How's that?
Teddy

Q. Was Teddy Kennedy ever president of the U.S.?

A. No. Despite what you read yesterday in this column, the Massachusetts senator was never president, although he ran for the Democratic nomination in 1979 against President Carter. He also had nothing to do with the opening of the Panama Canal. That was his namesake, Teddy Roosevelt.

Calendar:
Potluck
and pancakes

TODAY

• The National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway Workers will have a potluck supper and business meeting at 6:30 p.m. at the Kentwood Center.

• The Kiwanis Club will host their annual pancake supper at the Howard College cafeteria from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

FRIDAY

• The Senior Citizens Center at the Airport will hold a country and western dance at 7:30 p.m. Admission $2.

• The Howard County Library will have a story time for preschool children from 10 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.

SATURDAY

• There will be a senior citizen's St. Patrick's Day dance at the Industrial Park, building 487, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is encouraged to wear green.

• The Howard County Youth Horseman Club will hold an open playday at 1 p.m. at the club's arena.

• The Howard County Library will show the film, "North With Spring," from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.

SUNDAY

• The Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold a spring enrollment tea at 2 p.m. in the Blue Room of the Dora Roberts Community Center.

Tops on TV:
Cheers

Sam and Diane learn that Carla's new lover has a heart problem on "Cheers" at 8 p.m. on Channel 13. Buffalo Bill and Hill Street Blues follow at 8:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. respectively.

Cities seek grants

By JIM BROWN
Staff Writer

MIDLAND — Coahoma and Stanton were given preliminary approval yesterday by the Permian Basin Planning Commission on requests for water and sewer improvement grants from the state.

The proposals to the Texas Community Development Program were originally submitted last year and received regional approval. However, the state agency was unable to fund all requests under its 1983 budget.

Coahoma Mayor Jim Rackley was told that the request has a "good chance of final approval this year."

COAHOMA RESUBMITTED an application asking for $22,000 to develop a water distribution system plan.

The current distribution mains are generally old and in deteriorated condition, according to the proposal's report.

In one reporting period, Coahoma bought 11 million gallons of water but sold only 9 million gallons to system users. The 18 percent loss is apparently due to water system leaks.

The $22,000 Coahoma grant will allow the city to conduct a computerized analysis of the water system under current conditions and model projections of proposed improvements.

BB bank robber gets probation, fine

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

District Attorney Rick Hamby said today he was disappointed that an Odessa man convicted Wednesday of bank robbery was granted probation by a 118th District Court jury.

"I'm disappointed, but I'm not surprised," Hamby said.

A six-man, six-woman jury deliberated more than five hours Wednesday before sentencing Alonzo Orsco Armendariz, 26, to 10 years probation and a $10,000 fine for the aggravated robbery of Coahoma State Bank on Aug. 5, 1983.

Penalty range for the first-degree felony is five to 99 years or life in prison. Probation can be granted if the sentence is set at 10 years or less.

The same jury earlier Wednesday afternoon took less than two hours to convict Armendariz of aggravated robbery. The defense attempted to convince the jury a BB gun used in the robbery was not a deadly weapon and that Armendariz should be convicted of simple robbery rather than aggravated robbery.

"I'm tickled we were able to prove what we set out to prove (that the BB gun was a deadly weapon)," Hamby said.

Armendariz' defense attorney Richard Abalos of Odessa, said he was "very pleased with it (the sentence)," and probably would not appeal the case.

"I think the jury really considered the evidence," Abalos said. "They realized my client was remorseful. He was apologetic from the start (of the robbery)."

Abalos said he still believed Armendariz was trying to commit suicide because of marital problems when he went to the Coahoma State Bank and started a chain of events that included locking 12 bank employees and officers into a bank vault before surrendering to law enforcement officers.

"We never said he didn't do it," Abalos said. "But he didn't willfully and intentionally rob the bank.... Of course, the jury decided that he did."

The jury opted for the relatively light sentence because of the defense testimony of 12 character witnesses, in addition to Armendariz, during the punishment phase of the trial, Abalos believes.

Hamby did not present any witnesses during the punishment phase.

Armendariz had no prior criminal record, according to testimony.

"He (Armendariz) did wrong. He needs to pay for his crime," Abalos said. "But he sure doesn't need to go to the state penitentiary and become a hardened felon."

30 bodies recovered from ship

From staff and wire reports

The bodies of at least 30 crewmen found in the wreck of the Glomar Java Sea, a sunken American drilling vessel, are being taken by ship to Hong Kong to be identified, a spokeswoman for the Houston-based owner says.

John Lawrence Jr., 38, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence of Big Spring, was among crew members of the ship.

Officials still do not know if any of the ship's 81 crewmen survived.

The bodies retrieved from the vessel were taken by divers to a search vessel, then moved to a third ship, Donna Holden, a spokeswoman for Global Marine Inc., said Wednesday.

Ms. Holden said she did not know whether the divers had been able to recover five bodies that were found trapped in the wreckage.

The ship sank during a typhoon Oct. 25 and now lies upside down in 300 feet of water in the South China Sea, 200 miles east of Vietnam and LISTENING — Chairman of the Select Committee on Public Education H. Ross Perot and Gov. Mark White listen to recommendations at a committee meeting Wednesday in Dallas.

8-hour school day on panel agenda

Board wants tougher teacher standards

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Select Committee on Public Education, which already has approved more than a dozen recommendations to reconstruct the Texas school system, today favored setting "rigorous" statewide standards for teacher education schools and programs.

The board later will be asked to favor extending the school day to eight hours.

At the urging of chairman H. Ross Perot, the panel also recommended this morning requiring every school of education in Texas to adopt a public school and operate it under the direction of local school boards.

"Having a medical school without a hospital is a joke. Yet we've got schools of education with no classroom laboratory," Perot said.

The board said that schools of education that did not meet rigorous standards set by the State Board of Education would be subject to 24 months' probation and, if standards did not improve, would lose the right to recommend graduates for teacher certification. The blue-ribbon panel began voting on its final blueprint for a revamped education system Wednesday, unanimously recommending a 36 percent raise for starting teachers and voting 14-6 in favor of replacing the elected State Board of Education with governor's appointees.

"We all have one goal and that goal is to provide the finest educational system possible in this country," Gov. Mark White told the panel. "I believe the people of Texas will applaud the work of this committee."

The committee also approved competency testing for all teachers in Texas but tabled consideration of requiring basic skills tests for both students taught at home and their parents.

It also unanimously voted, in principle, to recommend

Police Beat

Man injured in cycle crash

A Big Spring man was treated and released at Malone-Hogan Hospital after he was thrown from his motorcycle Wednesday afternoon in a two-vehicle accident at the intersection of 10th and Gregg streets, police reports said.

Billy Bedwell of 1512 Gunter was taken by Shaffer Ambulance to the hospital after a pickup truck and Bedwell's 1979 Suzuki collided. The pickup was driven by Billy McDonald of Sterling City Route, reports said.

McDonald was traveling east on 10th and was attempting a left turn at the intersection when the accident occurred, police reports said. The motorcycle was westbound, reports said.

Undercover police officers arrested a student of the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf on suspicion of felony delivery of marijuana Wednesday afternoon, Police Lt. Jerry Edwards said this morning. The arrest was made in the 1300 block of Lamar, David McNeil, 30, who listed his address as the SWCID men's dormitory, was arrested at 4:34 p.m. after officers bought a usable amount of what they believe to be marijuana, Edwards and reports said.

Mitch Harris, owner of Mitch Harris Texaco on the south service road of U.S. Highway 87, told police at 6:55 a.m. Wednesday that someone between midnight Tuesday and 6 a.m. Wednesday broke into the service station and stole $278 in cash and an equalizer and a cassette player worth a total of $70, police reports said.

Randall Conner of 1100 E. 15th told police at 8:03 a.m. Wednesday that someone sometime Tuesday broke into his 1979 Chevrolet Camaro while it was parked at 1150 E. Fifth and stole an equalizer and speakers worth a total of $300, police reports said.

