

TERRY WITHOUT HOSPITAL: 'UNTHINKABLE!'

AT FIRST CONFERENCE OF ITS KIND IN TERRY COUNTY

'Save Yourselves and the Soil Now By Diversification' Is Near-Command Here

A stern warning that the present fertility of Terry County soil will be depleted in a matter of years — without a diversified program to maintain it — was heard here Thursday.

The admonition to "put something back into that soil" was thrown out by the initial speaker for the First Annual Conference on Agricultural Diversification in Terry County.

He was Dooley Dawson of Houston, manager of the agriculture department, Bank of the Southwest.

Said Dawson: "The greatest real wealth on the South Plains is the soil, a virgin soil still capable of producing untold wealth in the farm products which we need now and always will require."

The banker continued, speaking to some 200 Terry farmers and businessmen: "However, you are one-cropping your Terry County soil to death."

The audience also heard the Houston businessman-farmer warn: "It's entirely possible that the cotton farmer in the near future may be a poor financial risk. Consider that." That which Dawson told his listeners was echoed by other authorities speaking after him: Terry County farmers can — and must — begin to diversify their operations now on a scale in keeping with their capital outlay.

Dawson: "The time for adjusting to a changing way of economic agriculture is now, and not at that time when the government suddenly sweeps away all support prices — it'll be too late then — and not at that time when your virgin soil no longer will give the yields you need, even with the use of commercial fertilizers."

In all, eight guest lectures for the one-day conference questioned: "With all the best resources in the world at your command, why are you still producing only cotton and sorghums?"

Other highlights of Thursday's session: "You have the potential" (for a well-grounded cattle feeding program) — W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture at Stangas Tech.

"Ensilage should be a quality product, based on fertility of your soil, variety used, cleanliness and the manner in which it is ensiled" — Grady Shepard of Hale County, engaged in successful feeding of silage to cattle.

"This should be the swine producing center of the world. Our many advantages overshadow those producers in the Corn Belt." — Paul Gross of Seminole, assistant agent in Gaines County.

"The landlord-tenant contract should be based on a budget — meaning that records must be kept — and the income based on the expenses entailed by the landlord and those entailed by the tenant." — Archie Leonard, professor of agriculture economics at Tech.

"Raising vegetables on a commercial basis is the biggest gamble we know of in agriculture. But... you can do it here, with planning, work, organization, time and marketing. You must get in the business to stay." — Joe E. Cole, Texas Extension Service horticulturist at Lubbock.

"Volume is the key to successful marketing of your vegetables. In this day of bigness, the individual vegetable grower doesn't have an iota of a chance." — J. W. Coney of Lovington, canning department of Kimbell Milling Company.

"Diversification must find its way into our Plains agriculture to stabilize our income and build our soil. Your seed crop should fit into your plan for diversification, and not conflict with it. The growing of seed — flowers, vegetable, field crop — can be profitable, both for your pocketbook and your soil. But it is hard work, needs special equipment in many cases and the market is unlike any other market." — Dr. A. W. Young, professor of agronomy at Tech.

Planners of the Thursday event expressed hope that the "Second Annual Conference on Agricultural Diversification in Terry County" might be held next year.

The day was initiated and sponsored by Terry Soil Conservation District and Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

People Now Have Choice

The issue now is before the residents of Terry County: To buy or not to buy Treadaway-Daniell Hospital.

Petitions probably will be presented Monday to Commissioners Court requesting a $300,000 bond election for the purpose.

If approved, $180,000 of the total will be paid for the hospital land, buildings and equipment.

A total of $60,000 will be spent on addition of seven to eight new rooms and conversion of the nurses quarters. Some $10,000 is earmarked for painting and minor repairs.

Left to the Board of Managers will be $30,000 for initial operation.

Concerning which route to take when the hospital is closed July 1 by its owners, the die was cast Thursday night before some 500 Terry residents in BHS auditorium.

The audience heard the much-awaited report of the Terry County "hospital committee," and apparently the consensus was that the committee had found the "route."

Basis of the committee's thinking, in the words of Chairman Burton Hackney: "There is no doubt in our minds but that the hospital will be closed as of July 1, 1958. To live in a community of this size without a hospital is unthinkable." The committee recommended that the county buy the hospital.

Following is the full text of the committee report:

On Feb. 19, 1958, 65 citizens of this county met at the City Hall in the City of Brownfield to discuss the matter of hospital facilities for this county.

