VISITING OFFICIALS OF WHEAT POOL ASSOCIATION LOUD IN THEIR PRAISE OF FRIONA

"Over-Production and Lack of Buying Power" Given As Principal Causes for Low Price of Wheat; Local Man Given Credit for Accomplishing Much.

The following is the program of speaking as arranged for today, Wednesday, September 23, 1931, in the Texan theatre building for the Wheat Growers' Association:

11:00 a. m., Homer D. Wade, general manager of Texas Cooperative council.

2:00 p. m., John Manley, vice-president and general manager of National Grain Corporation, general manager of Texas-Oklahoma wheat pool and member of wheat department, federal farm board.

3:00 p. m., Bill Stahl, vice-president and publicity manager of farmers' national grain corporation.

The above program was carried out with the exception of Mr. Wade's part, Mr. Wade, for un-avoidable reasons, was prevented from arriving, but in addition to the others mentioned, the program was favored by speeches by Bill Bergner, of Texoma, president of Texas wheat growers association, who acted as chairman of the meeting; M. Murley of Oklahoma, who was first president of the Oklahoma wheat pool; J. S. Pitts of Amarillo, general manager of the Oklahoma pool elevator corporation, and Mr. Beck of exhoma.

Each of these speakers lauded Friona for its world-beating record in shipping the largest volume of wheat through cooperative channels, and the members for their faithfulness to the organization. Among local members praised were W. Reeve, J. A. Wimberley and B. McFarland and others.

Mr. Potts in his address lauded the local organization in producing and bringing in the wheat; J. B. Isaac, division superintendent of the Santa Fe railroad, for the splendid cooperation in the handling of the big volume of wheat, and last, but not least, did laude C. L. Sullivan, manager of the local pool elevators, for his splendid efficiency in handling the wheat. He styled Mr. Sullivan, the chief elevator man of the city. Neither did he omit to praise Mrs. Sullivan, whom he said did perhaps as much in running the elevator as did her husband by her efficient and winning manners toward those who patronized the elevators. As a token of appreciation for their outstanding efficiency in their work, Mr. Potts gave in behalf of the Oklahoma pool elevator corporation to each beautiful token of this appreciation. Mr. Potts further stated that farmers of Friona and vicinity a just reason to be proud of their fellow citizen, Floyd Reeve, local member of the executive board of the Texas wheat growers association. He said Mr. Reeve is always on the job and gave a whole soul to the interests of the organization and to local institutions. He said it was due to Mr. Reeve that many of the advances made by the association had been accomplished and he as looked upon by his fellow members of the board as one on whom they could rely for sound advice and council.

Following J. A. Potts, John Manley of E. O. Oklahoma, vice president of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, and general manager of the Oklahoma-Texas Wheat pool, made a brief talk, as he desired to give place to his successor on the program, Mr. Stahl, Mr. Manley said among other things, that he was proud of Friona and of her farmers. He said there had been in the cooperative marketing business for 11 years and it accomplished some things of which he was proud and some of which he was not so proud. He was proud of this picnic, because farmers have paid for it ourselves, and enjoying it for ourselves. Mr. Manley spoke of his last meeting in 1923, with W. L. Stahl of Indiana, but now of Chicago, who is now vice president of publicity manager of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, whom he then introduced to his successor on the platform.

Mr. Stahl on taking the floor stated, as all the others had done, that he was glad to be here, and that he was glad that he had made a long trip from Chicago in order to be here. His address was necessarily short, but was filled with

Has Good Row Crops and Wheat.

I. W. Barnhouse, living about 15 miles southeast of Friona, was in town Monday afternoon shopping and looking after business matters.

Mr. Barnhouse stated that they have had a fair amount of moisture in his locality during the past season and that the row crops are good. He has most of his row crops already cut and much of it shocked and hopes to finish the harvest at an early date.

He says he is planting only 200 acres of wheat this year and has most of it planted, which is now up to a good stand and growing nicely.

Improving Appearance.

Mrs. L. A. Martin, proprietress of the Martin Cafe, is this week having the outside front of the building greatly improved in appearance by the application of a fresh coat of paint.

This building houses both the cafe and Jack Anderson's barber shop, and is one of Friona's neatest business structures. Both the cafe and barber shop are attractively finished and furnished on the inside and the paint brings the outer appearance into a more equal comparison.