Luis Alexandro Ramos, 19, of 1408 Robin was arrested at 12:35 a.m. Thursday on suspicion of assault following a fight at the 7-Eleven at W. Highway 80 and Willa, police reports said. Ramos attempted to strike a police officer when the officer tried to stop him and ask him his name, reports said.

Richard David Long, 30, of 2911 W. Highway 80 was arrested at 1:06 a.m. Thursday in connection with driving while intoxicated, police reports said.

Sheriff's Log

Coahoma man arrested

The Coahoma Police Department Wednesday arrested an 18-year-old Coahoma man on suspicion of auto burglary, Howard County sheriff's records report.

Jose Luis De La Cruz was transferred Wednesday to the sheriff's office. He was released on $7,500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin.

Two Big Spring residents were transferred Wednesday to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of delivery of marijuana.

William Stewart Froman, 22, of 1400 E. 14th and Regina Ann Payne, 17, of 509 S. Johnson were released on $5,000 bond each set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

William Dale McMurray, 22, of Route 1 was transferred Wednesday to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of burglary of a building. Bond was set at $10,000 by Hefflin.

Jackie Dale Morris, 17, of 104 Lockhart was transferred to the county jail from the police department on suspicion of aggravated assault. Morris was released on $15,000 bond set by Hefflin.

Martha Martinez, 18, of Gail Route and Manuela Olivas, 31, of Gail Route were transferred to the county jail from the police department on suspicion of theft of more than $20 and less than $200. Both were released on $1,500 bond set by Daratt.

A juvenile victim was taken to Malone-Hogan Hospital at 5:22 a.m. Thursday after being criminally assaulted, according to sheriff's records. The sheriff's office is investigating the complaint.

No further details were immediately available.

For the record

The age and address of a man arrested by the police and transferred Tuesday to the sheriff's office was incorrectly reported in Wednesday's "Sheriff's Log" in the Herald.

Salvador Garcia, who remains in county jail today on suspicion of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, has a Houston address and gives his age as 29.

In yesterday's edition, the Herald incorrectly printed the address as a Big Spring residence and the age as 39.

FIGHTING DEPORTATION — Theodore Salanga, who helped American POWs in the Philippines during World War II, is shown with his sister, Josephine Britt, in her oriental restaurant in Niceville, Fla.

Unsung hero

Filipino who helped POWs faces deportation

NICEVILLE, Fla. (AP) — When Teodoro Salanga Jr. was 6 he repeatedly sneaked into World War II Japanese prison camps in the Philippines to smuggle food and medicine to American prisoners of war.

For seven years during the Vietnam War he worked as an engineer for American communications companies under contract with the United States government, escaping on one of the last planes out of Saigon before South Vietnam fell to communist forces.

Salanga's goal now is to become an American citizen, but the United States government wants to deport him to his native Philippines.

Salanga, 47, who came to the United States five years ago on a temporary visitor visa, has been refused permanent resident status. The Immigration and Naturalization Service last month sent him an order to show why he shouldn't be deported.

The introduction in Congress of a private bill by Rep. Earl Hutto, D-Fla., to give him resident status has temporarily allowed him to stay.

Meanwhile, former prisoners of war and residents of this Florida Panhandle town on the edge of Eglin Air Force Base have written letters to congressmen and government officials to support Salanga's quest.

Frank W. McGowan, city manager of Yearlington, Nev., is one of the POWs aided by Salanga and other members of his family.

"All of us, after Bataan and the death march and 30 or 40 days in that prison were in pretty bad shape," McGowan said in a telephone interview last week. "I am convinced that a lot of the help that was provided by the Salanga family saved some lives."

Japanese invaders in April 1942 marched about 10,000 U.S. prisoners and 62,000 Filipinos about 60 miles from the Bataan peninsula to prison camps. U.S. officials believe as many as 700 Americans and 10,000 Filipinos died during the march. It is estimated that up to 6,000 Americans died in captivity in the next 3 1/2 years.

McGowan said Salanga should be welcomed by the United States.

"Of all the people that we've taken in, it surely looks like we have room for a guy like Teddy Salanga," McGowan said.

But Salanga is trying to sidestep immigration quotas and waiting lists. Federal law permits exceptions for foreigners who have worked for the U.S. government, but Salanga's Vietnam work doesn't count because he was employed by private contractors.

Ruth L. Brooks, U.S. counsel in the Philippines, disallowed his prison camp exploits because Salanga was "too young to be in the service of the U.S. government at the time."

No one is pushing his cause harder than his sister, Josephine Salanga Britt. Now an American citizen, she came to the United States as the wife of Sigmond Laskowski, one of the POWs she and her brother helped. He died 18 years ago and she later remarried.

They recalled their World War II experiences during an interview last week at the restaurant Mrs. Britt operates.

Their father, Teodoro Sr., opened an eatery as a cover for cooking food smuggled to the POWs. Salanga made deliveries because he was small enough to crawl under barbed wire, using a stick to lift the wire over his body.

Food and medicine to treat beriberi and malaria were stuffed into his pockets, under his shirt or in a pillow case.

"My father asked me if I was afraid," Salanga said. "I told him, 'No, I am not.'"

The Japanese guards sometimes were distracted by Mrs. Britt, who was about 18 at the time. When she scratched her head three times, that was a signal the coast was clear.

"My father always reminded me if you were caught you would be killed," Salanga said.

An analysis of the city's existing water rate will be made and a new rate structure that will finance improvements will be proposed if Coahoma receives the grant.

Alternative funding sources for proposed improvements could include a separate TCDD community development grant for low-to-moderate income areas.

STANTON RECEIVED preliminary approval for a $9,400 grant. The money is targeted for this summer to act on the panel's recommendations for the future of Texas schools.

"There is a crystal clear message now that we're looking for academic achievement in the schools," said Perot. "We're talking about radical and revolutionary changes."

White said abolishing the 27-member elected State Board of Education and replacing it with a panel of nine appointees subject to

Senate confirmation was a reflection of unhappiness with the way education has been handled in the past and a necessary step "to achieve the changes this committee is devoted to."

"We are in the condition we are in today because of the way we have been doing things for the last 25 years," White said. "The question is, which way can you best move the ship forward?"

The bodies are being held in cold storage until American and Chinese legal medical experts can perform autopsies and examine dental records to establish identification, Xinhua said.

Divers aboard the Norwegian ship, Tender, hired to search the wreck, used deepwater equipment Thursday, Xinhua said.

They were videotaping cracks on the hull and interior and hunting for the logbook and charts in an effort to determine the cause of the accident, the worst in China's exploration for offshore oil.

The current TDCA grant will allow Stanton to acquire the necessary information and cost estimates to prepare a community development grant application for funding to correct deficiencies in south Stanton once they are determined.

Lucas indicted by Florida jury in three murders

From staff and wire reports

Henry Lee Lucas, charged with two Howard County murders, has been indicted by a Dade County grand jury on three first-degree murder charges.

The 47-year-old drifter, charged with five other murders in Texas and convicted in three killings, is the alleged companion of Otis Ellwood Toole, the man who confessed to the 1981 kidnapping and murder of 6-year-old Adam Walsh from a Hollywood, Fla., mall. Toole's attorney later said his client had recanted the confession.

Dade prosecutor George Yoss said authorities will proceed with the case, although he acknowledged chances are "relatively slim" that Lucas will be tried on the Dade charges.

"We have an obligation to enforce the laws of Florida and a duty to pursue him," Yoss said after the indictments were returned Wednesday.

Lucas is on trial on a murder charge this week in San Angelo, Texas, and is awaiting trial in three other Texas counties and in Louisiana on other murder charges.

Lucas has been charged locally with the murder of Happy Howry, 66, of Odessa. Howry's body was found May 8, 1982, beneath bushes in a field near the 500 block of Sunset Boulevard in west Big Spring. He was the manager of the shoe department at the Odessa J.C. Penny's store at the time of his death.

Lucas is also charged with the murder of William Boyd Hite, 22, of Meridian, Miss., whose body was found on FM 2599, just off Interstate Highway 20 west of Big Spring. Hite's body was found at 3:45 p.m. June 1, 1982.

