Low-Rent Housing Project Discussed

Brownfield Rotarians heard Friday of the possibility of a low-rent housing project in Brownfield.

Here to discuss any such future undertaking was Will Holdredge, project engineer with the Fort Worth architectural firm of Hedrick and Stanley.

He spoke to the Rotarians during their weekly luncheon in First Presbyterian Church.

"First thing to decide," he told his audience, "is to determine the need for a low-rent housing project. One way to decide is to investigate the number of substandard home now existing."

Several Brownfield men will go to Dallas in the near future to look further into the subject of such a project here.

44 Cubs To Seek Starting Positions During '58 Spring Football Practice

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Staff Writer

The spring football grind begins here Wednesday when 44 Cub gridders vie for six starting positions vacated through graduation.

The squad, including 10 returning varsity letterman, likely will begin butting heads in earnest during the first session slated for the practice field adjacent to Cub Stadium.

As in the past two years, Coach Doug Cox and his staff face another rebuilding job, especially in the backfield and at the tackle and end positions.

"This year's team again will be weak in reserve strength," noted Cox. "Also, we have to find capable replacements for our all-district trio, Mike Browning, George Fugitt and Johnny Jones."

Graduation rattled the line, leaving only Bob Cloe, Ken Kendrick, and Gary White from last year's team, which compiled a 3-5-2 record. In the backfield, the Cubs still will have Robert Wright at fullback and Joe Oswald to call signals.

Ken Willis, who played quarterback and wingback last year, appears to have the inside track on the wing slot held down in 1957 by Larry Meeks.

Cox will have 18 "B" team lettermen and one varsity reserve reporting Wednesday when the search for starting talent begins.

The head mentor said the coaching staff will be looking for another passer to back up Oswald and Leon Clark. "We also will need to find some more tackle, center and end strength," he added.

Cox and his staff will have 21 calendar days to see what the 1958 prospects will be for a winning season. "Though we are in better shape than we were last year at this time, we still have a lot of work to accomplish before next fall," said the coach.

Cox, starting his third year at the helm of Cub grid fortunes, said a lot of hard work is on tap for the next three weeks. Spring sessions will be capped with the annual Red-White intrasquad tilt at 8 p.m. May 20.

"The center section of the south stands are scheduled to be moved to the new stadium site May 10," noted Cox. "Therefore, we probably will seat all fans on the north side for the spring game."

Varsity lettermen returning include: End—Cloe. Tackle — Charles Lee, Kendrick and Jimmy Rodgers. Guard — Gary White. Center — none. Backs — Oswald, Wright, Leon Hinson, Willis and Curtis Bryant. Ronnie Goode, an end, is a varsity reserve letterman.

The Cubs will attempt to better their No. 3 position in the District 2-AAA race last fall. A single point spelled the difference between a tie for the championship and their third place finish, the Cubs being held to a 13-13 tie in the final tilt with champion Kermit.

"We will be pointing for better things next fall," said Cox. "But it looks like nearly every team in the district will be tougher this year."

Brownfield fans will have a chance to see a preview of the 1958 Cubs at the intrasquad tilt before a tough 18-game schedule gets under way against Levelland here Sept. 12.

A five-game home slate, including the Lobos, Littlefield, Odessa Ector, Seminole and Kermit, is on tap for Cub Stadium next fall. The Levelland tilt expected to include dedication of the new stadium scheduled to be completed this summer.

Foundations for seating have been poured, an irrigation well drilled and drainage constructed at the new site. Seating is expected to be erected in mid-May by Central Texas Construction Company of Waco, setting the stage for final construction of the field house and other facilities this summer.

School officials said seeding and sodding operations on the field and practice areas are expected to begin soon. "With present moisture, the grass should be in good shape by next fall," noted Cox.

QUEEN — Queen of Terry County Sheriff's Posse rodeo this year is Miss Nancy Gaston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gaston of 202 West Main. Miss Gaston is secretary in the county agent's office. The annual rodeo is June 5-6-7. Pictured above is the trio which will publicize the event and register contestants. From left: Eddie Courtney, Tex Parrott and Ray Christopher. The annual event will be preceded by a huge downtown parade at 3 p.m. opening day. Stock will be furnished by Morris Stevens. Advance tickets now are on sale. Price: $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

Record Number Of Speaking Roles In 'Raintree County'

An all-time M-G-M record for speaking parts in a single motion picture is established by "Raintree County," the studio's spectacular adaptation of Ross Lockridge Jr.'s prize-winning novel laid against a background of the War between the States.

