FIRE DESTROYS FRIONA STORE EARLY TUESDAY MORNING; LOSS FULLY COVERED BY INSURANCE

After an absence of a few years, with the exception of a few small fires, the Fire Fiend again made his appearance in Friona Tuesday morning at about 4:30 o'clock.

Many of our people were rudely awakened from their slumbers by the constant howling and screeching of a locomotive on the Santa Fe railroad, to learn that one of the business buildings on Main street was being consumed by fire.

The building was the one occupied by Mrs. L. A. Martin's cafe and Jack Anderson's barber shop. And before sufficient help and water could be secured the fire had reached such volume that the entire interior of the building was destroyed, the side walls and the rear end wall only remaining standing.

The Friona Hotel which joined the doomed building on the south and the E. V. Rushing store building on the north, however, were saved by the arrival with men with city fire hose, which had been attached to the nearest hydrant, and with which the flames were soon checked and held under control. The heat, however, had caused some slight damage to each of these buildings, but which will be easily repaired.

The streets were soon filled with people, all anxious to be of service to the people whose property was in danger of being attacked by the flames, and in a very short time the shelves of both the Rushing store adjoining the burning building and the R. F. Fleet store adjoining the Rushing store were entirely relieved of their large stocks of goods, which were all carried across the street and deposited until the fire had been conquered, and then these goods were as quickly and quietly returned to the stores from which they had been removed.

Just how the fire originated is not definitely known, but when first discovered by Night Watchman C. M. Jones it was a tiny flame either in the rear of the cafe kitchen or in the bath room being locked, before he could gain entrance the flame had spread and gained to the extent that he could not control it with the limited means at his disposal. He was soon aided by other citizens who had been aroused and by the help of fire extinguishers the fire was at one time practically killed, but at that time the supply of extinguishers was exhausted and the fire again gained rapidly. It was stated that had these people had one more bucket of water at their disposal they would have entirely quenched the flames.

Mrs. Martin, who owned the building, was fairly well protected by insurance, she having $3000 on the building and $1500 on its contents. The contents were a total loss, while there is some salvage to the building.

Mr. Anderson was also fairly well protected by his $1000 policy, from which he will receive almost the entire amount. Mr. Rushing also carried insurance more than covering his loss, while Mr. Seaman, who owns the hotel building, had his loss covered by ample insurance, all of which losses will be promptly paid by the companies carrying the risks.

Within three hours after the fire had been stopped, W. S. Ferguson of Amarillo, adjuster for the Cravens, Danz, Co., insurance brokers of Houston, arrived on the scene of the fire and began at once the process of adjusting the losses carried by his companies, and when he departed Wednesday afternoon all his losses had been adjusted to the satisfaction of the policy holders, and everything was in readiness for the pay checks which will follow as soon as these adjustments can reach the company's offices. Mr. Ferguson also phoned adjusters of other companies interested in the loss, and thus hastened their adjustments.

The local agent had just begun the writing of the loss reports to the various companies when Mr. Ferguson stepped into his office and when asked how he learned of the fire so quickly replied, "I smelled 'em." However, he may have learned of the affair so quickly, his actions soon convinced those who were interested that he knows his business and soon had the job all well attended to, notwithstanding the fact that he was hindered by a rainy day, a trip to Farwell and back, and two trips and two adjustments on farm property one

The Warrior.

In this issue of the Star appears the first edition of the Warrior, the Friona high school paper for this term.

The Warrior will be ably edited by Miss Reba Hill of the high school student body, who will do all in her power to make the Warrior both interesting and instructive to its readers. Miss Hill is a talented young lady and well fitted for the duties of editor of her school paper.

The Star management will be pleased to do what it can to aid these young people in their effort to make the Warrior an interesting and instructive paper, not only for the student body of the school but for all who may be privileged to read it.

The Star also asks the cooperation of the editorial and reporting staff of the Warrior in aiding it to do its part of the work by getting their material into the hands of the printer by Tuesday noon of each week, otherwise the matter will likely have to be left out of the paper until the week following. The Star management is indeed sorry that much material for this, the first issue, was received too late to be set for printing in this issue of the Warrior.

HAD GOOD MEETING

E. H. Giesler, local agent for the Harvester Life Insurance company of Dallas, returned last week from Lubbock where he was for a few days in attendance at a district meeting of agents of his district.

Mr. Giesler reports that there were over 20 of the district agents in attendance as well as some of the officials of the company who gave the attending agents much helpful advice on securing and retaining business in their local field and he feels the time was pleasantly and profitably spent.

REEVE GUYER HOME

Reeve Guyer, who has been traveling and visiting in the Pacific Coast states for the past several weeks, returned to Friona last week.