The Dade indictments charge Lucas in a 1979 killing and a 1981 double murder. All three victims were young women. The grand jury returned its indictments after hearing testimony from Metro-Dade homicide investigators Greg Smith and John LeClaire.

According to the indictments, Lucas is charged with murder in the death of an unidentified woman, 25 to 35 years old, whose body was found on Feb. 5, 1979 at a trash dump. Her body was burned beyond recognition. He is also charged with murder in the killing of Linda Karbin, 17, and Hazel Haack, 19, who were strangled and drowned. Their bodies were dumped into a drainage ditch in southwest Miami in May 1981.

Lucas has been in and out of jails since he was 13. In 1982, he was arrested in Texas on a charge of illegally possessing a pistol. In jail, Lucas started describing a murder spree that spanned at least 20 states, complete with details of rape and mutilation and the names of some of the women. He took investigators to the remains of four victims.

JP candidate released from ICU after illness

Paul Silva, candidate for Howard County Justice of the Peace, Place 1, was released this morning in good condition from Malone-Hogan Hospital after he was stricken with an undisclosed illness yesterday, his doctor said today.

"There was no evidence of heart trouble," said Dr. Gordon Golden, Silva's physician. Silva was treated in the hospital's intensive care unit, he said. Golden said he could release no further information.

Jeanette Meeks, an employee of Mary Thomas Bail Bonds who was talking on the phone with Silva when he was stricken late yesterday morning, said today she called the Shaffer Ambulance that took Silva to the hospital. Silva was in the B&M Bail Bonds office, where he is employed, at the time he was stricken, she said.

Two burglaries reported

LAMESA — Burglaries of two businesses Tuesday and Wednesday were reported to police yesterday.

According to police, someone broke into the Dairy Queen and attempted to open the safe. The person broke a hammer and screwdriver while trying to force the safe door open, and left the tools at the scene of the crime.

Nothing was taken, police reported.

Someone took five cans of Dr. Pepper from a soft drink vending machine at the Quick Service Laundry on Bryan Street, police said. The machine did not contain any money at the time it was broken into, according to the report.

Fire blamed on space heater

Two pumping units of the Big Spring Fire Department were called to a Northside residence this morning to put out a fire apparently started by the defective cord of a space heater.

Firemen used ventilators to clear smoke from the residence at 113 N.E. Ninth after the small blaze was contained late this morning.

No estimate of damage was available at noon today.

Deaths

Mary Lee Moore

COLORADO CITY — Mary Lee Moore, 77, recently retired justice of the peace in Mitchell County's precinct three, died Wednesday at 9:45 a.m. at Root Valley Fair Lodge.

Graveside services for Mrs. Moore will be at 10 a.m. Friday in the Colorado City cemetery directed by Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Mrs. Moore was born Aug. 11, 1906, in Colorado City. She had served as justice of the peace, precinct three, since Jan. 1, 1967. She retired March 7 of this year due to illness.

She was a longtime member of First Christian Church in Colorado City. She recently was honored by her fellow citizens with a roast at the Civic Center.

The family requests memorials be made to the First Christian Church in Colorado City or to a favorite charity.

Survivors include a daughter, Marjorie Franklin of Colorado City; a grandson, David Sanders of Georgetown; and two great-grandchildren.

Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home

and Rosewood Chapel

Aurora Paredes, 71, died Tuesday. Rosary will be at 7:30 P.M. Thursday at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Funeral services will be at 10:00 A.M. Friday at the St. Thomas Catholic Church with interment at Mt. Olive Memorial Park.

Penny keeps her cool

LOS ANGELES — Actress Penny Marshall kept "pretty composed" the day after being threatened by two men dressed as Japanese Ninja assassins who broke into her Hollywood Hills home, according to police.

Ms. Marshall — who played Laverne De Fazio in the "Laverne & Shirley" TV series — was shaken but unharmed in the Tuesday night incident.

Police arrested the two intruders after Ms. Marshall, 39, hit a "panic button" silent alarm when she heard noises from the back of her house as she prepared to go to bed.

The men — identified as Anthony Pierson, 18, and Daniel Sheppard, 19 — wore black pajamas and hooded masks like those Lee Van Cleef uses in his NBC-TV series "The Master," police said. Both were held on $20,000 bail pending investigation of one count of burglary.

Detective Don Riggio said the suspects' costumes were "not all that unusual if you've been here awhile."

Riggio, who talked to the actress after the break-in, said Wednesday that "threats were made — nobody touched her."

"She was initially shaken but was pretty composed by the time we talked," he said. Police recovered the items taken in the incident, including a video camera, tapes and other equipment.

Her agent, Mike Menchiel, said the actress is continuing to work on a movie for ABC-TV called "Love Thy Neighbor."

Doc Welby gets a sniffle

LOS ANGELES — Veteran actor Robert Young says he doesn't know how much rest he'll need now that he's returned home after being stricken on the set of a television film sequel to his "Marcus Welby, M.D." series.

"He's going to be OK," the actor's wife, Betty, told reporters at St. Joseph's Medical Center in Burbank, where the 77-year-old Young was taken Wednesday.

"I guess I just came back to work too soon" after a bout with the flu, said Young, his face still covered with pancake makeup used on the set. "I just wasn't ready."

Los Angeles County paramedics were summoned to the Universal Studios set of "The Return of Marcus Welby, M.D." after the actor complained of dizziness and difficulty breathing.

Universal spokesman Ben Halpern said the flu had stricken several cast and crew members.

Young, who made more than 80 films during Hollywood's Golden Age, also played the easygoing Jim Anderson, title character of the hit 1950s TV series, "Father Knows Best."

Cisneros gets a cramp

SAN ANTONIO — Mayor Henry Cisneros has found fame a burdensome bonus after deciding to personally answer hundreds of letters that poured in after his appearance on "60 Minutes."

"It's a lot of work, but it's worth it," said Cisneros, with pen in hand and a stack on mail on his desk.

The mayor was profiled by the popular CBS News show three Sundays ago, prompting 300 notes, cards and letters from across the nation.

Mayoral assistant Shirli Thomas said "Henry got perhaps the most touching letter" from a man in a small town in Washington.

A town's city manager wrote that he was "burned out and ready to quit" until viewing the mayor's approach to government, she said.

The mayor said he had not yet waded through the entire stack by Tuesday night.

The news in brief

Salvador official killed

SAN SALVADOR — Two young gunmen walked up to a conservative legislator and shot him dead on a San Salvador sidewalk, while in the countryside 4,000 army troops pressed an pre-election offensive against leftist rebels.

The assassination of Hector Tulio Flores Larin, 46, marked the fifth murder of a conservative member of the 60-seat Constituent Assembly in less than two years. There was no immediate claim of responsibility.

The attack coincided with fighting between the army and rebels based in northeastern El Salvador. The troops have mounted a week-long offensive against guerrilla strongholds in San Miguel and Morazan provinces, trying to block rebels from disrupting presidential elections on March 25.

Late Wednesday, about 1,500 soldiers recaptured the town of Corinto, held by rebels since November 1982. The army said five soldiers and at least five guerrillas were reported killed and at least 30 soldiers wounded during the day.

Leftist leaders are boycotting the elections, saying their candidates would be targets for rightist death squads. They have said they will not disrupt the balloting, but army commanders say they expect rebel attacks on election day.

In San Salvador, witnesses said the killers approached Flores Larin, a member of the National Conciliation Party, as he stood outside after attending a law class at the National University. They shot him seven times and walked away. The witnesses asked not to be named for fear of reprisals.

IRA president shot

BELFAST — Police increased security today for Protestant leaders in Northern Ireland out of fear the IRA might try to avenge the shooting of Gerry Adams, president of the guerrillas' political wing.

"We don't think the IRA will allow the attempt to kill Gerry Adams to pass without some kind of retaliation," said a senior police officer, who asked not to be identified.

Adams, president of Sinn Fein, was wounded in the neck and shoulder Wednesday by gunmen who riddled his car with at least 15 bullets as he drove from a courthouse where he is being tried for obstructing police during Britain's general election last June.