Together with 10 stars and featured players, headed by Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Eva Marie Saint, the cast has 119 players in speaking roles and the greatest number of extras in the history of the company's domestic production.

Pricing Important Advertising Factor

By WELDON CALLAWAY
NEWS Advertising Manager
A noted advertising consultant recently described a typical problem he meets while assisting small city retailers with their advertising. In the case used for an example his client was a dress shop.

After looking over past advertisements of the shop, the consultant told the owner, "You don't give people enough information about your merchandise."

"We use good illustrations and list brand names and sizes. There's not much else to say," the merchant replied.

"What about price? That's important to every shopper." "We always felt that including prices would cheapen our advertising or frighten people away," the shop owner said.

The consultant fished a section of the New Work Times from his brief case. He opened it to the advertisements of some of the highest quality dress shops in the world — prices were shown for every item advertised, including fur coats selling for more than $6,000. There was certainly no connection between pricing and quality here.

"Our research shows that pricing advertised items may increase results over 100 percent on goods sold at standard prices. Instead of being a sign of bad taste, pricing is a sign of integrity and fairness," the consultant said.

The consultant added that many prospective customers do not bother to check on unpriced advertised items because they just assume that the prices would be too high. "Very few American shoppers like to bargain. They want to know what to expect when they go out to buy," he said. "We know that TOURNAMENT GUIDES — By late Saturday, more than 85 contestants had done their stint before the adjudicator in the annual tournament here of the National Guild of Piano Teachers. Adjudicator is Lewis Lane of New York, standing right. Director of the tournament here is Jerry Gannaway. With them are two contestants who appeared Friday before Lewis: Patricia Turner, foreground, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Turner of 1305 East Tate, and Emily Risinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Thad Risinger of 910 East Lake. Lewis left Brownfield Saturday, but will return May 10 for one day of additional hearings. On May 11-12-13, Thurman Morris of Abilene will round out the duties of adjudicator. All hearings are in First Baptist Church. From May 14 to 20, Gannaway will adjudicate contestants in Ranger (Ranger Junior College), Haltham City and Dublin. Misses Turner and Risinger are scheduled to appear in at 3:30 p.m., today in Fellowship Hall of the church. The two students of Gannaway now are concluding five years of piano study. Patricia — they are both 11 years old — was the 1958 winner in her classification in the Concerto Contest sponsored by the South Plains Music Teachers Association, and has received superior ratings in the National Piano Guild auditions which have placed her in the Critics Circle, the highest possible rating. Emily has received the highest ratings in guild auditions in Brownfield for all of the four years in which this city has served as a center for such. She has received Critics Circle ratings for four years and has won International honors each year. (NEWSfoto)

Tech Engineering Show Will Feature Professional and Student Rocketeers

Rocket men — both student and professional — will highlight the first space-age Engineering Show that more than 2,000 high school Interscholastic Leaguers will see when they visit the Texas Tech campus May 18-19.

Tech's 26th Annual Engineering Show is part of the Spring Festival that will also feature the "Atoms for Peace" Atomic Energy Commission exhibit, the Tech Home Economics Open House and Varsity Show.

West Texans will be able to see an Army Nike Ajax missile, its launcher and 13-man crew as part of the Tech Army ROTC display. The Nike is the 20-foot surface-to-air missile that currently is used to guard strategic defense areas throughout the nation.

Interscholastic Leaguers will also see a rocket built by Tech physics students, members of the Pyros club, who have made several successful supervised rocket launchings.

The AEC's newest "Atoms for Peace" exhibit will be displayed during the Tech Spring Festival at the Naval Armory on the Tech campus.

The free show features more than 80-panel displays showing developments in nuclear energy technology, a "balloon suit" for AEC workers and a mechanical "hand" used in manipulating radioactive materials.

The Region 1 Interscholastic League competition is held each year at Texas Tech for high school students throughout the Panhandle and South Plains who pit their brains and skills against each other in both academic and practical subjects. Winners here will vie for state championships in Austin.

A note from the Texas Safety Association reminds us that for most people life is what they make it. But for the jaywalker, life can be: If he makes it.