Mr. Guyer states he took his time in traveling while away and had opportunity of truly seeing the country through which he passed and at points where he tarried at intervals. He was for a few days the guest of his grand mother, Mrs. Adeline Reeve, while in Southern California.

Lazbuddy Girl On Honor Roll.

Miss Frances Paul of Lazbuddy, whose name appear on the 1931 summer honor roll at W. T. S. T. C., which has been published in Canon recently. Only students having a high scholarship record together with an unimpeachable record in conduct, and who have participated in one or more student activities are eligible for this honor roll.

The enrollment this fall at W. T. S. T. C. is the greatest since 1927, and the second highest in the history of the institution.

Mr. Warren Here Last Week.

D. M. Warren, general manager of the Nunn-Warren Publishing Company, was a business visitor in Friona on Wednesday night of last week.

Mr. Warren was here in the interest of the Friona Star, which is one of the Nunn-Warren publications. He is a genial gentleman and had the pleasure of making the acquaintance of some of Friona's best citizens.

of which was 18 miles south of Friona.

The prompt attention on these losses and the satisfactory manner in which they were adjusted has sufficed to convince many Friona people that insurance companies are not organizations for the sole purpose of financially "skinning" their patrons.

Many favorable comments have been made for the able service which our municipal water system rendered in the matter of extinguishing the fire, for had it not been for it there would have been no means of stopping the spread of the flames and the extent of the damage that might easily have been the result, is beyond conjecture, but by its help the fire was confined to only one building.

SCHOOL TAXES NEEDED

A few people have paid their 1931 school taxes already, which is a mighty good example to be followed by all tax payers in the district who can possibly do so, according to reports which the writer has heard.

There are many who have not paid their 1930 school taxes yet, and that amount was counted on by our school board in clearing up all expenses of last year's term and carrying the expense of the current term to the point where the 1931 taxes would mostly be available.

The fact that so many of these 1930 taxes were not paid or have not yet been paid, is placing our school in a very precarious condition, financially, and if we are correctly informed the board of trustees are facing a serious proposition in trying to meet the financial demands so as to keep the school in operation.

It will be a great calamity to our present very efficient school and one of which we are all so proud if it should have to suspend operations for even a few weeks; and while it is not customary for many of us to pay our taxes so early in the tax-paying season, it will help materially in sustaining the efficiency of our school if all those who possibly can will pay their school taxes at the earliest possible date.

New Pump Put In; City Well Is Now Being Used

The city well has again been placed on the job of supplying water for the city water mains.

The new pump arrived Wednesday of last week and L. E. McDade of Amarillo came over Friday and installed it and pumped out some sand that had accumulated in the bottom of the well while standing idle, and the well was then again connected with the big tank and an abundant flow of water was secured.

When the water began failing a few weeks ago it was thought that sand was filling into the well and stopping the flow of water, and fears were entertained that the city might have to drill another well, but such fears have fled since installing the new pump, which has shown its ability to provide an abundance of water.

Visiting Parents Near Friona.

Mrs. Robert Cain and children of Dallas are spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. H. Alexander of the Lakeview community.

Mr. Cain is a World War veteran and was gassed during his time in France. His health has become so bad lately that it was necessary for him to go to the government hospital at Legion, Texas, for treatment, and Mrs. Cain and the little ones are visiting her parents during his absence.

Texas Team Vs. Mountain Boys.

The Matadors of Texas Tech, Lubbock, have arranged to meet the Colorado School of Mines, of the Rocky Mountain conference, on the Lubbock grid October 23.

This game Friday will be the first contest of a Rocky Mountain conference team with a Texas aggregation, and will be played at night if weather conditions will permit.

It will be a test game, and Coach Cawthon hopes to win the victory and assure a permanent contract with the Rocky Mountain conference.

Taking Vacation in New Mexico.

Dr. R. R. Willis and Ralph Roden departed last week for a few days stay at Albuquerque, New Mexico. Dr. Willis is taking a few days of much needed vacation and Mr. Roden will take the examination for pharmacist. They are expected home this week.

We All Pay Taxes.

Everyone ought to be convinced that everyone pays taxes. Everyone who pays rent pays the tax on the real estate that he occupies. On everything purchased a store tax is some how included. The politicians fail to explain this for it does not suit their book.—The Iron Age.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lange visited last Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cone-way of Hereford.

Car Turns Over; Max Magness Fatally Injured

Little Hubert Max Magness, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Magness was fatally injured when the family car turned over four miles west of Friona Sunday afternoon.

The parents, with their baby, were on their way to Farwell to visit relatives, and Mrs. Magness was driving when the fatal accident occurred. The accident occurred about three o'clock and all three of the occupants were thrown from the car, Mr. Magness being made unconscious by the fall, and the baby so badly injured that he died shortly after reaching the hospital in Hereford a few hours later. Mrs. Magness was painfully bruised, but not seriously injured. Mr. Magness did not regain consciousness until late in the night.

