Big Springer molds Fiber Glass success

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

V. F. Michael and his wife, Margaret, started their fiberglass system manufacturing company in Big Spring "on a shoestring" 15 years ago.

Now the Michaels, who celebrated their company's anniversary Saturday at the annual company picnic at Comanche Trail Park, are in the process of expanding Fiber Glass Systems. They are hiring more engineers, salesmen and production personnel to add to the more than 250 employees already working at the company's two plants in Big Spring and San Antonio.

THE COMPANY HAS backlogged orders and, for the first time in four years, has re-entered the overseas market for its high-pressure fiberglass injection pipes, casing, tubing and fittings used in oil wells to improve recovery of crude oil, Michael said.

Michael, president of his firm, said he is interested in adding more plants to the two he currently operates. He has plans for another plant in San Antonio and is considering another location for a fourth plant.

"My ultimate goal is to build a plant for every five years. I'm off-schedule," Michael said.

Michael and his wife, both chemical engineers, started the business when he grew tired of working to develop ideas and products for larger corporations. Michael was vice president for corporate research and development at Coke Industries in Wichita, Kan., for more than 20 years.

HIS GOAL IS to take something small and under-financed and make it into a successful product, although he says he has not done that yet with his company.

"I want to take an idea that I've researched and put into production and watch it grow from a small, nebulous corporation into something bigger," he said.

"Our plans (for the company) are in that direction."

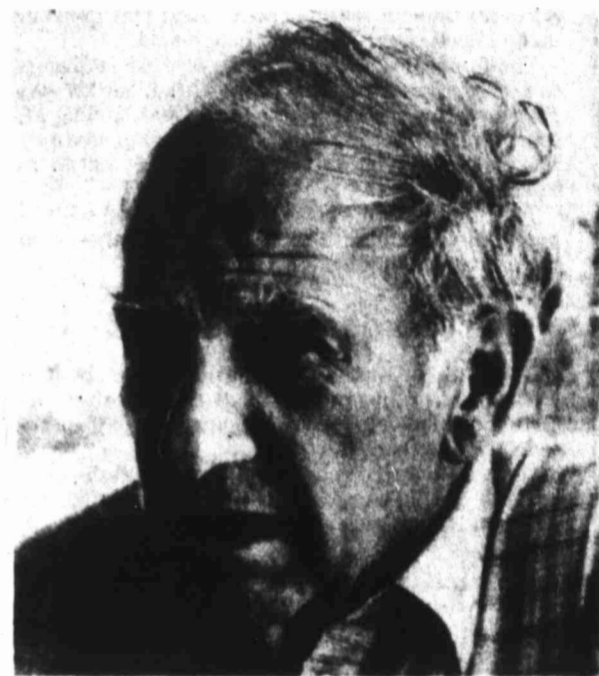

The company, the Michaels' first commercial business, earns enough profits to stay in business and has never gone in the red, Michael said.

Michael, who graduated from Big Spring High School, said he and his wife came to Big Spring to start their company "knowing that the Permian Basin was a good oil area."

HE CREDITS PART of his success to townspeople accepting his wife and himself into the community. Support is necessary to anyone starting a business, he said.

"You have to have a lot of people backing you and who believe in what you are doing. You have to have

Korean jet debris found; Soviet pilots give account

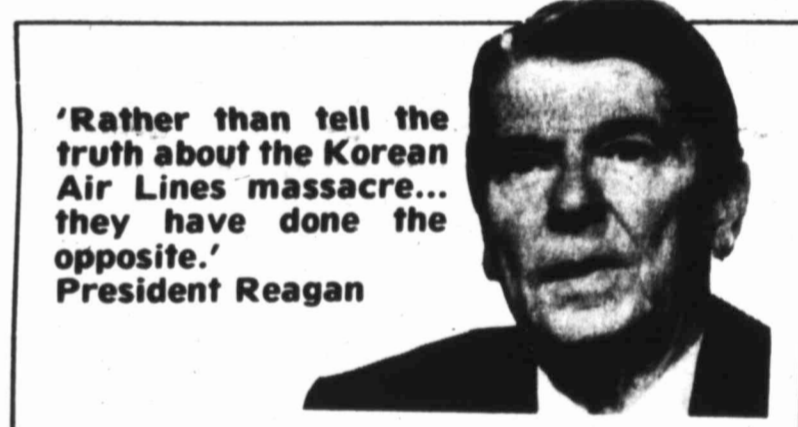

By The Associated Press
Debris believed to be from Korean Air Lines Flight 007 washed up on Japanese beaches Saturday, and President Reagan charged that the Soviets have "mobilized their entire government behind a massive cover-up" of the downing of the jet.

In Moscow, Soviet television broadcast an interview with a pilot identified as the man who shot down the jumbo jet, carrying 269 people, on Sept. 1. The pilot said he flashed his fighter's lights at the intruder plane but got no response. Two other pilots also spoke briefly on the extraordinary segment of the evening news.

In Finland, pilots announced a boycott of flights to their giant neighbor.

Reagan, in his weekly radio address after meeting with Secretary of State George P. Shultz and with the National Security Council, said the Soviets have "stonewalled the world, mobilizing their entire government behind a massive cover-up, then brazenly threatening to kill more men, women and children should another civilian airliner make the same mistake as KAL 007."

"Rather than tell the truth about the Korean Air Lines massacre, rather than immediately and publicly investigate the crash, explain to the world how it happened, punish those guilty of the crime, cooperate in efforts to find the wreckage and recover the bodies, apologize and offer compensation to the families and work to prevent a repetition, they have done the opposite," he said.

Reagan has declared a national day of mourning Sunday for the people aboard the jet, including Rep. Larry P. McDonald, D-Ga.

Moscow has acknowledged destroying the jetliner but a top Soviet general repeated in a news conference on Friday the Soviet argument that it was on a spy mission for the United States, a claim rejected by Washington.

Nearly 200 pieces of wreckage and debris — including items of clothing and small pieces of airline metal and plastic — believed to be from the downed plane had been found along beaches and in the waters of Japan by nightfall Saturday.

More than 1,000 police and civilian volunteer searchers, aided by eight aircraft and a small fleet of patrol and fishing boats, had joined the search after pieces of the Korean jetliner's tail section first turned up on Thursday.

The mutilated body of a child found by fishermen Thursday was not immediately confirmed as having come from the Korean aircraft. Police estimated the child to be about 11 years old, but said an autopsy could not establish identity, race or sex.

In a speech to Parliament on Saturday, Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone called the shooting down of the jetliner "an act which all civilized societies must surely find reprehensible" and promised anew that Japan would join other nations in pressuring Moscow for a "thorough explication."

Council asked to condemn Soviets

The Big Spring City Council is planning to add its voice to the chorus condemning the Soviet Union for the downing of Korean Air Lines Flight 007 on Aug. 31.

Tuesday night, councilmen will consider an emergency resolution that publicly denounces the Soviets for the incident that killed 269 persons.

The resolution reads as follows:
"Whereas the Soviet Union shot down an unarmed Korean civilian passenger plane in an unprovoked attack; and whereas 269 innocent men, women and children died as a result of the outrageous slaughter;
"Therefore be it resolved by the City Council of Big Spring as follows:

"The Soviet Union should be condemned for its unconscionable conduct in not only shooting down a civilian aircraft without any type of provocation and slaughtering 269 innocent men, women and children but also in denying that they had done so until they were faced with incontrovertible proof; and

"Further, the City Council of Big Spring, Texas, deplores this dastardly conduct by the Soviet Union and urges the United States and all other decent nations to publicly denounce the Soviet Union for this atrocity."

Police dog fired

HOUSTON — A former Pasadena police officer who, along with his drug-sniffing dog Duke, was fired when he challenged his transfer to patrol duty has sued the city Civil Service Commission to get his job back.

Former Police K-9 Officer Christopher Mylett, in a state court suit filed Friday, appealed the commission's final order of Aug. 24 upholding the actions of Police Chief David M. Mullican and permanently dismissing Mylett as a police officer.

Mullican said he fired Mylett after the officer and his dog were filmed by a Houston area television station for a story aired Aug. 1.

Soviet ship leaves port

HOUSTON — The U.S. Coast Guard stopped a Soviet freighter from leaving the Port of Houston Saturday after a routine check found that the ship lacked needed paperwork, officials said.

The General Kravtsov was the first Soviet vessel to dock in Houston since a Korean Air Lines 727 was shot down by a Soviet fighter last week, killing all 269 people on board. Another Soviet ship steamed toward the Bayou City with a load of cargo to unload.

The ship docked Friday and was loaded with liquid tallow through a pipeline. No longshoremen were involved in the work.

Dallas zoo spokesman Bill Stewart said the rare lowland gorilla now weighs about 17 pounds. He weighed 10½ pounds when he was born on Sept. 13, 1982.

Three women die in crash

SWEETWATER, Okla. (AP) — Three women died Saturday in a fiery car crash near this western Oklahoma community, the Highway Patrol reported.

Pamela Kay Reames, 18, of Allison, Texas; Shirley Harrison, 21, of Mobeetie, Texas, and Donna Sue Hewitt, 17, of Rowland, Ark., died when their car slammed into the guardrail at the end of a bridge near Sweetwater in Beckham County, the patrol said.

DUSTY TRAIL — Valynia Kirby, who lives south of Stanton, leaves a trail of dust behind her as she rides Waps to fifth place in the open barrel race Saturday afternoon at the Howard County Youth Horseman All Breed Open Horse Show.

Big Springers pace open horse show

A barrel race entrant in the Howard County Youth Horseman All Breed Open Horse Show would have fallen out of his saddle Saturday — if he had a saddle to fall out of.

Rick White, of the High Sky Girls Ranch, received permission to ride bareback in the barrel race — an unusual request — only to fall off his horse during the event, show manager Kenneth Williams said.

Because the show was an all-breed event, Williams said he honored White's request. If the show had been sponsored by the American Quarterhorse Association, White would have been disqualified for riding bareback.

Two Big Spring entrants, Larry Rebeck on Plaudit's Bimbo Joe, and Blake Shuttlesworth on I'm A Sweetie Pie Too, tied for first place in the adult high point competition. Shuttlesworth won a coin flip for the prize, a belt buckle.

Winning the youth high point competition with 35 points was Colleen Fowler of Coahoma riding Karmel Candy.

government traditionally cooperates with the neighboring Soviet Union, decided Saturday to stop flying to Moscow for 60 days to protest the downing of the South Korean jumbo jet. They joined British, French, Italian and Norwegian pilots who have announced similar boycotts.

No U.S. airlines fly to the Soviet Union.

In Bonn, West German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher criticized four NATO countries that refused to join a two-week suspension of airline links with the Soviet Union.

France, Spain, Greece and Turkey declined to participate in the NATO boycott starting Sept. 15.

The 12 other NATO nations agreed Friday in Brussels to a 14-day ban on landing rights for the Soviet airlines Aeroflot.

"I can only regret that not all NATO members could decide to emphasize through a political signal our demands for an explanation of the shutdown, punishment of those responsible and agreements for guarantees against a repetition of such a case," Genscher said in an interview with the newspaper Welt Am Sonntag.

On the Moscow evening news, the Soviet pilot, whose name was not given, said the Korean Air Lines jet refused to respond to his signals to land. A second pilot, who said he pursued the plane, said he thought it might have been a bomber. The two were interviewed on their base at Sakhalin Island.

The plane the pilot tracked was not referred to as anything but an intruder or "enemy" craft.

The man who apparently fired the missile said he flashed his flying lights to signal his presence, fired tracer shells and wagged his wings as a signal for the other plane to land.

"But it continued to fly along the same route at the same altitude," the pilot said. "And I got a command. An accurate and definite command."

Neither the pilot nor the TV interviewer said this was the command to shoot down the plane.

Pot field harvested

MINERAL WELLS — Nine Palo Pinto County officials spent three hours harvesting almost 980 pounds of marijuana worth an estimated $3.5 million from a two-acre field discovered about 15 miles north of Mineral Wells, Sheriff John Turpin said Saturday.

A 27-year-old man was arrested and will be arraigned Monday on possession of marijuana charges, Turpin said.

The field, which contained plants 15-feet tall, was discovered Thursday and harvested Friday afternoon, he said.

"I'm 6-foot-3 and standing beside them, they almost doubled my size or better," Turpin said.

Lubbock honors Holly on birthday

LUBBOCK (AP) — This West Texas city made good Saturday on its promise to pay homage to Buddy Holly by officially unveiling a plaque to be installed on a brick wall surrounding a bronze statue in downtown Lubbock of the rock 'n' roll star who grew up here.

The statue, commissioned in 1979 and erected in 1980, had until Saturday stood without any sort of identifying plaque.

Holly, whose hits "Peggy Sue," "Early in the Morning" and "Heartbeat" rocketed to the top of the charts in the late 1950s, was killed at age 22 in a single-engine plane crash Feb. 3, 1959 near Clear Lake, Iowa. Recording stars Richie Valens, 21, and J.P. Richardson, 24, were also killed in the crash.

After remarks by Mayor Alan Henry, Holly's widow, Elena Holly Diaz, emotionally unveiled the new plaque. Henry, speaking to approximately 300 Holly fans, also proclaimed Sept. 10 to be "Buddy Holly Memorial Day" and gave copies of the proclamation both to Mrs. Diaz and to Holly's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Holly.

The celebration, held annually in honor of the singer's Sept. 7 birthday, also featured a 1950s dance contest, the finals of a statewide Buddy Holly look-alike contest, and memorabilia exhibits. The festivities this year were stretched over two weeks for the first time.

The annual Buddy Holly memorial concert was held one week ago, and other West Texas musicians were honored over the weekend, including Waylon Jennings of Littlefield, near Lubbock, and Mac Davis of Lubbock. The Walk of Fame was built to honor local musicians who go on to national fame.

Holly's parents were not expected to make an appearance. Mrs. Diaz had indicated earlier that their health was poor, but the entire Holly family was present for the ceremony, including Buddy's brothers, Travis and Larry, and his sister, Pat.

"Holly may be the most important influence to music, because he influenced the people of his time, and what they learned influenced others, so his effect is really far reaching," said Jim Price, Midland-born horn player and arranger who has worked with Barbara Streisand and John Lennon.

employees who believe in you. You have to have a friendly banker to survive," Michael said.

And, most importantly, the product you sell not only must be good, but it must be needed by industry, he said.

"One person doesn't make a plant," Michael said. The difference between working in research and development for a large corporation and owning your own business is "a lot more headaches," Michael said.

"You have to worry about personnel and finances." The company's low point came when Michael had just opened his plant in San Antonio and the oil glut hit. He withdrew from overseas sales markets and put plans to expand on hold.

"The sales just didn't keep up with the capacity we'd designed for," he said.

In response to the oil glut, Michael reacted by designing new machines and hiring new personnel. Now, for his business at least, the recession is over. "It looks like a complete turnaround."

Joy to the world!

By JOY CULWELL

"Feed your husband." My grandmother gave me this advice on my wedding day. She would probably laugh if she were alive now to see how I accomplish this job.

First, Grandmother, let me explain that this is a difficult age we live in now. I know you rose with the sun and cooked hot biscuits for breakfast. I rise and pop some flaky biscuits from the can into my little oven on my countertop and satisfy myself by saying, "Well, they're better biscuits than I could have made anyway."

Anything that is cooked in the town I live in is home-cooked. I either cook for Billy or I bring it in for him to eat. Going by my friendly neighborhood deli and picking up fried chicken and cole slaw is not the way Grandmother did it. She didn't have a job outside the home, either.

Remembering her, though, she would have liked this life I live. The hustle and the bustle of my every day would be fun for that lady — that fun-loving lady who seldom had time to sit down for more than a minute.

Although there still is the job of the three meals every day, I think "Well, with any luck today we can eat one meal out." I have a sign in my kitchen that suggests this very thing. It reads, "Help Stamp Out Home Cooking. Take her out to eat tonight!"

My new friend, Doyce Nix, who moved back to Colorado City recently from Dallas, is a nice guy. I like his attitude about food. He has opened the Donut Alley Cafe and is serving up some great food.

Although Doyce lived in Dallas for a long time, he hasn't forgotten his roots in the country. He started out in Loraine and has "made it twice around the world and been to two county fairs and is now back only seven miles from home."

His cooking shows his country background. It's good! He says "Joy, I'm not country, I'm just rural!" Well, rural or country, he's great with food. Welcome home, Doyce.

I must add a P.S. to this column. For the nice guy award this week is Bill Burnett of 87 Wrecking in Big Spring. He came on a Saturday morning to unlock my car that I had stupidly locked my keys in. Thank you Bill, and may your tribe increase.

Co-op elects new directors

Members of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Inc. Saturday elected two new members and returned one incumbent for three-year terms to its board of directors.

More than 2,000 persons attended the 44th annual meeting of the co-op in Stanton, where challenger Ray Walker defeated incumbent Edgar Phillips for the director's spot from District 3, which includes Big Spring and Borden school districts.

P.G. "Sammy" Yates also was elected to the board in District 6, which includes Grady, Ector and Andrews school districts. He defeated incumbent Raymond Pribyla. Cooperative President Bob Cox was reinstated as District 8 director, defeating Harold Henley. District 8 includes Stanton and Greenwood school districts.

Stephenville farmer and rancher Stanley White, a Texas humorist, was the featured speaker at the meeting.

Hope goes on record

LOS ANGELES — Bob Hope, honorary chairman of the U.S. Olympic Committee, has recorded a special rendition of his theme song "Thanks for the Memories" for a fund-raising effort for the U.S. Olympic Team.

His song is among 14 on "Great Songs of America for the U.S. Olympic Team," a souvenir album given to people who donate $5 or more to the Olympics at any California Federal Savings and Loan Association branch between Sept. 12 and Oct. 29.

The S&L is sponsoring the campaign and absorbing costs of the album and its promotion.