Police arrested three Protestant gunmen for the attack, claimed by the Ulster Freedom Fighters, a terrorist squad linked to the Ulster Defense Association, the biggest of Northern Ireland's Protestant paramilitary organizations.

Police announced today that an army patrol had found and dismantled three large drums containing a total of 1,000 pounds of homemade explosives near Londonderry, 60 miles west of Belfast on the border with the Irish Republic.

A police spokesman, who did not permit use of his name, said it appeared guerrillas were assembling one large bomb or three separate bombs. The explosives were discovered Tuesday in an isolated country area, he said.

Police officials declined to give details of the reinforcements for Protestant leaders. But sources said the Rev. Ian Paisley, who survived an assassination attempt two years ago, was a prime target, and armed guards maintained a discrete cordon around his east Belfast home.

Meese nomination troubled

WASHINGTON — Senate Judiciary Committee members say support for the nomination of Edwin Meese III for attorney general is sure to crumble unless he answers in full their questions about his finances and other matters.

Their comments came Wednesday after Meese, Reagan's top domestic policy adviser, told the panel he had failed to list a $15,000, interest-free loan on his 1981 financial disclosure statement.

The Washington Post reported in Thursday editions that Meese also failed to list on his 1982 financial disclosure report the purchase by his wife of stock with the loan money. But his 1983 report did contain mention of shares in a company he called "Biotech Inc.," the newspaper said.

Lebanese talks resume

LAUSANNE — Lebanon's rival Christian and Moslem leaders resumed formal negotiations today after a 24-hour break to talk privately about compromise proposals for a post-civil war political structure.

Sources at the national reconciliation conference said the nine main participants were making progress in the search for a common plan for political and economic changes that would meet halfway key demands by pro-government Christian leaders and the Moslem-dominated opposition.

During the recess in Lausanne, Syrian Vice President Abdul Halim Khaddam held separate private meetings with Lebanese President Amin Gemayel, Druse leader Walid Jumblatt, and Nabih Berri, commander of the Shiite Moslem militia Amal. During much of the night, participants met behind closed doors in their suites for lengthy head-to-head talks, trying to reconcile differences between the Christians, who are demanding a federal system of government, and the Syrian-backed opposition, which wants a united and secularized Lebanon.

The participants began discussing proposed political changes Wednesday, after agreeing Tuesday night on terms for a cease-fire in Lebanon.

Missouri to pay for transplant

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Senate has approved spending $200,000 to help a 16-year-old girl get a life-saving liver transplant.

The Senate on Wednesday added the funding to an emergency spending package after Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Edwin Dirck of St. Ann offered the amendment.

The money for the St. Louis girl's operation will go to the Missouri Department of Social Services for its Crippled Children's Services Program, which provides medical, surgical and other aid to needy children.

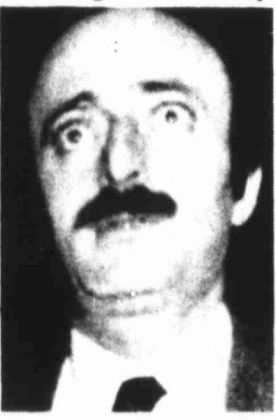

"It's a worthy cause," Dirck said, adding that he was checking with state Attorney General John Ashcroft's office to make sure the action was legal.

Storm leaves Northeast

Relief came to the Northeast today as a winter storm that dumped up to 2 feet in some parts of Maine and left five people dead in New York, Pennsylvania and Connecticut gave way to a warming trend.

But T-shirt weather in the northern Plains was short-lived as another snowstorm threatened the Dakotas today.

Although most of New England expected sunshine and milder temperatures today, a winter storm warning continued across northern Maine, where light snow and strong winds lingered.

Residents of Albany, N.Y., were recovering from the second-worst March snowfall in that city's history, with expected temperatures as high as the mid-50s for the next few days.

The National Weather Service said there is little chance of serious flooding in the mid-Hudson region, but a flood watch might be issued in western New York because of rising temperatures there.

Three people died on snow-covered New York roads, and a Niagara Falls, N.Y., woman was killed in an accident near the New York state line in Pennsylvania during the storm Tuesday.

A Connecticut man died when his car hit a fallen tree.

Power outages in New Jersey, New York and Connecticut were largely restored today, but about 2,000 customers were still without service as crews worked to repair power lines snapped by ice and rain.

Strong southerly winds brought warm moist air into the Plains on Wednesday, pushing temperatures into the 80s as far north as southwest Kansas. At 1 a.m. EST today, temperatures in the central and southern Plains were still in the 50s and 60s.

West Texas — Fair and mild tonight. Partly cloudy and not so warm Friday with scattered afternoon thunderstorms, mainly Panhandle southward into the Concho Valley. Lows 35 Panhandle to 52 Concho Valley and Lower Pecos Valley. Highs near 60 Panhandle to 75 Concho Valley and 80 Big Bend valleys.

Deadly genie of poison gas

That war is hell is one of the oldest truths in human experience, but the war between Iran and Iraq is reaching a level of barbarity that is especially appalling. Reports from the Iraqi plain tell of casualties in the tens of thousands after human-wave attacks by the Iranians. Some of the Iranian "troops" are said to be no more than schoolboys, as young as 12.

In the Middle East, the clash of armies with bloody results is not in itself unfamiliar, so the most alarming development may be the evidence that Iraq is using poison gas to repel massive assaults by Iran. In spite of the other brutalities of modern warfare, there has been restraint in the use of chemical weapons — until recently.

There is compelling evidence that chemical weapons originating in the Soviet Union have been responsible for death and injury from "yellow rain" in Southeast Asia and Afghanistan. The Soviet Union is the chief supplier of arms to Iraq. Is it only a coincidence that these reports of a resort to chemical warfare involve only the Russians and their clients?

Iran has asked the United Nations to investigate the evidence of the use of mustard gas by the Iraqis. Considering the difficulty in getting the United Nations to embark on any project potentially embarrassing to the Soviet Union, that avenue does not look especially promising. Pressure on Iraq and any other nations resorting to chemical weapons may have to come from governments acting on their own initiative.

This is a genie that must be put back in its bottle. International conventions against the use of poison gas and other chemical or biological weapons are the only agreements in the field of disarmament that have succeeded in limiting the scope of warfare since World War II. Violations must not be allowed to take place without international sanctions against the offenders.

Around The Rim

By RHONDA WITT

I'll need it ...some day

I'm always looking for a bargain. When I find something really cheap at a store, I buy it. Then, when my mother asks me why I bought some dumb thing, I reassure her I'll need it some day. Once I bought four ashtrays for a dollar. I don't smoke so I don't need them, but I know they'll come in handy one of these days.

Every time I walk into a grocery store and glasses are selling six for a dollar, I'll purchase some glasses. I am now the proud owner of 200 glasses, but when there is a shortage on glasses, I won't have to worry.

I know what you are thinking? That girl spends money hand over fist, but that's not true. Walking into a store doesn't make me want to spend money wildly. Sometimes, when a store is having a 25 percent off sale, I'll wait until it has a 50 percent off sale. Remember, I'm a bargain hunter.

My mother doesn't enjoy taking me shopping, because I look at everything and buy nothing, another sign of a great bargain hunter. A week before Christmas, my mother and I went on one of our shopping adventures. Even though I hadn't bought one Christmas present yet, I wasn't worried; I had plenty of time. I was comparing prices and looking for just the right present for each person on my shopping list. I thought my mother was going to kill me after six stores, four hours and no purchases.

Another thing about us bargain hunters is we don't buy a product because of its name. I buy something because I like it. I don't feel deprived because my clothes don't meet the standards of the present fashion world. While my friends wear their oxfords, Hang Tens, OPs and Jordaches, I make my appearance in my favorite pair of tattered jeans and a wrinkled T-shirt. I think my $5 no-brand blue jeans look just as fashionable as any pair of Calvin Kleins. I want something that is comfortable and will look right on me, not Brooke Shields.

As well as a bargain hunter, I'm also a collector of great masses of what is commonly called junk. I never throw anything away, you never know when something is going to come in handy. How many people do you know who have an antique junk collection?