According to the opinion of those who saw the place of the accident shortly after it occurred, the car must have turned over more than once and landed with all four of the wheels in the air.

There were no eye witnesses to the occurrence, but a stranger tourist coming by found Mrs. Magness sitting by the side of the road holding her baby while Mr. Magness was lying in the road. The stranger got them into his car and then brought them to Friona.

The top of the car was considerably broken and some of the fenders were mashed, but otherwise the machine was undamaged.

The baby's funeral was held Monday afternoon with services at the Baptist church, and interment in the cemetery at Oklahoma Lane. Hubert Max was the only child of these young parents, who have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their hour of sorrow.

Dr. Loyd Here Wednesday.

Dr. O. H. Loyd of Vega was a business visitor in Friona Wednesday morning in the interest of the Panhandle of Texas, Inc. Dr. Loyd is the financial director of this very important organization and is canvassing the territory in the interest of the exhibit for next year's campaign of advertising which the organization is doing for the great Panhandle country throughout the Central, Southern and Middlewest states.

A hurried call was made to the business men and all others who could do so to attend a short meeting in the office of the city secretary, and about 15 responded, to whom Dr. Loyd explained the working of the organization and asked for the support of the local chamber of commerce in securing displays of products and in giving historical data that will be of interest to people seeking a better location than they now have. He said that it takes money to carry on this extensive campaign, and while he was not asking money from the people of Friona, it would be very acceptable should they choose to respond to the needs of the organization.

The doctor has a very agreeable manner of expressing himself and his words impressed his hearers to the extent that it seems quite probable that a very nice donation will be forthcoming from our local organization in the near future.

GETS HAIL DAMAGE

Carl C. Williams of Dallas, special agent of the Hartford and Citizens Insurance companies, was a visitor in Friona Monday. He was here for the purpose of adjusting a hail loss and paying the claim on the dwelling of J. M. Watson, six and a half miles southwest of Friona. He was accompanied by the Watson home by John White, local insurance broker.

DEPARTED FOR CALIFORNIA

L. H. Hart, living a mile and a half north of Friona, departed Sunday morning for Lawndale, California, to visit his brother, M. H. Hart, who is seriously ill.

Mr. Hart received a letter a few weeks ago stating that his brother was sick but was improving. The latter part of last week he received another letter stating that complications had set in and that he might expect a telegram any day bidding him come.

Upon receiving this letter he decided not to wait for the telegram, but started at once. Mr. Hart did not know how long he would be away.

OFF TO INDIANA

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Reeve departed Friday afternoon in their car to drive through to Plainfield, Indiana, for a visit of about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeve have been contemplating this trip for some months, and the departure was hurried by the receipt of a letter on Friday telling of the condition of Mrs. Reeve's mother, who has been in failing health for several months.

Mr. Reeve stated that he did not know definitely how long they will be gone, but would be away at least two weeks. He also stated that he might return at that time, while Mrs. Reeve would probably remain away longer.

Visiting Friends and Relatives Here.

Lewis Harry, formerly of Canon City, Colorado, arrived in Friona Sunday night and stopped for a few days with relatives and friends here.

Mr. Harry is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Bertha Harry of this place, and has been in Friona on former occasions. He is now enroute to some point on the Gulf Coast, presumably near Galveston, where he plans to spend the winter months. His friends here were pleased to see him looking so well and so hearty.

Rains Boost Prospects For Friona Region

The weather in and about Friona for the past week has been very satisfying to most of our people from the fact that we have had nearly every phase of it except bad weather.

Most of the time it has been ideal so far as temperature and bright sunshine go toward making that delightful condition.

We have also had some temperature on early mornings that caused us to wonder what we had done with our summer's wages, and as to where those old heavy undies might be found. In fact, one farmer reported a very slight frost at his place one morning.

Then to help it all out and make us all feel good, we had a very nice rain covering a large part of the Friona territory Tuesday afternoon and night, after which it cleared away bright and cool.

Advertising.

Advertising is speaking to a multitude instead of to a few.

"There is no substitute for newspaper advertising." That is absolutely true, and somebody has added that many new means calculated to take its place would first be compelled to get a hearing thru newspaper publicity.

Football Next Friday.

On Friday, October 30, the Friona Chiefs will wage war with the Steers of Farwell on the Friona grid.

This will be a hotly contested game and an interesting one from start to finish.

The game will be refereed by Lockhart of Canyon, and all lovers of the game will be well repaid for their attendance.

The game will be played at the usual place in Whiteway addition, north of the school grounds. Get out, you Friona fans, and boost for your home town. Much depends on the success of the Chiefs in this game.