Other selections include a medley by the late Bing Crosby and songs by Joel Grey, Mitch Miller, Glen Campbell, Johnny Cash, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Robert Goulet, Mahalia Jackson, Kate Smith, the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Boston Pops.

Sheik seeks French law

CANNES — An attempt by California attorney Marvin Mitchelson to return the four children of Sheik Mohammed Al-Fassi to his estranged wife Dena failed because police would not cooperate, his associates said.

Al-Fassi, whose wife is divorcing him in Los Angeles, has failed to obey a U.S. court order to return the children to his wife's custody.

The Sheika learned that her husband had gone to Cannes and applied to a court in nearby Grasse using international legal conventions applying to "displaced children."

Knot tied in bus stop

NEW YORK — A strolling violinist provided music and about 75 passersby joined 12 wedding guests as a couple got married in a glass-walled bus stop shelter on Manhattan's Upper East Side.

"It's where we met and it's where we're getting married. It's very simple," Jerry Mosier, 28, said before Friday's ceremony.

Afterward, waitresses from a nearby restaurant passed out glasses and their boss poured champagne.

Then Mosier and his bride, Roselee Blooston, 30, rode off in a rented city bus with their guests to a reception.

"New York is a street fair, so that's what it's all about," said best man Paul Corell.

Lola undergoes surgery

LAS VEGAS — Singer Lola Falana has undergone emergency surgery to control internal bleeding and was expected to be released from the hospital this weekend, a hospital spokesman said.

Ms. Falana was admitted to Sunrise Hospital on Aug. 25 with peritonitis and underwent the surgery last week to stop bleeding in her small intestine.

The entertainer, who regularly performs in hotels on the Las Vegas Strip, also underwent surgery last month in southern California.

Ms. Falana is not expected to perform again until early next year.

Pope visits Austria

VIENNA — Pope John Paul II, speaking from the square where Adolf Hitler harangued a huge crowd 45 years ago, issued an appeal Saturday for human rights, peace and tolerance to Austria "and its neighbors to the north, east, south and west."

The pope, clad in white and gold vestments, spoke from a podium in front of the former imperial palace shortly after arriving for a four-day visit to this neutral country, a traditional refuge for thousands fleeing the Soviet bloc.

In a suburb, about 500 people protesting the papal visit — the first in 201 years — attended an "alternative" rally where they derided the pope as "John Paul Superstar."

The 63-year-old pontiff appeared slightly flushed under a burning sun as he recalled dark days in European history and alluded to a troubled present.

Congress ends recess

WASHINGTON — Congress returns from a five-week recess to confront an autumn of hard choices about the Soviet Union and the Mideast, and a legislative stalemate over trimming bulging budget deficits.

The recess ends with the House and Senate reconvening at noon Monday. While they were gone, legislators unleashed a torrent of angry rhetoric against the Soviet Union after one of its interceptors shot down a South Korean jumbo jet Sept. 1, killing all 269 people aboard, including 61 Americans. Among the passengers was Rep. Larry McDonald, D-Ga.

Initial legislative reaction to the incident will be largely symbolic, with leaders in the House and Senate preparing — in cooperation with President Reagan — resolutions condemning the Soviet action.

Astro rats retired

SPACE CENTER — Six laboratory rats, back safe and healthy from a six-day flight aboard space shuttle Challenger, have been given an early retirement, a scientist at the Johnson Space Center says.

The rats, less than 2 months old, will not be used for any more experiments, even though they have four or five years to live, said Dr. Malcolm Smith of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's space adaptation research branch.

Smith said he would like to see the rats on public display.

"These are really special rats," he said. Aboard eighth shuttle mission, which ended Monday.

the rats were part of a student experiment on the effects of weightlessness on arthritis.

From all appearances, the rats tolerated the entire flight well and proved that men and rats could live together in space without unpleasant effects, Smith said.

Ministers reach accord

PANAMA CITY — The foreign ministers of nine Latin American countries reached a preliminary agreement on a regional peace plan for Central America early Saturday after a marathon round of talks.

Honduras and Nicaragua, which have been exchanging threats of war in recent months, were among the five Central American countries that endorsed the "document of objectives" for reaching negotiated settlements of regional strife, according to a spokesman for the Contadora group.

The so-called Contadora nations — Colombia, Mexico, Panama and Venezuela — sponsored the meeting in their effort to bring peace to war-torn Central America.

Details of the document endorsed at the three-day meeting were withheld pending official approval by the governments involved.

Ortega said the document endorsed calls for progressive demilitarization of the Central American isthmus and efforts to bring warring factions throughout the region to the bargaining table.

Bombs shake S. Africa

JOHANNESBURG — Pre-dawn bombings damaged two power stations north of Johannesburg Saturday, hours after judges banned weekend memorials to observe the anniversary of the death of black activist Steve Biko.

No one was wounded in the explosions at power-relay stations in Bryanston and Fairlands, upper middle-class suburbs. Damage was minor and there were only brief, scattered power outages, police said.

No one claimed responsibility, though the South African Press Association said "Amandia Viva ANC" was spray-painted on a wall near the Bryanston blast.

Amandia is Zulu for power, traditionally shouted at black-nationalist rallies. ANC are the initials of the outlawed African National Congress, the largest black-nationalist group sworn to overthrow South Africa's system of white-minority rule and domination of blacks, known as apartheid.

Congress guerrillas have for years targeted power stations in their sabotage war. The most deadly ANC blast came May 21 when a car bomb exploded outside a military office building in Pretoria, killing 19 people and wounding more than 200.

Former S. African PM Vorster dead

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Former Prime Minister John Vorster, a tough advocate of apartheid who left office disgraced by a government scandal, died Saturday night. He was 67.

A spokesman for Tygerburg Hospital near Cape Town said Vorster died at 11:25 p.m. (4:25 p.m. CDT).

Vorster entered the hospital Monday with a lung infection. Doctors said a blood clot developed later in his lungs.

While serving as justice minister, Vorster strictly enforced the apartheid — racial separation — laws by detaining dissidents without trial and applying banning orders, a type of internal exile, to white liberals and black nationalists. He crushed

JOHN VORSTER ...died Saturday

South Africa's Communist Party and acquired the nickname Jackboot John. Later, during the 12 years he was prime minister, Vorster tried to put a milder image on the apartheid policies that brought international condemnation. Some parks, theaters and hotels were opened to blacks, and mixed-race sports were allowed.

He traveled outside the country to meet black African leaders and once startled his supporters by sitting between two black women at a banquet in South Africa.

His full name was Balthazar Johannes Vorster, but as he moved to the forefront of South African politics he dropped his first name and used the Anglicized version of his middle name.

The son of a farmer, John Vorster epitomized the qualities admired by the Dutch-descended Afrikaners. He became a leader in the post-World War II generation that brought conservative Afrikaners to power after 140 years of British influence.

Pleading ill health, he resigned in 1978 to become the country's president, a ceremonial post. But South Africa's biggest political scandal was closing in on him.

Eight months later, Vorster resigned amid disclosures of his involvement in a $70 million propaganda plan — with webs of secret agents — for a more favorable opinion of South Africa abroad.

Vorster was born Dec. 13, 1915, the 13th child of a rural family.

Heat wave hits Midwest

Record-breaking heat made a return visit to the parched Midwest on Saturday after early-morning thunderstorms with winds up to 70 mph bowled through Minnesota and South Dakota, killing a woman whose camper was hit by a falling tree.

Another day of bright sunshine in Indiana pushed the mercury to 94 degrees in South Bend, breaking the 1964 record of 93 for the date and giving the city its 40th day of 90-degree temperatures this year — the most of any year since records were begun in 1951. The 97-degree heat in Fort Wayne topped the record of 94 set in 1964.

Indiana is suffering through a serious drought, along with the rest of the Midwest, and last week brought little relief: Most rain totals for the week were less than a half-inch.

Part of a nursing home was evacuated in Paynesville in central Minnesota after high winds shattered a window early Saturday, roads were blocked by downed trees and 13 towns in the St. Cloud area lost electricity in the severe thunderstorms.

Florence Caroline Christoffer, 61, of Grove City, Minn., was killed about 5 a.m. when the storm blew a tree onto the camper she and her husband were sleeping in near Atwater, authorities said.

"A trailer house at New London blew over with several people in it, but they just had minor injuries and were not taken to the hospital," Kandiyohi County Sheriff Larry Kleinhuizen said.

The wind blew the top off the city water tower in Cold Spring, Minn., sending it into the backyard of a nearby resident, officials said. Cold Spring residents were being asked to conserve water until the tower had been repaired.

Around the Rim

By KEITH BRISCOE

History repeats

On Feb. 16, 1898 the U.S. battleship Maine exploded while anchored in Spanish waters off Havana, Cuba. Over 250 American sailors lost their lives. Two months later, the U.S. and Spain were at war.

When President William McKinley took office the previous year, the U.S. and Spain, archrivals in the Western Hemisphere, were cautiously moving toward conciliation and accommodation.

This foreign policy was rejected by Southern senators who coveted the Cuban sugar crop. Itching for a fight, they put pressure on McKinley, an amateur in international relations.

When the Maine sunk, all the hate and greed and ignorance surfaced. Up went the war cries. Remember the Maine!

To this day, no one knows who or what blew up the battleship. But the politicians and demagogues of 1898 knew. Only Latin, European, Catholic Spain could have acted in such a cruel and brutal fashion.

We won that war, but our morality was a battlefield casualty. Truth and peace went under with the Maine.

THE ABOVE is no moot history lesson.

On Sept. 1, 1983 a South Korean airliner was destroyed after entering the air space of the Soviet Union. The Soviets say they shot an unidentified aircraft. Our president says the jumbo jet was viciously attacked by inhuman brutes.

Who knows exactly what happened over the Sea of Japan on that night except that a civilian airliner with 269 passengers and crewmen was lost after encountering Soviet interceptors?

President Reagan and his commie-baiters know. They've divided the truth from their ideological scriptures. Those atheist, socialist, slavish Russians willfully and wantonly attacked innocent civilians.

In a national television address last Monday, President Reagan delivered an impassioned verdict that would have us believe the Soviet Union, emboldened by its "massive military build-up," was lying in wait for a civilian aircraft to enter its air space just so it could show the free world, in an act of "inhuman brutality," what a big bully Ivan can be.

If I correctly decoded the scrambled logic of Reagan's diatribe, the president wants to convince us the Soviets are unfeeling sub-human beasts who think nothing of firing off a couple of missiles to glory in the sight of airborne men, women and children plunging to a watery grave.

In his speech, Reagan managed to slip in a reminder about the need to approve funding for the MX missile system to restrain the Bolshevik behemoth.

"Until they are willing to join the rest of the world community, we must maintain the strength to deter their aggression," Reagan said.

I take this to mean Reagan believes anti-ballistic missiles will protect commercial airliners in the future and that the President is blissfully unaware the Soviet Union counts more allies among the nations than we do.

I DON'T AT ALL excuse the Soviets in this affair. I wouldn't trust the Politburo as far as I could throw the Settles Hotel. Their propaganda last week at least equalled Reagan's in bombast.

But I will not accept the charge that the Soviets are cruel monsters with no sense of morality or appreciation for life.

The Soviets are human. They fall in love, make love and make babies. They go to church (or synagogue or mosque or temple), go to the bathroom and cry at funerals.

They lost 30 million dead helping us defeat the Nazis. They are, because of their turbulent history, excessively paranoid about invasion and extremely sensitive about our spy planes cruising high above their country.

And the Soviet Union is not the first country to shoot down a commercial passenger plane. Several years ago the Israelis destroyed an Arab airliner that had strayed over the Sinai Desert and would not or could not respond to recognition signals. The U.S. excused the Israeli action, saying the Jerusalem government was "security minded." Such apologies apparently do not apply to the Soviets.

When our government first learned of the Korean jet's fate, it should have immediately called an international conference on civilian air routes and recognition procedures. The first words out of Reagan's mouth were "Korean Air Line Massacre!"

Reagan and his crowd do not know the truth, but they know a golden political opportunity when they see one. They hate detente, they hate the Soviets, and they're resuscitating old Cold War fears to encourage us to hate the Russians again. They're already multiplying the number of dead to determine how many extra votes they can get out of this disaster.

Let's assume the Soviet pilot was trigger-happy or the interceptors were directed by an overzealous ground commander. Is that any reason to indict an entire government or people? No more, I would say, than the "My Lai Massacre" was an indictment of the American government and people.

OF COURSE, the real tragedy in all this is the 269 persons lying dead in cold Siberian waters. Their misfortune should never have happened, but it will occur again if the world does not keep its ideological composure during the aftermath.

The passengers and crew of Korean Air Lines Flight 007 shall not rest in peace. Even unto death, they have become pawns in the game of superpower politics.

The quest for peace and truth has plummeted, and all the hate and greed and ignorance are now in flight.

Remember the Maine.

Editor's Column

By LINDA ADAMS

Linda's laws of logic

Recently I called a real estate agency. There was no one to speak with me because everyone was in a "sales meeting."

This week I called the headquarters of a prominent computer company. I'm looking for a portable computer for our sports writer to use. Again, no one could speak with me because they were "all in a sales meeting."

Although I left my name and number, I have yet to hear from them, although I did receive — coincidentally — an unsolicited advertisement in the mail the next day which said, "Let us hear from you soon."

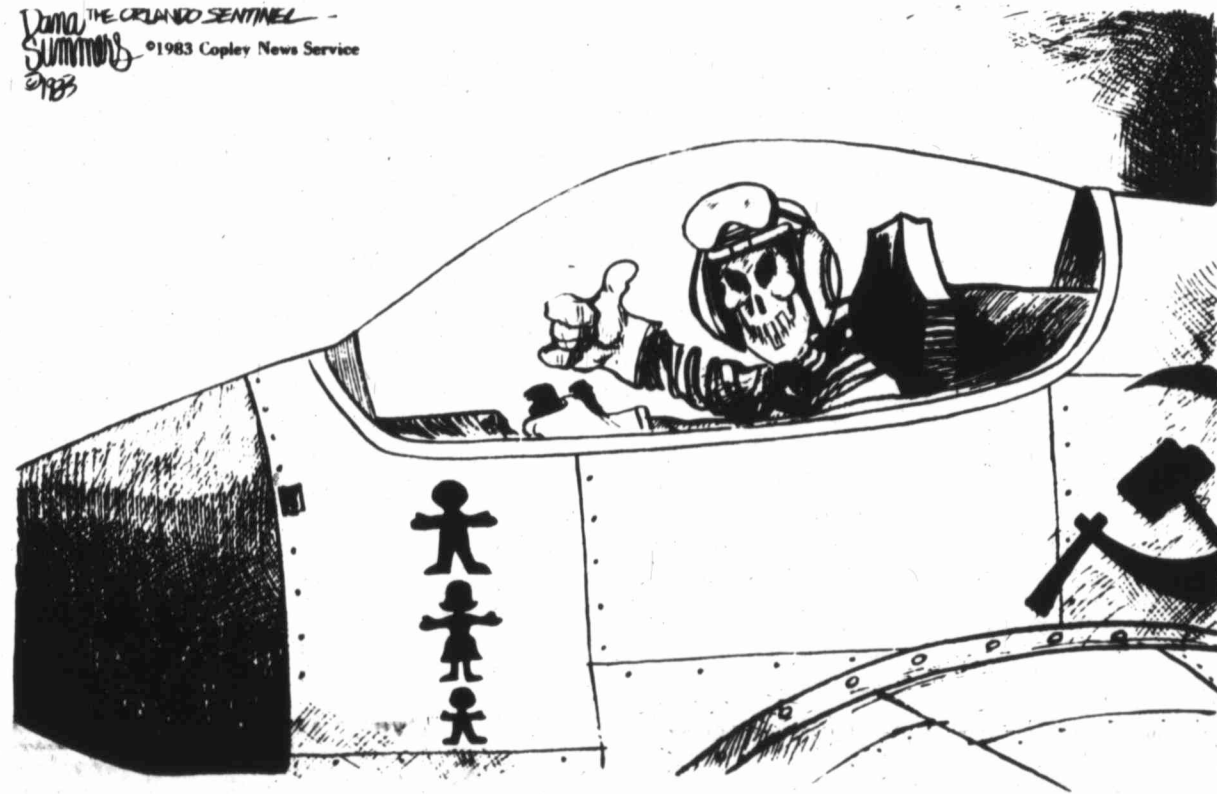

I wonder how many sales have been lost because of sales meetings. Could this be what's wrong with our economy today? Everyone is in a sales meeting? Nobody is actually selling?

Let me get a few other things off my chest. Here are some laws I'd like to see passed:

- All hamburger buns should be lightly toasted.
- There is nothing more disappointing than to pick up a steaming hamburger, wonderful in every respect, except that the bun is cold on top and/or bottom. Could the city council call an emergency meeting and get this fixed right away? Thank you.

- Restaurants should have a light over their bathroom stalls. Too often there's only one lightbulb, and it's over the sink. The stalls create their own darkness, and after you walk in one, you can't tell whether it's clean or not. Furthermore it's depressing to take care of business in the dark.
- Incidentally, whenever I encounter an obviously filthy restroom in a restaurant, I immediately wonder what condition the kitchen is in.
- Telephones should not ring during the last 5 or 10 minutes of a television movie when you've made an emotional investment for the past two-and-a-half hours. Every time I become involved in a movie, the phone always rings in the most powerful, climactic scene. When I return five minutes later, it's all over but my crying. My husband tries to fill in the gap for me: "He decided not to have an affair with the girl after all and went to New York to resume his art career and return to his former lover." Somehow it's not as emotionally satisfying in the translation.

I urge the Federal Communications Commission to ban all calls placed during the last 10 minutes of any hour, preferably in time for the Humphrey Bogart movie on Thursday.