Rev. L. J. Grantham Dead.

The Star is in receipt of the following letter from Mrs. Marie J. Grantham of Cresco, Ooza, bearing the sad news of the death of her husband, the Rev. L. J. Grantham, which occurred on Sunday, August 30.

Mrs. Grantham is an old time friend and neighbor of our esteemed citizen, A. N. Wentworth, and the Rev. Grantham was at one time pastor of one of the local churches and is therefore well known to many of our older citizens, who are warm friends of these two noble people. The letter follows:

Cresco, Ia., Sept. 14, 1931. "Editor Friona Star: "Just a line to tell you that Mr. Grantham passed away August 30. Suffered a stroke Saturday, August 29, at 5:00 o'clock p. m., and passed away Sunday at 10:50 a. m. He had been ailing for seven years, not able to do any kind of work, and for the last year he failed fast. We had just moved into our new home, June 26th. The home is very empty and lonely. "Love to all friends, "Mrs. Marie J. Grantham."

A Sweet Melon.

The Star office was favored last Friday with one of the sweetest watermelons it has ever been our pleasure to partake of.

This melon was brought to us by our good friend, C. H. Fallwell, of Fallwell Brothers, who brought a truck load of the melons in from near Amberst and sold them out here in Friona. Mr. Fallwell stated that there is an immense crop of them in that locality this season.

The melon was of the yellow-meat variety and, in our opinion, if there is anything sweeter than honey or honey in the honey-comb it was just that melon and we sure do thank Mr. Fallwell for his kind remembrance of us in that particular way.

Good Rains Visit County This Week

Portions of the Friona farming territory were visited Saturday night and Sunday night by showers, which were worth while in some places and very light in others.

So far as Friona and immediate vicinity were concerned these showers did very little good, as they were not heavy enough to bring up the wheat that is already sown nor enough to make further sowing advisable with a view to getting an early and good stand of wheat.

Heavier showers, however, struck the territory further out from town. Woodson Young, about nine miles west of town, stated Monday that he had had about one inch at his place, and W. M. White, three miles west, estimated the fall at his home at about three-fourths of an inch. Joe Blevett, near Homeland community, southwest of town, says they had about an inch in that locality.

Roy Price from the Black community, estimated the rain fall there as rather light, so it would appear that most of the rain was west and south of Friona.

Methodist Revival.

The revival services which have been in progress at the Methodist church here during the past two weeks, closed Sunday night, with a large attendance, the house being filled to capacity.

Rev. Fuller, pastor of the Methodist church at Hereford, did the preaching and by his forceful manner of presenting the Gospel won a large number of our people to the "Straight and narrow way."

Friends Want Hill As President State Teachers

DR. J. A. HILL.

C. Wedgeworth, superintendent of the city schools of Snyder As chairman of the state-wide committee which is working to elect Dr. J. A. Hill president of the Texas State Teachers Association when it meets in Amarillo November 26, 27, 28. C. A. Cryer, superintendent of the Dismitt schools, is chairman of the Panhandle regional committee.

One hundred ten school officials and administrators from all sections of Texas have already pledged their support to Dr. Hill, who has been identified with public education in Texas since 1898, and has been president of the W. T. S. T. C. since 1918. Dr. Hill is a native Texan and has had experience in every phase of public school work. Records show that he was the sixth teacher to become a life member of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Santa Fe Free Pick-Up Begins Next Thursday

Press notices this week announce the beginning of the pickup freight service of the Santa Fe railway for Thursday of next week. October 1. While it is not yet clear just what the service will include, its purpose is to furnish free delivery of freight received or to pick up free any freight shipment to be sent. Distances, classification of freight, and weight of shipment will be the determining factors in fixing the cost of the service where it is not entirely free, according to the reports.

Junior Woman's Club Report.

The Junior Woman's Club met Tuesday evening, September 15, at the home of Mrs. Sloan Osborn, with Mrs. Martha McFarland and Mrs. Osborn as hostesses. After a short business session the following program was given: Subject: Historical cities of the United States. New Orleans, the Crescent City, introduction of study course for the following year: Mrs. H. T. Magnus.