Attending Dallas Fair.

Misses Alice Guyer, Marie Wilson and Orna White departed for Dallas on Thursday morning of last week to spend a few days enjoying the sights at the Dallas State Fair.

Word was received from the young ladies and stated they had arrived safely in Dallas and had visited the fair and the big football game and had seen much of the city of Dallas.

Later advices from them stated they expected to arrive home on Wednesday evening, with the exception of Miss Wilson, who plans to remain in Dallas indefinitely.

ATTENDS PAMPA GAME

Milford Alexander was a visitor in Canyon Friday and Saturday. He took advantage of the opportunity also to attend and witness the football game at Pampa Saturday between the Amarillo Sandies and the Pampa Harvesters.

FRIONA CHIEFS DOWN DIMMITT TEAM IN GAME LAST FRIDAY; SENSATIONAL RUN A FEATURE

Farm Fires Near Friona.

Two farm fires have been reported within the Friona territory during the past week, adding materially to the total fire losses for the week in this locality.

The first of these reported was that of W. H. Gammon, whose farm home lies about 18 miles southwest of Friona. Mr. Gammon's $300 poultry house burned about 4:00 o'clock Monday morning, October 4. The origin of the fire is unknown. No other property on the farm was destroyed but most of Mr. Gammon's flock of good poultry was destroyed.

The second fire reported was that of V. B. Whitley, out at what is commonly known as the old Bay Hook ranch property, seven miles southwest of Friona. In this fire the ranch house and a large amount of stacked feed were consumed, the fire originating from a gasoline stove.

Mr. Whitley's family is now living in town and he has been keeping batch out on the farm with his hired help. He had gone to the house to prepare dinner for the hands, who were harvesting row crops, and after lighting the fire in the stove had gone to the barn in search of eggs to cook for dinner. When he returned he found the greater part of the house in flames. After a few futile efforts to quench the flames in the building, he turned his attention to saving other property on the premises.

Several head of cattle and horses were confined in a lot surrounding the feed stacks and he broke down the fence to liberate them. By this time the boys in the field had come to his assistance and they succeeded in getting all of the farm machinery out of reach of the fire. This loss was also adjusted by Mr. Ferguson while here.

WE KINDER HANKER AFTER THESE NOTIONS

One of the destructive results of hard times is a demand for more legislation, which is often more depressing than the times.

Somebody is always saying "there ought to be a law" for this thing or that thing; to make somebody do this, or to make somebody do that. Ninety per cent of such suggestions would make it harder on somebody and perhaps benefit nobody.

The federal government might do more to bring back prosperity so far as that is within the power of any one nation, by restricting its activities.

There can be but one cure for unemployment—industrial development that will put men to work. There can be but one cure for depression—a new influx of active capital into business.

High taxes and government interference are barriers in the way of both these cures.

The government should do all it can to promote industry, investments and employment. But it certainly should go slow in spending hundreds of millions of dollars of the taxpayers money for doubtful and often worthless relief schemes.

They Know It Pays.

The virtue of the commercial boxed apples from Washington goes almost without saying, but the growers have found that the most herald of the coming of the new crop and tell the world of its merits, if they are to dispose of the crop advantageously.

They have long been experts in production. They are rapidly becoming experts in salesmanship and distribution. They know that satisfactory returns come their way for every dollar they put into apple advertising.—Spokane Review Spokane, Washington.

Sold Filling Station.

Frank Bibbes, who has been operating the Magnolia Filling Station here for the past few months, has sold his interest to A. E. (Slim) Taylor, the transfer taking place the latter part of last week.

Mr. Bibbes has relinquished the business owing to the fact that his feet were unable to stand the strain of constantly being upon them. He has no plans for the future as yet, but says he will find something worthwhile and with less strain on his feet in the near future.

With the theory "revenge is sweet" in their minds, the Chiefs trotted on the field Friday with the intention of making things very sweet. And they by no means failed, but instead sorely whipped the same team that handed them two defeats last year.

The Chiefs scored two touchdowns, one in the second and one in the third quarters, and were well on their way for a third in the fourth quarter when the final whistle ended the game.

Each of the tallies were made on two of the most spectacular plays of the season which brought the crowd to their feet both times, and kept them in a thrilling suspense during the entire game.

The first was made on a 40-yard scamper by Frost, fighting guard of the Chiefs, who grabbed a fumbled punt and broke down the field to be unheeded in front and outran several would-be tacklers from behind.

The second was made on a 90-yard gallop by Boatman, versatile back of the Chiefs, who took the ball on the kick-off opening the second half and behind perfect interference and with burning speed ran untouched to the goal line. Other long runs were also made by this same back who side-stepped, stiff-armed and whirled his way for gains of from 20 to 30 yards time after time.