This meeting had been called by the Chamber of Commerce after reports had been published to the effect that the present owners and operators of the hospital (Treadaway-Daniell) intended to cease operating it on July 1, 1958.

After much discussion of the matters involved, it was decided to elect a committee to make a thorough study of the question, and after this had been done to report back to the citizens at a general meeting called for that purpose, as to our findings and recommendations. The following people were elected to serve by written secret ballots:

Burton G. Hackney (chairman), Ben Finley, P. R. Cates, C. K. Kendrick, Carl Golden, Mrs. J. M. Teague Jr., Mrs. Lee Brownfield, Mrs. A. J. Bell and Paul Blackstock.

The committee has met from time to time since its election. It has had appraisals made of the fixed assets, as well as furniture, fixtures and equipment (of Treadaway-Daniell). We have made a study of the

Committeemen and Doctors-- They Deserve Commendation

For distinguished and unselfish service — without remuneration — to their fellow citizens, the nine members of the Terry County "Hospital Committee" deserve our unqualified commendation.

Selected by secret ballot last Feb. 19, the committeemen worked tirelessly to discharge their assigned obligation: To determine and recommend to their fellow citizens the most feasible, economical, accurate and business-like route to take when the closing of Treadaway-Daniell on July 1 would leave Brownfield without hospital facilities.

It was Thursday night, before a surprisingly large group of Terry residents, that the committee released its recommendation to the public: Purchase Treadaway-Daniell Hospital for $180,000.

What other recommendation possibly could have been made? None, we say, knowing full well, as did the committeemen, the peculiar set of circumstances in which we find ourselves. (July 1 is a scant 78 days hence!)

Yes, the nine men and women of that committee rate our plaudits: Chairman Burton Hackney, Mrs. A. J. Bell, Mrs. Lee Brownfield, Mrs. J. M. Teague Jr., Carl Golden, Ben Finley, C. K. Kendrick, Paul Blackstock, P. R. Cates.

The doctors — T. L. Treadaway and A. H. Daniell? How do they fit into the picture? In a logical and most deserving way, we say.

It should be known by everyone of the 17,000 residents in Terry County that the $180,000 for which the owners will sell their hospital — if a bond election is approved by the voters — is appreciably less than the actual value determined by a corps of disinterested and expert appraisers.

The $180,000. Too high? Too low? Consider: It is a business-like figure, arrived at by hard-headed negotiations between a trio of the committeemen and the doctors. When finally determined, both negotiating parties were satisfied. So are we.

This newspaper is proud to print in black-and-white its appreciation for the labors and services of all concerned in the attempt to resolve a peculiarly knotty problem which has a peculiarly strong hold on all of us.

23 Competitors Are Seeking Big Share Of $4,000 in Prizes

Edwards Circulation Company reported that it is highly pleased with the response to the opening of the Brownfield NEWS subscription campaign, which began here Thursday with an estimated $4,000 in prizes and commissions.

A total of 23 individuals in the NEWS area have entered the campaign and are well on their way in the scramble for votes that will give the winner $1,000.

The list of workers appears elsewhere on this page and includes a group of the finest residents in the area.

Friends, relatives and neighbors have been enlisted in the "battle of the ballots." This is a new experience in selling for most of the candidates, but they are finding it fun to travel about and become acquainted with residents of the Brownfield trade area.

Rating Up-Coming Awards that will be presented in addition to the $1,000 first prize are: $600 second prize, $300 third prize, $200 fourth prize, $100 fifth prize and $50 sixth prize. Candidates who do not win a prize are given 20 per cent commission on their sales. See No. 1 page 5

In Dallas from here were Al Muldrow, member of the Texas Bracero Committee; Noah Lemley, farmer; John Kendrick, executive vice president of First National Bank; and J. O. Gillham, president of Brownfield State Bank; Carl Hogue, Terry County Farm Bureau president; Oliver Grote, Terry County Farm Association manager, and H. L. (Hub) King, director of Texas Farm Bureau's District 2 and chairman of TFB state cotton committee.

The Terry men were among 25 in the State called to Austin early Friday to consult with S. Perry Brown, chairman of the Texas Employment Commission. The group, while in Austin, approved a resolution protesting certain restrictions placed on the TEC by the Bureau of Employment Security (U. S. Labor Department).