What's Coming

With sharp eyes and a good telescope it is not difficult to see what's coming one's way. But what can we know of the coming future? Will it bring rain or shine, sickness or health, prosperity or poverty, war or peace? Will the future reveal the next scientific marvel to be as horrifying as the atomic bomb or as helpful as penicillin? No man can say what will come, but one thing we do know about the future, and that is — Who is coming — God! The same God who laid out the universe and gave each of us life is still in command and will come bringing our future. It is secure in His hands for those who trust Him.

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church should be in everyone!

By ROSE JEAN HENSON

Surviving the sandstorms? For the life of me, I don't know how we "oldtimers" were able to take those sandstorms back when we had nothing but an old sock mop (remember those?), a pail of water and a broom to clean up with.

For one thing, which was a blessing at the time, there was not so much to clean. The houses were smaller and most families had only the necessities to put in them. And when you think about it, what are the necessities anyway? I would think all that one would actually have to have would be a stove to cook on, a bed to sleep in and a chair to sit on. Life would be dreary, if not unbearable, but still one could survive.

Indeed, here in America, the so-called land of plenty, we all have so much more than a stove, bed and a chair. True, more things are needed for comfort but certainly everyone has more than they actually need for survival. It is unthinkable that we, any of us, will ever find ourselves in a situation where we would have to go back to the frontier stages of living and yet I believe that most people are realistic enough that if the need arose, they could and would adjust themselves to it.

I was one of perhaps 150 women who went on the house tour Wednesday, sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church. Despite high winds and sand, it proved to be an enjoyable experience. Brownfield has some lovely homes — some of the finest to be found anywhere. I guess the tour prompted my remarks about necessities. As would be expected, all of the homes which were visited were well furnished, some almost lavishly. Several belonged to people to which I am acquainted.

To be sure each woman was very proud of her new home but in each case, I particularly noticed a spirit of humbleness as she proudly showed the guests through her house.

Humbleness is the mutual ground whereby all people, rich or poor, color or creed can reach an understanding of each other — not for what they are worth, not for who they are, but for what they are. To give and receive such a recognition can bring about only the truest of friendship. True humbleness is preceded by a realization that very good things come from the Creator of life and that man alone can do nothing within himself.

It is worthy of mention that in at least three of the homes visited Wednesday, I noticed the Bible had been given a special place. Is there ever a home too shabby or too elaborate that the Bible would not be an appropriate accessory? I think not.

I could not close this column without mentioning the great loss, we who knew Bette O'Neal, will feel as a result of her death last week. I may ramble on about a lot of things but when it comes to expressing myself to those in sorrow, I am totally inadequate.

I was impressed by the words spoken by the Rev. Mr. Tidwell at her services. He simply stated that there was little he could add that we did not know already. Bette O'Neal had preached her own funeral in the 51 years of her life.

How true! How true! And yet how soon we forget that each passing moment, each spoken word counts for something. It is my privilege and a tribute to say that Bette O'Neal, all the years that I knew her, lived a life that counted for something. It counted for honesty — for sincerity — integrity and for virtue. There was never any fanfare about what she did — nor did she want or expect it. Her positive approach to life was such that one knew for what and where she stood.

General Telephone Releases Report Of Activities In 1957; Adds 29 Exchanges

1957 is hailed as the most active year in the history of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest in the company's annual report just released.

The company, which now has a total plant investment of $84,976,063, increased its plant investment $13,166,703 during 1957, reveals the report. The gross amount spent on construction and installation of telephone equipment was $15,113,317, an increase of $1,304,815 over the same figure for 1956.

The conversion of 17 manually-operated exchanges to dial brought the total dial-operated telephones to 209,181 or almost 81 per cent of the 259,223 telephones in service at the end of the year. 16,701 telephones were gained during the year through internal growth.

The annual report also points up the fact that in 1957, with the installation of Direct Distance Dialing in the company's Sherman, Texas exchange, General became the first independent (non-Bell) telephone company in the Southwest to furnish its subscribers with this service which permits customers to dial their own long distance calls.

General also became the first independent in the Southwest to install a microwave network which transmits voices over long distances via radio beams instead of traditional poles and wires.

Revenues, Expenses Increase
Total revenues for 1957 were $25,737,794, an increase of $1,874,272 over total comparative revenues for 1956. Total operating expense (including taxes) for 1957 amounted to $21,920,033, an increase of $1,896,254 over 1956.