The Dimmitt squad fought gamely for the entire contest, but were out-fought and out-played by the local boys who were charging and tackling at their best. It took them one quarter to lose their inferiority complex and get started but after that the game was all theirs.

The Chiefs used a running offense almost entirely, attempting a few passes but failing to complete any. Quarterback Frost displayed his punting ability by getting off some long and well placed kicks which ranged in distance from 35 to 55 yards and which played an important part in the victory. Halfbacks Boatman and Whitefield were on the receiving end of the ball with Frost most of the day, both turning in a nice job, Boatman especially, which was explained above. Lansdown and Barnett played alternately at full-back and both were splendid on blocking and tackling.

Dimmitt based their offense very largely on passes but attempted several plays also. Their running system failed to function effectively during the entire game, but they gained several times from passes. They punted often for an average of about 30 yards.

White played a stellar game at end for the Chiefs, shining especially on the defense. C. Crow, other end, also turned in a nice game.

W. Crow, tackle, was another star of the line being effective on both the offense and defense. He ripped open many holes wide enough for Primo Carnera to roll through and he blocked up his position on the defense perfectly. Livings, other tackle, played his game very well by making many effective tackles and by covering punts to hold the ball in Dimmitt territory.

The two guards, D. Frost and McFarland, were everywhere all the time, blocking, finding holes, tackling, and even carrying the ball. Reeve, first string pivot man, passed the ball with perfect accuracy and blocked his hose solidly.

H. H. Hamlin HAS APPENDIX REMOVED

H. H. Hamlin, whose home is 15 miles west of Friona, but who has been employed in Amarillo recently, was successfully operated on for appendicitis Wednesday evening for appendicitis Wednesday evening at St. Anthony's hospital. His wife and her sister, Miss Amelia Mazurek, were taken to Amarillo that night by E. L. Pyka to be at Mr. Hamlin's bedside. Mrs. Hamlin and Mrs. Pyka are sisters—Hereford Brand.

AGREEABLY SURPRISED

Mrs. L. G. Sympton was most agreeably surprised by the arrival of two of her sisters and three small nephews and a baby niece, Saturday afternoon and remained until Sunday afternoon. These visitors were Miss Mollie Cearley, Haskell, and Mrs. O. A. Blankenship and three sons, Junior, Rex and Ralph, and baby daughter, Beth, of near Amarillo.

Congregational Church Notes.

Although the attendance at the services Sunday morning were rather below the average, there was a most attentive and appreciative audience to listen to the unusually interesting and instructive talk given by Prof. Wallace Clark, of Canyon.

Prof. Clark is head of the music department of W. T. S. T. C., and his subject was pertaining to the value of music as a moral and spiritual factor. He has agreed to come at another time and favor us with another of those inspiring talks.

Prof. Clark was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Coffey, also of Canyon, both of whom are accomplished musicians, and these splendid young people favored the audience with a number of violin selections with piano accompaniment, all of which were most truly enjoyed by those present, and it is the hope of all who heard them that they, too, will favor us with their accomplishments at some future time.

The program for the coming Sunday as arranged by the committee is as follows: Doxology. Call to worship, Psalm 100. Gloria Patri. Responsive reading, 602. Hymn: Chor. Scripture reading: Matt. 5:1-11. Prayer. Hymn. Announcements. Offertory. Special music. Lesson of the day. Scripture, Matt. 13:45-46. The quest of the yellow pearl. Benediction. Everybody, and especially those not having other church affiliations, are cordially invited to attend and worship with us.

OBITUARY.

Baby Hubert Max Magnus, the infant son of Hubert Turner Magnus and Eula Mae Magnus, was born March 13, 1931, at Friona. He departed this life October 18, 1931, aged 7 months and 5 days. Besides being the richest treasure of his parents' hearts, every boy and girl in the neighborhood delighted to have him as a play-fellow, if only for a few minutes.

Everywhere Max was carried by parents or friends, his big baby smile spreading sunshine, drew to him an ever increasing circle of friends. Though his stay upon earth was so very short, yet in his babyhood he has twined his sweet influence around our poor hearts and the glory would become richer as we think of him there awaiting our coming.

Besides his brief-stricken parents, he leaves behind him to mourn his loss, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McMillan, Dot and Marie McMillan, of Farwell; R. O. and Anna Gibson, Mrs. A. L. Darden, O. L. Darden, Wiley Hale and Mrs. Bell, of Sagerton, Texas; Joe B. Hale, Friona, and Mrs. F. Parsons, Stephenville, Texas.

Card of Thanks.