Why is New Orleans called the Crescent City and description of the city: Miss Lola Goodwin. Old New Orleans: Alice Guyer. French Influence in New Orleans: Esther Reeve. Jokes: Mary Louise Pruitt. Following the program delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. C. Echols.

BARBECUE ATTENDED BY CROWD ESTIMATED AT FROM 2,000 TO 3,000; MANY FORMS OF AMUSEMENT PROVIDED THROUGHOUT DAY; PLENTY TO EAT

In spite of the fact that a heavy rain fell over the Friona territory and much adjacent country on the night before the Wheat Growers' Picnic, there was an immense crowd here, variously estimated at from two to three thousand people.

Plans Reduction of Fire Loss.

H. G. Morris, who is chairman of the local chamber of commerce committee on fire prevention, is taking the matter up with the state fire department and is securing all the information possible along this line.

Mr. Morris feels sure that with a little exertion and care on the part of this committee and by securing and putting into practice all the information accessible to the committee, it can become the means of removing much fire hazards and reducing the fire losses in the city. Some action will also have a tendency to reduce the present insurance rates in the city.

Chiefs Beat Vega Team In Fast Game

The Friona Chiefs completely outclassed Vega in the opening football game of the season. It was a low, hard-charging line, and a fast, galloping back field that spelled defeat for Vega.

Coach Stevens had his team up and ready. There were no outstanding men on the team, but it was a well-balanced, hard-fighting team that represented Friona high school.

The Chiefs have just been admitted into the league and by their showing against Vega it will pay Farwell, Hereford and other conference teams to prepare for a real battle when they meet the Chiefs of '31. The line-up: Ends, Crow and Whitefield; tackles, Crow and Living; guards, McFarlin and White; center, Reeve; quarterback, Frost; halves, Larsdown and Whitefield; full, Boatman.

Back to California.

R. E. McCandless and son, H. C., who have been spending the summer here, departed for their California home Tuesday morning.

The McCandless own property here and have relatives living in California, and during the past year or two they have divided their time between the two places, spending their summers in Friona and their winters in California. They have a large circle of good friends here who are always pleased to see them arrive in Friona and regret their departure.

According to the manager, C. S. Waddell, the Friona gin has been thoroughly overhauled, cleaned, oiled and put in the best of condition for handling the new cotton crop.

PARMER COUNTY ROW CROPS PROMISE BOUNTIFUL YIELD OF ALL VARIETIES GROWN HERE

The Amarillo Baking Company has moved its headquarters from the room in the southeast corner of the Texan Theatre building to O. G. Turner's other building on the east side of Main street, which was formerly occupied by the Farmer's Cooperative Mercantile Company.

The eating place once known as the Midget Cafe will move from its present location in the J. W. Parr building on the east side of Main street to the room just vacated by the baking concern, just as soon as the necessary fixtures can be built and installed. This new cafe will be operated by Mrs. Elmore. F. A. Cannon is doing the carpenter work of building and installing the fixtures.

ARE OFF TO SCHOOL.

The usual group of young people in and about Friona has been materially decreased within the past week, this decrease at Friona having been absorbed by one or another of the popular colleges throughout this and central portions of the state.

The Star has probably not learned of all these young people who have departed for higher institutions of learning, nor of the schools to which they have all gone, but this list thus far ascertained is as follows:

Misses Nelda Goodwine and Mary Katherine and Helen Crawford are enrolled in C. I. A., Denton, this being the third term for Miss Goodwine and Miss Katherine, and the first term for Miss Helen.

Frank Truitt, graduate of the 1931 class at Friona, is now in attendance at the Baptist college at Abilene, this being his freshman year at that school.

Esther, Hadley and Glenn Reeve will be students at W. T. S. T. C., Canyon, the coming year. This is Miss Esther's third year, as well as with Hadley, while Glenn is entering his first year there.

Dayton Hanson is also in attendance at Canyon; also Miss Edith Brookfield, who are there for their first term. In addition to the above named, Miss Estella Welch has returned for her second year at Texas Tech, Lubbock.

The writer had occasion on Friday morning of last week to make a rather extended trip through Parmer county, which enabled us to form a very favorable impression of the row crop conditions in many parts of the county.