The consultants called "ridiculous" the efforts of the Security office to force Texas farmers to recruit labor from Oklahoma and See No. 2 page 5

Built to Last

Steel framework is a symbol of massive strength. On these beams thousands of tons will rest and be supported with ease. Even the brick exterior will actually rest on the steel frame. No wind or storm that comes will threaten this structure — it is built to last.

Some lives are like this building—they have a core which supports the whole and which the storms of life will not threaten. The really good news is that you can have this solid center to your life too. It is a center based on total trust in God. Your nearby church can tell you why and how to trust in God. Go there and let your life be built to last.

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church should be in everyone!

Wellman Teachers Named For 1958-59; Head Coach Added

Wellman school trustees Tuesday elected 14 teachers for the 1958-59 school year, according to Phillip O'Connell, superintendent.

Only new member of the staff is Harvey Tubb, who was signed as head football and basketball coach. Tubb coached at Ropesville High School this year.

Other instructors given one-year contracts are Mrs. N. H. Fields and Mrs. H. E. Stevens, first grade; Mrs. Homer Barnes, second; Mrs. J. W. Shaw, third; Mrs. L. F. Porter, fourth; Mrs. Lee Lyon, fifth; Mrs. J. E. Lawlis, sixth; and C. B. Strong, seventh; Mrs. Majorie Bowman, music; W. C. Green, commercial subjects; P. C. Goza, science; Willie Mae Hines, home economics; and Homer Jones, vocational agriculture.

Vacancies still exist in high school English and the eighth grade.

4th Cotton Week Set

Terry's fourth annual cotton review has been set for May 16 in BHS Auditorium, capping the county's cotton week observance, reports Mrs. Shafter Bailey, chairman.

The one-night event will include a style show, starting at 8 p.m., and selection of the Terry Maid of Cotton.

Jerry Shaw, O'Connell, N. H. Fields and H. E. Stevens were elected to new contracts earlier this year.

Contracts also were renewed for L. F. Porter, school tax collector-assessor, and Garland Parker, bus foreman.

In other business, the board canvassed and approved results of the April 5 trustee election and approved Incumbent's Glen Baker and Robert Hamm were returned to the board by Wellman voters.

The style show will include some 45 persons modeling various types of cotton clothing. Models will be selected by a committee, comprised of home demonstration club members. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

No competition or prize money will be offered in this year's show. Mrs. George Weiss is chairman of the event.

As in past years, the style parade will be in four divisions: Three through 6 years old, first grade through 12 years old, teen-age and 20 years old and over.

Entertainment will be included during the night's program.

Mrs. O. D. Kennedy, Maid of Cotton chairman, urged Maid of Cotton contestants to enter as soon as possible. Complete rules and deadline for entry will be released in the near future, she said.

Charles Kersh, Brownfield Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee chairman, will be in charge of street and store window displays during the annual cotton celebration.

Johnson Is Top Golfer In Pro-Am

Jimmy Johnson of Levelland rapped a 68-stroke round to lead the field in the West Texas Pro-Am tournament held at Brownfield Country Club Thursday.

A foursome comprised of Gus White Jr. of Lamesa, Peggy Elliott of Tahoka, Jack Addison of Lamesa and Harold Crites, of 514 East Buckley took top honors in the meet with 157 points.

Points were awarded as follows: one for a bogey, two for a par, three for a birdie, four for an eagle and 10 for a hole-in-one.

Two teams tied for second with 150 points each. They were Bob Van Wie of Lamesa; Dub Nance of Levelland, Ben Murphy of Levelland and T. F. Vaughn of Lamesa, and David Ramirez, Floydada pro, T. W. Batty of Floydada, Jimmy Addison of Lamesa and Virginia Zorns of 1002 East Tate.