Since we could not see you all personally, we take this means of expressing our gratitude to our many friends and neighbors for the kindly assistance and loving expressions of sympathy and regard for us during our deep sorrow and loss of our baby, Hubert Max. HUBERT TURNER MAGNUS EULA MAE MAGNUS R. O. GIBSON MARIE McMILLAN DOT McMILLAN WILEY HALE JOE B. HALE MRS. A. L. DARDEN

Economic II Girls Picnic.

The home economic II class enjoyed a picnic from about 10:30 until 1:00 o'clock Friday. Beginning at 10:30 the girls made preparations necessary in the foods laboratory before leaving the building. The girls and Miss Gardner then walked to the railroad bridge west of town where they ate luncheon. The purpose of this picnic was to get some real experience in preparing and serving picnic lunches.

B. E. Club Patrol III.

Thursday, October 8, the English II class met and organized a club and the following officers were elected: Marie Crow, president; Claude Mills, vice president; Roberta Hill, reporter.

The president appointed Claude Miller and Wilma York, as group leaders. It was decided that the entire club would entertain with a program the next day. The program on Friday was very good, consisting of jokes, stories, talks and various other things. The club should have met Friday, October 16, but failed because of the football game. However, the meeting was held Monday following. At this meeting we decided to name our club the B. E. club Patrol III. The B. E. stands for Better English. The club elected Forrest Osborn as sergeant-at-arms.

After the business meeting the club enjoyed the following program: Talk, School Spirit; Forrest Osborn. Jokes: Mauriene Furlong. Reading, The Windmill; Vada Lindsay. Jokes: Herschel Johnson. Book Reports: Roberta Hill. Jokes: Ella Marie Landrum. Reading, The Spell of the Yukon; Miss Deaton. Song: Masie and Claude Miller.

Freshman Class Report.

The freshman class met at the beginning of school for organization and the following officers were elected: Miss Deaton, sponsor. Lester Myers, president. John Blackburn, vice president. Ruby Newman, secretary-treasurer. Loretta Melton, reporter. Virginia Short, yell leader. Mildred Hughes, social leader. Everything is going smoothly in the eighth grade this year. Most of the boys and girls are studious and well behaved, so nothing spectacular happens.

The Better English Club.

The English III class met Friday, October 9, and organized a club and the following officers were chosen: President, Rosella Dixon; vice-president, Ervin Welch; reporter, Janet Hanson. The following program was given Friday, October 16:

Why I should study English III; Wayne Melton. Why I like or dislike English III; Janet Hanson. Biography of Washington Irving; Nathia Crawford. Events that made pioneers proud of America; Vaden Coventry. The class intends to have interesting programs each Friday and visitors are welcome any time. We had three visitors present Friday.

Notice.

Dear Seniors, Juniors, Freshmen, and all others whom this may concern: The purpose of this letter is to let you know that a sophomore class exists. This year we intend to be the outstanding class in Friona high school. The sophomore class has already entertained its members with one of the most enjoyable parties so far this year. What class couldn't do things with a sponsor like Mr. Jarrett, and with such class officers as Hazel Marie Crow, president; Gwendolyn Cowgill, vice president, and Wilma York, secretary-treasurer?

Speaking Club Organized.

The Public Speaking class of the high school organized a club in an effort to gain cooperative work for entertainment in public gatherings. The following officers were elected: Weldon Whitefield, president; Janet Hanson, vice president; Reba Hill, secretary and treasurer; Albert Conway, reporter.

Any organization in this or the outlying communities are requested to call for programs by the Public Speaking club from Mr. Eubanks. This program will be given free of charge, experience being the main thing wanted by the club. A good program is guaranteed. REPORTER.

Agriculture Club Report.

The officers of the Agriculture club are as follows: Roy Johnson, president. Dennis White, vice president. Chas. Reeve, secretary-treasurer. Wayne Melton, reporter. Paul Spring, parliamentarian. We surely had a good time initiating the 16 new members who joined the club this year. We had a meeting on October 14 for the purpose of deciding on club days. Without much argument or disagreement we decided that each member should pay ten cents per month. We also made a rule that if a member failed to pay his dues he was no longer a member of the club. The only way he can retain his membership is to pay his back dues. The club will meet every two weeks on Thursday from 12:15 to 1:00 o'clock.

Home Economics Club Meeting.

The Home Economics club met Thursday, October 8, with 58 members present. There were two new members. The meeting was called to order and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A report was made by the finance committee. The program for the entire year was read. Several suggestions were made in regard to a booth for the Halloween carnival and it was finally decided that the club would sell candy in cream and popcorn. Miss Ola Lee Calloway had charge of the program. It consisted of a one-act play, the clothing plan and a short discussion on winter fashions. Virginia Short was elected yell leader and a few yells were given. The chairman of the program committee is to work up a program to be given in chapel in the near future.