Schools today need discipline

Dear Editor,

I would like to comment on Keith Briscoe's column in the Sunday, August 28th issue.

This country was founded by men who were the product of private schools and they were as a whole extremely religious men. George Washington, in his farewell address stated, "We must above all else strengthen those institutions which further learning, promote them as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge." He said this in the context of his time and beliefs. The only schools he knew were Christian private schools.

The idea of public schools did not come until after 1865 when it was introduced by German Unitarians who came to this country. These men were Horace Mann, James G. Carter, and Charles Sumner. Sumner said we must get rid of Biblical faith and Mann saw public schools as "all the children of the state." John Dewey, who helped design the school system in Russia, also declared Christianity to be the enemy of the state, i.e., public schools.

Early American universities were church-established. In private schools, children between the age of 5 through 7 were learning Greek and Hebrew and were attending Harvard, which was and is a private school, at ages of 13 to 14.

Karl Marx's 10th commandment called for free education for all children in public schools. Madalyn Murray O'Hair, the professional atheist, said at an atheist convention in 1978, "Let's face it. There is no way we could have held an atheist convention 10 years ago. Everything today is much better. Part of the reason is public education."

Humanism is such a pleasant sounding word that it disarms most people. But unless this trend in education is rooted out of our public schools, the future of our nation is imperiled. Humanism states that man is God, hence comes the sayings, "If it feels good, do it" or, "Do your own thing."

Under Christian education, God is God, and man lives by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God. Education from a Christian perspective requires discipline under God's laws and God knows we need discipline in our schools today.

Today's schools meet the students' needs rather than teach and instruct. They promote the ideas such as no punishment and let the child unreservedly express himself. The old Biblical adage of "spare the rod and spoil the child" has been replaced by "don't spank the child, you might hurt his id," whatever that is.

The federal government and the state should be kicked out of the education business. LOCAL control of schools, textbooks and teacher requirements must be reestablished. A return to education in the classical American sense, necessarily Christian, is required. School funds should be totally local in nature. A free market in education is a must, where parents vote with their dollars to send their children to church, private or locally controlled public schools.

My mother taught school for several years in public schools but at that time they were Christian in nature. I served on a school board for 12 years, 10 of them as president of the board. I am a graduate of public schools — high school and college.

If we return education over to a humanistic government as Mr. Briscoe suggests we will do this country a terrible disservice. The question then will be, Who is Lord, Christ or Caesar? If the doors are locked on private Christian schools it will be a dark, dark day for America.

Sincerely yours,

In honor of grandparents

Dear Editor,

Grandparents Day on Sept. 11 will hopefully take its rightful place in the "days" we celebrate along with Labor Day, Mother's and Father's Day and others.

I would like to point to this day because we too often forget that many of our older citizens have served their time as fathers and mothers and now must spend their remaining time in nursing homes or cared for by others.

Here in Big Spring we have two nursing homes who care for the aged. I would like to commend them both for working at a very difficult and trying job. My mother is in the Mountain View Lodge and I am now aware of the trials of all the patients and staff there. Mr. Hendrix and his staff treat the oldsters with dignity.

Nannie Adkins, now in Mountain View Lodge, also was in the United Health Care facility. She is 98.

Son
ARCHIE J. ADKINS

Beginning with the title "private lessons," taken from an immoral movie, Briscoe epitomizes the ultimate in myopia and bigotry, which, I hope, does not reflect the American character.

In his gloating about a decrease in enrollment in private schools he seeks to hang the label of "enemy of America" on these schools by saying, "Private schools exist primarily for two reasons: to inculcate under the guise of education religious dogma in captive young minds or to offer affluent white parents the opportunity to keep their children from having to attend school with Blacks and Hispanics."

Certainly one of the primary purposes of the private schools and especially the Catholic school system is to provide an environment where parents are assured that their children will receive a total education, spiritual, moral as well as academic.

Obviously Mr. Briscoe's ignorance of the history of schooling in America prevents him from realizing that this was the primary purpose of what we call the public school today when it was first initiated, namely to ensure the teaching of Pilgrim morality and religion (Protestantism).

The Catholic school system began because Catholic children were discriminated against and ridiculed in the public system. It is a proven fact that over the past two centuries the parochial school system shines as a beacon of light when it comes to educating minorities and especially in the area of education.

Study after study shows that private schools have done an outstanding job in the area of education, and today we see students from private schools leading their counterparts by approximately 20 percentage points. This glaringly contradicts Briscoe's statement: "students at these institutions (private) are denied equal opportunity at an excellent public school education."

In the Catholic school system parents do not find a haven for escapism from integration nor do they enroll their children because they will receive an inferior education. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. All Mr. Briscoe has to do, if he could put aside his keyhole view of reality, is go to the colleges and do some research on the success rate of private school students versus those from the public school.

Mr. Briscoe says that: "private schools are undemocratic. They go against the American spirit." This is the most assinine (sic) statement I have ever heard an American make. Ever since I have been in this country I have heard America touted as "the land of the free and the home of the brave." I understand freedom to mean the exercise of one's ability to choose. It seems that he would deny this basic right when it comes to education.

Parents are the primary educators of their children, not the state or the government. As the primary educators they have the right to choose how they want them educated.

Mr. Briscoe ought to consult a dictionary as to the meaning of democracy. He says, "The legality of the private school should be challenged on Constitutional grounds for deteriorating the public welfare."

Well, for Briscoe's information it has been challenged in the case of Pierce versus the society of Sisters in 1925. In this case the Supreme Court of democratic America declared private schools to have legal status.

Private schools have been challenged on other grounds over the last 60 years but their challengers lost. The Constitution protects freedom of religion and prevents government from interfering on both a federal and state level. This is the beauty of the Constitution, it does not decide who or what God Americans are to believe in.

Briscoe says: "The Constitution enjoins us to educate our children free from religious and ideological parochialism." Mr. Briscoe's familiarity with the U.S. Constitution, the meaning of democracy, and the facts of history are a sad commentary on his education.

The Briscoes of this world become the Stalins, Hitlers, Andropovs, the great enemies of freedom, variety, and basic human rights. They set out to destroy God and in the process become god. I would strongly recommend that Briscoe take remedial classes in democracy and history in a private school. It will be news to him to find that the private school better reflects the American spirit than does the public school.

Hot check system working

Dear Editor,

This is my first letter ever to the paper but I felt I had to express my person opinion — and the opinion of several of my business friends.

For the first time since I have been working in Big Spring — and that is more than 40 years — we have a county office that is doing something for the merchants — not the deadbeats. Now someone is trying to get them stopped. At long last we have someone who tries to help the merchants who are stuck with bad checks — and they are doing a good job of it.

When the office was started, the laws were taken and it is legal. If a poll were taken of the merchants, at least 90 percent would say they are doing a good job. It may put more work on some of the offices in the courthouse — I don't know. But it is helping the merchants and their workers — and they are the people who eventually pay the salaries of the courthouse workers — not the people who give the hot checks.

Please put this in as my full support for the Hot Check Office and I believe the majority of Big Spring businesses will also support it.

County attorney is commended

Dear Editor,

In regard to the recent article in the Big Spring Herald pertaining to the hot check department of the Howard County Attorney's office, I would like to say that I have been in business in Big Spring for many years and until the institution of the Howard County Hot Check Department I had lost several thousand dollars in bad checks. Since the hot check department has been operating, I have not lost one dime.

I would like to go on record as supporting County Attorney Robert Miller and his staff because of the diligent efforts put forth in the prosecution of hot checks as well as other crimes in Howard County.

Report from Austin

By Rep. LARRY DON SHAW

Effects of session to be felt

Although the 68th Legislature adjourned May 30, most of you haven't felt the effect of our work — but this will soon change. Some 850 new state laws were approved during the session went on the books recently ranging from eliminating the blood test requirement in obtaining a marriage license to a major overhaul of the Public Utility Commission.

According to the state constitution, most bills passed by the Legislature became law on Aug. 29, or 90 days after the end of the regular session, while others were effective beginning Sept. 1, the start of the state's new two-year business period. Of the 1,134 bills we passed, however, a few became law immediately after the governor signed them and a few stragglers such as stricter penalties for drunken drivers won't be effective until Jan. 1, 1984.

Clearly, the most important measure among these new laws is the two-year $30.8 billion state spending plan. As of Sept. 1, more than 200 state agencies and departments began operating in the 1984-1985 biennium. As you probably know, this year the usual surplus of state revenue grew at a much smaller rate than the expected growth rate for state government, which forced us to do some belt-tightening on the budget. Although a number of promising new programs had to be put on the shelf until more money becomes available, the new spending plan will certainly maintain the present level of state services.

Despite this budget crunch, I was proud to have helped the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf (SWCID) in Big Spring secure $3.9 million in funds for the next two years. Incidentally, SWCID was the only institute of higher education to receive an increasing in funding over the Legislative Budget Board's original recommendation.

Several bills I authored or co-sponsored this session are now officially on the books. Continuing my efforts to assist the Vietnam veterans in Texas, I authored a successful bill which expands my Agent Orange legislation of last session. The new law provides a mechanism for a veteran believed to be exposed to Agent Orange and not treated by a physician or hospital to submit a report directly to the Department of Health and also creates an advisory committee to oversee implementation of the Texas Department of Health's Agent Orange program.

I co-sponsored a new law that will enable the Railroad Commission to impose fines up to $10,000 a day for pollution and safety violations in oil and gas drilling applications. The law also establishes a state well-plugging fund whose proceeds are earmarked for plugging abandoned wells around the country as well as for other costs associated with the prevention of pollution.

Thanks to another bill we passed, it will now be tougher for law-breakers to successfully plead insanity as a defense to violent crimes. The definition of insanity has been changed to eliminate the excuse that a criminal defendant was unable to obey the law; therefore, the defendant is left only with the defense he or she was unable to determine right from wrong.

A successful bill I co-sponsored makes it a misdemeanor offense to drink alcohol on the premises of a convenience or liquor store, and violators could face a fine up to $200.

On a local note, several of my bills that have become law recently include the creation of juvenile boards for Culberson, Hudspeth, and Ward counties as well as the 118th Judicial District composed of Howard, Glasscock and Martin counties. I also authored a bill to provide additional compensation for the judge of the 118th Judicial District who was one of the few district judges who did not receive some compensation from the county.

Of these numerous new laws, there are some major ones that you might find of interest. As I mentioned earlier, the Public Utility Commission was overhauled this session, setting up the new office of Public Counsel to represent individual and small ratepayers, requiring a review of construction in progress before it is included in billing fees, and eliminating the "automatic fuel adjustment clause" on bills.

Although complete deregulation of intrastate trucking was unsuccessful this session, a new law deregulates the transportation of certain agricultural commodities. Products being transported from farms and ranches to the point of first manufacture will be exempt from Railroad Commission regulation as long as the farmer, rancher or cooperative retains ownership of the commodities.

I helped pass the new "lemon law" which provides a procedure for consumers to receive a new auto or a refund for a defective car that was still under warranty or is in its first year of use. The consumer will be able to seek a hearing from the Texas Motor Vehicles Commission, which could order the manufacturer to pay the buyer for the "lemon" or replace it.

Some changes in family law you might find of interest include the garnishment of wages to pay child support (which must be approved by voters in November as well as a grandparents access law that grants visitation rights to grandparents of children whose parents have been sent to prison, had their parental rights terminated through divorce or have died.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department now has regulatory powers over all Texas counties in order to provide a comprehensive method of conserving ample supplies of wildlife on a statewide basis. This law should clear up county-to-county discrepancies and confusion.

These are just a sample of the many new laws which could affect you in the months ahead. If you have any questions concerning these laws or any others of interest to you, please feel free to call my toll-free number, 1-800-592-4731 or write: Representative Larry Don Shaw, P.O. Box 2910, Austin, TX 78769.

Test-tube twins born

HOUSTON (AP) — The third known set of "test-tube" twins born in the United States are "super-healthy and normal," a hospital spokesman says.

The boys, born Friday, were the first twins born through an in vitro fertilization program at the University of Texas Medical School at Houston, said spokesman David Moore.

The names of the parents and infants were not released, Moore said.

In vitro fertilization involves removing one or more eggs from a woman's ovaries, fertilizing the eggs in a glass laboratory dish with sperm from her husband and then transferring any resulting embryos to her uterus.

The UT program has had seven previous births in the past seven months and there are seven current pregnancies, Moore said.

Students demand schools reopen

By The Associated Press
Angry students marched in an Oregon town to demand the reopening of classrooms shut down when the schools ran out of money while thousands of teachers in St. Louis continued the largest of dozens of strikes affecting the nation's schools.

Although four districts in Michigan and New Jersey reached contract agreements with striking teachers, walkouts in six states kept more than 10,000 teachers and 205,000 students out of school on Friday.

In Lincoln County, Ore., however, 300 teachers and 5,000 students were sent home against their wishes just three days into the school year after the district ran out of money and voters refused to approve more funds.

Several hundred students took to the streets Friday in the coastal resort town of Newport, Ore., chanting "we want schools," to draw attention to their plight. "It's really frustrating," said Rod Losler, a 17-year-old senior at Newport High School. "We get hurt the most and we can do the least about it."

School officials announced the shutdown on Thursday, two days after voters rejected a property tax levy that would have provided about 70 percent of this year's education funds. Schools will remain closed at least until Sept. 20, when another tax vote will be held, but could remain shut indefinitely if funds are rejected again, officials said.

Goliad KASEY KELLY

Goliad Middle School is off to a great start. The volleyball team is looking forward to a winning season. The team members are Lori Anderson, Shana Brasel, Kathryn Burrow, Sharon Chatman, Dianna Fish, Veronica Gonzales, Carol Huckaby, Aretha Isaiiah, Gena Johnson, Lori James, Dacie Jones, Tara Jones, Erin Kelly, Sherry Kessler, Michelle Lovelace, Melissa Martinez, Leslie Musgrove, Rachel Paradez, Melanie Payne, Debbie Pulver, Cindy Phillips, Shawn Proffitt, Sally Rodriguez, Mary Reyes, Adella Ramirez, Angela Szabo, Tracey Schaffner, Karen Tubb, Colette White and Tammy Wise. The coaches are Miss Watson and Miss Newsom; they encourage everyone to join the volleyball team in Sweetwater for its first game on Sept. 12.

The first pep rally of the year was held Thursday in the gym. Mr. Mitchell proudly directed the spirited Maverick Band, and members of the football and volleyball team were introduced.

The seventh grade cheerleaders for the 1983-84 school year are Linda Rodriguez, Aretha Isaiiah, Alisha Fuentes, Gena Johnson, Kasandra Keyes, and Leslie Musgrove. The sponsors are Mr. Adams and Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Cox and her business classes have been studying the differences between people's wants and needs. They organized in groups and designed posters to illustrate these concepts. First place winners in the fifth period are Irene Jara, Cindy Mendez, Cindy Davilla, and Mary Reyes. The group winning first place in the sixth period and the grand prize Emma Bernea, Angie Szabo, and Delena Franco.

Political spotlight to shine on Texas

AUSTIN — Some Texans are interested in politics; some are not. The former should be much happier than the latter in 1984.

This nation's political spotlight will shine so brightly on Texas next year that even a Big Bend goat herder will have trouble ignoring it.

The most obvious example is the National Republican Convention in Dallas next August. Why would anyone, particularly high-class Republicans with a taste for summer trips to the mountains, want to be in Dallas, Texas, in August? There is only one possible answer: politics.

Each incumbent president basically picks the site of his party's next convention. The process officially involves a selection committee and visits to potential host cities, but that's all smoke. The GOP will be in Dallas because Ronald Reagan wanted it there.

It might be debatable whether he still wants it there. At the time the decision was made, Republican Bill Clements was governor of Texas and looked like a shoo-in for another four-year term. If that scenario had worked out, Clements would have proudly hosted the convention as the state's first GOP governor in a century, and in his own hometown. That would have created a good image for the GOP as an on-the-move, winning party in a politically critical state.

Right after Texas voters booted Clements from office last November, some Republicans questioned whether a Dallas convention wouldn't be a little embarrassing. But the decision already had been made. In a way, Clements' surprise defeat may have made a Dallas convention even more important for the Republicans.

With the exception of 1968, no candidate of either party in the last half century has won the presidency without also carrying Texas. Republicans know that; so do Democrats.

In 1984 we're going to see Reagan — barring some unexpected event that would prevent him from seeking re-election — finding many excuses for coming to Texas. His political advisers even hope to make some inroads with Hispanic voters, who normally vote heavily Democratic but who tend toward strong patriotic sentiments that might benefit a sitting president.

The candidates for the Democratic nomination — and whichever one of them comes out of the party's San Francisco convention in July as the standard-bearer — can't ignore Texas either.

Their attention may not be intensive or flashy at first. They will concentrate on capturing momentum in early primaries that allow states with relatively little real political strength to hold attract a lot of attention.

Texas, on the other hand, will select its national party delegates through a state convention process that won't officially begin until precinct conventions are held the night of the May 5, 1984, party primary elections. Under such circumstances, organization is almost everything. Candidates will come into the state to pep up the troops, but most of the work will be by staffs and volunteers in the party trenches, trying to convince supporters to attend precinct conventions.

If one candidate gets his handwagon rolling early and convincingly and becomes the virtual winner in the early primaries, Texas Democrats won't play a major role in the party's selection process. If, however, two or three candidates still are politically alive as May nears, Texans might provide the margin of victory to someone.

Once the fall campaign is under way, Texas will be considered a key state for each party.

By LILA ESTES

Q: This is a rather general question, but one I believe many would like to know the answer to before beginning a search for a home. What is the greatest mistake a prospective home buyer can make?

