet — and it probably averages well over that — that's 60 million square feet made available for everything from ping pong tables to illuminated fishbowl.

Of course, you can't begin to reckon the impact closely because a householder often fixes up an area much wider than that directly involving the heating improvement. A new furnace may pave the way for a whole basement finishing job," Martin adds.

ENGINEER SHORTAGE — Everyone has been talking about cures for the shortage of engineers. The shortage itself appeared to be a foregone conclusion.

Research Projects Are Studied by Texas Prof

A University of Texas scientist, Dr. Frank N. Edmonds, Jr., this summer is studying two problems in stellar atmospheres through a grant from the University Research Institute.

One of the problems deals with a calculation of the amount of heat transported by turbulence from the inner layers of stars to their outer surfaces.

The other problem involves computation of model atmospheres for the star Procyon. This research is part of a broader study of the abundance of certain metals on Procyon which Dr. Edmonds is conducting under a National Science Foundation grant.

Now there is a controversy.

According to a book published by the National Bureau of Economic Research in New York, there has been no severe shortage of engineers in the United States. It claims that except for temporary shortages of people with certain skills, or geographical dislocation, the supply of engineers has been ample.

The two scientists who made the study upon which the book is based say also that engineering salaries have been on a downward trend. They compare these salaries to earnings of all wage earners and to incomes of "independent professional practitioners."

Other experts on the subject of engineering manpower state that the new study is based on shaky statistics. However, they want time to examine the work thoroughly before commenting officially.

But as practical evidence that engineers really are in short supply they cite the starting salaries being offered engineering graduates at the present time, and the want ad columns of the newspapers.

BITS O' BUSINESS — Word is getting round: newspaper consumption broke records for June and the first six months of the year. . . Paperboard usage must be up, too, as orders received by producers during the first half increased 4 per cent over the preceding six months. To meet the demand, production has been raised, as well — up 5 per cent in the first half.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bandy and Charlene of 321 North Bell and Mrs. W. L. Bandy of 302 East Cardwell attended the annual Bandy family reunion at Mackenzie State Park in Lubbock Sunday. It was the 25th year that the family has met on the first Sunday in August. Next year's reunion will be held at the Bandy cabin at Possum Kingdom Dam.

Epsom salt takes its name from a mineral spring at Epsom, England.

Texas 4-H Will Be At National Meeting Of Clubs in Colorado

Nine Texas 4-H club members will appear on the program at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Cooperation being held at Colorado State University, August 15-22. In addition others will participate in a talent show, according to Robt. W. Cooper, extension economist in farm organization.

Claudette McInnis and Doyle Pittman, members of Brown county's state winning Cooperative Demonstration Team, will appear before a general session of the youth meeting, attendance is expected to be 1,000, to give their demonstration "Cooperative Revolving Fund."

Miss Jolene Koch, Lipscomb county, will speak on "The Cooperative and the Farm and Home Business;" will serve on the all youth host committee and receive a 4-H scholarship from the institute.

Miss Mary Taack, a 1957 district winner from Castro county, will discuss before the youth assembly, "How Cooperative Education Works in Texas."

Other Texas 4-H'ers will appear as speakers on sectional programs. They include Alby Ann Kuebler, Potter county; Ginger Rae Rasberry, Cottle county; Earlene Wilma Schwalk, Ochiltree county; Howard Whitford, Jim Wells county and Jimmy Don Molloy, Hall county.

Floyd Key, assistant agent in Brown county, will serve as a section leader for the youth sessions. Cooper will participate as a speaker during the extension workshop and at one youth session.