CHIEFS DOWN MULESHOE IN ONE-QUARTER GAME

The rampageing Chiefs again brought home the scalps Friday, October 9, when they severely blasted Muleshoe for one quarter to gain a 7 to 0 decision. The shortness of the game was due to an unable referee, who after several errors aroused the sentiments of the Friona group who, after seeing no improvement, ended the game. Through that one quarter, however, the Chiefs fairly had things going their way, pulling their plays with timely precision and playing a steady defensive game. The team was as a unit with everyone starting. The only touchdown was made on a splinter play on which White carried the ball. Frost kicked a perfect goal.

Who's Who In Football.

The Friona high school has with in its faculty this year a man who has produced one of the snappiest grid eleven to trot the local turf. This man is Coach "Bill" Stevens, who knows more about football than Lindbergh knows about aviation. Coach Stevens has an enviable record in football coaching, having produced championship aggregations from Big Spring for the last three years.

Coach Stevens started out this year with a comparatively green team, but in the course of time he overcame this disadvantage and made instead a smart, snappy eleven. If a casual observer would watch this year's team he would notice that a sense of loyalty was held toward their coach and the true qualities of the game. Each man contains a spirit of dogged determination that is as substantial as the rock-bound coast of Maine. And reverting back, we find only one man responsible for this and that is our beloved coach, Stevens. REPORTER.

Debating Club Organized.

High school students interested in debating organized a club Monday, October 12, electing the following members: Lee Euler, president; Reba Hill, secretary and treasurer; Albert Conway, reporter. The first meeting was held Tuesday night, with 16 members present. An interesting lecture on the fine points of debating was given by Instructor Eubanks. A general discussion of the subject, Lobbying, followed in which the entire group participated. The goal of the club is to win in both the district and Amarillo speaking contests. A large group and a better meeting are looked for Tuesday night, October 27.

B. E. Club Meeting.

English II, section I class met last Friday at 9:45 a. m. and organized a club. The president was chosen and other officers elected as follows: President, Gwendolyn Cogdill; secretary-treasurer, Imogene Short; vice president, Lena Welch; sergeant-at-arms, Donald Livings.

The president appointed two group captains, Conway Frost and Clifford Boatman, who are to pick sides, each side to choose a reporter. The reporter for Clifford Boatman's side is Pauline Parr and for Conway Frost's side is Mary Edna Davis. It was decided that Clifford Boatman's class should give the first program. We made a law that if during club meetings anyone should speak without permission they would be taxed one cent, and if that tax was not paid before the next meeting they would have to pay five cents. The meeting then adjourned.

HEALTH NOTES

The Star frequently has calls or inquiries concerning information about health or the nature or cause of certain diseases.

The Star also receives a weekly Health Bulletin from the State Department of Health, which frequently contains information on topics or diseases inquired about, and will from time to time as such information reaches us present them to our readers for the benefit of all and especially those who are especially interested. These are written by Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer. Following are some facts regarding the dread disease, cancer:

Cancer's Danger Signals. Cancer has very graphically been described as "The greatest of all the natural hazards in the adventure of living".

Cancer is no respecter of persons but attacks the young as well as the aged—those of high as well as those of low degree.

All classes should be on guard ready to recognize the danger signals of this much to be dreaded disease—three of which almost always reveal the beginning of cancer:

First, any lump in the breast or other part of the body, especially one which begins to grow or change.

Second, any sore which does not heal, particularly one on the face or in the mouth.

Third, any unusual discharge or bleeding from any part of the body.

Pain is a late symptom and one having a suspicion of the affliction should not ever wait for pain but should secure competent medical advice before it is too late to be healed. Many cancers can be cured by early treatment and this information should be wide spread.

Varieties of Cancer. There are many kinds of cancers, differing widely in their behaviour and character—some being external, others internal; some spread rapidly, some slowly; some others do not; some are very dangerous, others are less harmful.

Every cancer begins as a single body cell or group of cells which for some unknown reason starts to grow wild.

As a cancer increases in size it may cause trouble by interfering with the function of important organs near it, by invading distant parts of the body, by breaking down itself and producing hemorrhages, abscesses and open sores or by discharging poisonous substances into the system.

If cancer is not removed or checked in its growth it finally becomes fatal unless death occurs in some other way.

The cause of cancer has not definitely been determined, but chronic irritation of a variety of types is universally believed an effective exciting factor.

Preventable Cancers. Among the preventable cancers are those affecting the lip, tongue, floor of mouth and throat, the larynx and the internal organs. Nearly all cancers here are brought about by chronic irritation, by decayed teeth, tobacco and the results of social evils. Intelligent persons do not allow broken and decayed fangs to scratch their cheeks and lips. Pyorrhea has been known to lead to cancer of the gums.

Baptist Church Notes.