hospitals staying in the black were those with good management; that those with poor management were losing money.
Therefore, the success of a county hospital operation in Terry County will depend upon the type of people we have as a Board of Managers.
With the above in view, and with the idea in mind that this matter would be taken to the people for their decision, we thought it only fair that the people should first know whom the Commissioners Court of this county proposed to appoint as a Board of Managers for the initial operation.
We took this matter up with the court, and they have informed us that should the people vote bonds to purchase a hospital, they would appoint the following people as a Board of Managers:
Bruce C. Zorns, C. A. Winn, Dennis Q. Lilly, Lee Bartlett, C. K. Kendrick, Val Garner.
These men have a wealth of successful business experience and are men of sound business judgement and can and will operate a hospital on a sound basis.
There is no doubt in our minds but that the hospital will be closed as of July 1, 1958, by the present owners. To live in a community of this size without a hospital is unthinkable.
We realize that there is no perfect solution to our problem; that our recommendations, given you herein, will not suit all the people and that the things decided upon by the group here assembled (A minimum of 500 Terry residents comprised the audience referred to by the committee as "the group here assembled.") will not suit all the people.
We have a very serious and momentous problem to solve, and we do fervently hope that a majority of our people will concur in whatever the group here assembled decides should be done and that the citizens of our community will not become divided and embittered over a question that should and must be resolved for the welfare of all.
After considered deliberation, your committee determined that we should take the matter to the people on the basis of purchasing the present hospital facilities from Dr. (T. L.) Treadaway and Dr. (A. H.) Daniell, including all the land, buildings and equipment for a purchase price of $150,000.
That Dr. Treadaway, Dr. Daniell and Dr. (Cecl) Knox would be permitted to remove only the furniture and equipment from their private offices and their private treatment rooms.

That everything else, of every kind and nature, would pass to the county upon the payment of the aforesaid purchase price.
We realize that the price we offered is wholly inadequate, but under all the surrounding circumstances, that figure was the most we could recommend.
If the county is to go into the hospital business, we think it would be a false economy and foolish not to buy the present facilities at the above price, when we take into consideration what it would take to build a new one of comparable size and equipment.
A subcommittee of this committee composed of Burton G. Hackney, P. R. Cates and C. K. Kendrick was appointed to negotiate with the doctors. They agreed to sell at the figure of $180,000 provided a bond is voted by the citizens to purchase same.
It is our opinion that the nurses quarters should be connected to the hospital; that it could be done and furnished for approximately $40,000; that in such construction 7 or 8 new rooms, with private baths, could be added, making at least 53 patient beds, with adequate emergency rooms.
It is our further opinion that some $10,000 will be needed for painting and minor repair.
Taking all of the above into consideration, we recommend that the county purchase the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital at the above quoted price; that a petition be immediately presented to the court for a bond election in the sum of $300,000.
We think that amount ($300,000) will be sufficient to purchase the hospital, add the nurses quarters and new rooms, do the painting and repairing, and leave the board with an operating surplus of $50,000.
We have found that such a bond issue will entail a 7 1/2 per cent raise in taxes; that each $100,000 in bonds issued, pay-

Teacher Training Is Studied by Tech

A council to further mobilize every facet of Texas Tech's teacher training program has been announced by Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president.

"Today's educational crisis demands more quality in teaching as well as more teachers," Dr. Jones said in announcing the 19-member inter-departmental council.

Dr. G. E. Giesecke, academic vice president, said the council has been asked to determine the responsibilities of each Tech department in training teachers.

Within the next two years, the council is charged with recommending policies and procedures to the council of deans, coordinating institutional effort regarding teacher education, and facilitating communication among departments contributing to teacher education.

Chairman of the teacher education council will be Dr. Morris Wallace, education department head and director of teacher education at Tech. In his letter capacity, Wallace is official agent for Tech in all communications with the Texas Education Agency.

Giesecke said, "There is a strong interest in teacher education in every Tech department and the council will provide a means of harnessing that interest."

The council is one of the results of an intensive study of teacher education that has been going on at Tech since 1954. The study has attracted national attention, through an article by Giesecke and Wallace in the Journal of Teacher Education.

"The road to war is paved with agreements based solely on mutual trust."

AT KNIGHT — Pictured is James C. Hestand, who has assumed duties as manager of J. B. Knight Company, Furniture. He comes to Brownfield from Pasadena, where he was assistant vice president of Pasadena State Bank. He has been associated with the furniture departments of both the Montgomery Ward of Abilene and Lubbock. He also was employed by Watson Furniture of Lubbock, and for a time had his own store in Anson, where he was manager of Anson Chamber of Commerce. He served with the Air Force during World War II, reaching the rank of captain. He also served as manager of Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce for several years. Hestand is a graduate of Anson High School, and attended Yale University. Mr. and Mrs. Hestand and their two children, Steve, 4 and Lissann, 3, are making their home in a new residence located at the corner of Broadway and Spruce. They attend First Christian Church, and he is a member (foto)

It's amazing how fast a sports season can flit by before you know it.