Total salaries, wages, pension and fringe benefits paid by the Company during 1957 amounted to $13,302,430, an increase of $1,563,839 over comparative figures for 1956.

The report states that the Company's 1957 tax bill for

Are you a victim of spring fever? In spite of the beautiful lazy weather, the band has practiced long hours in preparation for their contest yesterday. Results announced later.

Early in the morning (5 a.m.) on April 30, the band will leave for "sunny" Corpus Christi (don't forget your bathing suit!), we will spend 36 hours there to participate in the Band Festival. The weary members are scheduled to arrive home about noon on May 2 — just in time to get cleaned up and dressed for the prom that night.

The first part of next week, aspiring cheerleaders will try-out in the gym.

Candidates are Mary Joe

Christian, Ruth Glenn, Leenell Chesshir, Dovie Adams, Sharon Kennedy, Carol Ann Mayfield, Pat Runnels, and Latrice Teague. While others students are watching these tryouts, the seniors will conduct a meeting to decide where they will go on their one-day senior trip.

Hats Off to Johnny Mac Jones who will represent our school, our county in fact, in the state track and field meet.

Good luck, Johnny.

What Nots—Donna Sue Nelson recently returned from Waco where she looked over Baylor.

Last weekend Carolyn Weathers visited Texas Women's University in Denton. From there she went to Fort Worth and Dallas.

At the end of this week a group of BHS seniors will go to Hardin Simmons for a look-see. Among those going are George Fugitt, Eldon Johnson, and Wendell Newman.

Serving as assistant coaches for the sixth grade football workouts are Ellis Cox, Mont Midlow, and George Fugitt.

Ag boys were excused from classes Tuesday to participate in the Terry County Junior Livestock Show, sponsored by Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce.

All Journalism students are having fun?? with their semester project of completing a school paper alone.

Thursday night, a band composed of Gene Mason, Delbert Hadaway, Gary

Terry Sports Review

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Sports Editor

The Terry Baseball season will be off and running this week when Little Leaguers begin tryouts Monday. Youngsters who are 8 to 12 years old and who have not played here before, must participate in the tryouts this week to be eligible for a team. Tryouts are slated for the 10 years and under group on Monday through Wednesday. Thursday will be for 11-year-olds and Friday will be for 12-year-olds. Applications must be returned to league officials before or by the time the youngster participates in tryouts. If a youngster who wishes to play did not receive an application in school, they may be obtained from Dr. J. U. Borum, the Rev. Jimmy Tidwell or Bill Gowan, league president. Tryouts will be held at 5 p.m. in Little League Park.

Nicholson, president. Dave said tryouts will be held in Babe Ruth Park (the old Lions Club softball field) beginning at 5 p.m. May 19. The tryouts, which will run three days, are open to former Little Leaguers who have graduated and to boys who did not participate in Babe Ruth last year. Player draft for the six-team league will be held at 7:30 p.m. May 22 at the Hitch-N-Post Cafeteria. No information is available thus far concerning Brownfields' American Legion entry. As soon as information is available, we will pass it on to you. The Cubs open their spring grid drills on the practice field just north of Cub Stadium Wednesday afternoon. Coach Cox and his staff again will face a tough rebuilding job after losing 12 seniors and six offensive starters from last year's squad that compiled a

3-5-2 record. Biggest holes to fill will be at end, vacated by Johnny Mac Jones, and right tackle left by twice all-district George Fugitt. Another pair of shoes that will be hard to fill will be the backfield slot left by Mike Browning. The 21-day grind will be capped with the annual Red-White intrasquad game on May 20. The tilt will be held in the remnant of Cub Stadium, starting at 8 p.m. Cox said all seating probably will be on the north side of the field because plans have been made to move the center section of the south stands to the new stadium site about May 10. No admission will be charged. Belated but hearty congratulations are extended to big Johnny Mac Jones, who has qualified for a berth in the state track and field competition in Austin this weekend. Johnny has been slow to reach his peak but has steadily improved since the Mustang Relays at Andrews early this month. We feel he has the ability to bring back a first place medal in his pet event, the shot put. Coach Charlie Keese is betting Johnny will better 54 feet if the weather is decent. We don't doubt this a bit.