My closet resembles the archives of ancient fashion wear. I have things in there that haven't been worn since the early '70s, but you never know when it will come back into style.

I save every magazine I have ever bought, because I might need to use it for reference material in 10 years. Every piece of paper I've scribbled on is safely tucked away in a box, because some day I may be able to expand on all the ideas I have jotted down.

Everything comes in handy, some day.

A 'Republican' Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON — One of the strangest political feuds in Washington is heating up again. The antagonists are the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Although the Democrats have never seriously tried to strip the Republicans of their image as the pro-business party — have, in fact, traditionally done their best to reinforce it — the committee chairman, Rep. Tony Coelho, D-Calif., has cried foul at the business chamber's tendency to endorse GOP congressional candidates at campaign time.

The reason is dollars and cents: An endorsement from the national Chamber of Commerce is worth an estimated $100,000 to the favored congressman's campaign chest from businessmen who follow the chamber's recommendations. In the hope of aiming some of these contributors toward Democratic candidates, Coelho blasted the chamber's endorsement practices as unfairly biased toward Republicans. After the chamber endorsed 100 Republicans and no Democrats in 1982, Coelho decided on a boycott.

He urged his colleagues in Congress to refuse any invitations to appear on the chamber's "It's Your Business" television program. And he wrote to Hilton Davis, then the chamber's Capitol Hill lobbyist: "I do not believe that the Democrats should lend credibility to the chamber after you worked so consistently against us."

Davis also heard that Rep. Bruce Morrison, D-Conn., had criticized the chamber's alleged partisanship. The unrepentant Davis shot back: "We are proud of our endorsement process. There's nothing disgraceful about it. What is disgraceful are your comments deliberately distorting our process."

Nevertheless, the chamber revamped its endorsement policy for this election year. It announced that incumbent members of Congress whose voting records agree with the chamber's position on key issues 70 percent of the time or more will win automatic endorsement.

The chamber recently issued its first "opportunity list" of candidates that merit support from businessmen. The endorsement list contains 128 Republicans and 16 Democrats. It includes an additional 22 Republicans and two Democrats who are regarded as vulnerable in close races and should be "protected," and sees the possibility of pro-business replacements for four incumbent Democrats and one Republican.

This attempt at bipartisanship didn't fool Coelho — or at least didn't satisfy him. Recently, he chastised the chamber in a letter to his Democrat colleagues: "Obviously, the national (chamber) staff is backing off its previous overt alliance with the Republican Party ... So this year the chamber developed a rating system that superficially appears neutral."

Coelho noted that three Republicans on the vulnerable list — Reps. Chris Smith, N.J., Bill Green, N.Y., and Lyle Williams, Ohio — fell below the chamber's 70 percent rating, while three Democrats closer to the 70 percent mark — Reps. Jim Jones, Okla., Jim Olin, Va., and Ike Andrews, N.C. — "are not mentioned at all."

"They might think they can disguise their real intent with tokenism, but who are they trying to fool?" Coelho asks.

As for Coelho's boycott call, a chamber spokesman told my associate Tony Capaccio it hasn't worked, claiming that since February 1983, House and Senate Democrats have made 76 appearances on "It's Your Business," compared to 50 by Republicans. The Democratic campaign committee maintains, however, that fewer than 30 House Democrats appeared on the chamber's TV show last year.

Billy Graham

God, religion scares reader

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My life is so confused and messed up. I would like to get it straightened out, but I'm even afraid to think about God or religion because I am afraid it wouldn't work. How can I overcome this feeling? — J.D.

DEAR J.D.: I suspect you feel this way because you know your own weakness, and you feel somehow that God is not able or is not willing to help you. But that is not true. God loves you, and he is more concerned about you than you will ever be concerned about yourself. He wants to come into your life and help you, and when you know Christ you are never alone.

Think for a minute about what Christ has done for us. He left the glory of heaven and came down to this earth to show us that he cares about each one of us. He taught us how we should live — but more than that, he died on the cross to make our salvation possible. He then rose again from the dead to show us that there is eternal life, and also to demonstrate his power to us. Why was he willing to undergo all of the rejection and suffering of the cross? He did it because he loves.

God himself wants to enter your life. He wants to come into your heart and make you part of his family. He wants to show you what is right, and then he wants to give you the strength to follow it. Don't be afraid to turn to Christ by faith and invite him into your life. Jesus said, "Come to me, all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls" (Matthew 11:28-29). This has been the experience of millions of people throughout the ages.

Then know that Christ wants to help you every day. You can turn to him in prayer at any moment. You also can find out how he wants you to live, by studying the Bible every day and asking God to help you apply its truth to your life. God will help you turn from sin — which will destroy you if you do not reject it — and will give you strength to follow God's way.

As long as you rely on yourself you will always fail. But when you turn to God, you will discover you can trust him to help you in every situation. It may not always be easy, but Christ's way is the best way.

Concert notice failed to inform

To the editor: I was visiting Big Spring this past week, and had an opportunity to attend a very brilliant, beautiful, and perfect organ concert at the First Presbyterian Church.

The organist was the outstanding woman organist of the world, and generally conceded to be the best concert organist ever. The program was well put together, entertaining, and as noted above, a brilliant performance.

HOWEVER, had I not heard of the concert from other sources, I would never have known about it. Your paper apparently is opposed to giving publicity to cultural events such as this. At least, there was one brief, very brief notice in the edition of 7 March about the program. That didn't give interested persons much time to prepare to attend. Nor did it give much information about the performer, Joyce Jones, so that one could make a decision as to attend or not attend.

I cannot help but ask — If this had been a "rock" concert, would it have been ignored?

Times, nations are changing

To the editor: There was an article in the March 10 issue of the Big Spring Herald covering the State of Texas purchasing a Mitsubishi Diamond 1 jet passenger airplane. This article brings two thoughts to my mind and maybe the thoughts clash somewhat.

First, the article brought to my mind, with vivid sharpness, the long way our country and the Nation of Japan has come in forty years. It is high credit to both nations that forty years of extreme hatred could be overcome and in most incidences, a good relationship on both the international and social level has developed between the people of both nations.

I can remember as a young member of a B-29 bomber crew when the name, Mitsubishi, meant only one thing, a darting, climbing fighter air machine that would come at you with wing guns winking and the sound of armor-piercing bullets ripping through the fuselage of your heavy bomber. This fast, highly maneuverable little fighter plane with the large red circles on its wings and fuselage was the Japanese fighter, the Mitsubishi "Zero."

Today I read where a Mitsubishi airplane, made in San Angelo, Texas, with the State of Texas Seal and the State of Texas Flag displayed, was flown from San Angelo to the State capital in Austin with the Governor of Texas, Mark White, as a passenger.

An American owned and built Mitsubishi without the red circles and not spitting explosive rounds at an American citizen is what this old World War veteran calls a two nation harmony and peace phenomenon and I say a reverent, "Thank God" for it. But I do wonder why the American aircraft industry can not compete successfully with a foreign nation within our own country in this case. This applies not only to the aircraft industry, but other industries as well.

The Quigmans revisited

To the editor: Okay, I admit it. The Quigmans (see Second Glances, March 4) are a bit unusual and I didn't know how to react to them. But, being an open-minded, big-hearted West Texan I'm willing to give them a chance. So please ask the Quigmans to forgive us (see Around the Rim, Monday) and give us a try. My only question is: Would a trade be possible? Keith Briscoe for the.... Well, I guess not. Never mind.

Simple blood pressure question

Dear Dr. Donohue: A simple question that puzzles this reader. Is there a connection between having high blood pressure and having poor circulation? That doesn't make sense to me if it's true. — Mrs. T.L.

Answers to simple questions usually aren't short — or simple. High blood pressure begins with a very special occurrence — little understood, but profound. It is a loss of control of what, for want of a better term, we can call "little faucets" at the ends of capillaries. They normally open and close automatically to permit just the proper amount of circulation according to local body needs.