A: That's easy: Not asking questions. Consider the fact that a home will be the single largest investment most people will make in a lifetime. Entering a deal of this magnitude with the slightest doubt, misconception or misinformation can be disastrous. These doubts, misconceptions and bits of misinformation can be cleared up just by asking questions. That's a big percentage of your agent's job, answering those questions. When buying a home, there is no such thing as a small question. So, ask. Ask again. Ask about everything, and BE SURE.

M-A-S-H blood drive set

The second annual M-A-S-H 1490 Blood Drive, sponsored by KBST-AM radio station and the National Guard, will be conducted from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday at the Big Spring National Guard Armory.

The first M-A-S-H blood drive last October contributed 200 units of blood to United Blood Services in San Angelo. However, Big Spring citizens used 2,421 units of blood in 1982 while giving only 1,876 units.

During the blood drive, donors will be able to view weapons displays, an Army field ambulance and a Medivac helicopter, much of the military equipment seen on the television series. The Delta Company will drill at the Armory.

"THOSE CRAZY EPISCOPALIANS" are they a bunch of sinners?

Most emphatically, the answer is YES. Episcopalians not only believe in sin, they too often indulge in it. If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves. (1 John 1:8)

But Episcopalians also believe in the grace of God. His acceptance and forgiveness. Confession of sin and the declaration of God's forgiveness play a large part in the worship service.

The aim of the Episcopal Church, therefore, is to help ordinary people live a more-Christian life...and to assist them in finding God's loving forgiveness and inspiration.

Episcopalians have a pretty good rule-of-thumb on this subject: "Trespassers welcome!" Their minister is always happy to talk — or listen — without twisting your arm.

Taking challenges

Challenges are the spice of life. A bit cliched, yes. But for the athlete, both of the serious and weekend variety, challenges are what make sports fun.

Challenges take several forms and can involve one person or an entire group.

In the first category, an athlete's challenge may be a tougher workout, not getting psyched out by an opponent or playing with an injury. In the second group, a team may work toward cohesiveness or snapping a long losing streak.

This sports weekend thrice represented the idea of a challenge.

Friday night, the Garden City Bearkats were faced with a challenge. The Kats had not beaten neighboring Forsan in many years, some fans saying as far back as the Stone Age. Even though Forsan was projected to be down this fall with a promising but young lineup, Garden City had to overcome both tradition and a sluggish performance the week before against Buena Vista.

When the Buffaloes turned the ball over on downs with less than a minute to play, the Bearkats knew they had won the game. It was an example of a successful end to a team challenge. As any Garden City coach or player would tell you, it took a team effort to defeat Forsan.

And let's not forget Lamesa, which buried a nine-game losing streak with a 34-0 victory over Brownfield. Sure the Cubs are no Class 4-A powerhouse, but the way in which the Tornados won has to be a positive step for a program that has had its share of struggles in recent seasons.

Big Spring faced a team challenge against Estacado Thursday. Some of the challenges were met, others were not. Reviewing the game film, Steer coaches found that several individual challenges remain.

The team concept breaks down when one player fails to hold his link. The conclusion drawn was that Big Spring took the field physically ready to do war with the Matadors but had left the mental game in the locker room.

Mental toughness is an individual challenge. Mind over matter. In this case, strength and technique over speed and quickness. The Steers remain in a learning process; non-district games are meant for learning. Conclusion: Should the individual challenge of mental strength be fought and won, Big Spring will undoubtedly be a force to reckon with in district play.

In another example, the challenge of endurance was the theme of the Easterling Memorial Run in Coahoma Saturday morning.

The two winners, Quinn Smith of Lovington, N.M., and Kirk Thaxton of Abilene, were facing the challenge of rebuilding their running after setbacks earlier in the year.

Neither was recording times that qualified as personal bests, but the road back from injury or sickness sometimes is hard to travel.

For others, there was the challenge of racing for the first time, racing a particular distance for the first time or trying to set a personal record.

Those challenges are laced with pain and determination. When the wind gusts in your face, the sun reappears from behind the clouds, your side begins to ache, it's easy to give in to the enemy. The challenge is to put the goal above the discomfort.

The thrill of all these things is accomplishment. It doesn't have to be victory. That surge of energy that carries a runner to a full sprint after hours of running or the clear-thinking that calms the excitement of a football player within seconds of victory is what it's all about.

While sports is certainly something that is good for one's health and something that sharpens the edge of competition in a person, the satellite benefits are what make athletics universal in appeal.

Find yourself a challenge. Make sure it's high enough not to reach on the first jump. Make sure it takes hard work because when you finally get there, the sense of accomplishment is what makes games a sport.

Navratilova wins easily

NEW YORK (AP) — The dream came true Saturday for Martina Navratilova as she captured her first U.S. Open women's singles title with an easy 6-1, 6-3 victory over Chris Evert Lloyd at the National Tennis Center.

"You won't take the smile off my face for a long time," she said immediately after winning the only crown that had eluded her. "It's better than I expected."

U.S. Open

Appearing undecided whether to laugh or to cry, Navratilova screamed several times after she had won what she has on numerous occasions called her "most important goal."

"It's off my back," she said, referring to her failures in America's top tennis event until this year. In her only other trip to the final, in 1981, she fell in three sets to Tracy Austin. In contrast, Lloyd, who has won six times, suffered only her second loss in the final.

"She won it so many times," Navratilova told the crowd. "I'm glad she let me win it this year."

The victory was worth more than $620,000 for the

U.S. Open champion Martina Navratilova

Czechoslovakia-born left-hander who became a U.S. citizen two years ago. She received $120,000 for winning on the hardcourts here, and also collected $500,000 for winning three of the four tournaments that constitute the Playtex Challenge.

It also was her second consecutive Grand Slam title — she captured Wimbledon in July — and put her in line for another

$1 million bonus if she can win the next two Grand Slam events — the Australian Open and the French Open.

Steers had lapses say coaches

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

Thursday night, Big Spring High coaches were satisfied with the Steers' effort in a 21-14 non-district loss to Lubbock Estacado. But after reviewing game films, they are convinced Big Spring could have won the game.

Defensively, coach Mike Sharp thought his players were physically but not mentally prepared to take on the speedy Matadors. Offensively, coach Todd Spencer blamed poor field position and a tentative operation for the team's 37 total yards in the first half.

Remaining optimistic, both coaches think the Steers learned from the game and will put the experience to good use against Levelland this Friday night and in upcoming District 4-5A contests.

"We did a poor job of tackling," Sharp said. "We got to our responsibilities, but we didn't do anything when we got there. We just didn't break down and adjust to their speed."

The BSHS defensive coordinator said the defense had the difficult task of containing

Pressured Lendl faces cool Connors

Hot-handed Czech tops Arias, Connors mows down Scanlon

NEW YORK (AP) — There are two opposite forces working on Ivan Lendl as he approaches today's United States Open Tennis Championship match against Jimmy Connors.

On the one hand, the Wonderful has zoomed through this tournament without losing a single set. On the other hand, he is bending under the burden of never having won a Grand Slam event.

"There is going to be a first time tomorrow," Lendl noted after eliminating Jimmy Arias 6-2, 7-6, 6-1. "I either win a Grand Slam (event) tomorrow or I lose a set. One of those two is going to happen."

Both of them might. He could certainly lose a set to Connors, who beat him for this title last year. And he also still could win the title. Lendl has been the most dominant player in the men's side of the tournament. "I am playing well," he said, "and you always have a chance when you are playing well."

But the Czech star knows it won't be easy, not against Connors, who will be seeking a landmark 100th career singles title.

"He is going to be hitting the ball very hard and fighting hard and so will I," said Lendl, who came into the tournament seeded No. 2.

Connors suffered a sprained little toe on his right foot during his 6-2, 6-3, 6-2 semifinal victory over Bill Scanlon Saturday, but said of the injury, "It's nothing."

He took a post-match ice treatment for the injury. Lendl said his strategy

CHAMPION JIMMY CONNORS ...quietly gains the finals

UNBEATEN IVAN LENDL ...eyes first Grand Slam win against Connors Sunday would be the same as it was last year when Connors beat him 6-3, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 for the Open crown. "I will hit the ball hard and try not to miss too much."

Connors knows what to expect. "He's hitting his forehand big and serving well," the defending champion said. "What can you do? Try to counteract it. Hit the ball firm and solid to either side. Not let him jump in on the ball."

Connors understands the pressure Lendl feels to win a major tournament. "I know how I felt until I won my first," he said. "They say you're not great until you win the Open. Well, if the sun rises and sets only on guys who've won the Open, a lot of guys wouldn't have a tan."

Connors is pleased with his game going into the final. "I'm playing very well," he said. "I served very well. I'm hitting the ball as firm and solid as ever."

Easterling Run

Winners hurdle summer setbacks

COAHOMA — For Quinn Smith and Kirk Thaxton, Saturday's triumph was another encouraging step forward on the road of recovery.

Smith, rebounding from recent foot surgery, sped to a course record 9:56.0 in the men's two-mile event and an overall title while Thaxton, coming back from a late spring bout with mononucleosis, covered the nine-mile layout in 52:22.0 for the day's top time.

A total of 90 runners participated in the 3rd Annual Bill Easterling Memorial Run which trekked through and beyond the city limits of Coahoma. Race organizer Sherill Easterling was pleased with the record turnout for an event designated the West Texas Running Club's September run.

Smith, a former track athlete at Eastern New Mexico University, specializes in the 10-kilometer but chose the two-mile Saturday to work on his foot speed. "It was a real solid workout for me," he said, adding that he's in training for Austin's Capitol 10,000 next year, a race he finished 12th overall in 1983.

Smith covered the first mile in 4:51.0, a fast start for the New Mexican, but finished strong. "I was a little too enthusiastic, I guess," he grinned.

Thaxton is another recent college grad, having run track at Abilene Christian University last spring. The Key City accountant said he "felt great," having no problems with the rolling hills that marked the nine-mile course.

Like Smith, he's also working towards an upcoming race — the White Rock

Marathon — and a time of 2:30.0 for that well-known 26.2 mile run in Dallas.

Easterling won the women's division of the race with a 1:02.14 while a trio of Colorado City runners swept the men's 30-39 division. Apolinar Molina ran a 55:41 for first and was followed across the finish line by Ed Levesque and Clay Strange.

Big Spring city councilman Bob Fuller won the 40-49 age division with a 59:46.0.

In the two-mile, Mary Beth Tollison of Stanton recorded a 13:28.0 to win the women's 24 and under division.

Methodist preacher Keith Wiseman of Big Spring took top honors in the 40 and over group with a 12:57 while Dennis Smiley, also of Big Spring, ran a 12:26 for first in the 30-39 division.

Former Big Spring High standout Karl Wolfe was the runner-up behind Smith in the open division and had the second best time of the morning with a 10:33.0.

Here are the complete results from Saturday's run.

No. 1 Nebraska 56, Wyoming 20

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — I-back Mike Rozier scored four touchdowns and set a career rushing record as No. 1 Nebraska extended the nation's longest win streak with a 56-20 victory over Wyoming in a college football game Saturday. Nebraska has now won 12 in a row.

Rozier, who rushed for 191 yards on 19 carries, has 2,894 career yards, breaking I.M. Hipp's career total of 2,814.

Wyoming, 1-1, did not enter Nebraska territory until the second quarter and scored on Rick Donnelly's field goal from the 25.

Rozier, who saw limited action in the second period, had 116 yards in the first half and touchdowns of 4 and 12 yards. He also scored on runs of 5 and 27 yards in the second half.

No. 2 Oklahoma 27, Stanford 14

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Freshman tailback Earl Johnson ran for two Oklahoma touchdowns while filling in for starter Marcus Dupree and led the second-ranked Sooners to a 27-14, season-opening victory over Stanford Saturday.

Dupree rushed for 138 yards Saturday, with one breakaway dash of 40 yards. But he got only 31 net yards in the first half, when he was thrown for 17 yards in losses and fumbled once to set up a Stanford touchdown.

No. 4 Auburn 24, So. Miss 3

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Bo Jackson scored a pair of touchdowns and Lionel James rushed for 172 yards on 16 carries to give No. 4 Auburn a 24-3 college football victory over Southern Mississippi Saturday.

Jackson scored on a 10-yard run and on a 44-yard pass play from quarterback Randy Campbell, running the last 34 yards after the catch.

Al Del Greco added a 41-yard field goal and three extra points to cement the Auburn victory.

No. 5 Notre Dame 52, Purdue 6

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Tailback Greg Bell ran for three touchdowns and caught one of quarterback Blair Kiel's two scoring passes Saturday as No. 5-ranked Notre Dame crushed Purdue 52-6 in their season-opening college football game.

Bell staked the Irish to the lead on their first possession with a 9-yard touchdown reception from Kiel.

No. 7 Ohio St. 31, Oregon 6

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Mike Tomczak completed 21 of 25 passes for a career-high 273 yards and four touchdowns Saturday, leading No. 7 Ohio State to a 31-6 college football victory over Oregon.

Oregon, 0-2, made a game of it for the first half, trailing 10-6 at halftime.

But Tomczak took command in the third quarter. He completed pass plays of 41 and 21 yards to flanker Cedric Anderson and 5 yards to tailback Kelvin Lindsey for touchdowns that gave Ohio State its 31-6 lead.

No. 8 North Carolina 24, Memphis St. 10

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Walter Black returned a punt 73 yards for a touchdown and tailback Ethan Horton rushed for 137 yards and two touchdowns as eighth-ranked North Carolina defeated Memphis State 24-10 Saturday in college football.

Black's return helped North Carolina break away from a 10-10 halftime tie and raise its record to 2-0.

sion attempt cost ninth-ranked Southern Cal the victory Saturday as the Trojans tied No. 18 Florida 19-19.

The Trojans marched 80 yards in the final 46 seconds. Salisbury threw an incompletion on what appeared to be the final play of the game, but it was nullified because of a penalty against the Gators for having too many men on the field.

That gave Southern Cal one more chance. But after Salisbury hit Ware for the tying score, the Trojans muffed the PAT snap and the game ended as holder Tim Green threw a desperation pass that fell incomplete.

No. 10 Michigan 20, Washington St. 17

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Michigan quarterback Dave Hall ran 4 yards for a touchdown in the final quarter to help the No. 6-ranked Wolverines beat Washington State 20-17 in college football Saturday.

Hall's touchdown run, at the 6:10 mark, capped a 75-yard scoring drive in seven plays. Todd Schlopy's conversion attempt failed.

No. 12 Florida St. 40, No. 13 LSU 35

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Kelly Lowrey ran for three touchdowns and passed for two more, and tailback Greg Allen scampered for 201 yards Saturday to rally No. 12 Florida State to a 40-35 college football victory over 13th-ranked Louisiana State.

Florida State, 2-0, trailed 14-0 but put three touchdowns on the scoreboard in a little over five minutes late in the first half and early in the third quarter.

A record crowd of 79,665 — plus a nationwide television audience — watched Florida State avenge last year's 55-21 loss to LSU. Saturday's loss also spoiled LSU's 1983 season opener.

Alabama 20, Georgia Tech 7

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. (AP) — The Ray Perkins era began with a victory.

Fourteenth-ranked Alabama scored a quick touchdown Saturday after an early Georgia Tech turnover and went on to defeat the Yellow Jackets 20-7 in Perkins' debut as successor to the late Paul "Bear" Bryant, the winningest coach in college football history.

Cincinnati 14, No. 20 Penn St. 3

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Quarterback Troy Bodine led Cincinnati to two touchdowns after a pair of second-quarter fumble recoveries as the Bearcats upset 20th-ranked Penn State 14-3 Saturday in college football.

The upset, following a 44-6 defeat by Nebraska Aug. 29, represented the first time Joe Paterno had lost his first two games of a season since he became Penn State head coach 17 years ago.

Oklahoma St. gets past North Texas

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Rusty Hilger hit Jamie Harris with a 28-yard pass for one touchdown and reserve tailback Shawn Jones raced 46 yards for another on Saturday, leading Oklahoma State to a 20-13 intersectional football victory over North Texas State.

Hilger, a 6-4 junior who led the Cowboys to the Independence Bowl in 1981 before sitting out last season with a separated shoulder, used his strong passing arm to overcome an otherwise sluggish offensive performance in the Cowboys' error-plagued home opener.

W. Michigan 21, UTA 14

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Tailback Shawn Faulkner scored two touchdowns and gained 170 yards to lead Western Michigan past Texas-Arlington 21-14 Saturday night in the first game for both teams.

Faulkner scored on runs of 1 and 6 yards and quarterback Steve Hoffman threw a 5-yard touchdown pass to Kelly Spielmaker for the Broncos' other score.

Scotty Caldwell, who gained 136 yards, broke for two long runs of 54 and 63 yards, with the second one going for a touchdown. Quarterback Ned Frederick got the Mavericks' first touchdown on a 21-yard run.

Idaho St. 12, UTEP

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Safety John Berry returned a fumble 67 yards for a touchdown and Jeff Kaiser kicked a pair of field goals to lead Idaho State to a 12-10 victory over Texas-El Paso in a non-conference college football game Saturday night.

The victory gave Jim Koetter a successful debut as the Bengal's head coach.

Western NM 35, McMurry 14

SILVER CITY, N.M. (AP) — Joe Kirven scored on a 59-yard run and Carey Starnes booted three field goals to lead Western New Mexico University to a 35-14 victory over McMurry College Saturday.

McMurry's touchdowns both came off the arm of quarterback Clyde McKenzie. McKenzie teamed up with Bob Campbell on a 33-yard scoring pass in the second quarter and with Travis Churchman on a 27-yard TD aerial in the fourth quarter.

ACU 28, West Texas 3

CANYON, Texas (AP) — Fullback Rod Mathis made a 77-yard touchdown scamper and ran to score again as Abilene Christian University tallied an easy 28-3 victory over West Texas State University here Saturday night.

Nationally ranked NCAA division II Abilene rolled up 21 first-half points. Then ACU closed the door with Mathis' long dash with 9:16 remaining in the fourth quarter.