Mill President Lambasts Federal Cotton Controls

One of the nation's largest cotton textile producers said today man-made fibers will overtake cotton in U.S. consumption by 1965 if present trends continue. C. A. Cannon, president of Cannon Mills Co. of Kannapolis, N.C., coupled this report with criticism of Government cotton controls and Secretary of Agriculture Benson in a speech. He told the annual meeting of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute that faulty cotton legislation and Benson's attitude toward the cotton industry generally has resulted in a slow but steady decline in domestic consumption of the natural fiber. The Institute is composed of manufacturers of fabric from cotton, man-made fibers and silk. Cannon said Government estimates placing domestic cotton consumption for the current year at 7,900,000 bales — as compared with 10 million bales in 1951 — "obviously means that cotton is not competing." He added the faults of cotton laws, making no provision for keeping the price of cotton competitive with foreign growths and synthetics and relying on acreage controls to keep production in line with demand, were "partially covered up by two wars with intervening periods of galloping inflation." Cotton consumption and production abroad, he went on, has been increasing. "While cotton was losing ground in this country," he added, "its synthetic competition which did not have the benefit of all this legislation was doing quite well." Cannon also lambasted the two-price system of cotton marketing which has enabled overseas mills to buy U.S. cotton since 1956 at prices six to eight cents a pound lower than those paid by U.S. mills. Cotton exports rose to 7,500,000 bales in 1957 from 2,200,000 bales in 1956. "This proves the point that competitive prices were the answer," said Cannon. "But it was a costly point to prove. There is little doubt that before this two-price system is ended the cost of this program will have grown to well over one billion dollars. This is quite a price to pay to learn that prices are created by competition and not by the United States Government." Cannon told fellow textile executives that if the cotton industry cannot persuade Congress to "adopt a sensible long-range program to meet competitive conditions for cotton... our industry is doomed."

Annual WSCS Home Tour Is Big Success Despite Wind and Sand

By KLYDIE SCUDDAY
NEWS Woman's Editor

Ernie Canaday, decorator for Cagle Bros. of Lubbock displayed room ensembles when he spoke Wednesday afternoon in First Methodist Church, preceding the annual Home Tour sponsored by WSCS.

He stressed the need of a definite plan for each room, be it Early American, modern, or French provincial, and told of the danger of one off color spoiling the entire effect. "It is necessary," he said, "to correlate rooms and value of color from one room to another."

According to Canaday, sheers now are on the market that withstand sunlight and do not deteriorate as they have in the past. Dacron is another new fabric much in demand because of its ease in cleaning. He warned, "Get fabrics guaranteed against fading."

He told of the present-day trend of using quilted fabrics for upholstery, and assured their durability. A number of the houses toured had pieces upholstered in the quilted fabrics.

Says Mix Furniture

"We are doing some mixing of furniture now," he said. "With pleasing results. A different period of furniture makes good accent pieces, and quite often I use a little Italian Provincial."

He displayed some of the painted and decorated pieces that are good for adding interest to a room furnished in a particular period or type.

He warned, "The average person is seldom able to do note the difference between a piece of furniture with eight hand painted coats or the one with three or four layers of sprayed lacquer." He said, "If you are not able to distinguish well constructed furniture, it might be wise to pick brand names, keeping in mind that most fine furniture is made in Grand Rapids, Mich."

Change In Styles

There has been a noted change in furniture in the past few years, getting away from the overstuffed pieces that tend to overcrowd rooms, he noted. Carpet, of vital importance, has taken advantage of man made fibers, according to Canaday. "Acrylic is wonderful because it will not crush and then it can be purchased for little more than half the price of woolsens. Firth, the manufacturer, experimented for over two years before they put their product on the market."

He advised, "Change accessories and wall appointments often, by storing for a time and then bringing them back." He added, "For the proper atmosphere your home must have a lived in look."

Mrs. J. C. Criswell, WSCS president, introduced the speaker and gave instructions for the house tour.

Marble Tops Return

The tour revealed that most women had used mixed furniture with pleasing effect. The marble topped table, in retirement for a number of years, is back in prominence. However there has been a change. Tables now come in pastel colors as well as white and black. In finish, they are perfect, taking more abuse than the wood-entables.

For a time the dining room was replaced by the smaller dining nook, but it is back with its less cramped size. In many cases it is a unit forming part of the sitting room, or the kitchen, noted Canaday.

Predominant color for kitchens was brown with their matching furnishings, giving new interest. Several had copper accessories for striking accent. One kitchen was in an inviting pink and the white kitchen with its spotless look is always good. The large pantries are back and the deep freeze and automatic washing equipment now have a place in all homes.