Let me explain. When we exercise, the capillary faucets controlling blood supply to these muscles open. And simultaneously, those serving areas in less immediate need of blood supply (digestive organs, for example) close. This occurs in hundreds of variations minute-to-minute, hour-to-hour throughout our lives. High blood pressure begins with loss of that complex faucet control. We are not sure why it happens. The faucets just close and more or less stay that way, the obvious result being a backup of blood pressure through the system.

This brings us to your question about high blood pressure and poor circulation. The next step in the process is a wear-and-tear action of the chronically elevated blood pressure against artery walls. Eventually, this produces a roughening of those walls, an ideal environment for depositing of fatty substances in the blood. With the deposits comes a narrowing of the arteries and a consequent worsening of the already high blood pressure (and poor circulation) from fat clogged arteries.

Dear Dr. Donohue: What is your opinion of hyperbaric oxygen therapy for stroke rehabilitation? — S.L.

My opinion of it is based upon reports from studies conducted since the idea gained some popularity in the 1960s. And it is that there is no important evidence to say it will help. Nor do studies indicate any useful results from use of hyperbaric oxygen chambers to retard senility. The therapy does have important roles in several other ailments, however. But in the instances mentioned hopes held out for the procedure were never fulfilled.

CowBelles sponsor campaign

As part of National Ag Week, March 16-22, the American National CowBelles are promoting a "Beef Feeds the Hungry" campaign. Funds raised will be presented to the Salvation Army for distribution to needy people. In 1983, $11,400 in beef gift certificates was presented to Salvation Army Col. Murray in Washington D.C.

The 1984 goal is a $3 contribution from each CowBelle and persons wanting to support the program. All monies will be channeled through state CowBelle organizations and then to ANCB headquarters in Denver, Colo. by March 31. For information, write Mrs. J.M. Dear Abby

Weekend romance ends in doghouse for girl

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 13-year-old girl and I don't want to brag, but people tell me I've got a great body. I don't care for guys my own age. They are so immature; they seem like babies.

The guy I really like is a graduate student at a college near here. He's 23. I'm not supposed to date, so I have to do a lot of sneaking to see him, and then it can only be on the weekend in the afternoon because I have to be home by 5:30.

Well, last Saturday I was over at his apartment. I kept asking him what time it was, and he kept checking his watch and lying to me. I didn't get home until nearly 7:30 and I got chewed out and grounded for two weeks! He wants to see me again. Half of me wants to see him and the other half is afraid to.

What should I do? I can't talk to my mother. She'd kill me.

S C A R E D I N
MASSACHUSETTS
DEAR SCARED: Listen to the half of you with brains in it and don't see this guy again. He's selfish, dishonest and doesn't really care about you. To sum it up, he's bad news.

DEAR ABBY: My husband, children and I were visiting my sister and her husband (out of town) at their invitation.

Just as we were sitting down to dinner, which was already on the table, a couple of neighbors en route to their own home from work stopped by to say hello. My sister invited them to join us for dinner, but they said they could stay only a minute. However, they did accept my brother-in-law's invitation to have a cocktail.

My sister had put a lot into her dinner, which was getting cold, and the children were getting hungry. When these neighbors were on their second cocktail, I said to my sister, "Our dinner is getting cold."

The couple left rather hurriedly. Then my brother-in-law said to me, "That wasn't very nice. You practically told them to leave." My sister sided with her husband.

Abby, do you think I was out of line? And how should this have been handled?

STRAIGHTFORWARD
DEAR STRAIGHT: Yes, I think you were out of line. As a guest, it wasn't your place to get rid of the drop-

ins. Your sister should have said, "Since you can't have dinner with us, please sit and have your cocktails while we have our dinner—it's already on the table."

Thursday Notes

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

Thursday notes kicks off with some good news about two ex-Big Spring High School track stars, now running for the Abilene Christian University women's track squad. Carla Jackson and Shell Rutledge have been very instrumental in the Wildcats' success this season on the track.

Both young ladies are members of the ACU sprint relay team that has clocked a 47.1 this season. Rutledge, a freshman, also doubles on the 1600 meter relay.

Two weeks ago at the Border Olympics in Laredo, Jackson, a sophomore leaped to a new meet record of 19-7, wiping out the old standard of 19-4.

Jackson and Rutledge definitely live life in the fast lane.

Area anglers Jean Kennedy and Shirley Braden hooked some prize catches earlier this month in the black bass contest at Paint Creek Marina.

Kennedy, of Big Spring hooked a 20-pound, four-ounce striped bass while Braden, of Garden City caught a nine-pound, 15-ounce striper.

February's winner was Doyle Graham of Abilene, who reeled in a 17-pound, eight-ounce striped bass.

Staying on the subject of fishing — for the fishermen among us — someone might just get lucky and snag a 100-pound catfish in Lake Corpus Christi during the third annual Fish-A-Rama in Mathis, May 19-20.

The sponsor of the event, The Lake Corpus Christi Area Chamber of Commerce, is offering a $1,000 prize to the angler hooking the 100-pound cat.

Other fish will bring in money also. The contest cost only $5 to enter and prizes include $250 for the largest black bass, $200 for the largest striped or hybrid bass, $150 for the largest crappie and $100 for the largest white bass.

The two-man Louisiana Draw tournament sponsored by the Big Spring Golf Association was completed last Sunday with John Erick and Mike Weaver taking first place in the 'A' and 'B' Division with a score of 65.

There was tie for second place with a score of 67 between the teams of Mark Wilkerson — Ron Brodrick and Ray Bluhm — Jimmy Foresyth.

In Division 'C' and 'D', Quague Teague and Juan Montelongo took first place honors with a score of 68. Richard Loehman and Doc Warden finished second with a 71, while Dale Austin and Wayne Henry finished third with a 73.

This Sunday the Big Spring Golf Association will host a best two ball foursome tourney. Deadline to sign up is Friday evening, according to golf pro Al Patterson.

Speaking of golf, Patricia Jones, a member of last year's Big Spring High School's successful girls golf program, walked on and made the team at the University of Oklahoma.

OU golf coach Doug Brecht calls Jones a player "with the potential to become a major competitor."

The Big Spring area has an abundance of talented girls in track and field.

At Big Spring High School, coach Anna Ezell really has too many sprinters. Ezell has about seven good sprinters to choose from, and the good thing about it, most are underclasswomen.

With the likes of Pam Palmer, Aretha Cork, Letresa Cork and Tina Smith, just to name a few, it won't be very many people that will outrun the Lady Steers in the shorter distances.

Stanton has a gem in hurdler-do-everything Dawna West, daughter of track coach Bill West. Miss West is a state champ in the hurdles and has been performing like one. Last week she ran away from a tough West Texas Relays field in Odessa. She also runs the 200 meters, two relays, long jumps and triple jumps.

Colorado City's Sandra Williams started her season out with a bang, winning five gold medals at the Torando Relays in Lamesa. Last year the sophomore sprinter competed in the state track meet, making her the third Williams female to do so.

Sister Wanda went to state in the shot put in 1974, while Brenda went in the 400 relay in 1980.

And much to the chagrin of Dallas Cowboy fans, the Dallas Cowboy cheerleaders are currently out of the country.

Lamar starts with win

By The Associated Press
Georgia, a Final Four team in the NCAA basketball tournament last year, was among those bounced out of the 47th National Invitation Tournament as first-round action began Wednesday night.

The Bulldogs were beaten 74-69 in overtime by Tennessee-Chattanooga in one of six first-round games played at regional sites across the country. In other action, Notre Dame defeated Old Dominion 67-62, Tennessee drubbed St. Peter's of New Jersey 54-40; South Alabama edged Florida 88-87, Lamar beat New Mexico 64-61 and Southwestern Louisiana tripped Utah State 94-92.

Lamar Oden scored seven of his 13 points in overtime to lead Tennessee-Chattanooga past Georgia. Tennessee-Chattanooga bounced back after blowing an 11-point second-half lead.

Oden's layup with 1:03 to play put UTC ahead 70-69 and a breakaway basket by Maurice Head 32 seconds later gave the Moccasins a three-point lead.

Vern Fleming, Georgia's all-time leading scorer, missed a shot with 17 seconds left. Oden was fouled on the rebound and calmly hit two free throws to put the game out of reach.