It seems only yesterday that basketball was completed and track began. However, district meet was held yesterday and regional will be run Saturday. Little League will begin the 28th and spring football two days later. We must be getting old when we start noticing how fast time flies.

Congratulations to the Union Wildcats for their win in the District 7-B meet at Lubbock Wednesday.

The Cats tallied 43½ points for a healthy 8½ point bulge over runner-up Smyer. Meadow was third and Wellman trailed the field narrowly.

The junior division of the meet was no contest as White-face spread-eagled the field with 53½ points. Wellman was second and other Terry teams lagged far behind.

This probably bids a bad omen. To us, this indicates Meadow and Union will be hurting next year when this year's seniors are gone.

The Cubs returned to Andrews yesterday for the District 2-AAA meet. Results were not available until after press time.

Andrews were heavily favored to win the meet. Though not likely to win the major portion of firsts, the Ponies are strong enough to garner a fist full of seconds and thirds to give them a good lead.

Runner-up spot was considered a toss-up between Brownfield and Kermit, with Pecogiven an outside chance. With a few breaks and some pretty weather, the Cubs should take the No. 2 spot.

First and second place winners will go to the regional meet at Lubbock next week. Brownfield should have a good representation.

While we are on the subject of track, we would like to say we hope Texas coaches divide regional and state competition according to school classifications this spring when the vote is taken.

Larry Meeks is a perfect example of the inequity of the present system of lumping 3A and 4A together.

Though he is one of the better hurdlers in the region, he will be forced to compete with hurdlers from Abilene, Lubbock and Amarillo — to name a few — two of which possess top times in the state.

Meeks probably could qualify for the state meet in the highs — possibly he may anyhow — if it were not for the present set up.

Coach Doug Cox and his staff really are chomping at the bit to get into spring football training. Opening date here is slated for April 30.

Despite dire predictions, we feel Brownfield will do better than Doug and the staff are indicating. The whole district likely will be stronger next season.

Ector won't be anyone's doormat this fall. The only possible breather in the Cub schedule MIGHT be Monahans. Though Andrews lost Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, they will return another big, fast club.

This year's Pony frosh have lost only one game since they started together in the seventh grade.

Other teams in the district will be as strong, if not stronger, as they were last year. It points to a rough row to hoe for the Cubs, but we think they will win their share of games.

Little League try-outs will begin here April 28 in Little League Park. Bill McGowan, president of the loop, said any youngster who wants to play will have a chance.

Country Club Dinner Is Slated for 6:30 Tonight

Mmes. Bobby Jones of 703 East Lons, John L. Cruce Jr. of 1001 East Cardwell and Bill Williams of Route 1 will be hostesses for a dinner from 6:30 to 8 p.m. today at Brownfield Country Club.

All members and their guests are invited. The menu is prime rib roast, stuffed baked potatoes, green beans, congealed salad, tossed salad, garlic bread, dinner rolls, both orange and chocolate cake, coffee and tea.

Ethnological Study Of SW Indian Life Slated For Release

"Indians Of The Southwest" by Dr. M. Jourdan Atkinson, is scheduled for early release by The Naylor Company of San Antonio.
The book tells the Indian's story. However, it's not a tale of blood, thunder and war, but an ethnological study of his home life, manners and religious customs.
It tells of his arts, his sciences and of the laws by which he lived before the white man came, bringing European diseases, strife, alcohol and death. It was only then that the Indian became the Vanishing American.
"Indians Of The Southwest" is the result of painstaking, exhaustive research on the part of the author.
Dr. Atkinson has based her work on the actual reportorial accounts of those who, long ago, were eyewitnesses to marriages, deaths, burial rites, feasts and celebrations of the Indians.
She has personally covered existing ethnological units from the interior of Mexico through

Young People Okay Billboards Along Monotonous Highways

Up in Nashua, N. H., the other evening, a young people's discussion group met in the Public Library in the tradition of the famed New England town meeting. They were sounding off on the question of whether we should or should not permit billboards along our new national highway network. And, according to THE NASHUA TELEGRAM, they were unanimous in support of this much maligned product of our promotional ingenuity.

The paper quoted young Peter F. Desautels as saying: "I feel that billboards are a good thing on the highways because they break up the monotony of the trees and lawns on each side of the roads. I feel also that it is the American business man's privilege to advertise."