There were 63 present at Sunday school, all teachers being present. The weekly teachers meeting has obviously increased the interest of the teachers and the efficiency and effectiveness of their work. The lessons are so interesting and there are so many vital facts to be presented and truths to be appreciated the Sunday school hour passes very swiftly.

For the morning hour sermon the pastor took for his text the following words from the 21st chapter of St. John's gospel, "Lovest thou me more than these? Feel my sheep." He read the entire chapter, one of the most remarkable in the Bible, wherein it is related how the risen Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ himself prepared breakfast for his weary and hungry disciples, after they had spent a night of fruitless effort at fishing in the Sea of Galilee. In this time of widespread want every redeemed child of God should remember this incident of the "coals of fire and fishes laid thereon" which shows that the Saviour of our souls also provides for the temporal needs of his children, and in our extremity we should not forget the five loaves and three small fishes which fed the thousands.

The pastor spoke of the necessity of a believer in Christ making a decision and selection, at Peter did at the response of Christ's question, "Lovest thou me more than these?" He showed that the word "these", in the question referred to Peter's occupation of fishing, the boat and the things pertaining thereto; to his family, friends and home. And he reminded the congregation of our Saviour's words, "He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me." He spoke of those who stay away from the Lord's house and His work because busy with farmwork, housework, store or other interests or diversion, showing by their actions that they love such things more than they do the Lord Jesus. The necessity of separation was also shown, and it was urged that if in preference to the world with its allurements one selects Jesus Christ it is necessary for him to separate himself from the things that will restrict, limit and hinder his work for the Master. As a result of the selection of Jesus Christ and the separation from every hindering thing or cause, he stated that there should also be service and that as a consequence of such selection and separation service of necessity will result. Throughout this and other sermons, our pastor quotes Scripture and gives effective illustrations to prove his statements.

At the evening service, out of respect to the young father and mother, who had in the afternoon been bereft of their only son, after a few words in which he urged the people to do all they could to help and comfort the bereaved, the pastor dismissed the congregation without further service. Our deepest sympathy goes out to these parents in this hour of their sorrow, and we pray that our Heavenly Father by His infinite Grace might assuage their grief.

Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

PAUL IN CORINTH Acts 18:1-11

Acts 18:1. After these things he departed from Athens, and came to Corinth.

2. And he found a certain Jew named Aquila, a man of Pontus by race, lately come from Italy, with his wife, Priscilla, because Claudius had commanded all the Jews to depart from Rome; and he came unto them;

3. And because he was of the same trade, he abode with them, and they wrought; for by their trade they were tentmakers.

4. And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded Jews and Greeks.

5. But when Silas and Timothy came down from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the word, testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ.

6. And when they opposed themselves and blasphemed, he shook out his raiment and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads, I am clean; from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7. And he departed thence, and went into the house of a certain man named Titus Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8. And Crispus, the ruler of the synagogue, believed in the Lord, with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9. And the Lord said unto Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak and hold not thy peace:

10. For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to harm thee: for I have much people in this city.

11. And he dwelt there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

Golden Text: Now abideth faith, hope, love, three three; and the greatest of these is love.—1 Cor. 13:13.

Time: A. D. 51, 52. Place: Athens, Corinth.

Paul in Athens.

"When he reached Athens, Paul came to a city which he has never seen equally as an original intellectual force. It is renowned as the city of Socrates, Plato and Aristotle among philosophers, of Solon and Pericles among statesmen, Demosthenes among orators, of Aeschylus and Sophocles among dramatists, of Herodotus and Thucydides among historians, of Pindar among lyric poets, and of Phidias, among sculptors. Though Athens in Paul's day had fallen from its ancient glory, it was still resplendent with incomparable works of art, and especially its great rocky hill, the Acropolis, glittering with marble temples, above all the Parthenon, the temple of Minerva." Every gateway and porch carried its protecting god. Every street, every square, nay, every parlieu had its sanctuaries; and a Roman poet bitterly remarked that it was easier in Athens to find gods than men."

Paul's Preaching in Athens. Roused by Paul's strange teachings, especially those relating to Jesus and the resurrection, the Athenians took him, seemingly, before the "then ancient Court of the Areopagus (or Mar's Hill) a court which had jurisdiction over public teaching in Athens, and which had condemned Socrates and put him to death.

The brief account of Paul's address which Luke gives us is enough to show how powerful and wise it must have been. The apostle took text from an altar which he had seen inscribed—in the Athenians' anxiety not to omit any deity from their pantheon, for fear of offending him—"To an Unknown God." "That unknown God," said Paul, "I can tell you about. He is the one God, who made the world and all things therein, who does not dwell in men-made temples, who made one of all nations, in whom we all live, after whom all men are instinctively groping, though he is not far away."