Leaving Friona we drove north-east to the school house at Black; thence south to the Lakeview school, and on further south to Lashadde school house. From Lashadde we drove westward, calling at Jesko, Plainview and Oklahoma Lane schools, thence back to Friona via Bovina.

We arrived at Friona at noon, having driven a distance of 93 miles, and had a good view of the eastern, southern and central portions of the county, and were well pleased to note that the row crops in all these localities were very good, and in many places unusually good, judging from appearances.

Although it appeared just before harvest that nearly the entire county was in wheat, it now appears that much the greater part is planted to row crops, such as maize, kafir, beghari, dorso, cane and sudan, all of which crops give promise of bountiful yields of grains and forage, and there is no doubting the fact that Parmer county will be well supplied with grain and feed stuffs, and apparently the only thing that stands in the way of Parmer county farmers and prosperity is the disastrously low prices of these commodities.

While it is true that there is a zone of from six to eight miles in diameter surrounding Friona where the rain fall has not been sufficient to produce crops as bountiful as those in parts further out, still the farmers in this locality will produce feed enough to supply their needs and if prices were even a fair average, there would be some profit for many of them. As to the north half of the county we are informed that many good crops have been grown there also.

In addition to the splendid row crops just mentioned, we were pleased to see many fields of fine looking cotton where the stalks were heavily loaded with bolls. Most of the fields were luxuriantly green, giving evidence of continuing growth and showing many blossoms. We remember seeing but one field where the fleecy whiteness was beginning to show from the opening bolls. Evidently, at least the eastern and southern portions of the county will also make a good showing in the way of a cotton yield this season.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL HERE

J. B. Briscoe of Amarillo, division superintendent of the Santa Fe railroad, was a visitor here Wednesday and remained to enjoy the picnic and speaking.

Mr. Briscoe was accompanied by another official of the railroad from the Amarillo office whose name we were unable to learn. Mr. Briscoe, through his genuine courtesy, has made a number of friends in Friona who are always pleased to have him visit our city.

Amarillo Well Man Here.

J. E. McDade, a well driller of Amarillo, accompanied by a Mr. Smith also of Amarillo were Friona visitors Saturday.

Mr. McDade is the man who drilled the well for the city water works here, and learning that we are having well trouble, came over to render any assistance or advice which he might be able to give.

RECENT BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hines, September 12, a daughter, Anita June. Charley Burns, September 21, a son. S. L. McLellan, September 18, a daughter.

F. W. Reeve, local member of the board of directors of the Texas Wheat Growers Association, spent Monday and Tuesday in attendance at a meeting of this board of directors in Amarillo.

Hadley Reeve and Misses Esther Reeve and Alice Guyer drove over to Amarillo Tuesday afternoon to attend the Tri-State fair.

HAS 400 ACRES SOWED.

J. W. Parr, one of Friona's most extensive wheat growers, has at this time about 400 acres of his 1932 wheat crop already sowed, with much of it up and growing.

Mr. Parr says he expects to sow about 300 acres more this season and then call it off so far as this year's wheat sowing is concerned.

HAS OPERATION

During the past week two of our young men, Carl Bender and H. C. Weis, suffered surgical operations for the removal of appendicitis. Mr. Bender's operation was performed on Saturday and Mr. Weis' on Monday.

The operation were performed at the hospital in Hereford, Dr. Willis of this place doing the work.

BRUMBLEY ANNOUNCE BIG HOG SALE FOR OCTOBER 6

G. W. Brumley and Son will next week be holding Deaf Smith county and the entire Plains region the particulars of a public auction of fine hogs and dairy cattle. The Brumleys have had these hogs for some time getting them ready for this sale, between 250 and 300 head to be offered. Fifty or 60 head of Jersey dairy cattle and probably other incidental items will be included in the sale.

The Brumleys have long been associated with the hog market over the Plains and any announcement they make is sure to be one of interest to the industry. This sale will be one to make history. Mr. Brumley is conceded to be responsible for the creation of a market for hogs extending over the entire Panhandle.

PRESS DAY BANQUET HONORS DR. J. E. NUNN

Wednesday evening of this week, newspaper, church, school and business men from over the Panhandle assembled in Amarillo to pay tribute to Dr. J. E. Nunn of Amarillo, who for many years has been a worker in those lines of endeavor over the Plains country. Over 200 people who have been closely associated with Dr. Nunn attended a banquet in honor of his 80th birthday Wednesday to wish him many more years of happiness and the joy of accomplishment of well-loved tasks.