Leonard Trudeau was equally concerned about the rights, privileges, community contributions and welfare of business, but added: "I think that the sizes should be regulated. Also the places where they might be a hazard or block the scenery."

Another young man who looked at both sides of the controversy, Albin Pusvaskis, urged "a compromise between the two extremes of billboarding." He thought "there should be no billboards on curves", but they would be desirable "on straight monotonous roads". We naturally wonder whether these youngsters may have been influenced by the public-spirited action of America's oldest poster firm, John Donnelly & Sons, in devoting two of its strategically located boards to news bulletins during last Fall's newspaper strike in Boston.

Perhaps those on the other side of the continent in Oregon, home state of the violently anti-billboard Senator Neuberger, might have divergent views, or those in the deep South, the Middle West, New York or New Mexico. But it is our free-wheeling guess that they think about the same as the kids in Nashua.

And just in case there are other young people planning such discussions, it might be noted that the restrictions on size and locations suggested in Nashua were adopted by the industry long ago and are observed by its responsible members — who also donate more than ten percent of their space each year to various civic and national welfare campaigns.

By the time the national highway program is completed, today's teen-agers will be inheriting both the achievements and the mistakes of today's oldsters. Perhaps they should decide whether they want to live with billboards or without them.

'Jet Pilot' Has That John Wayne Today On Rustic's Screen

Howard Hughes' "Jet Pilot," the most talked about air picture of all time, is announced as the next attraction, beginning today, at The Rustic.

With John Wayne, Janet Leigh and the U. S. Air Force starred, this big Technicolor production, which has been years in the making, will feature flying sequences in order to get on the screen the full canvas of realism and thrills demanded by Hughes, one of the nation's top aviation authorities and producer of "Hell's Angels."

"Jet Pilot" revolves around the romantic conflict of American jet officer John Wayne and Soviet pilot Janet Leigh, when he is assigned to take her under his wing, after she lands illegally at a U. S. air base in Alaska.

The last sentence of the fourth paragraph of the column for April 10, 1958, entitled "HOMESTEAD SUBJECT, TO SALE FOR TAXES" should read as follows:

"There is no similar exemption with reference to city taxes, or to county taxes, except in certain counties levying a special 30 cent farm-to-market and lateral road tax."

"Advertising is the most vocal part of our competitive enterprise system."

"WINCHESTER 73" — James Stewart and badman Stephen McNally wrestle for possession of the prized rifle that is the inanimate central character of "Winchester 73." Universal-International re-release in which McNally is top-featured in a cast that stars Stewart, Shelley Winters and Dan Duryea. The western may be seen on a double-bill Wednesday and Thursday at The Rialto. — Other film is "Criss Cross," with Burt Lancaster and Yvonne DeCarlo.

King-Size Package Is Offered In Two Pictures at Rialto

A king-size package of movie entertainment arrives Wednesday at The Rialto when "Winchester 73" and "Criss Cross," two of Universal-International's all-time thrillers, reach the screen for one sensational program.

Fans who have clamored for the re-release of both films are promised a full measure of excitement as the pictures will be shown in their original form, without deletions.

James Stewart, Shelly Winters and Dan Duryea are the stars of "Winchester 73," unanimously rated one of the most colorful, action-packed outdoor dramas in Hollywood annals.

Equally anticipated is "Criss Cross," the explosive melodrama which united Burt Lancaster, Yvonne DeCarlo and Dan Duryea.

"Criss Cross," which has never been surpassed for sheer spine-tingling suspense, deals with the violent rivalry between gang boss Duryea and Lancaster for the love of Miss DeCarlo.

The unforgettable story reaches a lurid denouement when Lancaster joins Duryea's mob for a hold-up but then turns his guns on his fellow bandits.

"Witness for the Prosecution" Hits The Audience With Thunderous Conclusion

The highest price ever paid for a movie company for the purchase of a mystery melodrama went for "Witness for the Prosecution," being shown today and Monday at The Regal.

The price paid for the sensational successful Agatha Christie hit play was just a little bit under half a million dollars.

Released through United Artists, the film stars Tyrone Power, Charles Laughton and Marlene Dietrich, and has a strong supporting cast of Elsa Lanchester, John Williams, Torin Thatcher, Una O'Connor and Philip Tonge. "Witness for the Prosecution" is the play that became famous for its thunderous surprise ending. And, although every major critic who reviewed the play cited it for the unexpected and baffling ending, not a single one of them revealed what it was in his review.