Ken Barlow scored a game-high 21 points and Tom Sluby added 19 to lead Notre Dame over Old Dominion.

After falling behind 33-29 at halftime, Old Dominion caught up and passed the Irish early in the second half. A foul shot by Kenny Gattison and consecutive jumpers by Charlie Smith put the Monarchs ahead 39-37 with 14:48 to play. But a baseline jumper by Sluby at 13:36 put the Irish up for good.

Willie Burton scored 12 points and sparked a late rally as Tennessee beat St.

Peter's.

Tennessee led by as much as four points early in the second half before the Peacocks went up briefly at 38-35 with 6:44 remaining. Then the Vols took control.

Burton hit a field goal, made a pair of free throws, then drove down the court for another goal, putting the Volunteers ahead 41-38 with 4:54 remaining.

Michael Gerren scored his season-high 32 points and Dexter Shouse added his year's-best 24 points to help South Alabama beat Florida.

Lamar's prolific shooting combination of Tom Sewell and Jerry Everett held off a free throw-filled second-half New Mexico rally as the Cardinals took a 64-61 victory.

Sewell led the Cardinals, with 29 points, including a layup with 26 seconds left that sealed Lamar's triumph. Everett chipped in 20 points. New Mexico, which finished its best season since 1978 with a 24-11 record, got a pair of 21-point performances from forward Tim Garrett and guard Phil Smith.

The victory improved Lamar's record to a tournament-best 26-4.

Guard George Almones grabbed a rebound and sank a basket with two seconds left to lift Southwestern Louisiana over Utah State.

Utah State appeared in control of the game, leading 92-84, with 4:39 to play, but two missed free throws and a crucial turnover paved the way for the Cajuns' victory.

Graylin Warner, who scored back-to-back baskets to tie it at 92 with 1:29 to play, paced Southwestern Louisiana with 31 points. Almones added 21 points, eight assists and six rebounds for USL.

LAMAR'S LEAPER — Lamar's Kenneth Perkins leaps with the ball as three New Mexico players — Nelson Franse (31), Phil Smith (12) and Tim Garrett (14) — watch the action. Lamar took a 64-61 victory Wednesday in an opening round game of the National Invitational Tournament.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Picking a winner — or a potential winner — in golf is easy, said Tom Watson.

"A lot of people think it's tough, the hardest thing to do in sports, to pick a winner in golf. But it's not. It's really pretty easy," Watson said before teeing off today in the first round of the $400,000 Bay Hill Classic.

"You do just like the handicappers do in horse racing," Watson said, spreading an imaginary form chart on the table.

"You just check who's been playing well recently, the last two or three weeks."

"What the player did in Tucson doesn't matter. That's too far back. You have to know what they've done in the last couple of weeks."

"The players who have played well there, are going to play well this week."

And, while Watson said the worst of his slump is behind him "it would be premature" to pick him to play well in the invitational event on Arnold Palmer's Bay Hill Club course.

"I haven't played well in my last three-four starts," he said, sticking with his theory. Watson, a winner in match play at Tucson, missed three cuts in a row, had a poor finish at Tucson and then took a three-week break.

"I think I've turned the corner," said the five-time British Open champ.

Using Watson's what-have-you-done-recently theory, the most logical picks in the 117-man field would include Andy Bean (second and sixth in his last two starts and a former winner here), Bruce Lietzke (first and third in his last two and a notorious streak player), and Tom Kite (a winner last week).

And, of course, there's Jack Nicklaus, a runnerup last Sunday and a strong contender in four of his last six starts.

"He's in a period where he's playing well without winning," said Kite. "Sooner or later he's going to do it."

Other major figures include the host Palmer, PGA champion Hal Sutton, Masters titleholder Seve Ballesteros of Spain, Ray Floyd, defending champion Mike Nicolette, Craig Stadler and Fuzzy Zoeller.

In addition to Ballesteros, the strong foreign field includes Gary Player of South Africa, Australians David Graham and Greg Norman, West German Bernhard Langer, and Tommy Nakjima and Isao Aoki of Japan.

Portions of the finals two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by NBC.

Stephenson to defend title against golf's new pinup

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Jan Stephenson, defending her title in the Tucson Conquistadores LPGA Open championship, usually is the most recognized member of the LPGA tour.

In this year's $150,000 event, which began today and has been expanded to 72 holes from 54, it is a distinction she will have to share with Chris Johnson.

Stephenson, undoubtedly the most-photographed member of the pro tour, has been the subject of posters, pin-up calendars and advertising campaigns.

But Johnson, fresh off her first tour win ever, is a resident of Tucson and a local favorite.

Stephenson, who led the first round of last week's LPGA Samaritan Turquoise Classic in Phoenix but finished 10 strokes behind Johnson, said Wednesday, "I like defending a tournament because I like the feeling of knowing I play the course well."

The event is being held on the 6,346-yard par-73 Randolph North course. She said a 72-hole tournament suits her better. "I'm a very consistent player, and the more I play the better off I am." Right now, she said, she's "close to playing great golf. It's frustrating to score the way I have been because I feel like I'm going to burn it up out there."

Stephenson, who has had problems with missing short putts, said it's nothing new. "I was consistently doing it last year. Last year it was truly a mechanical problem. Now, it's more mental," she said.

In addition to Stephenson, seven other of the 1983 top 10 in the field.

Big Spring bowler set for title run

FORT WORTH — Joyce Davis of Big Spring will be one of several defending champions when the Texas Women's Bowling Association, Inc. opens its annual tournament here Friday, Mar. 16.

Davis will be defending her high individual tournament series, a title she won in 1983 when she bowled 725 for a high-three game series. The score set a new state record.

Davis already owns the Big Spring City Championship based on her combined scratch total of 1,826 which was accumulated with a 590 singles, 639 in doubles and a 597 in team competition. She won out over a record 568 entries.

When the TWBA event gets underway Friday it will present the richest prize fund in history and the second largest field ever. Th prize monies total $191,672 and the entry numbers of 2,712 participants is topped only by the 1981 field that had 3,066 entries.

Participants will bowl weekends only through July 1.

Nicklaus helping develop ball with less driving range

MIAMI (AP) — The scenario is familiar. Jack Nicklaus crunches a drive, straight and true. He checks his yardage, pulls out a 3-iron and hits it as well as he can, reaching the front of the green on the par-5 in two. He 2-putts for birdie-4.

Typical. Drive, 3-iron, two putts, birdie-4.

The unusual factor: the hole measures 250 yards. The difference is the ball, a new one being developed by Nicklaus' MacGregor company.

It is, almost certainly, the first time in the history of the game that a ball is being designed and developed with the aim and intent of providing REDUCED distance.

"I think it has a lot of applications," Nicklaus said. "It could work in apartment complexes where they have 20 or 30 acres of green space, any place there is restricted areas."

Municipal courses are under pressure because they don't provide enough use. Maybe you have 150 or 160 acres. But if you use it as a golf course, only 200 people a day can play it.

"But if you go to half-golf — it's only half as long and half as wide — you can put four courses in there. And since there's only half the distance to walk, you can play twice as many people. That's 400 on a course. And four courses. So instead of 200 people making use of the 160 acres, you have 1,600 people making use of it."

"You can carry half as many clubs — and, because of the shorter distances involved, it would get people to walking again instead of riding in carts."

The critical ingredient is the ball — a ball that travel one-half the distance of the conventional ball.

"They've come up with several different ones," Nicklaus said.

"I'll take them out on a course and play them from the halfway point on several holes. You'll make the same swing, with the same club, and the ball goes half as far."

DENNIS THE MENACE

"IT WAS WORTH FALLING INTO THE MUD JUST TO SEE MR. WILSON LAUGH 'TIL LOUD."

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

"Mommy, did we get a piece of the cake you're eating in this picture?"