Lists Homes Visited

Canaday's remark, in regard to giving a home a lived in look, was understood when children's rooms were shown; the girls with ruffles and bows and feminine colors and dolls and stuffed animals and the boys with tailored accessories and deeper tones.

Bathrooms have gone to colors, making use of pastel shades in both room and fixtures. All homes in the price range of those viewed in the tour had at least two baths.

The bath is becoming larger and, with the addition of mirrored walls, they appear even larger. Built in dressing tables have grown, giving more storage space.

The dream of any housewife is closets and more closets, which were evident in living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen, den, utility room and hall.

Homes viewed were those of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blackstock of 903 East Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Cates of 1201 East Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of 1304 East Cardwell, Mr. and Mrs. B. Downing of 312 East Buckley, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Goodpasture of 1011 East Tate, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hallbauer of 1308 East Reppito.

Interior Decorating Is Studied By Club

Interior decoration was studied when Turner HD Club met April 16 in the home of Mrs. O. A. Pippin. Mrs. Troy Farquhar had charge of the business meeting with members answering roll call with "Mistakes I have made in interior decorating." Miss Marshall, Yoakum County HD agent, gave instructions on the topic. She announced that work of Yoakum County clubs would be on display in Odens & Moores, Dry Goods Store of Plains from May 5 to 10.

AT REGAL — Montgomery Clift and Eva Marie Saint have two of the leading roles in M-G-M's Civil War drama, "Raintree County," slated for a four-day run starting today at the Regal.

'Raintree County' Slated For Four-Day Run Here

Filmization of the prize-winning novel by Ross Lockridge Jr., M-G-M's "Raintree County" stars Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Eva Marie Saint, with Nigel Patrick and Lee Marvin in co-starring roles and with a cast of 119 players in speaking parts and thousands of extras. Producer David Lewis and Director Edward Dmytryk took their army of players and technicians to location sites in Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana and Mississippi to capture in color the backgrounds of the story of America in the period before, during and after the Civil War.

Not only is this drama of America, covering a six-year period from 1859 to 1905, the most expensive production in M-G-M's domestic history, it is also the first picture to utilize the dimensions of the studio's new Camera 65, dubbed "The Window of the World."

This process brings to any theatre screen, regardless of size or shape, a remarkably improved image with clarity, depth perception and lack of distortion.

It is utilized to important effect in covering the panoramic sweep of "Raintree County" in a story ranging from the farm-lands of Indiana to the ante bellum plantations of the South; from the French Quarter of New Orleans to war-torn Indianapolis.

Its historic events begin with the celebration of Abraham Lincoln's election to the Presidency in 1860 and reach their climax with the Battle of Chickamauga and Sherman's devastating March to the Sea.

Against this surging backdrop is told the story of young Johnny Shawnessy (Montgo-

Taylor, whom he marries; dances and plantation balls. There are such suspenseful scenes as that in which Johnny, in search of the Raintree, almost loses his life in a treacherous swamp, the heroism with which Flash Perkins sacrifices his life so that Johnny may save his son when they are ambushed by Southern guerrillas, and the final sequence in which the townspeople search by torchlight for a fleeing Susanna.

Other of the story's colorful characters include Flash Perkins (Lee Marvin), over whom Johnny emerges the victor in a Fourth of July foot race, despite a plot to make him drunk; and "Perfessor" Jerusalem Webster Stiles (Nigel Patrick), mentor to the pupils of Peede Academy in Freeheaven, Indiana, but who reveals another side of his make-up when he attempts to make off with another man's wife. There are scenes of old-fashioned picnics and swimming parties, a honeymoon on a Mississippi river boat, square

The Hospital Bond Issue
Of $300,000

Reasons For Supporting Issue ...

WE WILL NOT HAVE A HOSPITAL IN TERRY COUNTY after July 1, 1958, if we do not buy this one. Our doctors have emphatically stated that come July 1 . . . Treadaway-Daniel Hospital will CLOSE. We are convinced that they intend to do just that.

THIS IS THE SURE WAY TO GET MORE DOCTORS IN TERRY COUNTY There is no doubt in our minds that the only reason we have not had a sufficient number of doctors here is because we have not had an open staff hospital. If the County buys this present hospital, it will be open staff . . . In other words, all Doctors will be allowed to put their patients in the Hospital.