Joe L. Pope, for many years editor of the Amarillo Daily News when Dr. Nunn was associated with the ownership, attended from Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Vance of Plainview were over to attend the Wheat Growers' picnic here Wednesday. Mr. Vance was formerly manager of the pool elevators here and they have many friends here who were pleased to meet them.

W. C. MEHARG WILL HOLD SALE NEXT TUESDAY

Report of Investigators Questions Motives of Audubon Society Critics

Scientists Characterize Critics of Wild Life Organization as "Self-Appointed" Group

NEW YORK.—Critics of the policies of the National Association of Audubon Societies, and of Dr. T. Gilbert Pearson, President of that organization, are denounced as "a small, self-appointed group representing nothing but certain personal interests," in a report based upon nearly a year of investigation, just made public by Dr. Thomas Barbour, Director of the Museum of Comparative Zoology, Harvard University, and Clarence J. Hamlin, President of the Buffalo Museum of Science. Although unable to serve on the Committee, because of press of official duties, Dr. Alexander Grant Ruthven, President of the University of Michigan, states that "I am entirely out of sympathy with the attacks being made on the National Association of Audubon Societies."

DR. T. GILBERT PEARSON

Charges that the National Association had indulged in practices foreign to the purpose for which it was formed were made more than a year ago in two pamphlets widely circulated by an anonymous "Emergency Conservation Committee," and at the annual meeting of the Association in October, 1930, United States Senator Frederic C. Wallcott, of Connecticut, as a member, suggested that a committee examine into the charges and undertake such other investigations of the Association as it saw fit. One of the pamphlets containing charges against Dr. Pearson and the Association was captioned, "A Crisis in Conservation," and was signed by two employees of the American Museum of Natural History and a third person described by the Committee as one "completely unknown to fame" who when he visited the Association's headquarters "appeared under an assumed name and gave a false address."

A statement from George H. Sherwood, Director of the American Museum of Natural History, is quoted to the effect that Museum officials had not known that two of its employees were preparing such a pamphlet, which Mr. Sherwood decries with the statement that "The Museum is, therefore, of the opinion that the alleged 'Crisis in Conservation' exists largely in the minds of the authors of this pamphlet." Commenting upon this pamphlet of the charges, Dr. Barbour and Mr. Hamlin observe that "it does not seem worth-while to go into the various details which show that this committee—so-called—is simply a small, self-appointed group representing nothing but personal interests; and there is little point in attempting to analyze the motives of the persons hostile to the Association who have used this method of attack."

To the charge that Dr. Pearson had cooperated with "the killers," the Committee finds that most of the material presented "is familiar to everyone who has dealt with the activities of the 'zoophile cults,' the zoophile being one whose arguments 'are always based on sentiment rather than reason,' who believes that if a forest is to be preserved no tree should ever be cut down and who thinks that no species of bird or animal can be protected if any individual of the species is ever killed."

The report of the Committee, after sifting all charges made by the "Emergency Conservation Committee," concludes:

"We believe that the Association has served a most creditable purpose. We believe that it has accomplished great ends—and that the funds entrusted to it have been well expended. When people join its membership but a few days before an annual meeting—some who have vilified it for years and are simply actuated by a desire to stir up strife, to attack the good name of its officers, and to belittle its adequacy—one can understand how such an association may well wish to be examined impartially and also to examine in self-examination. After a full investigation we feel that the Society may be proud of a great record."

MAURER'S

Ask An Optometrist--

—Have you ever noticed how many people wear glasses? Any optometrist will tell you that much eye-strain is caused by insufficient light for reading or studying. Safe-guard your children's eyes by providing plenty of light for them to study by.

"WE SATISFY"

Suppose...

... the makers of Lucky Strikes should say to their advertising counsellors—"We don't need to advertise. Everybody knows we make Lucky Strike Cigarettes — everybody knows where to buy them. We'll save six million dollars this year."

Suppose a Local Merchant Said--

"I don't need to advertise. I've been in business twenty-five years. Everybody knows what I sell—Everybody knows where I am. I'll save my money."