Texas Lutheran 27, Austin College 0

SEGUIN, Texas (AP) — Senior quarterback Mike Cantu scored two rushing touchdowns and passed for a third as Texas Lutheran defeated Austin College 27-0 in the season opener for both teams Saturday night.

Cantu completed nine of 14 passes for the evening with 141 yards.

TCU ties Kansas; Baylor wins

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Placekicker Ken Ozee booted three field goals including a line-drive 35-yarder with a second left Saturday night to give Texas Christian a 16-16 collegiate intersectional tie with the Kansas Jayhawks on Horned Frog coach Jim Wacker's debut.

Kansas placekicker Bruce Kallmeyer also kicked three field goals including a 35-yarder with 70 seconds to play for a 16-13 lead.

Linebacker Elvis Patterson recovered quarterback Anthony Sciaraffa's fumble at the Kansas 26 and the underdog Jayhawks scored 13 plays later.

However, Sciaraffa atoned for the bobble by taking TCU 62 yards in 11 plays to position the Frogs for the tying kick.

Baylor 40, BYU 36

WACO, Texas (AP) — Senior tailback Alfred Anderson leaped for two short-yardage touchdowns, including the winning score with 49 seconds remaining, and sophomore quarterback Tom Muecke threw two long touchdown passes in the third quarter Saturday night as Baylor defeated Brigham Young 40-36.

Anderson, the deep back in Baylor's I-formation, gained a career high 144 yards on 25 carries. He leaped over the goal from the 1 in the third quarter and scored his 28th career touchdown — a Baylor record — from the 2 in the final minute.

The winning Baylor drive started at its 25 with 3:21 left to play. After the Bears advanced to the BYU 13, the 214-pound Anderson carried four straight times for the touchdown.

BYU's sensational senior quarterback Steve Young then took the Cougars downfield to the Baylor 30 in the final seconds. But a fourth-down pass into the end zone fell short of receiver Glen Kazlowski as time expired.

Young finished with 464 yards total offense, passing for 351 yards and running for 113. He ran for one touchdown and passed for another and also connected on two 2-point conversion attempts.

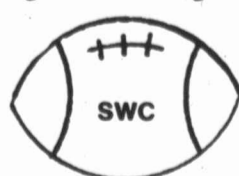

DIDN'T WIN, DIDN'T LOSE — TCU Horned Frog head coach Jim Wacker made his debut last night and watched his team tie Kansas 16-16.

SMU 20, Grambling 13

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Darin Mitchell, a sophomore special teams player, made two key defensive plays in the fourth quarter Saturday night to help No. 15 Southern Methodist secure a 20-13 college football victory over ambitious Grambling State.

Mitchell recovered a blocked punt for a touchdown with 10:22 remaining to give the Mustangs a 17-6 lead.

With 2:36 to play, Mitchell recovered a fumbled punt return by Grambling's Dwayne Jupiter at the Tigers' 10-yard-line. That set up SMU's final score — a 25-yard field goal by Jeff Harrell with 55 seconds remaining.

Arkansas 17, Tulsa 14

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Sophomore cornerback Greg Gat-

son made two big pass interceptions and quarterback Brad Taylor set up two touchdowns with pass completions on the run as Arkansas held on to defeat Tulsa 17-14 Saturday.

Tulsa had a chance to tie but Jason Staurovsky's 43-yard field goal attempt into the wind was wide to the left and short. The kick came as time ran out.

Air Force 28, Tech 13

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AP) — Quarterback Marty Louthan, passing effectively to open up his team's wishbone ground attack, ran for three touchdowns in leading Air Force over Texas Tech 28-13 Saturday in a regionally televised college football game.

Louthan completed nine of 15 passes for 158 yards and rushed 14 times for 65 yards, scoring on a 1-yard run in the first quarter, a 38-yard scamper in the third quarter and a 21-yard jaunt in the final period.

Miami 29, Houston 7

HOUSTON (AP) — Miami's Jeff Davis kicked three field goals and freshman quarterback Bernie Kosar riddled Houston's secondary with two touchdown passes as the Hurricane took advantage of five turnovers by Cougar quarterback Lionel Wilson en route to a 29-7 college football victory Saturday night.

Wilson tossed four interceptions and fumbled once, setting up 10 Hurricane points.

Houston, which lost to the Hurricane for the fourth straight time, took an early 7-0 lead on Wilson's one-yard run but Davis booted field goals of 21, 27 and 32 yards to give the Hurricane a 9-7 halftime lead.

Minnesota 21, Rice 17

HOUSTON (AP) — Senior tailback Alan Reid scored on a 20-yard run with 5:37 left in the game Saturday night, capping a 97-yard drive to give Minnesota a 21-17 victory over Rice in a contest between two non-conference college football teams with long losing streaks.

O's sweep by Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Mike Boddicker allowed six hits over seven innings, leading the Baltimore Orioles to a 3-1 victory over the New York Yankees and a sweep of their two-night doubleheader Saturday.

The sweep, before 55,605 fans — the largest regular season crowd at Yankee Stadium since it was modernized in 1976 — gave the Orioles a six-game lead over the Yankees in the American League East. Detroit, which beat Milwaukee 4-0, moved into second place in the division a half-game ahead of New York.

Baltimore won the opener 8-4 when Joe Nolan's pinch single snapped a 2-2 tie in the ninth and the Orioles went to score six runs, helped by pinch-hitter John Lowenstein's grand slam off reliever Rich Gossage.

Boddicker, 13-7, struck out five and walked none in his stint in the nightcap. Reliever Tippy Martinez pitched the final two innings for his 16th save. The loser was Rudy May, 1-5.

Shane Rawley, 14-12, lost the opener. Sammy Stewart, 7-3, got the win.

Indians 8, Red Sox 6

CLEVELAND (AP) — Toby Harrah drove in three runs with a home run and single and reliever Richard Barnes gained his first major league victory as the Cleveland Indians topped the Boston Red Sox 8-6 Saturday.

Barnes, 1-0, yielded one run on six hits over the last 6 2-3 innings in relief of starter Rick Sutcliffe. Bud Anderson got the last out for his seventh save.

Boston took a 2-0 lead in the first on Jim Rice's 35th home run, but Cleveland tied the game in their half as Harrah led off with his eighth homer and Gorman Thomas later hit a sacrifice fly.

Rice's sacrifice fly and a two-run homer by Carl Yastrzemski gave Boston a 5-2 lead in the third. It was Yastrzemski's 10th homer and the 452nd of his career.

But the Indians scored four runs in the bottom of the half. Pat Tabler had a two-run homer, his fifth, then Harrah lined a bases-loaded single for two more.

Yastrzemski's double in the fourth tied the game, but the Indians drew ahead in the sixth and scored an insurance run in the eighth.

Twins 6, Royals 3

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Rookie Tim Lincecum had three hits Saturday, Gary Ward went 4 for 4 and Tim Lincecum crashed his fifth home run to lead the Minnesota Twins to a 6-3 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

American League

Pete Filson won his second game in three decisions for the Royals but left after being touched for two runs in the seventh. Mike Walters and Ron Davis finished up, with Davis picking up his 27th save.

The Twins took a 1-0 lead in the first on Mickey Hatcher's RBI single.

Frank White's RBI double in the made it 1-1 in the top of the third, but Teufel led off the bottom of the inning with a single and eventually scored on Kent Hrbek's sacrifice fly.

Laudner's home run increased the Twins' lead to 3-1 in the fourth and Hatcher's second RBI single, off loser Eric Rasmussen, 2-5, in the fifth made it 4-1.

After the Royals closed to 4-3 with two seventh-inning runs, the Twins put the game away with Ward's two-run single in the eighth.

Tigers 4, Brewers 0

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Juan Berenguer fired his first major-league shutout with a four-hitter and Chet Lemon knocked in two runs with a homer and a sacrifice fly as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Milwaukee Brewers 4-0 in a rain-delayed contest Saturday night.

Berenguer, 8-4, in going the distance for only the second time this season, allowed only four singles to become only the third pitcher to shut out the Brewers this season. He walked four and struck out four, and got out of his only major threat by striking out Mark Brouhard with the bases loaded in the fifth inning.

Lemon hit his 23d homer in the second off Milwaukee starter and loser Tom Candiotti, handing him his first major-league loss after four consecutive victories as a starter. Candiotti entered the game with an ERA of 0.76, having given up just three earned runs in 35 2-3 innings.

Milwaukee, in losing its second straight game to Detroit, fell further behind Baltimore and dropped into fourth-place behind the Tigers in the American League East.

Mariners 4, Rangers 2

SEATTLE (AP) — Pat Putnam's two-run homer with two out in the eighth inning gave the Seattle Mariners a 4-2 victory over the Texas Rangers Saturday night.

With two outs, Ron Roenicke singled for the Mariners' first hit off the Rangers' Danny Darwin, 7-12, since the second inning. Putnam then drilled his 18th homer on a 1-1 pitch into the right field seats.

Seattle left-hander Bryan Clark, 7-7, scattered four hits, including three by Buddy Bell. Clark walked three and struck out three.

Darwin walked four and struck out three, allowing only five hits in defeat.

Pirates 6, Phillies 5

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pinch-runner Doug Frobel scored from first base on Milt May's line-single and a two-base throwing error by center fielder Garry Maddox in the 10th as the Pittsburgh Pirates twice rallied to defeat Philadelphia 6-5 Saturday night.

The loss, coupled with the Montreal Expos' victory, knocks the Phillies out of first place in the National League East.

Gene Tenace led off the Pirates' 10th with a walk off loser Al Holland, 8-4, but was then forced at second on Brian Harper's unsuccessful bunt attempt. Frobel then ran for Harper and streaked toward third when May lined his single into center. Maddox appeared to have a chance of throwing out Frobel at third but the throw skidded away from Mike Schmidt and bounced into the box seats, allowing Frobel to score.

Kent Tekulve, 7-4, worked the final two innings for the victory. The Pirates trailed 3-0 and later by 5-3 before twice coming back.

Braves 6, Dodgers 3

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dale Murphy drove in the first of three Atlanta runs in the 10th inning Saturday night as the Braves beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3 and cut their lead in the National League West division to two games.

With one out in the 10th, Brett Butler drew a walk off losing reliever Joe Beckwith, 1-3, and Jerry Royster promptly singled him to third. Pat Zachry came in to pitch to Murphy, the NL's RBI leader, who knocked in his 105th of the season when shortstop Bill Russell bobbled his hard grounder. Butler scored and all runners were safe.

After Bob Watson hit into a fielder's choice, pinch-hitter Chris Chambliss and Rafael Ramirez singled home a run apiece.

The victory went to reliever Steve Bedrosian, 9-8, with Gene Garber finishing up.

Newcomer lifts Astros

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rookie right-hander Jeff Heathcock, making his second major-league appearance pitched 7 1-3 innings of one-hit relief Saturday as the Houston Astros downed the San Francisco Giants 5-3 Saturday.

Heathcock, who was 10-3 with Tucson of the Pacific Coast League, picked up his first major league victory.

He replaced starter Bob Knepper in the second inning with two on and two outs and two runs home on rookie Chris Smith's two-run double and retired retired the first eight batters he faced.

He didn't allow a hit until Joel Youngblood beat out an infield single with two out in the sixth. The only run he allowed came in the eighth on a walk to Dan Gladden, who stole second and came all the way around when catcher John Mizerock's throw sailed into centerfield.

The Astros jumped to a 3-0 lead in the second inning off starter Fred Breining, 9-12. Jerry Mumphy had a two-run double and Knepper a sacrifice fly to drive home the runs.

Dickie Thon led off the third with his 19th homer for Houston. The Astros added their final run in the fifth when Jose Cruz singled, stole second and scored on Ray Knight's single.

Cubs 8, Cardinals 5

CHICAGO (AP) — Mel Hall hit two homers Saturday, including a two-run tie-breaker in the seventh inning, to pace the Chicago Cubs to a come-from-behind 8-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hall's second homer scored Bill Buckner, who had singled, and snapped a 5-5 tie. Hall, who has 16 homers for the season, had four hits, scored three runs, and drove in four.

Chicago opened the scoring in the first inning when Hall doubled home Ryne Sandberg. But the Cards scored one in the second on a solo homer by Ken Oberkfell, his third. And they got three more in the third on a homer by Mike Ramsey, his first of the season, and RBI doubles by Willie McGee and George Hendrick.

Hall's first homer made it 4-2 in the third, but the Cards extended the lead to 5-2 in the fifth.

The Cubs tied it in the sixth. One run scored on Ron Cey's fielder's choice, then Thad Bosley had a pinch-hit single that tied it.

The losing pitcher was Jeff Lahti, 3-2, while Bill Campbell picked up the win in relief to make his record 5-8. Lee Smith got his 25th save.

National League

Expos 10, Mets 9

MONTREAL (AP) — Tim Wallach drilled a one-out home run in the ninth inning off relief ace Jesse Orosco, giving the Montreal Expos a 10-9 victory over the New York Mets Saturday night.

Wallach's homer, his 19th, dropped Orosco's record to 13-6. It enabled the Expos to recover after blowing a 7-1 lead and letting the Mets eventually tie the game 9-9 in the ninth.

The Mets had tied it in the top of the ninth on a two-out, two-run double by Hubie Brooks off reliever Jeff Reardon, 6-8.

Montreal catcher Gary Carter delivered a grand slam in the bottom of the first to erase a 1-0 New York lead. Mookie Wilson had opened the game with his sixth homer of the year in the top of the inning.

Andre Dawson's 30th homer came in the Montreal second after Manny Trillo had doubled. In the fourth, the Expos made it 7-1 on Carter's second homer, his 17th of the season.

The Mets roughed up starter Bill Gullickson for four runs in the fifth. In the bottom of the inning, rookie Mike Fuentes singled for his first major-league hit and scored on Tim Raines' ninth homer.

SEMINOLE — Big Spring High split two games at a weekend volleyball tournament here, bowing out of play with Saturday's loss to Fort Stockton.

Previous winners of Monahans and San Angelo, Fort Stockton needed three games to eliminate Big Spring 10-15, 15-10, 15-7. Tris Clemons had 10, Monette Wise 7 and Paula Spears 6 service points in the match for BSHS.

"That first game was our best game of the year," coach Susan Sharp said. "We had our best teamwork, movement...everything went right. Monette just played a terrific game."

Big Spring had 29 good serves that didn't score Sharp said. "That hurt. They're the shortest team we've face but they dinked us to death."

Friday, the Lady Steers opened tourney play with a 15-8, 15-9 win over Alpine. BSHS missed only five serves in the match as Spears and Debbie Donelson had 6 points each. Sharp said setter Beverly Tubbs, a new addition to the starting lineup, had her best outing of the season.

Freshman Jesse Bridges, running on the varsity level, sped to an 18:38.0 to break the school record in the three-mile event.

Overall, Big Spring finished ninth among 12 girl's varsity schools while the boys were 12th in 16 team field. Lovington, N.M., won the girl's division while San Angelo claimed the boy's title.

Dawson was the junior varsity girl's champ with Big Spring seventh among eight teams. The Boy's Ranch took top honors among JV boy's teams with Big Spring taking fifth in the 11-team lineup. Angela Barber ran a 15:16.0 to headline the BSHS girl's junior varsity team, finishing 19th among 80 runners. Larry Rodriguez covered three miles in 18:21.0 to take 9th place in an 83-member boy's JV race.

Big Spring runs in Brownfield next Saturday.

NFL Report Do Seahawks have Jets' number?

Steelers visit Packers, 'Skins try for first win

By The Associated Press
 Jim Zorn and the Seattle Seahawks seem to bring out the worst in the New York Jets.
 The Jets, impressive 41-29 victors over the San Diego Chargers in their National Football League opener last week, hope to snap a six-game regular-season losing streak against the Seahawks this Sunday in New York.
 "We're going into this game with a very positive attitude," said Jets' defensive end Mark Gastineau. "If we turn this series around, maybe it'll show we're ready to play this season. It will be a very positive thing for us to know that we can beat them."
 New York contained San Diego star quarterback Dan Fouts as well as anyone can expect, but Zorn's scrambling style contrasts with Fouts drop-back style.
 "When he's hot, he can beat anyone on any given day," said Gastineau, referring to Zorn.
 Last week wasn't one of Zorn's hotter efforts as Seattle dropped a 17-13 decision to Kansas City. However, the Jets have a way of improving Zorn's statistics.