WE WILL HAVE MORE PATIENT ROOMS IN THE HOSPITAL IF THE BOND ISSUE CARRIES . . . This is another big advantage. Instead of there being 34 patient beds, there will be 55 patient beds. This increase should be sufficient to take care of our needs at the present time.

WE FEEL THE DOCTORS ARE GIVING THE CITIZENS OF TERRY COUNTY A GOOD DEAL . . . We feel that their price of $180,000 is more than fair. The property appraised for more than $250,000 by some very capable, fair minded citizens. Plus the fact that we will have enough space with the extra 1/4 block to expand in the future. IN-OTHER WORDS, We on the Publicity Committee and those on the Hospital Committee feel that we as Tax Paying Citizens of Terry County should . . . VOTE FOR . . . AND WORK FOR . . . PASSAGE OF THE $300,000 BOND ISSUE TO BUY THE TREADAWAY-DANIEL HOSPITAL $180,000 will pay for the present hospital, including: equipment, furniture, linens, building, and 3/4's of a city block of land. $50,000 will be spent to connect the nurses home in to the Hospital and convert it to hospital rooms. $10,000 will be spent to redecorate the present hospital and enlarge the laboratory.

We Urge Your Support And Your Vote To Vote Bonds Of $300,000 & Buy The Hospital!

"Birthright" Topic Of Review at Club

Mrs. George Weiss, English instructor in Brownfield High School, reviewed "Birthright," by Lettie Hamlett Rogers, when Alpha Study Club met Tuesday afternoon in Seleta Jane Brownfield Clubhouse.

The book, dealing with segregation, is composed of four character sketches. Being guest day, each member was recognized as she introduced her guest.

In keeping with a Texas Day theme, centerpiece for the table was an arrangement of bluebonnets. Adding interest to the table, the punch bowl rested in a copper holder. Vases of bluebonnets on the mantle had holders of miniature blue checked bonnets.

Mrs. Bill Cope directed the program and Mmes. A. J. Geron, James Thurman and Truett Flache were hostess. Mrs. Tommy Hicks poured

NEW STADIUM PROGRESSING — Central Texas Construction Company of Waco this week completed pouring piers for the new BHS stadium slated for completion this summer. The company will return May 10 to erect home seats and move visitors' seating from the present stadium. School officials said an irrigation well has been drilled and seeding and sodding operations are expected to begin soon. (NEWSfoto)

Chairman of arrangements for the breakfast is Mrs. Joe Johnson. Assisting will be Mmes. Erie Proctor and Glenn Harris. Mmes. T. G. Faulkenberry and R. B. Sampson will form the purchasing committee.

Mmes. Dallas Dennison, R. J. Purcell, W. C. Windham, Paul Turner, and J. E. Tidwell are in charge of decorations and Mmes. J. H. Portwood, J. L. Newsom and C. E. Bartley to direct the cooking. MEADOW SPORTS REVIEW

Bronco Athletes Close, But Lose

Meadow athletes were bounced out of contention in three sports events last week, including tennis, volleyball and track. Bronco netters, who copped a lions share of honors in District 7-B, were dropped in the first round of regional contests Friday.

June Williams of Roosevelt, edged Meadow's Betty Eubank, 6-2, 4-6 and 8-6. Ruby Smith and Gail Kisor were downed by Spearman in straight sets, 6-4 and 8-6. The boys duo of James Smith and Jeff Kisor were rapped by Turkey after drawing a bye to the quarter-finals.

Don Bowman, Meadow's lone competitor in Region 1 track and field events, failed to score in the discus and shot put events.

with about 50 women attending.

Both Meadow "Outsiders" volleyball teams were denied championships in the Levelland Invitational Tournament held Friday and Saturday.

The women's team lost to Whiteface by a single point in the consolation championship game. The men were dropped by Pep in the second round after winning their first game. Meadow junior high and high school athletes will participate in a District 7-B Play-Ball tourney on April 29 at Whiteface. Boys and girls teams will represent each division.

IN METHODIST HOSPITAL
Henry Fugitt of 1301 East Broadway is in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, following emergency surgery Friday morning.

BACK FROM CALIFORNIA
Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Johnson of 713 North A recently returned from Salinas, Calif., where he supervised the construction of a Church of Christ, for Pad-en's Construction Company of Cleburne. He has gone to Moses Lake, Wash., for a similar assignment. Mrs. Johnson will join him there later.