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Except for the early morning when upsets break up conditions, you can get into whatever specific plan of action interests you, and make progress.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You want to dash off to some new place, but first be sure to keep agreements made with fellow workers. Don't speed on the highway.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Some financial affair can be annoying in the morning so put it aside for a while. Try not to be irritable at home.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan to settle that argument at home which started this morning and have more harmony there. Invite guests into your home.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Think cleverly in the morning, and you can get much accomplished with others. A fine day for communicating.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Forget assuming that heavy expense in the morning, and get busy putting your affairs in better order. Take it easy tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Keep working at a steady pace, and don't do anything dramatic that you would later regret. Go along with friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't skip out of some duty you have assumed, and then all works out better for you. Avoid that silly person who is pestering you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A pal could be annoying today, but don't ignore others who are helpful and kind. Be careful of your reputation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Sidestep that person who may act in a strange way early, and then you find that your work goes along smoothly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't get frustrated over some limitation and get into some new interest that could be fascinating and profitable.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) See how you can better handle business affairs. Be more willing to do errands for your mate. Show more kindness.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Forget a mistake by a partner and come to a fine meeting of minds now. Much conversation is necessary. Drive with care.

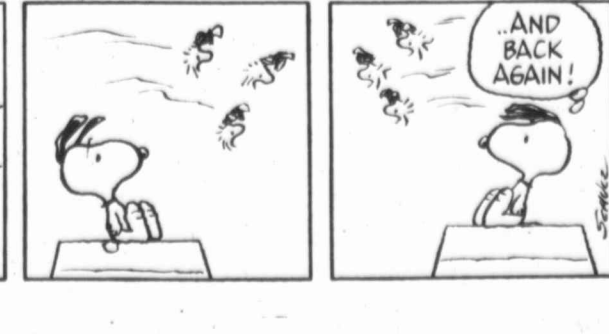

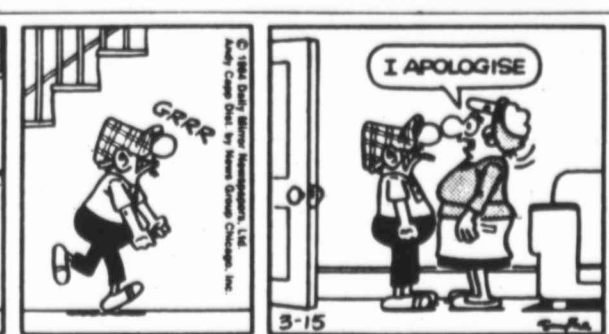

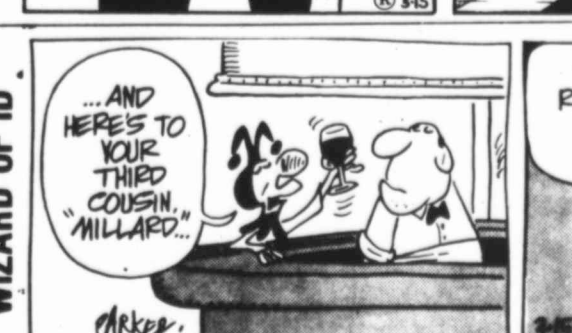

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one who will be very capable at work that requires neatness and precision and should have the benefit of a fine education. Teach to consider the big issues first of all and then get into the details that are necessary.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Nebraska legislature votes to impeach attorney general

PAUL DOUGLAS
...impeached

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska's top law official must leave office and face trial before the state Supreme Court after his impeachment for allegedly lying about his dealings with an insolvent bank and failing to investigate the institution.

If convicted, Attorney General Paul L. Douglas would be permanently removed, becoming the first Nebraska official to be so ousted in 113 years.

The nation's only one-house, non-partisan state legislature voted 27-19 Wednesday to impeach Douglas.

The senators also adopted 36-7 a resolution condemning Douglas' actions in connection with Commonwealth Savings Co. of Lincoln, an industrial loan company set up by the state to provide an alternative to traditional loans.

The bank was declared insolvent in November after reporting liabilities of $69.2 million and assets of $78.6 million. The state banking director blamed an adverse real estate market, but the head of the Legislature's banking committee said it made bad loans.

"I think the impeachment is unjustified," Douglas told the Omaha World-Herald late Wednesday. "Starting tomorrow morning I will be working on the defense in the Supreme Court."

He said he had no additional comment, and he did not return telephone calls. The Associated Press made to his home and office.

Both the impeachment and the condemnation accuse Douglas of "actions or omissions" in office and in chambers, who sponsored his dealings with Marvin C. Cople, a former officer of Commonwealth Savings. They allege, among other things, that Douglas misrepresented his knowledge of a $32,500 payment he received from Cople; that Douglas aided or abetted "insider" loans, or loans made to people or institutions with an inside connection to the lending institution under special terms such as reduced interest rates; and that Douglas did little to prosecute or investigate Cople or Commonwealth.

When questioned last year during a state investigation of his dealings with Commonwealth, Douglas failed to disclose the $32,500 payment. He has said he didn't lie, but was not required to discuss the money because of the way investigators' questions were phrased.

He later released a report that disclosed the payment, which he said was for "legal work" he did for Cople. He also acknowledged that he should have told investigators about the payment earlier.

"This man has hustled his office and prostituted his name," said state Sen. Ernie Omissions, in office and in chambers, who sponsored the impeachment measure. "He has committed violations not only of impropriety, but he has committed violations against the commonwealth."

"If we fail to impeach, we will be saying that the law is like a web ... that it catches the small ones, but lets the big ones get away," said Chambers, whom Douglas soundly defeated in a 1982 election to win his third term as attorney general.

Some supporters of impeachment said they wanted to give Douglas a chance to defend himself in court.

"If we did not give him his day in court, there would be a question in my mind forever," said Sen. Patricia Morehead.

Douglas must vacate his office until the outcome of the Supreme Court trial, which must be scheduled within 10 days. "I would anticipate that we would meet in the morning to take the matter up in accordance with the (state) constitution," Chief Justice Norman Krivosha said Wednesday.

State Sen. Vard Johnson, chairman of a special legislative committee investigating the case, predicted the court would remove Douglas from office, adding, "The evidence is very strong."

The impeachment articles also allege:

- That Douglas lied or misrepresented his knowledge that Cople's secretary, Judith Driscoll, financed the purchase of lots from Douglas and his business partner, Paul G. Alter, through Commonwealth;
- That Douglas did not disqualify himself in the investigation of that case when he should have;
- And that Douglas did not avoid the appearance of impropriety.

Notice of Rate Change Request

General Telephone Company of the Southwest, in accordance with the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of rates in Texas, effective March 28, 1984.

The proposed changes in rates will affect all the Company's 829,291 Texas customers who represent all customer classes, and are designed to increase the Company's gross intrastate revenues by $84,777,000, or approximately 13.34 percent annually.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
A complete set of revised rate schedules has been filed with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and is available for public inspection in each of the Company's Business Offices in the State of Texas. A summary of the Company's rate filing has also been sent to the Mayor's office of each affected Municipality.

Bond issue planned for water reserves

Initial steps toward a $7,000,000 revenue bond issue for financing additional water reserves and enhancing quality of present supplies were taken by the Colorado River Municipal Water District directors in a meeting this week in Big Spring.

O.H. Ivie, general manager, was authorized to complete negotiations with Duval Corp. in acquiring land and ground water in Winkler County. He also was instructed to proceed with plans for the Beals Creek diversion project just east of Big Spring as a means of upgrading quality of water in Lake E.V. Spence.

McCall, Parkhurst and Horton of Dallas was employed as legal counsel for the two programs, and First Southwest of Dallas was named as fiscal agent. Directors set 10 a.m. May 19 as the time for sale of the short-term revenue bonds. This figure does not include required reserves, which would be neutralized through re-investment.

Ivie was empowered to begin negotiations on several matters, including land and easements for the

Stormie out of hospital

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Six-year-old Stormie Jones, who underwent the world's first simultaneous heart and liver transplant operation, has been discharged from Children's Hospital. The child, who was released Wednesday, will have to report to the hospital several times a week for the next few months for blood tests, according to a hospital spokesman.

Stormie and her mother, Lois Jones, are staying at a private residence until they return home to Cumby, Texas.

She received the liver and heart of a Macedon, N.Y., girl who died following an auto accident.