The Pittsburgh Steelers gave the Denver's John Elway a rude introduction into the NFL last week, knocking the rookie quarterback out of the game with an injured right elbow in a game the Broncos won 14-10.
 The Baltimore Colts would like to be just as rude to Elway, who spurned them after they made him their No. 1 draft selection earlier this year, forcing the trade to Denver.
 Colts' owner Robert Irsay has labeled the game a must win for Baltimore, which edged New England 29-23 last week, although the players are taking a more moderate approach.
 "I have no hard feeling against him (Elway)," said linebacker Johnnie Cooks. "If he doesn't want to play with us, that's his problem."
 Elsewhere in the NFL today, it's Pittsburgh at Green Bay, Tampa Bay at Chicago, New England at Miami, Washington at Philadelphia, Buffalo at Cincinnati, Cleveland at Detroit, the New York Giants at Atlanta, Houston at the Los Angeles Raiders and New Orleans at the Los Angeles Rams.
 The Kansas City Chiefs entertain the San Diego Chargers on Monday night.
 The San Francisco 49ers crushed the Minnesota Vikings 49-17 on Thursday night.
 New England attempts to snap a 17-year, 15-game losing streak at the Orange Bowl when they face the Miami Dolphins.
 "A lot has been said of the fact that the Patriots haven't beaten the Dolphins in the Orange Bowl since 1966," said New England Coach Ron Meyer. "As a team we can't let a statistic like that interfere with the

HEY, IT'S PARTY TIME — Dallas Cowboy Dennis Thurman gets a victory hug from teammate Ron Fellers after the Cowboys' come-from-behind win over the Washington Redskins Monday night. Down 23-0 at half-time, Dallas rallied for a 31-30 win over the Super Bowl champs. Today, the Cowboys face the Cardinals in St. Louis.

 fact that we have to play sound and mistake free against an always well-coached team."
 The St. Louis Cardinals hope to derail the Cowboys on Sunday with veteran Jim Hart at quarterback instead of the injured Neil Lomax.
 "The Cowboys are a good team, but their not infallible," said Hart. "They're not a bunch of giants who can't be felled."
 The Bengals-Bills and Bears-Buccaneers games match teams that dropped season openers last weekend.
 The Bills and Bengals both will be looking to generate a little more offense this week. The Bills were blanked by Miami 12-0 last week, only the 23rd shutout in the club's history, while Cincinnati was downed 20-10 by the Raiders, scoring a meaningless touchdown in the closing moments.
 Tampa Bay is another team that was blanked in its opener, dropping a 11-0 decision to Detroit. But Bears Coach Mike Ditka still is wary of the Bucs.
 "I don't care what happened against Detroit," said Ditka. "The Lions didn't get into the end zone and Tampa Bay still has one of the best defensive teams in the league."
 Defense is what the Steelers always have been noted for, but the Green Bay Packers offense will see some new faces in the Steelers lineup. Pittsburgh, 0-1, has only three healthy defensive linemen for the game because of injuries to ends John Goodman and Gabriel Rivera, and nose tackle Gary Dunn.

 "The bad thing is that we've gotten used to bringing guys in and out of the lineup and now we're going to ask them to play the whole game, and it's supposed to be hot," said Steelers assistant coach Woody Widenhofer.
 The Saints play the Rams and may be without the services quarterback Ken Stabler, who suffered a knee injury in last week's 28-17 win over St. Louis.
 Stabler threw lightly in practice on Thursday, but Coach Bum Phillips is concerned that Stabler's knee might swell.
 "It's adios for a week if it does," said Phillips, adding backup Dave Wilson would start if Stabler was unable to play. Wilson played most of last week's game against St. Louis.
 The Giants, stunned by the Rams last week, travel to Atlanta as Bill Parcells seeks his first coaching victory as New York's head coach.
 The defending Super Bowl champion Washington Redskins go for their first win of the season against the Eagles, who say Ron Jaworski will quarterback.
 Jaworski was injured and unable to play in the second half of the Eagles 22-17 win over San Francisco last week. Joe Pisarcik finished up and led the Eagles to victory.

Earl-less Houston battle LA Raiders

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A couple of days before the National Football League season began, defensive end Lyle Alzado of the Los Angeles Raiders predicted that his team's defense would be even better this year than it was last year.
 If the first game of the season is any indication, Alzado might be right.
 "I don't think the Raiders had any problems," said Alzado last week, referring to a lackluster 1-3 record in the preseason. "We don't look at it as if it means something. It's a tuneup."
 "I think we're going to be better defensively this year. And we were pretty good last year."
 That they were. The defense had a lot to do with the Raiders' 8-1 record during the strike-interrupted campaign.
 Alzado's comments proved accurate, at least for the opener, as the Raiders went to Cincinnati and whipped the Bengals 20-10. Cincinnati's only touchdown was meaningless, coming in the closing minutes. All it did was make the final score somewhat respectable.
 The Houston Oilers provide the next test for the Los Angeles defense. The teams meet Sunday at the Los Angeles Coliseum in the Raiders' home opener.
 Kickoff time is 1 p.m., PDT. According to a spokesman for the Raiders, a crowd of only 40,000 is expected.
 While the Oilers have lost their last eight regular-season games, they have the potential to test the Los Angeles defense, as evidenced by their 4X3-yard total offense effort and 38-point output last Sunday.
 However, the Houston defense was as inept as the offense was potent, allowing the Green Bay Packers 41 points in a disappointing overtime loss.
 "The Oilers are improved tremendously on offense," said Coach Tom Flores of the Raiders. "When you complement a great running back like Earl Campbell with a passing game, that makes you that much more effective."
 Campbell and quarterback Archie Manning combined to produce 471 yards against the Packers, Campbell rushing for 123 yards on 27 carries and Manning completing 22 of 34 throws for 348 yards.
 Campbell, however, won't be able to complement the passing attack Sunday. Campbell suffered a sprained knee in the Green Bay game and it was decided not to play him because he had not responded to treatment.
 "We're striving for improvement each week," said Houston Coach Ed Biles. "We've got 13 rookies, so what we're trying to do is eliminate mistakes."
 Speaking of his team's overtime loss to the Packers, Biles said: "It can give us confidence, at least on one side of the ball, but it can also give our defense something to think about when you're giving up that many points."
 The Raiders are favored by 10 points over the Oilers, who haven't won since last Sept. 19, the second weekend of the shortened 1982 campaign.

Ex-Cowboys help Cards' preparation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two defensive players cast aside by the Dallas Cowboys hope to deliver calling cards to their old teammates during a National Football League contest Sunday.
 Linebacker Jim Eliopoulos and defensive back Monty Hunter were victims of Dallas roster cuts coming out of summer camp. The 1982 draft choices have hooked on with St. Louis Cardinals and are looking forward to an early reunion.
 "I'd still like it if we won — twice," said Hunter, who a year ago was nicknamed "Big Game" by the Cowboys, an arch-rival of St. Louis in the National Conference East.
 "I miss those guys. They were really good people and really took care of me," said Eliopoulos, who a year ago spent the season on injured reserve. "I don't think I'll be lining up on defense, but I will be playing special teams and I'm going against the guys I competed against in camp."
 Dallas, which earlier this week rallied for a 31-30 victory over the Washington Redskins, hopes to do better than the last time it came off a Monday night triumph.
 Three years ago, the Cowboys prevailed 17-3 over Washington in a season opener also played on Monday night. The next week the team came apart and was blown out 41-20 in a contest on the road against the Denver Broncos.

 "I don't think it's going to happen to us again, because we know what it's all about," said tight end Billy Joe DuPree, referring to what has become known as the Monday night syndrome. "We're tired, but the guys know how to prepare themselves now."
 In addition to its shortened time to prepare, Dallas has spent much of the week conjecturing over whether Neil Lomax or Jim Hart will quarterback St. Louis.
 Cardinals Coach Jim Hanifan said Thursday that Lomax, who suffered a shoulder injury last week in the first half of the team's 28-17 loss to the New Orleans Saints, would not play. But the report apparently did not convince Cowboys defensive tackle John Dutton.
 "He'll probably play and throw for 400 yards. I just don't believe anything about the injury reports," Dutton said in Dallas.

 "Guys who are supposed to be out eight weeks come back three days later."
 The last time the two teams met, the Cowboys spurted in the closing half to a post a 24-7 victory in St. Louis, their eighth success over the Cardinals in their last nine confrontations.
 Hart will be making his first start in nearly two years, hoping to steer St. Louis to an upset.

Oilers' Tullis indicted for criminal trespass

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — Willie Tullis, a third-year cornerback with the Houston Oilers, has been indicted on a misdemeanor charge of criminal trespass in connection with an incident at an apartment here during the team's training camp.
 District Attorney Gerald Fohn said Tullis faces up to one year in jail and a $2,000 fine if convicted of the Class A misdemeanor.
 Houston Oiler attorney Ernie Hurst had no comment on the indictment Friday evening.
 Fohn said the incident involved entering an apartment without the owner's consent.

Birdie string helps Mahaffey widen lead to 3

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — John Mahaffey overcame a sputtering start and went on another birdie spree Saturday in widening his lead in the third round of the $350,000 Bank of Boston Golf Classic.

Mahaffey fired a 67 for a 54-hole total of 201, 12 strokes under regulation on the 7,119-yard layout at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Fuzzy Zoeller and Joe Inman also conquered par for a second-place tie at 204. Zoeller had a third round 69, while Inman moved up with a 66.

Sammy Racheis, winless in nine injury-marked years on the PGA tour, went into the lead briefly after 45 holes, but settled for a 69 and 205 with one round left in the event worth $63,000 to the winner.

Jim Thorpe, with a 67, and Wayne Levi, with a 70, were tied at 206.

Mahaffey, who is seeking a wire-to-wire triumph to break a two-year winless slump, continued his attack on one of his favorite courses after taking bogeys on the first two holes.

The veteran, who ended a prolonged slump by winning the PGA championship in 1978 and then adding another victory here a few weeks later, fired a 65 for a tie for the lead in the first round. He settled down after a sputtering start in the second round for a 69 and a one-stroke lead at the halfway mark Friday.

LeAnn Cassaday of Long Beach, Calif., put together her second consecutive low-scoring round and was at 5-under-par 139.

Cassaday, 28, also began the second round one shot off the lead. She was 2-under-par for the day. Montgomery sank a 20-foot birdie putt on the first hole and hit iron shots within four feet of the cup for birdies on the next two holes to grab the lead early in the round.

She moved to 5-under-par for the day with a 14-foot birdie effort on the par-4 341-yard 11th hole, but she dropped back to 4-under for the day with a bogey when she took two shots to get out of a sand trap on the par-3 16th.

Swedish golfer leads Portland field

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Charlotte Montgomery, a 25-year-old from Sweden and never a winner on the LPGA tour, recorded birdies on four of the first six holes Saturday and held on for a one-stroke lead after two rounds of the $150,000 Portland Ping Golf Tournament.

Montgomery was successful in battling the swirling, blustery winds that plagued the golfers all day on the par-72, 6,233-yard Columbia-Edgewater Country Club course.

The former Arizona State golfer, who never has led after two rounds before, finished with a 36-hole score of 6-under-par 138. For the day, she was 4-under-par 68.

LeAnn Cassaday of Long Beach, Calif., put together her second consecutive low-scoring round and was at 5-under-par 139.

Cassaday, 28, also began the second round one shot off the lead. She was 2-under-par for the day. Montgomery sank a 20-foot birdie putt on the first hole and hit iron shots within four feet of the cup for birdies on the next two holes to grab the lead early in the round.

She moved to 5-under-par for the day with a 14-foot birdie effort on the par-4 341-yard 11th hole, but she dropped back to 4-under for the day with a bogey when she took two shots to get out of a sand trap on the par-3 16th.

Mental letdowns plague Big Spring

Despite the advantage, the Mats only twice broke long runs and had just one long pass completion. "On one of those runs, we were on the guy (Terry Upshaw who ran for 168 yards), but he made a good run, kept his balance and made extra yardage."

A turning play in the game was a long pass play during which Tony Sowell beat Steer safety Robert Porras. "Porras has the guy covered," Sharp explained, "but when the quarterback got outside our containment, he hesitated a second. The guy got behind him." The Steers have been haunted by the big play. "Just mental breakdowns," Sharp said. "It seems like we always have mental lapses at the wrong time."

He was pleased with the team's goal line stand with less than a minute to play. "They did a real good job. The kids stopped them when they had to. When they block one person, someone else should make the tackle."

Spencer said his offense was tentative in the first half because of poor field position. One Big Spring drive began at the Steer one yard line after Eric Sherman's goal-line pass interception.

The Steers stuck with their original game plan in the second half, running straight at Estacado.

Fullback Mike McKinley rushed for 50 yards. "We came out with a good plan. Run right at them. We just did a lot of hard-running and good blocking."

Big Spring scored twice on pass plays, something the 1982 team could not accomplish. "We have two good receivers and we have the ability to throw the football. Our tight end catches the ball well."

"We felt real good about our offense in the second half. I don't think they could have stopped us," Spencer said.

Both coaches would like to see the Steers avoid the slow starts that have hampered the team in the first two games. "The veer takes time to get going," Spencer offered. "In the second half, we were just wearing them down. We've just got to come out more ready to play. Be more mentally ready."

Big Spring hosts Levelland Friday night in its final non-league game. — GREG JAKLEWICZ

PRETTY RUFFLES — Krista Jeffcoat, 5, wears a polka dotted dress made pretty by many ruffles and lace. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Jeffcoat, Sand Springs. She wore the outfit in the Little Miss Cotton Pageant, March 19, 1983.

VELVET BONNET — Kirstie Moates, 6, models a 100 percent cotton velvet coat and bonnet made for her by her mother. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Moates, Gail Rt. Kirstie will model the outfit for this year's "Sew It With Cotton" contest.

'Sew It With Cotton' begins 2nd year

By TINA STEFFEN

"It takes the little strange things to catch the judges' eyes. It's the odd idea put on the garment that makes it win," says Patsy Fryar, winner in the professional division of the Dryland Cotton Promoters' 1st annual "Sew It With Cotton" Contest last September.

The 2nd annual contest will be held in conjunction with the Howard County Fair, Sept. 19-24. Mrs. Fryar is not competing this year but has been involved in organizing this year's contest.

The Dryland Cotton Promoters organized to promote the use and sale of cotton in the Howard County area about 18 months ago. The group of farm wives planned a "Sew It With Cotton" Contest to be held annually in conjunction with the Howard County Fair.

THE CONTEST'S PURPOSE also is to promote the use and sale of cotton material in home sewing and fashion through local merchants.

"The purpose of the contest is to get people to try cotton and buy more cotton. And hopefully after they've tried it they'll like it better than polyester," said Mrs. Sherree Moates, president of Dryland Cotton Promoters.

"I've noticed more and more of the stores carrying cotton and more 100 percent cotton. Some cotton will still wrinkle, but I think these new chemicals on cotton are working," she said. "We've had several of the stores tell us that if this continues to be an annual event, they will buy more (cotton material and garments) when they go to market.

"That's why we hope more people will participate so we can continue to make this contest an annual event.

Not only is the contest held locally. Other counties and the district hold the contest as well. "They (sewers) can enter not just here but other places. They can enter their clothes if they want to keep going," Mrs. Moates said. The organization is kept informed of other contests around the state. Interested persons may get information from Dryland's members.

Cotton sewing contest rules listed

The "Sew it with Cotton" Contest deadline has been extended from today to Wednesday. Persons submitting entries after today must contact Patsy Fryar at 399-4528.

The contest, sponsored by the Dryland Cotton Promoters, will be judged at the Big Spring Mall at 9 a.m., Sept. 17. Awards will be presented at the contest style show at the Howard County Fair Barn, Sept. 20.

Prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in each category of three divisions: Adult division, Senior division and Junior division. The prizes are: 1st — $50; 2nd — $30; and 3rd — $20.

Entry forms may be picked up at Sew What Fabrics and T.G. & Y. For information call Sherree Moates at 399-4563, or Patsy Fryar at 399-4528.

Rules are as follows:

1. The complete garment must be made by the seamstress. The material must be at least 60 percent cotton. An additional bonus point will be given for 100 percent cotton material. Linings, belts, lace, trims are not considered in the fiber content.
2. Last year's first place winners are not eligible.
3. Garments entered in this contest cannot be entered in the fair.

4. Seamstresses from surrounding counties are eligible to enter.

5. There is a limit of one entry per category.

6. All garments entered must be worn for judging and style show to be eligible for prize money.

7. First, second and third place winners in each category will be determined by a panel of judges. The judges' decisions are final.

8. Contestants modeling ability will not be judged.

9. In case of a tie, garments will be re-judged on the model with the entire category reshown.

Applicants need to send their name, address and telephone number with each entry. Each entry must include the fiber content, where material was purchased, and a verification from the salesclerk.

Each entry also must include a small swatch of material, complete description of the garment including who will model the outfit. Entries are to be sent to Patsy Fryar, Knott Rt. Box 96, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

The Dryland Cotton Promoters will not be responsible for any accidents or losses that might occur to people participating in the contest.

Local fabric retailers are selling more 100 percent cotton and cotton blend fabrics as a result of contests and the fashion industry's trend toward more use of natural fiber fabrics. "We are selling more cotton," says Barbara Donelson of Sew What Fabrics. "I think women are more aware of the need of cotton now. And I think it's a good fabric. Cotton breathes well. It's not as hot and wears forever.

"I'M EXCITED. Cotton sales are getting stronger all the time. People are more receptive to it," she said. "We need to support cotton because of our economy. It's our life blood out here. Manufacturers are improving it and ready to wear is using it more.

"The hangup women have with it is so much has to be pressed. We are spoiled," she said. "But the fabrics have improved and what's available has improved." Cotton is being made into beautiful fabrics, she says.

"I thought it was real good," Mrs. Moates said, remembering last year's contest. "I thought the clothes that people made were superior to those I've seen before in style shows where models made their clothes.

"They used more difficult patterns. They had more things on their clothes like pleats and tucks. They could have made a simple dress, but they went far beyond that.

"All the ones (contestants) I talked to liked it. I didn't get any negative reactions to it (the contest)," she said.

"They did think it would be better to not have children's clothing competing with adults. That's where we had more complaints," said Mrs. Fryar.

Due to this complaint, the categories in each division were changed for this year's contest.

OTHER CHANGES IN RULES and judging included the Olympic style grading using decimal points to eliminate ties. Another change was the requirement that all garment pieces modeled had to be handmade.

Last year, several ties occurred and only one award in each category could be given. "I feel with the decimal point program they ought not to tie," Mrs. Fryar said.

Accessories such as a belt, scarf or jewelry are allowed to accentuate a garment. But last year contestants could wear a purchased blouse with the slacks, skirt, vest or blazer they made.

According to Mrs. Fryar, all garments worn have to be made by hand in other similar contests. This year, the purchase garment will be prohibited in the local contest. Trims, buttons and closures used on the garment can be purchased. Ninety percent of the total outfit must have the required cotton percentage in it.

As for the future of the cotton contest, participation will determine its growth. "If more and more people enter, then we will expand either by more prize money or more categories. But that depends on the people in the area who want to participate. We would like to keep having it during the fair time," Mrs. Moates said.

Odoms enjoy life in Saudi Arabia

By RHONDA WITT
Lifestyle Writer

Leaving Big Spring after 21 years may be a difficult move. But it can be interesting if it means going overseas to live in a neighborhood that houses people of 54 nationalities.

Paschal and Lucy Odom moved to Saudi Arabia a year ago. The Odoms have been visiting Mrs. Odom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Thompson 1800 11th Place, during August and September. Odom has already returned to Saudi Arabia. Mrs. Odom will leave Wednesday.

Odom's job as engineer with Arabian Bechtel Co. Ltd. caused the couple to move to Jabel, Saudi Arabia, a new industrial city built by Bechtel to house more than 300,000 people.

"WE'VE COME INTO CONTACT with so many different nationalities that it is just fascinating," Mrs. Odom said. "We've been fortunate to meet a great deal of Saudi Arabia's people. They are some of the most charming people I have met.

"We've learned a lot of different things about customs and foods," she said. "Everyone has so much to offer from their own country. It makes you realize there is a big world out there."

Mrs. Odom and her foreign friends share recipes, take tap dancing lessons for exercise and have learned yoga.

"Most everyone speaks English that you deal with. English is really their second language," she said. Mrs. Odom also has taken some Arabic classes.

The Odoms made some adjustments to their lifestyle. "One thing I found difficult was women aren't allowed to drive except within the Ramco compounds. When you've been independent, it's difficult to wait around for your husband but you do learn to adjust," Mrs. Odom said. "You have to have your husband take your grocery shopping or you drag your groceries on the bus."

Women also aren't allowed to work in an industrial field, but can work in the health and education fields. Her husband has a male secretary.

People keep cash in their homes, because they don't write checks, Mrs. Odom said. When her husband writes a check he must have five signatures of approval.

"Our mode of dress is either slacks and a long shirt or tunic, or a long dress like a moo-moo or kaftan," Mrs. Odom said. "They also prefer long sleeves. They believe the body should be covered.

'These are their rules and you are in their country, so you have to abide by their rules'

"THESE ARE THEIR RULES and you are in their country, so you have to abide by their rules," she said. While the Odoms were moving, they made several decisions. "We were only allowed a small shipment of 1000 pounds," she said. "You do most of your decorating with what you buy over there."

"We had lived in the same house for 17 years. Moving was a very difficult thing. We had to put furniture in storage, because I had to be conservative in my weight limit," Mrs. Odom said. "I want to take some of their (her children) things, but I knew we couldn't. I had to readjust, but it was for the better.

Although the Odoms miss Big Spring, they like their new home. "Housing in our area is quiet nice because it is all new, and we consider it fortunate," Mrs. Odom said. "All our appliances are just like the appliances I had in the U.S."

"Our furniture in our area of our complex is from Lebanon. It's interesting and it's nice for a change."

The Odoms will sell their car, television and other possessions when they leave Saudi Arabia. "We do plan to have a Mid-Eastern room in our house when we come back to the states because it has become part of our lives."

The Odoms usually can buy the groceries they want, but sometimes they have trouble. "In our grocery store, we are not always able to get everything we want," Mrs. Odom said. "Pork is not allowed in the kingdom. We run out of strange things. For the last two months we've been without baking soda and sweet pickles. It is hard to adjust, but I've learn to be flexible in cooking." The Odoms' food comes from Lebanon, Holland, France, Austria and New Zealand.

A benefit of Odom's job is extensive travel. "The travel we get to do as a result of this job is terrific," Mrs. Odom said. They spent Christmas in Switzerland, Austria, Germany and Italy. This summer, they visited Bangkok, Thailand, Hong Kong, and Hawaii.

"WE HAVE ENJOYED the travel, and being able to spend it with our children," she said. The couple's children are Jill Spannus and Jack Odom. Jack, 22, attends Panhandle State University in Goodwell, Okla. Jill, 24, lives in Midland. Jack lives with his parents when he is not attending school.

When the Odoms travel, their son accompanies them. The Odoms' daughter and Odom's father, Roy Odom, 89, have traveled with them for part of each trip.

"The fact that we have got to meet so many people and to do so much in a short time has been a terrific education and opportunity," Mrs. Odom said. "I wouldn't trade it for the world."

FROM A DISTANT LAND — Lucy Odom talks about her life in Saudi Arabia. After living in Big Spring for more than 20 years, Mrs. Odom and her husband, Paschal, moved to Saudi Arabia last year.

Baby animals shown at fair

There's something about children and baby animals that defies an explanation. The sudden chemistry not only brings a smile to a little face, or a wag to a little tail but also a glow to the faces of those who merely watch.

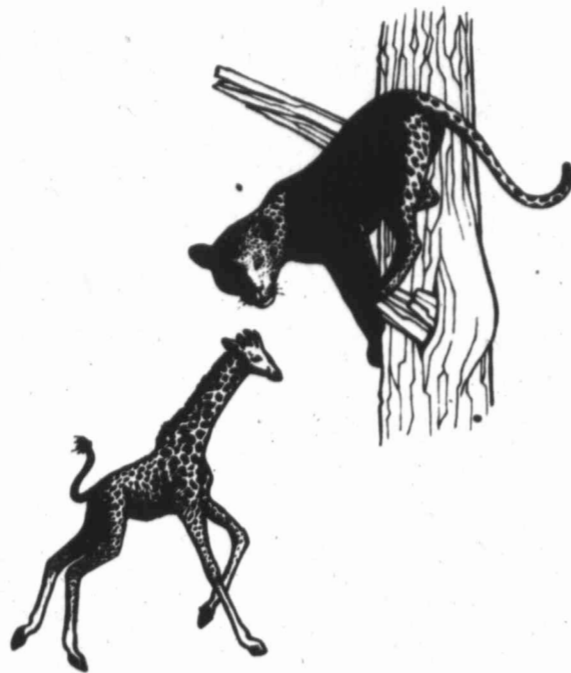

Children of all ages can pet a live African Lion or feed a miniature Sicilian Donkey or perhaps a Sika Deer from Formosa. The Texas Safari Ranch, the "world's largest exotic animal drive through park and breeding preserve" will hold a petting zoo at the Howard County Fair, Sept. 19-25.

Hand raised, bottle fed exotic baby animals from the further most regions of the world are housed at the Ranch in Clifton. The Ranch has more than 2,000 baby animals representing some 70 different species.

The Ranch is a breeding preserve that sells excess stock to other breeders, zoos and private individuals around the world. It is essential that its animals be in excellent health and from the best blood lines available.

Well fed, healthy animals that are accustomed to hand care and feeding guarantee a good petting zoo. The animals love attention and affection.

Trained personnel travel with the animals to look after the animals' health and well being and to assist observers. They will answer questions and dispell the fears and myths that occasionally crop up with some small children.

The exact species of available animals is constantly changing. But the animals usually available are tame young African lions, llamas, fallow deer, sika deer, wild turkey, pigmy goats, aoudad and mouflon sheep and others. Camel and pony rides also are available.

Product safety lawsuits increase

The safety of products sold in America's marketplaces continues to grow in importance and attention, according to Dr. Gary Nelson, a safety specialist with the Texas A & M University System. The terms "unreasonably dangerous" and "failure to warn of product hazards" are becoming more commonplace.

Injured parties are increasingly turning to the courts with their complaints about product safety. A reflection of the tendency for Americans to sue has been noted in the number of product liability lawsuits filed in federal courts. Although the number remained about the same in 1982, there have been increases of 17% in 1981, 27% in 1980, 40% in 1979, 7% in 1978, 10% in 1977, and 28% in 1976.

Nelson said the number of product liability lawsuits commenced in Texas federal district courts in 1982 increased 39% from 745 cases in 1981 to 1,039 cases in 1982.

Product safety hazards can be prevented. Hazards can be identified during product design and manufacture and either eliminated or controlled through the use of safety engineering and safety management techniques.

"Manufacturers should learn all they can about product liability law, how to identify product hazards before they cause injuries, new safety engineering techniques to eliminate product hazards, and recommended techniques for preparing safety warnings and operator's manuals," Nelson said.

Dear Abby

Husband's buddies have wife upset

DEAR ABBY: Please print this very important message to "The Bachelors in the Office":

I know that you have chosen to remain unmarried, to be free from responsibility. There is no one in your life to whom you must answer or consider in your decisions. But my husband has a wife and family to consider. His wife needs his companionship and his children need a father's influence and love. So, please, stop inviting him to all your drinking parties and "men only" expeditions.

Don't twist his arm to stay for "one more beer". And if he says no, don't make fun of him and accuse him of being "henpecked".

I know he needs his recreation, but three or four nights a week is a bit much. You are welcome in our home anytime, but please, don't involve my husband in activities that keep from his family. While he is out having fun with you, his wife and kids are alone, and we miss him.

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: The bachelors in the office are not responsible for your husband's decisions. He is, some arms twist more easily than others. Your message translates: "Don't offer candy to my baby."

Better to direct your message to your husband.

DEAR ABBY: A casual acquaintance, after losing his wife, started calling me and coming to my home. He has never taken me out. (I give him tea, cake, etc.)

He told me he would like to have sex relations. I told him without a license it does not go. He still comes around, hoping to be a winner.

What is your advice to me about him?

FOREST HILL, N.Y.

DEAR FOREST: He bluntly told you what he had in mind, and you clearly told him "no rice, no dice." If you enjoy his company, bring out the tea and cake, but hold back the "ect." or he will be the winner.

DEAR ABBY: Today my 22-year-old son put two 15-cent stamps on a letter than could have gone for 20 cents, because all we had were 15-cent stamps. Well his father hit the roof! I am not talking about just being upset, I am talking about violence! He called our son every four-letter name in the book, interspersed with stupid, lazy, no good, etc. Our son is neither stupid nor lazy. He is a good kid who works with his father putting in 9-10 hours a day to earn his college fees.

This goes on all the time with all four of our sons. They are never allowed to defend themselves or talk back to him because that would be "disrespectful," so they just take his bullying.

I say he is abusing the boys verbally; he says he is trying to make "men" of them. Please comment?

THE BULLY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: They're your sons, too. Writing to me about your husband's abusive behavior won't improve the situation. Why don't you take the bull(y) by the horns and point out the fact that he's confusing "respect" with fear?

I hope he wakes up to reality soon, or he will have a lonely and loveless old age.

DEAR ABBY: I see so many letters in your column from wives who complain because their husbands have retired and are now "underfoot".

Abby, retired husbands do not have to be "underfoot." I know. Mine retired after 30 years, and we moved from a big city to a small town. I have my housework and he has his gardening and workshop. Whenever I need him for something I call him with a loud bicycle horn and he comes running.

NO PROBLEMS IN TEXAS

Every teen-ager should know the truth about drugs, sex and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

An ultrasonic cleaning machine is considered a necessity in most jewelry stores of today. It performs a large percentage of the cleaning operation without manual assistance. To prevent unwanted discoloration during the soldering process, articles in need of repair are often ultrasonically cleaned. The sound vibrations of this machine will attack and remove such contaminants as cosmetics, skin oils, dirt and grease. However, the most difficult cleaning challenge it faces is the removal of the contamination found behind the stones of ladies' rings. Given time, the ultrasonic machine will usually be successful.

Dr. Donohue

Some tips on cramp prevention

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I've been an ardent swimmer since I took to the water at age 6 or 7. I have always been subject to cramps, mainly in the calf or arm muscles. Companions often helped by massaging the area until the spasm disappeared. But I had soreness the following day.

Experience taught me finally another way to get rid of cramping. Once I tried straightening my leg out, raising my toes to the limit while pressing down with the heel to the limit, at the same time contracting and hardening all the muscles. Lo and behold, the cramp was neutralized. I was not sore the next morning.

When the arm muscle became cramped, the same procedure was tried, this time by making a fist, straightening out the arm and bending the wrist to the limit while contracting all the muscles of the arm. It worked equally as well. I am wondering whether this will work for others, or was I just lucky? — A.M.

Your stretching method can be effective in easing muscle cramping. It should be done gently, and for greater effect the muscles should be iced first. Maybe the coldness of the swimming water did that for you.

We're really not sure why muscles cramp, what sets off the spasm, but there are several factors to keep in mind. Certainly, hot weather, by depleting the body of fluids (from sweat), can do it. In that case, fluid replacement during exercise is a good preventive measure. Fatigue leads to cramps, so not letting yourself get exhausted is another step to take. Tight muscles are cramp prone, so warm-ups with muscle-stretching exercises help avoid the problem. Again, the stretching should be gentle. Massaging a cramp can work wonders.

Cramping can sometimes be more serious than it appears. There can be bleeding within a muscle in a severe cramp, and that accounts for the pain felt the next few days.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a 41-year-old female who started a jogging program a year ago for weight control and cardiovascular fitness. After moving to a "wet" state, I started using a rebounder (mini-trampoline) so I could continue my program indoors. I am now "running" 40 minutes a day on the rebounder after doing a warm-up aerobic exercise for 20 minutes. I am anxious to know if my dedication to this program is worthwhile. I have found the rebounder much less stressful to the joints than outdoor running and also more convenient. — J.W.

Questions about relative values of various fitness activities come up so frequently in my mail that I want to make a blanket response to them all through your letter. No matter what kind of exercise you do, it benefits your cardiovascular (heart and blood vessel) system if in the course of it you get your heart rate up to its target training zone and maintain that level for at least 15 minutes.

It doesn't matter if you jog, swim, dance or bounce on a trampoline. So you really have to be a pulse-taker to know whether your bouncing is as effective for you as your running was. If you can safely get your heart beating at the same rate as you did when running, then you are getting equivalent benefits.

So that raises the question of what is the right pulse beat for you. I could give you general rules, but I'd prefer you ask your doctor. He can tell based on your age and health. And you must be careful that in trying to get up to your effective aerobic pulse level that you are not forced to make your rebounder exercise dangerous for yourself, from falls, etc.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I noted with interest your column on bike seat height recommendations. While true and accurate, I thought you omitted an important part — cadence. Even with the correct seat placement (height and front-rear adjustments) a person who "stomps" at 60 rpm or less will have knee pains even with short rides. If you "spin" at 90 rpm or higher you decrease knee stress and are able to do longer distances, steeper hills, etc., and feel better in both joints and muscles. Dr. Robert Bond of the American Wheelman has discussed this. I am 42, spin at 100-110 rpm, average 70 miles a week and regularly do 100-plus miles a day several times a summer. I have no knee problems. — M.C.

Thanks for the additional tips.

Not all back pain originates in the back. In his newest booklet, Dr. Donohue explains the spine, its muscles and nerves and how you can help yourself avoid back problems or ease those you may already have. For a copy of the new booklet, "Backache and Spine Problems," send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Race enthusiasts take home trophies

JOE AND BEVERLY FAULKNER, LINDA AND MIKE ROMAN, TOM OWENS, HANK LEE and DAVID WILLIAMS spent a weekend at Fredricksburg recently. They attended the Gillespie County Fair Race Horse Meet, Aug. 27-28.

Joe, who owns Faulkner Training Stables north of Big Spring, was awarded the meet's Leading Trainer Trophy. Mike and Linda received a trophy for having the leading horse "Points North."

JOE REYES OF Odessa, who jockeys for Faulkner, received the Leading Jockey Trophy. Congratulations to all of you.

The walls of the lobby and dining room at Brass Nail Restaurant have been turned into a gallery for the first Big Spring showing of photographer P. (PRISCILLA) ATWOOD WILLIAMS.

Included in the show are oil field, old farm equipment, barns and southwestern landscapes as well as ragdolls, bluebonnets, and an oblique study of a horse and a dog.

A Stantonite, Priscilla's work depicts travels in Wisconsin, Oregon, Arizona and New Mexico and a humorous perspective on ordinary situations.

"Covey of Clouds, horizontal" was photographed in Martin County and was selected to hang in the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum show this summer. Williams has also won photo awards locally and in international competition. The photographs will be displayed throughout September.

MISS JEANNETTE BARNETT, a resident at Mountain View Lodge, will celebrate her 76th birthday today with a grand party. Jeannette and her guests will be entertained by a barbershop quartet and organ music.

And they will feast on seven cakes and other assorted dishes. About 100 guests are expected. They will include her family and friends, residents of the nursing home and their families.

Jeannette is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. C.W. Barnett, and the sister of Carroll W. Barnett Jr. of Kerrville, the late G.A. Barnett and the late Milburn Barnett.

She began her career at Empire Southern Gas in Big Spring. She retired from Pioneer Natural Gas in Amarillo in 1974. She organized the Business and Professional Women Club here in 1939 and was in international relations in Altus Club when she retired.

JUANITA SEITZLER, CARLENE WOOD, ELSIE HARVELL, BOBBY NIX, DENE SHEPPARD, JEAN JENKINS, LINDA GRAHAM, TERESA SHEPPARD, SUSAN GASTON, LOVIE HARRISON, VALORIE GASTON, SHARON HARVELL, and DONNA PARKER attended the 20th anniversary Mary Kay Cosmetic seminar, held at the Dallas Convention Center recently. Know someone who's expecting?

Why not send the mother-to-be in to us? We'll enroll her in our Gift Registry.

Here's how it works. The mother-to-be checks off her needs on a simple card form which we keep on file. When friends and family come in to shop, that file card tells them what she really wants, even what colors and patterns she prefers.

The Baby Gift Registry. The simple way to successful gift giving.

Garden check list for September

Caladiums require plenty of water at this time of the year if they are to remain lush and attractive until fall. Fertilize with ammonium nitrate at the rate of 1/3 to 1/2 pounds per 100 square feet of bed area and water thoroughly.

About eight weeks after gladiolus have finished flowering, they should be mature enough to dig, cure and store. Destroy any corms that appear to be diseased.

Don't allow plants with green fruit or berries to suffer from lack of moisture. Hollies will frequently drop their fruit under drought conditions.

Stake mums through growing season when necessary. Do not divide crowded mums until spring. Powdery mildew season is here. Check crapemyrtle, evergreen euonymus and zinnias. Funginex or Benlate will usually give excellent control.

Remove weak, unproductive growth from crapemyrtles, cannas and roses to stimulate new growth for fall beauty in South Texas.

Prune out dead or diseased wood from trees and shrubs. Hold off on major pruning until mid-winter. Severe pruning now will only stimulate tender new growth prior to frost.

Sow seeds of snapdragons, pinks, pansies and other winter flowers in flats for planting outside during mid to late fall.

Collect interesting plant materials for drying and curing to use in winter arrangements.

Plan now for major landscape changes you need or want.

As you plan your new landscape or as you renovate an existing plan remember to consider recommended plant varieties for your area.

Select and order or purchase spring flowering bulbs as soon as available. This way you get fresh bulbs that haven't dried out in a warm dry store. Plant all but the tulips and hyacinths when the bed is ready. Store tulips and hyacinths in the vegetable drawer of the refrigerator until December. They should receive at least 60 to 90 days of low (37 to 40F degrees) temperature before planting. Beware of close-out sales later in the season as often the bulbs are no bargain at any price.

Continue to mow lawn regularly. Do not scalp until next spring.

Time to divide spring flowering plants such as iris, Shasta daisy, gaillardia, cannas, daylilies, violets, liriopsis and ajuga.

Good time to watch the ads for needed garden equipment such as mowers, sprinklers, edgers, weeders, hoses and the like. Merchandisers want to make room for Christmas items and usually offer good buys at this time.

Watch for brown patch in St. Augustine grass. Leaves will turn brown, die at the leaf base. If you suspect this fungal disease, pull on a handful of leaves. They should come loose, leaving only runners behind. Affected patches will be 1-5 feet in diameter. Use teracarb or daconil for control.

Don't attempt to plant Bermuda grass seed in late September as it will seldom develop a root system strong enough to withstand freezing temperatures.

Continue the disease spray schedule on roses as blackspot and mildew can be extremely damaging in September and October. Funginex or Benomyl sprays every 7-14 days are still the best control.

It's time to turn your existing compost pile, and to think about starting a new one for the fall crop of leaves and garden wastes.

If treatment for grub worms has not been applied and a definite problem is present; (four grubs in a one square foot soil area four inches deep), Diazinon or Dursban granules can be applied in early September and watered in thoroughly.

For those who have successfully carried over a poinsettia from last Christmas, if you want them to flower in time for the holiday season you had better give them the short day, long night treatment. You can drape them with a sheet of dark cloth for 14-15 hours each night or place in a room or closet where there is no danger of a light being turned on. Start about October 15 and your plant will flower by Christmas.

Christmas Cactus can be made to flower by supplying 12 hours of uninterrupted darkness and cool nights (55 F degrees) for a month starting in mid-October.

Keep plants on the dry side for a month prior to the treatment.

Time to set out flowering cabbage and flowering kale as a hardy winter border or bedding plant that will supply plenty of color.

September plantings can provide landscape color for three seasons in our area. Annuals set out early enough will bloom as soon as Thanksgiving and frequently last until Memorial Day. Annuals that should be available in nurseries and garden shops include: African daisies, calendula, pansies, snapdragons, stock, sweet peas, and violas. The gamble against freeze damage is worth it.

Time to plant sweet pea seeds in South and South Central Texas. Plant in the soil that is high in organic matter and well drained.

Inspect potted plants closely for unwanted insects before bringing them into the house or greenhouse for the winter.

September is a good time for general garden clean-up.

Order copies of your favorite seed and nursery catalogs.

Use plastic bag to keep paint brush wet

If you're interrupted in the middle of a latex-paint job, you can store the paintbrush or roller for several days. Slip the roller or brush inside a plastic bag, push the air out and tie the end shut. The paint won't dry out.

'Mayo' safe in sandwiches

Each morning thousands of mayonnaise-lovers trudge off to school and work carrying their brown bag lunches — and sandwiches with no mayonnaise.

Why? Because a common misconception about food safety is the idea that mayonnaise is dangerous.

Many people are convinced that mayonnaise increases the chance of food poisoning, and should not be used where refrigeration is inadequate or nonexistent.

But there is no basis for the belief that mayonnaise stimulates growth of food poisoning bacteria. In fact, the Food Research Institute at the University of Wisconsin did a series of experiments which showed just the opposite: mayonnaise helps prevent the growth of harmful bacteria.

In the United States mayonnaise is a standardized food whose composition is specified by the government. Vegetable oil comprises 65% of the finished product and the remaining 35% consists of vinegar, lemon and/or lime juice, and egg yolk or whole eggs. In addition, manufacturers are allowed to add salt, spices, flavor enhancers and preservatives.

The result of the mixture is a rather acidic substance causing hostile environment in which harmful bacteria cannot grow.

This shouldn't be interpreted to mean that a spoonful of mayonnaise in a sandwich will provide total and absolute protection against any kind of abuse. Mayonnaise is an effective bacterial growth inhibitor because of its acid content. Food poisoning bacteria can grow in a normal mixture of food and mayonnaise, but they grow even better without it.

Also remember that commercial mayonnaise used in the study meets the government's standards of identity. Homemade mayonnaise needs plenty of lemon juice to be equally effective.

So just because you take your lunch in a brown bag doesn't mean you have to "hold the mayo" on your sandwich.

their product is better than the other, it's easy for consumers to become confused. But you can sort out advertising claims with a few facts about fat.

Fats are complex structures with many different parts of elements linked together. These links are actually chemical bonds.

A saturated fat is one in which all of the links are filled.

Saturated fats are usually solid or hard at room temperature and are mostly found in animal fats and in a few plants. The fats in lard, beef, pork, lamb, butter fat, egg yolk and poultry skin are mainly the saturated type.

Palm and coconut oils are also highly saturated, although they come from plants. Coconut oil is more saturated than butter fat and is used in many "non-dairy products" such as coffee creamers, dessert fillings and toppings.

Chocolate also contains saturated fat from cocoa butter.

Polyunsaturated fats are those in which links are not all filled, or saturated. These are liquid at room temperature and come from plant sources, such as corn, safflower, soybean, sunflower, cotton seed and sesame oils. Peanut and olive oil are more saturated, and are classified as monounsaturated fats.

Hydrogenated fats are vegetable shortenings and margarines which are solid at room temperature even though they originate from plants. The vegetable oil has undergone a process in which hydrogen was added to fill some of chemical links. This hardening process causes the oil to become more saturated and increases storage life of the products.

Is any one type of fat better for you than another? Food and nutrition specialists with Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service say research gives conflicting answers to this question. High consumption of saturated fats tends to raise cholesterol levels which are associated with heart disease. High consumption of polyunsaturated fats lowers cholesterol, but has been associated with increased incidence of cancer in laboratory animals. Over consumption of any type of fat is probably not good for you.

Consumers should recognize certain amounts of fats — saturated, unsaturated or both — are necessary for good health and part of a balanced diet. So you might be better off to select fat products on the basis of preference, calorie level, or intended use of fat rather than advertising claims for a "healthful" product.

Anniversary Treatment found for carnitine deficiency

MR. AND MRS. AARON D. STOKER
...to celebrate anniversary today

The Aaron D. Stokers

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron D. Stoker, Coahoma, will celebrate their 50th anniversary with a reception at Signal Mountain Room of Coahoma State Bank, from 2-4 p.m. today.

Hosting the event are the couple's children and spouses.

The Stokers were married Sept. 10, 1933 in Garber, Okla. Mrs. Stoker is the former Orpha Smith of Covington, Okla.

Stoker originally is from Garber, Okla. He is retired from Atlantic Richfield Co. The couple are members of First Baptist Church in Coahoma. They have lived in Coahoma since 1947.

The Stokers have three children: David Stoker of Burleson, Dan Stoker of Midland, and Tommy Stoker of Coahoma. They have eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The A.W. Moodys

Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Moody, 1514 Tucson, observed their 60th wedding anniversary with a family reception at their home, Sept. 1. Two of those present, Alden Ryan and Eleanor Matheny, were present for the wedding in 1923.

Alfred Moody came from Mineola to work for the Texas and Pacific Railroad. He and Martha Moody, the former Martha Deats, were married by the Rev. Ben Hardy, pastor of First Methodist Church, in the home of her pioneer parents, Mr. and Mrs. L.T. Deats, 708 Main, at 3:30 p.m.

They were married at 3:30 p.m. because they had to have a friend drive them to Sweetwater in time to pick up a new car they were going to take on their honeymoon. They traveled to Fort Worth and on to East Texas to visit with his family.

The couple had three children: Mrs. Fred (Elizabeth) Stitzell of Garland, Alfred Moody of Calamesa, Calif., and the late Charles Vernon Moody, who died in the Korean War. Mrs. Stitzell was a guest at the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody are active in local church and service affairs. Before a career in the postal service, from which he retired, Moody had been a locomotive engineer and policeman. The two are volunteers at Veterans Administration Medical Center. Mrs. Moody also has been in Red Cross, Gold Star Mothers, and other organizations. The Moodys are members of First United Methodist Church.

Carnitine deficiency, a disabling and sometimes life-threatening muscle disorder, has proved treatable in many cases, the Muscular Dystrophy Association announced recently.

The condition, first identified in 1973 by MDA-supported scientists, results from a metabolic breakdown due to lack of L-carnitine, a chemical normally present in the body.

Since discovery of the muscle disorder carnitine deficiency myopathy ten years ago, MDA has supported research on the disorder. Evidence now shows that therapy with L-carnitine alone, or in combination with dietary control and steroids, can produce marked improvement in many patients.

Patients with a deficiency of carnitine often experience muscle weakness in childhood, but the disorder can make its first appearance in adulthood. Shoulder and hip muscles are usually affected, and muscles of the face and neck are frequently involved.

The muscle weakness and muscle atrophy, which are slowly progressive, may produce an inability to walk. In severe cases, life-threatening damage to the heart and brain may occur.

Direct cause of the symptoms that appear is the body's inability to convert fat into energy in the absence of carnitine. Fatty acids provide a major portion of the energy supply during prolonged exercise or when an individual is at rest.

The body's failure to metabolize fat can produce a damaging accumulation of fatty acids in the tissues of the body as well as seriously impair muscle function.

The most dramatic effects of treatment with L-carnitine have occurred in cases where carnitine deficiency has affected heart muscle.

In these instances, administration of L-carnitine has not only greatly improved the quality of life for people who previously had an untreatable disease, but has been a true life-saver. However, the treatments described apply only to patients with carnitine deficiency — not to individuals with other muscle disorders. The use of L-carnitine is restricted by the Food and Drug Administration to experimental purposes.

Carnitine deficiency myopathy disease is one of the 40 neuromuscular disorders included in MDA's research and patient service care programs. Others include Duchene muscular dystrophy, amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS — Lou Gehrig disease), and myasthenia gravis.

For further information, contact MDA, 2345-50th St., Suite 122, Lubbock, Texas, 79412.

Pharmacists may stop filling Medicaid orders

Drug stores throughout the United States are beginning to experience a financial squeeze each time the pharmacist fills a prescription for a needy Medicaid recipient.

The problem is so critical, with a potential loss of $43 million annually at the retail drug store level, that many pharmacies honoring Medicaid business in cities, suburbs, and rural areas may ultimately be forced to drop out of the program.

The cost crunch is alarming the nation's 50,000 plus community pharmacies serving an estimated 21.6 million patients enrolled in state Medicaid programs. The reason behind the cost crunch is recently issued regulations by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) which will control government expenditures in providing health care services to categorically needy and medically needy individuals.

THE RULES WERE FINALIZED by the Health Care Financing Administration, a branch of HHS responsible for overseeing Medicaid matters. The thrust of the cost containment rules is to establish so-called cost-sharing requirements whereby recipients are expected to make a nominal co-payment when receiving a product or service from a health care provider.

In theory, the rules are supposed to discourage overutilization by recipients who in certain situations may not actually need health care services.

For drug stores, the rules mean that a needy person would pay a dollar or up to a maximum of three dollars depending upon the costs of the medication when getting a prescription filled. "The problem arises when a beneficiary cannot afford to make the co-payment," stated Robert J. Bolger, president of the National Association of Chain Drug Stores.

"Under the new Federal regulations when the recipient cannot make the co-payment, the pharmacist is still obligated to fill the prescription. And if there is no co-payment collected, the pharmacy loses money," Bolger explained.

Because retail drug stores operate in a competitive environment, the profit margin in pharmacy departments is less than 3 percent. Other provider groups, such as hospitals, physicians and dentists, have flexibility and leeway in fee schedules since competition has little bearing on profit margins for services rendered to the needy.

According to Bolger, the competitive nature of pharmacies has dictated that some medications be dispensed at a modest profit, others at cost and some below cost. "We have no room to maneuver in pricing our products. So when a drug store is unable to collect the nominal co-payment from the recipient and the Medicaid program is not required to make up the difference, pharmacies suffer financially," Bolger said.

TWENTY-ONE STATES require co-payments for Medicaid prescriptions. Because of growing fiscal programs in other jurisdictions, more states are likely to adopt the Federal cost-sharing scheme.

The Health Care Financing Administration is not totally to blame for the situation confronting drug stores. When Congress approved the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act (TEFRA), which sets into place the Medicaid cost-sharing requirements, federal lawmakers were concerned about needy people who might be denied health care services because of their inability to make the co-payment.

With this in mind, Congress directed HCFA to develop regulations to insure individuals enrolled in Medicaid would have access to health care at anytime.

"Unfortunately, the Congress was thinking about other segments of health care delivery and their ability to adjust to this new set of rules and not drug stores," Bolger said. However, many lawmakers close to the issue privately admit that pharmacy providers and their narrow profit margins were overlooked when the legislation was being considered, he said.

The Chain Drug spokesman predicted the emerging co-payment crisis will have to be resolved quickly or there will be an exodus of community pharmacies from the Medicaid program.

"Notwithstanding other inequitable reimbursement policies that have been hurting pharmacy providers for a number of years, we see the co-payment dilemma as being a pivotal issue that could seriously damage the integrity of the program," Bolger said.

He added that if drug stores leave the Medicaid program, recipients will be inconvenienced. Some may not be able to receive their necessary medications and program costs will increase dramatically if these people end up having to be hospitalized.

ACCORDING TO GOVERNMENTAL experts, both the Reagan Administration and Congress can remedy the problem either through a change in the rules or with new legislation. One Chain Drug Store owner in California currently coping with the co-payment problem said if HHS or Congress were to exempt prescription drugs from the cost-sharing requirements, pharmacies would be at least back on track and could financially justify staying in Medicaid.

As another possible solution, he suggested that the government could become the payor of last resort for uncollected co-payments. "Right now drug stores are subsidizing a disproportionate share of the Medicaid program. But without relief from the co-payment burden, we will soon reach the breaking point," the corporate executive said.

THE IRONY OF the economic plight that is affecting drug stores is that pharmacists have the highest rate of participation of any health care provider group in the Medicaid program despite numerous disincentives that have been in place since the late 1970's. "I think that I can speak for all retail pharmacists, whether chain or independent, when I say that drug stores want to maintain this high level of participation in Medicaid. As far as our corporate members are concerned, the drug chains are in the business of serving communities, helping patients. We do not want to turn them away because of the cost-sharing technicality," Bolger said.

The possibility of a solution to the Medicaid crunch may hinge on what happens at a public meeting that will be held Monday. The meeting will be held in Washington, D.C. by HHS on drug reimbursement policies related to Medicaid, Medicare and other federally assisted health care programs.

HHS Secretary Margaret Heckler established a task force to examine the issues that govern how much a drug store receives for filling a prescription for the disadvantaged. In the event that Dept. of HHS delays taking remedial action during the coming months, the co-payment controversy would spill over into 1984 and could become one more uncomfortable issue for the Congress to resolve in an election year.

Inside every hair follicle is a protein known as melanin. It is capable of producing every hair color from platinum to black. Each individual's hair color depends on two genetically determined factors. The first is the exact structure of the melanin proteins. The second is the exact location of the natural air bubbles in the hair shaft. Individual hair color is a result of the combining of these two factors into any of an infinite amount of combinations. Cessation of melanin production, starting usually during the fourth decade of life, leads to the production of gray hair. For each hair follicle, melanin production is an independent matter, exemplified by people with "salt and pepper" hair. Beautiful hair and skin begin with a visit to LA CON-TESA. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service sponsors camps for Texans over 55 at the State 4-H Center in Brownwood.

This fall, five extension "Octoberfests" are scheduled for Oct. 4-7, 11-14, 18-21, and Nov. 1-4.

The Octoberfest will include feature presentations on nutrition needs and weight control, bird watching, quilting by the square and arm-chair travel.

Each Octoberfest session will offer a variety of how-to learning experiences. Some offerings include fishing lures that work, leathercrafting, candle-wicking, cake decorating, painting and chair caning.

Unlimited recreation including cards and table games, tennis, canoeing, horseshoes, volleyball and boat rides will be available.

Sing alongs, dances and a talent show also are scheduled. Since each Octoberfest session is limited to 100 participants, contact the county extension agents for details now.

New Grapefruit 'Super Pill' Guarantees Fast Weight Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special) — An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

No Dieting — "Pill Does All the Work"

According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs." It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately.

Pill Contains ALL U.S. Daily Vitamin Requirements

The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill". It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Contains Japanese 'Glucosamine'

Each pill also contains an amazingly effective amount of "glucosamine", the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

New Available to Public—Guaranteed Results

You can order your supply of these highly successful "super" grapefruit pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail order only) by sending $12 for a 14-day supply (or $20 for a 30-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Citrus Industries, Dept. C37, 9903 Santa Monica Bl., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not satisfied.) Visa and Mastercard OK.
